¶ When the ypocrites come to the law, they put gloses, to, and make no more of it the of a worldly law, which is satisfied w the outward work and which a Turke may also fulfill. ¶ When yet Gods law neuer ceaseth to cōdemne a man vntill it be wyrtten in hys hearte, and vntill he keepe it naturallye without compulsion, & al other respect, saue onely of pure loue to God & hys neyghbour as he naturally eateth when he is and hongred, without compulsion and al other respect saue to slake hys hunger onely.

¶ And when they come to the Gospel, ther they myngle their leuen, and say: God now receiueth vs no more to mercy, but of mercy receiueth vs to penaunce, that is to wytte, holy dedes þe make them fat bellies, and be they captiues bothe in soule & body. And yet they sayne theyr Idol the Pope so merciful þe if thou make a lytle money glyster in his Balas eyes, ther is nether penance nor purgatory nor any fasting at al, but to flye to heauē as swift as a thought, and at þe twinkling of an eye. And the liues, stopes & gesses of me which are cōtained in the Bible, they read as things no more pertaining vnto the, the a tale of Robin Hode, & as things they wot not wher to they serue, saue to faime false discat & iugling allegories, to stablish theyr kyngdō withal. And one of þe chiefest & fleshiest study they haue, is to magnify the saintes aboue measure, & aboue the truth, & with theyr poetrye to make the greater the euer god made the. And if they finde any infirmity or syn ascribed vnto þe saintes, they excuse w al diligence, diminishing the glory of þe mercy of God, & robbing wretched sinners of al theyr cōfort, & thinke thereby to flatter the saintes & to obteyne theyr fauour, & to make special aduocates of the, euē as a mā wol obteyne the fauour of worldly tyrants, as they also sayne the saintes more cruel the euer was any heathē mā, and more wickedful and vengeable then the poets faime their gods, or the furies þe torment the soules in hel, if they euens be not fasted, and theyr ymages visited and saluted with a patce noster, which prayer our lippes be acquainted with, our hertes vnderstanding none at al, and worshipped with a candle and the offering of our deuotion: in the place which they haue chosen to heare the supplications, and make petitions of theyr clyentes therin.

¶ But thou reader, thynke of the lawe of God how that it is altogether spirital, and so spiritual, that it is neuer fulfilled with dedes or woorkes, vntill they flowe out of thyne hearte with as great loue toward thy neyghbour, for no deseruing of his, ye though he be thyne enemy, as Christ loued the & died for the, for no deseruinge of thyne, but euē when þe wast hys. And in the meane tyme, thowout al our infamy and chylhode in Christ, til we be growen vpon into perfect me in the ful knowledge of Christ, and ful loue of Christ, againe and of our neyghbours for his sake, after the ensample of his lone to vs remember þe fulfilling of the lawe is a fall

The Prologe vpon

ouer the chyldren of Iuda, in the daye of theyr destruccyon, thou shalt triumphe no more in the tyme of theyr trouble. Thou shalt no more come in at the gates of my people, in þe tyme of theyr decay, thou shalt not see theyr misery in the day of theyr fall.

¶ Thou shalt send out no mā against thei host, in the day of theyr aduersity: neyther shalt thou stand waytyng any more at the corners of the stretes, to murder such as are fled, or to take them prisoners, that remaine in the day of theyr trouble.

Jeremye .i.
Joel, iii. b.

For the day of the Lorde is hard by vpon al the Heathen. Lyke as thou hast done, so shalt thou be dealt withal: yea, thou shalt be rewarded euē vpon thine head. For likewise as ye haue drunken vpon mine holpe byl, so shal al heathē drinke continually: yea, drinke shal they, and swallowe vp so þe þe shalbe as though ye had neuer bene.

But vpon the mount Sion, ther shall a remnaunte escape: these shalbe holpe, and the house of Iacob shall possesse euen those that had them selues afoze in possession. Moreover, þe house of Iacob shalbe a fire, the house of Ioseph a flame, and the house of Esau shalbe the straw, which they shall kyndle and consume, so that nothing shal be left of the house of Esau, for the Lorde him selfe hath said it.

Isaia. ii. b.

Jer. v.

¶ They of the south shal haue the mounte of Esau in possession, and looke what lyeth vpon the ground, that shal the Philistines haue: the playne felds shal Ephraim and Samaria possesse, and the mountaines of Galaad shal Ben Iamin haue. And this host shalbe the chyldren of Israels prisoners. Nowe what so lyeth from (a) Canaan, vnto (b) Zarephath, & in (b) Seppharad, that shalbe vnder the subiection of Ierusalem: and the cities of the South shal enherite it. Thus they that escape vpon the hil of Syon shal go vp to punish the mounte of Esau, and the kyngdome shal be the Lorde.

(a) Many after þe heb.
(b) That is Fraunce.
(c) That is, Spayne.

The ende of the Prophecie of Abdi.

The Prologe of the prophet Jonas.

W. A. vnto the Christen Reader.

As the enuious Phyllystines stopped the wels of Abrahā & filled the vpon earth, to put the memorial out of minde, to the entent that they might chalenge þe ground: euē so þe fleshy minded spocrites stop vpon þe vains of life which are in the scripture, with the carth of their tradicions, false similitudes, & lying allegories, & that of like zeale, to make þe scripture theyr own possession & marchandise: & to shut vpon the kyngdome of heauen which is Gods word, wither entring in them selues, nor suffering the that word. The scripture hath a body without, & within a soule, spirit & lyfe. It hath withoute a barke, a shel, & as it were an hard bone for the fleshy minded to gnaw vpon. And when it hath pitch, keruel, marie, and al sweetenes for gods elect which he hath chosen to geue the his spirit, & to ## the prophet Jonas.

with his law & þe faith of his son in thei hertes.

The scripture cōteineth. iii. things in it, first the law to cōdemne al flesh: secondarily the gospel: that is to say, promises of mercy for al that repent & knowlege theyr synis at the preaching of the law, and consent in theyr hertes that the law is good, and submit them selues to be scholars to learne to kepe the law, & to learne to beleue the mercy þe is promised the: and thirdly the stopes and lyues of those scholars, bothe what chaunces fortuned the, and also by what meanes theyr scholemaster taught the, & made them perfect, and how he tryed the truth from the false.

¶ When the ypocrites come to the law, they put gloses, to, and make no more of it the of a worldly law, which is satisfied w the outward work and which a Turke may also fulfill. ¶ When yet Gods law neuer ceaseth to cōdemne a man vntill it be wyrtten in hys hearte, and vntill he keepe it naturallie without compulsion, & al other respect, saue onely of pure loue to God & hys neyghbour as he naturally eateth when he is and hongred, without compulsion and al other respect saue to slake hys hunger onely.

¶ And when they come to the Gospel, ther they myngle their leuen, and say: God now receiueth vs no more to mercy, but of mercy receiueth vs to peauce, that is to wytte, holy dedes þe make them fat bellies, and be they captiues bothe in soule & body. And yet they sayne theyr Idol the Pope so merciful þe if thou make a lytle money glyster in his Balas eyes, ther is nether penance nor purgatory nor any fasting at al, but to flye to heauē as swift as a thought, and at þe twinkling of an eye. And the liues, stopes & gesses of me which are cōtained in the Bible, they read as things no more pertaining vnto the, the a tale of Robin Hode, & as things they wot not wher to they serue, saue to faime false discat & iugling allegories, to stablish theyr kyngdō withal. ¶ And one of þe chiefest & fleshiest study they haue, is to magnify the saintes aboue measure, & aboue the truth, & with theyr poetrye to make the greater the euer god made the. And if they finde any infirmity or syn ascribed vnto þe saintes, they excuse w al diligence, diminishing the glory of þe mercy of God, & robbing wretched sinners of al theyr cōfort, & thinke thereby to flatter the saintes & to obteyne theyr fauour, & to make special aduocates of the, euen as a mā wol obteyne the fauour of worldly tyrants, as they also sayne the saintes more cruel the euer was any heathē mā, and more wickedful and vengeable then the poets faime their gods, or the furies þe torment the soules in hel, if they euens be not fasted, and theyr ymages visited and saluted with a patce noster, which prayer our lippes be acquainted with, our hertes vnderstanding none at al, and worshipped with a candle and the offering of our deuotion: in the place which they haue chosen to heare the supplications, and make petitions of theyr clyentes therin.

¶ But thou reader, thynke of the lawe of God how that it is altogether spirital, and so spiritual, that it is neuer fulfilled with dedes or woorkes, vntill they flowe out of thyne hearte with as great loue toward thy neyghbour, for no deseruing of his, ye though he be thyne enemy, as Christ loued the & died for the, for no deseruing of thyn, but euen when þe wast hys. And in the meane tyme, thowout al our infamy and chylhode in Christ, til we be growen vpon into perfect me in the ful knowledge of Christ, and ful loue of Christ, againe and of our neyghbours for his sake, after the ensample of his lone to vs remember þe fulfilling of the lawe is a fall fast sayth in Christes blood coupled w our pro-fessid & submitting our selues to lea to do better And of the gospel o promyses whiche thou meest in the scripture, beleue fast that God wil fulfyll them vnto the, and that vnto the utter-most Note, at the repentaunce of thyn herte, when thou turnest to him & forsakest euyl, euen of hys goodnes and fatherly merce vnto the, and not for thy flatterng him with pporritie workes of thine owne saluing. So that a fast sayth only without respect of al workes, is the forgene-nes both of the sinne, whiche we did in tyme of ignorance with lust and consent to synne, & also of all synne whiche we doo by chaunce and of feaultie, after that we are come to knowlege and haue professed the lawe oute of our hertes.

And al dedes serue only for to helpe our neighbours, and to tame our flethe, that we fall not to synne agayne, and to exercise oure soules in vertue, & not to make satisfaction to Godward for the synne that is once past.

And al other stoies of the Byble, wythoute exception, are the occasion of þ lawe and of the Gospel and are true & saythfull ensamples and largerrest that God wyll euen so deale wyth vs, as he dyd wyth them in all infirmities, in all temptacions and in al like cases and chaunces. Wherof ye see on the one syde, how father-lye and tenderly and wyth all compassion God entreateth hys electe whiche submitte themsel-ues as scholars to learne to walk in the wayes of hys lawes, and to kepe them of loue. If they forgot them selues at a tyme and wente agayne wyth all merce. If they fell and hurte themselues, he healed them agayne wyth all compassion and tenderesse of herte. He hath brought greate tribulacion and aduersitie vpon hys electe: but all of fatherly loue onely, to teache them and to make them see their owne hertes, and the sinne that there lay hyd, that they might afterwarde feeles hys merce. For hys merce waited vpon them, to ryd them out agayne, as sone as they were learned & come to the knowledge of theyr owne hertes, so that he neuer cast man awaye howe depe so euer he had synned, saue them onely whiche had fyrst cast the pocke of hys lawes from theyr neckes, wyth utter despaunce and malice of herte. Whiche ensamples howe comfortable are they for vs, when we be fallen into synne, and God is come vpon us wyth a scourge, that we dyspayre not, but re-pente wyth full hope of merce after the examples of merce that are gone before: And theresfore they wer wyrtten for our learning, as testififyeth Paule. Roma. xv. to comfort vs, that we myghte the better put our hope & trust in God, when we see howe mercifull he hath bene in tymes past vnto oure weake brethren that are gone before, in all theyr aduersities, nede, temp-tacions, yea and horrible synnes, into whiche they nowe and then fell.

And on the other syde ye see howe they that hardened their hertes, and synned of malice, and refused merce that was offered them, and had no power to repent, perished at the latter ende wyth all confusio and shame mercilesly.
Whiche ensamples are very good and necessary, to kepe vs in awe and dread in tyme of pros-peritie, as thou mayest see by Paule. i. Corin. x. that we abyde in the feare of God, and ware not wyld and fall to vanities and so synne, and prouoke God, and byrage wyth vpon vs.

And thydly ye see in the practyse, how as God is mercifull and longe sufferynge, euen so were all hys true prophetes and preachers, bearinge the infirmities of thier weake brethren & theyr owne wronges and iniuries with all patience and longe sufferynge, neuer castynge any of them of their backs, vntyll they synned agaynst the holye gost, maliciously persecutynge the open and manifest truth: contrarie to the ensample of the Dove, whiche in synnyng agaynst God and to quenche the trueth of hys holye spirite, is euer chiefe captayne and trompette blower, to set other a worke, and seketh onely hys owne freedom, lyberte, priuilege, welth, prosperitie, profyt, pleasure, pastyme, honoure and glorie, wyth the bondage, thraldome, captiuitie, myserie, wretchednes, and vnsubiccion of hys brethren: and in hys owne case is so feruent, so styffe and cruell, that he wyll not suffer one woorde spoken agaynst his false magyke, wply inuencions, and suglyng pporritie, to be vnaduenged, though al christendome should be set together by the eares, & should cost (he careth not how many hundred thousande) theyr lyues.

Nowe that thou mayest reade Jonas frute-fully and not as Doctes fable, but as an obligacion betwene God and thy soule, as an earnest penye geuen the of God, that he wyll helpe the in the tyme of nede, if thou turne to hym as the woorde of God the onely foode and lyfe of thy soule, this marke and note. First count Jonas the frende of God & a man chosen of God to testyfy hys name vnto the worlde: but yet a pouge scholar, weake and rude after the Apostels, whyle Christe was yet wyth them bodily, whiche though Christe taught them euer to be make and to humble them selues, yet oft stroue among them selues who should be greatest. The sonnes of zebede woulde sytte, one on the right hande of Christ, and the other on the left. They woulde praye that, fyre myght descende frome heaven, and consume the Samaritans.

When Christ arode: who say men that I am, Peter answered, thou art the sonne of the lyuynge God, as though Peter had bene as per-fecte as an angell: But immediately after, when Christe preached vnto them of hys deathe and passion, Peter was angry and rebuked Christ, & thought earnestly that he had raied & not wyll what he sayd: as at an other tyme, when Christ was so feruently busied in helping the people, that he had no leyser to eate, they went oute to holde him, supposynge that he had bene besyde hymselfe. And one þ cast out deuyls in Christes name, they forbad hym, because he waitet not on them, so glayous were they yet.

And though Christ taught alway to forgeue, yet Peter after long goynge to scole, arode whether man should forgiue seuen tymes, thinkinge that. viii. tymes, had bene to muche. And at the last supper Peter woulde haue dyed w Christe, but yet within few houres after, he denyed him, both cowardly & shamefully. And after þ same name, though he had so long heard that no man myght auenge him selfe, but rather turne the other cheke to, then to smyte agayne, yet when Christ was in talkinge, Peter arode whether it were lawfull to smyte with the sword, & tarped none answer, but layed on rashly. So þ though when we come fyrst vnto the knowlege of the truth, & the peace is made betwene God & vs, & we loue his lawes and beleue and trust in hym, as in oure father, and haue good hertes vnto him, & be bozne a newe in the spirite, yet we are chyliden and pouge scholars, weake and feable and must haue layser to growe in the spirite, in knowlege, loue, & in the dedes therof, as yong chylde must haue time to grow in their bodies.

The Prologe vpon

And God our father and scholemaster feedeth vs and teacheth vs; accordyng vnto the capacite of our stomaches and maketh vs to growe and ware perfecte, and syneth vs, and tryeth vs as golde in the fyre of temptacions and tribulacions. As Moses witnesseth. De. viii. saying: Remember al the way by which the Lorde thy God caried the this. xl. yeaeres in the wyldernes, to humble the and to tempt oz prouoke the, that it myght be knownen what were in thyne hert. He brought the into aduersitie, & made the an hongred, & then fed the with manna, whiche neyther thou nor yet thy fathers euer knewe of, to teache that a man lyueth not by bread onely, but by all that procedeth oute of the mouth of God. For the promyses of God are lyfe vnto al that cleaue vnto the, muche more then is bread and bodely sustenance, as the iourney of the chyldren of Israel out of Egypt into the lande promysed them, ministreth the notable ensamples, and that abundantly, as doth all the rest of the Bible also. Howe be it, it is impossible for fleshe to beleue and to trust in the truth of Gods promyses, vntill he haue learned it in muche tribulacion, and that God hath deliuered hym out thereof agayne.

God therefore to teache Jonas and to shewe hym his owne herte, and to make hym perfecte and to instruct vs also by his ensample, sent hym out of the lande of Israel whiche was a Prophet to goo among the heathen people, and to the greatest and myghtiest cytye of the worlde, then called Ninue: to preache that within xl. dayes they shoulde all perishe for their synnes, & that the cytye shoulde be ouerthrowen. Whych message the free wyll of Jonas had as muche power to doo, as the weakest herted woman in the worlde hath power, if she were commaunded, to lepe into a tobbie of lyuyng snakes and adders: as happely if God had commaunded Sara to haue sacrificed her sonne Isaac, as he dyd Abraham, she woulde haue dysputed wyth hym per me had done it, oz thoughte she were stronge ynough, yet many an holy saynt coulde not haue found in their hertes, but would haue disobeyed, and haue runne awaye from the presence of the commaundement of God with Jonas, if they had bene so strongly tempted.

For Jonas thought of this maner: lo, I am here a Prophete vnto Gods people the Israelites. Whiche though they had Gods woorde testifyed vnto them daylye, yet dyspyle it & worshipp God vnder the lyknes of Calues and after all maner of facions, saue after his owne woorde, & therfore are of al nacions the wurst, and moste worthy of punishment. And yet God for loue of fewe, that are amonge them, and for his names sake, spareth them & defendeth the. How then shoulde God take so cruel vengeance on so greate a multitude of them to whome his name was neuer preached to, and therefore are not the tenth parte so euyl as these? If I shall therefore goo preache, so shall I say and name my selfe and God thereto, and make them the more to dyspyle God, and sette the lesse by hym, and to be the more cruell vnto his people.

And vpon that ymaginacion, he fledde from the face oz presence of God: that is, oute of the country where God was worshipped in, and from the prosecutyng of Goddes commaundement, and thought, I wyl get me an other waye amonge the heathen people, and be no more a prophete, but lyue at rest and oute of all commaunce. Neuerthelesse that God of all mercye which careth for his elect chyldren and turneth

the Prophete Jonas.

al vnto good to them, that smyteth the to heale them agayne, and kylleth them, to make them a lyue agayne, and playeth with the (as a teacher doth sometyme wyth his younge ignoraunte chyldren) and tempteth them, and proueth them to make them see theyr owne herres, prouided for Jonas howe all thynges shoulde be.

When Jonas was entred into the shyp, he layed hym downe to slepe & to take his rest: that is, his conscience was tolled betwene the commaundement of God whiche sent hym to Ninue, and his fleshy wysedome that dissuaded and counsayled hym the contrarie, and at the last preuailed agaynst the commaundement and caried him an other way, as a shyp caught betwene twoo streames, and poetes sayne the mother of Belshager to be betwene dyuers affections, whyle to auenge her brothers deathe, she sought to slep her owne sonne. Whereupon for verpe payne and tediousnes he laye downe to slepe, for to put the commaundement whiche so gnewe and freate his conscience, oute of mynde, as the nature of al wicked is, when they haue lined a good, to seke al meanes with rypot, & euyl pastyme, to driue the remembraunce of synne out of their thoughtes: oz as Adam dyd, to couer their nakednes with apomes of pepe holy workes. But God awooke hym out of his dreame, and set his synnes befoze his face.

For when the Lot had caught Jonas, then be sure that this synnes came to remembraunce agayne, and that his conscience ragged no lesse then the waues of the sea. And whē he thoughte that he only was a synner and the heathen that were in the shyp none in respecte of hym, and thought also, as verely as he hath fledde from God, that as verely God hath cast hym away: for the syght of the rodde maketh the naturall chyld not onely to see and to knowledge his faulte, but also to forgette all his fathers olde mercy and kyndnesse. And then he confessed his synnes openly and had yet rather perishe alone then the other shoulde haue perished wyth him for his sake: and so of very desperacion to haue lyued any leger, had cast him in the sea betimes, excepte they woulde be lost also.

To speake of lottes, howe ferforth they are lawfull is a lyght question. First to vse them for the breakyng of streyfe, as when parteners, theyr goodes as equally dyspyded as they canne, take eueryman his parte by lotte to auoyde all suspicion of dyscreitfulnes: and as the Apostles in the first of the Actes, when they sought another to succede Judas the traytour, and .ii. persones were presented, then to breake streyfe and to satisfie all parties, dyd cast lottes whether shoulde be admitted, dyspynging God to temper them & to take whome he knewe moste mete, seeing they wylt not whether to preferre, oz haply coulde not agree on. Cyther is lawfull, and in al like cases. But to abuse the in vnto the temptyng of God, and to compell him therewyth to vtter thynges wherof we stande in doubt, whē we haue no commaundement of hym so to doo, as these heathen here dyd, though god tourned it vnto his glory, cannot be but euyl. The heathen shypmen astonished at the syght of the miracle, feared God, prayed to hym, offered sacrifice, and bowed bowes. And I doubt not, but that some of them oz haply al came thereby vnto the true knowledge and true worshypinge of God & wer won to God in these soules. And thus God whych is infinite merciful in al his wayes, wrought their soules health, oute of the infirmitie of Jonas, euen of his good wyl and pur-

purpose & loue wherewith he loued them before the world was made, & not of chaunce, as appeareth vnto the eyes of the ignorant. And that Jonas was. iij. dayes. and. iij. nightes in the belly of this fish: we cannot therby proue vnto the Jewes & infidels or vnto any man, & Christ must therfore dye & be buried and rylse againe. But we vse the ensample & lyknes to strength the faith of the weak. For he that beleueth the one, cannot doubt in the other: in as muche as the hande of God, was no lesse myghtie in preseruing Jonas alpye agaynst all natural possibylite, and in deliuering him safe out of hys lythe, then in rylsing vp Christ agayne out of hys sepulchre. And we may describe the power and vertue of the resurrection therby, as Christ hym selfe borroweth the similitude thereto. At xij. sayinge vnto the Jewes that came about him, & desired a signe or a wonder from heauē, to certifie them that he was Christ: this euill and wedlocke breaking nacio (which brake the wedlocke of sayth, wherewith they hemarped vnto god, and beleue in theyr false workes) seke a signe, but there shall no signe be geuen them save the signe of the prophete Jonas. For as Jonas was. iij. dayes. & .iij. nightes in the belly of the whale, euen so shall the sonne of man be. iij. dayes. & .iij. nightes in the hert of the earth. Which was a watch woorde, as we saye, and a sharpe threatnyng vnto the Jewes, & as muche to saye as thus, ye harde herted Jewes seke a signe, to this shall be your signe: as Jonas was rylsed oute of the sepulchre of his lythe, and he sente vnto the Miniutes to preache that they should perishe, eue so shall I rylse agayne oute of my sepulchre, & come and preache repentance vnto you. Se therfore when ye se the signe that ye repent, or els ye shall surely perishe and not escape. For though the infirmities, which ye now see in my flesh, be a let vnto your sayth, ye shall yet then be without excuse, when ye se so greate a miracle & so great power of God shewd out vpon you. And so Christ came after the resurrection in hys spirit, & preached repentance vnto them, by the mouth of his Apostles & disciples, & with myracles of the holy gost. And all that repented not perished shortly after, & the rest carryed away captiue into al quarters of the world for an ensample, as ye see vnto this daye.

And in lyke maner sence the world beganne, wheresoeuer repentance was offered and not receyued, there God toke cruel vengeance immediately: as ye se in the flood of Noe, in the overthrowing of Sodome & Gomor, and all the country about, & as ye se of Egypt, of the Amosites, Cananites, & after ward of the very Israelites, & then at the last of the Jewes to, & of the Assyrians and Babylonians, and so through out al the imperyes of the world.

Sildas preached repentance vnto the olde Britaines that inhabited England: they repented not, & therfore God sent in theyr enemies vpon the one euerie side, & destroyed the vp, and gaue the land vnto other nations. And great vengeance hath bene taken in that lande for synne sence that tyme. Mycelle preached repentance vnto our fathers not longe sence: they repented not, for they heres were indurate, & their eyes blynded with their owne pope holy rightwylnes, wherewith they had made their soules gay against the receiuing agayne of the wicked spirit that byngeth. vii. worse then him selfe with hym, and maketh the latter ende worse then the begynnyng: for in open synnes there is hope of repentance, but in holy ypocryse none at all.

But what folowed: they slewe the prophet right kyng, & set vp. iij. wrong kynges a rowe, vnder which al the noble blood was slayne vp & halfe the commons thereto, what in Fraunce, & what with their owne sword, in fighting among themselves for the crowne, and the cyties & townes decayed, and the land brought halfe into a wyldeernes in respect of that it was before.

And now Christ to preache repentance, is rylsen once agayne out of his sepulchre, in which the pope had buried him & kept him down with hys pylars and polages, & all dyspynges of ypocryse, with gyle, wyles and falshed, & with the sword of al princes, which he had blynded with his false marchaundise. And as I doubt not of the ensamples that are past, so am I sure that great wrath wil folow, except repentance turne it backe agayne and cease it. Wher Jonas had bene in the fishes belly a space & the rage of hys conscience was somewhat quieted and swaged, & he come to hymselfe agayne, & had receiued a new hope, the qaimes and pagnes of desperation which went ouer his hert, halfe overcome, he prayed, as he maketh mention in the text, saying Jonas prayed vnto the Lorde his God out of the bely of the fish. But the woordes of that prayer are not here set. The prayer that here standeth in the texte, is the prayer of the prayse and thankesgeuyng which he prayed and wrote when he had escaped and past al scapardye. In the ende of which prayer he sayth, I wyl sacryfyce with the voyce of thankesgeuyng & paye that I haue bowed: that saying cometh of the lord. For verely to confesse out of the hert, that al benefites come of God, euen out of the goodnes of hys mercye, and not deseryng of our desyes, is the onely sacryfyce that pleaseth God. And to beleue that, all the Jewes bowed in their circumsid, as we in our baptisme. Whiche bowe Jonas now taught with experyence, promyseth to pay. For those outward sacryfyces of beastes, vnto which Jonas had haply ascribed so muche before, were but corydis thynghes, and not ordeyned that the workes of them selues purge syn, but shoulde be a seruyce vnto the people, to put them in remembrance of thys inward seruyce of thankes, and of sayth, to trust and beleue in God the onely sauoure. Whiche signification when it was awaye, they were abhominable and deuyllysh ydolatre and ymage seruyce: as our ceremonies and sacramentes are become nowe to al that turne and beleue in the worke of them, and are not taught the significacions, to edyfyce theyr soules with knowledge and the doctryne of God.

When Jonas was cast vpon lande agayne, hys wyl was free, & had power to goo wherther God sent hym, & to do what God bad, his owne ymaginations layed a part. For he had bene at a new scole, yea, and in a fornae where he was purged of muche refuse and drole of fleshye wysdome which respyked the wysdome of God, and led Jonas wyl contrarie to the wyl of God. For as farre as we be blynd in Adam, we can not but syn and wil oure owne profit, pleasure and gloire. And as farre as we be caught in the spirit, we cannot but seke and wyl the pleasure and gloire of God onely.

And as the. iij. dayes iourney of Minue, whether it were in length or to goo rounde, aboute it, or thowme al the stretes, & comyt vnto the discretion of other men. But I thynke that it was then the greatest cytie of the world.

And that Jonas went a dayes iourney in the cytie, I suppose he dyd it not in one daye: but wente fayne & easely preaching here a sermon, & there an other, and rebuked þ synne of the people, for whyche they must perishe.

And when thou art come vnto the repentance of the sinners, there haste thou sure earnest, that how so ever angry God be, yet he remembereth mercy vnto al that truly repent & beleue in mercy. Whiche ensample our saviour Christ also carketh in the teeth of the indurate Jewes, saying: the sinners shall ryle in iudgemente with this nation, & condemne them: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and behold a greater then Jonas here, meaning of himselfe. At whose preaching yet, though it wer neuer so mighty to perce the hert, and for al his miracles thereto, the hard harted Jewes could not repent: when the heathen sinners repented at the bare preaching of Jonas, rebukinge these synners without any myracle at al.

Why? For the Jewes had leuened the spetial law of God & with their gloses had made it also together earthy & fleshye, and so had set a baile of covering on Moyses face, to shadowe & darke þ glorious brightnes of his countenance. It was lime to steale: but to robbe widows houses vnder a colour of long praying, and to polle in þ name of offeringes, & to snare þ people with intollerable constitutions against all loue, to ketch their money oute of their purse, was no synne at all.

To smite father & mother was synne. But to withdraue helpe from them at theyr nede, for blynd zeale of offering vnto þ profit of the holy Phariseis, was the as meritorious as it is now to let at thy kynne chole whether they wil linke or swym, whyle thou buydest & makest Godly foundations for holy people, whyche thou hast chosen to be thy Christe, for to couple thy soule with the oyle of their sweete blessinges, and so ore thy Jesus for to saue thy soule from the purgatory of the blood that onely purgeth synne, with theyr watchyng, fastyng, wolward goyng and resting at mydnight, &c. wherewith yet they purge not them selues from theyr concoules, vynde, lecherie or any vyce that thou seest among the laye people.

It was greates synne for Christe to heale the people on the sabbath daye vnto the gloire of God his father, but none at al for them to helpe theyr cattel vnto theyr owne profit. It was syn to eate vnwashen handes or on an vnwashen table, or out of an vnwashen dysh, but to eate out of that purpyed dish, þ which came of bybery, theft and extortion, was no synne at all.

It was exceedyng meritorious to make many disciples. But to teache them to feare God in his ordinaunces, had they no care at all.

The hye prelates so defiled the right of holy church & so feared the people with the curse of God & terrible paynes of hel, that no man durst leane the vilest herbe in his gardeyne vntyshed. And the offeringes & thynges dedicate vnto God for the profyt of his holy bycars, were in suche estimation & reuerence, þ it was muche greater synne to sweare truly by the, then to forswear thy selfe by god. What vengeance the of god, and how terrible & cruell damnacion thynke ye preached they to fall on the that had stollen so the holy thynges? And yet sayeth Christe that rightwysnes & fapth in keeping promysse, mercy, and indifferent iudgement were vitterly reoden vnder foote, and cleane dyspyled of those blessed fathers, whyche so myghtely maynteyned Barons patrymonye, & had made it so prosperous, and enuironed it and walled it about on every syde with the feare of God, that no man durst touche it.

It was greates holynesse to garnishe the sepulchres of the prophetes, & to condempne theyr fathers for slepyng of them, and yet were they them selues for blynde zeale of theyr owne constitution, as eedy as theyr fathers, to slea who soeuer testified vnto them the same truth whiche the prophetes testified vnto theyr fathers. So that Christe compareth al the rightwysnes of those holye patriarches vnto the outwarde bewty of a paynted sepulchre full of stench and all vnclennesse wythin. And specially to beguyle a mans neighbours in litle bargenyng, and to wrap & compass him in with cautels of þ law, was then as it is now in the kingdome of the Pope. By the reason wherof they excluded the law of loue out of their hertes, and consequent lyce al true repentance: for how could they repent of that they could not se to be synne.

And on the other side they had set by a rightwysnes of holye workes, to cleanse theyr soules with al, as the Pope sacrificeth vs to holy oyle, holy bread, holy salt, holy candel, holy dunne ceremonies, and holy dunne blessinges, & with whatsoeuer holynes thou wilt, saue with the holynes of Gods woorde, whiche onely speaketh vnto the herte, and sheweth the soule þs sythynes and vnclennes of synne, and leadeh her by the waye of repentance vnto the fountayne of Christes blood, to wache it a wape thowrowe sayth. By the reason of which false rightwysnes they were disobedient vnto the rightwysnes of God, whiche is the forgiveness of synne in Christes blood, and could not beleue it. And so thorow fleshy interpreting þ lawe & false ymagined rightwysnes, theyr hertes were hardened and made as stony as clay in a hore fornaice of fyre, þ they could receyue nether repentance nor fapth nor any manner of grace at all.

But the heathen sinners, though they wer blynded with lustes a good, yet wer in those if, popntes vncoyrupt and hardened, and therfore with the onely preaching of Jonas came vnto the knowledge of theyr synnes, & confessed them and repented truly, and turned euery man from his euyl dedes, and declared theyr sorow of hert and true repentance, with their dedes, which they dyd out of fapth and hope of forgiveness, chastising theyr bodies with power & fasting, and with takinge al pleasures from the fleshe: trusting, as God was angry for their wyckednes, euen so should he forgue the of his mercy, if they repented & forsoke theyr myse luyng.

And in the last end of al, thou hast yet a goodly ensample of learning, to se how earthy Jonas is lyl for al his tryng in the whales bely. He was so sore dyspleased because þ sinners perpyed not, that he was wepy of his lyfe, and wyshed after death for very sorow that he hath lost the gloire of his prophesying. In that his prophesye came not to passe. But God rebuked hym with a lykenes, sayinge: it greuerth thone herte for the losse of a vyle thynge or soye vyne wherof thou bestowedst no labour or cost, net ther was it thynne hande worke: howe muche more then shoulde greue myne herte, the losse of so greates a multitude of innocentes as are in sinne, whyche are all myne hande worke? Nay Jonas, I am God ouer all, and father as well vnto the heathen, as vnto the Jewes, and mercifull to all, and warne per I saye, ney ther thert I so cruelly by any prophete, but that I wil forgue if they repent and age mercy: net ther on the other syde, whatsoeuer I promysse, wilt wyll I fulfyll it, saue for theyr sakes onely, whiche the trust in me and submit, themselves to kepe my lawes of verie loue, as naturall chyldren. On this maner to reade the scriptures is the ryght vse therof, and why, the holy gost caused it to be wyrtten. That is, that thou fynde sche oute of the lawe, that God wyll haue the to do, interpretynge it spirytually wythoute glose or coueryng the byghnes of Moses face, so that thou fele in thyn herte, howe that it is damnable synne before God, not to loue thy neighbour that is thyn enemye, as purely as Christ loued the, and that not to loue thy neighbour in thine herte, is to haue committed already all synne agaynst hym. And therefore vntyll that loue be come thou muste knowledg vnfaynedlye that there is synne in the best dede thou doest. And it must earnestly greue thyn herte, and thou must washe all thy good dedes in Christes blood per they canne be pure and an acceptable sacrifice vnto God, and must desyre God the father for his sake, to take thy dedes a worth, and to pardon the imperfectnesse of them and to geue the power to doo them better, and wyth more feruente loue.

And on the other syde thou muste serche dyligently for the promyses of mercye whiche God hath promysed the agayn. Which two pointes, that is to wylt, the lawe spirytually interpreted, howe that al is damnable synne that is not vnfayned loue out of the grounde and botome of the herte after the ensample of Christes loue to vs, because we be al equally created and formed of one God our father, and indifferently bought and redemed wyth one bloude of oure sauoure Iesus Christe: and that the promyses be geuen vnto a repentyng soule that trusteth and longeth after them of, the pure and fatherly mercye of God through our fayth only wythout al deservynge of our dedes or merites of our workes, but for Christes sake alone, and for the merites and deseruynge of his workes, death and passion, that he suffered altogether for vs and not for hym selfe: which ii. pointes I say if they be wyrtten in thyn herte are the keyes which so open all the scripture vnto the, that no creature can locke the out, & with which thou shalt go in and out, & fynde pasture and fode euery where. And if these lessons be not wyrtten in thyn herte, then is al the scripture shut vp, as a kernel in the shale, so that thou mayst reade it, & comen of it, and reherse al the stoyres of it, and dispute so tyll thou be a profounde Sophister, and yet vnderstand not one Iote thereof.

And thyddly that thou take the stoyres & lyues, which are contayned in the Byble, for sure and vndoubted ensamples that God so wyll deale with vs vnto the worldes ende.

Herewith reader farewell, and be commended vnto God, & vnto the grace of his spire. And fyntle that thou stoppe not thyn cares vnto the callinge of God, and that thou harden not thyn herte, begyled with fleshy interpretynge of the lawe, and false ymagined and pporritish rightwysnes, and so the Ryniquites rise with the at the day of iudgement and condemne the.

And secondarily if thou finde ought a myste, when thou seest thy selfe in the glasse of Gods woorde, thinke it compendious wysdome, to amede the same betymes, mounthend and warned by the example of other men, rather then to tarye vntyll thou be beaten also.

And thyddly if it shall so chaunce, that the wyld lustes of thy fleshe shall blynde the and take the cleane awaye wyth theym for a tyme, yet at the latter ende, when the G O D of all mercye shall haue compassed the in on euery syde wyth temptacions, trybulacions, aduersities and combraunce, to byrge the home agayne into thyn owne herte, and to sette thy synnes whiche thou woulddest so fayre couer and put oute of mynde wyth delectacion of voluptuous pastimes, before the eyes of thy conscience: then call the faythfull ensample of Jonas and all lyke stoyres vnto thy remembraunce, and wyth Jonas turne vnto thy father that smote the not to cast the awaye, but to lay a cosse, and a fretyng plaster vnto the pocke that lay hyd and fret inwarde, to drawe the disease oute and to make it appeare, that thou myghtest feele thy synnesse and the daunger therof, and come and receyue the healyng plaster of mercye.

And forget not that whatsoeuer ensample of mercye God hath shewed sence the begynnynge of the world, the same is promysed the, yf thou wylte in lyke maner turne agayne and receyue it as they dyd. And wyth Jonas be knowen of thy synne and confesse it, and knowledg it vnto thy father.

And as the lawe whiche freteth thy conscience, is in thyn herte, and is none outwarde thyng, euen so seke wyth in thyn herte, the plaster of mercye, the promyses of forgiveness in oure sauoure Iesus Christe, accordyng vnto all the ensamples of mercye, that are gone before.

And wyth Jonas let them that wayt on vanities and seke God here and there, and in euery temple, saue in their hertes, go and sekerhou the testamēt of God in thyn herte. For in thyn herte is the woorde of the lawe, and in thyn herte is the woorde of fayth in the promyses of mercye in Iesus Christe. So that if thou confesse wyth a repentyng herte and knowledg and surely beleue that Iesus is Lord ouer all synne, thou art safe.

And synallye when the rage of thy conscience is ceased, and quieted wyth fast saythe in the promyses of mercye, then offer wyth Jonas the offeringe of prayse and thanks geuyng, and paye the bowe of thy baptysme, that is, beleue stedfastly and preache constantly, that God onely saueth of his onely mercye and goodnesse: and that it is God onely that smyteth, and God onely that healeth: ascripyng the cause of thy trybulacion vnto thyn owne synne, & the cause of thy deliuerance vnto the mercy of God.

And beware of the leuen that sayeth, we haue power in oure free wyl before the preachynge of the Gospel, to deserue grace, to kepe the law of congruitye, or, God to be vnrighthe. And say wyth John in the fyrst, that as the law was geuen by Moses, euen so, grace to fulfyll it, is geuen by Christe. And when they say our dedes wyth grace deserue heauen, saye thou wyth Paule. Roma. vi. that euerylastynge lyfe is the gyfte of God thowwe Iesus Christe our Lord, and that we be made sonnes by faythe. John. i. and therefore heyes of God wyth Christ. Ro. viii. And say that we receyue al of god through fayth that foloweth repentaunce, and that we doo not out workes vnto God, but cyther vnto oure selues, to slep the synne that remayneth in the fleshe, and to wake perfecte, cyther vnto oure neygbores whiche doo as muche agayne for vs in other thynges. And when a manne excedeth in gyftes of grace, let hym vnderstand that they be geuen hym, as well for his weake brethren, as for hymselfe: as though all the bread be committed vnto the paster, yet for his felowes wch hym, which geue the thankes vnto the Lord, and receyue the paster agayne wth other kynde seruyce in their offces. And when they saye that Christ hath made no sacrifice for the synne we do after our baptyme: saye thou wth the doctryne of Paule, that in our baptisme we receyue the merites of Christes death thow we repentance and sayth, of which two, baptisme is the signe. And though when we synne of feaultie after our baptisme we receyue that signe no more, yet be renewed again thow we the repentance and sayth in Christes blood, whiche wayne, the signe of baptisme euer continued amonge vs in baptysinge oure younge chyldeyn doeth euer kepe in mynde and call vs backe agayne vnto our profession if we be gone astray, and promysely vs forgiuenesse. Neither can actual sinne be washed away with oure workes, but with Christes blood: neyther canne they be any sacrifice or satisfaction to Godwarde for them, saue Christes blood. For as muche as we can do no workes vnto God, but receyue only of his mercy wth our repentynge sayth, thow we Iesus Christe our Lorde and onely sauour, vnto whom, vnto God our father thow we hym, and vnto his holye spyrte that onely pourgeth, sanctifyeth and washeth vs in the innocent blood of our redemption, be prayse for euer. Amen.

The booke of the prophet

Jonas.

The first Chapter.

Of the flight of Jonas whē he was set to preache. A tempest aryseth, and casteth hym in the sea for his disobedience.

A

And the word of the lord came vnto Jonas the sonne of Amithai, sayinge: Arise and gette thee to Ninue that great cite, and preache vnto them, how that their wickednesse is come vnto me.

And Jonas made hym redye to fle vnto. * Charlis from the presence of the Lorde, and gat hym downe to Toppa, where he founde a shyp redye for to go vnto Charlis. So he payed his fare, and wente aboarde that he myght go wth them vnto Charlis, frome the presence of the Lorde. But the Lorde hurled a great wynde into the sea, and there was a myghtye tempest in the sea, so that the shyp was in leoparde of goynge in peces. Then the maryners were astryed, and cryed euery man vnto his god: & the goodes that were in the shyp, they cast into the sea to lyghten it of the. But Jonas gat hym vnder the batthes, where he layed hym downe and sombred.

So the master of the shyp came to hym, and sayed vnto hym: why sombredest thou?

* Under the name of Charlis (as some thynke) is signified some sea: was farre of, & whole voyage was very longe: so that the sailers ther in coulde se nothyng, but the sea, & the ayre, Toppa is an haven of Jewye where was sometyme a goodly cite whiche there remaineth nowe but a poyst.

Up, call vpon thy God: if God (happely) wyl thynke vpon vs, that we perishe not. And they sayed one to an other: come, let vs cast lots, that we may know for whose cause we are thus troubled. And so they cast lottes, and the lot fell vpon Jonas.

Then sayed they vnto hym: tell vs for whose cause are we thus troubled? what is thine occupation? whence comest thou? what country man arte thou, and of what nation? He aunswered them: I am an Ebrue, and I feate the Lorde God of beaues, whiche made both the sea and drye lande. Then were the men exceedingly astryed, and sayd vnto hym: why dydest thou so? (for they knewe that he was fled from the presence of the Lorde, by cause he had tolde them) & sayed moreouer vnto hym: What shoulde we doo vnto the that the sea maye cease frome troublynge vs? (for the sea wrought and was troublous) he aunswered them: Take me and cast me into the sea, so shal it let you be in rest: for I wot, it is for my sake, that this greate tempest is come vpon you.

Neuerthelesse: the men astryed wth rowynge to brynge the shyp to lande, but it woulde not be, because the sea wrought so, and was so troublous agaynste them. Wherefore they cryed vnto the Lorde, and sayed: O Lorde, let vs not perishe for this mannes death, neyther lay thou innocente blood vnto oure charge, for thou, O Lorde haste done euen as thy pleasure was.

So they rooke Jonas and cast him into the sea, and the sea leste ragynge. And the men feared the Lorde exceedingly, doynge sacrifices and makinge vowes vnto the Lorde.

The. ii. Chapter.

Jonas is swallowed of a whale. The prayer of Jonas.

But the Lorde prepared a greate fysh to swallowe vp Jonas. So was Jonas in the bely of the fysh, thre dayes and thre nightes. And Jonas prayed vnto the Lorde his God out of the fyshes bely, and sayed: In my trouble I called vnto the Lorde, & he herde me: out of the belye of the bell I cryed, and thou herdest my voyce. Thou haddest cast me downe depe in the middest of the sea and the floud compassed me aboute: yet all thy waues and roules of water wente ouer me, I thought that I had bene cast awaye oute of thy syght: but I wyl yet agayne looke toward thy holy temple.

The waters compassed me, euen to the very soule: the depe lape aboute me, and the wedes were wrapt about myne head. I wente downe to the botome of bys byls and was barred in with earthe for euer. But thou, O Lorde my God, hast brought vp my lyfe agayn out of corruption. When my soule sayuted wthyn me, I thoughte vpon the Lorde: and my prayer came in vnto the, euen into thy holy temple. They that

Isa. vii. b

Deut. xxi. d

Mat. xii. d
and. xvi. a Luke. xi. d.
i. Cor. xv. a
Esa. lxi. a

The scripture speeth of hell comenly as of a place comen for all the that goo downe into the earth as in to a grane, or into the depe of the sea. &c. As ye haue in Gene. & in the psalms.

D

that holoe of vaine vanities wyl for sake hys mercede. But I wyl doo the sacrifice wylth the voyce of thankesgeyunge, & wyl paye that I haue bowed: for whyp? salua-cion cometh of the Lorde. And the Lorde spake vnto the fische, and it cast out Jonas agayne vpon the drye lande.

The .iii. Chapter.

Jonas is sende agayne to Ninue. The repentance of the kynge of Ninue.

Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jonas agayne, saying: vp and get the
to Ninue the great citie, and preach vnto them the preaching which I haue the.
So Jonas arose, and wente to Ninue at the Lordes commaundemente. Ninue was a greete cytie vnto God, namelpe; of three dayes iorney.

And Jonas wente to, and entered into the cytie: euen a dayes iorney, and cryed sayinge: There are yet .xl. dayes, and then shal Ninue be ouerthrowen. And the people of Ninue beleued God, and proclay-med fastynge, and atayed themselves in sackecloth, as wel the great as the smal of the. And the tydynges came to the king of Ninue, whiche arose out of hys seate, and oyd hys apparell of, and put on sacke-cloth, and sat vpon dowrie in ashes.

And it was cryed and commaunded in Ninue, by the authorite of the kyng and hys lordes, sayinge: see that neyther man, nor beast, ore v? theyr caste oughte at all, &
that they neyther feede, ne drynke water, but put on sackecloth both man and beast, and crye myghtily vnto God: pea se that every man turne from his euyl waye, and
from the wickednes that he hath in hand.

Who can tel? God maye turne, and repent and cease fro his ferece wrath, that we perysh not. And when God sawe their workes, how they turned from their wycked wayes, he repented on the euyl whych he sayd he would do vnto the, & oyd it not.

The .iiii. Chapter.

Jonas is reproued of God.

Therefore Jonas was soore disconted and angry. And he prayed vnto the Lord, and sayd: O Lord was not this my sayinge (I pray the) when I was yet in my countrey? therefore I hated rather
to be vnto Tharlis, for I knowe well ynough that thou arte a merciful God, full of compa syon, long sufferynge, & of greete kyndnesse, & repentest when thou shouldest take punishment. And nowe, O Lord, take my lyfe fro me (I beseeche the) for I had rather dye then lyue. Then sayd the Lorde:
arte thou so angry? And Jonas gat hym out of the cytie, and sat downe on the east syde thereof, and there made hym a booth,
and sat vnder it in the shadow til he myght se, what shalbe chaunce vnto the cytie.

And the Lorde God prepared a wyld byne whiche sprang vpon ouer Jonas, that he myght haue shadowe about hys head to deliuer hym out of his paine. And Jonas was excedyng glad of the wyld byne.

But vpon the nexte morowe agaynst the springe, of the daye, the Lorde ordeyned a worme whiche smore the wyld byne, so that it withered away. And when the sunne was vp, god prepared a feruēt East wynd:
and the sunne bet ouer the head of Jonas
that he fainted agayne, and wyshed vnto hys soule, that he myght dye, & sayd: It is better for me to dye, then to lyue. And god sayd vnto Jonas: Arte thou so angry for the wyld byne? And he sayd: yea, very angry, euen vnto deach. And the Lorde sayd:
thou haste compassion vpon a wyld byne, whereon thou bestowedst no laboure, ne madest it to growe: whiche sprang vp in one nyght, and perished an other, & should not I then haue compassion vpon Ninue that great cytie, wherein there are aboue an hundred and twenty thousand persons,
that knowe not theyr ryght haunde frome
theyr left, besydes muche cattel?

The ende of the prophecy
of Jonas.

The boke of the prophet
Michas.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of Samaria, because of theyr Idolatry.

This is the worde of the lord that came vnto M<sup>i</sup>ch<sup>a</sup>s theas the morasite, in a the dayes of Iothan, &
chas, & Ezechias king of Juda, whiche was the
wed him vpon Samaria
and Ierusalem. Heare al ye people, marke this wel, O earch, & al that therin is: Yea
the Lord God hym selfe be witnes among you, euen the lord f? his holy temple. For whyp? beholde, the Lorde shal go out of his palce, & come downe & stonde vpon y<sup>e</sup> high thinges of the earth. The mountaynes shal consume vnder hym, and the valleyes shal cleaue a sander: like as waxe consumeth at the fyre, & as y<sup>e</sup> waters runne downeward.
And all this shalbe for the wyckednesse of Jacob, & the synnes of the house of Israel.

But what is the wyckednesse of Jacob? Is not Samaria? Whych are the high places of Iuda? Is not Ierusalem?
Wherefore I shal make Samaria an heape of stones in the feld to saye about the vine:
parde: her stones shal I cast into the valley, and discover her foundations. All her ymages shal be broken downe and
all her wynges shal be biente in the fyre:
yea all her Idollis wyl I destroye: for whyp, they are gathered oute of the hye of an whoze, and into an whozes hye shal they be turned agayne. Wherefore I wyl

mourne

that holoe of vaine vanities wyl forsake bys merce. But I wyl doo the sacrifice wyl the voyce of thankefgeyng, & wyl paye that I haue bowed: for wyl? salua-cion cometh of the Lorde. And the Lorde spake vnto the fysh, and it cast out Jonas agayne vpon the drye lande.

The .iii. Chapter.

Jonas is sende agayne to Ninue. The repentance of the kynge of Ninue.

Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jonas agayne, saying: vp and get the
to Ninue the great cite, and preach
vnto them the preaching which I haue the.
So Jonas arose, and wente to Ninue at the Lordes commaundement. Ninue was a grete cite vnto God, namelpe of three dayes iorney.

And Jonas wente to, and entered into the cite: euen a dayes iorney, and cryed saying: There are yet .xl. dayes, and then shal Ninue be ouerthrowen. And the people of Ninue beleued God, and proclay-med fastinge, and atayed themselves in sackcloth, as wel the great as the smal
of the. And the tydynges came to the king of Ninue, whiche arose out of his seate, and oyd his apparell of, and put on sack-
cloth, and sat vpon dowrie in ashes.

And it was cryed and commaunded in Ninue, by the authorite of the kyng and
his lordes, saying: see that neyther man, nor beast, ore of theyr caste oughte at all,
that they neyther feede, ne drynke water,
but put on sackcloth both man and beast,
and crye myghtily vnto God: pea se that every man turne from his euyl waye, and
from the wickednes that he hath in hand.

Who can tel? God maye turne, and repent and cease fro his ferece wrath, that we perysh not. And when God sawe their workes, how they turned from their wycked wayes, he repented on the euyl whiche he sayd he would do vnto the, & oyd it not.

The .iiii. Chapter.

Jonas is reproued of God.

Therefore Jonas was soore disconted
and angry. And he prayed vnto the Lord, and sayd: O Lord was not this
my sayinge (I pray the) when I was yet
in my countrey? therefore I hated rather
to be vnto Tharlis, for I knowe well ynough that thou arte a merciful God, full of compa syon, long sufferinge, & of grete
kyndnesse, & repentest when thou shouldest take punishment. And nowe, O Lord, take my lyfe fro me (I beseeche the) for I had rather dye then lyue. Then sayd the Lorde:
arte thou so angry? And Jonas gat hym out of the cite, and sat downe on the east
syde thereof, and there made hym a booth,
and sat vnder it in the shadow til he myght
see, what shalbe chaunce vnto the cite.

And the Lorde God prepared a wyld
byne whiche sprang vpon ouer Jonas, that he myght haue shadowe aboute his head to deliuer hym out of his paine. And Jonas was excedyng glad of the wyld byne.

But vpon the nexte morowe agaynst the
springe, of the daye, the Lorde ordeyned a worme whiche smore the wyld byne, so
that it withered away. And when the sunne
was vp, god prepared a feruēt East wynd:
and the sunne bet ouer the head of Jonas
that he fainted agayne, and wylshed vnto his soule, that he myght dye, & sayd: It is better for me to dye, then to lyue. And god sayd vnto Jonas: Arte thou so angry for the wyld byne? And he sayd: yea, very angry, euen vnto deach. And the Lorde sayd:
thou haste compassion vpon a wyld byne, whereon thou bestowedst no labour, ne madest it to growe: whiche sprang vp in
one nyght, and perished an other, & should
not I then haue compassion vpon Ninue that grete cite, wherein there are aboue
an hundred and twenty thousand persons,
that knowe not theyr ryght haunde frome
theyr left, besydes muche cattel?

The ende of the prophecy
of Jonas.

The boke of
the prophet
Michas.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of Samaria, because of
theyr Idolatry.

This is the worde of the lord that came vnto M-chias the prophet, in athe dayes of Iothan, A-chaz, & Ezechias king of Juda, whiche was the-
wed him vpon Samaria
and Ierusalem. Heare al ye people, marke
this wel, O earch, & al that therin is: Yea
the Lord God hym selfe be witnes among you, euen the lord f: d his holy temple. For wyl? beholde, the Lorde shal go out of his palce, & come downe & treade vpon y high thinges of the earth. The mountaynes shal
consume vnder hym, and the valleyes shal
cleaue a sander: like as waxe consumeth at the fyre, & as y waters runne downeward.
And all this shalbe for the wyckednesse of
Jacob, & the synnes of the house of Israel.

But what is the wyckednesse of Jacob? Is not Samaria? Whiche are the high places of Iuda? Is not Ierusalem?
Therefore I shal make Samaria an heape of stones in the feld to saye aboute the vine:
parde: her stones shal I cast into the valley, and discover her foundations. All her ymages shal be broken downe and
all her wynges shal be biente in the fyre:
yea all her Idollcs wyl I destroye: for wyl, they are gathered oute of the hye
of an whoze, and into an whozes hye shal
they be turned agayne. Wherefore I wyl

mourne

The. ii. Chapter.

II. Reg. i. e. moune and make lamentacion, bare and naked wyl I go, I must moune lyke the dragons, and take sorowe as the Estriches: for they wounde is past remedy: And wher it is come into Iuda, and hath touched the porte of my people at Ierusalem alrede. Wepe not, lest they at Beth p. receyue it.

III. re. xviii. c. Thou at Betaphia, welter thy selfe in the duste and ashes. Thou that dwellest at Sepht, get the venge with shame. The proude shall booste no more for verpe sorowe, and why? her neyghboure shall take frome her what she hath. The rebel house ctye hopeth, that it shall not be so euyl: but for al that, the plage shall come from the Lorde, even in the porte of Ierusalem. The grete noyse of the charrettes shall feare them that dwel at Iachis, whiche is an occasion of the syn of the daughter of Sion, for in her came by the wickednes of Israel. Yea she sent her coursers in to the lande of Beth. The houses of Ipes wil deceiue the kynges of Israell. And as for the (Thou that dwellest at Moza) I shall bring a possessor vpon the, & the plage of Israel shall reache vnto Moza. Make the balde, and haue the, because of thy tendre child: Make the cleane balde as an Eagle, for they shall be carped awaye captiue from the.

The. ii. Chapter.

The threathinges against the sinfull people.

II. Re. xxi. c. O vnto them that imagin to doo harme, & deuise vngodlynes vpon their beddes: to persourne it in the cleare daye, for their power is agaynst God. When they couet lande, they take it by violence, they rob men of theyr houses.

Thus they oppresse a man for his house, and euery manne for his herpage. Therefore thus saith the Lorde: Beholde agaynst this householde haue I deuyd a plage, whereout ye shall not plucke pouce neckes: Ye shall no more go so proudly, for it wil be a perillous tyme. In that day shall this tearme be used, & a mourning shall be made ouer you on this maner: We be utterly desolate, the porcion of my people is translated. When wyl be parte vnto vs the land, that he hath taken frome vs?

Re. xxiii. c. Neuertheles there shall be no manne to deuyde the thy porcion in the congregacion of the Lorde. Tush, holde your tounge (saye they.) It shall not fall vpon this people, we shall not come so to confusion, saith the house of Jacob. Is the spirite of the Lorde so cleane awaye? or is he so mynded? Truth it is, my wordes are scendly vnto them that lyue ryght, but my people doth the contrary, therefore must I take parte agaynst them: for they take awaye bothe coate and cloke from the simple.

Ye haue turned your selues to fight, the women of my people haue ye shut oute fro their good houses, and taken awaye my excellent gyftes from theyr children. Up get you hēce, for here you shall haue no rest. Because of their ydolatry they are corrupt, and shall miserably perishe. If I were a fleshy fellow and a preacher of lyes, and tolde them that they myght sūt bybyng and bollyng and be dronken, & that were a prophete for this people.

The Prophecy

But I wil gather them in dede, O Jacob, and diuise the remnaunte of Israel al together, I shall carpe them one with another as a flock in the folde, & as the cattell in their stalles: that they maye be disquieted of other menne. Who so breaketh the gappe, he shall go before. They shall breake vp the porte and go in and out at it. Their kyng shall goo before them, and the Lorde shall be vpon the bande of them.

The. iiii. Chapter.

Agaynst the tyrannye of prynces, and false Prophetes.

Deu. xvi. d. Jerem. v. a. Hare, O ye heades of the house of Jacob, and ye leaders of the house of Israel: Should not ye knowe, what is lawfull and right? But ye hate good, and loue the euill: ye plucke of mennes skynnes, and the fleshe frome their bones: ye eat the fleshe of my people, flaye of theyr skynne: ye breake theyr bones, ye chop them in peces as it were into a Cauldron, and as fleshe into a potte. Nowe the tyme shall come: that when they call vnto the Lorde, he shall not heare them, but hyde his face fro them, because that they haue toke their owne ymaginacions they haue delt so wyckedly.

And as concerning the Prophetes that disceiue my people, thus the Lorde sayeth agaynst them: When they haue any thyng to byte vpon, they preache that al shall be wel: but if a man put not some thyng into their mouthes, they preache of warre agaynst hym.

Therefore your vision shall be turned to nyghte, and your prophecyinge to darkness. The sunne shall go downe ouer those Prophetes, and the daye shall be darcke vnto them. Then shall the vision seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers confounded, yea they shall be saue, al the pack of them, to stoppe theyr mouthes, for they haue not gods word. As for me, I am full of strenght and of the spirite of the Lorde: full of iudgement and boldenesse, to shewe the house of Jacob theyr wyckednes, and the house of Israel theyr synne.

O heare this ye rulers of the house of Jacob, and ye iudges of the houses of Israel, ye that abhorre the thyng that is lawfull, and wrest asyde the thyng that is strenght: Ye that buyde vp Sion with bloud and Ierusalem with doyng wrong. O ye iudges, ye geue sentence for gyftes: O ye priestes, ye teache for lucte. O ye prophetes, ye prophesy for money. Yet wil they be taken as those that holde vpon God, and say: Is not the Lord among vs? Tush there can no misfortune happen vs.

Deu. xvi. d. Jerem. v. a. Is. lxxxi. a.

To hyde his face is, to shewe no token of beuolence, as in. Job. xxi. a. b. Deu. xxxi. d.

Abac. ii. b. Ezech. xxi. b. Jer. vi. b.

Of Michas.

vs. Therefore shall Sion (for your sakes) be plowed like a field, Jerusalem shall become an heape of stones, & the hill of the temple shall be turned to an hye wood.

The. liii. Chapter.

Of the calling of the Gentyles, and conuer-sion of the Jewes.

Esay. li. a
Ier. xvi. g

Isa. lx. a

Esay. xl. b

Gen. xlv. b

Isa. v. b

Isa. xlii. b

But in the latter dayes it wyl come to passe that the hyll of the Lordes house shall be sette vp hyer then anye mountaynes or hilles: Yea the people shall please vnto it, and the multitude of the Gentyles shall haue them thither, saying: Come, let vs goo vp to the hyll of the Lord, and to the house of the G. D. of Jacob, that ye maye teache vs hye way, and that we maye walke in hye pathes. For the lawe shall come oute of Syon, & the word of God frome Jerusalem, and shall gyue sentence among the multitude of the hea- then, & refourme þ people of far contryes so that of theyr swerdes they shall make plowshares, and sickes of theyr speares.

Wone people shall not lyfte vp a swerde agaynst an other, yea, they shall no more learne to fyght, but euery manne shall sit vnder his vyneparde and vnder his fig- tree, and no man to fray him a way, for the mouth of the Lord of hostes hath spoken it. Therefore where as al the people haue walked euery manne in the name of his owne G. D., we wyl walke in the name of oure God for euer and euer. At the same tyme sayeth the Lord, wyl I gather vp the lame and oute castes, and such as I haue chastened, and wyl gyue them vnto the lame, and make of the out- castes a greate people, and the Lord hym selfe shall be theyr kyng vpon the mounte Syon, from this tyme forth for euermore. And vnto thee (O thou towne of Eder, þ strong hold of the daughter Syon) vnto the shall it come: euen the Lordshyppe and kyngedome of the daughter Jerusalem. Why then art thou now so heuere? is there no kyng in thee: are thy counselors away that thou art so payned, as a woman in her trauals? And now (O thou daughter Syon) be forye, let it greue the as a wyfe la- bouryng wth chyld: for now we must thou get the oute of the cypre and dwell vpon the playne fieldes: Yea vnto Babylon shalt thou goo, there shalt thou be deliuered, and there the Lord shall lewse thee frome the hande of thyne enemyes.

Nome also are there manye people ga- thered togither agaynst the, saying: whate Syon is cursed, he shall see oure luste vpon her. But they knowe not the thoughtes of the Lord, they vnderstand not his coun- sell, that shall gather them togither as the sheaues into the barne.

Therefore get the vp, O thou daughter Syon, and thresh out the corne: for I wyl make thy horn yron, & thy clawes bras, that thou mayest grynde manye people: their goodes shalt thou appropriate vnto

The. v. Chapter. Jo. cxxxviii.

the Lord, and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole worlde.

The. v. Chapter.

Of the destruction of Jerusalem.

After that shalt thou be robbed thy selfe, O thou robbers daughter: they shall lay siege agaynst vs, and smyte the iudge of Israel wth a rodde vpon the cheke. And thou Berleem Ephrata, arte lytle among the thousandes of Juda. Out of the shall come vnto me, whiche shall be the gouernoure in Israel: whose out go- ynge hath bene from the begynnyng, and from euerlastyng.

In the meane whyle he plagerh the for a season, buttill the tyme that he (whiche shall beare) haue borne: then shall the rem- naunte of hye brethren be conuerted vnto the chyldren of Israel. He shall stande fast and giue foode in the strength of the Lord, and in the victory of the name of the Lord hye God, and when they be conuerted, he shall be magnified vnto the farthest parts of the worlde.

Then shall there be peace, so that the As- syrian may come into our land, and treade in oure houses. We shall drynge vp se- uen sheperdes, and egypt princes vpon them: these shall subdue the lande of Assur wth the swerde, and the lande of As- syria wth theyr naked weapōs. Thus shall he deliuer vs from the Assyrian, when he cometh wthyn oure lande, and setteth hye foote wthyn our borders.

And the remnaunte of Jacob shall be a monges the multitude of people, as the dewe of the Lord, and as the droppes vpon the grasse, that tarreth for no man, and macteth of no bodye. Yea the resydue of Jacob shall be amonges the Gentyles and the multitude of people, as the Lyon amonge the beastes, of the woode, and as the Lyons whelp among a flocke of shepe: whiche when he goeth thorow treadeth downe, teareth in peces, and there is no waste that canne helpe. Thyne hande shall be lyte vpon thyne enemyes, and all thyne aduersaries shall perishe.

The tyme shall come also sayth the Lord that I wyl take thyne horses frome thee, and destroye the charrettes. I wil breake downe the cyties of thy lande, and quere thowme al thy strong holdes. Al witch- craftes wyl I roote oute of thyne hande, there shall no mo soothsaynges be wth- in the. Thyne Idoles and thyne Images wyl I destroy out of the, so that thou shalt no more bowe thy selfe vnto the woorkes of thyne owne handes. Thy groues wil I plucke vp by the rootes, and breake downe the cypres. Thus wyl I be auenged also, vpon al the Heathen that wyl not heare.

The. vi. Chapter.

An exhortacion to heare the iudgements a- gainst Israel beyng vnkynde, what manner of sacryfices doeth please God.

AAA. ii.

Becken

The vii. Chapter.

The Prophecy

Herken now what the Lord sayeth: Up, reprove the mountaynes, & let the hilles heare thy voyce. O heare the punishment of the Lord, ye mountaynes, and ye myghty foundations of the earth: for the Lord will reprove his people, and reason with Israel: O my people, what have I done unto the? or where in have I hurt the? gyve me answere. Because I brought the from the land of Egypt, and deliuered the out of the house of bondage: Because I made Moses, Aaron and Miriam to leade the? Remembre (O my people) what Balach the kynge of Moab had imagined agaynst the, and what answer that Balaam the sonne of Beor gaue hym from Setchim vnto Balgal, that ye may knowe the louynge kyndnesse of the Lord.

What acceptable thinge shal I offer vnto the Lord? shal I bowe my knee to the high God? shal I come before hym with brett offerings, and with calves of a yere olde? Hath the Lord a pleasure in many thousande rames, or in innumerable streames of oyle? Or shal I gyve my syrtborne for myne offences, and the fruite of my bodye for the sinne of my soule? I wil shewe the, O man, what is good and what the Lord requyret of the: Namely, to do right, to haue pleasure in louynge kyndnesse, to be lowly, and to walke with thy God: that thou mayst be called a cyrpe of the Lord, and that thy name may be righteousnesse. Heare (O ye trybes) who would els gyve you suche warning? Should I not be displeased, for the vnrightheous good in the houses of the wycked, & because the measure is minished? Or shoulde I iustifye the false balauces and the bagge of dysceitfull weyghtes amonge those that be full of tryches vnrightheously gotten: where the ciuillus deale with falsed, speake lyes, and haue dysceitfull tungen in their mouthes?

Therefore wyl I take in hand to punish the, and to make the desolate because of thy synnes. Thou shalt eate, and not haue ynoughe: yea thou shalt bynge thy selfe downe. Thou shalt sleepe, but not escape: and those that thou wouldest saue, wyl I deliuer to the sword. Thou shalt sow, but not reape: thou shalt presse out olyues, but oyle shalt thou not haue to anoynt thy selfe with all: thou shalt treade out swere must, but shalt drynk no wyne. Ye kepe the ordinaunces of Amri, and all the customs of the house of Achab: ye folowe their pleasures, therefore wyl I make the wast, and cause thy inhabytors to bee abhorred. O my people: and thus shalt thou heare thyne owne shame.

The vii. Chapter.

I complayne of the lytle number of the righteous agaynst the trueth ought we not to hold with our great frendes.

Vho is me: I am become as one that goeth a gleanynge in the harvest. There are no mo grapes to eate, yet woulde I faine (with al my herte) haue of the best fruite. There is not a godlye man vpon earth, there is not one righteous among men. They labour all to shed blood, & every man hunteth his brother to deatch: yet they say they do wel whē they do euyl. As the prince wil, so sayth the iudge: that he maye doo hym a pleasure agayne. The greates manne speaketh what hys herte desyret: and the hearers allowe hym. The best of them is but as a thystle and the most righteous of them is but as a brer in the hedge. But when the daye of thy preachers cometh, that thou shalt be visited: then shall they be wasted awaye. Let no man beleue hys frende, ne put hys confydence in a prince. Kepe the porte of thy mouth, from her that lyeth in thy bosome, for the sonne shall put hys farther to dishonour, the doughter shall arise agaynst her mother, the doughter in law agaynst her mother in lawe: and a mannes foes shalbe euen they of hys owne households.

Neuer thelesse I wyl looke vpon the Lord. I wyl patiently abyde God my sayour: my God shal heare me. O thou enemy of myne reioyce not at my fall, for I shall get vp agayne: and though I lyt in darknesse, yet the Lord is my lyght. I wyl beare the punishment of the Lord (for wher I haue offended hym) tyll he lyt in iudgement vpon my cause, and see that I haue right. He wil bynge me forth to the lyght, and shal see hys righteousnesse. She that is myne enemy shal looke vpon it, and be confounded, wherby now sayest thou. Where is thy Lord God? Myne eyes shal beholde her, when she shall be troden downe as the clay in the stretes. The time wil come that thy gaps shall be made vp, and the lawe shall go abrode: and at that tyme shall they come vnto the, from Assur vnto the strong cyties, & from the stronge cyties vnto the ryuer: from the one sea, to the other, from the one mountayne to the other. Notwithstanding the land must be wasted, because of them that dwel therein, and for the frutes of their owne Imagynations. Therefore see thy people with thy rod, the flocke of thyne heritage wher they dwell desolate in the wood: that they may be fed vpon the mounte of Charnel, Basan, and Galaad as for a tyme. Marueylous thynges wyl I shewe them, lyke as when they came oute of Egypt. They shall the beathen see, and be ashamed for all their power, so that they shal lay their hande vpon their mouth, and stoppe their eares. They shall lycke the dust lyke a serpent, and as the wormes of the earth, that tremble in their holes. They shalbe as caryd of the lorde our God, & they shal feare the. Where is there such a God as thou: that pardonest wickednes, and forgyuest the offences fences of the remnant of thine heritage? He kepeth not hys wrath for ever. And why his delite is to haue compassion: he shall turne againe, & be merciful to vs: he shall put downe oure wyckednesses, and cast all our sins into the bottome of the sea. Thou shalt kepe thy trust with Iacob, and thy mercye for Abraham, lyke as thou haste swoyne vnto our fathers long ago.

The ende of the prophery
of Nynueas.

The booke of the prophet

Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of Ninue, and of the deliuerance of Israel.

A

This is the heuy burthen of Ninue, whiche Na-
hum of Elchos did write
as he sawe it. The Lorde is a gealous God and a taker of vengeance: yea
a taker of vengeance is

Deute. v. b. the Lord, and worchfull. The Lord taketh vengeaunce of his enemy, & reserueth displeasure for his aduersaries. The Lorde suffereth long, he is of great power, & so innocent that he leaueth no man faultles before him. The Lord goeth forth in repest & storme wether, the cloudes are the duste of hys feete. When he reprobeth the sea, he dryeth it vp, and turneth al the foudes
to dry lande, Basan is desolate. Charnel and the pleasure of Lybanus wasteth awaye. The mountaynes tremble for hym, the hilles consume. At the sight of him, the earth quaketh: yea the whole worlde and al that dwel therein. Who may endure before his wrath? Or who is able to abyde his grim displeasure? Hys anger taketh on lyke fyre, and the harde rockes burst in sonder before hym.

Jer. x. b.
Eccl. xxi. a.
Abac. i. a.
Soph. iii. b.

Ful gracious is the Lord, and a stronge
holde in the tyme of trouble, he knoweth them that put their trust in hym: whē the floud renneth ouer, & destroyeth the place,
and when the darknes foloweth still vpon
his enemies. What do ye ymagin then against the Lord on this maner? (Tush, whē
he hath once made an end, there shall come no more trouble.) For lyke as the thornes that sticke together, & as the dry straw, so shall the bronckards be consumed together, euē when they be ful. There come oute of
the such as ymagyn myschiete, and gyue vngacious counsell agaynst the Lorde.

Therefore thus sayth the Lord: Let the
be as wel prepared, yea & as many as they can, yet shall they be helmed down, & passe awaye. And as for I, I wil bere the, but not vicerly destroy the. And now wil I breake his rod, & thy back, & burst thy bondes in sonder. But I Lord hath given a commaunde-ment concerning the, & that there shall come no more sede of thy name. The carued and casten ymages wyl I rote out of the house of thy God, thy graue shall I prepare for the and thou shalt be confounded.

The.ii. Chapter.

He describeth the victory of the Loides a-gaynst the Ainsuites.

Behold, vpon the moztaines come the
frete of hym, that byngeth good tydings, and precheth peace. O Iuda, kepe thy holpe dayes, perfourme thy pro-myces, for Belial shall come no more in the,
he is vicerly rooted out.

The scatterer shall come vp against the,
and lay siege to the castel. Looke thou wel
to the stretes, make thy loynes stronge, arise thy selfe wth all thy myght, for the Lord shall restore agayne the glory of Iac-ob, lyke as the glory of Israel.

The destroyers haue broken them downe,
& marred the wyne branches. The shild
of his giantes glistereth, his men of war are clothed in purple. His charrettes are as fyre, when he maketh him forward, his archers are wel deckt and trimmed. The charrettes role vpon the stretes, & welter
in the beigh mares. They are to loke vpon lyke cressettes of fyre, and gooswiftlye as the lghnyng. When he doeth but warne his giantes, they fall in theyr arape, and hastely they clyme vp the walles, yea the engyns of warre be prepared alcedy. The water portes shall be opened, and I kynges palace shall fall. The quene her selfe shall be led away captiue, and the gentyl women
shall mourne as the doves, and grone wthyn their hertes. Ninue is lyke a ful, pole of water but the shall thei be fatne to se. Stande, stande, shall they cpe, and there shall not one turne back. Away wth the siluer, awaye wth the gold, for here is no ende of treasure.

There shall be a multitude of all maner costly ornaments. Thus must he be spot-led, emtied and cleane stepped oute: that their hertes maye be melted awaye, their knees tremble, all their loynes be weake,
and their faces blacke as a pot.

Where is now the dwelling of the lions,
and the pasture of the lyons whelpes? D where the Lyon and the lyonelle wente
wth the whelpes, and no manne frayed
them away. But the lyon spoyled ynough
for hys yonge ones, and deuoured for hys lyonelle: he fylled hys dennes wth hys praye, and hys dwellynge place wth that he had rauished. Beholde, I wyl vpon the saneth the Lorde of hostes, and wyl sette fyre vpon thy charrettes, that they shall smoke wth all, and the sweard shall deuoure the yonge lyons. I wyl make an ende of thy spoylunge from oute of the earth, and the voyce of the messengers shall no more be herde.

AAA.iii.

The

Withe. b. s

Gal. iii. a
Rom. x. c

Co. xiii. b.
Soph. i. c.

fences of the remnant of thine heritage? He kepeth not hys wrath for ever. And why his delite is to haue compassion: he shall turne againe, & be merciful to vs: he shall put downe oure wyckednesses, and cast all our sins into the bottome of the sea. Thou shalt kepe thy trust with Iacob, and thy mercye for Abraham, lyke as thou haste sworne vnto our fathers long ago.

The ende of the prophery
of Ouycheas.

The booke of the prophet

Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of Ninue, and of the
deliuerance of Israel.

A

This is the heuy burthen
of Ninue, whiche Na-
hum of Elchos did write
as he sawe it. The Lorde is a gealous God and a
taker of vengeance: yea
a taker of vengeance is

Deute. v. b. the Lord, and worchfull. The Lord taketh vengeaunce of his enemy, & reserueth dis-
pleasure for his aduersaries. The Lorde suffereth long, he is of great power, & so innocent that he leaueth no man faultles before him. The Lord goeth forth in repest &
storme wether, the cloudes are the duste of hys feete. When he reynoueth the sea,
he dryeth it vp, and turneth al the foudes
to dry lande, Basan is desolate. Charnel
and the pleasure of Lybanus wasteth awaye. The mountaynes tremble for hym,
the hilles consume. At the sight of him, the earth quaketh: yea the whole worlde and al that dwel therein. Who may endure before his wrath? Or who is able to abyde
his grim displeasure? Hys anger taketh on lyke fyre, and the harde rockes burst in sonder before hym.

Jer. x. b.
Eccl. xxi. a.
Abac. i. a.
Soph. iii. b.

Ful gracious is the Lord, and a stronge
holde in the tyme of trouble, he knoweth
them that put their trust in hym: whē the
floud renneth ouer, & destroyeth the place,
and when the darknes foloweth still vpon
his enemies. What do ye ymagin then against the Lord on this maner? (Tush, whē
he hath once made an end, there shall come
no more trouble.) For lyke as the thornes that sticke togyther, & as the dry straw, so shall the bronckards be consumed togyther, euē when they be ful. There come oute of
the such as ymagyn myschiete, and gyue
vngacious counsell agaynst the Lorde.

Therefore thus sayth the Lord: Let the
be as wel prepared, yea & as many as they
can, yet shall they be helmed down, & passe awaye. And as for I, I wil bere the, but not
vicerly destroy the. And now wil I breake
his rod, & thy back, & burst thy bondes in

sonder. But I Lord hath given a commaunde-
ment concerning the, & that there shall come
no more sede of thy name. The carued and
casten ymages wyl I rote out of the house
of thy God, thy graue shall I prepare for
the and thou shalt be confounded.

The.ii. Chapter.

He describeth the victory of the Loides a-gaynst the Assuites.

Behold, vpon the moystaynes come the frete of hym, that byngeth good tydings, and precheth peace. O Iuda, kepe thy holpe dayes, perfourme thy pro-
myces, for Belial shall come no more in the,
he is vicerly rooted out.

The scatterer shall come vp against the,
and lay siege to the castel. Looke thou wel
to the stretes, make thy loynes stronge,
arise thy selfe wth all thy myght, for the Lord shall restore agayne the glory of Iac-
ob, lyke as the glory of Israel.

The destroyers haue broken them downe,
& marred the wyne branches. The shild
of his giantes glistereth, his men of war
are clothed in purple. His charrettes are as fyre, when he maketh him forward, his archers are wel deckt and trimmed. The charrettes role vpon the stretes, & welter
in the beigh mares. They are to loke vpon
lyke cressettes of fyre, and gooswiftlye as
the lghnyng. When he doeth but warne
his giantes, they fall in theyr arape, and
hastely they clyme vp the walles, yea the
engyns of warre be prepared alcedy. The
water portes shall be opened, and I kynges
palace shall fall. The quene her selfe shall be led away captiue, and the gentyl women
shall mourne as the doves, and grone
wthyn their hertes. Ninue is lyke a ful, pole of water but the shall thei be fatne
to se. Stande, stande, shall they cpe, and there shall not one turne back. Away wth
the siluer, awaye wth the gold, for here is no ende of treasure.

There shall be a multitude of all maner
costly ornaments. Thus must the be spot-
led, emtied and cleane stepped oute: that
their hertes maye be melted awaye, their
knees tremble, all their loynes be weake,
and their faces blacke as a pot.

Where is now the dwelling of the lions,
and the pasture of the lyons whelpes? D
where the Lyon and the lyonelle wente
wth the whelpes, and no manne frayed
them away. But the lyon spoyled ynough
for hys yonge ones, and deuoured for hys lyonelle: he spyled hys denues wth hys praye, and hys dwellynge place wth that he had rauished. Beholde, I wyl vpon
the saneth the Lorde of hostes, and wyl
sette fyre vpon thy charrettes, that they shall smoke wth all, and the sweard shall
deuoure the yonge lyons. I wyl make
an ende of thy spoylunge from oute of the earth, and the voyce of the messengers
shall no more be herde.

AAA.iii.

The

Withe. b. s

Gal. iii. a
Rom. x. c

Co. xiii. b.
Soph. i. c.

fences of the remnant of thine heritage? He kepeth not hys wrath for ever. And why his delite is to haue compassion: he shall turne againe, & be merciful to vs: he shall put downe oure wyckednesses, and cast all our sins into the bottome of the sea. Thou shalt kepe thy trust with Jacob, and thy mercye for Abraham, lyke as thou haste swoyne vnto our fathers long ago.

The ende of the prophesy of Nahum.

The booke of the prophet

Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of Ninue, and of the
deliuerance of Israel.

A

This is the heuy burthen
of Ninue, whiche Na-
hum of Elchos did write
as he sawe it. The Lorde is a gealous God and a
taker of vengeance: yea
a taker of vengeance is

Deute. v. b. the Lord, and worchfull. The Lord taketh vengeaunce of his enemy, & reserueth dis-
pleasure for his aduersaries. The Lorde suffereth long, he is of great power, & so innocent that he leaueth no man faultles before him. The Lord goeth forth in repest &
storme wether, the cloudes are the duste of hys feete. When he reppoueth the sea,
he dryeth it vp, and turneth al the foudes
to dry lande, Basan is desolate. Charnel
and the pleasure of Lybanus wasteth awaye. The mountaynes tremble for hym,
the hilles consume. At the sight of him, the earth quaketh: yea the whole worlde and al that dwel therein. Who may endure before his wrath? Or who is able to abyde
his grim displeasure? Hys anger taketh on lyke fyre, and the harde rockes burst in sonder before hym.

Jer. x. b.
Eccl. xxi. a.
Abac. i. a.
Soph. iii. b.

Ful gracious is the Lord, and a stronge
holde in the tyme of trouble, he knoweth
them that put their trust in hym: whē the flood renneth ouer, & destroyeth the place,
and when the darknes foloweth still vpon
his enemies. What do ye ymagin then against the Lord on this maner? (Tush, whē
he hath once made an end, there shall come
no more trouble.) For lyke as the thornes that sticke togyther, & as the dry straw, so
shall the bronckards be consumed togyther, euē when they be ful. There come oute of
the such as ymagyn myschiete, and gyue
vngacious counsell agaynst the Lorde.

Therefore thus sayth the Lord: Let the
be as wel prepared, yea & as many as they
can, yet shall they be helmed down, & passe awaye. And as for I, I wil bere the, but not vicerly destroy the. And now wil I breake
his rod, & thy back, & burst thy bondes in sonder. But I Lord hath giuen a commaunde-ment concerning the, & that there shall come

no more sede of thy name. The carued and
casten ymages wyl I rote out of the house
of thy God, thy graue shall I prepare for
the and thou shalt be confounded.

The.ii. Chapter.

The describeth the victory of the Caldes a-gaynst the Assuites.

Behold, vpon the moztaines come the
frete of hym, that byngeth good tydings, and precheth peace. O Iuda, kepe thy holpe dayes, perfourme thy pro-
myces, for Belial shall come no more in the,
he is vicerly rooted out.

The scatterer shall come vp against the,
and lay siege to the castel. Looke thou wel
to the stretes, make thy loynes stronge, arme thy selfe wth all thy myght, for the Lord shall restore agayne the glory of Jacob, lyke as the glory of Israel.

The destroyers haue broken them downe,
& marred the wyne branches. The shylde
of his giantes glistereth, his men of war
are clothed in purple. His charrettes are as fyre, when he maketh him forward, his archers are wel deckt and trimmed. The charrettes role vpon the stretes, & welter
in the beigh mares. They are to loke vpon
lyke cressettes of fyre, and gooswiftlye as the lychtning. When he doeth but warne his giantes, they fall in theyr arape, and
hastely they clyme vp the walles, yea the
engyns of warre be prepared alcedy. The
water portes shall be opened, and I kynges
palace shall fall. The quene her selfe shall be led away captiue, and the gentyl women
shall mourne as the doves, and grone wthin their hertes. Ninue is lyke a ful, pole of water but the shall thei be fatne
to se. Stande, stande, shall they cpe, and there shall not one turne back. Away wth
the siluer, awaye wth the gold, for here is no ende of treasure.

There shall be a multitude of all maner
costly ornaments. Thus must the be spot-
led, emtied and cleane stepped oute: that
their hertes maye be melted awaye, their
knees tremble, all their loynes be weake,
and their faces blacke as a pot.

Where is now the dwelling of the lions,
and the pasture of the lyons whelpes? D
where the Lyon and the lyonelle wente
wth the whelpes, and no manne frayed
them away. But the lyon spoyled ynough
for hys yonge ones, and deuoured for hys lyonelle: he spyled hys dennes wth hys praye, and hys dwellynge place wth that he had rauished. Beholde, I wyl vpon
the saneth the Lorde of hostes, and wyl
sette fyre vpon thy charrettes, that they shall smoke wth all, and the sweard shall
deuoure the yonge lyons. I wyl make
an ende of thy spoylunge from oute of the earth, and the voyce of the messengers
shall no more be herde.

AAA.iii.

The

Mich. v. s

Gal. iii. a
Rom. x. c

Co. xiii. b
Soph. i. c

The. iiii. Chapter.

The. iiii. Chapter.

The fall of Ninue.

Vo to the bloud that is cyte, whiche is all full of lyes and robberye, and wyl not leaue of fro rauynge.

There a mā may heare scurging, rushing, the noyse of wheles, the crying of the houses, & the rollinge of the charettes. There the horsemen get vp wth naked swerdes, and gylstering speares: There lyeth a multitude of slayne, and a greate heape of dead bodies: There is no ende of deade corpses, yea men fall vpon theyr bodies: And that for the great & manifold whoredome of the sayre and beutiful barlot: whiche is a master of witchcraft, yea and sel- leth the people thowme her whoredome, and the nacjons thowme her witchcraft.

B Beholde, I wyl vpon the (sayeth the Lord of hostes) and wyl pull thy clothes ouer thy head: that I maye shewe thy nakednes among the heathē, and thy shame amonge the kyngdomes. I wyl cast durte vpon the, to make the to be abhorred, and a gasping stocke: Yea al they that loke vpon the, shall starte backe, and say: Ninue is destroyed.

Who wyl haue ppyte vpon the: where shal I seke one to comforte the? Arte thou better then the great cytie of Alexandria: that laye in the waters, and had the waters rounde aboute it: whiche was strong- ly fenced and walled wth the sea: Ethiopia and Egypte were her strengthe and that excedyng greate aboue measure. Assyria and Libya were her helpers, yet was she dryuen awaye and broughte into captiuitie: her young chyldren were smytten downe at the head of euery strete, the lottes were cast for the most auncient mā in her, and al her mighty men wer bounde in chaynes. Euen so shalt thou also be dryuen, and hyde thy selfe, and seke some helpe agaynst thyne enemye. Al thy strong cyties shall be lyke sygrees wth type sygges, which when a man shaketh, they shall fall into the mouth of the eater.

Beholde, thy people wth in the are but women: the portes of thy lande shall be opened vnto thyne ennemyes, and the fyre shal deuoure thy barres. Drawe water now agaynst thou be besieged, make vp thy strong holdes, goo into the claye, tempe the mortar, make stronge bycke: yee & fyre shal consume the, the sword shal destroye thee, yea as the locust doeth, so shall it eate the vp. It shal sal beuelp vpon the as the locustes, yea ryghte beuelp shal it fall vpon the, euen as the greshoppers. Thy marchauntes haue bene nombred wth the starres of heauen: but now shal they spred abroad al the locustes, and flee there waye. The Lordes are as the greshoppers, & thy capteynes as the multitude of greshoppers: whiche when they be colde, remaine in the hedges: but when the Sunne is vp, they flee awaye, and no

The Prophecy

manne canne tell where they are become. Thy shepherdes are a slepe (O kyng of Assur) thy worthyes are layed downe: thy people is scattered abroad vpon the mountaynes and no manne gathereth them together agayne. Thy wounde can not be hydd, thy plage is so soore. All they that heare thys of the shal clap their handes ouer the. For what is he to whome thou haste not alwaye bene doyng hurte.

The ende of the prophete of Nabum.

The boke of the prophet Abacuc.

The first Chapter.

A complaynt agaynst Israel.

Why is the heuie burthen, whiche the probete Abacuc dyd see. O Lord, howe longe shal I crye, & thou wylte not heare? Howe longe shal I complayne vnto & sufferinge wronge and thou wylte not helpe? Why lettest thou me see wterpnesse and labour? Tyranny & violence are before me, power overgoeth the ryght: for the lawe is torne in peces, & there can no ryght iudgement go forth. And why: the vngodly is more set by then the ryghteous: thys is the cause, that wrong iudgement proceedeth. Beholde among the heathen and loke wel: wondre at it, and be abashed: for I wyl do a thyng in your tyme which though it be told you, ye shal not beleue.

For lo, I wyl raise vp the Caldees, that bytter and swyft people: which shal go as wyde as the lande is, to take possession of dwellinge places, & be not their owne. A grym & hopsterous people is it, these shall sit in iudgement & punish. Their horses are swifter then the cattes of & mountayne, & byte sozer then the wolues in the euening. Their horsemen come by greate heapes so far, they fle hastily to deuoure as & Eagle. They come al to spoyle: out of the cometh an east winde, which bloweth & gathereth their captiues, like as the sand. They shal mocke the kynges, and laugh the prynces to scoyne.

They shall not set by a strong holde, for they shal lay ordinaunce agaynst it, & take it. The shal they take a fresh courage vnto them, to go forth, and to do more euill, and so ascribe that power vnto theyr God. But thou O Lord my God, volve one, thou art fro the beginning, therefore shal we not dye. O Lord, thou hast ordeined the for a punishment, & set the to reprove & might. Thyne

Acte. xlii. b
Job. xli. a

Acte. xlii. d.

De. xlviii. e

Soph. iii. a

Acte. xlii. b
ii Bar. xlviii. d

Eze. xlii. a
Abac. ii. b

Eze. xlii. a
Eze. xlv. a

Eze. x. a. xii
Eze. xlv. c

The. iiii. Chapter.

The. iiii. Chapter.

The fall of Ninue.

Vo to the bloud that is cyte, whiche is all full of lyes and robberye, and wyl not leaue of fro rauynge.

There a mā may heare scurging, cussing, the noyse of wheles, the crying of the houses, & the rollinge of the charettes. There the horsemen get vp wth naked swerdes, and gylstering speares: There lyeth a multitude of slayne, and a greate heape of dead bodies: There is no ende of deade corpses, yea men fall vpon theyr bodies: And that for the great & manifold whoredome of the sayre and beutiful barlot: whiche is a master of witchcraft, yea and sel- leth the people thowme her whoredome, and the nacjons thowme her witchcraft.

B Beholde, I wyl vpon the (sayeth the Lord of hostes) and wyl pull thy clothes ouer thy head: that I maye shewe thy nakednes among the heathē, and thy shame amonge the kyngdomes. I wyl cast durte vpon the, to make the to be abhorred, and a gasping stocke: Yea al they that loke vpon the, shall starte backe, and say: Ninue is destroyed.

Who wyl haue ppyte vpon the: where shal I seke one to comforte the? Arte thou better then the great cytie of Alexandria: that laye in the waters, and had the waters rounde aboute it: whiche was strong- ly fenced and walled wth the sea: Ethiopia and Egypte were her strengthe and that excedyng greate aboue measure. Assyria and Libya were her helpers, yet was she dryuen awaye and broughte into captiuitie: her young chyldren were smytten downe at the head of euery strete, the lottes were cast for the most auncient mā in her, and al her mighty men wer bounde in chaynes. Euen so shalt thou also be dryuen, and hyde thy selfe, and seke some helpe agaynst thyne enemye. Al thy strong cyties shall be lyke sygrees wth type sygges, which when a man shaketh, they shall fall into the mouth of the eater.

Beholde, thy people wth in the are but women: the portes of thy lande shall be opened vnto thyne ennemyes, and the fyre shal deuoure thy barres. Drawe water now agaynst thou be besieged, make vp thy strong holdes, goo into the claye, tempre the mortar, make stronge byrche: yee & fyre shal consume the, the sword shal destroye thee, yea as the locust doeth, so shall it eate the vp. It shal sal beuelp vpon the as the locustes, yea ryghte beuelp shal it fall vpon the, euen as the greshoppers. Thy marchauntes haue bene nombred wth the starres of heauen: but now shal they spred abrode al the locustes, and flee there waye. The Lordes are as the greshoppers, & thy capteynes as the multitude of greshoppers: whiche when they be colde, remaine in the hedges: but when the Sunne is vp, they flee awaye, and no

The Prophecy

manne canne tell where they are become. Thy shepherdes are a slepe (O kyng of Assur) thy worthyes are layed downe: thy people is scattered abrode vpon the mountaynes and no manne gathereth them together agayne. Thy wounde can not be hyddē, thy plage is so soore. All they that heare thys of the shal clap their handes ouer the. For what is he to whome thou haste not alwaye bene doyng hurte.

The ende of the prophete of Nabum.

The boke of the prophet Abacuc.

The first Chapter.

A complaynt agaynst Israel.

Why is the heuie burthen, whiche the probete Abacuc dyd see. O Lord, howe longe shal I crye, & thou wylte not heare? Howe longe shal I complayne vnto & sufferinge wronge and thou wylte not helpe? Why lettest thou me see weynesse and labour? Tyranny & violence are before me, power ouergoeth the ryght: for the lawe is torne in peces, & there can no ryght iudgement go forth. And why: the vngodly is more set by then the ryghteous: thys is the cause, that wrong iudgement proceedeth. Beholde among the heathen and loke wel: wondre at it, and be abashed: for I wyl do a thyng in your tyme which though it be told you, ye shal not beleue.

For lo, I wyl raise vp the Caldees, that bytter and swyft people: which shal go as wynde as the lande is, to take possession of dwellinge places, & be not their owne. A grym & hopsterous people is it, these shall sit in iudgement & punish. Their horses are swifter then the cattes of & mountayne, & byte sozer then the wolues in the euening. Their horsemen come by greate heapes so far, they fle hastily to deuoure as & Eagle. They come al to spoyle: out of the cometh an east winde, which bloweth & gathereth their captiues, like as the sand. They shal mocke the kynges, and laugh the prynces to scoyne.

They shall not set by a strong holde, for they shal lay ordinaunce agaynst it, & take it. The shal they take a fresh courage vnto them, to go forth, and to do more euill, and so ascribe that power vnto theyr God. But thou O Lord my God, volve one, thou art fro the beginning, therefore shal we not dye. O Lord, thou hast ordeined the for a punishment, & set the to reprove & might. Thyne

Eze. xliii. a
Abac. ii. b

Eze. xliii. a
Eze. xliii. a

Eze. xliii. b
Job. xli. a

Eze. xliii. d.

De. xlviii. e

Soph. iii. a

Eze. x. a. xii
Eze. x. a. xii

Eze. xliii. d
ii Bar.
xlviii. d

D Thyne eyes are cleane, thou mayest not see euyl: thou canst not beholde the thyng that is wycked. Wherfore then dost thou looke vpon the vngodlye, and holdest thy tong when the wycked deuoureth the ma that is better then him selfe? Thou makest men as the fish of the sea, and lyke the cre pyng beasts, that haue no guyde. They take vp al wyth theyr angle, they catch it
in theyr net, and gather it in theyr parne:
wherof they reioyce and are glad. There fore offer they vnto theyr net, and do sacri fice vnto theyr parne, because þe thow it theyr porciõ is become so fat, & theyr meat so plenteous. Wherfore they cast out theyr net agayne, & neuer cease to slay þe people.

The. ii. Chapter.

Of the visyõ of the prophete. Agaynst pol lyng, couetousnes, and Idolatry.

I Stode vpon my watch, and set me vpon my bulwourke, to looke, and see what he would say vnto me, and what answer I should gyue hym that reproveth me. But the Lord answered me, and sayed: Wryte the visyõ plainly vpon thy tables, that who so cometh by, maye reade it: for the visyõ is yet farre of for a tyme, but at the last it shal come to passe and not faile. And though he say, yet wayt thou for him, for
in very dede he wyl come, and not be slack.
Beholde, who so wyl not beleue, his soule
shal not prosper: the iuste shal lyue by his faythe. Lyke as the wyne deceyueh the dronckard, euen so the proud shal faile and not endure. He openeth his desyre wyde vp as þe hel, and is as vnfaciable as death.
Al heathen gathereth he to hym and hea
reth vnto him al people.

But shal not al these take vp a prouerbe agaynst hym, and mocke hym wyth a by word, and say: Wo vnto him that heapeth vp oþer mens goods. How long wyl he lade him selfe wyth thicke claye? How sodenly wyl they stand vp, that shal byte,
and a wake, that shal teare the in pieces?
yea thou shalt be their pray. Seynge thou hast spoiled many heathen, therefore shal
the remnant of the people spoile the, by cause of mens bloude, and for the wronge done in the land, in the cytpe and vnto all them that dwel therin.

Wo vnto hym, that couetously gathe
reth euyl gotten goodes into his house,
that he may set his nest an hygh, to escape from the power of misfortune. Thou hast deuised the shame of thyne own house, for thou hast slayne to muche people, and hast wylfully offended, so that the very stones
of the wal shal crye out of it, and the tym ber that lyeth betwixte the ioyntes of the buldynge shal answer.

Wo vnto hym that buildeth the towne
wyth bloude, and mayntayneth the cytpe wyth vntightuousnes. Shal not the Lord of hostes byng the to passe, that the la bours of the people shal be brent, wyth a greate fyre, and that the thing wher vpon

the people haue wepyed them selues shal be lost? For the earth shalbe full of know ledge of the Lords honour, like as the wa ters that couer the sea.

Wo vnto hym that geueth his neygh
bour drynke, to get him tozotful displea sure for his dronckennes: that he maye se his pruityes. Wherfore with shame shalt thou be fylled, in steade of honour.

Drinke thou also, & thou shalt be wyth
al: for the cup of the Lordes right hand shal compe the about, and shameful spewing
in the steade of thy worship. For the wrong that thou hast done in Libanus, shal make the afrayed, because of mens bloud, and for the wrong done in the land, in the cytpe, & vnto al such as dwel therin.

What helpe then wyl the ymage done,
whom the woorkeman hath fashioned: Or
the bayne caste ymage, wherein bycause
the crafterman putteth his trust, therfore maketh he domme ydoles? Wo vnto hym that saith to a piece of wood: aryse, & to a dum stone: stand vp. For what instruction may such one giue? Behold, it is layed ou er with golde & syluer, & ther is no bryeth in it. But the Lord in his holy temple is he, whom al the world should feare.

The. iii. Chapter.

A prayer of the prophete Abacuc for the ygnorante.

O Lord, when I heard speake of the, I was afrayed. The worke that thou hast take in hand, shalt thou performe in his tyme O Lorde, and when the tyme cometh, thou shalt declare it. In thy be ry wyath thou thyngest vpon mercy. God cometh from Theman, and the holy one from the mount of Sharan. Selah.

His glory couereth the heauens, and the earthe is ful of his prayse. His thyne is as the sonne, & beames of lycht go oute of his hand, there is his power byd. De struction goeth before hym, and burninge cressets go from his sete. He standeth and measurcth the earth. He looketh, and the people consume away, the mountaines of
the worlde fall downe to poulder, and the hills are faine to bowe them selues, for his goinges are euerlasting and sure. I sawe that the paulions of the Assyrians, and the sents of the land of the Chadian were ver ed for weynes. Wast thou not angry, O Lord, in þe waters? Wast not thy wyath in þe flouds, & thy displeasure in the sea? Yes, whē thou sattest vpon thine horse, & when thy charrets had the victorie. Thou shew edst thy bow openlye, like as thou haddest promised w an oth vnto the tribes. Selah.

Thou dydest deuide the waters of the earth. Whē the mountaines saw the, they were afrayed, the water streame wente a way: the depe made a noyse at the lycht vp of thyne hand. The sun and moone re maineth styl in theyr habytacion. Thyne arowes went out glistering, & thy speares
as the thyne of the lychtrenyng. Thou tro

D Thyne eyes are cleane, thou mayest not se euyl: thou canst not beholde the thyng
that is wycked. Wherfore then dost thou looke vpon the vngodlye, and holdest thy tong when the wycked deuoureth the mā
that is better then him selfe? Thou makest
men as the fish of the sea, and lyke the crepyng beasts, that haue no guyde. They take vp al wyth theyr angle, they catch it
in theyr net, and gather it in theyr parne:
wherof they reioyce and are glad. Therefore offer they vnto theyr net, and do sacrifice vnto theyr parne, because þe thow it theyr porciō is become so fat, & theyr meat so plētous. Wherfore they cast out theyr net agayne, & neuer cease to slay þe people.

The. ii. Chapter.

Of the visyō of the prophete. Agaynst pol-lyng, couetousnes, and Idolatry.

I Stode vpon my watch, and set me vpon my bulwourke, to looke, and se what he would say vnto me, and what answer I should gyue hym that reproveth me. But
the Lord answered me, and sayed: Wryte the visyō plainly vpon thy tables, that
who so cometh by, maye reade it: for the visyō is yet farre of for a tyme, but at the last it shal come to passe and not faile. And though he say, yet wayt thou for him, for
in very dede he wyl come, and not be slack.
Beholde, who so wyl not beleue, his soule
shal not prosper: the iuste shal lyue by his faythe. Lyke as the wyne deceyueh the
dronckard, euen so the proud shal faile and
not endure. He openeth his desyre wyde vp as þe hel, and is as vnfaciable as death.
Al heathen gathereth he to hym and hea-
reth vnto him al people.

But shal not al these take vp a prouerbe agaynst hym, and mocke hym wyth a by-
word, and say: Wo vnto him that heapeth
vp oþer mens goods. How long wyl he lade him selfe wyth thicke claye? Howe sodenly wyl they stand vp, that shal byte,
and a wake, that shal teare the in pieces?
yea thou shalt be their pray. Seynge thou
hast spoiled many heathen, therefore shal
the remnant of the people spoile the, by-
cause of mens bloude, and for the wronge
done in the land, in the cytpe and vnto all them that dwel therein.

Wo vnto hym, that couetously gathe-
reth euyl gotten goodes into his house,
that he may set his nest an hygh, to escape from the power of misfortune. Thou hast deuided the shame of thyne own house, for thou hast slayne to muche people, and hast
wylfully offended, so that the very stones
of the wal shal crye out of it, and the tymber that lyeth betwixte the ioyntes of the
buldynge shal answer.

Wo vnto hym that buildeth the towne
wyth bloude, and mayntayneth the cytpe
wyth vntightuousnes. Shal not the Lord of hostes byngē this to passe, that the labours of the people shal be brent, wyth a greate fyre, and that the thing wher vpon

the people haue werped them selues shal
be lost? For the earth shalbe full of knowledge of the Lords honour, like as the waters that couer the sea.

Wo vnto hym that geueth his neygh-
bour drynke, to get him tozotful displea-
sure for his dronckennes: that he maye se his pynntyes. Wherfore with shame shalt thou be fylled, in steade of honour.

Drinke thou also, & thou shalt be wyth
al: for the cup of the Lordes right hand shal
compe the about, and shameful spewing
in the steade of thy worship. For the wrong
that thou hast done in Libanus, shal make the afrated, because of mens bloud, and for the wrong done in the land, in the cytpe, &
vnto al such as dwel therein.

What helpe then wyl the ymage done,
whom the woorkeman hath fashioned: Or
the bayne caste ymage, wherein bycause the crafterman putteth his trust, therefore maketh he domme ydoles? Wo vnto hym
that saith to a piece of wood: aryse, & to a dum stone: stand vp. For what instruction
may such one giue? Behold, it is layed ou-er wyth golde & syluer, & ther is no bryeth in it. But the Lord in his holy temple is he,
whom al the world should feare.

The. iii. Chapter.

A prayer of the prophete Abacuc for the
ygnorante.

O Lord, when I heard speake of the, I was afrayed. The worke that thou hast take in hand, shalt thou performe
in this tyme O Lorde, and when the tyme cometh, thou shalt declare it. In thy bery wyath thou thyngest vpon mercy. God cometh from Theman, and the holy one
from the mount of Sharan. Selah.

His glory couereth the heauens, and
the earthe is ful of his prayse. His thyne
is as the sonne, & beames of lycht go oute
of his hand, there is his power byd. Destruction goeth before hym, and burninge cressets go from his sete. He standeth and measurē the earth. He looketh, and the people consume away, the mountaines of
the worlde fall downe to poulder, and the
hills are faine to bowe them selues, for his
goinges are euerlasting and sure. I sawe
that the paulions of the Assyrians, and the
sents of the land of the Chadian were ver-ed for werynes. Wast thou not angry, O Lord, in þe waters? Wast not thy wyath in þe flouds, & thy displeasure in the sea? Yes, whē thou sattest vpon thine horse, & when thy charēts had the victorie. Thou shewedst thy bow openlye, like as thou haddest promised in an oth vnto the tribes. Selah.

Thou dydest deuide the waters of the earth. Whē the mountaines saw the, they were afrated, the water streame wente away: the depe made a noyse at the lycht-ynge of thyne hand. The sun and moone remaineth styl in theyr habytacion. Thyne
arowes went out glistering, & thy speares as the thyne of the lychtynge. Thou trod-est

best downe the lande in thyne anger, and dyddest threth the heathen in thy dyspleasure. Thou camest forth to helpe thy people, to helpe thyne annoynted. Thou smottest downe the heade, the house of the vngodly, and dyscoueredst hys foundations, euen vnto the necke of hym. Selah.

Thou curstest hys scepters, the Cappytaine of hys men of war, whych come as a stormy wynde to scatter me abrode, and are glad when they may eate by the poore secretly. Thou makest a way for thine hostes in the sea euen in the myds of greete waters. When I heare this, my bodye is vexed, my lyps tremble at the voice thereof, my bones corrupt, I am afraied to stand, & that I myght rest in the day of trouble, that I myghte go by to out people, whych are already prepared.

For the figge tree shal not be grene, and the vines shal bear no fruite. The labour of the Olive shalbe but lost, and the land shal byng no corne: the shepe shalbe taken out of the folde, and there shalbe no cattel in the stals. But as for me I wil be glad in the Lord, and wyl reioyse in God my saviour. The Lord god is my strength, he shal make my feete, as the feete of hartes: and he whych geueth the victorie, shal byng me to my hygh places, syngynge vpon my psalmes.

The ende of the prophecy of Abacuc.

The booke of the prophet Sophony.

The. i. Chapter.

Threatynnges agaynst Iuda and Ierusalem, because of theyr Idolatry.

And this is the worde of the Lord, which came vnto Sophonye the son of Chusi, the son of Gedolai, the son of Amariab, the son of Ezechiah in the tyme of Josiah the sonne of Amon king of Iuda. I wil gather vp al things in the land (saith the Lord) I wil gather vp man & beast. I wil gather vp the foules in the ayre & the fysh in the sea (to the greete decay of the wicked) and wil utterly destroy the men out of the land, saith the Lord. I wil stretch out mine hand vpon Iuda, and vpon al such as dwel at Ierusalem.

Thus wil I roote out the remnant of Baal fro this place, & the names of the Remurins & priests: yea, & such as vnder theyr house tops worship & bow theyr selues vnto the host of heauens, which sweate by the Lord, & by their Malchys also: which start abacke fro the Lord, & neither seke after the Lord, nor regarded him. Be still at the presence of the Lord God, for the day of the Lord is at hand:

yea the Lord hath prepared a flaine offering & called his gesses thereto, and thus wyl it happen in the day of the Lords flainoffering: I wil visit the princes, the kings chyldre, & al such as weare straunge clothyng. In the same day also wil I visit al those that tread ouer the threshold so proudly, which fil the Lords house with robbery and false head. At the same tyme (saith the Lord) ther shalbe herd a great cry from the fish port, and an howling from the other port, and a great murmur fro the hills. Howle ye that dwel in the mil, for al the marchant people are gone, and al they that were laden wth syluer, are rooted out.

At the same tyme wyl I seke thow Ierusalem with lanternes, and visit them that continue in their dreggs, & saye in theyr hearts: Tush, the Lord wyl do neyther good, ne euil. Their goods shalbe spoiled, & their houses layed wast: they shal build houses, & not dwel in the: they shal plant vineyards but not drinke of wine thereof. For the great day of the Lord is at hand, it is harde by, & cometh on a pace. Horrible is the tidings of the Lords day, the shal the gaunt crye out: for that day is a day of wrath, a daye of trouble and heuines, a daye of utter destruction and miserie, a darke & glomyng day, a cloudy & stormy day, a day of noise of trompettes and shawmes, agaynst the strong cities and hye towers.

I wyl byng the people into such vexe: & this, that they shal go about like blind men, because they haue spured agaynst the Lord. Their blud shalbe shed as the dust, & their bodies as the myxe. Neether their syluer ne their golde shalbe able to deliuer the in the wrothful day of the Lord, but the whole land shalbe consumed thow the fire of hys gelousy: for he shal soone make cleane riddance of al them that dwel in the lande.

The. ii. Chapter.

He moueth to reuerne to God, prophesyng vnto the one destruction, and to the other deliuerance.

Come together and gather you & seereward people, or the thyng go forth is concluded, and or the tyme be passed away as the dust, or the fearful wrath of the Lord come vpon you, yea or the day of the Lords fore displeasure come vpon you. Seke the Lord al ye meke herted vpon earth ye & worke after his iudgement: seke righteousness, seke lowlines: ye may be defended in the wrothful day of the Lord. For Baal shalbe destroyed, & Ascalon shalbe layed wast. They shal cast out Asdod at the noone day, & Accaron shalbe pluckt by by roots.

Woe vnto you that dwell vpon the sea coast, ye murderous people: the word of the Lord shal come vpon you, & Canaan thow lande of the Philistynes, I wyl destroy the, so that there shal no man dwell in the anye more, and as for the sea coast, it shal be heardemennes cottages and shepe fouldes: yea it shal be a port

Jer. xlii. b.

iii. Re. xxi. and. xlii.

Jerem. v. b.

iii. re. xx. m. Iona. iii. m.

best downe the lande in thyne anger, and dyddest threth the heathen in thy dyspleasure. Thou camest forth to helpe thy people, to helpe thyne annoynted. Thou smottest downe the heade, the house of the vngodly, and dyscoueredst hys foundations, euen vnto the necke of hym. Selah.

Thou curstest hys scepters, the Cappytaine of hys men of war, whych come as a stormy wynde to scatter me abrode, and are glad when they may eate by the poore secretly. Thou makest a way for thine hostes in the sea euen in the myds of greete waters. When I heare this, my bodye is vexed, my lyps tremble at the voice thereof, my bones corrupt, I am afraied to stand, & that I myght rest in the day of trouble, that I myghte go by to out people, whych are already prepared.

For the figge tree shal not be grene, and the vines shal bear no fruite. The labour of the Olive shalbe but lost, and the land shal bring no corne: the shepe shalbe taken out of the folde, and there shalbe no cattel in the stals. But as for me I wil be glad in the Lord, and wil reioyse in God my saviour. The Lord god is my strength, he shal make my feete, as the feete of hartes: and he whych geueth the victorie, shal bringe me to my hygh places, syngynge vpon my psalmes.

The ende of the prophecy
of Abacuc.

The booke of the prophet Sophony.

The. i. Chapter.

Threatynnges agaynst Iuda and Ierusalem, because of theyr Idolatry.

And this is the worde of the Lord, which came vnto Sophonye the son of Chusi, the son of Gedoliah, & sone of Amariah, the son of Ezechiah in the tyme of Josiah the sonne of Amon king of Iuda. I wil gather vp al things in the land (saith the Lord) I wil gather vp man & beast. I wil gather vp the foules in the ayre & the fysh in the sea (to the greete decay of the wicked) and wil utterly destroy the men out of the land, saith the Lord. I wil stretch out mine hand vpon Iuda, and vpon al such as dwell at Ierusalem.

Thus wil I roote out the remnant of Baal fro this place, & the names of the Remurins & priests: yea, & such as vnder theyr house tops worship & bow themselves vnto the host of heauen, which sweate by the Lord, & by their Malchys also: which start abacke at the Lord, & neither seke after the Lord, nor regarded him. Be still at the presence of the Lord God, for the day of the Lord is at hand:

yea the Lord hath prepared a flaine offering & called his gesses thereto, and thus wyl it happen in the day of the Lords flainoffering: I wil visit the princes, the kings chyldre, & al such as weare straunge clothyng. In the same day also wil I visit al those that tread ouer the threshold so proudly, which fill the Lords house with robbery and false head. At the same tyme (saith the Lord) ther shalbe herd a great cry from the fish port, and an howling from the other port, and a great murmur fro the hills. Howle ye that dwell in the mil, for al the marchant people are gone, and al they that were laden wth syluer, are rooted out.

At the same tyme wyl I seke thow Ierusalem with lanternes, and visit them that continue in their dreggs, & saye in theyr hearts: Tush, the Lord wyl do neyther good, ne euil. Their goods shalbe spoiled, & their houses layed wast: they shal build houses, & not dwell in the: they shal plant vineyards but not drinke of wine thereof. For the great day of the Lord is at hand, it is harde by, & cometh on a pace. Horrible is the tidings of the Lords day, the shal the gaunt crye out: for that day is a day of wrath, a daye of trouble and heuines, a daye of utter destruction and miserie, a darke & glomyng day, a cloudy & stormy day, a day of noise of trompettes and shawmes, agaynst the strong cities and hye towers.

I wyl bring the people into such vexation, that they shal go about like blind men, because they haue spured agaynst the Lord. Their blud shalbe shed as the dust, & their bodies as the myxe. Neether their syluer ne their golde shalbe able to deliuer the in the wrothful day of the Lord, but the whole land shalbe consumed thow the fire of hys gelousy: for he shal soone make cleane riddance of al them that dwell in the lande.

The. ii. Chapter.

He moueth to reuerence to God, prophesyng vnto the one destruction, and to the other deliuerance.

Come together and gather you toward people, or the thyng go forth & is concluded, and or the tyme be passed away as the dust, or the fearful wrath of the Lord come vpon you, yea or the day of the Lords fore displeasure come vpon you. Seke the Lord al ye meke hearted vpon earth ye & worke after his iudgement: seke righteousness, seke lowlines: ye may be defended in the wrothful day of the Lord. For Baal shalbe destroyed, & Ascalon shalbe layed wast. They shal cast out Asdod at the noone day, & Accaron shalbe pluckt by by roots.

Woe vnto you that dwell vpon the sea coast, ye murderous people: the word of the Lord shal come vpon you, & Canaan thow lande of the Philistynes, I wyl destroy the, so that there shal no man dwell in the anye more, and as for the sea coast, it shal be heardemennes cottages and shepe fouldes: yea it shal be a port

Jer. xlii. b.

iii. Re. xxi. and. xlii.

Jerem. xlii. b. Jerem. v. b.

iii. re. xx. m. Iona. iii. m.

on for such as remaine of the house of Iuda, to sede thereupon. In the houses of Ascalon shall they rest toward nyght: for the Lord their God shall visite the, & turne away their captivity. I haue herd the despite of Moab, and the blasphemies of the children of Ammon, how they haue shamefully intreated my people, and magnified themselves within the borders of thy land. Therefore as truly as I lyue (saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel) Moab shall be as Sodome, and Ammon as Gommorah: even dry thorne hedges, salt pits, and a perpetual wilderness.

The residue of my folke shall spoile the, the remnant of my people shall haue the in possession. This shall happen vnto them for they pride because they haue dealt so shamefully with the Lord of hosts people, and magnified themselves aboue them. The Lord shall be grim vpon them, and destroy al the goodes in the land. And al the Isles of the Heathen shall worshyp hym every man in his place.

Ye Moabians also shall perishe with my sword: yea he shall stretch out his hande ouer the North, and destroye Assur. As for Ninue, he shall make it desolate, drye and wast. The flockes and al the beasts of the people shall lye in the midst of it, well canes and Storckes shall abyde in thepper postes of it, foules shall syng in his wyndowes, & rauens shall syt vpon the balkes, for the borders of Cedre shall be rui'd down. This is the proud and careles ctyte, that sayd in her heart: I am, & there is els none. How is she made so wast that she beastes lie therein? Who so goeth by, mocketh her, and pointeth at her with his synger.

The.iii. Chapter.

Agaynst the gouernours of Ierusalem. Of the calling of al the Gentyles. A comforte to the residue of Israel.

VGo to the abominable, fylthy and cruel ctyte: which wyl not heare, ne be reformed. Her trust is not in the Lord, neither wyl she hold her to her God. Her rulers within her, are as roaring lions: her iudges as as wolues in the eue: which leaue nothing behynde them haue all the tyl the morow. Her Prophetes are lyght dape lange persons and vnfaithful men: her priestes vnhallow the Sanctuary, and do wronge vnder the pretence of the law. But the iust Lord that doth no vnyght, was amongs them, every morning, shewing them his lam clearly, and ceased not. But the vngodly wyl not learne to be ashamed. Therefore wyl I roote out this people, and destroye theyr towres: yea and make theyr stretes so voide, that no man shall go therein. Theyr ctytes shall be broken downe, so that no bodye shall be left, nor dwell there anye more.

I sayd vnto them: feare me, and be content to be reformed, that they dwellinge be not destroyed, and that there happen vnto the none of these thinges, wherewith I shall visit them. But neuertheless, they stande vpon earlye to folow the fylthynes of theyr owne ymaginacions. Therefore ye shall waite vpon me sayth the Lord, til the tyme that I stand vpon: for I am determyned to gather the people, and to bringe the kingdomes togyther, that I maye poure out myne anger, yea al my wrathfull displeasure vpon them. For al the world shall be consumed with the fyre of my gelousy. And then wyl I cleanse the lpps of the people, that they maye every one cal vpon the name of the Lord, and serue hym with one shoulder. Such as I haue subdued, & my children also whom I haue scattered abroad, shall bring me presentes beyond the waters of Ethiopia.

In that tyme shall thou be no more confounded, because of al thy ymagynacions, wherewith thou haddest offended me: for I wyl take awaye the proude bowes of thine honour from the, so that thou shalt be no more triumphe because of my holy byl. In the also wyl I leaue a smal, poore, simple people, which shall trust in the name of the Lord. The remnant of Israel shall do no wyckednes, nor speake lyes: neither shall any disceatful song be found in their meouthes. For they shall be fed, & take theyr rest, and no man shall make them afraied. Gue thanks, O daughter Sion, be ioyful, O Israel: reioyse and be glad fro thy whole hearte, O daughter Ierusalem, for the Lord hath taken away thy punishment, and turned backe thyne ennemyes. The King of Israel, euen the Lord hym selfe is with thee, so that thou needest no more to feare any misfortune.

In that tyme it shall be sayd to Ierusalem: feare not, and to Sion: let not thyne eyes be slacke, for the Lord thy god is with thee, it is he that hath the power to saue, he hath a special pleasure in thee, and a maruelous loue toward thee: yea he reioyseth ouer the with gladnes. Such as hath ben in heauines, wyl I gather togyther, and take out of thy congregation: yea and the shame and reprofe that hath bene lated vpon the, shall be far from the. And lo, in that tyme wyl I destroye al those that hate the: I wyl heale the lame, and gather vpon the cast away: yea, I wyl get them praise and honour in al landes, wher they haue bene put to shame. At the same tyme wyl I bring you in, and at the same tyme wyl I gather you. I wyl get you a name and a good reporte among all people of the earthe.

When I turne backe your captiuitie vnto you before your eyes, sayeth the Lord.

The ende of the Prophecy of Sophony.

on for such as remaine of the house of Iuda, to sede thereupon. In the houses of Ascalon shall they rest toward nyght: for the Lord their God shall visite the, & turne away their captivity. I haue herd the despite of Moab, and the blasphemies of the children of Ammon, how they haue shamefully intreated my people, and magnified themselves within the borders of thy land. Therefore as truly as I lyue (saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel) Moab shall be as Sodome, and Ammon as Gomorrah: euen drye thorne hedges, salt pits, and a perpetual wilderness.

The residue of my folke shall spoile the, the remnant of my people shall haue the in possession. This shall happen vnto them for theyr pride because they haue dealt so shamefully with the Lord of hosts people, and magnified themselves aboue them. The Lord shall be grim vpon them, and destroy al the goodes in the land. And al the Isles of the Heathen shall worshyp hym euery man in his place.

Ye Moabians also shall perishe with my sword: yea he shall stretch out his hande ouer the North, and destroye Assur. As for Ninue, he shall make it desolate, drye and wast. The flockes and al the beasts of the people shall lye in the midst of it, scyllp: canes and Storckes shall abyde in thepper postes of it, foules shall syng in & wyndowes, & rauens shall syt vpon the balkes, for the borders of Cedre shall be rased down. This is the proud and careles ctyte, that sayd in her heart: I am, & there is els none. How is she made so wast that & beastes lie therein? Who so goeth by, mocketh her, and pointeth at her with his synger.

The.iii. Chapter.

Agaynst the gouernours of Ierusalem. Of the calling of al the Gentyle. A comforte to the residue of Israel.

VGo to the abominable, fylthy and cruel ctyte: which wyl not heare, ne be reformed. Her trust is not in the Lord, neither wyl she hold her to her God. Her rulers within her, are as roaring lions: her iudges as as wolues in the eue: which leaue nothing behynde them haue all the tyl the morow. Her prophetes are lyght dape lange persons and vnfaithful men: her prestes vnhallow the Sanctuary, and do wronge vnder the pretence of the law. But the iust Lord that doth no vnyght, was amongs them, euery morning, shewing them his lam clearly, and ceased not. But the vngodly wyl not learne to be ashamed. Therefore wyl I roote out this people, and destroye theyr towres: yea and make theyr stretes so voide, that no man shall go therein. Theyr ctytes shall be broken downe, so that no bodye shall be left, nor dwell there anye more.

I sayd vnto them: feare me, and be content to be reformed, that theyr dwellinge be not destroyed, and that there happen vnto the none of these thinges, wherewith I shall visit them. But neuertheless, they stande vp earlye to folow the fylthynes of theyr owne ymaginacions. Therefore ye shall waite vpon me sayth the Lord, til the tyme that I stand vp: for I am determyned to gather the people, and to bringe the kingdomes togyther, that I maye poute out myne anger, yea al my wrathfull displeasure vpon them. For al the world shall be consumed with the fyre of my gelousy. And then wyl I cleanse the lpps of the people, that they may euery one cal vpon the name of the Lord, and serue hym with one shoulder. Such as I haue subdued, & my children also whom I haue scattered abroad, shall bring me presentes beyond the waters of Ethiopia.

In that tyme shall thou be no more founded, because of al thy ymagynacions, wherewith thou haddest offended me: for I wyl take awaye the proude bowes of thine honour from the, so that thou shalt be no more triumphe because of my holy byl. In the also wyl I leaue a smal, poore, simple people, which shall trust in the name of the Lord. The remnant of Israel shall do no wyckednes, nor speake lyes: neither shall any disceatful song be found in their meouthes. For they shall be fed, & take theyr rest, and no man shall make them afraied. Wyue thanks, O daughter Sion, be ioyful, O Israel: reioyse and be glad fro thy whole hearte, O daughter Ierusalem, for the Lord hath taken away thy punishment, and turned backe thyne ennemyes. The King of Israel, euen the Lord hym selfe is with thee, so that thou needest no more to feare any misfortune.

In that tyme it shall be sayd to Ierusalem: feare not, and to Sion: let not thyne eyes be slacke, for the Lord thy god is with thee, it is he that hath the power to saue, he hath a special pleasure in thee, and a maruelous loue toward thee: yea he reioyseth ouer the with gladnes. Such as hath ben in heauines, wyl I gather togyther, and take out of thy congregation: yea and the shame and reprofe that hath bene lated vpon the, shall be far from the. And lo, in that tyme wyl I destroye al those that hate the: I wyl heale the lame, and gather vp the cast away: yea, I wyl get them praise and honour in al landes, wher they haue bene put to shame. At & same tyme wyl I bring you in, and at the same tyme wyl I gather you. I wyl get you a name and a good reporte among all people of the earthe.

When I turne backe your captiuitie vnto you before your eyes, sayeth the Lord.

The ende of the Prophecy of Sophony.

The booke of the Prophet Aggeus.

The first Chapter.

The tyme of the prophery of Aggeus: An exhortacion to build the temple agayne.

In the seconde yeare of king Darius, in the sixth moneth, the sixth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord (by the prophet Aggeus) vnto Zorobabel the son of Sa-lathiel the pryncce of Iuda, and to Iesus the sonne of Iosedech the hie priest, saying: Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, and saith: This people doth say: The tyme is not yet come to build vp the Lords house.

The spake the lord by the prophet Aggeus and said: Ye pour selues can find tyme to dwell in tiled houses, & shal this house lye wast?

Consider nowe youre owne wayes in pour herbes, sayeth the Lord of hosts, ye sow much, but ye bring lytle in: ye ear, but you haue not enough: ye drinke, but ye are not fylled: ye decke pour selues, but ye are not warme, and be that earnerth any wage, putteth it in a broken purse.

Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, consider pour own wayes in pour herbes, get you vp to the mountayne, fetch wood, & builde vp the house, that it may be acceptable vnto me, and that I may shew mine honour, sayth the Lord. Ye looked for much, and lo it is come to lytle, and though ye bring it home, yet do I blow it away. And why, so sayth the Lord of hosts? Euen because that my house lyeth so wast, and ye runne euery man vnto his own house. Wherefore the heauens forbiddeth to giue you any dew, and the earth forbiddeth to giue increase.
I haue called for a drought, both vpon the land, and vpon the mountaynes, vpon come, vpon win e, & vpon oyle, vpon euery thing that the grounde bringeth forth the vpon men and vpon cattell, yea, and vpon all handye labour.

Now when Zorobabel the sonne of Sa-lathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedech the hie priest, with the remnaunte of the people, heard the voyce of the Lord the God, and the wordes of the Prophet Ag-geus) lyke as the Lord their God had sent him) the people did feare the Lord. Then Aggeus the Lordes angell sayed in the Lordes message vnto the people: I am with you sayth the Lord. So the Lord waked vp the spirit of Zorobabel the pryncce of Iuda, and the spirit of Iesus the sonne of Iose-dech the hie priest, and the spirit of the remaunt of al the people, that they came and laboured in the house of the Lord of hosts the Lord.

The second Chapter.

He sheweth that the goodlynesse of the second temple shal exceede the fyrste, because of the comynge of Christ.

The Prophecy

Vpon the xxiii. day of the fyrte mo-neth, in the second yere of king Darius, the one and twentieth daye of the seuenth moneth came the word of the lord by the prophet Aggeus, saying: Speake to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel pryncce of Iuda, and to Iesus the sonne of Iosedech the hie priest, and to the residue of the people, and say: Who is left amongs you, that saith thus house in her first beaute? But what think ye now by it? Is it not in your eyes, euen as though it were nothing? Ne-uertheles be of good chere Zorobabell (sayth the Lord) be of good comfort, & Ie-sus thou sonne of Iosedech the hie priest:
take good herbes vnto you also al ye people of the land, sayth the Lord of hosts, and do according to the word (for I am with you sayth the Lord of hosts) lyke as I agreed with you, when ye came out of the land of Egypte, and my spyrte shal be as mong you, feare ye not.

For thus saith the Lord of hosts: yet once more wil I shake heauen and earth, & the sea, and the drye land: yea I wil moue al heathen, and the comfort of al heathen shal come, and so wil I fill this house with honour, sayth the Lord of hosts. The syluer is mine, and the gold is mine, sayth the Lord of hosts. Thus the glory of the laste house shal be greater then the fyrste, sayth the Lord of hosts: and in this place wil I glue peace, sayth the Lord of hosts.

The xxiii. daye of the fyrte moneth, in the second yere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the prophet Ag-geus, saying: Thus saith the Lord God of hosts: Aske the priests concernynge the law, and sayt one beare holy the heire his core lap, and with his lap do touche the bread, patage, wine, oyle, or any other meate: shal he be holy also? The priests answered and said: No: Then sayd Aggeus: Now if one being defiled with a dead carcase, touche anye of these, shal it also be vncleane? The priests gaue answer and said, yea, it shal be vncleane. Then Aggeus answered, and sayed, euen so is this people and this naci-on before me, sayth the Lord, and so are al the woorkes of theyr handes, yea, and all that they offer is vncleane.

And now (I praye you) consider from this day forth, and how it hath gone with you afore: or euer ther was laid one stone vpon an other in the temple of the Lord, that when ye came to a corne heape of xx. busshels, ther were scarce. x. and that when ye came to the wine presse for to pour out fyrty pots of wine, ther were scarce. xx. For I smote you with beate, blasting and hayle stones in al the labour of pour handes: yet was ther none of you that wold turne vnto me sayth the Lord.

Consider then from this day forth and afore, namely from the xxiii. daye of the fourth moneth, vnto the day that the foundacion of the Lordes temple was layed:
marke.

marke it wel, is not the seede yet in þ barn? zach. viii. b. haue not the vyues, the fig trees, the pomegranates and olyue trees bene yet vnfrutful? but from this day forth, I shall make them to prosper.

Moreouer the. xliii. day of the moneth came the word of the Lord vnto Aggeus a gayne, sayinge: Speake to zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and say: I wyl shake both heauē and earth, and ouerthrowe the seat of the kingdomes, yea, and destroy þ myghty kyngdome of the Heathen. I wyl ouerthrowe the chariers, and those that spe vpon them, so that both horse and manne shal fall downe euery man thorow his neighbours swearde. And as for the, zorobabel (sayth the Lord of hostes) thou sonne of Salathiel my seruante: I wyl take thee (sayth the Lord) at the same tyme, & make thee as a seale, for I haue chosen thee sayth the Lord of hostes.

The ende of the prophete of Aggeus.

The booke of the prophet zachary.

The. i. Chapter.

¶ The moneth the people to retourne to the Lord, and to eschewe the wyckednesses of theyr fathers. He presygureth Chyste and the Apostels.

In the viii. moneth of þ second yere of kyng Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto zacharye the sonne of Barachias the son of Addo the prophet sayinge: the Lord haue bene sore dyspleased at your forefathers. And say thou vnto them: thus saith the Lord of hostes: Tourne you vnto me (sayth the Lord of hostes) and I wyl take me vnto you, sayth the Lord of hostes. Be not ye like your forefathers: vnto whome the prophetes cryed afore tyme, sayinge: thus saith the Lord God of hostes. Turne you from your euyl wayes, and from your wycked imaginations. But they would not heare, ne regarde me, sayth the Lord.

What is become of your forefathers and the prophetes: at they syl alure? But whyd not my words and statutes, wherby I commaunded by my seruantes the prophetes, teach your forefathers? Wpō thys they gaue answer, & sayd: lyke as the lord of hostes deuised to do vnto vs, accordinge to our owne wayes and imaginations, euē so hath he delt wth vs.

¶ Upon the. xliii. day of the. xi. moneth, which is the moneth Sebat, in the second yere of Darius, came the word of the Lord to zacharye the sonne of Barachias, the sonne

of Addo þ prophet, sayinge: I saw by night and lo, ther sate one vpon a reah horse, and stode still among the Myrre trees that wer beneath vpon the ground: and behind hym wer ther reah speckled, and whyte horses. Then said I: O my Lorde, what are these? And the angel that talked wth me, sayed vnto me: I wyl shewe thee what these be. And the man that stode among the Myrre trees, answered and sayed. These are they whom the Lord hath sent to go thorow the world. And they answered the aungell of the Lord that stode among the Myrre trees, and sayed: We haue gone thorow the world, and behold al the world dwel at ease, and are careles.

¶ Then the Lordes aungel gaue answer and sayed: O Lorde of hostes, howe longe wylt thou be vnmecyfull to Ierusalem, and to the cittes of Iuda, wth whō thou hast bene dyspleased now these thre score and. x. yeres? So the Lord gaue a louynge and com fortable answer vnto the aungel that talked wth me. And the angel that talked wth me, sayed vnto me: Crye thou, and speake: Thus saith the Lord of hostes: I am exceeding gelous ouer Ierusalem and Sion, and sore dyspleased at the carelesse heathen: for wher as I was but a lytle angry, theyd do theyr best that I myghte destroy them. Therefore thus saith the Lord: I wyl turne me agayne in mercy toward Ierusalem, so that my house shalbe buylded in it, sayth the Lord of hostes: yea, and the plummet shalbe layed abrod in Ierusalem, sayth the Lord of hostes.

¶ Crye also, and speake: Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes. My ctytes shalbe in good prosperitee agayne, the Lord shal yet comfort Sion, and chose Ierusalem. The lyfte I vp mine eyes and saw, and behold. iiii. hornes. And I sayed vnto the aungel that talked wth me: what be these? he answered me. These are the hornes wherby haue scattered Iuda, Israel, and Ierusalem abroad. And the Lord shewed me. iiii. carpers. Then said I, what wil these doo. He answered & said: those ar þ hornes whiche haue so strowed Iuda abroad, that no man durst lyft vp his heade, but these are come to scay them away, to cast out the hornes of the gētyls, which lyft vp their horne ouer the lande of Iuda, to scatter it abroad.

The. ii. Chapter.

The renewing of Ierusalem and Iuda.

I lyft vp myne eyes agayne and looked, and behold, a man wth a measure lyne in his hand. The sayed I: whither goest thou? And he said vnto me, to measure Ierusalem, that I may se how lōg and how brod it is. And behold þ angel that talked wth me went his way forth. Then went ther out an other angel to meete hym and sayd vnto hym: Run, speake to this ponge man, & saye: Ierusalem shal be inhabited about any wal, for þ very multitude of people and cattel, that shal be therein. Yea I

Iere. xlv. b. and. xlii. b. i. Eze. i. s.

zach. viii. b.

These four hornes, signifye four kyngdoms.

Eze. xlvi. b. Apoc. xxi. b.

mat. xxviii. e

Iere. xxi. c. Mal. iii. b.

Iere. xliiii. c. pl. lxxviii. a

Ose. xliii. d. Tob. xlii. b.

Eze. xxxiii. e. Ier. xliiii. a. and. xlv. c.

marke it wel, is not the seede yet in þ barn: zach. viii. b. haue not the vyues, the fig trees, the pomegranates and olyue trees bene yet vnfutful: but from this day forth, I shall make them to prosper.

Moreouer the. xliii. day of the moneth came the word of the Lord vnto Aggeus a gayne, sayinge: Speake to zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and say: I wyl shake both heauē and earth, and ouerthrowe the seat of the kingdomes, yea, and destroy þ myghty kyngdome of the Heathen. I wyl ouerthrowe the chariters, and those that spe upon them, so that both horse and manne shal fall downe euery man thorow his neighbours swearde. And as for the, Zorobabel (sayth the Lord of hostes) thou sonne of Salathiel my seruante: I wyl take thee (sayth the Lord) at the same tyme, & make thee as a seale, for I haue chosen thee sayth the Lord of hostes.

The ende of the prophete of Aggeus.

The booke of the prophet zachary.

The. i. Chapter.

¶ The moneth the people to retourne to the Lord, and to eschewe the wyckednesses of theyr fathers. He presygureth Chyste and the Apostels.

In the viii. moneth of þ second yere of kyng Darius, came the worde of the Lord vnto zacharye the sonne of Barachias the son of Addo the prophet sayinge: the Lord haue bene sore dyspleased at your forefathers. And say thou vnto them: thus saith the Lord of hostes: Tourne you vnto me (sayth the Lord of hostes) and I wyl take me vnto you, sayth the Lord of hostes. Be not yll like your forefathers: vnto whome the prophetes cryed afore tyme, sayinge: thus saith the Lord God of hostes. Turne you from your euyl wayes, and from your wycked imaginations. But they would not heare, ne regarde me, sayth the Lord.

What is become of your forefathers and the prophetes: at they syl alure? But whyd not my words and statutes, wherby I commaunded by my seruantes the prophetes, teach your forefathers? Wpō thys they gaue answer, & sayd: lyke as the lord of hostes deuised to do vnto vs, accordinge to our own wayes and imaginations, euē so hath he delt wth vs.

¶ Upon the. xliii. day of the. xi. moneth, which is the moneth Sebat, in the second yere of Darius, came the word of the Lord to zacharye the sonne of Barachias, the sonne

of Addo þ prophet, sayinge: I saw by night and lo, ther sate one vpon a read horse, and stode still among the Myrre trees that wer beneath vpon the ground: and behind hym wer ther read speckled, and whyte horses. Then said I: O my Lorde, what are these? And the angel that talked wth me, sayed vnto me: I wyl shewe the what these be. And the man that stode among the Myrre trees, answered and sayed. These are they whom the Lord hath sent to go thorow the world. And they answered the aungell of the Lord that stode among the Myrre trees, and sayed: We haue gone thorow the world, and behold al the world dwel at ease, and are careles.

¶ Then the Lordes aungel gaue answer and sayed: O Lorde of hostes, howe longe wylt thou be vnmecyfull to Ierusalem, and to the citis of Iuda, wth wōd thou hast bene dyspleased now these three score and. x. yeres? So the Lord gaue a louynge and com fortable answer vnto the aungel that talked wth me. And the angel that talked wth me, sayed vnto me: Crye thou, and speake: Thus saith the Lord of hostes: I am exceeding gelous ouer Ierusalem and Sion, and sore dyspleased at the carelesse heathen: for wher as I was but a lytle angry, theyd do theyr best that I myghte destroy them. Therefore thus saith the Lord: I wyl turne me agayne in mercy toward Ierusalem, so that my house shalbe buylded in it, sayth the Lord of hostes: yea, and the plummet shalbe layed abroad in Ierusalem, sayth the Lord of hostes.

¶ Crye also, and speake: Thus sayeth the Lord of hostes. My ctytes shalbe in good prosperitee agayne, the Lord shal yet comfort Sion, and chose Ierusalem. The lyfte I vp mine eyes and saw, and behold. iiii. hornes. And I sayed vnto the aungel that talked wth me: what be these? he answered me. These are the hornes wherby haue scattered Iuda, Israel, and Ierusalem abroad. And the Lord shewed me. iiii. carpers. Then said I, what wil these doo. He answered & said: those ar þ hornes whiche haue so strowed Iuda abroad, that no man durst lyft vp his heade, but these are come to scay them away, to cast out the hornes of the gētyls, which lyft vp their horne ouer the lande of Iuda, to scatter it abroad.

The. ii. Chapter.

¶ The renewing of Ierusalem and Iuda.

I lyft vp myne eyes agayne and looked, and behold, a man wth a measure lyne in his hand. The sayed I: whither goest thou? And he said vnto me, to measure Ierusalem, that I may se how lōg and how brod it is. And behold þ angel that talked wth me went his way forth. Then went ther out an other angel to meete hym and sayd vnto hym: Run, speake to this ponge man, & saye: Ierusalem shal be inhabited wthout any wal, for þ very multitude of people and cattel, that shal be therein. Yea I

Iere. xlv. b. and. xlii. b. i. Eze. i. s.

zach. viii. b.

These four hornes, signifye four kingdoms.

Eze. xlvi. b. Apoc. xxi. b.

mat. xxviii. e

Iere. xxxi. c. Mal. iii. b.

Iere. xliiii. c. pl. lxxviii. a

Ose. xliii. d. Tob. xlii. b.

Eze. xxxiii. e. Ier. xliiii. a. and. xlv. c.

The.iii. Chapter.

my selfe (sayth the Lord) wyl be vnto her a wal of fyre round about, and wyl be ho-moured in her. O get you forth, O ye from the land of the North, sayth the Lord, ye whom I haue scattered into the *. . . . .
des vnder heauen, sayeth the Lord. Saue thy selfe, O Spon: thou shalt dwell with daughter of Babilon, for thus sayth the Lord of hostes: A glorious power hath he sent me out to the heathen which spoiled you: for who so toucheth you, shall touch the apple of his own eye. Beholde I will lifte vp myne hand ouer the, so that they shall be spoy-led of those which afore serued the, and ye shall know that the Lord of hostes hath sent me.

Be glad and reioyce, O daughter of Syon, for lo, I am come to dwell in the middest of the, sayth the Lord. At the same time shall many heathen cleaue to the Lord, and shall be my people. Thus wyl I dwell in the midst of the, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto the. The Lord shall haue Iuda in possession for his part in the holy grounde, and shall chose Ierusalem yet agayne. Let al fleshe be styll before the Lord, for he is ryssen oute of his holy place.

The.iii. Chapter.

Of the lawe and hygge estate of Christe vnder the fygure of Iesus the priest. A pro-phete of Christe.

As he shewed me Iesus the hygge priest standyng before the aungel of the Lord, and Satan stood at his right hande to resyst hym. And the Lord said vnto Satan: The Lord reproceth the trouer Satan, yea the Lord that hath chosen Ierusalem, reproceth the. Is not this a byrde taken out of the fyre?

Nowe Iesus was clothed in vncleane rayment, and stode before the angel: which answered and sayd vnto those that stood before hym: take awaye the soule clothes from hym. And vnto hym he said: Behold, I haue taken awaye thy synne from the,
and wyl decke the with chaunge of ray-ment. He said moreouer, set a sayre mytlet vpon his head. So they set a sayre mytlet vpon his heade, and put on clothes vpon him, and the angel of the Lord stode there.

Then the angel of the Lord testified vnto Iesus, and spake thus sayth the Lord of hostes: If thou wilt walke in my wates, and kepe my warche, thou shalt rule my house, and kepe my courttes, & I wil grue the place among these that stand here. Hear o Iesus thou hye prieste, thou and thy stendes that dwell before the, for they are won-derous people.

Behold, I wyl byng forth the braunch of my seruait, for lo, the stone that I haue layed before Iesus, vpon one stone shall be seuen eyes. Behold, I wyl beto hym oure (sayth the Lord of hostes) and take awaye the synne of that lande in one daye. When shall euery man cal for his neighbour vnder the vyne, and vnder the figg tree, sayth

The Prophecy

the Lord of hostes.

The.iii. Chapter.

The vlyon of the golden candlesticke, and the expolition therof.

As the angell that talked with me came agayne, and waked me vp, as a man that is rased out of his slepe, and sayed vnto me: what seest thou? And I sayed: I haue looked, and beholde a can-delsticke all of golde, and a bolle vpon it, and his seuen lampes therein, and vpon eu-ery lampe. vii. stalkes. And. ii. olue trees therby, one vpon the ryght syde of the byl, and the other vpon the left syde.

So I answered and spake to the angell that talked with me, saying: O my Lord, what are these? The aungell that talked with me, answered and sayed vnto me: knowest thou not what these be? And I said: No my Lord. He answered and sayd vnto me. This is the word of the Lord vnto zorobabel, sayng. Neither thow nor an host of men, nor thow strength, but thow thow my spirit, sayth the Lord of hostes.
What arte thou, thou greate mountayne, before zorobabel: thou must be made eue.
And he shall bryng vp the first stone, so that men shall crye vnto hym: good lucke, good lucke. Moreover, the worde of the Lord came vnto me sayng. The handes of zo-robabel haue layd the foundation of this house, his handes shall also fynishe it, that ye may know how that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you.

For he that hath bene despyred a lytle season, shall reioyce, when he seeth the trymphyng in zorobabels hand. The. vii. eyes are the Lords, which go thow the whole world. Then answered I, and sayed vnto him. What are these two olue trees vpon the ryght and left syde of the candlesticke?
I spake moreouer, and sayed vnto hym: what be these two olue braches (which thow the two golden pypes) empty the selues into the gold? He answered & sayd: knowest thou not what these be? And I said, no my Lord. Then said he: These are the two olue braches that stand before the ruler of the whole earth.

The.v. Chapter

The vlyon of the flying boke. I gyng the curse of theues & such as abuse the name of God. By the vlyon of the measure, is signyfy-ed the byngyng of Iuda to Babylon.

So I turned me by fringe vpon myne eyes and looked, beholde a flying booke. And he said vnto me: what seest thou? I answered: I se a flying boke of. x. cubites long and. x. cubites broad. He sayd he vnto me: this is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for al theues shall be iudged after this boke, & al swerers be iudged according to the same. I wyl byng forth (sayeth the Lord of hostes) so that it shall come into the house of the chiefe, & to the house of hym that selleth sweareth by my name: & shall remayne in his house, and consume it with the timber and stones therof.

Then

By the four wyses is vnderstand
the whole world as in
Mat. xlii.

Daughter
of Sion for at the pro-
pht. as in
Isa. lxxviii.

Mat. xlii. a
Iude. i. b.

De. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Isa. xlii. a

Then the angell that talked wth me, w<sup>et</sup> forth, and saied vnto me: lyft vp thine eyes and se what thys is that goeth forth. And I saide, what is it? He answered: this is a measure going out. He saide moreover: Euen thus are they (that dwell vpon the whole earth) to looke vpon. And beholde, ther was lift vp a talente of lead: and lo a woman sat in the myddest of the measure. And he saide: this is vngodlines. So he cast her into the myddest of the measure, and threwe the lompe of leade vp into a hole.

Then lyfte I vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde ther came out. ii. women, and the wynde was in theyr wynges (for they had wynges lyke the wynges of a stork) and they lift vp the measure betw<sup>xt</sup> the earth and the heauen.

Then spake I to the angell that talked wth me: wherther wyl these bear the measure? And he sayed vnto me: into the lande of Sinear, to buylde them an house, wherche when it is prepared, the measure shalbe set ther in hys place.

The. vi. Chapter.

By the foure charerts, he describeth p<sup>ro</sup>ph<sup>et</sup>y of the four kyngdomes.

Moreouer I turned me, lyftynge vp myne eyes and looked: and beholde ther came. iiii. charerts out from betw<sup>xt</sup> two hyls, whych hyls wer of brasse: In the first charert were redhorses, in the second charert wer blacke horses, in p<sup>ro</sup> third charert were whyte horses, in the fourth charert wer horses of dyuers coloures, and stronge. Then spake I, and sayed vnto the angel that talked wth me: O Lord, what are these? The angel answered and sayd vnto me: These ar p<sup>ro</sup> four wyndes of the heauen, whiche be come forth to stande before the ruler of al the earth.

That with the blacke horses went into the land of the North, and the white solowid them, and the speckled horses wente forth towarde the Southe. These horses were very strong, and went out, & soughte to goo and take theyr iourney ouer the whole earth. And he saide: get you hence & go thowth the world, and go thowth we out the world. Then cryed he vpon me, & spake vnto me, sayng: beholde, these that go towarde the North, shal styll my w<sup>ra</sup>the in the North country.

And the woorde of the Lord came vnto me, sayng: Take of the p<sup>ro</sup>soners that are come from Babylon: namely Belshazzar, Tobiah, and Jadda, and come thou p<sup>ro</sup> same dape, and goo into the house of Iosiah the sonne of Saphon. Ther take gold & make crownes therof, and set them vpon p<sup>ro</sup> head of Iesus the son of Iosedech the hie p<sup>ro</sup>phet, and speake vnto him: thus sayeth the Lord of hostes: Behold the man whose name is the br aunche, and he that shal sprynge vp after hym, shal buyld vp the temple of the Lord, yea eue he shal buyld the temple of the Lord. He shal bear the praise, he shal sit vp on p<sup>ro</sup> Lords trone, & haue the domination.

A p<sup>ro</sup>phet shalbe also vpon his trone, and a peaceable counsell shalbe betw<sup>xt</sup> them both. And the crownes shal be in the temple of the Lord, for a remembraunce vnto Belshazzar, Tobiah, Jadda, and Iesus the sonne of Saphon. And such as be farre of, shal come and buylde the temple of the Lord, that ye may know how that the Lord of hostes hath set me vnto you. And thys shal come to passe, if ye harken diligently vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

The. vii. Chapter.

The estymacion of fastynge wythout mercy. The despyng of charyty, and the ob synacpe of the people.

It happened also in the fourth yere of King Darius, that the word of the Lord came vnto zachary in the fourth dape of the ninth moneth, which is called Casleu, what tyme as Sarasar and Rogomolech and the men that wer with them, sent vnto Berhel for to pray before the Lord: and that they shuld say vnto the p<sup>ro</sup>phets which wer in the house of the Lord of hostes, and to the p<sup>ro</sup>phets: shuld I wepe in the fifth moneth, and abstayn as I haue done now certayne yeres?

Then came the woorde of the Lord of hostes vnto me, sayng: Speake vnto al the people of the land, & to the p<sup>ro</sup>phets, & saye, when ye fasted and mourned in the fyue & seuen moneth (now thys. ix. and. x. yeres), dyd ye fast vnto me? When ye eat also and dronke, dyd ye not eat and drinke for you, owne selues? Are not these the woordes whych the Lord spake by his p<sup>ro</sup>phetes afore tyme, when Ierusalem was inhabited and welthy, she and the cityes rounde about her, when ther dwelt men, both toward the south, & in the playne countreys?

And the word of the Lord came vnto zachary, sayng: Thus saith p<sup>ro</sup> Lord of hostes: Execute true iudgement, shew mercy and louing kindnes, euery man to his brother. Do the wydow, the fatherles, the straunger, & pooze no wrong, and let no man swagyn euyl agaynst hys brother in hys herte. Neuertheles, they would not take hede but turned theyr backs, and stopped their eares, p<sup>ro</sup> they shuld not hear: yea, they made their hertes as an Adamant stone, least they shuld heare the law and woordes, which the Lord of hostes sent in his holy spirit by the p<sup>ro</sup>phets afore tyme. Wherfore the Lord of hostes was very wroth at the. And thus, is it come to passe, that lyke as he spake & they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I wold not heare (saith the Lord of hostes) but scattered them among al Gentils, whiche they knew not. Thus the lande was made so desolate, that ther traualled no man in it neyther to nor fro, for p<sup>ro</sup> pleasant land was vtterly layed wast.

The. viii. Chapter.

Of the retorne of the people vnto Ierusalem, and of the mercy of God toward them of good woorkes. The calling of the Gentyls.

W B B. f. So

So word of the Lord came unto me, saying: Thus sayth the Lord of hosts: I was in a gelousye ouer Syon, yea I haue bene very gelouse ouer her in a great dyspleasure, thus sayeth the Lord of hosts: I wyl tourne me agayne vnto Syon, and wyl dwel in the myddest of Ierusalem: so that Ierusalem shall be called a faythfull and true ctye; the hyl of the Lord of hosts, yea an holy hyl.

Esaye. l. d.

B Thus sayth the Lord of hosts: There shall yet old men and women dwel againe in the stretes of Ierusalem: yea and such as go wyth stauers in theyr handes for very age. The stretes of the ctye also shall be full of younge boyes and damosels playing vpon the stretes.

Isa. l. c. b.
Jerem. lli. c.
Apoca. xxi. c.

Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, if the residue of this people thinke it to be impossible in these dayes, shoulde it therefore be impossible in my syght, sayth the Lord of hosts: Behold, I wil deliuer my people fro the land of the East and West, and wil bring them agayne, that they may dwel at Ierusalem. They shall be my people, & I wyl be theyr God, in truth and ryghtousnes.

Agge. l. a.

Thus sayth the Lord of hosts: let your handes be strong, ye that now heare these wordes by the mouth of the prophetes which be in these dayes, that the foundation is layed vpon the Lord of hosts house, that the temple may be builded. For why? before these dayes, neyther men ne cattell could wynn any thyng, neyther myght any man come in & out in rest, for trouble: but I let euery man go agaynst his neighbour.

Reuertheles, I wyl nowe intreate the residue of this people no more as afore tyme, sayth the Lord of hosts, but they shall be a sede of peace. The vyneyard shall giue her fruit, the ground shall giue her increase, and the heauens shall giue theyr dew: and I shall cause the remnant of this people to haue all these in possession. And it shall come to passe, that lyke as ye were a curse among the heathen (O ye house of Iuda, and ye house of Israel) Euen so wyl I deliuer you, that ye shall be a blessing: feare not, but let your handes be strong.

Eph. llii. c.
Iascha. vii. b.

E For thus saith the Lord of hosts: like as I deuyled to punyssh you, what tyme as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, sayth the Lord of hosts, and spared not. Euen so am I determynd nowe in these dayes, for to do wel vnto the house of Iuda and Ierusalem, therfore feare ye not. Now the things that ye shall do, are these: Speake euery man the truth vnto his neyghboure, execute iudgement trulye and peaceably wythin your portes, none of you ymagyn euell in his heart agaynst his neyghboure, and loue no false othes: for all these are the thynges that I hate, sayth the Lord.

And the word of the Lord of hosts came vnto me saying: thus saith the Lord of hosts: The fast of the fourth moneth, & the fast of the v. the fast of the vii. and the fast of the x. shall be ioy and gladnes, and prosperous bye feastes to the house of Iuda: Only loue the truth and peace.

Thus saith the Lord of hosts: Ther shall yet come people, and the inhabitants of many cittytes: and they that dwel in one ctye shall go to an other, saying: Wyl let vs go, and pray before the Lord, let vs seeke the Lord of hosts, I wyl go wyth you: yea much people and myghtye heathen shall come, and seke the Lord of hosts at Ierusalem, and to pray before the Lord. Thus sayth the Lord of hosts: In that tyme shall ten men (out of all maner of languages of the gentils) take one Jewe by the hem of his garment, and say: we wil go wyth you for we haue herd that God is among you.

Esaye. lii. a.
Isa. cxlii. a.

The. ix. Chapter.

The conuersion of the Gentils. The coming of Christ sitting on an Ass.

The word of the lord shall be receyued at Adyache, and Damascus shall be bys offerynge, for the eyes of all men and of the crykes of Israell shall looke vnto the Lord. The borders of Demath shall be herd thereby. Tyrus also and Sidon, for they are very wyse.

Tyrus shall make her selfe strong, beape vp syluer as the sand, and gold as the clay of the stretes. Behold the Lord shall take her in, and haue her in possession: he shall smyte downe her power into the sea, and she shall be consumed wyth fyre. Tyus shall Ascalon se and be afrayed, Gaza shall be very sorre, so shall Accaron also: because her hope is come to confusyon. For the kynge Baza shall perishe, and at Ascalon shall no manne dwell.

Joel. iii. a.

Strangers shall dwel at Asdod, and as for the pryde of Philistines, I shall roote it out. Theyr bloude wyl I take awaye from theyr mouth, and theyr abhominacions from amongs theyr teeth. Thus they shall be left for our God, yea they shall be as a prince in Iuda, and Accaron like as Hebray. And so wil I compass my house round about wyth my men of war going to & fro, so no oppressour come vpon the any more. For I haue I sene nowe wyth myne eyes.

That is to saye crispyes of their ydols
which they were wont
to eate.

Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion be glad, O daughter Ierusalem. For lo, thy kynge cometh vnto the, euen thy ryghteous house and Sautour: Lowlye and simple is he, he rydeth vpon an Ass, and vpon the foale of an ass, I wyl roote out the charrets from Ephraim, and the horse fro Ierusalem, the battel bowes shall be destroyed. He shall giue the doctryne of peace vnto the heathen, and bys dominion shall be from the one sea to the other, and from the foudes to the endes of the world.

Isa. lxi. a.
Isa. lxi. a.

Thou also thorow the bloude of thy conuenaunt shalt let thy prisoners out of the pyt wherein is no water. Turne you now to the strong holde, ye that be in prison, and lōg soze to be deliuered: And this day

I

I bring the word that I wyl reward the double againe. For Iuda haue I bent oute as a bow for me, and Ephraim haue I filled. Thy sonnes. O Syon, wyl I rayse vp against the Brekes, and make the as a giants swerd: the Lord God shalbe sene aboue them, and hys darres shal go for the as the lpghtenynge. The Lord God shall blow the trompet and shal come forth as a storme out of the south.

Zach. ii. a. Eccl. xlvii. a.
D The Lord of hosts shal defend the, they shal consume & deuoure, and subdue the wpyng stones. They shal drinke and rage, as it werthorow wine. They shalbe filled like the basens, and as the hornes of al the gualter. The Lord they? God shall deliuer the in the day, as the flocke of hys people: for the stones of hys Sanctuary shalbe set vp in his land. O how prosperous & good is a thing shal be? The corne shall make the yonge men chereful, and the new wine the maydens.

The. x. Chapter.

C The people is moued to requyre the doctrine of truth of the Lord. The Lord promyseth to visit and comfort the house of Ierusalem.

Jacob. i. Of thys pe haue in the first Chap. ser of saynt James.
P Raye the Lord then by tymes to giue you the latter rayne, so shal the Lord make cloude, and giue you rayne enough for al the encrease of the field: For rayne is the answer of Idols.

The forblaters se lies, and tel but baue dreames: the comfort that they giue, is no thing worth. Therefore go they astray like a flocke of shepe, and are troubled, because they haue no shepheard.

Ezer. xiii. a. Esa. xxi. b. Gen. xix. b.
M My wordful displeasure is moued at the shepherdes, and I wyl bysyt & gores. For the Lord of hostes wyl graciously visite his flocke, the house of Iuda, and hold them as a goodly sayre horse in the battel. Out of Iuda shal come the helmette, the maile, the batelbow, and al the princes together. They shalbe as the grants, which in the battayle treade downe the myre vpon the stretes. They shal fight, for the lord shalbe wyth them, so that the horsemenne shalbe confounded.

C I wyl comforte the house of Iuda, and preserue the house of Iosephe. I wil turn them also, for I pyty them; and they shalbe lyke as they were, when I had not cast them of. For I the Lord am they? God, and wyl heare them.

Ephraim shalbe as a gyaunt, and they? hert shalbe chereful as thorow wyne: yea they? children shall see it, and be glad, and they? hert shal reioyse in the Lord. I wyl blow for them and gather them together, for I wyl redeme the. They shal increase, as they increased afore. I wyl sow them amonge the people, that they may thynke vppon me in farre countreys: they shall lpyue wyth they? chyldren, and tourne agayne. I wyl bringe them agayne also from the lande of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria. I wyl carpe them into the land of Galaad and to Lybanus, and they shal want nothynge. He shall go vpon the sea of trouble, and smyte the waues: so that al the deepe floudes shalbe dyled vp. The proude bostryng of Assur shalbe caste downe and the scepter of Egypte shal be taken away. I wyl comfort them in the Lord, that they maye walke in hys name, sayeth the Lord.

Esaie. x. a. Ezech. xix.

The. xi. Chapter.

C The destruction of the temple. The care of the faythful is commytted to Christ, by the father. A greuous byspon agaynst Ierusalem and Iuda.

O Pen thy doores, O Lybanus, that the syre maye consume thy Cedar trees. Howle ye syre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, al the proude are wasted away. Howle (O ye Oke trees of Basan) for the myghty strong wood is cutte downe. Men may heare the shepheardes mourne, for they? glory is destroyed. Men may heare the Lyons wbelps rore, for the pryde of Iordan is wasted away.

Thus saith the Lord my God: feede the shepe of the slaughter, which shalbe slayne of those that possesse them, yet they take it for no synne, but they that sel them, say: The Lord be thanked, I am rich: yea their own shepherds spare them not. Therefore wyl I no more spare those that dwell in the land (sayeth the Lord) but lo, I wyl deliuer the people, every man into his neighbours hand and into the hand of his king, that they may smyte the land, and oute of they? handes wyl not I deliuer them.

I my self fed the slaughter shepe (a poore flocke verely) and tooke to me two staves: and the one I called lounyng mekenes, the other I called wo, and so I kept the shepe. The shepherdes destroyed I in one moment, for I myghte not awake with them, neyther had they anye desyre in me. Then sayd I: I wil feede you no more, the thing that dyeth, let it dye: and that wyl perishe, let it perishe, and let the remnaunce eate, euery one the fleshe of hys neyghbour. I tooke also my lounyng meke staffe & brake it, that I myghte dysanul the counaunte whych I made wyth all people. And lo it was broken in that day.

Then the poore simple shepe that had a respecte vnto me, knewe thereby that it was the woorde of the Lord. And I sayed vnto them: if ye thynke it good, bring byther my pyce: if no, then leaue. So they wayed downe. xxx. spluet pence, the value that I was pyssed at. And the Lord sayed vnto me: caste it to the pottier (a goodly pyce for me to be valued at of them) and I tooke the. xxx. spluet pence, and cast the to the pottier in the house of the Lord.

The brake I my other staffe also (name ly wo) & I myghte louse the brotherheade betwixt Iuda and Israel. And the Lord sayed vnto me: Take to the also the staffe

The. xii. Chapter.

of a foolyshe shepheard: for lo, I wyl raise by a shepheard in the land, whych shal not seke after the thynges that be lost, ne care for such as go astray: he shal not heale the wounded, he shal not norish the thing that is whole: but he shal eate the flesh of such as be fat, and rear theyr clawes in pieces.
¶ Idolys shepheard, that leadech the flock.
The sword shal come vpon bys arme and vpon his right eye. His arme shalbe cleane dried vp, and his right eye shalbe soze blind ed.

The. xii. Chapter.

¶ Of the destruction and buyldyng agayne of Ierusalem.

In that day, sayth the Lord, I wyl raise the Lord, whych sprede the beaueus abrode, layed the foundation of the earth, and giuech vnto the breath of life: Beholde, I wyl make Ierusalem a cup of surfet, vnto all the people that are round about her.
Yea Iuda bym selfe also shalbe in þe spege against Ierusalem. At the same tyme wyl I make Ierusalem an heauy stone for all people, so that al such as lyste it vp, shal be toyme and rent, and al þe people of þe earth shalbe gathred togither against it.

In that day, sayth the Lord, I wyl make all horses abashed, and those that ryde vpon them, to be out of theyr wyts. I wyl open mine eyes vpon the house of Iuda, and smite al the horses of þe people with blind-nes. And the princes of Iuda shal saye in theyr hertes: The inhabytters of Ierusalem shal gyue me consolacion in the Lord of hostes theyr God. In þe tyme wyl I make the princes of Iuda lyke an hot burninge ouen with wood and like a cresset of fyre among the straw, so that they shal consume all the people round about them, both vpon þe right hand and the lefte. Ierusalem also shalbe inhabited agayn, namely in þe same place wher Ierusalem standeth.

The Lord shal preserue þe tentes of Iu-da lyke as a forerime, so that the glory of the house of Dauid and the glory of the ci-tizins of Ierusalem, shalbe but lytle regarded, in comparysyn of the glory of Iuda. In that day shal the Lord defend the citizins of Ierusalem: so that the weakest then amonges them shal be as Dauid: and the house of Dauid shalbe like as gods house, as the angel of the Lord before them.

At the same tyme wyl I go about to destroy all such people as come against Ieru-salem. Moreouer vpon the house of Dauid and vpon the citizins of Ierusalem wyl I poure out the spirite of grace and prayer, so that they shal looke vpon me, whan they haue perished: and they shal bewepe hym as men mourne for theyr only begotten son, yea, and be sorowful for him, as men be sorowful for theyr first child. When shal ther be a great mourning at Ierusalem, lyke as the lamentation at Adremmon in the syeld of Mag-gabon. And the land shal bewayle euerye kintred by the selues: the kintred of þe house

The Prophecy

of Dauid them selues alone, and their wy-ues by them selues. The kintred of þe house of Harhan them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues. The kintred of the house of Leuy them selues alone, and their wyues by them selues: The kintred of the house of Semei them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues: In lyke maner, al the other generacions euery chone by them selues alone, and theyr wyues by them selues.

The. xiii. Chapter.

¶ Of the wel of grace & truth of Christe. Of the cleane ryddance of Idolatrye and of the false prophet.

In that tyme shal the house of Dauid and the citizins of Ierusalem haue an open wel to wash of synne and vncleues.
And then (sayth the Lord of hostes) I wyl destroye the names of Idolles oute of the lande: so that they shal no more be put in remembraunce.

As for the false Prophetes also and the vncleane spirite, I shal take them oute of the lande: So that if any of them prophesye any more, his owne father and mother that begat hym, shal saye vnto hym: Thou shalt dye, for thou speakest lyes vnder the name of the Lord, yea bys owne father and mother that begat hym, shal wound him, when he propheseth.

And then shal those Prophetes be confounded euery one of bys vpsion when he propheseth: neyther shal they weare sack clothes any more, to disceyue men withal.
But he shal be fayne to say, I am no Prophet, I am an housbande man, for so am I taught by Adam fro my yowth vp.

And if it be sayd vnto hym: Howe came these woundes then in thyne handes? He shal answer: Thus am I wounded in the house of myne owne frendes.

Arise, O thou sword, vpon my shepheard, and vpon the prince of my people, sayeth the Lord of hostes: Smite the shepheard, and the shepe shalbe scattered abroad, and so wyl I turne myne hand to the lytle ones.
And it shal come to passe (sayth the Lord) that in al the land, it partes shalbe rooted out, but the. iiii. part shal remaine therein.

And the same. iiii. part wyl I bring to the sye, & wyl cleanse the as the spluer is clenched, yea & try the like as gold is tried. The shal they call vpon my name, and I wyl hear them: I wyl say: it is my people.
And they shal say: Lord my God.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

¶ The wastynge of the church vnder the figure of Ierusalem. Of the kingdome of the Lord.

Behold, the day of the Lord cometh that thou shalt be spoiled and robbed for I gather togither al the heathen, to fight against Ierusalem: so that the citty shalbe wen, the houses spoiled, and the women despoiled. The halfe of the citty shal go awaye into captiuyte, and the resydue of the people shal not be carryed out of the citty

Ideals they heard.

Elap. xli. c.
xliii. c. xlv.
Gene. ii. b.

Abol. i. d.
Amos. i. a.

Ihon. xix. d.

Luk. xxi. c.

Wp. xix. b. c.

ii. Re. xii. a

Es. xlviii. a.
zach. xiii. i.
Ihon. xix. j

Dem. xii. d.

Amo. vii. c.

Mat. xli. e
mar. xiii. d

Job. xlii. a
Esa. xlii. a Psal. xvi. a

i. Peter. i. a
Pro. xvii. a Sapi. iii. a Eccle. iii. a

cytpe. After that shal the Lord go forth to fight against those heathen as men use to fight in the day of battayle. Then shall his sete stande vpon the mounte Olyuete, that lyeth vpon the east syde of Ierusalem. And the mounte Olyuete shall cleaue in two, eastward, and westward, so that there shal be a great valley: and the halfe mount shal remoue toward the north and the other toward the south. And ye shall see to the valley of my hills: for the valley hills shal reache vnto Asal. Yea, he shall see, lyke as ye fled for the earthquake in the dayes of Oshab kyng of Iuda. And the Lord my God shal come, and al sainctes with him. In that daye shal it not be lpght, but cold and frost. This shalbe the specyall daye, whiche is knowen vnto the Lord: neither daye neither night, but about the euening tyme it shalbe light. In that tyme shall these waters of lyse runnyng out fro Ierusalem: the halfe parte of them toward the east sea, and the other halfe toward the bittermost sea: and shal contynue bothe sommer and winter. And the Lord hym selfe shalbe kyng ouer al the earth.

* That is the vnderstanding of the word of God.

* That is to saye, all the world ouer.

At that tyme shal there be one Lord and his name shal be but one. Men shal goo aboute the hole earth, as vpon a field: from Bibeia to Remmon, and from the southe to Ierusalem. She shal be sette vp, and inhabited in her place: from Ben Iampus porte, vnto the place of the first porte, and vnto the corner porte: and from the tower of Banancel, vnto þ kynges wyne presses. There shal men dwel, and there shal be no more cursyng, but Ierusalem shal be safely inhabited. Thys shal be the plage, wherewith the Lord wil smyte al people, that haue foughte agaynst Ierusalem: Namely, their fleshe shal consume awaye, though they stande vpon their feete, their eyes shal be corrupt in their holes, & their tung shal consume in their mouth.

In that daye shall the Lord make a greate sedition amongs them, so that one man shall take an other by the hande, and laye his handes vpon the handes of his neighbours. Iuda shal fight also agaynst Ierusalem, and the goodes of all the heathen shalbe gathered togyther rounde about: golde and siluer and a verpe greare multitude of clothes. And so shall thys plage go ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, and al the beastes that shalbe in the hoste, like as yonder plage was. Every one that remaineth then of all the people, whiche came agaynst Ierusalem, shal go vp early, to worshyppe the kyng (euen the Lord of hostes) and to kepe the feast of the tabernacles. And looke what generacion vpon earth goeth not vp to Ierusalem, for to worship the kyng (euen the Lord of hostes) vpon the same shal come no rappe. If the kynged of Egypt go not vp, and come not, it shal come vpon them neyther.

Thys shal be the plage, wherewith the

Lord wil smyte al heathen that come not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles, yea this shalbe the synne plage of Egypte, and the synn plage of al people, that goo not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles.

At that tyme shal the rydunge geare of the horses be holy vnto the Lord, and the kettels in the Lords house shalbe lyke the basens before the aulter, yea al the kettels in Ierusalem and Iuda shal be holy vnto the Lord of hostes, & al they that lay offeringes shal come, take of them and dight, them therein. And at that tyme there shal be no moe Canaanites in the house of the Lord.

The ende of the Prophecy of zachary.

The booke of the prophet Malachy.

The first Chapter.

A complaynt against Israel & her priestes.

Be heuy but then, which the Lord sheweth agaynst Israel by Malachy. I haue loued you saith the Lord: and yet ye saye: wherein hast thou loued vs? Was not Esau Jacob's brother, sayeth the Lord: yet haue I loued Jacob, and hated Esau: yea I haue made his hillies waste, and his heritage a wyldernes for dragons. And though Edom sayed: well, we are destroyed, we wil goo buylde vp agayne the places that be wasted, yet (sayeth the Lord of hostes) what they buylde, that brake I downe: so that it was called a cursed lande, and a people, whome the Lord bathe euer bene angry withall.

Your eyes haue sene it, & ye pour selues must confesse, that the Lord hath brought the land of Israel to great honour. Shuld not a sonne honoure his father, and a seruante his master? If I be nowe a father, where is mine honoure? If I be the Lord, where am I feared? sayth the Lord of hostes.

Howe to you priestes that despise my name: And if ye say, wherein haue we despyled thy name? In this, that ye offer vncleane bread vpon myne aulter. And if ye say, wherewith haue we offered any vncleane thyng vnto the? In this that ye regard the aulter of the Lord is not to be regarded. If ye offer the blynd, is not that euill? And if ye offer the lame and sicke, is not that euill? Yea offer it to thy pryncce, shal he be content with the, or accepte thy person, sayth the Lord of hostes.

And now make your prayer before God that he may haue mercy vpon vs: for such

BBB.iii.

thynges

Gen. xlv. c.
Roma. ix. b.
Ios. xlviii. a.

* To offer defyled bread, is to doo any thing by hy pocryse & not to glorify God as he hathe commaunded in his word but accordyng to the inuencions of men. See. ix. b.

cytpe. After that shal the Lord go forth to fight against those heathen as men use to fight in the day of battayle. Then shall his sete stande vpon the mounte Olyuete, that lyeth vpon the east syde of Ierusalem. And the mounte Olyuete shall cleaue in two, eastward, and westward, so that there shal be a great valley: and the halfe mount shal remoue toward the north and the other toward the south. And ye shall see to the valley of my hills: for the valley hills shal reache vnto Asal. Yea, he shall see, lyke as ye fled for the earthquake in the dayes of Oshab kyng of Iuda. And the Lord my God shal come, and al sainctes with him. In that daye shal it not be lpght, but cold and frost. This shalbe the specyall daye, whiche is knowen vnto the Lord: neither daye neither night, but about the euening tyme it shalbe light. In that tyme shall these waters of lyse runnyng out fro Ierusalem: the halfe parte of them toward the east sea, and the other halfe toward the bittermost sea: and shal contynue bothe sommer and winter. And the Lord hym selfe shalbe kyng ouer al the earth.

* That is the vnderstanding of the word of God.

* That is to saye, all the world ouer.

At that tyme shal there be one Lord and his name shal be but one. Men shal goo aboute the hole earth, as vpon a field: from Bibeia to Remmon, and from the southe to Ierusalem. She shal be sette vp, and inhabited in her place: from Ben Iampus porte, vnto the place of the first porte, and vnto the corner porte: and from the tower of Banancel, vnto þ kynges wyne presses. There shal men dwel, and there shal be no more cursyng, but Ierusalem shal be safely inhabited. Thys shal be the plage, wherewith the Lord wil smyte al people, that haue foughte agaynst Ierusalem: Namely, their fleshe shal consume awaye, though they stande vpon their feete, their eyes shal be corrupt in their holes, & their tung shal consume in their mouth.

In that daye shall the Lord make a greate sedition amongs them, so that one man shall take an other by the hande, and laye his handes vpon the handes of his neighbours. Iuda shal fight also agaynst Ierusalem, and the goodes of all the heathen shalbe gathered together rounde about: golde and siluer and a verpe greare multitude of clothes. And so shall thys plage go ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, and al the beastes that shalbe in the hoste, like as yonder plage was. Every one that remaineth then of all the people, whiche came agaynst Ierusalem, shal go vp early, to worshyppe the kyng (euen the Lord of hostes) and to kepe the feast of the tabernacles. And looke what generacion vpon earth goeth not vp to Ierusalem, for to worship the king (euen the Lord of hostes) vpon the same shal come no rappe. If the kynged of Egypt go not vp, and come not, it shal come vpon them neyther.

Thys shal be the plage, wherewith the

Lord wil smyte al heathen that come not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles, yea this shalbe the synne plage of Egypte, and the synn plage of al people, that goo not vp to kepe the feast of tabernacles.

At that tyme shal the rydunge geare of the horses be holy vnto the Lord, and the kettels in the Lords house shalbe lyke the basens before the aulter, yea al the kettels in Ierusalem and Iuda shal be holy vnto the Lord of hostes, & al they that lay offeringes shal come, take of them and dight, them therein. And at that tyme there shal be no moe Canaanites in the house of the Lord.

The ende of the Prophecy of zachary.

The booke of the prophet Malachy.

The first Chapter.

A complaynt against Israel & her priestes.

Be heuy but then, which the Lord sheweth agaynst Israel by Malachy. I haue loued you saith the Lord: and yet ye saye: wherein hast thou loued vs? Was not Esau Jacob's brother, sayeth the Lord: yet haue I loued Jacob, and hated Esau: yea I haue made his hillies waste, and his heritage a wyldernes for dragons. And though I dom sayed: well, we are destroyed, we wil goo buylde vp agayne the places that be wasted, yet (sayeth the Lord of hostes) what they buylde, that brake I downe: so that it was called a cursed lande, and a people, whome the Lord hath euer bene angry withall.

Your eyes haue sene it, & ye pour selues must confesse, that the Lord hath brought the land of Israel to great honour. Shuld not a sonne honoure his father, and a seruante his master? If I be nowe a father, where is mine honoure? If I be the Lord, where am I feared? sayth the Lord of hostes.

Howe to you priestes that despise my name: And if ye say, wherein haue we despyled thy name? In this, that ye offer vncleane bread vpon myne aulter. And if ye say, wherewith haue we offered any vncleane thyng vnto the? In this that ye regard. If ye offer the blynd, is not that euill? And if ye offer the lame and sicke, is not that euill? Yea offer it to thy pryncce, shal he be content with the, or accepte thy person, sayth the Lord of hostes.

And now make your prayer before God that he may haue mercy vpon vs: for such

BBB.iii.

thynges

Gen. xlv. c.
Roma. ix. b.
Ios. xxi. a.

* To offer defyled bread, is to doo any thing by hy pocryse & not to glorify God as he hath commaunded in his word but accordyng to the inuencions of men. See. ix. b.

The.ii. Chapter

thynges haue ye done. Shall he regarde your persons, thynke ye, sayeth the Lorde of hostes? Yea what is he among you that wyl doo so muche as to shut the doores, or to kyndle the fyre vpon myne altar for nought? I haue no pleasure in you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes: and as for the meate offeringe, I wyl not accepte it at your hande. For from the rising vpon of the sunne vnto the goinge downe of the same, my name is greate among the Gentyles, yea in euery place shal their sacrifice be done, and a cleane meate offeringe offered vpon to my name: for my name is great among the heathen sayth the Lorde of hostes. But ye haue vnhalowed it, in that ye saye: the altar of the Lorde is not to be regarded, and the thyng that is set her vpon, not worthy to be eaten.

Now say ye: It is but labour & trauaill and thus haue ye thought: skorne at it (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) offeringe robbery, yea the lamie & the sicke. Ye haue brought me in a meate offeringe, should I accepte it at your hande sayeth the Lorde? Cursed be the dyssembler, whiche hath in his flocke one that is a male, and when he maketh a vow, offereth a spotted one vnto the Lord. For I am a greates kyng (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) and my name is fearful among the heathen.

The.ii. Chapter.

Threatnynges agaynst the prestes beinge seducers of the people.

And now (O ye prestes) this commaundment toucheth you: if ye wyl not heare it, ye regarde it, to greeue the glorie vnto my name, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, I wyl sende a curse vpon you, and wyl curse your blessings: yea curse them wyl I, if ye doo not take hede. Beholde, I shal corrupte your sede, and cast downe in your faces: euen the donge of your solemn feastes, and it shal cleue fast vpon you, and ye shal knowe that I haue sent this commaundment vnto you that my couenaunt whiche I made with Leui, myghte stande sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

I made a couenaunt of lpe, and peace with him: this I gaue him, that he myght stand in awe of me, and so he dyd feare me, and had my name in reuerence. The lawe of truth was in his mouth, and there was no wyckednes founde in his lippes.

He walked with me in peace & equitie, and dyd turne many one away from their stunes. For in the prestes lippes should be sure knowledge, that menne maye seeke the lawe at his mouth, for he is a messenger of the Lorde of hostes. But as for you, ye are gone cleane out of the waye, and haue caused the multitude to be offended at the lawe: ye haue broken the couenaunt of Leui, sayth the Lorde of hostes. Therefore wyl I also make you to be despyled, and to be of no reputation amonge al the people: because ye haue not kept my wayes, but bene partiall in the lawe.

The Prophecy

Haue we not all one father? Had not one God made vs? why doth euery one of vs the despyse his owne brother, & so breake the couenant of our fathers? Nowe hath Iuda offended: yea the abomination is done in Israel, and in Ierusalem: for Iuda hath defiled the Sanctuary of the lord whiche he loued, & hath kept the doughter of a straunge God. But the Lorde shal destroy the man that doth this (yea both the master and the scholar) oute of the tabernacle of Iacob, wyl hym I offereth vpon meate offeringe vnto the Lorde of hostes.

Now haue ye brought it to this poynte agayne that the altar of the Lorde is couered with teares, wepyng and mourninge: so that I wyl no more regarde the meate offeringe, neyther wyl I receiue or accepte any thyng at your handes.

And yet ye saye, wherefore? Euen because that where as the Lorde made a couenaunt betwixt thee, and the wyse of thy yowthe, thou hast despyled her: yet is the thyne owne companion and married wyse.

So did not the one, and yet had he an excellent spirit. What dyd the one? He sought the sedepromised of God. Therefore loke wel to your spirit, and let no manne despyse the wyse of his yowthe. If thou hast her put away sayth the Lord God of Israel and greeue her a clothynge for the skorne, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. Looke well then to your spirit, and despyse her not. Ye greue the Lord with your wordes, and yet ye saye: where with all haue we greued hym, In thys that ye saye: Al that do euyl are good in the syght of God, and such please hym. O els where is the God that punyssheth?

The.iii. Chapter.

Of the messenger of the Lord, John Baptist. Of the day of the Lorde, and of Eliah.

Behold, I wyl sende my messenger, whiche shall prepare the waye before me: and the lord whom ye wold haue, shal soone come to his temple, yea euen the messenger of the couenant whom ye longe for.

Beholde he cometh, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. But who maye abyde the daye of his commynge? Who shall be able to endure when he appeareth? For he is lyke a golde smythes fyre, and lyke washers sope. He shal syt vnto the trye and to cleuse the spluer, he shal pource the chyliden of Leui, and purifie the lyke as golde and spluer, that they maye bynge meate offeringes vnto the Lorde in ryghteousnesse. When shall the offeringe of Iuda and Ierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lorde, lyke as from the begynnyng and in the yeres afore tyme.

I wyl come and punyssh you, and I my selfe wyl be a swyft wytnesse agaynst the witches, agaynst the aduouterers agaynst false swearers, yea and agaynst those

Eph. iiii. a Icha. vii. b
and. viii. c
i. Edz. ix. a Leuiti. xxi. c

Thys pnterpreters rehen to be spoken of Abraham,

Bath. ri. b
Marke. i. a
Luke. vii. c
Gene. iiii. a
v. b
Esa. lxi. a

Esa. i. b

*O: hys word, & hys meate are despyled.

De. xxi. b

An. xxi. c
v. b
Esa. lxi. a

De. xxi. f. iii. re. xviii. c.
those that wrongously kepe back the byrllynges dewtye, whiche be the widowes and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the strager, and feare not me, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. For I am the Lorde that chaunge not, and ye (O chyldren of Jacob) will not leue of: ye are gone away fro myne ordinaunces, sence the tyme of youre forefathers haue ye not kept them.

zacha. i. a Turne you nowe vnto me, and I will turne me vnto you, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. Ye saye: Wherein shall we turne?
Should a man vse falshe, & disceite wth God as ye vse falshe & disceite wth me?

Leut. xxi. d. Agge. i. a Yet ye say: wherin vse we disceite wth the? In tithes and heueofferynges. Therfore are ye cursed wth penurye, because ye dissemble wth me, all the sorte of you.

Bring euey tith into my barne, that there maye be meate in myne house, and proue me withal (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) if I will not open the wyndowes of heauen vnto you, and poure you out a blessing with plenteousnesse. Yea I shall reprove the consumer for youre sakes, so that he shal not eate vp the fruite of your ground, neither shall the vyneyarde be baren in the fildes, sayeth the Lorde of hostes. In so muche that al people may say that ye be blessed, for ye shalbe a pleasaunt land, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

Ye speake harde wordes agaynst me, sayth the Lord. And yet ye say: What haue we spoken agaynst the? Ye haue sayd.

D It is but loste labour to serue God:
What profyt haue we in keepyng his commaundementes, and for walkyng humbly before the Lorde of hostes? Therefore maye we say, that the proude are happy, and that they whiche deale wth vngodlynes are set vp: for they tempt God, and yet escape.

But they that feare God, saye thus one to an other: the Lorde conspyeth and heareth it, yea it is before hym a memoypall boke wyrtten for suche as feare the Lorde, remembre his name. And in the daye that I will make (sayth the Lorde of hostes) they shalbe mine owne possession: and I will fa-uoure them, lyke as a man fauoureth bys owne sonne, that dooeth hym seruyce.

Turne you therefore and conspyde what difference is betwixt the ryghteous and the vngodlye: betwixt hym that serueth God, and hym that serueth hym not.

For marke, the daye cometh that shall burne as an ouen: and all the proude yea and all suche as doo wyckednesse, shall be strawe: and the day that is for to come, shall burne them vp (sayeth the Lorde of hostes) so that it shall leaue theym neyther roote ne br aunche.

But vnto you that feare my name, shall that Sonne of ryghteousnesse aryse, and healte shall be vnder bys wynges, ye shal goe forth and multiplye as the fatte calues. Ye shal treade dowe the vngod-lye: for they shall be lyke the ashes vnder the soles of your feete, in the daye that I shall make, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

Remembre the lawe of Moses my seruaunte which I commaunded vnto him in Oreb for al Israell: with the statutes and ordinaunces. Beholde I will send you Elias the prophete: before the commynge of that day of the great and fearful Lord.

He shal turne the heartes of the fathers to their chyldren, and the heartes of the chyldren to their fathers, that I come not and smyte the earth wth curfynge.

De. lxxxv. a

Math. xi. b
and. xlvii.

Luke. i. a

1771

1750

Jo: Milton

Jan<sup>y</sup> 14: 1771 Aged - 21 O.S.
Jan<sup>y</sup> 15 New Style 21 -

The Daughters of
Thomas Mitton

& Ann Mitton his wife

1728

Catharine Mitton Born October 27th 1728

Catharine Mitton Juner Born June 17th 1730

Ann Mitton Born October 1st 1732

Mary Mitton Born November 6th 1734

Martha Mitton Born Feb<sup>ry</sup> 2nd 1736

Jane Mitton Born July 3rd 1739

Sarah Mitton Borne October 6th 1743

John Mitton Borne Jan<sup>ry</sup> 4th 1750

The volume
of the bokes called Apocripha: contaynyng these bokes folowynge.

The. iiii. boke of Eldras.
The fourth boke of Eldras.
The boke of Tobiah.
The boke of Judith.
The rest of the boke of Hester.
The boke of wysedome.
Ecclesiasticus.
Baruch the Prophete.
The songe of the thre chyl dren.
The storpe of Sulanna.
The storpe of Bel & the Dragon.
The prayer of Manasses
The fyfste boke of Machabees.
The second boke of Machabees.
The thyrde boke of Machabees.

The volume
of the bokes called Apocripha: contaynyng these
bokes folowynge.

The. iii. boke of Eldras.
The fourth boke of Eldras.
The boke of Tobiah.
The boke of Judith.
The rest of the boke of Hester.
The boke of wysedome.
Ecclesiasticus.
Baruch the Prophete.
The songe of the thre chyl dren.
The storpe of Sulanna.
The storpe of Bel & the Dragon.
The prayer of Manasses
The fyfte boke of Machabees.
The second boke of Machabees.
The thyrde boke of Machabees.

A Prologe to the Reader.

Consideration that the booke before are founde in the Hebrie longe, recepued of all men: and that the other folowpng, whpch are called Apocriphe (because they wer wont to be read, not openly and in commune, but as it were in secretes and apart) are nether founde in the Hebrie nor in the Chaldee, in whpch toges they haue not of long ben found written (vnlesse then it were haply the boke of Sapience) whereupon it were nowe verp harde to repaire and amende them: And that also they

In the Pro-
loge to the Prouerbe

In the pro-
loge before
Judith.

In the pro-
loge to the Prouerbe.

In the illi.
boke p. xii.
Chap.

In the pro-
loge vpo p boke of the hynge.

In the pro-
loge of Ec-dras.

In the xi.
xii. xiii. of p
Antiquities

1. Pe. i. ii. c.
1. Pet. i. d
11. Pet. i. d.

1. Cor. iii.
Eph. ii. d are not recepued nor taken as legitimate, and lawfull, as wel of the Hebries as of the whole churche, as. f. Hierome sheweth, we haue seperated them, and set them aside, that they maie the better be knowen, to the intent that men may knowe of whpch boke wptnesse ought to be recepued, and of whpche not. For the sapde. f. Hierome speaknge of the booke of Judith (whpch is Apocriphe) sayth, that the authoritie therof is not esteemed worthp and sufficiente to confirme and stablysh thepnges that are in disputation.

And generally of all the boke called Apocriphe, he sayeth, that menne may reade them to the edifying of the people, but not to confirme and strengthen the doctrine of the church. I leane oute here the lawe (as they call it of canon. c. Sancta Romana. xv. distinct) where he sheweth thys iudgement. Ephe. v. the glose of. c. Canons. xvi. distinct. whpch sayth, that me read them, but not in general, as though he sholde say, that generally and thorowly they are not allowed. And not wptoute cause. For that they haue bene corrupted and falsified in manie places, it appeareth sufficientely by Eusebius in hys booke called Historia Ecclesi-astica. Whpch thinge is easy to be knowen euen nowe a dayes in certayne pointes, namelpe in the boke of Machabees, whose seconde boke. S. Hierome confelleth that he found not in the Hebrie, bi the meanes wherof it is become to vs the more suspect, & the lesse recepued. In lpke maner is it of the thyrde and fourth boke of Esdras, whpch Hierome professeth that he would not haue translated, estymynge theym for dreames, where as Josephus pet in hys boke of Antiquities declareth the summe of the matter after the thyrde of Esdras, althoughe he esteeme the booke compiled frome the raygne of Artaxerxes vnto hys tyme, to be Apocriphe.

Wherefore then, when thou wylste mapntayne anye thynge for certayne, reuerynge a reason of thy sayeth, take hede to procede therein by the lypunge, and pittyppe Scripture, folowypnge Sapnte Peter, whpche sayeth. He that speaketh, let hym speake as though he spake the worde of God. He sayeth the worde of God, as a thinge mozte true, and certayne, opened by the Pzophetes and Apostles inspired wpth the holpe gholte, of whom we haue wptnesse more cleare then the daye. Let wiers haupnge greate desyre to confirme and stablysh thep opinions by the lawe of man, saye that they shame to speake without lawe. How much more feare and dreade then ought heto haue, that sayeth he is a chrestian, the whpche holdeth not hym selfe, or resteth not in the lawes of the lypunge God, but in mens inventions: iudgynge of all thynge accordypnge to them, and leanyng to an vncertayne imagination and phanta-spe. Let vs therfore that are builded on the foundation of the holpe Pzophetes and Apostles and on the heade corner stone (on whpche they them selues were founded, and whpche they preached, that is Jesus Chyrste the sure stone) leaue the thynge that are vncertayne to folow the certayne: holdypnge vs and restypnge vs in them, and fastening our ancre there as in a sure place. For our chrestian sayeth consisteth not in doubtefull thynge, but in playne and mozte certayne assuraunce, and in mozt true perswasion, taken and confirmed by infallible veritie.

In whpche God graunte vs to walke perpetuallpe, to the intent that accordinge to it (fulfyllpge hys holpe wpll in vs, and settypnge asyde all inuencions contrary vnto hym) we may lpye to hys honoure, and to the edifyinge of the Church.

So be it.

A Prologe to the Reader.

Consideration that the bookes befoze are founde in the Hebrue longe, recepued of all men: and that the other folowpng, whpch are called Apocriphe (because they wer wont to be read, not openly and in commune, but as it were in secretes and apart) are nether founde in the Hebrue nor in the Chaldee, in whpch toges they haue not of long ben founde written (vntlesse then it were haplye the boke of Sapience) whereupon it

In the Prologe to the Prouerbe

In the Prologe befoze Iudith.

In the Prologe to the Prouerbe.

In the. iiii. booke p. xii. Chap.

In the Prologe vpo the booke of the kynge.

In the Prologe of Esdras.

In the. xi. xii. xiii. of Antiquities

1. Pe. i. ii. c. 1. Pet. i. d. 11. Pet. i. d.

1. Cor. iii. Ephe. ii. d.

were nowe verp harde to repaire and amende them: And that also they are not recepued nor taken as legittimate, and lawfull, as wel of the Hebrues as of the whole church, as. f. Hierome sheweth, we haue seperated them, and set them aside, that they maie the better be knowen, to the intent that men may knowe of whpch bookes wptnesse ought to be recepued, and of whpche not. For the sayde. f. Hierome speaknge of the booke of Iudith (whpch is Apocriphe) sayth, that the authoritie therof is not esteemed worthp and sufficiente to confirme and stablyshe thynge that are in disputation.

And generally of all the bookes called Apocriphe, he sayeth, that menne may reade them to the edifyinge of the people, but not to confirme and strengthen the doctrine of the church. I leane oute here the lawe (as they call it of canon. c. Sancta Romana. xv. distinct) where he sheweth thys iudgement. Ephe wyle the glose of. c. Canons. xvi. distinct. whpch sayth, that me read them, but not in general, as though he sholde say, that generally and thorowly they are not allowed. And not wpthoute cause. For that they haue bene corrupted and falsified in manie places, it appeareth sufficientely by Eusebius in hys booke called Historia Ecclesiastica. Whpch thinge is easp to be knowen euen nowe a dayes in certayne pointes, namelp in the bookes of Machabees, whose seconde boke. S. Hierome confelleth that he found not in the Hebrue, bi the meanes wherof it is become to vs the more suspect, & the lesse recepued. In the same maner is it of the thyrde and fourth boke of Esdras, whpch Hierome professeth that he woulde not haue translated, estymynge them for dreames, where as Iosephus pet in hys boke of Antiquities declareth the summe of the matter after the thyrde of Esdras, although he esteeme the bookes compiled frome the raygne of kynge Artaxerxes vnto hys tyme, to be Apocriphe.

Wherefoze then, when thou wylte mapntayne anye thynge for certayne, reuerynge a reason of thy sayeth, take hede to procede therein by the lypunge, and pittyp Scripture, folowynge Sapnte Peter, whpche sayeth. He that speaketh, let hym speake as though he spake the worde of God. He sayeth the worde of God, as a thinge moste true, and certayne, opened by the Prophetes and Apostles inspired wth the holpe gholte, of whom we haue wptnesse more cleare then the daye. Lawyers haupnge greate desyre to confirme and stablysh thep opinions by the lawe of man, saye that they shame to speake without lawe. How much more feare and dreade then ought heto haue, that sayeth he is a chrestian, the whpche holdeth not hym selfe, or resteth not in the lawes of the lypunge God, but in mens inventions: iudgynge of all thynge accordynge to them, and leaynynge to an vncertayne imagination and phantaspe. Let vs therfoze that are builded on the foundation of the holpe Prophetes and Apostles and on the heade corner stone (on whpche they them selues were founded, and whpche they preached, that is Iesus Chyrste the sure stone) leaue the thynge that are vncertayne to folow the certayne: holdynge vs and restynge vs in them, and fastening our ancre there as in a sure place. For our chrestian sayeth consisteth not in doubtefull thynge, but in playne and moste certayne assuraunce, and in most true perswasion, taken and confirmed by infallible veritie.

In whpche God graunte vs to walke perpetuallpe, to the intent that accordynge to it (fulfyllynge hys holpe wpll in vs, and settynge asyde all inuencions contrary vnto hym) we may lpye to hys honoure, and to the edifyinge of the Church.

So be it.

The thynde

boke of Esdras.

The fyfte Chapter.

Josias holdeth Pascheouer. After his death is Jeichonias hys sonne made kynge in his steade: whom the kynge of Egypt putteth oute, and setteth in hys brother Joachym. Hierusalem is destroyed, and Sedechias taken.

ii. pa. xxv. a.

iiii. re. xxi. f.

That is the pascal labe

When Josias held the feast of easter to the lord in Hierusalem, he had appointed the priests in their vestimentes euery man in his course, to do daily service in the Temple of the Lorde, offering the Pascheouer the xiiii. day of the firste moneth, he commaunded the Leuites whiche were the holy ministers of Israel, to halowe them selues vnto the Lorde, and to set hys holpe Arcke in the temple, whiche kynge Salomon the sonne of Dauid had builded. You shall no more (sayeth he) beare it vpon your shoulders, but from hence forth serue the Lorde our GOD, and hys people of Hierusalem after the order of youre families, & trybes accordynge as kynge Dauid the kynge of Israel hath ordeyned, and accordynge to the roial prescription of hys sonne Salomon, and euery manne as he is chiefest of your Leuiticall families, so standynge in order in the temple, in the sight of al youre brethren the Israelites, offer ye the Paschal Lambe, and make ready Sacrifices for them, and kepe the solempne Paschal feast, after the commaundement of the Lord, that was geuen to Moses.

And Josias gaue vnto the people whiche were there present a great nūbre. xxx. M. Lambes and kiddes, & .iii. M. calves, whiche cost by couenant was geuen vnto the people, priests, and Leuites, out of the kinges coffers. Also Helkias, zacharias & Nehiel wardens of the temple, to kepe thys solempne feast of the Pascheouer, gaue vnto the priests, two. M. v. L. shepe wyth .iii. hundred calves.

Moreouer, Jeichonias, Schamarias, and Nathanael hys brother, Hasebabbas, Neiel, and Josabad, the tribunes gaue to the Leuites to kepe thys feast, fyue. M. shepe and fyue. C. calves. Whyle these thynges were handsonly in doing, the priests and Leuites stode in ordre after their trybes, and as euery manne had taken of the fathers theyr hiest seate, holding in the sight of the people the vnleuened breade, whiche

The .i. chapter. Fol. ii.

they had consecrate vnto the Lorde after the prescription of the booke of Moses. And these thynges were thus done in the morning. The Paschal Lambe they roasted as mere it was, but as for other Sacrifices they sodde them, some in brasle pottes, and some in caudrons with swete sauours, and gaue to the people. After they prepared good meate for them selues, and for their brethren, priests that came of Aaron: for the priests burned the fat vntill the convenient time was expired: but the Leuites for them selues, and their brethren, priests that came of Aaron prepared good meate. And the holy syngrunge menne, the childre of Asaph did euery man hys duty in order, as it was appoynted them by Dauid, that is Asaph, zacharias, and Jeduthum were appoynted by the kynge.

As for the porters whiche watched before euery gate, it was not lawfull to any of the to leaue hys standing, for their brethren the Leuites prepared meates for them. Thus al thynges that appertayned to the sacrifice of the Lorde, in keepynge the pascheouer and preparynge the sacrifices that should be offered at the altare of the Lorde, were performed the same day accordynge to the commaundement of kynge Josias. So the children of Israel whiche were then present held an honourable pascheouer, and the feast of the swete bread. viii. dayes longe. Yea such a pascheouer was not kepte in Israel fro the tyme of the prophete Samuel.

And in very dede neuer dyd any kinges of Israel kepe suche an Easter as Josias dyd, and the priests & Leuites, the Iewes and al the Israelites, whiche the abode verie many at Hierusalem. Thys pascheouer was kept in the .xviii. yere of the raigne of Josias, & rightly were all his workes ordeered in the sight of hys Lord, for they came euery fro an herte full of godlines. But the historye of those thynges that be more, are written in the aunciente Chronicles, euen of suche as synned and were more vngodlye agaynst the LORD then all other nations and kyngedomes, and theyr subreges be also declared wherewith they offended him, in so much that the prophetes of god preuayled agaynst Israel. * After Josias had done al thys acte, it happened that Pharaoh kynge of Egypt, went out and moued battaile agaynst Carchimis, which is by the riuer of Euphrates, & whē Josias went to meete him, the king of Egypt sent me vnto him whiche sayd. O kynge of Iuda, what haste thou to do with me?

I am not sent of the Lord agaynst the, but agaynst Euphrates is my warre, yea, and the LORD is on my syde, & maketh speche to helpe me, medle not with me, nor withstand him. Yet wold not Josias turne backe hym selfe to his chariot agayne, but prepared to fyghte, and harkened not to the wordes of the prophet Ieremy, that came fro the Lord, but entred battel wyth him.

Aa. ii.

him

Exo. xii. b.

iiii. re. xxi. f.
ii. pa. xxxv.

The thynde

boke of Esdras.

The fyrste Chapter.

Josias holdeth Pascheouer. After his death is Jeichonias hys sonne made kynge in his steade: whom the kynge of Egypt putteth oute, and setteth in hys brother Joachym. Hierusalem is destroyed, and Sedechias taken.

ii. pa. xxv. a.

liii. re. xliii.

That is the pascal labe

When Josias held the feast of easter to þe lord in Hierusalem, & had appointed the priests in their vestimentes euery man in his course, to do daily seruice in the Temple of the Lorde, offering the * Pascheouer the xliii. day of the firste moneth, he commaunded the Leuites whiche were the holy ministers of Israel, to halowe them selues vnto the Lorde, and to set hys holpe Arcke in the temple, whiche kynge Salomon the sonne of Dauid had builded. You shall no more (sayeth he) beare it vpon your shouldeys, but from hence forth serue the Lorde our GOD, and hys people of Hierusalem after the order of youre families, & trybes accordynge as kynge Dauid the kynge of Israel hath ordeyned, and accordynge to the roial prescription of hys sonne Salomon, and euery manne as he is chiefest of your Leuiticall families, so standynge in order in the temple, in the sight of al youre brethren the Israelites, offer ye the Paschal Lambe, and make ready Sacrifices for them, and kepe the solempne Paschal feast, after the commaundement of þe Lord, that was geuen to Moses.

And Josias gaue vnto the people whiche were there present a great nūbre. xxx. M. Lambes and kiddes, & .lii. M. calves, whiche cost by couenant was geuen vnto the people, priests, and Leuites, out of the kinges coffers. Also Helkias, zacharias & Sebiel wardes of the temple, to kepe thys solempne feast of the Pascheouer, gaue vnto the priests, two. M. v. L. shepe wyth .lii. hundred calves.

Moreouer, Jeichonias, Schamarias, and Nathanael hys brother, Paschabias, Jeiel, and Josabad, the tribunes gaue to the Leuites to kepe thys feast, fyue. M. shepe and fyue. C. calves. Whyle these thynges were handsomly in doing, the priests and Leuites stode in ordre after their trybes, and as euery manne had taken of the fathers theyr hiest seate, holding in the sight of the people the vnleuened breade, whiche

The .i. chapter. Fol. ii.

they had consecrate vnto the Lorde after the prescription of the booke of Moses. And these thynges were thus done in the morning. The Paschal Lambe they roasted as mere it was, but as for other Sacrifices they sodde them, some in brasle pottes, and some in caudrons with swete sauours, and gaue to the people. After they prepared good meate for them selues, and for their brethren, priests that came of Aaron: for the priests burned the fat vntill the convenient time was expired: but the Leuites for them selues, and their brethren, priests that came of Aaron prepared good meate. And the holy syngrunge menne, the childre of Asaph did euery man hys duty in order, as it was appoynted them by Dauid, that is Asaph, zacharias, and Jeduthum were appoynted by the kynge.

As for þe porters whiche watched before euery gate, it was not lawfull to any of the to leaue hys standing, for their brethren the Leuites prepared meates for them. Thus al thynges that appertayned to the sacrifice of the Lorde, in keepynge the pascheouer and preparynge the sacrifices that should be offered at the altare of the Lorde, were performed þe same day accordynge to the commaundement of kynge Josias. So the children of Israel whiche were then present held an honourable pascheouer, and the feast of the swete breade. viii. dayes longe. Yea such a pascheouer was not kepte in Israel fro the tyme of the prophete Samuel.

And in very dede neuer dyd any kinges of Israel kepe suche an Easter as Josias dyd, and the priests & Leuites, the Iewes and al þe Israelites, whiche the abode verie many at Hierusalem. Thys pascheouer was kept in the .xviii. yere of the raigne of Josias, & rightly were all his workes ordeered in the sight of hys Lord, for they came euery fro an herte full of godlines. But the historye of those thynges that be more, are written in the aunciente Chronicles, euen of suche as synned and were more vngodlye agaynst the LORD then all other nations and kyngedomes, and theyr stubbes be also declared wherewith they offended him, in so much that the propheties of god preuayled agaynst Israel. * After Josias had done al thys acte, it happened þe wharao kynge of Egypt, went out and moued battaile agaynst Carchimis, which is by þe riuer of Euphrates, & wher Josias went to meete him, the king of Egypt sent me vnto him whiche sayd. O kynge of Iuda, what haste thou to do with me?

I am not sent of the Lord agaynst the, but agaynst Euphrates is my warre, yea, and the LORD is on my syde, & maketh speche to helpe me, medle not with me, nor withstand him. Yet wold not Josias turne backe hym selfe to his chariot agayne, but prepared to fyghte, and harkened not to the wordes of the prophet Ieremy, that came fro the Lord, but entred battel wyth him.

Aa. ii.

him

Exo. xlii. b.

liii. re. xliii. ii. pa. xxxv.

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

The.iii.Chapter.

iii. Re. xxii. f
 hym in the playne of Magado. And whan the Prynces were come to kynge Josias he cried vnto his seruantes saying. Carry me awaye oute of this battayle, for I am sore wounded. And straightwaye hys ser-uantes caried him out fro the front of the battell. And whan he was vp vpon the second Chariot, and was come vnto Hieru-salem, he dyed, and was buryed in hys fathers Sepulchre. And in all Jewrye was great mournynge for Josias. Yea, the rulers also and theyr wyues made lamentation for hym euen vnto this day. And this was done euer syll in Israell.

iii. re. xxiii. f
ii. pa. xxxvi. f
 But these thinges be written in the histories of the kings of Iuda, eue every thyng particularly as Josias did the, & also how great hys glory was, & his vnderstanding in the lawe of God. But hys foreactes, & those þ we nowe haue spoken of, are wrytten in þ cronicles of the kynges of Israell and Iuda. * Also the people toke Joachas the sone of Josias, and made him king in the xiii. yere olde, he reigned in Iuda and Hieru-salem. iii. monethes, vntyll the kynge of Egypt deposed hym from hys kyngedome, and raysyng a tax vpon the people of an hundred talentes of syluer, and one talent of gold, * he made Joachim kynge of Iuda and Hierusalem, and caste the magistrates into prysen, and led him with zaraces the kinges brother faste bounde into Egypte.

iii. re. xxiii. a
iii. re. xxiii. a
ii. pa. xxxvi. f
 Fifteene yeaues olde was Joachim whan he was made kynge of Iuda and Hieru-salem, and he dyd euyl before the LORD, and Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon warred vpon him, bounde him in chaynes and caried him awaye vnto Babylon, and toke awaye part of the halowed vesselles of the Lorde, and sette theim in his temple at Babylon. But the hystorie of hym, hys vncleauenes and vngodlines, is wryten in the Actes of the boke of the kynges. And hys sonne Joachim succeded hym in hys kyngdome: and was. xvi. yere olde when he was made kynge. He raygned. iii. monethes and ten dayes at Hierusalem, and dyd wyckedlye before the Lorde, and one yere after Nabuchodonosor sente hys Ar-mye, and caused hym to be brought to Ba-bilon, euen wyth the holye vesselles of the Lorde, and made zedechias kinge of Jew-rye and Hierusalem, beyng. xxi. yere old:
 whiche raygned a. xi. yere, and greuouslye offended the lord. For he regarded not the

Je. xxxvii. a
xxxvii.
 sermons* of the prophet Jeremy spoken vnto him fro the mouth of the lord, & wher he hadde sworne to Nabuchodonosor, he falsely brake hys othe, & waxed styfnecked & hard herted, he brake all the lawes of þ lord God of Israell. Moreover the heades of the people & priestes did manye thinges vnto the lord, & became worse the all the gentils & defiled the most holy temple at Hieru-salem. And the god of their fathers sent hys messengers vnto them to turne theim backe, because he woulde haue spared the and hys Tabernacle, but they laughed his messengers to scoone, and as ofte as the Lorde spake vnto theim, they made but a ieste at hys prophetes, vntil he beynge moued wyth anger agaynste hys people for their wycked dedes, commaunded þ kinges of the Chaldes to ryse agaynste the, which led their yong men with the swerde, yea, in þ cōpasse of their holye temple. They spared neither yong nor olde, maid nor yong man, but al were deliuered into their han-des. And as for all the holy vesselles of the lorde, as well greates as small, and instrumentes of the arcke of God, wyth all the kynges treasure, they caried theim away to Babylon, they set the Lordes temple on fyre, they pulled downe the walies of Hieru-salem, set fyre vpon the towers, cast vnder fote al their noble buildynges: & those that were not slayne with swerde, they led captiue to Babylon, where they serued the king & his childre, eue vnto þ raigne of the Persians, þ it might be fulfilled which the lord had spokē by the mouth of þ prophete Jeremy, eue vntil þ had had swetely rested her sabothes, & had kept her seruantes all the tyme of her lying wast, whiche was eue til seuenty yeres were expired.

Je. xxxvi. f
xxxvii. b.

The.iii. Chapter.

Cirus geueth lycence to the Jewes to return to Hierusalem: and restoreth them the vesselles of the temple. After that are there letters sent to Artaxerxes, whiche accuse the Jewes for buildynge the Citie, and so is the buildynge dyuen of vntyll the seconde yere of Darius.

ii. pa. xxxvi. f
i. Esd. i. a
 The first yeaue of Cyrus kinge of Persians, the lord entending to performe that he had promised by þ mouth of the prophete Jere-mi, he stirred by the mind of Cyrus king of Persians to make proclamation thorowout all hys realme, wryting on this wyse.
 These thinges commaunderh Cyrus the king of the Persians. The Lord of Israell, that hiesse Lorde, hath made me kynge of the worlde, and hath commaunded me for to bulde vppē hys Temple of Hierusalem, whiche is in Jutye, wherfore if there be any of your people þ lord be wyth hym, and let him go to Hierusalem which is in Judy, and buyld the temple to the lord of Israell. This is the Lorde that had a tabernacle at Hierusalem. As manye therefore as dwell there aboure, lette theim helpe them, whether it be wyth golde or wyth syluer, wyth giftes, wyth horses, or necessary cattel, & al other thinges þ are brought to the house of the Lorde in the temple of Hierusalem. When the principal menne of the Trybes and families of Iuda & Beniamin wyth the priestes and Levites, yea and all (whose spiryte the Lorde had ray-sed) wente vp togyther to bulde the temple at Hierusalem, and the people þ were there aboure, holpe all that they coude w siluer

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

The.iii.Chapter.

hym in the playne of Magado. And whan the Prynces were come to kynge Josias he cried vnto his seruautes saying. Carry me awaye oute of this battayle, for I am sore wounded. And straightwaye hys seruautes caried him out fro the front of the battell. And whan he was vp vpon the second Chariot, and was come vnto Hierusalem, he dyed, and was buryed in hys fathers Sepulchre. And in all Jewrye was great mournynge for Josias. Yea, the rulers also and theyr wyues made lamentacion for hym euen vnto this day. And this was done euer syll in Israell.

But these thinges be written in the histories of the kings of Iuda, eue every thyng particularly as Josias did the, & also how great hys glory was, & his vnderstanding in the lawe of God. But hys foreactes, & those þ we nowe haue spoken of, are wyrtten in þ cronicles of the kynges of Israell and Iuda. * Also the people toke Joachas the sone of Josias, and made him king in stede of Josias, beyng the. xxiij. yere olde, he reigned in Iudea and Hierusalem. iij. monethes, vntyll the kynge of Egypt deposed hym from hys kyngedome, and raydynge a tax vpon the people of an hundred talentes of syluer, and one talent of gold, * he made Joachim kynge of Iudea and Hierusalem, and caste the magistrates into prysyn, and led hym with zaraces the kinges brother faste bounde into Egypte.

Fiftene yeres olde was Joachim whan he was made kynge of Iuda and Hierusalem, and he dyd euyl before the LORD, and Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon warred vpon him, bounde hym in chaynes and caried hym awaye vnto Babylon, and toke awaye part of the halowed vessels of the Lorde, and sette theim in his temple at Babylon. But the hystorie of hym, hys vncleauenes and vngodlines, is wrytten in the Actes of the boke of the kynges. And hys sonne Joachim succeded hym in hys kyngdome: and was. xviij. yere olde when he was made kynge. He raygned. iij. monethes and ten dayes at Hierusalem, and dyd wyckedlye before the Lorde, and one yere after Nabuchodonosor sente hys Armye, and caused hym to be brought to Babylon, euen wyth the holye vessels of the Lorde, and made zedechias kinge of Jewrye and Hierusalem, beyng. xxi. yere old: whiche raygned. xxi. yere, and greuouslye offended the lord. For he regarded not the sermons* of the prophet Jeremy spoken vnto him fro the mouth of the lord, & wher he hadde sworne to Nabuchodonosor, he falsely brake hys othe, & waxed styfnecked & hard herted, he brake all the lawes of þ lord God of Israell. Moreover the heades of the people & prestes did manye thinges vnto hys shame, & became worse the all the gentils & defiled the most holy temple at Hierusalem. And the god of their fathers sent hys messengers vnto them to turne theim backe, because he woulde haue spared the B and hys Tabernacle, but they laughed his messengers to scoone, and as ofte as the Lorde spake vnto theim, they made but a ieste at hys prophetes, vntil he beynge moued wyth anger agaynste hys people for their wycked dedes, commaunded þ kinges of the Chaldes to ryse agaynste the, which led their yong men with the swerde, yea, in þ cōpasse of their holye temple. They spared neither yong nor olde, maid nor yong man, but al were deliuered into their handes. And as for all the holy vessels of the lorde, as well greates as small, and instrumentes of the arcke of God, wyth all the kynges treasure, they caried theim away to Babylon, they set the Lordes temple on fyre, they pulled downe the walies of Hierusalem, set fyre vpon the towers, cast vnder fote al their noble buildynges: & those that were not slayne with swerde, they led captiue to Babylon, where they serued the king & his childre, eue vnto þ raigne of the Persians, þ it might be fulfilled which the lord had spokē by the mouth of þ prophete Jeremy, eue vntil þ had had swetely rested her labothes, & had kept her seruautes all the tyme of her lying wast, whiche was eue til seuenty yeres were expired.

The.iii. Chapter.

Cirus geueth lycence to the Jewes to return to Hierusalem: and restoreth them the vessels of the temple. After that are there letters sent to Artaxerxes, whiche accuse the Jewes for buildynge the Citye, and so is the buildynge dyuen of vntyll the seconde yere of Darius.

The first yere of Cyrus kinge of Persians, the lord entending to performe that he had promysed by þ mouth of the prophete Jeremy, he stirred by the mynd of Cyrus king of Persians to make proclamation thorowout all hys realme, wryting on this wyse. These thinges commaunderh Cyrus the king of the Persians. The Lord of Israell, that hiesse Lorde, hath made me kynge of the worlde, and hath commaunded me for to bulde vpe hys Temple of Hierusalem, whiche is in Jutye, wherfore if there be any of your people þ lord be wyth hym, and let him go to Hierusalem which is in Jutye, and buyld the temple to the lord of Israell. This is the Lorde that had a tabernacle at Hierusalem. As manye therefore as dwell there aboure, Lette theym helpe them, whether it be wyth golde or wyth syluer, wyth gifies, wyth horses, or necessary cattel, & al other thinges þ are brought to the house of the Lorde in the temple of Hierusalem. When the principal menne of the Trybes and families of Iuda & Benjamin wyth the prestes and Levites, yea and all (whose spiryte the Lorde had raysed) wente vp togyther to bulde the temple at Hierusalem, and the people þ were there aboure, holpe all that they coude w silver

W syluer, golde, hoyses, labourynge beastes, and many other vowed offerynge, whose mynde was spured thereunto.

i. Esd. i. Kyngc Cyrus also brought oute all the halowed vessels of the LORD, whiche Nabuchodonosor hadde taken from Hierusalem and set in hys temple, and whan they were brought forth, kyngc Cyrus deliuered them vnto Sathrathates his treasurer, and by hym they were deliuered to Sathabasar president of Iuryc. And thys was the noumber of theym: A thousande castynge bowles of syluer, and a thousande also of golde, xxix. syluer basyns for sacrifice, xxx. basyns of Golde, and of Syluer two. M. iiii. c and ten, and a thousand other besyde. All these vessels of golde and syluer that were brought, were fyue. M. iiii. C. lxx. and were broughte to Hierusalem by Sathabasar and other that came w hym from the captiuitie of Babilon.

i. Esd. iiii. a * Nowe in the tyme of Artaxerxes kyngc of the Persians, these mene, Bishlemus, Sathrathates, Tabell, Rabimus, Beeltemus, and Semellius the Scribe, and their felowes, wyth other that dwelte at Samaria, and else where, wrote thys Epistle that foloweth.

Rabimus wyrtter of commentaries, Semellius the scribe wyth other felowes of the same courte thy Seruauntes, and also the iudges in Celosicia and Phenicia vnto their lord kyngc Artaxerxes.

We it knowne and manifest to our lord the kyng that the Jewes whych are come frome you to vs, after they were come to Hierusalem into that false and malicious Citie, begynne to buylde vpp agayne the market places, and to repayre the walles and temple a newe. And if thys Citie be buylde agayne, and the walles finished, they wyll neuer paye tribute, yea they wil resist the kynges. And bicause they be hot about the buildynge of the temple, me thinke it wel done, not to set lyght by the matter, but to tel it vnto our lord the kyng, that if it be thought good, the booke of the cronicles maye be soughte. For in those olde booke, ye shall fynde wyrtynge of these thynges, and you shal fynde that this cite was euer rebellious, noysome to kynges and cities, and that the false Jewes themselves haue bene euer spyrers vp of warre & geue to it euen fro their fyrst beginning, for y which cause the cite was destroyed. Therefore our Lord the kyng we spynispe vnto the, that if thys be restored, and the walles buylde vp agayne, thou canste haue no passage into Celosicia and Phenicia.

D The wrote the kyng to Rabimus the story wyrtter, to Beeltemus, and to Semellius the scribe, and to other officers of the same order, and inhabitauntes of Samaria, Siria, & Phenicia after thys maner. I haue read the letter that you sent me, and when I hadde commaunded to make diligente seache, it was founde that the cite hath euer resisted kynges, and that the people are much geue to sedition and warre, and that myghty kynges haue rayned in Hierusalem, and raysed by taxes in Celosicia, and Phenicia.

Therefore now I thought good to geue a commaundement that the people should cease from buildynge, and that no more be done, neyther that the worcke go further forth to trouble the kynges anye more wyth their malyce. Nowe whā Rabimus and the scribe Semellius and the felowes whiche they had chosen vnto them, hadde reade the wyrtynge whiche came frome kyngc Artaxerxes, they gate them vp, and made haste to goo to Hierusalem, wyth a great host of horsemen and fote men, and forbade them to builde.

So the buildynge of the temple of Hierusalem was lefte of, vnto the seconde yere of Darius kyngc of Persians.

The.iii. Chapter.

Darius maketh a feast, the.iii. scēces of the iii. yong men, of which the fyrst is declared.

D whan Darius was kyngc, he made a greate feaste to al his contrey men, scruauntes, and officers of Egede and Persia, to all the deputies and rulers that were vnder hym from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and. xviij. contreyes, whan they hadde wel eat and dronk, and gone home agayne, kyngc Darius also wente into a chambre, layed hym downe to slepe, and so awaked. Then. iii. yonge men that kept the kynges person, sayde one to an other.

Let euery one of vs put forth somwhat that whose sayinge is wiser than y other, kyngc Darius maye gyue hym greate rewardes and gyftes, and cloth hym in purple, and make hym dryncke, and sleepe in golde, and maye be carryed in a Charet all trimmed wyth goulde, and haue a benet of whyte spicke wyth a chayne of goulde about his necke, and for his wisdom maye be counted nexte vnto Darius, and called hys cosen. So whā euery man had writen hys sayinge and sealed it, they putte it vnder the kynges pyllowes, saying: when y kyng shall awake, we wyll giue hym this scrol, and whome the kyngc and. iij. of the chiefe men of Persia shall iudge wisest for his sayinge, let hym haue y victory. One wrote: Wyne is a stronge thyng. An other wrote. The kyngc is a stronge thing. The thyrde wrote. Women are a stronge thinge, but aboue al: The truth beareth away the victory. Now whan the kyng was risen, they toke theyr wyrtynge and deliuered them vnto hym, and he reade them. Than sent he forth to call al hys chyfe lordes, al hys deputies and rulers, chyfe captaynes and Consuls of Persia and Egedia. And when he was set at counsell the wyrtynge were reade before them. And he commaun-

Wyluer, golde, hoyses, labourynge beastes, and many other vowed offerynge, whose mynde was spured thereunto.

i. Esd. i. Kyngc Cyrus also brought oute all the halowed vessels of the LORD, whiche Nabuchodonosor hadde taken from Hierusalem and set in hys temple, and whan they were brought forth, kyngc Cyrus deliuered them vnto Sythidates his treasurer, and by hym they were deliuered to Sathabasar president of Turpe. And thys was the noumber of theym: A thousande castynge bowles of syluer, and a thousande also of golde, xxix. syluer basyns for sacrifice, xxx. basyns of Golde, and of Syluer two. M. iiii. c and ten, and a thousand other besyde. All these vessels of golde and syluer that were brought, were fyue. M. iiii. C. lxx. and were broughte to Hierusalem by Sathabasar and other that came w hym from the captiuitie of Babilon.

i. Esd. iiii. a * Nowe in the tyme of Artaxerxes kyngc of the Persians, these mene, Bishlemus, Sythidates, Tabell, Rabimus, Beeltemus, and Semelius the Scribe, and their felowes, wyth other that dwelte at Samaria, and else where, wrote thys Epistle that foloweth.

Rabimus wyrtter of commentaries, Semelius the scribe wyth other felowes of the same courte thy Seruauntes, and also the iudges in Celosicia and Phenicia vnto their lord kyngc Artaxerxes.

We it knowne and manifest to our lord the kyng that the Jewes whych are come frome you to vs, after they were come to Hierusalem into that false and malicious Citie, begynne to buylde vpp agayne the market places, and to repayre the walles and temple a newe. And if thys Citie be buylde agayne, and the walles finished, they wyll neuer paye tribute, yea they wil resist the kynges. And bicause they be hot about the buildynge of the temple, me thinke it wel done, not to set lyght by the matter, but to tel it vnto our lord the kyng, that if it be thought good, the booke of the cronicles maye be soughte. For in those olde booke, ye shall fynde wyrtynge of these thynges, and you shal fynde that this cite was euer rebellious, noysome to kynges and cities, and that the false Jewes themselves haue bene euer spyrers vp of warre & geue to it euen fro their fyrst beginning, for y which cause the cite was destroyed. Therefore our Lord the kyng we spynysse vnto the, that if thys be restored, and the walles buylde vp agayne, thou canste haue no passage into Celosicia and Phenicia.

D The wrote the king to Rabimus the story writer, to Beeltemus, and to Semelius the scribe, and to other officers of the same order, and inhabitants of Samaria, Siria, & Phenicia after thys maner. I haue read the letter that you sent me, and when I hadde commaunded to make diligente seache, it was founde that the cite hath euer resisted kynges, and that the people are much geue to sedition and warre, and that myghty kynges haue rayned in Hierusalem, and raysed by taxes in Celosicia, and Phenicia.

Therefore now I thought good to geue a commaundement that the people should cease from buildynge, and that no more be done, neyther that the worcke go further forth to trouble the kynges anye more wyth their malyce. Nowe whā Rabimus and the scribe Semelius and the felowes whiche they had chosen vnto them, hadde reade the wyrtynge whiche came frome kyngc Artaxerxes, they gate them vp, and made haste to goo to Hierusalem, wyth a great host of horsemen and fote men, and forbade them to builde.

So the buildynge of the temple of Hierusalem was lefte of, vnto the seconde yere of Darius kyngc of Persians.

The.iii. Chapter.

Darius maketh a feast, the.iii. scēces of the iii. yong men, of which the fyrst is declared.

D whan Darius was kyngc, he made a greate feaste to al his contrey men, scruautes, and officers of Egede and Persia, to all the deputies and rulers that were vnder hym from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and. xviii. contreyes, whan they hadde wel eat and dronk, and gone home agayne, kyngc Darius also wente into a chambre, layed hym downe to slepe, and so awaked. Then. iii. yonge men that kept the kynges person, sayde one to an other.

Let euery one of vs put forth somwhat that whose sayinge is wiser than y other, kyngc Darius maye gyue hym greate rewardes and gyftes, and cloth hym in purple, and make hym dryncke, and sleepe in golde, and maye be carryed in a Charet all trimmed wyth goulde, and haue a benet of whyte spicke wyth a chayne of goulde about his necke, and for his wisdom maye be counted nexte vnto Darius, and called hys cosen. So whā euery man had writen hys sayinge and sealed it, they putte it vnder the kynges pyllores, saying: when y kyng shall awake, we wyll giue hym this scrol, and whome the kyngc and. iii. of the chiefe men of Persia shall iudge wisest for his sayinge, let hym haue y victory. One wrote: Wyne is a stronge thyng. An other wrote. The kyngc is a stronge thing. The thyrde wrote. Women are a stronge thinge, but aboue al: The truth beareth away the victory. Now whan the kyng was risen, they toke theyr wyrtynge and deliuered them vnto hym, and he reade them. Than sent he forth to call al hys chyfe lordes, al hys deputies and rulers, chiefe captaynes and Consuls of Persia and Egedia. And when he was set at counsell the wyrtynge were reade before them. And he commaun-

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

The.iiii.Chapter.

ded to call forth the ponge men, that they might declare their meanynge them selues by mouth. So when they were sent forth and were come in, the kynge sayd vnto the, shew vs and make vs to vnderstand what the thinges are þ þou haue written. Then began the fyrste, whiche had spoken of the strength of wine, and said thus. O ye men, D Howe much stronger is wyne, then all the men that drinke it? It blindeth the mind, pea, it maketh the king, the people, the freeman and the bond, the ryche and the poore, all alpyke, and in verye deede it turneth all mens mindes into feastyng, pastimes, and mirth, so that no manne remembreth any honestie or det. For it filleth mens mindes wyth ryches, so that no manne regardeth eyther the kynge or the ruler, and causeth vs that we speake nothyng but of thousand poundes. More ouer they do not remember whan they be dronke, any frendship or brotherly loue, but forthwith draw out their swerds, but whan they be wakened, they remember not what they haue done. Doeth not wyne then (O ye menne) excell in strength, whiche forceth men to do such thynges? And whan he had spoken thus, he helde hys peace.

The.iiii.Chapter.

The declaration of the.ii.last sentences of the pong men propounded in þ chapter before: of which the laste, that is that veritie bereth the victorie, in all thinges is most comended & allowed. Darius writeth letters to all the rulers vnder him, that they shold aid zorobabel to the buildynge of Hierusalem.

When the seconde which had spoken of the kynges power, began to speke. O ye men, are not they most excellent whiche conquere the lande and the sea, & all that is therein? And yet is the kynge stronger, for he is ruler ouer them, & ouer al, and what he commaundeth they do it. If he commaund any to warre vpon other, they do it, if he send the against their enemies, they gooe, they pull downe mountaynes, walles and towers, they kyll and be kyllled, neyther dare they passe the kynges commaundement, & if they haue the victorie, they bring al to the king as wel þ spoile as al other thinges. Againe they that go not to warre fare but tyll the ground, whā they haue mowed downe that they sowed, they bynge it to the king, and eche call to other to paye hym tribute, although he be but one mā. If he commaund to kyll, they kyll: if to let go, they let go, to stryke they stryke, to waste they waste: to builde they builde: to cut downe, they cut downe: to plante, they plant: & al the people, and hys greates lordes hearken to hym only. The king him self (in the meane season) sitteth downe, eateth, drinketh, & sleapeth. But they watch rounde about hym, neyther may any man go whither hym list aboute his owne busines, but be ready at the kynges call. O ye men, why should not

not the kinge be the mightieste to whom so greates obedience is geuen? And whē he had helde his peace, than began the thirde to speake, and that was zorobabel, whyche had spoken before of women & truethe. O ye men, truly the power of a great king or many men, or of wine is not best: what the is hiest or bereth lordship ouer them? do not women? Women haue brought forth into this world the kynge him selfe and al the people that rule both by land & by sea. And of the bothe were borne & brought vp euē those selfe same men þ plant vineyards from whence wyne doth come, they make mens garmentes, they bynge wothepp to man, neyther can we lacke the. And if any hath gathered together golde, or siluer, or other precious thinges, whan wee be delighted w the beaute of an excellēt faire woman, do we not leaue al those, and stand gapping vnder her? & desire hit more the either golde or siluer, or other precious thinge?

A man leueth his father that broughtre him vp and his owne contrey, and abideth wyth hys wyfe. He liueth wyth his wyfe and careth not for the lacke of hys father, mother, nor contrey. No, by thys ye maye know that womē beare the rule ouer you. Do ye not labour and take great paynes, and bynge and geue al to women. A man taketh hys swerde, and goeth his waye to robbe, to murder, or taketh shyp, or happeneth to se a Lion, and goeth into þ darcke: and whan he hath stolen, robbed, & spoiled, he byngeth that that he hath gotten vnto hys loue. No, so muche more doeth a man loue hys wife, than eyther his father or mother. And many one euen thorow the sight of women haue fallen mad, & become bondmen for their lokes, manye also haue perished and ben slaine, pea, & haue sinned because of women. Wherefore now beleue me. Is not a kynge greates bycause of hys power? are not al mē aferde to touch hym? And yet I saw him, and howe that Apame the daughter of the greates kynge Barta-cus the kings concubine, sat on his right hand, and toke the crowne from the kings heade, and putte vpon his owne: pea, and with hir lifte hand she smote the king: and yet dyd he nothyng but gafe and gape vpon hyr. If she laughed vnder hym, he laughed: but if she were angry, he would speake fayre to gette hyr sauoure. O ye men, why should not women be most myghty, seinge they do suche thinges? Then the kynges & the nobles looked one vpon an other. And after he began to speake of truethe.

O ye men, are not women very strong, yet great is the earth, hie is the heuen, & swift in runnyng is the Sunne, for he rowleth in the circle of heauen, and in one daye cometh agayne to hys olde place. Is not he greates þ doth these thinges? Yet is truethe greater & mightier aboue al. The whole world speaketh out the truethe, the heauens praiseth it, al woorkes shake & treble at it, and Gene. ii.

Math. xix.
i. Cor. vi.

D

Or calleth vpon.

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

The.iiii.Chapter.

ded to call forth the ponge men, that they might declare their meanynge them selues by mouth. So when they were sent forth and were come in, the kynge sayd vnto the, shew vs and make vs to vnderstand what the thinges are þ þou haue written. Then began the fyrste, whiche had spoken of the strength of wine, and said thus. O ye men, D Howe much stronger is wyne, then all the men that drinke it? It blindeth the mind, pea, it maketh the king, the people, the freeman and the bond, the ryche and the poore, all alpyke, and in verye deede it turneth all mens mindes into feastyng, pastimes, and mirth, so that no manne remembreth any honestie or det. For it filleth mens mindes wyth ryches, so that no manne regardeth eyther the kynge or the ruler, and causeth vs that we speake nothyng but of thousand poundes. More ouer they do not remember whan they be dronke, any frendship or brotherly loue, but forthewyth draw out their swerds, but whan they be wakened, they remember not what they haue done. Doeth not wyne then (O ye menne) excell in strength, whiche forceth men to do such thynges? And whan he had spoken thus, he helde hys peace.

The.iiii.Chapter.

The declaration of the.ii.last sentences of the pong men propounded in þ chapter before: of which the laste, that is that veritie bereth the victorie, in all thinges is most comended & allowed. Darius writeth letters to all the rulers vnder him, that they shold aid zorobabel to the buildyng of Hierusalem.

When the seconde which had spoken of the kynges power, began to speke. O ye men, are not they most excellent whiche conquere the lande and the sea, & all that is therein? And yet is the kynge stronger, for he is ruler ouer them, & ouer al, and what he commaundeth they do it. If he commaund any to warre vpon other, they do it, if he send the against their enemies, they gooe, they pull downe mountaynes, walles and towers, they kyll and be kyllled, neyther dare they passe the kynges commaundement, & if they haue the victorie, they bring al to the king as wel þ spoile as al other thinges. Againe they that go not to warre fare but tyll the ground, whā they haue mowed downe that they sowed, they bynge it to the king, and eche call to other to paye hym tribute, although he be but one mā. If he commaund to kyll, they kyll: if to let go, they let go, to stryke they stryke, to waste they waste: to builde they builde: to cut downe, they cut downe: to plante, they plant: & al the people, and hys greates lordes heken to hym only. The king him self (in the meane season) sitteth downe, eateth, drinketh, & sleapeth. But they watch rounde about hym, neyther may any man go whither him list aboute his owne busines, but be ready at the kynges call. O ye men, why should not

not the kinge be the mightieste to whom so greates obedience is geuen? And whē he had helde his peace, than began the thirde to speake, and that was zorobabel, whyche had spoken before of women & truethe. O ye men, truly the power of a great king or many men, or of wine is not best: what the is hiest or bereth lordship ouer them? do not women? Womē haue brought forth into this world the kynge him selfe and al the people that rule both by land & by sea. And of the bothe were borne & brought vp euē those selfe same men þ plant vineyards from whence wyne doth come, they make mens garmentes, they bynge wothepp to man, neyther can we lacke the. And if any hath gathered together golde, or siluer, or other precious thinges, whan we be delited w the beaute of an excellēt faire woman, do we not leaue al those, and stand gapyng vpon her? & desire hit more the either golde or siluer, or other precious thinge?

A man leuerh his father that broughtre him vp and his owne contrey, and abiderh wyth hys wyfe. He liueth wyth his wyfe and careth not for the lacke of hys father, mother, nor contrey. No, by thys ye maye know that womē beare the rule ouer you. Do ye not labour and take great paynes, and bynge and geue al to women. A man taketh hys swerde, and goeth his waye to robbe, to murder, or taketh shyp, or happeneth to se a Lion, and goeth into þ darcke: and whan he hath stolen, robbed, & spoyled, he byngeth that that he hath gotten vnto hys loue. No, so muche more doeth a man loue hys wife, than eyther his father or mother. And many one euen thorow the sight of women haue fallen mad, & become bondmen for their lokes, manye also haue perished and ben slaine, pea, & haue sinned because of women. Wherefore now beleue me. Is not a kynge greates bycause of hys power? are not al mē aferde to touch hym? And yet I saw him, and howe that Apame the daughter of the greates kynge Barta-cus the kings concubin, sat on his right hand, and toke the crowne from the kings heade, and putte vpon his owne: pea, and with hir lifte hand she smote the king: and yet dyd he nothyng but gafe and gape vpon hyr. If she laughed vpon him, he laughed: but if she were angry, he would speake fayre to gette hyr sauoure. O ye men, why should not women be most myghty, seinge they do suche thinges? Then the kynges & the nobles loked one vpon an other. And after he began to speake of truethe.

O ye men, are not womē very strong, yet great is the earth, hie is the heuen, & swift in runnyng is the Sunne, for he rowleth in the circle of heauen, and in one daye cometh agayne to hys olde place. Is not he greates þ doth these thinges? Yet is a truethe greater & mightier aboue al. The whole world speaketh out the truethe, the heauens praiseth it, al woorkes shake & treble at it, and Gene. ii.

Math. xix.
i. Cor. vi.

D

Or calleth vpon.

and vnto it is ioyned no fault or corruptio. Wine is faulty, the king is faulty, womē be faulty, and faulty is all mankinde and all their workes, neither in them is any soundnes, & thow their fault they shal perishe: but truely abyderh and flourisheth for euer, it liueth, and lasteth euer, nerher with by is any difference or respect of persons, but doth all thyngs iustly, without al vnygh-tuousenes. Euery man aloweth by dedes and no iniquitie is in his iudgement.

Finally she is vertue, kyngdome, power and maiestie worlde without end. Blessed be the Lorde God of Trueth. And w that he held his tonge, and al the people cried & sayd: Great is the truth, and moſte mygh-tye. Than sayde the kinge vnto hym. Aske if thou wilt haue anye more than is in the wyrtynge, and we will giue it the, bicause thou art found wyser than the rest, & thou shalt sitte nexte vnto me, and be called my kynnesmanne. Than sayde he to the kyng. Remembre thy bowe whych thou madest the same daye thou wast made Kinge, to buylde vp Hierusalem, and to sende againe all the vessels that were taken from thece, whych Cyrus hadde when he vowed to de-ſtroye Babilon, and to sende them thither agayne. Thou didest promise to buylde vp the temple whych the Idumees destroyed when Jewry was wasted by the Caldees. Wherfore my lorde kyng, thys is that I desyre of the, and that moſte bertelye: this is the magnificence whiche I aske of the.

If I saye, I praye the to persoutme thy bow, whiche euen with thine owne mouthe thou vowedst to the king of heuen to do. * The arose vp kyng Darius and kissed him, and wrote letters in his fauoure to the Presi-dentes, chiefe captaynes, and head rulers to conuey hym, and al that went with him to Hierusalem. He wrote letters also vnto al þ head rulers in Celosiria, Phenicia, and Libanus, to prouide that Cedre trees mighte be caried from Libanus to Hieru-salem, & to helpe him to buylde vp the cite. More ouer vnto all the Jewes that were gone out of his realme into Aury he gaue a fredome, that no man beyrng office, pre-sidente, chiefe Lord or other officer should enter into theyr houses, but that al þ regi-on, whiche they possessed shold be fre, & that all the Idumees shoulde depart out of the Aues coastes wherin they dwelt. Also that toward the buildinge of the temple there shuld be geue euery yere. xx. talentes vnto the time þ it were finished, & to the halow-png of the burnt offeringes vpon the alter euerye daye that they were comaunded so to do, to pay ten talentes yerely. And that al they whiche came fro Babilon to buylde the cite, shoulde haue fre libertye they and theyr children, & all the priestes. He wrote also the charges, and what garmentes the Leuites shoulde weare vntil þ temple were finished, and Hierusalem built vp. Moreo-uer he appoynted stipendes and pensions to the keepers of the city. He gaue ouer al-ſo all the vessels that Cyrus had seperated from Babilon, & whatsoeuer Cyrus hadde comaunded: the same comaunded he also to be sente to Hierusalem. Now whē the yonge man was come out, lyftinge by his face to heue toward Hierusalem, he spake vnto the kinge of heauen w these wordes. From the cometh victori, fro the wisdom and from the cometh al glory: Lo hear thy seruast. Praise be thou which hast geue me wisdom, & therfore O Lorde of our fa-thers, I geue the thakes. And so he toke þ letters & wente to Babilon, & shewed bys brythre, and they praised the God of their fathers, bicause he had geue them leaue to build Hierusalem and the temple whiche is there called after the name of the lord: and they spent. vii. dayes in reioysing in songes and gladnes.

The.v. Chapter.

They that returned to Hierusalem are num-bred, they begynne to laye the fundation of the temple, but are let by the meanes of ene-mies: and so is the buyldynge dyuen of by the space of two yeres.

WHEN these thyngs were done, then were chose to go theyr ior-ney, the chiefe of their fathers families, after their tribes with theyr wyues, sonnes, and daughters, ser-uautes and maidens and labouring cat-tel, and wyth the sent Darius a. M. horse-men to leade them on the way, vntil they were come safe to Hierusalem, and they made mery, eue al the brythren syngyng & playing, vpon tympanes and Shalmes.

The priestes the sonne of Phinices the sonne of Aaron.

Jesus the sonne of Hosedech, the sonne of Saraia, and Joachim the sonne of Zoro-babel, the sonne of Salathiel of the stocke of Dauid, of the kynted of Phares, of the tribe of Iuda, whych vnder Darius king of Persians, wrote wise sermons þ secōde yere of bys raigne the fyrst moneth of At-san. And these be the Jewes that came fro exile out of captiuitye, whych Nabucho-donazor kyng of Babilon brought to Ba-bilon, frome whence they came to Hieru-salem, and other parres of Jewrye, euerye manne into bys owne wyrt wyth zoro-babell and Jesu, wyth Nehemias and za-charias, Reesai, Euenio, Gardocheo, Belsamo, Mispharaso, Reelia, Rehumo, and Baana their captaynes.

The numbze accordynge to theyr kynteds and captaynes

Of the chyldren of Phares two. M. an hundred. lxxi. Of the chyldrene of Scha-phatia three hundred. lxxii. Of the chyldre of Arch. vii. hundred. lvi. Of the chyldren of Shabath Moab, with þ chyldre of Jes-thuanab, two. M. viii. hundred and. xii. Of the chyldren of Silam a. M. ii. hundred. lliii.

That is to take tole or taxe.

ii. Esd. ii. b
iii. Esd. vi. b

and vnto it is ioyned no fault or corruptio. Wine is faulty, the king is faulty, womē be faulty, and faulty is all mankinde and all their workes, neither in them is any soundnes, & thow their fault they shal perishe: but truely abyderh and flourisheth for euer, it liueth, and lasteth euer, nerher with by is any difference or respect of persons, but doth all thyngs iustly, without al vnygh-tuousenes. Euery man aloweth by dedes and no iniquitie is in his iudgement.

Finally she is vertue, kyngdome, power and maiestie worlde without end. Blessed be the Lorde God of Trueth. And w that he held his tonge, and al the people cried & sayd: Great is the truth, and moſte mygh-tye. Than sayde the kinge vnto hym. Aske if thou wilt haue anye more than is in the wyrtynge, and we will giue it the, bicause thou art found wyser than the rest, & thou shalt sitte nexte vnto me, and be called my kynnesmanne. Than sayde he to the kyng. Remembre thy vowe whych thou madest the same daye thou wast made Kinge, to buylde vp Hierusalem, and to sende againe all the vessels that were taken from thece, whych Cyrus hadde when he vowed to de-ſtroye Babilon, and to sende them thither agayne. Thou didest promise to buylde vp the temple whych the Idumees destroyed when Jewry was wasted by the Caldees. Wherfore my lorde kyng, thys is that I desyre of the, and that moſte bertelye: this is the magnificence whiche I aske of the.

If I saye, I praye the to persoutme thy vow, which euer with thine owne mouthe thou vowedst to the king of heuen to do. * The arose vp kyng Darius and kissed him, and wrote letters in his fauoure to the Presi-dentes, chiefe captaynes, and head rulers to conuey hym, and al that went with him to Hierusalem. He wrote letters also vnto al þ head rulers in Celosiria, Phenicia, and Libanus, to prouide that Cedre trees mighte be caried from Libanus to Hieru-salem, & to helpe him to buylde vp the cite. More ouer vnto all the Jewes that were gone out of his realme into Aury he gaue a fredome, that no man beyrng office, pre-sidente, chiefe Lord or other officer should enter into theyr houses, but that al þ regi-on, which they possessed shold be fre, & that all the Idumees shoulde depart out of the Aues coastes wherin they dwelt. Also that toward the buildinge of the temple there shuld be geue euery yere. x. talentes vnto the time þ it were finished, & to the halow-png of the burnt offeringes vpon the alter euerye daye that they were comaunded so to do, to pay ten talentes yerely. And that al they which came fro Babilon to buylde the cite, shoulde haue fre libertye they and theyr children, & all the priestes. He wrote also the charges, and what garmentes the Leuites shoulde weare vntil þ temple were finished, and Hierusalem built vp. Moreo-uer he appoynted stipendes and pensions to the keepers of the city. He gaue ouer al-ſo all the vessels that Cyrus had seperated from Babilon, & whatsoeuer Cyrus hadde comaunded: the same comaunded he also to be sente to Hierusalem. Now whē the yonge man was come out, lyftinge by his face to heue toward Hierusalem, he spake vnto the kinge of heauen w these wordes. From the cometh victori, fro the wisdom and from the cometh al glory: Lo hear thy seruast. Praise be thou which hast geue me wisdom, & therfore O Lorde of our fa-thers, I geue the thakes. And so he toke þ letters & wente to Babilon, & shewed bys brythre, and they praised the God of their fathers, bicause he had geue them leaue to build Hierusalem and the temple which is there called after the name of the lord: and they spent. vii. dayes in reioysing in songes and gladnes.

The.v. Chapter.

They that returned to Hierusalem are num-bred, they begynne to laye the fundation of the temple, but are let by the meanes of ene-mies: and so is the buyldynge dyuen of by the space of two yeres.

WHEN these thyngs were done, then were chose to go theyr ior-ney, the chiefe of their fathers families, after their tribes with theyr wyues, sonnes, and daughters, ser-uantes and maidens and labouring cat-tel, and wyth the sent Darius a. M. horse-men to leade them on the way, vntil they were come safe to Hierusalem, and they made mery, euē al the brythren syngyng & playing, vpon tympanes and Shalmes.

The priestes the sonne of Phinices the sonne of Aaron.

Jesus the sonne of Hosedech, the sonne of Saraia, and Joachim the sonne of Zoro-babel, the sonne of Salathiel of the stocke of Dauid, of the kynted of Phares, of the tribe of Iuda, whych vnder Darius king of Persians, wrote wise sermons þ secōde yere of bys raigne the fyrst moneth of At-san. And these be the Jewes that came fro exile out of captiuitye, whych Nabucho-donazor kyng of Babilon brought to Ba-bilon, frome whence they came to Hieru-salem, and other parres of Jewrye, euerye manne into bys owne cytpe wyth zoro-babell and Jesu, wyth Nehemias and za-charias, Reesaiā, Euenio, Gardocheo, Belsamo, Mispharaso, Reelia, Rehumo, and Baana their captaynes.

The numbze accordynge to theyr kynteds and captaynes

Of the chyldren of Phares two. M. an hundred. lxxi. Of the chyldrene of Scha-phatia three hundred. lxxii. Of the chyldre of Arch. vii. hundred. lxxi. Of the chyldren of Shabath Moab, with þ chyldre of Jes-thuanab, two. M. viii. hundred and. xii. Of the chyldren of Silam a. M. ii. hundred. lxxiii.

That is to take tole or
taxe.

ii. Esd. ii. b
iii. Esd. vi. b

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

liii. Of the chyldren of Zathui. ix. hundred
xlv. Of the chyldren of Lozbe. vii. C. and. v.
Of the chyldrene of Wani. vi. C. xlviii. Of the chyldrene of Sibai. vi. C. xliii. Of the chyldren of Argad. iii. C. ii. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Adoni came. vi. C. lxxvi. Of the chyldren of Bagot. ii. C. lxxvi. Of the chyldre of Adin. iii. C. liii. Of the chyldre of Ater Ihericia. ix. hundred & viii. Of the chyldren of Ceilan & Azeta. iii. score and. vii. Of the chyldre of Azuran. iii. hundred. xxvii. Of the chyldren of Auanta an hundred.
One of the chyldren of Aram. Of the chyldre of Basai. iii. hundred. xxiii. Of the chyldren of Arisphurith. an hundred and. ii. Of the chyldren of Meterus. iii. C. and. v. Of the chyldren of Berthelem an hundred. xxiii.
Of the chyldren of Metophath. lv. Of the chyldren of Anathoth an hundred. xxviii.
Of the chyldren of Bethshamos. xlii. Of the chyldren of Cariathparim. xxv. Of the chyldren of Capirah and Bewthseu hundred. xliii. Of the chyldrene of Pirah. vii.
hundred. Of the chyldrene of Cadias and Ammidiot. iii. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Baramal, & Sabea. vi. hundred. xxi. Of the chyldren of Macamos an hundred. xxii. Of the chyldren of Bethel. lii. Of the chyldren of Rebo an hundred. lvi. Of the chyldrene of Calamolao and Ono. vii. hundred. xxv.
Of the chyldrene of Jericho. iii. hundred.
xlv. Of the chyldren of Sannah. iii. C. iii.
hundred. xxx.

The Priestes.

From Jedaiā that came of Jesu, to the sonnes of SanaSyb were encreased, nine hundred. lxxii. The chyldre of Emer a. C.
v. C. ii. The chyldren of Phalehura. a. C. xlvii. The chyldren of Charim a. C. xvii.

The Levites.

The chyldren of Jesibue and Cadmiell, and Wanna and Suta. lxxiii. sonnes.

The Holpe Syngers.

The chyldren of Asaph. C. xlviii.

The Porters.

The chyldren of Shalum, the chyldrene of Ater, the chyldren of Talmon, the chyldren of Acub, the chyldren of Atera, the chyldrene of Schoby: All were an hundred xxix.

The holy Ministers.

The chyldrene of Zea, the chyldrene of Baschupha, the chyldren of Tabaoth, the chyldrene of Cerob, the chyldren of Suta, the chyldrene of Phalen, the chyldren of Labana, the chyldren of Hagaba, the children of Acub, the chyldren of Ura, the children of Cerah, the chyldren of Hagab, the
chyldren of Sibui, the chyldren of Hanan, the chyldrene of Cathua, the chyldrene of Beddun, the chyldren of Bata, the chyldren of Daisanne, the chyldren of Recoda, the chyldrene of Chaceba, the chyldren of Bazema, the chyldren of Azia, the chyldre of Phynnes, the chyldren of Asera, the chil-

The.v. Chapter.

dren of Bacat, the chyldren of Asanah, the chyldren of Agennim, the chyldren of Raphicim, the chyldren of Bacubuc, the children of Bacupha, the chyldren of Barbur,
the chyldren of Pharactim, the chyldrene of Bazaloth, the chyldren of Archida, the chyldren of Tucha, the chyldren of Tharc-sa, the chyldrene of Barchus, the chyldren of Aserer, the chyldrene of Thomoh, the chyldrene of Razith, the chyldrene of Batipha.

The chyldren of Solomons seruauntes.

The chyldre of Bazophorath, the chyldre of Pharuda, the chyldren of Jeclab, the chyldre of Lozon, the chyldre of Siddael, the chyldre
of Strapheria, the chyldre of Azta, the children of Pharacth, the chyldren of Zabun, the chyldren of Sarcotbia, the chyldren of Masias, the chyldren of Bar, the chyldre of Addus, the chyldren of Subab, the chyldre of Appera, the chyldre of Barodie, the children of Sabat, the chyldren of A'lum. And all the holpe ministers and chyldren that came of Solomons seruauntes were three hundred. lxxii.

These were they that wente vpppe from Thelmelab and Thelarscha, & their Captaine was Taraathaler, and Alaar, neyther could they serue their family or kynred, howe they came of Israel, the sonnes
of Dalarus, the sonne of Tubias, the son-nes of Recoda, sixe hundred. lii.

And of the priestes whych executed the office of priesthod, & knew not what stocke they came of, were the chyldren of Hobia, i. C. li.

the chyldre of Bacos, the chyldren of Addus, * whiche married Angia, one of the daughters of Barzillai & was named after him.
They sekynge in the register for their kynred & not findinge it, were remoued from doyng any sacrifice. And Nehemias and Batharias, let theim from partakynge of
the holpe tyghtes, vntyl there came an hie priest the was instructed * in doctryne and veritie. But al the came of Israel, from. xii.
yete old, and pong me, made. xl. C. beside me seruauntes & maidens: their seruauntes were
ii. C. iii. C. & xl. & theyr maidens. vii. C.
iii. C. xlvii. singynge men & we me, ii. C. xlv.
& vii. C. xxxvi. horses. Mules. ii. C. xlv. asses fyue. C. v. C. xxv. More ouer there were

That is that coulde
declare true-
ly by leas-nyng their kinred.

of the chiefe men of the families whych whē
they were come to the tēple of god to Ie-rusalem, did bow that they wold build vp
the same euen in his owne place euer mā accordynge to hys power. & that they wold gyue vnto the holy treasure of the worke
a. C. poundes of goulde. and. v. C. of syluer, and an. c. priestes vestimentes. When the priestes & Levites, and the other people, aswel at Hierusalem, as in other regios a boute, & also the holy syngers & porters, & all the Israelites to be dwellynge places in theyr townes. * And nye to the seuerth mo-neth, whē that now the Israelites euer mā was in possession of hys owne, and were come

i. C. li.

The.iii.boke of Esdras.

liii. Of the chyldren of Zathui. ix. hundred
xlv. Of the chyldren of Lozbe. vii. C. and. v.
Of the chyldrene of Wani. vi. C. xlviii. Of the chyldrene of Sibai. vi. C. xliii. Of the chyldren of Argad. iii. C. ii. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Adoni came. vi. C. lxxvi. Of the chyldren of Bagot. ii. C. lxxvi. Of the chyldre of Adin. iii. C. liii. Of the chyldre of Ater Ihericia. ix. hundred & viii. Of the chyldren of Ceilan & Azeta. iii. score and. vii. Of the chyldre of Azuran. iii. hundred. xxvii. Of the chyldren of Zuania an hundred.
One of the chyldren of Aram. Of the chyldre
of Basai. iii. hundred. xxiii. Of the chyldren of Arisphurith. an hundred and. ii. Of the chyldren of Meterus. iii. C. and. v. Of the chyldren of Berthelem an hundred. xxiii.
Of the chyldren of Metophath. lv. Of the
chyldren of Anathoth an hundred. xxviii.
Of the chyldren of Bethshamos. xlii. Of the chyldren of Cariathparim. xxv. Of the chyldren of Capirah and Bewthseu hundred. xliii. Of the chyldrene of Pirah. vii.
hundred. Of the chyldrene of Cadias and Ammidiot. iii. C. xlii. Of the chyldren of Baramal, & Sabea. vi. hundred. xxi. Of the chyldren of Macamos an hundred. xxi. Of the chyldren of Bethel. lii. Of the chyldren
of Rebo an hundred. lvi. Of the chyldrene
of Calamolao and Ono. vii. hundred. xxv.
Of the chyldrene of Jericho. iii. hundred.
xlv. Of the chyldren of Sannab. iii. C. iii.
hundred. xxx.

The Priestes.

From Jedaiia that came of Iesu, to the sonnes of SanaSyb were encreased, nine hundred. lxxii. The chyldre of Emer a. C.
v. C. ii. The chyldren of Phasehura. a. C. xlvii. The chyldren of Charim a. C. xvii.

The Levites.

The chyldren of Iesihue and Cadmiell,
and Wanna and Suta. lxxiii. sonnes.

The Holpe Syngers.

The chyldren of Asaph. C. xlviii.

The Porters.

The chyldren of Shalum, the chyldrene of Ater, the chyldren of Talmon, the chyldren of Acub, the chyldren of Atera, the chyldrene of Schoby: All were an hundred xxxix.

The holy Ministers.

The chyldrene of Zea, the chyldrene of Baschupha, the chyldren of Tabaoth, the
chyldrene of Cerob, the chyldren of Suta, the chyldrene of Phalen, the chyldren of Labana, the chyldren of Hagaba, the children of Acub, the chyldren of Ura, the children of Cerah, the chyldren of Hagab, the
chyldren of Sibui, the chyldren of Hanan,
the chyldrene of Cathua, the chyldrene of Beddun, the chyldren of Bata, the chyldren of Daisanne, the chyldren of Recoda, the chyldrene of Chaceba, the chyldren of Bazema, the chyldren of Azia, the chyldre
of Phynnes, the chyldren of Asera, the chil-

The.v. Chapter.

dren of Bacat, the chyldren of Asanah, the
chyldren of Agennim, the chyldren of Raphicim, the chyldren of Bacubuc, the children of Bacupha, the chyldren of Barbur,
the chyldren of Pharactim, the chyldrene
of Bazaloth, the chyldren of Archida, the
chyldren of Tucha, the chyldren of Tharc-sa, the chyldrene of Barchus, the chyldren of Aserer, the chyldrene of Thomoh, the chyldrene of Razith, the chyldrene of Batipha.

The chyldren of Solomons seruauntes.

The chyldre of Bazophorath, the chyldre
of Pharuda, the chyldren of Icelah, the chyldre
of Lozon, the chyldre of Siddael, the chyldre
of Strapheria, the chyldre of Azta, the children of Pharacth, the chyldren of Zabun, the chyldren of Sarcotia, the chyldren of Masias, the chyldren of Bar, the chyldre of Addus, the chyldren of Subah, the chyldre of Appera, the chyldre of Barodie, the children of Sabat, the chyldren of A'lum. And all the holpe ministers and chyldren that came of Solomons seruauntes were three hundred. lxxii.

These were they that wente vppe from Thelmelah and Thelarscha, & their Captaine was Taraathaler, and Alaar, neyther could they beue their family or kyn-
red, howe they came of Israel, the sonnes
of Dalarus, the sonne of Tubias, the son-
nes of Recoda, sixe hundred. lii.

And of the priestes whych executed the
office of priesthod, & knew not what stocke
they came of, were the chyldren of Hobia, i. C. li.

the chyldre of Bacos, the chyldren of Addus, * whiche married Angia, one of the daughters of Barzillai & was named after him.
They sekynge in the register for their kyn-
red & not findinge it, were remoued from doyng any sacrifice. And Nehemias and Batharias, let theim from partakynge of
the holpe tyghtes, vntyl there came an hie
priest the was instructed * in doctryne and veritie. But al the came of Israel, from. xii.
yete old, and pong me, made. xl. C. beside me seruauntes & maidens: their seruauntes were
ii. C. iii. C. & xl. & theyr maidens. vii. C.
iii. C. xlvii. singynge men & we me, ii. C. xlv.
& vii. C. xxxvi. horses. Mules. ii. C. xlv. asses fyue. C. v. C. xxv. More ouer there were

That is
that coulde
declare true-
ly by leas-
nyng their
kinred.

of the chiefe men of the families whych whē
they were come to the tēple of god to Ie-
rusalem, did bow that they wold build vp
the same euen in his owne place euer mā
accordynge to hys power. & that they wold
gyue vnto the holy treasure of the worke
a. C. poundes of goulde. and. v. C. of syluer, and an. c. priestes vestimentes. When the priestes & Levites, and the other people, aswel at Hierusalem, as in other regios a boute, & also the holy syngers & porters, & all
the Israelites to be dwellynge places in
theyr townes. * And nye to the seuerth mo-
neth, whē that now the Israelites euer mā
was in possession of hys owne, and were come

i. C. li.

come with one consent into the porch that was before the east gate, Jhesus the sonne of Josedeck, hys brethren the priestes, and with the zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethren rose up, & made ready the aultare to offer burnt sacrifice vpon it, as it was commaunded in the booke of Moyses that godli mā. And although other naciōs came against them, & were their enemies, and al natiōs wronged the, yet set they vp the alter in his own place, & in due season offered sacrifices & burnt offerings both at mozne & at euē, they kept * solēnely also the feast of their tabernacles as it was commaunded by * law, they kept also daily sacrifices, and also their offerings vpon the sabbathes, calendes, & al other hie feastes.

* Moreover al that had made any vow to god, began to do sacrifice to him at the kalendes of the .vii. moneth, although his temple was not yet builded up, and they paid money to the masons & carpenters, & gaue meat, drinke, and carres vnto the of Sidō & Tyre, to carry trees of Cedre frō libanus by shyp into the haue of Joppes, euen as they had in commaundemente by proclamation from Cyrus the king of Persians. And in the seconde pere after that zorobabel, the sonne of Salathiel was come vnto the temple of god vnto Hierusalem, in the seconde moneth, and Jhesus the Sonne of Josedeck, wyth al hys brethren, and al the priestes & leuites, yea and altogether were come to Hierusalem from captiuitie, they began to laye the fundation of the church of God in the Calendes of the second moneth of the second pere, after they were come into Jherpe & to Hierusalem: & they made chiefe ouerseers of the worke, the Leuites euē from the .xx. pere of theyr age. So Jhesus wyth his sonnes and brethren, labored fast, & hys brother Cadmiel, the childre of Gadabun, of Jode, & of Helia Dune, w theyr sōnes and brethren, and al the Leuites with one mind called faste vpon the workmen, & laboured much for the church of god might be builded. And as the workmen were laboring vpon the church of the lord, the priestes stode in their stoles w instrumentes of musyke & reherses, and also the Leuites that came of Asaph holdinge cimballs, & * synng vnto the Lorde & praising him after the maner of Dauid king of Israel, for they spake aloud, & song verses of gratulation & wit: for his goodnes and glory was thoroowout al Israel perpetually. Al the people song w trumpets, & cried out w a loud voyce, singing the prayles of the lord for the building of hys church. And then came to the building of this, of the priestes & Leuites and elder men that had sene the old temple, wyth great weping & lamentation, & many song and cried out for ioy, in so much that for their lamentatiō the trumpets could not be heard, & yet was the noise very great, & heard far of. Wherefore when the enemies * had heard the sound of the tribes of Juda and Benjamin and had found that those that were let go out of captiuitie, did builde a temple to the lord god of Israel, they went vnto zorobabel, Jhesu, and the chiefe men of the families, and said: We also wil help you to build; for we likewise be obediēt to your lord, and do sacrifice frō the time of Astarith the king of Assyrians, which brought vs hither. To whō zorobabel and the other chiefe men made answer: We and you agre not to build a temple to oure Lorde, for wee will buylde onelye to the Lorde God of Israel, * as Cyrus king of Persians hath commaunded vs. And the inhabitants of the land derided the Jewes, and let theyr buylding by partakynge and other naughty assemblies, so that they let the buyldynge frome finishynge, all the tyme of kynge Cyrus. Thus were they lette by the space of two peres, vntyl the raygne of Darius.

The.vi. Chapter.

Aggeus and zacharye prophecy. They build the temple wythout let or hynderaunce by the commaundementes of Darius.

And in the second pere of the raygne of Darius, Aggeus and zacharye A wyche was the sonne of Addo, beyng prophetes, and prophesyinge in the name of Israel what should happen to the Jewes, and inhabitants of Jherpe and Hierusalem, I sat at the same time zorobabel Salathiels sōne, and Jhesus the sonne of Josedeck began to build the temple of the lord at Hierusalem, the prophetes of the Lorde ioyninge theym selues vnto them, and helppng them. At the same time was ther presēt Sisennes the gouernoure of Siria, and Phenicia, & Sathrabusanes wyth his felowes, and they asked them, vpon whom beate you your selues bolde to builde up this temple, and go about this greate buyldynge, and all other thynges? Neuertheles the sentours of the Jewes had such grace of the lord, that their buyldynge was not let, vntyl they had wrytten and receyued letters agayne frō Darius. The exemple of the Epistle that was wrytten and sente to Darius.

Sisennes gouernour of Siria, and Phenicia, and Sathrabusanes and his felows that be chiefe men in Siria and Phenicia, send greting to kynge Darius. Be it well knowne vnto our lord the king, that when we were entred into Jherpe, and were come to the city of Hierusalem, there we did find the sentours of the Jewes whiche were as prisoners, buyldynge in the same city of Hierusalem, a great temple vnto the Lorde, and a new, with marueilous fyne and precious stones, and the beames were now layed vpon the wals, and the worke to go wel forward, and the matter to come wel to passe vnder their handes, and it shoulde be perfourmed very gorgeously, and with much diligence. And when we had asked the

Leui. xlii.

1. Esd. iii. d

Ecd. xlii. b

1. pa. xvii. d

B

1. Esd. iii.

come with one consent into the porch that was before the east gate, Jhesus the sonne of Josedeck, hys brethren the priestes, and with the zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel and his brethren rose up, & made ready the aultare to offer burnt sacrifice vpon it, as it was commaunded in the booke of Moyses that godli mā. And although other naciōs came against them, & were their enemies, and al natiōs wronged the, yet set they vp the alter in his own place, & in due season offered sacrifices & burnt offerings both at mozne & at euē, they kept * solēnely also the feast of their tabernacles as it was commaunded by * law, they kept also daily sacrifices, and also their offerings vpon the sabothes, calendes, & al other hie feastes.

* Moreover al that had made any vow to god, began to do sacrifice to him at the kalendes of the .vii. moneth, although his temple was not yet builded up, and they paid money to the masons & carpenters, & gaue meat, drinke, and carres vnto the of Sidō & Tyre, to carry trees of Cedre frō libanus by thyp into the haue of Joppes, euen as they had in commaundemente by proclamation from Cyrus the king of Persians. And in the seconde pere after that zorobabel, the sonne of Salathiel was come vnto the temple of god vnto Hierusalem, in the seconde moneth, and Jhesus the Sonne of Josedeck, wth al hys brethren, and al the priestes & leuites, yea and altogether were come to Hierusalem from captiuitie, they began to laye the fundation of the church of God in the Calendes of the second moneth of the second pere, after they were come into Harpe & to Hierusalem: & they made chiefe ouerseers of the worke, the Leuites euē from the .xx. pere of theyr age. So Jhesus wth his sonnes and brethren, labored fast, & hys brother Cadmiel, the childre of Gadabun, of Jode, & of Helia Dune, w theyr sōnes and brethren, and al the Leuites with one mind called faste vpon the workmen, & laboured much for the church of god might be builded. And as the workmen were laboring vpon the church of the lord, the priestes stode in their stoles w instrumentes of musyke & rehersers, and also the Leuites that came of Asaph holdinge cimballs, & * synnyng vnto the Lorde & praising him after the maner of Dauid king of Israel, for they spake aloud, & song verses of gratulation & wit: for his goodnes and glory was thoroout al Israel perpetually. Al the people song w trumpets, & cried out w a loud voyce, singing the prayles of the lord for the building of hys church. And then came to the building of this, of the priestes & Leuites and elder men that had sene the old temple, wth great weping & lamentation, & many song and cried out for ioy, in so much that for their lamentatiō the trumpets could not be heard, & yet was the noise very great, & heard far of. Wherefore when the enemies * had heard the sound of the tribes of Juda and Benjamin and had found that those that were let go out of captiuitie, did builde a temple to the lord god of Israel, they went vnto zorobabel, Jhesu, and the chiefe men of the families, and said: We also wil help you to build; for we likewise be obediēt to your lord, and do sacrifice frō the time of Astarith the king of Assyrians, which brought vs hither. To whō zorobabel and the other chiefe men made answer: We and you agre not to build a temple to oure Lorde, for wee will buyde onelye to the Lorde God of Israel, * as Cyrus king of Persians hath commaunded vs. And the inhabitants of the land derided the Jewes, and let theyr buylding by partakynge and other naughty assemblies, so that they let the buyldynge frome finishynge, all the tyme of kynge Cyrus. Thus were they lette by the space of two peres, vntyl the raygne of Darius.

The.vi. Chapter.

Aggeus and zacharye prophecy. They build the temple wthout let or hynderaunce by the commaundementes of Darius.

And in the second pere of the raygne of Darius, Aggeus and zacharye A whych was the sonne of Addo, beyng prophetes, and prophesyinge in the name of Israel what should happen to the Jewes, and inhabitants of Iury and Hierusalem, I sat at the same time zorobabel Salathiels sōne, and Jhesus the sonne of Josedeck began to build the temple of the lord at Hierusalem, the prophetes of the Lorde ioyninge theym selues vnto them, and helppng them. At the same time was ther presēt Sisennes the gouernoure of Siria, and Phenicia, & Sathrabusanes wth his felowes, and they asked them, vpon whom beate you your selues bolde to builde up this temple, and go about this greate buyldynge, and all other thynges? Neuertheles the sentours of the Jewes had such grace of the lord, that their buyldynge was not let, vntyl they had wrytten and receyued letters agayne frō Darius. The exemple of the Epistle that was wrytten and sente to Darius.

Sisennes gouernour of Siria, and Phenicia, and Sathrabusanes and his felows that be chiefe men in Siria and Phenicia, send greeting to kynge Darius. Be it well knowne vnto our lord the king, that when we were entred into Iuda, and were come to the city of Hierusalem, there we did find the sentours of the Jewes whych were as prisoners, buyldynge in the same city of Hierusalem, a great temple vnto the Lorde, and a new, with marueilous fyne and precious stones, and the beames were now layed vpon the wals, and the worke to go wel forward, and the matter to come wel to passe vnder their handes, and it shoulde be perfourmed very gorgeously, and with much diligence. And when we had asked the

Leui. xlii.

1. Esd. iii. d

Ecd. xlii. b

1. pa. xvii. d

B

1. Esd. iii.

The.iii. booke of Esdras.

the seniores thus, at whose commaundement build you this church, or do you this worke? I say when we had axed these me of these thinges, and had demaunded, that they shoulde wyte and signifie vnto you who were the beginnetes, and þ thei shoulde wyte they captaynes names: they made vs this answer. We be the seruauntes of the Lord creatur out of heauen and earth.

iii. Re. vi. a * And where as this temple manye yeres befoze this was built, of the great & moste myghty kyng of Israell and finished, the heauely Lord (because our fathers of Israell hadde angred hym with their synnes) deliuered them into the handes * of Nabugodonosor kyng of Babilon in Chaldea, whych pulled downe this temple and bzent it, & ledde the people captiue to Babilon. And king Citus the fyrst yere of his kingdome in Babilon, sent out his letters that this temple shoulde be buylded, and that the holy vessels as wel of gold as of syluer whych Nabuchodonosor hadde taken out of the Temple of Hierusalem and sette in his owne churche, the same kyng Cyrus brought the agayne fro thence out of Babilon. And they were deliuered to zorobabel, and Sanabassar a chiefe ruler, with commaundementes þ the same vessels that were taken away, he shold put the agayne in the temple of Hierusalem, and put them agayne in the temple of the Lord, euen in theyr owne place. Then that noble manne Sanabassar, whē he was come hyther, he layde the fundacion of the temple of the Lord at Hierusalem, and yet in buyldyng frome that tyme vnto this daye, it is not yet finished. Wherefore now if it please the kyng, let serch be made among the kynges wyrynges, & if it may be found þ the buyldinge of this temple of the lord at Hierusalem be begone by the kynges decrete, that it will please our lord the kyng to certify vs of it. * The king Darius commaunded that search shoulde be made in all the kynges libzaries at Babilon, and in the city of Ecbaranis, whych is in the contry of Medes, was found one booke, in the whiche it was thus enacted. Cyrus the kyng in the fyrst yere of his raygne, commaunded a temple to be buylt at Hierusalem, where Sacrifice shoulde be done, and fyre kepte perpetually whose heigth shold be. lx. cubites, and the bredth, of as many cubites, wthre houses of fyne polished stone, and one house or loft of the same contrey stone, and al new. And that the charges shold be payde out of Cyrus house, and þ the holy vessels of the temple of the Lord, as well of golde as syluer, whych Nabuchodonosor roke out of þ temple of Hierusalem, sholde be set agayne in the same place þ they wer befoze. And he gaue charge to Sisenna deputye of Syria, and Phenicia, that they sholde not meddle with that place, but þ they shoulde suffer zorobabel the seruaunt of the lord, & deputye of Jude, & all the whole counseil of the Jewes to build in þ same place the temple of the lord. Whereouer I thoughte mete to geue in commaundement, that þ buyldyng shoulde be finished, and that the Jewes sholde be holpen vntyl the temple of the Lord were builded vp. Also that of the tribute of Celosicia & Phenicia, a good appynd shoulde be geuen to them and their chiefe heade zorobabel to be bestowed vpon Oren, rammes, and Lambes, vpon corne also, salte and wyne, euery yere continually, without gaynsaying, as the priestes of Hierusalem shew it dayly to be spent, and that offerings may be geuen to the hye God, for the kyng and his chyldren, and supplications made for the prosperite of their life. Also it was enacted, that whosoever did transgreffe any of these wyrynges or sayynges, there shold be taken out of his grounde a tree, where vpon he shoulde be haged, & all his goodes forsaie to the kyng. And therfore that LORD, whose name is there celebrated, rote out and put away al those kyngs and people whych put to their hand to hynder or trouble the buyldyng of the temple of the Lord that is at Hierusalem. These thinges haue I king Darius decreed, that all thinges shoulde be done exactelye, accordyng as is aforesayde.

The.vii. Chapter.

The.vii. Chapter.

The temple is finished and dedicate, & the feast of vnleuened breade is holden.

IN Sisennes the deputye of Celosicia and Phenicia and Sanabassar with his felowes doyng the commaundementes of kyng Darius, were verie diligente in these holy workes, the elders of the priestes and the ouerseers of the Temple helpyng them. And these holy workes went forward and prospered, when Aggeus and zacharias the prophetes did their propheticall offices, and they were brought vnto an ende after the commaundemente of the Lord God of Israell, and the decre of Cyrus, Darius, & Artaxerxes kynges of Persians, vnto the fyrst yere of kyng Darius, in the which that most holpe temple was finished, the. xlii. daye of the moneth of Adar, þ sixt yere of kyng Darius. And the childre of Israell, as wel priestes as Leuites and other of their fellowes that came fro the captiuitie, dyd as the booke of Moses commaunded them, and hallowed for the dedication of the temple of the Lord, an hundred oren. ii. hundred rammes. v. hundred Lambes, and for the synnes of all the people of Israell. xii. kyddes, after þ numbre of the. xii. tribes of Israell, the priestes, and Leuites bring araid in their vestmentes accordyng to their tribes and standing in the worke of the Lord God of Israell, after the prescription of the booke of Moses, and the porters also standyng before euery dore. And the Israelites that were come fro captiuitie kept the soleme feast of Ba-

The.iii. booke of Esdras.

the seniores thus, at whose commaundement build you this church, or do you this worke? I say when we had axed these me of these thinges, and had demaunded, that they shoulde wyte and signifie vnto you who were the beginnetes, and þ thei shoulde wyte they captaynes names: they made vs this answere. We be the seruauntes of the Lord creat out of heauen and earth.

iii. Re. vi. a * And where as this temple manye yeres befoze this was built, of the great & moste myghty kyng of Israell and finished, the heauely Lord (because our fathers of Israell hadde angred hym with their synnes) deliuered them into the handes * of Nabugodonosor kyng of Babilon in Chaldea, whych pulled downe this temple and bzent it, & ledde the people captiue to Babilon. And king Citus the fyrst yere of his kingdome in Babilon, sent out his letters that this tēple shoulde be buylded, and that the holy vessels as wel of gold as of syluer whych Nabuchodonosor hadde taken out of the Temple of Hierusalem and sette in his owne churche, the same kyng Cyrus brought the agayne fro thence out of Babilon. And they were deliuered to zorobabel, and Sanabassar a chiefe ruler, with commaundementes þ the same vessels that were taken away, he shold put the agayne in the temple of Hierusalem, and put them agayne in the temple of the Lord, euen in theyr owne place. Then that noble manne Sanabassar, whē he was come hyther, he layde the fundacion of the temple of the Lord at Hierusalem, and yet in buyldyng frome that tyme vnto this daye, it is not yet finished. Wherefore now if it please the kyng, let serch be made among the kynges wyrynges, & if it may be found þ the buyldinge of this temple of the lord at Hierusalem be begone by the kynges decrete, that it will please our lord the kyng to certify vs of it. * The king Darius commaunded that

search shoulde be made in all the kynges libzaries at Babilon, and in the city of Ecbaranis, whych is in the contry of Medes, was found one booke, in the whiche it was thus enacted. Cyrus the kyng in the fyrst yere of his raygne, commaunded a tēple to be buylt at Hierusalem, where Sacrifice shoulde be done, and fyre kepte perpetually whose heigth shold be. lx. cubites, and the bredth, of as many cubites, wthre houses of fyne polished stone, and one house or loft of the same contrey stone, and al new. And that the charges shold be payde out of Cyrus house, and þ the holy vessels of the tēple of the Lord, as well of golde as syluer, whych Nabuchodonosor roke out of þ tēple of Hierusalem, sholde be set agayne in the same place þ they wer befoze. And he gaue charge to Sisenna deputye of Syria, and Phenicia, that they sholde not meddle with that place, but þ they shoulde suffer zorobabel the seruaunt of the lord, & deputye of Jude, & all the whole counsell of the Jewes to build in þ same place the tēple of the lord. Whereouer I thoughte mete to geue in commaundement, that þ buyldyng shoulde be finished, and that the Jewes sholde be holpen vntyl the temple of the Lord were builded vp. Also that of the tribute of Celosicia & Phenicia, a good appynd shoulde be geuen to them and their chiefe heade zorobabel to be bestowed vpon Oren, rammes, and Lambes, vpon corne also, salte and wyne, euery yere continually, without gaynsaying, as the priestes of Hierusalem shew it dayly to be spent, and that offerings may be geuen to the hye God, for the kyng and his chyldren, and supplications made for the prosperite of their life. Also it was enacted, that whosoever did transgresse any of these wyrynges or sayynges, there shold be taken out of his grounde a tree, where vpon he shoulde be hāged, & all his goodes forsaie to the kyng. And therfore that LORD, whose name is there celebrated, rote out and put away al those kyngs and people whych put to their hand to hynder or trouble the buyldyng of the temple of the Lord that is at Hierusalem. These thinges haue I king Darius decreed, that all thinges shoulde be done exactelye, accordyng as is aforesayde.

The.vii. Chapter.

The.vii. Chapter.

The temple is finished and dedicate, & the feast of unleuened breade is holden.

IN Sisennes the deputye of Celosicia and Phenicia and Sanabassar with his felowes doyng the commaundementes of kyng Darius, were verie diligente in these holy workes, the elders of the priestes and the ouerseers of the Temple helpyng them. And these holy workes went forward and prospered, when Aggeus and zacharias the prophetes did their propheticall offices, and they were brought vnto an ende after the commaundemente of the Lord God of Israell, and the decre of Cyrus, Darius, & Artaxerxes kynges of Persians, vnto the fyrst yere of kyng Darius, in the whiche that most holpe temple was finished, the. xlii. daye of the moneth of Adar, þ sixt yere of kyng Darius. And the childre of Israell, as wel priestes as Leuites and other of their fellowes that came fro the captiuitie, dyd as the booke of Moses commaunded them, and hallowred for the dedication of the temple of the Lord, an hundred oren. ii. hundred rammes. v. hundred Lambes, and for the synnes of all the people of Israell. xii. kyddes, after þ numbre of the. xii. tribes of Israell, the priestes, and Leuites bring araid in their vestmentes accordyng to their tribes and standing in the worke of the Lord God of Israell, after the prescription of the booke of Moses, and the porters also standyng before euery dore. And the Israelites that were come fro captiuitie kept the solemne feast of Pas-

of Easter, the xiiii. day of the fyrst moneth when the priestes and the Leuites, with all them that came from captiuitie were sanctified. For they were sanctified and offered the Paschal Lambe, for all them that were come out of captiuitie, and they were sanctified altogether, and kylled the Paschal Lambe for all their brethren the priestes as well as for them selues. Thus dyd all the Israelites that were come from captiuitie eate and make merie, escaping from the abominations of the land of the gentils, as folowers of the LORD: and they kept the feast of the unleuened breade seven dayes, being very merie in the sight of the Lorde, because he hadde turned the purpose and hert of the kynge of Assyrians towards them, and hadde styrted them to put to theyr handes to the workes of the Lorde God of Israel.

The.viii. Chapter.

Esdras causeth the people to assemble, and come togyther, & then readeth them þ law. They kepe the feast of the tabernacles.

ii. Esd. vii.

After these thynges were done, when Artaxerxes kynge of Persians raygned, came Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helkias, the sonne of Schalum, the sonne of Zadoch, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Meriorch, the sonne of Zacharias, the sonne of Sarai, the sonne of Boccus, the sonne of Abischua, the sonne of Shimeas the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaro the first priest. This Esdras came up from Babilon, well sene in the lawe of Moyses, which was geuen by god to Israel, and the king made hym ryght honorable, and he was in great fauour with hym in all þ he woulde requyre. And wyth hym came vp of the chyldren of Israel to Ierusalem, as wel priestes & Leuites, as porters, & holi ministers, the vii. yere of the raigne of Artaxerxes: & they came to Hierusalem in þ fyrst moneth of þ same seuē yere of his raigne. For cominge from Babilon in the new mone of the first moneth, they came to Ierusalem, such good spede dyd the Lorde geue them in their iorney. Thys Esdras was a great cūnyng mā, so that he woulde let passe none of those thynges that were to be taught by þ lawe of Moyses, & cōmaundementes of the Lord, & could teach al Israel al the rites & lawes. Unto thys priest Esdras, & professor of þ lawe of God, was deliuered a wyrtynge of kynge Artaxerxes whose exemple here ensueth.

Kynge Artaxerxes vnto the priest Esdras, and professor of the lawe of the LORD, sendeth gretynge.

I moued by frendshipp & good wil, haue thought good to ordaine þ euery one of the natio of the Iues, priestes, & Leuites, that were in our kingdome (al such as thought good) should go with me into þ land of Israel, as it hath pleased me, &.viii. of my counsellours, let the rise & go this iourney with me, and after the lawe of the LORD se to the matters of Iewye and Hierusalem. And let them take with the gyftes to Hierusalem for the Lorde of Israel, suche as I and my frendes haue vowed: and all the gold and siluer that they may gette in the land of Babilon, lette them carie it to the Lorde to Hierusalem: and all that is gotten by the offerynges of the people, let the take it into the temple of the lorde at Hierusalem, that as well the golde as the siluer may be gathered to be oren, rammes, Lambes and other lyke, to be offered for sacrifices at Hierusalem vpon the aultare of the lord their GOD. Also, whatsoeuer thou & thy brothren wil do with this gold and siluer, do it after the wil of the Lorde, and the holy vessels of the lorde that were geuen the to serue in the temple of thy god that is at Hierusalem, set them euen there before the lord. Likewise al other thynges euen as thou shalt thynke them necessary for the Temple of thy God, thou shalt take them out of our regall treasure. For I king Artaxerxes haue charged my treasurers of Siria and Phenicia, that whatsoeuer the priest Esdras, the professour of the lawe of the hie God, shal sende for, that they shal w diligence geue it hym: euē vnto the summe of an. C. talentes of syluer, and lykewyse also of corne, an. C. mesures and as many vesselles of wyne: And all other thynges let them bountuously be geuen after þ diuine law, vnto the hie God, that his wrath arise not agaynst þ kinges kingdome, and to hys sonnes. We charge you also þ ye requyre no taxe nor trybute of the priestes, leuites, holpe syngers, porters, ministers, or anye other that serue in this temple, and that no manne take vpon hym, to set any charge vpon them. And as for the, Esdras, accordyng to thy diuine wisdom, appoynte Iudges & Arbitrars, to shew the lawe thorowout al Siria, and Phenicia, euen suche as be well sene in the lawe of thy lorde: and suche as be not, teache the, that whosoever breaketh the lawe of God, or of the kynge, may be surely punished, either by death or bodely payne, or by amercement of money, or else by banishment. Than sayde Esdras the wyrtier. Blessed onely be the lorde GOD of my fathers, that hath geue so good a mind vnto the kynge to magnifie hys house that is at Hierusalem, and hath made me to be accepted & honored in the sight of the kynge, of hys counsel, of his frendes, & of hys nobles: wherby, trustyng vpon the help of my lord god, I might waxe the bolder, which also hath geuen men vnto me of the stocke of Israel to go wyth me.

And these are the heades of the kyn

i. Esd. viii.

of Easter, the xiiii. day of the fyrst moneth when the priestes and the Leuites, with all them that came from captiuitie were sanctified. For they were sanctified and offered the Paschal Lambe, for all them that were come out of captiuitie, and they were sanctified altogether, and kylled the Paschal Lambe for all their brethren the priestes as well as for them selues. Thus dyd all the Israelites that were come from captiuitie eate and make merpe, escaping from the abominations of the land of the gentils, as folowers of the LORD: and they kept the feast of the unleuened breade seven dayes, beyng very merry in the syght of the Lorde, bicause he hadde turned the purpose and hert of the kynge of Assyrians towards them, and hadde styrred them to put to theyr handes to the workes of the Lorde God of Israel.

The.viii. Chapter.

Esdras causeth the people to assemble, and come togyther, & then readeth them þ law. They kepe the feast of the tabernacles.

ii. Esd. vii.

After these thynges were done, when Artaxerxes kynge of Persians raygned, came Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Helkias, the sonne of Schalum, the sonne of Zadoch, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Meriorch, the sonne of Zacharias, the sonne of Sarai, the sonne of Boccus, the sonne of Abischua, the sonne of Shimeas the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaro the first priest. This Esdras came vp from Babilon, well sene in the lawe of Moyses, which was geuen by god to Israel, and the king made hym ryght honorable, and he was in great fauour wth hym in all þ he woulde requyre. And wth hym came vp of the chyldren of Israel to Ierusalem, as wel priestes & Leuites, as porters, & holi ministers, the vii. yere of the raigne of Artaxerxes: & they came to Hierusalem in þ fyrst moneth of þ same seuē yere of his raigne. For comynge from Babilon in the new mone of the first moneth, they came to Ierusalem, such good spede dyd the Lorde geue them in their iorney. Thys Esdras was a great cūnyng mā, so that he woulde let passe none of those things that were to be taught by þ lawe of Moyses, & cōmaundementes of the Lord, & could teach al Israel al the rites & lawes. Unto thys priest Esdras, & professor of þ lawe of God, was deliuered a wrytyng of kynge Artaxerxes whose exemple here ensueth.

Kynge Artaxerxes vnto the priest Esdras, and professor of the lawe of the LORD, sendeth gretynge.

I moued by frendshipp & good wil, haue thought good to ordaine þ euery one of the natio of the Iues, priestes, & Leuites, that were in our kingdome (al such as thought good) should go wth me into þ land of Israel, as it hath pleased me, &.viii. of my counsellours, let the rise & go this iourney with the, and after the lawe of the LORD se to the matters of Iewye and Hierusalem. And let them take wth the gyftes to Hierusalem for the Lorde of Israel, suche as I and my frendes haue vowed: and all the gold and siluer that they may gette in the land of Babilon, lette them carpe it to the Lorde to Hierusalem: and all that is gotten by the offerynges of the people, let the take it into the temple of the lorde at Hierusalem, that as well the golde as the siluer may be gathered to be oren, rammes, Lambes and other lyke, to be offered for sacrifices at Hierusalem vpon the aultare of the lord their GOD. Also, whatsoeuer thou & thy brothren wil do wth this gold and siluer, do it after the wil of the Lorde, and the holy vessels of the lorde that were geuen the to serue in the temple of thy god that is at Hierusalem, set them euen there before the lord. Likewise al other thynges euen as thou shalt thynke them necessary for the Temple of thy God, thou shalt take them out of our regall treasure. For I king Artaxerxes haue charged my treasurers of Siria and Phenicia, that whatsoeuer the priest Esdras, the professour of the lawe of the hie God, shal sende for, that they shal wth diligence geue it hym: euē vnto the summe of an. C. talentes of syluer, and lykewyse also of corne, an. C. mesures and as many vesselles of wyne: And all other thynges let them bountuously be geuen after þ diuine law, vnto the hie God, that his wrath arise not agaynst þ kinges kingdome, and to hys sonnes. We charge you also þ ye requyre no taxe nor trybute of the priestes, leuites, holpe syngers, porters, ministers, or anye other that serue in this temple, and that no manne take vpon hym, to set any charge vpon them. And as for the, Esdras, accordyng to thy diuine wisdom, appoynte Iudges & Arbitrars, to shew the lawe thoroowt al Siria, and Phenicia, euen suche as be well sene in the lawe of thy lorde: and suche as be not, teach the, that whosoever breaketh the lawe of God, or of the kynge, may be surely punished, either by death or bodely payne, or by amercement of money, or else by banishment. Than sayde Esdras the wryter. Blessed onely be the lorde GOD of my fathers, that hath geue so good a mind vnto the kynge to magnifie hys house that is at Hierusalem, and hath made me to be accepted & honored in the sight of the kynge, of hys counsel, of his frendes, & of hys nobles: wherby, trustyng vpon the help of my lord god, I might waxe the bolder, which also hath geuen men vnto me of the stocke of Israel to go wth me.

And these are the heades of the kyn

i. Esd. viii.

The.iii. boke of EDRAS.

kyntedes of houses, every one as he is in degre whych went to me from Babilon in the time of the raygne of kinge Artaxerxes.

Of the Sonnes of Ithinees, Bersen: of the sonnes of Ithamer, Samael: of the sonnes of David, Bertus the sonne of Secheniab: of the sonnes of Ithozos, zacharias, and with him were billed an hundred and l. men: of the sonnes of captaine Moab, Eliocnai the sonne of zacharie, and with hym two hundred: of the children of zachoc, Secheniab the sonne of Iehziel, and with him.iii. hundred: of the sonnes of Adin, Debbed the sonne of Jonathab, and with two hundred and fyfty: of the sonnes of Elam, Josaias the sonne of Borbelia, and with hym seuentye: of the sonnes of Saphatiah, zaratiah the sonne of Michaell, and with hym. lxxx. men: of the sonnes of Joab, Dabadiah the sonne of Iehziel, and with him ii. hundred and. xii. menne: of the sonnes of Banicah, Solomich the sonne of Josaphie, and with hym an hundred. lx. men: of the sonnes of Babi, zacharias the sonne of Bebai, and with hym. xxviii. menne: of the Sonnes of Azgad, Iohanan the sonne of Baccatan, and with hym an hundred and x. men: of the sonnes of Adoniam, whych were laste, and these are their names, Eliphalat, Ietiel, Semelias, and with them lxxii. men: of the children of Eagei, Atthi, the sonne of Istacuri, and with hym. lxxii. menne. All these gathered I togther at the river called Eberas, wher we pitched our tentes, and tarped there thre dayes and there mustered. But when I founde none ther of the kynted of the priestes and Leuites, I sent an host, to whom also came Eleazarus, Gaalamo, Aluathā, Semaias Poribun, Ratha, Eluathā zacharym, and Mosollā, whiche were the chiefe heades & men of good experience. And I commaunded them to go vnto that greete man Addeus, which dwelt in a place by the treasure, and gaue them commaundementes to shewe vnto Addeus and his brethren, and those that dwelt by the treasure, that they shoulde sende vs suche men as myght execute the priestes office in the house of the Lorde our God. And so they brought vnto vs (suche is the myghty hande of God) men of good experience, from amonge the sonnes of Moab, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel. Serabiam with his sonnes and brethren which were. xlviii. and Babeliam and Anuon with Iesaja his brother, of the Sonnes of Canane, whose Sonnes were. xx. and also of the holpe ministers, whych David had ordeyned, and whiche were the chiefe of the Leuitical worke, I say they brought of holy ministers. ii. C. & xx. The commaunded I a fastynge vnto the yong men before our God by vowe, for they should despyze of him a prosperous iourney

The. viii. Chapter.

for vs, our children, and our carrel. I durst not require of the king for me or ho: seme to conuey vs safe agaynst our enemies. For we had sayde vnto the kynge, that the power of the Lorde our god should be with them to do all thynges wel, that seke hym with the whole heart. And therfore agayne we besought god for these thynges, and we founde hym mercifull vnto vs. And when I had chosen oute of the rulers and of the priestes. xii. men, that is to saye Serabia, and Babelia, and with the. x. of their brethren: I weped vnto them the syluer and golde, and the holpe vessels of the house of the Lorde and the gyftes of the kynge, and his counsellers, and of the noble men, and of all the people of Israel. I saye I gaue vnto the of that I had weped an. C. & fifty talentes of siluer, and of siluer vessel an. C. talentes, and an hundred talentes of gold, with. xx. golden vessels, and. xii. of goodly brasse that glistened lyke the gold, & sayde vnto the. Ye are hallowed vnto the Lorde, and the vessels also are holpe, and thys gold & siluer is vowed vnto the lord of our fathers. Watche therfore and kepe it wel vntill ye deliuer it vnto the rulers of the people, to the priestes, the Leuites, and to the principall men of the houses of Israel in Hierusalem, and in the chambere of the house of our god & vntill the priestes and Leuites after they haue receyued thys syluer and golde and vessels, bring it into the temple of the Lorde at Hierusalem. And when we were remoued from the ruer of Thera, the. xii. day of the first moneth we came to Hierusalem, the myghty hande of god defendyng vs: For fro the first entrance into our iourney the LORDE saued vs from al our enemies, and we came to Hierusalem. And when the thyrde daye was past, the fourth daye the syluer and golde that was wayed, was deliuered in þ house of the Lorde vnto Marimoth the sonne of Uria the prieste, and with hym vnto Eleazar Ithinees sonne, and to their fellows, Jozabad the sonne of Iesu, and Moedias, Bannui a Leuites sonne, I saye all was deliuered by numbere & weyghte, and at the same tyme al the weyght was wyten. And the sacrifice that was come from captivitye they offered it to the Lord God of Israel, for al Israel. xii. Oxen, nyntye and fyve rammes. lxxii. Lambes, & twelue geates for synne, all to be sacrificed vnto the Lorde. And after they hadde deliuered the kynge's commission vnto the stewardes and deputies of Celosicia, and Ibenicia, they gaue great honour vnto þ people, and temple of god. * Nowe when these thynges were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayde: Neither the princes of the people of Israel, neither the priestes, neither þ Leuites haue abstayned frome people of straunge landes, or frome filthynes of the gentyls, the Cananites, the Hethites, the Pherezites, the Jebusees, the Moabites, the

i. Ed. viii.

i. Ed. ix. a.

The.iii. boke of EDRAS.

kyntedes of houses, every one as he is in degre whych went to me from Babilon in the time of the raygne of kinge Artaxerxes.

Of the Sonnes of Ithinees, Bersen: of the sonnes of Ithamer, Samael: of the sonnes of David, Bertus the sonne of Secheniab: of the sonnes of Ithozos, zacharias, and with him were billed an hundred and l. men: of the sonnes of captaine Moab, Elihoenai the sonne of zacharie, and with hym two hundred: of the children of zachoc, Secheniab the sonne of Iehziel, and with him.iii. hundred: of the sonnes of Adin, Debbed the sonne of Jonathai, and with two hundred and fyfty: of the sonnes of Elam, Josaias the sonne of Borbelia, and with hym seuentye: of the sonnes of Saphatiah, zaraiah the sonne of Michaell, and with hym. lxxx. men: of the sonnes of Joab, Dabadiah the sonne of Iehziel, and with him it. hundred and. xii. menne: of the sonnes of Banicah, Solomich the sonne of Josaphie, and with hym an hundred. lx. men: of the sonnes of Babi, zacharias the sonne of Beshai, and with hym. xxviii. menne: of the Sonnes of Azgad, Johanan the sonne of Baccatan, and with hym an hundred and x. men: of the sonnes of Adoniam, whych were laste, and these are their names, Eliphalat, Ietiel, Semelias, and with them lxxii. men: of the children of Eagei, Atthi, the sonne of Istacuri, and with hym. lxxii. menne. All these gathered I together at the river called Eberas, wher we pitched our tentes, and tarped there thre dayes and there mustered. But when I founde none ther of the kynted of the priestes and Leuites, I sent an host, to whom also came Eleazarus, Gaalamo, Aluathā, Semaias Poribun, Ratha, Eluathā zacharym, and Mosollā, whiche were the chiefe heades & men of good experience. And I commaunded them to go vnto that greete man Addeus, which dwelt in a place by the treasure, and gaue them commaundementes to shewe vnto Addeus and his brethren, and those that dwelt by the treasure, that they shoulde sende vs suche men as myght execute the priestes office in the house of the Lorde our God. And so they brought vnto vs (suche is the myghty hande of God) men of good experience, from amonge the sonnes of Moab, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel. Serabiam with his sonnes and brethren which were. xlviii. and Babeliam and Anuon with Iesaja his brother, of the Sonnes of Canane, whose Sonnes were. xx. and also of the holpe ministers, whych David had ordeyned, and whiche were the chiefe of the Leuitical worke, I say they brought of holy ministers. ii. C. & xx. The commaunded I a fastynge vnto the yong mē before our God by vowe, & they should despyze of him a prosperous iourney

The. viii. Chapter.

for vs, our children, and our carrel. I durst not require of the king for me or ho: seme to conuey vs safe agaynst our enemies. For we had sayde vnto the kynge, that the power of the Lorde our god should be with them to do all thynges wel, that seke hym with the whole hert. And therfore agayne we besought god for these thynges, and we founde hym mercifull vnto vs. And when I had chosen oute of the rulers and of the priestes. xii. men, that is to saye Serabia, and Basabia, and with the. x. of their brethren: I weped vnto them the syluer and golde, and the holpe vessels of the house of the Lorde and the gyftes of the kynge, and his counsellers, and of the noble men, and of all the people of Israel. I saye I gaue vnto the of that I had weped an. C. & fifty talentes of siluer, and of siluer vessel an. C. talentes, and an hundred talentes of gold, with. xx. golden vessels, and. xii. of goodly brasse that glistened lyke the gold, & sayde vnto the. Ye are hallowed vnto the Lorde, and the vessels also are holpe, and thys gold & siluer is vowed vnto the lord of our fathers. Watche therfore and kepe it wel vntill ye deliuer it vnto the rulers of the people, to the priestes, the Leuites, and to the principall men of the houses of Israel in Hierusalem, and in the chambere of the house of our god & vntill the priestes and Leuites after they haue receyued thys syluer and golde and vessels, bring it into the temple of the Lorde at Hierusalem. And when we were remoued from the ruuer of Ebera, the. xii. day of the first moneth we came to Hierusalem, the myghty hande of god defendyng vs: For fro the first entrance into our iourney the LORDE saued vs from al our enemies, and we came to Hierusalem. And when the thyrde daye was past, the fourth daye the syluer and golde that was wayed, was deliuered in þ house of the Lorde vnto Marimoth the sonne of Uria the prieste, and with hym vnto Eleazar Ithinees sonne, and to their fellows, Jozabad the sonne of Iesu, and Moedias, Bannui a Leuites sonne, I saye all was deliuered by numbere & weyght, and at the same tyme al the weyght was wyten. And the sacrifice that was come from captiuitie they offered it to the Lord God of Israel, for al Israel. xii. Oxen, nyntye and fyve rammes. lxxii. Lambes, & twelue geates for synne, all to be sacrificed vnto the Lorde. And after they hadde deliuered the kynge's commission vnto the stewardes and deputies of Celosicia, and Ibenicia, they gaue great honour vnto þ people, and temple of god. * Nowe when these thynges were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayde: Neither the princes of the people of Israel, neither the priestes, neither þ Leuites haue abstayned frome people of straunge landes, or frome filthynes of the gentyls, the Cananites, the Hethites, the Sherezites, the Jebusees, the Moabites, the

i. Ed. viii.

i. Ed. ix. a.

the Egyptians, the Idumes. For they haue maried with theyr daughters, euen they and their sonnes, and the holy sede is mingled with people of straunge land: & partakers of thys faulte and wyckednesse haue ben the chiefe rulers and heades, eue seuce the begynnyng of theyr rule.

And when I vnderstode these thynges, immediately I rent my clothes & holy vestiments, puld out the heere of my head and my bearde, and fete me downe sorrowfully and heauye: and there came to me as I mourned for thys synne all that were moued with the lord God of Israel. And when I had syt mourning vntyl the euenynge sacrifice, then rose I vp from fastynge, and haupng my clothes all to rent, and the holy garment, knelyng vpon my knees, and holdinge vp my handes, I sayde: O Lord I am confounded and ashamed before thy face, for our synnes are become many vpon our heades, and our wickednes euen from the tymes of oure forefathers is reached vp to heauen, and euen at thys daye be in verpe greate faulte and synne. And for the synnes of vs & of our forefathers we wyth our brethren, with our wynges, and with our priestes haue bene deliuered vnto the kinges of the erth, into the swerd, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle with confusion and shame vnto thys day. And now oh lord God, how great is the mercy that wee haue gotten of the: in that thou haste lefte vs a cote and a name, in the place of the Sanctuarie, that lyght shoulde shyne agayne vnto vs in the house of the Lord our God, and that we shoulde haue meat all the tyme of oure bondage. For in oure seruyce we were not forsaken of the, oure Lord, but thou madeste vs in fauoure before the kinges of the Persians, so that they gaue vs meate, and gaue honoure to the temple of oure Lord, boeth to repaire the wasted places of Zion, and that we shoulde haue a sure dwellinge place in Iudaea, & Ierusalem. And now O Lord, what shal we say, seing al these thynges be happened to vs: for we haue broke the commaundementes which thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruantes the prophetes, saying: The lad þe go to to haue in possession, this land is defiled with þe filthynes of straunge nations, & filled with their abominacion, wherefore ye shall not ioyne theyr daughters vnto your sonnes in marriage, nor marie your sonnes vnto theyr daughters: no, ye shall not seeke to haue peace with them at any tyme, that you may wax stronge, & enjoy this plentiful cōtre, & geue it vnto your childre as theyr inheritaunce for euer more. So now all these chaunces haue happened vnto vs for our euil dedes, & our greuous synnes. Yet hast thou Lord geuen vs such a cote, that we are comen agayne into our lād, & we are so wicked, þe we haue broken thy statutes and commaundementes agayne, and mengled our selues wyth the uncleannes of the outlādish heathen: mightest not thou haue bene so angry wyth vs, euen to haue utterly destroyed vs, so that neyther roote, nor seede, nor name shoulde haue bene left vs? O Lord God of Israel, thou art full of truethe, for our roote endureth yet to thys present daye. Behold now are we in thy syght wyth our synnes, and we are not able to stand before the in thys cause.

When * Esdras had knowleged these thynges before the Temple, wyth muche praying, weeping, and lying flat vpon the ground, there gathered vnto hym frome Ierusalem a greate multitude of men and women, of yonge men & maydens, for ther was a very greate weeping & mourninge in the congregation. Then Serbonias an Israelite Nehiels sonne cryed out aloud & said: O Esdras, we haue synned agaynst the Lord, and we haue married outlādish women of the heathen, and now is all the people of Israel at a * staye. Let vs therefore bynde oure selues vnto the Lord by an othe, to put away all our wyues which we haue taken of the heathen wyth their chyldren, if you thynke it beste, and al they that be ruled by the lawe of God, arise and do this thyng, for it is thynne office, and we will helpe the: quyte thy selfe manlye. So Esdras arose and swoze the chiefe priestes and Leuites and the chiefe of al Israel, to do after these thynges: and they swore.

The. ix. Chapter.

After Esdras had read the lawe, the people put away their straunge wyues, & then retourned euery man merily vnto his owne dwellinge.

When Esdras after he was ryfen out of the * porche of the temple, he went into the chambere of Johanan the sonne of Eliashib, and there he tarped, and nether eat nor dranke bycause he mourned for the greuous syns of the people. And when proclamaciō was made thorowoute all Iurpe and Ierusalem, that al that were come from captiuitie shoulde come to Ierusalem, and who soeuer was not there wythin two or three dayes after, accordinge as the chief elders had decreed, that cartell shoulde be sacrificed, and they them selues put awaye from the company of them that came from captiuitie wythin thre dayes: the twenty day of the nynthe moneth, were all they of the tribe of Iuda and Benjamin gathered together at Ierusalem. And the whole multitude sate trebling in þe court of the tēple, for it was a very cold wynter: So Esdras arose vp, and sayd vnto them. Seyng that you haue done wyckedly, in that you haue maried outlādish wyues, & so encreased the synne of Israel, now confesse the same and grue prayse vnto the Lord God of oure fathers: and obeying his wyl, seperate

i. Esdr. x. a.

That is they haue be in a doubte
what is best
to be done & howe this faut may be amended.

i. Esdr. vi.

i. Esdr. x.

the Egyptians, the Idumes. For they haue maried with theyr daughters, euen they and their sonnes, and the holy sede is mingled with people of straunge land: & partakers of thys faulte and wyckednesse haue ben the chiefe rulers and heades, eue seuce the begynnyng of theyr rule.

And when I vnderstode these thynges, immediately I rent my clothes & holy vestiments, puld out the heere of my head and my bearde, and fete me downe sorrowfully and heauye: and there came to me as I mourned for thys synne all that were moued with the lord God of Israel. And when I had syt mourning vntyl the euenyng sacrifice, then rose I vp from fastyng, and haupng my clothes all to rent, and the holy garment, knelyng vpon my knees, and holdinge vp my handes, I sayde: O Lord I am confounded and ashamed before thy face, for our synnes are become many vpon our heades, and our wickednes euen from the tymes of oure forefathers is reached vp to heauen, and euen at thys daye be in verpe greate faulte and synne. And for the synnes of vs & of our forefathers we wyth our brethren, with our wynges, and with our priestes haue bene deliuered vnto the kinges of the erth, into the swerd, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle with confusion and shame vnto thys day. And now oh lord God, how great is the mercy that wee haue gotten of the: in that thou haste lefte vs a cote and a name, in the place of the Sanctuarie, that lyght shoulde shyne agayne vnto vs in the house of the Lord our God, and that we shoulde haue meat all the tyme of oure bondage. For in oure seruyce we were not forsaken of the, oure Lord, but thou madeste vs in fauoure before the kinges of the Persians, so that they gaue vs meate, and gaue honoure to the temple of oure Lord, boeth to repaire the wasted places of Zion, and that we shoulde haue a sure dwellinge place in Iudaea, & Ierusalem. And now O Lord, what shal we say, seing al these thynges be happened to vs: for we haue brose the commaundementes which thou gauest vnto vs by the handes of thy seruantes the prophetes, saying: The lad þe go to to haue in possession, this land is defiled with þe filthynes of straunge nations, & filled with their abominacion, wherefore ye shall not ioyne theyr daughters vnto your sonnes in marriage, nor marie your sonnes vnto theyr daughters: no, ye shall not seeke to haue peace with them at any tyme, that you may wax stronge, & enjoy this plerifull cōtre, & geue it vnto your childre as theyr inheritaunce for euer more. So now all these chaunces haue happened vnto vs for our euil dedes, & our greuous synnes. Yet hast thou Lord geuen vs such a cote, that we are comen agayne into our lād, & we are so wicked, þe we haue broken thy statutes and commaundementes agayne, and mengled our selues wyth the uncleannes of the outlādish heathen: mightest not thou haue bene so angry wyth vs, euen to haue vtterly destroyed vs, so that neyther roote, nor seede, nor name shoulde haue bene left vs? O Lord God of Israel, thou art full of truethe, for our roote endureth yet to thys present daye. Behold now are we in thy syght wyth our synnes, and we are not able to stand before the in thys cause.

When * Esdras had knowleged these thynges before the Temple, wyth muche praying, wepyng, and lying flat vpon the ground, there gathered vnto hym frome Ierusalem a greate multitude of men and women, of yonge men & maydens, for ther was a very greate wepyng & mourninge in the congregation. Then Serbonias an Israelite Nehiels sonne cryed out aloud & said: O Esdras, we haue synned agaynst the Lord, and we haue married outlādish women of the heathen, and now is all the people of Israel at a * staye. Let vs therefore bynde oure selues vnto the Lord by an othe, to put away all our wyues which we haue taken of the heathen wyth their chyldren, if you thynke it beste, and al they that be ruled by the lawe of God, arise and do this thyng, for it is thynne office, and we will helpe the: quyte thy selfe manlye. So Esdras arose and swoze the chiefe priestes and Leuites and the chiefe of al Israel, to do after these thynges: and they swore.

The. ix. Chapter.

After Esdras had read the lawe, the people put away their straunge wyues, & then returneth eueri man merrily vnto his owne dwellinge.

When Esdras after he was ryfen out of the * porche of the temple, he went into the chambere of Johanan the sonne of Eliashib, and there he tarped, and nether eat nor dranke bycause he mourned for the greuous syns of the people. And when proclamaciō was made thorowoute all Iurpe and Ierusalem, that al that were come from captiuitie shoulde come to Ierusalem, and who soeuer was not there wythin two or three dayes after, accordinge as the chief elders had decreed, that cartell shoulde be sacrificed, and they them selues put awaye from the company of them that came from captiuitie wythin thre dayes: the twenty day of the nynthe moneth, were all they of the tribe of Iuda and Benjamin gathered together at Ierusalem. And the whole multitude sate trebling in þe court of the tēple, for it was a very cold wynter: So Esdras arose vp, and sayd vnto them. Seyng that you haue done wyckedly, in that you haue maried outlādish wyues, & so encreased the synne of Israel, now confesse the same and grue prayse vnto the Lord God of oure fathers: and obeying his wyl, seperate

Wb. i.

pours

i. Esdr. x. a.

That is
they haue be
in a doubte
what is best
to be done & howe this faut may be amended.

i. Esdr. vi.

i. Esdr. x.

The.iii. boke of Esdras

W pour selues from the gentiles, and outland by the wyues. Then cried all the people a loude and sayd, we wil do as thou bydest
vs. But seynge here is a greate multitude and that it is the tyme of winter, and that we be not able to stand wythout þe dores, & namely þe this is not the worke of a day or two (for we be many þe haue sinned in this thing) let there be appointed rulers among þe multitude, & whoioeuer in our copanies haue straungers to their wyues, let the appoint a time, & be redy wyth the iudges & elders of euery place, vntill the wrath of
the lord be appeased touching this precept & commaundement. The Jonathan the sonne of Alabell, & Nabzias the sonne of Chachus toke þe charg of this matter, & Mosolla, Le-ui & Sabathai holp the: & in al these pointes behaved the selues as men þe were come fro the captiuitie. And the prestes he chose vnto him the chiefe of the fathers, namely those þe had sitte at the inquisition of this matter in the newe moone of the tenth mo-nerth. And the matters concernynge the men þe had outlandy the wyues was ended in the newe moone of þe first monerth. And of þe priestes which had married outlandy the wyues were founde: Of the sonnes of Iesu the sonne of Iosedech and hys brethren, Mase-ias, Eliazar, Iozib, and Iobatus. These offered to put away their wyues, and to offer rammes for their ignorance. Of the sonnes of Emmer, Hanani, zabdiab, Pa-nas, Samaias, Ieraal, Azarias. Of the sonnes of Iheschur, Elionas, Maasias, Ies-maell, Nathanael, Ocidas, and Alafab.
And of the Leuites, Iosabad, Semei, Colias called also Calitas, Darbeias, Iobus das and Jonas. And of the holpe syngers, Elisib, and Bacchurus.

D Of the porters, Sallum, and Tolbanes.

i. Esdr. viii

Of the Israelites.

Of the sonnes of Iehozab, Remias, Ed-
das, Malchias, Maclus, Eleazer, Asibias Banaias. Of the chyldren of Elam, Ma-thanas, zacharias, Iehial, Ierimoth and Haltas. Of the sonnes of Iazbora, Eliadas, Elisib, Mothonias, Iarimoth, zabad, and Sardatas. Of the sonnes of Iibai, Iobana and Bananias, & Iosabadus, & Emathias Of þe sonnes of Bani, Olamus, Maluch, Je-daias, Iasub, Iasael, & Ieremoth. Of the sonnes of Addin, Naathus, and Moosias, Iaccunus, and Banaias and Marbanias
and Bezeliel, and Bannui and Manalles.
Of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, Aleas,
Malchias, Samaias, Simon Chosama-
as. Of the sonnes of Ialam, Nathanas, Marbarhias, Banuatis, Eliphalarb, Ma-nalles, Symei. Of the sonnes of Banny, Ieremias, Moadi, Amra, Iuel, Banaias
Badias, Ionias, Marimoth, Elisib, Marbnias, Marbanai, Elialis, Bannui, Elialei, Samat, Selemias, Nathanas.
Of the chyldren of Iozora, Sesi, Ezrel, A-zael, Samaros, zambis, Iosephe. Of the

The. ix. Chapter.

chyldren of Iroba, Nathathias, zabad, Ie-dai, Iuel, Bananias.

All these married outlandy the wyues, and forsoke them and their children. The priestes and Leuites and all they that were
of Israel, dwelte at Hierusalem: and thotrowt all the Lande in the newe moone of the seuenthe monerth, and the chyldren of Israel were in their dwellinge when the wholte multitude wyth one assente came together vpon the flowre, whych is at the gate of the Temple on the Eastsyde, and desiered Esdras the Priest and Reader, to byngge for the vnto them the lawe of Moses that was geuen by the Lord God of Israel. And so the hye Priest Esdras in the newe Moone in the seuenthe monerth, brought forth the lawe, that al the people both men and women myght heare it, and all the Priestes also: and he reade it in the fyrste flowre or story, that is before the ho-
lye doore of the temple, from the mornynge earlye vnto noone, before men and women and all the multitude whych gaue good eare vnto the lawe. And Esdras the priest and Reader of the lawe stode vpon a scaffolde of woode made for him, and vpon his ryghte hande stode by hym Mathathias, Sanus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechi-as and Balasamus: and vpon hys left hand
stode Ibadaias, Misael, Malachie, Aotasuphos, Nabarias: and Esdras takynge
the booke before all the people (for he hym selfe late chiefe honourable in all the synges) & while he expounded the lawe al other stode by. I say Esdras gaue thankes vnto the Lord the hye God, the almyghty
God of hoothes, and all the people cryed
Amen. And Iesus, Bani, Sarabias, Iasminus, Acub, Sabathai, Iudaias, Maaslatas, Calita, Azarias, Iozabad, Banan, and Philatas the Leuites helde by their handes, and bowed theim selues vpon the grounde, and expounded the Lawe of the Lorde, and made playne the thynges that were read. Moreover Iatherlathes spake vnto Esdras the hye byshoppe and reader
and to al the Leuites that taught the people and sayde thus: Seynge this daye is halowed vnto the Lorde, and that al haue geuen them selues to weppynge, whyle the lawe was in readdyng, when ye be gone hence, eate of the best, and drynke the swe-teste, and sende bythes of meate to theym
that haue none: For this daye is holy vnto
the Lorde, and be not ye sorry.

Then wente they theyr way euerychone to eate and drynke and make merpe, and sente meate wyth great ioye to them that had none. For they were exceedingly re-ioysed through the wordes that were reade vnto them in the lawe,
and were altogether at Hierusalem.

The ende of the thyrde boke of Esdras.

The

i. Esdr. viii

ii. Esdr. viii

The.iii. boke of Esdras

W pour selues from the gentiles, and outland
by the wyues. Then cried all the people a loude and sayd, we wil do as thou bydest
vs. But seynge here is a greate multitude
and that it is the tyme of winter, and that we be not able to stand wythout þe dores, &
namely þe this is not the worke of a day or two (for we be many þe haue sinned in this thing) let there be appointed rulers among þe multitude, & who soeuer in our copanies
haue straungers to their wyues, let the appoint a time, & be redy wyth the iudges &
elders of euery place, vntill the wrath of
the lord be appeased touching this precept & commaundement. The Jonathan the sonne
of Alabell, & Nabzias the sonne of Chachus
toke þe charg of this matter, & Mosolla, Le-
ui & Sabathai holp the: & in al these poin-
tes behaved the selues as men þe were come fro the captiuitie. And the prestes he chose vnto him the chiefe of the fathers, namely
those þe had sitte at the inquisition of this matter in the newe moone of the tenth mo-
nerth. And the matters concernynge the men þe had outlandy the wyues was ended in the newe moone of þe first monerth. And of þe priestes which had married outlandy the wyues
were founde: Of the sonnes of Iesu the
sonne of Iosedech and hys brethren, Mase-
ias, Eliazar, Iozib, and Iobatus. These offered to put away their wyues, and to offer rammes for their ignorance. Of the sonnes of Emmer, Hanani, zabdiab, Pa-
nas, Samaias, Ieraal, Azarias. Of the
sonnes of Iheschur, Elionas, Maasias, Ies-maell, Nathanael, Ocidas, and Alafab.
And of the Leuites, Iosabad, Semet, Co-
lias called also Calitas, Darbeias, Iobus
das and Jonas. And of the holpe syngers, Elisib, and Bacchurus.

D Of the porters, Sallum, and Tolbanes.

i. Esdr. viii

Of the Israelites.

Of the sonnes of Iehozab, Remias, Ed-
das, Malchias, Maclus, Eleazer, Asibias Banaias. Of the chyldren of Elam, Ma-thanas, zacharias, Iehial, Ierimoth and Haltas. Of the sonnes of Iazbora, Eliadas, Elisib, Mothonias, Iarimoth, zabad, and Sardatas. Of the sonnes of Iibai, Iobana and Banaias, & Iosabadus, & Emathias
Of þe sonnes of Bani, Olamus, Maluch, Je-daias, Iasub, Iasael, & Ieremoth. Of the sonnes of Addin, Naathus, and Moosias, Iaccunus, and Banaias and Marbanias
and Bezeliel, and Bannui and Manalles.
Of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, Aleas,
Malchias, Samaias, Simon Chosama-
as. Of the sonnes of Ialam, Nathanas, Marbarhias, Banuatis, Eliphalarb, Ma-nalles, Symet. Of the sonnes of Banny, Ieremias, Moadi, Amra, Iuel, Banaias
Badias, Ionias, Marimoth, Elisib,
Marbnias, Marbanai, Elialis, Bannui,
Elialei, Samat, Selemias, Nathanas.
Of the chyldren of Iozora, Seli, Ezrel, A-zael, Samaros, zambis, Iosephe. Of the

The. ix. Chapter.

chyldren of Iroba, Nathathias, zabad, Ie-dai, Iuel, Banaias.

All these married outlandy the wyues, and forsoke them and their children. The prie-
stes and Leuites and all they that were
of Israel, dwelte at Hierusalem: and tho-
trowt all the Lande in the newe moone of
the seuenthe monerth, and the chyldren of Israel were in their dwellinge when the wholte multitude wyth one assente came together vpon the flowre, whych is at the gate of the Temple on the Eastsyde, and desiered Esdras the Priest and Reader, to byngge for the vnto them the lawe of Moses that was geuen by the Lord GOD of Israel. And so the hye Priest Esdras in the newe Moone in the seuenth monerth, brought forth the lawe, that al the people
both men and women myght heare it, and all the Priestes also: and he reade it in the fyrste flowre or story, that is before the ho-
lye doore of the temple, from the mornynge
earlye vnto noone, before men and women
and all the multitude whych gaue good eare vnto the lawe. And Esdras the priest and Reader of the lawe stode vpon a scaffolde of woode made for him, and vpon his
ryghte hande stode by hym Mathathias, Sanus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechi-as and Balasamus: and vpon hys left had
stode Ibadaias, Misael, Malachie, Aota-
suphos, Nabarias: and Esdras takynge
the booke before all the people (for he hym
selfe late chiefe honourable in all the
synges) & while he expounded the lawe al
other stode by. I say Esdras gaue thankes
vnto the Lord the hye God, the almyghty
GOD of hoothes, and all the people cryed
Amen. And Iesus, Bani, Sarabias, Ias-
minus, Acub, Sabathai, Iudaias, Maas-
latas, Calita, Azarias, Iozabad, Banan,
and Philatas the Leuites helde by their handes, and bowed theim selues vpon the
grounde, and expounded the Lawe of the Lorde, and made playne the thynges that were read. Moreover Iatherlathes spake vnto Esdras the hye byshoppe and reader
and to al the Leuites that taught the people and sayde thus: Seynge this daye is halowed vnto the Lorde, and that al haue geuen them selues to weppynge, whyle the
lawe was in readdyng, when ye be gone
hence, eate of the best, and drynke the swe-
teste, and sende bythes of meate to theym
that haue none: For this daye is holy vnto
the Lorde, and be not ye sorow.

Then wente they theyr way euerychone
to eate and drynke and make merpe, and
sente meate wyth great ioye to them that had none. For they were exceedingly re-ioysed through the wordes that were
reade vnto them in the lawe,
and were altogether at Hierusalem.

The ende of the thyrde boke
of Esdras.

The

i. Esdr. viii

ii. Esdr. viii

The fourthe

Booke of Esdras.

(*)

The fyrste Chapter.

The people are reprovied for their unthakfulness. God wyll finde an other people if thes wyll not be reformed.

E seconde boke of the prophete Esdras the son of Sathaias, the sonne of Azarias, the Sonne of Helchya, the sonne of Salum, the sonne of Sador, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amerias, the sonne of Azarias, the sonne of Maratob, the sonne of Saabias, the sonne of Uzi, the sonne of Bochus, the sonne of Abisu, the sonne of Whinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron, of the trybe of Levi, which was prisoner in the lande of Medes, in the raygne of Artaxerxes kynge of Persia.

And the word of the LORD came vnto me, sayinge: go thy waye, & shewe my people their synfull dedes, and their chyldren theyr wickednesses, whych they haue done agaynste me: that they may tel their chylders chyldren the same, for the synnes of their fathers are increased in them. And whi? they haue forgotten me, and haue offered vnto straunge Goddes. Am not I euē he, that brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage? But they haue prouoked me vnto wrath, and despised my counsels. Pull thou out then the heere of thy heade, and caste all euyl ouer them, for they haue not bene obedient vnto my lawe.

It is a people wythout learninge and nurtour. How long shal I forbear them, vnto whome I haue done so muche good? * Many kinges haue I destroyed for their sakes: * Wharao wyth hys seruantes and all hys power haue I smitten downe and slayne: * All the nations haue I destroyed and coted out before the, * and in the east haue I brought two landes and people to naughte, euen Tyre and Sidon, and haue slaine al their enemies. Speake thou therfore vnto them, sayinge: Thus sayeth the Lorde: * I led you therto the sea, & haue geue you sure stretes sence the beginning. * I gaue you Moyses to be your captaine, and Aaron to be the priest: * I gaue you ders haue I done amōg you: yet haue you forgotten me sayeth the Lorde.

Thus sayeth the almighty Lorde: * I gaue you quayles to eate, and I sentes for youre succoure: Neuertheles ye murmured, and ascribed not the victorie of youre enemies vnto my name: yea, this same day do ye yet murmur. Where are the benefices that I haue done for you? When ye were hungrye in the wyldernes, dyd ye not crye vnto me: why hast thou broughte vs into this wyldernes, to kyll vs? It had ben better for vs, to haue serued the Egipcians, then to dye in this wyldernes.

Then had I pity vpon your mourninges, and gaue you Manna to eat. * Ye eat angels fode. * When ye were thyrsty, did not I hewe the harde stone, and cause water to flowe therout? For the heat, I couered you with the leaues of the trees. A good pleasaunt far land gaue I you: I cast oute the Chananites, the Iderezytes & Philistines before you. * What shall I do more for you sayeth the Lorde?

Thus sayth the almighty Lorde: * When ye were in the wyldernes, in the water of the Amorites, being a thyrste, and blasphemynge my name, I gaue you not fire for your blasphemies, but caste a tree into the water, and made the ryuer swete. What shall I do vnto the Iacob? Thou Iuda wouldeste not obeie me. * I wyll turne me to an other people, and vnto those wyll I geue my name, that they maye kepe my statutes. Sepnge ye haue forsaken me, I wyll forsake you also. When ye desyre me to be graciouslye vnto you, I shall haue no mercy vpon you. * When ye call vpon me, I wyll not heare you. For ye haue defiled your handes wyth bloude, and youre secretes are swyfte to committe manslaughter. Ye haue not forsake me (in a maner) but your owne selues sayeth the Lorde. Thus saith the almighty Lorde: haue I not prayed you, as a father hys sonnes, as a mother her daughters, and as a nurse hys yonge babes, that ye woulde be my people, and I shoulde be your God: that ye woulde be my chyldren, & I shoulde be your owne father? * I gathered you together as a hen gathereth hir chickens vnder hir wynges.

But now what shall I do vnto you? I shall caste you oute from my face. * When ye offer vnto me, I shall turne my face frō you: for youre solemne feaste dayes, youre newe Moones, and youre circumcisions haue I forsaken, I sente vnto you my seruantes the prophetes, whō ye haue takē and slayne, and torne their bodies in pieces, whose bloude I wyll requyre of youre handes, sayth the Lorde. Thus sayeth the almighty Lorde: your house muste be desolate, I wil cast you out as the wind doth strawe: your chyldren shal not be fruitful, for they haue despised my commaundementes, and done the thyng that is euyl before me.

WBb.ii. Your

Exo. xvi. d.

Num. xiii.

Savi. xvi. c.

Num. xx. b.

Esa. v. a.

Exo. xv.

Exo. xx.

Esa. i. d.

Math. xiii.

Esa. i. d.

Ose. x.

The.iii. boke of Edras

Your houses wyl I geue vnto a people that shall come, and they that neuer heard me, shall beleue in me: and they vnto whō I neuer shewed token, shall do the thyng that I commaunde them.

They haue sene no prophetes, yet shal they cal their sinnes to remembraunce, & know- ledge theym. I reposit me vnto the grace, that I wyl do for the people whych is to come, whose chyldren reioyce in gladnes: and thowge they haue not sene me wth bodely eyes, yet in spirite they beleue the thyng that I saye. And nowe brother be- holde what great worshyp, and se the peo- ple that cometh frome the East, vnto whome I wyl geue the Dukedome of A- braham, Isaac, and Jacob. Of Oseas, A- mos, and Micheas, of Joel, Abdi, Jonas, Naum, and Abacuck, of Sophony, Agge- us, zachary, and Malachy, whych is cal- led also an Angell (or Messenger) of the Lorde.

Mal. iii.

The.ii. Chapter.

The Synagoge findeth faulte wth hir owne chyldren. The Gentyles are called.

A Thus sayeth the Lorde: I brought thys people oute of bondage, I gaue them my commaundemen- tes by my Seruauntes the Pro- phetes, whō thou wouldest not hear, *but despysd my counsels. The mother þ bare the, saith vnto the: So your waie ye chyldre for I am a widowe & forsake: I broughte you vp wth gladnes, but wth sorrow & heuines haue I losse you, for ye haue synned before the Lorde your God, and done the thyng that is euil before hym. But what shall I now do vnto you? I am a widow and for- saken: go your waie, O my chyldren, and aske mercy of the LORDE. As for me O father, I call vpon the for a wytnes ouer the mother of these chyldren, which would not kepe my couenaunte: that thou byng theym to confusion, and their mother to a spoyle, that she beare no more. Lette their names be scatered abroad among the hea- then, lette theym be putte out of the earth, for they haue thoughte scozne of my coue- naunte.

O rather they would not heare.

Gene. xix.

Woe be vnto the Auar, thou that hiddest the vnihtuous by the. Thou wicked peo- ple, remembre what I dyd vnto Sodome and Gomorre, whose lande is touned to pytche and ashes. Euen so also wyl I do vnto all theym that heare me not, sayeth the almighty Lorde. Thus sayeth the Lorde vnto Edras: Tell my people that I wyl geue them the kyngedome of Hierusalem, whych I would haue geuen vnto Israell. Their glory also wyl I take vnto me, and geue them the euerlastyng Tabernacles, whych I had prepared for those.

The tree of life shal be vnto the a swete smellyng oynmente: they shall neyther laboure nor be werpe. So your waie, & you shall receyue it. Praye for your selues a fewe dayes, that ye maye dwell therein.

The.ii. Chapter.

Nowe is the kyngdome prepared for you, therefore watche. Take heauen and earth to wytnes, for I haue broken the euill in pieces, & created the good, for I lyue saith the Lorde. Embrace thy chyldren, and byng them wth gladnes: make their feete as faste as a Miller, for I haue chosen the, sayeth the Lorde.

And those that be deade wyl I rayse vp agayne frome their places, and byng them out of the graue, for I haue knowen my name in Israell. Feare not thou mo- ther of the chyldren, for I haue chosen the sayth the Lorde. And for thy helpe I shall sende the my seruauntes Esay and Iere- mye, after whose counsell I haue sancti- fied and prepared for the. xii. trees, wth diuerse frutes, and as many welles, flow- ynge wth mylke and honny, and. vii. mou- taines, whereupon there grow roses and lilys, wherein I wil fil my *chyldre wth toye. Execute iustice for the wyddowe, be iudge for the fatherles, geue to the poore, defende the comfortles, clothe the naked, heale the wounded and sycke, laughe not a lame man to scozne, defende the creple, and let the blynde come into the syghte of my clerenes. Kepe the old and yong with- in thy walles: where so euer thou fynde the deade, token them, and bury them, and I shall geue the the firste place in my Re- surrection. Holde styll (O my people) and take thy reste, for thy quiernes is come.

Exod. xv.

O rather thy chyldre

Ecol. xv.

Fede thy chyldren, O thou good nurse, stablyshe their fete. As for their seruauntes whom I haue geuen the, there shal not one of theym perishe, for I wyl seke them fro thy numbre, bere not thy selfe. For when the day of trouble and heuines cometh, other shall wepe and be sorrow- ful, but thou shalt be mery and plenuous. The Heathen shall be gelous, but they shall be able to do nothyng against the, sayeth the Lorde. My handes shall couer the, so that thy chyldren shall not see the fyre e- uerlastyng. Be ioyfull O thou Mother wth thy chyldren, for I wyl deliuer the sayth the Lorde. Remember thy dead chil- dren, for I shall byng them oute of the earth, and shewe mercy vnto them, for I am mercifull, sayth the Lorde almighty. Embrace thy chyldren vntyll I come, and shewe mercy vnto them, for mi welles rine ouer, and my grace shall not fayle. I E- dras receyued a charge of the Lorde vpon the mounte Oreb, that I shoulde go vnto Israell. But when I came vnto Israell, they sette me at naughte, and despysed the commaundementes of the Lorde. And ther- fore I saye vnto you, O ye Heathen that hear and vnderstande: Loke for your shep- herd, he shal geue you euerlastyng rest: for he is nye at hande, that shall come in the ende of the worlde. Be readye to the re- warde of the kyngedome, for the euerla- styng spunge lyght shall come vpon you for ener-more. He the shadowe of thys worlde, receyue the toyfulnes of your glorie. I testifye my sauoure openly: O receiue the gift that is geuen you, and be glad geuing thakes vnto hym, that hath called you to the beauenlye kyngedome.

Arise vp, and stand fast, behold the num-bre of those that be sealed in the feast of the Lorde, whiche are departed from the shadowe of the worlde, and haue receyued gloryous garments of the Lorde. Take thy numbre O Syn, and shut vp thy purified, whiche haue fulfilled the lawe of the LORD. The numbre of the chyldren whom thou longedest for, is fulfilled: be-seche the power of the Lorde, that thy people whiche haue bene called from the begynnyng, maye be hallowed.

Apoca. vii. I Esdras sawe vpon the mounte Sion a greate people, whom I coulde not num-bre, and they all praysed the LORD with Songes of thankes geuyng. And in the myddeste of them there was a yonge man of an hye stature, more excellent then all they, and vpon euerye one of their heades he set a crowne, and was euer hygher and higher, whiche I maruailed at greatlye.
So I asked the angel, and said: Syr what are these? He answered and said vnto me:
These be they, that haue put of the mortal clothinge, and put on the immortall, haue restified and knowleged the name of god: Nowe are they crowned, & receyue the reward. Then said I vnto the angel: what yonge person is it, that crowneyth them, and geueth them the palmes in their han-des? So he answered and sayde vnto me:
It is the sonne of God, whome they haue knowleged in the worlde. Then beganne I greatly to commend theim, that stode so styffe for the name of the Lorde. And so the Angell sayde vnto me: Go thy waye, and tel my people what maner of thynges and howe greates wonders of the LORD thy God, thou hast seene.

The.iii. Chapter.

The wonderous workes whiche god dyd for the people are recited. Esdras maruilety that GOD suffereth the Babilonians to haue rule ouer hys people, whiche yet are synners also.

In the thyrtye yere of the fall of the Citie, I was at Babilon, and lay troubled vpon my bedde and my thoughtes came vpon ouer my herte: for I sawe the desolation of Sion, and the pleruous wealth of them, that dwel at Babilon, and my spyrte was sore moued, so that I began to speake fearfull wordes to the most hyest, and said: O Lord LORD, thou spakest at the beginning, when thou plantedst the earthe (and that thy selfe alone) and gauest commaundementes vnto the people, and a bodie vnto Adam, which was a creature of thy handes, and hast breathed in him the bryth of lyfe, and so he liued before the, and thou leddest him into Paradise, whiche garden of pleasure thy ryghte hand hadde planed or euer the earth was made. And vnto hym thou gauest comaundement to loue thy waye, whiche he traungressed, and immediatly thou appointedst deathe in hym, and in hys generations. Of hym came nations, trybes, people, and kynredes out of numbre. And euery people walked after their owne wil and dyd vnto thynges before the, & as for thy comaundementes, they despised theim.

But in proces of tyme thou broughtest the water floud vpon those that dwelte in the worlde, and destroyedst them. And like as the death was in Adam, so was the water floud also in these. Neuertheles one of theim thou leftest, namelpe Noe wyth hys housholde, of whom came all ryghtuous men. And it happened that when they that dwelt vpon the earthe, began to multiplie, and had gotten many chyldren, and were a greates people, they beganne to be more vngodlye then the fyrst.

Nowe when they all lyued so wickedly before the, thou diddest chuse the a man fro among them, whose name was Abraham. Of hym thou louedst, and vnto hym onelye thou shewedst thy will, and madest an euerlastyng couenaunte wyth him, promising hym that thou wouldest neuer for-saake hys seede. And vnto hym thou gauest Isaac, vnto Isaac also thou gauest Jacob, and Esau. As for Jacob thou diddest chuse him, and put backe Esau. And so Jacob became a greates multitude.

And it happened that when thou leddest hys seede out of Egypte, thou broughtest them vp into the mounte Sinai, bow-pug downe the heauens, settinge faste the earth, mouyng the grounde, makinge the depthes to shake, & troubling the worlde.
And thy glory wente thorow foure portes of fyre, and earthquakes & wyndes, and colde, that thou mightest geue the law vnto the seede of Jacob, and diligēce vnto the generation of Israell.

And yet tokeste thou not awaye frome the that wicked herte, that thy lawe might brynge forth fruite in them. * For the first Adam bare a wycked herte, transgressed, and was overcome, and so be all they that are borne of him. Thus remayned weaknes in the lawe of the herte of the people, wyth the wyckednes of the roote: so that the good departed awaye, and the euill abode styll. So the tyme passed awaye, and the yeres were brought to an ende.

Then diddest thou raise vp a seruaunte called Dauid, whom thou commaundest to builde a Citie vnto thy name, and to offer vnto incense and sacrifice vnto the therein. Thys was done nowe manye yeres.
Then the inhabyters of the Citie forsoke the, and in all thynges dyd euen as Adam and all hys generations hadde done: for Gene. vi. 6.

Gene. vii. 6.

1. Pe. iii. d.

Gen. xii. xv

Gene. xxi. a.

Rom. ix. b

Gene. xv. c

and. xxii. a

Exod. xix. a

Deu. xxi. b.

Gene. iii.

ii. Reg. v. a

Gene. ix. d.

WB. iii.

ther

they also had a wycked herte.

D And so thou gaueste thy cite ouer into the handes of thyne enemies. Are they of Babilon more better and more ryghteous then thy people, that they shall therefore haue the dominion of Sion? For when I came there, and sawe theyr vngodlinesse, and so greete wickednes that it could not be numbred: yea, when my soule sawe so manye euill doers (in the. xxx. yere) my herte sayled me, for I sawe how thou suffereste them in suche vngodlines, and sparest the wycked doers, but thyne own people hast thou coted out, & preserued thyne enemies, and this hast thou not shewed me.

I canne not perceyue howe this happeneth. Do they of Babilon then better, then they of Sion? Or is there any other people that knoweth the, saunge thy people of Israel? Or what generatiō hath so beleued in couenauntes as Iacob? And yet their reward appereth not, & their labour hath no fruit. For I haue gone here & ther thorow the heathen, & I se þ they be ryche, and wealthe, and thynke not vpon thy commandementes. Weyghe thou therefore our wyckednes nowe in the balaunce, and theirs also that dwel in the worlde, and so shall thy name be no where founde but in Israell. Or where is there a people vpon the earth, that hath not synned before the? Or what people hath so kept thy commandementes? Thou shalt fynde, that Israel by name hath kepte thy preceptes, but not the other people and heathen.

The.iii. Chapter.

The aungell reprooueth Ecdias, because he seemed to enter into the profound iudgementes of God.

A And the Aungell that was sente vnto me (whose name was Uriell) gaue me an aunswere, and sayde: Thy herte hath taken to much vpon it in this world, and þ thynckeste to comprehend the waye of the hest. When sayde I: yea my Lorde. And he aunswere me, and sayde: I am sente to shewe the thre wayes, and to set for the thre similitudes before the: wherof if thou canste declare me one, I wyll shewe the also the waye that thou desireste to see: and I shal shew the from whence the wycked herte cometh. And I sayde: Tell on my Lorde. Then sayed he vnto me: Go thy waye, weyghe me the weyghte of the fyre, or measure me the blasfe of the wynd, or call me agayne the dape that is paste. Then aunswere I, and said: What man borne is able to doo that? Why requirreste thou suche of me? And he sayde vnto me: If I shoulde aske the, howe deepe dwellinges are in the sea? Or how great water springes are vpon þ firmament? Or howe greete water springes are in the begynnyng of the depe? Or whych are the outgoynge of Paradise, peradventure thou wouldest say vnto me: I neuer wēt downe yet into the depe nor hell, neither dyd I euer clyme vp into heauen. Neuertheless nowe haue I asked the but onely of fyre, & wynde, and of the day, where thorow thou hast traueyled, and from the whych thou canste not be seperated, and yet canst thou geue me no answer of them.

He sayde moreouer vnto me: Thyne owne thynges, and suche as are growen vp wyth the, canste thou not knowe, howe shoulde thy vessel then be able to comprehend the waye of the hest, and now outwardlye in the corrupte worlde, to vnderstande the corruption that is euidente in my syght? Then sayd I vnto him: It were better that wee were not at all, then that we shoulde lyue in wyckednes, and to suffer and not to knowe wherefore. He aunswere me and sayde: I went in a woode, and the trees toke such a deuice, and sayde:

Come lette vs go and fyghte agaynst the sea, that it maye departe awaye before vs, and þ we may make vs yet more woodes.

The flowdes of the seas also in like manner toke this deuice, & sayde: Come, let vs go vp, and fyghte agaynst the trees of the woode, that we maye make oure lande the wider. The thought & deuice of the woode was but vayne, and nothyng worthe, for the fyre came and consumed the woode.

The thought of þ flowdes of the sea came likewise to naught also, for the sand stode vp and stopped them.

If thou were Iudge now betwixt these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie, or whō wouldest thou condemne? I aunswere and sayde: Verily it is a folishe thoughte that they boeth haue deuised.

For the ground is geuen vnto the woode, and the Sea also hath bys place to beate bys flowdes. Then aunswere he me, and sayd: Thou hast geuen a ryght iudgement, whye iudgeste thou not thy selfe also? For like as the ground is geuen vnto the wood, & the sea to his flowdes: * eue so they that dwell vpon earthe maye vnderstande nothyng but that whych is vpon earth: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens maye onely vnderstande the thynges that are aboue the heauens. Then answered I, and sayde: I beseeche the O LORD, let me haue vnderstandynge: for it was not my mynde to be curiouse of thy hye thynges, but of suche as wee daylye menble wyth all, namelpe wherfore that Israel is blasphemed of þ heathen, and for what cause the people (whome thou euer hast loued) is geue ouer, to be punished of the vngodly nations: & why the lawe of our fathers is brought to naught, and the wyrtten couenauntes come to none effect, and we passe awaye oute of the worlde as the grasshoppers, and our lyfe is a verye feare, and we are not worthy to obayne merce. What will he do then vnto bys name, whyche is called

Esa. lv. c.
John. iii. e.
ii. Cor. ii. b

called vpon ouer vs? Of these thynges haue I asked question.

Then answered he me, and sayde: The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt maruel, for the worlde hath fast to passe away, and can not comprehend the thynges that are promised for the ryghtuous in tyme to come, for this worlde is full of vnyghtuousnes and weakenes.

But as concerninge the thynges wherof thou askest me, I wyl tell the. The euyl is sowne, but the destruction therof is not yet come. If the euyl now be that is sowne be not turned vpside downe, & if the place where the euyl is sowne passe not away, then canne not the thyng come that is sowne wth good. For the corne of euyl seede hath bene sowne in the hert of manne frome the begynnyng, and how much vnygodlynesse hath he brought vpon this tyme? and howe much shall he yet bringe forth vntill he come into the barne?

Wonder now by thy selfe, whē the corne of euyl seede is cut downe, howe greete a barne shall it fylle? I answered and sayd: How, and when shall these thynges come to passe? Wherefore are our peres fewe and euyl? And he answered me, sayinge:

Haste not thou to much vpon the hyst, for thy hastynesse to bee aboue hym, is but vayne, thou makest to much a do. Wyldest thou the soules also of the ryghtuous aske question of these thynges in their holines, sayinge: *How longe shall I hope of this fashion? Whē cometh the fruite of my barne and my rewarde? And vpon this Ieremias the archangel, gaue them answer and sayd: Euen when the numbze of the sedes is filled in you: for he hath weyed þ world in the balaunce, in measure and numbze hath he measured the tyme, and moueth it not vntill the same measure be fulfilled.

Then answered I and sayde: O Lorde, now are we all ful of synne, and for our sakes peradventure it is, that the barne of the ryghtuous shal not be filled because of the synnes of them that dwell vpon the earth.

So he answered me and sayde: Goose thy waye to a womanne wth chylde, and aske of her when she hath fulfilled hir nine monethes, if hir childe be maye keepe the byrthe any lenger wthyn her. Then sayd I: No Lorde that canne she not.

And he sayde vnto me: In hell the secreete places of soules are like the priuie chamber of a woman. For lyke as a womanne that traueleth, maketh hast whē the tyme and necessitie of the byrthe is at hande: Euen so doth * she haste to deliuer it that is committed vnto hir. Like what thou desirest to see, it shal be shewed the from the begynnyng. Then answered I and sayde: If I haue founde fauoure in thy syghte, and if it be possible, & if I be mete therfore, shewe me then, whether there be more to come then is past, or more paste, then is for

to come. What is paste I know: but what is for to come, I knowe not.

And he sayde vnto me: Stande vpon vpon the ryghte syde, and I shall expounde the similitude vnto the. * So I stode, and beholde an hore burnynge ouen wente ouer before me: and it happened that when the flame was gone by, the smoke had the vpper hande. After this, there went ouer before me, a waterye cloude, and sent downe muche rayne wth a storme, and when the stormy rayne was past, the droppes remained styll. The saide he vnto me: like as the rayne is more then the droppes, and as the fire exceedeth the smoke, euen so the measure of the thynges that are paste hath the vpper hande. Then went the droppes and the smoke aboue: & I praied & said: Maye I lyue (thynkest thou) vntill that tyme? What shall happen in those dayes? He answered me, and sayde: As for the tokens wherof thou askest me, I may tel the of them in a parte: but as touchyng * thy lyfe, I maye not shewe the, for I am not sente therfore.

Or assigne a declaration of the thyng that is asked.

Some read my lyfe.

The.v. Chapter.

Esdras and the aungel comen together.

Euertheles, as concernynge the tokens, marke this: Beholde the dayes shall come that they whych dwell vpon earth shall be taken in a greete numbze, * and the waye of the truerth shall be hyd, & the lande shall be baren from fayeth: but iniquitye shall haue the vpper hande, lyke as thou hast sene now, * and as thou hast hearde longe ago. And the lande that thou seest now to haue rule, shalt thou shortly se waste. But if god graunt the to lyue, thou shalt see after the the thirde trespit, & the sunne shal sodenly shyne againe in the nighte, & the moone three tymes in the daye, and bloude shall droppe oute of woode, and the stone shall geue his voyce, and the people shall be vnyquiet: and euen he shall rule whome they hope not, that dwell vpon earth, and the fowles shall dye, and the Sodomitische sea shall caste oute fysh, and make a noyse in the nyght, whych manye shal not knowe, but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.

There shall be a confusion also in many places, and the fyre shal be oft sent agayne and the wyld beasts shal go theyr waye, and monstrous women shall beare monsters, and salte waters shal be found in the swete: one frende shall fight agaynst another: then shall al wylde and vnderstanding be hyd and put aside into their secreete places, and shal be sought of man, and yet not founde. Then shall vnyghtuousnes & voluptuousnes haue the vpper hande vpon earth. One Lande also shall aske another, and say: is rightuousnes gone thorow the? And it shal saye: no. At the same tyme shall men hope, but nothyng obtayne: they shal labour, but their wayes shal not prospere.

To

Or rather shal be taken or he begyled w great ryches. What. crist. Or rather more then thou now seest, or herdest longe ago.

Apoc. vi. b.

Or rather do they.

To shewe the suche tokens I haue leue, and if thou wylt praye agayne, and wepe as nowe, and faste seuen daies, thou shalt heare yet greater thynges. Then I awaked, and fearfulness went thorow me all my bodye, and my mynde was feble and carefull, so that I almost sowned wythall. So the aungell that was come to talke wyth me, helde me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my fete.

And in the seconde nyghte it happened that Salathiel the captayne of the people came vnto me, sayinge: Where haste thou bene? & why is thy countenance so heauy? Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto the, in the lande of their captiuitie? Up then and eate, and forsake vs not as the shepheard that leaueth his flocke in the handes of wycked wolues. * Then sayde I vnto hym: So thy waye from me, and come not nye me: and he heard it, and as I sayde, so went he his waye from me. And so I fasted seuen daies, mournynge and weppynge, lyke as Uriell the Aungell commaunded me. And after seuen daies it happened, & the thoughtes of my herte were verie greuous vnto me agayne, and my soule receiued the spirite of vnderstandynge, and I beganne to talke wyth the mooste hyste agayne, and sayde: O Lorde, of euery woode of the earth and of all the trees thereof, thou haste chosen the one onely vyneyarde, and of all lardes of the whole worlde, thou hast chosen the one pytte: and of al the flowers of the grounde, thou haste chosen the one tylle: and of all the depes of the Sea, thou haste fylled the one cyuer: and of all builded Cityes, thou hast halowed Sion vnto thy selfe: and of all the fowles that are created, thou haste named the one Doue: and of al the cattell that are made, thou haste prouided the one shepe: and amonge all the multitudes of folkes, thou haste gotten & one people, and vnto this people whan thou louedest: thou gauest a lawe, that is proued of all.

And nowe O Lorde, whye hast thou geuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou haste prepared othre, and whye hast thou scattered the one onely people among many? whye ch treate them downe, yea whye haue euer wythstand thy promises, and neuer beleued thy couenauntes? And though thou wereste enemy vnto thy people, yet shouldst thou punyssh them wyth thine owne handes. Nowe when I had spoken these woordes the Aungell that came vnto me the nyght afore, was sente to me, and saide vnto me: Heare me, and herken vnto the thing that I say: and I shal tel the more. And I said: Speake on my Lorde.

Then sayde he vnto me: thou arte soore vexed and troubled for Israels sake. Louest thou that people better then hym * that made them? And I sayde: No Lorde, but of verie grieve and compassion haue I spoken. For my raynes pynne me euery he & made houre, bicause I woulde haue experience of the waye of the mooste hyste, and to seke oute part of his iudgement. And he sayde vnto me, that thou maist not. And I sayd, wherfore Lorde? Wherunto was I borne the? Or why was not my mothers chyldbedde then my graue? So had I not sene the miserie and trouble of Jacob, and the traualle of my people of Israel.

And he sayde vnto me: Numbze me the thynges that are not yet come: gather me togyther the droppes that are scattered abroad: make me the floures grene agayne that are wythered: open me the thyng that is closed: and bynne me forth the wyndes, that are shutte vpp: Shewe me the ymage of a voyce, and then shall I declare the & thynges that thou labourest to knowe. And I sayd: O Lorde, Lorde, who may know these thynges, but he that hath got his dwellinge with men? As for me, I am vnmpe: howe maye I then speake of these thynges wherof I askeste me? Then sayde he vnto me: lyke as thou canst doo none of these thynges that I haue spoken of, euen so canst thou not fynde oute my Iudgemente, or in the ende the loue that I haue promised vnto my people. And I sayde: Beholde O Lorde yet arte thou nye vnto them that haue no ende: * and what shall they doo that haue bene before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shal come after vs? And he sayde vnto me: I wyll liken my Iudgemente vnto a cyng. Lyke as there is no slackenelle of the laste, euen so is there no clypynesse of the fyrste. So I answered and sayde: Couldst thou not make those (that haue bene made, and that be nowe, and that are for to come) in one, that thou mightest shewe thy Iudgemente the soner? Then answered he me, and sayde: The creatures maye not haste about the maker, neither maye the worlde holde them at once, that shal be created.

And I saye, Howe haste thou sayde then vnto thy seruaunte, that thou lyuinge maker haste made the creature liuing at once and the creature bare it? euen so myghte it nowe also beare them that be presente, at once. And he sayde vnto me, Aske the chyldbedde of a woman, and say vnto hir: If thou bynngest forth the chyldren, why dost thou it not togyther, but one after another? I saye her therfore to bynne forth the ten chyldren at once. And I sayde she can not, but muste do it one after another.

Then sayde he vnto me: Euen so haue I geuen a chyldbedde vnto the earth, for those that be sowne vpon it by processe of tyme. For lyke as a ponge chyld maye not bynne forth the thynges that belonge to the aged, euen so haue I ordeyned & worlde whyche I made.

And I asked and sayde: Scynge thou haste nowe geuen me away, I wyl soeake before the, for oure mother of whome thou haste

That is amonge the handes of the whyche by cruelty are wolues.

Or rather the ende is at hande.

Or rather better then hast tolde me, is yet yonge, and nowe thee draweth nye vnto age. He aunswered me, and sayde: Aske a womanne that beareth children, and she shall tell the. Saye vnto her: wherfore are not they (whō thou hast now brought forth) like those that were before the, but lesse of stature? And she shall aunswere the. They that be borne in the youth of strength are of one fashion, & they that are borne in the tyme of age (whē the chyldebedde fayleth) are otherwyse.

Consider nowe thy selfe, howe that ye are lesse of stature, then those that were before you, and so are they that come after you, lesse then ye, as the creatures whych now begyn to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth. Then sayde I: Lorde I beseeche the, if I haue founde fauour in thy syght, shewe thy seruante by whom doest thou visite thy creature?

Or to whō wilt thou committe the ouersight of thy workman-shyppe.

The.vi. Chapter.

The aungell instructeth Eldras, & geueth hym aunswere to his questions.

And he saide vnto me: In the begynnynge when the Grounde was made, before y<sup>e</sup> world stode, or euer the wynde blew, before it thundered and lyghtened, or euer the foundations of Paradise were layed, before the fayre flowers were seene, or euer the mouable powers were stablyshed, before the innumerable multitude of aungelles were gathered toggyther, or euer the byghnesses of the ayre were lyfted vp, afore the measures of the firmamente were named, or euer the chymneys of Sion were hote, and or the presentepetes were sought oute, and or euer the inuentions of theym that now synne, were putte aside, before they were sealed that nowe gather sayeth for a treasure: the dyd I consider and ponder all these thynges, and they all were made thorow me, and thorow none other, by me also they are ended, and by none other. Then answered I, and sayde: whych shall be the partynge a sunder of the tymes? Or when shall be the ende of the syde, and the begynnynge of it that foloweth? And he sayde vnto me: Frome Abraham vnto Isaac, when Iacob and Esau were borne of hym, Iacobs hande held the syde the hele of Esau: for Esau is the ende of this world and Iacob is the begynnynge of it that foloweth. The hande of manne berthwyt the hele and the hād. Other question (Eldras) aske thou not.

Gen. xlv.c.

I aunswered and then sayde: O Lorde, LORD, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, I beseeche the shewe thy seruante the end of thi tokēs, wherof thou shewedst me parte the last nyght. So he aunswered and sayd vnto me: Stand vp vpon thy fete, and heare the persite voyce and sounde. There shall come a greate motion, but the place wher thou standest shall not be mooued. And therfore when thou hearest the wordes, be not afraid: for of the ende shall the worde, and fundation of the earthe be vnderstande. And whye? the worde therof trebleth and quaketh, for it knoweth that it must be chaunged at the ende. And it happened, that when I hadde hearde it, I stode vp vpon my feete, and herkened: and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it was like the sounde of many waters, and it sayde: Behoulde, the dayes come, that I will begynne to draw nie, and to viset the that dwel vpon earth, and will begynne to make inquisition of them what they be that haue hurte equity with vnyghtuousnes, and when the low estate of Sion shall be fulfilled: and when the worlde, that shall vanyshe awaye, shall be ouerseated, then wil I do these tokens.

The booke shall be opened before y<sup>e</sup> firmament, and they shall se altoggyther, and the chyliden of a peare olde shall speake with their voyces: the women with child shall bynge forth the vntymelye chyliden of thre or foure monethes olde, and they shall lyue and be raysed vp: and sodenly shall the sound places appeare as the vnsound, the full store houses shall sodenly be found empty, and the trumpet shall geue a sounde, whych when euerye manne heareth, they shall be hastily afrayed. At that tyme shall frendes syght one agaynste an other lyke enemyes, and the earthe shall stande in feare with them.

Math. ix. a.
Mar. vii. a

The springes of the welles shall stande styll, and in thre houres they shall not rine. Whosoener remaineth from al these thynges that I haue tolde the, shall escape, and se my saluation, & the end of your worlde.

* And the menne that are receyued, shall see it, they that haue not tasted death frome theyr byrthe: and the hert of the indwellers shall be chaunged, and turned into an other meanyng. For euill shall be put oute, and disceyte shall be quenched. As for sayeth, it shall flopye, corruption shall be overcome: and the truerth, whych hath bene so long wout fruite, shall be declared. And it happened when he talked with me, that I loked demurelye vpon hym, before whome I stode, and these wordes saide he vnto me: I am come to shew the, the tyme of the nyghte for to come.

Or healthy full worke.

If thou wylte praye yet more, and faste seven dayes agayne, I shall tell the more thynges, and greater then before: * for thy voyce is heard before the Hieste: for whych the myghy hath sene thy ryghtuous dealinge, he hath sene also thy chastite, whych thou hast hadde euer sence thy youth: and therfore hath he sente me to shewe the all these thynges, and to saye vnto the. Be of good conforte, and feare not, and haste not with the tymes that are past, to thinke vayne thynges, and make not hast * of the later tymes.

Whych I shall hear in the daye.

And it happened after this, that I wept agayne, and fasted seven dayes in like man-

Or by makinge haste thou go fro the remembrance of the latter times.

The.iii.boke of Edoas

ner, that I myght fulfyll the thre weekes which he told me. In the right night was my herte vexed within me agayne, and I began to speake before the hyest: for my spirite was greatly sette on fyre, & my soule was in distres, and saide: O LORD thou spakest vnto thy Creature from the begynnyng (euen the fyrst day) and saydest: *Let heauen and earth be made, and thy woorde was a perfecte worke. And then was there þ spirit, and darkenesse were yet on euery syde, and scilence: there was no mannes voyce as yet beside the. Then commaundedst thou a layre lyghte to come forth out of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare and be sene.

Upon the seconde daye thou madest the spirite of the firmamente, and commaundedst it to parte a sunder, and to make a diuision betwene the Waters, that the one parte myght remayne aboue, and the other beneth. Upon the thyrde daye thou broughtest to passe, that the waters were gathered in the seuench part of the earth. Syre partes hast thou dried vp, and kepte them, to the intente that men myght sowe and occupy husbandrye therein. As sone as thy woorde went forth, the worke was made. For immediatlye there was greete innumerable fruite, & manye diuerse pleasures and desires of temptation, and thys was done the thyrde daye.

Upon the fourth daye thou commaundedst that the sunne sholde geue hys shine, and the moone hys lyghte: the sterres byddeste thou set in order, and *gauest theim a charge to do seruice euen vnto man, that was for to be made. Upon the fyfte daye thou *saydest vnto the seuenth part (wher the waters were gathered) that thei shold bringe forth diuerse beastes, fowles, and fyshes. And so it came to passe, that the dombe waters, & without soule, broughte forth the lypynge beastes, at the commaundemente of GOD, that all people mighte prayse thy wonderous workes.

Thou didest thou preserue two soules, þ one thou calledst Enoch, and the other Leuiathan, and diddest separte the one frome the other: for the seuenth parte (namely, wher the water was gathered together) myght not holde them both. Vnto Enoch thou gauest one parte, whiche was dried vp the thyrde daye, that he shoulde dwell in the same parte, wherin are a thousande hylles. But vnto Leuiathan thou gaueste the seuenth parte namely the moyste, and haste kepte hym to deuoure what thou wylte and when. Upon the syxte day thou gaueste commaundemente vnto the earth, that before the it shold bringe forth beastes, cattell, and all that crepe, and besides thys, Adam also, whom thou madest Lord of all thy creatures.

Of him come we al, & the people also whō thou haste chosen, specially vnto thy selfe. All thys haue I said now, and spoken before the, that I myght shew how that the worlde is made for our sakes. As for the other people whych also come of Adam, thou haste saide that they are nothing, but be like a sperle, and hast likened the abundance of them vnto a droppe that fallith from the rouse of the house.

The.vii.Chapter.

And now O LORD, the Heathen whych haue euer bene reputed as nothinge, haue begunne to be Lordes ouer vs, and to deuour vs: but we thy people (whō thou hast called the first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy seruēt louers) are geue into their handes and power. If the worlde now be made for our sakes, wher haue we not the inheritaunce in possession wryth the worlde? Howe longe shall thys indure?

The.vii.Chapter

The aungel sheweth Edoas many thynges to come.

AND it happened after that I hadde spoken out these wordes, there was sent vnto me an aungell, whych had bene by me also the nyghtes before, and he sayde vnto me: Up Edoas, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell the. And I sayde: speake on LORDE my GOD. Then sayd he vnto me: The Sea is sette in a wyde place, that it myght be depe and greate, but þ entraunce is narrowe and small lyke a ruer. For who woulde go into the Sea, to looke and to rule it? If he wente not thorow the narrowe, howe myght he come into the broade?

Item an other: A Citie is buylded and sette vpon a brode fielde, and is full of all goodes: the entraunce is narrowe and so bayne, lyke as if there were a fire at the ryght hand, and a depe water at the lefte, and as it were ouelpe one straghte parhe betwixte them boeth, so small, that there coulde but one man go there.

If thys Citie now were geuen to an heyre, and he neuer wente thorow the perillouse waye, howe woulde he receyue his inheritaunce? And I sayde: It is so LORD. Then sayde he. Euen so is Israell also a porcion. And wher? for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thyng indged that was done. Then were the entraunces of the worlde made narrow, full of sorowe and trauayle: They are but few and euell, full of perilles and labour. For the entraunces of the fore worlde were wyde and sure, and broughte immortall fruite.

If they now which are entred into this world, may not comprehend these straghte and bayne thynges, muche lesse may they comprehend and understande the secreete thynges. Whye disquietest thou thy selfe then, seynge thou arte but a corruptible manne? And what wouldest thou knowe where as thou art but mortall? And why haste

Gene.i.a.

Exo.iii.5

Deu.iii.

Gene.i.c

am qd

am qd

am qd

am qd

haste thou not receyued into thyne herte the thyng that is for to come, but that is presente?

Deu. viii. B Then said I, O Lord Lord, thou hast ordeyned in thy lawe, * that the ryghtuous should inherite these thynges, but that the vnfaithfull and vngodly shoulde perishe. Neuerthelesse the ryghtuous shall suffer straughte thynges, and hope for wyde, for they that haue lyued vngodly and suffered straughte thynges, shal not se the wyde.

And he sayde vnto me: There is no Iudge aboue God, and none that hath vnderstandinge aboue the byeste. For there be manye that peryshe, bycause they despise the lawe of God that is set before them. For God hath geuen straughte comaundement to suche as come, that they knowe what they do, and howe they shoulde lyue: and if they kept thys they shold not be punished.

Neuerthelesse they were not obedient vnto hym, but spake agaynst hym, imagined vayne thynges, and purposed to synne, and sayd moreouer that ther was no god, and that God regarded them not. Hys wayes haue they not knownen, hys lawe haue they despised and denyed hys promyses: in hys statutes and ordinaunces haue they not bene faithful and stedfast, & haue not performed hys workes.

And therfore Eldras: vnto the ful, plenty: and to the emptye, emptines. Behold the tyme shal come that these tokens whiche I haue told the shal come to passe, and the byde shal appeare: and the earth that nowe passeth awaye shal be shewed, and whosoener is deliuered frome the euilles, shal se my wonders. For my sonne Iesus shal be openly declared, wyth those that be wyth hym: and they that remayne, shal be merry in foure hundred yeres.

After these same yeres shal my sonne Christe dye, and al men that haue life: and the worlde shal be turned into the olde silence. vii. dayes, lyke as in the fore iudgements, * so that no man shal remayne.

As ther was silence before the world was made.

And after seven dayes, the world that yet awaketh not, shal be raysed vp, and shal dye corrupte. And the earth shal restore those that haue slept in hyr, and so shal the duste those that dwell in silence, and the secrete places shal deliuer those that be committed vnto them.

And the moste byest shal be openly declared vpon the seate of iudgement, & all miserie shal vayne awaye, and longe sufferinge shal be gathered togyther. But the iudgement shal continue, the truth shal remaine and fayeth shal waxe stronge, the worcke shal solowe, and the reward shal be shewed, the ryghtuousnesse shal marche, and the vnyghtuousnesse shal beare no rule.

Gene. ix.

Exo. xxxii.

Then sayde I: Abraham prayed for the Sodomites, and Moses * for the fathers that synned in the wilderness, and he that came after hym for Israell, in the tyme of Ahas and Samuell: and David

* for the destruction, and Salomon for the that came into the Sanctuarie, and Helias * for those that receyued rayne, and for the deade, that be myghte lyue: and Elias for the * people in the tyme of Senacherib: and diuerse other in like maner, whiche haue prayed for manye.

ii. Re. xii. c.
ii. Par. vi. c.
iii. re. x. vii. a Jaco. v.
iii. re. xviii

Euen so nowe synne the corrupte is growen vp, and wyckednes increased, and the ryghtuous haue prayed for the vngodly, wherfore shal it not be so now also?

He answered me, and sayd: Thys presente worlde is not the ende, there remaineth muche honoure in it, therfore haue they prayed for the weake. But the daye of dome shal be the ende of thys tyme, and the begynnyng of the immortallitie for to come, wherein all corruption vanysheth, all voluptuousnes is lowed, all misbelieve taken awaye, ryghtuousnes growen, and the veritye spronge vp. Then shal no man be able to saue hym that is destroyed, nor to oppresse hym that hath gotten the victorie. I answered then, and sayd.

Thys is my fyrste and laste sayinge: that it hadde ben better, not to haue geuen the earth vnto Adam, or else when it was geuen hym, to kepe hym that he shoulde not synne. For what profite is it for men now in thys presente tyme to lyue in beauienes, and after deathe to loke for punishment? O thou Adam, what haste thou done? For thouge * it was thou that synned, thou art not fallen alone, but wee all that come of the. Rom. 6.

For what profyte is it vnto vs, if there be promised vs an immortall tyme where as wee medle wyth deadele workes? and that there is promised vs an euerlastyng hope, where as we our selues are euill and vayne? and that there are layde vp for vs dwelllynges of healte and freedom, where as wee haue lyued euill: and that the worthyp of the byest is kepte to defende them whiche haue led a patient lyfe, where as wee haue walked in the moste wycked wayes of all? And that ther shal be shewed a Paradise, whose fruit endureth for euer, where is freedom & medycyne, where as wee shal not goo in: for we haue walked in vnplesaunte places: And that the faces of them whiche haue abstayned, shal shyne aboue the starres, wher as our faces shal be blacke & darke? For whyle wee lyued and dyd vnyghtuouslye, we considered not that we shoulde suffer therfore after deathe.

Then answered he me and sayd: This is the consideration and thoughte of the battaile whych man hath vpon the earth: that if he be ouercome, he shal suffer as thou haste sayde. But if he get the victory he shal receyue the thyng that I say. For thys is the lyfe wherof Moses spake vnto the people sayinge: * Those the lyfe that thou mayste lyue. Neuerthelesse they beleued hym not: neyther the Prophetes after hym. No nor me whiche haue spoken

Deu. xxx. d.

Ken

The.iiii.boke of Ecdias

ken vnto them, that heauines shoulde not reache vnto them so theyr destruction, like as ioye is for to come ouer those that haue suffered theyn selues to be infortuned in saluation.

I answered then and sayde: I knowe Lorde, that the byeste is mercifull, in that he hath mercy vpon them whyche are not yet in the worlde, and vpon those also that walke in hys lawe, and that he is patient *and longe sufferinge towarde those that haue sinned in their worckes: and that he is liberall to geue where as it requirerh: and that he is of greate mercy, for he multiplieth hys lounge kyndenesse toward those that are presente, and that are paste, and to them whyche are for to come.

For if he multiplie not hys mercyes, the worlde shal not be made lounge, with those that dwell therein: He geueth also, for if he gaue not of his goodnes that they whych haue done euil, might be eased, &c. thousande parte of menne shoulde not be made lounge. And if the Judge forgaue not those that be healed wth hys worde, and if he woulde destroe the multitude that stryue, there shoulde be verpe fewe lefte in an innumerable multitude.

The.viii.Chapter.

Ecdias praiceth GOD rather to loke vpo hys owne Mercy, then on the synnes of the people.

And he answered me, saynge: The mooste byeste made thys world for manie, but the world to come for fewe. I wyll tell the a similitude, Ecdias: As when thou askest the earth, it shal saye vnto the, that it geueth muche mould, whereof earthen vessels are made, but little of it that goulde cometh of: Euen so is it with the worke of thys worlde. * There be many created, but fewe shal be preserued. Then answered I, and sayde: Then swalowe by the wytt (thou soule) and deuoute the vnderstandynge, for thou arte agreed to herken and to geue eare, and wyllynge to prophesye: for thou haste no longer space geuen the, but onely to lye. O Lorde, wilt thou not geue thy seruante leue, that we may praye before the: and that thou mayeste geue sede vnto our herte, and bylde oure vnderstandynge, that there maye come fruyte of it, and that euerye one whych is corrupte, and beareth the state and place of a man, may lye?

For thou arte alone, and wee all are one workmanship of thy handes, like as thou hast said, and like as the body is fashioned nothe in the chyldesbed, and thou geueste the membres, and thy Creature is preserued in fyre and water: and. fr. monethes doth thy worke suffer thy creature, whych is fashioned in hys: but the thyng that preserueth, and is that is preserued shal

The.viii.Chapter.

boeth be kepte togyther: and when tyme is, the chyldesbed deliuereth the thyng that is kepte and growen in her.

For thou hast commaunded the byestes to geue mylke vnto the frute, that þ thing which is created and fashioned, maye be nourished for a tyme: and then thou despoilest and orderest it wth thy mercy, byngeste it vpon wth thy ryghtuousnes, nurturste it in thy lawe, and resourmest it with thy vnderstandynge, mortifieste it as thy Creature, and makeste it lounge as thy worcke.

Seynge then that thou doeste destroe him, whyche wth so greate laboures is created and fashioned thowoe thy commaundement, thou couldeste lyghthe or depue also, that the thyng which is made myghte be preserued.

And this I speake nowe of all menne in general, as thou knowest: but of thy people, for whose sake I am soye: and of thy inheritance for whose cause I mourne: and of Israell, for whome I am wofull: and for Iacob, for whose sake I am grieved: therefore begynne I to praye before the for my selfe and for theyn, for I see the fal of vs, euen of vs that dwell vpon earth. But I haue berde þ swyftnes of the iudge whych is to come: therefore heare my voice and vnderstande my wordes, * and I shal speake before the.

This is the beginning of the wordes of Ecdias, before he was receyued: O Lorde, thou þ dwellest in euerlastyngnes, whose eyes are lyft vp in the ayre, whose stole is excedding hye, whose glorie & maiesty may not be comprehended, before whome the hostes of heauen stande with tremblynge, whose keepynge is turned in wynd and fire, whose worde is true, whose talkynge is stedfast, whose commaundement is stronge, whose ordinaunce is fearefull, whose loken drieth vp the depthes, whose warthe maketh the mountaynes to melte away, and whose trouth beareth wytnes: O hear the prayer of thy seruante, and marke wth thyne eares the petition of thy creature.

For whyle I lye I wyll speake, and so longe as I haue vnderstandynge, I wyll answer. O looke not vpon the synnes of thy people, whyche serue the in the truth. Haue no respecte vnto the wycked studies of the Heathen, but to the desyre of those that kepe thy testimonies wth sorowes. Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before the, but vpon them whych wth wyll haue knownen thy feare.

Let it not be thy will to destroe them, whyche haue hadde beastly maners, but to loke vpon them that haue clearly taught thy lawe. Take thou no indignation at theyn, whyche are worse then Beastes: but loue theyn that alwayes putte theyr truste in thy rightuousnes and glorie: for we and our fathers haue al the same sicknesses and disaile, but because of our synnes thou

Rom.ii.a

O rather whyche I
shal speake.
Rom.xii.d.

Mat. xx b
and. xii. b.

thou shalt be called mercifull.

For if thou hast mercede vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull, wher as we haue no workes of righteousness: for the righteous which haue layed by many good workes together, shall out of their dedes receiue reward. For what is man, & thou shouldest take displeasure at hym? Or what is the corruptible mortall generation, that thou shouldest be so rough towards hym?

iii. re. viii. a For of a truth there is no man amonge them that be borne, but he hath delt wickedlye, and amonge the fawtfull there is none whiche hath not done amysse.

For in this (O Lorde) thy righteousness and thy goodnes shall be praysed and declared, if thou be merciful vnto them, which are not riche in good workes.

Then answered he me & sayde: Some thynges haste thou spoken a righte, and accordynge vnto thy wordes it shall be.

For I will not verely consydre the workes of them, whiche haue synned before deathe, before the iudgemente, before de-

Gene. iiii. a struction, but I will reioyce & ouer the worke and thoughte of the righteous. I will remembre also the pylgrymage, the holy makinge and the rewarde. Lyke as I haue spoken now, so shall it come to passe. For as the husbnde man soweth muche seede vpon the grounde, and planteth many trees, and yet al way the thing that is sowne or planted, is not all kepte safe, neither dothe it all take roote: Euen so is it of them that are sowne in the worlde, they shall not all be preserued.

Mat. xx. c. I answered then and sayde. If I haue founde grace, then let me speake. Lyke as the husbnde mans seade perissheth, if it receiue not rayne in due season, or if there come to muche rayne vpon it: Euen so perissheth man also, whiche is created with thy handes, and is lyke vnto thyne owne ymage & to thy selfe, for whose sake thou hast made al thynges, and lykened him vnto the husbnde mans seade. Be not wroth at vs, O Lorde, but spare thy people and haue mercede vpon thyne owne inheritaunce: O be merciful vnto thy creature.

Then answered he me and said: Thynges present are for the present, & thynges to come, for suche as be to come. For thou wantest yet muche. Seynge thou mayest loue my creature aboue me: I haue ofte tymes drawen nye vnto the, but neuer to the vnrightheous. In this also thou art maruelous before the Highest, in that thou haste humbled thy selfe, as it be cometh the, and haste not regarded thyne owne selfe, that thou art had in such honour amonge the righteous. Therefore shall great wretchednes and misery come vpon them, that in the latter tyme shall dwell in the worlde, for they haue walked in great pryde.

But vnderstand thou for thy selfe, and seke out glozy for suche as be like the: for butts you is paradysse opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnes made ready: a cytle is builded for you, & a rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnes and wisdom. A yercote of euell is marked from you, the weaknes and moche is byd from you, and in to hellieth corruption in forgetfulness. Sorowes are vanished away, and in the end is shewed the treasure of immortallite. And therefore aske thou no more questions concernynge the multitude of them that perishe. For they haue taken libertie, despyed the Highest thoughte scorn of his lawe, and forsaken his wayes.

Moreover, they haue troden doune his righteousness, and sayde in theyr herte: that there is no God, yea and that wyttyngly, for they dye. For lyke as the thyng that I haue spoken of, is made redye for you: Euen so is thyrt and payne prepared for them. For it was not his will that man shoulde come to naught: but they whiche be created haue despyed the name of hym that made them, and are vntthankful vnto hym, which prepared yse for them. And therefore is my iudgement now at hand. These thynges haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namelye vnto the, and to such as be lyke the.

Then answered I and sayde: Beholde O Lorde, nowe hast thou shewed me the multitude of the tokens, whiche thou wylte begyn to do at the last, but at what time and when, thou haste not shewed me.

The.ix. Chapter.

Eldras hath visions shewed vnto hym.

I answered me then and sayde: Measure thou the time diligently in it selfe, when thou seyst that one parte of the tokens come to passe, which I haue tolde the before: so shalt thou vnderstand, & it is the very same tyme, whereto thou wilt begynne to vnter the worlde, whiche he made. And when there shall be sene earthquake and vproare of the people in the worlde, then shalt thou vnderstand, that thou most hest spake of those thynges, from the dayes that were before the, euen from the begynnynge.

For lyke as al is made in the worlde, hath a begynnynge and ende, and the ende is manifest: Euen so the tymes also of the highest haue playne begynnynge in wordes and signes, and the end, in workynge and in tokens. And euery one shall be saved, and shall be able to escape by his workes, and by fapth, wherby he haue beleued, shall he preserued from the layed perils, and shall see my sauour in my land and wythyn my borders, for I haue halowed me from the worlde.

When shall they be in carefulnesse whiche now haue abused my wayes: and they shall haue cast them out despytfully, shall dwell in paynes.

Act. i. For

The.iiii.boke of Elodas

For suche as in their lyfe haue receyued benefytes, and haue not knowen me; and they that haue abhorred my lawe, whyle they had yet freedom, and when they had yet open towne of amendement and conuersion, and vnderstode not, but despised it: thesame muste knowe it after death in payne. And therfore be thou no more carefull; howe the vngodlye shalbe punished, and howe the righteous shalbe saved, and whose the worlde is, and for whos the worlde, and when it is. Then answered I and sayde: * I haue talked before, and nowe I speake, and will speake also hereafter, that there be many moo of the whiche perishe, then shalbe saved, lyke as the floudde is greater then the droppes.

And he answered me, sayinge: lyke as the feld is, so is also y<sup>e</sup> sede: as the floures be, so are the colours also: such as the workeman is, suche is also the worke: and as the housbande man is hym selfe, so is his housbandy<sup>e</sup> also, for it was the tyme of the worlde. And when I prepared for them that are nowe, or euer the worlde was made, wherein they shoulde dweli, then was there no man that withstode me. * Nowe when euery one was, and the maker also in the worlde whiche is nowe prepared, and the moneth that ceaseth not, and the lawe whiche is vnsearcheable, their maners were corrupte. So I considered the worlde, and beholde there was pacell, because of the thoughtes that were come into it. And I sawe and spared them greatly, and haue kept me a winebery of the grapes, and a plant from amonge manye generations. Let the multitude perishe then whiche are growen vp in payne, and lette my grape and wynebery be kepte euen my plante: for with greate labour haue I made it vp.

Neuertheles if thou wilt take vpon the yet seuen dayes moo (but thou shalte not faste in them) goo thy waye then into the fiede of floures, where no house is buylded, and eate onelye of the floures of the fiede, taste not fleshe, dryncke no wyne, but eate floures onelye. Drape vnto the Byest continuallye, so wyl I come, and talke with the.

So I wente my waye and came into the fiede which is called Ardath (lyke as he commaunded me) and there I sat among the floures, and eate of the herbes of the fiede, and the meate of thesame satisfied me. After seuen dayes I sat vpon the grasse, and my harre was vered with in me lyke as afore: & I opened my mouth and beganne to talke before the Byest, & sayde: * O Lorde, thou that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thy selfe vnto oure fathers in the wyldernes, in a place wher no man dwileth, in a baren place, when they came oute of Egypte. & thou spakest, saying: Heare me O Israel, and marke my wordes thou sede of Jacob. Behold I sowe my lawe in you, and it shall bringe frute in you, and ye shalbe honoured in it for euer. For our fathers which receyued the lawe, kept it not, and obserued not thy ordinaunces & statutes, & the frute of thy lawe was not declared: for it myghte not, for why? it was thine. * For they that receyued it, perisshed because they kept not the thyng that was sowed in them.

The.ix.Chapter.

It is a custome when the grounde receyuerth seede, or the sea a shippe, or a vessel meate and dryncke, that when it perissheth or is broken wherin a thyng is sowed, or wherin any thyng is put: the thynges also perishe and are broken, which are sowed or put therein. But vnto vs it hath not happened so: for we that haue receyued the lawe, perishe in synne, and oure harte which also receyued the lawe: not wth standynge the lawe perissheth not, but remaineth in his labour.

And when I considered these thynges in my herte after thys maner, I looked aboute me wth myne eyes, and vpon the right side I sawe a womā, which mourned sore, made greate lamentacion, and wepte with a loude voyce: her clothes were rente in pices, and she hadde ashes vpon her heade.

Then let I my thoughtes go, that I was in, and turned vnto her and sayde: wherfore wepest thou? why art thou so sorow and discomforted? And she sayde vnto me: Syr, lette me bewaile my selfe & take yet more sorowe: for I am sore vered in my minde, and brought very lowe. And I sayde vnto her: what ayleth the? Or who hath done any thyng to the? tel me. She sayd: I haue bene vnfertile and barren and haue had an housbande. xxx. yeres. And these xxx. yeres I do nothing els day and nyght & all houtes, but make my prayer to the byest. After xxx. yeres God hearde me thy handmayden, looked vpon my miserie, considered my trouble, and gaue me a sonne, and I was glad of hym, so was my housbande also, and all my neyghbours, and we gaue greate honour vnto the mightie. And I nourished hym wth greate trauayle. So when he grew vp and came to the tyme, he shoulde haue a wyfe, I made a feast.

The.x.Chapter.

Elodas and the woman that appeareth vnto hym continen together.

And it happened that when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell doune, and dyed: then ouerbrewe we all the lyghres, and all my neyghbours rose vp to comfort me. Then toke I my rest vnto the second daye at nyght: and when they had all rested, that they myghte conforte me: I rested also, and rose vp by nyght, and fled, and am come hyther into thys fiede, as thou iii. Elod.

viii. a Math. xx. c

Or rather,
but now in this worlde
his made,
the maners
of them that
be created,
is corrupted
as it were
with a corrupt seede:
lawe that can not be broken.

Exo. xxi. d.
and. xxi. a
Deu. xxi. b

Exo. xxi. f

Exa. xxi. a
ii. Tim. ii. a

iii. Elod. xv.

as thou seest: & am purposed not to come in the cytte, but to remayne here, and neither to eate nor drynke, but continually to mourne and to fast, vntill I dye.

Then let I my meditations and thoughtes fal, that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure: Thou fooly woman, seeste thou not our heuines and mounyng, and what happeneth vnto vs: howe Syon our mother is all wofull and sorow, and howe she is cleane brought doune and in misery: seynge we be all now in heuines, and make our mone (for we be all sorowfull,) As for the heuines that thou takest, it is but for one sonne. Demaund þe earth and she shall tell the, that it is she whiche ought (by reason) to mourne, for the fall of so manie that growe vpon her.

For from the beginnyng all men are bozne of her, and other shall come: and be holde, they walke almost al in the destruction, and many of them shall be rored out.

Who should the by reason make more mourning the she that hath lost so great a multitude: and not thou, whiche art sorrie but for one. But yf thou wouldest sape vnto me: My mounyng is not lyke the mourning of the earth, for I haue lost the fruite of my bodie, which I bare with heuines: but the earth is accordyng to the maner of the earth, and the present multitude goth agayne into her, as it is come to passe: Then sape I vnto thee: lyke as thou hast bozne wyth trauayll and sorow, euen so the earth also fro the beginnyng geueth her fruite vnto man, for hym that made her. * And therefore wythhold thy sorowe and heuines by thy selfe, and looke what happeneth vnto the, beare it strongely. For yf thou iudgeth the marke and end of God to be ryghteous and good, and receyuest his counsaile in tyme, thou shalt be commended therein. So thy way then into the cite to thy housband.

B And she sayde vnto me: that wyl I not do, I wyl not go into the cite, but here wyl I dye. So I commened more with her, and sayd: Do not so, but be counsailed, and folowe me: for howe many falles hath Syon? Be of good comforte because of the sorow of Hierusalem. For thou seest that our Sanctuary is layed waste, oure aulter broken, oure temple destroyed, oure playnge of instrumentes and syngynge layed doune, the thankesgeyng put to silence, oure myght is vanyshed away, the lyghte of oure candellpycke is quenched, the Arcke of the couenaunte is taken from vs, all oure holy thynges are despyled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is dishonoured: oure chyldren are put to shame, oure priestes are brente, oure Levites are carped awaye into captiuitie, oure vyrgines are despyled, and oure wyues rauished, oure righteous men spoyled, and oure chyldren destroyed, oure yonge men are broughte in bondage, and oure strong worshyes are become weake: and Syon (which seale is the greates of all) is lewised by from her worshyppe: for she is deliuered into the handes of the that hate vs.

And therefore shake of thy greate heuines, and put awaye the multitude of sorowes: that the myghti maye be merciful vnto the, and that the best maye geue the reste from thy labour and trauayle. And it happened that whē I was talking wyth her, her face dyd shyne and glyster, so that I was afrayed of her, and mused what it myghte be. And immediatly she caste out a greate voyce, very fearfull, so that the earthe shoke at the noyse of the woman: and I looked, and beheld the woman appeted vnto me no more: but there was a cytte buyled, and a place was hewed from the ground and foundation.

Then was I afrayed, and cryed with loude voyce, and sayde: where is the Angell, whiche came to me at the fyrste? * For he hath caused me to come in many considerations and lye thoughtes, and myne ende is turned too corruption, and my prayer to rebuke. And as I was speakynge these wordes, he came vnto me, and looked vpon me, and I sape as one that had bene dead, and myne vnderstandynge was altered, and he toke me by the ryght hande, and comforted me, and set me vpon my fete, and sayde vnto me: what ayleth the? and why is thyne vnderstandynge vered, and the vnderstandynge of thy verte? and wherfore art thou sorrie? And I sayd: Because thou hast forsaken me: * and I haue done accordyng vnto thy wordes. I went into the feld, & there haue I sene thynges, þ I am not able to expres. He sayd vnto me: Stande vp and be manly, and I shal geue thee exhortacion.

Then sayed I: Speake on to me my Lord, forsake me not, lest I die in waite, for I haue sene that I knewe not, and hearde that I do not knowe. Or shall my vnderstanding be desceiued, and my mind? But nowe I beseeche the, that thou wylt shewe thy seruante of thys wonder. He answered me then and sayed: heare me, and I shal enfortme the, and tel þ wherfore thou arte afrayed, for the best hath opened many secret thynges vnto the.

He hath sene that thy waie is ryghte, and that thou tokest sorowe continually for thy people, and makest greate lamentacion for Syon: and therefore vnderstand the vysion which thou sawest a litle while ago after thys maner: Thou sawest a woman mounyng, and thou hast comforted her: neuertheles now seest thou the lykenes of the woman no more, but thou thoughtest there was a cytte buyled: and lyke as she tolde the of the fall of her sonne, so is this the answer.

The woman whome thou sawest, is Syon: and where as she tolde the, that she hath bene thyne peares vnscryptful and baren, those are the. ccc. peares, wherein there was no offering made in her.

But after. ccc. peares, Salomō builded her, and offered, and then bare the baren a sonne. And to here as he told the that he noryshed hym with labour, that was that dwelling of Hierusalem. But where as the sonne dyed in her chamber, that is the fall of Hierusalem. And thou sawest her sickness, how she mourneth for her sonne: & what els happened vnto her, I haue shewed thee. And now God seeth that thou arte sorie in thy mynde, and sufferest from thy hart for her, and so hath he shewed the her clearnes, and the fairness of her bewtye.

And therefore I had the remaine in the feld, wher no house is buylded. For I knewe that the best would shew this vnto the, therefore I commaunded the to go into the feld, where no foundacio nor buylding is. For in the place where the best wold helpe his cite, there shalbe no mans buyldinge. And therefore feare not, and let not thyne hearte bee afrayed, but go thy way in, and se the glorious and fayre buyldinge, and how greate it is, and how great thou thinkest it after the measure of thyne eyes, and then shalt thou heare as muche as thyne eares maye comprehend. For thou arte blessed aboue many other, and art called with the best, as the fewe. But to morowe at night thou shalt remayne here, and so shall the best shew the visions of by thynges, which he wold downto them that dwell vpon yearth in the last dayes. So I slepte & same night lyke as he commaunded me.

The.xi.Chapter.

In this chapter and in the.ii. next ensuing, he entreateth of certayne visions & of the interpretations thereof.

When sawe I a dreame: and beholde, there came vp frome the sea an Aegle, which had twelue wynges and thre heades. And I saw, and behold, he spred his wynges ouer all the earth, and all the wyndes of the ayre blew in them, and so they were put together agayne. And I behelde, and out of his fethers there grew other lytle contrarie fethers, the heades rested, the head in the myddest was greater then the other, yet rested it with the residue.

Moreover I sawe that the Aegle flew with his wynges, and reigned vpon earth, and ouer all them that dwell vpon the earth: and I sawe that all thinges vnder heauen were subiecte vnto hym, and no man spake against him no not one creature vpon earth. I sawe also that the Aegle rode vpon vpon his clawes, & gaue a sound with his fethers, & a voyce saynge after this maner: watche not altogether, lepe euery man in his owne place, and watch for a tyme, but let the heades be preserued at the laste. Neuerthelesse I sawe that the voyce went not out of his heades, but fro the myddest of his body. And I numbred his contrarie fethers, & beholde, they were eyght of them. And I looked, and beholde vpon the righte side there arose one fether, and reigned ouer all the earth. And it happened that when it rained, the ende of it came, & the place thereof appeared no more.

So the nexte folowynge stode vp, and raygned and had a greate tyme: and it happened that when it raygned, the ende of it came also, lyke as the fyrste, so that it appeared no more.

Then came there a voyce vnto it, and sayde: Heare thou that haste kepte in the yearth so longe, this I saye vnto the: before thou begynnest to appeare no more, there shall none after the attorne vnto thy tyme. Then arose the thyrde, and raygned as the other afore, and appeared no more also. So went it with all the residue one after a nother, so that euery one raygned, and then appered no more. Then I looked, and beholde, in processe of tyme the fethers that folowed were set vp vpon the righte syde, that they myghte rule also: and some of the ruled, but within a whyle they appeared nomore: for some of them were sette vp, but ruled not. After this I looked, and beholde the. vii. fethers appeared nomore, and the two wynges: and there was nomore vpon the Aegles body, but. ii. heades that rested, and sixe fethers. Then sawe I also that the sixe fethers were parted in two, and remayned vnder the head that was vpon the right side, for the four continued in their place. So I looked, and beholde, they that were vnder the wynges, thought to set vp themselves, and to haue the rule. Then was there one sette vp, but shortly it appeared nomore, and the seconde was sooner awaye then the first. And I beheld, & lo the two thought also by themselves to raygne: and when they so thought, beholde there waked one of the heades that were at rest, namely it that was in the myddest: for that was the greater of the two heades. * And then greater, I sawe that the two heades were fylled then two with hym, and the heade was turned with them that were by hym, and eate vpon the two vnder wynges, that would haue raygned.

But this heade put the whole yearth in feare, and bare rule in it, ouer all those that dwell vpon yearth with muche labour: and he had the gouernance of the world, ouer all the foules that haue bene. After this I looked, and beholde, the head that was in the myddest, suddenly appeared no more, lyke as the wynges: then came the two heades, which ruled vpon earth and ouer those that dwell therein. And I behelde, and lo, the head vpon the right side deuoured it that was vpon the left side.

And

And I heard a voyce, which said vnto me: loke before the, and consider the thyng thou seist. Then I sawe, and behold as it were a lyon that roreth, rennyng hastely out of the wood, and he sent out a mannes voyce vnto the Eagle, and sayde: Heare thou, I wyll talke wpth the, and the Byeste shall say vnto the: Is it not thou that haste the victory of the four beastes whom I made to raygne vpon earth and in my worlde, and that the ende of their tymes myghte come thowme them?

And the four the came, and ouerwun all the beastes that were past, and had powe et ouer the world wpth great fearfulness, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth, wpth the mooste wycked laboure, and so longe tyme dwelt he vpon the earth wpth discreete: and the earth haste thou iudged not wpth tructh. For thou haste troubled the mecke, thou haste hurte the peaceable and quiet, thou haste loued Lysars, and destroyed þ dwellinges of the that broughte forth fruite, and hast caste downe the walles of such as dyd the no harme. Therefore is thy wrongeous dealing and blasphemie come vnto the Byeste, and thy pryde vnto the myghtye. The Byeste also hath looked vpon the proude tymes, and beholde they are ended, and theyr abominacions are fulfilled. And therefore appeare no more thou Eagle, and thy horrible wynges, and thy wycked fethers, and thy vngacious heades, and thy synful clawes, and al thy vayne body: that the earth may be refreshed and come agayne to hyr selfe, when shee is deliuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgemente and mercy of hym that made hir.

The.xii. Chapter.

AND it happened when the Lyon spake these wordes vnto the Eagle. I sawe, and beholde, the beade that afore had the vpper hande, appeared no more: neyther dyd the four wynges appeare anye more þ came vnto hym, and were sette vpper to raygne: and their kyngdome was small and ful of vproure. And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more: and the whole bodye of the Eagle was brente, and the earth was in greate feare. Then awaked I out of the traunce of my mynd, and from great fear, and sayde to my spirite: Lo, thus hast thou geue me, in that thou searcest out þ wayes of the Byeste: loe, yet am I weake in my mynd, and very weake in my spirit, and little strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receyued thys night. Therefore wol I now beseech the Byeste, that he wil confort me vnto the ende: and I said, Lord, Lord, if I haue founde grace before thy syght, and if I am iustified wpth the before manye other, and if my prayer be come vnto thy face, confort me the, and shewe me, thy seruaunt, the interpretation and plaine difference of thys horrible sight, that thou maist perfectpe comforte my Soule: for thou haste iudged me wroth to shewe me the last of tymes.

And he sayde vnto me: this is the interpretation of thys syght. The Eagle whom thou sawest come vp from the Sea, is the kyngedome whych was sene in the vision of thy brother Daniell, but it was not expounded vnto hym, for now I declare it vnto the. Beholde, the dayes come, that there shall rise vp a kyngedome vpon earth and it shall be feared aboue all the kyngedomes that were before it. In the same kyngedomes shall twelue kynges raigne one after another. For the seconde shall begyne to raygne, and shall haue more time then the other, and thys do the .xii. wynges signifie, whych thou sawest. As for the voyce that spake, and that thou sawest go out fro the heades, but not from the body, it betokeneth, that after the tyme of that kyngedome, there shall arise greate stryppes, and it shall stande in perill of fallynge: neuertheles it shall not yet fall, but shall be set into hys begynnynge. And the ryghte underwings whiche thou sawest hange vnto the wynges of hym, betoken that in him there shall arise eyght kynges, whose tyme shall be but small, and theyr yerres swift, and two of them shall beare. But when the middle tyme cometh, there shall be four kept in the tyme, wher his tyme be gynneth to come, that it may be ended, but two shall be kepte vnto the ende.

And where as thou sawest three heades vestynge, this is the interpretation: In his last shall the beste raise vp three kyngedomes, and call manye agayne into theim, and they shall haue the dominion of the earth, and of those that dwell therein, wpth much labour aboue all those that were before theim. Therefore are they called the heades of the Eagle: for it is they that shall bring forth his wickednes agayne, & þ shall perfourme and finiþ his laste. And where as thou sawest, that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall dye vpon his bed, and yet with paine, for the two that remaine shall be stayne w the swerde. For the swerd of the one shall deuoure the other, but at the laste shall he fall thowme the swerd himselfe.

And where as thou sawest two underwings vnder the head that is on the ryghte side, it signifieth that it is they, whom the Byeste hath kepte vnto the end: this is a small kyngdome, & ful of trouble. The Lion whom thou sawest rising vp out of the woode, and coaringe, and speakynge vnto the Eagle, and rebukynge hym for hys vnghtynousnesse, is the wynde whych the Byeste hath kepte for theim, and for thei wickednesse vnto the ende: he shall reprove theim, and reue theim a sunder before theim. For he shall sette theim lounge before the iudgemente, and shall rebuke them.

Dan. vii.

Or rather, Gal perpe.

theim: for the residue of my people shall be deliuered wth trouble, those that be preserved ouer myne endes: and he shall make them ioyful vntill the comming of the day of iudgemente, wherof I haue spoken vnto the from the begynnyng. This is the dreame that thou sawest, and this is the interpretation. Thou only haste ben meere to know the secretes of the hyst.

Therefore wyte all these thynges that thou haste sene in a boke, and hyde theim, and teache theim the wylle of the people, whose vertes thou knowest maye comprehend and keepe these secretes. But wayte thou here thy selfe yet seven dayes moore, that it maye be shewed the, whatsoeuer pleaseth the hyste to declare vnto the, and wth that he wente his waye.

D And when all the people perceyued that the seven dayes were past, and I not come agayne into the cite, they gathered them al together from the leaste vnto the mooste, and came vnto me, and sayde: what haue we offended the, and what euill haue wee done agaynst the, that thou forsakest vs, & syttest here in this place? For of all people thou onely arte lefte vs as a grape of the vyne, and as a candell in a darcke place, and as an haueu and shyp preserved from the tempeste. Haue we not els aduersitye inoughe, but thou muste forsake vs? Were it not better for vs, that wee hadde bene brennt wth Sion? For we are no better then they that dyed there: and they wepte wth loud voyce. Then answered I them, and sayde: Be of good conforste O Israel, and be not heauy thou house of Iacob: for the hyste hath you in remembraunce, and the myghtye hath not forgotten you, in temptation. As for me, I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come vnto this place to praye, because of þe misery of Irael, that I might seeke Mercye for the lowe estate of youre Sanctuarie. And now goe youre waye home euery manne, and after these dayes wyl I come vnto you. So the people went their waye into the cite, lyke as I commaunded theim: but I remayned styll in the field seven dayes, as the Angell bade me, and I ate onely of the floures of the feldes, and hadde my meate of the herbes in those dayes.

Or rather
not moze
fortunate.

The.iii. Chapter.

A And it happened after þe seven dayes, that I dreamed a dreame bi night. And behold there arose a wynde from the Sea that it moued all the flowdes therof. And I looked, and beholde, the man was stronge and increased wth the cloudes of heauen: * and when he turned his countenance to consider, all the thynges trembled that were scene vnder hym: and when the voyce wente out of his mouthe, all they brennt that heard him, lyke as the

Or rather it became a man, wth thousandes
of heauen.

earth when it seeth the fyre.

After these I sawe, and beholde: there was gathered together a multitude of me oute of numbre, from the four wyndes of the heauen, to syt agaynst the man, that came oute from the sea. And I looked, and beholde, he graued hym selfe a greete mountayne & flew vpon vpon it. But I woulde haue sene the border or place, wherout he cut oute. hyl was grauen, and I coulde not.

I sawe after this, that all they whiche came to fight agaynst him, wer sore afraid, and yet durste they fyght. Neuertheles when he saw the fearcenes and violence of the people, he neither lyst vpon his hand nor helde swerde nor any weapon: but onely (as I sawe) he sent out of his mouthe as it had bene a blaste of fyre, and oute of his lippes the wynde of the flame, & out of his tonge he caste oute sparckes and stormes, and they were al myxt together: the blaste of fyre, the wynde of the flames, and the greete storme, and fell wth a rushe vpon the people, whych was prepared to fight, and brennt theim by euerychone: so that of the innumerable multitude there was nothing sene but onely dust & smoke. Wher I sawe this, I was afrayed.

Afterwarde sawe I the same man come downe from the mountayne, and callynge vnto hym an order peaceable people: and there came muche people vnto hym: some were glad, some were sorre, some of theim were bounde, * so that they were carped. Then was I sycke thorow greate feare, and I awaked, and sayde: thou hast shewed thy Seruaunte all thy wonders from the begynnyng, and hast counted me wor: thy, that thou myghtest receyue my praye: shewe me now yet the interpretation of this dreame. For thus I consider in my vnderstandynge: Wo vnto theim that shall * be lefte in those dayes: and muche more woe vnto theim that are not lefte behynde: for they that were not lefte, were in heauines.

Or rather
some other bryngyng
men that were sacr:
ficed or offe red vpon.

What shall be a lyue.
What is that be dead

Nowe vnderstande I the thynges that are layed vpon in the latter dayes, whych shall happen vnto them, and to those that are not lefte behynde. Therefore are they come into greate perylls, and manye necessities, lyke as these dreames declare. Yet is it easier, that he whiche suffereth hurte, come in these: then to passe away as a clowde oute of the worlde, and now to se the thynges that shall happen in the laste.

Then answered he me, and sayde: The interpretation of the syghe shall I shewe the, and I wyl open vnto the, the thynges that thou hast requyred. For thou hast spoken of theim that are lefte behynde, and this is the interpretation. He that taketh awaye the peryll in that tyme, hath kepte hym selfe. They that be fallen into harme are suche as haue workes and sayeth vnto the mooste myghtye. Knowe this therefore that they which be lefte behynde, are more blessed blesed, then they that be deade.

Thys is the meaning of the vision. Wher as thou sawest a man coming vp from the depe of the sea, the same is he whom God the best hath kept a greete season, wherby bi his owne selfe shal deliuer his creature, and he shall order the that are left behind. And where as thou sawest that out of hys mouth there came a blaste of wynd, fyre, & storme, & how he lifted vp neyther sword nor weapon, but that the rushynge in of hym destroyed the whole multitude, that came to fyght agaynste hym: it signifieth that the dayes come when God wyll deliuer theym that are vpon earth, and in a traunce of mynd shall be come vpon them that dwell in the earth. * And one shal undertake to fyghte agaynste an other, and cite agaynste an other, one place agaynste an other, one people agaynste an other, one one realme agaynste an other. When this cometh to passe, then shall the tokens come that I shewed the before: & the shall my sonne be declared, whom thou sawest clyme vp as a man. And when all the people heare hys voyce, euery mā shal in their owne land leaue the battayle & they haue one agaynste an other, & an innumerable multitude shall be gathered togyther, as they that be wyllynge to come, & so ouercome hym by fyghting. But he shall stand vpon the toppe of the mounte Sion.

Reuercheles Sion shall come, and shall be shewed, beyng prepared & buylded for al mē, lyke as thou sawest the byll grauen forth wpythout any bandes. But my sonne shall rebuke the people that are come for their wyckednes, wpyth the tempeste, and for theyr euill imaginations: and their paynes wherwpyth they shall be punished, are likened vnto the flame: and wpythout any labour shall be destroye theym, euen by the lawe, whiche is compared vnto the fyre. And where as thou sawest that he gathered an other peaceable people vnto hym: those are the tenne Tribes, whiche were caried awaye prysoners out of theire owne Land, in the tyme of Oseas the king whome Salmanaser the kynge of Assyria tooke prysoner, and caried them ouer the water, and so came they into an other lād.

But they gaue them thys counsell, that they should leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to go forth into a further contry, where neuer man kynde dwelte: that they myght ther kepe theyr statutes, whiche they neuer kepte in their owne lande.

And so they entered in at the narrow passages of the water of Euphrates, and God shewed tokens for theym, and helde syl * the floude tyl they were passed ouer: for thorow that contry there was a great waye, namelpe of a nere and a halfe iour: nev, for þ same region is called * Azareth. The dwelt they there vnto þ latter tyme: and when they come forth agayne, the best shal hold syl the springes of the streame agayne, that they maye go thorow: therfore sawest thou þ multitude with peace. And they that be left behynde of thy people, are those that be soude within my bowder. Nowe when he destroyeth the multitude that is gathered togyther, he shal defend his people that remaine, and the shall he shewe them greete wonders.

Then sayde I, O Lord, Lorde, shewe me this: wherfore haue I sene the man cominge vp from the depe of the sea? And he sayde vnto me: Lyke as thou canst neither seeke out nor knowe these thinges that are in the depe of the sea, euen so maiste thou not se my sonne or those that be wpyth him but in the tyme of the day. This is the interpretation of the dreame whiche thou sawest, therfore thou only art here lightened, for thou haste forsaken thine owne lawe, and applied thy diligence vnto mine and sought it. Thy lyfe haste thou ordered in wisdom, and haste called vnderstandinge thy gother, and therfore haue I shewed the the treasure of the best.

After thre dayes I wyll shewe the more, and talke with the at more large, yea beaue up and wonderous thinges wyl I declare vnto the.

Then went I forth into the feld geuing prayse and thanks greatly vnto God bycause of hys wonders whiche he dyd in tyme, & bycause he gouerneth the same, and suche as is in tyme, and there I sate thre dayes.

The.xviii.chapter.

God appeareth vnto Eldras in the bush, and sheweth him what he shal do.

Vpon the thyrde dape I sate vnder an oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the bushe and sayde: Eldras, Eldras? * And I sayde: Here am I Lorde, and rode vp vpon my fete. Then spake he vnto me:

In the bushe dyd I appeare vnto Moses, and talked wpyth him, when my people serued in Egypte, and I sente him, and led my people out of Egypte, and brought hym vpon the mounte Sion, where I held hym by me a longe season, and tolde hym my wonderous worckes, and shewed hym the secretes of the times and the ende, and commaunded him, sayinge:

These wordes shalt thou declare and not hyde theym. And nowe I sape vnto the, that thou lay vp in thine hert the dreames that thou haste sene, and the interpretations whiche I haue shewed the: for thou shalt be receyued * of al, thou shalt be turned and remayne wpyth my counsell, and wpyth suche as be lyke the, vntyl the times be ended. For the worlde hath losse bys youth, and the tymes beginne to wax old. For the tyme is deuptyd into twelue partes, and tenne partes of it are gone al ready, and halfe of the tenth parte: yet remaineth

Mat. xxiii.

11. Reg. iii.

11. Reg. xvi.

Exod. iii.

Exo. xiii. c
Jol. xiii. d.

Other read Ararath, that is Armenia.

Or rather taken or chosen out of al.

mayneth there that whyche is after the halie of the tenth parte.

Wherfore prepare and ordre thy house, and resourme thy people, comfote suche of theym as be in trouble: and tell now of the destruction: lette go from the mortall thoughtes: caste awaye the burthens of man: putte of the weake nature: lay vp in some places the thoughtes that are moste heauye vnto the, and haste the to flyt from these times: for suche euil and wyckednes as thou haste sene happen, shal they do yet much worse.*

Mat. xliii.
ii. Joh. ii. c.

For the weaker that the world and the tyme is, the more shal synne and wyckednesse increase, in theym that dwell vpon earth. For the trowth is fledde far awaye, and lesynge* is harde at hande. For nowe hasteth the vision to come, that thou haste seene.

O rather
vanitie.

Then answered I, and sayde: Behold Lorde, I wyl go as thou haste commaunded me, and resourme the people which are presente. But they that shal be bozne afterwarde, who wyl exhort or rebuke the? Thus* the worlde is set in darkenes, and they that dwell therein, are without lyght: for thy lawe is kyndeled, because* no man knoweth the thinges that are done of the, or what shal be done. If I haue found grace before the, sende the holpe goost into me, and I shal wyte all that haue bene done in the worlde sence the begynnyng, whyche was wyrtten in thy lawe, that men maye fynd the path, and that they which wil liue in the latter dayes, may lyue.

O rather
for the. 16

O rather
wherfore

And he answered me, sayinge: Soo thy waye, gather thy people together, & saye vnto them, that they seke not for the fortye dayes, but loke thou gather the manye Bore trees, & and take wyth the Sarea, Dabria, Seremia, Echanus, and Asiall, these spue, which are ready to write swiflye, and come hither, and I shal lyghte a candell of vnderstandynge in thine herte, whych shal not be put oute, tyll the thynges be performed whych thou shalte begynne to wyte. And then shalte thou declare some thinges openly vnto the perfect, and some thinges shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wyle. To morowe thys houre shalt thou beginne to wyte.

O rather tables of boke.

Then wente I forth (as he commaunded me) and gathered all my people together & said: Heare these wordes* O Israel: Our fathers from the begynning were straungers in Egypte, frome whence they were deliuered and receyued the lawe of lyfe, & whyche they kepte not, whyche ye also haue transgressed after them. Then was this lande and the land of Sion parted among you by lot to possesse. But your fathers, and ye your selues also haue done vngodlynes, & haue not kept what is commaunded you.

Ge. xlvii. a.

Deu. xlii.

And for so muche as he is a ryghtuous iudge, he toke from you in tyme the thyng that he hadde geuen you. And nowe are ye here and your bretheren amonge you.

Act. vii. 12

Wherfore if so be that ye wyl subdue your owne vnderstandynge, and reforme your herte, ye shal be kept alpye, and after death shal ye obayne mercede. For after deathe shal the Iudgemente come, when we shal lyue agayne, and then shal the names of the ryghtuous be manifest, and the names of the vngodly wyth their workes shal be declared. Let no man therfore come nowe vnto me, nor aske any question at me these fortye dayes.

So I toke the fye men (as he commaunded me) and we wente into the fiede, and remained there. The next day a voice called me, sayinge: Edoas open thy mouth, and drynke that I geue the.

*Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, he reached me a full cuppe, whyche was full of water, but the colour of it was like fyre. And I toke it & dranke. And when I had dronke it, my herte had vnderstanding, & wysdome grew in my breast: for my spirit was kept in remembraunce, and my mouth was opened and shut no more. The dyette gaue vnderstanding vnto the fye men that they wrote the bpe thynges of the nyght, which they vnderstode not. But in the night they ate breade: as for me, I spake in the daye, and helde not my tounge by nyght.

In xl. dayes, they wrote two hundred and foure bookes. And it happened when the forty dayes were fulfilled, that the byette spake, sayinge: The spytte that thou haste wyrtten speake openly, that the worthe and vnworthe may reade it. But kepe the secret, take that thou maistest shewe it onely to such as be wise amonge thy people. For in them is the springe of vnderstandynge, the fountaine of wysdome, and the streame of knowelenge. And I did so.

The. xv. Chapter.

The punishment that euil people shal haue whiche God commaundeth Edoas to shew vnto them.

Behold, speake thou in the eares of my people the wordes of prophete, whyche I wyl putte in thy mouth, sayeth the Lorde: and cause them to be written in a letter, for it is the trowth. Feare not the imaginacions againste the, lette not the vnfaithfulnesse of them trouble the, that speake agaynst the. For all the vnfaithfull shal dye in their vnfaithfulnes. Beholde sayeth the Lorde: I wyl bringe plagues vpon the worlde, the swerde, hunger, deathe, and destruction, for wyckednes hath the vpper hande in all the earth, and their shamefull workes are fulfilled.

Wherfore sayeth the Lorde: I wyl holde my tounge no more vnto their wyckednesse, whych they do so vngodly: neyther wyl I suffer them in the thynges, that they dealt wythall so wyckedly.

Beholde, the Innocente* bloude of the troubled troubled cōpethe vnto me; and the ſoules of the cōphreous complayne cōtynualle: and therefore (ſayeth the Lorde) I wyll ſurely auenge, and receiue vnto me al the innocent bloude from amonge them.

Apoca. vi. 6

Beholde, my people is led as a ſtroke of ſhepe to be ſlayn, I wyll not ſuffer theſe now to dwell in Egypte, but wyll bring the out wth a myghty hāde, and a ſtretched out arme, and ſmyte it wth plagues as afore, and wyll deſtroye al the lāde of it. Egypte ſhall mourne, & the foundations of it ſhall be ſmytten wth the plague and puniſhment, that God ſhall bring vpon it.

B They that tyl the ground, ſhall mourne: for theyr ſedes ſhall be deſtroyed thorough the blaſtinge and hāle, and an horrible ſtarre. Wo worthe the worlde and them that dwell therein, for the ſwarde and theire deſtruction draweth nē: and one people ſhall ſtande vpon to ſyghte agaynſte another, and ſwerdes in theyr handes.

For men ſhall be viſted faſt, and ſome ſhall do violence vnto other: they ſhall not regarde theyr kynges & princes; the wapes of theyr doinges and handlynges in theyr power. A man ſhall deſyre to go into the cōtrye, and ſhall not be able. For becauſe of theyr pryde, the cōtries ſhall be broughte in ſcare, the houſes ſhall ſhake, & men ſhall be afrayed. A man ſhall haue no pity vpon his neyghboure, but one ſhall prouoke another vnto batayle to ſpoile theyr goods becauſe of the hunger of bread, & becauſe of the greates trouble.

C Beholde I gather and call together al the kynges of the earthe whiche are from the vpperynge, from the South, from the Eaſte and Abyſſus to tourne vnto them, and reſtore the thynges that they haue geuen them. Lyke as they do yet this daye vnto my choſen, ſo wyll I do alſo, and recompence them in theyr houſe. Thus ſayeth the Lorde God: Egypte ſhall not ſpare the ſpynners, and my ſwarde ſhall not ceaſe ouer them that ſheade the innocent bloude vpon earthe. The ſper is gone oute from his wyathe, and hath consumed the foundations of the earthe, & the ſinners lyke the ſtrawe that is kyndled. Wo worthe them that ſpurne, and kepe not my commaundementes, ſayeth the Lorde. I wyll not ſpare them. So your waye ye chyldren from violence, deſile not my Sanctuary: for I Lorde knoweth all them that ſpy agaynſte him, & therefore deſpueſt he the vnto deathe & deſtruction: for nowe are the plagues come vpon the worlde, and ye ſhall remaine in the. For God ſhall not deſpueſt you, becauſe ye haue ſpurned agaynſt hym.

D Beholde, an horrible viſion cometh from the Eaſte, where generacions of Dragons ſhall come oute, and the people of the Arabies wth many charrettes, and the multitude of them ſhall be as I wynde vpon earthe, that all they whiche beare them ragynge in theyr wyathe, may feare & be afrayed: and as the wynde bores oute of the wood, ſo ſhall they go out, and wth great power ſhall they come, and ſtande fighting wth them, and ſhall waſte the porcion of the lande of the Aſſyrians.

And then ſhall the Dragons haue the vpper hande, not remēbyng theyr bythe, and ſhall turne aboute ſwearyng toggyther in greates power, to perſecute them. But theſe ſhall be afrayed, and kepe ſilence at their power, and ſhall ſce: and one oute of the lande of the Aſſyrians ſhall beſiege them, and consume one of theym, and in their hoost ſhall be feare and dreade, & ſtriſe amonge theyr kynges.

Beholde cloudes from the Eaſte, and from the north vnto the South, & they are very horrible to loke vpon, full of wyathe & ſtorm. They ſhall ſmyte one vpon another, & they ſhall ſmite at I great ſtar vpon earthe, & their ſtar, and the bloud ſhall be from the ſwerd vnto the belly, & the ſmoke of man vnto the camels litter: * And then ſhall be greates fearfulnes and tremblynge vpon earthe, & they ſhall ſce the wyath, ſhall be afrayed, and a tremblynge ſhall come vpon them.

And then ſhall there come greates raines from the South and from the North, and part from the Weſt, and from the ſtorm wynde, from the Eaſt, and ſhall ſhut them vpon agayne, and the cloude whiche he rayſed vpon in wyathe, and the ſtarre to cauſe feare toward the Eaſt & Weſt wynde, ſhall be deſtroyed: & the greates clouds ſhall be liſt vpon, & the myghty clouds full of wyath, & the ſtar I they may make all I earthe afrayed, & the that dwell therein, and that they may poure out ouer al places an horrible ſtar, fire and hāle and ſpynges ſwerdes, and many waters, that al fieldes maye be full and al riuers: and they ſhall breake doune the cōtries and walles, mountaynes and hylles, al trees, wood, and I grasse of the medowes, and all their fruyte. And they ſhall go ſtedfaſt vnto Babilon, and make her afrayed, they ſhall come to her and beſiege her, the ſtar and all wyath ſhall they poure out vpon her.

Then ſhall the duſt and ſmoke go vpon to the heauen, and all they that be aboute her, ſhall bewaile her: and they that remaine vnder her, ſhall do ſeruiſe vnto the that haue put her in feare. And thou Aſia that comforteſt thy ſelfe alſo vpon the hope of Babilon, and art a worſhyppye of her perſon: Wo be vnto the thou wretch, becauſe thou haſt made thy ſelfe lyke vnto her, and haſte deckt thy daughters in whoredome, that they myghte triumphe and pleaſe thy louers, whiche haue alway deſpyred to committe whoredome wth the: thou haſt folowed the abhominable cōtry in all her workes and inuencions.

Therefore ſayeth God: I wyll ſend vpon the, wyndwhode, pouertye, hunger, warres, and peſtilence, to waſte thy houſes wth

Or rather the laughter ſhall be ſuch that I bloud ſhall be depe and I floud of mans bloude to the camels gythe.

With destruction and deathe, and the glorie of thy power shall be dyed up as a flower, when the heate aryseth that is sent ouer the. Thou shalt be sick as a pore wife that is plaged and beaten of women: so that the myghty and louer shall not be able to receyue the. Woulde I so hate the sayeth the Lorde, If thou haddest not alway slayne my chosen, erasing the stroke of thy handes, and saied ouer their death, when thou wast drunken: set fourth the beauty of thy countenance?

The reward of thy whozedom shall be recompensed the in thy bolosse: therefore shalt thou receyue *rewarde.

Some
reade: no
rewarde.

Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen (sayeth the Lorde) even so shall God do vnto the, and shall deliuer the into the plage. Thy chyldren shall dye of hunger, and thou shalt fall thorow the swearde. Thy cityes shall be broken doune, and all thyne shall perishe with the sweerde in the field. They that be in the moitaines shall dye of hunger, & eat their owne fleshe, and drynke their owne bloud for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water. Thou unhappy shalt come thorow the sea, & receyue plagis agayne. In the passage they shall cast doune the slayne cyrpe, and shall rote oute one parte of thy lande, and consume the porcion of thy glorie. They shall treade the doune lyke stubble, and they shall be thy foze and shall consume the, thy cities and thy lande, thy wood and thy feuteful trees shall they burne up with the fyre. Thy chyldren shall they carry away captiue, and loke what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and mar the beauty of thy face.

The.xvi.Chapter.

The heathen shall be punished.

Whe vnto the Bablon and Asia, woe vnto the Egypte and Syria: gyde your selves with clothes of sacke and herre, and mourn for your chyldren, be soze, for your destruction is at hand. A swerde is sente vpon you, and who wyl tourne it backe? A fyre is kyndled amonge you, and who wyl quenche it? Plages are sente vnto you, and what is he that wyl dyspue them away? Maye anye man dyspue awaye a hungerpe lpon in the woode? Or maye anye manne quenche the fyre in the stubble, when it hath begonne to burne? Maye one tourne agayne the arrowe, that is shot of a strong archer? The myghty Lorde sendeth the plagis, and what is he that wyl dyspue them away. The fyre is kyndled & gone forth in his wrath, and what is he that wyl quenche it? He shall caste lightnynges, and who shall not feare? He shall thunder, & who shall not be afrayed? The Lorde shall threaten, and who shall not utterly be beaten to poulder at his presence? The earthe quake, and the foundations thereof: the sea, aryseth up with waues from the depe, and the floudes of it are vnyquyte, and the fishes thereof also before the Lorde, and before the glorie of his power. For stronge is his ryghte hand & holdeth & bow, his arrows & he shooteth, are sharp, & shall not mys, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

Beholde, the plagis are sent, and shall not turne agayne, tyl they come vpon erth. The fyre is kyndled, and shall not be put oute, tyl it consume the foundations of the earthe. Lyke as an arrowe whiche is shot of a myghty archer, returneth not backward: even so the plagis that shall be sent vpon earth, shall not turne agayne. Wo is me, wo is me, who wyl deliuer me in those dayes? The beginning of sorowes & great mourning: & beginning of deathe and great death: the beginning of warres, and the powers shall stand in feare: the beginning of euils, and they shall trouble euerie one. What shall I do in these thynges, when the plagis come? Behold hunger, and plage, trouble and angurthe are sente, as scourges for amendemente. But for all these thynges they shall not turne from their wyckednesses, nor be alway myndeful of the scourges.

Behold, bytales shall be so good chepe vpon earth, that they shall thyncke themselves to be in good case: and euen the shall mischese growe vpon earth, warres, deathe and great disquietnes. For many of them that dwell vpon earth shall perishe of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shall the swerde destroye: and the deade shall be cast out as dong, and ther shall be no man to comfort the. For the earthe shall be wasted, & the cityes shall be cast down: ther shall be no man left to till the earthe and to sow it. The trees shall geue fruite, and who shall plucke the of and gather them? The grapes shall be ripe, and who shall tread the? For all places shall be desolate of men, so that one man shall desyre to se another, or to heare his voice. For of our whole cyrpe there shall be left, and two in the felde, whiche shall hyde themselves in the thicke bushes, and in the clyffes of stones: lyke as when there remaine thre or foure olyues vpon the olyue tree, or as when a vyneyarde is gathered, there are left grapes, of them that dyligently soughte thorow the vyneyarde.

Even so in those dayes there shall be three or foure left, for them that searche their houses with the swerd. And & earth shall be left waste, & the fieldes thereof shall ware olde: & her wayes and al her pathes shall growe ful of thornes, because no man shall traualle ther thorow. The daughters shall mourne, hauing no bydegromes: the women shall make lamentacion, hauing no housbodes: they daughters shall mourne, hauing no helpe of their bydegrome. In the warres shall they be destroyed, and they husbandes shall perishe of hunger.

Or rather,
grete mourynge begynneth:
and so of the other.

O ye seruautes of the Lorde, heare these thynges, and marcke them. Beholde, the worde of the Lorde. O receyue it: beholde, the plages drawe nye and are not slacke in tarynge. Lyke as a trauaylunge woman which after the .ix. moneth bringeth forth a sonne, when then the houre of the byrthe is come, an houre two or thre afore that the paynes come vpon her bodye, * and when the chyld commeth to the byrthe, they tarpe not the twynklyng of an eye: Euen so shall not the plages be slacke to come vpon earth, and the worlde shall mourne, and sorowes shall come vpon it on euerie syde.

O my people, heare my word, make you ready to the battayle, and in all be euen as pilgrims vpon earth. He þ selleth let hym be as he that speth hys way: and he that byeth, as one that wyllese. Who so occupieth marchaundise, as he þ wynereth not: and he that buydeth, as he that shall not dwell therein: he that soweth as one that shall not reape: he that twynketh the vyneyarde, as he that shall not gather the grapes: they that marry, as they that shall get no chyldren: and they that marry not, as the wyddowes: and therefore they that labour, labour in vayne. For straungers shall reape their fruytes, spyle their goodes, ouerthrow their houses, and take theyr chyldren captiue: for in captiuyty and hunger shall they get chyldren. And they that occupie theyr marchaundise with robbery, how longe they deckt their cities, theyr houses, their possessions, and personnes, the more wyl I punyssh them for theyr synnes, sayeth the Lorde. Lyke as an whore cunpereth an honest woman, so shall ryghteousnes hate iniquity, whē she decketh her selfe, & shall accuse her to her face, when he commeth that defendeth, whiche shall make iniquitye ston for all synne vpon earth. And therefore be not ye lyke thereunto, nor to the workes therof: for or euer it be longe, iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and ryghteousnes shall raigne amonge you.

Let not the synner saye, that he hath not synned: for coales of fyre shall burne vpon hys head, whiche sayeth before the Lord God and hys glory: I haue not synned. * Behold, the Lorde knoweth all the workes of men, their imagynacions, their thoughtes and their hertes. For he spake but the worde *: let the earth be made, and it was made: let the heauen be made, and it was made: In hys worde were the starres made, and he knoweth the number of them. He searcheth the grounde of the deepe, and the treasures therof: he hath measured the sea, & what it conteineth. He hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with hys word he hangeth the earth vpon the waters. He foredeth out the heauē lyke a bayt, vpon the waters hath he founded it. In the desserte & dry wyldernes hath he made springes of water, and pooles vpon the toppe of the mountaynes, that the fouds myght poure doun from the stony rockes to water the earth. He made man, and put his herte in the myddeste of the bodye, & gaue hym breath, lyfe and vnderstandyng, pea, and the spirite of þ almighty God, whiche made all thynges, and hath searched the grounde of all the secretes of the earth.

He knoweth youre imagynacions and inuencions, and what ye thynke when ye synne; and woulde hyde youre synnes. Therefore hath the Lorde searched and soughte oute all youre workes, and he shall betraye you all. And when youre synnes are broughte forth, ye shall be ashamed before me, and your owne synnes shall be youre accusers in that day. What wyl ye do? Or howe wyl ye hyde youre synnes before God and hys Angelles? Beholde, God him selfe is the iudge, feare hym, leaue of from your synnes, and forget your vncyghtrousnes, and meble no more with them: so shall God lead you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

For beholde, the heate of a greare multitude is kyndled ouer you, and they shall take away * certayne of you, and fede the idle with the Idols: and they that consent vnto the, shall be had in derisyon, laughed to scorn and troden vnder foote.

For vnto the places ther shall be a place, and in the nexte cityes a greate insurrection vpon those that feare the Lorde. They shall be lyke mad menne, they shall spare no man: they shall spyle and waste such as feare the Lorde: theyre goodes shall they take frome them, and shute them oute of theyre houses. Then shall it be knowne who are my chosen, and they shall be tryed as the golde in the fyre. Heare O ye my beloued, sayeth the Lord, beholde, the daies of trouble are at hande, but I wyl deliuer you from the same. Be not ye afrayed, dyspayre not, for God is youre captayne.

Who so keepeth my commandementes and preceptes (sayeth the Lord God) lette not youre synnes weygh you downe, and lette not youre vncyghtrousnesse be lyfte vp. Woe be vnto them that are subdued vnto theyre synnes, and tangeled in theyre wyckednesse, lyke as a felde is hedged in with bushes, and the pathe therof covered with thornes, that no man may traueille thowme: and so is he taken, & cast in the fyre, and brente.

The ende of the .iii. boke of Esdras.

The

O rather helpe.

O rather that hyl the
to leade
idols with all.

Ecc. xxxiii.
e.
Luke. xii. c.
Gene. i. a.
psal. xiii. b.

O ye seruautes of the Lorde, heare these thynges, and marcke them. Beholde, the worde of the Lorde. O receyue it: beholde, the plages drawe nye and are not slacke in tarynge. Lyke as a trauaylunge woman which after the .ix. moneth bringeth forth a sonne, when then the houre of the byrthe is come, an houre two or thre afore that the paynes come vpon her bodye, * and when the chyld commeth to the byrthe, they tarpe not the twynklyng of an eye: Euen so shall not the plages be slacke to come vpon earth, and the worlde shall mourne, and sorowes shall come vpon it on euery syde.

O my people, heare my word, make you ready to the battayle, and in all be euen as pilgrims vpon earth. He þ selleth let hym be as he that speth hys way: and he that byeth, as one that wyllese. Who so occupieth marchaundise, as he þ wynereth not: and he that buydeth, as he that shall not dwell therein: he that soweth as one that shall not reape: he that twynketh the vyneyarde, as he that shall not gather the grapes: they that marry, as they that shall get no chyldren: and they that marry not, as the wyddowes: and therefore they that labour, labour in vayne. For straungers shall reape their fruytes, spyle their goodes, ouerthrow their houses, and take theyr chyldren captiue: for in captiuyty and hunger shall they get chyldren. And they that occupie theyr marchaundise with robbery, how longe they deckt their cities, theyr houses, their possessions, and personnes, the more wyl I punyssh them for theyr synnes, sayeth the Lorde. Lyke as an whore croupereth an honest woman, so shall ryghteousnes hate iniquity, whē she decketh her selfe, & shall accuse her to her face, when he commeth that defendeth, whiche shall make iniquitye sycpon for all synne vpon earth. And therefore be not ye lyke thereunto, nor to the workes therof: for or euer it be longe, iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and ryghteousnes shall raigne amonge you.

Let not the synner saye, that he hath not synned: for coales of fyre shall burne vpon hys head, whiche sayeth before the Lord God and hys glory: I haue not synned. * Behold, the Lorde knoweth all the workes of men, their imagynacions, their thoughtes and their hertes. For he spake but the worde *: let the earth be made, and it was made: let the heauen be made, and it was made: In hys worde were the starres made, and he knoweth the number of them. He searcheth the grounde of the deepe, and the treasures therof: he hath measured the sea, & what it conteineth. He hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with hys word he hangeth the earth vpon the waters. He foredeth out the heauē lyke a bawt, vpon the waters hath he founded it. In the desserte & dry wyldernes hath he made springes of water, and pooles vpon the toppe of the mountaynes, that the fouds myght poure doun from the stony rockes to water the earth. He made man, and put his herte in the myddeste of the bodye, & gaue hym breth, lyfe and vnderstandyng, pea, and the spirite of þ almighty God, whiche made all thynges, and hath searched the grounde of all the secretes of the earth.

He knoweth youre imagynacions and inuencions, and what ye thynke when ye synne; and woulde hyde youre synnes. Therefore hath the Lorde searched and soughre oute all youre workes, and he shall betraye you all. And when youre synnes are broughte forth, ye shall be ashamed before me, and your owne synnes shall be youre accusers in that day. What wyl ye do? Or howe wyl ye hyde youre synnes before God and hys Angelles? Beholde, God him selfe is the iudge, feare hym, leaue of from your synnes, and forget your vncyghtrousnes, and meble no more with them: so shall God lead you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

For beholde, the heate of a greare multitude is kyndled ouer you, and they shall take away * certayne of you, and fede the idle with the Idols: and they that consent vnto the, shall be had in derisyon, laughed to scorn and troden vnder foote.

For vnto the places ther shall be a place, and in the nexte cityes a greate insurrection vpon those that feare the Lorde. They shall be lyke mad menne, they shall spare no man: they shall spyle and waste such as feare the Lorde: theyre goodes shall they take frome them, and shutte them oute of theyre houses. Then shall it be knowne who are my chosen, and they shall be tryed as the golde in the fyre. Heare O ye my beloued, sayeth the Lord, beholde, the daies of trouble are at hande, but I wyl deliuer you from the same. Be not ye afrayed, dyspayre not, for God is youre captayne.

Who so keperth my commandementes and preceptes (sayeth the Lord God) lette not youre synnes weygh you downe, and lette not youre vncyghtrousnesse be lyfte vp. Woe be vnto them that are subdued vnto theyre synnes, and tangeled in theyre wyckednesse, lyke as a felde is hedged in with bushes, and the pathe therof covered with thornes, that no man may traueyle thowhe: and so is he taken, & cast in the fyre, and brente.

The ende of the .iii. boke of Esdras.

The

O rather helpe.

O rather
that hyl the
to leade
idols with
all.

Ecc. xxxiii.
e.
Luke. xii. c.
Gene. i. a.
psal. xiii. b.

The Booke of Tobias.

The fyrst Chapter.

Tobias bringe taken prisoner forsaketh not þe law of truth. The mercy & charitie of Tobias, & the maners of hym in his pouth. He taketh Hannah to wyfe, by who he hath a sonne named Tobias. He socoureth Gabell for money. He and his are faine to flye, but after the death of Sennacherib they retorne agayne.

The Booke of the hystories of Tobias, the sonne of Tobie, the sonne of Ananiel, the sonne of Aduels, whiche came of Sabaell, of the seede of Asael, of the tribe of

Nephthalim, whiche in þe tyme of Salmanasar kynge of the Assyrians, was led prisoner oute of Thysbe, which is on þe righte hande of Cades Nephthalim in Galilee, þynge aboute Aser. I Tobias all þe tyme of my lyf, wente in the waie of vertue and iustice, and bestowed manye thynges bothe tyllallie vpon the bretheren of my nacion which came wyth me to Ninue, that is in the lande of Assyria. For whē I was in my cōtrei in the lande of Israel, being yet but a yonge man, & al my fathers tribe Nephthalim was fallen from þe temple of his Hierusalem, whiche among al the tribes of Israel was chosen out to sacrifice, where the temple, the house of the hiest was halowed and builded to stand for euer. And when al the tribes þe fel away wyth the dyd sacrifice vnto the ynge herat of Baal, whiche Jeroboam the kynge of Israel dyd set vpon a & my fathers house Nephthalim also I only (as it was prescribed by the commaundement of God) vnto all the people of Israel, came often tymes to Hierusalem, bringynge my & fyrste frutes, and tenthes of my frutes: euen wyth all that, that was fyrst shorne: and did offer those thynges at the altare vnto the priestes, the chyldren of Aaron. I gaue the fyrste tenthes of all my frutes to the priestes that came of Aaron, that mynistred at Hierusalem, the second I sold. And when I had done at Hierusalem, I went furthe and gaue theym in almes enerye pere, and the thyrde I gaue there, as it was conuenient, as I had in commaundement of Debboza my fathers mother, when I was left of my father a pupil and yonglinge, vnder tuicion and other mennes gouernaunce. But when I was waren a manne, takynge to wyfe Anna, & of the stocke of my kynred, I begate of her Tobias, and enen from hys infancie I

The. i. Chapter.

taughte hym to reuerence God, and to abstayne from all synne. And when I was ledde prisoner to Ninue wyth my wyfe and al my tribe, al the bretheren of my kynred eatynge of the meate & of the Vetyles, yet forbore I my pleasure, and ate not wyth them, because wyth all my verre I loued the religion of God. And therefore the hiest made me in greate sauource wyth Salmanasar, in somuch, that he made me his carer, and gaue me lycence to go whither so euer I wold, and do what I lyst. And I wēt vnto some of my felowes that were in captiuitie, and instructed them wyth holsome monicions: And goynge into Media to Sabaell Sabrias brother, (whom among many of my kynred, and also one of my tribe, I sawe had greate neede) I lent hym the ten talentes of siluer, whiche I had receyued as an honorable rewarde of the kynge, and toke a byl of his hande. Afterward when Salmanasar was dead, his sonne Sennacherib succeeded hym, in whose troubelous tyme, I coulde not go into Media. Yet in the tymes of Salmanasar I vsed much liberalitie to my bretheren, I fed the hungry and clothed the naked: and if I sawe any of my kynred dead, and caste about the walles of Ninue, I buryed hym. And if Sennacherib had kyled any (for in hys fury he kyled many) what tyme God punished him for hys blasphemie when he had fled from Hierusalem, and was come home agayne, I buryed them: that when their carcasses were sought for of the kynge, they shulde not be found. But when one of the Ninuites had shewed the kynge that I buryed them, I hyd my selfe: and when I knewe they sought for me, to kyll me, for feare I fled. So al my goodes were takē away, & I had nothyng lefte me, saue my wyfe Anna, & my sone Tobias. But or euer fifty dayes were past, hys two sonnes kyled hym. So when I had fled into the mountaynes Ararath, Sarchadonus, whiche succeeded hym in his kyngdome, made Archiacharus my brother Anaels son, chyef auditor of all his fathers accomptes, and hys fathers stewarde. And when Archiacharus had made petitiō for me, I came agayne to Ninue: for Archiacharus was hys cup bearer, and of hys signet, hys receiuer, and hygh steward, and had made Archadonus my brothers sone vnder him.

The second Chapter.

Tobias biddeth Lucie of hys frendes as feare God to a banket feaste. He is reproued of his frendes. He feareth God more the the kynge. He becommeth blinde by the permission and sufferance of god his kynselfe: he moche hym.

Afterwardes whē I was com home & my wyfe Anna, & my sonne also Tobias was restored vnto me, vpon the solempne feaste of Penthecost, which is the

iii. reg. xvii.

iii. reg. xii. f

Erod. xxiii. and. xxviii. Deu. xxi. a. xlviii. a. xxxvi. a.

Am. xxxvi. c

Ier. liii. Jud. xlii. Is. xl. a

iii. Reg. x. g. Ecl. xxxviii. iii. Ecl. ii. f.

is the holre dape of seven wekes, when I had prepared a good feaste, I sat downe to meate. And haupnge inoughe, I sayed unto my sonne: go call euerpe pooze one of our brethre, that thou canst fynde, whiche loueth the Lorde: and lo I wyl tarie in the meane tyme vntyll thou comest agayne. And he wente, and when he was come agayne, he sayed: O father one of oure kynnes is perished in the streete. Then I or euer I hadde eaten any meate lepte vp, and toke hym awaye and hydde hym in myne house vntyll the sunne was downe, and afterwarde I came agayne, and was shed with mournynge, I remembred the prophecie of Amos whome he had sayed: Your solemne feastes shalbe touned into moournynge, and all your ioyes into lamentacions. So after the sunne was downe, I wente mournynge, and I made a graue and put hym in it. Then sayed my neyghbours in scoone: This felow feareth not (sayeth they) to be kylled for this ded, whiche althoughe he fled: yet loo, he buryeth this agayne. Yet I fearynge God more then the kynge, stole awaye priuely the bodyes of them that were slayne, and hydynge them in my house, buryed them at midnichte. And the same night commynge all berated from the burpall, when I had layed me downe at home to slepe by the wal side my face vncouered, the swallowes which were in the wal and I knew not, let fall their whor dung vpon mine open eyes, so that soenes growynge in them, I went vnto the phisicians: but they could not help, and I fell blynd. With this temptacion dyd the Lorde suffer Tobie to be in leoparde, to shewe example of patience to them that came after, as he dyd of that holy mā Job: for in somuche as he euer feared God from his yowth vp, and kept his commaundementes, he was not angry wth God that the plague of God chaunced vnto hym, but remayned stedfaste in the feare of God, and thanked God all the dayes of his lyfe. For lyke as riche men mocked Job, so dyd his cosens and kynse folke mocke hym, sayinge: where is thy hope, in the whiche thou hast done almoste and buryed the deade? But Tobias rebuked them, sayinge: Speake no such thynges, for we are the chyldren of holy men, and looke for the lyfe whiche God shall geue vnto them that neuer tourne theire helpe from hym. Also Achitacharus found me meate vntyll I wente to Elpmada. Anna my wyfe worked byred womens woork, labourynge as muche as she myghte to gette her lypynge: and when she had sente home the woike to the masters, and receyued monye, they gaue her also a kid, which when it was come to me and began to bleat, from whence cometh this kynde sayd I? Is it stolen? Restore it to the masters, for we may not eat of that is stolen. And my wyfe sayed, it was giuen her aboue her byre. But I beleuyng her not, commaunded it shuld be deliuered to the owners, and was ashamed for her. Then she answered, sayinge. * Where are become thy great almes, and thy iust dedes? Lo how they be nowe scne in the? Wych these and suche lyke wordes dyd she cast me in the tethe.

The.iii. Chapter.

The prayer of Tobias. Sara the daughter of Raguel is sanctified of her fathers seruantes. The prayer and fasting of Sara, and also the innocency and chastite of her. The prayers of Tobias and Sara are heard.

Then Tobias tokett heuely, and sorowynge and weppynge, made his prayer thus: Iust art thou O Lord, and all thy dedes, and wayes, ar mercy & helth, and thou makest thy iudgement sound and iust for euer. Remember me, and haue pitie vpon me: punish me not for my synnes and errours of myne, or my forefathers, for we haue sinned in thy sighte. For we haue stopped our eares at thy commaundementes. Therefore are we spoyled and broughte into captiuitie, to death & perdition & a shame vnto all nations amonge whome thou haste scattered vs. And now many iuste causes haste to deale with me accordynge to my synnes & to syns of my parentes, because we haue not kept thy commaundementes, neither ordred oure selues purely before the.

Therefore do nowe to me after thyne owne wyl, and commaunde my spirite to bee take awaye from me, that I maye departe, and be resolued into earth. For better it were for me to be deade, then lyue, for I haue herd vpbrydnges vnwoorthely, and I am in greate heauines. Commaunde me nowe to go out of these panges into rest euerlastynge, and tounie not thy face from me. And the same tyme it happened, that Sara the doughter of Raguel at Ecbaranis whiche is in Media, suffered muche rebuke of hir fathers maidens: For that she had be maryed to seue mā, & Asmodeus that deuyll had kylled them or euer she had lpen with them after the maner of a maryed wyfe.

So when she rebuked a certen mayden for her faute, why, quoth she: doest thou not knowe that thou hast kylled thy husbandes? Thou haste had seven men, and yet wast thou not named after one. Why beatest thou vs for them, or wylt thou kill vs as thou haste done thy seue husbandes? When she herd these wordes, she was meruelous sorowful, in so much that she thought to strangle her self: yet sayd she: I am my fathers only doughter, and yf I shuld so do, it wold be grete shame to hym: & I shuld lead his olde age to death with heauines. And she gat her vp into an hye garret of her house, & neither eat nor drake. iii. dayes nor thre nightes: but continuyng in prayer she prayed vnto god with teares, to deliuer her from this slaunde. And the thyrde day

DDd.i. ending

The booke of Toby ending her prayer & praising God, & making her prayer up to the window, she sayed: O my Lord God worthy art thou to be praised, and glorious is thy maiestie holy and noble, and to be praised for euer, whiche althoughe thou be angry, yet shewest thou thy selfe mercifull, and when we call in tyme of affliction forgiuest our synnes. All thy workes praise thee for euer. Behold now, O Lord, I haue fastened myne eyes and countenaunce vpon thee, I may no more be caste in þe teeth. Thou knowest Lord that I haue kept me cleane from all synning with man, and that I haue kept my mynde from all concupiscence, and that I haue despyled neither my name, nor yet my fathers, while I was in captiuitie. I neuer kept companie with those that passe their tyme in sporte, neyther was I companion with light persons. A husband haue I consented to take, not for pleasure but in thy fear, and ether I was vnworthy for them, or they vniuste for me, because peraduenture thou hast kepte me to another manne: for whye, thy counsaile is not in the power of man. But this may euery man be sure of that worshippinge thee, yf his lyfe be good that he shall be crowned, and deliuered in his affliction: and yf he will amend his lyfe, he shall be pardoned of thee. For thou delightest not in our destruction, but after tempest sendest sayre weather, and after teares, gladnes. Praised be thy name O Lord God of Israel for euer. I am my fathers only daughter, neyther hath he any man chyld to be his heire, no nor yet any brother or brothers, whose wyfe I might be. Seue alredye be dead: why did I lyue? And yf thou thynkest it not good that I shulddye, haue regarde vnto me: and lette me be shaundered no more. Both these folkes prayers beinge herd of þe maiesty of the greate God, Raphael was sent vnto them bothe to help them, to Tobie to put awaye his blyndenes, to Sara Raguels daughter, that Tobias shuld giue her as wyfe vnto his sonne Tobias, and to bynd þe deuel Asmodeus, because he should haue Tobias. The same tyme Tobias came agayne, and wente into his house, and Sara the daughter of Raguell came down from the hye loft or the garret.

The. liti. Chapter.

Tobias sheweth to dye, giveth a godly exhortacion and monition to his sonne.

 In the same tyme Tobias remembred that he had let money to Gabael at Rages in the land of Medea, and sayed with him selfe seing I haue desired for death, why do I not call my sonne Tobias & giue him good monition before I dye? And when he had called him, he sayd vnto him: hearkē my sonne what I wyl say, and lay my wordes in thy heart as a foundation. My sonne when I am dead bury me, and after despyle not thy mother, but

The.iii. Chapter.

* Honour her all the dayes of thy lyfe, and do to please her, and not to displease her. Eccle. x.
My sonne remeber how great peryl's she Eccle. vii.
suffered beinge the in her womb? And whe she is dead, bury her in the same graue by me. Sonne, reuerence our Lord god at all tyme, * synne not, nor breake not his com- Rom. vi.
mandements, but loue vertue al the dayes of thy lyfe, and walke not in the wayes of wyckednes. For whyle thou studrest B for vertue, thou shalt haue good successe in al that thou goest about; and so shal al they haue that loue goodnes. * Doe almose of thy substance, and be not scante in do-inge of it. Turne not thy face away from any poore man, as thou woldest that god shuld not turne away his from the. Gyue * as thou shalt be hable: if þ haue muche, Eccle. xxv. a gyue much, and yf thou haue litel, gyue of Eccle. xiii. c that litle. For thou shalt lay vp for the a good treasure against the day of necessitie.
For * almose delyuereth from death, and Ecclesi. xix.
suffreth not the soule to come into darknes. Almose is a great comfort before the byest, to al that vse it. My sonne, * beware, keepe the from all whoredome, and vse no euyl company besyde thy wyfe, but inespecially mary thy wyfe of the stocke of thy forefathers, and ioyne not to the a straunger that is not of thy fathers tribe, for we are kynsmen to the prophetes: and I Noe, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, be our old forefathers. My sonne remember that al these dyd marye wyues of their owne kynred, and that their chyldren had good chaunce, and that their seede shal inhabyte the earth. Therfore my son, loue thy brethren, and despyse not the sonnes or the Gene. iii.
daughters of thy nacion thorowe pryde, but take a wyfe of them. Suffer pryde neuer to rule in thy mynde, no nor in word.
* For dearthe is toynd to pryde & muche trouble: and to hauyness is toynd displesure and great pouertie, and she is mother Leuit. xix. b. of hunger. Let no mans hyre * remaine Mat. vii. a with the, whose seruice thou hast had, but forthwith paye hym wages, for vnto the also seruyng God, rewarde shalbe geuen.
Sonne be circumspect and ware in all thy dedes, & in all that thou doest whyle thou lyuest be wyse, and do not to anye manne that thou wouldest not to be done to the.
Drynke not wyne untill thou be dronke, nor carpe it not with the by the waye.
Gyue * thy bread to þ honary & with thy Luke. xii.
clothes couer the naked. Whatsoeuer shall be left, gyue it to the pore, & neuer grudge at liberalite. Set thy bread vpon the Sepulchre of the iust, and bestowe it not vpon the naughty. Are counsayll alwayes of the wyse, and despyse no good counsayle.
Be alwayes praying vnto the Lord, and beseeche hym that he will order thy fote steppes and wayes, and prosper thy coun-sayles. For no people are wyse, but the lord himselfe is þ genitor of all good thinges & chastyseth down whom, & how he lysteth.
Therefore

Tobi. ix. d.

Therefore my sonne remember my preceptes, and put them not out of thy mynde.
Of * thyself also my sonne I thought to tel
the, that when thou wast yet but a chyld, I deliuered .x. talentes of syluer vnto Sabelus Gabrias brother at Ragas a cytye of Medes, and his hande wytyng haue I by me. And therefore seke some meanes how thou mayest come by hym, and when thou hast receyued of hym þe sayd weyght of syluer, gyue him his hande wytyng a-gayne. My sonne be not afrayed that we leade a poore lyfe: if þe feare God & studie to please * him, thou hast goods inough.

No. vii. d.

The .v. Chapter.

The obedience of yonge Tobias to his father, whiche is sente into Ragas. An aungel accompanieth hym in his iourney.

Then answered Tobias and sayed: father al that thou haste commaunded me wyl I do, but howe shal I get thy syluer, se-ing I know him not? What token shal I gyue him? Then sayd his father: I haue a bil of his hand with me, asone as þe shalt shew it hym, he wil pay the mony: And so he gaue hym his hande wytyng. So thy way now and seke some man to go with the, whylest I am alpye, for I wyl paye hym his hyre: and go & fetch thy mony. So when he was gone to seke one, he founde Raphael standyng in the strete, a goodlye yong man gydded vp, and as he wet redy to go: whom not knowyng to be an angel, he spake vnto and sayd: Good yonge man from whence comest thou? And he sayd, from the sonnes of Israel. Tobias arood hym agayn. May I haue thy company as farre as Ragas, whiche is in Media? or know you those quarters? Then sayd the angell, I wyl go with the: I know that way and haue gone thither oftē, and haue dwelled wth our brother Gabael, which dwelleth at Ragas, that is a cytye of the Medes standing on the mount Ecbatany.
Then sayd Tobias: tary me tyl I shewe my father. Then sayde he: go thy wayes and tary not. So he went in, and shewed his father al the matter. Too father, quod he, I haue founde one to goo with me. The he matueplynge, sayed: Cal him vnto me, that I may knowe of what tribe he is, and whether he be a saythfull companion or not. So whē he was called & come in, and that he had salute dorther, the pōg man sayed: Syr euerlastinge lope moughte you haue. And Tobias sayed: what lope can I haue, whē I sit in darkenes, and may not se the lychte of þe heauē? And the yong mā sayd: be of good chere, for the tyme wyl come shortly when you shalbe healed of God. Further Tobias arood him: Can you bryng me son to Gabael, as farre as Ra-gas, a cytye of Media, and when you come agayne I wyl gyue you your hyre? The aungell answered. Verely I wyl bryng hym thither, and bryng him to the agayne.

Tobias arood hym agayne: Of what tribe or stock art thou come, tel me. And he sayed doest thou seke for a tyebe or famillye, or an hyperlyng to goo thy iourney wth thy sonne? Then sayed Tobias: Brother I wolde sayne know thy kynred, and thy name. Then sayed he: To put the oute of care and doute, I come of the kynred of Azaryas, and the greate Ananias, thy bretre. Then sayde Tobias, wel mought thou saie for thy commynge hyther, and be not angrey wth me, because I arood of thy kynred and famillye. Verelye thou arte my brother, come of a good and honest kynred.

For I knew Ananias & Ionathas, sonnes of the greate Samaias, euen then when I went together with them to Hierusalem to do worshippe, and to consecrate my syrakings, and offer vp the tenthes of my frutes: for they had forgottē their co-sens. Brother thou arte come of a greate stocke. But tell me what I shal gyue the, or wylt thou haue a grete a day wth necessaries, such as my sonne hath: but if you come home agayne safe, I wyl double thy hyer. The angell sayed vnto hym agayne.
I wyl leade out and bryng home agayne thy sonne safe. Whē they wet thus agreed, he sayed vnto Tobias: Make thy self redy to go, and God send you good speede.
So his sonne prepared all thynges necessary for his iourney, and badde both his father and mother farewell. And his father sayd: Thou shalt go w this man, but God that dwelleth in heauen prospere your iourney, and his aungell be in your company. So when they were both gone on their iourney, and the yong mannes dog with them, Anna his mother wept & chyd with Tobias, sayyng: why hast thou sent our sonne away, was * he not the staffe of our hand to leade vs to and from? Syluer wold not haue come to syluer, but yet for our sonnes sake, we shou'd not haue cared for it. For as muche as God hath geuen vs to lyue on that is sufficiente for vs, & we shoulde haue thoughte the spght of our son our ryches. Then sayd Tobias: my sister be not penyfe, he shall come home safe, and thynne eyes shall se hym. For he hath a good aungel that is in his company, and after a prosperous iourney shall retourne safe. Then at these wordes the mother of yong manne, made an ende of wepyng and helde her peace.

Tobi. x. d.

The .vi. Chapter.

Yong Tobias is deliuered from the fythe by the aungel. The aungel exhorteth Tobias, to take Sara to his wyfe.

Also they wet forth on their iourney, & at euē came to the cytye Tigris, & there abode.
And when the yonge mā was gone downe to washe him, an horrible greate fythe lept out of the cytye, wold haue deuoured him, whē Tobias fearings,

D D. ii.

tyng, cryed with a loude voyce, sayinge: Lorde be commeth vpon me. And the angel said vnto hym: take the fysh by the gyll, & draw him to thee. And so he caughte the fysh, and caste hym vpon the lande, and he lept at hys fete. And the aungell sayed to hym agayne: botwell the fysh, and take the harte and the lyuer and the gall, and laye them asyde safe, for they serue for a good medycyne. And þ yong man did as the angell commaunded: & they roasted the fysh & eat, & part they toke with the in their iornie, & salted as much as was sufficient for the, til they came to Ragas, a cite of the Medes. And whē they wer gone on their iournie, and drew nye to Ecbatani, the yong man arood þ Angell: Brother Azaria, what meanest this here, liuer and gal of þ fysh, wherfore be they good? that thou biddest me kepe them. And he said to him: If thou laye a pece of the herte vpon the coales, the smoke therof dryueth away al maner of euyl spirites, wherher it be fro man or womā, so that after they shal trouble them no more. The gall is good to anoynt or stroke the eyes withall, where as there is any blemishe in them. And whē they drew nye to Ragas, and that Tobias arood wher they shuld yune, the Angel sayd vnto the yong mā: Brother, we wyl now lodge with Raguell, * he is thy cosyn, and hys onely doughter is Sara: and I wyl comen wyth hym, that he wyl geue her the to wyfe: and axe her of her father, that he wyl geue her the in matrimony. All hys goodes thou muste haue, for thou onely remaynest alpye of his stocke, and the mayde is fayre and wyse. Wherfore be ruled by me, and I wyl be in hand wyth her father, that whē we come agayn to Ragis, the mariage shalbe solemnised. For I know Raguel, and that after the lawe of Moses he wyl in no wyse mary her to any other, or els he shall do himselfe harme: for the hereditaunce muste needes come to the, rather then to anye other. Then answered the yong man to the aungell: Brother Azaria, cruelly I haue herd saye, that this mayden hath ben maryed to .vii. men, whych haue all dyed in the bed chamber. Now I am my fathers only son, and am afrayed lest when I am come in, I shulde perishe as dyd the other before, because the Deuyl loueth her: for he hurteth none but suche as wold lye wyth her: Wherfore now I am afrayd lest I shulde die, and byng the lyfe of my parentes vnto the graue for sorowe of me, and that they shal haue none other son to burye them. To whom the aungell answered agayne: Heare me, and I wyl tell the hyon whom the deuyl hath power, & telerpe they that come to matrimony, and excludyng God from them, & out of thes mind, geue them selues to bodely lust after the fashion of brute beastes, * horse or mule: those be in the power of the Deuyl. Doest thou not remēber the lessons that thy father gaue the, how thou shuldest chose a wyfe of thine own kynred? Wherfore brother now herke to me, for she shal be thy wyfe: & as for the Deuyl, care not for hym, for euen this night she shal be married vnto the. But when thou shalt enter into thy chamber, three daies kepe the scd her, & do nothyng, but geue thy selfe to prayer wyth her, thou shalt take heat coles to make a fumigaciō, & lay vpon the herte and lyuer, part of the fysh: and thowowe the smel therof, the deuyl shall flye away, and shall neuer come agayne whyle the world standeth. And in the second nyght thou shalt be admitted into the felowshyp of holy Patriarkes, & in þ third, thou shalt obtayne such blessing, that thy children begotten by you, shal be healthful and longe lyued. But when the thyrde nyght is past, and that you shall come together, aryse both, & desyre God to be mercyfull to you, and he shall haue mercy vpon you, & saue you. Then shall you toyn this vyrgin to you wyth the feate of the Lord, rather to haue chylde, the for the lust, that you may get blessednes in your chylde, thowowe the seide of Abraham. Fear not, for she was appoynted to the before the worlde was made: therfore thou shalt kepe her, & she shall go wyth the, & I thynke thou shalt haue chylde by her. After this Tobias was taken wyth her loue, and set hys mynde greatly vnto her.

The vii. Chapter.

TYonge Tobias and the Aungel come to the house of Raguell, he requirith Raguels doughter to wyfe and obteyneth her.

When they were come to Ecbatani, & to Raguels house, Sara came out to the: & when they hadde Eche saluted other, she brought them into the house, and Raguell receyued them ioyfully, & beholdyng Tobias sayd vnto his wyfe Edna: how lyke is this yong mā vnto Tobias my sisters sonne. And asked them, from whence come ye brethren? They sayed: from the children of Neptalim, prisoners in Babilue. He sayed agayne: know you our brother Tobias? They sayed: we know him. Then said he, how doth he? They answered, he is alpye, & in good helth. And as he spake much good of hym, Tobias sayd: he is my father. Then Raguel leapyng for ioy, kyssed hym and wept, and toke hym aboute þ necke, and wyshed hym wel, sayinge: Gods blessing haue thou my sonne. Thou hast a good and an honest man to thy father. And when he had herd þ Tobias was blynde, he and hys wyfe Edna were very sorowful, and their doughter Sara wept. But they welcomed them hartely, and killyng a ram of their stocke, they set meat before them largely. Then sayd Tobias to Raguel: brother Azaria, cast out a worde of those thynges that you spake with me by the way

An. xxvii. a xxxvi. a.

Mat. xxi. a

the way, that the matter may be brought to pas. And so he opened þe matter to Raguel, which when Raguel vnderstode, he was afrayed, knowing what had happened to þe viii. men þe went vnto her: & he feared, lest the lyke shuld happen to hym. As he was thus, & gaue no answer to that was axed hym, the aungell sauerh feare: nor to handefaste her to hym, for thy daughter ought to be his wife, for he is a true worshipper of god, & therefore none other man maye entoye her. Then sayed Raguel, I doubt not but God hath herde my prayers and reares, and in dede I beleue that he hath brought you hyther, that he after þe lawe of Moyses, maye be toynd to a man of her owne kynred. Therfore doute not but I wyll shortly make her suer to hym. So Raguel despyed Tobias to eate and drynke, and be mery. For it is mete, sayed he, that thou shuldest marry my daughter. Yet wyll I tell the truthe: I maryed my daughter to seuen husbundes, whiche in the same nyght that they shulde lye wyth her, dyed, but yet take thou a good harte & be mery. Then sayed Tobias: truly I wyll eate no meate, tyll thou haue graunted my petition, & brought her hyther and maryed her vnto me. And Raguel answered: now from henceforth take her for thy wyfe as reason is, for she is of thy kynred, and that mercifull Lord graunt vnto you verie well to do. So he called Sara his daughter, & when she was come, he toke her by the hand, and gaue her to wyfe vnto Tobie, saying: Lo take this woman according to the lawe of Moyses: and take her with the to thy fathers house, & thereafter despyed God to sende the ioye together, saying: The god of Abrahā, & god of Isaac, the god of Iacob be with you, ioin you together, & fulfill his blessing in you. The called he his wyfe Edna, & toke a letter & made a wytyng of the marriage, and sealed it, and praysed God, and wente to thei mate. Raguel called his wyfe Edna agayn and said: sister prepare an other chamber, and bring her into it. And when she had doen as he bad her, & had brought her in meping, he chforted her daughter & sayed: Be of good chere, the Lord of heauē and earth wyll turne this sorow of thynne into ioye, wherfore o daughter be mery.

The viii. Chapter.

The aungel byndeth the deuel. Tobias exhorteth his wyfe to prayer, and they praye. iiii. dayes before they lye together.

And whē supper was do, they brought Tobias vnto her: & as he came he thought vpon the wordes of Raguel, and toke out of his bagge the hert & louer of the fish, & layed it vpon the hotte coles, & made a fume of it: & whē the deuel smelt the sauoure, he fled into the farthest parte of Egipte, where the aungell bound him in bāds. And whē they were both that in, Tobias arose out of his bed, sayinge: aryse & thou sister also, & let vs pray God to haue mercy vpon vs, and let vs do thus now, to morow, & þe next day: for these. iiii. nyghtes must we reconcile our selues to God, and after the thrid nyght, we shall take the pleasure of our mariage. For we be the chyldren of saintes, and we may not come together as the beathē þe knowe not God. And so whē they were rylen vp both together, they besought God earnestlye þe he wold preserue them. And Tobias bega. I prayed be thou O God of our fathers, & praised be thy holy & gloriouse name for euer. The heauens and þe earth, þe fountaynes & flouds, & al þe thou hast made prayse the. * Thou madest Adam and gauest him Eue to his wyfe for an helper, and of them came al mankynde. Thou saydest, it is not good for mā to lye alone, lette vs make an helper for him lyke himselfe. And now oh Lord I take vnto me this my syter, not for lust & voluptuousnes, but of a pure hert, for the only desyre to haue chyldre, by whō thy name may be praised to the worldsend. Shew thy selfe therefore merciful vnto me, that I may lye with her vntyll I be old. Then sayd she with hym: Amen. And the same nyght that he laye with her, Raguel a rose, and aboute cockrowe called vp his seruantes, and went out and dygged a graue, saying: peradventure this man also is dead, as the other seuen, that went to her. And when he was come home he sayed to his wyfe Edna: Sende one of thy maydens to know whether he be alue or not: þe if he be not, we may burye hym before day: or any man know it. So the mayden that he sente opened the doore and went in, & found the both slepyng safe & sounde, and came agayn and sayd, the man was al lye. Then Raguel and his wyfe gaue thankes vnto the Lord, and sayde: o God with most holy & pure hert praysed maye thou be: yea and all thy saintes prayse the and all thy workes, al angels and the elect prayse þe for euer. Lord I thanke the that thou hast chered me, and that it hath not happened as I feared, but hast dealt mercifully with vs pityng vnder two onelpe forgotten chyldren, and hast dryuen away from vs our enemy, that so folowed vs. And now further oh Lord shewe thy selfe mercifull vnto them, that they may leade their lyfe in health and gladnes thorow thy mercy, and that they may greatly please the, by the sacrifice of thankes geuyng, wherby it may appeere vnto all nations, that thou art the God alone thow out al the earth. Then he commaunded his seruantes to fyll by the graue or euer it were day, he commaunded his wyfe to prepare a feast, & make redy al such thynges, & meate that they shulde haue nede of by the waye, and he caused also to be kylled ii. fat kyne, &. iiii. rames, & made a feast to all his neighbours & frendes, & helde it. D D D. iiii. xlii.

i. Cor. vii.

Gene. ii. 2.

The. iiii. boke of Edoas

xiiii. dayes. For Raguell before these feast full dayes of the mariage were out, caused Tobias to sweare that he shuld not depart, tyll those fourtene feastfull dayes of the maryed were ended, and that then receyving the one halfe of hys goodes, he shuld go home agayne to hys fathers, and after his death haue the rest of hys and hys wyues goodes, & thereof he made a wytyng.

The. ix. Chapter.

The angel goth to Gabelus, at the desyer of Tobias: which deliuereth the letters & receyuethe the monye.

When Tobias calleth Raphael, whom he thought to haue been a man, and sayed vnto hym: I pray the herken what I shall say: If I wold geue my self to be thy seruant, yet were I not worthy to waite vpon such a wyse man as thou art: yet I pray the of this thyng, Brother Azaria, take with the a seruant, and .ii. camels, and go thy wayes to Gabelus in Rages, which is in Medea, and deliuer hym this wytyng, and receyue of hym the syluer, and bring hym to my mariage. For Raguell hath sworn that I shall not depart, & I may not set light by hys othe. And as thou knowest, my father counteth 8 dayes: and yf I tary but one day to long, he wyl be werye sore. So Raphael, with foure of Raguels seruantes, & two Cammels, wente vnto Rages, whiche is a cite in Medea, and came to Gabelus: and when he hadde deliuered vnto hym the wytyng he brought by the monye that was sealed, and deliuered it vnto hym.

Afterwards whē he had told hym how the matters wēt with Tobias, they came forth togither earlye in the mornynge to the mariage. And when they were come into Raguels house, they founde Tobias at meate, and he leapt vp, and Gebe saluted other with a kys, and Gabelus wept for ioye, and gaue God great thākes, and sayd: the blessing of the Lord God of Israel haue thou, for thou arte the sonne of a ryght veruous and iust man, and one that feareth God, and geueth greute almose. And blessinge haue thy wyfe and your parentes, that ye may se your chyldren, and your chylders chyldren, euen to the thyrde and fourth generacion. And blessed maye be your seede by the Lord God of Israel, whiche raygneth worlde without ende. And when they hadde all saied, amen, they went to kepe this feaste of the mariage, with the feast of the Lord: and Tobias gat hys wyfe with chyld.

The. x. Chapter.

Tobias & his wyfe are sad for the absence of their sonne. Raguell sendeth agayne Tobias with hys wyfe.

When Tobias & his father colided euery day, & whē the dayes that were appoynted for hys iourney were out, & they not come, Tobias tar-

The. ix. Chapter.

ying because of hys mariage, the father very pēse, sayd: why doth my son tary, for what holdeth him? hath he gone (quod he) perchance in vaine, or is Gabaell dead, or wil no mā pay him 8 money? Thus began he to be very sorowful, he and his wyfe, & began to wepe both together, because their son was not come agayne vnto the at 8 day appoynted. And his wyfe sayd, my sonne is lost that he taryeth thus longe, and began with discomfōtable tears, & therto sayd: How set I by nothyng, my sonne, seing I haue lost the, the lyght of myne eyes, the staffe of myne olde age, and the confort of my lyfe, and the helpe of our flocke. Who is me, who is me, my sonne, why sente we the away from vs, al our help stode in the, and we shuld not haue sent the fro vs. The sayd Tobias: hold thy peace, & be not discomfōted, 8 man that we sent with him is trustie inough. And she sayd: hold thy peace, mocke me not, my sonne is dead: & in no wyse she woulde be comforted. And euery day she went out into that waye that they went forth, and looked aboute what way soeuer she hoped they shoulde come, and looked whether she could se them cominge afar of: all the day tyme she wolde eate no meate, and lay wepyng continually al the nightes for her son Tobias, til those xiiii. dayes of the mariage, the which Raguell swore he shuld tary, were paste.

Then sayde Tobias to Raguell: Let me go, for my parentes thynke they shall neuer se me agayne. But hys father in lawe prayed hym to tarye with hym, and sayde he woulde sende hys father worde of all hys matters. Not so, sayd Tobias, but lette me go to my father. For I knowe that my parentes dothe count the dayes, and are sore weryed in their mynde.

And althoughe Raguel made much praying to Tobias, yet could he by no meanes perswade hym to tary. Then Raguel rose vp, and when he had deliuered vnto hym hys wyfe Sara, with the one halfe of his substance, as wel seruantes as beastes and mony, he wyshed them good fortune, and let them go, sayinge: The beauenlye God be your good spede, and leade you in your iourney, and I pray God mine eyes may se your chyldren or euer that I dye.

The holy angell of the Lord accompanye you in your iourney, and lead you safe, 8 you may synde all thynges in good case at your fathers and mothers. And to hys daughter he spake these wordes: Honour thi father & mother in law, which are now thy parents, and se that I may hear good tidynge of the. Loue thy husbāde, take hede of thy housholde, and kepe well thy house, and serue thy selfe faultlesse, and tere with kynd thet. Also Edna spake thus vnto Tobias: deare brother, The Lord of heauen bringe you home agayne and graunte me to see chyldren of my daughter Sara, that I maye ioye in God

God. And here I graunte vnto you my daughter as a pledge, that ye increat her not vngenerlyllye.

And after thys Tobias wote hys wafe, thankynge God that he had geuen hym a prosperous iourney. And when he had bid- den Raguel and Edna farewell, he went in hys iourney, vntyl on the leuenthy day, he came to Charran, which is in the myddest of his iourney, and he drew nye vnto Ninue.

The. xi. Chapter.

Yonge Tobias leuynge hys wife and householde in the midway, cometh befoze with the angel. The dreame of his mother lokynge after her sonne. He is ioyfullie receiued of his father and mother. Sara cometh. vii. dayes after.

A Den Raphael said vnto Tobias: Thou knowest how thou hast left thy father. Therefore if thou wilt, we will goo befoze, and let the householde with thy wife and the cattell come softe & laye after vs. But se that thou haue the gall of the fysh with the, for it shall do vs seruite. So they went befoze, and the dog folowed after. But Anna sat dayly by the way side vpon the top of an hill, from whence she myght se a farre of: and whyle she was watynge there for his comynge, she looked a farre of, & anon she percepued her sonne comynge, and knewe hym, and shewed his father. Lo ponder is thy sonne comynge and the man that went out with hym. And Raphael sayde, I knowe that thy father shall reouer by sight. Therefore as sone as thou shalt come in to the house, after thou hast made thy prayer vnto God, and geuen hym thankes, and art comen to thy father, kysse hym, and anoynte hys eyes with the gall that thou haste with the: & with rubbing he shal smarte, but the payne shal go awaye, and straitwaye hys eyes shal be opened, and thy father shal se the lyght of the heauē and the also. And Anna came running and hong vpon her sonnes necke, sayynge: Son, since I haue seen the, I am content to die, and both fel in weppynge. And the dogge that had gone all the waye with them, ranne befoze, and came as a messēger, & wagged his taile for gladnes. And blind Tobias gaue hys seruaunt his hand, and ranne to mete hys son, & stambled at that doore, and hys sonne ran, and toke hym vp, and he embraced hym as dyd hys wyfe, and kysed hym weppynge for ioy: and when they hadde worshiped and gaue thākes to God, they sat down. Then with the fishes gall anoynted he hys fathers eyes, and had hym be in good comfort, and tary the space of halfe an heure. And whā hys eyes began to prycke, he rubbed the, vntill the blemish wente oute frome the corners of hys eyes lyke scales or white skynne of an egge, the whych Tobias toke and drew from hys eyes, and he recepued hys sighte. Then beholdinge hys sonne, he toke hym aboute the necke, and he & hys wyfe prayseynge God befoze al them that were there presente, sayed: worthy are thou to be praysed O God, and thy name to be exalted for euer, & blessed be all thyne aungels, for thou hast scourged me, and hast had ppy on me, by cause that lo I se nowe my sonne Tobie. And so hys sonne came in merily and told his father all the benefites whych had goodlie chaūsed vnto hym in Medea, thow the man þ was leader in the iourney. So seuen dayes after came Tobias with hys wyfe Sara and all hys householde, they camels and all ther cattel safe with much mony, & with þ also that they had recepued of Babelus, & geuyng thanks to God, he wente out to mete his daughter in lame at the gate of Ninues: and they that sawe hym, marvelled to se hym go, and that he had receiued his sighte: and he testified befoze them al, þ God had shewed his mercye vpo hym. And whā he was come to hys daughter in law, he saluted her, sayng: welcōe daughter, for I geue thākes vnto God whych hath broughte the to vs, and next to thy parentes. And thys was ioy to al the brethren that wer at Ninue. And ther came Acharus, & Albas hys brothers sonne, and thāked God for all the benefites that God had giuen hym: & Tobias maryage was kept the space of seuen dayes.

The. xii. Chapter.

Yonge Tobias rekeneth vp vnto his father the pleasures that the aungel dyd hym. He offereth vnto the aungel halfe the goodes that he brought with hym.

S Den Tobias called hys sonne to hym, and sayed: loke what hye we may geue thys man þ wente with the: yea we had nede to make hym some greater amendes. And he sayed: sat her I am content he haue halfe of these thynges that I haue brought w me. For what rewarde shuld we giue him, or what can we geue hym worthy hys deserttes? for it is he that hath broughte me home agayne safe, and toke charge of my wyfe, he made me to haue her, he draue awaye the deuē, & brought ioy to her parentes, & saued me from the fishes mouth: he brought the mony from Babelus, and restored to the thy health, and made the se the lighte of heauen, and by hym we are made rich with al these goodes. What can we do for hym agayne worthy these thynges? Therefore good father I desyre the, þ thou wilt are of hym if it please hym to take half of these that he brought. Then sayed the olde manne: He is worthy to haue it, and callynge vnto him the aungel, take quod he, half of these that thou hast brought, and go thy wayes safe with the. And he callynge them bothe asyde, sayed: prayse God, and geue hym thankes, prayse hym and confesse these thynges þ he hath done vnto you, before al menne lyuynge. It is a goodlye chynge to prayse God, & to extolle his name. And therefore speake mooste honourably of gods dedes, and gyue hym thanks. It is good to hyde the kynges secrettes, but contrary, to shewe openly the workes of God, it is an honorable chynge. If ye do wel, no euill shall come to you. Those be good prayers that be toynded wth fasting, almosse, & iustice.

Better is a litle wth iustice, the much w wyng. It is better to gyue almosse, the to hord by treasures of gold. Almosse deliue-reth from death, and clenseth all synne, and obteyneth forgeuenes, and byngeth to euerlastyng lyfe. They that vse almosse and iustice, shall get lyfe euerlastyng: But euell me are enemies to theyr own soules.
I wyll hyde nothyng from you, but tell you as the truth is.

T I sayde it was well done to hyde the kynges secrets, & contrary, & it was honorable to shew forth openly the workes of God. When thou diddest wepe, and Sara thy doughter in law * pray, I bare a memorie of your prayers before & holy God: and when thou dydest bury the dead, I lykewyse was by the, & when thou didst arise from thy meate, and forsokest thy diner to bury the: bothe in the nyght and day tyme, I knewe thy good dede, and was ther present wth the. But because God loued the, it was necessary to proue the by temptation. Therefore nowe God sente me downe to helpe the, and also to deliuer thy doughter in lawe Sara from the Deuyll. I am Raphaell, one of the seue Angelles that beare vp the prayers of holy men, and & are messengers of his holy wyll. The wer both they troubled & afraid, and for feare fell down flat vpon the ground. The sayd the Angel: fear not, for al your matters shall be wel, but thanke God: for I came not for my sake, but at & wyll of the same God your Lord, wherfore prayse hym for euer. I was at al times a spirite, for I nether eate nor drinke, but you * thought I did: for I vse no meat nor drynke that maye be seen. Wherfore now gyue thanks vnto the Lorde, for I go vp to hym that sent me, and wyte al thynges that be done. Now when they were risen, and could not se hym in any place, they fel doun vpon theyr face, & praysed God thre houres together: & after they were risen, they praysed the greate and marueylous workes of God, and how they had sene the Angel of the Lorde.

The. xiii. Chapter.

Tobias the elder giueth thanks vnto god.
And Tobias the elder wrot a meditacion of thanks geuing that came out of his own mouth after this maner. The liuing god muste be praysed eternally, and his kingdom also for euer more. For he punisheth and hath mercy, he putteth downe, and byngeth vp, nor there is no manne that can escape his bande.

You chyldren of Israell gyue thanks vnto hym before the gentyles, for he hath scattered you amongest them. There shewe abrode his magnificence, and praise hym before all them that be alpye, and teach & ther is none other God almighty but he.
For he is the Lorde, and our god, he is our father euerlastyng. He wyll punyssh vs for our naughtynes, and agayne wyll haue pi-tye vpon vs, and wyll gather vs together agayne from all the nations among wha we be disperfed. If ye be tourued vnto hym wth al your hert, and al your mind, to lyue verryously before hym, he wyll also tourne hym to you, and wyll not tourne awaye his face from you, but you shall se what he wyll do wth you. Praise hym w full mouth, praise the Lorde of iustice, w feare and trembling, and wth your wor-kes praise the kyng euerlastyng. I verely wyll geue hym thanks in the lande of my captiuitie, and wyll praise his power and royaltie vnto the people that are geue to synne. O ye wicked come agayne into the ryght way, and se goodnes in his sight.
Who ca tel whether he wyll cast his goodwyll to you or not, and gyue you forgyue-nesse? I wyll lyft vp and praise my God, and my mynde shall gyue thanks to the kyng of heauen. Lette all menne praise his magnificence, lette them be merce, and thanke hym for his goodnesse.

Jerusalem thou holpe cytye, be wyl. scourge the for the dedes of thy chyldren, and agayne wyll haue pity vpon the chyldren of iust men. Reuerse the goodnes of the Lorde, and praise the Lorde eternally, & thy tabernacle may be buylded agayne wth ioye, and maye make the prysoners mercy in the, and receyue into his fauour for euermore those that be in misery: thou shalt shyne wth a goodly lyght, and all & ends of the earth shall praise the. * To the name of the Lord God many nations shall come from afarre of, byngynge gyftes in theyr hand, I say gyftes, vnto the king celestiall. Many nations shall praise the, & gyue the thanks. In the they shall worshyp the Lord: and thy land they shall couehalowed, for in the they shall cal vpon the great name. Al that hate the shall deserue to be hated, and al that hurte the shall be condempned: and al that loue the, shall haue ioye euerlastyng. Reioyce and be gladde for the sonnes of iuste menne, for they shall be fortunate, and come together to praise the Lorde of the iuste. O blessed be they that loue the, for they shall take pleasure of thy reste: Blessed be they that haue bene sorre for thy punysshement, for they shall reioyce for thy sake, when they shall see all thy glorie, and they shall reioyce for euer. Lette my soule praise God the great kyng, because he hath deliuered his cite Jerusalem from al his affliccions,

Toby. ii.

gene. xviij.
a. r. xix. a.
Jud. xiii. c.

Esaie. lx. a.
Dan. viij.
a.
Actes. ii. a.

Apo. xii.

afflictions, euen the Lorde our God.
 Hapye shall I be, if there shall remayne of my seide that shall see the noblenes of Jerusalem: * For Hierusalem shall be builde wth saphyr, smaragd, & precious stones.
 Thy walles shall be built wth fyne golde, wth arches and turrets, and the stretes shall be paved wth perle, carbuncle & white marble, and Alleluta shall be song in al her stretes. Praise be to Lord, shall they saye, whych hath sette her on hye for euer, that she may raygne euermore. Amen. And so Tobias made an ende of hys ioyous taul-kynge.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

Tobias prophesieth the destruction of Ninive: hys sonne retourneth to Raguel after the decesse of hys father and mother.

Tobias was eighte and systie yere old whē he lost his sight,
 and eyghre yeres after he had it agayne, and helped after he was deliuered frome hys blindenes two and forty yere: and when he had liued ful an hundred two yeres, he was honorably buried at Ninue. Also he holpe poore menne, and worshipped
 God deuoutely, and praised hym.

But when he was come to extreme olde age, aboute the houre of his deathe, he called hys sonne, and hys sonnes chyldre, and sayed: O sonne take thy chyldren, for
 I am now verie olde and at deatthes doze,
 and goe thy wayes into Media my sonne.
 For the tyme is nye that Ninue shall be destroyed: for the worde of God can not faile. For I do beleue those thynges that the prophete Jonas dyd prophete of Ninue, that it shulde be destroyed, and the worlde shulde be more quiet in Media for a while. And that our brethren shall be caste oute of theyr plentiful countrey, and scattered into the worlde, and that Jeru-

Jerusalem shall be left desolate, & that the house of God in it shall be burned and forsaken for a tyme. And God againe shall take mercye, and bringe them agayne into theyre countrey where theyr temple shall be buylt, yet vnyke the fyrst: when that tyme shall be fulfilled that they shall come euery
 man in from the captiuitie whych shulde build agayne Hierusalem royally, and that goodly house of God shall be builde vp for euer, as the prophetes haue prophesied
 of it, when al the gentiles shall turne them selfs vnto God and worshyp hym wth true and synccere religyon, and shall hyde theyr Idoles in the grounde, and come to dwell at Hierusalem, when all nacyns shall prayse the Lorde, and his people shall geue thanckes vnto hym, and the Lorde shall lyfte them vp: and all laudynge theire Lorde God, in vertue and in iustice, and doinge good vnto theyre brethren, shall re-ioyce and be verie glad.

Wherfore nowe my sonne get the oute
 of Ninue, for all those thynges shall come to pas in dede, whych the prophete Jonas dyd prophete of before: and I perceue that her naughtines shall be her destruction. * But kepe thou the lawe and

 commaundementes, and shewe thy selfe mercifull and iust, that thou mayst prosper. Haue God in thy remembraunce, and prayse hym at all tymes w al thy mighte.
 And bury me honestly, & thy mother wth me, and tary no longer at Ninue. Remember sonne howe Aman handled Archiarus whych noyshed and brought him vp, how he brought hym from lyght to darknes, & what reward he gaue hym: but yet Archiarus was saued, and he secued alphe, & went into darkenes. Manasses vsed mercye, and escaped out of the deadly snare whych they had set for hym: But Aman fell into it, and perished. Wherfore nowe my son, se what mercie dothe, and howe iustice deliuereth. After he had sayd these words, he gaue vp the goost in hys bedde, when he was an. C. and. lviij. yere olde: &
 he buried hym honorably, and his mother Anna also after she was dead, and laid her
 in hys fathers graue: but he w hys wyfe,
 and hys chyldren went vnto Ecbatanis to Raguel hys father in lawe. And when he was come to honorable olde age, when hys father and mother in lawe were dead (whom he found verie olde, and dyd muche for them) he buried them honorably, and was bere of all theyr substance, and of hys fathers also: and when he was an. C.
 and. xxvij. yere old, he died at Ecbatanis, whych is a cite of Media, after he had
 sene hys chylders chyldre to the fyfte age.
 Also before he dyed, he herde howe Ninue
 was destroyed, whych was taken of Na-buchodonosor and Assuerus, and before hys deathe reioysed therat. And all hys kyndred, and offsprynge continued in a good lyfe, & holy conuersaciō, so that they were loued bothe of God and man, & al the people of the land.

The ende of the booke
 of Tobias.

The Booke of
 Judith.

The fyrst Chapter.

The building of Ecbatanis. The victorie of Nabuchodonosor against Arpharat. The messengers of Nabuchodonosor are despised.

Vnto Arpharat had ouer-come many nacions, and helde the kyngdome of Medes at Ecbatanis
 and had compassed it aboue wth a wall, seue-
 tie cubites hye, and fif-
 tie cubites broad, the stones hewed four square,

Deut. vi c.
 i. reg. vi. a
 ioh. xxiij. c.

Apo. xii.

afflictions, euen the Lorde our God.
 Hapye shall I be, if there shall remayne
 of my seide that shall see the noblenes of Jerusalem: * For Hierusalem shall be builde wyth saphyr, smaragd, & precious stones.
 Thy walles shall be built wyth fyne golde, wyth arches and turrets, and the stretes shall be paved wyth perle, carbuncle & white marble, and Alleluta shall be song in al her stretes. Praise be to Lord, shall they saye, whych hath sette her on hye for euer, that she may raygne euermore. Amen. And so Tobias made an ende of hys ioyous taul-
 kynge.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

Tobias prophesieth the destruction of Ni-
 nive: hys sonne retourneth to Raguel after the deceasse of hys father and mother.

Tobias was eighte and systie
 yere old whē he lost his sight,
 and eyghre yeres after he had it agayne, and helpyed after he was delpyered frome hys blindenes two and forty yere: and when he had liued ful an hundred two yeres, he was honorably buried at Ninue. Also
 he holpe poore menne, and worshipped
 God deuoutely, and praised hym.

But when he was come to extreme olde
 age, aboute the houre of his deathe, he called hys sonne, and hys sonnes chyldre, and sayed: O sonne take thy chyldren, for
 I am now verie olde and at deatthes doze,
 and goe thy wayes into Media my sonne.
 For the tyme is nye that Ninue shall be destroyed: for the worde of God can not faile. For I do beleue those thynges that the prophete Jonas dyd prophete of Ninue, that it shulde be destroyed, and the worlde shulde be more quiet in Media
 for a while. And that our brethren shall be caste oute of theyr plentiful countrey, and
 scattered into the worlde, and that Jeru-

Jerusalem shall be left desolate, & that the house
 of God in it shall be burned and forsaken
 for a tyme. And God againe shall take mercye, and bringe them agayne into theyre countrey where theyr temple shall be buylt, yet vnyke the fyrst: when the tyme
 shall be fulfilled that they shall come euery
 man in from the captiuitie whych shulde
 build agayne Hierusalem royally, and that goodlye house of God shall be builde vp for
 euer, as the prophetes haue prophesied
 of it, when al the gentiles shall turne them selfs vnto God and worshyp hym wyth
 true and synccere religyon, and shall hyde theyr Idoles in the grounde, and come to dwell at Hierusalem, when all nacjons shall prayse the Lorde, and his people shall
 geue thanckes vnto hym, and the Lorde
 shall lyfte them vp: and all laudynge theire Lorde God, in vertue and in iustice, and
 doinge good vnto theyre brethren, shall re-
 ioyce and be verie glad.

Wherfore nowe my sonne get the oute
 of Ninue, for all those thynges shall come

to pas in dede, whych the prophete Jonas dyd prophete of before: and I perceue that her naughtines shall be her destruction. * But kepe thou the lawe and
 commaundementes, and shewe thy selfe
 mercifull and iust, that thou mayst prosper. Haue God in thy remembraunce, and prayse hym at all tymes w al thy mighte.
 And bury me honestly, & thy mother wyth
 me, and tary no longer at Ninue. Remember sonne howe Aman handled Archiarus
 whych noyshed and brought him vp, how he brought hym from lycht to darknes, & what reward he gaue hym: but yet Archiarus was saued, and he secued alpye, & went into darkenes. Manasses vsed mer-
 cye, and escaped out of the deadly snare
 whych they had set for hym: But Aman
 fell into it, and perished. Wherfore nowe
 my son, se what mercie dothe, and howe iustice deliuereth. After he had sayd these words, he gaue vp the goost in hys bedde,
 when he was an. C. and. lviij. yere olde: &
 he buried hym honorably, and his mother
 Anna also after she was dead, and laid her
 in hys fathers graue: but he w hys wyfe,
 and hys chyldren went vnto Ecbatanis
 to Raguel hys father in lawe. And when he was come to honorable olde age, when
 hys father and mother in lawe were dead (whom he found verie olde, and dyd muche for them) he buried them honorably, and
 was bere of all theyr substance, and of
 hys fathers also: and when he was an. C.
 and. xxvij. yere old, he died at Ecbatanis,
 whych is a cite of Media, after he had
 sene hys chylders chyldre to the fyfte age.
 Also before he dyed, he herde howe Ninue
 was destroyed, whych was taken of Na-
 buchodonosor and Assuerus, and before
 hys deathe reioysed therat. And all hys kyndred, and offsprynge continued in a good lyfe, & holy conuersaciō, so that they were loued bothe of God and man, & al the people of the land.

The ende of the booke
 of Tobias.

The Booke of
 Judith.

The fyrst Chapter.

The building of Ecbatanis. The victorie of Nabuchodonosor against Arpharat. The messengers of Nabuchodonosor are despised.

Vhe Arpharat had ouer-come many nacjons, and helde the kyngdome of Medes at Ecbatanis
 and had compassed it aboue with a wall, seue-
 tie cubites hye, and fif-
 tie cubites broad, the stones hewed four
 square,

The booke of Judith.

square, every one thre cubites broad, and fyve cubites longe, and also had made towres in the gates, of an hundred cubites hie, and had made euery one at the foundation thre score cubites broade, and hys gates also fourty cubites wyde, for the more easy entrynge in of hys myghty armye, and hys orders of footemen, and lxx. cubites hie. And now in maner making hym selfe sure thowhe the myghte of hys armye, and retynginge in hys glorious charretts, kynge Nabuchodonosor the. xii. yere of hys taryng, that he raygned in the myghty cite of Ninue, set vp on the same kynge Arpharad in the great wide feld, which is in the borders of Ragau. And ther ioynd vnto hym all that dwelled vpon the mountaynes, and those that dwelled by Euphrates, Tybris, Hydaspes, and the field of Artoch that was by kynge of Elimees, and many people of the nation of Gelod ioynded theyr armyes wth hym.

Then Nabuchodonosor kynge of the Assyrians, hys power beyng increased, & waring proud in hys mynde, sent for all them that dwelte at Persis, and all that dwelte westwarde, the inhabitantes of Cilicia, Damascus, Libanus, and Antilibanus, and for them also that dwelt on the sea coaste, and for those that inhabited Carmelium and Cedar, and Galaad, and the hyls of Galilee, and the great field of Israel, and for them also that dwelt in Samaria, and the cities of the same, and beyond Jordan, even as farre as Jerusalem, and Bethauen, and Chellis, and Bades, and the floud of Egypte, and Eaphnes, and Ramesse, and as farre as to them that dwell at Geseu beyonde Tanais, even to Memphis, yea & to all that dwell in Egypt, eue as far as the borders of Ethiopia. And yet all the inhabitantes of these landes dented hym, & wold not ioyne to help in battayle, for they feared hym not, but despised hym as beyng but one man, wherfore they sent hys messengers oute of theyr sight wth dishonour, and nothyng done.

Then Nabuchodonosor exceeding angry wth all those contreyes, swore by the throne of hys kyngdom, that he wold be reuenged vpon all the coastes of Syria, Damascus, and Siria: and that wth hys swerde he wold slaye all the inhabitantes of the lande of Moabites, the nations of Ammon, all the Jewes and Egyptians, vntill he were come to the endes of bothe the seas. So wth hys owne power he soughte agaynst kynge Arpharad in the seuentene yere: and whē he hadde overcome hym in battayle, and that all Arpharads armye, horsemen, and chariottes were runne awaye, and that he had got all hys cities, and was come as farre as Scabatis, and destroyinge the cities had chaunged hys honoure to shame, and solowynge Arpharad him selfe in the mountaynes of Ragau, had thurst hym thowhe wth hys dartes, and had ouercomen hym, pursuynge hym all the daye, he commynge agayne to Ninue wth all hys compaigne and greate multitude of men of war, he rested hym ther: making feastes wth all hys armye by the space of an hundred and. xx. daies.

The.ii. Chapter.

The.ii. Chapter.

Holofernes is sent of Nabuchodonosor to subdue all the worlde. The preparatiōs and pursuit of Holofernes.

Ad in the. xviii. yere the. xxi. daye of the fyrste moneth, in the house of Nabuchodonosor kynge of the Assyrians, communication was had to take punishment vpon all the earth, as he had saied he wold. And when he had called all that wer vnder hym, and all the nobles, and had entred wth the of all the secrettes of hys counsel, and had repeted and shewed wth his owne mouth all the malice and euil of other nations, & that they had consented, that all menne shoulde not obey the commaundemente of hys mouth, shoulde be slayne, it so chaunced, that when the counsel was done, Nabuchodonosor kynge of the Assyrians called vnto hym Holofernes general of his armye, and in power nexte vnto hym, and sayed these wordes: These thynges commaunderth the greate kynge of the whole worlde.

To whē thou art gon from my sight, thou shalt take vnto the of the strongest men to the number of. xx. thousand fote men, and of horsemen. vii. M. and wth speede inuade all the west countreies, because they haue not obeyed my commaundemente. Thou shalt commaunde them to prepare there land and water for me, wth which wel inuade them in my fury, and wil syl all theyr countreies wth the feete of my armyes, vnto whō I wyll geue the as a spoyle, so shal they wth theyr blood syl the valleys and ryuers, and the floudes shall be ful of dead carcasses: and I wyll sende theyr captiues into the farthest partes of the world. And thou shalt go before me, and syl all theyr land, and such as wyl yeld them vnto the, keepe them tyl I come to talke wth the: but * as for the rebels thou shalt not lōke vpon the so mercifully, but that thou kyl them and spoyle them thowhe the whole land. Thou shalt spare no kyngdom, but shalt subdue vnto my dominion all fenced towres. For I sweare by my lyfe, and the power of my kyngedome, I wyll do all thynges that I haue spoke, wth myne owne hande. And beware that thou leaue not othe commaundemente of thy lordes vndone, but as I haue commaunded the do them wth all diligence, and make no delaye in doynge them. Then Holofernes when he was gone from the sighte of his lord, callynge together all the men of power, power, captaines, and chiefe rulers of the Assyrians army, as he was commaunded by his Lord, he mustred hys menne to good quickelpe forwarde: & they were aboute an hundred thousande, and of archers on horsebacke about. xii. thousand.

And whē he hadde ordered them as armies are wonte to be, hauing a great multitude of Camels, and Asses to beare burdens, wyth shepe for theyre iourney, and innumerable oxen and gores, and vitayle also for all the multitude, besyde grayne whych he appointed to haue oute of all Syria as he wote, wyth muche golde also and syluer for the kynges courte, he wyth all hys armye wente on theyre iourney: & before Nabuchodonosor came, he myghte couer al the East countrey with his charrettes, and horsemen, and hys chosen footemen. And there went wyth hym of rascals so manye that they were lyke greshoppers, and sande of the earth, & could not be tolde they were so manye. So whē they were paste Plinie. iii. daies iourney, and come into the playn of Bectoleth at the mountayn of Ange which standeth on the lefthad of the vpper Cilicia, he moued his tentes & led al his army as well horsemen as footemen with theyr charers into the mountaynes, & inuading theyr castels, and winnyng theyr holds he brake into the famous citty Golopus. He destroyed Ishud and Lud and spoyled al the people of Rasas and Ismaell that dwelt toward the desert at the southside of Challeorus. And the passyng ouer Euphrates he went by Mesopotamia and al the Noble cityes & stode by the rpuer Arbonay, he destroyed them euen to the sea syde, and subdued the coastes of Cilicia, and steme all that withstode hym. And he came vnto the borders of Iaphet, that lye agaynste Aluster and Arabia, and he wente thorow all the countrey of Media, and sette theyre tentes on fyre and burned theire houses, and then caue he doune into & felde of Damascus, in barueste, and set on fyre al theyr landes, vynges, and trees, and burnt theyr stocke & cattayl, and spoyled theyr cityes, and fieldes, and kyled all theyr youth wyth the edge of the swerde.

The.iii. Chapter.

Kinges become wyllingly subject to Holofernes. The tyranny and cruelty of hym.

And the feare and tremblunge of hym came vpon all that dwelte vpon the sea coaste of Sydon and Tyre, and vpon al that dwelt at Sur, Oclua and Iemnaan, and the cityes of Azorus & Ascalo were greatlye afrayed of hym. Wherefore the kynges of all cytys and prouynces, and prynces of Syria, Mesopotamia, Syria Soball, Licia & Cilicia sente embassatoures vnto hym, to desyre of hym peace after thys facyon. To me the seruantes of the greake King Nabuchodonosor, be here before thynne eyes to do with vs what thou list. To here our houses wyth mountaynes and hylls and all our medowes and cornfieldes, our flockes of shepe and gores, and dreue of beastes, horses and camels, and al that be wythyn our stalles, al our ryches & householde are in thy power, do what thou list. To our cityes, & citizens be thy seruantes. So when thou comest do wyth them as thou shalte thynke good. Be no more angrye wyth vs. For better it is to serue the great kyng Nabuchodonosor, & to haue our lyfe and obey the, then to dye, and yet runne into the dautiger of bondage. And when these men were come to Holofernes, and had shewed hym the message, he wyth his army came down to the sea coast, and set guarrysons in those goodly cityes & mustred out of the best to helpe hym.

Then al the citizes of those cityes stroke with feare, as wel the chyefe men & princes, as the people: & al & cōtrey therabout came out with lampes & pypes, with garlandes and daunses and timbroles to receyue hym, but he wasted al theyr borders, cut down theyr woodes, nether could they for all these thynges swage & fearcenes of hys vert. For he was determined (as Nabuchodonosor commaunded hym) to destroye all the gods on the earth, that all people shulde worshyp only Nabuchodonosor, and all tonges and nations shulde call hym God. And as he passed thorowe Syria, Sobal, and all Apamea, Mesopotamia and Idumea, he cam into the sight of Asdrelon nye vnto Dorays, whych is agaynste the strait passage of Turpe: and pitchynge his tentes betwixe Baba, and Scython Holim, he tarped there all that moneth, when he had toke the cityes, whylest he gathered together all the vessels & belonged to hys army.

The.iii. Chapter.

Israel requireth helpe of God against Holofernes. They fast and pray.

When & Israelytes whych dwelt in Jewry, after they had herde al those thynges that Holofernes, generall of Nabuchodonosors army kyng of the Assyrians, was determined to do agaynst the gentyles, and how he had robbed and destroyed all their temples, they were greatlye afrayed of hym, and sore troubled for Hierusalem, & the temple of theyre Lorde God: leaste he woulde do to these as he hadde done to other cytys and temples of theyrs. For they were lately come out of captiuitie, and lastelpe all the people had assembled thorow Judea, & theyre vessels, theire alter wyth theyr temple wer purged frome all vnholines. And so they sente into all the borders and stretes of Samaria and Bethoron, and Belmen, and Iericho, and Chaba, and Esora, & into the valley of Salem, that they shulde kepe the tops of the hygh mountaynes, and enclose the stretes with walles, Deut. xx. c.

Judi. xv. b.

The booke of Judith.

Wallas, and laye vp vitayle for war, for in theise fieldes harvest was but latelpe done. And Joachym þe hye Byschop, which was then at Hierusalem, wrote to them that dwelte at Bethulia, and Bethomef- cam, whych is ryghte agaynste Edozalon in the syght of the playne that is nye Do- than, commaundynge them to kepe the goyng up to the mountaynes, by þe which they myghte come into Jewry, and that it was easy to stop them, the strait beinge such, as that there myghte come but two menne together. So the Israelytes dyd as Joachym þe priste had appoynted the: and the counsel of al the people of Israel, whiche sat at Hierusalẽ, and all the mene of Israel cried hartelpe vpon God, puny- shynge them selues straitly by fastynge and prayer, and with theyr wyues, chyl- dren, cattel and all theyr tenantes, byed men and seruantes, they gyrded the sel- ues with heare clothes: and al the menne & womenne with theyr chyliden. And the citifens of Hierusalem fallynge vpon their face before the temple, and castynge duste vpon theise heades, and weepynge clothes of heare before the Lorde, caste suche also vpon the aysler, and with one prater cal- led for the helpe of God, that he wolde not set oute theise choldren to be spoyled, theyr wyues to be a praye, or theyr cy- ties of inheritaunce to be destroyed, or theise halowed thinges, to be vnhalowed and scorned at, whych shulde be a pleasure to the gentyles. Joachym also hym selfe the hye priste of the Lorde, wente aboute al the Israelytes and comforted them, sayynge: Be ye sure þe Lorde wyll heare your prayers, yf you continue constan- tely in fastinges and prayers before him. Remember Moses the seruante of the Lord whiche ouercame Amelech, trustynge in hye strengthe, power, armie, sheldes and chariottes, and horses, not by fygthynge with swerde, but by continuinge in ho- lye prayers. The lyke shall chaunce vnto all the ennemys of the Israelytes, yf ye continue in your purpose. They beynge comforted by this exhortaciõ, continued still before the Lorde in prayer. And so God hearde theyr prayers, and looked vp on theise affliction, the people thowme oute all Jewrye and Hierusalem fastynge manye dayes before the Sanctuarie of þe Lorde omni potẽte. And Joachym the hye Byschoppe, and all the pristes that stode before the Lord and dyd theyr office, beinge clothed with heare, and offerynge the con- tinuall brente offerynge with al þe gyftes that were wyllpynge bownd of the peo- ple, castynge dust vpon theyr miters, be- soughte the Lorde hartely with teares, that he wold mercifully loke vpon all the house of Israel.

The v. Chapter.

Holofernes is discõtented with the Jewes, Achior sheweth vnto Holofernes the maner

The.iiii. chapter

les of God done vnto the Jewes, for whych thing þe rulers vnder Holofernes wer very angry wyth them.

And when it was shewed Holo- ferne generall of the Assyrians armie, that the Israelytes pre- pared them selues to fyght, and that the wayes betwixte the mountaynes beinge stopped & al their hylles well man- ned, they had made a stop for commynge into the plain, hein a great fury, callynge together þe Princes of Moab, and the ca- pitaines of Ammon, and the rulers on the sea coast. He toke then quoth he, you Cas- nanyles, what people this is that dwel- leth on the mountaynes, what, what man- ner, and howe great cities they inhabyte, what number they haue in theyr armie, in what thynge standeth theyr strength & power, who is theyr kynge, or captayn appoynted for theyr war, or of what pur- pose they befoze all other that dwel in the Easte, haue not come oute and mette me, and receyued vs peaceably. * Then the Duke Achior answered in all the name of the Ammonytes: My Lorde, maye it please you to heare all the matter at the mouth of your seruante. For I wyll tell you the truerth of this people that dwel- leth in the hyl countrey nye vnto you, and I wil make you no lie. These people came oute of Chaldee, and first dwelte in Mesopotamia, for they wolde not folowe the gods of theyr fathers, that were worshy- ped in the land of Chaldee. So when they had gone out of the wape of theyr fathers, whiche stode in the multitude of goddes, and worshypped the God of heauen whiche they knewe, and beynge caste frome the syghte of those gods, they fled into Mesopotamia, where they tarped a longe tyme, vntill theyr God bad them go out of that straunge countrey, and go into the land of Canaan. Where they dwelt and enryched with muche golde, syluer and cattall they wente into Egypte, because there was hyl- ger in all * the lãd of Canaan, * and there tarped foure hundred yeres, vntill they began to be vered: for whẽ they were greatly encreased, and theyr stocke excided all number, the kynge of * Egypte moued agaynste them, cõpassed them by subtiltie, and oppressed them by labour of makynge brycke to buylde cyries, and made thes slaues. So whẽ they hadde called for helpe of theise God, and he hadde plagued all Egypte with vncureable plagues, * * Egypte cast them oute of their syght, and when they were agayne deliuered frome theise plague, they persecuted the to haue them in bondage.

Then did that God of theise dye by þe red sea before them, and set the waters on both sydes lyke a wal, so that they wente dye thowde thow the botome of the sea, and in the same place innumerable of the Egyptians hoste that folowed them, were drowned,

Jud. xi. b.

Gene. xi. b.
xi. a. xvi. g

Gene. xii. g
Gen. xli. a

Exod. i. a.
Exod. i. b.

Exod. xii.
xiii.

Exod. xv.
xvi.

downed, so þat not one escaped, to shewe the that came after: and so he broughtre them to the mounte Sina * and Cades Barne, and places that men coulde not dwelt in,
wher bytter fountaynes wer made swete water, and xl. yere he gaue them meate from heauen. They castynge oute of the inhabitantes of the deserte, satled them selues in the lande of the Amorheans.

Jos. ii.

And when they had destroyed al that dwelt in Eschbon, passinge ouer Jordan, they inhabited all the mountaine countrey. Wherther so they wente, their God foughte for them, & they conquered and that wythout bowe, arrowe, buckler or swerde. * And Judi. i. iii.

iii. re. xxv.

they dyspynge oute before them the Cananites, the Iherissee, and the Jebusee, & Si-chem, and all the Gersees and myghtye men of Eschbon, helde that countrey a longe whyle. And as longe as they dyd not synne agaynst their God, they hadde prosperitee, for because that their God hatynge synne, dyd fauoure them: and when they * were turned from the waye, that he had prescribed them, and besyde that God worshipped another, they wer above measure punished by warre, and made as a pray, slayn & mocked, and led captiue into another land. Then was the temple of their God pulled doune to the ground, & the cite take of their enemyes.

i. Esd. ii.

* But now beinge tourned vnto their God, they be come agayne frome their scatterynge abode: and Hierusalem the seat of their religion recouered agayne, they dwell agayne in the mountayne coun-trei whiche was forsaken. For as ofte as they repented the for the forsakyng of the religion of their God, the same God strengthened them to withstande their e-nemyes. Nowe therfore o Lord of Lords, let vs seche oure whether there be anye faute in this people, wher in they do amis, for that wyl be their hurte, and we maye go and subdue the. For God verelie wyl deliuer them into thy handes and cast the vnder the yoke of thy power. But if there be no faute in this people, my Lorde lette them alone, leaste peraduenture theyre Lorde and God fyghtynge for them, we take shame at theyre handes thowowe the whole worlde.

Judi. vi.

The. vi. Chapter.

Achior is committed into the handes of the Jewes by Holofernes. He is tyed to a tree, but is loosed of the Jewes. The prayer of the people Achior is comforted of the Jewes.

When Achior had spoken thus,
and helde his peace, all the people that stode about the reite, toke soze indignacion, and the chefe men about Holofernes, and all that dwelt on the sea coast, and Moab, cryed that he was worthy to dye, and said: What say you to this felow, whiche affirmeth that the Israelites men vnar-med, and þat can no skyl of warre, be able to resist kynge Nabuchodonosor and his power. For we feare not the sight of the Israelites; seying too it is a weake people & of no strength agaynst a stronge army.

Wherfore let vs go by, that Achior maye knowe that he telleth vs false tales, and when we haue overcome the chiefe and myghtiest men, he shall be slayne wyth them: that all nations may knowe Nabu-chodonosor to be the God of the earth, & none other saue he: for thyne armye, o Lorde Holofernes, shall deuoure them.

So when the greates noyse of them that stode about was ceased, Holofernes generall of the Assyrians army before all the strangers and Moabites that toke wages, and before Ephraim, spake thus vnto Achior. What arte thou Achior, that haste played the prophet before vs this daye, and haste sayde that the stocke of Hieru-salem is invincible in war, and that their Judi. v.

God dothe defend it, or what God is ther but Nabuchodonosor? He shall send his power, and rote the out of the earth, and they? God shall not saue them, but wee his seruantes wyl slea * them as they wer but one man, and they shall neuer be able to abyde the strengthe of our horses, for wyth them we wyl treade them vnder our fete, and their mountaynes shall flowe wyth their bloud, and the fieldes, shall be fylled wyth their dead carcasses, nor they shal not stand & abyde our sighte, no nor none that Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the earth shall commaunde to be slayne. None of my wordes be spoken in vayne. But thou Achior that takest wages among the Ammonites, because thou hast spoken these wordes, from this day forwarde, shalt not come in my synne, vntill I be reuenged of this nation that commeth oute of Egypt. Then shall the sword of myne army, and my people that serue me, thrust the thorowe both sides, & thou shalt be slain amonge them, when I haue put the to synne. For my seruantes shall take the into the hye countreys, and leaueth in some of their cities that be in the goynge vnto their mountaynes, and thou shalt not dye vntill thou be kyled wyth them. And if thou hope in thy mynd þat they shall not be overcome, thou needest not to be so abashed: nor looke so pale, if thou thynkest my wordes shall take none effecte, I haue sayde: nor I haue not spoken anye worde in vayne. So Holofernes commaunded his seruantes þat stode about his tent that they shulde take Achior and leade hym away to Bethulia, & deliuer hym into the handes of the Israelites. Then dyd his seruantes take Achior, and leadyng hym into the myddest of the felde frome the tentes, they afterwardes carped hym into the mountaine countrey. And when they were come to the fountaines that wer vnder Bethulia, the townes meene that were in the toppe

Judi. xix.

of the mountaynes seynge them, armed them and came streyghtwaye vnto theire fingers date of the towne into the toppe of the mountaynes; and takynge þe hylls they began to fraye the wyth stones. Yet they came vpon the mountayne, and when they had bound Achior hand & foote to a tre, at the foote of an hyll, they forsoke him and let hym lye, and went home to theyre Lord. But the Israelytes when they were come oute of theire towne, they came about hym and leused hym, and led hym to Berhulia, and brought hym before the chiefe of the towne, whiche were then Ozias Michm, borne of the tribe of Simeon & Chabris Borhontelis, and Charmis the sonne of Melchiel. When they had called together all the sentours of the towne, & all the yong men, and all the women were come to hear, Ozias set Achior in the midst of all þe people, & axed of that had happened. The Achior answeringe shewed the of all thynges þe were done in the sittinge that was kept before Holophernes, & the words þe he had among the chiefe men of the Assyrians, & al þe Holophernes proudly boasted agaynst þe temple of Ierusalem. And for these sayings þe he was almost kylled of Holophernes people, and that he was commaunded by Holophernes in his anger, to be deliuered to the Israelytes, þe when they were overcome, he myghte also be cruelly tormented, because he sayed that the God of heauen was theire defendoure. So all the people fel down vpon the grounde, and worshipped God and called for his help wyth lamentacion and wepyng, sayinge: Deuely Lord behold these mysse arrogacie, and haue mercye vpon oure stocke, whiche humblyeth them selues vnto the, and looke vpon them nowe that be halowed vnto the, and declare that thou wilt neuer forsake those that put theyre hope in the, and that thou thrustest doune such as glorie in theire own power, and trust in theyre owne selues. And they comforted Achior, and greatly praysed hym and sayed: The God of oure fathers, whose myghte thou dost commend & set forth, requite the again, that thou rather maist se theire destruction. And whiche our God shall geue his seruantes fre libertie, the same God help the among vs, þe after thy desyre thou mayst be among vs with all thyne. And the when Ozias had brought hym to his house led thys communication, and had set hym at dynner wyth the elders, all þe whole nyght he prayed for helpe of the Lord God of Israell.

The vii. Chapter.

Berhulia is beseged of Holophernes. The people requirerth helpe of God. They of Berhulia wold geue ouer the cite for lacke of water. The prayer of the people wyth teares and lamentacion.

And the nexte daye Holophernes commaunded all his army and the people, and those that hadde toged w hym, to moue theyre tentes toward Berhulia, and to take before, the goynge vpon the mountaynes, and begynne warre wyth the Israelytes. And that daye who was strongest they wente forth wyth theire warre lyke armyes, of foote menne an hundred and * seutye thousande, of horsmen twelue thousande besyde cartage and menne that folowed on foote a greate multitude, that were taken prysouners of cypres and prynces.

Judith.

All these prepared to battayle, came on the hyll syde vnto the toppe of the mountayne that looketh ouer Dothaim, and pitched theyre tentes by a fountaine in a valleye that is nye to Berhulia, and in Dothaim and rounde aboute far from Berhulia euen to Tyamon that is ouer agaynst Edoalon. But the Israelytes when they sawe the multitude, were sore troubled: and prostrate vpon the grounde they caste eache vpon theire heade, and wyth one assente called for the help of the Lorde God of Israell, that he wolde shew his mercy vpon his people, and one sayd vnto another.

These wyl not haue all the grounde of the earthe, so that whether the vne mountaynes nor hylls, nor valleyes shall be vnable to helde them. So euerye manne put on his harnes, and kepte the straites betwixte the mountaynes, and made fyers, and watched all nyghte in theyr toures. The day folowynge Holophernes broughte oute all his horse menne, so that they that dwelte at Berhulia myghte se them, he searched the goynge by in theire cite, and founde out the water springes which from the southe syde was conuected into the ctyer: and commaundynge them to be cutte of, lest there menne of warre, and wente hym selfe to the tentes of his people. Yet not farre from the walles were fountaines from whence they drew water pryncely, wyth which they rather refreshed theselues, then lacked theire thirst.

Then wente vnto Holophernes all the chiefe men of the chyldren of Esau and all the rulers of the people of the Moabites, wyth the captaynes that dwelt on the sea coast, and sayde: Pleaseth it your Lordshippe to heare vs speake that your army shuld haue no harme?

For the trust of thys people of Israell standeth not in speares, but in the toppes of the mountaynes where they dwell, and it is not easie commynge to the toppes of the mountaynes whiche they haue well fenced. So nowe therefore that none of thy people shuld be slayne, set not vpon them wyth a set battayle, but kepe wythin thy tentes, to saue al your men. And let your seruantes wathe the fountayne water, that cometh from the foote of the hyll, for there the Berhulians set all their water, and so they shal do for thynt, or shal be driven to yeld the ctyr: which they thinke nowe nowe can not betwixt bycause it standeth vpon the toppe of an hyll. And we wyth our people wyl go vnto the next moun-taynes, & there we wyl make a bulworke to saue vs, that no man shall come out of þ cyrte, that they may be sampted w they wiues & theyr chyldren, & or euer þ rage of þ sword come they may dye in theyr own streets: and so you may punysh the because they haue gon about sedition, & haue not quietly obeyed þ commaundement. Theyr sayinges pleased Holofernes wel, & al his seruantes and he purposed to do as they had sayed: and there were set an hundred men at euery well round about. So the Ammonites went out & v. M. Assyrians w the, and pitchyng their tentes in þ valleys, they stoped fro þ Israelites all þ waters and cōduptes. And the kynged of Elau & the Ammonites went by into the moun-taynes, and pitched theyr tentes ryght a-gains the Dorhatim, sendyng part of their men southward, toward Orbel fast by Chusy, whych standeth vpon the riuier of Mochmur. The reste of the Assyrians ar-mye laye in a great playne, & couered al þ grounde, theyr tentes & cariages were soo greate. The Israelites greatlyr dyscomforted, called vpon theyr Lorde God, because they were enclosed rounde about w theyr enemies, and coulde not escape from them. And ful. xxxiii. dayes had all the multitude of the Assyrians bothe foote men and horsemen wyth theyr Chariottes cō-passed the round about on euery side: Whē they of Bethulpa began to lack water in al theyr vessels, so that all theyr cisternes wer drye and had not water inoughe for one daye, but toke it to drynke by measure. Wherefore theyr infants and theyr yong men & women also drynge for theyr lfe, and fallynge down in the stretes of the cyr-te & at the gates, and that theyr strength fayled, al the people and yonge men wyth wemē & chyldren, came to Oziās and the heades of the citie, and cryng with a loud voice before al the sentoures, sayde: *God be iudge betwixt vs & you, for you haue done vs greate wronge, because ye haue not dealte frendelye wyth the Assyrians.

For nowe there is none to help vs, but God hath soule vs into their handes, that we shulde dye before them wyth hunger and greate plages. Yet at the last call them nowe, and gyue the citie hole for a spoyle to the people of Holofernes, and to all his hole armye. For better it is that we be spoyled, then dye for theyr lfe. For we shall be theyr seruantes, and oure lyues shall be saued, and we shall not see (wyth shame before al men) the death of oure in-fantes before our eyes, neither oure wiues and oure chyldren grynge by the goost.
We take heauen and earth this daye to recorde, & the God of oure fathers whiche punyssheth in vs as wel oure synnes as oure fathers, and gyue you warninge, that you gyue vþ this cyrte into the handes of Holofernes armye, þ we rather quickly be kylled wyth the edge of the sword, then to be tormented wyth longe theyr lfe.

And wyth these wordes arose amongest all the people, a greate wepyng, callinge vpon theyr Lorde God wyth loud voice, and sayinge. We and oure fathers haue synned, haue done vntu stelp, and com-mytted iniquitie. Thou that arte mercy-ful, haue mercy vpon vs, or els punysh oure wyckednes wyth thy scourge, neyther de-lyuer those that prayse the, vnto a people þ knoweth þ not: þ it may be sayed amōge the gentiles: wher is theyr God? w suche erres and wepyng at the last beyng we ried, they held theyr peace. Then Oziās rose vp, & þ teares came fro his eyes, & said vnto them thus. Brethre be of good hart, and let vs yet tarve. v. dayes, wythin the whych the God wyl tōurne his mercy vpon vs. For peraduenture, he wyl swage his aunger, and will care for the glorie of his name: for he wyl not vtterly forsake vs.
But if those dayes be paste, and that wee haue no helpe, I wyl do your requestes.
Thus sendyng away the people to theyr bulworks, euery manne wente to þ walle and towres, sendyng theyr wiues & chyldren home: and in the cyrte they greatlye afflicted them selues.

The.viii. Chapter.

Of the vertuous woman Iudith, whych re-proued the ancientes because they tempted the Lord. She also moueth the to encourage and harden the people, and sheweth her councel against the enemies of the Jewes.

And these wordes then hearde Iudith þ daughter of Merari, the son of Op, þ son of Joseph, the son of Oziel, the son of De-lea, the sonne of Ananie, the sonne of Be-deon, the sonne of Raphaym, the sonne of Achytho, the sonne of Elyas, the sonne of Rathanaell, the sonne of Samaliell, the sonne of Salasaday, the sonne of Israel.
Ananias was her husbāde of the same tribe and samyle that she was, whiche died in the barley heruest time.

For whyle he was busylie bindyng the sheaves togyther in the fiede, beate toke hym in the head, and cast hym into sick-nes, & he dyed in the citie Bethulia, and is buryed amonge his fore fathers, in a grounde that lyeth betwixt Dorhatim and Balamus. Nowe was Iudith his desolate widow thre yeres & four monethes.
And in the vyer partes of her house, she made her selfe a priue chamber, where she dwelt, beyng closed in wyth ver may-des, and ware a smocke of heere, and her wydowes garmentes, and passed all the dayes that she was wydowe in fastinges, except the Sabbathes, & the dayes that went before the newe mones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israel kepte feaitfull and mery. She was a very

The booke of Judith.

faire and bewtiful person.

Judith. vii.

And besyde that her husband Aganasses had lefte her golde and syluer, men seruantes and maidens, catel and land, which she dyd possesse, and in all her lyfe was a woman of good name, and in whom no man could fynd any faute: for she worshipped and feared the Lord greatly. So when she hearde what the people had sayde to theyr heades, and that they were in dispat for lacke of water: I say when Judith understode all þat Ozias had sayde to the people, how that he had sworne þat after .v. dayes he wolde yelde þat citie to the Assyrians, she sent before her mayd, which had the chiefe keye of al her substance to call vnto her Ozias, Thabrim, & Charmyu, counsellors of the Cytie: and when they were come she spake thus vnto them. Heare you princes of þis people that dwel at Bethulia: your sayinge is not good, whiche you haue had to day before the people, and haue decreed by an othe made betwixt you and God, and sayde that you wolde yelde the citie vnto your enemyes, except wythin thre dayes the Lord turne to helpe you. And what maner of men be you whiche thynke to tempt God wyth a daye, and begye men, to play gods parte. These be not þis words that can get mercy, but rather raise anger, and kinde wrath. Wyl you prescribe a time to the Lord to pardon you? wyl you appoint hym a day at your wyl? That and if ye will go about to search the omnipotencie of god, ther can neuer be thing more perillous. Seynge ye can not seeke out the depth of mans heart, & comprehend the reasons of his mynd, how can ye enter into the knowledge of God that made man? howe can ye learne his mynd, or fynd out his wayes? Verely brother by no meane, & therefore prouoke not your Lord God to anger. For if he wyl not help vs wythin this .v. dayes, yet hath he power to defend vs in what dayes he wyl, yea & in all dayes, or to destroy vs before the eyes of our enemyes.

And as for you, bynde not the counselles of the Lord God, for he is not as man whiche eyther is moued with threatning, or as borne of man, þat may be iudged. Yea rather because the Lord is parent euen for that cause let vs repente, lokinge for healthe of hym, and callinge for his helpe: that if it please hym, he may heare our voyce. Therefore lette vs submytte our myndes vnto hym, and wyth lowly hertes redye to serue hym, lette vs bowe our selues doune wyth teares, that he wyl graue vs his mercy, accordyng to his wil & pleasure: that lyke as our myndes are feared by theyre pryde, so we againe may get gloire by our owne affliction. For in our tyme there hath not bene, nor is not anye tyme, famylly, people or cytye amonge vs, that dothe worship goddes made with hande, as it was before tyme: for whiche

Judith. ii. b.
iii. a. and
vi. a.

The viii. Chapter.

thynges our fathers whiche leuyng their owne God, and worshipped strange goddes, were sette out to be slaine, and taken for a pray, & kylled wth greute laughter before their enemyes. But we haue knowledged none other God, so that we maye truste he wyl not forget vs nor none of our stock, but that he wyl deliuer vs fro being oppressed of our enemyes, and that he wyl tame all nations that hath rysen agaynst vs, and that our Lord wyl sende them awaye wyth shame. For when we shall be taken, his name shal not remayne in Judea, but our halowed thynges shal be take awaye, and God shal punyssh the vngodly words that come from our mouth, and shall cast vpon our heades before all the Gentilles whither wee go to scryue, feare amonge all our brethern, the captiuitie of our lande and forsakynge of our possession, and we shall be a shaunder and shame before al our Lordes: for our seruice shall neuer get sauoure, but our Lord wil make it full of shame.

Wherefore now brethern, whiche are þe elders of God, let vs shewe an example vnto our brethern, for their mynde shal be vpon vs, and al the holy thynges, temple and altare in likewyse. Wherefore let vs raise their myndes wyth some comfortable words. And aboue all thyngs, let vs geue thanks to the Lord our God & whiche proueth vs as he dyd our elders, whether they worshipped hym in dede or not.

Deut. viii.
ii. Para.
xiii.

* Remember what he dyd vnto Abraham, whiche being tempted and tryed thowme many tribulacions, was founde a loue and friend of God. Remember howe he proued Isaac, and howe manue were the chaunces of * Jacob that fed Laban his vncles shepe in Mesopotamia of Syria, & also of Moses, and of al that pleased God, by howe many troubles they becam saythfull. For they that haue not receyued the temptacions wyth the feare of God, but haue shewed their impacience and shameful murmuringe agaynst God, they haue perished of the destroyer, and were slayne by the serpente. So we therefore lette vs not reuenge our selues for those thynges that we suffer, but countynge that these punishmentes are the scourges of God, les then our synnes, wher wyth we be punysshed lyke seruantes, let vs beleue that they pertaine to our amendemente, and not to our destruction. For lyke as he proued them to see cheyre hartes, so proueth he vs and not reuenger, but * the Lord punisheth those þat despayre to come to hym, to graue them a warnynge. Ozias answered her: all that thou hast spoken is come of a good mind, and ther is no man that wyl say agaynst thy wordes. For this is not þe first tyme that thou hast shewed thy wisdom, but all the people knoweth it from the beginninge, howe that thou studieth vpon good thynges. But the people

Gene. xvi.
xii.

ge. xvi. d.

Rom. viii.

vered

bered wth greate thyſte, compelled vs to do thoſe thynges wth them that we ſayed, that was to make vs ſwore, whych othe we muſt not breake. Wherefore now thou ſeinge thou art a vertuous woman, make thy prayers for vs, that the Lorde wyl ſend raiſe to ſyl our lakes, that we by not for thyſt. Then ſayd Judith agayne: Heare me, and I wyl do a notable dede, whych ſhal be ſpoken of al that euer come after. Lyke as you knowe it cometh of God that I ſpeake, ſo whether that thing that I intend to do come of God or not, conſyder you, and pray hym to perſourne
it. Thys night you ſhal ſtand at the gate, and I and my mayden wyl go out whyle you praye, that wthin the dayes that ye haue ſayed ye wyl yelde the cite to oure ennemyes, the Lorde of Iſraell may helpe you thowme my hande. But what I wyl do aſke ye no queſtion, for I wyl not tell you what I purpoſe to do vntyll it be done. Do nothyng in the meane tyme but praye for me vnto the Lorde our God. And Nicias w al the cheyſe men ſaid vnto her:
So thy way, ſwel myght thou ſpede, and the Lorde God go before the to auge oure ennemyes, and ſo turning to theyr tentes, euerie man wente to hys ſtandinge.

The .ix. Chapter.

The prayer of Judith for the victory.

A  When they were gone theyr way Judith went into her litel houſe that was appointed for prayer, and ſel down vpon her face, and when ſhe had caſt duſt vpon her hed, ſhe put on her berry ſmoke euen now at the eue-tide, whilſt were ſauoures wee burning in the houſe of the Lorde at Jeruſale, and ſhe cryed wth a loud voice: Lorde God of my father Simeon, * to whom thou didſt grue a ſword to be reuenged vpon ſtraungers whych defiled maydes in the holye place, whych thou forbadeſt, and yet dyd they thoſe thynges.

Wherefore thou ſufferedſt theſe heades to be ſlayne, and theyr beddes to conne in bloude, and the ſeruautes to lye dead vpon the princes, and the princes vpon the ſeruautes, and theyr wyues to be take for a praye, and theyr daughters to be led into captiuitie, and gaueſt all the ſpoyles to be deliuered vnto thy deare ſonnes, to them whych ſet a ſpye wth thine auger, abhorred the fault that was done to their bloud, and called for theyr helpe: thou the ſame Lorde my God, heare me alſo being a widowe. For thou dydſt both theſe thynges that wer before, and that folowed after: and wth thy preſence thoughteſt alſo ſo vpon thoſe thynges that wer to come.
Then ſtande by the vpon whom thou tokeſt counſell, and lo we be here ſay they.
And quickely are thy druyces prepared, and thy iudgements prouided for. Beholde now the tentes of the Affirians, as thou didſt vouchſafe once to loke vpon the ten-tes of the Egyptians, when they ſolowed in harnes thy ſeruautes, truſting vpon their Chariots and horſemen and multitude of ſouldiers. But whē ſhe looked down vpon their paulions, darckenes did wery the, & their foot ſtack in ſ deep, & wer drowned in ſ waters. The like Lorde graue may come to theſe: behold ſ Affirians be many in power, & be proud of their horſes & horſemen, & boſting in the ſtrength of their ſote men, they truſt in buckler, bow, & ſpyng, & know not ſ to be Lorde ſ deſtroier warres, & ſ ſ art Lorde alone. By thy ſtrength, breake theirs, & put out thyne arme as thou didſt once, & breake down their power in thyne auger. For they are determynd to defile thy halowed thynges, & to polute the rabernacle, the ſcare of thy glorious name, & to breake doune ſ corners of thine alter wth ſword. Behold theyr pryde, and ſend thyne anger vpon their heades, and ſen-dyng ſtrength into the hand of me ſ am a widow, as I haue purpoſed, I may tho-row * a falſe tale kyl the ſeruaunt in the prynce, & the prynce in the ſeruaunt: break their ſtoutnes wth a womans hand, kyl that proude fellowe in hys owne ſword, & cauſe that thowme me he may be taken in the ſnare of hys eyes. Strengthen my mynde to deſpyſe him, and ſtrengthen me wth ſtrength to deſtroie hym. For thys ſhal perſapne to ſ memoire of thy name, yf a woman overcome hym. * For thy ſtrengthe ſtanderh not in multytude, nor thy power in ſtronge men, thou deſpyſeſt not ſtronge horſes, nor proude men neuer pleaſed the, but thou art the Lorde of the meke, and helper of the inferiour, the ſtrengthe of the weake, and deſender of the forſaken. So to my fatherly God, the God of thy poſſeſſion of Iſraell, the Lorde of heauen and earthe, the maker of waters, the kynge of all thynges that thou haſte made, heare thou my prayers whych truſte vpon thy mercy, and remember O Lorde thy promiſe, turne my woordes into their burde, wounde, and ſcourge, whych haue taken cruell counſelles againſte thy teſta-mente, agaynſte thy holy houſe and moſte Sion, and agaynſte the houſe poſſeſſed of thy chyldren. Strengthen thys purpoſe in my mynde, ſ thy houſe maye maſtrefie thy religton. Shewe an example thowme out all thy nacion and tribbe, that it may bee ſeene that thou arte the God of all ſtrengthe and power, and that there is none other deſender of the people of Iſrael but thou.

The .x. Chapter.

Judith decketh her ſelfe to go to Holophernes. The bleſſinge that the elders gaue Judith. Holophernes is in loue wth Judith.

A  And whē ſhe hadde made an end of callinge vpon the Lorde God of Iſraell, and hadde ended all her woordes, ſhe roſe vp from the place

Gen. xxi. i.
Ge. xxi. i.

ii. pa. xlii.
c. xvi. b.
xx. a.
Jud. vi. a.

The booke of Judith.

place where she lay upon the ground, and callunge her mayden, when she was gone into her house where she was wonte to be in the Sabbathes and holpe daies, she pulled of the sacke clothe that she hadde on, and layd aside her wydowes garmentes, and washed her body, annoynted it with swete oynementes, and platted her heare, and set an houn vpon it, and put on her holpe daie garmentes, with which she was wonte to be goodlye arrayed, when her husbande Manasses lyued: and when she had put her shppers vpon her fete, and decked her with armettes, bracerettes, rynges, earlynges, and all her best apparel, she set her countenance verie pleasant to entyse all mennes eyes that looked vpon her. The Lord gaue her a speciall beaute and fairnes, for all thys decking of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnes, but of a ryght discretio. Aft of al when she had geuen a bottel of wine and a portre full of oyle vnto her mayde, and fylled her wallet with meale, cheese, and fyne breade, and wrapped all her vessels together, and layde them vpon her backe, goinge oute at the gate of the citty of Bethulia, they found * Oziam and the senatoures of the citty, Chabrim & Chabrim standing there: whiche when they sawe her, and that she had an other countenance, and that her behauioure was chaunged, marueyllyng greatlye at her bentre, spake thus vnto her: God, yea the God of oure fathers, gyue the grace, and bringe all thy denynges vnto the glorye of Israell, and excellence of Ierusalem, that thy name may be praised in the number of sayntes and iuste menne.

And she sayed: commaunde the gate of the citty to be opened that I maye goo oute, and persourne in dede the wordes that you haue had with me. Then commaunded they the yong men to open the gates as she had requyred, whiche thyng when they had done, Judith wente oute with her mayde, and the towne men looked after her as she wente down the hill aboute the risinge of the sunne, tyl she went thorow the valley, so p they loste the syghte of her. So they went straight alonge the valleie tyl they came to the Assyrians, whiche kepte warde before the tentes, whiche toke her and aared her: What countre woman art thou, from whence comest thou, or whyther wilt thou? And she

Judi. viii. sayed, * I am a doughter of the Debrues, and am fled from them, for they shall be spoyled of you, because they wold not willynglye yelde the selues to you, to obtayne your pards. And I come to se Holofernes master of youre armie, to tell hym a true tale, and to shewe hym before hys eyes a waye, by whiche he may go in, and get all the mountayne countrey: and neither anye manne of hys souldyers, nor of hys beastes, shalbe hurte. When they hearde

The. xi. Chapter.

these wordes of her, the men beholdinge her countenance, and delighned with her great beaute, sayed vnto her: Thou haste saued thy lyfe, whiche hast takē such cost: & makest hast to come in to the syght of our Lorde. So therfore now vnto hys tent, some of vs wyl go with the vntyll thou be brought vnto hym. But whē you shall come before him, be not abashed, but tel on poure tale as you tolde vs, and he wyl entreate you wel, and ye shal be very wel come to hym. So they chose oute of p compaigne an hundred men, whiche rogether in a charet with her and the mayde, brought her to Holofernes tente. Then came they all runnyng out of the tentes, because her commynge was noyed the rowout, and the people came about her: and she tarped without Holofernes pavilion, tyl it was tolde hym of her. And they maruailed at her beuty, and at the Israelites, and sayd one to another: who woulde set syght by these people whiche haue such womē amongst them, for whom we maye iustly fyghte? Verelye it is not good that one of thē be left alpye, whiche if they be let goo, be able to bringe the hole worlde into myschefe. So they that watched Holofernes person, and all hys seruauntes, brought her into his pauplyd. As it than chaunced Holofernes rested hym vpon hys bedde, vnder a canapye p was wouen with purple, gold, smaragde, and precious stones: and whē it was tolde hym of her, he came to the entree of hys tabernacle, and they bare before hym syluer lāpes. When when Judith was come into hys syghte, and the syghte of them that setted hym, all maruailed at her beaute, and euen at the fyrste sighte Holofernes was takē with her loue, but she fel downe vpon her face, and worshipped hym.

The. xi. Chapter.

Holofernes requyret of Judith the cause of her commynge, which geueth hym a subtile aunswere.

And when Holofernes seruantes had takē her vp, he hym selfe spake thus vnto her, womā haue good hope, and be not afrayed: for I neuer hurted anye, whiche wolde do seruite to Nabuchodonozor kynge of the earthe: and if thys thy people that dwellecth in p mountayn countrey, had not despyed me, I wold neuer a lyft vp my staffe agaynst thē, but they are the cause of those thynges thē selues. And nowe tel me whiche thou arte fledde frome them and come byther: for thy commynge is for thy wealthe. Be of good cheare, for thou shalt lyue thys nyghte and after. For there is no manne shall do the harme, but thou shalt be wel entreated, as the seruauntes of my kynge Nabuchodonozor are wonte to be entreated. To whome Judith aunswered. Here the saynges of thy hand mayden what

What the wyl save before þ: for this night wyl I shewe no ly unto my Lorde. And yf you followe thoroowe the aduise of your handemayden, God shal bynne the matter to passe wth you, & you my Lorde shal haue your purpose. For I take to wptnes the lyfe of Nabuchodonosor kynge of all the earthe and his power, that hath sente the to correcte all luyng men, that not onely thoroowe the all men shal serue him, but also all wylde beastes of the fildes and cattel, & byrdes of the ayre thy power shal lyue vnder þ subiectiō of Nabuchodonosor & of al his householde. For of thy wysdome and prudence and actiuite of thy mynde we haue herde, and it is spoken of thoroow oute all the worlde that thou onely arte the chyefe in all his realme, and moost to be maruayled at for thyne excellent science and knowledge in warre. We haue knowne also what comunicacion * Achior hadde in thy presence, and what words he spake, and also how thou dydst cause hym to be handeled. For they that dwelle at Bethulpha haue gotte him, to whom he told all that he spake before the. Wherfore o Lorde of Lorde, sette not lyghte by his warnynges, but marcke them wel in your mynde, for they be true. For our nacō cāne not be harmed, neyther can the swerde do anye thyng agaynst it, except they offend their God by synne. And it is playne that he is now so displeased with our synnes, that by his prophetes he hath sente word to the people, that he wyl punyssh them for their synnes. And because þ Israelites do knowe that they haue made their God angry wth them, they are afrayed of the.
And now that my Lorde shoulde not lose his hope, or goo awaye his matter not sy-nysed, but that they al may suffer dearthe, suche a faute is now cōmynge vpon them, wherby they shal anger their God yf they do that mischeuous deed. For now because they lack meate & water they haue deter-mynd to kyl their cattel, and drynke their bloude, and they are decreed to eate what soeuer meate God hath forbiddē by his lawes, yea eue the verie fyrst frutes of their corne, and the rēthes of their wyne & oyle, whiche they reserued beyng consecrate vnto the pīeste of Iherusalem mynistringe in the syghte of the Lorde: I saie they be purposed to eate them, where as it is not laweful for anye of þ people once to touche them. And they haue sente vnto Iherusalem (for they that dwelle there haue done such thynges) that they maye haue lpcēe from the counceyl. It shal happen therefore that whē they haue answered so to do, the same day they shalbe deliuered vnto the to be slayne. Wherfor I thy mayden when I knewe all these thynges, came awaye from them: & God beyng angry wth them, sent me to go thoroowe wth this thyng, wth whiche he wyl make all the worlde to wonder that shal heare of it.

For thy handemayde is one that feareth
God, and worshippeth him night and day.
Wherfore now o Lorde, I wyl saye wth the, & in the night thy mayde wyl go oute into the valley, and pray vnto God, that he wyl shew me when they haue committed their synnes: then wyl I come and shewe the all, and thou shalte breake vpon them wth thyne army, and there shal be none hable to resyst þ, & I wyl leade the thoroow the myddest of Iherusalem, tyll thou comest into the syght of Iherusalem, and I wyl make thy seare in the myddest of it. Thus shal þ drue the before þ as shepe that lacke a shepheard, and not so muche as a dogge shal barcke agaynst the: for these thyngges mer shewed me before by reuelacion, and I was sente to tel the of them.

These wordes pleased Holophernes and all his seruantes, and they maruayled at her wysdome, sayinge: There is not a woman from one ende of the worlde to the other lyke her, in bewtie and eloquence, in tellynge her tale: and therwytth Holophernes spake thus vnto her: God hath done well that he hath sent the byther before this people, to byng strength vnto our handes, and destruccō to the that despyse my lord: in very dede thou art beautifull to behold & canst speke eloquently, & yf thou perfourme þ thou hast promysed, that God of thyne shalbe my God, and thou shalt spe in Nabuchodonosors house, and shalte be spoke of thoroowe out all bys lande.

The.xii. Chapter.

Holophernes commaundeth that Judith be wel entreated, she despyeth lycence to go oute in the nyght season to pray and obteyneth it, Agao is sent vnto her to mouther to come to Holophernes to a banquet: and she cometh.
Holophernes is droncken.

Iden commaunded he her to be brought into the cellar, where byssyluer household stuffe was,
and that she shulde haue a table of his meate, and drinke of his owne wyne.

But Judith sayd: * Of thyngs I wyl not eate, least I dysplease God: but I wyl be serued wth those thynges that I haue broughte wth me. Then sayed Holophernes: But yf these that thou hast doe sayle, howe shal we get lyke for the.

For we haue none left of this sorte Judith answered: as truely as þ lyuest my Lord, so shal not thy handemayde consume that I haue, or euer the Lord thoroowe my hāde haue broughte bys purpose to passe. So Holophernes seruantes brought her into the tent, wher after she had slepte tyl midnyghte, aboute þ morning watch she rose vp, and sent to Holophernes one to say.
Agaye it please my Lorde to commaunde that bys mayden maye be let out to praye.
And when Holophernes had commaunded them that kept his person that they shuld not stop her, she tarred in bys tentes. iiii.
dayes, & in þ nyght went into the valley o

The booke of Judith.

Bethulia, and washed her self in a founteyn that was in the tentes: and when she was come out she desired þe Lord God of Israel that he would prosper her purpose, to help forwarde the kindred of her people: and goinge agayn into her tent, there she abode pure and cleane, about euentyde that she went to meat. And it happened on þe fourth day that Holofernes kept a costly feast with none but his seruantes, nor dyd not bid to sup wth hym any of the chiefe officers. Then sayed Holofernes to Bagoas the geldyng, whiche had the keepyng of all his substance, go thy wayes and counsaill thys womā of the Hebrewes whiche is with the, to come to vs and eate & drynke wth vs. For so it is greate shame to our personne, yf we should let such a woman scape and haue not to do with her: yf we draw her not vnto vs, she wyl mocke vs also. So Bagoas when he was gone out of Holofernes sight, and come to her, said: Wape it please you say, mayd to come vnto my master, and to be honoured before him, and and to drynke wyne wth vs to make you merue & to doe this day as do þe daughters of the Assyrians, whiche be in Nabugodonozors house. And Judith sayd: what am I, that I shuld say my Lorde nay in any thyng: yea rather whatsoeuer shal please him, or þe he shal thinke good, I wyl do it quickly, for it shal be to my praise til I dye. And therewith she arose, and decked her selfe in her garmentes, and all her womens apparell: and her mayden came, and layed furred skynnes for her vpon the ground, euen ryght agaynst Holofernes, whiche he had receyued of Bagoas to occupie euery day, to lye vpon theim, and eate her meate. And when Judith was set, Holofernes her began to burne vpon her, and his mynd was moued, so that he greatly desired to haue to do with her. For euen nowe from the firste daye that he se her, he sought for occasiō to abuse her.

So Holofernes saide vnto her: drynke nowe and be merue wth vs, for thou hast sold fauour in my sight. And Judith said: yea Lorde I wyl drynke wth good wyl, for I am to daye more pleasantly disposed, the euer I was before lence I was borne: and she began to eate and drynke before him suche thynges as her mayde had prepared for her.

So Holofernes was gladd because of her, and dranke very muche wyne, so much as he neuer dranke before in one day at any other tyme, sence he was borne.

The. xiii. Chapter.

Holofernes slepeth for very drynke. And Judith cutteth off his head and goeth therewith to her owne people, of whom she is receayued with ioye. They geue thāres vnto God for thepyr deliuerance. Judith speakech vnto Achior, whiche maruaileth at her featte done to Holofernes.

The. xiii. Chapter.

Nowe when it was late in the night, and that his seruantes hadsted euery manne in his lodgynge, and that Bagoas had shutte the vter doore of the tabernacle, and that all that were there were gone out of the masters sight, euery man went to his bed * because they wer werped with longe quaffynge. So Judith was left in the tent alone, and Holofernes laye along in his bed all drunken. And Judith had her mayd to stand wthoute the chamber, and wayte for his comynge oute, as she was daylye wonte to do. For she sayed she wolde come oute to praye, and lykewyse tolde she Bagoas. So when all were gone oute of her sighte and that none was left in the chamber, small nor great, Judith standyng at his beddes syde, sayed thus in her mynde with her self: O Lord God of all strengthe, loke in thys houre to the workes of my handes, that Jerusalem may be exalted as thou hast promised. For nowe is it tyme to helpe thy possession, and by the trust that I haue in the, to perfourm my purpose to the puttynge downe of our enemyes, whiche are rylen agaynst vs: and therewith she came vnto the piller of the bed, whiche was at Holofernes head, and toke out from thence his swerde. And when she had bowed her selfe toward the bed, she toke hym by the herte of the head, sayyng: Strengthen me now O Lorde God of Israel, and gaue two strokes vpon his necke as harde as I. Reg. xviii. We could * and cut off his head: and after. ii. Mac. vii. wardes colyng his body in the bed, and takynge the canopy from the pylers, wth in a whyle after she wente oute, and deliuered Holofernes heade to her mayde, whiche when she hadde put into her meatbag, they went forth both together after the maner that they were wont to pray. So goyng out from the tentes, they came about by the waye, and went vnto the hyl of Bethulia. And when they were come to the gates, Judith a far of cried to þe watchmen that kept the gates: Go to open the gates, open, God is with vs. I save our God, thetynge his strength yet in Hierusalē, and his power agaynst his enemyes, as he hath done euē now at this tyme. Whē they herd her speak thus, the townemen came doune quickly to the gates of the cite, & when they had called the counsellers, all came cunnyng together: from the leaste to þe greatest, (for they looked not for her comynge:) and makynge spers to haue lyght, they opened the gate and stode about the. And she goinge into an hye place, whē they kepte silence, spake out aloud, and sayd: Laude and praisse god, for he hath not wthdrawen his mercy from the house of Israel, nor hath not forsake those that truste in hym, but wth my hand this night hath troddē doune your enemyes: and is these moordes brought out, and shewed the the head, sayyng saying: Lo, behold þe head of Holophernes, general of the Assyrians armye, and behold the canopy that he laye on when he was drunke, when God slew hym by a womans hand. I take to wytnesse the lyping God which hath kept me by þe way that I haue gone, that he was deceyued by lokyng vpon my face to his destruction, and that he hath done to me no fylthy abhominacion. All ye prayse God, for he is good, and his mercede endureth for euer. The maruelled þe people greatly, and when they had bowed doune the selues, and worshipped God, they sayd altogether: O our God, worthy art thou to be prayled, whiche at thys tyme haste brought to naught the enemies of the people. And Ozeas sayd to her: Blessed arte thou, O daughter of the Lord the hye God, aboue all women vpon the earth, & blessed be the Lord maker of heauen & earth, whiche hath gydded the arpyght to smyte of the head of the caprayne of our enemyes. For the memoire of thy hopte shal neuer go out of the myndes of me that speake of the power of God. God graunt the this to thy enetlastyng glorie, to enriche the wyth goodes, because thou hast not spared thy lyfe whē our kyndred was in affliction, but gyngge the ryght way before oure Lorde God, hast holpen our fall. And all the people sayd: Amen: Amen.

The.xiiii. Chapter.

The counsaile of Judith, Achior beyng an heathen man tourneth to god. The Assyrians are afrayed of the Jewes.

11. Mac. xv

Judith sayd vnto all the people: bether: & heare me: take this head, and hang it on a pole vpon oure walles, and asone as it is day and the sun ryse, let euery man put on his harnes, and all the valiaunt mē with their captaine shal breke out of þe cite as though ye would go down to the first campe of the Assyrians: and yet he shall not so do. Then all they puttinge on their harnes, wyl go into their tentes to raise vp the capitaines of the Assyrians host, and wil make toward Holophernes paulion: & when they fynd hym not, but se his headlesse bodye rolled in bloude, feare wyl come vpon them, and wyl fle from your sight. Then you folowynge with all that dwell in Israel, ouerthrowe al in the way before you. For God shall gyue the vnto you to be troden vnder your fete. But afore these thynges be done, call to me Achior the Ammonite, hym that was sente vnto vs to be slayne, & he maye se and beholde hym that despyed the house of Israel. So Achior was called out of the house of Ozia: which when he was come, and Holophernes head in a mas had that was amongst the people, fell doune vpon hym face in a swone, and whē he was come agayne to hym self, he fel before Judiths fete, and when he hadde worshipped her face, he sayed: Prayled mought thou be thowme out al the tentes of Iuda, and amonge all nacions, whiche shall beare of thy name. But reherse now vnto me what thou hast done al this tyme. And amonge all the people Judith rebered vnto him al that she had done, sence the tyme she went forth, euen tyll now that she spake vnto them. The God of Israel, quod she whiche thou sayedst would reuenge hym self of his enemyes, he this nyghte hath cut of the heades of all the vngodly wyth my hand: whiche thyng to be true, this heade of Holophernes doth proue: which with a proude contempte dysprayed the God of Israel, and manaced to kyll the, saying: when I haue vanquished the people of Israel, I wyl commaunde the to be thowme thow both the sydes wyth a swerde.

And after she had made an ende of speakinge, the people shoutinge aloud, gaue great cryes thowme out the cite for ioy. And Achior seing all these thynges that þe God of Israel had done, trusted greatly in God: and his foreskyn beinge circumcised, was toyned vnto the house of Israel with all his kyndred that came after, euen vnto thys day. And when it was day, Holophernes head beinge hanged vpon þe walles all the mē put on their harnes, and turned them selues rold in a ryng without at the going down of the hyl: when the Assyrians saw, they sent messengers vnto the Centurians, and they vnto the capitaines and tribunes: and all these men, whiche after they were come to Holophernes tente, they sayed to him that had charge of al his gere. Call * vp I pray the our Lord, that for as much as these slaues be so bold to come & fight with vs, they may be al slayn. And in the entry before his chamber they rumbled togyther, and made a noyse for the nonce to wake hym, that he shoulde be awaked not by them that called hym vp, but rather by their meanes that rustled together. For no man durst knocke at hym masters chamber doore, or open it to go in. Then Bagoas entryng in knocked within the entyre of hym paylyd, because he thought he was in bed with Judith. But no man would heare him, the putting þe doore asyde and entryng into the chamber, when he saw hym cast vpon his bed, and hym head being of, he cryng out aloud with wepyng and waylyng, and a great outcry, he tare his garmentes: And entring into the tabernacle also wher Judith was wnt to be, whē he found not her neither, he leyt out before the people, cryng out: The seruantes haue done a great mischief, this one woman of the Jewes hath brought great shame into the house of kynge Nabuchodonosor: for loke wher Holophernes lieth flat vpon the ground, and his head of. When the chiefe men of the Assyrians host herd these words, they tore their clothes, & wer maruelously afrayed in their myndes: and ther arose in the midst of the tentes a greare crye and howlyng out.

The booke of Judith.

The. xv. Chapter.

The flight of the Assyrians. The pursuit of Israel after them. Israel becommeth ryche by the spoiles of the Assyrians. Judith is praised of Joachim and of the people.

And also they that were in their pavilions, when they herde of this dede, despyte of herre & counsaill, were sore amased, and greate feare and tremblunge came vpon them: and there was none that coude abyde to se other, but assouped all together: fled by all the wayes as well of the bylly as campion countrey, casting doune their heades, and leuyng all behind them entending to escape the Hebrewes, whome they hard say came fast after the: & they also had fensed them selues within the mountaynes aboute Bethulia, ran away.

When dyd the beste warriour of the Israelites pursue after them with sound of trompets, and great cry: and because the Assyrians fledde straggelyng here and there bedlonges, and that the Israelites folowed with their hols army, they kyled as many as they coude ouertake.

And Ozias sent to Bethomasta, Bebay, Chobay, Cholan, and into all the borders of Israel, to beare tydings of the thinge was done, to thintent that al should come to the slaughter of the enemye.

And whē they hearde this, the Israelites altogether came vpon them, and chased the, & slew the, euen as farre as Choba. They of Hierusalem came also, and out of al the mountayne countrey, (for vnto them also came tidynges of those thinges that were done in the tentes of their enemyes) and the Galaadites also & the Galilees draue the with great slaughter beyond Damasco and the borders of the same. The other inhabitants of Bethulia inuaded the tentes of the Assyrians, & by their praye gat great ryches. The Israelites that came from the slaughter had that that was left, and the byllages & cities, as well of the chaptā as mountayne countrey, gatte greate spoiles: of the whiche they had greate plentye. And Joachim the hysse Byshop, and the Senatoures of Israel that dwelt at Hierusalem, came to testifie, and beare wytnesse of the benefites which God hath geuen to the Israelites, and also to se Judith, and gentelly to salute her: which whē they were come to her, with one mouth testified their love toward her, sayinge:

Thou the honoure of Hierusalem, thou the greate tor of Israel, & the royal host of our kynred, thou hast done all these thynges with thine own hand, and hast endued Israel with these benefites, and God with his fauoure hath furthered the. Tho heret is strengthned because thou louest chastite, and tokest none other after thy husband, therefore hath the hand of God strengthned the. Blessed be thou before God for ever. And all the people sayde: So be it.

The. xvi. Chapter.

But the people spoyling the tentes by the space of xxx. dayes, gaue vnto Judith his tentes, all his spluer, his beddes, his basins, and all his household stuffe, which she layde vpon mules, and in her cartes. Then came cunnyng to se her al the womē of Israel, and praysed her, and appointed to daunse: and she toke the women by the handes that were with her, and gaue the goodly nosegayes, and puttyng vpon her owne head and her maydens a garland of olyue, leadyng the daunse before all the people, wēt before al the womē, al the men of Israel in barnes with garlandes, with orgāns, harpes & songes, which they sange.

The. xvi. Chapter.

The songe of Judith for the victory. After the victorye obtayned, the people cometh to Hierusalem to worshyp and prayse God.

When Judith began this song of lofe among al the Israelites, and al the people sage this praise with loude voyce, and Judith begane.

Begyn vnto my Lorde vpon tabrettes, and singe vnto my Lorde vpon cymbals, syng a songe vnto him, prayse him, and cal vpon his name.

For the Lorde is the destroyer of battayles, whythe hath he put his tente in the myddest of his people, and hath deliuered me from the bandes of them that persecuted me. The Assyrian came from the mountaynes out of the north, he came with thousandes in his army, and his multitude shut in all the skemes about, & his horsemen couered the valleyes.

He sayed he woulde consume my boundes with swerde, and slay my yong men with sword, and brayn my suckpuge chyldren, & that he woulde geue myne infanties for a praye, and dryue awaye my wyrgyns. The Lorde omnipotent hath deceyued them of their purpose by the hand of a woman.

For he was not slayne by strong hand of yonge men, neyther dyd they that were borne of Eitan kyll hym, neither greate gyauntes set vpon hym, but Judith the daughter of Merari, scattered the with the beutye of her face.

For when she hadde putte of her wyddowes apparell, and put on her holidayes apparell, to helpe the Israelites that were in leuordye, her face beynge anoynted with sweete oyntment, and her herre trimmed with an houe and with a linnen stole, she deceyued hym.

Her syluer raurshed his eyes, and his mynde was taken with her beutye & his swerd went thorowe his necke.

The Persians feared her audacite, and the Medes marueyled at her boldnes.

Then reioysed myne humble people, and the weak cryed out, burned for thurst, and they were asfayed, & cryed & ranne awaye.

The sonnes of our women slewe the, and the seruantes of my Lorde God wounded them and slewe them, as runnagate slaues.

Al wyll

Gene. i.
Psa. m. ccc.
and. cxi. lii.
Psa. c. lli.

I wyl syng a songe and praise vnto the Lorde. O Lorde thou arte great & glorious, maruylous in strengthe, and inuincible.

At thy hand worke serueth the, for thou commaundedst * and it was thou sendest oute thy spirite, and it was made, for there is nothyng that canne respyte thy worde.

For the mountaynes shalbe moued with the waters scome the foundacions, and
the stones shal melt in thy sight like ware, & yet arte thou merciful to the that feare the.

The ende of the booke of
Judith.

The reste of the

Chapters of the booke of Esther, wh are neither found in the Hebrew nor in the Chaldee.

The. xi. Chapter after the Latyne.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

Mardocheus the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Se-
mei, the sonne of Cisei of
the tribe of Benjamin,
a Jewe which had bys
dwellynge in Susys, a
manne of great reputa-
cyon and excellent amonge all them that were in the kynges courte. (Neuerthelesse
he was one of the prysoners, whom Nabu-chodonosor the kyng of Babylon had ca-
ried a way from Hierusalem vnto Babilo, with Iechonias the kyng of Iuda.) In the second yere of the reigne of great Artaxerxes in the first daye of the moneth Nisan, hadde this Mardocheus such a dreame: He thought he herd a gret rāpest, horrible thonder clappes, earchquakes,
and great vprout in the land: and that he
saue. ii. great dragons, readye to fyghte one agaynst another. Theyr crye was great. At the whiche roarynge and cry all heaven were vp, to fyght agaynst the righteous people. And the same daye was full of darckenes and very vnclere, full of trouble and angurthe. yea, a greate fear-fulnes was there in all the land. The righteous were amased, for they feared the plague and euill that was deuyled ouer
them, and were at a popyt with themselves to dye. So they cryed vnto God: and while they were cryinge, the lyttel well grewe
into a great ryuer and into many waters.
And with that it was day, and the sunne rose vp agayn. And slowly were exalted,
and deuoured the glorious and proude.

Nowe when Mardocheus hath sene this dreame, he awoke, and mused stedfastly in his herte, what God woulde do: and so he deserued to know all the matter, and bys myght was therupon vntill the nyght.

The. xii. Chapter.

Mardocheus vttereth thetters deuyled agaynst
the king, and is therfore rewarded of hym.

At the same tyme dwelt Mar-docheus with Bagarba and Tares the kynges chamberlaynes, and porters of the palace. But when he herd the deuyce and had dylgentely considered theyr imagynacions, he perceyued that they went aboute to laye their cruel han-des vpon the kyng Artaxerxes: and so certified the kyng thereof. Then caused the kyng to examē the two gelded wyth toys mentes. And when they hadde graunted it, they were put to death.

This the kyng caused to be put in the Chronicles for an euerlasting remembraunce & Mardocheus wrot by the same matter.
So the kyng commaunded that Mardocheus shoulde do seruyce in the courte, and for this faithfulness of his he gaue him a reward. But Ama the sone of Amadathu the Agagite, which was holden in greate honour and reputation in the kyngs courte, vnderooke to hurte Mardocheus and bys
people, because of the two chamberlaynes
that were put to deathe.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes agaynst
the Jewes. The prayer of Mardocheus.

Mardocheus the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Se-
mei, the sonne of Cisei of
the tribe of Benjamin,
a Jewe which had bys
dwellynge in Susys, a
manne of great reputa-
cyon and excellent amonge all them that
were in the kynges courte. (Neuerthelesse
he was one of the prysoners, whom Nabu-chodonosor the kyng of Babylon had ca-
ried a way from Hierusalem vnto Babilo,
with Iechonias the kyng of Iuda.) In the second yere of the reigne of great Ar-
taxerxes in the first daye of the moneth Nisan, hadde this Mardocheus such a dreame: He thought he herd a gret rāpest,
horrible thonder clappes, earchquakes,
and great vprout in the land: and that he
saue. ii. great dragons, readye to fyghte
one agaynst another. Theyr crye was great. At the whiche roarynge and cry all heaven were vp, to fyght agaynst the righteous people. And the same daye was full of darckenes and very vnclere, full of
trouble and angurthe. yea, a greate fear-fulnes was there in all the land. The righteous were amased, for they feared the
plague and euill that was deuyled ouer
them, and were at a popyt with themselves
to dye. So they cryed vnto God: and while they were cryinge, the lyttel well grewe
into a great ryuer and into many waters.
And with that it was day, and the sunne
rose vp agayn. And slowly were exalted,
and deuoured the glorious and proude.

Nowe when Mardocheus hath sene this dreame, he awoke, and mused stedfastly in his herte, what God woulde do: and so he
deserued to know all the matter, and bys
myght was therupon vntill the nyght.

At the same tyme dwelt Mar-
docheus with Bagarba and Tares the kynges chamberlaynes, and porters of the palace. But when he herd the
deuyce and had dylgentely considered theyr imagynacions, he perceyued that
they went aboute to laye their cruel han-
des vpon the kyng Artaxerxes: and so certified the kyng thereof. Then caused the kyng to examē the two gelded wyth toys
mentes. And when they hadde graunted it,
they were put to death.

This the kyng caused to be put in the
Chronicles for an euerlasting remembraunce & Mardocheus wrot by the same matter.
So the kyng commaunded that Mardocheus shoulde do seruyce in the courte, and
for this faithfulness of his he gaue him a reward. But Ama the sone of Amadathu the Agagite, which was holden in greate honour and reputation in the kyngs courte,
vnderooke to hurte Mardocheus and bys
people, because of the two chamberlaynes
that were put to deathe.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes agaynst
the Jewes. The prayer of Mardocheus.

At the same tyme dwelt Mar-
docheus with Bagarba and Tares the kynges chamberlaynes, and porters of the palace. But when he herd the
deuyce and had dylgentely considered theyr imagynacions, he perceyued that
they went aboute to laye their cruel han-
des vpon the kyng Artaxerxes: and so certified the kyng thereof. Then caused the kyng to examē the two gelded wyth toys
mentes. And when they hadde graunted it,
they were put to death.

This the kyng caused to be put in the
Chronicles for an euerlasting remembraunce & Mardocheus wrot by the same matter.
So the kyng commaunded that Mardocheus shoulde do seruyce in the courte, and
for this faithfulness of his he gaue him a reward. But Ama the sone of Amadathu the Agagite, which was holden in greate honour and reputation in the kyngs courte,
vnderooke to hurte Mardocheus and bys
people, because of the two chamberlaynes
that were put to deathe.

Gene. i.
Psa. m. ccc.
and. cxi. lii.
Psa. c. lli.

I wyl syng a songe and praise vnto the Lorde. O Lorde thou arte great & glorious,
maruylous in strengthe, and inuincible.

At thy hand worke serueth the, for thou
commaundedst * and it was thou sendest
oute thy spirite, and it was made, for there is nothyng that canne respyte thy worde.

For the mountaynes shalbe moued with
the waters scome the foundacions, and
the stones shal melt in thy sight like ware, & yet arte thou merciful to the that feare the.

The ende of the booke of
Judith.

The reste of the

Chapters of the booke of Esther, wh
are neither found in the Hebrew
nor in the Chaldee.

The. xi. Chapter after the Latyne.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

Mardocheus the sonne of Jair, the sonne of Se-
mei, the sonne of Cisei of
the tribe of Benjamin,
a Jewe which had bys
dwellynge in Susys, a
manne of great reputa-
cyon and excellent amonge all them that
were in the kynges courte. (Neuerthelesse
he was one of the prysoners, whom Nabu-chodonosor the kyng of Babylon had ca-
ried a way from Hierusalem vnto Babilo,
with Iechonias the kyng of Iuda.) In the second yere of the reigne of great Ar-
taxerxes in the first daye of the moneth Nisan, hadde this Mardocheus such a dreame: He thought he herd a gret rāpest,
horrible thonder clappes, earchquakes,
and great vprout in the land: and that he
saue. ii. great dragons, readye to fyghte
one agaynst another. Theyr crye was great. At the whiche roarynge and cry all heaven were vp, to fyght agaynst the righteous people. And the same daye was full of darckenes and very vnclere, full of
trouble and angurthe. yea, a greate fear-fulness was there in all the land. The righteous were amased, for they feared the
plague and euill that was deuyled ouer
them, and were at a popyt with themselves
to dye. So they cryed vnto God: and while they were cryinge, the lyttel well grewe
into a great ryuer and into many waters.
And with that it was day, and the sunne
rose vp agayn. And slowly were exalted,
and deuoured the glorious and proude.

Nowe whē Mardocheus hath sene this dreame, he awoke, and mused stedfastly in his herte, what God woulde do: and so he
deserued to know all the matter, and bys
myght was therupon vntill the nyght.

The. xii. Chapter.

Mardocheus vttereth thetters deuyled agaynst
the kyng, and is therfore rewarded of hym.

At the same tyme dwelt Mar-
docheus with Bagarba and Tares the kynges chamberlaynes, and porters of the palace. But when he herd the
deuyce and had dylgentely considered theyr imagynacions, he perceyued that
they went aboute to laye their cruel han-
des vpon the kyng Artaxerxes: and so certified the kyng thereof. Then caused the kyng to examē the two gelded wyth toys mentes. And whē they hadde graunted it,
they were put to death.

This the kyng caused to be put in the
Chronicles for an euerlasting remembraunce & Mardocheus wrot by the same matter.
So the kyng commaunded that Mardocheus shoulde do seruyce in the courte, and
for this faithfulness of his he gaue him a reward. But Ama the sone of Amadathu the Agagite, which was holden in greate honour and reputation in the kyngs courte,
vnderooke to hurte Mardocheus and bys
people, because of the two chamberlaynes
that were put to deathe.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes agaynst
the Jewes. The prayer of Mardocheus.

Me greate kyng Artaxerxes whycher raygneth frome India vnto Ethyoppa, ouer an hundredth and seue and twenty lā-des, senderh bys frendelye salutacyō vnto al prynces and debittes of the countries, whycher be subiecte vnto bys domynyon.
When I was made Lorde ouer manye people, and had subdued the whole earthe vnto my domynyon, my mynde was not wyth crueltye and wrounge too exalte my selfe by the reason of my power: but purposed wyth equitye alwaye and Bentelness, too gouerne those that bee vnder my iurisdycyon, and whollye to sette them in a peaceable life, and thereby too byng my kyngedom vnto tranquillite, that me might safely go thorow on euerye syde, and to renue peace agayne, whycher al meane desyre. Nowe when I asked my counsaylers how these thinges mighte be brought to a good ende, there was one by vs, excellent in wysedome, whose good wyl, truth, and faythfulness hath ofte bene shewed and proued (whiche was also the pryncypall and nerse vnto the kyng) A-man by name: whycher certified vs, howe that in al landes there were crepte in a rebellious folke, that made statutes and lawes agaynst all other people, and haue alway despyled the proclaimed commaundementes of kynges: and home that for this cause it were not to be suffered that such rule shoulde contynue by you and not to be put downe. Seinge now we per-ceiue the same, that this people alone are contrary

contrary vnto euerie man, vsing straunge and other maner of lawes, and withstode our statutes and doynges, and go aboute to stablysh shrewd matters, that our kyngdome shoulde neuer come to good estate, and stedfastnes: Therefore haue we commaunded, that al they that are appointed in wyrtunge and shewed vnto you by Amā (which is ordeyned and set ouer al our bu-sines and the most pryncypall nexte vnto the kyng, and in maner as a father) shall with theyr wyues & chyldren be destroyed and rooted oute wth the swerde of theire enemies and aduersaries: and that ther shalbe no mercy shewed, and no mā spared.
And this shalbe done the. xiii. daye of the moneth (called Adar) of this yere, that thei which of old (and now also) haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day wth violence be thrust down into the hell to the intent that after this maner, oure empyre may haue peace and tranquillite.

But Mardocheus thoughte vpon al the workes and noble actes of the Lord, and made hys prayer vnto hym, sayinge: O Lord Lord, thou valeaunt and almyghty kyng (for all thynges are in thy power) and if thou wylt helpe and deliuer Israel, there is no man that can withstand nor let the: (for thou hast made heauen and earth, and what wonderous thynges soeuer is vnder the heauen) thou art Lord of all thynges, and there is no man that can resist the. O Lord. Thou knowest all thynges, thou wotest Lord, that it was nerther of malice, nor presumption nor for any desyre of glory, that I woulde not bowe downe my selfe, nor worshippe vnder proud prosumptuous Aman (for I woulde haue bene contente and that wth good wyll, yf it myghte haue done Israel anye good, to haue kynt euen his foreshyppes) but that I dyd it because I would not let the honour of a man in the steade of the glorie of God, and because I would worshippe none but onely the my Lord. And this haue I done in no pryde nor presumption.

E And therefore O Lord thou God, and kyng, haue mercye vpon thy people: for they ymagyn how they maye bring vs to naught, yea their mind and desyre is to de-stroye and to ouerthrowe the people, that hath euer ben thyne enheraunce of olde.
O despyse not thy voyce, whyche thou hast deliuered and brought oute of Egypt for thyne owne selfe. Heare my prayer, and be mercyfull vnto thy people whome thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thy selfe.
Turne our complaine and sorow into joy, that we may loue O Lord, and prayse thy name. O Lord suffer not the mouthes of theim that prayse the, to be destroyed.

Al the people of Israel in like maner cryed as earnestly as they could vnto the Lord, for their death & destructione stode before their eyes.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of hys and her people.

Euene Esther also beyng in the battayle of death, resorted vnto the Lord, layed a waye her glorious apparell, and put on the garmentes that serued for spynginge and mounyng. In the stead of precious oymenment, she scattered ashes and denge vpon her head, and as for her body, she humbled it, and brought it very lowe. All the places where she was wonte to haue ioye as fore, those filled she with the herre, that she plucte oute her selfe. She prayed also vnto the Lord God of Israel in these wordes.

O my Lord, thou onely art our kyng, helpe me desolate woman, whyche haue no helper but thee, for my myserye and destructione is hard at my hand. From my youth vp I haue herde oute of the kyntred of my father, that thou tokest Israel fro amonge all the people, and so haue our fathers of their fore elders, that they shoulde be thy perpetual inheritaunce: & loke what thou doest prompte them, thou hast made it good vnto them.

Now wel Lord we haue sinned before the
the, therefore hast thou geuen vs into the bandes of our enemies, because we worshipped their gods. Lord thou art ryghteuous: neuer thelesse it satisfieth the not that we are in bytter & heauye captiuitie and oppressed among them, but thou hast layed their handes vpon the handes of their gods: so that they begun to take awaye the thynges the thou wth thy mouth hast ordeined, and appoynted: to destroye thyne inheritaunce, to shut & to stop the mou-thes of them that prayse the, to quene the glorie and worshyp of thy house and thyne aulter, and to open the mouthes of the Heathen, that they may prayse the power and vertue of the goddes, and to magnifye the the helpe kyng for euer.

O Lord, geue not thy scepter vnto them the that be nothyng, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our myserye and fall: but turne theyr deuyce vpon them selfe, and punyssh hym that hath begon the same ouer vs, and set hym to an example. Thyngke vpon vs O Lord, & shew thy selfe in the tyme of oure distres and of oure trouble. Strengthen me O thou kyng of Goddes, thou Lord of al power, geue an eloquent & pleasaunt speech in my mouth before the the.

Turne his herte into the hate of our enemy, to destroye hym, and all such as consent vnto him. But deliuer vs wth thy hand, and helpe me desolate woman, whyche haue no defence nor helper but onely the.
Lord thou knowest al thynges, thou wotest that I loue not the glorie and worshyppe of the vnyghteous, and that I hate and abhorre the bedde of the vncircumcised, and of all Heathen.

Thou knowest and wotest my necessitye, that I hate the token of my prebeminence and worshyp, whyche I beare vpon my head what tyme as I must shewe my selfe

selfe and be sene: and that I abhorre it, as an vncleane clothe, and that I weare it not when I am quete and alone by my selfe. Thou knowest also that I thy hand mayden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delite in the Kinges feaste, & I haue not droncke the drinkeoff:inges, and that I thy hand mayden had no ioye sence the daye that I was broughte hyther, vnto thys daye, but onely in & O Lord. O thou God of Abraham, O thou myghty God aboue al, heare the voyce of them that haue none other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wycked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The. xv. Chapter.

¶ Mardocheus moueth Hester to go in to the kynge and make intercession for her people, & he performeth his requeste.

¶ Ad vpon the third day it happened, that Hester laied away the mourning garmentes, and put on her glorious apparel, & decked herselfe goodly: & after she had called vpon God (which is the beholder and Sautour of all thynges) toke ii. maydens with her: vpon the one she leaned her self, as one that was tender, the other folowed her, & bare & trayne of her vesture. The shyne of her bewty made her face rose coloured. The similitude of her face was chereful, amiable, but her hert was sorrowful for great fear. She went in thorow all the doores, & stode before & king. The kyng sat vpon the throne of his kyngdome, & was clothed in his goodly aray, al of gold, & set with precious stones, and he was verie terrible. He lft vp his face, that shone in & clearnes, and looked grimly vpon her. Ther fel the Quene doune, was pale and faint, leaned her selfe vpon the head of the maide that wente wyth her.

¶ Neuertheles God turned the kynges mynde that he was gentle, that he leapt oute of his seate for feare, and gat her in hys armes, and helde her vp tyll she came to her selfe agayne. He gaue her lounge wordes also, and sayde vnto her: Hester what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare, thou shalt not dye: for our commandemente toucheth the commons not the: Come nye. And wyth that he helde vp his golden wand, and layed it vpon her necke, and embraced her frendely, and sayed: talke with me. Ther sated she: I saw the (O Lorde) as an Angell of God, and my hert was troubled for feare of thy mayesty and searcenesse. For excellent and wonderfull art thou (O Lorde) and thy face is full of amytie. But as she was thus speakinge vnto hym, he fel doune agayne for faintnes: for & which cause & king was afrayed, & all his seruantes cōforted her.

The. xvi. Chapter.

¶ The copie of the letters of Artaxerces, whereby he reuoketh those which he fyrst sent forth.

¶ A great kyng Artaxerces, & A raygneth from India vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred, and xxvii. landes, sendeth vnto the Princes and rulers of the same landes, such as loue him, his frendly salutation. There be many that for the sondry frendeshypps and benefytes which are dyuerselye done vnto them for their worshyp be euer the moore proude & hye mynded, & undertake not only to hurt our subiectes (for plentifulous benefytes maye they not suffer, and begyn to ymagyn some thyng agaynst those that do them good, & take not onelye al thankfulness awaye from men) but in pryde and presumption (as they that be vnmindfull & vnthankfull for the good dedes) they go aboute to escape the iudgement of God & seeth al thynges, which (iudgement) hateth & punisheth al wickednes. It happeneth ofte also, that they which be sette in offyce by the hyer powers, & vnto whome the busines and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, were proude, and defyle them selves wyth the dyng of innocent bloude, which bringeth them to intolerable hurt. Whiche al so wyth false and disceatfull wordes and wyth lying tales, dysceyne and betraie the innocent goodnes of Princes.

¶ Nowe is it profitable and good, that we take hede, make search thereafter, and consider not onely what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shamefull, vnholynesse, and nopsome thynges, that the debyties haue nowe taken in hande before oure eyes: and thereby to beware in tyme to come, that we may make the kyngdome quere and peaceable for all men, and that we myght sometime draw it to a changer and as for the thyng that nowe is present before oure eyes to withstand it, & to put it downe, after the most frendlye maner.

¶ What tyme nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian (a straunger verely of the Persians bloude, and far from oure goodnes) was come in amonge vs as an aleaunt, and had obtrayned the frendeshyppe that we beare towarde all people, so that he was called our father, & had in hygh honoure of euery man, as the next and principal vnto the kyng, he could not forbear him selfe from hys pryde, but hath undertaken not onely to robbe vs of the kyngedome, but of oure lyfe.

¶ Wyth manyfold disceate also hath he despyred to destroye Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, whiche hath done vs good in all thynges: and innocent Hester the lyke partaker of our kyngdome, wyth all her people. For hys mynde was (when he had taken them out of the waye, and robbed vs of them) by thys meanes to translate the kyngedome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonya. But we fynde, that the Jewes (whiche were accused of the wycked, that they myghte be des-

selfe and be sene: and that I abhorre it, as an vncleane clothe, and that I weare it not when I am quete and alone by my selfe. Thou knowest also that I thy hand mayden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delite in the Kinges feaste, & I haue not droncke the drinkeoff:inges, and that I thy hand mayden had no ioye sence the daye that I was broughte hyther, vnto thys daye, but onely in & O Lord. O thou God of Abraham, O thou myghty God aboue al, heare the voyce of them that haue none other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wycked, and deliuer me oute of my feare.

The. xv. Chapter.

¶ Mardocheus moueth Hester to go in to the kynge and make intercession for her people, & he performeth his requeste.

¶ Ad vpon the third day it happened, that Hester laied away the mourning garmentes, and put on her glorious apparel, & decked her selfe goodly: & after she had called vpon God (which is the beholder and Sautoz of all thynges) toke ii. maydens with her: vpon the one she leaned her self, as one that was tender, the other folowed her, & bare & trayne of her vesture.
The shyne of her bewty made her face rose coloured. The similitude of her face was chereful, amiable, but her hert was sorowful for great fear. She went in thorow all the doores, & stode before & king. The kyng sat vpon the throne of his kyngdō, & was clothed in his goodly atap, al of gold, & set with precious stones, and he was verie terrible. He lft vp his face, that shone in clerues, and loked grimly vpon her. Ther fel the Quene doune, was pale and faint, leaned her selfe vpon the head of the maide that wente wyth her.

¶ Neuertheles God turned the kynges mynde that he was gentle, that he leapt oute of his seate for feare, and gat her in hys armes, and helde her vp tyll she came to her selfe agayne. He gaue her lounge wordes also, and sayde vnto her: Hester what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare, thou shalt not dye: for our commandement toucheth the commons not the: Come nye. And wyth that he helde vp his golden wand, and layed it vpon her necke, and embraced her frendely, and sayed: talke with me. Ther sated she: I saw the (O Lorde) as an Angell of God, and my hert was troubled for feare of thy ma-iesty and searcenesse. For excellent and wonderfull art thou (O Lorde) and thy face is full of amytie. But as she was thus speakinge vnto hym, he fel doune agayne for faintnes: for & which cause & king was afrayed, & all his seruantes cōforted her.

The. xvi. Chapter.

¶ The coppe of the letters of Artaxerces, whereby he reuoketh those which he fyrst sent forth.

¶ A great kyng Artaxerces, & A raygneth from India vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred, and xxvii. landes, sendeth vnto the Princes and rulers of the same landes, such as loue him, his frendly salutation. There be many that for the sondry frendeshypps and benefytes which are dyuerselye done vnto them for their worshyp be euer the moore proude & hye mynded, & undertake not only to hurt our subiectes (for plens-teous benefytes maye they not suffer, and begyn to ymagyn some thyng agaynst those that do them good, & take not onely al thankfulness awaye from men) but in pyde and presumption (as they that be vnmindfull & vnrhankfull for the good dedes) they go aboute to escape the iudge-ment of God & seeth al thynges, which (iud-gement) hateth & punisheth al wickednes.
It happeneth ofte also, that they which be sette in offyce by the hyer powers, & vnto whome the busines and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, were proude, and defyle them selves wyth the dyng of innocent bloude, which bringeth them to intolerable hurt. Whiche also wyth false and disceatfull wordes and wyth lying tales, dysceyne and betraie the innocent goodnes of Princes.

¶ Nowe is it profitable and good, that we take hede, make search thereafter, and consider not onely what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shamefull, vnho-nest, and nopsome thynges, that the debyties haue nowe taken in hande before oure eyes: and thereby to beware in tyme to come, that we may make the kyngdome quiere and peaceable for all men, and that we myght sometime draw it to a changer and as for the chynge that nowe is present before oure eyes to withstand it, & to put it downe, after the most frendlye maner.

¶ What tyme nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian (a straunger verely of the Persians bloude, and far from oure goodnes) was come in amonge vs as an aleaunt, and had obtayned the frendeshyppe that we beare towarde all people, so that he was called our father, & had in hygh honoure of euery man, as the next and principal vnto the kyng, he could not forbear him selfe from hys pyde, but hath undertaken not onely to robbe vs of the kyngedome, but of oure lyfe.

¶ Wyth manyfold disceate also hath he despyred to destroye Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, whiche hath done vs good in all thynges: and innocent Hester the lyke partaker of our kyngdome, wyth all her people. For hys mynde was (when he had taken them out of the waye, and robbed vs of them) by thys meanes to translate the kyngedome of the Persians vnto them of Macedonys. But we fynde, that the Jewes (whiche were accused of the wycked, that they myghte be de-

The boke of wisdom.

The .i. Chapter.

cropped) are no eueldoers, but vse reasonable & right lawes: & that they be p. ch. dzen
of the most hygh lyfynge God; by whom p kyngdome of vs and oure progenitours hath bene wold ordred bithertore. Therefore, as for the letters & commandementes, that were put forth by man the sonne of Amadabhu, ye shal do wel if ye holde the of none effect: for he that set the vp & thentred the, hangerth at Sulis before the porte, that al his kynted, & God (which hath al thinges in his power) hath rewarded hym after hys deservynge.

D And upon this ye shal publish & set up p copie of this letter in al places, that the Jew-wes may seie and withoute hinderaunce hold the selles after their owne statutes, & that they may be helped, and that upon the xiii. day of p. xii. moneth. And that they maye be auenged of them, whiche in the tyme of their augursh and double, would haue oppressed vs. For the God that gouerneth al thinges, hath turned to love p. day, wherith the chosen people should haue perished.

Moreover, amonge p. hye solepne dayes that ye haue, ye shal hold this daye also with al gladnesse: that none in the tyme to come this day may be a remembraunce of God, for al such as loue p. prosperite of the
p. stas: but a remembraunce of p. destructio,
to those that be sedicious vnto vs.

All cityes and landes that do not thys, shall boze p. lyf p. p. & be destroyed with the swerde and fyre, and shal not onely be no more inhabited of men, but be abhorred
also of the wylde beastes and foules.

The ende of the boke
of Esther.

The boke of wisdom.

The .i. Chapter.

How we oughte to searche and enquire after God, and who be those that finde him. Of p holy ghost. We oughte to flye from backe-bytynge and mouemurynge, etc.

A Sette your affeccio vpon wisdom,
ye that be iudges of the earth,
haue a good & opynion of the Lord, & seke him in the singlenes of hert. For he wyll be found of them that rempre him not, and appeareth vnto such as put their trust in him. But the froward thoughtes they separe frō God, and vertue (if it be allowed) resourmeth p vnto wylde. And why? wylsdom shal not enter into a froward soule, ne dwell in the body that is subdues vnto synne. For the holy ghost abhorreth farned nourtour, & with-draweth him selfe from the thoughtes that are withoute vnderstandinge: and wher wiskednesse hath the vpperhande, he fleeth frō thence. For p. spirite of wylsdom is louinge, gentle & gracious, & will haue no pleasure in vniuersal speaker cup! with his lippes.

For God is a witness of his reines, a true teacher out of his berte, and an hearer of his tongue. For the spirite of p. Lorde folleth the conde compass of the worlde, and the same that vpholdeth all thinges, hath knowledge also of the voyce.

Therefore he that speaketh vniuersally of thinges, cannot be v. p. neither may he ef-cape the iudgement of rephose. And why?
inquisition shalbe made for the thoughtes
of the vngodly, & the report of his wordes
shal come vnto God, so that his wickednes shalbe purged. For the eare of gelousy heareth al thinges, & the nose of the grud-ginges shal not be v. p. Therefore beware of murmuring, whiche is working worth, reserue your tongue frō sclander. For here is no worde so darcke and secrete that it shal goe for nought: & the mouth that speaketh lyes, flayeth the soule.

Take not your owne death in the ex-
tente of your lyfe, despoile not your sel-ues thorow the workes of your owne hau-
des. For God hath not made * death, nether hath he pleasure in the destructio of the liuynge. For he created all thinges, that they might haue their being: yea all the people of the earthe hath he made p. they should haue helth, that there should be no destructio in them, and the kyngdome of helle shoulde not be vpon earthe (for engrounsse is euerlasting and immortal, but vniuersalnesse bringeth death.) Rucers thelesse, the vngodlye call her vnto them, worde with wordes and workes, and while they thinke to haue a frē of her, they come to naught: for the vngodly that are confeste with her and take her part, are worthy of death.

The .ii. Chapter.

The imaginacion and desires of the wicked,
and theyr counsell agaynst the faythfull.

Or the vngodly talke and yma-
gin thus amonge them selues (but not v. p.) The tyme of our lyfe is but shorte and redous,
and when a man is once gone, he hath no more ioye ne pleasure, ne neither know we any man that turneth agayne from death:
for we are borne of nought, and we shal
be hereafter as though we had neuer be.
For our breath is a smoke in our nostrils,
and the wordes as a sparcke to moue our herte. As for oure bodye, it shal be verpe ashes that are quenched, and oure soule shal vanyshe as the softe ayre. Dure lyfe shal passe awaye as the trace of a cloude, and come to naught as the myste that is dryuen awaye with the beames of the sunne, and put downe with the heate thereof. Dure name also shal be forgotte by lytle and lytle and no mā shal haue our workes in remembraunce.

For our tyme is a very shadowe that passeth awaye, and after our end there is no

Eccl. vi. a
Ier. xii. d
Eccl. vii. a

Eccl. vi. a
Eccl. vii. a
Eccl. vii. b

Luke. xii. a

Deut. xii. c

Eccl. i. b
and. xxii. a

Job. vii. a
Eccl. xii. b
Eccl. xii. d

Eccl. vi. a
Eccl. vii. a

Eccl. xii. b
and. xxvi. a

Jerem. xii. d

Eccl. vi. a

The boke of wisdom.

The .i. Chapter.

crope) are no eueldoers, but vse reasonable & right lawes: & that they be p. ch. dzen
of the most hygh lyfynge God, by whom p
kyngdome of vs and oure progenitours hath bene w. l. ordied b. i. heretofore. Therefore,
as for the letters & commandementes, that
were put forth by man the sonne of Ama-
dabhu, ye shal do wel if ye holde the of none effect: for he that set the vp & th. i. ment to the, hanger at Sufis before the porte, that b. al
his kynted, & God (which hath al thinges in his power) hath rewarded hym after hys deseruynge.

D And upon this ye shal publish & set up p copie of this letter in al places, that the fle-
wes may seie and withoute hinderaunce hold the seifes after their owne statutes, & that they may be helped, and that upon the
xiii. day of p. xii. moneth. And that they maye be auenged of them, whiche in the tyme of
their augursh and double, would haue oppressed vs. For the God that gouerneth al thinges, hath turned to loye p. day, wherith
the chosen people should haue perished.

Moreover, amonge p. hye solepne dayes
that ye haue, ye shal hold this daye also with al gladnesse: that none can the tyme
to come this day may be a remembraunce of God, for al such as loue p. prosperite of the
p. stas: but a remembraunce of p. destructio,
to those that be sedicious vnto vs.

All cityes and landes that do not thys, shall boz p. lyne p. p. sh & be destroyed with the swearde and fyre, and shal not onely be no more inhabited of men, but be abhorred
also of the wylde beastes and foules.

The ende of the boke

of Esther.

The boke of wisdom.

The .i. Chapter.

How we oughte to searche and enquire after God, and who be those that finde him. Of p holy ghost. We oughte to flye from backe-bytynge and mouemurynge, etc.

A Sette your affeccio vpon wisdom,
ye that be iudges of the earth,
haue a good & opynion of the Lord, & seke him in the singlenes of hert. For he wyl be found of them that rempre him not, and appeareth vnto such as put their trust in him. But the froward thoughtes they separe fr. God, and vertue (if it be allowed) resourmeth p vnto wylde. And why? wylsdom shal not enter into a froward soule, ne dwell in the body
that is subdues vnto synne. For the holy ghost abhorreth farned nourtour, & with-draweth him selfe from the thoughtes that are withoute vnderstandinge: and wher wile-kednesse hath the vpperhande, he fleeth fr. thence.
For p. spirite of wylsdom is louinge, gentle & gracious, & wyl haue no pleasure

in vniuersal speaker cup! with his lippes.
For God is a witness of his reines, a true teacher out of his herte, and an hearer of his tonge. For the spirite of p. Lorde folleth the conde compass of the worlde, and the same that vpholdeh al thinges, hath knowledge also of the voyce.

Therefore he that speaketh vnwyllyngly thinges, cannot be v. d. neither may he ef-cape the iudgement of rephose. And why?
inquisition shalbe made for the thoughtes
of the vngodly, & the report of his wordes
shal come vnto God, so that his wickednes
shalbe purged. For the eare of gelousy heareth al thinges, & the nose of the grud-ginges shal not be v. d. Therefore beware of murmuring, whiche is nothing worth, & reserue your tonge fr. sclander. For here is no worde so darcke and secrete that it
shal goe for nought: & the mouth that spea-
keth lyes, flayeth the soule.

Take not your owne death in the ex-
tente of your lyfe, despoile not your sel-
ues thorow the workes of your owne hau-
des. For God hath not made * death, neyther hath he pleasure in the destructio of the liuynge. For he created al thinges, that they might haue their being: yea all the people of the earth hath he made p. they should haue helth, that there should be no destructio in them, and the kyngdome of helle shoulde not be vpon earth (for engh-tousnesse is euerlasting and immortal, but vniuersalnesse bringeth death.) Rucers thelesse, the vngodly call her vnto them, worde with wordes and workes, and while they thinke to haue a fr. of her, they come to naught: for the vngodly that are conferte with her and take her part, are worthy of death.

The .ii. Chapter.

The imaginacion and desires of the wicked,
and theyr counsell agaynst the faythfull.

Or the vngodly talke and yma-
gin thus amonge them selues (but not v. d.) The tyme of our lyfe is but shorte and redous,
and when a man is once gone, he hath no more ioye ne pleasure, neyther know we any man that turneth agayne from death:
for we are borne of nought, and we shal
be hereafter as though we had neuer be.
For our breath is a smoke in our nostrils,
and the wordes as a sparcke to moue our
herte. As for oure bodye, it shal be verpe
ashes that are quenched, and oure soule
shal vanyshe as the softe ayre. Dure lyfe
shal passe awaye as the trace of a cloude,
and come to naught as the myste that is dryuen awaye w. the beames of the sunne, and put downe w. the heate thereof. Dure name also shal be forgotte by lytle and litle and no man shal haue our workes in remembraunce.

For our tyme is a very shaddowe that passeth awaye, and after our end there is no

Eccl. vi. a
Ier. xii. d
Eccl. vii. a

Eccl. vi. a
Eccl. vii. a
Eccl. vii. b

Luke. xii. a

Deut. xii. c

Eccl. i. b
and. xxii. a

Job. viii. a
Eccl. xii. b
Eccl. xii. d

Eccl. vi. a
Eccl. vii. a

Eccl. xii. b
and. xxii. a

Eccl. xii. d

Eccl. xii. a

no returnyng, for it is faste sealed, so that no man cometh agayne. Come ontherfore, let vs enioye the pleasures that be present, and let vs lone vse the creature lyke as in youth. We wyl syl loue selues wyth good wyne & opntement, there shal no floure of pymme go by vs. We wil croune our selues wyth roles afore they be wythered. There shal be no fayre medow, but our lust shal go thorow it. Let euery one of you be partaker of our voluptuousnesse. Let vs leaue some token of our pleasure in euery place:
for þ is oure porcion, els get we nothyng.
Let vs oppresse the poore ryghteous, let vs not spare the wydow ne old mā, let vs not regarde the heades that are gray for age.

Let the lawe of vnrightheousnesse be our auctorite, for þ thinge that is feble is nothyng worth. Therfore let vs defraud the ryghteous, & wbr: he is not for our profyt:
pea he is cleane contrarie to our doynges.
He checketh vs for offendynge agaynst the law, & slaundret vs as transgressours of all nyrroure. He maketh his boast to haue þ knowledge of God, pea he calleth him selfe gods sonne. * He is þ betrayer of our thoughtes: It greueth vs also to loke vpo him, for his lyfe is not lyke other mēs, his wayes are of an other fashio. * He counteth vs but vayne persons, he withdra-weth himselfe from oure wayes as from filthinesse: he commendeth greatlye the latterende of the iuste, & maketh his booste that God is his father. Let vs se then yf his wordes be trewe, let vs proue what shal come vpon him: so shal we know what ende he shal haue.

For yf he be the true sonne of God, he wyl receyue hym and deliuer him from þ handes of his enemyes. Let vs examyn him wyth despitelous rebuke and tormentynge, that we may know his dignite, and proue his patience. Let vs condemne hym wyth the most shamefull deatch: for lyke as he hath spoken so shal he be rewarded.

Such thinges do the vngodly ymagyn and go astraye: for their owne wyckednesse hath blinded them. * As for the misteries of God, they vnderstand them not: they neyther hope for þ rewarde of ryghteousnesse, ne regarde the wdr: shyppe that holysoules shall haue. For God created man to be vnderstode, pea after the ymage of his owne lykenesse made he hym. * Neuer-thelesse, thorow enuy of the deuyll, came deatch into the worlde, and they that hold of his syde, do as he doth.

The.iii. Chapter.

The couersacio & assurance of þ righteous.
The rewarde of the fapthfull.

At the soules of the ryghteous are in the hāde of God, & the payne of deatch shal not touch the. * In the sight of the vnywse they appeare to dye, and their ende is taken for vey-destruccio. The waye of the ryghteous is iudged to be bitter destruccio, but they are in rest. And though they suffer pain before mē, yet is they hope ful of immortalltye.

* They are punished but in fewe thynges, ne-uerthelesse in many thynges shal they be wel rewarded. * For God proueth the,
and findeth them mete for hym selfe: pea as the gold in the fornace doth be tryd, & & receiveth the as a brynt offering: & in the tyme cometh, they shal be looked vpon.

The ryghteous shal thynke as the sparks that ren thore to the reed by the: They shal iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people, and they Lord shal reign for euer. They that put they trust in him, shal vnderstande the tute, and such as he fapthful, wyl agree vnto hym in loue: for hys chose shal haue gyftes and peace. But the vngodly shal be punished accordynge to they own imaginacions, for they haue despised þ ryghteous, & forsaken the Lord.

Who so despyseth wysdome and nyrrour, he is vnhappie: and as for the hope of suche, it is but vayne: they laboures vn-fruteful, and they workes vnprofytable.
* They wyues are vndiscreet, & they children most vngodly. Their creature is cursed. Blessed is rather the barain and vnde-fild which hath not knowen þ synful bed: he shal haue frute in the rewarde of þ holy soules. And blessed is the gelded, whiche with his hādes hath wrought no vnrighteousnes, ne imaginid wycked thynges agaynst God. For vnto him shal be gruen the special gift of fapth, & the most acceptable porcion in the reple of god. For glo-ryous is the frute of good labour, and the roote of wysdom shal neuer fade awaye.

As for the children of aduouters, they shal come to an end, and the seede of an vn-ryghteous bed shal be rooted oute. And thoughe they lyue longe, yet shal they be nothyng regarded, and they last age shal be without honoure. Yf they dye hastelye, they haue no hope, neyther shal they be spokē to in the day of knowledge. For horrible is þ deatch & end of the vnrightheous.

The.iiii. Chapter.

Of the chaste generacion of the fapthful, & of their felcity. Of the deatch of the ryghteous & of the condemnacion of the vnfapthful.

How fayre is a chaste generacion with vertue. The memorall thereof is immortalle, for it is known wyth good men. When it is presente, men take example thereat: and if it go awaye, yet they desyre it.
It is alwaye crowned and holden in ho-noure, and wynerth the rewarde of the vndefyled battayle. But the multitude of vngodly children is vnprofytable, and the thynges that are planted wyth vhozedome, shal take no depe roote, ne lare a-nye faste foundation. Thoughe they be grene in the braunches for a tyme, yet shal they be shaken with the wynde, for they stande not fast: and thorow the vehemencie of the wynde, they shal be rooted out.

fflat. fol

ii. Pa. xxx. c.
Esay. xlii. b.
and. lvi. c.
Sapi. v. b.

Rom. viii. c.
i. Cor. v. a.
i. Pet. i. c.
Exod. i. vi. a Deut. v. a

Mat. xiii. f.
i. Cor. xv. e
Mat. xix. c.
i. Cor. v. a.

Mat. xxv. d

Thon. vii. a Esay. llii. a

Ma. xviii. c
Jerem. xi. d

Esay. xlii. a
Lu. xlii. d.
Gala. iiii. d

Esay. lvi. b

Psal. xli. a.
mat. xxvii. e
Jerem. xi. d.

Roma. i. c

Gene. i. c
Gene. ii. a Gene. iii. a Thon. viii. d

Ecl. xvii. a

Deut. xxi. a.
Sapi. v. a Hebr. xi. f.

Je. xxi. d.
Mal. i. a.
Mar. vii. c

The booke of wysdome.

For the vnperfect braunches shall be broken, their fruit shall be vnprofitable and some to eate, yea mere for nothing.

And why? all the chyldren þat are borne of þe wicked, must beare recorde of þe wickednes agaynst their fathers and mothers, when they be asked. But though þe ryghteous be ouertaken with death, yet shall be in rest.

Age is an honorable thyng, neuertheless it standerth not only in the length of tyme, ne in the multitude of yeres: but a mans wysdome is the grape herre, and an vndefiled lyfe is the old age. He pleased God, & was beloued of hym: so that wher as he lyued amonge synners, he translated hym. Yea sodenly was he taken away, to the entent that wickednes shoulde not alter his vnderstandyng, & that hypocryse shoulde not beguyle his soule. For þe crafty bewitchyng of lyf, make good thynges darcke: the vniuersalnes also and wickednes of voluptuous desyre, turne asyde the vnderstandyng of the symple. Though he was soone dead, yet fulfilled he muche tyme. For his soule pleased God, therefore hastened he to take hym awaye from amonges the wicked. This the people se & vnderstand it not: they laye not vp suche thynges in their hertes, how þe louinge fauoure & mercy of God is vpon his saintes and that he hath respecte vnto his chosen.

Thus the ryghteous that is deade, condemneth the vngedly whiche are lyvynge: and the youth that is soone brought to an end, the longe lyfe of the vnderstandyng. For they se the end of the wyse, but they vnderstand not what God hath deuised for hym, and wherefore the Lorde hath taken hym awaye. And why? they se hym and despyse hym, therefore shall God also laugh them to scorn: So that they them selues shall dye hereafter (but without honoure) yea in shame amonge the deade for evermore. For without any voyce, shall he burst those that be puffed vp, and remove them from the foundations, so that they shall be layed waste vnto the byest. They shall mourne, and their memory shall perishe. So they beinge afraied shall remember their synnes, and their owne wickednes shall bewaie them.

The .v. Chapter.

The constancess of the ryghteous before their persecuters. The hope of the vnfaithful is vndurable and vayne. The blessednesse and fortunatenesse of the sayntes and godly.

When shall the ryghteous stand in great stedfastnes, agaynst suche as haue delt extremely wyth the and taken away their labours.

When they se it, they shall be vexed wyth horrible feare, and shall wonder at the hastynesse of the sodayn helth: growynge for very distresse of mynde, and shall saye within the selues, hauryng inwarde sorow, and mournyng for very anguysh of mind:

These are they, whome we sometyme

The .v. Chapter.

had in derision, and iested vpon: We soles thought they: lyfe verye madnesse, & they ende to be wythout honoure. But lo howe they are counted amonge the chyldren of God, & their portion is amonge the saintes. Therefore haue we erred from the way of truth, the lychte of ryghteousnesse hath not shyned vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstandyng rose not vpon vs. We haue wearyed our selues in the waye of wickednesse and destruction. Tedious wayes haue we gone: but the waye of the Lorde we haue not known.

What good hath our pryde done vnto vs? What profite hath the pompe of ryches brought vs? All these thynges are passed awaye lyke a shadowe, and as a messenger runnyng before: as a shyp that passeth ouer the waues of waier, whiche when it is gone by, the trace therof can not be found, neither þe path of it in the floudes. Or as a bird that flieth thorow þe aire, and no man can se any token where she is flownen, but onely heareth the noyse of her wynges, bearinge the lychte wynde, passinge the ayre thorow the vehemence of her flight, and flyeth on shakynge her wynges, where as afterwarde no token of her waye can be founde. Or lyke as when an arrowe is shot at a mark, it pargeth the ayre, whiche immediatly cometh toge- ther agayne, so that a man can not knowe wher it went thorow: Euen so, we in lyke maner as soone as we were borne, beganne immediatly to drawe to our ende, & haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.

Such wordes shall they that haue synned speake in the hel: for the hope of the vngodly is lyke a dry thyngell floure (or dust) that is blowen awaye wyth the wynde: lyke as thin scd that is scattered abrode with the storme, lyke as the smoke whiche is dispersed here and ther wyth the wind, and as the remembrance of a stranger that tarperth for a day, & then departeth. But the righteous shall liue for evermore: their reward also is with the lord: and their remembrance in the highest. Therefore shall they receiue a glorious kyngedome and a beautiful crowne of the Lordes hande: for wyth his ryghte hand shall he couer the, & wyth his owne arme shall he defend them. His gelysh also shall take hardnesse, and shall arme the creature to be auenged of the enemyes. He shall put on ryghteousnesse for a brest plate, and take sure iudgement in stede of an helmet. The inuincible shield of equite shall he take, his cruel wrath shall be sharpe for a speare, and the hole compass of the world shall fight wyth hym agaynst the vnwyse.

Then shall the shonder boltes goo oute of the lychtynynges, and come oute of the rainbowe of the cloudes to the place appointed, oute of the hard stony indignacion there shall fall thycke bayles, and the water

Age.

Job. vii. d

Psalm. li.

15

Par. xxi. c
Sapi. ii. b
Pro. xxx. b.

Job. vii. a Psalm. li. b
Pro. x. d.
and. xl. a
Jacob. i. d.

Psalm. xxi. c
Sapi. ii. c
Psalm. xxi. b

Eph. vi. b.

Mat. xix. c

Sapi. iii. a.

16

water of the sea shall be wroth agaynst them, and the floudes shall renne together together. Yea a myghty wynde shall stand up agaynst them, & a storme shall scatter them abroad. Thus the vntygheous dealing of them shall byrge all the lande to a wyldernesse, and wyckednesse shall ouerthrowe the dwellinges of the myghtye.

The. vi. Chapter.

The callinge of kynges, Princes, & Judges whiche are also exhorted to searce wysedome

Wysedome is better then strength, and a man of vnderstandyng is more worthe then one that is stronge. Heare therefore (O ye kynges) and vnderstand. Olerne ye that be iudges of the endes of the earth. Byue eare ye that rule the multitudes, and desyre in muche people. For the power is giuen you of the Lord, and the strength from the hyst: whiche shall try poure workes, and searce oute poure pmagnacions.

Howe that ye beyng officers of his kyngdome, haue not executed true iudgement, haue not kepte the law of ryghteousnesse, nor walked after his wyll: Worpyly and that right soone shall he appere vnto you: for an harde iudgemente shall they haue þe heare rule. Mercye is graunted vnto the synple, but they þe in auctorite shalbe sore punished. * For God whych is Lord ouer all, shal except no mans person, neyther shall he stand in awe of anye mans greatnesse: for he hath made the small and greate, and careth for all alyke. But the myghtye shall haue the soier punishment.

Vnto you therefore (O ye kynges) do I speake, that we may learne wysedome and not go amys: for they that kepe ryghteousnesse, shal be ryghteously iudged: and they that are leatued in ryghteous thynge, shal fynd to make answer. Wherefore set your lust vpon my wordes, and loue them, so shall ye come by noactour. Wysedome is a noblethynge, and neuer faderth awaye: yea she is caselysene of them that loue her, and found of such as seke her.

She preuenteth them that desyre her, that she may first shew her selfe vnto the. Whoso awaketh vnto her by tymes, shall haue no great trauayle, for he shall fynde her syttinge redye at his doores. To thynke vpon her, is perfect vnderstandyng, and whoso watcheth for her, shall be safe, and that soone. For she goeth aboute sekynge such as are mete for her, & beweth her selfe chearefully vnto them in their goynge, and meteth them with all diligence.

For the vnfayned desyre of reformation is her begynnynge: to care for nourtoure is loue, and loue is the keepynge of her lawes. Now the keepynge of lawes is perfection and an vncorrupt lyfe: and an vncorrupt lyfe maketh a man samplier wyth God.

And so the desyre of wysedome leaddeth to the kyngdome euerlastyng.

If poure desyre be then in royall seates and scepters (O ye kynges of the people) set your lust vpon wysedome that ye may raygne for euermore. O loue the lyght of wysdom al ye that be rulers of the people. As for wysdome what she is, and howe she came vp, I wyll tell you, and wyl not hyde the misteries of God fro you: but wil seke her oute from the begynnynge of the natyvyte, and byrge the knoweledge of her into lyght, and wyl not kepe backe the truth: Neether wyl I haue to do with cōsumyng elluy, for such a mā shal not be partaker of wysdome. But the multitude of the wyse, is the welfare of the world, & a wyse kynge is the vpholdynge of the people. Receyue nourtoure then thorow my wordes, and it shall do you good.

The. vii. Chapter.

Wisdom ought to be preferred before al thynges.

My selfe also am a mortall mā lyke as all other, and am come of the earthye generacyon of hym that was fyrste made, and in my mothers wombe was I fashioned to be fleshe: In the tyme of ten monethes, was I brought together in bloude, thorow the seide of man, and the commodious appetyte of flepe. When I was borne, I receyued lyke ayre as other men, & fel vpon the earth (whiche is my nature) cryng & wepyng at the fyrst, as al other do: I was wrapped in swadling clothes and brought vp with greate cares. Forther is no kyng that had any other begynnynge of byrthe. All men then haue one entraunce vnto lyfe and one goynge out in lyke maner.

Wherefore I desyre, and vnderstandyng was giuen me: I called, and the spyrte of wysdome came into me. I set more by her then by kyngdomes and royall seates, and counted ryches nothyng in comparyson of her. As for precious stoue I compared it not vnto her: for all gold is graue vnto her, and syluer shalbe counted but clay before her syght. I loued her aboue welfare and beauty, and purposed to take her for my light, for her shyne cannot be quered. All good thynge came to me wyth her, and innumerable ryches thorow her handes. I was glad in them all, for this wysdome wente before me, and I knewe not that she is the mother of all good thynge. Now as I my selfe learned vnfaynedly, so do I make other men partakers of her, and hyde her ryches from no man: for she is an inftynte treasure vnto men, whiche who so vse, become partakers of the loue and frendshyppe of God, and are accepted vnto hym for the gyftes of wysedome.

God hath graunted me to talke wysely, and conueniently to handle the thynge that he hath graciously leuere me. For it is he that leadech vnto wysdome, and reacheth to vse wysdome a ryght. In his hande are we and oure wordes, yea, all oure wysdome, and vnderstandyng

A. A. iii. and Wysedome. Eccle. i. d. Pro. i. d. Eccl. i. d. Rom. xiii. a Eccle. x. e. Deute. x. d. i. Pa. xvi. c. Jo. xxi. b. Eccl. xxi. b. Roma. ii. b. Ephe. v. d. Coloss. v. d. Acte. x. c.

ii. Re. xiii. c. iii. Re. xiii. a Job. x. a

Job. f. c. Eccl. vi. d.

Job. xvi. b

iii. Re. xiii. a. Math. vi. d.

Rom. xiii. b

Rum. xvi. b

The boke of wysdome.

and knowledge of all our workes: For he hath gyven me the true science of these thynges, so that I know how the world was made, and the powers of the elemētes, the beginninge, endyng and myddest of the tymes: howe the tymes alter, how one goeth after an other, and howe they are fulfilled: the course of the yere, the ordinaunces of the stars, the natures and kyndnesse of beastes, & furtiounes of beastes, the power of the wynds, by the ymaginations of men, the diuersities of yonge plantes, the vertues of rootes, and all such thynges as are secrete and not looked for, haue I learned. For the workemaster of all thynges hath chaunged me wysdome.

In her is the spirit of vnderstandyng, which is holy, manyfolde, one onely, subtil, curteous, discrete, quicke, vndefiled, plaine swete, louyng the thyng that is good, sharpe, which forbiddeth not to doo well, gentle, kynde, stedfast, sure, free: haupng al vertues, circumspecte in al thynges, reuerēcing al spirites of vnderstandyng, beynge cleane & sharpe. For wysdome is nimble then al nimble thynges, she goeth thorow and attayneth to all thynges, because of her cleannes. For she is the breath of the power of God, & a pure cleane expresseyng of the cleannes of almighty God. Therefore can no defyled thyng come vnto her: for she is the brightnesse of the euerlasting light, the vndefyled myrrour of the maiesty of God, and the ymage of his goodnesse.

And for so much as she is one, she mayed all thynges: and beynge stedfast her selfe she remueth al, and among the people chueieth she her selfe into the holpe soules. She maketh Gods frendes and prophetes, for God loueth no man, but hym in whome wysdome dwelleth. For she is more beautifull then the Sunne, and giveth more lyght then the sterres, and the daye is not to be compared vnto her: for vpon the daye commeth nyght: But wickednesse cannot ouercome wysdome, and folysnesse may not be with her.

The viii. Chapter.

The effectes of wysdome.

Wysdome teacheth from one end to an other myghtily, & louyngly doth she order all thynges. I haue loued her, and laboured for her euen fro my yowthe vnto this day: I dyd my diligence to marry my selfe wyth her, suche loue had I vnto her beauty. Whoso hath the companye of God, commendeth her nobilitie, yea the Lorde of al thynges hym selfe, loueth her. For she is the scholemasteresse of the nurture of God, and the choser out of hys workes. If man would desyre riches in this lyfe: what is ryther then wysdome, that worketh all thynges? Thou wilt saye: vnderstandyng worketh. What is it amonge all thynges, that worketh more then wysdome? If a man loue vertue and ryghteousnesse, let hym labour for wysdome, for she hath greate vertues. And why? she teacheth sobrienesse and prudence, ryghteousnesse and strenght, whiche are suche thynges as men canne haue no thyng more profitabill in their lyfe.

The viii. Chapter.

If a man desyre much knowledge, he can tell the thynges that are past, and discern the thynges for to come: he knoweth the subtilties of wordes, and can expound darcke sentences. She can tell of tokens and wonderous thynges, or euer they come to passe, and the endes of all tymes and ages. So I purposed after this maner: I will take her vnto my company, and commen louyngly with her: no doubt, she shall giue me good counsell, and speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and greefe. For her sake shall I be well and honestly taken, among the commes & lordes of the counsell. Though I be yonge, yet shall I haue sharpe vnderstandyng, so that I shall be meruelous in the syght of greate men, and the faces of princes shall wonder at me. When I holde my tounge, they shall bide my leasure: when I speake they shall loke vpon me: & yf I talke much they shall lay their handes vnder their mouth.

Moreover by the meanes of her, I shall obtayne immortality, & leaue behynde me an euerlastyng memoriall, among the that come after me. I shall set people in order, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me. Horrible tyrantes shalbe astrayed, when they do but heare of me: among the multitude I shall be counted good, and mightie in battayle. When I come home, I shall fynde reste with her: for her companye hath no ditternesse, and her feloweshyppe hath no rebousnesse, but myrrour and love.

Nowe when I considered these thynges by my selfe, and pondred them in my heart, how that to be ioined vnto wysdome is immortality, and greate pleasure to haue her frendshipp: how that in the workes of her handes are innumerable riches: how that, whoso kepeth companye wyth her shall be wyse: and that he whiche talketh with her, shal come to honour: I went about sekynge, to get her vnto me. For I was a chyld of a rypp wytt, and had a good vnderstandyng.

But when I grewe to more vnderstandyng I came to a vndefyled bodye. Nevertheless when I perceiued that I could not kepe my selfe chaste except God gaue it me (and that was a poynt of wysdome also to know whose gyft it was) I stepte vnto the Lord, and besought him, and with my hole heart I sayed after this maner.

The ix. Chapter.

A prayer of Salomon to obtayne wysdome. God of my fathers, and Lord of mercyes (thou that haste made all thynges wyth thy word, and ordeyned man thorow the wysdome, that he shoulde haue domination ouer the creature whiche thou haste made 15

Job. xxi. c.

16

Jacob. i. b. Chastitie.

1st. Re. iii. d. Gene. i. c.

Heb. i. a

17 18 19 20 21
22
23 24
25
26
27
28
29 30 31 32
33 34 35
36 37
38
39 40
41 42
43 44
45
46 47 48
49
50
51
52
53
54
55
56 57
58 59 60
61
62
63
64
65
66
67
68
69
70
71
72
73
74
75 76
77
78
79 80
81
82 83
84
85
86 87
88 89
90
91 92
93
94
95
96
97
98
99
100

made: that he should order the worlde accordyng to equitie and ryghtousnes, and execute iudgement wth a true heart) giue me wysdome, whiche is cuer aboute thy seat: and put me not oute from amonges thy chyldren: for I thy seruant and sonne of thy handmayden am a feble personne, of a short tyme, and to pouge to the vnder standyng of iudgemente and thy lawes. And though a man be neuer so perfecte amonge the chyldren of men, yet if thy wysdome be not wth hym, he shal be nothing regarded. But thou haste chosen me to be a kynge vnto thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters.

Thou hast commaunded me to buyde a temple vpon thy holy mount, and an alter in thy city wherin thou dwellest, a lyknes of thy holpe tabernacle whiche thou hast prepared from the begynnyng, and thy wysdome wth the, whiche knoweth thy workes: whiche also was wth the when thou madest the worlde, and knewe what was acceptable in thy syght, and tyght in thy commaundementes. O send her out of thy holy heauens, and from the trone of thy maiestye, that she maye be wth me, and laboure wth me: for I maye knowe, what is acceptable in thy syght. For she knoweth & vnderstandeth al thynges: and she shall leade me soberlye in my workes, & preserve me in her power. So shall my workes be acceptable, & she shall I gouern thy people rightously, & be wth thy to syt in my fathers seate. For what man is he, that may knowe the counsaile of God? Or who can thynke what the wil of God is? For the thoughtes of mortall men are mysurable, and oure forecastes are but vncertaine. And why? a mortall and corruptible bodye, is heauy vnto the soule: and the earthly mansion kepeth doune the vnderstandyng that miseth vpon many thynges. Wery hardlye can we discerne the thynges that are vpon earth, & great laboure haue we, or we can fynd the thynges whiche are before our eyes: Who wil the seke out the ground of the thynges that are done in heauens? Oh Lorde, who can haue knowledge of thy vnderstandyng & meanyng, excepte thou gyue wysdome, and sende thy holpe ghost from aboue, that the wayes of them whiche are vpon earth, may be reformed: that me may lerne the thynges that are pleasant vnto the, and be preserved thowowe wysdome.

The .x. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the ryghtous cometh thowowe wysdome.

Wysdome preserved the fyrst man whome God made a father of the worlde, when he was created alone, broughte hym oute of hys offence, toke him out of the mould of the earth, and gaue hym power to rule all thynges. When the vnrightheous wente awaye in hys wrath from this wysdome, the byrtherhead perished thowowe the wrath of mutther. Agayne, when the water destroyed the hole worlde, wysdome preserved the ryghtous thowowe a poore tree, wherof she was gouerner her selfe. Moreouer when wyckednesse had gotten the upper hand, so that the nacions were puffed up wth pride, she knew the rightous, preserved hym faultlesse vnto God, and layed vpon sure mercy for hys chyldren. She preserved the ryghtous, when he fled from the vngodlye that perished, what tyme as the fyre fell downe vpon the vaine cytyes: Like as yet this day the vnfuitfull, wast, and smokynge land gyuech testimonye of their wyckednesse: yea the vntype and vntimely frutes that growe vpon the trees.

And for a token of a remembraunce of the vnsayfull soule, ther standeth a pylle of salt. For all suche as regarded not wysdome gat not onelye this hurte, & they knewe not the thynges whiche wer good, but also lefte behynde theym vnto men, a memorial of theyr folyshenesse: so that in the thynges wherein they sinned, they coulde not be hrd. But as for such as take hede vnto wysdome, she shal deliuer theim from sorowe.

When the ryghtous fled because of hys brothers wrath, wysdome led hym the right way, she wed hym the kyngdome of God, gaue hym knowledge of holy thynges, made hym ryche in hys laboures, and brought to passe the thynges that he went about. In the dysceitfulnes of such as defrauded hym, she stode by hym and made hym ryche. She saued hym from the enemyes, and defended hym fro the dysceiters. She made hym strong in battail, & gaue hym the victory, that he myght know, howe that wysdome is stronger then all thynges. When the ryghtous was solde, she forsoke hym not, but deliuered hym from synners. She wth downe wth hym into the dongeon, and sayled hym not in the bandes: tyll she had broughte hym the scepter of the realme, and power agaynst those that oppressed hym. And those that had accused hym, she declared them to be lyars, and broughte hym to perpetuall worthyp.

She deliuered the ryghtous people and faultlesse, from the nacion that oppressed them. She entred into the soule of the seruant of God, and stode by hym in wordes and tokes agaynst the horrible king. She gaue the ryghtous the rewarde of their laboures, and led them forth a meteyous way: on the day tyme she was a shadowe vnto them, and a lyghtre of stars in the nyght season. She brought them thowow the redde sea and caried them thowow the great water. She drowned their enemyes in the sea, and broughte them oute of the depe. So the ryghtous toke the spoyle of the vngodlye, and praysed thy holy name, O Lorde, and magnified thy

Alf. lxx. victorious

Gene. vi. vii. v. lxx.

Gene. xi. v.

Gene. xxi. v.

Gene. xxi. v.

ge. xxxviii. v.

ge. xxxviii. v. Actes. vii. v.

Gene. xxi. v.

Exo. i. b. v. lxx. v. and lxx. v.

psal. lxxviii. v.

Exo. xxi. v.

Exo. i. b. v. psal. vii. v.

Math. ii. v.

psal. cxv. b.

i. para. xxi. ii. para. i. a.

Exo. xxi. d. Actes. vii. f. heb. viii. b.

psal. viii. c. Thon. i. a.

Eccl. xi. b. Rom. xi. d. i. Cor. ii. d.

i. Cor. v. a.

Gene. i. d. and. ii. b.

Gene. iii. b.

The booke of wisdom.

victorious hand with one accorde. For wisdom openeth the mouth of the dōme, & maketh the tongues of babes to speake.

The.xi.Chapter.

The miracles done for Israel. The vengeance of synners. The great power and mercy of God.

He ordred theyr workes in the handes of the holy prophete: so that they went throught the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched their tentes in the wast desert. They stode agaynst theyr enemyes, & were auenged of their aduersaries. When they were thyrste, they called vpon the, & water was gūe them oute of the rocke, and theyr thyrste slakned out of the hard stone. For by the thyngs wher thowme theyr enemyes were punished, were they helped in theyr nede. For vnto the enemyes thou gauest mans bloude in stede of dryng water. And wheras they had scarcenes in the rebuke when the chyldren wet slayne, thou gauest vnto thyne owne, a plenteous water vnto theyr thyrste: declaring by the thyrst that was at that tyme, howe thou woldest byngne thyne owne vnto honoure, and slay theyr aduersaries.

For when they wet tryed out & nourtured with fatherly mercy, they knowledged howe the vngodlye were iudged, and punished thowme the wrath of God. These hast thou exhorted as a father, and proued the: but vnto other thou haste bene a boyserous kynge, layed harde to their charge, and condemned them. Whether they were absente or presente, theyr punishment was alike. For theyr griefe was double: namely, mournyng, and the remembraunce of thynges past. But whē they perceyued that theyr punishmentes dyd them good, they thoughte vpon the Lorde, and wondered at the ende. For at the last they helde much of hym, of whom in the oute castyng they thoughte scorne, as of an abiection.

Neuertheles the ryghteous dyd not so when they were thyrst: but euen lyke as the thoughtes of the folysh were, so was also their wyckednes. Wher as certayne men nowe (thowme erreoute) dyd worship dome serpentes and vayne beastes, thou seddest a myltitude of domme beastes vpon them for a vengeance, that they myght know that wherewith a man synneth, by that same also shall he be punished. For vnto the almyghty hande that made the worlde of nought, it was not vnpowrful to send amonge them an heape of beastes, or wood lions, or cruel beastes of a strange kynde, suche as are vnkowne, or spoute fyre, or cast out a smokyng breath, or shoure horrible sparkes out of their eyes, whych myght not only destroye them with burnyng, but also kille the with their horrible sighte. Yea withoute these beastes myght they haue bene slayne w one wynd, being persecuted of theyr owne workes, & scatered thowme the breath of thy power.

The.xi.Chapter.

Neuertheles thou hast ordred all thynges in measure, number, & weight, for thou hast euer had grete strenght and myght, and who maye withstand the power of thyne arme? And why? like as the small thyng that the balaunce weyeth, so is the worlde before the: yea as a drop of the morning dewe, that falleth downe vpon the earth. Thou hast mercy vpon all, for thou haste power of all thynges, and makest the, as though thou sawest not the synnes of me, bycause they shulde amende. For thou lovest all the thynges that are, and hateste none of them whome thou haste made: neither dydest thou ordeyne or make any thyng of euill will.

Howe myght any thynges endure, yf it were not thy will? Or howe coulde any thyng be preserued, except it were called of the? But thou sparest al, for al are thine, O Lorde, thou louest of soules.

The.xii.Chapter.

The mercy of God toward synners, the workes of God are vntreprouable. God giueth lesure to repent vs.

Lorde, howe gracious and swete is thy spirit in al thynges: wherfore chastenest thou them measurably that go wronge, & warnest them concerninge the thynges wher in they offende: thou speakest vnto them, O Lorde, and exhorteest them to leaue their wyckednes, and put their trust in the. As for those old inhabytors of thy holy land, thou myghtest not atway with them, for they commytted abhominable workes against the: as witchcraft, sorcery, & ydolatre: they slew theyr own chyldren without mercy, they aete vpon mens bowels, and deuoured the bloud: yea bycause of such abhominacions, mysbylencues and offerynges, thou stremest the fathers of the desolate soules, by the handes of oute forefathers, that the lande whiche thou louest aboue al other, might be a dwellinge for the chyldren of God.

Neuerthelesse thou sparedst them also as men, and sendedst the foreynners of thyne host. euen hornettes to destroye them out by lytle and lytle. Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodlye vnto the ryghteous in battell, or with cruell beastes, or with one rough word to destroye them togyther: But thy mynde was to dryue them out by lytle and lytle, grynng them time and place to amende, knowinge wel that it was an vnyghteous nation, and wickeds of nature, and that theyr thoughte myght neuer be altered: for it was a cursed seede from the begynnyng, and feared no man: yet haste thou pardoned their synnes. For who wyl saye vnto the: why hast thou done that? Or who wyl stand agaynst thy iudgement? Or who wyl come before thy face, an auenger of vnyghteous men?

At thou, O our God art smote long suffering and true, and in mercy ordrest thou all thynges. Though we fynde, yet are we thynne; for we knowe thy strengthe. If we fynde not, then are we sure that thou regardest vs. For to knowe the, is perfecte ryghteousnesse: Yea to knowe thy ryghteousnes and power, is the roote of immortalitye. As for the thynges that men haue founde out thow we they: euyl science, it hath not dysceyued us: as the payntinge of the picture (an unprospitable labour) and carued ymage wyth dyuers colours, whose syght entyseth the ignorance: so that he honoureth and loueth the picture of a dead ymage that hath no soule.

Beneuer theleste they that loue suche euyl thynges are worthy of death: they that trust in them, they that make them, they that loue the, and they that honoure the. * The potter also taketh and tempereth soft earth, labourerth it, and gyueth it the facion of a vessel, whatsoeuer serueth for our vse: and so of one piece of claye he maketh some clene vessel for seruyce, & some contrarie. But whereto euery vessel serueth, that knoweth the potter hym selfe. So wyth hys vayne labour he maketh a God of the same claye: Thys doeth euen he whiche a lytle afore was made of earth hym selfe, and wythin a lytle whyle after (when he dieth) turneth to the earth again.

Euyl standinge he careth not the more because he shall labour, ne because hys lyfe is short, but strueth to excel goldsmithes, the syluer smithes and coppersmithes, & taketh it for an honor to make vayne thynges. For hys herte is ashes, hys hope is but vayne earth, and hys lyfe is more vyle then claye: for so muche as he knoweth not hys owne maker, that gaue hym hys soule to worke, and brethed in hym the breath of lyfe. They count our life but a pastyme, and oure conuersation to be but a market, and that men shuld euer be gettyng, and that by euyl meanes.

Nowe be that of earth maketh fragile vessels and ymages, knoweth hym selfe to offe and aboute all other.

All the enemyes of thy people and the holde them in subjection, are vnto yse, vnto happye, and excedyng proude vnto theiwe soules: for they iudge all the ydolles of the heathen to be gods, whiche neither haue sight to se, nor noses to smel, ne eares to heare, nor syngeters of handes for to grepe: and as for theyr feete, they are to stowe to goo: for man made them, and he that hath but a borrowed spryte facioned them. But no man can make a God like vnto hym: for seing he is but mortall hym selfe, it is but mortall that he maketh with vntygthous handes. He hym selfe is better then they whom he worshypeth, for he lyued though he was mortall, but so dyd neuer they. Yea, they worshyp beastes also, whych are moost miserable: for to pare thynges that can not fele, vnto them, and they are worse then those. Yet is ther not one of these beastes that with hys sight can behold any good thyng, neither haue they gyuen prayse ne thanks vnto God.

The. xvi. Chapter.

The punishment of Idolaters, and the benedictes done vnto the saythfull.

Di these and suche other thynges haue they suffered worthy punishment, and thow we the multitude of beastes are they to be cut out. In stede of the whiche punishments, thou hast graciously ordred thynne owne people, and gyuen them their desire that they louted for: a newe and a strange east, preparyng them quailles to be theyr meate: to the intent that by the thynges whiche were shewed and sent vnto them, they that were so greedy, myght be wythdrawen euen from the desire that was necessarye. But these wythin shorte tyme were broughte vnto pouertye, and tasted a new meate. For it was requysite that (wythout any excuse) destruction shoulde come vpon those whiche vsed tyrannye, and to shewe ouerly vnto the other howe theyr enemyes were destroyed. * For to be the euyl woodnes of the beastes came vpon them, they perished thow we the synners of cruell serpentes.

Not wythstandinge thy wrath endured not perpetuallye, but they were put in feare for a lytle season, that they myghte be reformed, hauing a token of saluation, to remember the comaundemente of thy lawe. For he that conuerted, was not healed by the thyng that he sawe, but by the, O sauoure of all. So in thys thou shewedst thynne enemyes, that it is thou which delyuerest from all euyl. As for them whiche they were bytten wyth grethoppers and flies, they dyed, for they were worthy to perishe by suche: But neyther the teeth of dragons, ne of venymous wormes ouercamethy chyl dren, for thy mercy was euer by them & helped the. Therefore were they punished, to remembre thy wordes, but hastily were they healed agayne: lest they shoulde falle into so depe forgetfulness, that they myghte not vse thy helpe.

It was neyther herbe ne playster that restored them to helth, but thy worde, O Lorde, whych healeth all thynges. It is thou, O Lorde, that haste the power of lyfe and death: thou leddest vnto dethe & doze and byngest by agayne. But man thow we wyckednesse sleeth hys owne soule, & whiche hys spryte goeth forth, it turneth not agayne: neyther maye he call agayne the soule that is taken awaye. It is not possible to escape thy hande. For the vngedyl: that wold not knowe the, were punished by the strength of thynne arme: & strange waters, hayles and rayne were they persecuted,

Num. xi. 8

That is to say of frogges.

Num. xxi. 8

Num. xxi. 8

Exod. ix. 3 and. viii. 17 Apoca. ix.

Deut. xx. 1. Reg. i. 1. Tob. xiii. 8

Exod. ix. 3

Roma. ix. d. 2 claye.

Images.

psal. cxiii. d

The boke of wysedome.

secuted, and thowwe fyre were they consumed. For it was a wonderous thyng þat fyre myghre do more then water, whyche quencherh all thynges: but the worlde is the auenger of þat rightrous. Sometime was the fyre so tame that the beastes whyche were sent to punyssh the vngodly, dyer not: and that bycause they should se and know that they were persecuted wyth the punysshment of God. And sometyne brent the fyre in the water on euerye side, that it myght destroye the vnyghtous nation of the earth. Again thou hast sed thyne owne people wyth aungels fode, and sent them bread cedy from heauen, withoute theyr labour, beinge very pleasant and wel gusted. And to shew thy ryches and swetnesse vnto thy chyldren, thou gauest euery one hys desyre, so that euery man myghte take what lyked hym best. But the snowe and yse abode the violence of the fyre, and melted not: that they myght knowe that the fyre burnyng in the hayle and rayne, destroyed the feynte of the enemyes, þat fyre also forgat hys strength agayne, that the rychtrous myght be noyshed. For the creature that serueth the (whyche art the maker) is ferce in punysshing the vnyghtous, but is easye and gentle to do good vnto suche as put their trust in the. Therefore dyd all thynges aulter at the same tyme, and wer al obedient vnto thy grace, whyche is þat nyste of all thynges, accordyng to the desyre of them that had nedde thereof, that thy chyldren, O Lord, whom thou louest, myghre knowe that it is not nature and the growynge of feynte that sedeth men, but that it is thy word whyche preserueth them that put theyr trust in the: for loke what myghte not be destroyed wth the fyre, as sone as it was warmed wyth a lyttle sunne beame, it melted: that all myght knowe that thankes oughte to be gyuen vnto the before the sunne ryste, and that thou ougdest to be worshypped before the day spring: for the hope of the vnythackfull shall melt away as the wynter yse, & peryshe as water þat is not necessary.

The. xviij. Chapter.

The iudgementes of God vpon the Egyptians.

Greate are thy iudgementes, O Lord, and thy counsels can not be expessed, therfore me do erre, that wyl not be reformed wyth thy wysedome. For when the vnyghtous thoughte to haue thy holy people in subsecction, they were bounde wyth the bandes of darcknesse and long nyght, that vnder the rofe, thinkinge to escape the euerlastyng wyldom. And whyle they thought to be hid in þat darcknesse of theyr syns, they were scattered abroad in the very myddest of the darcke couerpyng of forgetfulnes, put to horrible feare, & wonderous vexed. For þat corner wherein they wer myght not kepe the from fear: because the sound

The. xviij. Chapter.

came downe and vexed them: yea many terribile and straunge visions made them asfayde.

No power of the fyre myght gyue them lyght, neyther myghte the clere flambes of the sters lyghten that horrible nyght: for there appered vnto the a sodayne fyre very dreadfull. At the whyche (when they sawe nothyng) they were so asfayed, that they thought the thyng whych they saw to be the more fearefull. As for the sorcery and enchauntment that they vled, it came to derision, and the proud wysdome was brought to shame: for they that promised to dryue away the fearefulnes and drede from þat weake soules, were lyke for feare the selues, and that wth scoone. And though none of the wonders feared the, yet were they asfayed at the beastes whyche came vpon them, and at the byssynge of the serpentes. In so muche that with trembling they swowned, and sayed they sawe not the aye, whyche no man yet maye escape.

For it is an heuy thyng, when a mans owne conscience beareth recorde of hys wickednesse & condēneth hym. And why? a vexed & wounded conscience, taketh euer cruel thyngs in hād. Ferfulnes is nothing els, but a declarpyng þat a man seketh helpe and defence, to answere for hym selfe. And loke how muche lesse the hope is wythin, the more is the vncerrentie of the matter for the whyche he is punyshed. But they that came in the myghty nyght slepte the slepe that fell vpon them from vnder and from aboue: sometyne were they asfayed thowwe the feare of the wonders, & sometyne they were so weake þat they sowned wythal: for an hasty and sodayn fearefulness came vpon them. Afterwarde, if anye of them had fallen, he was kepte and shut in pryson, but without cheynes. But if anye dwelte in a byllage, if it had bene an heard or husbawndmā, he suffered intolerable necessity: for they were all bound with one cheyne of darcknesse.

Whether it were a blastpyng wynde, or a swere songe of the byrdes amonge the thycke braunches of the trees, or the vehemence of hasty runnyng water, or great noyse of the fallpyng doune of stones, or the playnge and runnyng of beastes wth they sawe not, or the myghty noyse of rotyng beastes, or the sound that answereth agayne in the hye mountaynes, it made the soune for very feare. For al erth shined wyth clere lyght, and no man was hyndered in hys labour. Onely vpon them ther fell an heuye nyght, and ymage of darcknesse that was to come vpon them. Yea they were vnto them selues the most heuy and horrible darcknesse.

The. xviij. Chapter.

The fire lyghte that the Israelites had in Egypt. The persecucion of the faythful. The Lord smote all the fyrst borne of Egypt. The synne of the people in the wyldernes.

Ero. xvi. a.
Ihon. vi. d.
Rum. xi. b.
psal. lxxvii.

Deu. vii. d.
math. iiii. a

Rom. xi. d.

Erod. i. c.

Erod. vii. b

psal. xlv. a.

psal. lxxvii.

1. Pet. v. a.

Or who wyl blame the, if the people per-ceyve whom thou hast made? For ther is none other God but thou, that careste for all thynges: & thou mayest declare howe that thy iudgement is not vntyght: there dare nether kynge ne cypaunt in thy sight requyre accomptes of them whom thou hast destroyed.

Job. ix. a.

For so much then as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou ordrest all thynges ryght-ously, and punysshedst euen hym that hath not deserued to be punysshed, and takeste hym for a straunger and alpaunte in the land of thy power. For thy power is the begynnyng of ryghteousnesse: and because thou art Lorde of al thynges, therfore art thou gracious vnto all. Whē men thynke the not to be of a full strength, thou decla-rest thy power, and boldly delpuest thou them ouer that knowe the not. But thou Lorde of power, iudgeth quyetly, & ordrest vs wpth greate wysdome, for thou mayest do as thou wylte.

D

By such workes now hast thou taught thy people, that a man also should be iust and louyng, and hast made thy chyldren to be of a good hope: for euen whē thou iudgeth, thou gyuest counseil to amend from synes.
For in so much as thou hast punysshed, & wpth such diligence delpuest the enemies of thy seruantes whych were worthy to dye (wherthorowe thou gauest the tyme and place of amendement that they myghte turne from theyr wyckednesse) to home greate diligence the punysshest thou thyne owne chyldren, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworn and made couenantes of good promyses: So where as thou doest but chaste vs, thou punysshest oure enemies druers wayes, to the intente that whē we punysshed, we should remember thy goodnesse: and when we oure selues are puny-sshed, to put oure trust in thy mercye.

E

Wherfore whē as we haue liued ignorauntly and vntyghtously, thou hast puny-sshed them sore, euen thowowe the same thynges that they worshipped: for they went astray ver longe in the way of er-roure, and held the beastes (whych euen theyr enemies despised) for goddes, lyuyng as chyldren of no understandyng.
Wherfore hast thou sent a scornfull punishmente amonge them, as amonge the chyldren of ignorance. As for suche as wolde not be reformed by those scornes and rebukes, they felt the worthy punishment of God. For the thynges that they suffered, they bare them vnpaciently, beinge not content in them, but vntwyllyng.
And whē they perished by the same thynges & they toke for Gods, they knowledged the & ther was but one true god: whō afore they wolde not know, therfore came the ende of theyr damnacion vpon them.

The .xiii. Chapter.

All thynges be vayne except the knowledge of God. Idolaters and Idols are mocked.

Anye are all men, whych haue not the knowledge of God: as were they & out of the good thin-ges whych are sene, knewe not hym, that of hym selfe is euerylastyng. Nether toke they so much regard of the wor-kes that are made, as to knowe who was the crafterman of them: but some toke the fire, some the wynde or ayre, some & course of the sters, some & water, some toke sunne and moone, or the lygbres of beaue, which rule the earth, for goddes. But though they had suche pleasure in their beauty, & they thought theim to haue bene goddes, yet shoulde they haue knowen how much more fayrer he is that made them: for the maker of beauty hath ordeyned all these thynges. Or if they marueled at the power and workes of them, they shulde haue perceyued thereby that he whiche made these thynges is myghty per then they.

Roma. i. c.
Main philosophers.

For by the greatnes and beauty of the creature, the maker thereof may plainlie be known. Notwithstandyng they are the lesse to be blamed that soughte God, and would haue founde hym, and yet mysted: & why? for in as much as they wēt about in hys workes, and soughte after hym, it is a tokē that they regarded & veld much of hys workes that are sene: howe be it, they are not holy to be excused. For if they vnderstandyng and knowledge was so great, that they could dyscerne the world, and the creatures, why dyd they not rather fynd out the Lord thereof?

Roma. i. c.

But unhappy are they, and among the dead is their hope that call them goddes whych are but the workes of mens han-des: golde, syluer, and the thynges that is found out by cunnyng: the similitude of beastes, or any vayne stone that hath ben made by hand of old. Or as when a carpeter catterth downe a tre out of the wood, and pareth of the barke of it cunninglye, and so wyth the one parte maketh a vessel to be vsed, and dresseth meat wpth the residue. As for the other parte that is lefte whych is profitabill for nothyng (for it is a croked piece of wood and ful of knobbes) he carueth it diligently thowowe hys vanitie, and accordyng to the knowledge of hys cunnyng, he geueth it some proportion, facioneth it after the similitude of a man, or maketh it lyke some beaste, creketh it ouer wpth red, and painteth it, and loke what foule spotte is in it, he catterth some coloure vpon it.

Hemocheth
& idolaters

Images.

Then maketh he a convenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in the walle, and ma-keth it fast wpth yron: prouidyng so for it, lest it happen to fall, for it is wel know-en & it ca not helpe it selfe. And why? it is but an image, & muste of necessitie be helped. Then goth he & offereth of his goods vnto it, for his chyldren, & for hys wife, he seeketh helpe at it, he asketh counsell of it, he is not ashamed to speke vnto it that hath

Sapi. xi. c.
Rom. i. c.

The booke of wysedome.

hath no soule: for helth, he maketh hys petition vnto him that is lycke: for lyfe, he prayeth vnto hym that is dead: he calleth vpon hym for helpe, that is not hable to helpe hym selfe: and to sende hym a good turney, he prayeth hym that may not go. And in all the thynges that he taketh in hand (whether it be to obteyne any thing or to worke) he prayeth vnto him that can do no maner of good.

The. xliii. Chapter.

The detestation and abhominacion of ymagines. A curse of the and of hym that maketh the. The euyls that come of Idolatrye.

Agayne an other man purposing to sayle, and begynnyng to take hys iourneye thorowe the ragynge sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke that is farre weaker then the tree that beareth hym. For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath found it out, and the craftesman made it wyth hys cunnynge. But thy prouidence, O father, gouerneth all thynges from the begynnyng, for thou hast made a waye in the sea, and a sure pathe in the myddest of the waues: declarynge thereby, that thou hast power to helpe in all thynges, yea though a man wēt to the sea wythoute shyppe. Neuerthelesse that the workes of thy wysedome shoulde not be vayne, thou hast caused an arke to be made, and therfore do me commit theyr lyues to a small piece of wood, passynge ouer the sea in a shyppe, and are saued.

Pro. xlii. d

Gene. vi. c.

Gene. vii. b

psal. cxiii. b

1. cxxiii. c.

Baru. vi. d

psal. vii. a.

For in the old tyme also whē the proud gyauntes perished, he (in whom the hope was leste to encrease the worlde) wente into the shyppe wherhe was gouerned thorowe thy hand, and so left sede behynde hym vnto the world. For happy is the tre wherethorow ryghtousnes cometh: but cursed is the ymage of wood, that is made wyth hands, yea both it and he that made it. He bycause he made it: and it, bycause it was called God, where as it is but a fragile thyng. For the vngodly and hys vngodlynesse are both lyke abhominable vnto God. Euen so the worke and he that made it also shall be punished together. Therefore shall there a plage come vpon the ymages of the Heathen, for out of the creature of God they are become an abhominacion, a temptation vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the fete of the vnywyle. And why? the sekynge oute of ymagines is the begynnyng of heereidome, and the byngynge vp of theym is the destruction of lyfe. For they were not from the begynnyng, neyther shall they contynue for euer. The welthy pidenesse of men hath found them out vpon earth, therfore shall they come shortly to an ende.

When a father mourned for hys sonne that was taken away from hym, he made him an image (in al that he had) of his dead son, & so begā to worship him as a God, wherch was but a dead mā, and ordeyned hys seru-

The. xliii. Chapter.

uants to offer vnto hym. Thus by processe of tyme, and thorow longe custome, this erroure was kept as a lawe, and tyrannites compelled men by violence to honour ymages. As for those that were so farre of that me myght not worship them presently, theyr picture was broughte from farre (lyke the ymage of a kynge whome they woulde honour) to the intent that with great diligence they might worship hym, wherhe was farre of, as though he had bene presente. Agayne, the synfuler cunnynge of the craftesman gaue the ignorant also a great occasion to worship ymages. For the workeman wyllynge to do hym a pleasure that set hym a worke, laboured wyth all hys cunnynge to make the ymage of the best fashion. And so thorowe the beautye of the worke, the common people was disceyued, in so much that they toke hym nowe for a God, wherhe a lytle afore was but honoured as a man. And this was the erroure of mans lyfe, when men (eyther for to serue their owne affection, or to do some pleasure vnto kynsges) ascribed to stones & stockes the name of god, wherch ought to be geue to no mā.

Wherouer this was not prouoked for the, that they erred in the knowledge of God, but wher as they lyued in the great wars of ignorance, those many & great plages called they peace. For eyther they slew their owne chyldren, and offered them and did sacrifice in the night season, or els helde vntreasonable watches: so that they kepte neyther lyfene maryage cleue: but eyther one slew another to death maliciously, or els greued hys neyghbour wyth aduoutre. And thus were all thynges myxt together, bloud, manslaughter, thefe, dissimulation, corruption, vnfaithfulness, sedycion, perjurye, dysquetyng of good men, vnthankfulness, despyng of soules, chasynge of byrthe, vnstedfastnes of maryage, misorder of aduoutre & vncleanesse. And why? the honourynge of abhominable ymages is the cause, the begynnyng and ende of all euyl. For they that worship ydoles, eyther they are mad whē they are merce, or prophete lyes, or lye vngodly, or els lightly forswere them selues: for in so muche as they trust is in the ydoles, wherhe haue neyther soule ne vnderstandynge, though they were falselye, yet they thinke it shal not hurte theym.

Therefore cometh a great plage vpon them, and that worthely: for they haue an euill opinion of God, gruyng hede vnto ydoles, swerynge vniustly to disceiue, and despyng ryghtousnesse: for theyr swearing is no vertue, but a plage of the that synne, and goth euer wyth the offence of the vngodlye.

The. xlv. Chapter.

The voice of the faithful prayng the mercy of God, for whose graces sake they serue not ydoles.

Gen. xlviii. d Iere. vii. a.
and. xlv. a.

Image
worshipp pers.

berneffe. Aaron stode byt wyth the lyue and the deade, wyth hys censoure.

Exod.x.f.

A

Netherthelesse thy holpe had a very great lyght, and the enemies heard theyr voice, but they saw not the figure of them. And bycause they suffered not þe same thynges, they magnified the: & they þe were vered afore (bycause they were not hurt nowe) thāked the, & besoughte the, O God, that there myght be a dyfferēce. Therefore had they a burninge pyller of fyre to lede the in the unknownen way, and thou gauest the the sunne for a fee gyfte, wyth out anye hurte. Reason it was þe they should want lyght, & be put in the pylson of darkenēse, whych keppe thy chyldren in captiuitie, by whom the vncorrupt lighte of the lawe of the worlde was for to be gyuen.

Exo.xiii.a.
psal.lxxviii
and.cb.d.

B

Exod.i.c.
ii.b.

When they thoughte to slep the babes of the ryghteous (one beynge laped out, and preserved to be leader vnto þe other) thou broughtest out the hole multitude of the chyldren, and destroyedst these in the myghty water. Of that nyght were our fathers certified afore, that they knowynge vnto what othes they had gyuen credence, myght be of good chere. Thus thy people receyued the health of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed. For lyke as thou hast not hurt our enemies, so haste thou promoted vs whom thou calledst afore. For the ryghteous chyldren of the good men offered secretly, and ordred the lawe of ryghteousnes vnto vnrtye, that the iust shulde receiue good & euyl in lyke maner, singynge prayles vnto the father of all men. Agayn, ther was herd a discordynge voyce of the enemies, and a piteous cry for chyldren that were bewayled. The master and the seruant were punished in lyke maner. For they altogether, had innumerable that dyed one deathe.

Exod.xii.c.

C

Nether were the lypynge suffocent to buere the dead, for in the thyncklynge of an eye, the noblest nation of them was destroyed. As ofte as God helped them afore, yet wolde it not make them beleue, but in the destruction of the spiste borne, they knowledged that it was the people of God. For whyle all thynges were still and when the nyght was in the myddest of her course, thy almyghty word, o Lorde leste downe from heauen oute of thy roy all throne as a roughe manne of warre, in the myddeste of the land that was destroyed: and the sharpe swerde persournd thy strayne commaundemente, stangede and spyllynge all thynges wyth deathe: yea it stode vpon the earthe, and reached vnto the heauen. When the sight of the euyl dreames vered the sodenlye, & fearfulness came vpon them vnto wares.

Then laye ther one here, an other ther, halfe deade, halfe quicke, and shewed the cause of hys deathe. For the visions that vered the ym, shewed theym these thynges afore: so that they were not ignorant wherfore they perished.

The temptation of deathe touched the ryghteous also amonges the multitude, in the wyldernes there was insurreccyon, but thy wraathe endured not longe.

For the faultles man went in al the last, num.xvi.g. and toke the battayll vpon hym, brought forth the weapon of hys ministracion: euen prayer, and the censoures of reconcylynge: set hym selfe agaynst the wraathe, and so brought the mysery to an end: declarynge therby, that he was thy seruante. For he ouercame not the multitude wyth bodily power, ne wyth weapons of myghte: but wyth the word he subdued hym that vered hym, puttynge the in remembrance of the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers. For whē þe dead wer falle down by heapes one vpon another, he stode in the myddst, pacified the wraath, and parted the way vnto the lypynge. And whiche in hys long garment was al hys bewric, & in þe.iii. rowes of þe stons, was þe glory of þe fathers graue, & thy mastery was writte in þe crowne of hys head. Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afrayed of them: for it was onely a temptation worthy of deathe.

Exo.xviii.d.

The.xix.Chapter.

The death of the Egypciens, and the great lope of the Hebrewes. The meate that was gyuen at the dyspye of the people. The elemntes serue not onely to the wyl of God, but also the wyl of man.

S for the vngodlye, the wraathe came vpon them wythout mercy vnto the ende. For he knewe what shold happen vnto them, howe that (when they had consented to let them go, and had sent them out wyth great diligence) they wold repent and so lowe vpon them. For when they were permycurynge and makynge lamentacyon by the graues of the dead, they deuysed an other folyshenesse, so that they persecuted them in theyr fleynge, whom they had caste out afore wyth prayer. Worthy necessitye also brought them vnto this end, for they had cleue forgotten the thynges that hapened vnto them afore. But the thyng that was wantynge of theyr punishment, was requysite so to be fulfilled vpon them wyth tormentes: that thy people myght haue a marvelous passage thorow, and that these myght fynd a straunge deathe.

Exo.xiii.g.

Then was every creature facyned agayne of newe, accordynge to the wyl of theyr maker, obeying thy commaundementes, that thy chyldren myght be kept wyth out hurte. For the cloude ouershadowed theyr tentes, and the drye earth appered, wher afore was water: so that in the red sea, there was a waye wythoute impedymēt, and the great depe became a grene felde, wher thorow all the people wente that were defended wyth thy hand, seynge thy wonderous and marvelous workes.

BBg.i. For berneffe. Aaron stode byt wyth the lyue and the deade, wyth hys censoure.

Exod.x.f.

Netherthelesse thy holpe had a very great lycht, and the enemies heard theyr voice, but they saw not the figure of them. And bycause they suffered not þe same thynges, they magnified the: & they þe were vered afore (bycause they were not hurt nowe) thaked the, & besoughte the, O God, that there myght be a dyfference. Therefore had they a burninge pyller of fyre to lede the in the unknownen way, and thou gauest the the sunne for a fee gyfte, wyth out anye hurte. Reason it was þe they should want lycht, & be put in the pylson of darkenesse, whych keppe thy chyldren in captiuitie, by whom the vncorrupt lycht of the lawe of the worlde was for to be gyuen.

Exo.xiii.a.
psal.lxxviii
and.cb.d.

Exod.x.c.
ii.b.

Exo.xiii.b.

When they thoughte to slep the babes of the ryghteous (one beynge laped out, and preserved to be leader vnto þe other) thou broughtest out the hole multitude of the chyldren, and destroyedst these in the myghty water. Of that nyght were our fathers certified afore, that they knowynge vnto what othes they had gyuen credence, myght be of good chere. Thus thy people receyued the health of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed. For lyke as thou hast not hurt our enemies, so haste thou promoted vs whom thou calledst afore. For the ryghteous chyldren of the good men offered secretly, and ordred the lawe of ryghteousnes vnto vnrtye, that the iust shulde receiue good & euyl in lyke maner, singynge prayles vnto the father of all men. Agayn, ther was herd a discordynge voyce of the enemies, and a piteous cry for chyldren that were bewayled. The master and the seruant were punished in lyke maner. For they altogether, had innumerable that dyed one deathe.

Exod.xii.c.

Nether were the lychynge suffeuent to buye the dead, for in the thyncklynge of an eye, the noblest nation of them was destroyed. As ofte as God helped them afore, yet wolde it not make them beleue, but in the destruction of the spiste borne, they knowledged that it was the people of God. For whyle all thynges were still and when the nyght was in the myddest of her course, thy almyghty word, o Lorde leste downe from heauen oute of thy roy all throne as a roughe manne of warre, in the myddeste of the land that was destroyed: and the sharpe swerde persournd thy strayne commaundemente, stangede and spyllynge all thynges wyth deathe: yea it stode vpon the earthe, and reached vnto the heauen. When the sight of the euyl dreames vered the sodenlye, & fearfulness came vpon them vnto wares.

Then laye ther one here, an other ther, halfe deade, halfe quicke, and shewed the cause of hys deathe. For the visions that vered the ym, shewed theym these thynges afore: so that they were not ignorant wherfore they perished.

The temptation of deathe touched the ryghteous also amonges the multitude, in the wyldernes there was insurreccyon, but thy wraethe endured not longe.

For the faultles man went in al the last, num.xvi.g. and toke the battayll vpon hym, brought forth the weapon of hys ministracion: euen prayer, and the censoures of reconcylynge: set hym selfe agaynst the wraethe, and so brought the mysery to an end: declarynge thereby, that he was thy seruante. For he ouercame not the multitude wyth bodily power, ne wyth weapons of myght: but wyth the word he subdued hym that vered hym, puttynge the in remembrance of the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers. For whē þe dead wer falle down by heapes one vpon another, he stode in the mydd, pacified the wraethe, and parted the way vnto the lychynge. And whiche in hys long garment was al hys bewric, & in þe.iii. rowes of þe stons, was þe glory of þe fathers graue, & thy mastery was writte in þe crowne of hys head. Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afrayed of them: for it was onely a temptation worthy of deathe.

Exo.xviii.d.

The.xix.Chapter.

The death of the Egypciens, and the great lope of the Hebrewes. The meate that was gyuen at the dyspye of the people. The elemntes serue not onely to the wyll of God, but also the wyll of man.

S for the vngodlye, the wraethe came vpon them wythout mercy vnto the ende. For he knewe what shold happen vnto them, howe that (when they had consented to let them go, and had sent them out wyth great diligence) they wold repent and so lowe vpon them. For when they were permycurynge and makynge lamentacyon by the graues of the dead, they deuyfled an other folyshenesse, so that they persecuted them in theyr fleynge, whom they had caste out afore wyth prayer. Worthy necessitye also brought them vnto this end, for they had cleue forgotten the thynges that hapened vnto them afore. But the thyng that was wantynge of theyr punishment, was requysite so to be fulfilled vpon them wyth tormentes: that thy people myght haue a marvelous passage thorow, and that these myght fynd a straunge deathe.

Exo.xiii.g.

Then was every creature facyned agayne of newe, accordynge to the wyll of theyr maker, obeying thy commaundementes, that thy chyldren myght be kept wyth out hurte. For the cloude ouer shadowed theyr tentes, and the drye earth appered, wher afore was water: so that in the red sea, there was a waye wythoute impedymment, and the great depe became a grene felde, wher thorow all the people wente that were defended wyth thy hand, seynge thy wonderous and marvelous workes.

Exo.xi. For

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

For as the hoxses, so were they fed, and lepte lyke lambes prayspunge the, O Lord, whych hadst delpyered them. And whyp? they were yet mynde full of the thynges that happened whyle they dwelte in the lande: howe the grounde broughte forth ayres in stede of cartell, and how the ryuer scrauled wpth the myltitude of frogges, in stede of fyshes.

E But at the last they saw a newe creatur: on of byrdes, what time as they were dysceyued wpth lust, and desired delycate meates. For when they were speakynge of theyr appetyte, the quayles came vp to them from the sea, and punishment came vpon the spynners, not wpythout the tokes whych came to passe afore by the vehemence of the streames: for they suffred worthelp accorpyng to theyr wyckednesses, they delte so abhominable and churlyshly wpth strangers.

Some receyued no vnkowen gesses, some broughte the straingers into bodage that dyd them good. Besyde al these thynges there were some, that not only receyued no straungers wth their wylls, but persecuted those also, and dyd them much euyl, that receiued them gladly. Therefore were they punished wpth blindness, like as they that were couered wpth sodeyne darknes at the doores of the ryghtous, so p euery one sought p entrance of hys doze.

D Thus the elementes turned into them selues, like as when one tyme is changed vpon an instrument of musicke, and yet al the residue kepe theyr melody, which may easely be perceyued by the syghte of the thynges p are come to passe. The dry land was turned into a watery, and the thynges that afore swam in the water, wente now vpon the dry gounde. The fyre hath power in the water (contrary to hys own vertue) and the water forgatte hys owne kynd, to quench. A gayne, the flames of the noysome beastes hurte not the flesh of them that wente wth them, necher melted they p se, whiche els melteth lightly. In al thynges hast p promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honoure: thou haste not despyed them, but al waye and in all places haste thou stande by the.

The ende of the booke of wysedome.

The prologue of Jesus p sonne of Sirach vnto hys booke.

Any and great me haue declared wysedome vnto vs out of the law, out of the prophets, and out of other that folowed the. In the whych thynges I saell ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wysedome. Therefore they that haue it, and reade it, should not onelye them selues be wyle thereto, but serue other also wth teachynge and wytyng.

The .i. Chapter.

After that my graude father Jesus had geue diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophetes and other boke that were lefte vs of our fathers, and had well exersyced hym selfe therein: he purposed also to wyte somethynge of wysdome & good maners, to the intente that they whych were wpyllyng to learne and to be wyle myght haue the moze vnderstandynge, and be the moze apte to leade a good conuersacion.

Wherfore I exhort you to receyue it longyngly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thyng that is wytte in the hebrue tong soundeth not so wel when it is tradated into another speech. Not onely thys booke of myne, but also p law, the prophetes and other booke sounde farre other wyle, then they do, when they are spoken in their owne language.

Now in the .xxviii. yere when I came into Egypt in the tyme of Ptolomy Euergetes, and continued there al my lyfe, I gat liberty to read and wyte many good thynges. Wherfore I thought it good & necessarye, to bestow my diligence & trauayle to interprete thys booke. And consideryng that I had tyme, I laboured and dyd my best to perfourme this booke, and to byng it vnto lyght, that the straungers also (whych are dyspoled to lern) myghte applye the selues vnto good maners, and lyue accorpyng to the lawe of the Lord.

The booke of

Jesus the sonne of Syrach, whiche is called in latine Ecclesiasticus.

The .i. Chapter.

Wysdome procedeth and cometh of God. A prais of the feare of God. Ryghteousnes is a degre to come by wysedome.

A wysdome cometh of God p Lord, & hath bene euer w hym, and is before al tyme. Who hath numbred the sand of the sea, p droppes of p raine and the dayes of tyme? Who hath measured p height of heauē, p bredth of the earth, & the deepenesse of p sea? Who hath soughte out the groude of Goddes wysdome, whiche hath bene before al thynges? Wisdome hath bene before all thynges, & the vnderstandynge of prudence fro euerlastynge. (Gods word in the heygth is the welle of wisdom, and the euerlasting comaundementes are the entraunce of her.) Vnto whome hath the rote of wysdome bene declared? O: who hath knowen her toyt? Vnto whom hath p doctrine of wisdome bene discovered & shewed? and who hath vnderstand the manifolde entraunce of her? There is one: even the bester, p maker of al thynges, p almighty, the king of power (of whom me oughte to stande greatly in awe) whiche sitteth vpon hys throne, beinge a God of dominion: He hath created her thow the holpe Ghost: he hath sene her, nūbred her, and mesured her:

iii. re. iii. b. and. iiii. c. iob. xxviii. b. Jacob. i. a. The commendacion of wisdom.

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

For as the hoxses, so were they fed, and lepte lyke lambes prayspunge the, O Lord, whych hadst delpyered them. And whyp? they were yet mynde full of the thynges that happened whyle they dwelte in the lande: howe the grounde broughte forth ayres in stede of cartell, and how the ryuer scrauled wpth the myltitude of frogges, in stede of fyshes.

E But at the last they saw a newe creatur: on of byrdes, what time as they were dysceyued wpth lust, and desired delycate metes. For when they were speakynge of theyr appetyte, the quayles came vp to them from the sea, and punishment came vpon the spynners, not wpythout the tokes whych came to passe afore by the vehemence of the streames: for they suffred worthelp accorpyng to theyr wyckednesses, they delte so abhominable and churlyshly wpth strangers.

Some receyued no vnkowen gesses, some broughte the straingers into bodage that dyd them good. Besyde al these thynges there were some, that not only receyued no straingers wth their wylls, but persecuted those also, and dyd them much euyl, that receiued them gladly. Therefore were they punished wpth blindness, like as they that were couered wpth sodeyne darknes at the doores of the ryghtous, so p euery one sought p entrance of hys doze.

D Thus the elementes turned into them selues, like as when one tyme is changed vpon an instrument of musicke, and yet al the residue kepe theyr melody, which may easely be perceyued by the syghte of the thynges p are come to passe. The dry land was turned into a watery, and the thynges that afore swam in the water, wente now vpon the dry gounde. The fyre hath power in the water (contrary to hys owne vertue) and the water forgatte hys owne kynd, to quench. A gayne, the flames of the noysome beastes hurte not the flesh of them that wente wth them, necher melted they p se, whiche els melteth lightly. In al thynges hast p promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honoure: thou haste not despyed them, but al waye and in all places haste thou stande by the.

The ende of the booke of wysedome.

The prologue of Jesus p sonne of Sirach vnto hys booke.

Any and great me haue declared wysedome vnto vs out of the law, out of the prophets, and out of other that folowed the. In the whych thynges I saell ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wysedome. Therefore they that haue it, and reade it, should not onelye them selves be wyle thereto, but serue other also wth teachynge and wytyng.

The .i. Chapter.

After that my graude father Jesus had geue diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophetes and other boke that were lefte vs of our fathers, and had well exersyced hym selfe therein: he purposed also to wyte somethynge of wysdome & good maners, to the intente that they whych were wyllynge to learne and to be wyle myght haue the moze vnderstandynge, and be the moze apte to leade a good conuersacion.

Wherfore I exhort you to receyue it longyngly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquent as the famous oratours. For the thyng that is wytte in the hebrue tong soundeth not so wel when it is tradated into another speech. Not onely thys booke of myne, but also p law, the prophetes and other booke sounde farre other wyle, then they do, when they are spoken in their owne language.

Now in the .xxviii. yere when I came into Egypt in the tyme of Ptolomey Euergetes, and continued there al my lyfe, I gat liberty to read and wyte many good thynges. Wherfore I thought it good & necessarye, to bestow my diligence & trauayle to interprete thys booke. And considerynge that I had tyme, I laboured and dyd my best to perfourme this booke, and to bynge it vnto lyght, that the straingers also (whych are dyspoled to lern) myghte applye the selves vnto good maners, and lyue accorpyng to the lawe of the Lord.

The booke of

Jesus the sonne of Syrach,
whiche is called in latine
Ecclesiasticus.

The .i. Chapter.

Wysdome procedeth and cometh of God. A prais of the feare of God. Ryghteousnes is a degre to come by wysedome.

A wysdome cometh of God p Lord, & hath bene euer w hym, and is before al tyme. Who hath numbred the sand of the sea, p droppes of p raine and the dayes of tyme? Who hath measured p height of heauē, p bredth of the earth, & the deepenesse of p sea? Who hath soughte out the groude of Goddes wysdome, whiche hath bene before al thynges? Wisdome hath bene before all thynges, & the vnderstandynge of prudence fro euerlastynge. (Gods word in the heygth is the welle of wisdom, and the euerlasting comaundementes are the entraunce of her.) Vnto whome hath the rote of wysdome bene declared? O: who hath knowen her toyt? Vnto whom hath p doctrine of wisdome bene discovered & shewed? and who hath vnderstand the manifolde entraunce of her? There is one: even the Geste, p maker of al thynges, p almighty, the king of power (of whom me oughte to stande greatly in awe) whiche sitteth vpon hys throne, beinge a God of dominion: He hath created her thow the holpe Ghost: he hath sene her, nūbred her, and mesured her:

iii. re. iii. b.
and. iiii. c.
iob. xxviii. b.
Jacob. i. a.
The commendacion of wisdom.

The religious & feare
of God is
hys wisdō.

ber: He hath poured her out vpon all hys worke, and vpon all fliche, accordyng to hys gift he geueth her rychely vnto them p loue hym. The feare of the Lord is worthypp and tryumphe, gladnesse and a ioyfull crowne. The feare of the Lord ma-keth a mercie bert, geueth gladnesse ioye & long lyfe. Who so feareth the Lord, it shal go well wyth hym at the laste, and in the daye of hys deathe he shall be blessed.

Pro. ix. b.
Isai. ci. b.

The sone of God is honorable wysdom loke vnto whome it appereth, they loue it, for they se what wonderous thynges it doth. The feare of the Lord is the begynnyng of wysedome, and was made wyth the faithful in the mothers wombe, it shal go wyth the chosen womē, & shal be known of the ryghteous and faythfull.
The feare of the Lord is the ryght Gods seruyce, that preseruethe and iustifyeth the herte, and geueth myrthe and gladnesse.
Who so feareth the Lord shal be happie:
and when he hath nede of comfort, he shall be blessed. To feare God is the wysdome that maketh ryche, and byngeth a l good wyth her. She fylleth p whole house with he gyfres, and the garners w her treasure.
The feare of p Lord is the crowne of wise-dome, & geaeth plenteous peace & healthe.
He hath sene her and noumbred her: kno-ledge and understandinge of wysedō hath he poured out as rayne, and chē that helde her fast, hath he broughte vnto honoure.

An exhorta-
cion to pa-
ciece in the study of religion.

Wherin p
study of wisedome
standeth.

How wisdom muste
be cōe vnto

The feare of the Lord is the rote of wis-dome, and her braunches are longe lyfe.
In the treasures of wysedome is understandyng and deuocion of knowledge (but wysedome is abhorred of synners.) The feare of the Lord dyueth out synne, for he that is wythout feare, cannot be made ryghteous, and hys wyllfull boldnes is hys owne destruccyon. A paciente man wyll suffer vnto the tyme, and thē shall he haue the reward of ioye. A good understandyng wyll hyde hys wordes for a tyme, & many mens lippes shall speake of hys wysdom.
In the treasures of wysdom is the declaration of doctrine, but the synner abhorreth the worthyppe of God. My sonne, if thou desyre wysdome, kepe * the com-maundemente, and God shall geue her vnto the: for the feare of the Lord is wis-dome and nourture, he hath pleasure in fayerh and lounge mekenesse, and he shal fylle the treasures thereof. Be not obstynate and vnfaythfull to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto hym wyth a double herte. Be not an ypocryte in the syghte of men, and take good hede what thou spekest. Mark well these thynges, lest thou happen to fal and byng thy soule to dishonoure, and so God dyscouer thy secrettes, and cast the downe in the myd-dest of the congregacion, bycause thou woldest not receyue the fere of God, and because thy hert is ful of fapnednes, and disceate.

He exhorteth the seruautes of God to ryghteousnes, loue, vnderstandyng, & paciece, & exhorteth hym that feareth God to beleue, to hope, and to loue because God neither confoundeth nor forsakerh them that trust in hym. A curle vpon the suttel, feare, and impacient of herte.

My sonne, if thou wylt come into the seruite of God, & stande fast in ryghteousnes and feare, and arme thy soule to tēaciō, settle thyne hert, & be pacient: bow downe thyne care, receyue the wordes of vnderstanding & shrinke not away, whē thou art entysed.
Holde the fast vpo god, ioyne thy selfe vnto hym & suffer, that thy lyfe maye encrease at the last. Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto the, receyue it: suffer in heauynesse, and be paciente in thy trouble. For lyke as gold and siluer are tryed in the fyre, euen so are acceptable men in the fornaçe of aduersy-tye. Beleue in God, and he shall helpe the:
order thy waye aright, and put thy trust in hym. Holde fast hys feare, and growe therin. O ye that feare the Lord, take sure holde of hys mercie: shyppke not awaye from hym, p ye fall not. O ye that feare p Lord, beleue hym, and your reward shall not be empty. O ye that feare p Lord put your trust in hym, and mercie shall come vnto you for pleasure. O ye that feare the Lord set your loue vpon hym, and your hertes shalbe lyghtened.

math. xiii. a
ii. c. i. b.
ii. pe. iiii. b.

he p longeth
wisedome,
had nede
of pacience

Sap. xiii. a
Pro. xvii. s

Consider the olde generacions of men (O ye chyldren) and marke thē well: was there euer any one confounded, that put hys trust in the Lord? * Who euer conty-nued in hys feare, and was forsaken? O whome dyd he euer despyse, that called faythfully vpon hym? For God is gracyous and merciful, he forgerh synnes in the tyme of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seke hym in the truthe. Wo be vnto hym that hath a double hert, wyre-ked lippes and euell occupied hands, and to the * synner that goeth two maner of wayes. Wo be vnto them that are loose of herte, whiche put not theyr truste in God, and therefore shall they not be defended of hym. Wo be vnto them that haue lost pacience, forsaken the ryght wayes, & turned backe into froward wayes. What wyll they do when the Lord shall begyn to vset them?

Isai. xxi. a Ezai. xxi.

iii. re. xlviii.

They that feare the Lord, wyl not mistrust hys word: & they that loue hym, wyl kepe hys commaundemente. They that feare the Lord wyl seke out the thynges that are plesant vnto hym, and they that loue hym, shal fulfyl hys lawe. They that feare the Lord wyl prepare theyr hertes, and hūble theyr soules in hys sight. They that feare the LORD, kepe hys commaundementes, and wyl be paciente tyl they se hym selfe, saying: better it is for vs to fall into the hands of the Lord, then into

Job. xlii. b

ii. re. xxi. i.

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

into the handes of men: for his mercy is as greate as hym selfe.

The.iii. Chapter.

TO our father and mother ought we to geue double honoure. Of the blessing and curse of the father & mother. No man ought ouer curiously to search out the secrettes of God.

A The chyl dren of wysedome are a congregacyon of the ryghteous, and theyr exercyse is obedience & loue. Heare me youte father (O my chyl dren) and do ther after, that ye maye be safe. * For the Lorde wyl haue the father honoured of the chyl dren, and loke what a mother commaundeth her chyl dren to do, he wyl haue it kepte. Who so honoureth hys father, hys synnes shalbe forgiven hym: and he þ honoureth hys mother, is lyke one that gathereth treasure together. Who so honoureth his father shal haue ioye of hys owne chyl dren: and when he maketh hys prayer, he shalbe hearde. He that honoureth hys father, shal haue a longelyfe: and he that is obediende for the Lordes sake, hys mother shal haue ioye of hym.

He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth hys father and mother, and doth the seruyce, as it were vnto the Lorde hym selfe. Honour thy father in dede, in worde, * and in all patience, * that thou mayeste haue hys blessing: for the blessing of the father buildeth up the houses of the chyl dren, but the mothers curse roteth out the foundacyons. Repoyse not when thy father is reprovied, for it is no honoure vnto the, but a shame. For the worshyppe of a mans father is hys owne worshyp, and where the father is without honoure, it is the dishonour of the sonne. My sonne, make muche of thy father in hys age, and greue hym not as long as he lyueth. And if hys vnderstandynge fayle, haue patience wyth hym, and despyse hym not in thy strength. For the good dede that thou sheweste vnto thy father, shal not be forgotten: and when thou thy selfe wantest, it shal be rewarded the (and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed w good, yea it shalbe fouled for þ in ryghteousnes) & in the day of trouble þ shalt be remembred: thy synnes also shal melt away lyke as yse in the sayre warme wether.

He that forsaketh hys father, shal come to shame: and he that desiet hys mother, is cursed of God. My sonne, persourme thy workes wyth lounge meekenesse, so shalt thou beloued aboue other men. The * greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe (in al thynges) & thou shalt finde fauour in the syghte of God. For greate power belongeth only vnto God, and he is honoured of the lowly.

Seke not out the thynges that are aboue thy capacity, & serch not the grounde of such thynges as are to myghty for the: yong men, but loke what God hath commaunded

The.iiii. Chapter.

the, * thynke vpon that alwaye, and be not curious in many of hys workes. For it is not nedefull for the to se wyth thynne eyes, the thynges that are secrette. Make not thou to muche search in superfluous thynges, and be not curious in manye of his workes: for manie thynges are shewed vnto the allredy, whyche bee aboue the capacitye of men. The medling wyth such hath begyled many a man, and tangled theyr wits in vanytie. Nowe he that lo- ueth paret, shal perperch therein.

An hard herte shal fare euell at the last (an herte þ goth two wayes, shal not prof- per, and he that is frowarde of herte, wil euer be worse and worse.) A wicked herte shal be laden wyth sorowes, and the vn- godlye synner wyl heape one sinne vpon another. The counsell of the proude hath no healtie, for the plante of synne shal be rooted oute in them. The hert of hym that hath vnderstandynge shal perceyue hys thynges, and a good eare wyl gladly her- ken vnto wysedome. An hert that is wyse and hath vnderstandynge, wyl abstayne from synnes, and increase in the workes of ryghteousnes. * Water quencherh bur- noug fyre, and mercy reconcilerh synnes. God hath respect vnto him that is thank- full: he thynketh vpon hym agaynst the tyme to come: so that when he falleth, he shal fynde a stronge holde.

The.iiii. Chapter.

Almes muste be donne wyth all mekenes. The studie of wysedome, and her secrete. A iudge oughte to be mercifull. An exhortacio to eschue euell, and to do good.

My sonne, defraude not the poore of hys almes, and turne not away thyne eyes frō hym þ hath nede. Despyse not an bougtre soule, and despy not the poore in hys necess- sitye: greue not the herte of hym that is helpelesse, and wythdraue not the gyfte from the nedefull. Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, & turne not away thy face from the nedre. Caste not thyne eyes asyde frō the poore, that thou geue hym not occasion to speake euell of the. For if he complayne of the in the bytter- nes of hys soule, his prayer shal be heard: euen he that made hym, shal heare hym. Be carterous vnto the cōpany of the poore, humble thy soule vnto the elder, and bowe down thyne head to a man of worship. Let it not greue þ to bow down thine eare vnto the poore, but pay thy det, and geue hym a scendlye answer & that wyth mekenes.

Delyuer hym that suffereth wrong from the * hande of the oppressoure, and be not saynt harted when þ syttest in iudgement. Be mercifull vnto þ fatherles as a father, be in steade of an housband vnto thei mo- ther: so shalt thou be as an obediende sonne of the Wyseste, and he shal loue the more then thy mother doeth. Wysedome byetherh yse into her, and wyl go before them

Pro. xxi.
Roma. xii.
Deut. xiii.

Gal. vi. a.
Dan. xiii. b
Mat. v. a.
Liberalitie
of almes.

Deut. xv. a math. xxiii.
Cob. iiii. b

Gene. xiiii.
Exod. xi.

He cometh agayne to the commu-
dacion of wisedome.

That we ought to be obedient to our syn-
ces.
Exod. xxi.
Deute. v.
Eph. vi.

Gen. xxi.
Deu. xxi.

Rowlines.
Phil. ii. b.

Agaynst euelous and proude men.

them in the waye of ryghtousnes. He that loueth her, loueth hys selfe, and they that seke her diligently, shall haue great ioy. They that kepe her, shall haue the heritage of lyfe: for where she entreteth in, there is the blessing of God. They that honoure her, shall be the seruauntes of the holie one: & they that loue her, are beloued of God. Who so geueth care vnto her, shall iudge the heathen: and he that hath respect vnto her, shall dwell safely.

The that beleueth her, shall haue her in possession, and hys generacion shall endure: for when he falleth, she shall go wyth hym, before al. Feare, drede, and temptacion shall she bynge vpon hym, and tye hym in her doctryne, tyll she haue so proued hym in hys thoughtes, that he comyttre hys soule vnto her. Then shall she stablysh hym, bynge the ryghte waye vnto hym, make hym a glad man, shew hym her secretes, & heape vpon hym the treasures of knowlege, vnderstanding & rightousnes. But if he go wydg she shall forsake hym, & geue him ouer into the handes of his enemy. My sone make much of the tyme, eschue the thinge that is euell, and for thy lyfe shame not to say the truth. For there is a shame that byngeth synne, and there is a shame that byngeth worshyppe and fauoure. Accepte no person after thyne own wyll, that thou be not confounded to thyne owne decay. Be not ashamed of thy neyghboure in hys aduersitie, & kepe not backe thy counsel when it maye do good, neyther hyde thy wysdome in her bemy. For in the tonge is wysdome knowne, so is vnderstanding, knowlege and lernyng in the talkyng of the wyse, and stedfastnes in the workes of ryghtousnes. In no wyse speake agaynst the word of truth, but be ashamed of the lies of thyne owne ignorance. Shame not to cōfesse thyne erreure, & submit not thy selfe vnto every man because of synne. Wpstande not the face of the myghty, and streue not agaynst the streame. But for the truth streue thou vnto death, and God shall fyght for the agaynst thyne enemies. Be not hasty in thy tong, neyther lacke and neglygent in thy workes. Be not as a lion in thyne owne house, destroyng thy household folkes, and oppresyng them that are vnder the. Let not thyne hand be stretched to receyue, and shut when thou shouldest geue.

The.v. Chapter.

In ryches maye we not put any confidence. The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and to repentaunce may we not be slowe.

Truste not vnto thy ryches, and saye not: rushe, I haue ynough for my lyfe. (For it shall not helpe in the tyme of vengeance and temptacion). Followe not the luste of thyne owne herte in thy strength, & saye not: rushe, howe haue I had strength: or who wyll bynge me vnder because of my workes: for doubtles God shall auenge it. And say not: I haue comytted no synnes but what euell hath happened me? For the Almyghty is a paciet rewarder. Because thy synne is forgiven the, be not therfore without feare, neither heape one synne vpon another. And say not: rushe, the mercy of the Lorde is greates, he shall forgue me my synnes, be they neuer so manye. For lyke as he is merciful, so goeth wrathe from hym also, and hys indignacion cometh downe vpon sinners.

Make no taryng to tarye vnto the Lorde, and put not of from day to day: for suddenlye shall hys wrathe come, and in the tyme of vengeance he shall destroy the. * Truste not in wicked riches for they shall not helpe in the day of punishment and wrathe. * Be not carped aboute to euery wynde, and goo not oute into euery waye: for so doeth the synner that hath a double tonge. Stand fast in the way of the Lorde, be stedfast in thy vnderstanding: abyde by thy worde, and folow the worde of peace, and ryghtousnes. Be gentle to heare the word of God, that thou mayest vnderstande it, and make a true answer wyth wysdome. Be slowe to heare, but slowe and paciente in geuyng answer. If thou haste vnderstandyng, shap thy neyghboure an answer: If no, lay thyne hande vpon thy mouth: lest thou be trapped in an vndyscrete worde, and so confounded. Honour and worshyp is a wyse talkyng, but the tonge of the vndyscrete is hys owne destruction. Be not a proude accuser as longe as thou lyuest, and vse no schlander wyth thy tounge. For shame and sorow goeth ouer the thyse, and an euell name ouer hym that is double tonged: but he that is a pryncipal accuser of other men, shall be hated, enuyed, and confounded. Se that thou iustify the small & greates alpeke.

The.vi. Chapter.

It is the propretye of a synner to be euell tonged. The doctryne and good counsell of the wyse is to be embraced. Wysdome shoulde be searched for. The profit thereof.

Be not thy neyghbours enemye for thy frenches sake: for who so is cruell, shall be heyre of rebuke and dishonoure, and who soeuer beareth enuy & a double tonge, offendeth. * Be not proude in the deuyce of thyne owne vnderstandyng, leaste thy lenes wyther, and thy fruyte be destroyed and so thou be left as a dry tre. For a wycked soule destroyeth hym that hath it, maketh hym to be laughed to scoone of hys ennemyes, (and byngeth hym to the porcion of the vngodly). * A swete word multiplyeth frendes, and pacifieth them that be at variance: and a thankfull tounge wyll be plenteous in a good man. Holde thynd thyself wyth manye, neuer theles haue but one counsellor of a thousande.

Temptacion
followeth
the desire wisdome.

Rom. xii. b

A naughty
man.

pro. xlii. b

Cruelle to be fledde.

Acte. xii. e.
Counsell
nes.

Luke. xii.
The truste
in richesse.

Eccle. xxi. a

Eccle. xxi. b

Pro. x. a.
Ezech. vii. b Inconstan-
ces.

Jacob. i. b.
Moderation of word-
des.

Rom. xii. e.
Philip. ii.

Eccle. xxi. b

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

what frends
thou shouldest gette.

eccl. xxxviii.
a.

In exortation
to discipline.

Eccl. ii. d.

If thou gettest a frend, proue hym first,
*and be not hasty to geue hym credence.
For some man is a frende, but for a tyme, and wyl not abyde in the day of trouble.
And ther is some frende that turneth to enemye, and taketh parte agaynst the,
and if he knowe anye hurte by the, he telleth it oute. Agayne, some frend is but a companion *at the table, and in the day of nede he continueth not. But a sure frend wyl be vnto the euen as thyne owne selfe, and deale saythfully wth thy household folke. If thou suffer trouble and aduersitye, he is wth the, and hyderth not hym selfe fro the. Depart from thyne enemies, yea and beware of thy frendes.

A saythfull frende is a stronge defence:
who so synnderth suche one, findeth a noble treasure. A faithfull frende hath no peare, þ waight of golde and syluer is not to be compared to the goodnesse of hys sayeth.
A saythfull frende is a medycyne of lyfe, and they that feare the Lorde, shall synde hym. Who so feareth the Lorde, shall prosper wth frendes: and as he is hym selfe, so shall hys frend be also. My son receiue doctryne from thy youth vp, so shalt thou synde wysedome tyll thou be olde. Go to her as one that ploweth and soweth, and wayte pacientlye for her good frutes.

* For thou shalt haue but lytle laboure in her worke, but thou shalt eate of her frutes ryght soone. O howe excedyng sharpe is wysedome to vnlerned men: an vnstedfast bodie wil not remayne in her.
Vnto suche she is as it were a touch stone, and he casteth her from hym in all þ hast:
for wisdom is wth hym but in name, ther be but few þ haue knowledge of her. But wth them that know her, she abideth eue vnto the appertynng of God.

D Beue eate (my sonne) receyue my doctryne, and refuse not my counsell. Put thy fore into her synkes, and take her pocke vpon thy necke: bowe doune thy shoulde vnder her, beate her pacientlye, and be not wery of her bandes. Come vnto her wth thy whole hert, & kepe her mayes w all thy power. Seke after her and she shall be shewed þ: & whē thou hast her, forsake her not. For at þ last thou shalt fynd rest in her and that shall be turned in to thy great toy.
The halter fetters be a strong defence for the, and her pocke a glorious rayment.
For the beauty of lyfe is in her, and her ban-des are þ coupling together of saluation.
Yea, a glorious rayment is it, thou shalt put it on, & the same crowne of tope shalt thou weare.

E My sonne, if thou wylt take hede, thou shalt haue vnderstandynge: and if thou wylt applye thy mynde, thou shalt be
wys. If thou wylt bowe down thyne ear, thou shalt receyue doctryne: and if thou helpe in hearynge, thou shalt be wys.
Stand wth the multitude of suche elders as haue vnderstandynge, and consent

The. vii. Chapter.

vnto theire wysedome wth thyne herte, * that thou mayest heare all godly ser-mones, and that the worthy sentences escape the not. And if thou seest a man of discrete vnderstandynge, get the soone vnto him, and let thy foote treade vpon þ steppes of hys dozes. Let thy mynde be vpon the cōmaundmentes of God, and he earnestly occupied in hys laws: so shall he stablish thy hert, and geue the wysdome at thyne owne desyre.

The. vii. Chapter.

We must forsake euyl, & yet not iustify our selues. The behauiour of the wise toward hys wife, hys frend, hys chyldren, hys seruātes, his father and mother, the pryeste, &c.

No euyl, so shall there no harm happen vnto the. Depart awaye from the thyng that is wycked, and no myfortune shall medle wth the. My sonne, loke no euyl thyng ges in the sorowes of vnyghtuousnes, so shalt thou not reape them seuen folde.

Labour not vnto man for any Lorde thyng, neither vnto the kynge for the seat of honoure. Justifie not thy selfe before God (for he knoweth the hert) and desyre not to be reputed wise in the pcesence of the kyng. Make no labour to be made a iudge, except it so wer, that thou couldest myghtelye put downe wyckednes: for if thou shouldest stand in awe of the pcesence of the myghty, thou shouldest faile in ge-uynge sentence. Offende not in the multitude of the cite, and put not thy selfe amonge the people. Bnd not two synnes together, for in one * sinne shalt thou not be unpunished. Say not tush, God wyl loke vpon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the hyest God, he wyl accepte it.

Be not faynte harted when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in geuynge of almes. Laughe no man to scorne in the heauynesse of hys soule, for God (whych seeth all thynges) is he that can bynge downe and set vp agayne. * Accepte no lesug agaynst thy brother, neither do the same agaynst thy frend. Use not to make any maner of lye, for the custome thereof is not good. Make not many words whē thou art among the elders: and whē thou prapest, make not muche bablyng. Let no laborious worck be tedious vnto the, neither the housbandye whych the Almighty hath created. Make not thy boaste in the multitude of thy wickednes, but humble thy selfe euen from thyne herte: and remember that the wrath shal not be long in tarynge, and that the vengeance of the flesh of the vngodly, is a very fyre and worme. Beue not ouer thy frende for any good, ner thy saythfull brother for the beste golde.

Departe not from a discrete and good woman, that is fallē vnto the for thy porcyon in the feare of the Lorde, for the gift of

Eccl. viii. a

Psal. i. a.

That we ought dillgentlye to auoyde
synne.

psal. cxlvi.

Eccl. viii. c.

Job. ix.

Luke. xvi.

b.

Eccl. xii. d.

i. Reg. ii. d.

Of thy family & hou-
hold.

of her honesty is above golde. * Wher as thy seruaunt worketh truly, increate hym not euell, ner the dyscreit that is sayth full vnto the. Loue a dyscreit seruaunt as thyne owne soule: defraude hym not of his lybertye, neyther leaue hym a poore man.
If thou haue cattel, loke well to them, and yf they be for thy profyt, keepe them. If thou haue sonnes, bynge them vp in nurture and lerninge, and hold them in awe from their pouthe vp. If thou haue daughters, kepe their body, and shew not thy face cherfull towarde the. Marrie thy daughter, and so shalt thou performe a weighty matter: but geue her to a man of understandyng. If thou haue a wyfe after thyne owne mynde, forsake her not: (but commit not thy selfe to the hateful.)

D Honour thy father from thy whole herte, and forget not þe sorowfull trauaile that thy mother had wth the: remember that thou wast bozne thowowe them: and how cast thou recompense the the thynges that they haue done for the. Fear the Lord with all thy soule, & honour his ministers.
Loue thy maker wth all thy strengthe, & forsake not his seruautes. Feare the Lord with al thy soule, and honour his priestes.
Bend them their porciõ of the fyrste frutes and increase of the earthe, lyke * as is comāded the: geue them the shouldees, and their appointed offerynges & firstelinges.
Reache thine hand vnto the pore, that God maye blesse the wth plenteousnes. Be lyberall vnto all menne luyng, yet lette not but do good * euen to them that are dead.

Num.xviii.

Liberallite

Cobi.i.d.

Roma.xii.b

Maty.v.c.

Let * not them that wepe be wthout comforte, but mourne wth such as mourne.
* Let it not greue the to vsset the sycke, for that shal make the to be beloued. What soeuer thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt neuer do amysse.

The.viii. Chapter.

Against thy better is no stryuing: of the death of thyne enemy mayst thou not reioyce, nor dispyle thy neyghbours, nor the wordes of the wyse.

Strive not wth a myghty man lest thou chaunce to fal into his handes. * Make no barpaunce with a rych man, lest he happen to bring by an hard quatell agaynst the.
For gold and siluer hath vndone many a man, pea euen the hertes of kyniges hath it made to fal. Strive not with a man that is ful of wordes, and lay no stickes vpon his frye. Kepe not cõpany wth the vnlearned, lest he gyue thy kynred an euell report.

Gala.vi.

ii. Cor.ii.b.

Leuit.xix.

Despise not a man that turneth hym selfe awaye frome sonne, and cast him not in the reach wth ball: remeber that we are fraille euerychon. * Thinke scorn of no man in his olde age, for we were olde also. Be not glad of the death of thyne enemy, but remember that we must dye all the sort of vs (and sayne woulde we come into toy.) Despyse not the * sermones of such elder

Eccle.vi.

as haue vnderstandyng, but aquainte thy selfe with the wyse sentences of them: for of the thou shalt learne wysdome and the doctryne of vnderstandyng, and howe to serue great men wthout complaynte.

Bo not from the doctryne of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers.
For of them thou shalt learne vnderstandyng, so that thou mayest make answer in the tyme of nede. Kindle not the coales of sinners, lest thou be brente in the fyre flames of their synnes. Resist not the face of the blasphemour, that he lay not wayte for thy mouthe. * Lend not vnto hym that is myghty then thy selfe: If thou lendest hym count it but lost. Be not suertie aboute thy power: yf thou be, then thyne suretye to paye it. Soe not to lawe wth þe iudge, for he wyll iudge accordyng to his owne honoure. * Trauayle not by the way with him that is brynnyng, lest he do the euell: for he foloweth his owne wyllfulnesse, and so shalt thou perishe thowowe his folwe.

Eccle.xxix.a

Gene.iii.b

Pro.xviii.d.

Eccle.iii.a.

Eccle.ii.c.

and. xxi.vi.a

Strive not wth hym that is angrie & cruel, go not with him into the wyldernes: for bloude is nothyng in his syghte, & wher there is no helpe, he shal murder the. Take * no counsell at folles, for they loue nothyng but the thynges that please them selues.
Make no counsell before a straunger, for thou canst not tell what wyll come of it.
Open not thine hert vnto euery man, leasse he be vnthakful to the, & put þe to reprose.

The.ii. Chapter.

The leopardes of chastenes are to be eschus-ed. An old frend is to be preferred before a new The glorie and rychesse of synners. Ryghteous men should be bidden to gest. Labour is the chyefe thyng in a workman, and wysdome in a pryncce.

Be not gelous ouer the wyse of a thyne basome, lest she shewe some shewd popnte of wycked doctrine vnto the. Geue not þe power of thy lyfe vnto a woman, lest she come in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.
Loke not vpon a woman that is desirous of many men, lest thou fal into her snares.
Use not the compayne of a woman that is a plaier and daunser, and heare her not, lest thou perishe thowowe her entisyng. * behold not a mayden, that thou be not hurt in her bewtye. * Cast not thy mynde vpon har-lottes in any * maner of thyng, lest thou destroy both thy selfe and thyne herityage.
Soe not aboute gasinge in euery lane of the citee, neyther wander thou abroad in the stretes thereof. * Tourne away thy face fro a beutyfull woman, and loke not vpon the fayrenesse of other.

Gene.vi.a.

Pro.v.a.

Pro.v.a.

Math.v.c.

Any a man hath perisshed thowowe þe bewty of women, for thowowe it the desyre is kyndled as it were a fyre. An aduoute-rous woman shal be trodden vnder fote as myre, of euery one that goeth by the waye.
* Any a man wondering at the beuty of a straunge woman, hath ben cast out, for

Ge.xxviii.c

ii. Reg.ii.a

BBg.iii. her

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

The. x. Chapter.

Jud. x. xi. xii her words kyndle as a fire. * Sytte not with another mans wyfe by any meanes, lye not wyth her vpon the bed, make no wordes with her at the wyne, lest thyne herte consente vnto her, & so thou with thy bloud fall into destruction. Forsake not an old frend, for the new shal not be * like him.

Amici, frind myppe. A new frende is newe wyne: let hym be old, & thou shalt drinke him wyth pleasure. * Despyre not the honoure and ryches of a synner, for thou knowest not what destruction is for to come vpon him. Despyte not thou in the thyng that the vngodly haue pleasure in, beinge sure þ the vngodly shal not be accepted vntyl their graue.

Judi. ix. ii. Reg. xv. a Ekepe the from the man that hath power to slay, so nedest thou not to be afrayed of death. And yf thou comest vnto him, make no faute, lest he happen to take away thy lyfe. Remember that thou goest in þ myds of snares, and vpon the bouldworkes of the city. Beware of thy neyghboure as nye as thou canst, * and medle with such as be wyse and haue vnderstandynge. Let iuste men be thy gesses, let thy myrthe be in the feare of God, let the remembraunce of God be in thy mynd, and let all thy talkynge be in the commaundementes of the Hyst. In the handes of craftsmen shal the workes be commended, so shal the wyces of the people in the wysdome of their talkynge. * A man full of wordes is perylous in hys cytie: and he that is temerarious and past shame in hys talkynge, is to be abhorred.

Eccle. ix. c. xxviii. a. b.

Comunica- tio. xii. Re. i

The. x. Chapter.

Of Kinges & Judges. Wyde & couetousnes are to be abhorred, Labor is prayled.

Of rulers.

Pro. xix. b.

iii. Re. xii. a

A wyse iudge wil order his people with discrecion, and where a man of vnderstandinge beareth rule, there goeth it well, * As the iudge of the people is him selfe, euerso are his officers: & loke what maner of manne þ ruler of þ cytie is, suche are they that dwel therein also. * An vnwyse kyng destroueth his people, but where they þ be in authoritie are me of vnderstandinge, there the cytie prospereth.

The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and when his tyme is, he shal set a profytable ruler vpon it. In the had of God is the power of man, and vpon the Scribes shal he lay his honour. Remember no wrong of thy neyghbour, * and meddle thou with no vnrighitous workes. Wyde is hateful before God and man, & al wickednes of the Heathen is to be abhorred. * Because of vnrighitous dealinge, wronge, blasphemies, and diuerse disceites, a realme shalbe translated from one people to another.

Agaynst in- iury & pride.

Leuit. xix. c.

Jer. xxviii. a

Dani. iiii.

B * Ther is nothyng worse then a couetous man. Why art thou proude, O thou earth & ashes? Ther is not a more wycked thyng then to loue mony. And why? such one hath hys soule to sell: yet is he but filthy douge whyle he loueth.

And though the physician shew his help

neuer so longe, yet in conclusyon it goeth after this maner, to day a kyng to morow deade. For when a man dyeth, he is beyre of serpentes, beastes and wormes. The begynnynge of mans pryde, is to sal away from God: and why? His hert is gone fro his maker, for pryde is þ original of al synne. Who so taketh holde therof shalbe fylled with cursinges, and at the last it shal ouerthrow him. Therfore hath þ Lord brought the congregacions of the wicked to dishonoure, and destroyed them vnto the ende.

* God hath destroyed the seates of proude prynces, and sette vpon the meke in their steade. * God hath wythered the rotes of the proude Heathen, and planted the lowly amonge them. God hath ouerthrowne the landes of the Heathen, and destroyed them oute of the grounde. He hath caused them to wyther awaye, he hath broughte them to slaught, and made the memorial of them to cease from out of the earth (God hath destroyed the name of the proude, and left the name of the humble of minde.) Pryde was not made for man, neyther wrathfulnes for mens chyl- dren. * The seide of men that feareth God shal be broughte to honoure, but the seide which transgresseth the commaundemen- tes of the Lorde shalbe shamed. He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in honoure amonge them, and he regardeth such as feare the Lorde. The glory of the ryche, of the honourable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.

Despyse not thou the iuste poore man, and magnify not the ryche vngodly. Greace is the iudge and myghty in honoure, yet is ther none greater then he that feareth God. * Vnto the seruant that is discrete, shal the fre do seruyce. He that is wyse well nourtouted, wyl not grudge when he is resourmed, and an ignoraunte body shal not come to honoure. Be not proude to do thy worke, and dispayre not in the tyme of aduersityte. * Better is he that laboureth and hath the plenteousnesse of all thinges, then he that is gorgeous and wanteth breade.

My sonne, kepe thy soule in mekenes, & geue her due honoure. Who shal iustify hym, þ sinneth agaynst hym selfe? Who gard ought wyl honoure hym, that dyshonoureth his to be had of owne lyfe? The poore is honoured for hys oure lyte, saythfulnes and truth, but the ryche is had in reputacion because of hys goods. He þ ordeth hym selfe honestly in pouertye, howe much more shal he behaue him selfe honestly in riches? And who so ordeth hym selfe vnhonestly in ryches, how much more shal he behaue hym selfe vnhonestly in pouertye?

The. xi. Chapter.

The prayle of humility. After the outwarde apperance ought we not to iudge. Of headye and rash iudgemente. The ryche is not wone offence. All thinges come of God. All me are not to be broughte into thyne house.

The

Gene. xlii. f.
Dan. vi. a.
Beautie.

Be wysedome of hym that is brought lowe, shal lyfte vp his head, and shal make him to sit amonge great men. * Comed not a mā in his bewty, neither despyse a mā in his vtre apperaunce.

Actes. xii. d.
Wydde.

The Bee is but a small beast among the foules, yet is her frute exceedynge swete. * Be not proude of thy rayment, and exalte not thy selfe in the daye of thy honoure: for the workes of þe diest onely are wonderfull: yea glorious, secrete and vnknewen are his workes. * Manye tyrantes haue bene fayne to sit downe vpon the earthe, & the vnlucky hath worne the crowne. Many myghtye men haue bene broughte lowe, & the honorable haue bene deluyred into other mens handes. * Condemne no man before thou hast tried out the matter: and whē þu hast made enquisicion, then reforme righteously. * Beue no sentence before thou hast herd the cause, but first let men tell out their tales.

Prudence.
Deut. xlii. b.
and. xvi. b.
Job. vii. c.
and. xlii. c.
Pro. xvi. b

Styue not for a matter that toucheth not thy selfe, and stande not in the iudgement of synners. My sonne, medle not wth many matters: and yf thou wilt be rich, thou shalt not get it: and though thou rennest thy way afore, yet shalt thou not escape. There is some man that laboreth, and the more he wretcheth himself, þe lesse he hath: Again, some man is flourishfull, hath neede of helpe, wanteth strength, and hath great pouerty, and Gods eie loketh vpon him to good, setteth him vp from his lowe estate, & lyfteth vp his head, so þe manye men maruell at him, & geue honour vnto God.

Job. i. c.
Eze. xvi. a.
Prosperitie & aduersite commeth of
God.

* Prosperitye and aduersity, lyfe and death, pouerty and ryches come all of the Lord. Wysdome, nurour, and knowledge of the law are with god: loue and þe waies of þe good are with him. Errour & darknes are made for synners: and they that exalt them selues in euell, waxe olde in euell.

Luke. xli.
Math. x.

The gyfte of God remaineth for the righteous, and his good wyll shal geue prosperitie for ever. Some man is ryche by liuynge niggardly, and that is the porcion of his rewarde in that he sayeth: * nowe haue I gotten rest, and nowe wyll I eate and drynke of my goodes my selfe alone. And yet he consydreth not, that the tyme draweth nye that he muste leaue all these thynges vnto other men, and dye hym self.

It is þe office of a man
to labour:
& to byng
good succes belogeth to
God.

* Stande thou faste in thy couenaunte, & exerceyse thy self therein, and remaine in the worke vnto thy age. Contynue not in the workes of synners, but put thy trust in God, and byde in thyne estate: for it is but an easy thyng in þe sighte of God, to make a poore man ryche, and that sodenly. The blessing of God basterh to the reward of þe righteous, and maketh his frutes sone to flourish & prospere. Saye not: what helpeth it me? And what shall I haue the while? Agayne saye not: I haue tynough, howe can I wante? When thou art in welfare forget not aduersity: and whē it goeth not well wth the, haue a good hope, that it shalbe better. For it is but a small thyng vnto God, in the day of dearthe to rewarde euery man accordyng to his wayes. The aduersitye of an houre maketh one to forget all pleasure: and when a man dieth, his workes are discouered. Praise no body before his death. For a man shalbe knowē in his chyldren.

Bring not euery man into thyne house, for the discreatfull layeth wayte diuerslye. Lyke as a partrich in a maund, so is the herte of the proude: and lyke as a spy, that loketh vpon the fall of his neyghboure. For he turneth good vnto euell, and scandalizeth the chosen. Of one sparke is made a greete fyre, & an vngodly mā layeth waite for bloude. Beware of the discreatfull, for he ymagyneth wycked thynges, to bringe the into a perpetuall shame. If thou takest an alysaunte vnto the, he shall destroye the in vnquyetnes, and dryue the from thyne awne wayes.

That euery mā is not to be trusted.

The. xii. Chapter.

Unto whom we oughte to do good. Enemies oughte to be eschued.

When thou wilt do good, knowe to whom thou doest it, & so shalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefytes. Do good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt fynde great rewarde, though not of hym, yet no doute þe Lord hym selfe shal rewarde the. Be stander not in a good case that is alwaye occupied in euell, and geueth no almes: for the best haterh the synners, and hath merce vpon them that shew the workes of repentance. * Beue thou vnto such as feare God, and receyue not a synner. As for the vngodly and synners, he shall recompense vengeance vnto them, and kepe them to the day of wrath. Beue thou vnto the good and receyue not the synner: do well vnto hym that is lowly, but geue not to the vngodly. Let not the breade be geue him, that he be not myghtier the thy selfe therein. For so shalt thou receyue twyse as much euell, in all the good that thou doest vnto hym: And whē the best haterh synners, & shal rewarde the vengeance to the vngodlye.

To whom thou shalt do good
and to whā
not.

In prosperitie, a frend shal not be knowne, and in aduersitie an enemy shal not be hyd. For when a mā is in wealth, it greueth his enemy: but in heynnes and trouble a man shal know his frende. Trust neuer thyne enemy, for lyke as an yron rusteth, so doeth his wyckednes. And though he make muche crouchyng and knelng, yet kepe wel thy mind, and beware of him. Set hym not by the, neither let hym sit at thy ryght hand, lest he turne hym, get into the place, take thy roume, and seke thy seat: and so thou at the last remeber my wordes, and be prycked at my sayings.

Bynde not two tymes together, for ther shall not one be unpunished. Who wyll haue

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

haue pitie of þe charmer, þe is stynged of the serpēt, or of al such as comen þe beasts?
Eas so is it with him that kepeth cōpanie with a wicked man, and lappeth him selfe in hys synnes. For a season wyl he byde with the: but yf thou stōble, he tarieth not.
* An enemye is swere in his lyppes, he can make many wordes, & speake many good thynges: Yea he can wepe with hys eyes, but in hys herte he ymagyneth howe to throwe the into the pyrrē: and yf he may find oportunitie, he wyl not be satisfied with blood. If aduersitie come vpon the, thou shalt finde him there firste, & though he pretende to do the helpe, yet shall he dermyne the. He shall shake his heade, and clap his handes ouer the for verie gladnes, and while he maketh many wordes, he shal desguyse hys countenance.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The compaynes of þe proude and of the riche are to be eschued. The loue of God. Lyke do compayne wylth their lyke.

Who so toucheth pytche, shall be fyled wylth all: and he that is familyar wylth the proude, shall cloth hym selfe with pryde. He taketh a vurther vpon hym, that accōpanieth a more honoratle mā then hym selfe.
Therefore kepe no familiarity with one that is rycher then thy selfe. Howe agree the kettel and the pot together? For yf the one be smytten agaynst the other it shall be broken. The rich dealeth but rightouslie, and threatheneth wylthall, but the poore bepruge oppressed and wrongouslie dealeth wylthall, suffereth scarcenesse, and geneth fayre wordes. * If thou be for his proficte he vserth the: but if thou haue nothyng he shall forsake the. As lōge as thou hast any tyng of thyne owne, he shal be a good se-lowe wylth the: yea he shal make the a bare man, and not be sorie for the. If he haue nede of the, he shall defraud the: and (wylth a prey mocke) shall he put the in an hope, and geue the all good wordes, & say what wantest thou? Thus shall he shame the in his meate, vntyll he haue sapt the cleane wylth wylse or thyrse, and at the last shall he laugh the to scoyne. Afterwarde, when he seeth þe thou hast nothyng, he shall forsake the, and shake his heade at the.

Beware that thou be not discepued and brought downe in thy synplenes. Be not to humble in thy wylsdomē, lest when thou art brought lowe, thou be discepued tho-rowe folishenes. * If thou be called of a myghty man, absent thy selfe, so shal he cal the to hym the more oft. Dreasse not thou vnto hym, that thou be not shut out: but goe not thou far of, lest he forget the.
Withdrow not thy selfe from his speach, but beleue not hys manie wordes. For wylth muche communicacion shall he tēpt the, and with a pryue mocke shal he questio of thy secretes. The vnmereifull mynd of hys, marke thy wordes, he shal not spare to

The. xiii. Chapter.

do the hurte & to put þe in pryson. Beware and take good hede to thy selfe, for thou walkest in parell of thy ouerthrowyngē.
Now when thou hearest his wordes, make the as though thou werest in a dreame, wake vp. Loue God all thy lyfe longe, and call vpon him in thy nede. Euery beaste lo-ueth his lyke, euen so let euery man loue his neyghboure. Allesh wil resorte to their lyke, and euery man wyl kepe compayn wylth such as he is him selfe. * But as the wolfe agreeth wylth the lambe, so doth the vngodly wylth the vryghteous. What fellowshyp shoulde an holy man haue wylth a dog? Howe can the ryche and the poore agree together? The wylde Assē is the lions pray in the wyldernes, euen so are poore mē the meate of the ryche. Lyke as the proude may not away wylth lowlynes, euen so doth the ryche abhorre the poore. If a ryche man fall, his frendes set hym vp agayne: but when the poore falleth, his frendes forsake hym.
If a ryche mā fall into an erreure, he hath mani helpers: he speaketh proude wordes, and yet men iustifye hym.

But yf a poore man go wrong, he is punyshed: yea though he speake wylsely, yet can it haue no place. When the ryche man speaketh, euery body holdeth hys tounge:
and loke what he saith, they praise it vnto the cloudes. But yf the poore man speake, they saye: What felowe is this? and yf he do amysse, they shal destroy hym. Ryches are good vnto hym that hath no synne in his conscience, and pouertie is a wycked thyng in the mouth of the vngodlye. The hert of mā chaungeth hys countenance, whether it be in good or euell. A chearfull countenance is a token of a good herte, for els is it an hard thyng to know þe thought.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

The offence of the tōge. Mā is a bit a bayne thing. Happy is he þe cōtinueth in wysedome.

Blessed is the man, that hath not fallē wylth þe worde of his mouth, and is not pricked wylth the conscience of synne. Happye is he that hath no heynenes in his mynde, and is not fallen from hys hope. It becommeth not a couetous man and a nygard * to be ryche: and what shoulde a nygard do wylth gold? He that wylth all hys carefulnes heapech together vntygtheouslye, gathereth for other folkes, and another mā shal make good chere wylth hys goods. He that is wycked vnto hym selfe, howe shulde he be good vnto other men? Howe can suche one haue anye pleasure of hys goods?
Ther is nothyng worse then whē one dis-fauoureth hym selfe, and this is a reward of his wyckednes. If he do any good, he doth it not knowyng therof, and agaynst hys wyl, and at the laste he declareth hys vngaciousnes. A nygarde hath a wycked eye, he turneth awaye hys face, and despiseth his owne soule. A couetous mans eye hath neuer ynoughe in the porciō of wiskednesse,

Jer. xlii. b.

Deut. vii. a

moder o p

Justi non consona

id est o m

A furth a

bouestregh

The comon people fo-
lowe fortune.

To haue to do wylth the myghty

1. Cor. vi. s.

Eccle. xix. s.
and. xv. a.
Jacob. iii. a

Jerem. xlii

Couetousnes and nygardye.

Wickednesse, butyll the tyme that he wythet away, and haue lost hys owne soule. * A wycked eye sparcth breade, & there is scarcenesse vpon his table. My sonne, do good to thy selfe of that thou hast, and geue the Lord his due offering. Remember that death tarrieth not, and how that the couenaunte of the graue is shewed vnto the: for þ couenaunt of thys worlde shal dye the death. * Do good vnto thy frend before thou dye, & accordyng to thy abilitie reach out thynne hande, and geue vnto the poore. Be not disapoynted of the good daye, and let not the porcyon of the good day ouerpasse the.

Shalt thou not leaue thy trauailes and laboures vnto other men? In the diuidyng of the heritage geue and take, and sanctify thy soule. Worke thou righteousness before thy death, for in heil there is no meat to fynde. * All fleshe shall fade away lyke grasse, & lyke a floueryng leafe in a grene tree. Some growe, some are caste downe: euē so is þ generacion of fleshe & bloud: one cometh vnto an ende, another is borne.

All transitory thyngs shall fayle at the last, and the worker thereof shall go wyth all. Every chosen worke shalbe iustified, and he that medleth withal, shal haue honour therein. * Blessed is the man that keepeth him in wysdome, and exercyseth hym selfe in vnderstandyng, and wyth discrecion shal he thynke vpon the forknowledge of God. Whiche consydereth the wayes of wysedome in his herte, hath vnderstandyng in her secrettes, goeth after her (as one that seketh her out) and continueth in her wayes. He loketh in at her wyndowes and hekeneth at her doores: He taketh his rest beside her house, and fasteneth his stake in her wals: He shall pytche hys tente vnto her hande, and in hys tente shall good thynges rest for euermore. He shall set his chyldren vnder her coueryng, and shall dwell vnder her braunches. Under her couerynge shall he be defended from the heat, and in her glory shall he rest.

The. xv. Chapter.

The goodnes that foloweth hym whiche feareth god. God reiecteth & casteth of sinners. God is not the author of euil.

A that feareth God, wyll doo good: and who so keepeth the law shal obayne wysedome. As an honorable mother shal she mete hym, and as a virgin shal she receiue hym. * Wyth the bread of lyfe and vnderstandyng shal she feede hym, and geue hym the water of holysome wysdome to drynke. If he be constant in her, he shall not be moued: and yf he helde him fast by her, he shall not come to confusyon. She shal brynge him to honoure amonge his neighbours, and in the myddest of the congregacion shal she open his mouth. Wyth the spirit of wysedome and vnderstandyng shal she fyl him, and clothe him with the garment of glory. She shal beape the treasure of myrrour and joy vpon hym, and geue hym an euertlasting name to herpytage. Folysh men wyll not takehold vpon her, but such as haue vnderstandyng, wyll mete her, for he is farre from pryde and disceit. We that go about with lyces wyll not remember her: but men of truth shalbe found in her, euen to the beholdyng of God. Praise is not semely in the mouth of the vngodlye, for he is not sent of the Lord. For of God cometh wysedome, and the praise shal stode by the wysedome of God, and shal be plenteous in a faythfull mouth, and the Lord shal geue her vnto hym.

* Say not thou: It is the Lordes faulte that I am gone by, for thou shalt not do the thyng that God hateth. Saye not thou: he hath caused me to go wronge, for he hath no neede of þ vngodly. God hateth al abhominacion of erroure, and they that feare god wyll loue none such. * God made man from the begynnyng, and left him in the hande of his counsaile. He gaue hym his commaundementes and precepres: yf thou wilt obserue the commaundementes, and kepe acceptable faithfulness for euer they shal preserue the. He hath set water and fyre before the, reach out thynne hande vnto which thou wyll. Before man is lyfe and death, good and euill: loke what hym lyketh, shalbe geuen hym. For the wysedom of God is greates & mighty in power, and beholdeth all men continually. * The eyes of the Lord are vpon them that feare hym, and he knoweth all the workes of man. He hath commaunded no man to do vngodly, neyther hath he geuen anye man leaue to synne.

The. xvi. Chapter.

Of vnhappy and wycked chyldren. No man can hyde him selfe from God. An exhortacion to the recepyng of instruccyon.

Delite not thou in the multitude of vngodly chyldren, and haue no pleasure in them, yf they feare not God. Truste not thou too their lyfe, and regard not their laboures: for one sonne that feareth God, is better then a thousande vngodlye. And better it is for a man to dye without chyldren, then to leaue behynde hym suche chyldre as are vngodly. For by one that hath vnderstandyng, may a whole cite be vpholden, but though þ vngodly be many, yet shal it be wasted thowowe the. Many such thynges hath myne eye seene & greter thynges thesē haue I herd in mine eares. * In the congregacion of þ vngodly shal a fire burne, & among vnfaithfull people shal þ wrath be kyndled. * The old giantes obtayned no grace for theyr synnes, whych were destroyed, trustyng to their owne strength. * Neither spared he the among whō Loth was stranger, but smote them, and aborreced them because of the pryde of their wordes. He had no pitye vpon them, but destroyed all the people, that were so stoure

God is not the author of synnes.

Gene. i. 6.

Jerem. xxi. 6.

psal. xxxiii. 6
Heb. i. 1. c.

The multitude of synners.

Eccle. xxi. 6
To beware of synners.

Gene. vi. 2.
Gene. xix. 6.

Pu. xl. xlii.
and. xvi.
Eccle. v.
in sinne. And for so muche as he overcame not the fyre hundred thousand * that gathered them selues together in the hardnes of their hert, it were marueyle if one beyng hard necked shulde be free. * For mercy and wrath is wpth hym: he is both myghty to forgeue, and to potoze out displesure. Lyke as his mercy is great, euen so is his punishment: also he iudgeth a man accordyng to hys workes. The ungodlye shall not escape in hys spoule, and the longe patience of hym that sheweth mercy shall not byde behynd. All mercy shall make place to euery man accordyng to the deseruyng of hys workes, and after the vnderstandyng of hys pylgrimage.

ll. Bar. liii.
Sape not thou I wyl hyde my selfe fro God, for who wyl thynke vpon me from aboue? I shall not be knowen in so greate a heape of people, for what is my soule among so many creatures? Behold * the heauens, yea, the heauen of heauens, the depe, the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moued at his presence: the mountaynes, the hylles, and the foundacions of the earth shall shake for feare, when God visiteth them. These thynges doth no hert vnderstande, but he vnderstandeth euery hert: and who vnderstandeth his wayes? No ma seeth hys stornes, and the moost part of hys workes are secret. Who wyl declare the workes of hys ryghtousnes? Or who shall be able to abyde them? For the couenant is far from some, and the tryng oute of men is in the fulfylling. He that is humble of hert, thinketh vpon such thynges:
but an vnwylle and erroneous man casteth his mynde vnto folysh thynges.

he prayseth
the workes
of the Lord.
My sonne hearken thou vnto me, and learne vnderstandyng, and marke my wordes wpth thyne herte: I wyl geue * the a sure doctrine, and playnele shall I instructe the. God hath set hys workes in good ordre from the begynnyng. & parte of them hath he sundred from the other.
He hath garnyshed hys workes from euerlastyng, and their begynnynge accor-dyng to their generacions. None of them hindereth another, neyther was anye of them disobeyent vnto hys word. After this, God looked vpon the earth, and folled it with his goodes. Wpth all maner of syuyng beastes hath he couered the ground, & they al shalbe turned vnto earth agayne.

The.xvii. Chapter.

The creation of mā, and the goodnes of God hath done vnto hym Of almose & repetaunce.

Gene. i. d.
Gene. ii. d.
Qdd hope man of the earth, and turned him vnto earth agayne.
He gaue him the number of daies and certayn tyme, yea and gaue hym power of the thynges that are vpon earth. He clothed hym wpth strengthe, & made hym after his owne lyknes.
He made al flesh to stand in awe of him, so that he had the domynion of all beastes and foules. He made out of hym an helper lyke vnto hym selfe, and gaue them discretion and tonge, eyes and eares, and a herte to vnderstande, and fylled them with instruction and vnderstandyng. He created for them also knowledge of the spirite, fylled theire hartes wpth vnderstandyng, and shewed them good and euell. He set his eye vpon their hartes, declaring vnto them his greate and noble workes. What they shoulde prayse his holye name together, reioyse of his wordes, and be tellinge of his noble actes. Besyde this, he gaue them instructiō, and the lawe of lyfe for an heretage.

He made hym an euerlastyng couenant with them, and shewed them hys ryghteousnes and iudgements. They sawe hys glory with their eyes, & their eares heard the maiesty of his voyce. And he sayd vnto them: beware of all vnrightheous thynges.
* He gaue euery man also a commandemente concernyng his neyghboure.

Their wayes are euer before hym, & are not hyd from his eyes. * He hath set a ruler vpon euery people, but Israell is the Lordes porcyon. All their workes are as the sun in the sight of God, and hys eyes are alway lokyng vpon their wayes. All their vnrightheousnes are manifest vnto hym, and all their wyckednes are open in his syght. The mercy that a man sheweth, is as it were a purse wpth hym, and a mannes good dede preserveth hym as the apple of an eye. * At the laste shall he awake, and rewarde euery man vpon his heade as he hath deserued, and shall turne them together into the nether moost partes of the earth. But vnto them that wyl repent, he hath geuen the waye of ryghtousnes. As for suche as be weake he comforteth them, suffereth them, and senderth them the porcyon of the veritye.

* Turne then vnto the Lord, forsake thy syns, make thy prayer before the lord, do les offence, turn agayne vnto the lord, forsake thy vnrightheousnes, be an viter enemy to abomination, lerne to know the ryghteousnes and iudgements of God, stand in porcyon that is set forth for the, and in the prayer of the moost hye God. Go into the porcyon of the holy world, wpth such as be lyuyng and geue thankes vnto God.

* Who wyl prayse the Lord in the hel? I Abyde not thou in the erroure of the vngodly, but geue him thankes before death.
As for the dede thankfulness perysheth from hym as nothyng. Geue thou thankes in thy lyfe, yea wbyle thou art lyuyng, and hole shalt thou geue thankes, and prayse God, and reioyse in hys mercy. O howe greate is the louyng kyndnesse of the Lord, and his mercyfull goodnes vnto suche as turne vnto hym. For al thyngs may not be in man: and why? The sonne of man is not immortall, and he hath pleasure in the va-nitye of wyckednes. What is more cleare then the Sunne: yet shal it fayle. Or what is

Deut. xlii. v.
and. ix.

Eccle. xxi. xli.
Rom. xlii. a.
Deut. xlii. c.
and. x. c.

Eccle. xxi. b.
Actes. xlii. c.

Anethozas
cio to ames
dement of lyfe.

Psal. vi. a.
Esa. xxi.
vii. d.

is more wycked then the thyng that flethe and bloud hath ymagined: and that same shall be reprovied. The Lord seeth the power of the hye heauen, and al are but earthe and ashes. The xxiij. Chapter.

The maruelous works of God, the misery and wretchednes of mā. Against god ought we not to cōplaine. Pray must we continually.

Gene. i. a.
The prayse
of God.

His liuer for evermore, made al thyngs together. God only is ryghteous, and remayneth a byctoryous kyng for ever. Who shall be able to expresse his workes of hym? Who hath sought out the ground of his noble acts? Who shall declare the power of his greatness? Or who will take vpon hym to tel out his mercy? As for his wonderous workes of the Lord, ther may nothyng be taken fro the, nothing may be put vnto the, neyther may the ground of the be found out. But whē a mā hath done his best, he must begin agayn: & when he thinketh to be come to an end, he must go again to his labour. What is man? Whereto is he worth? What good or euil can he do? If the numbre of a mans dayes be almoste an hundred yere, it is muche.

Lyke as the drops of raine are vnto the sea, and as a grauel stone is in comparyson of the sand: so are their yeres to the dayes euerlastyng. * Therfore is the Lord paciēt wth them, and poureth out his mercy vpon them. He saw and perceyued his thoughtes and ymaginacions of theyr heart, that they were euill: therfore heaped he vpon his merciful goodnes vpon them, and shewed them the waye of ryghteousnes. The mercye that a man hath recebeth to his neyghboure: but the mercye of God is vpon all flethe. He chasteneth, he teacheth and nuretureth: yea, euen as a shepeheard turneth agayne his flocke, so doth he all them that receyue chastenynge, nureture, and doctrine. Mercyfull is he vnto them that stande in awe of his iudgementes.

My sonne, when thou doest good, make no grudgyng at it, and what soeuer thou geuest, speake no discomfortable wordes. Shall not the dewe coule the heate? Euen so is a worde better then a gyfte. * Is not a frendelye worde a good honeste gyfte? but a gracious man geueth them both. * A foole shall cast a man in the teethe and that roughlye, and a gyfte of the nygarde putteth out the eyes. * Set the ryghteousnes before thou come to iudgement. Learne before thou speake, and go to phisicke or euer thou be sycke: examyn and iudge thy selfe, before the iudgemente come, and so shalt thou fynde grace in the syght of God.

Make hast to repentance. * Humble thy selfe afore thou be sycke, and in tyme of thy dyscase shewe thy conuersacion. Lette not to praye alwaye, and stande not in feare to be resourmed vnto deathe, for the rewarde of God endureth for ever. Be fore thou prayest, prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tepteth God

Thinke vpon the wrathful indignacion that shall be at the end, & the hour of vengeance, when he shall turne away his face. * When thou hast ynough, remēber the tyme of hunger: and when thou art ryche, thynke vpon the tyme of pouertye and scarcenesse.

From the mornynge vntyl the euenynge the tyme is chaunged, and all suche thynges are soone doone in the syghte of God. A wyse man feareth God in all thynges, and in the dayes of transgression he keepeth hym selfe from synne. A dyscrete man hath pleasure in wysdome, and he that findeth her, maketh muche of her. They that haue hadde vnderstandynge, haue dealte wysely in wordes, haue vnderstande the truthe and ryghteousnes, and haue founde out wise sentences and iudgements. * For loke not thy lusts, but turne the from thine owne wyll. For if thou geuest thy soule her despyre, it shall make thyne enemyes to laugh the to scoyne. Take not thy pleasure in great voluptuousnes, and meddle not to muche wth thal. Make not to great cheare of the thynges that thou hast wonne by aduantage, least thou fall into pouertye, and haue nothyng in thy purse.

The.xix. Chapter.

Myne and whooredome byngemen to pouerty. In thy words must thou vse dyscrecyon. The difference of the wysdome of God and man. Wherby thou mayest know what is in a man. Correccion muste be used wthout anger.

A labourynge man that is geuen vnto dronkenesse, shall not be rich: and he that maketh not muche of small thynges, shall fall by lytle and lytle. Myne and women make wyse men rennagates, and put men of vnderstanding to reprofe, & he that accompanyeth aduourters shall become a wicked mā. Gorthes & wormes shall haue hym to heritage, yea he shall be set vp to a greater example, and his soule shall be rooted out of the number. * He that is hasty to geue credence is lyghtmynded, and doth agaynst hym selfe. Who so reioyseth in wyckednes, shall be punyshed: he that hateth to be resourmed, his lyfe shall be shortened: and he that abhorreth bablynge of wordes, quencherh wyckednes. He that offenderh agaynst his owne soule, shall repente it: and he that reioyseth in wyckednes, shall be punyshed.

Rehearfe not a wycked and churlyshe worde twyse, & thou shalt not be hyndered. * Shew thy secrets neyther to frende nor foe, and if thou hast offended, tel it not out. For he shall harken vnto the and marcke the, and when he fyndeth oppo<sup>r</sup>tuntye, he shall hate the. * If thou hast heard a worde agaynst thy neyghbour let it be dead wth in the: and be sure thou shalt haue no harm therby. A foole trauayleth wth a worde, lyke as a womanne that is payned wth bearynge of chyldre. Lyke as an arrow shot in a dogges thyngh, so is a word in a foolles heart. * Tel thy frend his faute, least he be ignorant, and saye: I haue not done it: or

Rom. vi. b.
and. xlii. b.

Roma. vi. b.
and. xlii. b.
Eperance

Gene. xix. g.
ill. Be. xi. a.

Dynesle
good leasg.

Eccle. xlii.

Eccle. xxi. b.
3. xxvii. c. d.

Leaie. xli. d.
Ba. xlii. b.

Ph. i. p. be

Jesus the sone of Syrach.

If he haue done it, that he doo it no more.
Reproue thy neyghbour, & he kepe his tōg:
and yf he haue spoken, & he saie it no more.

Tell thy neyghboure his faute, for ofte tymes an offence is made, and geue not credence to every worde: And man fallerh so-metyme wth his tounge, but not wth his wyll. * For what is he that hath not offended in his tounge? Geue thy neyghbour warnyng before thou threaten hym, and geue place vnto the Lorde. * The feare of God is all wysedom, and he that is a right wyse mā, keperh the lawe. As for the doctrine of wyckednesse, it is no wysdome, & the prudence of synners is no good vnderstandyng: it is but wickednes, and abhominacion, and a blaspheminge of wysedome. A symple manne of small vnderstandyng that feareth God, is better the one that hath muche wysdome, and tras-gresserh the lawe of y hveit. A crafty sottel mā can not be wyse, but he is vnrighteous, and wth gyftes be wasteth the open and manifest lawe. * A wycked man can be haue hym selfe humbly, and cā douke wth his heade, and yet is he but a deceyuer wthyn. He hyderh his face, and dysguys-seth it: and because he should nor be knowe, he pveneteth the.

And though he be so weake that he can do the no harme, yet whan he maye synde oportunitie, he shall do some euill. A man may be knowe by his face, & one that hath vnderstandyng may be perceyued by the loke of his countenaunce. A mannes garmente, laughte, and goynge, declare what he is.

The. xx. Chapter.

Of correccion and repentance. Of the gyfte of the wyse man and of the sole. Of lpyng.

Some man reproueh his neygh-bour oft tymes, but not in due season: Agayne, some man holderh his tounge, and he is wyse and discrete. It is muche better to geue warnyng and to reproue, then to beate euell wyll: for he that knowledgeth hym selfe openly, shall be preserued from hurte and destruccyon. Lyke as when a gelded man thorow desyre and luste despyerh a madden, euen so is it wth hym that vseth violence and vnyghteousnes in the lawe: How good a thyng is it, a man that is reproued to shew openly his repentance:
for so shalt thou escape wyllfull synne.

Some man keperh silence, and is found wyse: but he that is not ashamed what he sayeth, is hateful. Some man holdeth his tong, because he hath not the vnderstandyng of the language: and some man keperh silence waytyng a conuenient tyme.
* A wyse man holdeth his tounge tyll he se oportunitie, but a wanton and vndiscrete body shall regard no tyme, he that vseth many wordes, shall hurte his owne soule:
and he that taketh authority vpon hym vnyghtously, shall be hated. Some man hath oft tymes prospered in wicked thin-

The. xx. Chapter.

ges: Agayne, some man getteth much, and hath harme, and losse. There is a gyt is nothyng worth: Agayne ther is some gyfte, whose rewarde is double. Some mā getteth a falle for beyng to proude, and some cometh to worshyppe from lowe estate. Some man bieth muche for a lytle pyce, and must pay for it seuen folde.

A wyse man wth his wordes maketh hym selfe to be loued, but the fauourers of fooles shall be poured oute. The gyft of the vnywyse shall do the no good, for his eyes are seuen folde. He shall geue lytle, and saie he gaue muche: he openeth his mouthe and cryeth oute as it were one that cryeth out wyne. To daye he lenderh, to morowe he asketh it agayne, and suche a māne is to be hated. The foole sayeth, I haue no frende, I haue no thanke for al my good deeds: yea euen they that eate my bread speake no good of me. How oft & of how many shall he be laughed to scorn? He tak-eth a more perplous sal by suche wordes then yf he fel vpon the ground: euen so shall the falles of wycked mē come hastily. In the mouth of hym that is vntaughte, are many vconuenient and vnumere wordes. A wise sentēce shall not be alowed at y mouthe of y sole, for he speaketh it not in due season.

Some man synneth not, because he hath not toberewth al, and in his rest he shall be synned. Some man there is that des-troyerh his owne soule wth shame, and for an vnywyse bodyes sake destroyerh he it, and wth acceptyng of personnes shall he vndo hym selfe. Some man promyseth his frend a gyft for very shame, and getteth an enemy of him for naught. * A lye is a wycked shame in a man: yet shall it be euer in the mouth of the vnywyse. A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lye: but they bothe shall haue destruccio to heritage. The condicions of lyers are vnhonest, & their shame is euer wth them.

A wyse man shall byng hym selfe to bo-noure wth his wordes, and he that hath vnderstandyng shall be sette by amonge greate men. He that tyllerh his londe, shall encrease his heape of corne, he that worketh ryghtousnes, shall be exalted, and he that pleaserh great men, shall escape muche euell. Rewardest & gyftes blynd the eyes of the wyse, and make him dumme that he cannot tel men their fautes. * Wysdome that is hyd, and treasure that is hoozded by, what profyete is in them both? Better is he that keperh his ignorance secret, the a man that hideth his wysdome.

The. xxi. Chapter.

Of the repentaunce of sinne. We may not haue sinne vpon sin. The boldnesse of an heretike.
The end of synners. Of y sole & of the wyse manne. Of hym that curseth the deuill.

Ny sonne yf thou hast synned, do it no more: but praye for thy syn-nes, that they maye be forgiven the. Fle from synne, euen as fle a serpe ne

Eccle. xlii. a
and. xxi. b.
Jacob. iii. a

A commen-
dacio of the feare of god.

It is no wis-dome, that lacketh the
feare of god.

Matt. i. b.

Eccle. xxi. c.

When wee shuld speke
& when not Eccle. xxi. d.

Eccle. xxi. e.

Eccle. xxi. c.
Eccle. xxi. a.

Eccle. vi. a.

Eccle. xvi. e
and. xli. c.

Eccle. xxi. b.
Alyc.

Gene. xli. f.
Dan. ii. g.
Pro. xli. d.

The corrup-
tio of gyfte.

Eccle. xli. c.

Eccle. v. a.
and. xli. c.
Psalm. xi.
Luk. xv.

a serpent: for yf thou comest to nye her, she wyl bite the. * The teeth therof are as the teeth of a Lyon, to slep the soules of men.
The wyckednes of man is a sharpe two edged swerde, whych maketh suche wound-des that they cannot be healed.

Strype and wrongeous dealynge shall waste awaye a mannes goodes, and tho-rowe pryde a rych house shall be broughte to naughte: so the ryches of the proude shall be rooted oute. The prayer of the pooze goeth oute of the mouthe, and commeth vnto the eares, and hys vengeaunce (or defence) shall come, and that hastelye.
Who so hateth to be reformed, it is a token of an vngodlye personne: but he that feareth God, wyl remember hym selfe.
A myghty man is knowen a far of by hys tounge, but he that hath vnderstandynge, perceyuethe that he shal haue a fall.

Who so buildeth hys house wth other mens cost, is lyke one that gathereth stones in wynter. * The congregacion of the vngodlye is lyke stubble gathered together, they ende is a flame of fyre. The waye of the vngodly is set wth stones, but in their ende is hel, darcknes, and paynes. He that keperth the lawe, wyl holde fast the vnderstandynge therof: and the ende of the feare of God, is wysdome. He that is not wyse, wyl not be taught in good: but the vnwise man aboundeth in wyckednes, and where bytternes is, there is no vnderstandynge.
* The knowledge of þ wyse shal flow lyke water that runneth ouer, and hys counsel is a fountayne of lyfe.

Eccle. xvi. The hearte of a foole is lyke a broken bessel: he can keepe no wysedome. When a manne of vnderstandynge heareth a wyse word, he shal commend it, and make much of it. But if a voluptuous man heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therein, but caste it behynde hys backe. The talckynge of a foole is lyke an heuy burthen by the way, but to heare a wyse manne speake, it is a pleasure. Where a doubte is in the con-gregacion, it is asked at the mouthe of the wyse, and they shal ponder hys wordes in theyr heartes. Lyke as a house that is destroyed, euen so is wysedome vnto a foole:
As for the knowledge of the vnwyse, it is but darcke wordes. Doctryne is vnto hym that hath no vnderstandynge, euen as fettlers about hys feete, and lyke manny-cles vpon hys ryght hand. * A foole listeth by hys voyce wth laughte, but a wyse man shal scarce laugh secretly.

Learnynge is vnto a wyse manne a Jewel of golde, and lyke an armelet vpon his ryght arme. A fooly the mans foote is sone in his neighbours house, but one that hath experyence, shalbe ashamed at the person of the myghty. A foole wyl peepe in at the wyndow into the house, but he that is wel nourished wyl stand wythoute. A fooly the man standerh hekenyng at the doore, but he that is wyse, wyl be ashamed.

The lyps of the vnwyse wyl be tellynge foolysh thynges, but the wordes of such as haue vnderstandynge, shalbe wayed in the balaunce. The hearte of foolles is in theyr mouthe, but the mouth of þ wyse is in their hert. When the vngodlye curseth the blasphemer, he curseth his owne soule. * A pryuy accuser of other men shal destile his own soule, and be hated of euery manne: but he that keperth hys tonge and is discrete, shal come to honour.

The xxii. Chapter.

The purgacion of the foolish. Of the fooly the sonne and daughter. we must haue dyscrecion how and to whom we ought to preach: of sorowynge vpon the deade. A foole is not to be muche talked wth al. Inuertes and wrongs do breake frendeshyp and amptye.

Slothful bodye is moulded of a stone of clape: he that toucheth a hym, muste washe hys handes a-gayne. A mysmatured sonne is nelle.

the dyshonoure of the father. A fooly the daughter shall be lytle regarded. A wyse daughter is an herytage vnto her husbād, but she that cometh to dyshonour, byn-geth her father in heaupnes. A daughter that is paste shame, dyshonourerh both her father and her husbāde: the vngodly shal regarde her, but they both shal despyse her.
The playnynge of Gylfpyke is not meete where heupnes is, euen so is the correction and doctryne of wysdome euer vnplea-saunte vnto foolles.

* Who so teacheth a foole, is euen as one that gleweth a potsherde together:
as one that telleth a tale to hym that heareth hym not, and as one that rayseth a mā oute of an heape sleepe. Who so telleth a foole of wysdome, is euen as a man whiche speakerh to one that is a sleepe: When he hath tolde hys tale, he sayeth: what is the matter? When one dyeth, lamentacion is made for hym, because the lyghte sapleth hym: euen so let men mourne ouer a foole for he wanteth vnderstandynge. Make but lytle wepyng because of the deade, for he is come to rest: but the lyfe of the foole is worse then the death. Seuen dayes do mē mourne for him þ is deade, but the lamentacion ouer the vnwyse and vngodly shuld endure al the dayes of theyr lyfe.

Talke not muche wth a foole, and go not wth hym that hath no vnderstanding.
Beware of hym, leaste it turne the to tra-uayle, and thou shalt not be despyled wth hys synne. Depart from hym, and thou shalt synde reste, and shalt not be drawen backe into hys foolyshnes.

What is heauter then leade? And what shuld a foole be called els but leade? * sand, salt, and a lumpe of yron is easper to beare then an vnwyse, fooly the, and vngodlye man. Lyke as the band of woodde bounde together in the foundation of the house can not be lewted, euen so is it wth the hearte that is stablyshed in the thoughte of counsel. The thoughte of the wyse shal

Wh. ii. ney-

Jude. i. c.
Leui. xvi. d.
Eccle. xviii. c.
Leui. xix. d

Stronggth
nelle.

Agaynst a foole.

ec. xxxviii. a

Genes. v.

Pro. xvii. a

neither feare, nor be offended at any tyme, Lyke as a faire playsted wall in a winter house, and an hye buyldynge maye not abyde the wynde and storme, euen so is a fooler herte asrayed in his ymaginacyon:
 he feareth at euerye thyng, and can not endure. * He that nyppeyth a mannes eye, byngeth forth the teares: and he that pry-keth the herte, byngeth forth the meaning and thought. Whoso casterh a stone at the bydes, scayeth them away: and he that blasphemeth his frend, breketh the frendship:
 though thou drestest * a sword at thy frend yett despayre not, for thou mayest come a-gayne to thy frend. If he speake sowerlye feare not, for ye may be agreed together a-gayne: excepte it be þ thou blasphemest him, dysdaine him, open his secretes and wound hym traytorously, for all suche thynges shall dyspue away a frend.

Be saythful vnto thy neyghboure in his pouertye, that thou mayest reioyce also in his prosperitie. Abyde stedfaste vnto hym in the tyme of his trouble, that thou maiest be helye wyth him in his heritage. Like as the vapoure & smoke goeth oure at þ ouen before þ fyre, euen so euil wordes, rebuke & threathynge go before bloudshedding. Be not ashamed to defend thy frend: as for me, I wyl not hyde my face fro hym, though he shuld do me harm. Whosoever heareth it, shal beware of him. Who shall set a watch before * my mouth, & a sure seale vpon my lippes, that I fall not with them, and that my tong destroy me not?

The. xxiii. Chapter.

A prayer agaynst pryde, lechery and glottony.
 Of othes, blasphemye, and of wyse communication. Of the kindes of synnes. Of the kindes procede of aduourty. Of the feare of God.

Alorde, * father & gouernour of my lyfe, leaue me not in their y-maginacion and counsell. Oh let me not fall in suche reprose.

Who wyl kepe my thoughte wyth the scourge, & the doctrine of wysdom in mine herte: that he spare not myne ignorauce that I fall not with the, leaste myne ignoraunces increace, that myne offences be not many in numbre, & that my synnes excede not, leste I fall before myne enemyes, and lo my aduersary reioyce. O Lorde thou father & God of my lyfe, leaue me not in their ymaginacion. O let me not haue a proude looke, but turne away all voluptuousnes fro me. Take fro me the lustes of the body, lette not the desyres of vncleines take hold vpon me, and geue me not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate mynde.

Heare me (O ye chyldren) I wyl geue you a doctrine, howe ye shall order your mouth: who so kepeth it, shal not perishe thorow his lippes, nor be hurte thorow wycked workes. As for the spinner, he shall be taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proude and cursed shall fall therein. * Let not thy mouth be accustomed wyth swea-

rynge, for in it there are many faultes.
 Let not the namynge of God be continuallye in thy mouth: for lyke as a seruante whiche is oft punyshed can not be withoute some soze, euen soo whatsoeuer he be that sweareth and nameth God, shall not be clean purged from syn. A man that vseth muche swerynge, shall be fylled wyth wyckednes, & the plage shall neuer go fro his house. If he begyle his brother, his fault shalbe vpon him, yf he knowledg not his synne, he maketh a double offence: & yf he sweare in vayne, he shall not be found righteous, for his house shalbe full of plagis.

* The wordes of the swearer byngeth deathe (God graunt that it be not found in the house of Jacob) But they that feare God eschue all such, and lye not weltryng in synne. * Use not thy mouth to vn honest and fylthy talkynge, for it is the word of synne. Remember thy father and thy mother, when thou art set among great men, lest God forgette the in thine syght, and least thou dotynge in thy custome, suffer rebuke, and wythe not to haue ben boze, and so curse þ daye of thy natiuite. * The man that is accustomed wyth the wordes of blasphemye, wyl neuer be reformed althe dayes of his lyfe. To synn thysle is to muche, but the thynge byngeth wrath and destruccyon. An hore stomacke can not be quenched (euen lyke a burnynge fyre) tyl it haue swallowed vp some thyng: euen so an vnchaste man hath no reste in his fleshe, tyl he haue kyndled a fyre.

Al bread is swete to an whozemonger, he wyl not leaue of tyl he haue bys purpose. A manne that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayeth: Tushe, who seeth me? I am compassed aboute wyth darckenesse, the walles couer me, no body seeth me: whom nede I to feare? The best wyl not remeber my syns.
 He vnderstandeth not that his eyes se all thynges, for al such feare of men dyspue away the feare of god fro him: for he feareth ouerlye the eyes of men, & consydereth not that the eyes of the Lorde are clearer then the Sunne, beholdynge all the wayes of men and the grounde of the depe, and lokynge euen to mennes hertes in secrete places. The Lorde God knewe all thyngges before, or euer they were made, and after they be broughte to passe also he lo-keth vpon them all. * The same man shall be openly punyshed in the stretes of the cyty, and shalbe chased abroad lyke a yong horse foale: and when he thynketh least vpon it, he shall be taken. Thus shall he be put to shame of euery manne, because he wolde not vnderstand the feare of the lord.
 And thus shal it go also wyth euery wyfe that leaueth her housband, and getteth enheritaunce by a straunge maryage.

First she hath bene vnfaithfull vnto the lawe of the best: Secondly she hath forsaken her owne housbande: Thirdly, she hath

1. Cor. xiii.
 Heb. xiii. c.

Friendship.

Ecc. xii. b.
 1. xii. c. d.

1. Sal. c. xli.

1. Sal. cxii.

Against babelynge and
 euyl toges.

Exo. xx. b.
 Eccl. xvi. d.
 Mat. v. a.

Leuit. xxi.

Eph. v. g.

1. Reg. xvi.

Eccl. xxi. e

The xliii. ch.
 nes of whor-redome and adultery.

Leuit. xxi. b.
 Deut. xxi.

Exod. xx.

hath played the whore in aduoutrye and gotten her chyldren by another man. She shall be brought oute of the congregaciō, and her chyldren shall be loked vpon. Her chyldre shall not take rote: and as for frute, her branches shall bring forth none.

A shamefull reposte shall she leaue behynd her, and her dishonour shall not be put out. And they that remain shall knowe that there is nothing better, then the feare of God: & that there is nothing sweeter then to take hede vnto the commaundementes of the Lord. A great worshyp is it to folowe the Lord, for lōg lyfe shall be receiued of him.

The. xliii. Chapter.

A prayer of wysdome procedyng forth of the mouth of God. Of her workes & place where she regeth.

The prayse of wisdom.

Wysdom shall prayse her selfe and be honored in God, and reioyse in the myddest of hys people: In the congregaciōs of the blyssed shall she open her mouth, and triumphe in the beholdinge of his power. In the myddest of her people shall she be exalted and wonderd at in the holpe fulnes: In the multitude of the chosen shall she be commended, and amonge such as be blyssed, she shall be praysed, and shall saye: I am come oute of the mouth of the hest, first borne before all creatures. I caused the lychtre that shal not, to aryse in the heauen, and couered all the earth as a cloude. My dwellinge is aboue in the heygth, and my seate is in the pylle of the cloude. I my selfe alone haue gone rounde aboute the compasse of heauen, and pearced the grounde of the depe: I haue walked in the floudes of the sea, and haue stand in all the landes. My dominion is in euery people, and in euery naciō, and wyth my power haue I trode down the herts of al, both hie & lowe.

In al these thynges also I sought rest, and a dwellinge in some inherytaunce.

So the creator of all thyngs gaue me a commaundemente, and he that made me, appointed me a tabernacle, & sayd vnto me. Let thy dwellinge be in Iacob, & thine inherytaunce in Israel, & rote thy selfe among my chosen. * I was created fro the beginninge, & before the world, & shall not leaue of vnto the worlde to come. In the holpe inhabitation haue I serued before hym, and so was I stablyshed in Syon. In the holpe citie rested I in lyke maner: and in Ierusalem was my power: I toke rote in an honorable people, euen in the porciō of the Lord and in his heritage, and he sette me in the fulnes of the sainctes. I am set vp an hie lyke a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Tyres tree vpon the mount Hermon: * I am exalted lyke a palme tree in Oades, and as a rose plante in Iericho: As a fayre olyue tree in the feld, and am exalted lyke as a planteyne tree, by the water syde. I haue geuen a smell in the stretes, as the Cinamom and Balme, that hath so good a sauoure: yea, a swete odoure haue I geuen as it were Myrrour of the beste. I haue made my dwellinges to smelle as it were of rospn, Galbanum, of Clowes, and incense, and as Libanus whē it is not betwē down: & mine odoure is as the pure Balm. As the Terebinte haue I stretched out my branches, & my branches at the branches of honour & louing fauoure. * As the vyne haue I brought forth frute, a swete sauour: & my flours at the frute of honour and riches. I am the mother of bewtye, of loue, of feare, of knowledge and of holpe hope. In me is al grace of life & truthe. In me is all hope of lyfe & vertue. Come to me all ye that be desyrous of me, & fill your selves w my frutes: for my spirit is sweeter then honny, & so is my inheritaunce more the the honny combe: the remembraunce of me endureth for euer more. They that eat me, shall haue the more hunger: and they that drinke me, shall thirst more. Who so herkneth vnto me, shall not come to confusiō: & they that worke in me shall not offend. They that make me to be known, shall haue euerylastyng lyfe.

All these thynges are the booke of lyfe, the couenaut of the hest, and the knowledge of the truthe. Moses commaunded the lawe in the preceptes of ryghteousnes: for an heritage to the house of Iacob, and commyted the promyses vnto Israel. Out of Dauid hys seruante he ordered to raise vp a moste myghty king syttinge in the seate of honour for euer more. * I was filled wyth wysdome lyke as the floude of Byson, and as the floude of Tigris when it new frutes are growing.

This bringeth a plenteous understandinge lyke Euphrates, and filleth it vp, as Iordā in the time of harvest. This maketh noutout to breake forth as the lychtre, & as the water Gibon in the harvest. The spirit hath not knowen her perfectly, no more shall the laste seke oute the ground of her. For her thought is fuller then the sea, and her counsaile is profounder then the greates depe. I wysdome haue caste oute floudes. I am as a greates waterbroke out of the ryuer. I am the ryuer Dorix, & as a water condyte am I come oute of the garden of pleasure. I sated: I wyl water the garden of my ryng plates, & fill the frute of my byrthe. So my waterbroke became exceeding greates, & my ryuer approached vnto the sea. For I make doctre to be vnto all mē as lighte as the fyre morninge, and I shall make it to be euer the clearer. I wyl pearse thorow all the lower partes of the earth, I will kepe vnto al such as be a slepe, & lighte al the that put their trust in the Lord. I shall yet poure out doctre lyke as prophesie, & leaue it vnto such as seke after wysdome: and their generaciōs shall I neuer faile vnto the euerylastyng worlde. * Behold I haue not laboured for my selfe onely, but for al that seke after the truthe.

The.

John. xlv. a

John. xliii. a

John. vi. d

Exod. xv. a

and. xliii. a

psal. cxv. b

actes. ii. d

Deut. xxx. a

and. xlix. b

Josh. iii. c

John. viii. e

Exo. xxxi. b

psal. cxv. b

Ecl. xxxiii. b

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

The. xxv. Chapter.

Of the thynges whiche please God, and of the whiche he hateth. Of. ix. thynges that be not to be suspect, and of the tenth: chydre of the malice of a woman.

Gene. xlii. b
Rom. xlii. b

Eccle. xl.
i. Cor. vi.

Eccle. xl. d.

Gene. ii. d.

The thynges there are, that my spirite saoureth, whych be also allowed before God & me. * The vnyte of bretheren, the loue of neyghbours, and man and wyfe that agree well together.

The thynges there be whiche my soule hateth, and I utterly abhorre the lyfe of them: A poore man that is proude. A ryche man that is a lyar, and an olde body that doteth, & is vnychast. If thou haste gathered nothyng in thy youth, what wilt thou fynd then in thine age? How pleasaunt a thyng is it, when gray headed men are discrete, and whē the elders can geue good counsayll? How comly a thyng is wyse dome vnto aged men, yea vnderstanding and counsaile is a glorious thyng. The crowne of old men is to haue much experyence, and the feare of God is their worshyp.

There be. ix. thynges whych I haue iudged in my herte to be happye, and the tenth wyll I tell furthe vnto men wyth my tonge. A man that whyle he lyueth, hath ioye of hys chyldren, and seeth the fall of his enemyes. * Well is hym that dwel- leth with an houswyfe of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen wyth hys tonge, and that hath not bene faine to serue suche as are vnnete for hym. Well is hym that fyndeth a saythfull frende: and wel is him whiche talketh of wysedome to an eare that heareth hym.

Eccle. xlii. a
and. xix.

Jacob. iii. a

A commendation of the feare of the Lorde.

How great is he, that fyndeth wysdome and knowledge? Yet is he not aboue hym that feareth the Lord. * The feare of god hath set it selfe aboue all thynges. Blessed is the man vnto whom it is graunted to haue the feare of God. Vnto whome shall he be lykened, & kepeth it faste? The feare of God is the begynnynge of hys loue, and the begynninge of sayeth is to cleaue faste vnto it. The heauynes of the herte is all punishment, and the wyckednes of a woman goeth aboue all. All punishment and plage is nothyng in comparyson of the plage of the herte *, euen so all wyckednes is nothyng to the wyckednes of a woman.

An enyl wo man.

Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparyson of it that hys euell wyllers do vnto him: and all vengeance is nothyng to the vengeance of the enemy.

Pro. xxi. c.

There is not a more wycked head then the heade of the Serpent, and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman. * I wyll rather dwel wyth a Lyon and dragg, then to kepe house wyth a wycked wyfe. The wyckednesse of a woman chaungeth her face, she shall moue her countenaunce as it were a Beer, and as a sacke shall she shewe it amonge the neyghbours. Her housbande is broughte to shame amonge

The. xxv. Chapter.

hys neyghbours, and when he heareth it, it maketh hym to sygh. All wyckednes is but lytle to the wyckednes of a woman, the porcion of the vngodly shall fall vpon her.

Lyke as to clymme vp a sandy way is to the fete of the aged, euen so is a wyse ful of wordes to a styll quyet man.

Eccle. xlii. b
ii. Reg. xi. a
and. xlii. a.

* Loke not to narrowly vpon the betwye of a woman, lest thou be prouoked in desyre toward her. The wrath of a woman is dishonoure and greate confusion. If a woman get the mastery, then is she contrary to her husbände. A wycked wyfe maketh a soze hert: an heauy countenaunce, and a dead wound. * Of the woman came the begynninge of synne, and thowt we her we all are dead. Geue the water no passage, no not a lytle, neyther geue a wycked woman her wyll. If she walke not after thy hande, she shall confounde the in the syght of thy enemyes. Cut her of then from thy fleshe, that she do not alway abuse the.

Gene. iii. a.

The. xxvi. Chapter.

The prayse of a good woman. Of the feare of three thynges & of the fourth. Of the Ielouse and dyoncken woman. Of two thynges that cause sorow, and of the thyng whiche moueth wrathe. It is harde to fynde a mar- chaunte wythout disceate or a tauerne wyth- oute synne in hys tonge.

Happy is the man that hath a vertuous wyfe, for the nymbre of his peates shall be double. An honest woman maketh her wyfe.

A good

housband a ioyfull man, & shall fil the yeres of his life in peace. A vertuous woman is a noble gyfte, which shall be geue for a good porcyō vnto suche as feare God. Whether a man be ryche or poore he may haue euer a merye herte, and a chearefull countenaunce. There be three thynges that my hert feareth, and my face is afrayed of the fourth. Treason in a cytye, a sedicious people, & noysome tonges, all these are he- uyer then the deathe. But whē one is gelous ouer his wyfe, it byngeth payne & sorowe vnto the herte: and a woman that telleth out al thynges, is a scourge of the tong. * When one hath an euyl wyfe, it is euen as when an vnylike payre of oren must drawe together: he that getteth her, getteth a scorpion. A dyoncken woman is a great plage, for she can not couer her owne shame.

Judg. xvi.

The whozedome of a woman maye be knownen in the pryde of her eyes and eyeliddes. If thy daughter be not shamefast, hold her straytelye, lest she abuse her selfe thowt ouermuch libertye. Beware of all the dishonesty of her eyes, and maruell not if she do agaynst the. Lyke as one that goeth by the way and is thyrstye, so shall she open her mouthe, and dryncke of euerye nerte water that she may get. By euerye hedge shall she set her doune, and open her quyet agaynst euery arrowe. * A lo- uynge wyfe reioyseth her housbande, and Eccle. xlii.

feareth

fedeth hys bones wyth her wysedome. A woman of fewe wordes is a gyfte of God, and to a well nourished mynde may no thyng be compared.

An honest and manerly woman is a gift aboue other gyftes, and ther is no weight to be compared vnto a mynde that can rule it selfe. Lyke as the Sunne when it aplyeth, is an ornamente in the hye heauē of the Lord, so is a vertuous wife the bewtye of all her house. * Lyke as the cleare lyght is vpon the holy candelstycke, so is the bewty of the face vpon an honest woman. * Lyke as the golden pyllers are vpon the sockettes of syluer, so are the fayre legges vpon a woman that hath a constante mynde. Perpetuall are the foundations that be layed vpon a whole stony rocke, so are the commaundementes of God vpon an holy woman.

There be two thynges that greue my hert, & in the thyrde is a dyspleasure come vpon me. When an expert man of warre suffereth scarfenes and pouerty. Whē men of vnderstandynge and wysedome are not let by: And when one departeth fro ryghteuousnes vnto synne. Who so doth suche, the Lord hath prepared hym to the sword. There be two maner of thynges, whiche me thyncke to be harde and perylous. A marchaunte canue not lyghtlye keepe hym from wronge, neither a traueener him selfe from synne.

The.xxviii. Chapter.

Of the poore that woulde be riche. The probacion of the man that feareth God. The vncoustantenesse of a foole. The secretes of a frende are not too be vttered. The wycked pynagyneth euil, whiche returneth vpon hym selfe.

1. Tim. vi. p. 10. xxi. a.

B* Ecause of pouertie haue many one offended: and he that seeketh to be ryche, tourneth hys eyes asyde. Lyke as a naile in a wall sticketh fast betwixt two stones, euē so doth synne stycke betwixt the byer & the seller. If he holde hym not diligently in the feare of the Lorde, hys house shall soone be ouerthrowen. Lyke as when one sylfeth, the filthynes remayneth in the syue: So remayneth there some vncleane thyng in the thought of man. * The ouerpryncer of the porters vessel, so doth the tacyon of trouble tye ryghteous men.

Trouble. Sapi. iii. a. Per. iii. d. Mat. vii. b.

* The tree of the sylde is known by hys frute, so is the thought of mans hert known by hys wordes. Praple no man excepte thou haue hearde hym, for a man is known by hys wordes. If thou folowest righteuousnes, thou shalt get her, and put her vpon the as a fayre garmēt. And thou shalt dwel wyth her and she shall defende the for euer, and in the daye of knowlege thou shalt fynd stedfastnes. The bydes resorte vnto thei like, so doth the truer turne vnto the that be occupied wythal. The Lyon wayteth for the praye: so do

synnes lurcke vpon the workers of wyckednes. The talkyng of hym that feareth God, is nothyng but wysedome, as for a foole, he changeth as the Moone. If thou be among the vndiscrète, * kepe thy word to a conueniente tyme, but amonge suche as be wyse, speake on hardelpe. The talkyng of fooles is abhomyuacyon, and theyr spozte is voluptuousnes and mynnurtoure. Muche sweatinge maketh the hearte to stande by, & to stryue wyth such, stoppeth the eares. The strife of the proud is bloud sheddyng, and theyr blasphemynge is heuie to heare. * Who so discovereth secretes, leseth hys credence, and findeth no frende after hys wyl. Loue thy frende and bynde thy selfe in faithfulness wyth hym: but if thou bewrayest hys secretes, þu shalt not get hym agayn: For lyke as the man þu destroyest hys enemy, so is he also that dealeth falsly in the frendshipp of hys neygboare.

Rom. xii. b. Col. iii. a.

Eccl. xiii. b.

Eccl. xvi. b. and. xxi. d. Frendship.

Lyke as one that letteth a byde goe oute of hys hand, can not take her again: Euen so thou, if thou gyue ouer thy frend, thou canste not get hym agayn: Yea, thou canste not come by hym, for he is to farre of. He is vnto the as a Roo escaped oute of the snare, for hys soule is wounded. As for woundes, they maye be boilde by as gayne, and an euil word may be reconcyled: but who so bewrayeth the secretes of a frende, there is no more hope to be had vnto hym. He that wycketh wyth the eyes pynagyneth some euil, & no man shall take hym from it. When thou arte presente, he shall hylye commend & prayse thy wordes: but at the laste he shall turne hys tale, and flaunders thy sayinge. Many thynges haue I hated, but nothyng so euill, for the Lorde hym selfe also abhorreth suche one.

1. Ion. x. b.

Who so casteth a stone on hye, it shall fall vpon hys owne heade: and he that smyteth wyth gyle, woundeth hym selfe. * Who so dyggeth a pyt, shall fall therein, & he that layeth a snare shall be taken in it hym selfe. Who so geueth a wycked noyse some counsaile, it shall come vpon hym selfe, & he shall not knowe from whence. The proud blasphemers are scornfull, but vengeance lurketh for them as a Lyon. They that reioyse at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare, anguysh of hert shall consume them before they dye. Anger and rigoroufenes are two abhominable thynges, and the vngodlye hath the both vpon hym.

Pro. xxi. b. 1. he. vii. b. Psal. vii. b. 1. Jo. xxi. a. Eccl. x. a.

The.xxviii. Chapter.

We ought not to desyre vengeance, but to forgiue the offence. Of the tonge, and of the daungers therof.

Man that seeketh vengeance, shall fynde vengeance of the Lorde whiche shall surely kepe hym his synnes. Forgiue thy neygboare Deu. xxi. a. Rom. xii. a. Math. v. b. vi. b. and. xxi. b.

Deu. xxi. a. the

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

the hurte that he hath done the, and so shall thy synnes be forgiven the also, whē thou prayest. A man that beareth hatred againste another, how darre he desire forgiveness of God? He sheweth no mercie to a manne whiche is lyke hym selfe, how darre he aske forgiveness of his synnes? If he that is but flesh beareth hatred and kepeth it, who wyl intreate for his synnes? Remember the ende, and lette enymptie passe, whiche seeketh deathe and destruction, and abyde thou in the commaundementes. Remember the commaundemente so shalte thou not be rygourous over thy neyghboure. Thynke vpon the couenaunte

W of the best, and forgive thy neyghbours ignorance, * Beware of stryfe, and thou shalte make thy synnes fewer. For an angry man kyndleth variance, and the vngodlye dysquieteth frends, and putteth dyscorde amonge them that be at peace.

Eccle. viii. a Against
peace breas-
kers.
Pro. xvi. c

The more woode ther is, the more vehemente is the fyre: and the myghter that men be, the greater is the wrath: and the longer the stryfe endureth, the more it burneth.

An hastye brawelynge kyndleth a fyre, and a hastye stryfe sheareth bloude. If thou blotte the sparke, it shall burne: If thou spyt vpon it, it shall goo forthe, and both these go out of thy mouth. The slanderer, & double tonged is cursed, for many one that be frends setteth he at variance. The double tonge hath dysquieted manye one & draweth the fro one lād to another, strōg cities hath he broken down, & ouerthrowne the houses of great men. The thrid tonge hath caste oute an honeste woman, and robbed them of theyre laboures. Who so hearkeneth vnto suche, shall neuer fynde rest and neuer dwel safely. The stroke of the rod maketh vdders, but a stroke of the tong smiteth the bones in sunder. Ther be manye that haue perished w the swerde, but manye mo thowm the tong.

Eccle. xxi. d

Wel is hym that is kepte from an euil tong, and commeth not in the dāger thereof, whiche draweth not the pocke of such, and in not bounde is the bandes of it.

For the pocke thereof is of yron, and the bande of it of stele, the deathe thereof is a very euell deathe: hell were better for one, then suche a tonge. But the fyre of it may not oppresse them that feare God, and the flame thereof maye not burne them.

Suche as forsake the Lord, shall fall therein: and it shall burne them, and no man shall be able to quenche it. It shall fall vpon them as a Lion, and deuour them as a leopard. Thou hedgest thy goodes w thornes: why dost thou not rather make dores and barres for thy mouth?

Thou weyest thy gold & syluer: why dost thou not wey thy wordes also vpon a bal- lance? Beware that thou slide not in thy tong, and so fall before thyne enemies that lay wapt for the.

The. xxix. Chapter.

The. xxix. Chapter.

Howe we ought to lend oure mony, and do almes. Of a saythfull man answeringe for his frende. Of lyberalitye and hospitalite.

Who so wyl shewe mercy, let hym lende vnto his neyghboure, and he that is able, let hym kepe the commaundemente. Lende vnto thy neyghboure in tyme of his nede: and paye thou thy neyghboure agayne in due season. Keepe thy worde and dele sayth- fullye wth hym, and thou shalte alwaye fynde the thyng that is necessary for the. There haue be many, that when a thyng was lent them, rekened it to be sounde, & made them trauail and laboure, that had helped them. Whyle they receyue anye thyng they kysse the handes of suche as gyue them, and for theyr neyghbours good they humble theyr voyce. But when they shoulde paye agayne, they kepe is backe, and gyue euell wordes, and make manye excuses by reasonne of the tyme: and though he be hable, yet geuerh he scarce the halfe agayn, and rekeneth the other to be sounde. If he withholde not his monye, yet hath he an enemye of hym, & that vnderstode. He payeth hym wth cursing and rebuke, & geuerh hym euil wordes for his good dede. There be many one whiche are not glad for to lend, not because of euell, but they feare to lese the thyng that they lend. Yet haue thou patience w the simple, and withhold not mercy fro hym. Helpe the poore for the com- mandermentes sake, and lette hym not goo empty from the, because of his necessity. Lese thy mony for thy brother and neygh- bours sake, & burpe it not vnder a stone, where it rusteth and corrupteth. * Ba- ther thy treasure after the commaunde- mente of the best, and so shall it bynge the more profite then golde. Laye vp thy almes in the hand of the poore, and it shall kepe the from al euil. A mannes almes is a purse wth hym, and shall kepe a mans fauour as a ppyll of an eye: & afterwarde shall it arise, & pay every mā his rewarde vnto his head. It shall fight for a agaynst thyne enemyes, better the a shilde of a gy- aunt, or spere of the myghty.

Leuit. vi. d
Deut. xv.

Math. vi. e
Luke. xii. d
i. Timo. vi
Dan. iiii. d
Luk. xi. d.
Actes. x. a.
Eob. iiii. d

* A good honest man is suerty for his neyghboure, but a wycked personne let- teth hym come to shame. Forget not the frendshyppe of thy suertye, for he hath geuen his soule for the. The vngodlye despiseth the good dede of his suertye, and the vntthankfull & ignorant leauerh his suertye in daunger. Some man promyseth for his neyghboure: & when he hath losse his honestye, he shall forsake hym. Sure- tyshyppe hath destroyed manye a ryche manne, and remoued them as the waues in the sea. Gyghtye people hath he dys- uen awaye, and caused them to wander in straunge countreys. An vngodlye man transgressinge the commaundement of the

Suertye
Myp.

the Lorde, shall fall into an euell suerte: hypppe: and though he force hym selfe to gette oute, yet shall he fall into iudgement. Help thy neyghbour out after thy power, and beware that þy selfe fall not in such dette. * The chyele thynge that kepeth in the lyfe, is water and breade, clothynge and lodgyng to couer the shame.

Better is it to haue a poore lyfynge in a mannes owne house, then delycate fare amonge the straunge. Be it lytle or muche that thou haste, holde the cōtent wyth all, and thou shalt not be blamed as a vagabonde: for a myserable life is it to go from house to house: and where a man is fremd, he darre not opē his mouth. Though he one be lodged and haue meate and dryncke, yet shall he be taken as vnworthye, and heare many bytter roughe words, namely thus: Go thy way thou straunger, and prepare a table for thy selfe, and feede me also of þy thou haste. Away thou straunger (so that he regardeth his honoure nomore) my brother cometh into my house, and so he releth hym the necessitie of hys house. These thynge are heauy to a man that hath vnderstandynge: namely, the forbyddynge of the house, and that the lender casteth hym in the tette.

The. xxx. Chapter.

Of the correccion of chyldren, of the comynody of health. Death is better thē a sorowful lyfe. Of hysd wisdom. Of the loye and sorowe of the hert.

Chastityng of chyldren Pro. xiii. c.
and. xlii. b
Pro. xlii. c
and. xlii. b

Deut. vi. a.

Who so loueth hys chyld, holdeth hym styll vnder correccion that he maye haue loye of hym afterwarde, and that he grepe not after hys neyghbours dozes.

He that teacheth his sonne, shall haue ioy in hym, and nede not to be ashamed of him amonge hys aquayntaunte. * Who so enforseth and teacheth hys sonne, greueth the enemye: and before hys frendes he may haue loye of hym. Though the father dye, yet is he as though he wet not dead: for he hath lefte one behynde hym that is lyke hym. In hys lyfe he sawe hym, and had loye in hym, and was not sorie in hys death, neither was he ashamed before the enemyes. For he lefte behynde hym an auenger agaynst hys enemyes, and a good doer vnto the frendes. For the lyfe of chyldren he shall bynde the woundes together, and hys herte is greued at euerye crye. An vntamed horse wyll be hard, and a wanton chyld wyll be wyllfull. If thou bynge vp thy sonne delycatelye, he shall make the afraied: and if thou playe wyth hym, he shall bynge the to heuynes.

Laughe not wyth hym, lest thou wepe wyth hym also, & lest thy teth be set on edge at the laste. * Seue hym no lybertye in hys youthe, & excuse not hys foly. Bowe down his neck while he is yong, hit hym vpon þy sides while he is yet but a chyld, lest he wax stubburn, & geue no more force of the & so shalt þy haue heuynes of soule. Teach thy chyld, & be diligent therein, lest it be to thy shame. Better is þy poore beyng whole and stronge, then a man to be ryche, & not to haue hys healthe. Healthe and welfare is aboue all gold, and a whole body aboue al treasure. There is no ryche aboue a sounde bodye, and no ioye aboue the ioye of þy hearte. Deathe is better then a wretched lyfe, or continuall sycknesse. * The good thynge þy are put in a close mouth, are lyke as when meat is laped vpon the graue.

The prayse of health.

Against couetous men.

What good doeth the offerynge vnto an Idoll? For he can neither eate, taste, nor smell. Euen so is he that is chased of the Lorde, and beareth the rewardes of iniquyte. He seeth wyth hys eyes, and groweth lyke a gelded manne, that lyeth wyth a byrgyne, and sygheth. * Seue not ouer thy mynde into heuynes, and bere not thy selfe in thynne owne counsell. The ioye and cheatefulnesse of the herte is the lyfe of manne, and a mannes gladnes is the prolongynge of hys dayes. Loue thynne own soul, and conforte thynne hert: as for sorowe and heuynes, dryue it farre fro the, * for heuynes hath slayn many a man, and byngeth no profit: zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the life: carefules and sorow bynng age before the tyme. Vnto a mery hert euery thynge hath a good tast that he eateth.

Eccle. xx. a.
Pro. xli. b
Eccle. x. b.
Pro. xlii. b.

II. Cor. vii.

The. xxxi. Chapter.

We ought to geue delygent hede to honesty. Of them that take payne to gather ryches. The prayse of a rycheman wythout a fante. We oughte to spee dyronkenes and folowe sobernes.

Inauayle and carefules for ryches taketh awaye the slepe, & maketh the fleshe to consume. When one lyeth & taketh care, he waketh euerye wy, lyke as great sicknes breaketh the slepe. The riche hath greute labour in gatherynge ryches togyther, and then wyth the pleasure of hys ryches he taketh his reste and is refreshed. But who so laboureth and prospereth not, he is poore: and though he leaue of, yet is he a begger. He that loueth ryches, shall not be iustified: and who so foloweth corrupcion, shall haue inoughe thereof. * Many one are come in greute myffortune by the reason of gold, and haue sounde theyr destruction before the. It is a tree of sallynge vnto them that offer it vp, and all suche as be folye fall therein. Blessed is the ryche, whiche is founde withoute blemyshe, and hath not gō after gold, ner hoped in mony and treasures. Where is there suche one, and we shall commend hym, and cal hym blessed, for greute thynge doeth he among hys people. Who so is tried & founde perfecte in suche thynge, shall be commended and praysed. Who myght offend, & hath not offended? Who coulde do euell, and hath

i. Tim. vi.
Couetousnes.

Eccle. viii.

Experi. hath not done it? Therefore shall his good be stablished, & the whole congregation shall declare his almes. * If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wyde upon it, & make not many wordes. Remember that an euell eye is a shrew.

Math. vii. What thyng created is worse then a wycked eye? therefore weperth it before euery mannes face. Laye not thyne hand upon euery thyng that thyne eye seeth, and stryue not wyth hym in the dish. Wonder by thy selfe what thy neyghbour wold sayne haue, & be discrete in euery pointe.

Eate the thyng that is sette before the mannerlye, as it becommeth a man, and eate not to muche, lest thou be abhorred. Leave þ of fyrst of all because of nourtour, lest thou be he wth no man may satysfye, whyche maye turne to thy decay. When thou syttest amonge manye menne, reach not thyne hand out fyrst of all. How wel contente is a wyse manne wyth a lytle wyne? so þ in slepe thou shalt not be sycke thereof, ner fele anye payne. A swete whol some slepe shall such one haue, & feele no inward greife. He ryseth by by tymes in þ morning, & is wel at ease in him selfe. But an vnfaciable eater sleperth vnquyetly, & hath ach & payn of the body. If thou selest that thou haste eatē to much, aryse, go thy way, cast it of thy stomacke, & take thy rest.

Rom. xii. b. Why sonne heare me and despyse me not, and at the laste thou shalt fynde as I haue tolde the. In all thy works be diligent and quicke, so there shall no spekenes happen vnto þ. Who so is liberal in deling out his meate manye men shall blesse hym & prayse hym w thei lippes, and the same is a sure token of his loue & faythe. But he þ is vnfaithful in meate, the whole cytie shall cōplayne of hym: and þ is a sure experience of his infydelty and wickednes. We not þ a wyne bibber, for wyne hath destroyed many a man. The fore proueth the harde pron, euen so doeth wyne proue the hertes of the proud when they be droncken.

Experi. Wyne soberly dronken quykenerth the life of man. If thou drynckest measurably, thou shalt be temperate. What lyfe is it, that maye contynue wythoute wyne? Pro. xiii. a. Wyne was made from the begynnyng to make menne gladd (and not for drunkennes.) Wyne measurably dronken is a reioysynge of the soule and bodye. But if it be dronken wyth excess, it maketh byternes and sorowe vnto the mynde. Drunkennes fylleth the mynde of the folke wyth shame and ruyne, mynnysheth the strength and maketh wounds. * Rebuke not thy neyghbour at the wyne, and despyse hym not in his myrthe. Geue him no despyrefull wordes, and preasse not vpon hym wyth contrarie saynges.

Eccle. xi. The xxxiii. Chapter.

Of the discrecion and prayse of the preacher, and of the hearer. Of the feare, sayth, and confidence of God.

F thou be made a ruler, pryde not thy selfe therein, but be thou as one of the people. Take diligente care for them, and loke well thereto: and when thou hast done all thy dewty, sitte the doune, that thou mayest be merce wyth them, and receyue a crowne of honoure. Talke wysely and honestly, for wisdom becommeth the ryght well. Synder not musycke. * Speake not, wher ther is no audyence: and potyre not forth wysedome out of tyme, at an importunyte. Lyke as the Carbuncle stone shineth that is set in gold, so doth a song garrysh the wyne feast: and as the Smaragde that is set in golde, so is the sweetness of musycke by the myrth of wyne.

Why sonne man, speake that becommeth the, and that is profytable, and yet scarce when thou art thyse asked. Comprehende muche wyth fewe wordes. In many thynges be as one that is ignorant, geue care, and holde thy tounge wythall. * If thou be amonge men of hyper authority, desyre not to compare thy selfe vnto them: & when an elder speaketh, make not thou manye wordes therein. Before the thounder goeth lyghtenynge, and before nourtoure, and shamelastnes, goeth loue and fauoure. Stande by by tymes, & be not the last: but get the home sone, and there take thy pastyme, and do what thou wylte: so that thou do no euell, and despyse no man. But for all thynges geue thakes vnto hym that hath made the, and repleynshed the wyth his goodes.

Who so feareth the Lorde, wyl receyue his doctryne: and they that gette them to hym by tymes, shall fynd grace. He that sekerth the law, shall be fylled wythall: As for him that is but fained, he wyl be offended therat. They that feare the Lorde, shall fynd the iudgement, and they rightuousnes shall be kindled as a lyghte. An vngodly man wyl not be reformed, but can helpe hym selfe wyth the exaple of other in his purpose. A man of vnderstandynge despyseth no good councel: but a wyld & proud body hath no feare. Wy sonne, do nothing wythoute aduysemente, so shall it not repent the after the dede. Go not in the way wher thou mayst fal, nor wher thou mayst stumble agaynst the stone. Geue not thy selfe into a laborious slippery way, & beware of thyne owne chyldren. In all thy workes put thy trust in god fro thy whole hert, for that is the keepynge of the comādemētes. Who so beleueth Goddes word takerth hede to the commaundementes: & he that putteth his trust in the Lorde shall wante nothyng.

The xxxiii. Chapter.

The deliuerance of hym that feareth God. The answere of the wise. The lyttel descretion of a foole. Man is in the hande of God, as the earthe is in the hande of the potter. We oughte not to despyse oure selues, to become in ieste to other.

The

The feare
of God.

Here shall no euell happen vnto him that feareth God: but whē he is in temptacion, the Lorde shall deliuer hym. A wyse man bareth not the law, but an hypocrite is as a hypp in a ragyng water. A man of vnder standynge geueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the law is saythful vnto him.
Be sure of the matter, then talke thereof.
Be friste wel instructe, then makest thou geue answer. * The herte of the foolysch is lyke a cartewhele, and hys thoughtes run about like the exelre. Like as a wylde horse that neieth vnder euery one that sitteth vpon hym: so is it wth a scoynesfull frende. Why doth one day excel another, seruage all the dayes of the yere come of the Sunne? The wysedome of the Lorde hath so parted them a sunder, and so hath he ordeyned the tymes and solempne fea-stes. Some of them hath he chosen and halowed before other dayes. * And al men are made of the grounde, and oute of the earthe of Adam.

In the multitude of science hath the Lorde sunoered theym, and made theyr wayes of dyuerse fashyons. Some of them hath he blessed, made muche of theym, hallowed theym, and claped them to hym selfe. But some of them hath he cursed & broughte them lowe, and put them oute of theyr estate. * Lyke as the clay is in the potters hand, and al the ordynge thereof at hys pleasure: so are men also in þ hāde of hym that made them, so that he maye geue the as it lykerh hym beste. * Agaynst euell is good, and agaynst death is lyfe: so is þ yngodly agaynst such as feare God.
Beholde thus al the workes of the Dyest, and there are euery * two agaynst two, & one set agaynst another. I am abashed by laste of all, as one that gathereth after in harueste. In the gyftes of God, in hys blessynge I am increased, and haue filled my wyne presse, lyke a grape gatherer.

* Beholde, howe I haue not laboured on-lye for my selfe, but for al such as loue iustice and wysedome.

Heare me, O ye greute men of the people, and harken wth your eares ye rulers of the congregaciō. * Beue not thy soune and wyfe, thy brother and frynd, power ouer the whyle thou lyuest: and geue not away thy substance and good to another, lest it repent the, and thou be sayne to beg therefore thy selfe. As long as thou lyuest and hast brethe, let no man chaunge the:
For better it is thy children to praye the then that thou shouldest be sayne to loke in theyre handes. In all thy workes be excellente, þ thy honoure be neuer stained.

At þ tyme when thou shalt end thy dayes, and fruth thy lyfe, destitute thyne inheritance. The sadder, the whip and the but-ten belongeth vnto the. * Great, correction, and worke vnto the seruant.

* If thou set thy seruant to laboure, thou shalt fynde rest: But if thou let hym go ydel, he shall seke lybertye. The pocke and the whyppe bowe downe the necke, but tame thou thy euell seruaunte wth bondes and correction. Sende hym to laboure, that he go not ydle. For ydelnesse bryngeth much euell. Set hym to worcke for that belongeth vnto hym, and becommeth hym wel. If he be not obedient, bind hys fete: but do not to much vnto hym in any wyse, and wthout discrecyon do nothyng. If thou haue a (saythfull) seruaunt let hym be vnto the as thyne owne soule, for in bloude hast thou gotten hym. * If thou haue a seruaunte, holde hym as thy selfe, for thou haste nede of hym as of thy selfe. If thou increatest hym euell, and kespest him hard, and makest hym to be proud and to renne away from the, thou canst not tel what way thou shalt seke hym.

The xxxiii. Chapter.
Of dreames, diuinations, and enchauntementes. We oughte to confute vayne hope and lynge. The prayse of them that feare God.
Of dyuers workes of men. God doeth not allowe the workes of an vnfaithfull man.

A wyse people begyle them sel-ues wth vayne and disceitfull hope, & soles truste in dreames.
Who so regardeth dreames, is lyke hym that wyl take hold of a shadow, and folow after þ wynd: Euē so is it wth the appearynge of dreames. Before the face is the lyknes of a face. Who can be clensed of the vncleane? Or what truerth can be spokē of a liar? Sothsayng, wyrccraft, sorcery and dreamynge, is but vanetye: lyke as when a woman traunyleth wth chyldre, and hath many fantasies in her hert. Wher as such visions come not of God, sette not thyne herte vpon them:
For dreames haue disceyued many a man, & then sayled that put their truste therein.

The law shall be fulfilled wthout lies, & and wysedome is sufficient to a saythfull mouth. A wyse man that is well instructe understandeth muche: and he that hath good experience, cā talke of wysdome. He that hath no experience, knoweth little: & he that erreth causeth much wyckednes.
When I was yet in erreure, I lerned muche also: yea, I was so lerned that I could not expresse it all, and came ofte in perell of death ther ouer, tyll I was deli-uered from it. Now I se, that they which feare God, haue the right spryt: for they haue standeth in hym that can helpe them.
Who so feareth the Lord, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afrayed, for the Lord is his hope and comfort.

Blessed is the soule of hym that feareth the Lorde: In whō putteth he hys truste who is hys strengthe. For the eyes of þ Lord haue respect vnto them that loue hym. He is their mighty protectiō, & strong gresser: A defence for the heate, a refuge for the hate none day, a succoure for stomblynge,
and

Roma. ix. c

II. Cor. vii. c

Some rede
it. agaynst
one.

eccl. xxi. i. b

lose not thy libertye

Howe to vse seruants.

Eccl. vii. a

A Dreames

Eccl. xxi. i. b

Eccl. xxi. i. b

Eccl. xxi. i. b

Eccl. xxi. i. b

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

The. xxxv. Chapter.

and an helpe for fallynge. He setteth vp the soule, and lighteneth the eyes: He geueth health, lyfe and blessinge. * He that geueth an offering of vnrighuous good, his offeringe is refused: and the scornful dealinges of the vnrighuous please not God. * God hath no delite in the offeringes of the vngodlye, neither may synne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations. Who so bringeth an offeringe out of the goods of the poore, doth euen as one þat kylleth the sonne before the fathers eyes.

The bread of the nedeful is the lyfe of the poore: he that defraudeth hym therof, is a man of bloude. Who so robbeth his neyghboure of his lyuing, doeth as great syn as though he slew hym to death. * He þat defraudeth the laborer of his hyre, is a bloud shedder. When one buildeth and another breaketh doune, what profyt haue they then but labour? When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce wyl the Lorde heare? He that washeth hym selfe because of a deade bodye, and then toucheth the deade agayne, what doeth his washing? * So is it w a man that fasteth for his synnes, and doth the agayne: who wyl heare his prayer? Or what doth his fastynge helpe hym?

The. xxxv. Chapter.

It is well done to pray, and to doo sacrifice. The prayer of the fatherlesse, and of the widowe and of hym that humbleth hym selfe.

Do so keperth the lawe, byngeth offeringes ynough. He that holdeth faste þat comaundemente, offereth the ryght healthfull offeringe. He that is thankfull and recompenseth, offereth synne floure. * Who so is mercyfull and geueth almes, that is the righte thanke offeringe. God hath pleasure when one departeth from synne: and to forsake vnrighuousnes, recōpleth vs wyth hym.

Thou shalt not appere emptye before the Lorde, for al such is done because of þat comaundemente. The offeringe of the ryghtuous maketh the auter fat, and a swete smelle is it before the Ghest. * The offeringe of the ryghtuous is acceptable vnto God, and shall neuer be forgotten. Geue God his honoure wyth a chearfull eye, and kepe not backe the fyrstlynges of thy handes. * In all thy gyftes shewe a mercy countenance, and halow thy ryches vnto God, accordyng as he hath enriched and prospered the: and loke what thyne hand is able, that geue wyth a chearefull eye: for the Lorde recompenseth, and geueth the seven tymes as muche agayne.

Geue no vnrighuous gyfts, for such wyl he not receyue. * Beware of wrongeous offeringes, for the Lorde is a ryghtuous iudge: and regardeth no mans person, he accepteth not the personne of the poore: but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

He despiseth not þat desyre of the fatherles, nor of the wyddowe, whē she poureth oute her prayer before hym. Doth not God se the teares that renne doune the chekes of the wyddowe? Or heareth he not the complaynte, ouer suche as make her to wepe? Who so serueth God after his pleasure, shalbe accepted, and his prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes. * The prayer of hym that humbleth hym selfe, goeth thorow the cloudes, tyl she come nye. She wyl not be comforted, ner go her way, tyl the best God haue respecte vnto her, geue true sentence, and persourme the iudgemente. And the Lorde wyl not be slacke in comynge, nor tary longe: tyl he haue smitten in sonder the backes of the vnmerryful, and auenged hym selfe of the Heathē: tyl he haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the scepter of the vnrighuous: tyl he geue euerye man after his workes, and rewarde them as they haue deserued: tyl he haue delpyered his people, maynetayned their cause, and relosed them in his mercye. O howe sayre a thyng is mercye in the tyme of angurthe and trouble? It is lyke a cloude of carne, that cometh in the tyme of a drouthe.

The. xxxvi. Chapter.

A prayer to God in the person of all sayethfull men, with the prayse of a good woman.

Aue mercye vpon vs, O Lorde thou God of all thynges. Haue respecte vnto vs, shewe vs the lyght of thy mercyes, and send thy feare amonge the Heathen and strangers, whych seke not after the: þat they may know, how that ther is no God but thou, and that they maye shewe thy wonderous workes. * Lyst vp thine had ouer the outlandyshe Heathen, that they may leerne to knowe thy myghte and power. Lyke as thou arte halowed in vs before them, so bynge to passe that thou mayeste be magnified also in them before vs: that they may knowe the, lyke as we knowe the. For there is none other God, but onely thou O Lorde. Renew thy tokens and chaunge thy wonderous workes. Shewe thyne hande and thy ryght arme gloryously. Rase vp thy indignacion, & powre oute thy wrathe. Take away the aduersary, & smite the enemye. Make the tyme shorte, remember thy couenaunte, that thy wonderous workes may be praysed. Let the wraich of the fyre consume the that lyue so careles: and let the perpysh that doth the people hurt. Smite in sonder þat head of the wynces that be our enemyes, and say: ther is none other but we.

* Gather al þat tribes of Iacob together agayne, that they may knowe howe that ther is none other God but onely thou, þat they maye shewe thy wonderous workes, and be thy people, and heritage, lyke as from the begynnyng. O Lord haue mercie vpon the people that hath thy name, & vpon Israel

Isa. xxi. d.

Isa. xvi. a.

Deu. xxi. c. Eccl. vii. c.

num. xix. d.

ii. Pet. ii.

Jer. vii. c. True sacrifices. Phil. ii. i. c.

Heb. xiii. f. Phil. iiii. c.

Exod. xxxiii.

Gene. llii.

ii. Cor. ix. b. Job. iiii. b.

God is hater of al iniustice.

Jud. iiii. b. Exod. iiii. b.

Geno. iiii. Actes. x. a.

Jerem. x.

A prayer for the godlye.

Exo. xlii. f.

1. Par. vi. g.

Num. vi. d.

1. Cor. ii. b.

The comen-dation of a good wyfe.

Israell whom thou hast lickened to a first borne sonne. * O be mercifull vnto Ieru-salem the city of thy Sanctuary, the city of thy rest. I praye for thy people with thy able vertues, & thy people with thy glory.
Beue thyne vnto thy creature, whome thou madest from the begynnyng, & raise up thy prophetes that haue bene shewed in thy name. Remorde them that maye for thee, that thy Prophetes maye be found faythfull. O Lorde heare the prayer of thy seruauntes, accordyng to the blessinge of Aaron ouer thy people: that al they which dwell vpon the earth, may knowe & thou art the Lorde the eternall God, whych is from euerlastyng.

The belly deuoureth all meates, yet is one meate better then another. Lyke as the tonge tasteth venyson, so doeth an hert of vnderstandyng marke false wordes.

A frowarde herte geueth heauyness, but a manne of experyence listeth hym vp agayn.
The womanne receauere euerie manne, yet is one daughter better then another.

* A fayre wyfe reioyseth her householde, and a manne loueth nothing better. If she be lounge and vertuous with all, then is not her husbände lyke other men. He that hath gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodly possessor: he is vnto him an helpe, and pyllet wherupon he resteth. Wher no hedge is, ther the goodes are spoyled: and wher no house wyfe is, there the frendles moueth. Lyke as there is no credence geuen to a robber, that goeth from one cytre to another: So is not the man beleued, that hath no nest, and muste turne in wher he maye abyde in the nyghte.

The. xxxvii. Chapter.

Howe a man shoulde knowe frendes, and counsellors, and seache the company of a holy man.

My frend sayth: I wyll be frendlye vnto hym also. But there is some frend, whych is only a frend in name. Remayner there not heauyness vnto death, when a companion and frende is turned to an enemye? O most wicked presumption: From whence atte thou suryunge vp, to couer the earth with falscheade and dyscreete? There is some companion whych in prosperyte reioyseth with his frende: but in the tyme of trouble, he taketh parte a-gaynst hym.

Ther is some companion that mounteth with his frend for the belly sake: but whē trouble cometh he taketh hold of the shylde. Forget not thy frend in thy mynde, & thynke vpon hym in thy tynes. Euerie coun-seller bringeth forth his counsell: neuertheles ther is some & counsellor but for his owne profit. Beware of the counseller, and be aduysed afore whereto thou wyll vnto hym, for he wyll counsel for hym selfe: lest he cast the for vpon the, and saye vnto the:
Thy way and purpose is good, and afterward he stand agaynst the, and loke what shal become of the.

* Aske no counsell at hym, that suspect-eth the for an enemye, and hyde thy coun-cell from suche as hate the. Aske no counsell at a woman concernyng the thynges that she longeth for: ner at a fearfull and faynt herted bodye, in matters of warre:
or at a marchaunte, whome deare he wyll cheape thy wares towardes hym: or at a bryer of sellyng: or at an enuyous manne, of thankesgeyng: or at the vnumercyfull of lounge kyndnes: or at the flouth-full of workyng: or at an hyepryng whiche hath no house, of profytte or wealthe.
(An ydle body woulde not gladly heare speake of muche labour.) Take no suche folkes to counsell, but be diligent to seke counsell at a vertuous man that feareth God, such one as thou knowest to be a ke-per of the commaundements, whych hath a mynde after thyne owne mynde, and is sory for the when thou stumbllest.

And holde thy counsell faste in thyne herte: for there is no man more faythfull to kepe it, then thou thy selfe. For a mans mynde is sometyme more dysposed to tell oute, then seven watchmen that sitte aboue in an hye place lokyng about them.
And aboue all thyngs, praye the breste that he wyll leade thy way in faythfulnes, and truth. Before all thynges aske councel first: and or euer thou do any thyng be well aduysed. There be foure thynges that declare a chaunged herte, wher oute there spryngeth euill & good, deathe and lyfe, and a masterfull tounge that bablerh much. Some man is apte & well instructe in many thynges: and yet very vnpro-fyttable vnto hym selfe. Some man ther is that can geue wyse and prudent counsell, and yet is hated, & counted a begger, for that grace is not geuen hym of God to be accepted. An other is robbed of all wysedome, yet is he wyse vnto hym selfe, and the fruite of vnderstandyng is faythfull in his mouth.

A wyse man keperh his people wyse, and the frutes of his wysedome faile not.
A wyse mā shall be plenteously blessed of God: & all they that see hym shall speake good of hym. The lyfe of man standerh in the number of the dayes, but the dayes of Israell are innumerable. A wyse man shall obtayne faythfulnes and credence amonge his people, & his name shal be perpetuall. My sonne proue thy soule in thy lyfe: and if thou se any euill thyng, geue it not vnto her. For all thynges are not profyttable for al men, neyther hath euerie soule plesure in euerie thyng. Be not gre-dye in euerie eatyng, & not to hasty vpon all meates. For excelle of meates bringeth sickenes, & glotony cometh at the last to an vnumerable heate. Wherofe glorye haue many one perished: but he & dieth hym selfe seuerately, & prolongeth his lyfe.

Al. i. The

Myth who
p. Muldest counsaile.

Exo. xxxii.

Friendship.

Eccle. vi.

ii. Cor. vi. c.
and. x. c.

Eccle. xxxi. d

Jesus the ſone of Strach.

The xxxviii. Chapter.

A phisician. In syckenes ought we to pray & fynd a phisicion whiche healeth by prayer.
 The beweyping of the dead. Sadnes. Myles done. Artificers or craftsmen.

A commendation of physics.

Pro. p. b. d.
iii. Reg.
iii. c.

Honour þ þyſician: honoure him becauſe of neceſſitye. God hath created him (for of þ þyſt cometh medycine) & he ſhal receyue gyfts of þ kynge. The wiſdom of the þyſician bringeth hym to great worþſhip, & in the ſyghte of þ greates men of this worlde, he ſhal be honozablye taken. The Lorde hath created medycyne of þ earth, and he that is wyſe wyl not abhorre it. Was not the bytter water made ſwete wth a tre: that men myghte lerne to knowe the verue thereof? The Lorde hath geuen men wyſdome and vnderſtandynge, that he myghte be honoured in his wonderous workes. Wth ſuch doeth he heale mē, & taketh away their paynes: Of ſuch doeth the Apotecarye make a conſecration, yet can no man perſourme all his workes. For of the Lorde cometh proſperous wealthe ouer all the earth.

W My sonne, despise not thyself in thy sicknesses but praye vnto the Lorde, and he shall make thee whole. Leaue of from sinne, and order thy bandes a cyght: cleanse thyne heart from all wickednes. Geue a sweete sacrifice, and the fine flour for a token of remembrance: make the offering fatte, as one that geueth the first frutes, and geue rowme to the oblation. For the Lord hath created him: let hym not go fro the, for thou haste neede of hym. The hour may come, that the sycke may be helped thorow them, when they praye vnto the Lorde, & they may recouer, and get health to lye longer. He that synneth before his maker, shall fall into the hands of the Ishyrion.

C * Opp sonne, brynge forth thy teares ouer the deade: and begynne to mourne, as if thou haddest suffered greare harme thy selfe: and then couer hys body after a conuenient maner, and despyse not hys burial. Enforce thy selfe to wepe, and prouoke thy selfe to mourne, and make lamentacion expediently, and that a day or two, lest thou be euell spoken of: and then comfort thy selfe because of the beauties. * For of heuyenes cometh death, the heuyenes of the hert breaketh strength. Heuyenes & pouer-tye greueth þ better, in tēptaciō & offence.
Take no heuyenes to hert, dyue it awaye, & remēber the last thyngs. Forget it not, for ther is no turnyng agayn. Thou shalt do hym no good, but hurt thy selfe. Remē-ber hys iudgement, thyne also shal be lyke hys: vnto me yester day, vnto the to day.
Let the remembrance of the deade cease in his rest, and conforthe thy selfe agayne ouer hym, seynge hys spirite is departed from hym. * The wysdom of the scrybe is at conueniente tyme of rest: and he that 3100. xii. d.

 3100. xvi. d.
 3100. xxi. d.

13. 13c. xii. 2

Wpſedō is gotten by quietnes.

The. xxxviii. Chapter.

reasereth from extercyse and laboure, shall be wylse. He that holdeth the plough, and hath pleasure in proddynge and dryvynge the oxen, and goeth about wylth such workes, he can speake of oxen. He setteth hys hert to make forowes, and is dyligent to geue the kyne fodder. So is euery carpenter also and workemaster, that labourereth stil nyght and dape: he carueth, grauereth and cutteth oute, and hys desire is in sondry connyng thynges, and hys hert imagyneth, howe he may connynglye cast an image, hys diligēce also and watching performeth the worcke. The pryncipal in lyke maner hideth by hys sith, & dothe hys diligence to labour the yron. The vapour of the fyre brenteth his flesh, & he must fight wth the heat of þe fornaice. The noyse of the hammer soundeth euer in hys eares, and hys eyes loke styl vpon the thing that he maketh. He hath set hys mynde there vpon, that he wyl make out hys worcke, & therfore he watchereth, howe he maye set it out, and byynge it to an ende.

So both the potter sit by hys worke, he turneth the whele aboute wyth hys fete, he is diligent & careful in all hys doynge, and hys labour & worke is without nūbre. He fashyoneth the claye wyth hys arme, and wyth hys fete he tempereth it. Hys herte ymagyneth howe he maye make it pleasaunt, and hys dyligence is to cleanse the ouz. Al these hope in their hands, and euery one thynketh to be connyng in hys worke. Wpythout these maye not the cytyes be mapntayned, inhabited nor occupied: yet come they not hys in the congregacion: they vnderstande not the counsaunt of the lawe: they canne not declare equytte and iudgemēt: they can not fynde out the darke sentences, but thozow them shall the creature of the worlde be mapntayned: therz prayer concerneth onely the worke and laboure of connyng.

The xxxix. Chapter.

A wyse man . The worches of God . vnto the good, good thynges do profite, but vnto the euill euengood thynges are euill.

He that applyeth bys mynde to vnderstande the lawe of God, doeth dyligentlye seeke oute þe wysedome of them of the olde tyme, and exercyseth hym selfe in the prophetes. He kepeth the sayynges of famous men, and preasseth to the vnderstandynge of darcke sentences of wysedome. He seketh oute the mysterpe of secrete sayynges, and exercyseth hym selfe therein continually. He doth seruiue among great men, and appereth before þe prynce. He goth into a straunge countrey, and trauallyeth thorow it: looke what good or euell is amonge men, he proueth it and seketh it oute. He purposeth in his herte, to resorte earelye vnto the Lorde that made hym, and to praye before the hiest god. He openeth his mouth in prayer, and

And prayeth for his synners. When the grea te Lorde wyll, he shall be fylled wth the spyrite of vnderstandynge, that he may then poure oute wyse sentences, and geue thanckes vnto the Lorde in his prayer. He shall orde his deuyce, and leade his knowledge a ryghte, and geue hym vnderstandynge of secrete thynges. He shall shewe forth the science of his learninge, and reioyce in the couenaunte of the lawe of the Lorde. The whole congregacion shall commende his wysedome, and it shall neuer be put oute. The remembraunce of hym shall neuer be forgotten, & his name shall continue from one generacyon to another. His wysedome shall be spoken of, and the whole congregacion shall openly declare his prayse. Whyle he lyueth he hath a greater name then a thousand besyde, and after his deathe his same name remaineth vnto hym. Yet wyll I speake of mo men of vnderstandynge, for I am ful as the Moone.

Harken vnto me ( ye holpe vertuous chyliden ) bynge forth the frute, as the rose that is planted by the brokes of the feld, and geue ye a swete smell as Lybanus. Flore as the rose garden, synge a song of prayse. O geue thanckes vnto God ouer all his workes. Geue glorie & honoure vnto the Lorde, shewe his prayse wth your lippes. Yea euen wth the song of your lippes, wth harpes and playnge and in geuinge thanckes vnto hym, saye after this manner: All the workes of the Lorde are excedynge good, and all his commaundementes are mete and conuenient in due season.

* A man nede not to saye: what is that? what is that? for at time conuenient they shall all be sought. At his commaundement the water was as a wall, and at the word of his mouthe the waters stode styll. In his commaundement is euery thyng acceptable and reconcyed, and his healt he can not be minished. The workes of all flesh are before hym, and there is nothinge hydd from his eyes. He seeth from euertlastynge to euertlastynge, and there is no thyng to wonderfull or hye vnto hym. A man nede not to saye then: what is this or that? For he hath made all thynges to do good vnto man. His blessing shall ouerrun as a streame, & moisture his earth lyke a floud of water. Like as he maketh the water for drouth, so shall his wrath fall vpon the beathen.

His wayes are playne and ryght vnto the iuste, but the vngodlye stumbe at the. * For the good are good thynges created from the begynnynge, and euell thynges for the vngodlye. All thynges necessarye for the lyfe of manne are created from the begynnynge: water, fyre, yron, and salte, meel, wheat and honye, mylke and wyne, oyle and clothynge. All these thynges are created * for the best to the faythful: But to the vngodlye shall all these thynges be turned to the hurt and harme. There be spytes that are created for vengeance, and in theyr rygorousnes haue they fastened theyr tormentes. In the tyme of the end they shall pour out theyr strenght, & pacify the wrath of hym that made the. Fyre, hayl, hunger & death: all thynges are created for vengeance.

The teth of wyld nopsome beastes, the scorpions, serpents, & the swerd, are created also for vengeance, to the destruction of the vngodly. They shall be glad to do his commaundementes, and when nede is, they shall be redy vpon earth: & whē their hour is come they shall not ouerpass the commaundement of the Lorde.

Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the begynnynge, and thought to put these thynges in writynge, and to leaue them behynde me. * All the workes of the Lorde are good, and he geueth euery one in due season, and when nede is, so that a man nede not to saye: this is worse then that. For in due season they are al plesant & good: And therefore prayse the Lorde wth whole herte and mouth, and geue thanckes vnto his name.

The xl. Chapter.

Many miseries light in a mans lyfe. All thynges passe awaye, but a tyme and stable sayth remaineth. Of the blessing of the ryghteous, and prerogatyue of the feare of god.

Great trouaile is created for ail men, and an heauy pocke vpon all mens chyliden, from the daye that they go oute of theyr mothers wombe, tyll they be buryed in ( the earthe ) the mother of all thynges: namely, their thoughtes and ymaginacions, feare of the hert, counsaile, meditations, longynge and desyre, the day of deeth, from the hyst that sytteth vpon the glorious seat, vnto the lowest and most simple vpon the earthe: from hym that is gloriously arrayed and weareth a crowne, vntill hym that is but homely and symple clothed. There is nothyng but warthe, zeale, fearfulness, vniquities, and feare of death, rygorous anger and stryfe. And in the nyghte when one should rest and slepe vpon his bedde, the slepe changerh his vnderstandynge & knowledge. A lytle as nothyng is his rest, in the slepe as wel as in the day of labour.

He feareth and is disquieted in the visi on of his hert, as one that renneth out of a battaile: and in the tyme of healt he awaketh, and maruaileth that the feare was nothyng. Such thynges happē vnto all flesh, bothe man and beaste: but seven folde to the vngodly. * Moreover death, bloudsheddynge, stryfe, and swearde, oppression, hunger, destruction and punishment: these thynges are all created against the vngodlye, and for theyr sakes came the floude also. All that is of the earthe, shall turne

eccl. xlii. b.

An exhorta-
cion to pra-
yse God.

Gene. i. d.

Gen. vi. d.

Rom. vii. d.
eccl. xix. c.

Tim. iiii. a

Gene. i. d.

The miseries of mans lyfe.

15

eccl. xxix. c.
Gen. vii. d.
and. iiii. d.

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

turne to erth agayne: and all waters ebbe agayn into the sea. Al bybes and unrigh- teousnes shalbe put awaye, but saythful- nes and trueth shall endure for ever. The substance and goods of the vngodly shall be dryed vp and syncke awaye as a wa- ter floude, & they shall make a sounde like a great thonder in the rayne.

Ecc. iii. b. Like as the ryghteous reioiceth when he openeth his hande, so shall the trans- gressours be faynte, when they goods vanyshe and consume awaye. * The chyld- ren of the vngodly shall not obtayne ma- ny branches: and the vncleane robes vpon the hye rockes shalbe coted out before the grasse by the water syde and vpon the ry- uer bankes.

Ecc. vi. b. Phil. iiii. d. Frendlynes and lyberalyppe in the in- crease and blessinge of God, is lyke a pa- radise and garden of pleasure: such mercy also & kyndnes endureth for ever. * To la- boure and to be content wyth that a man hath, is a swete pleasaunt lyfe: and that is to find a trefure aboue all trefures. To beget chyldre & to repaire the city, maketh a perpetual name, but an honest woman is more worth then they both. Wyne and mynstrelsy reioyse the hert, but the loue of wysdome is aboue them bothe.

Dippyng and harpyng make a swete noyse, but a frendly tonge goeth beyond them both. Thyne eye despyeth fauoure & bewtye, but a grene sedge time rather then they bothe. A frende and companion come together at oportunitie, but aboue them bothe is a wyse that agreeth wyth her husband. One brother helpeth another in the tyme of trouble, but almes shall deli- uer more then they bothe. Golde and syl- uer fasten the fete, but a good counsaile is more n<sup>e</sup>. Aunt then they bothe. Tempora- rall substance and strengthe lyfte vp the mynde: but the feare of the Lord more the they bothe. The feare of the Lord wan- teth nothyng, and nedeth no helpe. The feare of the Lord is as a pleasaunt garde of blessinge, and nothyng is so beutyfull as it is. My soune leade not a beggers life, for better it were to dye the to begge.

Whoso loketh to another mans table, taketh no thought for his own liuynge howe to vpholde his lyfe, for he sedeth hym selfe wyth other mens meat. But a wyse and welnurtoured man wyl beware thereof. Begginge is swete in the mouth of the vnschamefast, but in his belly there burneth a fyre.

The xli. Chapter.

Of thy remembraunce of death. Death is not to be feared. A curse vpon them that forsake the lawe of God. Good name and fame. An exhortacion to geue hede vnto wysdom. Of what thynges a man ought to be ashamed.

Deathe. A Deathe, howe bitter is the re- membraunce of the, to a manne that seeketh rest and comfort in his substance and ryches, vnto

The xli. Chapter.

the man that hath nothyng to bere him: and that hath prosperyppe in all thynges, yea, vnto hym that is yet able to receyue meate? O deathe, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the nedefull, and vnto hym whose strength fayleth, & that is nowe in his laste age, and that in all thynges is full of care and fearfulness: vnto hym also that is in dyspayre, & hath no hope nor pacience? Be not thou * as- frayed of deathe: remembre them that haue bene before the, and that come after the: this is the iudgemente of the Lord ouer all fleshe. And whye woldest thou be agaynste this pleasure of the best? Whether it be ten, an hundred or a thou- sand yeres, deathe asketh not howe longe one hath lyued.

B The chyldren of the vngodly are abho- minable chyldren, and so are they that kepe companye wyth the vngodly. * The inherytaunce of vngodly chyldre shall come to naught, and they posteritie shall haue perpetuall shame & confusio. The chyld- ren complayne of an vngodlye father, and whye: for his sake they are rebuked & despyed. Wo be vnto you (O ye vngod- ly) whyche haue forsaken the lawe of the best God: if ye be borne, ye shall be borne to cursinge, if ye dye, the curse shall bee your porcion.

Eccle. xi. d. * All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth agayne: so go the vngodly also oute of the curse into destruction. The sorowe of men is in their bodye, but the name of the vngodly shall be put oute, for it is no- thinge worth. Laboure to get the a good name, for that shall continue sure by the then a thousand great trefures of golde. A good lyfe hath a number of dayes, but a good name endureth euer.

Eccle. xxi. b. My chyldren, kepe wysedome in peace, for wysedome that is hyd, and a treasure that is not sene, what profite is in them both? A man that hydeth his folysnes, is better then a man that hydeth his wis- dome. Therefore be ye turned at my wor- des: for it is not good in all thynges, and alway to be ashamed. True sayth muste proue and measure it.

Where Be ashamed of whoredome before fa- ther and mother: Be ashamed of leasping before the prince, and men of authorite: Of synne, before the Judge and Ruler: Of offence, before the congregacion, and peo- ple: Of vntyghteousnes, before a compa- nion & friend. Of thete, before the neygh- bours. As for the truth of God and his couenaunt, be not ashamed thereof.

Rom. i. d. Be ashamed to lye wyth thine elbowes vpon the bread: Be ashamed to lye vpon harlots: Be ashamed to turne away thy face from thy frend: Be ashamed to take and not to geue: * Be ashamed also to lye vpon another mans wyse, and too make manye crosseynge wordes wyth her mayden, or to stand by her bedsyde. Be a- ashamed

Gene. iii.

The chyld- ren of the vngodlye.

Eccle. xi. d.

Pro. xxi. a Eccle. xxi. a
A good name.

Eccle. xxi. b.

Where
shamefast-
nes is to be allowed.

Rom. i. d.

Math. v. e.
eccle. xxi. a
and. xxi. b.
Eccle. xxi. b.

shamed to vpbzayde thy frend when thou geueste any thyng, caste hym not in the teeth wythall.

The. xlii. Chapter.

Secretes maye not be opened. The lawe of God must be taught. A daughter. A woman. God knoweth all thynges, yea, euen the secretes of the herte.

I

Hearese not a thyng thyse, & disclose not the wordes, that thou haste heard in secrete. Be shamefast and wel mannered in deede, so shall euer man fauoure the.

Things not to be ashamed of.

* Of these thynges be not thou ashamed, and accepte no personne to offende. Namelre, of these thynges be not ashamed: Of the lawe of God, of the couenaunte, of iudgemente: to byngne the vngodlye from hys vngodlynes vnto ryghteousnes, and to make hym a good man: to deale faythfully wyth thy neyghboure and companion: to distribute the heritage vnto the frendes: to be dyligente to kepe true measure and weyghte: to be content, whether þ gettest much or lytle: to deale truly wyth temporal goods in byngne & selling: to byngne by chyldzen wyth diligence: to correcte an euell seruaunte: to kepe that thyng is from an euell wyse, to set a locke wher many handes are: what thou deliuerest and geuest out to be kepte, to tell it, and to wepe it: to wyte vp all the outegeyng and receyving: to ensourme the vnlearned and vnwyse: Of the aged, that are iudged of the yonge: If thou be dyligent in these thynges, truly thou shalt be learned and wyse, and accepted of all men.

B

That we ought to keepe our daughters in grete warchnes. Eccle. xvi.

The doughter maketh the father to watch secretly: and the carefulnes that he hath for her, taketh away hys slepe: yea in the yowth, lest she shuld ouergrow him: & when she hath an husband, lest she shuld be hated: lest she shoulde be despyled or rayshed in her virgynity, or gotten wyth chyld in her fathers house: Or (when she cometh to the man) lest she behaue herselfe not ryghte, or contynue vnfrutefull.

eccle. xvi. b

* If thy daughter be wanton kepe her straitely, lest she cause thyne enemies to laugh the to scorn, and the whole cyty to geue the an euyl reporte, and so thou be fayne to hear thy shame of euery man, and be confounded before all the people. Beholde not euerye bodyes beuty, and haue not much dwellinge amonge womenne. For lyke as the worme and morthe cometh out of clothinge, so doth wyckednes come of women.

Gene. iii. d.

I

It is better to be wyth an euell man, then wyth a frendelye wyse, that putterh one to shame and rebuke. I wyll remember the workes of the Lorde, and declare the thynges that I haue sene. In the wordes of the Lorde are hys workes. The sune ouerloketh all thynges wyth hys shyne, and all hys works are ful of the clearenes therof. Hath not the Lorde broughte to passee, that hys sayntes shoulde tel out all hys wonderous workes, whyche the almyghy Lorde hath stablished? Al thynges endure in hys glorie. He seketh oute the grounde of the depe and the herte, and he knoweth all they: ymagynacion and wisdom. For the Lorde knoweth all science, and he loketh into the token of the tyme. He declareth the thynges that are passe and for to come, and discloseth thynges that are secrete. No thought may escape hym, neyther maye anye worde be hydde from hym. He hath garnished the hys excellent workes of wysedome, and he is fro euerlastyng to euerlastyng. Vnto hym may nothyng be added, neyther can he be mynished, he hath no nede also of any counsaile. O how amiable are all hys workes and as a sparke to loke vpon? They lyue al, and endure for euer: and when soeuer nede is, they are al obedyente vnto hym. * They are al double, one against another: he hath made nothing that hath faule or blemyshe. He hath stablished the goods of euerye one: and who may be satisfyed wyth hys glorie, when he sayth it?

Job. xliii. a

Esa. xlii.

eccle. xliii. b

Deu. xlii. a

The. xliii. Chapter.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

He glorie of the heygthe, is the fayre and cleare firmament, the beuty of heauen is hys glorious clearnes, the sunne when it appeareth declareth the day in the goyng out of it, a maruelous worke of the hys. At noone it burneth the earth, and who maye abyde for the heate thereof? Who so kepeth an ouen when it is hote, thre times more doth the Sunne burne vpon the mountaynes, when it byerberth out the fyr beames and shineth wyth the brightnes of it, it blindeth the eyes. Great is the Lorde þ made it, and in hys commaundemente he causeth it to runne hastily.

Psal. lx. a.

The Moone also is in al, and at conuenient season it sheweth the tymes, and is a token of the tyme. The token of the sollepe feast is take of the Moone, a lyght that mynysheth and increaseth agayne. The moneth is called after the Moone, it groweth wonderously in her changyng.

Gene. i. b.

Exo. xii. a.

The army of beaue also is in the heygth in the firmamente of heauen, it geueth a cleare and glorious shyne. This is the clearenes of the starres, the beutyfull apparel of heauen, the apparel that þ Lorde lygheneth in þ heygth. In hys holy worke they contynue in their order, & not one of them fayleth in hys watch. Loke vpon þ rayne bowe, and prayse hym that made it: bevy beutyfull is it in hys shyne. He compasseth the heauen aboute wyth hys clearenes and glorie, * the handes of the hys haue bended it. Thorow hys commaundemente he maketh the snowe to fall, and the thonder of hys iudgemente to smyte hastily. Thorow hys commaundement

Gene. ix. b.

clap. xl. c.

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

dement the treasures are opened, and the cloudes as the fowles. In hys power hath he strengthened the cloudes, and broken the hable stones.

The mountaynes melte at the syghte of hym, the wynde bloweth accordyng to hys wyll. The sounde of hys thonder beareth the earth, and so doth the storme of the north: the wynde also lygh- teth doune as a fethered soule, casteth oute and spreadeth the snowe abroad: and as the grethoppers that destroye all, so fallerh it doune. The eye murthereth at the beutye of the whynenes thereof, and the hert is afrayed at the rayne of it. He poureth out þe frost vpon earth, lyke salt, & whē it is frose, it is as sharp as þe pyck of a thystle. When the cold North wynde bloweth, hard Cristall commeth of þe water. He lygh- teth doune vpon all the gather- ynges together of water, & putterh on þe waters as a breaste plate. He deuoureth the mountaynes, & burneth þe wylder- nesses, & loke what is grene, he putteth it oute lyke fyre. The medicine of al these is, whē a cloude commeth hastelwe, and when a dew commeth vpon the heate, it shall be refreshed agayne.

In hys worde he styll- eth the wynd. In hys counsaile he setteth the depe, and (the Lorde) Jesus planted it. They that sayle ouer the sea, tell of hys parcels, and har- mes: and when we heare it wyth oure eares, we maruaile thereat. For there be strange wonderous workes, diuerse ma- ner of nyce beastes and whal- fyshes. Tho- rowe hym are all thynges set in good or- der and persourmed, and in hys worde all thynges endure.

D I speake much, but I can not suffy- ciently attayne vnto it, for he hym selfe on- ly is the perfeccion of all wordes. We should prayse the Lorde after all our pow- er, for he is great in all hys workes. The Lord is to be feared, yea very greate is he, & maruelous is his power. Prayse þe Lord and magnify hym as much as ye may, yet dothe he farre exceede all prayse. O mag- nyfy hym wyth al your power, & laboure earnestly, yet are ye in no wyse able suffi- ciently to prayse hym. * Who hath sene him that he myght tel vs? Who can magnify hym so greatly as he is? For ther are hydde yet greater thynges then these be: as for vs we haue sene but few of his wor- kes. For þe Lord hath made al thyngs, and geuen wysedome to such as feare God.

The. xliiii. Chapter.

The prayse of certē holy men, Enoch, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

A T vs commende the noble fa- mous men, and the generacion of our fore elders and fathers. Many more glorious acts hath the Lord done, and shewed hys grete pow- er euery sens the begynnyng. The noble fa- mous men raygned in their kyngedomes,

The. xliiii. Chapter.

& haue excellent rule. In their wysedome and vnderstandyng, they folowed the coun- sayle shewed in the prophecies. They led þe folke thow the counsaile and wisdom of the Scribes of the people. Wise sentences are foude in theyr instructio. They sought the sweteness & melody of musycke, and brought forth the pleasaunt songes in scripture. They were rich also, & could con- fort and pacify those that dwelt wyth the. Al these were verie noble and honorable men in their generacions, and were wel re- ported of in their tymes. These haue left a name behynd the, so that their prayse shall alwaye be spoken of. Afterwarde there were some, whose remembraunce is gone. They came to naughte and perished, as though they had neuer bene: and became as though they had neuer bene borne, yea and their chyldren also wyth them.

Neuertheles these are lounge men, whose ryghteousnesse shall neuer be for- gotten, but continue by their posterite. Their chyldren are an holy good heritage: Theyr sede endured fast in the couenaunt. For theyr sakes shall theyr chyldren & sede continue for euer, and theyr prayse shall neuer be put doune. Their bodies are bu- ried in peace, but their name lyueth for e- uermore. The people can speake of theire wysedome, and the congregacyon can talke of theyr prayse. * Enoch walked ryghte and acceptablie before the Lorde, therefore was he translated for an example of amendement to the generacions. Noe was stedfast and a righteous man, and in the tyme of wyathe he became a reconcy- lunge. Therefore was he lefte a remnant vnto the earth, when the floude came.

An euerlastyng couenaunte was made wyth hym, that all flesh shoulde perishe no more wyth the water. Abraham was a greate father of manye people, in glorie was there none lyke vnto hym. He kepte the lawe of the best, and came into a co- uenaunt wyth hym. He set the couenaunt into hys flesh, and when he was tempted * he was found faythful. Therfor I swore God vnto him wyth an othe, that he wold blesse al people in hys sede, þe wold mul- tiplie and increase hym as the duste of the earth, & to exalt hys sede as þe stars: yea, and that hys sede shoulde haue the pos- session & inheritaunce of the land fro sea to sea, and fro the ryuer vnto the borders of the land. * Wyth Isaac dyd he stablysh the same couenaunte, for Abraham hys fathers sake. Yea, that gracys blessyng & health of al men, & couenaunt dyd he sta- blysh wyth Isaac, and made it to reste vpon the heade of Jacob. He knewe hym in that he prospered hym so well and ry- chelie, and gaue hym an heritage, and sun- deryd his porcyon by it self, and departed it among the twelue tribes. Mercifull men brought he out of hym, which found fauour before all flesh.

The

Exo. xlviii. c

Gene. vii. d

Eccle. xlii. c

Gene. v. c

Eccle. xlii. c

ge vi. vii. b

Gene. ix. b

rit. a. xv.

xvii. a.

Gen. xxi. a

Gen. xxi. a

gen. xxi. c

c. xxi. v. xxx

The.xlv.Chapter.

The praise of Moses, Aaron, and Phinehes

Exo. xl. c.
Act. vii. c.

*Moses beloued of God & men, whose remembraunce is in hye prayse: hym that the Lord made lyke in the glory of the sayntes and magnified hym so that the enemyes stode in awe of hym, thow his woordes he did great wonders. He made him great in the syght of kynges, gaue him commaundement before his people, and shewed him his glorious power. He stablyshed hym with faythfulnes and mekenes, and chose hym out of al men. For he herde his voyce, and led him in the darcke cloude, and there he gaue hym the commaundementes, yea the law of lyfe & wisdom, þe he might teach Jacob the couenaunt, & Israel his lawes.

Rume. xli. a

Exod. iii. f
Ex. xxviii. a

He chose Aaron his brother also out of the tribes of Leui, exalted hym, and made hym such lyke. An euerlastyng couenaunt made he with him, & gaue him þe priesthode in þe people. He made him glorious in bewtiful aray, and clothed him with the garmente of honoure. He put perfecte love vpon hym, and girded him with strength. He decked hym with sode clothes, and a tunicle, with an ouerboddy cote also and a gyrdle. Round about made he hym belles of gold, and that many: that when he went in, the sounde myght be hearde, that they myght make a noyse in the Sanctuary, and geue the people warnyng. The holy garmente was wrought and broderd with gold, yelow sylke, and purple. And in the breastplate ther was a goodly work, wherein was fastened lyght and perfectnesse.

Upon the same also ther was a woork fastened, & set with costly precious stones, al bound with gold: and this he broughte in his ministracion. The stones wer fastened for a remembraunce, after the twelue tribes of Israel. Vpon his miter, ther was a plate of pure gold, a grauen image of holynes, a famous & noble worke, garnished and pleasaunt to looke vpon. Before hym were ther sene no such fayre ornamentes, and these it behoued hym alwaye to vse: There myght none other put them on, but only his chyldren and his chylders chyldre perpetually. Dayly perfourmed he his burntofferenges. ii. tymes, Moses fylled his handes, & annoynted him wth holy oyle.

Leui. viii. a

Thys was now confirmed hym with an euerlastyng couenaunte, and to his secede, as the dayes of heauen: namely, that his chyldren shoulde alwaye mynister before hym, and perfourme the offyce of the priesthode, and wyshe the people good in his name. Before all mēshypnge chose he hym, that he shoulde offer before the Lord, and make odoures for a sweete sauoure and remembraunce, that he shoulde reconcile the people of the Lord with hym agayne. He gaue hym auctorite also in his commaundementes, and in the

Deut. xxi. c
and. xxi. a.
Mal. ii. a.

couenaunte, that he shoulde teache Jacob the statutes and testimonyes, and to enfourme Israel in his law.

Therfore ther stode vp certayne against hym, and had enuye at hym in the wylder-nes: namelye, they that were of Dathan, and Abirams syde, and the furvous congregation of Chore. Thys the Lord saw, and it dyspleased hym, and in his wrothefull indignacion were they consumed. A great wonder dyd he vpon them, and consumed them with the fyre.

Beside thys, he made Aaron yet more honourable and glorious. He gaue hym an herptage, and parted the fyre stutes vnto hym. Vnto hym speciallye he appoynted the breade for sustinaunce (for the priestes eate of the offerenges of the Lord) thys gaue he vnto hym and his secede. Else had he no heritage nor porcion in the lande with the people. For the Lord hym selfe is his porcion and enherptance.

Exod. xxv. f
Leuit. xxiii

The thyrde noble and excellent man is Phinehes the son of Eliazar, whych pleased the God of Israel, because he had the zeale and feare of the Lord. For when the people wer touned backe, he put him selfe forth ryghte soone, and that with a good wyll, to pacify the wrath of the Lord toward Israel. Therfore was there a couenaunte of peace made with hym, that he shoulde be the pryncypal among the righteous and the people, that he and his posterite shoulde haue the offyce of the priesthode for euer: Lyke as there was made a couenaunt with Dauid of the tribe of Iuda, that from among his sonnes only ther shoulde be a kyng: And that Aaron also and his secede shoulde be the herptage, to geue vs wysdome in our herte, to iudge his people in the ryghteousnes: that his goodes shuld not come into forgetfulnes, and that they honoure myght endure for euer.

Rume. xv. a

The.xlv.Chapter.

The prayse of Josue, Coleb, and Samuel.

Any and strong in bataille was Jesus the sonne of Naue, whych in steade of Moses the prophet was geuen to be captayne of the people, whych accordyng vnto his name was a great sautour vnto the elect of god, to punish the enemies that rose vp against Israel, that Israel myght obtayne theyr inherptance. How greate, noble, and excellent was he, when he lyft vp his hand and drew out his sword against the cities? Who stode so manly before hym? For the Lord hym selfe brought in the enemyes. Stode not the sunne styl at his commaundement, and one day was as long as two? He called vpon the hiest and most myghty, when the enemyes pressed vpon hym on euery syde: and the Lord hearde hym with the hayle stones. They smote the Heathenly people myghtely, and in fallinge downe, they leu al the aduersaries, so that the Heathen knew his hooste, and Josu. xii. e.

Nu. xxi. d
De xxxiii. b
Josu. i. a.

Josu. x. c.

Al. iii.

al his

Jesus the sonne of Sirach.

The. xlvii. Chapter.

all hys defence, that the Lorde hym selfe fought agaynst them, for he folowed vpon the myghty men of them.

In the tyme of Moyse also he & Caleb the sonne of Iephune, dyd a good worke, whych stode agaynst the enemies, withheld the people from synne, and styllled the wicked murmuring. * And of spce. C. thousand people of foote, they two were preserued, when they wer brought into the heritage, namely, a land that floweth wth mylke & honey. The Lorde gaue strength also vnto Caleb, whych remayned wth hym vnto hys age: so that he wente vpon into the hye places of the land, and hys seide conquered the same for an heritage: that all the chyldren of Israel myght se how good a thing it is, to be obedient vnto the Lorde. And the iudges or rulers (euery one after his name) whose herte went not a whorng, nor departed from the Lorde, and that forsoke not the Lorde vnfaythfully, whose remembraunce hath a good report: Yea they bones shal be oute of theyr place, and theyr name shal neuer be chaunged.

* Samuel the prophete beloued of the Lorde, ordeyned a kynge, and anoynted the princes ouer the people. In the law of the Lorde ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the Lorde had respect vnto Jacob. The prophete was founde dyligent in his saythfulness: yea in hys saythfulness was the saythfulness of the byspon knowne.

* He called vpon the Lorde almyghty, when the enemies pleased vpon hym on euery syde, what tyme as he offered the suckynge lambes. And the Lorde thondred from heauen, and made hys voyce to be herd wth a great noyse. He dyscomforted the princes of Tyre, all the rulers of the Philistines. * Before hys last end he made protestacion in the syght of the Lorde, and hys anoynted, that he tooke neyther substaunce nor good of any man, not so muche as a shoe: and no man myght accuse him.

* After this he told that hys ende was at hand, and shewed the kynge also hys ende and deathe: and from the earth lyfte he vpon hys voyce in the prophete, that the vngodly people shoulde perishe.

The. xlvii. Chapter.

The praise of Nathan Dauid, and Salomon.

Afterwarde in the tyme of kynge Dauid, there rose vpon a prophete called Nathan: For lyke as the fat is taken away from the offerynge, so was Dauid chosen oute of the chyldren of Israel. He tooke hys pastyme wth the Lyons and wth kyddes, and wth beastes lyke as wth lambes. Slew he not a gaunt whē he was yet but yong, and tooke awaye rebuke from hys people what tyme as he tooke the stone in hys hande, and smote downe proude Goliath wth the stynge? For he called vpon the best Lorde, whych gaue hym strengthe in hys ryghte hande, so that he ouerthrew the myghty graunte in the battayle, that he myghte set vpon the borne of hys people agayne. Thus broughte he hym to worshyppe aboue all princes, and made hym to haue a good reporte in the prayse of the Lorde, that he shoulde weare a crowne of glorie. For he stroped the ennemyes on euery syde, rooted oute the Philistynes his aduersaries, and brake theyr borne in sundry lyke as it is broken yet this daye. In all hys workes he praysed the best and holpest, and ascribed the honour vnto him. Wth hys whole hearte dyd he praise and loue hym that made hym. He sette fingers also before the altare, and in theyr tyme he made swete songes. He ordeyned to keepe the holy dayes worshypfully, and that the solempne feastes throughte the whole yere shoulde be honourably holden wth prayse the name of the Lorde, and wth hys synngynge by tymes in the morninge in the Sanctuarye.

The Lorde tooke away hys synnes, and exalted hys borne for euer. He gaue hym the couenaunte of the kyngdome, and the throne of worshyp in Israel. After him ther arose vpon the wyse sonne called Salomon, and for hys sake he droue the enemies away far of. This Salomon raygned with peace in hys tyme (for God gaue hym rest from hys ennemyes on euery syde, that he myghte buyld hym an house in hys name, and prepare the Sanctuarye for euer) lyke as he was wel instruct in hys pouth, and fylled wth wysdome and vnderstandynge, as it were wth a water foud. He couered and fylled the whole land wth simplytudes and wyse prudente sentences.

Hys name went abroad in the fles, because of hys peace he was beloued. All landes marueled at his songes, proverbes, similitudes, & at hys peace, & at the name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel. He gathered gold as tynne, and he had as muche syluer as lead. He was moued in vngodly loue towarde women, & was overcome in affection. He stained his honour and worshyp, yea hys posteritye defyled he also, in buyngynge the wythe of the Lorde vpon hys chyldren, and sorowe after hys ioye: so that hys kyngdome was deuided, and Ephraim became an vnfaythfull, and an vncoustant kyngedome. Nevertheless God forsoke not hys mercy, neither was he utterly destroyed because of hys workes that he shoulde leaue hym no posteritye.

As for the seed that came vpon hym, whych he loued, he broughte it not vnto naughte, but gaue yet a remnaunce vnto Jacob, and a roote vnto Dauid oute of hym. Thus rested Salomon wth hys father, and out of hys seede he lefte behind hym a verie foolynesse of the people, and suche one as had no vnderstandynge: namely Roboam, whych turned away the people throughte hys counsell, and Jeroboam the

Am. xlviii
Deut. i.
Iosua. xliii

1. Reg. x. a.
and .xvi. c.

1. Reg. vii.

1. Reg. xii. a

1. Reg. xvi. c

1. Reg. xii. a

1. Reg. xvii. c

1. Reg. xii. a

ii. Paral. xvi. a,

ii. Reg. xii. c.

ii. Reg. iii. c.

iii. Reg. x. c

iii. Reg. xi. a

iii. Reg. xii. e

ii. Reg. vii. e.

the sonne of Abat, whych caused Israell to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the waye of vngodlynes: In so much that they synnes and misdoedes had the vpper hand so sore, that at the last they were dzyuen out of the land for the same. Yea he sought out, and brought vp al wyckednes, tyll the vengeance of God came vpon them.

The. xlviii. Chapter.

The prayle of Eljah, Elizeus, Hezekiah, and Ilaye.

He stode vp Eliah the prophete as a fyre, and hys worde brente lyke a cresset. He brought an vnderget vpon them, & in hys zeile he made the fewe in number. For they might not away wyth the commaundementes of the Lorde. Thowhe the woorde of the Lorde he shut the heauen, and the tymes brought he the fyre downe.

Thus became Eliah honorable in hys wonderous deedes. Who maye make hys boast to be lyke hym? One that was deade raysed he from deathe, and in the woorde of the byest he brought him out of þ graue agayne. He cast downe kynge and destroyed the, and the honourable from theyr seat. Upon the mount Sina he herd the punishment, and vpon Horeb the iudgemente of the vengeance. He prophesied recompensynge vnto kynge, and ordeyned prophetes after hym. He was taken in the forme of fyre in a charette of horses of the Lord. He was ordeyned in the reprovynge in tyme to pacyfy the wraethe, to turne the hertes of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the trybes of Iacob agayne. Blessed were they that saw the, and were gathered in loue: for we lyue in lyfe.

Eliah was couered in the storme, but Heliseus was fylled wyth hys mouth. While he liued he was feared of no prince, and no man myghte ouercome hym. Ther could no woorde dysceyue hym, and after hys deathe, hys body prophesied. He dyd wonders in hys lyfe, and in deathe were hys woorkes maruelous. For al thys the people ameded not, neyther departed they from theyr synnes: tyll they were caried awaye prysoners out of the lande, and wer scattered abrode in al countreys, so that of them ther remayned but a verie lytle people and a prince vnto the house of Dauid. Howbeit some of the dyd ryght, and some heaped vp vngodlynes.

Hezekiah made hys ctyte strong, conueyed water into it, dygged thowhe the stoune rocke wyth yron, and made vppe a well by the water syde. In hys tyme came Sennacherib vp, and sent Rabshakeh, lyf fre vp hys hande agaynst Spon, and defred them wyth greate pryde. Then trembled they: heartes and handes. So that they forrowed lyke a woman trauaplynge wyth chyld. So they called vpon the Lorde, whych is merciful, and lyft vp theyr handes before hym. Immediately the Lorde, heard them out of heauen, and deliuered them by the hande of Elaye. * He smote the hooste of the Assyrians, and hys angel destroyed them. For Hezekiah hadde done the thyng that pleased the Lorde, and remayned stedfast in the waye of Dauid hys father. Whych Elaye was greate and faythful in hys vyspons. In hys tyme the Sunne wente backwarde. And he lengthened the kynge's lyfe. Wyth a ryght spryrt prophesied he what shoulde come to passe at the laste: and to suche as were sorowful in Spon, he gaue consolacion. wherewith they myghte comforte them selues for euermore. He shewed thynges that were for to come and secrete, or euer they came to passe.

The. xlix. Chapter.

Of Josiah, Hezekiah, Dauid, Jeremi, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Jesus, Nehemiah, Enoch, & Joseph.

He remembraunce of Josiah is lyke as when the Apotecary maketh many precious swete smelling things together. His remembraunce shalbe swete as hony in al mouthes, and as the playing of musycke by the myne. He was appointed to turne the people agayne, and to take awaye al abhominacions of the vngodlye. He dyrected hys hert vnto the Lorde, and in the tyme of the vngodlye, he sette vp the worshyp of God agayne: al kynge, except Dauid, Hezekiah and Josiah committed wyckednes, for euen the kynge of Iuda also forsoke the law of God. For they gaue theyr honye vnto other, theyr honoure and worship also to a straunge people.

Therefore was the electe cty of the sanctuary brent wyth fyre, and the stretes ther of laye desolate and wast: * for they intreated Jeremi eurl, whych neuertheles was a prophete ordayned from hys mothers wombe, that he myght rote out, breake of, and destroye: and that he myght buyld vp and plante agayne. Ezechiel saw the glory of the Lorde in a vyspon whiche was shewed him vpon the charet of the Cherubyns. For he thought vpon the enemies in the rayne, to do good vnto suche as hadde ordred theyr waies aright. * And þ bones of the twelue prophets stoynd fro out of theyr place: for they gaue comfort & consolacion vnto Iacob, & deliuered them sayth fulli. How shal we praisse zorobabel, which was as a ryng in the ryght hand.

So was Jesus also the sone of Iosedec: these me in their times buylded the house, and set vp the Sanctuary of þ Lord agayne, whiche was prepared for an euerclastynge worship. And Nehemiah is alwaye to be commended, which set vp for vs the wals that wer broken downe, made the portes & barres agayne, and buylded our houses of the neme. But vpon earth is there no man created lyke Enoche, for he was taken vp from the earth. And Joseph, whych was Lorde

iii. Re. xli. b
iii. Re. xlii. d

iii. re. xlvii. a

iii. Re. xlviii. a
iii. Re. l. c. a

iii. Re. xli. c

iii. Re. li. c

iii. Re. li. c
iii. and. iiii.
iii. reg. xv. c
iii. re. v. vi.
iii. and. i. ix.
iii. re. xlviii.

ii. reg. xx. xii.
ii. pa. xxvii. a
iii. re. xlviii.

iii. re. xli. g

iii. re. xx. b.

Esa. xlviii.

iii. re. xlii. o
ii. pa.
xxxiii. a.

iii. re. xlv. d
Jeremi. i. a.

Ezech. i.

Ecl. xlv.

Agge. ii. a.
i. Es. iii. a.
iii. Es. v. a.

Agge. i. c.
ii. Es. vii. a

Ecc. xliii. b.
Ez. xi. a.

Jesus the sonne of Syrach.

Lozde of hys brethren, and the upholder of hys people: hys bones were couered and kept. Seth and Sem wer in great honour among the people: and so was Adam aboue al the beastes, when he was created.

The. i. Chapter.

¶ Of Symon the sonne of Oniah.

Symon the sonne of Oniah the hye pypste, whiche in hys lyfe set vp the house agayne and in hys dayes made fast the temple.

The heythe of the temple was founded of hym, the double buyldeing and the hie walles of the temple. In hys dayes the welles of water flowed oute, and were excedyng ful as the sea. He toke care for hys people, and delpyered them from destruction. He kept hys cytie, and made it strong, that it should not be besieged. He dwelt in honoz and worship among his people, and enlarged the intrance of the house and þ court. He geuerh lyght as the moornyng starre in þ myddest of the cloudes, and as the mone when it is ful. He shyneth as the sunne in the temple of God. He is as bryght as the raynebown in the sayre cloudes, and as fowres as floures and roses in the spryng of the peare, and as lylres by the ryuers of water. Lyke as the braunches vpon the mount Lybanus in the tyme of Somer: as a fyre and incense that is kyndled: lyke as an whole ornament of pure golde set wyth all maner of pzeious stones: and as an olyue tre that is frutefull, and as a Syper tre whiche groweth vp on hys. When he put on the garmēt of honour, and was clothed wyth al beuty, when he went to the holy aulter to garnyshe the coueryng of the sanctuary: when he toke the porcions out of the pzeistes hand, he hym selfe stode by the harte of the aulter, and hys brethren round about hym. And as braiches of Cedre vpon the mount Lybanus, so stode they rounde aboute hym. And as the braunches of the olyue tre, so stode al the sonnes of Aaron in thei glorie. And that he myghte sufficiently performe hys seruyce vpon the aulter, and garnyshe the offeryng of the hiest god, he stretched out hys hand & toke of the drynckofferyng, and poured in of the wyne: and so he poured vpon the botome of the aulter a good smell vnto the hiest wynde.

Then beganne the sonnes of Aaron to sounge, and to blow the trompettes, and to make a greute noyse, for a remembraunce, and prayse vnto the Lorde. Then were the people afrayed and fel doone to the earth vpon thei faces, to worshippe the Lorde thei God, and to geue thanks to the almighty God. They sounge goodlye also wyth thei voyces, so there was a pleasant noyse in the great house of the Lorde. And the people in thei prayer besoughte the Lorde the hiest, that he would be mercifull, tyl the honoure of the Lorde were persourmed. Thus ended they thei minis-

The. ii. Chapter.

tracion and seruyce. Then went he doone, and stretched oute hys handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Israel, that they shoulde geue prayse and thankes oute of thei lippes vnto the Lorde, to restoyse in hys name. He began yet once also to praye, that he myght openly shewe the thanksgyunge before the hiest, namelye thus: O geue prayse and thankes (ye all) vnto þ Lorde our god which hath euer done noble and greute thynges: whiche hath increased our dates from our mothers wybe, and dealt wyth vs accordyng to hys mercy: that he wyll geue vs the ioyfulness of hert, & peace for our time in Israel. Which saythfully keepeth hys mercy for vs euermore, & alway deliuereth vs in due season.

There betwocomaner of people that I abhorre fro my harte: as for the thyde, whome I hate, it is so people: They that spt vpon the mountayne of Samaria, the Philistynes, and the foolyshe people that dwel in Sichimis.

I Jesus the sonne of Sirache Eleazarus of Jerusalem, haue tokened vp these informations and documentes of wysedd and vnderstandyng in this booke, and poured out the wysedome of my herte. Blessed is he that exercyseth hym selfe therein, and who so taketh such to hert, shal be wyse. If he do these thynges, he shal be strong in all. For the lyght of the Lorde leaderh hym.

The. ii. Chapter.

¶ The prayer of Jesus the sonne of Syrach.

I thanke the O Lorde and kyng, and prayse the O God my sauoure. I wyll yelde prayse vnto thy name: for thou art my defender and helper, and hast pzeised my body from destruction, from the snare of traiterous tounge, and from the lippes that are occupied wyth lyes. Thou haste bene my helper from such as stode vp agaynst me, and haste delpyered me after the multitude of thy mercy, & for thy holpe names sake. Thou hast deliuered me from the roaryng of them that prepared them selues to deuoure me, oute of the handes of suche as sought after my lyfe: from the multitude of them that troubled me, and wente aboute to sette fyre vpon me on euery syde, so that I am not byente in the myddest of the fyre. From the depe of hel, from an vncleane tounge, from lymg wordes, from the wycked kyng, and from an vnyghteous tounge. My soule shal prayse the Lorde vnto death, for my lyfe drew nye vnto hel.

They compassed me rounde aboute on euery syde, and there was no man to helpe me. I looked about me, if there were anye man that would socoure me: and ther was none. Then thought I vpon thy mercy, O Lorde, and vpon thy actes that thou haste done euer of olde, namelye, that thou delpyeredst such as put thei trust in thee, and ryddest them out of the handes of the bea-then. Thus lyft I vp my prayer sed earth, and

ii. Macha.
xxiii.
ii. Mac. iiii.
and. iiii.

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

and prayed for deliuerance from deathe. I called vpon the Lorde my father, that he would not leaue me without helpe, in the daye of my trouble, and in the tyme of the proude. I praysed thy name continuallye, yeldyng honour and thanks vnto it and so my prayer was herd. Thou sauedest me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the vntygthrouse tyme. Therefore wyl I acknowledge and prayse the, and magnify the name of the Lorde.

When I was yet but younge, or euer I went astraye, I desyred wysdome openlye in my prayer. I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last. Then floozshed she vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe. My heart reioysed in her, then wext my foote the ryght way, pea from my pouthe vp soughte I after her: I bowed downe myne eare and receiued her. I found me much wysdome, and prospered greatlye in her. Therefore wyl I ascribe the glorie vnto hym, that geueth me wysdome: for I am aduised to do thereafter. I wyl be gelous to cleue vnto the thyng that is good, so shall I not be confounded. My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue bene diligent to be occupied in her. I lyfte vp mine handes on hie, then was my soule lightened tho to the wysdome, that I knoweledged my foolishnes. I ordred my soule after her, she and I were one hert from the begynnyng, and I found her in clenness. And therefore shall I not be forsaken.

My herte longed after her, and I gat a good treasure. I bozow her the Lorde hath geuen me a new tonge, wherewith I wyl prayse him. Come vnto me re vberned, and dwell in the house of wysdome, with drawe not your selues from her, but talke and commen these thyngs, for your soules are very thyrsty, I opened my mouth and spake: * Come and bye wysdome without money, bowe downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shal receyue wisdom. She is hard at hand, and is content to be found. Behold with your eyes, howe that I haue had but lytle labour, and yet haue found much rest. Receyue wisdom, and ye shall haue plenteousnes of syluer, & golde in possession. Lette your mynde reioyse in hys mercye, and be not ashamed of his praise. Worke hys worke berymes, and he shal gyue you your rewarde in due tyme.

(*)

The ende of the booke of Jesus the sone of Sirach, whiche is called in Latyn Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The fyrst Chapter.

Baruche wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, whych he redde before Iechoniah, and al the people. The Jewes sent the booke with money to Hierusalem to theyr other brethren, to the entent that they shoulde praye for them.

And Baruch dyd read the wordes of this booke before Iechoniah the sone of Ihoiachin king of Iuda might heare: and in the presence of al the people that were come to heare the booke: pea, and before al the noble kynge's sonnes, before the Lordes of the counsaile and elders: and before the whole people, from the lowest to the hiest, before al the that dwelle at Babylon, by the water of Eodys: which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lorde.

They made a collection also of money, accordinge to euery mannes power, and sente it to Hierusalem vnto Ihoachyn the sone of Helkiah, the sone of Salou priest, with the other priestes: and to al the people whych were with hym at Hierusalem, what tyme as they had gotten the ornaments of the temple of the Lorde (that were taken away out of the temple) that they myght bring them agayne into the lande of Iuda the x. day of the moneth Siban: namely syluer vessels, whiche Sedechiab the sone of Iosiah king of Iuda had made. After that Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon hadde taken Iechoniah with all hys prynces, lordes, and al the people, and ledde them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon.

And they sayde: * Behold, we haue sent you money, to bye you burntofferings and incense withal: make you unleuened bread, and offer for synne vpon the aulter of the Lorde our God. * And pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon, and of Baltasar hys sone: that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauē: that god also may geue vs strengthe, and lyghte our eyes: that we may lyue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Baltasar hys sone: that we maye longe do them seruple, and synde fauoure in their syghte. Prare for vs also vnto the Lords our God, for we haue synned agaynst the Lord our god, to this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs. And see that ye reade this booke (whych we haue sent vnto you to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lorde) vpon the hye dayes, and at tyme conueniente.

Thus shal ye saye: The lord our God

Jesus the sone of Sirach.

and prayed for deliuerance from deathe. I called vpon the Lorde my father, that he would not leaue me without helpe, in the daye of my trouble, and in the tyme of the proude. I praysed thy name continuallye, yeldyng honour and thanks vnto it and so my prayer was herd. Thou sauedest me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the vntygthrouse tyme. Therefore wyl I acknowledge and prayse the, and magnify the name of the Lorde.

When I was yet but younge, or euer I went astraye, I desyred wysdome openlye in my prayer. I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last. Then floozshed she vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe. My heart reioysed in her, then wext my foote the ryght way, pea from my pouthe vp soughte I after her: I bowed downe myne eare and receiued her. I found me much wysdome, and prospered greatlye in her. Therefore wyl I ascribe the glorie vnto hym, that geueth me wysdome: for I am aduised to do thereafter. I wyl be gelous to cleue vnto the thyng that is good, so shall I not be confounded. My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue bene diligent to be occupied in her. I lyfte vp mine handes on hie, then was my soule lightened tho to the wysdome, that I knoweledged my foolishnes. I ordred my soule after her, she and I were one hert from the begynnyng, and I found her in clenness. And therefore shall I not be forsaken.

My herte longed after her, and I gat a good treasure. I bozow her the Lorde hath geuen me a new tonge, wherewith I wyl prayse him. Come vnto me re vberned, and dwell in the house of wysdome, with drawe not your selues from her, but talke and commen these thyngs, for your soules are very thyrsty, I opened my mouth and spake: * Come and bye wysdome without money, bowe downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shal receyue wisdom. She is hard at hand, and is content to be found. Behold with your eyes, howe that I haue had but lytle labour, and yet haue found much rest. Receyue wisdom, and ye shall haue plenteousnes of syluer, & golde in possession. Lette your mynde reioyse in hys mercye, and be not ashamed of his praise. Worke hys worke berymes, and he shal gyue you your reward in due tyme.

(*)

The ende of the booke of Jesus the sone of Sirach, whiche is called in Latyn Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The fyrst Chapter.

Baruche wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, whych he redde before Jeconiah, and al the people. The Jewes sent the booke with money to Hierusalem to theyr other brethren, to the entent that they shoulde praye for them.

And Baruch dyd read the wordes of this booke before Jeconiah the sone of Joachin king of Iuda might heare: and in the presence of al the people that were come to heare the booke: pea, and before al the noble kynge's sonnes, before the Lordes of the counsaile and elders: and before the whole people, from the lowest to the hiest, before al the that dwelle at Babylon, by the water of Euphrate: which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lorde.

They made a collection also of money, accordinge to euery mannes power, and sente it to Hierusalem vnto Ioaquyn the sone of Helkiah, the sone of Salou priest, with the other priestes: and to al the people whych were with hym at Hierusalem, what tyme as they had gotten the ornaments of the temple of the Lorde (that were taken away out of the temple) that they myght bring them agayne into the lande of Iuda the x. day of the moneth Siban: namely syluer vessels, whiche Sedechiah the sone of Josiah king of Iuda had made. After that Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon hadde taken Jeconiah with all hys prynces, lordes, and al the people, and ledde them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon.

And they sayde: * Behold, we haue sent you money, to bye you burntofferings and incense withal: make you unleuened bread, and offer for synne vpon the aulter of the Lorde our God. * And pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon, and of Baltasar hys sone: that their dayes may be vpon earth, as the dayes of heauē: that god also may geue vs strengthe, and lyghte our eyes: that we may lyue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Baltasar hys sone: that we maye longe do them seruple, and synde fauoure in their syghte. Prare for vs also vnto the Lords our God, for we haue synned agaynst the Lord our god, to this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs. And see that ye reade this booke (whych we haue sent vnto you to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lorde) vpon the hye dayes, and at tyme conueniente.

Thus shal ye saye: The lord our God

is ryghteous, but we are worthy of confusion and shame: lyke as it is come to passe Baruch. ii. 6 this day, vnto al Iuda, and to euery one Dan. ix. 2, that dwelleth at Hierusalem: to our kyn- ges, prynces, priestes, prophets, and to our fathers. We haue sinned before the Lorde our God, we haue not put our trust in hym nor geuen hym credence, we haue not obeyed hym, we haue not harkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, to walke in the commaundementes that he gaue vs. Sence the day that he brought our forefathers out of the lande of Egypt vnto this present day, we haue bene euer a mysbeli- uinge, and an vnfaithful people vnto the Lorde our God, destroying our selues vt- terly, and shrynckynge backe, that we shuld not heare his voyce.

¶ Wherefore ther are come vpon vs greate plagues and dyuerse curses, like as the lord dynged by Moyses his seruante whiche brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, to geue vs a land that floweth with mylke and honye, lyke as it is to see this day. Neuerthelesse, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, accordyng to al the wordes of the prophetes, whiche he sent vnto vs and to our rulers: but euery man folowed his owne mynde and wicked ymaginacion: to offer vnto straunge Gods, and to doo euyl in the syghte of the Lorde our God.

The.ii. Chapter.

¶ The Jewes confesse that they suffer iustly for they synnes. The true confession of the Christen. The Jewes desyre to haue the wrath of God turned from them. The lord wyl that we obey vnto prynces althoughe they be euyl. He promyseth that he wyl call agayn the people from captiuitie, and geue them a new and euerylastyng testament.

¶ Of the whiche cause the Lorde our God hath perfourmed his deuyce, whereof he certyfied vs and our heads that ruled in Hierusalem, yea and our kinges, oure prynces, with al Irael and Iuda. And such plagues hath the Lord brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, lyke as it is fulfilled in Hierusalem, accordyng as it is mytten in the lawe of Moyses that a man shoulde eat the flesh of his owne sone, and the flesh of his owne daughter. Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the handes of al kynges, that are rounde aboute vs (to be confounded and desolate) and scattered them abroad in al landes and nations. Thus are we brought beneth, and not aboue, for we haue sinned against the lord God, and not bene obedyent to his voyce.

¶ Therefore the Lorde our God is ryghteous, and we with oure fathers (as reason is) are broughte to open shame, as it is to see this daye. And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs alreadye, the Lorde hadde deuyced them for vs: yet woulde we not praye vnto the Lorde our God, that we myght euery man turne from his vngodly wayes. So the Lorde hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs, for he is ryghteous in al his woorkes whiche he hath commaunded vs: which we also haue not done nor harkened vnto his voyce, for to walke in the commaundementes of the Lorde that he had geuen vnto vs.

* And nowe O Lord God of Irael thou that haste brought thy people out of the land of Egypt wth a myghty hand, wth tokens and wonders, wth thy greate power and outstretched arme: and hast gotten thy selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day. O Lord our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wyckedly, we haue behaued our selues vngodly in al thy ryghteousnes- ses. Turne thy wrath from vs (we beseeche the) for we are but fewe leste amonge the Heathen, where thou haste scattered vs. Heare our prayers (O Lorde) and our petiti- ons, bring vs out of captiuitie, for thine owne sake: get vs fauoure in the syghte of them which haue led vs away: that al lan- des may knowe that thou art the Lord our God, and that Irael and his generation calleth vpon thy name.

O Lord, loke downe from thy holy house vpon vs, encline thyn eare, and heare vs. For the dead, that be gone downe to theyr graues, whose soules are oute of theyr bodies, ascribethe vnto the Lord neither prayse nor ryghteousness making, but the soule that is bereft for multitude of her sins whiche goeth on heauily and weakely, whose eyes begyn to fayle, yea suche a soule ascribeth prayse and rightousnes vnto the Lord. O Lord, we poure out our prayers before the, and requyre mercy in thy syghte, O Lorde, our God, not for any godlynes of oure forefathers, but because thou hast sente out thy wrath and indignacion vpon vs: accordyng as thou dydest threaten by thy ser- uantes the prophetes, saying.

* Thus sayeth the Lorde: Bowe downe your shoulders and neckes, and serue the kyng of Babilon, so shal ye remayne stil in the lande, that I gaue vnto your fathers. Yf ye wyl not do this, nor heare the voyce of the Lorde your God, to serue the kyng of Babilon, I shal destroy you in the cities of Iuda, wthin Hierusalem and without. I wyl also take fro you the voyce of mirth and the voice of ioye, the voice of the bride- grome and the voyce of the byrde, and ther shall no man dwell more in the lande. But they woulde not hearken vnto the voyce to do the kyng of Babilon serupre: and therfore hast thou perfourmed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruantes the pro- phetes: namely that the bones of our kin- ges, and the bones of oure fathers shoulde be translated out of theyr place.

And lo, nowe they are layed oute in the heate of the Sunne, and in the colde of the nyghte, and dead in greate miserie: wth hunger, wth sword, wth pestilence, and are Deut. ix. d.

Exod. vii. d. viii. and. ix.

ii. Para. vi.

Deut. xvi. d. Esay. lxi. c.

D

Ier. xvi.

E

are cleane caste forthe. As for the temple wherein thy name was called vpon, thou hast layd it wast, as it is to se this day: and that for the wyckednes of the house of Israel and the house of Iuda. O Lord our God thou hast intreated vs after all thy goodnes, and accordyng to al that greates louyng mercy of thyne, *lyke as thou spakest by thy seruaunte Moyses, in the daye when thou dydest commaunde hym to wyte thy lawe before the chyldren of Israel, saying: If ye wyl not hearken vnto my voyce, then shall thys greates multitude be turned into a very small people: for I wyl scatter them abroade. Notwithstandyng I am sure that thys folke wyl not heare me: for it is an hard necked people. But in the land of theyr captiuitie, they shall remember them selues, and learne to know, that I am the Lord theyr God, when I geue the an herte to vnderstand and eares to heare. Then shall they prayse me in the land of theyr captiuitie, and thynke vpon my name. Then shall they turne them from theyr hard backes, and from theyr vngodlynes: Then shall they remember the thynges that happened vnto theyr forefathers, whych synned against me. So wyl I bring them agayne into the land, whych I promysed wth an oth vnto theyr fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob: and they shall be Lordes of it, yea I wyl increase them, and not mynyshe them. And I wyl make another couenaunte wth them, such one as shal endure for euer: namely, that I wyl be theyr God, and they shall be my people: and I wyl no more dryue my people the chyldren of Israel, oute of the land that I haue geuen them.

The.iii. Chapter.

The people continually in theyr prayer begone for theyr deliuerance. He prayeth wylsome vnto the people, shewyng that so great aduersities came vnto them for the dyspyng therof. Only God is the synder of wisdom. Of the incarnation of Christ.

And now O Lord almyghty, thou God of Israel: our soule that is in trouble, and our spirite that is bereaved, cryeth vnto the: heare thou (O Lord) and haue ppyty vpon vs for thou art a merciful God: be gracious vnto vs, for we haue synned before thee. Thou endurest for euer, shoulde we then utterly perishe? O Lord almyghty thou God of Israel: Heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites and of theyr chyldren whych haue synned before thee, and not harkened vnto the voyce of the Lord theyr God, for the which cause these plagges hange now vpon vs. O Lord, remember not the wyckednes of oure forefathers, but thynke vpon thy power and name nowe at thys tyme, for thou art the Lord our god, and the (O Lord) wyl we prayse. For thou hast put thy feare in our hartes, to the intent that we should call vpon thy name, and prayse the in oure captiuitie: and that we myght turne fro the wyckednesse of oure forefathers, that synned before thee.

Behold, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, wher as thou hast scattered vs, to be an abhominacion, curse, and synne: like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also because of al theyr wyckednes and departing from the. O Israel hear the commaundementes of Iyse: ponder them well wth thyne eares, that thou maist learne wysdome. But howe happeneth it Israel that thou art in thyne enemyes land: thou art waxen old in a straunge country, and despyled wth the dead. Why art thou become lyke them that goo downe to theyr graues? But because thou hast forsake the way of wysdome. For if thou haddest walked in the way of god, truly thou shouldest haue remayned safe in thine own land.

Learn then wher discrecion is, wher vertue is, wher vnderstanding is: that thou maist know also from whence cometh long life, a necessary lyuing, flyght of the eyes and quietnes. Who euer found out her place, or who came euer into her treasures?

Where are the pyruces of the Beathan become and suche as ruled the beastes vpon the earth? They that had theyr pastime wth the foules of the ayre, they that boorded wth syluer and gold (wherin men truste so much) and made no ende of theyr gatherynge: What is worth of them that couered syluer, and were so carefule, and coulde not byrynge theyr woorkes to passe? They be rotted out, and gone downe to hell, and other menne are come vp in theyr steades. Younge menne haue sene lyght, and dwelt vpon earth, but the waye of the reformation haue they not knowen, nor vnderstand the pathes therof: neither haue theyr chyldren receyued it, yea righte sacre is it from them. It hath not bene heard of in the lande of Canaan, neyther hath it bene sene at Theman.

The Agarenes sought after wysedome, but that which is earthly, lyke as the marchauntes of the land do. They of Theman are connyng also, and they labour for wysdome and vnderstandyng: but the waye of true wysdome they know not, neyther doo they thynke vpon the pathes thereof. O Israel, howe great is the house of God: and howe large is the place of bys confelssion. Create is he, and hath none ende: bye and bymesurable. What is become of those famous giauntes, that were so great of bodye, and so worthy mē of war? Those had not the Lord chose, neyther haue they found the waye of reformation, therefore were they destroyed: and for so muche as they had no wysdome, they perished because of theyr folyes.

Who hath gone by into heauen to take wysdome there, and broughte her downe from the cloudes? Who hath gone ouer the sea to fynde her, and hath cho-

Gen. i. sen her aboue golde, and so brought her his cher: No man knoweth the wayes of my Josa. i. c. dome, neyther is ther any that can seke out
Ec. xxxviii. her pathes. But he that wotech al thinges, Ec. xlii. a. knoweth her, and he hath founde her oute with his foreknowledge. The same is he which prepared earth at the beginninge, and filled it with all manner of foules and beastes. When he sendeth out the lyght, it goeth: and when he calleth it agayne, it obeyeth hym with feare. The starres keepe theyr watche, and geve theyr lyghte, pray-and that gladly. When he calleth the, they saye: here we be. And so with chearefulnes they sheweth lyght vnto a hym that made the.
Deut. xlii. a. This is our God, and other: hal none other be compared to hym. It is he that hath founde oute all wysdome, and hath geuen her vnto Jacob his seruante, and to Israel his beloved. Afterward did he shew him selfe vpon earch, and dwelt among me.

The xiiii. Chapter.

The rewarde of them that kepe the law, and the punishment of them that despoile it. A comforting of the people being in captiui-tie. A complaint of Ierusalem, and vnder the figure thereof, of the church. A consolacion and comforting of the same.

This is the booke of the comman-dementes of God, and the lawe that endureth for ever. All they that kepe it, shall come to lyfe:
but such as forsake it, shall come to deathe.
Turne the O Jacob, and take holde of it:
walke by his way thorow his byrgenes and shyne. Seue not thyne honour to another, and thy worship to a straunge people.
O Israel, how happy are we, seying O God hath shewed vs such thynges as are pleasaunte vnto hym. Be of good cheate thou people of God, O thou anciente Israel.
Now are ye sold among the heathen, how be it, not for your vnter destruction: but because ye prouoked God the Lord to wrath and dyspleasure, therefore were ye deliue-red vnto your enemies, for ye dyspleased O euerlastyng God that made you, offerynge vnto deuils and not to God. Ye haue forgotten hym that brought you vp, and your nursle haue ye greued, O Ierusalem.

When the same that the wrath of God was commyng vpon you, he sayd: Herken O ye that dwel about Sion, for god hath brought me into great heuines: and why?
I se the captiuitie of my people, of my son-nes and daughters, whych the euerlastyng God wyll brynge vpon them. With ioye dyd I noyssh them, and now must I leaue them with wepyng and sorowe.

Let no man reioyce ouer me wyddowe, and forsaken: wherby for the synnes of my chyliden, and desolate of euerye man. For why they departed from the lawe of God, they woulde not knowe his ryghtuousnes, nor walke in the waye of his comman-dementes: and as for the pathes of the truthe and godlynesse, they hadde no luste to go in them. O ye dwellers aboute Sion, come and lette vs call to remembraunce the captiui-tie, that the euerlastyng God hath brought vpon my sonnes and my daughters. He hath broughte a people vpon them from far, an vncomfiteous people and of a straunge language: whych neyther regarde the old nor ppyte the younge.

These haue caried awaye the deare be-loued of my wyddowes, leauyng me alone, both desolate and childles. But alas, what can I helpe you? Now he hath brought these plagis vpon you, deliuer you also from the bandes of our enemies.

Go your way (O my chyliden) go your way: for I am desolate and forsaken, I haue put of the clochyng of peace, and put on me the sacke cloth of praper, and for my tymis I wyll call vpon the most hyst. Be of good cheate, O my chyliden, crye vnto the Lorde, and he shall deliuer you from the power of the bynnes, your enemies.

For verely, I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous healthe: yea a very glad-nes is come vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shall haue of our euerlastyng sauoure.

With mournyng and wepyng dyd I see you go from me, but with ioy and perpetuall gladnes, shall the Lord bring you agayne vnto me. Lyke as the neighbours of Sidon saw your captiuitie from God: Euen so shall they also se shortly your healthe in God, whych shall come on you with great honor and euerlastyng worshyppe.

O my chyliden, suffer patiently the wrath that shall come vpon you. For the enemye hath persecuted the, but shortly thou shalt se his destruction, and shalt treade vpon his necke. My dearelyngs haue gon rough harde wayes, for they are led awaye, as a flocke that is scattered abroad with the enemyes. But be of good comforte (O my chyliden) and crye vnto the lord: For he that led you away, hath you yet in remembraunce:
and like as ye haue bene minded to swarue from your God, so shall ye now endeouor your selues. r. tymes more to turne again, and to seeke him. For he that hath brought these plagis vpon you, shall brynge you euerlastyng ioy agayne with your healthe.
Take a good heart vnto thee, O Ierusalem: for he whych gaue thee that name exhorteth the so to do.

The wicked doers that now put thee to trouble, shall perishe: and such as haue re-ioysed at thy sal, shall be punished. The cities whom thy chyliden serue, and that haue caried awaye thy sonnes, shall be correcte. For lyke as they be now glad of thy decaye, so shall they mourne in theyr obstruction. The ioye of theyr multitude shall be taken awaye, and theyr cheate shall be turned into sorowe. For a fyre shall fall vpon them from the euerlastyng God, long to endure: and it shall be inhabyted of dy-

De. xlii. e
Iere. vi.Deut. lxxi. c.
and. xxx. a.
Ical. cxxx. a.

I. reg. xli. e

Ezay. lv. b.

Ier. l. a. b. c.

upls for a greate season.

The.vi. Chapter.

Jerusalem is moued vnto gladnes for the returne of her people, and vnder the fygure therof, the church.

Jerusalem, looke aboute the to-warde the east, and beholde the loy that cometh vnto the from God. For lo, thy sonnes (whome thou hast forsaken, and that wer scattered abysade) come gathered together from the east and west, reioysing in the woorde of the holy one, vnto the honour of God.

Put of thy mourning clothes (O Jerusalem) and thy sorowe, and decke the with the worshyppe and honoure that cometh vnto thee from God, wyth euertlasting glory. God shal put a cloke of ryghtuousnesse vpon thee, and set a crowne of euertlastinge worshyppe vpon thyne heade: for vpon the wyl God declare hys bryghtnesse that is vnder the heauen: Yea an euertlastynge name shal be gauen the of God, with peace of ryghtuousnesse, and the honoure of gods des seare.

Aryse O Jerusalem, stande vp on hye: looke about thee towarde the east, and be-holde thy chyldren gathered from the east, vnto the west, whiche reioyce in the holpe worde, haupnge God in remembraunce.
They departed from the one fore, and wer led away of theyr enemies: but now shall the Lorde brynge them caried wyth ho-noure, as chyldren of the kyngdome. For God is purposed to bryng downe al stoute mountaynes, yea and al hye rockes, to fyll the valleres, and so to make them euen wyth the grounde, that Israel may be dy-lygent to liue vnto the honour of god. The wooddes and al pleasaunt trees shal ouer-shadowe Israel, at the commaundemente of God. For hyther shal God bryng Israel wyth ioyful myrthe, and in the light of his magesty: wyth the mercy and ryghtousenes that cometh of hym selfe.

The.vi. Chapter.

A copy of the Epistle that Jeremy sent vnto the Jewes, whych were led awaye prysoners by the kynge of Babylon: wherin he certyfieth them of the thyng that was commaunded hym of God.

Because of the syns that ye haue done agaynste God, ye shall be ledde awaye captiue vnto Babylon euen of Nabuchodonosor the kyng of Babylon. So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shal remayne there ma-nye yeares, and for a longe season, namely seuen generacions: and after that wyl I brynge you awaye peaceably from thence.

* Nowe shall ye see in Babylon, Goddes of golde, of syluer, of woodde, and of stone, borne vpon mennes shoulders, to cast oute a fearefulnesse before the Heathen. But looke that ye dooe not as the other: be not ye afrayed, and lette not the feare of them ouercome you.

Therefore, when ye se the multitude of people, worshyppe them behynde and before, say ye in your heartes: * O Lord, it is thou that oughtest onely to be worshypped. Myne angell also shall be wyth you, Deut. vi.
and I my selfe wyl care for youre soules.
As for the tymber of those goddes, the carpenter hath polished them: yea, gylted be Deut. vii. 6 they, and layed ouer wyth syluer, yet are they but vayne things, and can not speake.
Lyke as a wench that loueth peramoures, is trymly dected, euen so are these made and hanged wyth golde. Crownes of golde berelve haue they: goddes vpon theyr hea-des: so the pryestes them selues take the golde and syluer from them, and put it to theyr owne vses: yea, they geue of the same vnto harlots, and trymme theyr whoores wythall: agayne, they take it frome theyr whoores, and decke theyr gods therewith.
* Yet can not these gods deliuer the selues fro rust and mothes. Whether haue coue- Jer. x. a. red the with clothynge of purple, they wipe theyr faces for the dust of the temple, wher of ther is much among them. One barhe a septer in his hand, as though he wer iudge of the countrey, yet can he not say such as offende him. Another hath a swearde or an axe in hys hand: for al that is he neyther able to defende hym selfe from battayl, nor from murderers.

By this ye maye vnderstand, that they be no goddes: therefore se that ye neyther worshyppe them, nor feare them. For lyke as a vessel that a manne vseth is not brynge worth when it is broken, euen so is it with theyr Goddes. When they be set vp in the temple, theyr eyes be ful of dust, thorow the fete of those that come in. And lyke as the doores are shutte in rounde aboute vpon hym that hath offended the kyng: Or as it were a dead body kept besyde the graue: Euen so the pryestes keepe the doores with barres, and lockes, leaste theyr Goddes be spoyled wyth robbers. They sette vp can-delles before them, yea verpyre and that manye, wherof they can not se one, but euen as blockes, so stande they in the temple. It is sayd that the serpentes and wormes whych come of the earth, gnawe oute theyr hertes, eatynge them and theyr clothes also: and yet they fele it not. Their faces are blacke, thorow the smoke that is in the temple. The Owles, Swalowes, and byrdes flye vpon them, yea and the cattes runne ouer theyr heades.

If this ye maye be sure that they are not goddes, therefore feare them not. The golde that they haue, is to make them beutiful: for all that, except some body dyshe of theyr rust, they wyl geue no hyne: and when they were caste into a fourme, they felt it not. They are bought for money, and haue no bryth of life wythin them. * They muste be borne vpon mennes shoulders, as those that haue no feet: wherby they declare vnto menne, that they be not brynge worth.

Esa. xlii. b.
Esa. xlv. a.
Sapte. xiii.
ind. xlii.

Esa. xlii. b.

worth. Confounded be they then that wor-shipppe them. For yf they fall to the ground, they can not rylse by agayne of them sel-ues. Yea, though one healte them by and sette them ryghte, yet are they not able to stande alone: but muste haue proppes sette vnder them, lyke deade menne. As for the thynges that is offered vnto them, they priestes sell it, and abuse it: yea, the prestes wyues take therof, but vnto the sicke and poore, they geue nothyng of it, the women wyth chylde, and the menstruous lape handes of they: offerynges. By this ye maye be sure that they are no Goddes, therfore be not ye afrayed of them. From whence cometh it then that they be called Gods? The women syt before the gods of syluer, golde and woodde, and the prestes syt in they: temples, haung open clothes, whose heades and beardes ar shauen and haue nothyng vpon they: heades: roa-ryng and cryng vpon they: gods, as men do at the feast, when one is deade.

E The priestes also take awaye the garmentes of the ymages, and decke they:
wyues and chyliden wythall. Whether it be good or euill that anye manne do vnto them, they are not able to recompence it:
they can neyther set vp a kynge nor putte hym downe. In lyke maner they may neither geue ryches, nor rewarde euell.

Eccles. v. a.

* Though a man make a vowe vnto them and keepe it not, they wyll not requyre it.
They can not restore a blynde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his nede. They can shewe no mercye to the wyddow, nor do good to the fatherles. They: goddes of woodde, stone, golde and syluer, are but euen as other stones, that be hewen of the mountayne. They that worshipppe them, shal be confounded. How shuld they the be taken for goddes? yea, howe dare men call them gods? And though the Caldees worshypped them, not hearyng that they were but domme and coude not speake, Yet they them selues offer vnto Belle, & would sayne haue hym to speake: as who saye, they coude feeles, that may not moue. But whē these mē come to vnderstanding, they shal forsake them, for they: Gods haue no felyng. A greate sorte of women gyrt wyth coardes syt in the stretes and burne olyue beryes. Now if one of them be conueyed away, and lye wyth any such as come by: she casteth her neyghbours in the teeth, because she was so worthely reputed, nor her coard broken. Whatsoeuer is done for them, it is but vayne and lost: Howe maye it then be thought or sayed, that they are gods? Carpenters and goldsmithes make them, neither be theye any other thyng, but euen what the woorkmen wyll make of them.
Yea, golde smithes them selues that make them, are of no longe continuance: How shoulde then the thynges that are made of them, be goddes?

Wayne therfore are the thynges (yea bery shame is it) that they leaue bebynde the for they: posteritye. For as soone as there cometh anye warre or plage vpon them, then the priestes ymagine where they maye hyde them selues wyth them. Howe can men thynke then that they be goddes, whycher neyther maye defende them sel-ues from warre, nor deliuer them from misfortune? For seynge they be but of wood, of stone, of syluer, and of golde: al people and kynge shal knowe here after, that they be but vayne thyngs, yea it shal be openly declared that they be no gods: *but euen the very woorkes of mennes handes, and that God hath nothyng to dooe wyth them.
They can sette no kynge in the lande, nor geue rayne vnto men. They canne geue no sentence of a matter, neyther defende the lande from wronge: For they are not able to do so muche as the crowe that flyeth betwixt heauen and earth.

Psal. cxi.
Sap. xiii. b

When there happeneth a fyre into the house of those gods of wood, of syluer, and of golde, the priestes wyll escape and saue them selues, but the gods burne as the balkes therin. They can not wythstande anye kynge or bartell: howe maye it then be thought or graunted that they be goddes?
Moreouer these gods of wood, of stone, of golde and syluer may neyther defend them selues from theues nor robbers: yea the very wycked are stronger then they. These stryppe them out of they: apparell that they be clothed wythall, these take they:
golde and syluer from them, and so gette them awaye: yet can they not healte them selues. Therefore it is muche better for a manne to be a kynge and so to shewe his power: or els a profitable vessel in a house, wherein he that oweth it, myghte haue pleasure: yea or to be a doore in a house, to keepe suche thynges safe as be therein, then to be suche a vayne God. The Sunne, the Moone, and al the starres, when they geue they: shyne and lyght, are obedyente and doe men good. When the lyghtnyng glistereth, al is cleare: The winde bloweth in euery countrey, and when God com-maunderth the cloudes to goo round about the whole world, they dooe as they ar byd-den: when the fyre is sent downe from aboue and commaunded, it burneth up hyls and wooddes: But as for those Goddes, they are not lyke one of these thynges, neyther in beautye nor strengthe. Wherefore men shoulde not thynke nor saye that they be gods, seing they can neyther geue sentence in iudgemente, nor do men good.
For so much as ye are sure that they be no gods, then feare them not. For they canne neyther speake euill nor good of kynge.
They can shewe no tokens in heauen for the heathen, neyther shyne as the Sunne, nor geue lyghte as the Moone: yea the unreasonable beastes are better then they,
for they can get them vnder y rose, and doo them

the selues good. So can ye be certified by no maner of meanes, that they be Gods:
therefore feare them not. For like as a frai-buggarde in a garden of Cucumbers kepeth nothyng, euen so are they: Goddes of woodde, of syluer and gold: and lyke as a whyte thorne in an orcharde, that euer ye bynde sytterth vpon: yea lyke as a dead body that is caste in the darcke: Euen so is it wyth those Goddes of woodde, syluer and gold. By þ purple and scarlet whiche they haue vpon them, and soone fadeth awaye,
ye maye vnderstand that they be no gods;
yea they themselves shall be consumed at the last, whych shall be a greate confusion of the land. Blessed is the Godly man that hath no Images, and wo: theyppeth none:
for he shall be far from reprose.

The songe of the three chyldezen, whych were put into the hote burning Duen. The common translation readerb thys song in 3. iiii. Chap.
of Dantel.

 And they walked in the myddest of the same praysyng God, and magnify-
yng the Lorde. Asaraph
stode vp and praycd on thys maner. Euen in the myddest of the fyre opened he hys mouthe, and said: Blessed be thou (O Lord God of oure fathers) ryght worthy to be prayled and honoured is that name of thyne for euer-
more: for thou art rightuous in al the thin-ges that thou hast done to vs: Yea faithful
are al thy woorkes, thy wayes are ryghte, and thy iudgementes true. In al the thynges that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and vpon the holy ctry of our fathers, euen Jerusalem, thou haste executed true iudge-
ment: yea accordyng to ryght and equitye hast thou broughte these thynges vpon vs
because of our synnes.

For wher we haue offended, and done wickedlye, departynge from the: In all thynges we haue trespassed and not obeyed
thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neether done as thou haste bydden vs that we myght prosper. Wherfore al that thou haste broughte vpon vs, and euery thyng
that thou haste done to vs, thou haste done
them in true iudgemente: As in deli-
uering vs into the handes of oure ennemys amonge vngodly and wicked abhomynations, and to an vncynguous kynge, yea the most frowarde vpon earthe. And now we maye not open oure mouthes, we are become a shame and reuerse vnto thy ser-uantes, and to them that worshippinge thee.
Yet for thy names sake (we beseeche thee)
geue vs not vj for euer, breake not thy co-
uen. xv. c. uenante, and take not auaile thy mercy. xii. c. xvi. from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, Deut. x. b.

for thy seruaunte Isaacs sake, and for thy help Isaacs sake: to whom thou hast spoken and promised that thou wouldest multiplie theyr seede as the starrs of heauen,
and as the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore. For we (D Dorde) are become les the any people, and be kept vnder thy day, in all the world, because of our sinnes: So that
now we haue neither prince, duke, prophet,
burntoffering, sacrifice, oblation, incense,
nor Sanctuary before thee.

Neuertheles in a contryte herte and an humble spyrte let vs be receyued, that we maye obtayne thy mercye. Lyke as in the burnt offering of rams and bullockes, and lyke as in a thousand of fat lambes: so let our offeringe be in thy syghte this daye, that it may please thee, for there is no confusyon vnto them that put their truste in thee. And nowe we solome thee wyth all our heart, we feare thee, and seke thy face. Put vs not to shame, but deale to vs after thy louyng kyndnes, and accordyng to the multitude of thy mercyes. Deliuere vs by thy miracles (o lord) and get thy name an honour: that al they whiche do thy seruantes euyl, may be confounded. Let them be a shamed thowgh thy almighty power, and lette their strengthe be broken: that they maye know how þ thou onely art the lord God, and honoure worthe thowghout all the worlde.

And the kynges seruauntes that put the
in, ceased not to make the ouen hote wth
wylde fyre, drye straw, pytche, and sagots:
so that the flame went out of the ouen v<sup>pe</sup>
on a .xliv. cubites: yea it toke a way & brent v<sup>pe</sup> those Caldrees. that it gat hold vpon beside the ouen. But the Angell of the Lorde came downe in the ouen to Artioch and v<sup>pe</sup> felowes, and smote the flame of the fyre out of the ouen, and made the myddest of
the oue as it had bene a cold wynde blowing: so that the fyre neyther touched them, grieved them, nor dyd them hurt. The<sup>se</sup> these thre (as out of one mouth) praised, honozed,
and blessed god in the furnace, saying: Blessed be thou, O Lorde God of oure fathers:
for thou art prayse and honoure worthe,
yea and to be magnifyed for euermore. Psa. lxxi. e Blessed be the holpe name of thy glorie,
for it is worthe to be praysed, and magnified in al worldes. Blessed be thou in the halve temple of thy glorie, for aboute all thynges thou arte to be praysed yea and more then worthe to be magnified for e-uer. Blessed be thou in the trone of thy kyngdome, for aboute al thou arte worthe
to be well spoken of, and to be more then magnified for euer. Blessed be thou that lo-kest thow we the depe, and syttest vpon the Cherubins: for thou arte worthe to be praised, and aboute al to be magnified for euer.
Blessed be thou in the stemaunt of heauen, for thou arte prayse and honour wor-
the for euer.

¶ All ye worshes of the Lorde, speake Bbb.iii. good

the selues good. So can ye be certified by no maner of meanes, that they be Gods: therefore feare them not. For like as a scabbuggarde in a garden of Cucumbers keepeth nothyng, euen so are they: Goddes of woodde, of syluer and gold: and lyke as a thyrte thorne in an orcharde, that euer ye byrde syteth vpon: yea lyke as a dead booby that is caste in the darcke: Euen so is it wyth those Goddes of woodde, syluer and gold. By þ purple and scarlet whiche they haue vpon them, and soone faderth away, ye maye vnderstand that they be no gods, yea they themselves shall be consumed at the last, whych shal be a greate confusion of the land. Blessed is the Godly man that hath no Images, and worshippeth none: for he shalbe far from reprose.

The songe of the three chyliden, whych were put into the hote burning Ouen. The common translation readerth thys song in þ. iii. Chap. of Dantel.

And they walked in the myddest of the flame praisynge God, and magnifyng the Lorde. Asarad stood vpon and prayed in thys maner. Euen in the myddest of the fyre opened he his mouth, and said: Blessed be thou (O Lorde God of oure fathers) ryght worthy to be prayesed and honoured is that name of thine for euermore: for thou art rightuous in al the thynges that thou hast done to vs: Yea faithful are al thy woorkes, thy wayes are ryghte, and thy iudgementes true. In al the thynges that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and vpon the holy ctry of oure fathers, euen Jerusalem, thou haste executed true iudgement: yea accordyng to ryght and equitye hast thou broughte these thynges vpon vs because of our synnes.

For wher we haue offended, and done wyckedlye, departynge from the: In al thynges we haue trespassed and not obeyed thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neither done as thou haste bydden vs that we myght prosper. Wherfore al that thou haste broughte vpon vs, and euer ye thynge that thou haste done to vs, thou haste done them in true iudgemente: As in deliuerynge vs into the handes of oure ennemyes amonge vngodly and wycked abhomyntions, and to an vngodly kyng, yea the most frowarde vpon earthe. And now we maye not open oure mouthes, we are become a shame and reprose vnto thy seruantes, and to them that worshype thee. Yet for thy names sake (we beseeche thee) geue vs not vpon for euer, breake not thy couenaunte, and take not awaye thy mercye from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, for thy seruante Isaacs sake, and for thy holy Israels sake: to whom thou hast spoken and promised that thou wouldest multiplye they: seide as the starrs of heauen, and as the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shore. For we (O Lorde) are become les the any people, and be kept vnder thys day, in al the world, because of our synnes: So that now we haue neither prince, duke, prophet, burntofferynge, sacrifice, oblation, incense, nor Sanctuary before the.

Neuertheles in a contryte herte and an humble sprite let vs be receyued, that we maye obtayne thy mercye. Lyke as in the burntofferynge of rams and bullockes, and lyke as in a thousand of fat lambes: so let oure offerynge be in thy syghte thys daye, that it may please thee, for there is no confusion vnto them that put their truste in thee. And nowe we solome thee wyth all our heart, we feare thee, and seke thy face. Put vs not to shame, but deale to vs after thy louyng kyndnes, and accordyng to the multitude of thy mercyes. Deliuere vs by thy miracles (O lord) and get thy name an honour: that al they whych do thy seruantes euyl, may be confounded. Let them be a shamed thowgh thy almighty power, and lette their strengthe be broken: that they maye know how þ thou only art the lord God, and honoure worthy thowghout all the worlde.

And the kynges seruantes that put the in, ceased not to make the ouen hote wyth wyldre fyre, drye straw, pytche, and sagots: so that the flame went out of the ouen vpon a. xlii. cubites: yea it toke a way & brent by those Caldrees. that it gat hold vpon beside the ouen. But the Angell of the Lorde came downe in the ouen to Arioch and bys felowes, and smote the flame of the fyre out of the ouen, and made the myddest of the oue as it had bene a cold wynde blowing: so that the fyre neyther touched them, greued them, nor dyd them hurt. The thes thre (as out of one mouth) praised, honored, and blessed god in the furnace, sayng: Blessed be thou, O Lorde God of oure fathers: for thou art prayse and honoure worthy, yea and to be magnified for euermore. Blessed be the holpe name of thy glorie, for it is worthy to be prayesed, and magnified in al worldes. Blessed be thou in the holpe temple of thy glorie, for aboute all thynges thou arte to be prayesed yea and more then worthy to be magnified for euer. Blessed be thou in the throne of thy kyngdome, for aboute al thou arte worthy to be well spoken of, and to be more then magnified for euer. Blessed be thou that lokest thowgh the depe, and syttest vpon the Cherubins: for thou arte worthy to be praised, and aboute al to be magnified for euer. Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen, for thou arte prayse and honoure worthy for euer.

All ye woorkes of the Lorde, speake good

1. Pet. ii. 8.
Rom. x. c.
Eccl. xii. d.
Rom. ix. 5.

Ps. lxxi. c.

Dani. ix. c.

Baruc. ii. b

Jerem. li. b

Gen. xv. c.
xli. c. xxi.
Deut. x. b.

the selues good. So can ye be certified by no maner of meanes, that they be Gods:
therefore feare them not. For like as a frai-buggarde in a garden of Cucumbers kepeth nothyng, euen so are they: Goddes of woodde, of syluer and gold: and lyke as a whyte thorne in an orcharde, that euer ye bynde sytterth vpon: yea lyke as a dead body that is caste in the darcke: Euen so is it wyth those Goddes of woodde, syluer and gold. By þ purple and scarlet whiche they
haue vpon them, and soone fadeth awaye,
ye maye vnderstand that they be no gods;
yea they themselves shall be consumed at the last, whych shal be a greate confusion of the land. Blessed is the Godly man that hath no Images, and wo: theyppeth none:
for he shalbe far from reprose.

The songe of the three
chyldezen, whych were put into the hote burning Duen. The common translation readerb thys song in 3. ut. Chap.
of Dantel.

 And they walked in the myddest of the same pray-
syng God, and magnify-
yng the Lorde. Asaraph
stode vp and praycd on thys maner. Euen in the myddest of the fyre opened he hys mouthe, and sard: Blessed be thou (O Lord God of oure fathers) ryght worthy to be prayled and
honoured is that name of thyne for euer:
more: for thou art rightuous in al the thin-
ges that thou hast done to vs: Yea faithful
are al thy woorkes, thy wayes are ryghte,
and thy iudgementes true. In al the thynges that thou hast broughte vpon vs, and
vpon the holy ctry of our fathers, euen Jerusalem, thou haste executed true iudge-
ment: yea accordyng to ryght and equitye
hast thou broughte these thynges vpon vs
because of our synnes.

For why? we haue offended, and done wickedlye, departinge from the: In all thynges we haue trespassed and not obeyed
thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neither done as thou haste bydden vs that we myght prosper. Wherfore al that thou haste broughte vpon vs, and euery thyng
that thou haste done to vs, thou haste done
them in true iudgemente: As in deli-
uering vs into the handes of oure ennemys
amonge vngodly and wicked abhomynations, and to an vncircurous kynge, yea
the most frowarde vpon earthe. And now we maye not open oure mouthes, we are
become a shame and reuerse vnto thy ser-
uantes, and to them that worshippinge thee.
Yet for thy names sake (we beseeche thee)
geue vs not vj for euer, breake not thy co-
uen. xv. c. uenante, and take not auaile thy mercy. xii. c. xv. c. from vs, for thy beloued Abrahams sake, Deut. x. b.

for thy seruaunte Isaacs sake, and for thy
help Isaacs sake: to whom thou hast spoken and promised that thou wouldest mul-
tiplie theyr seede as the starrs of heauen,
and as the sande that lyeth vpon the sea
shore. For we (D Dorde) are become les the
any people, and be kept vnder thy day, in all the world, because of our sinnes: So that
now we haue neither prince, duke, prophet,
burntoffering, sacrifice, oblation, incense,
nor Sanctuary before thee.

Neuertheles in a contryte herte and an humble spyrte let vs be receyued, that we maye obtayne thy mercye. Lyke as in the burnt offering of rams and bullockes, and lyke as in a thousand of fat lambes: so let our offeringe be in thy syghte this daye, that it may please thee, for there is no confusyon vnto them that put their truste in thee. And nowe we solome thee wyth all our heart, we feare thee, and seke thy face. Put vs not to shame, but deale to vs after thy louyng kyndnes, and accordyng to the multitude of thy mercyes. Deliuere vs by thy miracles (o lord) and get thy name an honour: that al they whiche do thy seruantes euyl, may be confounded. Let them be a shamed thorow thy almighty power, and lette their strengthe be broken: that they maye know how þ thou onely art the lord God, and honoure worthe thorowout all the worlde.

And the kynges seruauntes that put the
in, ceased not to make the ouen hote wth
wylde fyre, drye straw, pytche, and sagots:
so that the flame went out of the ouen v<sup>pe</sup>
on a .xliv. cubites: yea it toke a way & brent v<sup>pe</sup> those Caldrees. that it gat hold vpon beside the ouen. But the Angell of the Lorde came downe in the ouen to Artioch and v<sup>pe</sup>
felowes, and smote the flame of the fyre
out of the ouen, and made the myddest of
the oue as it had bene a cold wynde blowing: so that the fyre neyther touched them, grieved them, nor dyd them hurt. The<sup>se</sup> these thre (as out of one mouth) praised, honozed,
and blessed god in the furnace, saying: Blessed be thou, O Lorde God of oure fathers:
for thou art prayse and honoure worthe,
yea and to be magnifyed for euermore. Psa. lxxi. e Blessed be the holpe name of thy glorie,
for it is worthe to be praysed, and magnified in al worldes. Blessed be thou in the halve temple of thy glorie, for aboute all
thynges thou arte to be praysed yea and
more then worthe to be magnified for e-
uer. Blessed be thou in the trone of thy kyngdome, for aboute al thou arte worthe
to be well spoken of, and to be more then magnified for euer. Blessed be thou that lo-kest thow we the depe, and syttest vpon the Cherubins: for thou arte worthe to be praised, and aboute al to be magnified for euer.
Blessed be thou in the stemaunt of hea-
uen, for thou arte prayse and honour wor-
the for euer.

¶ All ye worshes of the Lorde, speake
Bless. ill. good

The song of the.iii. childre

good of the Lorde: prayse hym and set him Psal. cxl. c. up for euer.
and. cxlix. a.

O ye angels of the Lord, speake good of
 þe Lorde: prayse him, & set hym vp for euer.

O ye heauens speake good of the Lord:
 prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O al ye waters that be aboue the firmament, speake good of the Lord: prayse him
 and set hym vp for euer.

O al ye powers of þe Lord, speake good of the Lord: praisse him, & set him vp for euer.

Psal. cxlix. a. O ye Sunne and Moone, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set hym vp for euer.

Psal. cxix. b. O ye stars of heauen, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye howers & dew, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

O al ye windes of god, speake good of þe
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye fire & heat, speake good of the lord:
 prayse hym and set hym vp for euer.

O ye winter & sommer, speake good of the Lord: praisse him, & set him vp for euer.

O ye dewes and frostes, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym & set him vp for euer.

O ye frost and colde, speake good of the
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye yse and snowe, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye nyghres and dayes, speake good of the Lord: praisse him & set hym vp for euer.

O ye lyght and darknes, speake good of the Lord: praisse him, & set hym vp for euer.

O ye lyghnynges and cloudes, speake
 good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set him
 vp for euer.

O lette the earthe speake good of the Lorde, yea lette it prayse hym, and set hym
 vp for euer.

O ye mountaynes and hylles, speake good of the Lord: praisse hym, and set hym
 vp for euer.

O al ye grene thynges vpon the earth,
 speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and
 set hym vp for euer.

O ye welles, speake good of the Lorde:
 prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye seas and flouds, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym and set hym vp for euer.

O ye whales & al that lyue in the waters, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym
 and set hym vp for euer.

O al ye foules of the ayre, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and sette hym vp for euer.

O al ye bestes and cattel, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and sette hym vp
 for euer.

O ye chyldre of men, sprake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O let Israel speake good of the Lorde:
 prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

Psal. cxlii. a. O ye prestis of the Lord, speake good of cxliii. a. v. the Lord, praisse him, & set him vp for euer.

cxlv. a. O ye seruantes of the Lorde, speake Isa. xli. a. good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set hym
 vp for euer.

The story of Susanna.

O ye spirites and soules of the righteous speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, & set
 hym vp for euer

O ye holy and blisble men of hert, speake ye good of the Lorde: praisse ye hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O Ananias, Asarias, & Mysael, speake
 ye good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer. Jer. xx. c. Whycher hath deliuered vs from the hel, kept vs from the hande of death, tydde vs from the myddest of the burnynge flame, and saued vs euen in the myddest of the fyre. Isay. xliii. a. O geue thankes there: Isal. cxv. a. for vnto the Lord: for he is kynde harted, and. cxi.
 and hys mercye endureth for euer.

O al deuout mē, speake good of þe Lord,
 euen the God of all Gods: O prayse hym, and geue hym thankes for hys mercye endureth world wythout ende.

The story of Susanna,

whych is the. xiii. Chapter of
 Daniel, after the Latyne.

Here dwelt a mā in Babylon, called Jo-
 achym, that tooke a
 wyfe, whose name
 was Susanna, the daughter of Belchi-
 ab, a very sapie wo-
 mā, and such one as feared God. Her father and mōther also were godly people, & raught their daughter accordyng to þe law of Moyses. Nowe Joachim her husbāde was a great ryche man, and had a fayre orchard loynyng vnto hys house. And to him resorted the Jewes communlye, because he was a man of reputacion amonge them.

 The same yere wer ther made two iudges,
 such as the Lord speaketh of: Al the wickednes of Babylō, cometh fro the elders (that
 is) fro the iudges, whych seme to rule the people. These came oft to Joachims house and al such as had any thyng to do in the law, came thither vnto them.

Now when the people came agayne after noone, Susanna wēt into her husbā-des orcharde, to walke. The elders sepyng this, that she went in dayly, & walked, they burned for luste to her, yea, they were almost out of theyr wytes, & cast down thes eyes, that they shuld not se beauen, nor remember that God is a righteous iudge. For they wer both woldded with þe loue of her, neither durst one shew another hys grieve.
 And for shame they durst not tel her theyr inordinatē lust that they would faine haue had to do wyth her. Yea they layd wayte for her earnestly fro day to day, that they might (at þe lest) haue a sight of her. And þe one said to another: Wyllet vs go home, for it is dinner tyme. So they went theyr way from her. When they turned agayne, they came together enquyringe oute the matter betwyxte them selues: yea, the one tolde
 the

The song of the.iii. childre

good of the Lorde: prayse hym and set him Psal. cxl. c. up for euer.
and. cxlix. a.

O ye angels of the Lord, speake good of
 þe Lorde: prayse him, & set hym vp for euer.

O ye heauens speake good of the Lord:
 prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O al ye waters that be aboue the firma-
 ment, speake good of the Lord: prayse him
 and set hym vp for euer.

O al ye powers of þe Lord, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set him vp for euer.

Psal. cxlix. a. O ye Sunne and Moone, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set hym vp for euer.

Psal. cxix. b. O ye stars of heauen, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye howers & dew, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set him vp for euer.

O al ye windes of god, speake good of þe
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye fire & heat, speake good of the lord:
 prayse hym and set hym vp for euer.

O ye winter & sommer, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set him vp for euer.

O ye dewes and frostes, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym & set him vp for euer.

O ye frost and colde, speake good of the
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye yse and snowe, speake good of the
 Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye nyghres and dayes, speake good of the Lord: prayse him & set hym vp for euer.

O ye lyght and darknes, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & set hym vp for euer.

O ye lyghnynges and cloudes, speake
 good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set him
 vp for euer.

O lette the earthe speake good of the Lorde, yea lette it prayse hym, and set hym
 vp for euer.

O ye mountaynes and hylles, speake
 good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym
 vp for euer.

O al ye grene thynges vpon the earth,
 speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and
 set hym vp for euer.

O ye welles, speake good of the Lorde:
 prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O ye seas and fouds, speake good of the Lord: prayse hym and set hym vp for euer.

O ye whales & al that lyue in the waters, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym
 and set hym vp for euer.

O al ye foules of the ayre, speake good
 of the Lorde: prayse hym, and sette hym vp
 for euer.

O al ye bestes and cattel, speake good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and sette hym vp
 for euer.

O ye chyldre of men, sprake good of the Lord: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O let Israel speake good of the Lorde:
 prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer.

Psal. cxlii. a. O ye prestis of the Lord, speake good of cxliii. a. v. the Lord, prayse him, & set him vp for euer.

cxlv. a. O ye seruantes of the Lorde, speake
Isa. xli. a. good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set hym
 vp for euer.

The story of Susanna.

O ye spirites and soules of the righteous
 speake good of the Lord: prayse hym, & set
 hym vp for euer

O ye holy and blisble men of hert, speake ye good of the Lorde: prayse ye hym, and set hym vp for euer.

O Ananias, Asarias, & Mysael, speake
 ye good of the Lorde: prayse hym, and set hym vp for euer. Isa. xlii. c. Whycher hath deliuered vs from the hel, kept vs from the hande of
 death, tydde vs from the myddest of the
 burnynge flame, and saued vs euen in the myddest of the fyre. O geue thanks therefore vnto the Lord: for he is kynde harted, Isa. xlii. a.
 and bys mercede endureth for euer, and, cbi,

O al deuout mē, speake good of þe Lord,
 euen the God of all Gods: O prayse hym, and geue hym thanks for bys mercede en-
 dureth world wythout ende.

The story of Susanna,

whych is the. xiii. Chapter of
 Daniel, after the Latyne.

Here dwelt a mā in Babylon, called Jo-
 achym, that tooke a
 wyfe, whose name
 was Susanna, the daughter of Belchi-
 ab, a very sapie wo-
 mā, and such one as feared God. Her father and mother also were godly people, & taught their daughter accordyng to þe law of Moyses. Nowe Joachim her husbände was a great ryche man, and had a fayre orchard lounyng vnto bys house. And to him resorted the Jewes communlye, because he was a man of reputacion amonge them.
 The same yere wer ther made two iudges,
 such as the Lord speaketh of: Al the wickednes of Babylō, cometh fro the elders (that
 is) fro the iudges, whych seme to rule the people. These came oft to Joachims house and al such as had any thyng to do in the law, came thither vnto them.

Now when the people came agayne after noone, Susanna went into her husbā-des orcharde, to walke. The elders seynge this, that she went in dayly, & walked, they burned for luste to her, yea, they were almost out of theyr wytes, & cast down thes
 eyes, that they shuld not se beauen, nor remember that God is a righteous iudge. For they wer both wolded with þe loue of her, neither durst one shew another bys grieve.
 And for shame they durst not tel her theyr
 inordinatē lust that they would faine haue
 had to do wyth her. Yea they layd wayte
 for her earnestly fro day to day, that they might (at þe lest) haue a sight of her. And þe one said to another: Wylle we go home, for it is dinner tyme. So they went theyr way from her. When they turned agayne, they came together enquyringe oute the matter betwyxte them selues: yea, the one tolde
 the

the other of hye wycked lust. The appoynted they a tyme when they myghte take Susanna alone.

Et happened also, that they spyed oute a conuenient tyme, when she wente forth to walke (as her maner was) and no body wyth her, but two maidens, & thoughte to wash her selfe in the garden, for it was an hote season: And ther was not one person there, except the two elders, that had hye them selves, to beholde her. So she said to her maidens: go fet me oyle and sope and shut the orcharde doore, that I maye washe me. And they dyd as she bad them, and shut the orchard doore, and went oute the selfe at a backe doore, to fet the thyng that she had commaunded: but Susanna knew not þ the elders laye ther hid wythin. Nowe when the maidens were gone forth, the two elders gat them by: & canne upon her, saying: nowe the orcharde doores are shut, that no man can se vs, we haue a lust vnto the, therfore consent vnto vs, and lye wyth vs.

If thou wilt not, we shal byynge a testimonial agaynst the: that ther was a yonge felowe wyth the, & that þ hast sent away thy maidens from the for the same cause. Susanna syghed, and sayde: Alas, I am in trouble on euery syde. Though I folow youre mynde, it wyll be my deathe: and if I consente not vnto you, I canne not escape youre handes. Well, it is better for me too falle into youre hande wythoute þ deede doyng, the to synne in the syghte of the Lorde, and wyth that she cryed oute wyth a loude voyce: the elders also cryed out agaynst her.

Then ran there one to þ orcharde doore, and smote it open. Nowe when the seruantes of the house herde the crye in the orcharde they rushed in at the backe doore to se what the matter was. So when the elders told them, the seruantes wer greately ashamed: for whye there was neuer suche reporte made of Susanna. On the morow after came the people to Joachim her househonde, and the two elders came also, full of mischeuous imagynacions agaynst Susanna, to byynge her vnto deathe, and spake thus before the people: Sende for Susanna the daughter of Helkias, Joachims wyfe. And immediatly they sent for her. So she came wyth her father and mother, her chyldren and all her kinred. Nowe Susanna was a tender personne, and marvelous fayre of face. Therefore the wicked men commaunded to take the clothes fro her face (for she was couered) that at the leaste they myght so be satisfied in her bewtie. The her scēdes, yea, & al they that knew her, beganne to wepe.

These two elders stode vp in the mydd of the people, and layed theyr handes vpon the heade of Susanna, whyche wepte, and loked vp toward heauen, for her hert hadde a sure truste in the Lorde. And the elders sayed: As we were walkyng in the orcharde alone, this woman came in with her two maidens: whome she sent away from her, and sparrd the orchard doores. Wyth that, a yonge felowe (whyche there was hye) came vnto her, and laye wyth her. As for vs, we stode in a corner of the orcharde. And when we sawe thys wyckednes, we canne to her, and perceyued, that they had medled together. But we coulde not holde hym, for he was stronger then we: thus he opened the doore, and gat hym awaye. Nowe when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yonge felow thys was, but she would not tel vs. Thys is the matter, and we be wytnesses of the same. The commē sorte beleued the as those that were elders and iudges of þ people, and so they condēned her to deathe. Heb. iiii. c. Susanna cryed out wyth a loude voyce, & sayed. O euerlastinge God, thou sercher of secrettes, thou that knowest all thynges afore they come to passe, thou wotest that they haue borne false witness against me: and beholde, I muste dye, where as I neuer dyd anre suche thynges, as these men haue malyciously inuented agaynst me. And the Lorde herde her voyce. For whē she was ledde forth to deathe, the Lorde raysed vp þ spyrte of a yonge chyld, whose name was Daniel whyche cryed wyth a loude voyce: I am cleane frome thys bloud. The all the people turned them towarde hym, and sayed. What meane these words, that thou hast spoken? Danuell stode in þ myddeste of the and sayed: Are ye suche fooles, O ye chyldre of Israel, that ye cannot discern? Ye haue here condemned a daughter of Israel vnto deathe, and knowe not the truerth wherfore: So syt on iudgement agayne, for they haue spoken false wytnes agaynst her.

Wherefore the people turned agayne in all the haste. And the elders (that is, the principall heades) sayed vnto hym: come sit downe here amonge vs, and shewe vs thys matter, seynge God hath geuen the as greate honoure as an elder. And Danuell sayde vnto the: Put these two aside one from another, and then shall I heare them. When they were put a sūder one from another, he called one of the and said vnto hym: O thou olde cankerd carle, that hast vsed thy wyckednes so long, thyne vngacious deedes whyche thou haste done afore, are nowe come to lpyght. For þ haste geuen false iudgements, thou haste oppressed the innocēte, and letten the gyltles go free, wher as yet the Lorde saith: The innocent and ryghteous se thou shalve not. Well thā, if thou haste sene her, tell me vnder what tree sawest thou them talckyng together? He answered: Under a mulberry tree. And Daniel sayde: verye well, now thou lveste euen vpon thyne heade. So the messenger of the Lorde hath receyued the sentence of hym, to cut the in two. Exod. xxi. c. 1020. xviii. c.

the other of hye wycked lust. The appoynted they a tyme when they myghte take Susanna alone.

Et happened also, that they spyed oute a conuenient tyme, when she wente forth to walke (as her maner was) and no body wyth her, but two maidens, & thoughte to wash her selfe in the garden, for it was an hote season: And ther was not one person there, except the two elders, that had hye them selves, to beholde her. So she said to her maidens: go fet me oyle and sope and shut the orcharde doore, that I maye washe me. And they dyd as she bad them, and shut the orchard doore, and went oute the selfe at a backe doore, to fet the thyng that she had commaunded: but Susanna knew not þ the elders laye ther hid wythin. Nowe when the maidens were gone forth, the two elders gat them by: & canne vpon her, saying: nowe the orcharde doores are shut, that no man can se vs, we haue a lust vnto the, therfore consent vnto vs, and lye wyth vs.

If thou wilt not, we shal bynge a testy monial agaynst the: that ther was a yong felowe wyth the, & that þ hast sent away thy maidens from the for the same cause. Susanna syghed, and sayde: Alas, I am in trouble on euery syde. Though I folow youre mynde, it wyll be my deathe: and if I consente not vnto you, I canne not escape youre handes. Well, it is better for me too falle into youre hande wythoute þ deede doyng, the to synne in the syghte of the Lorde, and wyth that she cryed oute wyth a loude voyce: the elders also cryed out agaynst her.

Then ran there one to þ orcharde doore, and smote it open. Nowe when the seruantes of the house herde the crye in the orcharde they rushed in at the backe doore to se what the matter was. So when the elders told them, the seruantes wer greately ashamed: for whye there was neuer suche reporte made of Susanna. On the morow after came the people to Joachim her househonde, and the two elders came also, full of mischeuous imagynacions agaynst Susanna, to byng her vnto deathe, and spake thus before the people: Sende for Susanna the daughter of Helkias, Joachimys wyfe. And immediatly they sent for her. So she came wyth her father and mother, her chyldren and all her kynred. Nowe Susanna was a tender personne, and marvelous fayre of face. Therefore the wicked men commaunded to take the clothes fro her face (for she was couered) that at the leaste they myght so be satisfied in her bewtie. The her scēdes, yea, & al they that knew her, beganne to wepe.

These two elders stode vp in the mydd of the people, and layed theyr handes vpon the heade of Susanna, whyche wepte, and loked vp toward heauen, for her hert hadde a sure truste in the Lorde. And the

elders sayed: As we were walkyng in the orcharde alone, this woman came in with her two maidens: whome she sent away from her, and sparrd the orchard doores. Wyth that, a yonge felowe (whyche there was hye) came vnto her, and laye wyth her. As for vs, we stode in a corner of the orcharde. And when we sawe thys wyckednes, we canne to her, and perceyued, that they had medled together. But we coulde not holde hym, for he was stronge then we: thus he opened the doore, and gat hym awaye. Nowe when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yong felow thys was, but she would not tel vs. Thys is the matter, and we be wytnesses of the same. The commē sorte beleued the as those that were elders and iudges of þ people, and so they condēned her to deathe. Heb. iiii. c. Susanna cryed out wyth a loude voyce, & sayed. O euerlastinge God, thou sercher of secrettes, thou that knowest all thynges afore they come to passe, thou wotest that they haue borne false witness against me: and beholde, I muste dye, where as I neuer dyd anre suche thynges, as these men haue malyciously inuented agaynst me. And the Lorde herde her voyce. For whē she was ledde forth to deathe, the Lorde raysed vp þ spyrte of a yonge chyld, whose name was Daniel whyche cryed wyth a loude voyce: I am cleane frome thys bloud. The all the people turned them towarde hym, and sayed. What meane these words, that thou hast spoken? Danuell stode in þ myddeste of the and sayed: Are ye suche fooles, O ye chyldre of Israel, that ye cannot discern? Ye haue here condemned a daughter of Israel vnto deathe, and knowe not the truerth wherfore: So syt on iudgement agayne, for they haue spoken false wytnes agaynst her.

Wherefore the people turned agayne in all the haste. And the elders (that is, the principall heades) sayed vnto hym: come sit downe here amouge vs, and shewe vs thys matter, seynge God hath geuen the as greate honoure as an elder. And Danuell sayde vnto the: Put these two aside one from another, and then shall I heare them. When they were put a sūder one from another, he called one of the and said vnto hym: O thou olde cankerd carle, that hast vsed thy wyckednes so long, thynne vngacious deedes whyche thou haste done afore, are nowe come to lpyght. For þ haste geuen false iudgements, thou haste oppressed the innocēte, and letten the gyltye go free, wher as yet the Lorde saith: The innocent and ryghteous se thou shalve not. Well thā, if thou haste sene her, tell me vnder what tree sawest thou them talckyng together? He answered: Under a mulberre tree. And Daniel sayde: verye well, now thou lveste euen vpon thynne heade. So the messenger of the Lorde hath receyued the sentence of hym, to cut the in two. RRR. iiii. Then

Heb. iiii. c.

ii. reg. iii. c. Actes. x. d.

ii. reg. iii. d.

Pro. xxi. a. Job. xvii. c.

The story of Bell.

Then put he hym asyde, and called for the orther and sayde vnto hym: O thou sede of Canaan, but not of Iuda: fayrenesse hath disceyued the, & luste hath subuerted thine herte. Thus dealt ye afore wth þe daughters of Israel, and they (for feare) consented vnto you: but the daughter of Iuda wold not abyde your wickednesse. Now tel me than vnder what tree dydest thou take them, speakinge together? He answered: Vnder a pomegranat tree. Then sayd Danpell vnto hym: Very well, now thou lyest also euen vpon thine head. The messenger of the Lorde standeth wapyng wth the sword to cut the in two, and to slay you both.

With that, al the whole multitude gaue a greate shout, and praysed God, whiche alwaie deliuereth the that put their truste in hym. And they came vpon the two elders (whome Danpell had conuycte wth theyr owne mouth: that they had geuen false wytnesse) and dealt wth them, euen lyke wyle as they woulde haue done wth theyr neyghbours: yea, they dyd accordyng to the lawe of Moyses, and put the to deathe. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day.

Then Helchiah and his wyfe praysed God, for theyr daughter Susanna, wth Joachim her housbande, and all the kynred: that there was no dishonestie founde in her. From that day forth was Daniel had in greate reputation in the syghte of the people.

The ende of the storye of Susanna.

The storye of Bell, & the Dragon, which is the. xliii. Chapter of Daniel after the Latin.

Here was at Babilon an ymage, called Bell: and ther wer sette vpon hym euery day. xlii. cakes and .xl. shepe, and sixe great portes of wine. Hym dyd the kynge worship

hym selfe, and wente daylye to honour hym: but Danpell worshipped his owne God. And the kynge sayed vnto hym: Why dost thou not worshyp Bell? He answered and sayed: Because I maye not worshyppe thynges that be made wth handes, but the lyuynge God whiche made heauyn and earth, hath power vpon al these. The kynge sayed vnto hym: thynkest thou not that Bell is a lyuynge God? Or seest thou not howe muche he eateth and dryncketh euery daye? Daniell smiled, and sayed: O kynge deceyue not thy selfe: this is but made of clay wythin, & of metal wythout, neyther eateth he euer any thyng.

The. xliii. Chapter.

Then the kynge was wroth, and called for his prestes, and sayed vnto them: If ye tell me not who this is, that eateth vp these expenses, ye shall dye: but if ye can certifie me þe Bell eateth them, then Daniell shall dye, for he hath spoken blasphemie agaynst Bel. And Daniell sayed vnto the kynge: let it so be, accordyng as thou hast sayed. The prestes of Bell wer. lxx. besyde theyr wyues and chyldren. And the kynge wente wth Danpell into the temple of Bel. So Bels prestes sayed: Lorde, we wyl go oute, and set thou the meate there (O kynge) and pour in the wyne: then shut the doore fast, and seall it wth thine owne signet: and to morow when thou comest in, yf thou syndest not that Bell hath eaten vp al, we wyl suffer deathe. Or else Daniell, þe hath lyed vpon vs. The prestes thoughte them selues sure ynoughe, for vnder the altare they hadde made a prentie intrance, and there wente they in euer, & eate vp what there was.

So whē they were gone forthe the king set meates before Bel. Nowe Daniell had commaunded his seruantes to bryng ashes, and these he sifted thorow oute all the temple, that the kynge myght se. Then went they oute, & sharrd the doore, sealing it wth the kynges signet, and so departed. In the nyghte came the prestes wth theyr wyues and chyldren (as they were wonte to do) and eate and dronke vp all. In the mornynge betymes at the breake of the daye, the kynge arose, and Daniell wroth hym. And the kynge sayd: Daniell, are the scales whole yet? He answered yea, O kynge they be whole. Nowe as soone as he had opened the doore, the kynge looked vnto the altare, & cryed wth a loud voice: Great art thou O Bell, and wth the is no deceat. Then laughed Daniell, and held the kynge þe shoulde not go in, & sayed: Beholde the pauement, mark well whose footesteps are these? The kynge sayd: I se þe footesteps of men, women and chyldren.

Wherefore the kynge was angry, & toke the prestes, wth theyr wyues & chyldren, & they shewed hym the pryuy doores, wher they came in and eat vp suche thynges as wer on the altare. For þe whiche cause the kynge slew the, & deliuered Bel into Daniells power, whiche destroyed hym & his temple. And in that same place there was a greate Dragon, whiche they of Babilon worshipped. And the kynge sayed vnto Daniell: sayst þe, that this is but a God of metall also? loo, he lyueth, he eateth and dryncketh: so that thou canst not saye, that he is no lyuynge God, therfore worshyppe hym. Daniell sayd vnto the kynge: I wyl worshyppe the Lorde my God, he Deut. xliii. and. v. a. 1 Cro. xi. a. Deut. vi. d. Math. xliii. a.

Jer. li. g. 1 say. lvi. a. Jer. li. a.

The story of Bell.

Then put he hym asyde, and called for the orther and sayde vnto hym: O thou sede of Canaan, but not of Iuda: fayrenesse hath disceyued the, & luste hath subuerted thine herte. Thus dealt ye afore wth þe daughters of Israel, and they (for feare) consented vnto you: but the daughter of Iuda wold not abyde your wickednesse. Now tel me than vnder what tree dydest thou take them, speakinge together? He answered: Vnder a pomegranat tree. Then sayd Danpell vnto hym: Very well, now thou lyest also euen vpon thine head. The messenger of the Lorde standeth wapyng wth the sword to cut the in two, and to slay you both.

With that, al the whole multitude gaue a greate shout, and praysed God, whiche alwaie deliuereth the that put their truste in hym. And they came vpon the two elders (whome Danpell had conuycte wth theyr owne mouth: that they had geuen false wytnesse) and dealt wth them, euen lyke wyle as they woulde haue done wth theyr neyghbours: yea, they dyd accordyng to the lawe of Moyses, and put the to deathe. Thus the innocent blood was saued the same day.

Then Helchiah and his wyfe praysed God, for theyr daughter Susanna, wth Joachim her housbande, and all the kynred: that there was no dishonestie founde in her. From that day forth was Daniel had in greate reputation in the syghte of the people.

The ende of the storye of Susanna.

The storye of Bell, & the Dragon, which is the. xliii. Chapter of Daniel after the Latin.

Here was at Babilon an ymage, called Bell: and ther wer sette vpon hym euery day. xlii. cakes and .xl. shepe, and sixe great portes of wine. Hym dyd the kynge worship

hym selfe, and wente daylye to honour hym: but Danpell worshipped his owne God. And the kynge sayed vnto hym: Why dost thou not worshyp Bell? He answered and sayed: Because I maye not worshyppe thynges that be made wth handes, but the lyuynge God whiche made heauyn and earth, hath power vpon al these. The kynge sayed vnto hym: thynkest thou not that Bell is a lyuynge God? Or seest thou not howe muche he eateth and drynketh euery daye? Daniell smiled, and sayed: O kynge deceyue not thy selfe: this is but made of clay wythin, & of metal wythout, neyther eateth he euer any thyng.

The. xliii. Chapter.

Then the kynge was wroth, and called for his prestes, and sayed vnto them: If ye tell me not who this is, that eateth vp these expenses, ye shall dye: but if ye can certifie me þe Bell eateth them, then Daniell shall dye, for he hath spoken blasphemie agaynst Bel. And Daniell sayed vnto the kynge: let it so be, accordyng as thou hast sayed. The prestes of Bell wer. lxx. besyde theyr wyues and chyldren. And the kynge wente wth Danpell into the temple of Bel. So Bels prestes sayed: Lorde, we wyl go oute, and set thou the meate there (O kynge) and pour in the wyne: then shut the doore fast, and seall it wth thine owne signet: and to morow when thou comest in, yf thou syndest not that Bell hath eaten vp al, we wyl suffer deathe. Or else Daniell, & hath lyed vpon vs. The prestes thoughte them selues sure ynoughe, for vnder the altare they hadde made a prentie intrance, and there wente they in euer, & eate vp what there was.

So whē they were gone forthe the king set meates before Bel. Nowe Daniell had commaunded his seruantes to brynge ashes, and these he sifted thorow oute all the temple, that the kynge myght se. Then went they oute, & sharrd the doore, sealing it wth the kynges signet, and so departed. In the nyghte came the prestes wth theyr wyues and chyldren (as they were wonte to do) and eate and dronke vp all. In the mornynge betymes at the breake of the daye, the kynge arose, and Daniell wroth hym. And the kynge sayd: Daniell, are the scales whole yet? He answered yea, O kynge they be whole. Nowe as soone as he had opened the doore, the kynge looked vnto the altare, & cryed wth a loud voice: Great art thou O Bell, and wth the is no deceat. Then laughed Daniell, and held the kynge þe shoulde not go in, & sayed: Beholde the pauement, mark well whose footesteps are these? The kynge sayd: I se þe footesteps of men, women and chyldren.

Wherefore the kynge was angry, & toke the prestes, wth theyr wyues & chyldren, & they shewed hym the pryuy doores, wher they came in and eat vp suche thynges as wer on the altare. For þe whiche cause the kynge slew the, & deliuered Bel into Daniells power, whiche destroyed hym & his temple. And in that same place there was a greate Dragon, whiche they of Babilon worshipped. And the kynge sayed vnto Daniell: sayst þe, that this is but a God of metall also? loo, he lyueth, he eateth and drynketh: so that thou canst not saye, that he is no lyuynge God, therfore worshyppe hym. Daniell sayd vnto the kynge: I wyl worshyppe the Lorde my God, he is psal. xlii. a.

Deut. xix. d.
Deut. xix. a.

Ecc. xxx. c.

Isa. xliii. c.

Jer. li. g.

Isa. lvi. c.

Jer. li. c.

Deut. xlii. c.

and. v. a.

Exo. xi. a.

Deut. vi. d.

math. xlii. a.

is the true lyvinge God: as for thys, he is not the God of lyfe. But geue me leaue (O kynge) and I shall destroye thys Dragon withoute swearde or staf. The kynge saped: I geue y<sup>e</sup> leaue. Then Danyell toke pyche, fat and hearry woll, and dyd set the together, and made lompes therof: this he putte in the Dragons mouth, & so the Dragon braste in sunder: and Daniel sayed: lo, there is he to whome ye worshypped. When they of Babylon bearde y<sup>e</sup>, they toke great indignation, and gathered the together a-gaynste the kynge, sayinge: The kynge is become a Jew also, he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slayne the Dragon, and put the p<sup>r</sup>iestes to deathe. So they came to the kynge, and sayd: let vs have Daniell, or els
we wyl destroye the and thine house. Now when the kynge sawe that they rushed in so foure vpon hym, & that necessitie constrained hym, he deliuered Daniel vnto the: which cast hym in to the Lyons den, wher he was
vi. dayes. In the den ther wer seven Lions, and they had geuen the euery day two bodyes and two shepe: whych then were not geuen then, y<sup>e</sup> they might deuour Daniell.

There was in Jewrye a Prophet called Abachuch, to whiche had made porage & broken breade in a deepe platter, and was gorging into the selde, for to bringe it to his mothers. But the aungel of the Lord saied vnto Abachuch: go carie the meate þ thou hast into Babylon, vnto Daniel, whiche is in the Lions den. And Abachuch saied: Lorde, I neuer saw Babilon: and as for þ denne, I knowe it not. Then the aungel of the Lorde toke hym by the toppe, and bare hym by the herre of the head, and (thorow a myghtie wynde) set him in Babilon vpon his den. And Abacuch cryed, sayinge: O Daniel thou seruante of God, haue, take the bryakefast þ God hath sent the. And Daniel sayd: O God, hast thou thought vpon
me? wel, thou neuer saydest them that loue
the. So Daniel arose and ate: and the assiggell of the Lord set Abachuch in his owne
place agayne immediatlye.

Upon the seuenthe day, the kynge went to bewepe Daniell: and whē he cam to the denne, he looked in: and behoulde, Daniel sate in the myddst of the Lyons. Then cried the kyng with a loud voice, saying: Breac arte thou, O Lorde God of Daniel: and he drew hym oute of the denne. As for those that wer þ cause of hys destruction, he dyd cast them into the den, and they were devoured in a moment before hys face.

After this wrote the kyng vnto al people, kynredes and tounes, that dwelte in al countreys, sayinge: peace be multiplied
wth you. My commaundement is, in all the domynion of my realm, that men feare and stand in awe of Daniels God, for he is the liuinge God whych endureth euer: his kyngdome abyderth vncorrupt, and his voluntie is euerlasting. It is he that can deli-uer and saue: he dothe wonders and mirauclous woꝝkes in heauen and earth, for he hath ſaued Daniell from the power of the Dan. xiii. 3 Lions.

The ende of the story of Bell.

The prayer of Manasse kyng of Iuda when he was holden captiue in Babilon.

Lorde almygh-
 tie, god of oure
 fathers, Abra-
 hā, Isaac, and Iacob, and of
 the ryghteous
 seede of them:
 whyche haste
 made heauen &
 earth, wyth all
 the ornamente
 thereof, whych

haste ordeyned the sea by the worde of thy commāndement: whych hast shurte by the depe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull & laudable name, whych al men fear, & tremble before the face of thy vertue, and for anger of thy threatnyng, the whych is im-portable to sinners.

But the mercye of thy promys is greate and vnsearchable: for thou arte the Lorde god most hyghe, aboue all the earthe, long sufferynge, and exceldyng merciful, and repentaunce for the malice of me. Thou Lorde after thy goodnes haste promysed repentaunce for the remission of synnes: and thou that arte the God of the ryghteous, haste not put repentaunce to the rygdreous Abraham, Isaac and Iacob, vnto them that haue not sinned agaynste the: But because I haue sinned aboue the nūber of the sandes of the sea, & that myne iniquities are multiplied, I am humbled wryth many bandes of pryn, and there is in me no breathyng. I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue done euell before the in commyttynge abhominaciōs and multiplying offences. And now I bow the knees of my hert, requyringe goodnes of the O Lorde: I haue sinned, Lorde I haue sinned, and knowe mine iniquitie. I desyre the by prayer, O Lorde forgeue me: for geue me, and destroy

And

is the true livinge God: as for thys, he is not the God of lyfe. But geue me leaue (O kynge) and I shall destroye thys Dragon withoute swearde or staf. The kynge saped: I geue y<sup>e</sup> leaue. Then Danyell toke pyche, fat and hearry woll, and dyd set the
together, and made lompes therof: this he
putte in the Dragons mouth, & so the Dragon brake in sunder: and Daniel sayed: lo,
there is he to whome ye worshypped. When they of Babylon hearde y<sup>e</sup>, they toke great indignation, and gathered the together a-gaynste the kynge, sayinge: The kynge is
become a Jew also, he hath destroyed Bel,
he hath slayne the Dragon, and put the priestes to deathe. So they came to the kynge, and sayd: let vs have Daniell, or els
we wyl destroye the and thine house. Now when the kynge sawe that they rushed in so foure vpon hym, & that necessitie constrained hym, he deliuered Daniel vnto the: which cast hym in to the Lyons den, wher he was
vi. dayes. In the den ther wer seven Lions,
and they had geuen the euery day two bo-
dyes and two shepe: whiche then were not geuen then, y<sup>e</sup> they might deuour Daniell.

There was in Jewrye a Prophet called Abachuch, whych he had made porage & broken breade in a deepe platter, and was gorging into the selde, for to bringe it to his mothers. But the aungel of the Lord saied vnto Abachuch: go carrie the meate & thou hast into Babylon, vnto Daniel, whych is in the Lions den. And Abachuch sayed: Lorde, I neuer saw Babilon: and as for his denne, I knowe it not. Then the aungel of the Lorde toke hym by the toppe, and bare
hym by the herre of the head, and (chozow a mayghtie wynde) set him in Babilon vpon his den. And Abacuch cryed, sayinge: O Daniel thou seruante of God, haue, take the bryakefast & God hath sent the. And Daniel sayd: O God, hast thou thought vpon
me? wel, thou neuer saydest them that loue
the. So Daniel arose and ate: and the assiggell of the Lord set Abachuch in his owne
place agayne immediatlye.

Upon the seuenthe day, the kynge went
to bewepe Daniell: and whē he cam to the denne, he looked in: and behoulde, Daniel sate in the myddst of the Lyons. Then cried bit. the kynge with a loud voice, saying: Great arte thou, O Lorde God of Daniel: and he drew hym oute of the denne. As for those
i. b. that wer þ cause of hys destruction, he dyd cast them into the den, and they were deu-oured in a moment before hys face.

After this wrote the kyng vnto al people, kynredes and tounes, that dwelte in
al countreys, sayinge: peace be multiplied
wth you. My commaundement is, in all the domynion of my realm, that men feare
and stand in awe of Daniels God, for he is the liuinge God whych endureth euer: his kyngdome abyderth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting. It is he that can deli-
uer and saue: he dothe wonders and mira-

uclous woꝝkes in heauen and earth, for he hath ſaued Daniell from the power of the Dan. xiii. 3 Lions.

The ende of the story of Bell.

The prayer of Manasseh
kyng of Iuda when he was holden captiue in Babilon.

Lorde almygh-
 tie, god of oure
 fathers, Abra-
 hā, Isaac, and Iacob, and of
 the ryghteous
 seede of them:
 whyche haste
 made heauen &
 earth, wyth all
 the ornamēt
 thereof, whych

haste ordeyned the sea by the worde of thy commāndement: whych hast shurte by the
depe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull &
laudable name, whych al men fear, & tremble before the face of thy vertue, and for anger of thy threatnyng, the whych is im-
portable to sinners.

But the mercye of thy promise is greate
and vnsearchable: for thou arte the Lorde god most hyghe, aboue all the earthe, long sufferinge, and exceldyng merciful, and repentance for the malice of me. Thou Lorde after thy goodnes haste promysed repentance for the remission of synnes: and thou that arte the God of the ryghteous, haste not put repentance to the ryghteous Abraham, Isaac and Iacob, vnto them that haue not sinned agaynst the: But because I haue sinned aboue the nūber of the san-des of the sea, & that myne iniquities are multiplied, I am humbled wryth manye bandes of pryn, and there is in me no breasthyng. I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue done euell before the in commyttinge abominaciōs and multiplying offences.
And now I bow the knees of my hert, requyringe goodnes of the O Lorde: I haue sinned, Lorde I haue sinned, and knowe mine iniquitie. I desyre the by prayer, O Lorde forgeue me: forgeue me, and destroy

And

is the true livinge God: as for thys, he is not the God of lyfe. But geue me leaue (O kynge) and I shall destroye thys Dragon withoute swearde or staf. The kynge saped: I geue y<sup>e</sup> leaue. Then Danyell toke pyche, fat and hearry woll, and dyd set the
together, and made lompes therof: this he
putte in the Dragons mouth, & so the Dragon brake in sunder: and Daniel sayed: lo,
there is he to whome ye worshypped. When they of Babylon hearde y<sup>e</sup>, they toke great indignation, and gathered the together a-gaynste the kynge, sayinge: The kynge is
become a Jew also, he hath destroyed Bel,
he hath slayne the Dragon, and put the priestes to deathe. So they came to the kynge, and sayd: let vs have Daniell, or els
we wyl destroye the and thine house. Now when the kynge sawe that they rushed in so foure vpon hym, & that necessitie constrained hym, he deliuered Daniel vnto the: which cast hym in to the Lyons den, wher he was
vi. dayes. In the den ther wer seven Lions,
and they had geuen the euery day two bo-
dyes and two shepe: whiche then were not
geuen then, y<sup>e</sup> they might deuour Daniell.

There was in Jewrye a Prophet called Abachuch, to whiche had made porage &
broken breade in a deepe platter, and was gorging into the selde, for to bringe it to his mothers. But the aungel of the Lord saied
vnto Abachuch: go carrie the meate & thou
hast into Babylon, vnto Daniel, whiche
is in the Lions den. And Abachuch saied:
Lorde, I neuer saw Babilon: and as for his denne, I knowe it not. Then the aungel of the Lorde toke hym by the toppe, and bare
hym by the herre of the head, and (chozow
a myghtie wynde) set him in Babilon vpon
his den. And Abacuch cryed, sayinge: O Daniel thou seruante of God, haue, take the bryakefast & God hath sent the. And Daniel sayd: O God, hast thou thought vpon
me? wel, thou neuer saydest them that loue
the. So Daniel arose and ate: and the assiggell of the Lord set Abachuch in his owne
place agayne immediatlye.

Upon the seuenthe day, the kynge went
to bewepe Daniell: and whē he cam to the denne, he looked in: and behoulde, Daniel sate in the myddst of the Lyons. Then cried the kyng with a loud voice, saying: Great arte thou, O Lorde God of Daniel: and he drew hym oute of the denne. As for those that wer þ cause of hys destruction, he dyd
cast them into the den, and they were deu-
oured in a moment before hys face.

After this wrote the kyng vnto al people, kyndredes and tounes, that dwelte in al countreys, sayinge: peace be multiplied
wth you. My commaundement is, in all the dominioun of my realm, that men feare
and stand in awe of Daniels God, for he is the liuinge God whych endureth euer: his kyngdome abyderth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting. It is he that can deli-
uer and saue: he dothe wonders and mira-

uclous woꝝkes in heauen and earth, for he hath ſaued Daniell from the power of the Dan. xiii. 3 Lions.

The ende of the story of Bell.

The prayer of Manasseh
kyng of Iuda when he was holden captiue in Babilon.

Lorde almygh-
 tie, god of oure
 fathers, Abra-
 hā, Isaac, and Iacob, and of
 the ryghteous
 seede of them:
 whyche haste
 made heauen &
 earth, wyth all
 the ornamēt
 thereof, whych

haste ordeyned the sea by the worde of thy commāndement: whych hast shurte by the
depe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull &
laudable name, whych al men fear, & tremble before the face of thy vertue, and for anger of thy threatnyng, the whych is im-
portable to sinners.

But the mercye of thy promise is greate
and vnsearchable: for thou arte the Lorde
god most hyghe, aboue all the earthe, long sufferinge, and exceldyng merciful, and repentance for the malice of me. Thou Lorde
after thy goodnes haste promysed repentance for the remission of synnes: and thou
that arte the God of the ryghteous, haste
not put repentance to the ryghteous Abraham, Isaac and Iacob, vnto them that
haue not sinned agaynst the: But because I haue sinned aboue the nūber of the san-
des of the sea, & that myne iniquities are multiplied, I am humbled wryth manye
bandes of pryn, and there is in me no breasthyng. I haue prouoked thine anger, and
haue done euell before the in commyttinge
abominaciōs and multiplying offences.
And now I bow the knees of my hert, re-
quyringe goodnes of the O Lorde: I haue
sinned, Lorde I haue sinned, and knowe
mine iniquitie. I desyre the by prayer, O Lorde forgeue me: forgeue me, and destroy

五

The first booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

After the death of Alexander the kynge of Macedonia, Antiochus taketh the kingdome. Manie of the chyldren of Israel make couenaunte wyth the Gentiles. Antiochus subdueth Egypte and Ierusalem vnto his domination. Ierusalem beinge burnte maketh lawes of her owne, and forbyddeth to kepe goddes lawes. Antiochus setteth vp an Idoll ouer the altare of God.

After that Alexander the sonne of Philippe, kynge of Macedonia wēt south of the lande of Cethim, and slew Darius kynge of the Persians & Medes: It happened, that he toke great warres in had, wan very many strong cityes, & slew manye kynges of the earth, goinge thowtwe to the endes of the worlde, and gettinge manye poples of the people: In so muche that the worlde stode in great awe of hym, and therefore was he proude in his herre. Nowe when he had gathered a myghty strong host, and subdued the landes and people wyth theyr prynces, so that they became tributaries vnto hym: he fell sycke. And when he perceyued that he must nedes dye, he called for his noble estates (whiche hadde bene broughte vp wyth hym of chyldren) and parted his kyngdom among the, whyle he was yet a lyue. So alexander raygned. xii. yere, and then dyed. After his death fell the kyngedome vnto his prynces, & they obteyned it euery one in his rounne, & caused them selues to be crowned as kynges: and so dyd theyr chyldren after them many yeres, and muche wyckednes increased in the worlde. Oute of these came the vngacious rote, noble Antiochus the sonne of Antiochus the kynge * (whiche had bene a pledge at Rome) and he raygned in the. C. xxxvii. yere of the raygne of the Grekes.

In those daies went there oute of Israel wycked men, whiche moued muche people wyth theyr couysable, saying: * Let vs goo and make a couenaunte wyth the heathen that are rounde aboute vs: * for sence we departed from the, we haue had muche sorowe. So this deuice pleased the well and certayne of the people toke vpon them for to go vnto the kynge, whiche gaue the licence to do after the ordinaunce of the heathen. They set then * vp an open schole (at Ierusalem) of the lawes of the heathen, and wer no more circūcised: but forsoke the holy Testament, and turned the selues to the heathen, & wer clean sold to do mischefe.

So when Antiochus began to be mighty in his kyngdom, he went aboute to obtayn the lad of Egypte also, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes. Upon this entred he into Egypte wyth a strong host, wyth charrettes, Elephantes, horsemen & a great number of hypps, & began to warre agaynst Ptolomey the kynge of Egypte. But Ptolomey was afcaped of hym, and fled, & manye of his people were wounded to death. Thus Antiochus wan many stronge cityes, and toke away great good oute of the land of Egypt.

The first Chapter.

And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypte, he turned agayn in the. C. xliii. yere, and went toward Israell: & came vp to Ierusalem wyth a myghty people: & entred proude into the Sanctuare, and toke away the golden altare, the candell sticke, and all the ornaumes therof, the table of the shewbread, the pouring vessel, the chargers, the golden spoues, the vaille, the crownes, and golden apparell of the temple, and brake down al. He toke al so the siluer and gold, the precious Jewels and the secret treasures that he founde. And when he had taken away altogether, caused a great murder of men, and so fulfilled his malicious pryde, he departed into his owne lād. Thus ther arose great heuines and mysery in all the land of Israell. The prynces and the elders of the people mourned, the yong men & the maidens were defiled, and the fayre beuty of womē was chaunged: the bydgrom & the byde toke them to mourning: the land & those that dwelt therein, was moued: for all the house of Iacob was brought to confusio.

* After two yeres the kynge sent his chiefe treasurer vnto the cyties of Iuda, whiche came to Ierusalem wyth a great multitude of people, speakyng peaceable wordes vnto them, but all was dysceate: * for when they had geuen hym credence, he fell sodenlye vpon the cytye, and smote it sore, and destroyed muche people of Israell. * And when he hadde spoyled the cytye, he set fyre on it, castyng downe houses and walles on euery syde.

The women and theyr chyldre toke theyr captiue, and led away theyr cattel. Then builded they the castell of Dauid wyth a great and thicke wal, and wyth myghty towres, and made it a strōge holde for the. Beside al this they set wycked people and vngodly men to kepe it, shored it w weapons and vitayles: gathered the goodes of Ierusalem, and layd them by ther: thus became it a theuyshe castell.

And this was done to laye wayte for the people that wente into the Sanctuare, and for the cruell destruction of Israell. Thus they shed innocent bloude on euery side of the sanctuare, and despyled it: In so muche the cytyens were fayne to departe, and the cytye became an habitacon of straungers beinge desolate of her own sede: For her own natyues wer fayne to leaue her. Her Sanctuare was cleane wasted, her holy dates were turned into mourning, her Saboths were had in derision,

ii. mach. v.

ii. mach. v. c. That is, after that Seleus began to reign

ii. mach. v.

ii. mach. v. a

ii. mach. v. c.

i. mach. vii. b

i. mach. vii.

Amos. viii.

Cobi. ii. b.

tion,

i. mach. vii. a.

Judith. i. b

Josephus. Dani. vii. a. and. viii. d.

i. mach. vii. a.

Deu. vii. a. Judi. ii. a. * Jer. xlii. a.

ii. mach. iii. b.

iii. Reg. xii

tyson, & her honoure brought to naught. Loke howe great her glorie was afore, so great was her confusion, and her ioye turned into sorowe.

¶ Antiochus also the kynge sente oute a commission vnto all his kyngedome, that all the people should be one. Then they leste euery man his lawe, and all the heathen agreed to the commaundement of kynge Antiochus: Yea manye of the Israelites consented therevnto, offeringe vnto Idols, and despyng the Sabbath.

Josephus in his antiquities of the Iues Cap. vi. vii

¶ So the kynge Antiochus sent his messengers with his commission to Jerusalem, and to all the cities of Iuda: that they should forsake the lawes of the heathen, & forbad ether burnt offering, meat offering, or peace offering to be made in the temple of God, and that there should no Sabbath nor hyfeast day be kept: but commaunded that the Sanctuary and the holpe people of Israel shoulde be despoiled.

¶ He commaunded also that there should be sette vpon other auliers, temples and Idols, to offer vpon swynes flethe and other vncleane beastes, that none shoulde leaue their chyldren vncircumcised to defyle their soules with all manner of vncleaneesse, & abhominacion: that they myghte so forsake the law, and chaunge all the holy ordynaunces of God: and that whosoever would not do accordinge to the commaundement of kynge Antiochus, shoulde suffer deathe. In lyke maner commaunded he thorow oute all his realme, and sette rulers ouer the people, for to compel the to do these thynges, commaundyng the cyties of Iuda to do sacrifice vnto Idols.

¶ Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forsoke the lawe of the Lorde, & committed muche euell in the lande: pease chased oute the secrete Israelites whiche had hid themselves in corners and many places. The xv. day of the moneth Gallie, in the xlv. yere, set kynge Antiochus an abhominable Idoll of desolacion vpon the altare of God, and they buylded altares thorow oute all the cities of Iuda on euery syde, before the doores of the houses, and in the stretes: wher they brente incense, & dyd sacrifice.

Actes. xix. b

¶ And as for the bookes of the lawe of God, they brent them in the fyre, and rente them in peces. Whatsoeuer he was that had a booke of the testament of the Lorde, founde by hym, pease whosoever endeuoured hym selfe to kepe the lawe of the Lorde, the kynges commaundement was, that they shoulde put hym to deathe. And thorow his auctoritie they executed these thynges euery monethe, vpon the people of Israel that were founde in the cyties.

1 Mac. vii. b

¶ The fyue and twentye daye of the moneth what tyme as they dyd sacrifice vpon the alter (whych stode in stead of the alter of the Lorde) accordyng to the commaundement of kynge Antiochus, they put certeyn women to deathe, whiche had caused theyr chyldren to be crucified: Not onely that, but they hanged vpon the chyldren by the neckes thorow oute all their houses, and cleme the circumcysers of them.

Yet were there manye of the people of Israel, whiche determyned in them selues, that they woulde not eate vncleane thynges: but chose rather to suffer deathe, then to be defiled with vncleane meates. So because they woulde not breake the blessed lawe of God, they were cruellly slayne. And this greates tyranye increased verpe soze vpon the people of Israel.

The.ii. Chapter.

¶ The mourninge of Mathathiah & his sonnes for the destruction of the holpe ctye. They refuse to do sacrifice vnto Idols. The zeale of Mathathiah for the lawe of god. They are slayne and wyl not fyght agayne because of the Sabbath day. Mathathiah dyng, commaundeth his sonnes to stycke by the worde of god after the example of the fathers.

¶ In those dayes there dyd stand vpon one Mathathiah & sonne of Symeon the pryeste (oute of the kyndred of Hoarys) first Jerusalem and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin, & hadde v. sonnes: John called Gods: Simon called Thasi, Judas otherwys called Machabeus: Eleazer, otherwys called Abarone: and Jonathan, whose sur name was Apibus. These same the euell that was done among the people of Iuda and Jerusalem, and Mathathiah sayd: Wo is me, alas & euer I was born, to se this miserie of my people, and the pitous destruction of the holy cite, & thus to sit so still it being deliuered into the handes of the enemies. Her Sanctuary is come in to the power of straungers, her temple is as it were a man that hath lost his good name. Her precious ornametes are caried awaye captiue, her olde men are slaine in the stretes, and her yonge men are fallen thorow the sword of the enemyes.

Josephus in antiquities. the. xii. Chapter.

What people is it, that hath not some possession in her kyngdome? Or who hath not gotten some of her spoyle? Al her glorie is taken awaye. She was a Quene, & now she is become an handmayde. Beholde oure Sanctuarye, oure betwre and danoure is wasted a way, and defiled by the Gentiles. What helpeth it vs then to lye? And Mathathiah rent his clothes he and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.

¶ Then came the menne thither whiche were sente of kynge Antiochus, to compell such as were fled into the ctye of Modin, for to do sacrifice and to burn incense vnto Idols, and to forsake the lawe of God. So manye of the people of Israel consented and encloned vnto them, but Mathathiah and his sonnes remayned stedfast. Then spake the commissioners of kynge Antiochus,

The.i. booke of the Mach.

Antiochus, & said vnto mathathiah: Thou art a noble man of hye reputaciō, & great in this citty, hauyng sayre chyldren and brythren. Come thou therefore syfte, and fulfyll the kynges commaundement, lyke as al the heathen haue done, yea and the men of Iuda and such as remaine at Jerusalem: so shalte thou and thy chyldren be in the kynges sauour, and enriched wth gold, syluer and greete rewards.

Actes. v. b. * Mathathiah answered, and spake wth a loude voice: I thoughte all nacions obeyethe kyng Antiochus, and sal awaye euerye man from keepyng the lawe of their fathers, though they consente to his commaundements, yet wyl I and my sonnes and my brythren, not fall from the lawe of oure fathers. God forbyd we shulde: that we not good for vs, that we shuld forsake the lawe and ordinaunces of God, and to agre vnto the commaundement of kyng Antiochus. Therefore we wyl do no suche sacrifice, neither breake the statuts of oure lawe * to go another way. And when he had spokē these wordes, there came one of the Jewes whiche opely in the sight of al dyd sacrifice vnto the Idols, vpon the altar in the city of Godin, accordyng to the kynges commaundement.

Exo. xlii. c. When Mathathiah sawe this, it grieved hym at the herte, so that his raynes shoke wthal, and his wythe kyndled for verye zeale of the lawe. Wth that he gaue a kyppe for the and kyled the Jew besyde the altar: Yea, and slew the kynges commissioner, that compelled hym to do sacrifice, and destroyed the altar at the same tyme: such a zeale hadde he vnto the lawe of God, * lyke as Phinehes dyd vnto Zebur by the sōne of Salomē. And Mathathiah cryed wth a loud voyce throughe the citty, saying: Who so is feruent in the lawe, and wyl kepe the couenaunte, let hym folow me. * So he and his sonnes fled into the mountaynes and left al that euer they had in the citty. Manye other godly men also departed into the wilderness wth their chyldren, their wyues and their cattell, and remayned there: for the tyranny increased so sore vpon them.

Num. xxi. b. Nowe when the kynges seruantes, and the host, whiche was at Jerusalem in the citty of Dauid, herde that certayn men had broken the kynges commaundement & were gone their waye to the wilderness into the secreete places, and ther wer many departed after the: they solowed vpon them to fight agaynst them in Sabbath daye, and sayed: Wyl ye yet rebel? Gette you hence and do the commaundement of kyng Antiochus & ye shall lyue. They answered: * We wil not go for the, neyther wyl we do the kynges commaundement, to defyle the Sabbath day. They began they to fight agaynst them, neuer theles they gaue the none other answer, neither cast they one stone at the, nor made

The.ii. Chapter.

faste they in pryue places, but sayed. We wyl dye al in oure innocencie, heauen and earth shal testify wth vs, that ye put vs to deathe wrongously. Thus they fought agaynst them vpon the Sabbath, & slew bothe men and cattell: they wyles & their chyldre, to the nūbre of a thousand people.

When Mathathiah and his frendes herde this, they moued for their ryghte soe, and sayed one to another: If so be that we all do as oure brythren haue done, and fyghte not for oure lyues & for oure lawes agaynst the heathen, then shall they the soner roote vs oute of the earth. So they concluded amonge them selves at the same tyme, saying: Whatsoeuer be he that cometh to make battayll wth vs vpon the Sabbath daye, we wyl fyghte agaynst hym, and not dye all, as our brythren that were murdered so hapnously. Vpon this came the Synagog of the Jewes vnto the: stronge men of Israel, all such as were feruent in the lawe. And all they that were fled for persecution came to help the, and to stande by them: In so muche that they gathered an host of mē, and slew the wicked doers in their gelousy, & the vngodly men in their wrath. Some of the wicked fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

Thus Mathathias and his frendes wente about, and destroyed the altars, & circumcysed the chyldren, that had not yet receyued circumcision, as manye as they found within the coastes of Israel: and so lorded mightily vpon the chyldre of pryde, and this acte prospered in their handes: In so much, that they kept the lawe agaynst the power of the gentiles and the kynges, and gaue not ouer their dominion vnto wicked doers.

After this when the tyme drew on fast that Mathathiah shuld dye, he sayed vnto his sonnes: Nowe is pryde and persecutiō increased, nowe is the tyme of destruction & wrathful displeasure: therefore (O my sonnes) be ye feruent in the lawe, and reoparde your lyues for the Testament of the fathers: cal to remembrance what accers oure fathers dyd in their tyme, so shal ye receyue great honour and an euerlastyng name.

Remember Abraham, was not he found saythfull in temptaciō, and it was rekeened vnto hym for rightuousnes? * Joseph in tyme of his trouble kept the commaundement, and was made a Lorde of Egypt, * Phinehes oure father was so feruente for the honour of God, that he obayned the couenaunte of an euerlastyng priestehode. Josue for fulfyllinge the worde of God was made the captayne of Israel. Caleb bare recorde before the congregaciō, and receyued an heritage. Dauid also in his mercifull kyndnes, obayned the throne of an euerlastyng kyngdome.

* Elyah being gelous and feruent in the law, was taken vp into beauen. Dananias, Azarias and Misael remayned stedfast faste

Dani.vi.c. fast in faith, & wer deliuered out of þ fire.
In lyke maner Danyel beynge vngolpe, was saued from the mouthe of the Lyons.

Heb.xi.b. And thus ye may consider thorow oute all ages sence the world began, that whosoener put their truste in God, were not ouercome. Feare not ye then the wordes of an vngodly man, for hys gloire is but dong and wormes: to day is he set vp, and to morow is he gone: for he is turned into earthe, and hys memorypall is come to naught. Wherefore (O myr sonnes) take good hertes vnto you, and quyre your sel-ues lyke men in the lawe: for if ye do the thynges that are commaunded you in the lawe of the Lorde your God, ye shall ob-tayne greate honoure therein.

And beholde, I knowe that your brother Simon is a man of wisdom: se that ye geue eare vnto hym alway, he shalbe a father vnto you. As for Judas Machabe-us, he hath euer bene myghty and stronge from hys yowth vp: let hym be your captaine, and order the batayle of the people, thus shal ye bring vnto you all those þ sauoure þ law, & se þ ye auerge the wronge of your people, & recompence the heathen agayn, and apply your selues whole to þ commaundement of the law. So he gaue them hys blessing, and was layed by his fathers: and dyed in the .C. and .xlvj. yere at Modin, wher hys sonnes buryed hym in hys fathers sepulchre, and all Israell made greate lamentacion for hym.

The.iii.Chapter.

Judas is made ruler ouer the Jewes. He killeth Appolonius and Seron the Prince of Syrja. The confidence of Judas toward
God. Judas determineth to fyghte agaynst Aristas, whome Antiochus had made captaine ouer his hoste. The prayer of the absteyners.

Joseph.ca.
viii.ix.li.
xii.Antiq.

He stode vp Judas Ma-chabeus in hys fathers seide & all hys brethren helped hym, & so dyd all they þ helde with his father, & foughte w chearfulnesse for Israell. So

Judas gat the people greate honoure: he put on a byestplate as a graunte, & arated hym selfe w his barneffe, and defended the hoste wyth his swerde. In hys actes he was lyke a Lion, and as a Lions whelp roarunge at hys praye.

ii. Mach.
viii.a.

*He was an enemye to the wycked, & hunted them oute, and brent vp those that bered hys people: So that hys ennemyes fledde for feare of hym, and al the workers of vngodlynes wer put to trouble: suche lucke and prosperytie was in hys hande.
Thys greued dyuerse kynges, but Iacob was greatly reioysed thorow hys acts, & he gat hym selfe a great name for euer.

He wote thorow þ cities of Iuda, destroyinge the vngodlye oute of them, turnyng awaye the wraethe of Israell, & re-sepyng suche as were oppressed: & the fame of hym wot vnto þ uttermoste parte of the earth. * The Apollonius (a Prince of Sirtia) gathered a myghty great hoste of the heathen and oute of Samaria, to ficht agaynst Israell. Whiche when Iudas perceyued, he went forth to meete hym, fought w hym, slew hym, & a great multitude w hym: the remuante fled, and he toke their substance. Judas also toke Appollonius own swerd, & fought w it all his life long. Now when Seron (another Prince of Syrja) hearde saye that Judas hadde gathered vnto hym the congregacion and churche of the saythfull, he sayed: I wyl gette me a name and prayse thorow oute the realme: for I wyl go fyght wyth Iudas and them that are wyth hym as ma-nye as haue despyled the krynges commaundement. So he made hym readye, and there wot wyth hym a great myghty host of the vngodly, to stand by hym, and to be auenged of the chyldren of Israell.

And when they came nye vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth agaynst them wyth a small cōpany. And when hys people sawe such an host before them, they sayed vnto Judas: How are we able, (being so fewe) to fyght agaynst so great a multitude & so stronge, syng we be so wycke, and haue fasted all thys daye?

But Judas sayde: It is a smalle matter for many to be ouercome w fewe: yea there is no differēce to þ God of heauē, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a smal company: * for the victorie of the battell standeth not in the multitude of the hoste, b. but the strength cometh from heauē. Be-holde they come agaynst vs wyth a presumptuous and proude multitude, to de-stroye vs, our wyues and our children, and to robbe vs. But we wyl fyght for our liues, and for our lawes, and the Lorde hym selfe shal destroye them before our face: therefore be not ye afraied of them.

As sone as he had spoken these wordes, he leapt sodenlye vpon them. Thus was Seron smitten, and hys host put to flyght, and Judas folowed vpon them beyonde Bethoron vnto the plaine feld: wher ther wer slayne eight hundred men of the,
& the resydue fled into the lande of the Philis-tynes. The al the heathen on euery syde wer afraied for Judas and hys brethren:
so that the rumoure of hym came vnto the krynges eares, for all the Gentyles coulde telle of the warres of Judas.

So when kyng Antiochus heard these tydynes, he was angrie in hys mynde:
wherefore he sente forth and gathered an hoste of hys whole realme, very stronge armyes: and opened hys treasury, & gaue hys host a yeres wages in hand, commaū-dyng them to be readye at all tymes.

Nevertheless when he sawe that there was not moneye ynough in hys treasury, and that thorow the discord and persecucion, whiche he made in the lande (to put downe

The. i. booke of the Mach.

downe the lawes that hadde bene of olde tymes) bys customes and tributes of the lād were minished, he feared that he was not able to beare the costes and charges any longer: no: to haue such gifts, to geue so liberally as he dyd afore, more then the kynges þat were before hym. * Wherefore he was heauy in bys mynde, and thought to goo into Persides, for to take tributes of the land, and so to gather much mony.

1. mac. vi. a

1. mac. vi. c.

* So he left Lysias (a noble man of the kynge's bloude) to euersee the kynge's busynesses, from the water Euphrates vnto the borders of Egypt: and to kepe wel his sonne Antiochus, tyll he came agayne.

Moreover, he gaue hym halfe of bys hooft and Elephantes, & committed vnto hym euerie thyng of bys mynde, concerning those whiche dwelt in Iuda & Hierusalem: that he shoulde sende out an army agaynst them, to destroye and to rote out the power of Israel and the remnant of Hierusalem: to put out theyr memorial from that place, to set straungers for to inhabyt al their quarters, and to part their lande amonge them. Thus the kyng toke the other parte of the hooft, and departed from Antioche (a cite of bys realme) ouer the water of Euphrates, in the hundredth and xlviij. yere, and went thowhe the hie countreys.

Joseph cap. x. ii. att.

1. mac. viii. b.

* And Lysias chose vnto hym Ptolome the sonne of Doriminius, Nicanor & Gorgas myghty men, and the kynge's frendes. These he sent wyth. xl. m. footemen & viij. thousand horsmen, for to go into the land of Iuda, and to destroy it, as þe kyng commanded. So they went forth wyth all their power, and came to Emmaus into the playne felde. When the machauntes heard the rumoure of them, they and their seruauntes toke verie muche syluer and golde, for to bye the chyldren of Israel to be their bāde men. There came vnto them also yet mo men of war on euery side, out of Syria & from the Palestines.

Now when Judas and bys bretheren sawe that trouble increased, and that the hooft drew nye vnto theyr borders: consideringe the kynge's wordes whiche he commaunded vnto the people: namely, þe they shuld utterly wast and destroy them: They sayd one to another: Let vs redresse the decaye of our people, let vs fighte for our folke and for oure Sanctuary. Then the congregacion were soone readye gathered to fight, to pray and to make supplication vnto God for mercy and grace.

1. mac. i. c.

As for Hierusalem, it lay boyd, and was as it had bene a wyldernes. There wente no man in nor out at it, and the Sanctuary was troden doune. The aleaunts kept the castel, ther was the habitation of the Heathen. The myrth of Jacob was take away, the pyper and the harpe was gone from amonge them.

The Israelytes gathered them together, and came to Maspha before Hierusalem: for in Maspha was the place wher they prayed afore tyme. So they fasted þe day, and put sacke clothes vpon them, cast ashes vpon their heads, &ēt their clothes, and laid forth the booke of the law (wher out the Heathen soughte the lykenesse of their ymages) and broughte the pyrestes ornaments, the firstlynge & the tithe.

The. iiii. Chapter.

* They set there also the abstayners (whiche had fulfilled their dayes) before God, and cryed wyth a loud voice toward heauen, sayinge: What shall we do wyth these? & whither shal we cary the awaye? For the Sanctuary is troden doune and defiled, thy pyrestes are come to heynes and dishonoure: and beholde, the Heathen are come together for to destroy vs. Thou knowest what thynges they imagine agaynst vs. How may we stand before the, except thou (O God) be our help?

They blew out the trumpet also wyth a loude voyce. Then Judas ordeined capytaynes ouer the people: ouer thousandes, ouer hundredes, ouer fiftye, and ouer ten. But as for suche as builded them houses, married wyues, planted them vineyardes, and those that were fearfull, he commaunded the euery man to go home, accordyng to the law. So the host remoued, and pitched vpon the southsyde of Emmaus.

Deut. xx. a. Iud. vii. a

And Judas sayd: Arme your selues, be stronge (O my chyldren) make you redye agaynst to morow in the morning, that ye maye fyght wyth these people, whiche are agreed together to destroy vs & oure Sanctuary. Better it is for vs to dye in bataille, the to se our people and our Sanctuary in such a miserable case. Neuertheles, as the wyll is in heauen, so be it.

The. iiii. Chapter.

Judas goeth agaynst Gorgias whiche lieth in wayte. He putteth Gorgias & his hooft to flighte. Lysias innadeth Jewe, but Judas dyueth hym oute. Judas purifieth the temple and dedicateth the altier.

When toke Gorgias fyue thousand men of foote, & a thousand of the best horsmen: & remoued by nyghte, to come nyther the Jewes hooft lay, & so to slay the sodenlye. Nowe the menne þe kept the castel, were the conueyers of the. The arose Judas to smyte þe cheife & principall of the kynge's hooft at Emmaus, for the army was not yet come together.

In the meane season came Gorgias by nyghte into Judas tentes: and when he founde no man there, he sought them in the mostaynes, and thoughte they had bene fled awaye because of hym. But whē it was day, Judas shewed hym selfe in the feilde wyth thre thousande men onely, whiche hadde neyther harnesse nor swordes to theyr myndes.

But on the othersyde, they sawe that the heathen were myghtye and well harnessed, Josephus his antiq. the. xii. Chapter.

The .i. boke of the Mach:

exo. xiii, f.
i. mac. ix. c.

Æ. mac. viii.

psal. cxviii.
psal. cxviii.
a.

2231

The.iii. Chapter. Fol. lxi.

i. 15 c. xviii.
6.

311.ii. and

The .i. booke of the Mach.

The .v. Chapter.

ii. Mach.
x. a, b.

ii. Para.
vii. a.

ii. Mach.
x. a, b.

i. Mach.
vi.

ii. Mach.
x. a, b.

ii. Mach.
x. a, b.

ii. Mach.
x. a, b.

hanged up the vaile, and set up the temple, as it was afore. And vpon the .xxv. day of .p. month, whiche was called .p. month of Casleu in .p. c. xlviii. yere: they rose up by tymes in the morninge for to do sacrifice (accordyng to .p. law) vpon the newe burnt offering altar .p. they had made after .p. time & season .p. the hearthe had defiled it. The same day was it set up agayn, wyth songs, pipes, harps & cimbales. And al the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping & thankyng the god of heauē whych had geuē the the victory. So they kept the dedicaciō of the altar .viii. dayes, offering burnt sacrifices & thankoffring wyth gladnesse. They deckt the temple also w crownes and shylde of golde, & halowed the ports and celles, and hanged doores vpon the. Thus there was very greate gladnes amōg .p. people, because the blasphemy of .p. Heathen was put away. So Judas & hys brethren w the whole congregacion of Israel, ordayned that the time of the dedicacion of the aulter should be kepte in hys season from yere to yere, by the space of .viii. dayes, from the .xxv. day of the month Casleu, yea and that wyth myrth and gladnes.

And at the same tyme buylded they up the mount Sion with hie walles & strong towres round about: lest the gentils shuld come & tread it doune, as they dyd afore. Therfore Judas set men of war in it, to kepe it: and made it strong, for to defend Bethsura: that the people myghte haue a refuge agaynst the Edomites.

The .v. Chapter.

Judas vanquished the Heathē .p. goe about to destroye Israel, is holpen of hys brethren Symō and Jonathas. He ouerthroweth the cty of Ephron because they denied hym passage thowow it.

It happened also .p. whā .p. hearthe rounde aboute, heard how .p. the aulter & the Sacruary were set up in their olde estate: it displeased them very sore, wherfore they thought to destroy .p. generaciō of Jacob .p. was amōg the: In so muche .p. they beganne to slaye & to persecute certayne of the people. Then Judas fought agaynst .p. chyl dren of Esau in Idumea, & agaynst those which were at Arabathane (for they dwelt round about .p. Israelites) wher he slew & spoyled a great multitude of them. He thoughte also vpon the malice and unfaithfulnes of the chyl dren of Ben, howe they were a snare and stop vnto the people, and howe they layed wayte for the in in the bye waye: wherfore he shut the up into towres, and came vnto them, condemned them, and dynt vp their towres, wyth al that were in them.

Afterward went he agaynst the chyl dren of Ammō, wherof he sold a myghty power & a great multitude of people w Timorby their captaine. So he strake many battailes wth them, whych were destroyed before hym. And when he had slayne them, he wā Bazet the ctye, w the towres belōggyng thereto, and so turned agayne into Jewry. The Hethen also in Galaad gathered the together agaynst the Israelites .p. were in their quarters to slay them: but they fled to the Castel of Darchemā, & sent letters vnto Judas & hys brethren, saying: The Hethen are gathered agaynst vs on euery side, to destroy vs, & nowe they make the for to come, and lay sege to the castell, wherunto we are fled, & Timorby is .p. captain of their host: come therfore, & deliuer vs oute of their hādes: for there is a great multitude of vs slayne all redy. Yea, & our brethren that were at Tubin are slayne & destroyed (welyng a thousand men) & they wyues, they chyl dren, and they goodes haue the enemyes led away captiue.

While the letters wer yet a redyng, behold, ther came other messengers fro Galile w rente clothes, whych tolde euen the same tidinges, & sayd that they of Stolcā may, of Atrus, & of Sidon, were gathered agaynst them, and that al Galile was fylled w enemyes to destroy Israel. Whē Judas, and the people heard thes, they came together (a great congregacion) to deuyse what they myght do for their brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of their enemyes. And Judas sayde vnto Simon hys brother: chose the oute certayn men, and go deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: As for me and my brother Jonathas, we wyl go into Galaadithim. So he left Josephus the sonne of Zacharye, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, and to kepe the remnant of the host in Jewry, and commaunded them, saying: Take the ouersight of this people, & se that ye make no warre agaynst the Heathen, vntill the tyme that we come agayne. And vnto Simon he gaue thre thousande menne for to goe into Galilee, but Judas hym selfe hadde eyght thousande in Galaadithim.

Then wente Symon into Galyle, and stroke diuerse battayles wyth the heathē: whom he discomfited, and folowed vpon them vnto the porte of Stolomais. And there were slayne of the Heathen almost iii. thousande men. So he toke the spoyle of them, and caried away the Israelites .p. were in Galyle and Arbatis, wyth they wyues, they chyl dren and al that they had, & broughte them into Jewry wyth greate gladnes. Judas Machabeus also and his brother Jonathas, wente ouer Iordaine, and traualled .iii. daies iourney in .p. wilderness: Where the Nabuthes met the, and receyued them louyngly, and told the euery thing that had happened vnto their brethren in Galypadithim, and howe that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Bosor, Alimis, Casphor, Magab and Caraim (all these are stronge walled and myghty great ctyes) and that they were kept

ii. mac. viii

kept in other cities of Galaad also: and to morowe they are appointed too bynge they: hooſte vnto the cities, to take them and to wyne them in one daye.

So Judas and hys hooſte turned in all the haſte in the wylderneſſe toward Boſor, and wanne the ctyte, ſlew all þ males in the ſmeard, tooke all their goodes, and ſette fyre vpon the ctyte. And in the night they toke they: iourney fro thence, & came to the caſtel. And by tymes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, ther was an innumerable people bearyng ladders and other instrumentes of warre to take the caſtell, and to ouercome them.

When Judas ſaw that the battayl began, and that the noyſe thereof wente vp and range vnto the heauen, and that ther was ſo greate a crye in the ctyte, he ſayde vnto hys hooſte: ſyghte this daye for your brethren. And ſo came behynde they: enemies in thre companies, and blew vpon the trumpets, & cryed in they: prayer to God.

But as ſoone as Timothies hoſte perceived that Machabeus was there, they fled from hym, & the other ſlew the downe ryghte ſore, ſo that there were kyled of the that ſame daye, almoſte eyghte thouſand men. Then departed Judas vnto Maſpha, laid ſiege vnto it, and tooke it, ſlew all the males in it, ſpoiled it, and ſet fyre vpon it. From thence went he and toke Caſbod, Mageth, Boſor and the other cities in Galaad. After thys gathered Timothy another hoſt, whych pyched they: tentes before Rapha beyond þ water. Judas ſent to ſpy þ hoſt, & they brought hym word agayn, ſayinge: All the heathen that be round about vs are gathered vnto him, & the hoſt is very great: Yea they haue byred the Arabians to help them, & haue pyched they: tentes beyond the water, & are ready to come and ſyght agaynſte the. So Judas went on to mete them.

And Timothy ſayd to the captaynes of hys hoſt: when Judas and hys hoſt come npe the ryuer, if he go ouer fyrſt, we ſhall not be able to wythſtande hym: for whye he wyll be ſo ſtronge for vs: But if he dare not come ouer, ſo that he pych hys tente beyonde the water, then wyll we go ouer: ſo: we ſhalbe ſtrong inough agaynſt hym. Nowe as ſoone as Judas came to the ryuer, he appoynted certayne ſcrybes of the people, and commaunded them, ſaying: ſe that ye leaue none behynd vpon thys ſpde of the ryuer, but let euery mā come to the batayll. So he wente fyrſt ouer vnto the hys people after hym.

And all the heathen wer diſcomfited before hym, and let they: weapons fall, & ran into þ temple that was at Carnaim, which ctyte Judas wanne, and brente the temple wyth all that were in it: So was Carnaim ſubdued, and myghte not wythſtande Judas. Then Judas gathered all the Iſraelites that wer in Galaad with hym, fro the leaſt vnto the moſt, wyth they: wyues and they: chyldren (a verpe great hoſt) ſo: to come into the lande of Iſrael.

So they came into Ephyron, whych was a myghty, great and ſtronge ctyte, & laye in they: waye. For they coulde not go by it neither of the righte hande nor of the left, but muſt go thorow it. Neuertheles they that wer in þ city wolde not let them go thorow, but walled by the ports wyth ſtones. And Judas ſente vnto them wyth peaceable wordes, ſayinge: * Let vs paſſe thorow your land that we maye goo in to our owne countre: ther ſhall no body do you harme, we wyll but only go thorow. But they woulde not let them in.

Therfore Judas commaunded a proclamation to be made thorow oute the hoſt, that euery man ſhuld kepe hys order: and ſo they did they: beſt lyke valiant men.

And Judas beſieged the city all that day and all that nyghte, and ſo wanne it: wher they ſlew as many as were males, and deſtroyed the ctyte, and ſpoiled it, & went thorow all the ctyte, ouer the þ were waye. Then wente they ouer Jordan into the playne ſield before Bethſan. And Judas bealped thoſe forward þ came behynd, & gaue the people good exhortacion al the way thorow, till they were come into the lad of Iuda. * Thus they wēt vp vnto the mount Sion, wher they offered wmyth & ſhakesgeuinge: becauſe ther were none of the ſain, but came home again peaceably.

Nowe what time as Judas and Jonathan were in the lande of Galaad, & Symon they: brother in Galile before Ptolomays: Then Joſephus the ſonne of Zacharye and Alaryah the captaynes, bearynge of the actes that were done, and of the battels that were ſtroken, ſayde: Let vs get vs a name alſo, and go ſight agaynſt þ heathen that are round about vs.

So they gaue their hoſt commaundement, and went toward Jampah. Then came Gorgias & hys men oute of the city, to ſyght agaynſt them: Joſephus alſo and Alaryah were chaſed vnto the borders of Jewry, and ther were ſlayne that day of þ people of Iſrael. ii. my. men: ſo that there was a greate miſerpe amonge the people, and all becauſe they were * not obedyente vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought they ſhulde quyte them ſelues manfully. Neuertheles they came not of the ſeede of thoſe men, by whome Iſrael was helped. But the men þ were wyth Judas, were greatlye commended in the ſyght of al Iſrael and all heathen, wherſoeuer they: name was heard vpon, and the people came vnto them byddynge them welcome.

After thys went Judas forth wyth hys brethren, and ſought agaynſt the chyldren of Eſau, in the land that lieth toward the ſouth, wher he man the city of Hebron and the towneſ that lye beſide it: and as ſo: the walles and towres rounde aboute

The .i. booke of the Mach:

it, he bzent the vp. The remoued he to goe into the lande of the Iſhlypſtines, & wente thowow Samaria. All that ſame time wer ther many pꝛeſtes ſaine in the battayle, whiche wiſſullye & without aduyllemente wente oute ſoz to fighte to gette them honoure. And when Judas came to Azore in the Iſhlypſtines lande, * he brake doune their altares, bzente the ymages of theyr Idoles, ſpoyled the cytyes, and came againe into the lande of Iuda.

The .vi. Chapter.

Antiochus willing to take the cytye of Elymas ſoz a praye is dyuen away of the Elyteins. He falleth into ſpkenes and dyeth. Hys ſonne Antiochus is made kynge. The beſeige of the towre of Syon. Eupator cometh into Jewry wyth a greate armye. The boldnes of Eleazer.

Antiochus kynge Antiochus traueiled thowow the hys coſttries, he heard that Elymas in Perſia was a noble and plenteous city in ſyluer, and golde, & that there was in it a very rich temple: wher as were clothes, cote armours and ſhyldes of golde whiche Alexander ſonne of Philippe king of Macedonia, had left behind him. Wherfore he went about to take the cite and to ſpoil it, but he was not able, ſoz the citizens wer warned of it, and foughte w him. And ſo he fled & departed wyth great heuineſſe, and came again into Babilon. Mozeouer ther came one whiche brought hym tydinges in Perſide, that hys hoſtes which wer in the lad of Iuda, were dyſtuen away, and howe that Lyſias wente furth fyrſt wyth a greate power, and was dyſtuen away of the Jewes: howe ſ they had won the victory, and gotten great goodes out of the hoſtes that perſhed: how they had broke doune the abhominacion: whiche he ſet vp vpon the auſter at Ieruſalem, & ſenced the Sanctuary wyth hys walles, like as it was afore: pca and Bethſura hys cytye alſo.

So it chaunced, that when the kynge had heard theſe wordes, he was aſtayed, and greued very ſore. Wherfore he layed hym doune vpon hys bed, and ſel ſicke ſoz very ſozowe: and all becauſe it had not happened as he had deuylled. And ther continued he long, ſoz hys greif was euer moze and moze, ſo that he ſawe he muſt needes dye. Wherfore he ſent ſoz hys frendes, and ſaid vnto them: the ſepe is gone fro mine eyes, ſoz the very ſozowe and veracion of hert that I haue. For when I conſider in my mind the greate aduerſitie that I am come vnto, and the ſtouds of heuines whiche I am come in, wher as afore tyme I was ſo mery, and ſo greatly ſet by (by reaſon of my power) Againe, conſiderynge the euyl that I haue done at Ieruſalem fro whiche I toke all the ryches of golde and ſiluer ſ that wer in it, and ſent to ſetch away the inhabitoures of Jewry wythout any reaſon why: I knowe ſ theſe troubls are come

The .vi. Chapter:

vpon me ſoz the ſame cauſe. And beholde, I muſt die wyth great ſozow in a ſtraunge lad. Then called he ſoz one Iſhlyp a friend of his, whiche he made ruler of al his realme, & gaue hym the crowne, hys robe and hys cyng, ſ he ſhulde take hys ſonne Antiochus vnto hym, and byngge hym vp tyll he myght raygne hym ſelfe. * So the kynge Antiochus dyed ther in ſ. cclix. pere. Whiche Liſias knewe ſ the kynge was dead, he ordeyned Antiochus hys ſonne * (whom he had brought vp) to raygne in hys fathers ſtede, & called hym Eupator. * Howe they that were in the caſtell at Ieruſalem, kepte the Jewes rounde aboute the Sanctuary, and foughte euer ſtyll to do them harme, ſoz ſ ſtrengthening of the Hearben.

Wherfore Judas thought to deſtroye them, and called all the people together, that they myght laye ſiege vnto them. So they came together in ſ. Cl. pere, and beſieged them, layinge forth theyr ordynance and instrumentes of war. Then certeine of them that were beſieged wente forth (vnto whiche ſome vngodly men of Iſrael ſpued them ſelues alſo) and wente vnto the kynge, ſaying: Howe longe wyll it be, or thou punyſhe and auenge our brethren? We haue euer ben minded to do thy father ſeruite, to walke in hys ſtatutes, & to obey his commaundementes. Wherfore oure people ſel from vs, and wher ſoeuer they founde anye of vs, they ſlew them: and they haue not onlpe medled wyth vs, but wyth al our contreys: and behold, this daye are they beſieging the caſtell at Ieruſalem, * and haue made by the ſtronge hold in Bethſura: And if ſ doeſte not preuente the right ſoone, they wil do moze theſe, & thou ſhalte not be able to overcome the.

* When the kynge heard theſe, he was very angry, and called hys frends the Cap taines of hys ſote men, & of al hys horſemen together. He byred men of warre alſo out of other reames & out of the Iles of ſ ſea, whiche came vnto hym. And the number of his hoſt was an. C. M. footemen, & xx. M. horſemen. xxii. Elephantes well exerciſed to battayle. * Theſe came thowow Idumea vnto Bethſura, and beſieged it a longe ſeaſon, & made diuerſe instrumentes of war againſte it. But the Jewes came oute and bzente them, & fought lyke men. Then departed Judas from the caſtell at Ieruſalem, & remoued the hoſt toward Bethſacaran oute againſt ſ kynges army.

So the kynge aroſe before the day, and brought the power of hys Hoſte into the way to Bethſacaran, wher the Hoſtes made them to ſ battayles blowynge the trumpettes. And to prouoke the Elephantes ſoz to fyghte, they ſhewed them the ſappe of read grapes and mulberies. And deuylled the Elephantes among the Hoſte: ſo that by euerpe Elephate there ſtode a. M. men well harned, and helmets of ſcle vpon theyr heads: Yea vnto euerpe one

Deu. vii. a.

ll. mac. ix. a.
Joſeph. ca.
xii. lib. xii.
antiqui.

l. mac. lli. c.
and. llii.

l. mach. i. f.

ll. mac. ix. a.
b. c. d. e.

Joſeph. cap.
xii. lib. xii.
l. mac. lli. d.
Eupator
Antiochus
ſonne.

l. mac. llii. g.

l. mac. xlii. a.

Joſephus i his antiqui ties. p. xii. v xlii. Chap.

l. mac. llii.
g. and. vi. f.

of the Elephantes also, were ordeined. vi. C. horsemen of the best, whych wayted on the Elephant going wher so euer he wēt, and departed not from hym. Euerie Elephant was couered wth a stronge tower of wood, wher vpon wer. xxxii. valeaunte men wth weapens to fyght, and wthyn it was a man of Inde to rule the beast.

E As for the remnaunt of the horsemen, he set them vpo both the sydes in two partes with trompets, to prouoke the hoste, and to styre vp such as wer flow in the army. And when the sunne shone vpon their shieldes of gold and stele, the mountaines glistered agayne at them, and were as bright as the cressets of fyre. The kynges host also was deuyded, one parte vpon the hye mountaynes, the other lowe benethe: so they went en, takyng good heede, and keepyng theyr order. And al they that dwelte in the lande, were astryed at the noyse of theyr host, whē the multitude went forth, and when the weapons smot together, for the hoste was bothe greate and myghtye.

* Judas also and his host entred into the battayle, and newe. vi. C. men of the kynges army. Now when Eleasar the sonne of Saura did se one of the Elephants deckt wth the kynges badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other: he thought the kyng shoulde be vpon hym, and leoparde hym selfe to deliuer his people, and to get hym a perpetual name.

Wherfore he ran wth a corage vnto the Elephant in the myddest of the hoste smytynge them downe of both the sydes, and newe many about hym. So went he to the Elephantes feete, and gat him vnder him, and newe hym: then fel the Elephant down vpon hym, and ther he dyed. Judas also and his men seying the power of the king, and the myghty vpolence of his hoste, departed from them. And the kynges army went vp agaynst them toward Ierusalem, and pitched theyr tentes in Ieruzale besyde mount Sion. * Moreover the kyng took truce wth them that were at Bethsura.

But when they came oute of the ctyte (because they had no vytayles within, and the land lay vntilled) the king took Bethsura, and set me to kepe it, and turned his host to the place of the sanctuary, and layed siege to it a great while. Wher he made al maner ordinaunces, handbowes, fyre bartes, rackets to cast stones, scorpions to shote arrowes, and synners. The Iewes also made ordinaunce agaynst theys, and fought a long season.

But in the cite there were no vytayles for it was the seuenth yere of the wars, and those beathen that remayned in Ieruzale had eaten vp al theyr stoare. And in the Sanctuary wer fewe men left, for the hunger came so vpon them, that they wer scattered abroad euerie man to his own place.

* So when Lysias hearde that whilip (whom Antiochus the king whyle he was pet luyng, had ordeined to bring by Antiochus his sonne, that he might be king) was come agayne out of Persia and Medea wth the kynges host, and thought to obtayne the kyngdom: he gat hym to the kyng in al the haste, and to the capitaines of the host, and said: we decrease daily, and our vytayles are but small: Agayne, the place that we lay siege vnto, is very stryg, and it were our parte to se for the realme. Let vs agre wth these me and take truce wth them, and wth al theyr people, and graunte them to lye after theyr lawe, as they dyd afore. For they be greued and do all these thynges agaynst vs, because we haue despyled theyr law. So the king and the princes were contente, and sente vnto them to make peace, and they receaued it. Now when the kyng and the princes had made an oth vnto them, they came oute of the castel, and the kyng went vp to mount Sion. But when he sawe that the place was well fenced, he brake the othe that he had made, and commaunded to destroy the wal round about. Then departed he in all the hast, and returned vnto Antioch, wher he found whilip haunyng dominion of the ctyte. So he fought agaynst hym, and took the ctyte agayne into his bandes.

The.vii. Chapter.

Demetrius raygneth after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias. He troubleth the children of Israel thow the counsell of certayne wycked persons. The prayer of the priestes agaynst Ricano. Judas killeth Ricano, after he had made his prayer.

In the. Cii. yere came Demetrius the sonne of Selcucus from the ctyte of Rome wth a smal company of men, vnto a ctyte of the sea coaste, and there he bare rule. And it chaunced that when he came to Antioche the cite of his progenitours, his host tooke Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them vnto him. But when it was told hym, he sayd: let me not se their faces. So the host put the to death. Now when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kyngdome, there came vnto hym wycked and vngodly men of Israel: whose captayne was Alcimus, that wold haue bene made hye priest. These men accused the people of Israel vnto the kyng, saying: Judas & his brethren haue slayne thy frendes, and driuen vs out of our own lande. Wherfore, sende now some men (to whom thou geuest credence) that he may go and se al the destruction, which he hath done vnto vs, and to the kynges land, and let hym be punished wth al his frendes and fauourers.

Then the kyng chose Bachydes a frend of his, whych was a man of great power in the realme (beyond the greate water) and saythfull vnto the kyng: and sente hym to se the destruction that Judas had done. And as for that wycked Alcimus, he

III. iii. made

i. ma. xlii. a Josephus
in his antis quities.

made hym hys pryeste, and commaunded hym to be auenged of the chyldren of Israel. So they stode vp, and came wth a great host into the land of Iuda, sendyng messangers to Judas and hys brethren, and speakyng vnto them wth peacable wordes: but vnder dyscreete. * Therefore Judas and hys people beleued not they saying, for they sawe that they were come wth a greate host.

After this came they scribes together vnto Alcimus and Barchides, trustyng they best vnto them. And first the Asydeans requyred peace of them, sayinge: Alcimus the priest is come of the seede of Aaron, howe can he deceyue vs? So they gaue them louyng wordes, and swore vnto them, and sayde: we wyl doo you no harme, neyther your frendes, and they beleued them. But the very same day toke they .lx. menne of them and slewe them accordyng to the wordes that are wyrtten: * They haue cast the flesh of thy sanctes, and shed their blood round aboute Hierusalem, and there was no man that wold burye the. So ther came a great fear and dread among the people, sayyng: ther is neyther truth nor rightynousnes in them, for they haue broken the appoyntmente and othe that they made. And Barchides remoued hys host from Hierusalem, and pitched hys tent at Bethzabab: wher he sent forth, and toke many of them that had forsaken hym: He slew many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit. Then comitted he the land vnto Alcimus, and left men of war with him to helpe him, and Barchides hym selfe went vnto the kyng. And thus Alcimus defed his hie priesthoode, and all suche as vered Israel, resorted vnto him: In so much that they obtrayned the lande of Iuda, and dyd much euyl vnto the Israelites.

Now when Judas sawe al the mischief that Alcimus and hys company had done (yea, more then the Heathen them selues) vnto the Israelites: He went forth round about al the borders of Iewry, and punished those unfaithful rennagates, so that they came no more out into the countrey. So when Alcimus sawe that Judas and his people had gotten the vpperhand, and that he was not able to abyde them: he went agayne to the kyng, and sayed all the worste of them that he coude. * Then the kyng sent Ricanoz, one of hys chyefe prynces (whych bare euyl wyl vnto Israel) and commaunded him that he shoulde vtterly destroye the people.

So Ricanoz came to Hierusalem wth a great host, and sent vnto Judas and his brethren wth frendly wordes (but vnder dyscreete) sayyng: ther shal be no warre betwixte me and you: I wyl come wth a fewe men to se how ye do, wth frendship. Upon this he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peacablye: but the enemyes were appoynted to take Judas by ypolente. Neuertheles it was told Judas that he came vnto hym but vnder dyscreete, wherfore he gatte him awaye from hym, and woulde see hys face no more. When Ricanoz perceyued that his counsaile was betrayed, he went out to fight agaynst Judas, besyde Capbarsalama wher there were thre of Ricanoz's hoste syue thousande men, the resydue fled vnto the castel of Dauid.

After this came Ricanoz vnto mount Sion: and the priestes wth the elders of the people went forth to salute him peacablye, and to shew hym the burnt sacryfices that wer offered for the kyng. * But he laughed them to scorn, mocked them, despyled theyr offerpuges, and spake dysdaynfully, yea, and swore in hys wrath, sayyng: If Judas and hys hoste be not deliuered now into my handes, as soone as euer I come agayne (and farewell) I shal burne vnto this house. With that went he out in a greate anger. Then the priestes came in, and stode before the auter of the temple, wepyng and sayyng: * For so much as thou (O Lorde) haste chosen this house that thy name myght be called vpon therein, and that it shoulde be an house of prayer and peticion vnto the people, Be auenged of this man and hys hoste, and let them be slayn wth the sword: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer them not to continue anye longer.

When Ricanoz was gon from Hierusalem, he pitched hys tent at Bethoron, and ther an host met hym oute of Syria. And Judas came to Adarsa wth thre thousand men, and made hys prayer vnto god, sayyng: O Lorde * because the messengers of kyng Senacherib blasphemed thee, the angel went forth, and slewe .C. lxxv. of them: Euen so destroye thou this hoste before vs to daye, that other people maye know how that he hath blasphemed thy sanctuarie: and punyssh the hym accordyng to his maliciousnes.

And so the hostes stroke the selfe the thyrtyenth daye of the moneth Adar: and Ricanoz's hoste was dyscomfyred, and he hym selfe was fyrste slayne in the battayle. When Ricanoz's menne of warre sawe that he was kyled, they cast awaye theyr weapons and fled: but the Iewes followed vpon them an whole dayes iourney, from Adazer vnto Bazara, blowyng wth the trompets, and makyng tokens after them. So the Iewes came forth on al the townes there about, and blew oute their hornes vnto them, and turned against the: Thus were they al slayne, and not one of them lefte.

Then they toke theyr substance for a prayse and smot of Ricanoz's head, and his right hand (whych he helde vp so proudly) and brought it wth them, and hanged it vnto the fore Hierusalem. Wherefore the people were exceedingly reioyced, and passed ouer

II. mac. x. liii

III. re. viii. f

Esa. xlii. v

II. Pa. vi

Mat. xx. v

Esa. xxxviii. f

II. ma. viii. d

and xv. d.

III. re. xix. e

II. Pa. xv. d

I. Reg. xvi. f

Judi. xiii. b

II. ma. xliii. f

that day in great gladnes. And Judas ordeyned that same daye (namelye the. xiiij. day of the month Adar) should be kepte in myghte every yere. Thus the land of Iuda was in rest a lytle whyle.

The. viii. Chapter.

Judas consydering the power and godly pollicie of the Romaynes, maketh peace with them. The rescript of the Romaynes sent vnto the Jewes.

Joseph in his booke of antiquities. iii.
chap. xvii.

Judas heard also the fame of the Romaynes, & they were myghty and valiant men, and agreeable to all thynges that are requyred of the, and make peace wth al men, whych come vnto the, and howe they were doughty menne of strength. Besydes that it was tolde hym of theyr barayles and noble actes whych they dyd in Galacta, howe they had conquered them, and brought them vnder tribute: and what greates thynges they had done in Spayne, howe that wth theyr wysedome, and sober behauoure they had wonne the mines of syluer and gold that are ther, and obtrayned al the lande, wth other places farre fro them: how they had dyscomfited and slayne downe the kings that came vpon them, from the uttermost part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute every yere: how they had slayne and ouercome Philip and Perseus king of Terhin, and other mo (in barayle) whych had brought theyr ordynance agaynst them: how they dyscomfited greates

1. Mach. i. a

* Antiochus kyng of Asia (that would nedes fyght wth them) hauing an hundred and. xx. Elephantes, with horsemen, charretts, and a very great host: how they toke him selfe alyue, and ordeyned hym wth such as shoulde raygne after hym, to paye them a great tribute, yea, and to fynde the good sureties and pledges: besides al this, how they had take from hym India, Gedecia, and Lydia (his best landes) and geue them to kyng Eumenes. Againe how they perceyving that the Grekes wer comyng to bere them, sent agaynst them a captain of an host, whych gaue them barayle: slew many of them, led away theyr wyues and chyldren captiue, spoyled the, toke possession of theyr land, destroyed theyr stronge hold, and subdued them to be theyr bonde men, vnto this day: Moreover, howe that as for other kyngdomes and Isles, whych sometyme wthstode them, they destroyed them and brought them vnder theyr domination: But helped euer theyr owne frendes and those that wer confederat wth them, and conquered kyngdomes bothe sea and nye: and that whosoever herd of theyr renowne, was afrayed of them. For whome they wold helpe to theyr kyngdoms, those raygned: and whom it lyked not them to raygne, they put hym downe: And howe they wer come to great preeminence, having no kyng among them, neyther anye man clothed in purple, to be magnified ther thorow, but had ordeyned them selfe a parliament, wher in they sat. iij. C. and twenty Senatours dayly vpon the counsaile, to dyspatch euer the busynesse of the people, and to kepe good order. And howe that euery yere they chose a Maire, to haue the gouernaunce of al theyr land, to whom euery man was obedient: and that ther was neyther euil wyl nor discencion among them.

Then Judas chose Eupolemus the son of Ithon, the sonne of Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and set the to Rome for to make frendshyppe and a bonde of loue wth them, that they myght take fro them the bondage of the Grekes, for the Jewes sawe that the Grekes would subdue the kyngdome of Israel.

So they went vnto Rome (a very great iourney) and came into the Parliamente, and sayed: Judas Machabeus wth his brether, and the people of the Jewes hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bonde of frendshyppe and peace wth you, and ye to note vs as your louers and frendes. And the matter pleased the Romaynes very wel, wherfore it was wrytten vp: of the which the Romaynes made a wrytyng in tables of Lattin, and sente it to Ierusalem, that they myght haue by them a memorie of the same peace and bonde of frendshyp, after this maner: God saue the Romaynes and the people of the Jewes bothe by sea and by land, and kepe the sword and enemy from them for euer more. If ther come fyrst any war vpon the Romaynes or any of theyr frends thorow out al theyr domination, the people of the Jewes shall helpe them (as the tyme requyret) and that wth al theyr hartes. Also they shal neyther geue nor send vnto theyr enemyes vittayles, weapons, money, nor shippes, but fulfill this charge at the Romaynes pleasure, and take nothyng from the. therfore. Agayne if the people of the Jewes happen fyrst to haue war, the Romaynes shall stand by them wth a good wyl, according as the tyme wyl suffer. Neyther shal they geue vnto the Jewes enemyes, vittayles, weapons, money, nor shippes. Thus are the Romaynes content to do, and shal fulfill theyr charge wthout any dysceite.

Accordyng to these articles, the Romaynes made the bond wth the Jewes. Rome after these articles (sayed they) if anye of the parties wyl putte to them, or take any thyng from them, they shal doo it wth the consent of bothe: and whatsoeuer they ad vnto them, or take from the, it shal stande faste. And as touchyng the euil that Demetrius hath done vnto the Jewes, we haue wrytten vnto him sayng: Wherfore sayest thou thy beaue yoke vpon the Jewes our frendes and louers? If they make any complaynte of the agayne vnto vs, we shal defende them, and fyghte wth with the, by sea and by lande.

The .i. booke of the Mach.

The .i. Chapter.

After the death of Alcenor, Demetrius ledeth hys army agaynst Judas. Judas is slayne.
Jonathas is put in the stede of hys brother.
The streyfe betwene Jonathas and Bachides.
Alcimus is taken with the palseye, and dyeth. Bachides retourneth agayne vnto the kyng. He cometh vpon Jonathas by the counsaile of certayne wycked persons, and is overcome. The trace of Jonathas with Bachides.

In the meane season whē Demetrius heard that Alcenor and hys host was slaine in the fildes, he proceeded further to send Bachides and Alcimus agayne into Jewry, and those that were in the ryght wyng of hys host, with them.
So they went forth by the way that lead-eth vnto Balaia, and pitched their ten-tes before Belaloth, whiche is in Arbelhys, and wā the cite, and slew much people. In the first moneth of the .C. lii. yere they brought their host to Jerusalem, and rose vp and came to Betea, with .xx. M. footemen, and ii. M. horsemen.

Now Judas had pitched hys tente at Laisa, with the thousande chosen men.
And when they saw the multitude of the other army that it was so great, they were fore afrayed, and many conueyed them sel-ues out of the host. In so muche that there abode no more of them but .viii. C. mē. Whē Judas saw that hys host failed hym, and that he must nedes fyght, it brake his heart, that he had no tyme to gather them together: wherefore the man was in extreme trouble. Nevertheless, he said vnto them, that remained with hym: Up, let vs goo agaynst our enemies, yet aduenture we shal be able to fyght with them. But they would haue stopped hym, saying: we shall not be able, therefore let vs hope saue our lyues, and turne agayne to our brethren, and they wil fyght agaynst them, for we are here but fewe. And Judas sayed:
God forbid that we should fly from them.
Wherefore if our tyme be come, let vs dye manfully for our brethren, & let vs not stain our honour. Then the host remoued oute of the tentes, and stode agaynst them. The horsemen were deuided in two parties: the strong casters and the archers went before the host, and all the mighty men were for-most in the fildes. Bachides hym self was in the ryght wyng of the battail: and the host drew vpe in two parts, and blew the trumpets. They of Judas blew the trumpets also, and the earth thoke at the noyse of the hostes, and they stoke a fildes from the morow till nyght. And when Judas saw that Bachides hoste was strongest of the ryght syde, heooke with hym all the hardy men, and brake the ryght wyng of that order, and folowed vpon them vnto the mount Azot.

Nowe when they whiche were on the

The .ix. Chapter.

left wyng, sawe that the ryghte syde was dyscomfited, they persecuted Judas and them that were with hym. Then was there a sore battayle, for manye were slayne and wounded of both partes. Judas also hym selfe was kyled, and the remnaunte fled.
So Jonathas & Simon toke Judas their brother, and buried hym in hys fathers sepulchre in the cite of Modin. At the prople of Israell made great lamentacion for hym, and mourned longe, sayinge: Alas, that this worthy should be slayne, whiche deliuered the people of Israell. As for other thynges pertaining to the battails of Judas, the noble actes that he did, and of hys worthynes, they are not wyrtten, for they were very many.

And after the death of Judas, wycked men came vp in all the coastes of Israell, and there arose al such as worke vngodlynes. For those dayes was there a great dearth in the land, and all the country gaue ouer the selues and their vnto Bachides. So Bachides chose wycked men, and made them Lordes in the land. These sought out and made seach for Judas frends, & brought them vnto Bachides: whiche auenged him selfe vpon them with great despyte. And there came so greute trouble in Israell as was not sence the tyme that any prophet was sence ther.

Then came al Judas frendes together, and said vnto Jonathas: For so much as thy brother Judas is deade, there is none like hym to go forth agaynst our enemies, agaynst Bachides, and such as are aduer-saries vnto our people. Wherefore this day we chose the for hym, to be our prince and captayne to order our battayle. And Jonathas toke the gouernance vpon him at the same tyme, and ruled in steade of his brother Judas. When Bachides gat knowledge therof, he soughte for to slaye him. But Jonathas and Simon hys brothers, perceyvinge that, fled into the wyldernes of Iherusa with all their companye, pitched their tentes by the water poule of Asphar.

Whiche when Bachides vnderstode, he came ouer Iordane with al hys host vpon the Saboth daye. Now had Jonathas set his brother Jhon (a caprayne of the people) to pray hys frendes the Saboth dayes, that they would lend the their ordinaunce, for they had much. So the childre of Iambry came out of Gadaba, and toke Jhon and al that he had, and wente they waye wythal. When came word vnto Jonathas and Simon hys brother that the childre of Iambry made a greute marriage, and broughte the wyde from Gadaba with great pompe, for she was daughter to one of the noblest prynces of Canaan. Wherefore they remembered the bloude of Jhon their brother, & wāt vp, and hid the selues vnder the shadowe of the mountayne.
So they lyft vp their eyes, and looked:
and

1. mar. vii. f.
Joseph. ca.
xvii. lib. xii

1. mar. vii. f.
Joseph. ca.
xvii. lib. xii

and behold, ther was much ado, & greate repayre: for the bypdegrome came forth, and hys friendes, and hys brethren mette them wyth tympanes, instrumentes of musycke, and many weapons. Then Jonathas, and they that wer with hym, met hym, rose out of theyr larkynge places agaynst them, and slewe many of them. As for the remnaunt, they fled into the mountaynes, and they toke al theyr substance. Thus the marriage was tourned to mourning, and the noyse of theyr melodye into lamentacion. And so when they had auenged the bloude of theyr brother, they turned agayne vnto Iordane.

Bachides hearing this, came vnto the very border of Iordane wyth great power vpon the Sabbath day. And Jonathas sayd to hys company: let vs go vp and fyght agaynst our enemyes: for it standeth not wyth vs to day, as in tymes past. Behold our enemyes are in our waye, the water of Iordane vpon the one syde of vs, wyth bankes, and fennes, and wooddes of the other syde, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto. Wherfore cry now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from your enemyes. So they stroke battayle. And Jonathas stretched out hys bande to smyte Bachides, but he fled backward. Then Jonathas, and they that wer with hym leapt into Iordā, and swymmed ouer Iordane vnto hym, and ther wer slayne of Bachides syde that day. M. men.

Therfore Bachides with hys host turned agayne to Hierusalem, and buylte vp the castels and strong holdes that were in Iewry, Iericho, Emaus, Bethoron, Bethel, Thamnata, Shara, and Topo, with hie walles, wyth portes, and wyth lockes, and set men to kepe them, that they might vse theyr malice vpon Israel. He walled vp Bethsura, Bazarah, and the castell at Hierusalem also, and prouided them with men, and vittayles: he toke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put the in the castell of Hierusalem to be kept. Afterward in the. C. liii. yere in the second moneth, Alcimus commaunded that the walles of the inmost sanctuary should be destroyed, and the buildyngs of the prophetes also. And when he began to destroy them, the thynge that he went about, wer hyndred: for he was smytten with a palsy, and his mouth so shut that he coude nomore speake, nor commaunde any of hys house concerning his busynes.

Thus died Alcimus in great miserie at the same tyme. And when Bachides sawe that Alcimus was dead, he turned agayne to the kyng, and so the land was in rest. ii. yeres. Then al the vngodly men held a counsaile, saying: Behold, Jonathas and hys company are at ease, and dwell wythoute care. Wherfore let vs bypnyng Bachides hither, and he shal take them al in one night.

So they went and gaue Bachides this counsaile, whiche arose to come wyth a greate host, and sent letters pryuely to his adherents whiche were in Iewry, to take Jonathas and those that were wyth hym: but they myght not: for the other had gotten knowledge of theyr deuyce. * And Jonathas toke. i. men of the countrey (whiche wer the ringleaders of them) and slew the. Then Jonathas and Simon wyth theyr company departed vnto the cite Bethbessen, whiche lyeth in the wyldernes, and repaired the decay therof, and made it strong. When Bachides knew this, he gathered al hys host, and sente woorde to them that were of Iewrye. Then came he and layed siege to Bethbessen, and fought agaynst it a longe season, and made instrumentes of war. Now Jonathas left his brother Simon in the cite, and went forth hym selfe into the countrey, and came wyth a certain number and slew Odates and his brethren, and the children of Shaceron in theyr tentes: so that he began to be stronge and to increase in power.

As for Simon and hys company, they went out of the cite, and bent vp the instrumentes of warre, and fought agaynst Bachides, and discomfited hym. And Bachides was sore vexed, because hys counsaile and trauaile was in vayne. Wherfore he was wroth at the wicked men (that gaue him counsaile to come into their land) and slew many of them. Then purposed he wyth hys company to go awaye into hys owne countrey: whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent Embassadors to hym, for to make peace with him, and that he shoulde deliuer hym hys prisoners agayne. To the whiche Bachides consented gladly, and dyd accordynge to hys desyre: pea, and made an othe that he shoulde neuer do him harme at the dayes of hys life. So he restored vnto hym all the prisoners that he had taken out of the land of Iuda, and then turned and went hys waye into hys owne land, neyther proceeded he anye further to come to the borders of Iuda. Thus Israel had no more war. And Jonathas dwelt at Bethsura, and began ther to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

The.ii. Chapter.

Demetrius despyeth to haue peace wyth Jonathas. Alexander moueth war agaynst Demetrius. Demetrius is slayne. The frendshipp of Ptolomeus and Alexander.

In the. C. li. yere came Alexander the sonne of Noble Antiochus, and toke Ptolomeus whose citizens receyued him, and there he reigned. When Demetrius herd therof, he gathered an exceeding grea host, and went forth agaynst hym to fyght. Wherfore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas wyth louring wordes, and prapled him greatly. For he sayde: we wyl fyrst make peace wyth hym before

ii. Re. xx. c.

ii. Par. x. a.
i. Mac. iiii.

Joseph cap.
ii. iii. li. xiii.

The.i.boke of the Mach.

he bynde hym selfe wyth Alexander agaynst vs, els he shall remember the euill that we haue done agaynst hym, bys brother and his people. And so he gaue Ionathas leaue to gather an host, to make weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commaunded the pledges that wer in the castel, to be deliuered vnto hym.

Then came Ionathas to Iherusalem, and red the letters in the audyence of all the people, and of them that wer in the castel. And therfore wer they sore afraied, because they herd that the kyng had geuen him licence to gather an host. * Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Ionathas, which restored them to theyr elders. Ionathas dwelt at Iherusalem, and began to buyde by and to repaire the city: commaunding the worke men to walle it, and the mount Syon round about wyth free stone, to be a strong holde, and so they dyd. As for the heathen that were in the castels whiche Babilides hadde made by, they fledde: so that euery manne lefte the place, and wente into his owne countrey. Onely at Bethsura remayned certayne of the Jewes, whiche had forsaken the lawe and commaundementes of God: for Bethsura was theyr refuge.

Now when kynge Alexander heard of the promyses that Demetrius had made vnto Ionathas, and whē it was told him of the battayles and noble actes which he and his brethren had done, and of the great traualles that they hadde taken, he sayed: where shal we fynde suche a man? Wel, we wyll make hym oure frende, and be confederate wyth hym. Upon this he wrote a letter vnto hym, wyth these wordes: kynge Alexander salueth his brother Ionathas. We haue hearde of the that thou art a valiaunte man, and mete to be oure frende: wherefore this daye we ordayne the to be the hye pryest of thy people, and to be called the kynges frende. (Upon this he sent hym a purple clothynge, and a crowne of golde) that thou mayeste consider what is for our profit, & kepe friendship toward vs.

So in the vii. moneth of the C. lx. yere, upon the solemne feast day of the tabernacles, Ionathas put the holy raiment vpon hym. Then gathered he an host, & made many weapons. Whiche when Demetrius herd, he was maruelous sorre, and sayed: Alas, what haue we done, that Alexander hath prevented vs in gettyng the friendship of the Jewes, for his owne defence? Yet wyll I write louingly vnto them also, yea, and promyse them dygnities and rewardes, that they maye be of my syde.

Whereupon he wrote vnto them these wordes: Kynge Demetrius sendeth greetynge vnto the people of the Jewes. Where as ye haue kepte youre couenaunte toward vs, and continued in oure friendshippe, not enclinyng to our enemye. We were glad when we herd thereof. Wherefore remayne

The.x.chapter.

styl and be saythful to vs, and we shal well recompence you for the thynges that ye haue done on our party: we shal relese you of many charges, and geue you rewardes. And now I dyscharge you and all the Jewes from tributes, I forgeue you the customes of salt, and relese you of the crountares, of the thirde parte of sedē, and halfe of the scute of trees, whiche is myne owne duty. These I leue for you, from this day forth, so that they shal not be taken of the lande of Iuda, nor * of the thre cities whiche are added there vnto out of Samaria. I. Mac. xi. v. and Galile, from this day for euermore. Iherusalem also with all thynges belonging therto, shalbe holy and free, yea the tythes and tributes shal pertaine vnto it. As for the power of the castell whiche is at Iherusalem, I temptre and geue it vnto hye priest, that he may set in it such men, as he shal chose to kepe it. I freely deliuer al the Jewes that are prysoners thowtout al my Realme: so that euery one of them shal be free from payng anye tribute, yea, euen of theyr cattel.

All the solemne feastes, Sabbathes, new mones, the dayes appointed, the thre dayes before and after the feast, shalbe free for all the Jewes in my realme: so that in them no man shal haue power to do anye thyng, or to moue any busynes agaynst any of them in any maner of cause. There shal. xrr. M. also of the Jewes be writtē by in the kynges host, and haue theyr wages payed, as al other men of warre of the kynges shoulde haue: and of them shal be ordeyned certayne, to kepe hye kyngs strong holdes: yea, and some of them shalbe set ouer the kynges busynesse, that they maye saythfully deale wyth the same. The Jewes also shal haue prynces of theyr own, and walke in theyr own lawes, as hye kynge hath commaunded in the land of Iuda.

And the cities that are fallen vnto Iherusalem from the country of Samaria, and Galile, shalbe taken as Jewrye, and be vnder one: neyther be subiecte to anye straunge lord, but to the hye priest. As for Ioloma: is and the land pertaining therto, I geue it vnto the Sanctuary at Iherusalem, for the necessarye expences of the holpe thynges. Moreover, I wyll geue euery yere xv. thousand sicles of syluer out of the kynges cheker (whiche pertaineth vnto me) to the worke of the temple: yea, and looke what remayneth (whiche they that hadde our matters in hand in tymes paste, haue not payed) that same shal they geue vnto them also. And besides all this, the. v. M. sicles whiche they take yearly of the rentes of the Sanctuary, shal belōg vnto the priestes that do seruyce.

Item, whosoever they be that fle vnto the temple at Iherusalem or wythin the liberties thereof, where as they are fallen into the kynges daunger for anye maner of busynes, they shal be pardoned, and all the

The.i. boke of the Mach.

Then brought Symon forth his host, and set them agaynste the footemen. For the horsemen were weary already. So he dyscomfyted them, and they fled. And they that were scattered in the feld, gat them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon the ydole, that they myghte there saue theyr lyues. But Jonathas sette fyre vpon Azotus and al the cytyes rounde about it, and toke theyr goodes, and brente by the temple of Dagon with al them that were fled into it.

Thus were slaine and brent wel nix. viii. thousand men. So Jonathas remoued the host from thence, and brought them to Ascalon: wher the men of that cytye came forth, and met hym with greate worshyp. After this went Jonathas and his host agayne to Hierusalem, with great substance of good. And whē kyng Alexander herd these thynges, he thought to do Jonathas more worshyp, and sent hym a colar of golde, as the vse is to be geuen to suche as are of the kynges next bloud. He gaue hym also the cytye of Accaron (with the landes belonyng therto) in possession.

The.xi. Chapter.

The dyscencion betwixt Ptolomeus and Alexander his sonne in law. The deathe of Alexander. Demetrius raygneth after the deathe of Ptolomeus. Dion is besyged of Jonathas. Demetrius seying that no man helpeth hym, sendeth his armie agayne. Tryphon moueth Antiochus agaynst Demetrius. Demetrius is deliuered by the fauour of Jonathas. After his deliuerance he breaketh his couenaunt that he had made.

Joseph. cap. vii. lib. xiii.

And the kyng of Egypt gathered an host, lyke the sand that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many shippes: and went about thorow deccar to obtrayne the kingdom of Alexander, and to toyne it vnto his owne realme. Upon this he toke his iourney into Siria, and was letten in to the cytyes, and men came forth to mete hym: for kyng Alexander had commaunded them so to do, because he was his father in law. Now whē Ptolomey entred into any citie he left men of warre to kepe it, and this he dyd thorowoute all the cytyes. And whē he came to Azotus, they shewed hym the temple of Dagon and Azotus that was brente by with the other thynges whiche were destroyed, the deade bodies cast abrode, and the graues that they had made by the way syde for such as were slayne in the feld: And told the kyng that Jonathas had done all these thynges, to the intent that they myghte get hym euill wyl. But the kyng sayed not a word there to. And Jonathas mette the kyng with greate honoure at Hoppa, where they saluted one another, & toke theyr rest. So whē Jonathas had gone with the kyng vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned agayne to Hierusalem. Nowe Ptolomey hadde gotten the dominion of the cy-ties vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, ymagining wicked counsels agaynst Alexander, and sent Embassitours to Demetrius, saying: Come let vs make a bond betwixt vs, so shall I geue the my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt raygne in thy fathers kingdō. I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to sleie me. And thus he sciaundered Alexander, because he wold haue had his realme.

The.xi. Chapter.

Thus he toke his daughter from hym, (1. Reg. xv. 9) gaue her vnto Demetrius, and forsoke Alexander, so that his malice was openely known. And Ptolome came to Antioche wher he set two crownes vpon his owne head: the crown of Egypt and of Asia. In the meane season was kyng Alexander in Cilicia, for they that dwelte in those places, had rebelled agaynst hym. But whē Alexander herd of this, he came to warre agaynst hym. So kyng Ptolome brought forth his host and met hym with a myghty power, and chased hym away.

Then fled Alexander into Araby, there to be defended, and kyng Ptolomeus his honour increased. And Zabdai the Arabian smote of Alexanders heade, and sent it vnto Ptolome. But the thrid day after dyed kyng Ptolome hym selfe: and they whom he hadde sette in the stronge holdes, were slayne of those that were within the cities. And Demetrius raygned in the hundred and seuen and forty yere.

At the same tyme gathered Jonathas them that were in Jewry to lay siege vnto the castel whiche was at Hierusalem, and so they made manie instrumentes of war agaynst it. Then went there certayne vngodly persons (whiche hated theyr owne people) vnto kyng Demetrius, and tolde hym that Jonathas besyged the castell. When he heard it, he was angry, and immediately came vnto Ptolomeys, and wrote vnto Jonathas, that he should not lay siege to the castel, but come and speake with him in al the hast. Neuertheles whē Jonathas heard this, he commaunded to besyge it. He chose also certayne of the elders, and priestes of Israell, and put hym selfe in the peryl, and toke with hym gold, syluer, clothynge, and dyuerse presentes, and went to Ptolomeis vnto the kyng, and found hym gracious.

And though certayne vngodly men of his owne people made complaints vpon hym, yet the kyng intreated hym lyke as his predecessours hadde done before: and promoted hym in the syght of al his frendes, confirmed hym in the hye priesthoode with al the worshyp that he had afore, and made hym his chiefe friend. Jonathas also despyred the kyng that he woulde make Jewry free, with the thre heade cyties of Samaria, and the landes pertainyng therto: vpon this did Jonathas promyse him thre hundred talentes, wherunto the kyng consented, and gaue Jonathas wytynges the gooddes that they haue in my realme, shalbe free. For the buydynge also and repairing of the worke of the Sanctuary, expences shalbe geuen out of the kyngs cheker: Yea, and for the makynge of the wals round about Hierusalem, for þe breakinge doune of the old, and for settinge vp of the strong holdes in Jewry, shal the costs and charges be geuen out of the kyngs cheker.

But when Ionathas & the people herd these wordes, they gaue no credence vnto them, neyther receyued them: for they remembred the greates wyckednesse that he had done vnto Israell, and how sore he had vexed them. Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prynee that hadde dealt frendly with them, and so they stode by hym alway. Then gathered king Alexander a great host, and brought hys army agaynst Demetrius. So the twoo kynges stroke battayle together, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander folowed after and fel vpon hym. A myghty fore field was it, continuing tyl the sunne went doune, and Demetrius was slayne the same day.

Joseph. cap. v. lib. xiii. antiquit.

And Alexander sent Embassadors vnto Ptolomey the kyng of Egypt with these wordes, saying: For so much as I am come agayne to my realme, and am sette in the throne of my progenitours, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercomed Demetrius, conquered the lande, and stryken a spelde wyth hym, so that we haue dyscomfited both him and his hoste, and sit in þe throne of his kyngdom: let vs now make sypend: shyppe together, geue me thy daughter to wyfe: so shal I be thy sonne in law, & both geue the rewards, and her great dignitte. Ptolomey the king gaue answer, sayinge: Happy be the day wherin thou arte come agayne to the land of thy progenitours, & set in the throne of thy kyngdome. As now wil I fulfil thy writinge, but mete me at Ptolomais, þe we maye se one another, and that I maye marie my daughter vnto the, according to thy desyre. So Ptolomey went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in þe .xii. yere, wher king Alexander met hym, and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and married them at Ptolomais wyth great worshyp. lyke as the maner of kynges is to be: Then wrote kyng Alexander vnto Ionathas, that he should come and mete hym. So he went honorably vnto Ptolomais, & ther he met the two kynges, and gaue them great presents of gold and siluer, and found fauour in their sight. And ther cam together agaynst Ionathas certaine wicked men and vngacious persons of Israell, makynge complayntes of hym, but the kyng regarded them not. As for Ionathas, the kyng commanded to take of hys garmentes, and to clothe hym in purple: and so they dyd. When the kyng appoynted hym to spt by hym, and said vnto his prynces: Go wyth hym into the myddest of þe city, & make a proclamacion, that no man complaine agaynst hym of any matter, and that no man trouble hym for any maner of cause.

So it happened that when his accusers saw the worship which was proclaymed of hym, and þe he was clothed in purple, they fled euerychone. And the kyng made much of hym, wrote hym among his chiefe frendes, made hym a duke, and partaker of his dominion. Thus Ionathas went agayne to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse. Joseph. cap. v. lib. xiii. antiquit. In the .x. yere, came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius from Creta into hys fathers land: wherof wher Alexander herd tel, he was right sorre, and returned vnto Antioche. And Demetrius chose Appollonius (which had the gouernauice of Celsicia) to be hys captaine.

So he gathered a greates host, and came vnto Hamma, and sent worde vnto Ionathas the hye prieste, sayinge: Darest thou wythstand vs thy selfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scoone and shamed, because thou prouedst thy strength agaynst vs in the mountaines. Nowe therefore if thou trustest in thynne own strength, come doune to vs into the plaine field, and ther let vs proue oure strength together: thou shalt finde that I haue valeaunte men of war wyth me: and shalt know whō I am, and the other that stande by me.

Whiche say, that your fote is not able to stand before our face, for thy fathers haue bene twise chased into theyr owne lande. And now, how wilt thou be able to abyde so great an host of horsemen and footemen in the field, wher as is neither rocke, stone, nor place to flye vnto?

When Ionathas herde the wordes of Appollonius, he was moued in his minde: wherfore he chose .x. thousand menne and went out of Hierusalem, & Symon his brother wyth him for to helpe hym. And they pyched theyr tentes at Hoppa, but the city kept him forth, for Hoppa was an holde of Appollonius. Then Ionathas layed siege to it, and they that were in the city, for very feare let him in: and so Ionathas won Hoppa. Appollonius hearing of this, toke thre thousand horsemen wyth a great host on foote, and went as though he would go to Azotus, and came immediatly into the playne spelde because he had so many horsemen, and put hys truste in them. So Ionathas folowed vpon hym to Azotus, and there they stroke the battayle. Nowe hadde Appollonius left a thousand horsemenne behynde them pryntlye in the tentes. And when Ionathas knewe that such wayte was layed behynde them, they went rounde aboute the cunempes booste, and shotte dartes at the people from the morning to the eueninge. As for Ionathas people, they kepte theyr order as he hadde commanded them, and the enemyes horses were euer labouryng.

Joseph. cap. vi. lib. xiii. antiquit.

of the same, containing these wordes. Kyng Demetrius sendeth gretynge vnto hys brother Ionathas, and to the people of the Jewes. We sende you here a coppe of the letter which we byd wyte vnto our elder Lathenus, concerning you, that ye shoulde knowe it.

D Kyng Demetrius sendeth gretynge vnto Lathenus hys elder. For the fapthfulnes that our frendes the people of the Jewes kepe vnto vs, and for the louing kindnes whych they beare toward vs, we are determynd to do them good. Wherefore we ordeine al the coastes of Jewrye wyth iii. cities, Lidia and Ramatha (whych are added vnto Jewry from Samaria) and al the landes partaynyng therunto, to be frely separated for such as do sacrifice in Jerusalem: both concerning the paymentes whych the kyng toke yearly afore tyme, & the frutes also of the earthe and trees. As for other tythes and tributes that belongeth vnto vs, we discharge them therof fro this tyme forth. In lyke maner we graunt vnto the al the customes of salte & crowne taxes whych were brought vnto vs. And this freedom shal they haue firme and steadfast, from this tyme forth for euer more. Therefore se that ye make a coppe of these our letters, & deliuer it to Ionathas that it may be kept vpon the holpe mount in a conuenient place. After this, when Demetrius the kyng saw that hys lande was in rest, and that no resistance was made him: he sent away al hys host euery man to his own place, except an army of straungers, whom he brought fro the Isles of the heathen, wherfore al hys fathers hoste had euyl wyl at him. * Now was ther one Triphon (that had bene of Alexanders parte afore) whych when he saw that al the host murmured agaynst Demetrius: he wente to Emacluel the Arabian (that broughte by Antiochus, the sonne of Alexander) and laye sore vpon hym: to deliuer hym this yong Antiochus: that he might raygne in his fathers steade. He told hym also what great euil Demetrius had done, and how hys men of war loued hym not: and so remayned ther a long season.

E And Ionathas sent vnto kyng Demetrius, to dyue them oute whych were in the castell at Jerusalem, and in the other refuges, for they byd Israel great harme. So Demetrius sent word vnto Ionathas saying: I wyl not onely dooe these thynges for the and thy people, but at time conuenient I wyl do both the and thy people great worshyp. But now thou shalte doo me a pleasure, if thou wylt send me men to helpe me: for al myne army is gon fro me. So Ionathas sent him. iiii. M. strong men vnto Antioche, and they came vnto the kyng, wherfore the kyng was verie glad at theyr commynge. But they that were of the citie (euery an. C. xx. thousand men) gathered them to gether, and would haue slayne the kyng, whych fled into his court: and the citisens kept the stretes of the cytyes, and began to fyght.

Then the kyng called for the Jewes helpe whych came vnto hym altogether, and went abroade thowowe the citie, and slawe the same day an hundred thousande menne: sette fyre vpon the cytye, gat manye spoyle in that day, and deliuered the kyng. So when the cytyens sawe that the Jewes hadde gotten theyr wyl of the cytye, and they them selues dysapoynted of theyr purpose, they made theyr supplication vnto the kyng, sayinge: Graunte vs peace, and lette the Jewes cease from troubling vs and the citie, and vpon this they cast away their weapens. Thus they made peace, and the Jewes gatte greate worshyppe in the syghte of the kyng, and in the syght of al that were in hys realme, and were spoken of thowowoute the kyngdome: and so they came agayne to Jerusalem wyth greate goodes.

So the kyng Demetrius satte in the throne of hys kyngdome, and had peace in hys lande. Neuerthelesse he dyssembled in al that euer he spake, and wyndrewe hym selfe from Ionathas, neyther rewarded hym accordyng to the benefytes whych he had done for hym, but troubled hym verie sore. After this came Triphon agayne wyth yonge Antiochus, whych raygned and was crowned kyng. Then there gathered vnto him al the men of war, whom Demetrius had put away: these foughte agaynst Demetrius, whych fled and turned his backe. So Triphon toke the Elephantes, and won Antioche. And yonge Antiochus wrote vnto Ionathas, sayinge: I cōspyme the in thy priesthode, and make the ruler of foure countreys, that thou maist be a frende of the kynges.

Upon this he sent him golden vessels to be serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, to be clothed in purple, & to weare a collar of gold. He made hys brother Simon also captayne from the coastes of Tirus vnto the borders of Egypt.

Then Ionathas tooke his iourney, and went thowowe the cities beyonde the water (of Iordane) and all the men of warre of Siria gathered them vnto hym for to holde hym. So he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the cytie receyued hym honourably: and from thence went he vnto Gaza, but they would not let hym in: wherfore he laied siege vnto it burning vp and spoiling the places that wer about the cytye.

And the cytyzens of Gaza submytted them selues vnto Ionathas, whych made peace wyth them, but toke of theyr sonnes to pledge, sente them to Jerusalem, and went thowow the countrey vnto Damascus. Now when Ionathas herd that Demetrius princes wer come into Tades (whych is in Galile) wyth a great host, purposing to put Demetrius oute from medlynge in

1. Mac. xii. e

1. Mac. xii. e

1. Mac. xii. Joseph. in his. iiii. lib. viii. Chap.

The.i. booke of the Mach.

the realme, he came agaynst them and left Simeon hys brother in the lande: whiche came to Bethsura, and layed syege to it a longe season, and dyscomfyted them. So they desyred to haue peace with him, whiche he graunted them, and after ward put them out from thence, tooke the citie, and set me to kepe it. And Jonathas with his host came to the water of Genesar, and by tymes in the mornynge gatte them to the playne felde of Asor.

And beholde, the hostes of the Heathen met them in the felde, and layd watch for them in the mountaynes: so that whē Jonathas came agaynst the, the other (which were layd to watch) rose oute of theyr places, and fought, and they that were of Jonathas syde, fled euery man: and there was not left one of them, excepte Mathathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphyr, the captayne of the hoste. Then Jonathas rent hys clothes, layed earth vpon hys head, made his prayer, and turned agayne to them * in the felde where they fought together, and he put them to flight. Now when his own men that wer fled, sawe thys: they turned agayne to hym, and helped hym to folowe vpon all theyr enemyes vnto theyr tentes at Cades. So ther were slayne of the heathen the same day .lii. M. men, and Jonathas turned agayne to Jerusalem.

The.xii. Chapter.

Jonathas sendeth Embassitours to Rome, and to the people of Sparta, to renue theyr couenaunte of frendshipp. Jonathas putteth to fyght the prynces of Demetrius. Crisphon taketh Jonathas by decepte.

Joseph. xiii. booke of antiquit. viii. Chapter.

Jonathas seynge that the tyme was mete for him, chose certain men, and sent them vnto Rome for to stablyshe and to renue the frendshipp with them. He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in like maner. So they went vnto Rome, and entered into the counsel, and sayd: Jonathas the hye priest and the people of the Jewes sent vs vnto you, for to renue the old frendshyppe and bonde of loue. Upon thys the Romaynes gaue them fre passortes, that menne shoulde leade them home into the land of Iuda, peaceablye. And thys is the coppe of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians.

Jonathas the hye priest with the elders priestes, and the other people of the Jewes, send greting vnto the Spartians theyr brethren. Ther were letters sente longe ago vnto * Onias the hye pryeste, from Arius, whiche then raygned amonge you: that ye are oure brethren, as the wrytynge made ther vpon, specifieth. And Onias entreated the Embassitoure that was sente honourablye, and receyued the letters wherein ther was mencyon made of the bonde of loue and frendship. But as for vs, we nede no such wrytynge: for whye, we haue the holy booke of scripture in oure handes to our comfort. Neuertheles, we had rather send vnto you, for the renuyng of the brotherhoode and frendshyp, least we shoulde be straunge vnto you, for it is longe sence & time that ye sent words vnto vs. Wherefore in the sacrifices that we offer and other Ceremonies vpon the hye solempne dayes and other, we alway remember you without ceassyng (lyke as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thynke vpon oure brethren) yea and are ryght glad of poure prosperouse honour.

The.xii. Chapter.

And though we haue had greate troubles and warres, so that the kynge aboute vs haue foughten agaynst vs, yet would we not be greuous vnto you nor to other of oure louers and frendes in these warres. For we haue had helpe from heauen, so that we are deliuered, and our enemyes subdued. Wherefore we chose Numeuius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romayns, for to renue the old bond of frendship and loue with them. We commaunded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concernynge the renouacion of our brotherhoode. And now ye shall do ryghtwell, to geue vs an answer therunto.

* And thys is the coppe of the wrytynge whiche Arius the kynge of Sparta sente Joseph. lib. vnto Onias: Arius kynge of the Sparta. xii. capit. v. and sendeth greetynge vnto Onias the hye priest. It is founde in wrytynge, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generacion of Abraham. And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shal do wel to wryte vnto vs of your prosperite. As for vs, we haue wrytten our mynde vnto you: Oure catell and goodes are pourses, and pourses oures. These thynges haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

When Jonathas herd that Demetrius prynces were come forth to fyght agaynst him, with a greater host then afore, he wēt from Jerusalem, and met them in the land of Demath, for he gaue them not space to come into hys own countrey. And he sente spies vnto theyr tentes, which came agayne & tolde him & they wer appointed to come vpon him in the night season. Wherefore whē the sunne was gone down, Jonathas commaunded his me to watch all the nyght, and to be ready with weapōs for to fight: and set watchmen round about the hoste. But whē the aduersaries herd that Jonathas was ready with his me to the battel, they feared, and were afraied in their tentes, and kindled fiers in theyr tents, brake vp, and gat them away. Neuertheles Jonathas and his company knew it not, tyl the morning, for they saw & fiers burning.

Then Jonathas folowed vpon them, but he myght not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

So

Joseph. lib. xii. cap. v.

So Jonathan departed to the Arabians (whych wer called zababei) Newe the, and toke they gooddes. He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorow al that country. But Symon hys brother toke hys iourney and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes: departing vnto Joppa, and wan it. For he herde that they would stand of Demetrius party: wherfore he sent men of war into the citie, to kepe it. After this came Jonathan home agayne, and called the elders of the people together: and deuyled wth them for to buyld vp the strong holdes in Newe, and the walles of Jerusalem, to set vp an hye walle betwixt the castel and the citie, for to seperate it from the citie, that it myght be alone, and that men should neyther bye nor sel in it.

Upon thys they came together for to buyld vp the citie: and for asmuch as the wal vpon the broke of the west side (called Laphertheath) was fallen downe, they repaired it. And Symon set vp Abyadab in Joseph. cap. x. Sephelab, and made it strong, setting portes and lockes vpon it. Nowe when Tryphon purposed to raygne in Asya, to be crowned, and to slay the kynge Antiochus, he was afrayed that Jonathan would not suffer hym, but syghte agaynst hym. Wherfore he wet about to take Jonathan and to kyl hym.

So he departed, and came vnto Bethsa: Then went Jonathan forth agaynst hym to the battayle with xl. thousande chosen men, & came vnto Bethsan also. But whē Tryphon sawe that Jonathan came wth so great an host to destroy hym, he was afrayed: and therfore he receyued hym honorably, commended him vnto al his freundes, and gaue hym rewardes, and commaunded hys men of war to be as obedyent vnto hym, as to hym selfe.

And sayde vnto Jonathan: whys haste thou caused thys people to take such trauayle, seynge there is no warre betwixt vs? Therefore sende them home agayne, and chuse certayne menne to wayte vpon thee, & come thou wth me to Idolomais: for I wyl geue it the, wth the other strong holdes, men of warre and they officers. As for me, I must depart, thys is only the cause of my commynge. Jonathan beleued hym, and dyd as he sayd, puttynge awaye hys host, whych went into the land of Iuda. He kepe but. iiii. M. by hym, wherof he sent. ii. M. into Galile, and one. M. went wth hym selfe.

Now as soone as Jonathan entred into Idolomais, the cyprians sparmed the gates of the citie, and toke hym, and slewe all them wth the swerde, that came in wth hym. Then sent Tryphon an hoste of foote men and horsemen into Galilee and into the great playne felde, to destroy all Jonathan company. But whē they knew that Jonathan was taken, and all they sayne that wayted vpon hym, they tooke counsel together, and came forth ready to the battayle. So when they whych soloed vpon them, saw that it was a matter of lyfe, they turned backe agayne. As for the other, they went into the lande of Iuda peaceablye, and bewayled Jonathan, and them that were wth hym right sore. And Israel made great lamentacion. The all the heathen that were rounde aboute them, soughte to destroye them. For they sayed: nowe haue they no captayne, nor anye man to helpe them. Therefore lette vs overcome them, and roote out they name from among men.

The. xiii. Chapter.

After Jonathan was taken. Simon chose an captayne: of whome Tryphon takynge hys chyliden and money for the redemption of Jonathan, kylleth hym and hys chyliden. The graue of Jonathan. Tryphon kylleth Antiochus, and possesseth the realme. Demetrius taketh truce wth Simon. Simon wynneth Gaza. He possesseth the towne of Dion. He maketh hys sonne Jhon captaine.

Now when Simon herd that Tryphon had gathered a great hoste to come into the lande of Iuda and to destroy it: and sawe that the people was in greate fearefulness and care: He came vp to Jerusalem and gathered the people together, and gaue the exhortacion, saying: Ye knowe what greate battayles I and my brethren and my fathers house haue stryken for the lawe and the sanctuarie, and what manner of troubles we haue sene: thorow occasion wherof, all my brethren are sayne for Israels sake, and I am left alone. And now lette me not spare my owne lyfe in anye maner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren: but wyl auenge my people and the Sanctuarie, our chyliden and our wiues: for all the heathen are gathered together, to destroy vs for very malice.

At these wordes the hartes of the people wer kyndled together, so that they cried wth a loude voyce, saying: Thou shalt be oure captayne in steade of Judas and Jonathan thy brethren, order thou our battayle, and what soeuer thou commaundest vs, we shall doo it. So he gathered all the men of war making hast to synnys al the wals of Jerusalem, which he made strong round about. Then sent he Jonathan the sonne of Absalomus wth a freche hoste vnto Joppa, whych droue them oute that were in the castel and remayned ther hym selfe. Tryphon also remoued from Idolomais wth a great army to come into the land of Iuda, and Jonathan wth hym in ward. And Simon pyched hys tentes at Addus before the playne felde.

But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stood vp in steade of hys brother Jonathan, and that he would warre agaynst hym.

Joseph. lib. xiii. cap. ix.

i. Mac. vi. e. ix. b. xiii. b.

Mach. iii. hym

The.i. booke of the Mach.

him: he sent messengers vnto hym, saying: Where as we haue kepte Jonathas thy brother, it is for monye that he is owynge in the kynges accompte, concernynge the busynesse that he had in hand. Wherefore sende nowe an. C. talentes of syluer, and hys two sonnes for suretye, that when he is lettē forth he shal not forsake vs, and we shal send hym agayne.

Neuertheles Simon knew that he dissembled in hys wordes: yet commaunded he the mony and chyldren to be deliuered vnto hym, lest he should be the greater enemye agaynst the people of Israel, and say: because he sent hym not the mony and the chyldren, therefore is Jonathas dead.

So Symon sent hym the chyldren and an hundred talentes, but he dyssembled, & would not let Jonathas go. Afterward came Triphon in to the land, to destroy it, and went round aboute by the waye that leadeth vnto Ador. But wher so euer they went, thither went Simon and hys hoste also. Nowe they that were in the castell sent messengers vnto Triphon, that he should make haste to come by the wylder- nesse, and to send them vprayles: And Triphon made ready al hys horsmen to come that same nighte. Neuerthelesse it was a very greateshowe, so that he came not in Galaadithim. And when he drew nepe Baschama, he sawe Jonathas and hys sonnes ther, and the turned for to go home into hys owne land.

Then sent Symon for to sette hys brothers deade coarfe, and buryed it in Gordin hys fathers cyty. So al Israel bewailed hym with great lamentaciō, and mourned for hym very long. And Symon made vpon the sepulchre of hys father and hys brethren a burying hye to looke vnto, of fre stone behynde and before: and set vp seuen pylles, one agaynst another (for hys father, hys mother and four brethren) and set great pylles round about with armes vpon them for a perpetual memorie: and carued thys besyde the armes, that they myght be sene of men saylynge in the sea. Thys sepulchre whiche he made at Gordin, standeth yet vnto this day.

Now as Triphon went forth to walke with the yong kinge Antiochus, he sawe Joseph. cap. x. lib. iiii. him trayterously, and raigned in his stead, crowned hym selfe kyng of Asia, and dyd much euil in the land. Simon also buylte vp castels in Jewry, making them stronge with hye towars, great walles, ports and lockes, and layed vp vntales in the strong holdes. And Symon chose certayne men, and sent them to kyng Demetrius to desyre hym that he would discharge the land from al bondage, for Triphon had spoiled it verie sore. Where vpon Demetrius the kyng answered hym, and wrote vnto hym after this maner.

Demetrius the kyng sendeth greetynge vnto Simon the hye priest his frend, wish-

The.iiii. Chapter.

the elders and people of the Jewes. The golden crowne and pzeious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receyued: and are readye to make a stedfast peace wyth you, pea and to wyte vnto our officers, for to release you, concernynge the things wher- in we made you fre, and the appointment that we make with you, shalbe firme and stable. The strong holdes whiche ye haue builded, shal be your owne. As for any ouer syght or fault committed vnto this day, we forgeue it, and the crowne tace ye ought vs also. And wher as was anye other tribute in Jerusalem, it shal nowe be no tribute: and looke who are mete among you to be in our court, let them be wyrtten vp, that they may be peace betwyxt vs.

Thus the pocke of the Heathen was taken from Israel, in the hundred and se- uenty yeare. And the people of the Jewes began to write in theyr letters and actes on this maner: In the fyrste yere of Simō the hye priest, and pryncce of the Jewes.

In those dayes went Simon vnto Gaza. i. Ma. xlii. and besieged it round about, where he set vp ordinaunce of war, and wau a roue whych he toke. So they that gat into the towne, lept into the citie, whych was in a great feare: In so much that the people of the citie rent theyr clothes, and clumed vpon the walles wyth theyr wyues and chyldren, beseechynge Simon to be at one wyth the, saying: O rewarde vs not after our wyckednes, but be gracious vnto vs, and we shal do the seruyce. Then Simon for very pity, would fight no more agaynst them, but put them out of the cytye, and caused the houses (wherein the Images were) to be clenfed: and so entered the citie wyth psalmes of prayse, geuyng thanks vnto the Lorde. So when he had caste all abhominacions oute of the cytye, he sette such men in it as kept the law of god, and made the citie strong, and builded a dwelling place for hym selfe.

Now when they in the castel at Jerusalem were kept so straitly, that they could not come forth nor into the countrey, and myght neyther bre nor sel, they wer verie hungry & many of the samy shed to death: In so much that they besoughte Symon to be at one wyth them, whych he graunted them. So he put them out from thence and clenfed the castel from fylchynesse.

And vpon the. xlii. daye of the seconde moneth in the. C. lxxi. yeare, they entered in to it wyth thanks geuyng, & braunches of palme trees, with harpes, crowds, cim- bals, and lutes, syngynge psalmes and songs of prayse vnto God, for that the great enemye of Israel was overcome.

And Simon ordeined that the same day shuld be kept every yeare in gladnes, and made stronge the hyll of the temple that was besyde the castel, wher he dwelt hym selfe with his company. Simō also percei- uing that Jhon hys sonne was a myghty man man of armes, made hym captayne of al þ hostes, and caused hym to dwell at Gaza.

The.xiii. Chapter.

Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces. Simon beynge captayne, ther is great quietnes in Israel. The couenaunte of frendshyp wth the Romaines, & wth þ people of Sparta is renewed.

In the. Cxxii. yere gathered kyng Demetrius hys hoste, and departed vnto Media, to gette hym helpe for to fyght agaynst Triphon. Howe when Arsaces the kyng of Persia and Media hearde that Demetrius was wthin hys borders: he sente one of hys princes to take hym alque, and to bynge hym vnto hym. So he wente & Aewe Demetrius host, toke hym selfe, brought hym to Arsaces, whych kept hym in ward. And all the land of Iuda was in rest, so long as Simon liued, for he sought the wealthe of hys people, therfore were they glad to haue him for theyr ruler, and to do hym worshyp alway.

Simon wan the citty of Joppa also for an haueu to wne, and made it an intrance into the Isles of þ sea. He enlarged þ borders of hys people, & conquered the more land: He gathered vp many of their people þ were prisoners: he had þ dominion of Gaza, Bethsura, & the castel, whych he cleused from filchynes, & ther was no ma-that resisted hym: So that every man tilled hys ground in peace: the lande of Juda and the trees gaue their fruyte and en-crease. The elders sat al in iudgemente, & toke theyr deuyce for the wealthe of the land: the yong men put on worshyp & har-nes upon them. He prouided vitayles for the ctyes and made goodly stronge hol-des of them: so that the fame of hys worshyp was spoken of vnto the ende of the world. For he made peace thorowout the land, and Israel was ful of myrth & ioy.

Gen. xvi. a
iii. re. iiii. b Every man sat under hys vine and fig trees, and ther was no man to feare them away. There was none in þ land to fight agaynst them, for then the kynges were ouercome. He helped those that were in aduersytie among hys people, he was diligent to se the lawe kepte: as for suche as were vngodly and wycked, he toke them away. He set vp the Sanctuarie and increased the holy vessels of the temple.

When the Romaines and Spartans had gotten worde þ Jonathas was dead, they were right sorowful. But whē they heard that Simon hys brother was made hys pypste in hys steade, and howe he had wonne the lande agayne wth the ctyes in it, they wrot vnto him in tables of lat-tayne, to renewe the frendshyp, and bond of loue, whych they had made afore wth Judas and Jonathas hys brethren. Whiche writynges were red afore the congregation at Jerusalem.

1. Ma. viii.
c. d. x. fil. a. And thys is the copp. of the letters that the Spartans sente: The Senatoures and cytyens of Sparta send gretynge vnto to Simon the great pypste wth the elders priests, & þ other people of þ Jewes theyr brethren: When your embassitours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worshyp, honoure, and prosperous wealch, we were glad of theyr commynge:

and haue wyrtten the errand whych they spake before þ coscel of the people: namely that Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipater þ sonne of Jason þ Jewes embassitours are come vnto vs for to renewe the olde frendshyp wth vs, Upon thys the people consented that the men shoulde be honorably intreated, and the coppe of theyr errand shoulde be wyrtten in the special booke of the people, for a perpetuall memory vnto the Spartans: yea and that we shoulde send a copp of þ same vnto Symon the great pypste.

After thys dyd Simō sende Numenius vnto Rome wth a golden shyld of a thousande pounde weyghre, to confirme the frendshyp wth them: whiche when the Romaines vnderstode, they sayde: what thankes shal we recompence agayne vnto Simon and hys chyldren? For he hath stablyshed his brethren, and ouercome the enemys of Israel. Wherfore they granted hym to be fre. And all thys wrotte the Jewes in tables of Latine, & nayled it to the pillers vpon the mount Sion. The copie of the wyrtynge is thys.

The. xviii. day of the moneth Elul in þ Cxxii. yere, in the thirde yere of Symon the hys pypste, in the grete congregaciō of the pypsts, rulers of þ people, & elders of the countrie at Asaram, were these wor-des openly declared.

For so much as ther was much war in our land, therfore Simō the sonne of Ma-tathias (come of the chyldren of Iared) & hys brethren, put them selues in perill, and resisted the enemies of their people: that theyr Sanctuarie and lawe might be maintained, and did theyr people grete worshyp. Jonathas in lyke maner, after that he had gouerned hys people and ben their hys pypste, dyed and lyeth buried beside hys elders.

After that woulde their ennemys haue troden theyr holy thynges vnder foote, destroyed their lande, and utterly wasted theyr Sanctuarie. Then Simō withstode thē, and fought for hys people, spēt muche of hys owne moneye, weaponed the valesant men of hys people, gaue them wages, made stronge the ctyes of Iuda, wth Bethsura that lyeth vpon the borders of Iewrye (where the ordinaunce of their enemys laye somtyme) and sette Jewes there for to kepe it.

He made fast Joppa also, whych lyeth vpon the sea, and Gaza that bordreth vpon Azotus (where þ enemies dwelt afore) and ther beset Jewes to kepe it: & whatsoeuer

The .i. booke of the Mach.

soeuer was mere for the subduynge of the aduersaries, that layed he therein. Nowe when the people sawe the noble actes of Simon, and what worshyp he purposed to do for them, bys godlye behauiour, and sayerbfulnesse whiche he kepte vnto the, and how he fought by all waies & wealth of bys people, because he dydde all thys, therfore they chose him to be theyr pryncce and hie prieste. And in his tyme they prospered well by hym, so that the Heathen were taken oute of theyr lande: and they also whiche were in the ctyte of Dauid at Ierusalem in the castell, where they went out and despyed al things that were aboute the Sanctuary, and dyd greate harme vnto cleanelines, and Symon put men of the Jewes in it, for the defence of the lande and the city, and set vp the walles of Ierusalem.

And kynge Demetrius confirmed hym in bys hie priesthode, made hym his frend, & dyd him great worshyp. For he herde that the Romaines called & Jewes their frends louers and brethren: how honorably they receyued Simons embassytours, how the Jewes & priestes consented & he shulde be theyr pryncce & hie priest perpetually (tyll God rayled by the true prophet) and that he shoulde be theyr captaine, to care for the Sanctuary, and to set officers vpon the workes therof, ouer the land, ouer the wepds, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouision for the holy thynges, and to be obeyed of euery man, and all the wytynges of the law to be made in bys name: that he shoulde be clothed in purple and gold, and that it shuld be lawfull for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these thynges, to wythstand bys wordes, nor to call any congregacion in the lande wythoute hym: that he shuld be clothed in purple, & weare a collar of golde: And if ther wer anye whiche disobeyed or brake thys ordinaunce, that he shulde be punished.

So al & people consented to alowe Simon, & to do accordinge to these wordes. Simon also him selfe tooke it vpon him, & was content to be the hie priest, & captaine and pryncce of the Jewes, & priestes, and to gouerne the all. And they commaunded to make thys wytyng in tables of latine, & fasten it vnto the compas of the Sanctuary in an open place: and to laye vp a cōpye of the same in the treasure, that Symon, and bys posteritie myght haue it.

The .xv. Chapter.

Antiochus maketh a couenaunte of frendshyp with Simon, and Triphonis persecuted. The Romaines wyte letters vnto kynge and naciōs in the defence of the Jewes. Antiochus refusinge the help that Simon sente hym, breaketh bys couenaunte.

Whereouer kynge Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius, sente letters fro the Isles of the sea, vnto Simon the hie priest & pryncce of the Jewes, and to al the people, conteynyng these wordes: Antiochus the kynge sendeth greetynge vnto Symon the hie pryncce, & to the people of the Jewes. For so much as certain wycked men haue gotte the kyngdom of our progenitours, I am purposed to chalenge the realme agayne, to restore it to the olde estate.

The .xv. Chapter.

Wherefore I haue gathered a greate hoste, and made shippes of warre: that I maye go thorowe the countrey, and be auenged of them whiche haue destroyed oure lande, and wasted manye ctytes in my realme. And therfore nowe I make the free also from all the tributes, wherof al kynges my progenitours haue discharged the, and from other customes (wher from they haue released the) what soeuer they be: Yea I geue the leaue to Smyte monye of thynne owne wythin thy lande. As for Ierusalem, I wyll that it be holy and free: and all the weapons and houses of defence whych thou hast builded and kept in thynne bandes, shalbe thine. Wher as any thyng is or shal be owynge vnto the kynge, I forgeue it the, from this tyme forth for euermore. And when we haue obteyned our kyngdom, we shal do the, thy people and the temple great worshyp, so that your honour shalbe knowne thorow out the whole worlde.

In the .Cxxiii. yere went Antiochus B in to bys fathers land, & all the mē of warre came together vnto hym, so that few were lefte wyth Triphon. So the kynge Antiochus folowed vpon hym, but he fledde vnto Dora, whiche lyeth by the sea syde: for he sawe that ther was myschefe comynge vnto hym, and that bys booste had forsaken hym. Then came Antiochus vnto Dora wyth an hundred and twentye thousande men of armes vpon foote, and eyght thousand horsemen. So he compassed the ctyte round about, and the shippes came by the sea. Thus they vexed the city i. mac. xliii. by land and by water, in so muche & they suffered no man to go in nor out.

In the meane season came Pumenys (and they that had bene wyth hym) from the ctyte of Rome, hauing letters wyrtten vnto the kynges, and prynces, wherein were conteyned these wordes: Lucius the Maire of Rome sendeth greetynge vnto Hierolomy the kynge. The embassytours of the Jewes oure frendes beyng sent from Symon the hie pryncce, and from the people of the Jewes, came vnto vs for to renewe the olde frendeshyppe (and bonde of loue) and broughte a shylde of golde weyynge a thousande pound, whiche we were contente to receyue of them. Wherefore we thought it good to wyte vnto the kynges and prynces, to do them no harme, nor to take parte agaynst them, theyr ctytes nor countreys, neyther to maintaine theyr ennemyes agaynst them. If there be any wycked personnes therfore fled fro their their countrey vnto you, delpyer the vnto Symon the hye priest, that he may punyſhe them accordyng to their owne lawe.

D The ſame wordes wrote the Romaynes alſo vnto Demetrius the kyng, to Artalus, Araba, Arſaces; and to all regyons: as Samſanes, to the of Sparta, Delo, Mydo, Sydon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycya, Alicarnaſſum, and to the Rhodes, to Faſelis, Coos, Sida, Scado, Gortina, Bupdum, to Cypres & to Cyren. And of euery letter they ſet a cōpy to Simon the hye pꝛeſt, and to the people of Jewes. So Antiochus the kyng brought hys hoſte vnto Doza the ſeconde tyme to take it: where he made dꝛuerſe ordynance of warre, and kepte Tryphon in, that he ſhoulde not come forth. Then ſent Simon to Antiochus, two thouſand choſen mē to helpe hym wyth gold, ſiluer and other pleceous geer: Neuertheles he wold not receyue the, but brake al þe couenant which he made wyth Symon afore, & wythdrew hym ſelfe from hym.

E He ſent Athenobius alſo a frend of his vnto Symon, for to reaſon wyth hym ſayinge: Ye withholde fro me Joppa and Gaza (wyth the caſſel that is at Jeruſalem) whyche are cytyes of my realme, whoſe borders ye haue deſtroyed; & done greaueuill in them, and haue the dominacon in manye other places of my kyngedome. Wherefore delpyer now the cytyes which ye haue taken, wyth the tributes of places that ye haue rule vpon, wythout þe borders of Jewrye: Or elſe geue me fyue hundredth talentes of ſiluer, yea and for the harm that ye haue done in the cytyes & for the tributes of the ſame, other fyue hundredth talentes. If ſuo, we ſhal come and fyght agaynſte you.

So Athenobius the kyngs frende came to Jeruſalem, and when he ſaw the great worſhyp, & honoure of Symon, in golde, ſiluer & ſo great plente of ornamēts, he marvelled: & coulde Symon as the kyng commanded him. The answered Simon and ſayd vnto him: As for vs we haue neither taken other mens land, ner wythholden the, but onely our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vntyrghrouſlye in poſſeſſion a certayne tyme. Thys heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in pꝛoces of tyme. And where as thou complayneſt concernyng Joppa & Gaza, they dyd great harm to our people and in our lād, yet wyl we geue an. C. talentes for them.

Neuertheleſſe Athenobius answered hym not one worde, but touned agayne wrothfully vnto the kyng, and told him all theſe wordes, and the greaue dꝛignitye of Symon, wyth al that he had ſene: and the kyng was verie angꝛe. In the mean tyme fled Tryphon by ſhip vnto Dychoſaida. Then the kyng made Cendebeus captain of the ſea coſt, and gaue hym an hoſt of foote mē & horſmē, commaunding hym to remoue the hoſte toward Jewry, and to buryde by the cytpe of Cedron, to make by the portes, & to war agaynſt the people of the Jewes. As for the kyng hym ſelfe, he folowed vpon Tryphon. So Cendebeus came vnto Janinia, & beganne to bere the people, to tread down Jewry, to take the people priſoners, to ſlape them & to builde by Cedron: where he ſette horſmenne and other menne of war, þe they myghte come forth & go thorowe the ſtreets of Jewry, lyke as the kyng had commaunded hym.

The.xvi. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus hoſt is put to flight of the ſonnes of Simon. Ptolomeus the ſonne of Abobus kylleth Simon and his .ii. ſonnes at a banquet. Jhon kylleth them that lye in wayte for hys lyfe.

When came Jhon by from Gaza, and tolde Simon hys father, what Cendebeus had done amonge theyr people.

Upon thys called Symon two of hys eldeſt ſonnes, Judas and Jhon, & ſayed vnto them: I and my brethren and my fathers houſe, haue cuer from oure youthe by vnto this daye foughte agaynſt the enemies of Iſrael, and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Iſrael oft tymes. And nowe for ſo muche as I am olde, be ye in ſtead of me & my brethren, to go forth and fight for our people, & the help of god be wyth you. So he choſe .xx. fighting men of the countrey, wyth horſemen alſo which wente forth agaynſt Cendebeus, & reſted at Modin.

In the mornynge they aroſe, and wente into the playne felde: and behold, a myghty great hoſt came agaynſt them, bothe of foote mē and horſmen. Nowe was ther a water broke betwixt them, and Jhon remoued the hoſt toward them. And whē he ſawe that the people was afrayd to go ouer þe water broke, he wēt ouer fyrſt hym ſelfe: & the men ſeynge thys, folowed him.

Then Jhon ſet hys horſemen and foote men in order, the one by þe other, for theyr enemies horſmen were very manye. But when they blew by the pꝛeſtes trumpets, Cendebeus fled wyth hys hoſte, whereof many were ſlape, and the remnant gat them to theyr ſtronge holde. Judas alſo Jhons brother was wounded at þe ſame tyme. And Jhon folowed ſtyll vpon the enemies, & tyl he came to Cedron whyche he buryded. The enemies fled alſo vnto þe towres that were in the felde of Azotus, and thoſe dyd Jhon burne by. Thus ther were ſlape .ii. M. men of them, and Jhon turned agayne peaceably into Jewry.

And in the felde of Jericho was Ptolomeus the ſonne of Abobus made captayne: whyche becauſe he had abūdance of ſyluer and golde (for he had maried the daughter of Symonne the hye pꝛeſte) waxed proude in hys mynd, & thought to cōquere the lande, ymagynyng falſhed agaynſt Simon

i. Mac. xvi. Joseph. lib. xii. cap. xii

i. Mac. xv. Josephus lib. xii. ca. xii.

Judi. xi. c.

their countrey vnto you, delpyer the vnto Symon the hye priest, that he may punyſhe them accordynge to their owne lawe.

D The ſame wordes wrote the Romaynes alſo vnto Demetrius the kyng, to Artalus, Araba, Arſaces; and to all regyons: as Samſanes, to the of Sparta, Delo, Mydo, Sydon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycya, Alicarnaſſum, and to the Rhodes, to Faſelis, Coos, Sida, Scado, Gortina, Bupdum, to Cypres & to Cyren. And of euery letter they ſet a coppy to Simon the hye pꝛieſt, and to the people of Jewes. So Antiochus the kyng brought hys hoſte vnto Doza the ſeconde tyme to take it: where he made dꝛuerſe ordinance of warre, and kepte Tryphon in, that he ſhoulde not come forth. Then ſent Simon to Antiochus, two thouſand choſen mē to helpe hym wyth gold, ſiluer and other pleceous geer: Neuertheles he wold not receyue the, but brake al þe couenant which he made wyth Symon afore, & wythdrew hym ſelfe from hym.

E He ſent Athenobꝛus alſo a frend of his vnto Symon, for to reaſon wyth hym ſayinge: Ye withholde fro me Joppa and Gaza (wyth the caſſel that is at Jeruſalem) whyche are cytyes of my realme, whoſe borders ye haue deſtroyed; & done greaueuill in them, and haue the dominacon in manye other places of my kyngedome. Wherefore delpyer now the cytyes which ye haue taken, wyth the tributes of places that ye haue rule vpon, wythout þe borders of Jewrye: Or elſe geue me fyue hundredth talentes of ſiluer, yea and for the harm that ye haue done in the cytyes & for the tributes of the ſame, other fyue hundredth talentes. If ſuo, we ſhal come and fyght agaynſte you.

J So Athenobꝛus the kyngs frende came to Jeruſalem, and when he ſaw the great worſhyp, & honoure of Symon, in golde, ſiluer & ſo great plente of ornamēts, he marvelled: & coulde Symon as the kyng commaunded him. The answered Simon and ſayd vnto him: As for vs we haue neither taken other mens land, ner wythholden the, but onely our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vntꝛyghtrouſlye in poſſeſſion a certayne tyme. Thys heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in pꝛoces of tyme. And where as thou complaineſt concernyng Joppa & Gaza, they dyd great harm to our people and in our lād, yet wyl we geue an. C. talentes for them.

Neuertheleſſe Athenobꝛus answered hym not one worde, but touned agayne wrothfully vnto the kyng, and told him all theſe wordes, and the greaue dꝛignitye of Symon, wyth al that he had ſene: and the kyng was verie angꝛe. In the mean tyme fled Tryphon by ſhip vnto Dythoſaſda. Then the kyng made Cendebeus captain of the ſea coſt, and gaue hym an hoſt of foote mē & hoꝛſmē, commaunding hym to remoue the hoſte towarde Jewry, and to burſde vpon the cytpe of Cedron, to make vpon the portes, & to war agaynſt the people of the Jewes. As for the kyng hym ſelfe, he folowed vpon Tryphon. So Cendebeus came vnto Janinia, & beganne to bere the people, to tread down Jewry, to take the people priſoners, to ſlaue them & to builde vpon Cedron: where he ſette hoꝛſmenne and other menne of war, & they myghte come forth & go thorowe the ſtreets of Jewry, lyke as the kyng had commaunded hym.

The.xvi. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus hoſt is put to flight of the ſonnes of Simon. Ptolomeus the ſonne of Abobus kylleth Simon and his. ii. ſonnes at a banquet. Jhon kylleth them that lye in wayte for hys lyfe.

When came Jhon vpon from Gaza, and tolde Simon hys father, what Cendebeus had done amonge theyꝛ people.

Jhon thys called Symon two of hys eldeſt ſonnes, Judas and Jhon, & ſayed vnto them: I and my brethern and my fathers houſe, haue cuer from oure youthe vpon vnto this daye foughte agaynſt the enemies of Iſrael, and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Iſrael oft tymes. And nowe for ſo muche as I am olde, be ye in ſtead of me & my brother, to go forth and fight for our people, & the help of god be wyth you. So he choſe. xx. fighting men of the countrey, wyth hoꝛſemen alſo which wente forth agaynſt Cendebeus, & reſted at Modin.

In the mornynge they aroſe, and wente into the playne felde: and behold, a myghty great hoſt came agaynſt them, bothe of foote mē and hoꝛſmen. Nowe was ther a water broke betwixt them, and Jhon remoued the hoſt to ward them. And whē he ſawe that the people was afraid to go ouer þe water broke, he wēt ouer fyrſt hym ſelfe: & the men ſeynge thys, folowed him.

When Jhon ſet hys hoꝛſemen and foote men in order, the one by þe other, for theyꝛ enemies hoꝛſmen were very manye. But when they blew vpon the pꝛieſtes trompets, Cendebeus fled wyth hys hoſte, whereof many were ſlayne, and the remnant gat them to theyꝛ ſtronge holde. Judas alſo Jhons brother was wounded at þe ſame tyme. And Jhon folowed ſtyll vpon the enemies, & tyl he came to Cedron whyche he buryed. The enemies fled alſo vnto þe towres that were in the felde of Azotus, and thoſe dyd Jhon burne vpon. Thus they were ſlayne. ii. M. men of them, and Jhon turned againe peaceably into Jewry.

And in the felde of Jericho was Ptolomeus the ſonne of Abobus made captayne: whyche becauſe he had abũdance of ſyluer and golde (for he had maried the daughter of Symonne the hye pꝛieſte) waxed proude in hys mynd, & thought to conquere the lande, ymagynynge falſhed agaynſt Simon

i. Mac. xix. Joseph. lib. xii. cap. xii

i. Mac. xv. Josephus lib. xii. ca. xii.

Judi. xi. c.

The.ii. boke of the Mach.

Simon and hys sonnes, to destroy them. Now as Symon was goyng aboute thowme the cittyes, that were in the country of Jewry, and caringe for them: he came doune to Jericho, wyth Matathias and Judas hys sonnes, in the .C.lxxvi. yere, in .v. xi. moneth called Sabat. Then Ptolomy the sonne of Abobus receyued them (but wyth dysceate) into a stronge house of hys, called Doch, whych he had buylded, where he made them a bancker.

So when Symon and hys sonnes were mety and had droncken well, Ptolomy stode vp wyth his mē (whom he had ther) and toke their weapons, entred into the bancker house, & slewe Symon wyth hys two sonnes, & certayne of hys seruants. Suche great un faythfulnesse dyd Ptolomy in Israell, and recompensed euell for good. Then wrot thys Ptolomy the same vnto kynge Antiochus, requiringe hym þ he should send him an hooste to helpe him: and so should he delyuer hym the lande, w the ctyes, & tributes of the same. He sent other men also vnto Gaza, for to take John: & wrote vnto the captaynes to come to hym, and he shoulde geue them syluer, golde and rewarde. And to Hierusalē he sent other, to take it and the Sanctuarie.

Then ranne there one before, and tolde John in Gaza, þ hys father and hys brethren were slayne, & howe that Ptolome had sente to slaye hym also. When John heard thys, he was fore abashed, and layd hādes on them that were come to destroy hym, and slew them: for he knew that they went about to kyl hym.

As for other thynges concernyng Jho, of hys warres, of hys noble actes (where in he behaued hym selfe manfully) of the buyldyng of the walles whych he made, and other of hys dedes: They are wyrtte in the chronycles of his priesthode, fro the tyme forth that he was made hys pryeste after hys father.

The ende of the fyrst booke
of the Machabees.

The secōd boke of the Machabees.

The fyrst Chapter.

An Epistle of the Jewes that dwelt in Jerusalem, sente vnto them whych dwelt in Egypt: wherein they exhort them to geue thākes for the death of Antiochus. Of the fyre that was hyd in the pyt. The prayer of Nehemiah.

A

He brethren of þ Jewes whych be at Jerusalem and in the land of Jewrye, wythe vnto those brethren of the Jewes that are thowme oute of Egypte, good fortune,

The.i. Chapter.

health, and peace. God the Lorde be gracious vnto you, and thynke vpon hys cōunaunt that he made wyth Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob hys faythfull seruantes: * and geue you al suche an herre, that ye may loue and serue hym, pea, & perfourme hys wyl wyth a whole hert, and of a wyllynge mynde: He open your hertes in hys lawe, and in his cōmaundementes, sende you peace: heare your prayers, bee at one wyth you, & neuer forsake you in tyme of trouble. Thys is here our prater for you.

What tyme as Demetrius raigned, in the .C.lxx. yere, wee Jewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violēce that came vnto vs. In those yeres after that Jason departed out of the holy lande and kyngdome, they brēt vp the portes, and shed innocent blood. Then made we oure prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offred and lighted the candels, settynge forth cakes & bread. And now we came ye vnto the * feast of tabernacles in þ moneth Cassue.

In the .C.lxxviii. yere, the people that was at Jerusalem, and in Jewry, the coun-cell, and Judas hym selfe, sent this whol some salutation vnto Aristobolus kynge Ptolomeus master, which came of the ge-neracion of the anoynted priestes, and to the Jewes that were in Egypte: In so much as God hath deliuered vs fro greac perpyles, we thanke hym highlye, in that we resisted so myghty a kyng.

And why? he brought mē out of Persis by heapes, to fight against vs & þ holy ctye.
For as he was in Persis (namely the cap-tein w the great hoste) he perished in the tēple of Paneas, being disceyued thowm the deuice of Paneas priestes. For as he was purposed to haue dwelt there, Antiochus and hys friendes came thither, to receyue much money for a dowry. So when Paneas priestes had laide forth þ money, he entred w a small cōpany into þ cōpasse of the temple, and so they shut the temple.

Now when Antiochus entred by ope-nyng the pryue entraunce of the temple, the pryestes stoned the captayne to deat, & betwed them in peces that wer wyth him, smote of theyr heades, and threwe the out in al thynges. God be praysed which hath deliuered the wycked into our handes.

Whereas we now we are purposed to kepe the purification of the temple vpon the
xxv. day of þ moneth Cassue, we thought necessary to certifie you therof: that ye also myght kepe the tabernacles feaste dape, and the day of the fyre, whych was geuen vs when Nehemiah offred, after that he had set vp the temple, and the alter. For what tyme as oure fathers were led awaye vnto Persis, þ priestes (which then sought the honour of God) toke fyre pruelye from the alter, and hyd it in a valley, where as was a depe dytch: and therin they kept it, because the place was unknownen to euerye man. Nowe after many

The.ii. boke of the Mach.

Simon and hys sonnes, to destroy them. Now as Symon was goyng aboute thowme the cittyes, that were in the country of Jewry, and caringe for them: he came doune to Jericho, wyth Matathias and Judas hys sonnes, in the .C.lxxviij. yere, in .v. xi. moneth called Sabat. Then Ptolomy the sonne of Abobus receyued them (but wyth dysceate) into a stronge house of hys, called Doch, whych he had buylded, where he made them a bancker.

So when Symon and hys sonnes were mety and had droncken well, Ptolomy stode vp wyth his mē (whom he had ther) and toke their weapons, entred into the bancker house, & slew Symon wyth hys two sonnes, & certayne of hys seruants. Suche great un faythfulnesse dyd Ptolomy in Israell, and recompensed euell for good. Then wrot thys Ptolomy the same vnto kynge Antiochus, requiringe hym þ he should send him an hooste to helpe him: and so should he delyuer hym the lande, w the ctyes, & tributes of the same. He sent other men also vnto Gaza, for to take John: & wrote vnto the captaynes to come to hym, and he shoulde geue them syluer, golde and rewarde. And to Hierusalē he sent other, to take it and the Sanctuarie.

Then ranne there one before, and tolde John in Gaza, þ hys father and hys brethren were slayne, & howe that Ptolome had sente to slaye hym also. When John heard thys, he was fore abashed, and layd hādes on them that were come to destroy hym, and slew them: for he knew that they went about to kyl hym.

As for other thynges concernyng Jho, of hys warres, of hys noble actes (where in he behaued hym selfe manfully) of the buyldyng of the walles whych he made, and other of hys dedes: They are wyrtte in the chronycles of his priesthode, fro the tyme forth that he was made hys priest after hys father.

The ende of the fyrst booke
of the Machabees.

The secōd boke of the Machabees.

The fyrst Chapter.

An Epistle of the Jewes that dwelt in Jerusalem, sente vnto them whych dwelt in Egypt: wherein they exhorte them to geue thākes for the death of Antiochus. Of the fyre that was hyd in the pyt. The prayer of Nehemiah.

A

He brethren of þ Jewes whych be at Jerusalem and in the land of Jewrye, wythe vnto those brethren of the Jewes that are thowme oute of Egypte, good fortune,

The.i. Chapter.

health, and peace. God the Lorde be gracious vnto you, and thynke vpon hys cōunaunt that he made wyth Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob hys faythfull seruantes: * and geue you al suche an herite, that ye may loue and serue hym, yea, & perfourme hys wyl wyth a whole hert, and of a wyllynge mynde: He open your hertes in hys lawe, and in his cōmaundementes, sende you peace: heare your prayers, bee at one wyth you, & neuer forsake you in tyme of trouble. Thys is here our prater for you.

What tyme as Demetrius raigned, in the .C.lxxix. yere, wee Jewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violēce that came vnto vs. In those yeres after that Jason departed out of the holy lande and kyngdome, they brēt vp the portes, and shed innocent blood. Then made we oure prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard: we offred and lighted the candels, settynge forth cakes & bread. And now we came ye vnto the * feast of tabernacles in þ moneth Cassue.

In the .C.lxxxviii. yere, the people that was at Jerusalem, and in Jewry, the counsell, and Judas hym selfe, sent this wholsome salutation vnto Aristobolus kynge Ptolomeus master, which came of the generation of the anoynted priestes, and to the Jewes that were in Egypte: In so much as God hath deliuered vs fro greaperpyles, we thanke hym highlye, in that we resisted so myghty a kyng.

And why? he brought mē out of Persis by heapes, to fight against vs & þ holy ctye. For as he was in Persis (namely the cap-tein w the great hoste) he perished in the tēple of Paneas, being disceyued thowm the deuice of Paneas priestes. For as he was purposed to haue dwelt there, Antiochus and hys friendes came thither, to receyue much money for a dowry. So when Paneas priestes had laide forth þ money, he entred w a small cōpany into þ cōpasse of the temple, and so they shut the temple.

Now when Antiochus entred by openyng the pryue entraunce of the temple, the priestes stoned the captayne to death, betwed them in peces that wer wyth him, smote of theyr heades, and threwe the out in al thynges. God be praysed which hath deliuered the wycked into our handes.

Whereas we now we are purposed to kepe the purification of the temple vpon the xxv. day of þ moneth Cassue, we thought necessary to certifie you therof: that ye also myght kepe the tabernacles feaste dape, and the day of the fyre, whych was geuen vs when Nehemiah offred, after that he had set vp the temple, and the alter. For what tyme as oure fathers were led away vnto Persis, þ priestes (which then sought the honour of God) toke fyre pruelye from the alter, and hyd it in a valley, where as was a depe dytch: and therein they kept it, because the place was unknowne to euerye man. Nowe after manp

Leuit. vi. a. many peres when it pleased God * that 2. a. 7. xvi. a. Nehemias should be sente from the kynge of Persia, he sent the chylidrens chylidren of those ppeites (whiche had the fyre) to seke it. And as they tolde vs, they founde no fyre, but thicke water. The commaunded he them to drawe it vp, and to brynge it hym, and the offeringes wrythall. Nowe when the sacrifices wer layde on, and or-derd, y priest Nehemias commaunded to sprinkle them & the wood with y water.
Wherthys was done, & the tyme come y the Sun shone, whiche afore was hyd in y cloud: ther was a great fyre kyndled, In so much y euery man marueled. Nowe al the ppeites prayed while y sacrifice was a makynge. Jonathas prayed fyrst, & the other gaue aunswere.

And Nehemias prayer was after this manner: O Lorde God maker of all thyngges, thou ferfull and stronge, thou ryghteous and mercifull, thou that art onely a gracious kynge, onely lyberall, onely iuste, Almyghtye and euerlastynge, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, y that haste chosen the fathers and halow-ed them: receyvinge the offerynge for the whole people of Israel, preserve thyne owne porcion and halow it. Gather those together, that are scattered abroad from vs: deliuer them that are vnder the heathens bondage, loke vpon them whiche are despyed and abhorred, that the heathen maye knowe and se, howe that thou art our God: Duniye the the that oppresse, and woundly put vs to dishonour. * Set thy people again in thy holy place, lyke as Exo. xxi. a. Moses hath spoken.

And the priestes song psalmes of thankes geuyng, so longe as the sacrifice endured. Nowe wher the sacrifice was brete, Nehemias commaunded the great stones to be sprinkled wryth y resydue of the water. Whych, when it was done, ther was kyndled a flame of them also: but it was consumed thorow the lyght that shyned from the alter. So wher this matter was known, it was tolde the kinge of Persia, that the place wher the priestes (whiche were led awaye) had hyd fyre, there appeared water in steede of fyre, & that Nehemias and his company had purified y sacrifices wryth all. Then the kynge considerynge and ponderynge the matter di-ligentlye, made hym a temple to proue the thyng that was done. And when he found it so in deede, he gaue the priestes many gyftes, and diuerse rewardes: yea he toke them wryth his owne hande, and gaue the. And Nehemias called the same place Reptar, which is as much to say, as a cleasynge: but many men call it Rephy.

The.ii.Chapter.

Howe Jeremie hyd the tabernacle, the Arke, and the aultare in the hyll. Of the. v. bookes of Jason contained in one.

It is found also in the writynge of Jeremie the prophet, that he commaunded them which were carped awaye to take fyre, as it is sayd afore. He commaunded them also, that they shoulde not forget the lawe and commaundementes of the Lord, and that they shoulde not erre in their mindes, wher they se Images of silver and golde wryth their oznamentes. These and suche other thynges commaunded he them, and exhorted them, that they shoulde not let the lawe of God go out of their hertes.

It is wrytten also, howe the prophete (at the commaundement of God) charged them, to take the tabernacle and the arke wryth them: and he wente forth vnto the mountayne, wher Moses clymed vpp, and sawe the heretage of God. And when Jeremie came there, he founde an open caue wherein he layed the tabernacle, the arcke, and the aultar of incense, and so stopped the hoole. There came certayne men together also folowynge hym, to marcke the place, but they coulde not fynde it.
Whych when Jeremie perceyued, he re-proued them, sayinge: As for that place, it shalbe vnkowne, vntill the tyme that God gather his people together agayne, and receyue them vnto mercy. Then shall God shew the these thynges, and the ma-iestye of the Lorde shall appeare, and the cloude also, lyke as it was shewed vnto Moses: and lyke as when Salomon despyred that the place myght be sanctified, & it was shewed hym.

For he being a wyse man, handled honourably & wisely y offerynge vnto God in the halowynge of the temple, wher it was fi-nyshed. And lyke as when Moses prayed vnto y Lord, y fyre came down from heauē, & consumed the burnt offerynge: Euen so prayed Salomon also, and the fyre came down from heauen and consumed y burntofferynge. And Moses sayd: because the sun offerynge was not eaten, therefore it is consumed. In like maner Salomon kept the dedication (for halowynge) eyngh dages.

In the Annotations and wrynges of * Jeremie, were these thynges put also, howe he made a lybrary, and how he gathered out of al countreys y bookes of the prophetes, of Dauid, the Epistles of the kynge, and of the presentes: Euen so Judas also, looke what he learned by experience of war, and suche thyngs as hath happened vnto vs, he gathered the al together, and so we haue them by vs. If ye nowe desyre to haue the same, send some body to fetch the vnto you. Where as we then are aboute to celebrate the purifica-cion, we haue wrytten vnto you. Therfore ye shal do wel, if ye kepe the same dages.

We hope also, that the God (whiche deli-uered his people, and gaue them al y heritage, kyngdom, priest hode & Sanctuaty y he promised the in the law) wyl shortlye haue

ii. Ma. c. e.

Jer. xxi. b.

Baruch.
vi. a.

Deu. xxi. a.

B

Exo. xxi. b.
iii. re. vii. b

Leuit. ix. d.

ii. pa. vii. a

Some read
Nehemias.

Deut. xxx. a

The.ii. booke of the Mach.

haue mercy vpon vs, & gather vs together from vnder the heauē into his holy place: for he hath saued vs from greates perils, and hath cleansed the place.

As concerning Judas Machabeus & his brethren, the purification of the greates temple, the dedicacyon of the altare, yea and of the warres that concerne Noble Antiochus, and Eupator his sonne, of the synnynges that came downe from heauen vpon those, whiche manfully defended the Jewes: For though they were but fewe, yet defended they the whole lande, drove away the enemies hoste, recovered agayne the temple, that was spoken of thowome oute all the world, despyered the ctyte, doinge theire beste that the lawe of the Lorde whiche was put downe, myghte with all tranquillyte be restored agayne vnto the Lorde that was so mercifull vnto them. As touchyng Jason also of Citē, we haue undertaken compendiously to bring into one booke, & things that wer comprehended of hym in syue. For we considering the multitude of & bookes & howe hard it shulde be for them & wolde medie w storyes & acts (as that because of so diuerse matters) haue undertaken so to comprehend the storyes, that such as are disposed to reade, myghte haue pleasure & pastyme therein: and that they whych are diligente in suche thynges, myghte better thincke vpon them: yea and that whosoever read the same, myght haue profit thereby.

Neuerthelesse we our selues that haue medled with this mater for the shortning of it, haue taken no smal labour, but great diligence, watching and trauayle. Like as they that make a feaste, wold sayne do other men pleasure: Euen so we also (for many mens sakes) are very well content to take the labour, wher as we may shortly comprehend the thynges that other men haue truly wyrtten.

For he that buyldeth an house a newe muste prouide for manye thynges, to the wholde buyldynge: but he that paynteth it afterward sekerh but only what is casy, mete & conuenient to garnish it withal, Euen so do we also in lyke manner. And why? He that begynnerh to wyrtte a story for the first, must with his vnderstanding gather the matter together, set his wordes in order, and diligently seke out of euery part: But he that afterward wyl shorten it, vserh fewe wordes, & toucheth not & matter at the largest. Let this be sufficient for a prologe, now wyl we begin to shew & matter: for it is but a folish thyng to make a long prolog, and to be short in the story it selfe.

The.iii. Chapter.

Of the honoure done vnto the temple by the kynges of the Gentiles. Simon vetereth what treasure is in the temple. Heliodorus is sente to take them away. He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

The.iii. Chapter.

What tyme as the holy ctyte was inhabited in all peace, & welth, and when the lawes were perfectly well kepte, (For so was ordeyned by Onias the hye pryeste and other godlye meene, that wer enemies to wickednesse) It came therto, that euen & kynges and prynces them selues did the place greates worship, and garnished the temple with greates gyses: In so muche that Seleucus kyng of Asia of his owne rents bare al the costes belonging to the seruice of the offerings. Then Simon of the tribe of Ben Amin, a ruler of the temple, laboured to worke some myscheyse in the ctyte: but the hye pryest respyed hym.

Neuertheles when he myghte not overcome Onias he gat hym to Appolonius the sonne of Thersa (whiche the was cheyfe Lorde in Celosyria and Phenices) and tolde hym, that the treasure in Ierusalem was ful of innumerable mony, & how that the comon goodes (whiche belonged not vnto the offerings) were exceedinge great also: yea and howe it were possible, that all these myght come vnder the kynges power.

Nowe when Appolonius had shewed the kyng of the mony, as it was tolde hym, the kyng called for Heliodorus his steward, and sente him with a commadement, to bring him the same mony. Immediately Heliodorus toke his iourneye but vnder a coloure, as though he woulde go thowow Celosyria and Phenices to visit the cities; but his purpose was to satisfy the kyngs pleasure. So when he came to Ierusalem, and was lounge receyued of the hye pryeste into the ctyte: he tolde what was determyned concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comynge: he asked also, if it were so in dede. Then the hye pryest tolde hym, that there was suche money layed vp for the vpholdinge of wyddowes and fatherlesse chyldren, and how that a certayne of it belonged vnto Hircanus Tobias a noble man, and that of all the mony (whych & wicked Simon had betrayed) ther were. iiii. hundred talents of siluer, and. ii. hundred of gold: yea & that it were impossible for those mens meaning to be disceined, that had layd vp theyr mony in the place & temple (whych is had in worship thowowe the whole world) for & maintenance & honoure of & same. Wherunto Heliodorus answered, that the kyng had commaunded hym in any wise, to bringe hym in the money.

So then the daye appointed Heliodorus entered into the temple to order this matter. But there was no smalle feare thowowout & whole cite. The pryestes fel downe before the altare in their vestmentes, and called vnto heauen vpon hym, whiche had made a law concerning suffice geuen to kepe, that they shoulde be safely preserved, for such as committe them vnto the

ii. Mac. i. 18

ii. Mac. iiii. 18

ii. Mac. iiii. 18

ii. Mac. iiii. 18

ii. Mac. iiii. 18

Ero. iiii. 18

keppnge. Then who so had looked the hys pyeste in the face, it woulde haue greued hys herte: For hys countenance and changynge of hys colour declared þe inward sorrow of hys mynde. The man was al in heauynes, & hys body in fear, wherby they þe looked vpon hym, myght perceiue the grief of hys herte. The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto þe common prayre, because the place was like to come to confusyon. The women came together thorow the stretes, wth hearpe clothes about their brestes. The virgins also that wer kept in, ran to Onias, some to þe wal-les, other some looked out of þe windowes:
þe they al helde vp their handes toward heauen, and prayed. A myserable thyng was it to loke vpon the common people, & the hys pyeste, beyng in suche trouble.
But they besoughte almyghty God that the goods whiche were comyncted vnto them, myght be kept whole, for those that had deliuered them vnto their keppnge.
Neuerthelesse the thyng that Helypodorus was determyned too doo, that per-soured he in the same place, he hym selfe personallye beyng about the treasury wth hys men of war. But the spryde of almyghty God shewed hym selfe open-lye, so that all they whiche presumed to obey Helydorus, fell thorow the power of God into a great fearfulness and drede.
For ther appeared vnto them an horse wth a terrible man syttinge vpon hym, deceit in goodly aray, and the hors smot at Helypodus wth hys fore fete. Nowe he that sat vpon the hors, had harnesse of golde vpon hym.

Moreover, ther appeared.ii. sayre and bemyful yonge men in goodly aray, which stode by hym, scourged hym on bothe the sydes, and gaue hym many stryppes wthoute ceasinge. Wth that fel Helypodus sodenlye vnto the grounde. So they toke hym vp (beyng compassed about wth greate darknes) and bare hym vpon a beere.
Thus he that came wth so many ridders and men of warre into the sayed treasury, was born out wher as no man myght helpe hym: and so the power of God was manifest and known. He lay styl domme also by the power of God destitute of all hope and lyfe. And they praised þe Lorde þe he had shewed hys power vpon hys place and temple, wherby a litle afore was ful of fear and trouble: and that thorow the re-uelacion of þe almyghty Lorde it was spl-led wth joy and gladnesse.

Then certayne of Helydorus frendes prayed Onias that in al hast he wold call vpon God, to graunte hym hys lyfe, which was geuynge by the gooste. So the hys pyest considered the matter, and lest the kyng shulde suspecte that the Jewes had done Helypodus some euell: he offered an healthe offeringe for hym. Nowe when the hys pyest had obteyned hys petition, the same yonge men in the same clothyng appered, & stode beside Helydorus, sayinge: Thanke Onias the hys pyeste, for hys sake hath the Lorde graunted the thy lyfe: therfore seynge that God hath scourged the, geue hym prayse and thanckes, and shewe euery man hys myght & power. And when they had spoken these wordes, they appeared no more.

So Helydorus offered vnto God, made greate vowes vnto hym which had grafited hym hys lyfe, thanked Onias, toke hys hooft and went agayne to the kyng.
Then testified he vnto euery man of the greate workes of God, that he had sene wth hys eyes. And when the kyng asked Helydorus who wer mete to be sent yet once agayne to Ierusalem, he said: if thou hast anye enemy or aduersary vnto thy realme, sende hym thither, and thou shalt haue hym punished, if he escape wth his lyfe:
for in þe place (no doubt) ther is a specyall power and workinge of God. For he that dwelleth in heauen, visyeth & defendeth þe place: and al þe come to do it harme, he punnysheth the and plagerh the. This is now the matter concernyng Helypodus, & the keppng of the treasury at Ierusalem.

The.iii.Chapter.

Simon reporteth the euell of Onias. Jason despying þe office of þe hys pyeste, corrupteth the kyng wth rewardes. The wyll & intent of Jason.

His Simon now (of whom we spoke afore) beyng a bewray-er of the mony and of hys owne natural countrey, reported the worste of Onias: as though he had moued Helypodus vnto thys, and as though he had bene a byrnger vp of euell. Thus was he not ashamed to cal hym an enemy of the realme, that was so faythfull an ouerseer and defender of the cytye, & of hys people: yea and so feruente in the lawe of God. But when the malice of Symon increased so far þe thorow his frendes there wer certeyne maulaughters comytted, Onias considered the peril þe might come tho-rowe this stryfe, & how that Appolonius (namely the chief lord in Celosyria & Iude-nices) was all set vpon tyranny, and Sym-ons malice increased the same: He gat hym to the kyng, not as an accuser of the cytyens, but as one that by hym selfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude. For he saw it was not possible to lyue in peace, neither Symon to leue of his falsshynes, except the king dyd loke thereto. But after þe deeth of Seleucus, wher Antiochus (whiche is called the noble) toke the kyngdom, Jason the brother of Onias laboured to be hys pyeste: For he came vnto the kyng, and promysed hym thre hundred. and. lx. talentes of syluer, and of other rentes. lxxx. talentes. Besides thys he promised hym yet an hundred and fiftye, if he myght haue the schole

ii. mac. x. c.
and. xi. b.

ii. mac. v. c.

E

l. Mach. 6.

The.ii.boke of the Mach.

of the chyldren, and that he myght call the of Jerusalem Antiochians. Whych when the kynge had graunted, and he had got þe superioritye; he beganne immediatlye to drawe his kynsmen to the custome of the Heathen, put downe the thynges that the Jewes had set vp of loue, by John the father of Eupolemius, whych was sent embassytoure vnto Rome, for to make the bond of frendship and loue. He put downe all the Jewes and libertyes of the Jewes, and set vp þe wycked statutes. He durst make a fyghtyng scole vnder the castell, and set sayre yonge men to lerne the maners of whores and brothels.

ii. mac. viii Thys was now the begynnynge of the Heathenish and straunge conuersacyon, brought in thorow the vngacious & vnderde wyckednesse of Jason, whych shuld not be called a Pryeste, but an vngodlye person. In so muche that the prestes were now no more occupied about the seruice of þe autter, but despised the temple, regarded not the offeryngs: yea gaue they dylygence to learne to fight, to wassle, to leape, to daunce, & to put at the stone: not setting by the honoure of the fathers, but lyked the glory of the Grekes best of all: for the whych they stroue perploulye, & were gedy to folow theyr statutes, yea thet luste was in all thynges to be lyke the, whych afore wer theyr enemyes and destroyers. Howe be it to do wickedly agaynst þe law of god, shal not escape unpunished, but of thys we shal speake here after.

These were kepte euery daye here. What tyme as þe Olympiades sportes were played at Tyrys (the kynge hym selfe beinge present) thys vngacious Jason sente wycked menne bearynge from them of Jerusalem (whych nowe were called Antiochians). iii. C. drachmes of syluer for an offeryng to Hercules. These had they that carped them, despyred vnder suche a fashyon, as though they shoulde not haue bene offered, but bestowed to other vses. Neuerthelesse he that sent the, sente them to thynente that they shoulde be offered vnto Hercules. But because of those that were presente, they were geuen as to the makynge of hyppes. And Appolonius the son of Nesteus was sente into Egypte, because of the Noble menne of kynge Ptolome Phylometor. Now whē Antiochus perceyued that he was put out from meddlynge in the realme, he sought his owne profit, departed fro thence, came to Ioppa, and then to Jerusalem: wher he was honorablye receyued of Jason and þe cyp, and was brought in with torch light and wpth great prayse and so he turned his host vnto Iherusalem.

ii. Mach. viii. b. After.iii. yere Jason sente Menelaus the foresayd Symons brother, to beare þe monye vnto the kynge, and to bringe hym answer of other necessarye matters. But he (when he was praised of the kynge for magnifyinge of his power) turned þe

The.iii.Chapter.

priesthode vnto hym selfe, layinge vp. iii. hundred talentes of syluer for Jason.

So when he had gotten commaundements from the kynge, he came hauryng no thing þe becommeth a priest, but bearynge the stomacke of a cruel tyrante, and the wrath of a wylde brute beast. When Jason (whych had deceyued his owne brother) seing þe he hym selfe was begiled also, was fayne to fle into þe lade of the Ammonites, and Menelaus gat the dominion. But as for the monye þe he had promised vnto the kynge, he did nothing therein, whē Sosstratus the ruler of the castell requited it of hym. For Sosstratus was the man that gathered the customes: wherfore they were bothe called before the kinge. Thus was Menelaus put out of þe priesthode, & Lysimachus his brother came in his stead. Sosstratus also was made Lord of the Syrians. It happened in the meane season, that the Tharsians & Malloians made insurreccion, because they wer geuen for a present vnto kynge Antiochus concubine. Then came the kynge in all the haste, to styll them agayne, & to pacifye the matter, leauynge Andronicus there to be his deputye, as one mete therfore. Howe Menelaus supposinge þe he had gotten a ryghte conuenient tyme, stole certayne vessels of gold out of the temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present, & some he solde at Tyrys and in the cities therby.

Which when Onias knewe of a suertye he rejoyced hym: but he kepte hym in a Sanctuarie besyde Daphny, that lyeth by Antioch. Wherfore Menelaus gatte hym to Andronicus, and prayed hym that he woulde slaye Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counsayled hym craftely to come out of the Sanctuarie, geuyng him his hande with an othe (howe be it he suspect hym) and then he slew Onias, without any regarde of righteousnesse. For the whych cause not onelye the Jewes, but other nacjons also toke indignacyon, and wer displeased for the vnrightheous deatch of so godlye a man.

And when the kynge was come agayne from Cilicia, the Jewes and certayne of the Grekes went vnto hym, complaining for the vnrightheous deatch of Onias. Yea Antiochus hym selfe was soz in his mynd for Onias, so þe he pitied hym, and he wepte, remembryng his sobernes & manerly behauoure. Wherfore he was so kyndlyed in his mind, þe he comaunded Andronicus to be strypped out of his purple clothinge, and so to be led thorowout al the cyp: yea and the vngacious man to be layne in the same place, where he commytred his wyckednes vpon Onias. Thus the Lorde rewarded hym his punishment, as he had deserued. Howe when Lysimachus had done many wycked deedes in the temple thorowe the counsell of Menelaus, and the voide came abode, the multitude gathered thered the together agaynste Lysimachus for he had caried out now much gold.

So when the people arose, and were full of dyspleasure, Lysimachus armed. iii. my. myrthes to defende hym: a certayne traunte beinge their captaune, which was growen both in age and woodnesse. But when the people understode the purpose of Lysimachus, some gat stones, some good stronge clubbes, and some castie ashes vpon Lysimachus. Thus there were manie of them wounded, some beinge slayne, and all the other chased awaye. But as for the wycked churche robber him selfe, they kyl led hym beside the treasury. Of these matters therfore there was kepte a court agaynst Menelaus. Nowe when the kynge came to Tyrys, they made a complaite to hym of Menelaus, concerninge this busynesse, and the embassytours were there. But Menelaus went and promised to stow to geue him much mony, if he would perswade the kynge. So Stow went to the kynge into a court, (wher as he was set to coole hym) & broughte hym out of hymnd. In so muche he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, that not standing was cause of al myschefe: & those poore men, whych if they had told their cause yea before the Scythians, they shuld haue bene iudged innocent, them he condemned to deathe.

Thus were they soone punished, which folowed vpon the matter for the cypre, for the people, and for the holy vessel. Wherefore therof Tyrys toke indignacion and buryed them honourablye. And so thorow the couetousnesse of the that wer in power, Menelaus remained still in authoritye, increasynge in malice, to the hurte of the cityzens.

The.v.Chapter.

Of the signes & tokens sene in Jerusalem. Of the ende and offence of Jason. The pursute of Antiochus agaynst the Jewes. The spolyng of the temple.

l. Mach. i. b.
iii. Re. vii
Ezay. xlii.

In the same tyme Antiochus made hym ready to go agayne into Egypte. Then were there sene at Jerusalem fourty dayes longe, horsemenne runnyng to and froo in the ayre, whiche hadde rayment of goulde, and speares. There were sene also wholl hostes of menne weapened, and horses running in an order, how they came together, how they held forth their shyl des, how they harnessed men drew out their swerdes, and shot their dardes.

The shine of the golden weapons was sene, and of al manner of armure. Wherefore euerye man prayed, that those tokens myghte turne to good. Nowe when there was gon forth a false tumult, as though Antiochus had ben deade, Jason toke a my. men. and came sodenlye vpon the cypre. The cityzens ran vnto the walles: at the last was the cypre taken, & Menelaus fled into the castell.

As for Jason, he spared not hym on his cyprezens in the slaughter, neyther considered he what greate euell it were to destitute the prosperite of his owne kynne: but dyd as one that hadde gotten the victorie of his enemyes, and not of his frendes. For all this gatte he not the superlatiue, but at last receyued confusyon for his malice, and fled agayn lyke a vagabunde into the lande of the Ammonyres. ii. mach. iiii.

Finallye for a rewarde of his wyckednesse he was accused before Artabaz the kynge of the Arabians: In so muche that he was faine to fle from cypre to cite, beinge despyed of euerye man, as a forsaker of laws, and an abhominable person. And at the last (an open enemy of his owne natural country & of the cyprezens) he was dyu uen into Egypte.

Thus he that afore put many oute of their owne natue land, perished from home him selfe. He wente to Lacedemon, thinkinge there to haue gotten socour by reason of kynred. And he that afore had casten many one oute vnburyed, was throwen oute hym selfe, no man mounyng for hym, nor puttyng hym in his grave: so he neither entoyed burial of a stranger, neither was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

* Nowe when this was done, the kynge suspected that the Jewes wold haue fallen froo hym: wherefore he came in a greate dyspleasure out of Egypte, and toke the cite by violence. He commaunded his men of war also that they shoulde kyl & not spare, but slay doune suche as withstode them, or clymbed vpon the houses. l. Mach. i. 6

Thus was there a greate slaughter of yonge men, and olde men, women, chyldren and virgins. In. iiii. dayes were ther slain lxxx. my. fourty thousande put in pryson, and no lesse solde. Yet was he not content wyth this, but durst go into the most holy temple (Menelaus that trayetoure to his lawes and to his owne naturall country, beinge his gyde) and wyth his wycked hands toke the holy vessel, whych other kyn ges & cities had geuen thyrther for the garnyng & hono of the place, them toke he in his handes vntoworthely, and defiled the. D

So mad was Antiochus, that he considered not howe that god was a little wroth for the synnes of them that dwelte in the cypre, for the whych suche confusion came vpon that place. And why? if it had not hapned them to haue bene lapped in many synnes, this Antiochus (as soone as he had come) had sodenly bene punished, and shutte out for his presumption, lyke as Herodorus was, whom Seleucus the kynge sent to rob the treasury. Neuertheles god hath not chosen the people for the places sake, but the place for the people sake: and therfore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterwarde shall it enioye the wealth of them. And lyke as Judi. v. 6.
ii. mach. iii. 6

Am. ii. it is

The.ii. boke of the Mach.

It is now forsake in the wrath of almighty God, so when the great God is reconciled, it shall be set up in his worship agayn.

So when Antiochus had taken .a. M. and .viii. talents out of the temple, he gat him to Antioch in all the hast, thinking in his pryde, that he myghte make menne sayle vpon the dyre lande and goe vpon the sea, suche an vye mynde had he. He leste debitties there to bere the people: At Hierusalem leste he Phylippe a Phrygian in maners more cruel then hym selfe that set him ther: At Garisim he left Andronicus and Ganelaus, which were more greuous to the cytefins then other. Nowe as he was thus set in malice against the Jewes, he sente Appollonius an hated prynce, with .xxii. M. commaundynge hym to slaye all those that were of perfecte age, and to sel the women, maydes & chyldren. When he came nowe to Hierusalem, he fawned peace, and kepte him still vntill the Sabbath day. And then he commaunded his men to take them to their weapons (for the Jewes kept holpe day) and so he slewe all that were gone forth to the open play, runnyng here and ther thorow the cyte with his men weaponed, and murdered a great nuber. * But Judas Machabeus which was the tenth, fled into the wyldernesse, led his lyfe ther with his company amonge the wyld beasts and vpon the mountaynes, dwelling there, & eatynge grasse, lest they shoulde be partakers of the filthynesse.

The.vi. Chapter.

The Jewes are compelled to leaue the lawe of God. The temple is defiled. The readers are monished that they shall not abhorre aduersitie wherewith the Lord afflicteth them. The greuous pain of Eleazarus.

At longe after this, sente the kynge a messenger of Antioche for to compell the Jewes to alter the ordinaunces of the fathers and the lawe of God, to desyle the temple that was at Hierusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: & they shuld be in Gazarim as those which dwelt at the place of Jupiter the heretious. This wicked sedicion of vngodly was heauy vpon all the people: for the temple was ful of voluptuousnes, bibbinge & bollinge of the Heathen, of ribaunds, and harlots together. The womē went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawfull. The altar also was ful of unlawfull thynges, which the law forbiddeth to lay vpon it. The Sabbath was not kepte, the other solempne feastes of the lande were not regarded. To be playne, there durste no man be a knowen that he was a Jew. In the day of the kynges birt they were compelled parforce to offer: and when the feast of Bacchus was kept they were constrained to wear garlands of pype, & so to goe about for the honour of Bacchus.

The.vi. Chapter.

Moreouer thorow the counsaile of Stolomy there went oute a commaundement in the nexte cities of the Heathen, that they shoulde intreate the Jewes in lyke maner: namelpe, to compell them for to do sacrifice after the lawes of the gentils: & whoso wold not, to put the to death. A piteous thing was it to se. * There were two women accused to haue circumcised their sones, who whē they had led rosd about the city (the babs hanging at their breasts) they cast the doune hedlings ouer the walles. Some were crepte into dens & had kept the Sabbath, were accused vnto Philip, & bren in fire: because they kept the commandment so stryde, & wold not desed the selfs. Now I beseech al those which read this boke, & they refuse it not for these fals of aduersitie, & iuge the things (that are hapned) for no destruction, but for a chastening of oure people. And why? When God suffereth not synners longe to folowe theyr owne mynde, but shortly punisheth them, it is a token of his great lounge kyndnesse. For this grace haue we of God more then other people, that he suffereth not vs long to sin unpunished like other nations, that when the day of iudgemente cometh, he may punish them in the fulnes of theyr synnes. If we sinne he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraweth his mercye from vs: and though he punish with aduersitie, yet doth he neuer forsake his people. But let this that we haue spoken now in fewe wordes, be for a warning & exhortaciō of the heathē. Nowe wil we come to the declaring of the mater. Eleazer one of principall scribes, an aged mā, of a well fauored countenance, was constrained to gape with open mouth, & to eate swynes flesh. But he desiring rather to dye gloriously then to lyue with shame, offered him self willingly to the martyrdom. Now when he sawe that he muste nedes goo to it, he toke it pacientely: for he was at a poynte with hym selfe, that he wold consent to no unlawfull thyng for any pleasure of lyfe. They that stode by being moued with pitye (but not a ryghe) for the old frendshipp of the man, toke hym aspyde priuily, & praid him if he wold let such flesh be brought hym as it were lawfull to eate, & then to make a countenance as though he had eate of the flesh of the sacrifice, lyke as the kynge commaunded, for so he myghte be deliuered from deathe: and so for the olde frendshipp of the manne, they shewed hym this kyndnes. But he began to consider his discret & honorable age, his noble & worshipful stocke, & how he shoulde be had ben of an honest & good conuersaciō, yea, & how constantly he had kept the ordinances & laws commaunded by god: wherfore he gaue the this answer, & said. Yet had I rather first be layd in my graue. For it be cometh not mine age (sayde he) in any wyse to dyssemble, wherby many yōg persons

1. Mac. ii.

1. Mac. i. c.
Josephus.
ii. boke.
vii. chap.

1. Mac. i.

1. Mac. iii. b

Leuit. xi. a

1. Cor. v. b

Amos .i.a.

sonnes mighte thinke þe Eleazar beyng lxxx. yere olde and .x. wete nowte gon to a straunge life: so thow to mine hypocrisie (for a litle tyme of a transitorye life) they myght be disceyued: by thys meanes also shuld I defile mine age, & make it abhominable. For though I wer now deliue-red from the tormentes of me, yet * shuld
I not escape the hand of the almyghty God, neyther aloue nor deade. Wherefore I wyll dye manfully, and do as it becometh myne age: Wherby I may peradueture leaue an example of stedfastnesse for such as be yonge, if I wyth a ready mind manfully dye an honest death for the most worthy and holy lawes.

When he had said these words, imme-diatly he was drawen to þe torment. Now they þe led hym and wer mylde a lyttel afore, beganne to take displeasure because of þe words þe he sayd: for they thought he had spokē the of an bygh mind. But when he was in his martyrdom, he mourned and sayd: Thou (O Lord) whych hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly þe wher as I myght be deliuered from deathe, I suffer these sore paynes of my body: but in my mind I am wel cōtēt to suffer the, because I feare the. Thus this man died, leauinge the memory all of his death for an exāple, not onely vnto yonge men but vnto all the people, too bee stedfaste and manlye.

The.vii.Chapter.

The punishmente of the.vii. brethren, and of theyr mother.

Genit. xi. a.

It happened also that ther wer
vii. brethren (wyth their mother) taken, and compelled by þe king agaynst the lawe, to eate swy-nes fleshe: namely wyth scourges & lette-ren whypps. And one of them whych was the chyefe, sayde: What seekst thou, and what requirreste thou of vs? As for vs we are ready rather to suffer deathe, then to offend the lawes of God and the fathers.
Then was the kynge angry, and had heat cauldrons and brasen pottes. Whych when they were made hote, immediatly he commaunded the tonge of hym that spoke first, to be cut out, to pul the skynne ouer his head, to pare of the edges of his hands and fete: yea, and that in the sight of his mother, and the other of his brethren.
Now whē he was cleane marded, he commaunded a fyre to be made, and so (while there was any breth in him) to be scalded in þe cauld. In the whych whē he had bene long payned, the other brethren whiche mother exhorted hym to dye manfully, sayng:
The Lord God shall regarde the truth, & comfort vs, like as Moyses testifieth and declareth in his song, sayng: & he wyll haue compassion on his seruantes.

Deut. xxxii. c.

So when the fyrst was dead after thys maner, they broughte the seconde to haue hym in derpsyon, pulled the skynne wyth the hear ouer his heade, and asked hym if he would eat swynes flesch, or he were payn-ted in the other members also thow oute his body. But he answered boldely, and sayd: I wyll not do it. And so was he tormented like as the fyrst, and when he was euē at the geupge by the goost, he saide: Thou most vngyracyous personne puttest vs towe to deathe, but the kynge of þe world shal raise vs up (wyth dyē for his lawes) in the resurreccyon of euerlastyng lyfe.

After hym, was the thyrde had in derpsyon, and when he was required, he put out his tonge, and that ryghte sone, holdyng forth his handes manfully, & spake wyth a stedfaste fayerth: These haue I of heauen, but now for the law of God I despise theym, for my truste is that I shal receyue theym of hym agayne. In so muche þe kynge and they whiche were wyth hym, marueled at the yong mans boldnes, that he nothyng regarded the paynes.

Nowe whē he was ded also, they vexed the fourth wyth tormētes in lyke maner.
So when he was nowte at his deathe, he sayde: It is better that we beinge put to deathe of me, haue our hope & trust in god, for he shal raise vs up agayne. As for the,
thou shalt haue no resurreccyon to lyfe.

Thon .v.c.

And when they had spoken to the fyrst, they tormented hym. Then looked he vnto the kynge, and sayed: thou hast power as monge meyne, for thou arte a mortal man also thy selfe, to do what thou wyll, but thynke not þe God hath forsaken oure ge-neracion. Abide the, tary styl a whyle, & þe shalt se the great power of God, howe he wil punish the, & thy sede. After hym they brought þe fyf, which being at the point of deathe, sayd: Be not disceiued (O king) for thys we suffer for oure own sakes because we haue offended our god, & therefore mar-uelous things are shewed vs. But thynke not thou, whych takest in hāde to strue against god, that þe shalt escape vnpunished.

Thys excellent mother (worthy to be well reported of, & had in remembrance) sawe her seuen sonnes dye in one daie, and suffered it paciently, because of the hope þe she had in god: yea she exhorted euery one of them in especiall, and that boldely and stedfastly wyth pacite wisdom, wakyng by her wyppth thoughte wyth a manly stomacke, and sayd vnto the: I can not tel howe ye came in my wombe, for I nether gaue you breath nor soul, no ner life. It is not I that ioyned the members of your bodies together, but þe maker of þe world, whych fasthonyed the birth of man, & began all thyngs. Euen he also of his owne mercy shal geue you breath & lyfe agayne, lyke as ye now regard not your own sel-ues for his lawes sake.

Nowe thoughte Antiochus that she hadde despyled hym, therefore he let her go wher repones, & began to exhort the yongest sone (which yet was left) not only wyth words, but swoze vnto hym wā

An. ii. othe

The.ii.boke of the Mach.

othe, & he shulde make hym a ryche & wealthy man (if he wolde forsake the lawes of hys fathers) yea & that he shuld geue him wharsoeuer were necessary for hym. But whē þe yong mā wolde not be moued, for al these thynges he called hys mother, & colceled her to saue her sones life. And when he had exhorted her in many wordes, he promised hym þe shuld speake vnto her sonne. So she turned her vnto him (laughinge þe cruel tyrant to scorn) & spake wyth a bolde voice: O my sonne haue ppyty vpon me þe bare the .ix. monethes in my wombe, that gaue the sucke, nourished þe, & brought the vp vnto this age.

I beseeche the (my sonne) loke vpon heauen & earth & al that is therein, and consy-der þe God made them, and mans generacion of noughte: so shalte thou not feare this hangeman, but suffer death stedfast-lye, lyke as thy brethren haue done: that I may receyue the agayn in the same mercy wyth thy brethren.

Whyle she was yet speakyng these wordes, the yong men sayed: Whom loke ye for? Wherefore do ye tarpe? I wyl not obeye the kynges commaundemente, but the law that God gaue vs by Moyses. As for the that imagyneth al mischefe agaynst the Jewes, thou shalt not escape þe hand of God, for we suffer these thynges because of oure synnes.

And thoughte God be angere wyth vs alrile while (for our chastyng & reforma-cion) yet shal he be at one agayn wyth hys seruauntes. But thou (O shamefull and most abhomyable person,) pryde not thy selfe thowth vayne hope, in being so malicious vpon the seruauntes of God: for þe hast not escaped the iudgement of the God whych is almighty, and seeth al thynges.
My brethren that haue suffered a lytle payne are now vnder the couenaunte of euertastynge life: but thowth þe iudgement of God, thou shalt be punyshed rightouslye for thy pryde.

As for me (lyke as my brethren haue done)
I off'r my soul and my body for þe lawes of our fathers, callinge vpon God that he wyl soone be merciful vnto oure people: * yea and wyth payne and punyshemente to make the graunt, that he onely is god.
In me nowe and in my brethren the wrath of almyghtye God is at an end, whych righteously is fallen vpon al our people.

Then the kyng beyng kyndled in anger was more cruell vpon hym then vpon al the other, and toke indignacion, that he was so lyghtly regarded. So this yonge man dyed vndefiled, and put hys trust stil in the Lorde. Laste of all after the sonnes, was the mother put to deth also. Let this now be ynough spoken, concernyng the offerings, and extrenis cruellnesse.

The.viii.chapter.

Judas gathereth together hys host. Ricanor

The.viii.chapter.

now is sente agaynst Judas. Judas exhorteth hys souldyars to constantnes. Ricanor is ouercome. The Jewes geue thanks after they haue put their enemyes to flight, dyuidyng the spoiles vnto the fatherles, and vnto the wydowes. Ricanor flyeth vnto Antiochus.

Whē Judas Machabeus & they that were wyth hym, went pri-uelye into the townes, called theyr kynfolkes and frendes together, toke vnto them al suche as contynued yet in the sayth & law of þe Jewes, and brought forth .vi. my. men.

So they called vpon the Lorde, that he woulde haue an eye vnto hys people, whiche was troden doune of eueri mā, be gratyous vnto the temple, that was defiled of the vngodlye: to haue compassyon vpon the destruccio of þe cytye, which was shor-tlye like to be laied wast, to heare the voice of the bloud þe cryed vnto hym, to remeber the most vncyghtuous deathes of yonge innocent chyldren, the blasphemyes also done vnto his name, and to punysh them.

Nowe when Machabeus had gathered this myltitude together, he was to myghty for the Heathen (for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercy) he fel vpon the townes and cytyes vnwares, brente them, toke the moste commodous places and slew many of þe enemyes. But specyally he made suche chases by nyght, in so muche þe hys manlynes was spoken of euerie where.

So when Jhylyppe saw that the man increased by litle and litle, and that the matter prospered wyth hym for the moste parte, he wrote vnto Jtolomye (whych was a capytayne in Celosyrya and Jhenices) to helpe hym in the kynges busynes.
Then sent he Ricanor Patrocle (a spesyal frend of hys) in al the hast, and gaue hym of the comen forte of the Heathen no-leste them. .xx. my. harnessed men, to roote oute the whole generacion of the Jewes, hauyng to helpe hym one Gorgas a man of warre, whych in matters concernyng battayles hadde greate experience. Rycanor ordeined also the tribute (which the Romaynes shuld haue had) to be geuen vnto the kyng out of the captiuitie of the Jewes, namely .ii. my. talentes. And imme-diatly he sent to the cities of the sea coast, requyryng them for to bye Jewes to be theire seruauntes, & bondme, promysing to sel the .lxxx. & .x. for one talent: but he considered not þe wrath of almyghty god, that was to come vpon hym.

When Judas knew of this, he told the Jewes that were wyth hym of Ricanors comminge. Nowe were there some of the feareful, not trustyng vnto the rightous-nes of God, and fled their waye.

But the other that remayned, came together, and besought the Lorde to deliuer them from that wycked Ricanor, whych

Act. xxi. a.
Deu. xii. a.

J

11. Mac. ix.

இ. ஐ. என். பி. பி

Deu. xx. 9.

11. 108. 55. 6.

had solde them or euer he came nye them:
and thowghe he woulde not do it for theyr sakes, yet for the couenaunt that he made wyth theyr fathers, and because they called on hys holy and glorvous name.* And so Machabeus called hys men together, namely about .vi. M. exhortyng them not to agree vnto their enemyes, neither to be astayed for the multitude of theyr aduer-saries commyng agaynst them but yghteously: but to fyght manly, consideryng the reprofe that they had done to y<sup>e</sup> holy place wythout cause, how they had despised and oppressed the cyyte, yea and destroyed the lawes of the fathers. For they (sayde he) truste in theyr weapons and boldnes, but our confydence is in the almyghty Lorde; whych in the twinklyng of an eye maye both destroy them that come agaynst vs, and all the worlde.

3D

liti. cc. xix. g.

El. xxxviii

6. 22 a. vll. c

He exhorted them also to call to remembrance the helpe that God shewed vnto theyr fathers, as when they perished at C. and. lxxv. M. of Sennacheribbes people. And of the battayle that they had in Babylon agaynste the Gallacyans: howe that al the Macedoniās that came to help them, stode in feare: and howe they beyng but onelye,  shewe an. C. and. x. M. thow the helpe that was geuen them from heauen, whereby they also had receyued many benefites.

Therevpon these words the me take good herres vnto them, ready to dye for the law and the countrey. So he set vpon euery copany a captayne, one of his own brethren, Simon, Ioseph and Ionathas: geuyng eche one .xv. C. men. He caused Eldras also to read the holy booke vnto them, and to geue them a token of the helpe of God.

1. 198.1111 6

Then he hym selfe beyng captayne in the fore fronte of þe battayle, buckled myth Myrcator. And God was theyr helpe, in so much that they slew aboute. ix. my. men

And compelled the more part of Micanors host to flye, they were so wounded and fe-ble. Thus they toke the monye from those that came to by them, and folowed vpon them on euerye syde. But when the tyme came vpon them, they returned, for it was the Sabbothe, and therefore they folowed no more vpon them. So they tooke theyr weapens and spoyle, and kepte the Sab-
b. both, geuyng thākes vnto the Lord, which
c. had deliuered them that day, and shewed
b. them bys mercy. After the Sabbothe they distributed the spoyle to the specke, to the fatherlesse, and to the wyddowes, and the resydue had they themselues with theyrs.
When thys was done, and they all hadde made a generall prayer, they besought the mercifull Lorde to be at one with bys seruauntes.

Am. xxxi. 6.

1. Исх.ггг.г.

Deut. xx. b.

Of those also that were with Timotheus and Bachides, whych fought agaynst them, they slew. xx. M. wanne by & strögh holdes, and deuyded mo spoyles: euer geupnge an equall porcion vnto the sycke, to the fatherles, to wydows and to aged per sonnes. And when they had diligently ga thered their weapens together, they layed them al in conuenyēt places, and the rem nant of the spoiles brought they to Hieru salem. They slew Philarches that wic ked person, whych was wyth Timotheus, and had vered manye Jewes. And when they helde the thankesgeuyng at Jerusa lem for the vyctory, they brente those that had set fyre on the portes of the temple: namely Calisthenes, whych was fled into an house: and so they gat a worthy reward for theyr wyckednesse. As for the most un gracious Nicanor, whych had brought a thousand marchauntes to bye the Jewes, he was thorow the heaipes of the Lorde brought downe euen of thē whō he regar ded not: in so much that he put of hys glo rious rayment, fled by sea, and came alone to Antioche, wyth great shame and disho neur, whych he gat thorow the destructi on of his host. Thus he that promysed the Romaines to pay them theyr tribute, whē he toke Hierusalē: began now to say plain ly, that God was the defender of the Je wes, and therfore not possyble to wounde thē, because they folowed the lawes which God had made.

The. ix. Chapter.

Antiochus wplyng to spoyle Persepolis is driven to flyght, As he persecuteth þe Jewes, he is strycken of the Lorde. The sayned re-pentaunte of Antiochus. He dyeth.

At the same tyme came Antiochus agayne wpyth dyshonoure out of Persis. For when he came to Persopolis, and vnderooke to toke the temple and to subdue the citie, the people ranne together and defended them selues, in so muche that he and hys were fayne to fflye wpyth shame. And so after þat fflyght it happened that Antiochus came agayne wpyth dyshonour. But when he came to Egbatana he gat knowledge what was happened vnto Nicanor and Timotheus. Now as he was auantpryng hym selfe in hys wrath he thought he was able to auenge the iniurye that was done to them, vpon the Jewes: and therefore commaunded to make readye hys charret, hastpryng on hys iourney wpyth oute ceaspryng, the iudgemente of God prouokpryng hym, because he had spoken so proudeplye, that he woulde come to Iherusalem, and make it a graue of the Jewes. But the Lord God of Israel, that seeth al thynges, smote hym wpyth an inuysible plage, which no man coulde heale.

1. 20 ac. 1/2.

i. Mach. v.

For as soone as he hadde spoken these woordes, there came vpon hym an horreble payne of hys bowels, & a sore grefe of the thannes. And that was but right, for he had martyred other mens bowels with dyuerse and straunge tormentes, so that he would in no wyse cease from hys ma-

Pr. tit. lyse.

The.ii.boke of the Mach.

lice. Yea, he was yet the prouder and more malicious agaynst the Jewes: But while he was commaunding to make hast in the matter, it happened that he fel downe violently fro the charet, so that it brosed his body, and dyd hym great payne.

And so he that thought he myght commaunde the floud of the sea (so proud was he beyond the condycyon of man) and to wey the hye molitaines in a paye of scales, was now brought downe to the grounde, and carped vpon an horselytter, knowledging the manifest power of god vpon hym: so that the wycked body of hym was full of wormes, whych in hym payne fel quicke out of hym flesh: In so much that hym bothe was greued wth the smel and stycke of hym. Thus he that a lytle afore thought he myght reach to the stars of beauen, him myght no man now abyde nor beare, for the vehemente of stycke.

Therefore he beyng broughte from hym great payne, began for to come to þ knowledg of hym selfe: for the punishmente of God warned hym, and hym payne increased euer more and more. And when he hym selfe myght not abyde hym owne stycke, he sayde these wordes: It is reason to be obedient vnto God, and that a man desyre not to helpe vnto hym. This wycked person prayed also vnto the Lord, of whom he shoulde haue obtayned no mercede. And as for the cite that he came vnto so hastily, to byng it downe to the grounde, and to make it a graue for deade men, now he desyeth to deliuer it free.

And as touchyng the Jewes, whom he had iudged not worthe to be buryed, but would haue cast them out for to be deuoured of the foules and wyld beasts, saying that he would haue destroyed both old and younge, now he promyseth to make them lyke the cyprians of Athens. And where as he had spoyled the holpe temple afore, now he maketh promyse to garnish it wth great gyftes, to increase the holy ornamente, and of hym owne rentes to beare the costes and charges belonging to the offeryng: yea, & that he would also become a Jewe him selfe, to go thorow euery place of the world, & to preache the power of God. But when his paines would not cease (for the righteous iudgement of God was come vpon him) out of a veri despayre he wrote vnto the Jewes a letter of intercession, containing these words: The king and pryncce Antiochus, wyshech vnto the vertuous citizes of þ Jewes, much health and good prosperitie.

If ye and your children farewell, and if al thynges go after youre mynde, we geue great thanks. In my sicknesse also do I remember you lounge: for as I came out of Persia, & was taken w soze disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common wealth. Neither despayre I in my self, but haue a good hope to escape this spekes

The.x.chapter.

nes. But consyderinge that my father led an host sometyme in the hyer places, and shewed who shoulde raygne after hym, that if there happened anye controuersye or anye hard thyng were declared, they in the lande myght know theyr chiefe lord, that ther shoulde be no insurreccion: Agayne, when I ponder by my selfe, howe that all the myghty men and neyghbours round about, are laying wayre, and loke but for oportunitie to do harme, I haue ordeyned that my sonne Antiochus shall raygne after me, whom I oft commended to manye of you, whē I was in the hyer kyngdoms, and haue written vnto him as it foloweth hereafter. Therefore I praye you and requyre you, to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally and in especial. For I hope that he shal be of sober and lounge behauiour, and if he folow my deuyce, he shal be indifferent vnto you.

* Thus that murdherer and blasphemour of God was soze smytten: and lyke as he had intreated other men, so he dyed a miserable death in a straunge country vpon a mountaine. And his body did philip (that went with him) carry away: whiche fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypte to Ptolomee phylometor.

Dan. viii. e

The.x.chapter.

Judas Machabeus taketh the city and the temple. He beginneth to shew the actes of Eupator. The Jewes fyght agaynst the Idumeans. Timotheus inuadeth Jewry, with whom Judas fought battayle. Iudas men appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Jewes. Timothe is slayne.

Machabeus now and hym compaign (thorow the helpe of the lord) (I. Ma. iiii. e) wan the temple and the cite agayne, destroyed the altars and chapels that the Heathen hadde buylded thorow the stretes, cleansed the temple, made another altar of brycke stone, and after it, yea, they offered sacrifices, sette forth the incense, the lyghtes and shewe breade. When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, and besought the Lord that they might come no more in such trouble: but yf they synned any more agaynst him, he him self to chasten the with mercy, and not to come in the bandes of those auncies and blasphemous men.

Exod. xx. d.

Now vpon the same day that the straigers polluted the temple, it happened that on the very same daye, it was cleansed agayne: namely, the xxii. daye of the moneth called Cassiu. They kept viii. dayes in gladnesse lyke as in the feaste of the tabernacles: remembryng that not longe afore, they helde the feaste of the tabernacles vpon the mountaynes and in denes lyke beasts. And to the same token they bare grene boughes, braches and palmes before hym that had geuen them good fortune to cleanse hym place: they agreed also togetogether, and made a statute, that euery peare those dayes should be solemnly kept of al the people of the Jewes.

I. Ma. iiii. e

How Antiochus then (that was called the noble) dyed, it is sufficiently told. Now we speake of Nicanor the sonne of that wycked Antiochus, how it happened wth hym: and so wth fewe wordes to comprehend the aduersity that chaunced in the wars. When he had taken the kyng dome, he made one Lysias (whych hadde bene captayne of the host in Phenices and Siria) ruler ouer þ matters of the realme. For Isidore that was called Macron, being a ruler for the Jewes (and specially to set in iudgement for such wronge as was done vnto them) vnder toke to deale peaceably wth them. For the which cause he was accused of the scendes before Eupator: and when he was suspecte to be a traitoure (because he had left Cyprus that Philometor had committed vnto him, and because he departed fro noble Antiochus, that he was come vnto) he poisoned hym selfe, and dyed.

Now when Borgas was gouernoure of the same places, he tooke straungers, and vnder toke ofte times to war with the Jewes. Moreover the Idumeans that healde the stronge holdes, receiued those that were driven from Jerusalem, and rooke in hande to warre also. * But they that were wth Machabeus, besoughte and prayed vnto the Lord, that he woulde be theyr helper: and so they fell into the strong holdes of þ Idumeans, & wan many places by strengthe: Suche as came agaynst them, they slewe, and kyled no lesse (of altogether) then twety thousand. Resuerchelesse some, no lesse then nyne thousande, were fledde into twoo stronge towres, haupnge all maner of ordynance to wythstande them.

When Machabeus leauynge Symon, Josephus, zachaus and those that were wth them (whych were very many) went to besiege them, & to fight wher most nede was. Nowe they that were wth Simon being led wth couctousnes, were intreased for mony, thorow certayn of those that hy in the towres: toke. lxx. M. Drachmes and lette some of them scape. But when it was tolde Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaynes of the people together, accusing those persons, that they had sold the brethre for mony, and let their nempes go. So he slewe those traitours, and immediately went in hande wth the two towres. And when they hadde ordred hem selues manlye wth theyr weapons and handes, they slewe in the twoo castels mo then twenty thousand.

Nowe Timotheus towhome the Jewes had overcome afore, gathered a multitude of straunge people, broughte an hoste also of horsemen, of Asiars, to wyne Jewrye by strength. But when he drew neie, was chabeus and they that were wth hym fel to their prater, sprinckled ashes vpon their heades, being gyrded wth heren cloth aboute theyr loynes, fell downe before the aulter, and besoughte the Lorde that he woulde be mercifull to them, but an enemye vnto theyr ennempes, and take parte agaynst theyr aduersaries, accordynge as it is promysed in the lawe. * So after the prater, they went on farther from the ctyte: and when they came nye the ennempes, they prepared them selues agaynst them. And by tymes in the morning at the breake of the daye, doth the hostes buckled together. * The one part had the lorde for theyr refuge, which is the geuer of prosperyte, strength and victorie. The other had a manlye stomacke, whiche is a captayne of warre.

The battayle now being great, there appeared vnto the enemyes from heauen v. men vpon horsebackes wth byrdels of gold, leading the Jewes, and two of them haupng Machabeus betwxt them, that kepte hym safe on euery syde wth theyr weapons, but shotte dartes and lightnynges vpon the enemyes: wher thorow they were confounded wth byndnesse and so fore afrayed, that they fell downe. There were slayne of fote men twenty thousand and syue hundred, and sixe hundred horsemen. As for Timotheus hym selfe, he fled vnto Gazar a very stronge holde, wherewith Cereas was captayne. But Machabeus and his compaigne layed siege to it cherefully. iiii. dayes.

Now they that were wth in trustynge to the strengthe of the place, cursed and ban ned excedyngly, and made great creaking wth wycked wordes. Neuerthelesse vpon the xij. day in the mornynge, twenty yong men of Machabeus compaign, being set on fyre in theyr myndes, because of the blasphemie, came manfully vnto the wal, and wth bold stomackes they and theyr other compaignons clymed vp vpon the towres, vnder takinge to set fyre vpon the portes, and to burne those blasphemous persons quicke. Twoo dayes were they destroyinge the castell, whiche when they founde Timotheus that was crepte into a corner, they kyled hym. and slewe Cereas his brother in lyke manner wth Apolophanes.

When this was done, they song psalmes, wth prayes and thankesgeyunge vnto the Lorde, whych had deuie so greates trynges for Israell, and geuen them the victorie.

The.xi.Chapter.

Lias goeth about to overcome the Jewes. Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Jewes. The letter of Lysias to the Jewes. A letter of kynge Antiochus vnto Lysias. A letter of the same vnto the Jewes. A letter of the Romaynes to the Jewes.

2 Mach. x.

Of long after thys, Lysias the kynge's steward and a kynsman of hys (whych had the gouernance of his matters) toke fore displeasure for the thynges that had hapned: and when he had gathered. lxxx. men of fore, with al the host of the boylme, he came against the Jewes, thynking to win the cite, & to make it an habitacon for the Heathen, and the temple would he haue to be an house of lucre, lyke as the other gods houses of the Heathen are, and to sel the pyestes offyce every yere: Not considering the power of God * but was wylde in his mynde, trustinge in the multitude of foremen, in thousandes of boylmen, and in hys. lxxx. Elephanes.

John. ii. b.

2 Mach. xvi. b.

So he came into Jewrye, and then to Bethsura (a castel of defence, lying in a narrow place. v. furlongs from Jerusalem) and wan it. Now when Machabeus and hys company knew that the strong holds were taken, they fel to theyr prayers with weping and teares before the Lord: and al the people in lyke maner besought hym, that he would send a good angell to deliuer Israell. Machabeus hym selfe was the firste that made hym ready to the battayle, exhorting the other that were with hym, to leoparde them selues, and to helpe theyr brethren. And when they were gathered forth of Jerusalem together with a ready and wyllynge mynde, they appeared before them vpon horsebacke a manne in whyte clothynge with harnessse of gold, shakynge hys speare. Thus they praised the Lord altogether, whiche had shewed them mercy, and were comforted in theyr myndes: in so much that they were ready, not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruel beastes, yea and to run thorow walles of yron.

2 Mach. x. r.

2 Mach. iii. b.
2 Mach. v.

Thus they went on wyllyngly hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lord merciful vnto them. They fel myghtely vpon theyr enemyes lyke Lyons, brought doune xi. M. fote men. cvi. C. horsmen, put al the other to flight, many of them being wounded, and some gat away naked. Yea Lysias hym selfe was fayne to fye shamefullye, and so to escape. Neuertheles the ma was not without vnderstandynge, but considered by hym self that hys power was minished, and pondered how the Jewes being defended by the helpe of Almyghty God were not able to be overcome: wherefore he sente them wordes, and promysed that he would consent to al thynges which were resonable, and to make the kynge theyr friend. To the whych prater of Lysias, Machabeus agreed, sekynge in al thynges common wealthe: and whatsoeuer Machabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Jewes, the king graunted it: For ther wer letters wyrtren vnto the Jewes from Lysias concerning these wordes.

Lysias sendeth greetynge to the people of the Jewes. Upon and Absalon whiche wer sent fro you, deliuered me wryttings, and requyred me to fulfyll the thyngs concerning theyr errand. Wherefore loke what myght be graunted, I certifyed the king therof: and whatsoeuer was conuenient, I agreed thereto. If ye nowte wyll be saythfull in the matters, I shall endeeue my selfe hereafter also to do you good. As concernynge other thynges by euerye article thereof, I haue committed them to your messaungers, and to those whom I sent vnto you, to comen with you of the same, fare ye well. In the hundred. and xliiii. yere the. xliiii. daye of the moneth Dioscorinthius.

Now the kynge's letter conteyned these wordes: Kynge Antiochus sendeth greetynge vnto hys brother Lysias. For so muche as our father is now deade, our wyll is, that they whych are in our realme, lyue with out any insurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters. We vnderstand also, that the Jewes would not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but aspyre to kepe theyr owne statutes: for the whiche cause they requyre of vs also, to let the remaine styl by theyr owne lawes.

Wherefore our mynde is, that this people shal be in rest: we haue concluded and determined also, to restore them theyr temple agayne, that they may lyue accordynge to the vse and custom of their forefathers. Thou shalte doo vs a pleasure therfore, if thou send vnto them and agre with them, that when they are certified of our minde, they maye be of good cheare, and looke to theyr owne wealthe.

And thys was the letter that the kynge wrote vnto the Jewes: Kynge Antiochus sendeth greetynge vnto the counsell and the other people of the Jewes. If ye fare well we haue our desyre: as for vs, we are in good health. Menelaus came and told vs, how that your desyre was to come downe to your people, with vs.

Wherefore those that wil come, we gaue them fre liberty, vnto the. xxi. daye of the month of April, that they may vse the mettes of the Jewes and theyr owne lawes, lyke as afore: and none of them by any myner of wayes to haue harme, for thynges done in ignorance. Menelaus whom we haue sent vnto you, shal comen with you at large. Fare ye well. In the. Cxlviii. yere the. xv. daye of the moneth of April.

The Romaynes also sente a letter concerning these wordes. Quintus Metellus and Titus Manilius Ambassadors of the Romaynes, sende greetynge vnto the people of the Jewes. Looke what Lysias the kynge's kynsman hath graunted you, we graunt you the same also. But as concerning the thynges whych be referred to the king, send hither some with speed: and porder the matter diligently amonge your selues.

selues, that we may caste the best to your profit, for we must depart now vnto Antioche. And therfore wyte shortly agayne, that we may know your minde. Farewel. In the hundredth. xlviij. yere. the. xii. day of the moneth April.

The.xii.Chapter.

Timothus troubleth the Jewes. The wycked dede of the Jamnites agaynst p. Jewes. Judas is auenged of them. He setteth fyre on the gate of Jamnia. The pursute of the Jewes agaynst Timothus. Timotheus taken and let go unhurt. Judas pursueth Gorgias. Judas offering sacrifice for the dead. Jeweth the hope of the resurrection.

When these couenautes wer made, Apstas went into the kyng, and the Jewes tyllid theyr ground. But Timotheus, Appolonius p. sonne of Bemei, Jerome and Demophon the proude, Nicanoz the captayne of Cipers, and they that laye in those places, would not let them lyue in rest and peace. They of Ioppa also dyd euē such a shamefull dede. They prayed the Jewes that dwelt amōg them to go wyth their wiues and children into the shippes whiche they had prepared, and dyd with thē, as though they had ought them no euyl wyll. For so much then as there was gone forth a general proclamaciō thoro the city because of peace, they consented thereto, and suspected nothyng: but whē they wer gone forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse then two. C. of them.

When Judas knew of this cruelty shewed vnto his people, he commaunded those that were with him to make them ready, exhorting them to call vpon God the righteous iudge, wēt forth agaynst those murderers of his brethren, set fyre in the haueu by nyght, brent vpon the ships, and those that escaped frō the fyre, he slew wyth the sword. And when he had done this, he departed as though he would come agayne, and rote out al them of Ioppa. But when he had gotten woorde that the Jamnites were minded to do in like maner vnto the Jewes whych dwelt amōg them, he came vpon the Jamnites by nyght, and set fyre in the haueu with the ships: so that p. light of the fyre was sene at Ierusalem, vpon two. C. and. xl. furlonges.

Now when they wer gone from thence ix. furlonges, in theyr iourney toward Timotheus. v. C. men of fote, and. h. C. horsemen of the Arabians fought with him. So when the battaile was earnest, and prospered with Judas thoro the help of god: the resydue of the Arabians beyng overcome, besoughte Judas to be at one wyth them, and promised to geue hym certayne pastures, and to do him good in other thinges. Judas thinckyng that they should in dede be profitable concerning many thinges, promysed them peace: wherupon they shoke hands, and so they departed to their tents. Judas wēt also vnto a city, whych was verpe fast kept wyth bydges, fenced round about with wals, and diuers kinds of people dwelling therein, called Caspin.

They that wer within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in theyr store of vitayles, that they wer the lacker in theyr doynge, cursing and reuiling Judas with blasphemies, and speaking such words as it becommeth not. But Machabeus calling vpon the great Prince of the world (whych without any battail rāmes of ordinaunces of war, dyd cast downe the wals of Iericho, in the tyme of Josue) fell manfully vpon the wals, toke the cite, and (thoro the help of the Lord) made an exceeding great slaughter: In so much that a lake of. ii. furlonges brode whych lay ther by, semed to flow with p. blood of the slain.

Then departed they from thence. vii. C. and. l. furlonges, & came to Taraca vnto p. Jewes that are called Tubianei: but as for Timotheus, they coude not gette hym there: for (not one matter dysparched) he was departed from thence, and had left certayne men in a very strong holde. But Dosithus and Sosipater, whych were Captaynes wyth Machabeus, slewe those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, euen. x. C. men. And Machabeus prepared hym with the. vi. C. menne that wer about hym, set thē in order by companies, and went forth agaynst Timotheus, whych had with him an hundredth and. xx. C. men of fote. ii. C. and. p. C. horsemen.

When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas coming, he sent the women, chyldre, and the other baggage vnto a castel called Carnion. (For it could not be won, & was hard to come vnto, the wayes of the same places wer so narrow) and whē Judas company came first in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare, thoro the presence of God whych seeth al thinges: In so much that they sleynge one here, another there, wer rather discomfited of theyr own people and wounded wyth the strokes of theyr owne swordes. Judas also was very earnest in folowing vpon thē, punishing those vngodly, and slewe. xxx. C. men of them. Timotheus also him selfe fel into the handes of Dosithus and Sosipater, whom he besought with manye prayers, to let hym go with his life: because he had many of p. Jewes fathers and brethren in prisō, whych (if they put hym to deathe) myght be dysappointed. So when he had promised faythfully to deliuer them agayne accordyng to the condiction made, they let hym go wyth out harme, for the healtbe of the brethren. And when Judas hadde slayne. xxx. C. he went from Carnion.

Now after that he hadde chased away and slayne his ennemyes, he remoued the host toward* Ephron a strong cite wher in dwelt many diuerse people of the Heathen, & the strong young men kept the walles, despoynge them mightely. In this city was

Josua. vi. 6

Judith. vii. 1
i. re. xiii. c.
ii. 108. xx. d.

i. Mach. 1

The.ii.boke of the Mach.

The.xiii.Chapter.

was much ordinaunce, and prouisiō of da-ti. Mac. x. tes. But when Judas and his cōpany had called vpon almyghty God, *whych wryth his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wan the citie, and slew. xxx. of them that were wrythin. From thence wente they to the ctyte of the Sitchians, whych lye. vi. l. furlonges from Jerusalem. But when the Jewes whych were in the citie testified, that the citisuns deale iournglye wryth them, yea, and intreated them kyndly in the tyme of theyr aduersitie, Judas and hys companie gaue them thankes, desyring them to be frendly styll vnto them: and so they came to Jerusalem the hye feast of the weekes beyng at hand.
 And after the feast, they wēt forth against Borgias the gouernour of Idumea, wryth iii. M. men of foote, and. liti. l. horsemen.
 Whych when they met together, it chauncced a fewe of the Jewes to be slayne. And Dositheus one of the Bachanors a myghty horsman tooke holde of Borgias, and woulde haue taken hym quicke: But an horsman of Thracia fell vpon hym, and smote hys arme, so that Borgias escaped and fled into Mozeia. Whē they now that were of Borgias syde, had foughten long and were weareye. Judas called vpon the Lorde that he woulde be theyr helper, and captayne of the fyeelde: and wryth that he began wryth a manlye voyce to take vp a song of prayse, and a ctye: In so much that he made the enemies afraied, and Borgias men of war toke theyr flyghte. So Jus-das gathered hys hoste, and came into the citie of Odolla. And when the seueneth day came vpon them, they cleused them selues (as the custome was) and kepte the Sab-both in the same place. And vpon the daye folowynge, Judas and hys company came to take vp the bodies of them that were slayne, and to burye them in the fathers graues. Now vnder the cotes of certayne Jewes whych wer slaine, they found Jewels that they had taken oute of the temple from the Idols of the Hamittes: whych thing is forbidden the Jewes by the law.
 Then euerye man sawe that thys was the cause, wherfore they were slayne.

And so euerye man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for hys ryghtuous iudgemente which had opened the thing that was hid.
 They fell downe also vnto theyr prayes, and besought God that the faute whych was made, might be put out of remembra-ce. Besydes that, Judas exhorted the people earnestly to kepe them selues from such sin:
 for so much as they sawe before theyr eyes, that these men wer slayne for the same offence. So he gathered of euerye one a certaine, in so much that he brought together two thousande drachmes of syluer, which he sent vnto Jerusalem, that ther myghte a sacrifice be offered for synne. In the whych place he dyd wel and ryghte: for he had some consyderacion and pondyring of the lyfe that is after this tyme. For yf he had not thoughte that they, whych were slayne, did yet lyue, it had bene superfluous and vayne, to make any voyme or sacrifice *for them that wer dead. But for so much as he sawe that they whiche dye in the fa-uoure and blesse of God, are in good rest and ioye, he thought it to be good and honorable for a reconcyling, to doo the same for those whych were slayne, that the offence myght be forgiven.

The.xiii.Chapter.

The commynge of Eupator into Jewrye. The death of Menelaus. Machabees goynge to fight agaynst Eupator, mounth hys souldy-ers vnto prayer. He killeth. xlii. thousande incurre in the tentes of Antiochus. Rhodorus the betrayer of the Jewes is taken. Anti-ochus retaineth frendshipp with the Jewes.

In the. C. xlii. yere sat Judas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator, was comming wryth a great power into Jewry, and Lysias hys steward and ruler of his matters wryth hym: hauing an
 C. and. x. M. men of foote, v. M. horsemen. xxii. Elephantes, and. iiii. l. charretts, Me-nelaus also tornd him selfe wryth the wryth great dysceat) and spake saye to the king, not for any good of the countrey, but because he thought to haue ben made some great man of authoryte. But the kyng of kinges moued Antiochus mynde agaynst thys vngodly person, and Lysias informed the kyng that thys Menelaus was the cause of al myschyce: so that the kyng commaunded to take hym, and (as the maner of them is) to put hym vnto deathe in the same place.

Ther was also in the same place a tower of. l. cubytes highe, beaped wryth ashes: but aboue it was so made, that men might loke homone on euery syde. Wherunto the king commaunded that shamefull person to be cast amōg the ashes, as one that was cause of all vngodlynes. And reason it was, that the vnthriste should dye suche a death, and not to be buried: for he had done muche myschyce vnto the aulter of God (whose fyre and ashes were holy) therfore was it ryght, that he hym selfe also should be destroyed wryth ashes.

But the king was wroth in his mynde, & came to shew hym selfe more cruell to the Jewes, the hys father was. *Whych whē Judas perceiued, he comaunded the people to cal vpon the lord night and day: that he would wote helpe them also, like as he had done alway: For they wer afraied to be put from theyr law, from theyr naturall country, and from the holy temple: and not to suffer the people (which a lytle while afore began to reconer) to be subdued agayne of the blasphemous nacions.

So when they had done thys together and besought the Lorde for merce, wryth wepyng and fastyng thre dayes long, sat vpon

Judas vpon
 thys place
 whether opinio hath ben to pray for the dead
 as to be baptised forth
 i. Cor. xv. v whych thys
 was onelye
 done to con-
 fyme hys
 pe of the re-
 surrec. io of
 hys deade, not to deliuer

them fro as nye payne.
 S. Paule
 dyd not, as low the cer-remonye of chastenynge
 for hys dead nomore doo
 eth any place of hys canonical scriptures allow the ceremony for offer-
 yng for hys dead. Furthermore:
 thys hole
 boke of the Machabees
 and special

lye thys ses-
 cond is not of sufficte authoriti to make an article of our fayth, as is before sufficiently pro-
 ued by the authoryte of saint Je-come: in the prologe of these booke called Apocripha.

ii. Mach. x.

Deu. vii. c.
 Hon. vii. a

The .ii. boke of the Mach.

upon the ground: Judas exhorted them to make themselves ready. But he and the elders together devised, to go fourth first wth they<sup>r</sup> people, afore the kynge brought hys host into Jewry and afore he besieged the city, and so to comit the matter vnto God.

Wherefore he ascribed the power of all things vnto God & maker of the world, exhorting his people to fyght manfully (yea euē vnto death) for the lawes, the temple, citie, they<sup>r</sup> own native cōstrey, and to defend the cōtrelsyns: and sette hys host before Modyn. He gaue them also that wer with him, a token of the victorie of god: choosing out the manlyest yong men, went by night into the kynges pavilion, slew of the host xliii. M. men, and the greatest * Elephants, wth those that sat vpon them.

Thus when they had brought a greatesse feare and rumour among & tentes of they<sup>r</sup> enemies, and all things went prosperously wth they<sup>r</sup> the, they departed in the breake of the day, God beyng they<sup>r</sup> helper and defender. Now whē the kynge perceiued the manlynes of the Jewes, he went about to take the strong places by craft, and remo-ued his host to Bethsura which was a wel kept house of defence, of & Jewes: but they wer chased away, hurt and dyscomfited.

And Judas sent vnto them that wer in it, such things as were necessarye. In the Jewes host also ther was one Rhodocus, w<sup>ch</sup> told the enemies they<sup>r</sup> secrets: but they sought hym out, & whē they had gotten him, they put hym in prysen. After this dyd the kynge comen wth they<sup>r</sup> that were in Bethsura, toke truce wth them, departed & stroke a battayle wth Judas w<sup>ch</sup> ouercame hym.

* But when he understode, that Philis (whom he had left to be ouerseer of his busyness at Antioche) beganne to rebell agaynst hym, he was astoynd in his mynd: so that he yelded hym selfe to the Jewes, and made them an othe, to do whatsoeuer they thought ryght.

Now when he was reconciled wth they<sup>r</sup>, he offered, made muche of the temple, gaue great giftes vnto it, embraced Machabeus, making him captaine and gouernour fro Polomais to the Berrens.

Neuerthelesse when he came to Polomais, the people of the cōtrey were not content wth that bond of frendshipp: for they were afrayed, that he wold breake the cōuenante. Then went Lysias vnto the seate and enformed the people, shewed they<sup>r</sup> cause w<sup>ch</sup> waye, and pacified them. So he came agayne to Antioche. This is now the matter concernyng the kynges sournye, and hys returne.

The .xliii. Chapter.

By the motion of the Lord, Demetrius sendeth Nicanor to hyl the Jewes. Nicanor maketh a compacte wth the Jewes, w<sup>ch</sup> he yet breaketh thow the motion of the king. Nicanor commaundeth Razia to be take. The boldnes of Razia.

The .xliii. Chapter. Fol. lxxix.

After thre yeares was Judas informed, how that Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus was come vnto i. Mac. viii. wth a great power and shippes thow the haue of Tripolis, to take certayne commodious places and countreys agaynst Antiochus and hys captaine Lysias. Now Alcimus (w<sup>ch</sup> hadde bene hys priest, and wilfully defiled him selfe, in the time of the mixting) seing that by no meanes he could be helped, nor haue any more inuauce to the aultar, he came to kynge Demetrius in the hundreth and one and fiftieth yere, presentyng vnto hym a crowne of gold, a palme & an olyue tre, w<sup>ch</sup> (as men thought) belonged to the temple, and that day he held hys tounge. But when he had gotten oportunitie for hys madnesse, Demetrius called hym to counsaile and asked hym, what thynges so counsaile the Jewes leaned vnto? He answered: The Jewes that he called Atreides (whose captayne is Judas Machabeus) may put a newe wars, make insurreccions, and wil not let the realme be in peace.

For I being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the hys priesthod) am come hither partly because I was faythful vnto the kynge, and partly because I soughte the profyte of the citifins. And whi? al our people thow the wickednes of they<sup>r</sup>, at not a lytle troubled. Wherefore I beseeche thee (O kynge) consyder al thynges diligently, and then make some prouision for the land and the people, according to thy kyndnes that thou hast offered vnto they<sup>r</sup>. For as long as Judas hath the vpperhande, it is not possible that men can lyue in peace.

When he had spoken these words other frendes also hauing an euyl wil at Judas, set kynge Demetrius on fyre agaynst hym. Which immediatlye sent Nicanor (ruler of the Elephants) a captain, into Jewry: commaunding him to take Judas him selfe alyue, but to slay they<sup>r</sup> that wer with him, & to make Alcimus high priest of the temple.

When the Heathen w<sup>ch</sup> fledde oute of Jewry from Judas, came to Nicanor by flockes, thynking the harme and decaye of the Jewes to be they<sup>r</sup> welfare. Now whē the Jewes herd of Nicanors commynge, and the gathering together of the heathē, they sprynckled they<sup>r</sup> selues wth earth, and besought hym which made they<sup>r</sup> his people, and euer defended hys own porcion wth euident tokens, that he wold preserue they<sup>r</sup> styl. So at the commaundement of the captayne, they remoued from they<sup>r</sup>, and came to a towne called Dessafan. And Symon Judas brother fel in hand wth Nicanor, but thow the sodaine commynge of the enemies, he was afrayed.

Neuertheles Nicanor hearpyng the manlynes of them that were wth Judas, and the bolde stomackes that they had to fyght for they<sup>r</sup> naturall cōtrey, durst not proue the matter wth bloudsheddyng.

¶ Do. i. Where

The.iii.boke of the Mach.

Wherefore he sent Dositheus, Theodotus and Mathias before, to geue & to take peace. So when they had taken longe aduysment thereupon, & the captayne shewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one mynde, to haue peace. And they appointed a day to sytte vpon these matters quietly among them selues, the stoles also were brought and set forth. Neuerthelesse Judas commaunded certayne men of armes to wayte in conuenient places, leaste they should sodenly aryse any euyl thowght the enemyes. And so they communed reasonably together.

D Nicanoz, whyle he abode at Hierusalem, ordred him self not vntreasonably, but sent away the people that were gathered together. He loued Judas euer with hys hart, and fauoured hym. He prayed him also to take a wyfe, and to bryng forth chyldren. So he married, liued in rest, and they led a comen lyfe. But Alcimus perceyvinge the loue that was betwixt them, and how they wer agreed together, came to Demetrius, and told hym that Nicanoz had taken straunge matters in hand, and ordeyned Judas (an enemy of the realme) to be the kynges successour. Then the kyng was sore displeased, and thow the wycked accusations whych Alcimus made of Nicanoz, he was so prouoked, that he wrote to Nicanoz, saying that he was very angrey for the frendshipp and agreement, whych he had made with Machabeus. Neuertheles he commaunded hym in al the hast, that he should take Machabeus prysouer, and sed hym to Antioche.

Whych letters whē Nicanoz had sene, he was at hys wyttes ende, and sore grieved that he should breake þe thyngs wher in they had agreed: specially, sernge Machabeus was the man, that neuer did him harme. But because he myghte not withstand the kyng, he soughte oportunitie to fulfyl hys commaundemente. Notwithstandyng when Machabeus sawe that Nicanoz began to be churlysh vnto hym, and that he intreated hym more roughlye then he was wonte, he perceiued that suche vnkynnesse came not of good, and therefore he gathered a fewe of hys men, and withdrew hym selfe from Nicanoz. Whych when he knewe that Machabeus had manfully preuented him, he came into the great and moste holpe temple: and commaunded the priestes (whych wer doing theyr vsual offerynges) to deliuer hym the man. And when they sware that they coulde not tell where the man was whome he soughte, he stretched out hys hand, and made an othe, saying: If ye wyll not deliuer me Judas captiue, I shal remoue this tēple of god into the plain field, I shal breake downe the altar, and cōsecrate this tēple vnto Bacchus. After these wordes he departed.

Then the priestes lyfte vp theyr bandes toward heauen, and besoughte hym that was euer the defender of theyr people saying: Thou O Lord of all, whych hast neede of nothyng woldst that the temple of thy habitation should be among vs. Wherefore now O most holpe Lorde, keepe this house euer vndefyled, whych lately was clesed. Nowe was there accused vnto Nicanoz, one Razis an Alderman of Hierusalem, a louer of the whole cite, and a man of good reporte, whych for the kynde herte that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Jewes. This man oft tymes, when the Jewes wer mynded to keepe them selues vndefyled, defended and deliuered the, being content stedfastly to speide hys body and hys lyfe for hys people. So Nicanoz wyllinge to declare the hate that he bare to the Jewes, sent syue. C. me to take him: for he thought if he gat him, he shuld bring the Jewes to great decay. Now when the people beganne to rushe in at hys house, to breake the doores, and to set fyre on it, he being now taken, wold haue defended hym selfe with hys sword, chosynge rather to dye manfully, then to yelde hym selfe to those wicked doers: & because of his noble stock, he hadde rather haue bene put to extreme cruelty. Not withstandyng what time as he mysted of hys stroke for hast, and þe multitude fell in vpolently betwixt the doores, he canne boldly to the wall, and caste hym selfe downe manfully among the beape of them, whych gaue sone place to hys fall, so that he fel vpon hys belipe. Neuerthelesse whyle ther was yet breathe withyn hym, he was kyndled in hys mynde: and whyle hys bloud gushed out excedynglye (for he was very sore wounded) he canne thow the myddest of the people, and gat hym to the toppe of the rocke. So when his bloud was now gon, he toke out hys owne bowels with both hys bandes, and throwe the vpon the people: calling vpon the Lord of lyfe and sytte, to reward him this again, and so he dyed.

The.xv.Chapter.

The.xvi.Chapter.

Nicanoz goeth aboute to come vpon Judas on the Sabbath day. The blasphemy of Nicanoz. Machabeus expoundyng vnto the Jewes the vylson, & oldeneth theyr hertes. The prayer of Machabeus. After the host of Nicanoz is once overcome, Machabeus commaunded hys heade and hys handes to be cut of, and hys tounge to be geuen vnto foules.

Nowe when Nicanoz knewe that Judas was in the countrey of Samaria, he thoughte with all hys power to strike a feld with him on a sabbath day. Neuertheles þe Jewes that were compelled to goo with hym, sayde: O do not so cruelly and vnkynndlye, but valowe the Sabbath day, and worchip hym that seeth al thynges. For al this yet said þe vngacious persō. * Is ther a myghty one in heauen, that commaunded þe sabbath day to be kept? And when they sayd: yea the lyuyng God, the myghty Lorde in heauen.

1. mac. iiii. a
11. Mac. x.

1. mac. vii. d

iii. Re. xx. e

1. mac. vii. a

Exo. xx. d.

heauen* commaunded the seuenth daye to be kept, he said: And I am mighty wth earth to commaund the so: to arme the selues, & to performe the kings busines. Notwithstanding he myght not haue hys purpose.

Bicanor had deuised wth great pryde to ouercome Judas, and to bring awai the victorie. But Machabeus had euer a faste confidence, and a perfect hope in god, that he would helpe him, and exhorted his people not to be afrayed at the cominge of the heathen: but alway to remeber the helpe that had ben shewed vnto them fro heauē, yea and to be sure now also, that almighty God would geue the victorie. He spake vnto the out of the law and prophets, putting the in remembraunce of the battailes that they had stricke afore, and made them to be of a good courage.

So when their battes wer plucked vp, he shewed them also the disceatefulness of the heathen, and how they would kepe no countenance nor othe. Thus he weapened them not with armour of shylde and speare, but wth wholesome words and exhortaciōs. He shewed them a dreame also, wher thow he made al the glad, which was this: her thought that he saw Onias (which had bene hys priest, a vertuous and louing mā, sad, and of honest conuersation, wel spokē, and one that had bene exercised in godlynes from a chylde) holdynge vp his handes toward heauen, and praying for hys people. After this ther appeared vnto hym an other mā, whych was aged, honorable and glorious. And Onias said: This is the louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israel. This is he that prayeth much for the people, and for al the holy citi. Jeremy the the prophet of God. He thought also that Jeremy held out his right hand, and gaue hym (namely vnto Judas) a swerde of gold, sayng. Take this holy swerd a gifte from God, where wth thou shalt smyte down the enemies of the people of Israel.

And so they wer wel comforted thow the words of Judas, and toke corage vnto them, so that the pong men wer determyned in theyr myndes to fyght, and to hyde styll at it. In so much that in the chynge whych they toke in hande, they boldnesse shewed the same, because the cite and the temple were in perill: for the whiche they toke more care, then for theyr wyues, chyl- dren, brethren and kinsfolks. Agayne, they that were in the cite, wer most careful for those whych wer to fyght. Now whē they wer al in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hand, and y<sup>e</sup> enemies drew nye, the host beyng set in aray, the Elephantes and horsemen euer y<sup>e</sup> standynge in hys place, Machabeus considered the comynge of the multitude, the ordinaunce of diuerse weapens, the cruelnes of y<sup>e</sup> beastes, and held vp hys handes toward heauē calling vpon the Lord that doeth wonders, which geueth not the victorie after y<sup>e</sup> multitude of weapons and power of the hoste, but to them that please hym accordyng to hys owne wysse. Therfore in hys prayer he sayde these wordes.

O Lord, thou that diddest send thine angel in the tyme of Ezekiah kyng of Iuda, and in the hoste of Sennacherib slewest an hundred, and foure score and syue thousand: send now also thy good angel before vs (O Lord of heauē) in the fearefulness & dread of thy mighty arme, that they which come against thy holy people to blasphemie the, may be afrayed. And so he made an ende of hys wordes. Then Bicanor and they that wer wth hym, drew nye wth shawmes and songes: but Judas and hys company wth prayer and calling vpon God. Wth theyr handes they smote, but wth theyr herts they prayed to the lord, & slew no les the. xxxv. mē. For thow the presente helpe of God, they wer gloriously comforted.

Now whē they lest of, and wer turning agayne wth theyr, they vnderstode that Bicanor hym selfe was slayn wth the other. Then they gaue a greate shout and a crye, praying the almyghty Lord with a loude voyce. And Judas (whych was euer ready to spend his body and lyfe for his citizens) commaunded to smyte of Bicanors head, wth his arme and hand, & to be broughte to Hierusalem. When he came ther he called al the people, and the priestes at the alter, wth those that wer in the castel, and shewed them Bicanors head, and his wycked hand, whych he had presumptuously holden by agaynst the temple of God. He caused the tong also of that vngodly Bicanor to be cut in litle peces, and to be cast to the foules, and the cruel mans hande to be hanged vp before the temple.

So euerye man gaue thankes vnto the Lord, sayng: blessed be he that hath kepte hys place vnderfyled. * As for Bicanors head, he hanged it vp vpon the hye castel, for an euident and plaine token of the help of God. And so they agreed al together to kepe the day holy, namely y<sup>e</sup> thyrtyenth day of the moneth Adar, which in the Syrians language is called y<sup>e</sup> next day before Mardocheus day. Thus was Bicanor slayn, and from that tyme forth, the Jewes had the cite in possession: And here wyl I now make an ende.

The ende of the second booke of the Machabes.

Do. ii.

ii. Pa. rllll.
Judi. vli. b
iii. re. xix. g
Ec. xxxvii. f
i. mac. vii. c
i. ma. viii. d

Iud. xxi. c.

The third booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

Philopater ouercommeth Antiochus. The Jewes declare the love for hys victorie.
He desyret to enter into the holiest place.
They denye hym.

Dani. xi. b.

When Philopator had vnderstand by those þ were comen agayne, that Antiochus had taken from hym suche holdes as he had, he raysed al hys armie, as v el footemen as horsemen, and takyng wyth hym his sister Arsinoe, he ran out euen as far as the cōtyes of Asaphia, that were bordering on hym, where Antiochus host camped. And one Theodorus thynkyng to byng the matter to passe by crafty meanes, when he had taken the strongest men of armes that were put vnto hym by Stolomeus, in the nyght he gat hym to Stolomes tent to kill hym vnwares, and so make an ende of the battayle. But Diosithus a Jewe boie, & afterwarde forsakynge the lawe and turned from hys fathers ordinaunces which was byed for the purpose, put in hys steade in the tente an other poore man whych chaunced to be slayne for hym. And as they soughte friste together (but Antiochus more) Arsinoe went dyligently about her men, wepyng ppytfully, her heare aboute her shoulders, and desyred them that they woulde helpe her valpantly, promysynge to geue vnto euery of theyr wyues and chyldren, if they had the victorie, thre poundes of golde. Thus it chaunced that theyr enemyes were ouerthrowen, and many taken. When whil he hadde thus dysapoynted their traies, he went about the cyties that were next, and thought to comforte them wyth wordes, whych when he had done, he gaue giftes vnto theyr churches, and comforted the subiects hartes. And when the Jewes had sent the elders of theyr counsellors to Philopater to salute hym, beryng gyftes and to shewe theyr love for the thynges that he had done, it fortuneth that he had a greater desyre to go to them, alioone as myght be. So he came to Jerusalem, and dyd sacrifice to the most myghty god: and when he hadde done, he dyd to the place as was conuenient.

And after when he was come in, he wōdred to se the collye woork, and merueyllynge at the fyne buyldynge of the temple, desyred to go also into the inner tabernacle that was holiest of al. But when they denyed hym, sayynge it was not lawefull no not to any that were boie there, to go in, not so muche as for the prestes them selues, saue onely for the chiefe Byshoppe,

The. i. Chapter.

*and that but once a yere only: yet woulde he not be turned one whit. And when they red vnto hym the lawe, yet woulde he not cease, but sayd he must nedes go in.

And although this honour was denyed to them, yet that it oughte not to be so to hym: and axed them why no man yet stopped hym from going into any temple? And when one hadde made answer vnadysfely, that they dyd euil because they did not, but thys (quod he) shal be done, and be the cause: what soeuer they lyst, he woulde in whether they woulde or not. * And when the prestes had fallen theyr face vpon the ground, and were in al theyr vestimentes, and prayed vnto the best God, to healde them in theyr most neede, and that he wold put away hys strength that threathened to hurt them, and had fylled the temple with cryng and wepyng, the rest that were in the cite beyng greatly amased, and not knowyng what had happened, came oute as fast as they could. Wyngs that were in theyr chambers, and women in chyldbedde ranne forth, castyng dust vpon their heades, and fylling the stretes with mouynge and lamentacion. And the banners that they hadde alytle before prepared to goe meete hym, forgettynge the manner that became them, they bare them aboute the cite, and forsakynge the yonge infantes, both mothers and nurses ranne wanderyng aboute the stretes, some one way some another into the hye temple, and beyng gathered together, prayed dyuersly agaynst these thynges whych he wyckedly went about. Besyde thys the citezens moued wyth boldenesse, woulde not suffer hym to rushe in, and accomplysh his purpose, but toke them to theyr weapons, and wyth great cries redy to suffer death, they styrted by a great busynesse in that place, but yet remoued backe by the prestes and seniores, they came agayne to theyr olde place of prayer.

And the common people as they hadde begone in dede were sette to prayer, but the elders standynge aboute the kynge as sayde many wayes to remoue hys proude mynde from his purpose and entent. But he styfely agaynst them al purposed to go in, thynkyng to perfourme that, that he had once sayde.

Whych the thyng when they sawe, that held agaynst hym, turnynge them to hym, wyth whom al power is, called vpon hym, they and theyr people to healde them at that presente, and not to wynte at that proude and myscheuous dede, in so muche that for the greute noyse that was among the careful people, the ctye was incomparable. For it semed as thowgh they hadde runne thowre not onely other mens heades, but thowre the walles also, and all the pauement: all men then rather wyshynge to dye, then to haue the place despyled and vnhalowed.

Exod. xxx. d.
Leu. xix. g.
Heb. ix. a.

11. mac. iii. s.

D

The

The.ii.Chapter.

The Jewes fel to prayer to let the kyng of hye purpose. He was punished by God, but he repented not.

And in deede Symon the hyrge priest, kneelinge & prayng before the halowed place, and holdynge up his handes decentlye, prayed after this fashion: Lord Lord kyng of heauen, and ruler of al thynges that be made, holiest amonge sayntes, kyng omnipotent, haue mercy vpon vs whiche are oppressed thowth boldnes and power. For thou arte he that hath made al thynges, a iust iudice, that rulest al, thou art iudge of those that do proudly and wrongfully. Thou dydest destroy in olde tyme the workers of wickednesse amonge whom were Spauites trusting in theyr strength and boldnes, and browndest them in the floude. Thou made hyrge the proude Sodomites that were geue to al mischefe an example to al that came after, burnedst them wth fyre and byrstone. Thou vnto the stubburne Pharaoh that kept in bondage the holpe people of Israel, dydest shewe thy power scourging hym wth many and diuerse punishments, wherby thy greate myghte was knowne: and when he folowed thy people wth his charyotes and al his company, thou browndest hym in the sea, and ledest them safe that trusted in the, the kyng of al thynges, whych knowledgyng al these thynges to be done by thy hande, prayed thee the Lorde omnipotent. Thou kyng and maker of this infinite & inmesurable earth, hast chosen this city, and hast halowed this place to honour the in, although thou haue nede of no thyng, and hast made it goodly to be scene, to thyne owne prayse and gloire of thy greate and royal name. For the loue also of þ house of Israel thou haste promysed that when we haue erred, wherby troubles shoulde come vpon vs, if we come into this place to pray, that thou wylt heare our prayers. And verely thou art sayntful and full of truth. And because thou hast often holpe our forefathers whiche they haue beene oppressed wth trouble, & hast deliuered them out of great perilles, and now also behold O holy kyng howe that we for our many and great synnes be pressed, and in our enemyes subiection fall down in our mysery for lacke of strength, and that this stubburn and uncleane person goeth aboute to defyle thy holy place whych is dedicate here in the earth to thy holpe name (for otherwyle thy house is in heauen a place that no man can come vnto) I say because that of thyne own good wilt thou haue geuen this gloire to thy people in decreasyng this place vnto the, lay not to our charge the uncleynesse of these men, or correcte vs for the unhalowynge, that these wycked persons maye not boast in theyr myndes and auanture wth theyr to unges that they haue destroyed our holy temple, as they do treade vnder foote al other temples that thou hateste. Put oute our synnes and stryke awaye our fautes, & nowe shewe thy mercye. Let vs haue thy mercye thowtelye, and make the mouthes of them that be fallen and broken, prayse the, and geue vs peace.

Then he that seeth al thynges, that God of al the most holpest, hearng the lawfull prayer, duryng hym hither and thither whiche was passed by by violence and greate stubburnesse, euen as the wynde dorbe the reede, dyd so scourge hym, that nowe he laye vpon the grounde meete for nothyng, lewised in al þ parts of his body, and iustlye wrapped in punishment, was not able to speake one woorde: wherefore his frendes and garde that keppe his body, beholdynge his sodayne punishment wherby he was oppressed, fearing also least he woulde die, strake wth great feare, they drew hym out. And after whiche he was come agayne to hym selfe, although he was punished, yet repented he nothing, but wēt his wayes, and threatened them soze. So when he was come again into Egypt, as wel by his owne encrease in mischefe, as by his other felowes that boalte hym, whych wer past al goodnes, not onely he gaue hym selfe to innumerable lustes, but waxed so madde, to speake euill euery where: and many of his frendes knowing the kynges mynde, folowed his wyl also. And when the kyng had determyned to put to open shame the nacion of þ Jewes, he caused to be engrauen wth letters in a tower that he had in his place, That no manne whiche woulde not dooe sacryfice shoulde enter into the temples of the Egyptians: and that all the Jewes, theyr goodes beyng ceased, shoulde be broughte to slaueyre. To the whiche thyng if anye gaynesayde, that they shoulde dye, and if any woulde become seruauntes that they shoulde be brente in the bodies wth the marke of an Aye lease, for that was Bacchus badge.

And such as woulde doo so, he woulde shoulde entoye this lawe and not dye. But because he woulde seme not to be angry wth al, he wrote vnderneath, that if any amonge them that were in solempne holy orders, had rather to dwell amongest them, that then they shoulde be taken for cytezens aswell as the Alexandrians. So some in the cities which hated the degrees of the religion in the cite, yelded them selues, as though they shoulde get great gloire by accompanyng wth the kyng, but many that were of valpant courage woulde not go from theyr godlynes, but redempyng theyr lyues for mony, went boldly to deliuer the selues, because they wold not become seruauntes, hauing good hope to haue healpe: and those that fell from them, they abhorred them and toke them for enemyes of theyr nacion, and thutred them.

The.iii.boke of the Mach.

them from haupnge anye thyng to dooe wpyth them.

The.iii. Chapter.

The kyng maketh a soze decree agaynst the Jewes, and writeth a letter that they shuld be broughte to Egypte as traytours, and there kyllled.

When he understode these thinges, that wycked man was so angry, that not only he shewed hys anger at Alexandria, but waxed a greuous enemye to all them that dwelte in other partes of the country: and commaunded al to be gathered together assone as might be, and to be kyllled. Whyle these thinges wer doing agaynst the Jewes, ther wæs a great fame that now that those men which intended to do hurt, had occasyon geuen them, they wold so do, to let þat lawes that they myght not be kept amongst them. But the Jewes kept stil theyr fidelitie and loue toward the king: but because they worshipped god and lyued after hys lawes, they shut out some from amongst them, and sent them away: wherfore they appeared to some to be enemyes, when lyuyng commonly well and lusty, they wer worthy to be commended of al men. As for the good dedes that were spoken of in euery place of that nation, the straungers set nought by: But in theyr communicacijs, they reprovied the discension in theyr maners and worshippinges, saying, that they loued neither the kyng nor the powers, but that they were enemyes and cleane agaynst the common profites. And it were no smal thinges that these men found faute at: but the Grecians that were in the city wronged in nothing, perceyving thys sodayne tumult agaynst these men, and that people came hastily running together, seing they were not able to healpe because all was ruled by tyrannye, wer greatly angrey, and comforted them and looked for a chaunge, and that this hasty faction could not endure. Theyr neighbours also and frendes, and such as bargained wpyth them, calling some men prynces, promysed them theyr healpe, and all that they coulde make. But he wæren proude by thys prosperytye, and not consydering the power of the greatest God, but thynkinge that he shoulde haue alwayes hys purpose, wrote thys Epistle agaynst the Jewes.

Kyng Istolomeus Philopater, to the captaynes, and souldiours in Egypt wher soeuer they be, seiderb health, and gretynge. As for me, I am in good health, and my matters well, and in good state. After we hadde taken our iourney into Asia as you know, and that we had ready succours geuen vnto vs of the Goddes, and thowwe oure strengthe hadde synysed oure iourney, euen as we woulde desyre, we thought not by violence of armes, but to entyse by gentelnes and muche humanitie, the people that dwel in Celosiria and Phenices, and to prouoke them wpyth our benefytes: and after we hadde sene many ctytes and churches, we were moued to go by to Jerusalem to honour the temple of those mischeuous persons, whych wyl euer be mad. And they in wordes shewed them selues glad of our commynge, but in dede were falsly mynded: when we desyred to go in to theyr holiest place, and to adourne it wpyth excellent and goodly gyfts, they moued after theyr olde pryde, would not lette vs come in, not knowynge our power, and the humanyte that we shewe vnto al mē. And shewynge theyr hateful hartte to vs, as though there were none but they, they woulde admit no lawfull offer, for the stubbornnes that they beare agaynst kynges, and glory in theyr benefactors. We moued with theyr madnes, and that after our victorie we wer come againe into Egypte, vsing gentelnes toward al nations, did as became vs, and by proclamacijs declaring to forget in thys matter al the inturpes of theyr kyndred, as well for theyr felowshyp, as for that in the begynnyng thoww simplicity we commytted vnto them infinite busynes, we enterprysed to chaunge theyr estate, and made them citizens of Alexandria, and receyued them to be partakers of the perpetual priesthoode. Yet they taking the thynge otherwys, and refusynge thys our goodnes, euen of a certayne natural euil bert, alwaies ready to euil, did not only shamefully refuse and dyspse our ctyte, but also in wordes and dedes fewe of them beare vs good wyl, trusting alwaies that shortlye we shall come to a shameful deathe.

The.iii. Chapter.

Wherfore coniecturynge surely that they are all the meanes they canne euill mynded toward vs, and foreseeynge that they shoulde not sodaynely rayse a tumult, and that we shuld haue at our backs these wycked traytours, and cruell enemyes, we thought good to geue you in commaundement, that assoone as thys Epistle shall be deliuered vnto you, that euen the same day, those that be in wpytynge wpyth theyr wyues and chyldren faste bounde in pryncaines wpyth much veracion be sent vnto vs, to theyr great calamity, and shameful slaughter, and as is mere for enemyes. For assoone as we shal haue punysshed these, we thinke our matters shal afterwards stand sure and in good condicion. And if any mā from the hyst to the lowest, defende anye Jewe, yea, and it be but a suckynge chyld, lette hym wpyth al hys housholde be moste shamefully tormēted, & he that wyl bringe anye of theyr names, besydes that he shal haue al the goodes of the condemned person, he shal haue also of the kynges gyft. ff. thousand grotes of syluer, and a garlande of lybertye. And in what place so euer a Jewe shal be found to be receyued, let it be wasted wpyth fyre, and for euer be made vnmene me for any man to dwell in. And this is the coppe of his Epistle.

The.iii.Chapter.

The people had pity to see the so grievously handled, and said they were so many that the names could be written.

A

And whither soever this proclamation was brought, the people made common feastes with great joye and gladnes, & olde malice that was hardened in their mynd, now when they had licence, shewing it selfe forth. But the Jewes were in great mourning: and lamentably complained, groaning in their hartes & bewailing that sentence of death was thus suddenly geuen agaynst them. What offence or crime, or what place inhabited, what highway was not full of their wayling and mourning? For they were sente away by so bitter and cruell sentence of the chiefe officers in the cite, that for the straunge kinde of punishments, some of their enemies setting before their eyes the miseries that may happen to all men, and remembering in their mynd the incertain change of this lyfe, dyd bewaile their pitiful sendinge away. For there were ledde a greafe sorte of olde men with hore beds, & their legges croked for age, which were threatened and rebuked, and made good fast whether they wold or no.

And the maydes that were lately married in steade of pleasure hadde mourning, and they heare that was embawmed, was now all dusted, and they sang mourning songes in steade of ioyefull balads, and all to vexed with straunge women, they were bounde and harrowed even tyl they came to shyping. Their husbands also haupinge balgars about their neckes in steade of garlandes, being in their pong and florishing yeres, in steade of myght & quietnesse passed the rest of the marriage dayes in mourning, and sawe death before they were. And they were caried away lyke wild beastes, and drawen with chaynes, some were boord to the tops of shippes by the necke, and other were so fettered that they could not be vndone, and tables set over their heades, because they shulde not see, all the while they layed. When they had thus led the to shipp, when the sojney was done as the kynge commaunded, he had they shoulde be sette in the tentes, in the greafe roume, that is before the cite where horses do runne, for an example of punishment to all men that come into the cite, and that go out into the countrie, whether willing the to be amonge the men in his army. nor yet within the compasse of his walles. When this was done, and that he herde say that certayn of their nation was gone pryvely oute of the cite, and dyd ofte bewaile this shameful mis-erye of their brethren, beinge angrey, he commaunded them also to be handled after the same manner that the other were, their punishment notwithstanding, and that all they kindred by name shulde be attaynted. For he sayde that he wolde not now take anye of them into paynfull seruyce, but that in one daye he wolde slea them all with suche punishment as hath not ben deuised. So they were proclaimed traytours mooste bitterly, and seassions was kept continually from the risinge of the sunne to the goinge downe, and yet was it not fourtye dayes. In the meane seasonne the kynge full of greafe and continually ioye, kepte feastes before all the images, his mynde farre frome the truthe, and with a myched mouthe prayeinge dumme thynges which he coulde nother speake nor helpe, & agaynst al reason blaspheming the God of myght. And after that, when the scribes had shewed the kynge, that they were habile to punish the Jewes no longer for the great multitude of them, for many of the were scattered abroad in the countrie, some yet at home, and some in other places, so that it was a thyng impossible to do for all the officers in Egypte. The kynge threatened the soier, as though he they had bene byrd to helpe them for grates. Yet so it fortuneth that they perswaded him, shewing evidently that they lacked both paper and penne to serue the. And this was the plaine worke of his prouidence, which dyd sende helpe to the Jewes from heauē.

The.v.Chapter.

The kynge called for Hermon the Master of his Elephantes and had hym prepare that they myght kyll the Jewes, but by the myght of God the king fel in to such forgetfulness, that he wote not what he commaunded: and they were saved.

When after he had sent for Hermon master of the elephantes beinge full of greafe and vnpleasable anger, he commaunded that the nexte daye there shulde be geuen to his elephantes greafe quantitie of fragrant sence with muche wyne to dronke, that when they had myghtly dronke they myght be brought in starke mad to kyll the Jewes. And when he had commaunded these thynges, callinge together his frendes and the chiefe of his armye which were cruellye mynded agaynst the Jewes, he gat hym to his feaste. But Hermon the master of his Elephantes dyd his commaundementes hand somly, and his seruantes came aboute eueninge and boorde the selfe soules handes, and did all thynges that was to be done amongest them, thinking about twylight to kyll all the whole nation. Now the Jewes seemed to the gentiles to be destitute of all succour, because they were so harde bounde with handes, but all

Do.iii. they

i. Mach.
vi. d.
Josephus
agaynst ap
pion in his second boke

The.iii.boke of the Mach.

they wyth one voyce, wyth teares called vpon the omnipotent Lord, & they mercyful God and father, whyche was aboue all power, desyringe hym to turne away this wycked deute taken agaynst them, and that by his royal compung, he wold take theyre fete oute of this destenye. And thus they prayed towarde heauen continuallye. But Hermon, whiche had filled these cruel elephantes wth drinke ynoughe and stankensence, came erlye in the morn-ynge to the courte to tell the kynge of it.
But that goodlye workemaushyp of day and nyght made from the begynnyng of the worlde, & whyche is sente of hym that geueth largely vnto all that he wyll, was partelye sente vnto the kynge, for he was faste in sleepe, and was muche deceyued of his cruel purpose and frustrate of his angrye iudgemente. So þe Jewes when they had passed þe tyme þe was appoynted, they prayed thei<sup>r</sup> holpe God, and prayed vnto hym agayne, that he wold shewe vnto the proude gētilles the strengthe of his myghty hand. Nowe when it was halfe an houre past ten of the clocke, his seruants seing that manye were come that he had sente for, came and waked the kynge, and tolde hym the slepe yet skante oute of his eyes, that dynner tyme passed awaye, and tolde hym of the men that were come: and the kynge remembryng hym, went wher they were, & commaunded them that wer come to dinner to sit ryghte agaynst hym:
and so doynge he exhorted them to eate, & to make merre al the dinner tyme. And as they sate in longe talkynge, the kynge sent for Hermon, and axed sherpelye, whye the Jewes were suffered al the daye. And when he had shewed that he had done his commaundement that nyght, and his frendes had borne mynes to the same, he more cruel then Jhalaris, wel quoth he, letre them thanke that I slepte so longe to day, but thou without sayng, prepare me the Ellyphantes agaynst to morowe, even after the same facyon to kyll these Jewes cruelly. When all they that wer ther wer glad, and prayed this commaun-dement of the kynge, every man went home to his own house, wher they bestowed þe nyght, not so muche in slepe but to de-uise as it was thoughte, all manner of meanes howe to mocke these selfe soules.
So as sone as the cocke crew erlye in the mornynge, Hermon began to dryue these armed beastes in a great walkynge place, and all the people thowme oute the citty came to se this pytyful syght, lokynge euer when it wold be daye. But the Jewes al that whyle almooche deade, wyth weping prayers & wofull songes holding vp theyr handes to heauen, prayed almyghtye god that he wold helpe them shortlye agayne.
And or euer it was day, whē the kynge re-ceyued his frendes, Hermon stode and called this ouer, and declared vnto them that

The.v.Chapter.

it was the kynge mynde: whyche thynge when the kynge hearde, meruaylynge at this cruell syght, as a man that had forgotten al, axed what was the cause, whye he dyd such thynges so diligentelye?

*But this was the myghty worke of God that ruleth al, whych made hym forget al thynges that he thoughte vpon before. And when Hermon sayde, both all thy frendes, beastes, and menne of armes & kynge are ready after thy pleasure, he for these saynges verie sore angrye that he hadde loste the remembraunce of all these thynges thowme the prouidence of God, lokyng fierlye and wyth great threatenynges, saide: as manye as be here þe haue children, or that be borne of the parentes, that haue geuen vnto these cruell beastes this much meate, letre them be serued as the innocent Jewes shuld haue ben, whych haue excellentelye declared theyre sure and perfite faythfulnesse both to me and myne auncetours, althoughe no mā for fauoure that they haue bene brought by with vs & done seruice was euer deprived of his life for them. Thus Hermon had sore checkes vnloked for, & was marueylouslye abashed and afrayed, and euerye one of his frendes wente theyre waye wyth heuy chere, & sent away those that were come euery man to do by sown busynesse. And when þe Jewes knew what the kynge had sayed, they prayed the myghty Lord kynge of kynges, of whom they hadde gotte this helpe. And whē the kynge after his olde custome had prepared a feast, and exhorted them to be merre, callynge Hermon vnto hym wyth greate threates, he sayed. Thou wretche how ofte shal I commaunde the to do one thyng? Let se now at the last if thou canst prepare the elephantes to kyll the Jewes?
The his kynnsfolkes that sat wyth hym, maruaylynge at the inconstantnesse of his mynde, sayd these wordes: O kynge howe longe wylte thou tempte vs as thoughe we were mad, whyche nowe commaun-dest the to be slayne the thyrde tyme, & chaūged agayne in doing the thyng, breakest þe thou haste appoynted.

Werelye the cytye for this cause is in a greate romblinge, and manye come together, threarynge that they wyl go away.
Wherfor the kynge full of madnes euen in all poyntes like an other Jhalaris, not regardynge the chaungynge of his mynde toward the sauing of the Jewes, sware stiff-lye, that he wold kyll them without delay, that they shuld be all to troden wyth the fete and knees of the beastes, and that after he wold go into Jewrye, and there wyth sword and fyre wast it all, and the holy place also of the Jewes, that he myght not come into, and burn al them that ther dyd offer sacrifice. Then his frendes and kynnsfolke when they were gone, appoynted for the army the most conuenient places of the citty to be surely kept. And þe many

Deu. xviii

iii. Mac. i.

ster of the elephantes, had brought hys beastes euen almost to madnesse wth swete drynkes tempred wth frankensence, and decked fearefullye to loke to. And nowe a boute the moynynge the cytye beyng replenished wth innumerable people about the place wher horses be coured, one went vnto the kyng-mouing hym to come to thys syght. The he wth an angry and cruel mynde came out wth al hys myghtye Ollyphantes, wth a spers mynde, desi-ryng to see the lamentable destruction of the aforesayd helye soules. And when þ Jewes sawe about the gate the dust that the elephantes made in theyr commynge out, and the host that folowed in harnes, and the duste of the peoples fere, and herd the horribile noise, thynkinge it to be the laste momente of theyr lyfe, and the ende of theyr myserie that they looked for, tournyng them selues to mournyng, eche embraced and kyssed other, and toke theyr knyssholke aboute theyr neckes, the father the sonnes, and the mothers the dought-ters, and some put theyr infants to theyr brestes to sucke theyr laste. And agayne myndfull of the helpe that they had before from heauen, wth one consente they fell flat to the grounde, takynge theyr chyldren from theyr pappes, & wth one voyce crept aloude makynge theyr prayes to all myghtye God, that he wolde come and helpe them that were nowe come to dea-thes dore.

The.vi.Chapter.

Eleazarus maketh hys prayer. The kyng comaundeth yet agayne to kyll the Jewes by the force of Elephants. Angels appere and saue them. The kyng is tournd to mercey.

Ad one Eleazarus a noble man, one of the pryests of that country, a verye aged man, & ver-tuous all hys lyfe, wth other sad mē about him, callinge vnto the holpe God, prayed thus.

Myghtye kyng and mooste myghty almygh-tye God, whych mercyfullye gouernest al thynges that thou haste made, loke vpon the fede of Abraham, and the chyliden of thy holpe Jacob, thy chosen people consecrate vnto the beinge straungers in an other land, and that shalbe sayne vniuste-lye, o father. Thou destroyedst pharaon harynge manye chariottes, sometyme þ kyng of thys Egypt, puffed vp wth cruel stubbernesse, & boastyng of tongue, thou brownedst hym and hys proude hoost in the sea, & wth thy lyght of mercey dyddest shine vnto the Israelytes. Thou o Lorde ouer-threwest Sennacherib the kyng of the Assyrians beinge proude for all hys inumerable sort of men, whych he had subdued vnto hys power all the whole lande, and was lft vp agaynst the holpe cytye Ierusalem kyng cruel and proude wordes, shewyng openly vnto the gentiles thy power. Thou sauest those thy thre frendes in Babylon, Dant. iii. v whych wth good chere gaue theyr lyues to the fyre, because they wold not worshyp vayne thyngs, and dydst cast dewe vnto þ burnynge fornace, and sauest them vn-hurt, euen the very beates of theyr head, turnyng the flame vpon al theyr enemies.

Thou broughtest Daniell safe into lyghte Dant. vi. v out of the den, whych by false accusacyōs thow enuie was caste vnder the earthe to the lyons, to be deuoured of wyld beastes, and dyddest bring agayn Jonas safe Jona. ii. a vnto hys frendes, when he had ben sore troubled in þ whales bely that was bred in the sea. Nowe also O mercyfull beholder of al thynges, rary not but shewe thy selfe vnto the people of Israell as thou ly-as maye be, that it is vniustly cruelly had-led of the vngacious and wycked gentiles. And if our stuttyge be waken lyghte by dwelling in a straunge country, take vs out of oure enemies handes, o Lorde, and destroie vs by what death thou wilt, least they that thynke vayne thyngs, reioyse vaine of those mens destruction whom thou hast loued, and saye: No not theyr owne God hath deliuered them. Wherfore thou that arte strongest and myghtiest o eternal God, loke vpo vs now and haue mercey vpon vs, whych by the myghte of wycked men, be taken oute of oure lyfe as though we were traytours. Make the gentyles to wonder at thy myghty power, and vse thy strength to the healeth of the kyndred of Jacob. Al these pong infates be seche the hereof, and theyr fathers also w teares. Let it be sene to al gentiles o Lorde that thou helpest vs, & þ thou hast not turned thy face fro vs, but that þ haste not forgotten * vs, no not in our ennemies land. Deu. xx. viii O lord do euen so. When Eleazarus had made an end of prayinge thus, þ kyng & al hys grear cōpany was come w hys beastes to þ horse coursing place: whych when the Jewes saw, they made a greate shoute to beaue in so much that all the valeys sounded therof, eue that the people wept sore.
The þ glorious, omnipotent and true God shewing hys holie face, opened hys heuely gates, fro whence ther came two angels terrible to loke vpon, whom al dyd se, saue the Jewes. They let theyr enemies army, Josephus and fylled them wth feare and trouble, agaynst Ap-and bounde them wth suche fetters that pion second they myght not styre. Then trembled the booke. kynges bodye, & he began to forgette hys proude boldnesse.

The beastes also turned agaynst the mē Dion. xvi. that were in harnesse & trode them vnder theyr fete and kyled them. So the kyng turned hys anger into pity, and to bewail these thynges that he had doue before.
For when he herde the crye, after þ sawe them all troden to deathe, wepyng and angerye rebukynge hys frendes, Ye abuse the kyng quoth he, and passe all ty-rantes in cruelty, pea and go aboute to take

Exo. xiii. f

Exo. xiii. f

Exo. xiii. f

Exo. xiii. f

The. iiii. booke of the Mach.

take spirit and life from me, whych haue done for you, deuisinge pryncely thynges that be not for the profit of my realme. Who hather set byther and vntowther put oute of theyr houses these men, which kepte the holdes of oure realme saythful-lye: Who hather so cruellly punished those men, whiche euen from the begynnynge, haue bene aboue all other nations moste lounge vnto vs: Leuse the bondes þ they vniustly be bound wth al, I say leuse the, and let them go safe for theyr good dedes that they haue done before: let go the chil- dren of the omnipotent and liuynge god, whych from the tyme of our auctoures to this daye, hather kept the state of oure realme vntrobled. And these words spake he, and they incontynente being leused whē they had escaped deathe, praised the holpe God theyr sauoure. Then afterwarde the kyng commynge agayne into the cite, called vnto hym his steward, and com- maunded wyne and other thynges þ per- tayne to a feaste, to be geuen to the by the space of vii. dayes, and decreed that in the same place that they thought they shuld haue suffered deathe, eue there they shulde make merie. The the whych before were wronged and lyke to dye, pea goynge to theyr deathe, in steade of cruell and bytter deathe, keepynge an holysome feast, beyng full of gladnes, pointed out wth their stoles the place þ they wer apointed to be slayne in and buryed: and leaping theyr song of lamentacion, began a newe prayesynge theyr sauoure and marueylous God: and puttynge awaye all mounyng and cry- inge, daunced to thewe theyr gladnesse. Lykewys also the kyng keepynge a great feast gaue great praises to god in heauen for the healt that he had geuen vnto the vnloked for. And they that before appoi- nted the to be kylled & deuoured of byrds & appointed them to the swerde, were asha- med, and for theyr hotte boldenesse, kooled wth dishonestye. So the Jewes as we haue sayd, geuyng them selues to daun- singe and feasting, were full of ioye and synging, & made a lawe of these thynges to all þ came after, of theyr beyng in this straunge countrie: and appoynted the fore sayde dayes of theyr myrthe to be kepte, not to byb and bowle in for glottony, but for the healt that was geue to them by God: and afterwarde they wente vnto the kyng and desyred that they myghte go home to theyr owne houses. * But theyr description was kept from the. xvi. day of Macho vnto the nyne daye of E- pyth, fourtye dayes longe: and to bestrope them they labored from the xij. daye of Epyth vnto the seuen the of the same that is. iiii. dayes, in the whiche the Lord of al shewing his merie wonderfullye, sa- ued the all wthout harme, and they kept feastes, the kyng geuyng the al thynges thereto euen to the. xiiii. day, in the whiche

The. vii. Chapter.

they went, desyringe that they myghte go home. And when the kyng had prayesed the, he wrote this Epistle that foloweth, declaringe the greute vehemencie of his mynde.

The. vii. Chapter.

The kyng wyreth to all the rulers in E- gypt to suffer the Jewes to go home. They take chippynge. They put theyr troubles in wytyng, and prayse the Lord God of Israel for euer.

Kynge Ptolome Philopater to all his rulers that be thowme Egypte, & al that beare any of- fice, sendeth gretinge and helth, for we and our chyldren be in healt. Af- ter þ the great God had sende vs as good sperde as we oure selfe wolde wythe, some of our frendes thowme theyr waywardnes made ofte instante laboure vnto vs, and perswaded vs to call together the Jewes that were vnder our subiectioun, and cru- elllye to punyche them as traytours: for they sayed we shall neuer be in quiete, be- cause of þ hatred that they bare agaynst all nations, tyll we hadde so done. And af- ter they had so vexed them, and broughe the byther bounde as slaues, or rather as theues & mutterers, wthoute alenquy- ryng or pleading of theyr cause they wold haue killed the more cruel the þ Scythias. But we rebuking them sharply for it, ac- cording to our gentylnes toward al men, and after we had muche worke to saue the alpye by oure fauour, and when we knew for a surtye that the heauenly God deser- ded the Jewes, and that in euery poynt he help them as the father his chyldren, and that also we dyd consyder the good wyll whych they bere vnto vs, as they haue to oure auctoures, we haue iustelye quyte them frome all fautes whatsoeuer was layed agaynst them: and haue commaun- ded euery man in euery place that they shulde be suffered to go to theyr own, and that no man shoulde hurte them, or caste them in the teethe wth any thyng that they haue suffered wrongfullye. For you shal vnderstand that if we haue done any hurte agaynst them maliciously or by any meanes haue made them sadde, that wee shal haue agaynst vs not a man, but þ hye God ruler of all power, to be reuenged of these dedes in euery poynt alwayes, and neuer dable to be auoided: Fare you wel. Yet when they had receyued this Epistle, they made not beste strapeways to go theyr wayes, but they desyred this thyng also of the kyng, that whosoever of the Jewes nacion had violatē the holy God, and willynge broken his lawe, þ they myghte be punished of them as they had deserued: sayinge that they whych hadde transgressed goddes lawe for theyr belye sake, would neuer be saythfull to the kyn- ges commaundement. The thynkinge the to say true, prayesed them, and gaue them power psal. xix. a

Josephus
agaynst Appion second booke.

ii. mac. iiii.

Jer. xxx. a sacha. ii. b.

ii. mac. ii. b.

The.iii.boke of the Mach.

power to kyl thowse oute al bys kynge:
dome those that had broke þ law of God, & that they shulde not seke for anye power fro the kinge. Then they as reson was, thankyng the kynge, they praystes and al the people with them cryng Alleluia, wente awaye wyth ioye: and as they wēt kylled euery one of they: nacið that was nought, for example to other: and in dede that dape, they kylled aboue. iiii. hundred menne, and were very isous as they kyl-led them. But those that stakke to God to death, hauinge þ ful fruite of they: healtþ, they went out of the cýte, crowned wyth verye swete floures of all sortes, wyth cry-ng and gladnesse, geuinge prayse to the holye God of they: fathers, the sauer of Israel. And when they wer come to Sto-loms Rodophoros, so called after the nature of the place, where a nauye taried for thē, they kepte a feaste there by theyre hole consente, seuen dapes, the kynge ge-uinge vnto them gladlye all chynges ne-

The.vii.Chapter. Fol.lxxxiii.

cessary to they: iorny tyl they came home:
So departyng false wyth worthy gratu-lacions, there also they purposed to kepe those glad dapes for the tyme of they: be-singe in a straunge land: and makyng and dedicating a pyllet of prayer in the place wher they feasted, they went they: waies false bothe by lande and by sea, fre & me-rye, and euery manne came home to bys house by the kynges commaundement, hauinge greater power agaynst they: e-nemyes wyth gloze and feate, then euer they had before: they were not let frome they: goodes by any man. For al men re-ceyued they: goodes, as they were named in the bil of atteindure, so that whosoever had any thing of they:s, restored it againe wyth greate feare, the hie God finishing they: matters to al their healthes. Praysed be God the delpuer of Israell worlde wyth-
out ende.

Thomas Mitton

His Book
Arundominy
1718

Mary: yf: 19: Aged 27: Years.

[illegible]

E

R

The Newe

Testament of oure Sauoure Iesu Christe, diligently tranuared, accordyng to y<sup>e</sup> Eeke, with certayne Notes folowynge the chapters. wherin the hardest doubtis are declared for y<sup>e</sup> better vnderstandyng of the vnleat-

ned tea-
der.

ii. Timothy. ii.

All scripture geuen by inspiracon of God, is profytable to teache, to im-proue, to amonish, and to instruct in righ-teousnes, that the man of God maye be perfect and prepared to al good workes.

Anno. M. D. L. I.

ARISE FOR

IT IS DAY.

W. Tyndall vnto the Chri- styan Reader.

Here hast thou (most deere Reader) the Newe testament or Couenaunt made wth vs of GOD in Christes blood. Whiche I haue looked ouer agayne (nowe at the last) wyth all diligence, & compared it vnto the Grece, and haue weeded out of it many faultes, whych for lacke of helpe at the begynnyng and ouersyght, dyd flow therein. If ought seme chaunged, or not altogether agreyng with the Grece, let the synder of the faulte, consider the Hebrue phrase, or maner of speech left in þe Grece wordes. Whose p<sup>er</sup>fectente and p<sup>re</sup>sentece is bothe one, and the futuretence is the optatiue mode also, and the futuretence is oft the imperative mode in the actyue voyce, and in the passive euer. Lyke wyse person for person, nombre for nombre, and interrogatyon for a condycional, and such lyke is wyth the Hebrues a comon v<sup>er</sup>ge.

I haue also in many places set lyght in the Margent to vnderstand the text by. If any man fynd faultes ether wth the translation, or ought helpe (whiche is easer for manye to do, then so wel to haue translated it themselves of their owne p<sup>re</sup>gnant wyttes at the begynnyng wth an example) to the same it shal be lawfull to translate it themselves, and to put what they lust thereto. If I shal perceyue eyther by myself, or by the informatyon of other that ought be escaped me, or myght be more playnly translated, I wyll shortly after cause it to be amended. Howbeit, in many places, me thynketh it better, to put a declaracyon in the Margent, then to runne to far from the text. And in many places, where the text semeth at the first chop hard to be vnderstand, yet the circumstances before and after, and often readyng together, maketh it playn ynough, &c.

Moreover, because the kyngdome of heauen (whych is the scrip<sup>tu</sup>re and word of God) may be so locked vp, that he whych readeth or heareth it, can not vnderstand it: as Christ testifieth how that the scribes and pharises had so shut it vp. Math. xxiii. and had taken away the keye of knowlege. Lu. xi. that the Jewes which thought themselves wythin, were yet so locked out, and are to this day, that they can vnderstand no sentence of the scrip<sup>tu</sup>re vnto their saluacyon, though they can rehearse the textes euerie where, and dyspute therof as subtilly as the popp<sup>er</sup> the Doctours of Dunces darke learnyng, whych wyth theyr sophystes serued vs, as the pharises dyd the Jewes. Therefore, that I myght be found faythfull to my Father and Lord in distributyng vnto my brethren and felowes of one fayth their due and necessary foode: so dyscussyng it and seasonyng it that the weake stomakes may receyue it, and also be the better for it: I thought it my dute (most deere reader) to warne the before, and to shewe the, the ryght way in, and to geue the the true keye to open it

W. T. to the Reader.

wythall, and to arme the agaynst false p<sup>ro</sup>p<sup>h</sup>etes and malicious hypocrites, whose perpetual studie is to leauen the scrip<sup>tu</sup>re wyth gloses, & ther to locke it vp, where it shoulde saue soules, and to make vs shote at a w<sup>ro</sup>ng marke, to put our trust in those thynges that p<sup>ro</sup>fyt their belyes onely, and slea our soules.

The ryght waye (yea and the onely waye) to vnderstand the scrip<sup>tu</sup>re vnto saluacyon, is that we earnestly and aboue all thyng search for the professyon of our baptysme or couenautes made betwene God and vs: As for an example. Christ sayth. Mat. v. Happy are the mercyfull, for they shal obtayne mercy. Lo, here God hath made a couenaunt wyth vs, to be mercyfull vnto vs, if we wyll be mercyfull one to another, so that the man whych sheweth mercy vnto his neyghbour, may be bold to trust in God for mercy at all nedes. And contrary wyse, iudgement wythout mercy, shal be to hym that sheweth no mercy. So nowe if he that sheweth no mercy, truste in God for mercy, his fayth is carnall and worldly, and but vayne p<sup>re</sup>sumption. For God hath promysed mercy onely to the mercyfull.

The ryght way into þe scrip<sup>tu</sup>re.

Jacob. ii.

And therfore the mercyes haue not goddes word that they shal haue mercy: but contrary wyse that they shal haue iudgement withoute mercy. And Math. vi. If ye shal forgeue men their faultes, your heauyly father shal forgeue you: but and if ye shal not forgeue men their faultes, no more shal your father forgeue you your faultes.

There also by the vertue and strength of this couenaunt, wherwyth God of his mercy hath bound hym selfe to vs vnworthy, may he that forgeueth his neyghbour, be bold when he resourmeth and amendeth, to beleue and trust in God for remysyon of whatsoeuer he hath done amysse. And contrary wyse, he that will not forgeue, cannot but dyspayre of forgyuenes in the ende, and feare iudgement wythout mercy. The generall couenaunt wherewith all other are comprehended and included, is this. If we make our selues to God to kepe al his lawes, after the example of Christe, then God hath bounde hym selfe vnto vs, to kepe and make good all þe mercyes promysed in Christ, thorowout all the scrip<sup>tu</sup>re.

Al the whole lawe whych was geuen to vs: Lawe. ter our corrupt nature, is comprehended in the ten commaundementes. And the ten commaundementes are comprehended in these two: loue God and thy neyghbour. And he that loueth his neyghbour in God and Christe, fulfillerth these two, and consequently the ten, and finally the other. Now if we loue our neyghbours in God & Christe, that is to wytte, if we be louinge kynde and mercyfull to them, because god hath created them vnto his lyknes, and Christ hath redeemed them and bought them with his blood: then maye we be bolde to trust in God thorow Christ and his deservyng, for all mercy. For God hath promysed and bound hym selfe to vs, so that we shal not need to feare the power of all oure aduersaries.

Nowe if anye man that submytteth not hym selfe to kepe the commaundemente, do thynke that he hath any fayth in God: the same manes fayth is vayne, worldly, damnable, deuplythe, and playne p<sup>re</sup>sumption, as it is aboue sayd: and is no fayth that can iustify or be accepted before God. And that is it that James meanerth in his epistle. For how ca a man beleue (sayeth Paule) without a preacher? Rom. x. Now read all the all the scripture, and se where God sent anye to preache merce to anye, saue vnto them onely that repente and turne to God wyth al theyr hertes, to kepe hys commandementes. Vnto þe disobedient that wil not turne, is threatened wrath, vengeance and damnacion, accordynge to all the terrible curses and fearfull examples of the Bible.

what faith
it is that sa
ueth.

Faith nowe in God the father thow oure Lorde Iesus Christ, accordynge to the couenautes and apowment made betwen God and vs, is our saluacion. Wherefore I haue euer noted the couenautes in the margentes, and also promyses. And ouer wher thou findest a promise and no couenaunt expessed therewith: ther must thou vnderstand a couenaunt, that we, whē we be receiued to grace, know it to be our duty to kepe the law. As for an example: When the scripture sayeth. Mat. vii. Tre and it shal be geuen you, seke and ye shall fynde, knocke and it shal be opened vnto you: It is to be vnderstand, if that when thy neighbour axeth, sekerh or knocketh to the, thou than shew him the same merce whiche thou desyrest of God, then hath god bound himselfe to helpe the again, & else not.

ii. thynges
are requy-
red to begin a Christen man.

Also ye se that two thynges are required to begynne a chysten man. The firste is a stedfast fayth and truste in almighty god, to obayne al the merce that he hath promised vs, thow the deseruinge and merites of a hyestes bloude onely, without al respecte to our owne workes.

And the other is that we forsake euyl, & turne to god to kepe his lawes, and to fyght agaynst our selues and our corrupt nature perpetually, that we may do the wil of god euerye daye better and better.

This haue I sayed (moste deare reader) to warne the, leaue thou shouldest be deceyued, and shouldest not onely read the scriptures in vain, and to no profyte, but also vnto thy greater dampnacion. For the nature of goddes word is, that whosoever read it, or heare it reasoned, and disputed before hym, it wyl begynne immediatly to make him euery daye better and better, tyll he be grown into a perfecte man in the knowledge of Christ, & loue of the lawe of god: or else make hym worse and worse, tyll he be hardened that he openly resist the spirit of God, and the blasphemie, after þe exaple of Pharaon, Coran, Abiron, Balā, Judas, Simon Magus, & such other.

What the nature of gods word
is,

Thys to be euen so, þe words of Christ, John iii. do well confirme. This is condempnacion (sayeth he) the lyght is come into the world, but the me loued darkenes more the lyght: for thei dedes were euil. Behold whē the lyght of gods word cometh to a man, whether he read it or heare it preached and testified, and he yet haue no loue therto, to fashyon his lyfe thereafter, but consenterh styll vnto hys olde dedes of ignorance, then beginneth his iust dampnacion immediatly, and he is henceforth without excuse in that he refused merce offered hym: for God offereth merce, vpon the condycion that he wil mende his liuing: but he wil not come vnder the couenaunt. And from that houre forwarde, he wareth worse and worse, God takynge hys spirite of merce and grace from him for his vnthankfulness sake. And Paule writeth. Roma. i. that the heathen because when they knewe God, they had no luste to honoure hym wyth Godly luyng, therefore god proued hys wrath vpon them, and toke his spirite from them, and gaue them vp to their hertes lustes, to lerne synne, from iniquity to iniquity, tyll they were thow hardened and pake repentance.

And Pharaon, because when the word of god was in his countrey, and gods people scattered thowout al hys land, and yet nether loued them nor it, therefore God gaue him vp: and in takynge his spirite of grace from him, so hardened his herte with couctousnes, that afterwarde no miracle could conuerter hym.

Hereto pertayneth the parable of the talentes. Mat. xxv. The lord commaundeth the talent to be taken awaye fro the euill and slothful seruaunte, and to bind him hand and fote, & to cast him into vtter darkness, and to geue the talent vnto hym that had ten, sayng: to al that haue, more shal be geuen. But fro him that hath not, that he hath shal be taken from him. That is to say: he that hath a good hert toward the word of god, and to garnish it with godly luyng, and to testify it to other, the same shal increase more & more dayly in the grace of Christ. But he that loueth it not to lye ther after and to edifye other, the same shal lose the grace of true know ledge, and be blynded agayn, and euery daye wareth worse and worse, and blinder and blinder, tyll he be an vtter enemy of the word of god, and his herte so hardened, that it shal be impossible to conuerter him.

And Luke. xii. The seruante that knoweth hys masters wyll, and preparerh not himselfe, shal be beaten with many strypps: that is, shal haue greater dampnacion. And Math. vii. All that heare the word of god, and do not thereafter, bylde on sand: that is: as the foundacyon layed of sand, cannot resist violence of water, but is undermined and ouerthrowen, euen so þe fayth of them that haue no luste, nor loue to the lawe of god, buyld vpon the sand of theyr owne Imaginacions, and not on the roche of Goddes word, accordyng to his couenaunts, turneth to desperacyon in tyme of tribulacion, & when God cometh to iudge.

And the vyneparde. Math. xxi. planted & hyed oute to the husbande men that wuld not render to the Lord of the fruite in due tyme, and therefore was taken from them, and hyed out to other, doth confirme the same. For Christ sayth to the Jewes: the kyngdome of heauen shal be taken from you, and geuen to a nation that wil byngne forth the frutes therof, as it is come to passe. For þe Jewes haue lost þe spiritual know ledge of his commandementes, and also of all the scripture, so that they can vnderstande nothyng godly. And the doze is locked vp that al their knockinge is in vayne, though manye of the take greate paine for Gods sake. And in Luke. iii. the fyg tre that beareth no fruite, is commaunded to be plucked vp.

And finallye, hereto pertayneth wyth infinite other, the terrible parable of the vncleane spirit (Luk. xi. whiche after he is cast out) when he cometh and fyndeth his house swept and garnished, taketh to him seuen worse then himselfe, and cometh and entreth in, and dwelleth there: and so is the end of the man worse then the begynnynge. The Jewes, they had clesed themselves with Goddes worde from all ourwarde idolatry and worshiping of idoles, But their hertes remayned styll saythlesse to Godwarde, and toward hys merce and truth: and therefore without loue also & luste to his lawe, & to their neighbour for hys sake: & thow false trust in their owne workes (to whiche herelpe, the childe of perdyon the wyched byshop of Rome with his lawiers hath brought vs Christen, more adhomynable ydolaters then before) became ten tymes worse in the end then at the begynnynge.

W. T. to the Reader.

For the first idolatry was soone spied, and easy to be rebuked of the prophetes by the scriptur. But the latter is more subtle to beyle withal, and an hundred tymes of more difficultye to be wided oute of mennes hertes.

¶ This also is a conclusyon nothyng more certayne, or more proued by the testimonge & exam- ples of the scripture, that if any that sauoureth the worde of God, be so weake that he can not chastise his flesh, hym wyll the Lorde chastise, & scourge euery day wharper and wharper, with tribulacyon and mysfortune, that nothyng shal prosper wth hym, but all shal go agaynst him whatsoeuer he taketh in hande, and shal visite hym wth pouertie, with syncknesse and disea- ses, and shal plague him with plague vpon plague, eche more lothsome, terrible and feareful then other, tyl he be at bitter defiance with his flesh.

¶ Let vs therfore that haue nowe at thys tyme our eyes opened agayn thow the tender mer- cy of God, kepe a meane. Let vs so put oure truste in y<sup>e</sup> mercy of God thow Iesus Christ, that we knowe it our dute to kepe the lawe of God, and to loue our neyghbours for their sa- fety sake, whych created them and bought the so derelye wth hys bloud. Let vs walke in the feare of God, and haue our eyes open to bothe partes of Goddes couenauntes, certified that none shalbe partaker of the mercy, saue he that wyll fyght agaynst the flesh to kepe hys lawe. And let vs arme oure selues wth thys remem- brance, that as Christes workes iustifye from synne and set vs in the fauour of God, so oure owne dedes thow we workyng of the spirite of God, heape vs to contynue in the fauoure and the grace, vnto which Christe hath bought vs, & that we can no longer continue in fauour and grace, then whyle our hertes do kepe the lawe.

¶ Furthermore, concernyng the lawe of God, this is a generall conclusyon, that the whole lawe, (whether they be ceremonies, sacrifices, yea or sacramentes eyther, or preceptes of equi- tyte betwene man and man thow we out all de- grees of the worlde) all were geuen for our pro- fit and necessity onely, and not for anye nede that God hath of our keepyng them, or that hys ioye is encreased therby, or that the dede it self doth please hym. That is all that God requy- reth of vs when we be at one wth hym, and do put our truste in hym, and loue euerye man hys neyghbour to pitie hym, and to haue compassyō on hym in al hys nedes, and to be merciful vnto hym. Thys to be euen so, Christe testifieth.

¶ Math. vii. sayinge: thys is the lawe & the pro- phetes, That is, to do as thou wouldest be done to, (accordyng I meane to y<sup>e</sup> doctryne of the scrip- ture) and not to do as thou wouldest not haue done to the, is al that the lawe requyreth and y<sup>e</sup> Prophetes. And Paule to the Roma. xiii. affy- meth also, that loue is the fulfillyng of the law, and that he whych loueth, dothe of hys owne accord all that the lawe requyreth. And. i. Tim. i. Paule sayth that the loue of a pure hert and good conscience and fayth vnfaigned, is the end and fulfillyng of the lawe. For fayth vnfaigned in Christes bloud, causeth the to loue for Christes sake.

Fayth is
cause of loue.

¶ Whych the loue is the pure loue onely, and the onely cause of a good conscience: for then is the conscience pure when the eye loueth Christe in al hys dedes, to do them for hys sake, and not for hys own synghular aduantage or any other wycked purpose. And John both in hys Gospel & also epistles, speaketh neuer of any other law then to loue one another purely, affyrmyng y<sup>e</sup>

W. T. to the reader.

we haue God hym self dwelling in vs, and al that God desyreth, if we loue one the other.

¶ Seynge then that sayeth to God, and loue & mercifulnes to our neyghbours is al that we must vnderstande and interprete by them, so y<sup>e</sup> all inferiour lawes are to be kepte and obser- ued as long as they be seruantes to fayth and loue: and then to be broken immediatly, if tho- rowe anye occasyon, they hurte eyther the fayth whych we shoulde haue to Godward in the con- fydence of Christes bloude, or the loue whych we owe to oure neyghbours for Christes sake. ¶ And therfore when the blynd Pharises mur- mured and grudged at hym and hys discyples, that they brake the Saboth daye and trady- ons of the elders, and that hym self dyd eate wth the publycanes & synners, he answereth. Math. ix. alledgyng O leas the Prophet: So rather & learne what thys meaneth. I requyre mercy & not sacrifice. And Mathew. xii. Wh that ye wyll what thys meaneth. I requyre mercy and not sacrifice. For onely loue and mercifulnes vnderstande the lawe, and else nothyng. And he that hath not that wyrtten in hys herte, shal neuer vnderstand the lawe, no though al y<sup>e</sup> an- gels of heauen went about to teach hym. And he that hath that grauen in hys herte, shal not onely vnderstande the lawe, but also shal do of hys owne inclinacyon al that is requyred of the lawe, though neuer lawe had bene geuen: as all mothers do of themselves wythout lawe vnto theyr chyldren al y<sup>e</sup> can be requyred by any law, loue ouercomyng al payn, grieve, tediousnes or lothsomnes: and euen so no dout if we had con- tynued in our fyrst state of innocencye, we shuld euer haue fulfilled the lawe wythout compul- syon of the lawe.

Only loue
vnderstan-
deth y<sup>e</sup> lawe.

¶ And because the law whych as a doctryne, thow teachyng euery man hys dute, doth bre- ter our corrupt nature, is suffyciently dyscribed by Moyses, therfore is lytle mencyon made therof in the newe testament, saue of loue onely, wherin al the lawe is included: as seldom men- cyon is made of the newe testamente in the olde lawe, saue here and there are promyses made vnto them that Christe shoulde come and blesse them and deliuer them, and that the Gospel & newe Testament shoulde be preached and publi- shed vnto al nacjons.

¶ The Gospel is glad tydynge of mercy, & Gospel. grace, and that our corrupt nature shalbe hea- led agayne for Christes sake, and for y<sup>e</sup> myertes of hys deservynges only: yet on that condycyon that we wyl turne to God, to learn to kepe his lawes spirytually, that is to say, of loue for his sake, and wyl also suffer the curyng of our in- fymities.

¶ The new Testament is as much for to say, as a newe cowaunt. The old Testament is an old tempozall couenaunt made betwene God & the carnal chyldren of Abraham, Isaac, and Ia- cob, otherwyle called Israhel, vpon the dedes and the obseruyng of a tempozall lawe. Wher the reward of the keepyng is tempozall lyfe and prosperyte in the land of Canaan, and the brea- kyng is rewarded wth tempozall death and punyment.

Newe Testament.

¶ But the newe Testament is an euertlasting couenaunt made vnto the chyldren of God tho- rough ayde in Christ, vpon the deservynges of Christ: Where eternal lyfe is promysed to al y<sup>e</sup> beleue, and death to all that are vnbelyng. My dedes if I kepe y<sup>e</sup> lawe are rewarded with the tempozall promyses of thys lyfe. But if I beleue in Christe, Christes dedes haue purcha- sed sed for me the eternal promises of everlasting lyfe. If I commit nothing worthy of death, I deserve to my reward, that no man kill me, If I hurt no man, I am worthy that no man hurt me. If I helpe my neyghbour, I am worthy þ he helpe me agayne: So that with cura and de-des, with which I serve other men, I deserve that other men do lyke to me in this world, and they extende no further: But Chasties dedes ex-tende to lyfe everlasting vnto al that beleue. ac.

These be suffice into in this place, concerninge the lawe and the Gospel, the newe Testamente and the olde: so that there is but one God, one Christ, one fayth, and one baptysme: euen so vnderstande thou, that there is but one Gospel, though many wyte it, and many preache it.
For all preache the same Christ, and bringe the same glad tydynges. And thereto Pauls Epistles with the Gospel of Ihon and hys lyfte Epistle, and the first Epistle of S. Peter, are most pure Gospel, and most playnly and rygh-lye describe the glo: of the grace of Christ: If ye requyre more of the law, like in the Prologe to the Romanes, and in other places, where it is sufficiently intreated of.

Repentance.

Concerninge this worde repentaunce (or as they vse to call it, penaunce) the Hebrew hath in the old testament generally (שוב) þ is to say, turne, to be converted.
For whyche the translation that we take for S. Jeroms, hath most part (conuert) to turne or to be converted, and sometyme yet (agere penitentiam). And in the Greke the new testament hath perpetually (μετανοω) to turn in the herte and mynde, and to come to the ryght knowledge, and to a mans ryght wyte agayne.
For whyche (μετανοω) Saint Jeroms translatyon hath sometyme (ago penitentiam) I do repent, sometyme (peniteo) I repente, sometyme (peniteor) I am repentaunce, sometyme (habeo penitentiam) I have repentaunce, sometyme (penitetur me) it repenteth me. And Erasmus vseth much this worde (rectifico) I come to my selfe, or to my ryght mynde agayne. And þ very sence and significatyon both of the Hebrew and also of the Greke word is, to be converted & to turne to God with al the herte, to knowe hys wyll, & to lyue accordyng to hys lawes, and to be cured of our corrupt nature with the oyle of hys spy-rite, and wyne of obedyence to hys doctryne.
Whych conuersyon or turnyng, if it be vnfa-med, these foure do accompany it, and are included therein. Confessyon, not in the priestes care, for that is but mans inuentyon, but to God in thy herte, and before all the congregacyon of God, how that we be synners and synnefull, and that our whole nature is corrupt and inclined to synne and all vnrightheousnes, and therefore euill, wycked, and damnable, and hys lawe holy and iuste, by which our synful nature is

The foure partes of repentaunce

rebuked, and also to our neyghbours, if we haue offended any person partycularly. Then contrytyon and sorrowfulnes, that we be such damnable synners, and not only haue synned, but ar whole inclined to synne still.

Thyrdly fayth of which our olde doctours haue made no mencion at al in the descriptyon of their penaunce) that God for Christes sake doth forgjue vs, and receyue vs to merce, and is at one with vs, and wpll heale our corrupte nature. And fourthly satisfaccyon or amendes makynge, not to God with holy workes, but to my neyghbour, whom I haue hurt, and to the congregacyon of God, whom I haue offended (if any open crime be founde in me) and submittyng of a mans selfe vnto the congregacyon or churche of Christ, and to the officers of þ same, to haue his lyfe corrected and gouerned henceforth of them, accordyng to the true doctryne of Christ. And note this: that as satisfaction or a-mendes makynge is counted ryghteousnes before the world, and a purgynge of the synne, so that the world when I haue made a full amendes hath no farther to complayne: Euen so faith in Christes bloude is counted ryghteousnes & a purgynge of al synne before God.

Satisfaction.

As ouer he that synneth agaynst his brother, synneth also agaynst hys father almighty God. And as the synne committed agaynst hys brother, is purged before the worlde with makyng amendes, or askyng forgiveness: euen so is the synne committed agaynst God, purged thro-row fayth in Christes bloud only. For Christ sayth. Ihon. vi. Excepte ye beleue that I am he, ye shall dye in your synnes. That is to saye, if ye thynke that there is anye other sacrifice or satisfaccyon to Godward then me, ye remain euer in synn before God, how soeuer righteous ye appeare before the worlde. Wherefore nowe whether ye call this (μετανοω) repentaunce, conuercion, or turning agayne to God, eyther amendyng, &c. whether ye say repent, be conuerted, turne to god, amend your lyuynge, or what ye luste, I am content so ye vnderstand what is ment therby, as I haue nowe declared.

Elders.

In the old Testament the temporal heades and rulers of the Jewes, whych had the gouernaunce ouer þ lyue or commune people are called elders, as ye maye see in þ foure Euangelistes.
Out of which custome, Paul in hys epistles, & also Peter, cal the presbiteres and spiritual gover-ners (whych are bishoppes and priestes) elders.
Nowe whether ye cal them elders or priestes, it is to me al one, so that ye do vnderstande, that they be officers and seruantes of the word of God, vnto the which al men both hygh & lowe that wil not rebel agaynst Christ, must obeye as longe as they preache and rule truelye, and no lenger.

A Prologe

upon the Gospell of S. Mathew.

This becometh a preacher, a feeder of soules, Salathiel.

A princie of the publicans, a feeder of soules.

Touchyng the Evangelistes, ye se in the new Testament clearly, what they wer. First Mathew (as ye read Mathew ix. Mark. ii. Luk v.) was one of Christes Apostles, & was with Christ all the tyme of hys preachyng, and heard hys own selfe almost all that he wrote.

That is to say glad dynges.

The * Gospell of Saynt Mathew.

The first Chapter.

That he maye proue Iesus to bee the Messias, whom the Prophetes promysed, he counterth hys Genology euen from Abraham. Then describeth he the assurance of Mary & Joseph, & how Christ was conceived thorough the holy ghost, & howe Joseph warned by the Angell, toke Mary to hys wyfe.

Hys is the boke of the generation of (a) Iesus Christ, the sonne of (b) David, the sonne also of Abraham.

* Abraham begat Isaac: Isaac begat Jacob:

* Jacob begat Judas and his brethren.
* Judas begat Phares & Zarah of Thamar: Phares begat Esrom:
Esrom begat Aram:
Aram begat Aminadab:
Aminadab begat Naasson: Naasson begat Salmon:
Salmon begat Booz of Rachab: Booz begat Obed of Ruth:
Obed begat Jesse:
* Jesse begat David the kyng:
* David the kyng begat Salomon, of hys wyfe: that was the wyfe of Uripe:

* Salomon begat Roboam: Roboam begat Abia:
Abia begat Asa:
Asa begat Josaphat:

of S. Mathew.

Josaphat begat Joiam: * Joiam begat (c) Joias: * Joias begat Joatham: * Joatham begat Achaz: Achaz begat Ezechias: Ezechias begat Manasses: Manasses begat Amon:
Amon begat Josias:
Josias begat (d) Jechonias & his brethren about the tyme they were carped awaye to Babylon.

And after they were brought to Babilon, Jechonias begat Salathiel: Salathiel begat Zorobabel: Zorobabel begat Abiud:
Abiud begat Eliacim:
Eliacim begat Azor:
Azor begat Sadoc:
Sadoc begat Achin:
Achin begat Eliud:
Eliud begat Eleazar:
Eleazar begat Matthan:
Matthan begat Jacob:
Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whych was borne that Iesus, that is called (e) Christe. *

All the generacions from Abraham to David, are. xiii. generacions. And from David vnto the captiuitie of Babilon, are. xiiii. generacions. And from the captiuitie of Babilon vnto Christ, are also fourtene generacions.

* The birth of Iesus Christ was on this wise. When his mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph, before they came to dwell together, he was found with childe by the holy ghost. Then Joseph hys husband being a perfect man and loth to make an (f) example of hys, was minded to put hys away secretly. * Whyle he thus thoughte, beholde the (g) Angell of the Lord apered vnto him in a dreame, saying: Joseph thou sonne of David, feare not to take vnto the Mary thy wyfe. For that which is conceived in her, is of the holy ghost. She shall bringe forth a sonne, and thou shalt call hys name Iesus. For he shal saue his people from theyr synnes. *

All this was done to fulfill the whiche was spoken of the Lorde by the prophet, saying: Behold a mayd shal be with child, and shall bringe forth a sonne, & they shall call his name (h) Emanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs. *

And Joseph as sone as he awoke out of slepe, dyd as the Angell of the Lorde had bydden him, and toke his wyfe vnto hym, and knewe hys wyfe, & called his name Iesus.

The Notes.

(a) Iesus, or after the Hebrue Iesus, is by interpretation, Saviour.
(b) David and Abraham are first reherced, because Christ was especially promysed vnto the to be of theyr seide.
(c) Read the. iii. chap. in the first boke of Paral. in the letter d. wher thou shalt se what hath becomen of Jechonias.

* ii. Para. xvi. d.
* ii. Para. xvi. a. and xvi. d.
* iii. Regum xvi. a. & xvi. d.
* ii. Paral. xvi. d.
* iii. Paral. xvi. d.
* i. Paral. xvi. d.
* i. Paral. xvi. d.

Luke. i. b.

Deu. xliii. Luke. ii. c.

Isai. vii. a. Acta. iiii. a. Esaye. vii. Emanuel.

Joachim. be left out in this place.
(d) In the booke of our tyme is left out Joachim, the father of Iechonias, as appeareth by the fyrst booke of Daralppo. the. ii. Chap. in the letter B. wher Iechonias is declared to be Iechonias sonne.

Messias. (e) Christ is in Hebrew, Messias, and signifyeth annointed, which name was geuen to all kyn- ges, priestes and Prophetes in the olde lawe, because they were annointed wth oyle: but to s sonne of the virgin, because he was annointed wth the oyle of the spyyt more aboundantlye then anye other, whiche annointynge was also signified by the other.

Example. (f) They be made examples, whiche be openlye punished as euyl doers, to put other in feare to do the lyke.

Angel. (g) Angell, is by interp[re]tatio[n], Messenger, wherfore the priestes and al other that do declare and set forth the wylle of worde of God, are in scrip- ture called Angels.

Emanuel. (h) Emanuel, is interpreted, God wth vs. Whiche name was geuen vnto Christ, because he being God, was as Paule witnesseth, found lyke vnto vs in all thyngs, synne only excepted.

Fyrst borne sonne. (i) The mynde of the Euangelist when he de- clared Christ to be the fyrst sonne of Mary, was to proue that he was the sonne of a vyrgyne, accord- yng to the prophesy that was spoken of hym, and not to declare that Mary had no chyldren after hym, as some phantasy.

The. ii. Chapter.

Wpsemen come from the east, and worshyp Christ wth worshippe gyftes, whom Herode by treason, despyed to destroy. But hyndred by God of his purpose herein, he slewe all the yong chyldren in Bethleem. But Christe at the warnyng of an Angel is carped into Egypt, and by counsaile of the same Angell returneth into Nazareth.

When Jesus was borne at Beth- leem in Jewry, in the tyme of He- rode the kynge: Beholde, there came (a) wpsemen from the east to Jerusalem, sayinge: Where is he that is borne kynge of Jewes? We haue sene his starre in the east, and are come to wor- shyp hym.

Miche. v. a
John. vii. d When Herode the kynge had heard this, he was troubled, and al Jerusalem wth hym, and he gathered all the chiefe prie- stes and Scribes of the people, and axed of theim, where Christe shoulde be borne. And they sayed vnto him: at Bethlehem in Ju- dy. For thus it is wyrtten by the prophete. (b) And thou Bethleem in the land of Ju- dy, arte not the least, concernyng the prin- ces of Juda. For oute of the shall come the capitayne, that shall (c) gouerne my peo- ple Israel.

Then Herode priuily called the wpsemen, and diligently enquired of theim, the time of the ster that appeared, and sent them to Bethleem, sayinge: Go and search diliget- ly for the chylde. And when ye haue founde hym, bring me word, that I may come and worshyp hym also.

Clare. ix. a
Plal. lxxi. b When they heard the kynge, they depar- ted: and lo, the ster whych they sawe in the east wente before them, tyll it came & stode ouer the place wher the chylde was. When they sawe the starre, they were maruelous- ly glad: and went into the house, & founde the chylde wth Marye his mother, and kneeled downe and (d) worshipped hym, & opened their treasures and offered to hym gyftes, * gold, frankincense & myrr. And after they wer warned of god in a dreame, that they shoulde not go agayn to Herode, they returned into theyr owne countrepe another waye.

When they were departed, Beholde the angel of the Lorde appered to Joseph in a dreame, sayinge: Arise, and take the chylde and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and abyde there tyll I byrnyng the word. For He- rode wyll seke the chylde to destroye hym. When he aroose, & toke the chylde, & his mo- ther by nyght, and departed into Egypte, & was ther vnto the death of Herod, to ful- fyll that whych was spoken of the Lorde by the prophet, whiche sayeth, * Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.

(e) When Herode percepyng that he was mocked of the wpse men, was excedynge wroth, and sent forth and sleue all the chyl- dren that were in Bethleem, and in all the coastes therof, as many as were two yere old and vnder (f) accordynge to the tyme which he had diligently searched out of the wpsemen.

Then was fulfilled that whych was spo- ken by the prophet Ieremye, sayinge: On the hilles was a voice hearde, mournynge, wepyng and great lamentacion. Rachell wepyng for hyr chyldren, and woulde not be comforted, because they (g) wer not.

* When Herode was dead: behold, an an- gell of the Lorde appeared in a dreame to Joseph in Egypte, sayinge: aryse and take the chylde and his mother, and go into the land of Israel. For they are dead * whiche sought the chylde's lyfe. When he aroose up, and toke the childe and his mother, & came into the land of Israel. But whē he heard that Archelaus dyd raygne in Iurpe in the roume of his father Herode, he was afraid to go thither. Notwithstandynge after he was warned of God in a dream, he turned asyde into the parties of Galile, and went & dwelt in a cytie called Nazareth, to ful- fyll that which was spokē by the prophete: he shalbe called (h) a Nazarite. *

The Notes.

(a) Strabo (who was in the tyme of Christes byrth) sayeth, that the thre wpse men, were cer- tayne sage men among the Persians, as Moyses was among the Hebrewes. He sayth also, that they were the priestes of the Persians.

(b) Note, that wher it is sayd. And thou Beth- leem in the land of Iudye, arte not the least &c. The scrip[er]s dyd as our prelat[es] do, when they had rather rehearse a piece of scrip[tur]e, as they fynd it expounded by some of the doctours, then as it lyeth in the text. For the place of Michas, hath thus. And thou Bethlehem Ephrata, art lytle amonge the thousandes of Juda.

(c) To gouerne, is to rule the people by law. To gouerne

Mat. xxi. c
De. xi. c

Iere. xxxi. c

Mat. i. d
Luke. iii. d
John. i. d

Judi. i. d
Clap. i.

Wise men.

Note.

To gouerne

nyng and examples.
Worshyp. (d) The Hebrewes do often vse thys worde worshyp for bowyng of reuerence with the inclination and bowyng of the body, as ye haue. Gene. xlii. a. And Reg. xxxix. c.
Herodes swyne. (e) Macchabius, in the fourthe chap. of hys Historiales, maketh mention that Augustus Cesar hearing that Herodes had slayne his owne sonne among the other infantes, sayd: It is better to be Herodes swyne, then his sonne. Meaning that he would not kyll hys swyne, because the Jewes law forbode hys flesch.
Note. (f) Accordyng to the tyme, &c. Here maye be gathered that it was, ii. yeares after the byrth of Christ, yer the wylmen had found him.
Were not. (g) Were not, is as muche to saye, as they remayne not vnto hys. This prophete is one of the hys be verified & fulfilled diuers wayes, & at sundrye tymes, being truly spoken of the al. As appereth by the. cxi. chap. of Jeremy, wher immediately after this prophete is promised the returne of the child, en of Israel fro captiuite.
Parasite. (h) He shalbe called a Parasite. This was spoken of Sampson. But for as much as the holye ghost had ordeyned Sampson to be a figure of Christ, it was necessary that the thynges spoken of him, should be fulfilled in Christ.

The.iii. Chapter.

John being comended for the hardnes of his lyfe, beginneth to set forth the gospell with preachyng and Baptysme. He reproveth the hypocryse of the Pharises, & consayleth the to repent. And Christ being baptised of him, is knowen by a voyce hys came fro above to be hys son of god.

In those daies John hys Baptiste came & preched in the (a) wyldernes of Iurp, sayyng: * Repent, hys kingdom of heuē is at hande. *
 This is he of whom it is spoken by the prophet Esay which sayeth: The voyce of a cryer in wyldernes prepare the Lordes way, and make his pathes straight.

This John had his garment of Camels herre, and a girdell of a skynne aboute hys loynes. * His meate was (b) Locustes and wild hony. Then went oute to hym, Ierusalem and al Iurpe, all the region round about Iordan, and were baptised of him in Iordan, confessyng theyr synnes. &

When he sawe manye of the Pharises and of the Saduces come to hys baptysme, he sayd vnto the: * O generacion of (c) vypers, who hath taught you to flee from the vengeance to come? Brynge forth therefore the frutes belonging to repentance. And se ye once thinke not to saye in your selues: we haue Abraham to our father. For I say vnto you, hys God is able of these stones to raise vp chyldren vnto Abraham. Euen now is the axe put vnto the roote of the trees: so hys every tre which bringeth not forth the good fruit, is hewen downe and cast into the fire.

I baptysse you in water in token of repentance, but he that cometh after me, is myghtyer then I, whose shyes I am not worthy to beare. He shall baptysse you with the holys ghoste and with fyre, whiche hath also hys fan in his hande, and will purge hys floure, and gather the (d) wheat into hys garner, and will burne the chaffe wth vnquencheable fyre. & Then came Iesus from Galyle to Iordan, vnto John to be baptised of hym.

 But John forbad hym, sayyng: I ought to be baptised of the: & comest thou to me? Ie-sus answered and sayd to him: Let it be so now. For thus it becometh vs to fulfil (e) al righteousnes. & he suffered hym. And Iesus asone as he was baptised, came straight out of the water. And lo, heauen was open ouer hym: & John sawe the spirit of God descende lyke a doue, & lyght vpon him. And lo, there came a voyce fro heauen, sayyng: This is my beloued son, in who is my delyte. &

The Notes.

(a) Wyldernes. This wyldernes was not a place altogether voyde of habitacions, but as our forefathers be, smally inhabited.

(b) Locustes after Plinie, are certayne heastes, whiche the Parthians and Ethiopians dyd co-munly vse to eate. Reade the. xi. booke, and xi. chapter. And. xvi. booke, xxx. chapter of Plinie.
 Notwithstandyng some hold opinion that they be toppes or budde of trees or frutes.

(c) Appres are certayne serpentes whose natur is to creepe by hys mouth, wherby hys female biteth of hys males head, & the yong gnaw out the dains bealy. Reade Plinie in hys. x. booke. & xvi. cha.

(d) By wheat and chaffe, are ment good and yl.

(e) Al righteousnes, that is to do. al the ordinaces of god, for such purpose as god ordeined the
 for.

The.iii. Chapter.

Iesus being led into the desert, fasteth, and ouercometh Satans temptacions. Then he goeth to Galyle and preacheth the Gospell, and calling Peter and Andrew, John and Iames to be hys disciples, approueth hys doctryne by healynge miraculously many dyscales.

Then was Iesus (a) led awaye of the spirite into wyldernes, to be tempted of the deuyll. And whē he had fasted. xl. dayes & xl. nightes, he was afterwarde an hūgred. & he came to hym the temptoure, and sayed: if thou be the sonne of God, command that these stones be made bread. He answered & sayde: it is witten, * man shall not lyue by bread onely, but by every word that proce-deth out of the mouth of God.

Then the deuyll toke hym vp into the holpe cypre, and set hym on a pynacle of the temple, and sayd vnto hym: If thou be the sonne of God, cast thy selfe down. * or it is witten, * he shall geue hys aungels charge ouer the, & wth theyr handes they shal hold the vp, & thou shalt not thy foote agaynst a stone. And Iesus sayd to hym, it is witten also. Thou shalt not tempte thy Lord God. The deuyll toke hym vp agayn, & led him into an exceedyng hye mountayn, and shewed him all the kyngdomes of the world, and all the glory of them, and sayde to hym: all these wyll I geue the, if thou wilt fall downe and worshyp me. The said Iesus vnto hym: auoyde Satan. For it is witten, thou shalt worshyp the Lord thy God, and hym onely shalt thou serue.

Then the deuyl left him, and beholde, the angels came and ministered vnto hym. &
 When

Mark. i. b.
 Luke. iii. d.
 John. i. c.
 Mark. i. b.
 Luke. iii. d.
 Esay. lvi. a.
 Mat. xxi. a.
 Luke. iii. d.
 Mark. i. b.
 ii. Pet. i. d.

wyl-
 dernes.

Locustes.

Appres.

Wheat.
 All ryghteousnes.

Mark. i. b.
 Luke. iii. a

Gen. viii. a
 Sap. xvi. c
 Luke. iii. a

Psal. xc. c.

Deut. vi. c.
 Luk. xiii. b.

Deut. vi. c.
 and. x. d.
 i. reg. viii. a

Make. i.
 Luke. iii. a.
 John. iii. a Esay. xl. a.
 and. xlv. c.
 Zacha. i. a
 Mat. iii. a
 Mark. i. a
 John. i. c
 iii. Regum
 xviii. b.
 i. Re. xiii. d

Luke. iii. b

Mat. vii. b
 Luke. iii. c.

Mark. i. a.
 Luke. iii. c.
 John. i. d.

Luke. iii. d.

Luke. iiii. b. When Iesus had hearde that John was taken, he departed into Galyle and lefte Nazareth, and went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is a cite vpon the sea, in the coastes of Zabulon and Neptalim, to fulfill that, which was spoken by Esay the prophet, saying, The land of zabulon & Neptalim, the way of the sea beyonde Jordan, Galyle of the Gentyls, the people whiche sat in darknes, sawe greate lpght, and to them which sat in the region and shadowe of death, light is begon to shyne.

Mat. i. a. From that tyme Iesus began to preach, and to say (b) repent: for the kyngdome of heauen is at hand. Luke. v. a. As Iesus walked by the sea of Galyle, he sawe two brethren: Peter and Simon which was called peter, and Andrew, his brother, casting a net into the sea, for they were fishers: and he said vnto them, folowe me, and I wil make you fyshers of men. And they straightway lefte their nettes, and folowed hym.

And he went forth fro thence, & saw other two brethren, James the sonne of zebede & John hys brother, in the shyp, with zebede his father mendinge theyr nettes, & he called the. And they wpthout taryng lefte the shyp and theyr father, and folowed hym.

Mat. xix. d. And Iesus wente about all Galyle, teaching in theyr synagoges, & preaching the gospel of the kyngdome, and healed al manner of syknes, and al maner of diseases amonge the people. And his fame spreade abroad throughout al Siria. And they brought vnto hym all likke people that were taken wpth dyuers diseases & grippings, & them þ wer possessed wpth deuyls: & those þ wer lunatyke, & those that had the palsy: & he healed the. And ther folowed him a great numbre of people from Ierusalē, & from Turpe, & from the regions that lye beyond Jordan.

The Notes,

Led awaye into wildernes. (a) Led awaye into wyldernes, &c. Not because no man can be tempted of the deuil oute of wyldernes, but because oure Sauoure (who vled to eate and dlyncke indifferently in all mens companye myghte not haue fasted so longe, and so straitely in those partes where he had bene before conuersaunte, wher by the deuyll myght haue iust occasyō to tempt him in such sort as he did.

To repent. (b) To repent is to sorow euē fro þ bottom of þ hert & euer we dyd þ. thynge wherof we repēt. & to endeuoure wā our might to do þ cōtrarie.

Gospell. (c) Gospell is the glad tydynges of the fre merce and redemption thozowe Chryste.

The. v. Chapter.

Here is described þ whol sermō of Chryst, in þ whych fyrst he sheweth what trow blessednes is: & what be the offices of those that shoud be chiefe. After that he declareth the true sence of þ law, by bringyng oute of examples of murder, adultery, swering, & loue of the neighbour.

Mat. xvi. c. When he saw the people, he went vp into a mountayne: & when he was set, his disciples came to him and he opened hys mouthe, and taughte them, sayinge: Blessed are the (a) poore in spyrte: for theyr is the kyngdome of heauen. Blessed are they that moorne, for they shal be comforted. Blessed are the meke for they shal enherit the earth. Blessed are they which (b) hunger and thyrst for ryghtuousnes: for they shal be filled. Blessed are þ merciful, for they shal obtain mercy. Blessed are þ pure in herte: for they shal se God. Blessed are the (c) peacemakers: for they shal be called the children of God. Blessed are they whiche suffer (d) persecucion for ryghtuousnes sake, for theyr is the kyngdome of heauē. Blessed are ye when men reuile you, & persecut you, & shal falsely say al maner euill sayinges agaynst you for my sake. Reioyce & be glad, for great is your reward in heauē. For so persecuted they þ prophetes which were before your dayes. Ye are the salte of the earth: but if the salt haue lost her saltnes, what can be salted therewyth? It is thenceforth good for nothyng, but to be cast out, and to be trode vnder fote of men. Ye are the lpghte of the worlde. A cite that is set on an hil, can not be hid, neither do me light a candle and put it vnder a bushel, but on a candellsticke, and it lpghteth all that are in the house. Lette poure lpght so shyne before men, that they may se poure good woorkes, and glorifye your father which is in heauen.

Think not that I am come to destroy þ law or þ prophetes: no I am not come to destroy the, but to fulfill them. For truly I saye vnto you, tyll heauen and earthe perishe, one iote or one tittle of the lawe shal not escape, tyll al be fulfilled.

Whosoever breaketh one of these leaste commaundementes, and teacheth men so, he shal be called the least in the kyngedome of heuen. But whosoever (e) obserueth and techeth the same, shal be called greate in the kyngdome of heauen.

For I say vnto you, except your ryghtuousnes excede the rightuousnes, of the scribes and pharises, ye can not enter into the kyngdome of heauen.

Ye haue hearde howe it was sayed vnto them of the old tyme: Thou shalt not kyll. For whosoever kylleth, shal be in daunger of iudgement. But I say vnto you, whosoever is angry wpth his brother wthoute a cause, shal be in daunger of iudgemente. Whosoever sayth to his brother (f) Racha shal be in dāger of a coucel. But whosoever saith thou foole, shal be in dāger of hel fire.

Therefore when thou (g) offerest thy gyfte at the altare, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought agaynst the: leue there thy offering before the altare, and goo thy way fyrst and be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gyfte.

Agre wpth thynne aduersary quickly, whiles thou art in the way wpth hym, lest that thy aduersary deliuer the to the iudge, and the iudge delpyer th. to the mynister, & then thou be cast into prysen. I say vnto the verely: thou shalt not come out thence, til thou hast payed the vttermoste farthyng.

Ye

Ier. xxi. a.

i. Pet. ii. c. iii. c. iiii. c.

Act. v. c.

Salt.

Mar. ix. e. Luk. xiii. a. lpghte.

Mar. iiii. e. Luk. viii. b. and. xi. c. Mat. vi. a. i. Pet. ii. b.

Luk. xvi. d. Esay. xi. a. Lu. xvi. b. Iacob. ii. b. Esay. xlviii. b.

Exod. xx. c. xxi. b. Deute. v. b. Leui. xxi. c. Racha.

Well spze. Job. xlii. b. Gala. i. b. Reconcp. lpgte.

Luke. xii. f. Ro. xxi. c.

E Ye haue hearde howe it was said to them of old tyme: Thou shalt not commit adultery. But I say vnto you, that whosoever loketh on a wyfe lustynge after hir, hath comitted adultery with hir alredy in his hert.

Wherfore if thy right eye offende the (h) plucke him out, & cast hym fro. Better it is for þ that one of thy members perishe, then that thy hole bodye shoulde be cast into hel. Also if thy right hand offend the, cut him of and caste hym from the. Better it is that one of thy members perishe, then that thy hole bodye shoulde be cast into hell.

It is sayed, whosoever putteth awaye his wyfe let him geue her a testimonial also of the deuorcement. But I saye vnto you, whosoever putteth awaye his wyfe (excepte it be for fornicacion) causeth her to breake matymonpe. And whosoever marrieth her that is deuorced, breaketh wedlocke.

Again ye haue heard how it was sayed to them of olde tyme, thou shalt not forswear thy selfe, but shalt performe thyne othe to god. But I say vnto you, sweare not at al, nether by heuē, for it is gods seat: nor by the earth, for it is hys fote stole: ne ther by Iherusalem, for it is the citie of that great kynge: nether shalt thou sweare by thy heade: because thou canst not make one whyte heare or blacke. But poure comunicaciō shalbe, pea, pea: nay nay. For whatsoeuer is more the þ, cometh of euil.

Ye haue hearde howe it is sayed: an eye for an eye, a tothe for a toth. But I say to you, that perespe not wronge. But whosoever geueth the a blow on thy right cheke, turn to hym the other. And if any man wyl sue the at the law, and take away thy cote, let hym haue thy cloake also. And whosoever wyl compell the to go a myle, go with hym twayne. Geue to him that axeth, and from him that woulde borowe tourne not away.

Ye haue heard how it is said: thou shalt loue thy neighbour, and (i) hate thine enemye. But I say vnto you, loue your enemies, Blesse them that curse you. Do good to them that hate you. pray for them whiche do you wronge and persecute you, that ye maye be the chyldren of your father that is in heauen: for he maketh hys sunne to aryse on the euil, and on the good, sendeth hys rayne on the iust and vniuste. For if ye loue them whych loue you: what rewarde shal ye haue? Do not the publicāns euē so? And if ye be frendely to your brethren only what singular thyng do ye? Do not the publicāns likewise? Ye shall therefore be perfect, euē as your father whych is in heauē, is perfect.

The Notes.

(a) Doye in spirit are such as let not there care vpon the gettinge or keepinge of ryches, but labour diligentliue in thyr vocation, because god hath commaunded so. And if the ryches of the world chaunce to the, they receyue it w thāke: & endeuoure to vse it as God hath comaunded.

(b) To hunger and thurst for righteousnesse, is to be as desirous of the right vnderstanding of þ word of God, and the framing of oure lyfe to þ

Exod. xii. c.
Ecc. xli. c.
Iob. xxi. c.
Adoutp.
Mar. ix. g.
Deut. xlii. a.
Wpghte
Mark. ix.
Right hād
Deut. xlii. a.
math. xli. b.
Deuorced-
ment.
Mar. x. b.
Luk. xxi. d.
6. Cor. vi. b.
Lew. xix. c.
Exo. xx. b.
Deut. v. b.
Iaco. v. c.
Swere.
Exo. xxi. c.
Deut. xxi. c.
Lew. xxi. c.
Right
cheke.
Lew. xix. d.
Leuit. vi. d.
Ro. xi. xli. c.
Cent. lli. c.
Luke. vi. d.
Publicāns.
Leut. xix. a.
Doye in spirit.
Hunger.

same: as the bodye is of meate and drinke.

(c) Peace makers are called the chyldren of god, Peace was not only þ makers of outward & worldly peace, but cheefly þ peace makers of þ cōscience, who do by the cōfortable promises of the scriptures, make attēment betwene god & our conscience.

(d) God rewardeth hys faithfull seruantes, not because they be persecutes, but because the persecution cometh for hys sake.

(e) This obseruynge & teaching, is not of þ outward letter: but of þ spirit. Which who lo obserueth & teacheth, shal be great in þ kyngdome of God: That is, myghty in preachynge the word of God. For hys dedes and wordes shal preach both one thyng. That is declared by that that foloweth: Except your righteousness. &c.

(f) Racha after Chrysostome, is a word of þ Syrians speche, by which is shewed that the mind is moued to anger. But vnder this word foole, doeth S. Augustine & Chrysostome vnderstande all intyre, opprobriouse and despitful wordes.

(g) This offerynge is mēcioned in Paul. Ro. xii. (h) To plucke out the eye, is to mortifye the concupiscence of the herte, proceeding by the meannes of the eye. And lykewise to cut of handes & fete, as Math. xviii. b. Mar. ix. g.

(i) Hate thyne enemye. This had the pharises added to the commaundemente, because of that they found wyrtten Exod. xxiii. b. Deut. vii. a. Iosue. xxi. c. concernynge the haung of no familiarity wth the Gentyles.

The vi. Chapter.

He teacheth vs to geue almes to pore men. He sheweth a maner of fastinge & prayng. He forbiddeth courtesies, shewynge ther w whych be the true treasures, and how perillous it is to study to gather ryches. He taketh away distrust declarynge how great the prouidence of god the father is toward vs.

Make hede to poure almes, that ye geue it not in the spghte of men to the intente that ye woulde be sene of them. Or els ye get no rewarde of your father whiche is in heauen. When soeuer therfore thou geueste thyne almes, thou shalt not make a trumpet to be blowne before the, as the hypocrites do in the sinagoges and in the stretes, for to be prapled of men. Verelpe I saye vnto you, they haue theyr rewarde. But when thou doest thyne almes, let not thy (a) left hand know what thy right hād doth, that thine almes may be secrete: and thy father which seeth in secrete, shal reward the openly. And when thou praisest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are. For they loue to stande and praye in the sinagoges, and in the corners of the stretes because they woulde be sene of men. Verelpe I saye vnto you, they haue theyr reward. But when thou prayest (b) enter into thy chamber, & shut thy doore to the, and praye to thy father which is in secrete: and thy father whiche seeth in secrete, shal rewarde the openly.

And when ye praye, bable not muche as the heathen do: for they thynke that they shal be herd for theyr muche babylng sake. Be ye not like the therfore. For your father knoweth wheredof ye haue nede, before ye are of him. After this maner therfore praye ye.

(c) Our father whiche art in heauen, ha lowed

Peace makers.
Racha.
Offeringe.
To plucke
out the eye.
Hate thyne
enemye.
Almes.
Luk. xi. d.
Trumpet.
Prayer.
iii. Regum.
xviii. d.
Esa. xli. c.
Luke. xi. a.
Actes. x. a.
Esa. i. b.
Babylng.
Ro. viii. d.
Luke. xi. a.

The Pa-
ter noster.

lowed be thy name (d) Let thy kyngdome come (e) Thy will be fulfilled as well in earth, as it is in heauen. (f) Geue vs thys day our daily bread. (g) And forgeue vs our trespasses, euē as we forgeue our trespassers. (h) And lead vs not into tēptacyō. (i)

Mar. xi. c
Eccl. xvi. f Louenaut.
mat. xvi. d
Mar. i. c

But deliuer vs from euyl. For thynne is the kyngdome and the power, & the glorie for euer, Amen. For and if ye shall forgeue other men theyr trespasses, your heavenly father shall also forgeue you. But & ye wil not forgeue mē theyr trespasses, nomore shall your father forgeue your trespasses.

Eccl. lvi. i.
Math. ix. b
Fastyng.

Moreover (k) whē ye fast, be not sad as the hypocrites ar. For they disfigure their faces, that they might be sene of men, how they fast: verely I say vnto you, they haue theyr reward. But thou, whē thou fastest, annoynt thine head, & washe thy face, that it appear not vnto men, how that thou fastest: but vnto thy father whiche is in secrete, and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thy openly.

Luk. xii. d
Eccl. xix. b
pro. xiii. a Treasure.
Jere. xxi. a
Luk. xii. a

Se that ye gather you not trespure vpon the earth, where rust and mothes corrupt, and where theues breake through & steale.
But gather ye treasure together in heauē, wher neither rust nor mothes corrupte, and wher theues neither breake vp nor pet steal. For wher soeuer your trespure is, ther will your hertes be also. k

Luk. xi. c

The (l) light of thy bodye is thynne eye.
Wherfore if thynne eye be single, all thy body shall be full of lpyght. But and if thine eye be wicked, then all thy body shall be full of darknes. Wherfore if the light that is in the be darknes: how great is þ darknes?

Darkenes.

Two maysters.
Lu. xvi. c
Luk. xii.
Psa. lvi. c
Luk. xii. c
I. Pet. v. a

No man can serue two masters, for ey-ther he shall hate the one & loue the other: yea or elsse he shall leane to the one and dispyse the other. Ye cannot serue God and Mammon. Therfore I saye vnto you (m) be not carefull for your lyfe, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drynke, nor yet for your bodye, what ye shall put on: Is not the lyfe more worth then meate? And the body of more value then rayment? Behold the foules of the ayer, for they sowe not,
nether reape, nor yet cary into the barnes:
and yet your heavenly father feedeth them.
Are ye not muche better then they?

Foules.

Lu. xii. a

Which of you (though he toke thought therefore,) could put one cubit vnto his stature? And whye care ye then for rayment?
Consydre the lilies of the fiede, how they growe. They labour not, nether spynne.
And yet for all that, I saye vnto you, that euē Salomon in all hys royalte was not arrayed lyke vnto one of these.

Lilies.

Wherfore if God so clothe the grasse, whych is to daye in the fiede, and to mo-rowe shall be cast into the fornace: Shall he not much more do the same vnto you, o ye of lytle fapth?

Therfore take no thought saying: what shall we eat? or what shall we drynke? or wherewith shall we be clothed? After all these thynges seeke the gentiles. For your heauēly father knoweth that ye haue nede of all these things. But rather seke ye first the kyngdome of heauen, and the ryghtuousnes therof, and all these thynges shall be ministred vnto you. k

Kyngdome
of heauen.
iii. Re. iii. b

Care not then for the morow, but let the morowe care for it self: for the day present hath euer ynough of hys owne trouble.

The Notes.

(a) Let not thy left hande &c. By thys left hand is ment the fleshy phantasy, whych wold haue all thynges done to the pomp of þ world. She must not therfore knowe of þ works of þ spirit.

Left hand.

(b) This entring into thy chambre & shutting of thy doore, to praye in secrete: is to declare that true prayer is the secrete lyfing vp of the herte vnto God, all worldly phantasies put out of þ minde. For it is the crye of the heart that soundeth in the eares of the Lorde. The lyke is in Eccl. the. xvi. chapter. d

Enter into thy chamber.

(c) Allowed be thy name. That is, let al them that professe thy name, lyue holie as thou art holye, and so shall thy name be sanctified in the.

Fynde peti-
ti. n.

(d) Thy kyngdome come &c. That is, the tyme when thy sonne shall surrender by kyngdome vnto the. As it is. i. Co. xv. This kyngdome is also mentioned in the. viii. to the Romanes in
d. where is declared that all creatures desyre þ day as þ tyme of thir rest, perpetual laboure.

ii. Petition

(e) Thy will be done, &c. By this petition muste alwayes be the ende of all oure prayers and petitions, accordyng to the example of oure Sa-uioure in the. xvi. of Mathew. Wher he desyreth to be deliuered from the dolorous death of the Crosse.

iii. petition

(f) Geue vs this day, &c. By this petition we ar admonished, that all we receiue in this life is þ mere gifte of God, though it seme to chaunce vnto vs by oure owne labour or otherwyle.

iiii. petition

(g) Forgeue vs our trespass. &c. This petition teacheth vs to do, as we should be done by.

v. petition.

(h) Lead vs nat &c. By this petition we are admonished of our weakenes, howe farre vnable we are to stande fast, yf God should proue vs, as he dyd Abraham: or suffer the Deuill to trye vs as he dyd Job.

vi. petition

(i) But deliuer vs, &c. This petition declareth mannes weakenes to be enuironed, and beset on euery syde with euill, that is: the wicked concupiscence of the fleshe, the vayne desyres of the world, and the subtile suggestyons of the serpente. From the whych God on ly deliuereth.

vii. petition.

(k) When ye fast &c. Here is to be noted that fastyng is thre sorte. One is hypocritic: & h the our Sauour reprehendeth in the Phariseis, as vayne, and to be rewarded with the vayne praysle of the world. The other two are Gods lye, and are rewarded accordyng to the cause they procede of. The one procede of meete, when we sayntie the neadye, that wee refrepne our owne food to geue it vnto them, and that is rewarded with the man. fold merces of god towards vs. Eccl. lvi. The other procede of Godly care to subdue the fleshe to the spirit, that the heart maye continuallye crye vnto the Lorde with charitable prayer. And this is rewarded with the plentuous fulfillinge of all oure necessities, Eccl. xvi. c

Fasting.

(l) The light, &c. This light is knowlege, which if it be worldly, is ignorance before God. i. Co rinth. i.

The lyght.

(m) Be not careful, &c. Here is not forbidden þ honest

honest prouisyon that men make for themselves & their families (for Dauid sayeth that suche as make not thys prouisyon with their labour, are worse then Infydels) but the miserable feare to lacke: which declareth vs to thinke that God is not carefull for vs.

(u) The kyngdome. &c. Thys ryghteousnes can no man seke that labourerth not in hys vocacio.

The vii. Chapter.

He forbyddeth rather iudgements of other mens fautes. He exhorteth to continual praye: & sheweth the summe of the law, the way of saluation, and how to knowe false prophetes. Last of al, he sheweth that the worde of God not only must be heard, but also expressed in dedes.

Judge (a) not, that ye be not iudged. For as ye iudge, so shal ye be iudged. And wpth what measure ye mete, wpth the same shal it be measured to you agayne. Whye seekest thou a mote in thy brothers eye, & perceuest not the beame that is in thynne owne eye? Or why sayest thou to thy brother: suffer me to plucke out the mote out of thine eye, and beholde a beame is in thynne owne eye? Hypocrite, fyrste caste oute the beame out of thynne owne eye, and then shalt thou see clearelye to plucke out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

Beue (b) not þ whych is holy to dogges, neither caste ye your pearles before swine: least they tread them vnder theyr fete, and the other turne agayne and all to rent you.

Are and it shalbe geuen you. Seke and ye shall fynd. Knocke and it shalbe opened vnto you. For whosoever aareth, receiueth: & he that seeketh, fyndeth, and to hym that knocketh, it shalbe opened. Is there anye man amonge you which if hys sonne axed hym breade, would offer hym a stone? Or if he axed fysh, would he proffer hym a serpe? If ye then whych are euill, can geue your chyldren good gyftes, howe muche more shal your father whych is in heauen, geue good thynges to them that are hym.

Therefore whatsoeuer ye would that men should do to you, even so do ye to the. This is the lawe and the prophetes.

Enter in at the straighe gate: for wyde is the gate and brode is the waye that leadeth to destruction, & many ther be whiche go in therat. But strait is the gate, & narrowe is the way whiche leadeth vnto lyfe, and fewe there be that fynde it.

Beware of false (c) prophetes which come to you in shepes clothynge, but inwardlye they are rauenyng wolues. Ye shall knowe them by theyr frutes. Do men gadie grapes of thornes, or fygges of byers? Euen so euery good tree bringeth forth good frute. But a corrupt tre, bringeth forth euil frute. A good tree can not bring forth bad frute: nor yet a bad tre can bring forth good frute. Euery tree that bringeth not forth the good frute shall be hewen downe, and cast into the fyre. Wherefore by theyr frutes ye shall knowe them.

Not all they that say vnto me, Master,

Master, shall enter into the kyngedome of heauen: but he that doeth my fathers wpll which is in heauen. & Many wil saye to me in that day, Master, Master, haue we not in thy name prophesied? And in thy name haue caste oute deuylls? And in thy name haue done many miracles? And then wpll I knowlege vnto the, that I neuer knewe theym. Departe from me, ye workers of iniquyte.

Whosoever heareth of me these sayings and doeth the same, I wpll lpyken hym vnto a wise mā which (d) builde his house on a rocke, and aboundaunce of raine descended, and the flouds came, and the windes blew, and bet vpon that same house, and it felie not, because it was grounde on the rocke. And whosoever heareth of me these sayings and doeth them not, shalbe likened vnto a folsh man which builde his house vpon the sand: and aboundaunce of raine descended, and the flouds came, and the windes blew and bet vpon that house, and it fel, and great was the fall of it.

And it came to passe, that when Iesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonysed at hys doctryne. For he taught them as one (e) hadyng power and not as the Scribes.

The Notes. (a) Judge not, &c. Suche is the righteousness of God, that he wpll punyssh with the same: thynge that the offence is committed with all. As is mencioned in þ booke of Mysdome the. xi. Chapter. & Math. xvi. & So that if we mysdome othervpon lyght occasions, we shal in lyke maner be iudged of other. If we shewe smalle mercye, we shal fynd as litle. &c.

(b) Beue not, &c. Thys holy thyng, is the worde of God. The Dogges are the obstinate blynded whiche are ready to persecute al suche as go a-boute to instructe the. And swyne are such as deuyllish in folsh lpyng so muche, that if they be any tyme inforced to leaue theyr puddle: yet wpll they incontynente retorne to the same.

(c) Beware of false prophetes, &c. False prophetes are preachers that peruerse & wrest the word of God. Shepeshannes, signify the apperance of outward holynes, & auenynge wolues are hypocrites that delie in persecution, and murthering of innocent bloude. Act. xx. f.

(d) Whosoever heareth, &c. Thys similitude of buildinge declareth that we shoulde grounde our conscience vpon none other foundation, but the sure rocke of Gods worde.

(e) As one hadyng power, &c. This power is þ spirit of prophete, whiche appeared not in the Iherusalem. For they buyld altogether vpon old fathers constitucio.

The viii. Chapter.

Christ healing þ leaper by miracle, the mā that had the palsy, Peters mother in law, & many other, shewed the proues of his diuinitie, and of the power of fayth in hym: & also appoynting the tempest by and by with hys worde, and calling the deuils into hys gydes. And amonge these thynges he sheweth what mynde he woulde haue them to be of that folow hym.

When he was come downe frō the mountayne, muche people folowed hym. And lo, ther came a leper and worshipped hym say-

Master, Master. Luk xlii. Actes. xix. f

Mat. vi. b. mat. xvi. a. Luke. vi. e. Roma. ii. b

Jacob ii. b. Exod. xlii.

Mar. i. b. Luk. iiii. d

Judge not.

Beue not.

False prophetes.

Building.

Power.

Luke. vi. Roma. ii. a. Mar. iii. c. Luke. vi. a.

pro. xvi. c.

Pl. xviii. a.

Iere. xxi. Consequentes.

John. xvi. c. Luk. xi. b. Gene. vi. a.

Eccl. xxi. b. Tob. iiii. c. Lawe and prophetes. Luk. vi. c. Luk. xiii. c. Strait gate. Deu. xiii. a.

Luk. vi. c. Mat. xii. d. Iere. xi. c. Mar. iii. a. Luke. iii. b. Mat. xxi. a. Luk. vi. c. and, xiii. c.

Mar. i. b. Luk. v. b ing: Master, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane. And Jesus put forth his hande and touched him, sayinge: I will be thou cleane, and immediatly his leprosie was clenched. And Jesus sayde vnto hym: Se thou tel no man, but go and shewe thy self to the prieste, and offer the (a) gyfte that Moses commaunded in wytnes to theim.

the Lepour
Act. xiii. a.
Luk. vii. a.
John. iiii.

When Jesus was entred into Capernaum, ther came vnto hym a certayne Centurion, and besought hym sayinge: Mayster my seruaunte lyeth speke at home of the palsey, and is greuously payned. And Jesus sayde vnto hym: I will come and heale hym. The Centurion answered and sayde: Syr, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come vnder my rofe, but speake the worde onely, and my seruaunte shall be healed. For I also my selfe am a man vnder power, and haue souldiers vnder me: and I saye to one go, and he goeth, and to another come, and he cometh, and to my seruaunte, do thys, and he doeth it. When Jesus hearde that, he merueled and sayed to them that folowed hym: Verely I saye vnto you, I haue not found so great fayth no not in Israel. I saye therfore vnto you that manye shall come from the East and west, and (b) shall rest wpth Abram, Isaac, and Jacob in the kyngdome of heauen: & the chyldren of the kyngdome shall be cast out into vtter darckenes: there shall be weppinge and gnashynge of tethe. When Jesus sayed vnto the Centurion, go thy way, and as thou beleuest, so be it vnto the. And his seruaunt was healed, the selfe houre.

The Centurion.
Isai. xli. c.

And then Jesus went to Peters house, and sawe his wyues mother lyinge speke of a fever, and touched hir hande, and the fever left hyr: and she arose, and mynystred vnto them.

Mar. x. c.
Luk. viii. c.

When the euen was come, they brought vnto hym many that wer possessed with deuyls. And he caste out the spirites wpth a worde, and healed all that were speke, too fulfyll that whiche was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying. He toke on hym oure infirmities, and bare our synkenesses.

Mar. i. d.
Luk. xiii. d.

When Jesus sawe muche people about hym: he commaunded to go ouer the water. And there came a scribe and sayed vnto hym: master, I will folowe the whither so ever thou goest. And Jesus sayd vnto hym: the foxes haue holes, and the byrdes of the ayre haue nestes, but the (c) sonne of man hath not wherein to reste his heade. Another that was one of his Dysciples sayed vnto hym: master suffer me first to go & bury my father. But Jesus sayd vnto him, folow me: & let the deade (d) bury theyr dead.

Luk. ix. f

And he entred into a shyp, and his Dysciples folowed hym. And beholde there arose a greate tempest in the sea, in so much that the shyppe was couered wpth waues and he was a slepe. And his dysciples came vnto hym, and awoke hym, saying: master saue vs, we perishe. And he sayed vnto the

Mar. xiii. a.
Luk. viii. d.

Jesus slepeth in the shyp.

whye are ye feareful, O ye of lytle fayeth? Then he arose, and rebuked the wyndes & the sea, and there folowed a greate calme. And the men maruailed and sayed: what man is thys, that both wyndes and sea obey hym? &

And when he was come to the othet syde into the countrey of the Bergesites, ther mete hym two possessed of deuyls, whiche came oute of the graues, and were oute of measure feare, so that no manne myghte go by that waye. And behold they cried out sayinge: O Jesu the sonne of God, what haue we to do wpth the? Art thou come hither to tormente vs before (e) the tyme be come? And there was a good waye of from them a greate herde of swyne fedynge. The deuyls besoughte hym saying: if thou caste vs out, suffer vs to go oure waye into the herde of swyne. And he sayed vnto the: go your wayes. Then wente they out and departed into the heard of swyne. And beholde the whole hearde of swyne was carryed wpth violence headlong into the sea, and perished in the water. Then the heard men fled and wente theyr wayes into the citie, and tolde euery thyng, and what had fortunied vnto the possessed of the deuyls. And beholde al the citie came out and met Jesus, and when they sawe hym, they besoughte hym for to departe oute of theyr coastes.

The Notes.
(a) Offer thy gyfte. &c. Thys is gyfts mentioned in the xiii. of Leuiticus in the letter. B. And Chyist commaunded the Lepet to offer it, as a wytnes to the priestes that he woulde not haue one tote of the lawe left vndone tyl it were fulfilled in hym.

(b) Shall rest. &c. To rest with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, is to be of the same fayth and hope that they were. The chyldren of the kyngdome are the people of the Jewes. Utter darckenes, is ignorance of gods misteries. Gnashynge of tethe is payne, the grefe wherof cannot be expressed wth tounge. The east and west, are all the partes of the world.

(c) The sonne of manne, is a name muche vbled amonge the prophetes, and communely geuen vnto them that shoulde consyder and rebuke synnes of the people. Wherefore Chyiste to declare hym selfe to be no lesse then a prophete, & yet to be a very naturall man, calleth hymselfe to be the sonne of man.

(d) Let the deade bury the deade: is as muche to saye, as let such as endeuoure not to folow my doctryne, wthout whiche no soule lyueth, bury the deade carcases: wherunto they may ryght well be compared.

(e) The tyme wherin the wycked spyrites shall be tormented, is the daye of Iudgement.

The ix. Chapter.
Chyist healeth him that was speke of palsey. He taketh Mathew & the publican to be one of his disciples, & rebuketh the counterfet holines of the Pharisees, & of Johns disciples whiche stode in outward things. He healeth a woman that was speke of a bloody flux, he restoreth a madden that was deade to lyfe, healeth the dumman and hym that was possessed of the deuyll, he rebuketh the Pharisees that murmured agaynst hym, and hath pitie of the people.

Job. xxi. b.
Isai. xvi. d.

D
Mar. v. a.
Luk. viii. d.
Bergesites.

ii. Cor. vi. e.
Math. v.

Actes. xvi. c.

The gyftes

To rest.

Sonne of man.

The deade.

The tyme

Mar. ii. a.
Luke. v. d.
John. v. d.

When he entred into a shippe and passed ouer, and came into hys owne citie. And lo they brought to hym a mā sicke of the palsey, lying in his bed. And when Iesus sawe the faythe of them, he sayde to the syncke of the palsey: sonne be of good cheare, thy synnes be forgiven the. And behold certayne of the scribes said in thē selues: this man blasphemeth. And whē Iesus sawe their thoughtes, he sayde: wherefore thynke ye euill in your hertes. Whether is easier to saye, thy synnes be forgiven the, or to saye: arise and walke. (a) That ye maye knowe that the sonne of man hath power to forgeue sins in earth, then sayde he vnto the syncke of the palsey: arise, take vp thy bedde, and go home to thy house. And he arose and departed to hys owne house. And when the people sawe it, they maruailed and glorified God whiche had geuen suche (b) power too menne.

Actes. ix. f.
and. iii. a.

Mar. ii. b.
Luke. v. f.
and. xv. a.
Mathew.

And as Iesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man sit, receiuinge of custome, named Mathew, and sayde to hym: folow me. And he arose and folowed him. And it came to passe, as he sat at meate in the house: behold manye publicans and sinners came and satte downe also wpth Iesus and hys Disciples.

When the pharises saw that, they said to hys Disciples: whye eateth your master with publicans and synners. When Iesus hearde that, he sayde vnto them: The whole nede not the phisicion, but they that are syncke. So and (c) learn what that meaneth: I haue pleasure in mercede, and not in offerpunge. For I am not come too call the ryghteous but synners vnto repentance.

Mat. vi. b.
Mar. xii. a.
1. Tim. i. f.

Then came the disciples of Ihon to hym sayinge: why do we and the pharises fast oft: but thy disciples fast not? And Iesus sayd vnto them. Can the wedding chylde moune as long as the bydegrome is with them? The tyme wyl come when the bydegrome shal be taken from them, and then (d) shall they fast. No man pieceth an olde garmente wpth a peice of new cloth. For the taketh he away the peice again from the garment & the rent is made greater. Neither do men put newe wine into old vessels, for then the vessels breake, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels perishe. But they poure newe wyne into newe vessels, and so are bothe saued together.

Act. ii. b.

Mar. v. b.
Luke. xii. c.
Lew. xv. d.

Whyles he thus spake vnto them, behold ther came a certayne ruler, and worshipped hym sayinge: my doughter is euen nowe deceased, but come and laye thy hand on hir, and she shal lyue. And Iesus arose & folowed him with his Disciples. And behold, a woman whych was dysceased with an issue of bloude. xii. yeres, came behinde hym & touched the hem of his vesture. For she sayde in hir selfe: if I may touch but euen his vesture onlpe, I shal be safe. Then Iesus turned him about and beheld her, sayinge. Doughter be of good comfort, thy (e) faythe hath made the safe. And she was made whole euen that same houre.

And when Iesus came into the rulers house, and sawe the mynstrels and the people raginge, he saide vnto them: Gette you hence, for the mayde is not deade, but sleepe. And they laughed hym to scoorne. As sone as the people were putte forth, he wente in and toke her by the hand, and the mayde arose. And this was noised through out al that land.

Mar. v. a.
Luk. vii. f.
John. xii. d.

And as Iesus departed thence, two blind men folowed hym crying and sayinge: O thou sonne of Dauid haue mercede on vs. And when he was come home, the bynde came to hym. And Iesus sayde vnto them. (f) Beleue ye that I am able to do thys? And they sayde vnto him: yea Lorde. Then touched he theyr eyes, sayinge: accordyng to your fayth, be it vnto you. And their eyes were opened. And Iesus charged them, sayinge: Se that no manne knowe of it. But they assone as they were departed, spred abroad hys name throughtout al the lande.

As they were come oute, beholde a dumme man possessed of a deuill, was broughte too him. And as sone as the deuill was cast out, the dumme spake: And the people merueiled, sayinge: it was neuer so sene in Israel. But the pharises sayd: he casteth out deuils, by the power of the chiefe deuill.

Mark. vii. e
Luk. xi. b.
Dumme.
Mar. vi. a.
Chiefe.
Deuill.
Luk. xii. b.
ez. xxi. i. a.
Mar. v. d.
Luk. x. a.

And Iesus wente aboute all cytyes and townes teachyng in theyr synagoges and preachyng the gladde tydings of the kingdome, and healyng al manner sicknes and disease amonge the people. But when he saw the people, he had compassion on them because they were pyned awape, and scattered abroad euen as shepe hauing no shepherde.

Then sayed he to hys Disciples (g) the haruest is greate but the labourers are few. Wherefore praye the Lord of the haruest to sende forth labourers into his haruest.

1. Cor. iii. a

The Notes.

- (a) This myracle shal be a signe vnto you, that I haue power to forgeue synne.
(b) The Jewes takyng Ihesu to be none other but man: glorified God whiche had geuen suche power vnto men, as was the healyng of the syncke, whiche was comunely geuen vnto al the prophetes, as a confirmation of their doctryne. But the chiefe thyng to be noted here, is that suche as haue this power, haue also power too remitt syn. For he heled the syncke, that therby they might knowe he had power to remitt syn. This remitting of syn therfore is the certifying of the conscience of the synner that his syns be forgiven.
(c) Learne what thys meaneth. By this was declared that the repentant wil seke to do the workes of mercy (omitting wherof he shal be charged at the later day) & not to appeale the wrath of god with sacrifice, for that must be the worke of such one as is already iust and perfect, & not of the synner that seeketh for iustice thowgh christ.
(d) This is no superstitious fast upon prescript dayes, but suche as is mentioned in the Actes the xxvii. Chap. and in other places of the Epistles.

That ye may knowe power is to men.

Learne. etc.

They shall faste.

It

Fayeth.

(c) It is the phrase of speache to saye that the thyng which made vs apte to receiue any benefit, gaue vs the benefyte. The fayth of the woman healed hir not: but made hir apt to be healed of Christ. Euen so when we saye that fayth onely iustifyeth, we meane that fayth onely ma-keth vs apte to receiue iustyce from God by Christ, and for Christes sake.

Beleeue ye.
sc.

(f) This questiō declareth that faith prepareth and maketh vs meete to receiue Goddes benefites. And the charge he gaue them, not to tell any man of it, declareth that he would not haue vs reioyce in temporall benefytes as that was.
And they? spreadyng abrode of the thyng, declareth that they sought þ̄ glory of God, whose power they had afore confessed to be in Christ.

The heruest

(g) The heruest is the heretes of men prepared to receiue the worde, as it appereth of the Samaritane. John. iiii. f

The .i. Chapter.

Christ sendeth forth his twelue disciples to preache his worde, hauynge power to do miracles, with warnynges and commaundementes, what they shoulde do, and what they shoulde beware of, what rewardes they shoulde looke for of the worlde, and contrary what of God.
Besyde this he sheweth what rewardes they shoulde haue that receiue them, and howe they shoulde be mynded that folow hym.

Mark. iii. b
and. vi. a
Lu. vi. b.
ix. a. r. r. a.
Apostles
are sent.

And he called his .xii. disciples vnto him, and gaue them power ouer vncleane spirites, to cast the oute, and to heale all maner of sickneses, and al maner of diseases. The names of the .xii. Apostles are these. The first Simon called also Peter: and Andrew hys brother. James the sonne of Zebede, & John his brother: Philip and Bartholomew, Thomas and Mathew the publican, James the sonne of Alphe, and Lebbeus, otherwyle called Thaddeus. Simon of Cane, and Judas Iscarioth, which also betrayed hym.

Luk. ix. a.

These .xii. sent Iesus, and commaunded them, sayinge: (a) Go not into the wayes that leade to the Gentyles, and into the cities of the Samaritanes enter ye not. But go rather to the losse shepe of the house of Israel. So and preache, sayinge that the kingdome of heauen is at hande. Heal the sicke, cleanse the lepers, rapse the dead, cast out the deuyls. Frely ye haue receyued, frely geue agayne. Possesse not golde, nor syluer, or brasse in poure gyrdles, nor yet scrip towardes poure iourney: neither two coates, neither shues, nor yet a staffe. For the workman is worthy to haue hys meat.
Into whatsoeuer citie, or towne ye shall come, enquire who is worthy in it, & there abide tyll ye (b) go thence.

Acte. xiii. e.
and. xvi. a

And when ye come into an house, salute thesame: and if the house be worthy, your peace shall come vpon it. But if it be not worthy, your peace shall retourne to you agayne.

B And whosoever shall not receiue you, nor wll heare your preachyng, when ye depart out of that house or that citie, shak of the dust of your fete. Truly I saye vnto

Luke. x. a.

you: it shalbe (c) easier for þ̄ lād of zodoma and Gomorra in the daye of iudgemente, then for that citie.

Mat. xiii. d
Lu. xxi. b.
Jho. xvi. a.

Behold I send you forth as shepe among wolves. Be ye therefore (d) wyle as serpentes, and innocēt as doves. Beware of mē, for they shall delpuey you vp to the coun-cels, and shall scourge you in theyr syna-goges. And ye shalbe broughte to the head rulers and kynges for my sake, in wytnes to them and to the Gentyles.

Luke. xii. b.
and. xxi. b
John. v. d.
mych. vii. a.

But when they deliuer you (e) take no thought, howe or what ye shall speake, for it shalbe geuen you, euen in þ̄ same houre, what ye shall saye. For it is not ye that speake, but the spirit of your father which speaketh in you.

The brother shall betraye the brother to death, and the father the sonne. And the chyl dren shall aryse agaynst their fathers and mothers, and shall put them to death:
and ye shall be hated of all menne for my name. But he that endureth to the ende, shalbe saued.

When they persecute you in one citie, flee into another. I tell you for a truthe, ye shall not finishe all the cities of Israel till the sonne of man be come. The discypple is not aboue his maister, nor yet the seruant aboue his Lord. It is ynough for the discyple to be as his maister is: and that the ser-uaunt be as his Lorde is. If they haue called the Lorde of the house (f) Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of hys housholde so? Feare not therefore.

Mat. xxiii. a
Jere. i. a.
Mat. ii. c.
Act viii. a.
and. xiii. a
Luk. vi. d
Jhon. xiii. b
and. xv.

There is nothing so close, that shall not be opened: and nothyng so hyd, that shall not be knowen. What I tell you in darcknes, that speake ye in lycht. And what ye heare in the eare, that preache ye on the house toppes.

Mark. iiii.
Luk. viii.
and. xii. a.
Luk. xii. a

And feare ye not them which kyll the body, and be not able to kyll the soule. But rather feare him, whiche is able to destroye both soule and bode to hell. Are not two sparowes sold for a ferthing? And none of them doth lycht on the grounde, withoute your father. And now are all the heares of your heades numbred: Feare ye not therefore ye are of more value then many sparowes.

Act. viii. b.
Lu. ix. a. r. a.

Philp. ii. a
i. Timo. v. c
Luk. x. c.

Whosoever therfore shall acknowledge me before mē, him wil I acknowledge also before my father, which is in heauen. But whosoever shall denye me before men, him wil I also denye before my father whiche is in heauē. Thinke not that I am come to sende peace into the earth. I came not to sende peace but a sweard: For I am come to set a mā at variance agaynst his father, & þ̄ doughter agaynst her mother, & þ̄ doughter in law agaynst hir mother in lawe. And a mā foes shalbe they of his own houshold.
He that loueth his father, or mother more then me, is not mete for me. And he that lo-ueth his sonne or doughter more then me, is not mete for me. And he that taketh not hys crosse and foloweth me, is not mete
for

mar. viii. e
Lu. ix. d.
and. xii. a.
Jhon. xix. b

Lu. xii. f.

mych. vii. a.

Luk. xiii. f for me. He that (g) fyndeth his lyfe, shall lose it, and he that loseth his lyfe for my sake, shall fynde it.

Mat. xvi. a He that recepueth you, recepueth me, and he that recepueth me, recepueth hym that sent me. He that recepueth a prophete in the name of a prophete, shall receiue a prophetes (h) reward. And he that recepueth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man, shall receiue the rewarde of a righteous man. And whosoever shall geue vnto one of these lyttle ones to dryncke a cup of colde water only in the name of a disciple: I tell you of a truth, he shall not lose his rewarde.

The Notes.

Spue not. (a) This forbyddynge was to declare that he was chiefly sent to the Israelites. And the forbyddynge of prouision, was to pull them from the cares of this worlde, agaynst he shuld sende them into the vniuersal worlde.

Cyl ye go. (b) Cyl ye go thence, is as much to saye, as till ye departe the citie. For it is not becomyng that the messengers of God should be so circumspect in placynge themselves to be lodged in a citie, that they should afterwarde suspect lodgynges.

Easier, &c. (c) Not that it shalbe easie to the sodomites in that daye: but in comparyson of the vengeance prepared for suche as refuse the true preachers.

Wyle and innocent. (d) The wyledome that is noted in the serpent is to auoyde the swete tonges of them, that goo about to destroye hym whyles he geueth eare to them, so by this wyledome he escapeth death at theyr handes. So shoulde we by this wyledome escape the handes of the persecutours. The innocencie noted in dones, is to hurt none other beaste, but simply to take her foode wher she fyndeth it: and if any other beaste profer hir wrong, she resisteth not but fleeth, and so endeuoureth to escape.

Take no thought. (e) Here are we admonysht not to defende our cause, or rather Christes cause, by the wytry answeres that we can inuente: but to truste vpon his wyledome that he shall gyue in the self instant, his spirite aunswerynge in vs.

Belzebub. (f) This word signifieth God or Lord of flies. And by this name dyd the Jewes call the great Idol Bel, because of the greates multitude of flies that resorted to the bloude and wyne that was shed in the sacryfices done therunto. And for the abomination of the Idol, they reputed it as Prince of Deuyls.

The lyfe. (g) To fynde his lyfe, is to satisfye the desyre of his hearte, refusynge or bychynge agaynst the crosse of Christe, that is the persecution that followeth the professynge of the truth, or whatsoever burden God layeth vpon vs.

Rewarde. (h) The rewarde of a prophete, is encrease of knowledge in this lyfe, and euerlastynge ioye in the lyfe to come, accordynge to the parable. To hym that hath shalbe geuen. And agayne. Wel done good seruant, enter into thy lordes ioye.

The. xi. Chapter.

John sendeth his disciples to Christe to enquire of hym, whom Christe sendeth agayne and prayeth John: than vpbryadeth he the Jewes wyth theyr ingratitude as well toward hym as John, yet prouoketh he all men to his very swete yoke.

And it came to passe when Jesus had made an ende of commaundynge his xii. disciples, he departed thence to teache & to preache in their cities.

When John being in prison, heard the workes of Christe, he sent two of his disciples and sayd vnto him. Art thou he that shall come: or shall we loke for another? He answered and sayd vnto them: (a) Go and shew John what ye haue heard & sene. The blind se, the halt go, the lepers are cleansed: the deafe heare, the dead ryse agayne, and the glad tydings is preached to the poore. And happy is he that is not offended by me.

And as they departed, Jesus beganne to speake vnto the people of John: What thyng wente ye out into the wylernes to see? went ye out to se a rede? Shall I shakē with the wynd? epyther what went ye oute for to see? A man clothed in soft raimēt? Behold they that weare softte clothynge, are in kinges houses. But what went ye out for to see? A prophete? Yea I say to you, and more then a prophete. For this is he of whom it is wyrtten. Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before the.

Verely I say vnto you, amonge the children of women arose ther not a greater then John the Baptist. Notwithstandynge he that is (c) lesse in the kingdome of heauen, is greater then he. From the tyme of John Baptiste hitherto, the kyngdome of heauen suffreth violence, and they that go to it wyth violence plucke it vnto them. For all the prophetes and the lawe prophesyed vnto the tyme of John. And if ye wyll receiue it, this is that Elias which should come. He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare.

But wherunto shal I liken this generation? It is lyke vnto children whych sit in the market and cal vnto theyr felowes, and saye: (d) we haue pyped vnto you, and ye haue not daunced: we haue mourned vnto you, & ye haue not sorowed. For John came nether eatynge nor drynkyng, & they saye, he hath the deuyl. The sonne of man came eatynge and drynkyng, and they say: behold a glutton & drynker of wine, and a frend vnto publicans & sinners. Where the later (e) wiledome is iustified of hir childre. Then began he to vpbryad the cities, in which most of his miracles were done, because they mended not. Wo be to the Chorazin: Wo be to the Bethsaida: for if the miracles, which were shewed in you, had bene done in Tyre & Sidon, they had repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. Nevertheless I say to you: it shalbe easier for Tyre & Sidon at the day of iudgement, then for you. And thou Capernaum whiche art lift vp vnto heauen, shalt be brought down to hel. For if the miracles whych haue bene done in the, had bene shewed in zodom, they had had remayned to this daye. Nevertheless I say vnto you, it shalbe easier for the land of Sodome in the daye of iudgement, then for the. At that tyme Iesus answered & sayde, I praye the, o father Lorde of heauen and earth, because thou hast hid these thynges from the wyse and prudente, and hast opened them vnto babes, euen so father, for so it pleased the. All thynges are geuen vnto me of my father. And no man knoweth the sonne but the father: neyther knoweth anye manne the father, save the sonne: and he to whome the sonne wyllo: pen hym.

Come vnto me all ye that (f)laboure and are laden, and I wyl ease you. Take my yoke on you & learne of me: for I am meke and lowlye in hearte: and ye shall fynd rest vnto your soules. For my yoke is easy: and my burden is lychte.

The Notes.

(a) Go and shewe Ihon. x. This aunswere did playnlye declare, that he was the Messias looked for. For the workes wer the workes of messias. But the chiefe thyng too be noted, is the good hap of them that were not offended by him (that is) dyd not stumbe at him & so fall. For as it is sayd Eccl. viii. c. He is the stone to stumbe at: & the rocke to fall vpon, a snare to bothe the houses, Israhell, and the inhabytauntes of Ierusalem, And agayne, Luke. ii. e. He was the stumblinge stocke appoynted for manye to stumbe at: That is, all such as looked to haue hym reygne in great glorie as a kynge of greate power, and to deliuer them frome theyr ennemyes by the force of armes, and not by the sufferinge vpon the crosse.

(b) The reede is a fygure of the doctryne that is not of God, whiche wauereth wyth euery wind

(c) The sonne of the luyngge God equall wyth his father in power, coude not be inferiour to Iohn, who was but man, and therefore he sayth he that is lesse (that is) he that is humbled to the lowest degree of seruantes, reputed rather as a worme then a man, is greater then he, euen the sonne of God, of whome is sayd: I am a worme and no man, & opprobrie of the Gentiles, and an outcaste of the rascall people.

(d) Here is a prouerbe as is sayde. Eccl. xvi. a. Synnyfyinge thus muche. By dyuers wayes haue we gonne aboute too styre you too thankes geuyng: but you haue by no meanes bene moued therevnto.

(e) Mylde is iustified. &c. That is, they & at the chyliden of God, receyue his doctryne, and his worde as truthe and wysedome, although the contrarie parte doo not so receyue it.

(f) Ye that laboure. &c. Those are counted here to labour that acknowledge theyr syn, & fele the heavy burthen of the fleshe.

The xii. Chapter.

Christ defendyng his Discyples whiche plucked the eares of corne vpon the Sabbath daye, and healyng hym whose hand was dyed by, and hym that was vexed w the deuell, rebuked and reproued the hypocryse and malice of the Pharisees. When they aied hym a sygne he denyed them, and being sought for of his parents: he shewed what they wer, & wer best beloued of hym.

and his Discyples were an hungred, and beganne to plucke the eares of corne, & to eate. When the Pharisees sawe that, they sayd vnto hym: Beholde, thy Discyples do that which is not lawefull to do vpon the Sabbath daye. He sayed vnto them: Haue ye not read what Dauid did, when he was an hungred, & they also whiche were wyth him: How he entered into the house of god, & ate the halowed loues, whiche were not lawefull for hym to eate, nether for theym whiche were wyth hym, but onely for the priestes? Or haue ye not reade in the lawe, howe that the priestes in the temple breake the Sabbath daye, and yet are blamelesse? But I saye vnto you: that here is one greater then the temple. Wherefore, if ye had wist what this sayinge meaneth: I require mercy & not sacrifice, ye wold neuer haue condemned innocentes. For the sonne of manne is Lorde euen of the Sabbath day.

And he departed thence, and wente in to theyr synagoge: and beholde there was a manne whiche had his hande dyed by. And they aied hym, saying: is it lawfull to heale vpon the Sabbath dayes? because they myghte accuse hym. And he sayde vnto them. Whiche of you woulde it be, if he had a shepe fallen into a pitte on the Sabbath daye, that woulde not take hym, and lyfte hym oute? And howe muche is a man better then a shepe? Wherefore, it is lawfull to do a good dede on the Sabbath dayes. Then sayde he to the manne: stretch forth thy hande. And he stretched it forth. And it was made whol agayne like vnto the other.

Then the Pharisees went oute, and held a councell agaynst hym, howe they might destroye hym. When Iesus knewe that, he departed thence, and muche people folowed hym, and he healed them all, and charged them, that they shoulde not make hym knowne, to fulfill that whiche was spoken by Esay the prophet, which saith. Beholde my child, whom I haue chosen, my beloued in whom my soul deliteth. I wil put my spirit on hym, and he shal shew iudgement to the Gentils. He shal not strue, nether shal any man heare his voice in the stretes, a brosed reede shal he not breake, and flaxe that beynneth to burne, he shal not quenche, tyl he send forth iudgement vnto byctory, and in his name shal the Gentyls trust.

Then was brought to hym one possessed wyth a diuel, whych was bothe blynde and dombe, and he healed hym: in so much that he whiche was blinde and dombe, both spake and saw. And all the people wer amazed and sayd: Is not this that sone of Dauid? But when the Pharisees hearde that, they sayd: This fellow dyueth the deuyls no nother wyse out, but by the helpe of Belzebub the chiefe of the deuyls.

But Iesus knewe theyr thoughtes, and sayd to them: Euerie kynge dome deuyled wyth

Come.
Deu. xliiii.
Sabbathe,
i. reg. xii. d
Leu. xx. b halowed
loues.
nu. xviii. b.

Mercy and not sacrificy.
Deu. x. b.
Mat. xi. b.
Mar. iii. a.
Luke. vi. b.
Mythered
hande,
Is Luke. i. e.
Sabbathe.
Deut. xxi. a

Mat. xxi. a
John. x. d.
and. xi. e.

Mat. xxi. a
John. x. d.
and. xi. e.

Eccl. xlii. a.

Mat. ix. d
Mar. xii. c
Luke. xi. b.
Blind and dombe.

Belzebub.

Pro. x. c.
Luke. x. c.
The wyse
knewe not.
Sabbes
knewe.
Mathew.
xviii. c.
Ihon. vii. b
and. x. b.
Eccl. vi. a.
I. Joh. v. a.
Yoke.
I. Joh. v. a.

The aun-
swere.

A reede.

Lesse in the kyngedome
of heauen.

Wisedome
et. c.

Laboure.

Mat. iii. a.
Luke. vi. a.

At that tyme went Iesus on the Sabbath day thorow the corne,

Wbbb.iii. wyth

Wpthin it selfe shalbe brought to naught. Nepther shal anpe citie or household deuyded agaynst it selfe, continue. So if Sathan cast out Sathan, the is he deuyded against him selfe, howe shal then hys kyngdome endure? Also, if I by the help of Belzebub cast out deuyls, by whose helpe do yowre chyl dren cast the oute? Therfore they shal be yowr Judges. But if I caste out the deuyls by the spirit of God, then is the kyngdome of God come on you.

Either how can a man enter into a strong mans house, and violently take awaye his goodes, excepte he fyrste binde the stronge man: and then spolie his house? He that is not with me, is against me. And he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abroad. Wherfore I saye vnto you: all manner of synne and (a) blasphemie shal be forgeuen vnto men, but the blasphemie of the spirit, shal not be forgeuen vnto men. And whosoever speaketh a worde against the sonne of man, it shalbe forgeuen hym. But whosoever speaketh agaynst the holpe ghost, it shal not be forgeuen hym: no, nepther in this world, nepther in the world to come.

Either make the tree good, & hys fruite good also: or els make the tree euill, and his fruite euill also. For the tre is knowen by his fruit. O generation of vipers, howe can ye saye well, when ye poure selues are euill? For of the aboundaunce of the hert, the mouth speaketh. A good man oute of the good treasure of hys harte, bringeth forth good thynges. And an euill man oute of his euill treasure, bringeth forth euill thynges. But I say vnto you, that of euery ydel word that men shal haue spoken, they shal geue accountes at the dape of iudgemente. For by thy wordes thou shalt be iustified: and by thy wordes thou shalt be condemned.

Then answered certaine of the Scribes & of the Pharises, saying: Maister, we wold sayne se a sygne of the. He answered and said to them. (b) The euill and aduoutrous generacion seeketh a sygne, but there shal no sygne be gauen to them, saue the sygne of the prophet Jonas. For as Jonas was thre daies and thre nightes in the whalles belly, so shal the son of man be thre daies & thre nightes in the herte of the earth. The men of Ninue shal arise at the dape of iudgement with this nacion, and condemne them: for they amended at the preaching of Jonas: And behold, a greater then Jonas is here. The quene of the south shal rise at the dape of iudgement with this generacion, and shal condemne them, for she came from the uttermost partes of the world, to heare the wysedome of Salomon. And behold a greater then Salomon is here.

When the vnclean spirit is gone oute of a man, he walketh throughout (c) drye places, seeking reste & findeth none. When he sayth: I wyl retorne again into my house, from whence I came out. And when he is come, he findeth the house emptye & swept and garnished. Then he goeth his waye & taketh vnto hym seuer other spirits, worse then himselfe, and so enter they in & dwell there: And the ende of that man is worse then the beginning. Eue so shal it be with this euill nacion.

Whyle he yet talked to the people, behold his mother & his brethren stode with out, desiring to speake with him. Then one sayd vnto hym: behold thy mother and brethren stand withoute, desiring to speake with the.

He answered and said to him that told him: Who is my mother? Who are my brethren? And he stretched forth his hand ouer his disciples, and said: behold my mother & my brethren. For whosoever doth my fathers wyl, which is in heauen, the same is my brother, sister and mother.

The Notes,

(a) This blasphemie is: when men se and know the open and manifeste truth of God and hys word, their conscience being fully certified thereof: and yet notwithstandinge wyl rayle vpon it, and persecute it to the bittermost of theyr power, saying: it is of the deuyll and not of God. Whiche synne shal not be forgeuen. For so is the meaning of nepther in this worlde, nor in the world to come, as appeareth by the other euangelistes.

(b) Euill and aduoutrous generacion: are those that beleue not in God, and his sonne Iesus Christ to be the only Sauour: But seeke other meanes.

(c) These drye places are the hertes of men so dyed by with the sunne beames of Gods word, that the wycked spirites can haue no commodious dwelling their.

The Chapter.

Christ teacheth in parables, what is the effect and strength of the word of God amongst men, and he sheweth the cause why he vseth parables. And he is lyght set by of hys people, because he was a poore man borne.

The same day wente Iesus out of the house, & late by the sea syde, & much people resorted vnto hym, so greatly, that he went and late in a shyp, and all the people stode on the shore. And he spake manie thynges to them in similitudes, saying: Behold, the sower went forth for to sowe. And as he sowed, some fell by the wapes syde, and the fowles deuoured it vp. Some fell vpon stonpe grounde, where it had not muche earth: & anon it spronge vp, because it had no depth of earth: and when the sun was vp, it caughte heate, and for lacke of rooting, wadded awaye. Some fell amonge thornes, and the thornes sprong vp & choked it. Part fel in good ground, and broughte forth the good fruite: some an hundred folde, some sixty folde, some thyrty folde. Whosoever hath eares to heare, lett hym heare.

And the disciples came and sayed to hym: Why speakest thou to them in

ii. Pet. ii. d
Heb. vi. a.
Mar. iii. b.
Luk. vii. c.

Other &
brethren.
Iho. xvi. b.

Euill & ad-
uoutrous.

Drye places

Mar. iiii. a
Luk. viii. a

Luk. viii. a.
A Sower.

Mat. xxi. c
para-

Mat. xxi. c in parables: He answered and sayde vnto them: it is geuen vnto pou to knowe the secretes of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not geuen. (a) For whosoever hath, to hym shalbe geuen, and he shal haue aboundaunce. But who soeuer hath not, from hym shal be taken awaye even that he hath. Therefore speake I to them in similitudes: for though they se, they se not, and hearynge they heare not, neither vnderstande. And in them is fulfilled the prophesye of Esayas, whiche prophesye saythe: wth the eares ye shall heare, and shall not vnderstande, and with the eyes ye shall se, and shall not perceiue. For this peoples hertes are waxed grosse, and theire eares were dull of hearynge, and theire eyes haue they closed, leaste they shulde se wth theire eyes and heare wth theire eares, and shuld vnderstande wth theire heartes, and shuld tourne, that I myghte heale them.

But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your eares, for they heare. Verely I say vnto pou, that manye prophetes and perfecte men haue desired too see the thynges whiche ye se, and haue not sene them: and to heare the thynges whiche ye heare, and haue not hearde them. Heare ye therefore the similitude of the sower. Whosoever heareth the worde of the (b) kingdome and vnderstandeth it not, there cometh the euill man and catcheth awaye that whiche was sowne in the wape fynde. But he that was sowne by the stonpe grounde, is he whiche heareth the worde of God, and anon wth ioye receyueith it, yet hath he no rootes in hym selfe, and therefore dureth but a season. For as sone as tribulacion or persecucion aryseth because of the worde, by and by he falleth. He that was sowne amonge thornes, is he that heareth the worde of God, but the care of this worlde, and the desceitfulnes of riches choke the word, and so is he made vnfiruitfull. He whiche is sowne in the good grounde, is he that also heareth the worde and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruite and byngeth forth, some an. C. folde, some sixty folde, and some xxx. folde.

Mar. iiii. a Another similitude put he forth vnto them sayinge: The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a man whiche sowed good seede in hys felde. But whyle men (c) slepte, there came hys foode, and sowed tares amonge the wheate, and wente hys wape. When the blade was spronge vp and had brought forth the fruite, then appeared the tares also. The seruauntes came to the housholder, & said vnto hym: Sir, sowedst not thou good seede in thy close? From whence then hath it tares? He sayde too them: The enuyous man hath done this. When the seruauntes sayde vnto him: Wilt thou then that we go and gather them? But he sayde, naie, leaste whyle ye go aboute to weede oute the tares ye plucke vp also wth them the wheate by the rootes. Lette bothe growe together tyll haruest come, and in the tyme of harueste I wyll saye to the reapers, gather ye first the tares, and bynde them in sheues to be brent, but gather the wheate into my barn.

Another parable he putte forth vnto them, sayinge: The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a grain of musterd seede, which a man taketh and soweth it in hys fyelde, whiche is the leaste of all seedes. But when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbes & it groweth vp into a tre: so that the byrdes of the ayre come & bilde in the braynches of it. Another similitude sayde he to them. The kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto leauen whiche a woman taketh and hydeth in iii. peckes of meale, tyll all be leuened.

All these thynges spake Iesus vnto the people by similitudes, and wthoute synecrysmes spake he nothyng to them, to fulfill that whiche was spoken by the prophetes, saying, I wil open my mouth in similitudes, and wyll speake forth thyngs whiche haue bene kepte secreete from the beginning of the worlde.

Then sente Iesus the people awaye, and came to house. And his dyscyples came vnto hym, sayinge: declare vnto vs the similitude of the tares of the fyelde. Then answered he and sayde to them: He that soweth the good seede, is the sonne of man. And the fyelde is the worlde. And the chyldren of the kyngdome, they are the good seede. And the tares are the chyldren of the wycked. And the enemye that soweth them, is the deuill. The haruest is the ende of the worlde. And the reapers be the aungels. For euen as the tares are gathered & brente in the fyre: so shall it be in the ende of this worlde. The sonne of manne shal send forth hys aungels, and they shal gather oute of hys kyngdome all thynges that offende, and them whiche do iniquyte, and shall cast them into a fornaice of fyre. There shall be waylynge and gnashinge of teeth. Then shall the iuste men shyne as bryghte as the sunne in the kyngdome of theire father. Whosoever hath eares to heare, lette hym heare.

Agayne the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto treasure hydde in the fyelde, the whiche a man fyndeth and hydeth: and for ioy thereof, goeth and sellethe al that he hath, & byeth that fyelde.

Agayne the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a marchaunt that seeketh good pearles which when he hadde founde one preciouse pearle, wente and soude all that he hadde and boughte it.

Agayne the kyngdome of heauen is lyke vnto a net caste into the sea, that gathereth of all kyndes of fyshes: whiche when it is full, menne drawe to lande, and sit and gather the good into vessels, and caste the bad away. So shal it be at the ende of the worlde. The aungels shal come oute, and seuer the bad from the good, and shall caste them into a fornaice of fyre: there shalbe waylynge and

Mar. iiii. c
Luke. xiii. d
Musterde seede.

Luke. x. d

Reuen.
Mar. ii. d

Salme.
Lxxvii. a
Tares are expounded

Apo. xiii. a

Mar. iiii. b
Dan. xii. d
i. Lxxix. x

Treasure

Pearles.

Nette.

and gnashynge of teeth. Iesus sayed vnto the: vnderstand ye all these thynges: they sayd: yea Lord. When sayd he vnto them.

New & old Mar. vi. a. Luke. xiii. c. Therefore euery (d) Scribe, which is taught vnto the kingdome of heauen is lyke an houtholder, which bringeth forth the oute of his treasure, thynges both new and olde.

John. vi. c. Carpenter And it came to passe, when Iesus had finished these synplytudes, that he departed thence, and came into hys owne country, and taught them in their Synagoges, in so much that they were astonyed & sayd: whence cometh al this wysdome and power vnto hym? Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Mary? & hys brethren called James and Ioses, and Simon and Judas? And are not his sisters all here with vs? Whence hath he all these thynges? And they were offended by hym.

Prophete. Mar. vi. a. Luk. xiii. c. John. iii. f. Then Iesus sayed to them: a prophet is not without honour, saue in his own country, and amonge his owne kynne. And he dyd not manye miracles there, for their vnbelefe sake.

The Notes.

Who so hath. (a) That is to him that hath a good hearte toward Goddes worde to fulfill it, shal be more grace geuen. And from him that hath not, shal be taken awaye euen the same knowledge that he hath, and hys harte so hardened, that he shall not repente.

Kingdome (b) Kingdome signifeth here the gospel, by the which Christe is in the hartes of the faythful. And it signifeth Christe whyche is our kyng, and our kingdome rayning in vs, & in whom we raigne, as we pray.

Sleepe. (c) Thys slepe signifeth negligence that men haue in the thynges belongynge to God, whyche is by the carefulnes of rythes, and pleasures of thys worlde.

Scribes. (d) Scribes were they that had the office of interpreting and answerynge to the sentences of the Prophetes, as it appeareth by that Herode enquired of the Scribes, in the thyrde Chapter afore.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

Here is descrybed the death of John, which being known, Christ goynge into wilderness fedde certayne thousands of men with fyue loues. Sendynge hys dysciples befoze by shyppe, he folowed walkynge vpon the water. Peter comynge to meete hym, when for his doubtful sayth he began to be drowned, is saued by Christ. In Genesareth many are deliuered from diseases by touchynge hys garment.

Mark. vi. c. Luke. ix. a. At that tyme Herode the (a) Tetrarcha, heard of the fame of Iesu, and sayed vnto his seruantes: This is Iohn Baptist. He is rypen agayne from death, & therefore are suche miracles wroughte by hym.

John Bap tist is prp. soned. Mar. vi. c. Luk. xiii. d. For Herode had taken Iohn and bounde sake (b) hys brother Philippes wyfe. For Iohn sayd vnto hym. It is not lawefull for the to haue hyr. And whē he wold haue put him to death, he feared the people, because they counted him as a prophet.

But when Herodes byrth dape was come, the daughter of Herodias daunced and befoze them, and pleased Herode. Wherfore he promysed wth an oth, that he would geue hyr whatsoeuer she wold aske. And she being informed of hir mother befoze, sayd: geue me here Iohn Baptistes heade in a platter. And the king sorowed. Neuerthelesse for his othe sake, and for their sakes that sate also at the table, he commaunded it to be geuen hyr: and sent and beheaded Iohn in a prysen, & his head was brought in a platter, and geuen to the damsel, and she brought it to hyr mother. And hys dysciples came and toke vp the body, and buryed it, and went and told Iesus.

When Iesus hearde that, he departed thens by shyp into a desert place out of the way. And when the people had heard thereof, they folowed him on fote oute of the cities. And Iesus went forth & saw myche people, and his hearte dyd melte vpon the, and he healed of the those that were sicke. When euen was come, his disciples came to him, sayinge: This is a desert place, and the day is spent: let the people depart, that they may go into the townes, and bye the byttels. But Iesus sayed vnto them: They haue no nede to go away. Byue ye them to eate. Then sayed they vnto him: we haue here but fyue loues and two fishes: And he sayd: bringe them hyther. And he commaunded the people to sitte downe on the grasse: and toke the fyue loues, & the two fishes, and loke vnto heauē, and (c) blessed, and brake, and gaue the loues to hys disciples, and the dysciples gaue them to the people. And they did all eate and were suffised. And they gathered vp the scrappes that remayned, twelue baskettes ful. And they that eate, were in number about fyue thousand men, besyde women & children.

And straight way Iesus made hys dysciples enter into a shippe, and to go ouer befoze him; whyle he sent the people awaye. And as sone as he sente the people awaye, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: and when nyghte was come, he was there hym selfe alone. And the shyp was nowe in the myddest of the sea, and was tosse wth waues: for it was a contrary wind. (d) In the forth watche of the nyght, Iesus came vnto them walkynge on the sea. And when his disciples saw hym walking on the sea, they were troubled, sayinge: it is some spirit, and cryed out for feare. And straight waye Iesus spake vnto them, sayinge: be of good cheare, it is I. be not afayed.

Peter answered him, and sayed: master if thou be he, bid me come vnto the on the water. And he said, come. And whē Peter was come downe out of the shyppe, he walked on the water to go to Iesus. But when he sawe a myghtye wynde, he was afrayed. And as he began to synke, he cried, sayinge: Master, saue me. And immediatly Iesus stretched forth hys hand and caughte him, and sayed to hym. O thou of litle faythe, wher-

John Bap tist is be headed.

Luk. ix. b. Mar. vi. a. John. vi. a.

fyue loues & ii. fishes.

Mar. vi. e. Joh. vi. b. Luke. vi. b.

Iesus wal keth on the water.

Peter wal keth on the water.

Mar. vi. a. wherfore diddest thou doubt? And assone as they were come into the shippe, þ wind ceased. Then they that were in the shippe came and worshipped him, sayinge: of a truth thou art the sonne of God.

Mar. vi. c. And when they were come ouer, they wente into the land of Benezareth. And whē the men of that place had knowledge of hym, they sent out into all that countr roundabout, & brought vnto him all that were speke, and besoughte him, that they mighte but touche the hem of his vesture only. And as manpe as touched it, were made safe.

The Notes.

Tetrarcha (a) Tetrarcha is a king or a Lord of one of the partes, of a region or contry deuided into four partes. Such one was Herode in Iuda, which was (as Eusebius wytnesseth) deuided into iiii. partes. Read Eusebius. li. i. Cap. x.

Brothers wyfe. (b) Note that his brother was then liuyng. For if he had bene dead, Herode myght haue answered, that by the lawe of the Jewes, he myghte marye hys owne syster beyng free from other menne, as it appeareth in the. xiii. Chapter of þ seconde booke of the kynges, betwene Amnon & Thamar his sister.

Blesse. (c) To blesse, is in most places of the newe Testament, to praye God, and geue him thanks, as after in the. xvi. C.

Fourth watche. (d) The Hebrewes diuided the nyghte into foure partes, which he called the. iiii. watches. Wherfore the fourth watche was next to the morning and was called the morning watche, as in the first of the kynges, the. xi. C.

The. xv. Chapter.

He rebuketh the false hypocrisy of the scribes in outwarde thinges, and teacheth what is true holynes. The constant sayth also of the woman of Cananie in Ch. x. is described, and the maruelous healyng of manpe men. Last ar certayne thousands of men fed with. vii. loues and a fewe fishes.

Mar. vii. a. T H E N came to Jesus, Scribes and pharisees from Hierusalem, sayinge: whye doo thy disciples transgresse the tradicions of the elders? for they washe not theyr Tradiciōs. Cro. xx. b. Deute. v. b. and. xxvii. c. Ephe. vi. a. Exod. xxi. c. Ierit. xx. b. p. xxviii. d. handes when they eate bread. He answered and sayed vnto them: whye do ye also transgresse the commaundement of God thowow your tradicions? For God commaunded, sayinge: * honour thy father and mother, and he that curseth father or mother shal suffer death. But ye say: euery mā shal say to hys father or mother: that whyche thou desyrest of me to heape the with, is geuen God, and so shal he not honour his father or mother. And thus haue ye made that the commaundemēt of God is without effecte, thowow your tradicions. Hypocrites, wel prophecied of you Esaias, sayinge: This people draweth nye vnto me with their mouthes, & honoureth me with their lippes, howbeit their hertes are far from me: but in vaine they worshyppe me, teachyng doctrynes, whyche are nothyng but mens preceptes.

And he called the people vnto him & said to them: heare & vnderstande. That whiche goeth into the mouth, defileth not the mā: but that whiche commeth out of þ mouth, defyleth the man.

Then came his disciples, and sayd vnto hym: percepuest thou not how that þ pharises (a) are offended in hearpyng thys sayinge? He answered and sayed: (b) al plantes which my heauēly father hath not planted, shalbe plucked vp by the rotes. Lette them alone, they be the blynde leaders of the blind. If the blynde leade the blynde, both shal fal into the dptche.

Then answered Peter and sayd to him: declare vnto vs this parable. Then saide Iesus: are ye yet withoute vnderstandyng? Perceiue ye not that (c) whatsoeuer goeth in at the mouth, descendeth downe into the bealpe, and is caste out into the draughte? But those thynges, which procede out of the mouth, come from the hert, and they defyle the man. For out of þ hert come euill thoughtes, murder, breakyng of wedlocke, whoredome, theft, false witness bearyng, blasphempe. These are the thynges which defyle a man. But to eate wyth vnwaschen handes, defyleth not a man. I

* And Iesus went thence, and departed into the coastes of Tyre and Sydon. And behold, a woman whyche was a Cananite came out of the same coastes, and cried vnto him, saying: haue mercey on me Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid, my daughter is ppyteously vexed with a deuill. And he gaue hir neuer a word to answer. Then came to him his disciples, and besought hym, saying: sende hir awaye, for she foloweth vs crypyng. He answered, and said: I am not sente, but vnto the losse shepe of the house of Israel. Then she came and worshipped him, sayinge: Master helpe me. He answered & sayd: It is not good to take the childrens breade, and cast it to (d) dogges. She answered and said: truth lord, neuertheless the whelpes eate of the crummes which fall from their maisters table. The Iesus answered & sayd vnto her: O thou woman, great is thy fayth: be it to the eue as thou desyrest. And hyr doughter was made whole euen at that same houre. I

Then Iesus went awaye from thence, & came vnto the sea of Galile, and wente vp into a mountayn, and sat downe ther. And much people came vnto hym, haupyng with them, halt, blind e, dumme, maymed, and other many: and cast them down at Iesus fete. And he healed them, in so muche that the people wōdered, to se þ dumme speake, the maymed whole, the halt to go, and the blind to se. And they glorified the God of Israel.

Then Iesus called hys disciples to him, and sayed: I haue compassion on the people, because they haue continued wyth me now thre dayes and haue nought to eate, & I wyl not let them departe fastyng, lest they perish in the waye. And his disciples sayd

Mens preceptes.

Mar. vii. What defileth a mā Plantes. Luk. vi. f. Actu. v. c.

Blynde leaders.

Mar. vii. e

with what man is defiled.

Mar. vii. e The woman of Canane.

Luk. xix. d

Mar. vii. b

Esa. xxxv. b

mar. viii. a

Mat. xvi. 6
Seuen lo-
ues.

said vnto him: Whence shoulde we get so much breade in the wylernes, as shoulde suffice so great a multitude? And Iesus sayde vnto them: Howe manye loues haue ye? And they sayd: * seuen, and a few litle fishes. And he commanded the people to sit downe on the grounde, and toke the seuen loues, and the fishes, and gaue thanks, & brake them, and gaue to hys disciples, and the disciples gaue them to the people. And they dyd all eate, and were suffyled. And they toke vp of the broken meat that was left, seuen baskets full. And yet they that eate were. iiii. M. men, besyde women and chyl dren. And he sent away the people, and toke shyppe and came into the parties of Magdala.

The Notes.

Offence.

(a) Offence in this place signifyeth the grudge of mynde, when any thynketh that another doth or sayeth euyl, and so grudgeth in hys mynde, and is offended in hys conscience at hys doynge or sayinge. Whiche offence we are not bound to refraine so longe as oure wordes and dedes be good, and the parties offended, be not weake but obstinat. For charytee byndeth vs to heare wth þ weake, but not wth the obstinat.

All plantes

(b) These plantes are doctrynes and inuencions of men, whiche are not grounded on the worde of God.

Whatsoever goeth in at the mouth.

(c) Lette men beware that they stumble not at this piece of scripture. For it meaneth nothing lesse, then that we should thynke it lawefull for vs to poure in meate and drynke whyle the sto make wyl holde, but that no kynde of meate, at what tyme or vnder what soeuer it be take (so it be only for þ necessitie of our bodies) can defyle the man þ taketh it wth thanks geuyng.

Dogs.

(d) The Jewes call the heathen and gentyls Dogges, because of theyr ydolatri. But chiefly for theyr small mercy in deuouring the flocke of Israel.

sayeth

(e) Thy sayth is grete. The greatnes of euery mans sayeth is knowen by the benefytes, that we receyue at Gods hand. For (as Paule wyreth) God geueth hys gyftes to euery of his seruantes, accordynge to the measure of the faith that is founde in the same. Not because þ sayth deserueth them, but because he hath made them mete vessels for so pprecious licoure to be bestowed in.

The xvi. Chapter.

Christe chydeth them, because they asked a sygne, and byddeth them abstayne from the leuen of the Jewes. Whē the disciples were axed of hym, they confesse hym to be Messias, and the sonne of God, to whom also he sheweth his death to come, and commendeth the crosse.

Then came the Pharises and Sadduces, and dyd tempte him, desyring him to shew them some signe from heauen. He answered & sayd vnto them. * At euen ye saye, we shall haue sayre wether, and that because the skye is red: and in the mornynge ye say, to daye shall be foule wether, and that because the skye is cloudye and red. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the fashion of the skye, and can ye not dyscerne the sygnes of the times? The froward nacion and ad-uoutrous seeketh a sygne: and ther shal no other sygne be geuen vnto them, but the signe of the * prophet Jonas. So lette he them and departed.

And when his disciples were come to the other syde of the water, they had forgotten to take breade with them. Then Iesus sayd vnto them: Take hede and beware of the (a) leuen of the Pharises and of þ Sadduces. And they thought in theselues, sayinge: because we haue broughte no breade with vs. When Iesus vnderstode that, he sayd vnto them: O ye of litle faith, whye are your mindes cumbered, because ye haue brought no bread? Do ye not yet perceyue neyther remember those syue loues when there were syue thousande men, and howe manye baskets toke ye vp? Neither the seuen loues, when there were. iiii. thousand, and howe many baskets toke ye vp? Why perceyue ye not then that I spake not vnto you of breade, when I sayed: beware of the leuen of the Pharises and of the Sadduces. Then vnderstode they, howe that he had not them beware of the leue of bread, but of the doctryne of the Pharises and of the Sadduces.

* When Iesus * came into the coastes of the citie, which is called Cesarea philippi, he axed his disciples, sayinge: whom do men saye, that I the sonne of man am? They sayed: some saye, that thou arte John Baptiste, some Elias, some Ieremias, or one of the prophetes. He sayd vnto them: but whom saye ye that I am? Simon Peter answered and sayed: Thou arte Christe the sonne of the liuinge God. And Iesus answered and said to him: happy art thou Simon the sonne of Jonas, for flesh and bloud hath not opened vnto the that * but my father whiche is in heauen. And I saye also vnto the, that thou art Peter: and (b) vpon this rocke I wil build my congregacion. And the (c) gates of hell shall not preuaile agaynst it. And I will geue vnto the (d) the keyes of the kyngdome of heauen, and whatsoever thou bindest vpon earth, shall be bounde in heauen, and (e) whatsoever thou lewest on earth, shall be lewest in heauen. &

Then he charged his disciples, that they should tel no man, þ he was Iesus Christ. From that tyme forth the Iesus beganne to shewe vnto his disciples, how that he must go vnto Ierusalem, and suffer many thynge of the elders, and of the hygh priestes, of the Scribes, and must be kylled, and rise againe the thyrdd day. But Peter toke him aside, and beganne to rebuke him, sayinge: Maister, fauer thy self: this shal not come vnto the. Then tourned he aboute & sayed vnto Peter: come after me (f) Sathā, thou offendest me, because thou sauourest not godly thynge, but worldly thynge.

Iesus then said to his disciples. If anye man will folowe me, lette him (g) forsake hym selfe, and take vp his crosse, & folowe

Jonas. ii. 1.

Mat. viii. 6
Luke. xii. 1.

Mat. xiii. 12
and. xv. 1.
Joh. viii. 12.

Mat. viii. 6
Luke. ix. 1.

Luke. ix. 1
Jhon. vi. 1.

Jerkes.
Jhon. vi. 1.
Lxxii. 1.
Wpud and lose.
Esa. xxviii.

i. Mar. xvi. 1
mat. xviii. 1
Jhon. xx. 1.

ii. R. c. x. 1.
Satan.

Thistles
Disciples
Math. x. 1.
me.

Mat. viii. 6
Luke. xii. 1
Jhon. v. 1.

Math. xii.
Spigne of Jonas.

ma. viii. d. me. For whosoever wyl saue hys lyfe shal Luke. ix. g. lose it. And whosoever shal lose hys lyfe xiii. f. xvi. for my sake, shal fynd it. What shal it pro-
 g. Jho. xii. a. fit a man though he shoulde wyne all the Judgemēt whole worlde if he loose hys owne soule?
 Roma. ii. a. Or els what shal a man geue to redeme his Dedes. soule agayne wthal? For the sonne of mā Mat. viii d. shal come in the glory of hys father, wth Luk. ix. c. his angels: and then shal he rewarde eue-ry man accordynge to his dedes. Verely I say vnto you: some (h)ther be among the that here stande, whiche shal not taste of death tyll they shal haue sene the sonne of man come in hys kyngdome.

The Notes.

Heauen.

(a) Heuen is some tyme taken in an euil sence, as here. And sometyme in a good, as aboue in the xiii. chap. c.

The rocke.

(b) Upon this rocke. That is as sayeth saynt Augustine vpon the confession whiche thou hast made, acknowledging me to be Christ the sonne of the liuing God, I builde my congregacyon or church.

The gates of hell.

(c) By the gates of hel, are signified, death, hell desperation, sinne, violence, & tyrannous hand-lyng, persecution, &c.

The keyes
of the king-
dome.

(d) Luke in the letter G. of his. xi. chapter: calleth these keyes, the keyes of science, that is to say of the knowledge of God by the scriptures, whiche keyes Christ gaue to hys Apostles, that they myght open vnto the world the treasures of the kyngdome, that is to say, communion of the fapthful, remission of synnes, and lyfe euer lastyng, thorow Christ, and for Christes sake onely. The knowledge wherof was by the law-ers and pharyses hyd from the people of the Jewes, by whom they were taught to put con-fydence in wyl workes of theyr inuencyon, and the outwarde obseruance of the lawe.

Bynde and lose.

(e) Whosoever. &c. Lyke as Peters confessyon was the confessyon of al the reste of the Apostles, so was this promise made vnto Peter, commune to them all. That whatsoever they shuld bynde or lose in earth, shoulde be so in heauen.
 And then haue you the meanyng thereof in the xviii. of Mathe w. and the. xx. Jhon. c.

Sathan.

(f) Sathan, is by interpretacyon, Aduersarye.
 Worthely therfore was Peter called by þ name when he by his counsell would haue withstan-ded the wyl of God, whiche was, that Christe shoulde suffer all those thynges that he had declared vnto them.

forsake, &amp;c.

(g) To forsake him self, is utterly to do agaynst the will of his flesh, mortifyinge the affectyons of the mynde, workinge the glory of God & profit of oar neyghbour. As it is sayd. Roma. the
 xv. and Ph. i. ii.

There be
etc.

(h) This was spoken of the transfiguracion of our Saviour before hys disciples, wherof is mencioned in the Chapter folowynge.

The. xvi. Chapter.

Christ beyng transformed before hys dysciples, sheweth them the fashion of hys maiesty to come, and shewed who was that Elias that was to come. He healeth the Lunatyke whom hys disciples coulde not helpe. He sheweth the power of fapth, and by miracle getting a coine, he payed hys grote.

Mat. ix. a.
Luk. ix. d.

After. vi. dayes, Jesus tooke Peter and James, and John hys brother, and brought them vp into an hye mountayne oute of the way, and was transfigured before them:

 and hys face dpyd hysne as the sunne: & hys clothes were as white as the lighte, & behold, ther appered vnto them Moyses and Elias, talkynge wth him. Then answered Peter and sayd to Jesus: master, here is good beinge for vs. If thou wylt, let vs make here thre tabernacles, one for the, one for Moyses, & one for Elias. Whyle he yet spake, behold a bryghte cloude shadowed the. And behold there came a voice out of the cloude, sayng: *this is my deare son, in whom I delyt, (a) heare hym. And when the disciples heard that, they fell on theyr faces, and were sore afraped. And Jesus came and touched them, and said: arise and be not afraped. And when they looked vp, they sawe no man saue Jesus onely.

And as they came down from the mountayne, Jesus charged them, sayng: se that ye shewe the vision to no man, vntyll the sonne of man be rylen agayne fro death. &
 And his disciples axed of him sayng: * Whye then say the Scribes that Elias must fyrst come? Jesus answered and said vnto them. Elias shal fyrst come, and restore al thynges. And I say vnto you, that Elias is come alreadye, and they knowe him not, but haue done vnto him what soe-uer they lusted. In likewyse shal also the sonne of man suffer of them. Then the disciples percepued that he spake vnto them of (b) John Baptist.

And when they were come to the people, & there came a certayn man, & kneled downe to hym, and sayed: Master haue mercye on my sonne, for he is frantike, and is sore vexed. For oft tymes he falleth into þ fire: and oft into water. * And I broughte hym to thy disciples, and they coulde not heale hym. Jesus answered & sayed: O generation fapthles and croked, how long shal I be with you: how longe shal I suffer you? bryng hym hither to me. And Jesus rebuked the deupl, and he came out of him. And the chyld was healed euē that same houre.

Then came the disciples to Jesus secretly, and sayd: Whye coulde not we cast hym out? Jesus sayed vnto them: Because of your vnbelefe. For I saye verely vnto you:
 if ye had fapth as a grayn of mustard seed, ye shoulde saye vnto this mountayne, remoue hence to pender place, and he shoulde remoue: neyther shoulde any thyng be impossible for you to do. How beit this kynd goeth not out, but by (c) prayer, and fastyng.

As they passed the time in Galyle, Jesus saied vnto them: the sonne of man shal be betrayed into the handes of men, and they shal kyll hym, and the thyrday he shal ryse againe. And they sorowed greatly.
 And when they were come to Capernaū, they that were wont to gather pol monye, came to Peter and sayed: Woth your maister paye tribute. He sayd: yea. And when he was come into the house, Jesus spake fyrst

Esa. xlii. a.
Mat. iii. b
Mark. i. a
Heare himB
Mar. ix. g.Mal. iii. b.
Mat. xvi. d
John Baptist is He-lias.Mark. ix. c
Luk. ix. d.Luk. xvi. b VnbelefePrayer &
fasting.Mat. ix. c Luk. ix. e
passion.
Mat. ix. c

Tribute. fyrst to hym, sayinge. What thinkest thou Simon, of whom do the kynges of þe earth take tribute or poll monye? of the? chyl- dzen, or of straungers? Peter sayed vnto him: of straungers. Then said Iesus vnto hym againe: Then are the children fre. Ne uerthelesse, lest we should (d) offend them: goo to the sea and cast in thyne angle, and take the fishe that firste cometh vp, and when thou haste opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a pece of .xx. pence: that take and paye for me and the. &

The Notes.

Hearc hym (a) Here are we taught to geue eare to the word of God onely, and not to folowe oure own fantasies. For immediatly as Peter had deuised to haue. iii. tetes or tabernacles made for Christ Ihesus, & Boyles to dwelle in, the bryghtnesse of the godhead astonied them, & the voyce of the father was heard, sayng: This is my wel belo- ued sonne, heare hym. As who should saye: My wyl is not that you fantasie thynges of poure owne braynes, but that you folow the doctryne that he shall teache.

Elias. (b) John Baptiste is called Elias, because he preached wth the spyrit of Elias, that is, re- buked syn Marpely as Elias dyd.

Prater and sayng. (c) Here take the superstitious Papistes, great holde for their prescripte fastyngs and set num- bze of prayer: But fondly. For here is nothing wherupon to buylde anye prescripte daye or numbre. For this is all that maye be gathered of the text. That such as be ones troubled wth the wycked spirit of frensy, can not be deliuered of him, tyll such tyme as they geue themselves to true prayer (that is continuall lyfing vp of their hertes to Godward) and fastyng, that is subduinge of the fleshe to the spyrite by wyth- drawyng from it not onely the plentious and delicious foode that it despyeth, but also soft clo- thyng, and all other thynges that it delyteth in. So that in this place his meanyng is none o- ther, then if he had sayde. For wythstandyng that your weake faith were a great parte of the cause that you coulde not cast out thys deuill, yet was there also another cause. That is on þe lycke mans behalfe: for he had not put hymselfe wholye into the handes of God, neyther hadde endeouored to mortyfyfys hys fleshe, by true pray- er and fastyng.

Offence. (d) If Ihesus had not payed the toll money, he should haue offended the people. That is, hys example should haue caused the people to with- holde the tribute, which must of necessity be payed vnto kynges.

The .xviii. Chapter.

He commendeth humylyte to his disciples by an example of a chylde, and sheweth howe great a synne it is to geue an occasyō of euil. And why he came into the world, he sheweth vnder þe fygure of a shepe that goeth astray. The condicions to pardon one another, and how we should do with our enemyes, he de- clareth by an elegant parable.

Mat. ix. c. Luke. ix. c. Greatest. 1. Pet. ii. a The same tyme the disciples came vnto Iesus, sayinge: who is the greatest in the kyngdome of hea- uen? Iesus called a chylde vnto hym, and set him in the myddes of them: and sayed. Verely I saye vnto you, except ye turne, and become as chylde, ye can not enter into the kingdome of heauē.

Whosoever therfore humbleth him self as this childe, the same is the greatest in the kyngdome of heauen. And whosoever re- ceueth suche a chylde in my name, recey- ueth me. But whosoever (a) offende one of these lytle ones, which beleue in me: it were better for him, that a milstone were han- ged about his necke, and that he wer drow- ned in the depth of the sea. Wo be vnto the worlde, because of offences. Howbeit it ca- not be auoyded, but that offences shalbe geuen. Neuerthelesse wo be to the man, by whom the offence cometh.

Wherfore if thy hand or thy fote offend the, cut him of and cast him from the. It is better for þe to enter into lyfe, halt or may- med, rather then thou shouldeste, hauinge two handes or two feete, be cast into euer- lasting fyre. And, if also thyne eye offende the, plucke hym out, and cast him from the. It is better for the, to enter into lyfe wth one eye, then hauinge two eyes to be caste into hell fyre.

See that ye despyse not one of these ly- tel ones. For I saye vnto you, that in hea- uen they angels alwaies beholde the face of my father, which is in heauē. & Yea and the sonne of mā is come to saue that which is lost. How thynke ye? If a man haue an hundred shepe, and one of them be gone a- stray, doth he not leaue ninety and nyne in the mountaines, and go and seke that one whych is gone astray? If it happen that he fynde him, verely I say vnto you: he re- ioyceth more of þe shepe, then of the nyne- ty and nyne, whych went not astray. Euen so it is not the wyl of your father in heauen, that one of these lytle ones should perishe.

& Moreover, if thy brother trespasse a- gainst the, go and tell him his fault be- twene hym and the alone. If he heare the, thou hast won thy brother. But if he heare the not, then take pet with the one or two: that in the mouth of two or thre witnesses, all thynges maye be stablished. If he heare not them, tell it vnto the congregacion. If he heare not the congregacion take hym as an heathen man, and as a publicā. Verely I say vnto you, what soeuer ye (c) bind on earth, shalbe bound in heauē. And what soeuer ye lose on earth, shalbe losed in hea- uen.

Againe I saye vnto you, that if two of you shall agree in earth vpon anye maner thyng (d) what soeuer they shall despye, it shalbe geuē them of my father whiche is in heauen. For where two or thre are gathe- red together in my name, ther am I in the myddes of them.

Then came Peter to him, and said: mai- ster how oft shall I forgeue my brother, if he sinne agaynst me, seuen tymes? Iesus sayd vnto hym: I saye not vnto the seuen tymes: but seuenty tymes seuen tymes. & Therefore is the kyngdome of heauen ly- kened vnto a certayne kyng, which wold take

Mat. ix. f.
Luk. xvi. a
John. xiii.
1. Cor. xi. d.

Mat. ix. f.
Math. v. d
Luk. vii. a

Luke. xix. b
Luke. xv. d.
Hundred
shepe,

Howe men
bpyde and
lose.
Lu. xvi. a
Jacob. v. d

Leui. xix
Eccle. xix. d
ii. Co. vii. a
Heb. x. c
Joh. viii. b
Rom. xix. b
Deu. xvi. b
and .xix. c

In the mid
des.

Seuen ty-
mes,

take accountes of hys seruantes. And whē he had begonne to reken, one was brought vnto him which ought him ten thousande talentes: whom bicause he had noughte to paye, his maister commaunded hym to be sold, and his wyfe, and his children, and al that he had, and payment to be made. The seruaunt fell down and besought him, sayinge: Spye me respite, and I will paye it euery whyt. Then had the Lorde pitie on that seruant, and lewseid him, and forgaue him the dette.

And the saide seruaunte wente oute and founde one of hys felowes whiche oughte him an hundred pence, and laid handes on him, and toke him by the throte, sayinge: paye me that thou oweste. And this felowe fell downe and besought him, sayinge: haue paciens with me, and I will paye the all. But he woulde not, but went and cast him into pryson, tyll he should paye the dett.

When hys other felowes sawe what was done, they were verpe sorpe, and came and tolde vnto theyr Lorde all that happened. Then his Lorde called him, and sayd vnto him. Deuill seruaunte, I forgaue the all that dett, because thou praydest me: was it not mete also that thou shouldest haue had compassion on thy fellowe, euen as I had pitie on the? And his Lorde was wroth and deliuered him to the iaplers, tyll he shoulde paye all that was due to him. So lykewyse shall my heauenlye father do vnto you, (e) except ye forgiue with poure hertes, eache one to hys brother their trespasses.

The Notes.

James. ii. b

Math. vi. b Marke. xi.

Offence.

Let of thy hand.
Howe men bynde.

Whatsoever

Excepte.

(a) To offende them that beleue in Christe, is to do the thyng that is euill in the syghte of the weaklynges (for suche are called lytle ones or chyldren) wherby they take ensample to do euill. And to receyue one of those lytle ones in hys name, is to enstrucke them, to beare wyth theyr weaknes, and to endeuour to make them strong in Christ.

(b) Like the exposition of thys in Mathewe. v. (c) When we haue after the order of charity admonished our brother, and he for hys obstynacy be worthele accompted as a Publicane, by the whole consente of the congregacyon, then are we sure by thys that God byndeth the same in heauen, or loseth, if we vpon hys penitente hert remit hys faulte, and take him as a fellow member with vs of Christes mysticall bodye.

(d) This whatsoever, reacheth no farther then thynges aied in Christes name. And in hys name can we are nothyng, but we must referre the whole to the wyll of the father, as Christe hym selfe dyd, and taught thys to doo, saying: Not as I wyll father, but thy wyll be done.

(e) In thys parable, it is manifestly declared, that onely the mercyfull shall fynde mercy wyth God. For they onely are the chyldren of God. And thys is the onely entente of the parable. Wherfore all suche wordes and sentences as do not make vterly for thys purpose, ar not to be taken as thynges worthy to buylde oure sayth vpon, as is this.

(f) The Lorde forgaue the dett. And yet when he was enfourmed of hys seruantes vnmeyfulnes, he reuoked hys sentence, and caste hym in pryson for the whole. If oure heauenlye father were compared vnto thys Lorde in this point: then should it folowe that he were not the searcher of the hert, but iudged accordyng to the vter apperance as menne do. Wyghte so it is of all other parables.

The xii. Chapter.

Christ reuoketh the olde institution of Matrimonye. He putteth hys handes vpon lytle chyldren. Howe perillous the posselion of ryches is: and howe vayne the truste of oure workes is we learne by example of the pong man, and also what reward they shal haue that leaue all and folowe Christ.

And it came to passe when Iesus hadde finished those sayinges, he gat him from Galile, and came into the coastes of Jewry beyond Jordan, and muche people folowed him, and he healed them there. Then came vnto hym the pharises temptyng him, and sayinge to hym: Is it laweful for a man to put away his wife for all maner of causes? He answered and said vnto the: Haue ye not reade howe that he whych made man at the begynnynge, made them man and woman: and sayd: for this thing, shall a man leaue father and mother, and cleue vnto his wife, and they twayne shal be one fleshe. Wherfore nowe are they not twayne, but one fleshe. Let no man therefore put a sunder, that which god hath coupled together.

Then said they to him: why did Moyses comaund to geue a testimonial of diuorcement, and to put hir away? He said vnto them: Moyses, because of the hardnes of your hertes, suffered you to putte away your wyfes. But from the beginnyng it was not so. I say therfore vnto you, whosoever putteth away his wife, (except it be for fornication) and marieth another, breaketh wedlock. And whosoever marryeth hir whiche is deuorced, doeth commytte aduoutrye.

Then saied his disciples to him: if the matter be so betwene man and wife, then is it not good to marie. He sayed vnto the: all men can not awaye with that sayinge, saue they to whome it is geuen. There are chaste, which were so bozne out of theyr mothers bealy. And there are chaste whiche be made of men. And there be chaste (a) whiche haue made themselves chaste, for the kingdome of heuens sake. He that can take it, let him take it.

When were brought to hym ponge chyldren: that he should put his handes on the and pray. And the disciples rebuked them. But Iesus said: suffer the chyldren, & forbide them not to come to me: for of suche is the kingdome of heauen. And when he had put his handes on them, he departed thence. And behold one came and said to him: good master, what good thing shal I do, that I may haue eternal life? He said to him: why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, & he is God. But if thou wilt enter into

Marke. x. a

Deuorce.

Gen. ii. d.

Genes. i. d.
Ephes. v. g.
i. Co. vi. d.
Jere. iii. a.
De. xxi. a.
Math. v. c.

Mark. x. b
Luce. xvi. b
i. Co. vii

Map. viii. x

Mark. x. b
Lu. xviii. c.

Mark. x. b
Lu. xviii. d.

Psal. xvi. d.

The Gospel

of S. Mathew.

Comaundementes,
Exod. xxi.
Deut. xxi. a
and. v. a
i. reg. xiii. b
Galat. v. b.
Luke. xii. d
Mat. vi. c.

lyfe, kepe the comaundementes. The other sayed to him. Whiche? And Iesus sayde. Breake not wedlocke, kyll not, steale not: beare not false wytnes, honoure father & mother, & loue thy neyghboure as thy self. And the yong man sayd vnto hym: I haue obserued al these thynges from my youth, what lacke I yet? And Iesus sayed vnto him: if thou wilt be perfect, (c) goo and sell that thou hast, and geue it to the poze, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, & come and folow me: When the yong man heard that sayinge, he went away mournynge. For he had great possessyons.

Camel,

Then Iesus sayed vnto his disciples. Verely I saye vnto you, it is harde for a riche man to enter into the kyngdome of heauen. And mozeouer I saye vnto you, it is easier for (d) a Camel to go thorow the eye of a nedle, then for a riche man to enter into the kyngdome of God. When hys disciples heard that, they were excedyngly amazed, sayinge: who then can be saued? Iesus beheld them and sayd vnto them: with men this is impossible, but with God all thynges are possible.

zach. viii. a Mark. x. c.
Luk. xvi. c
Mat. xiii. c
Luk. xxi. b
Counsaile
Sapi. v.
Deu. xxi. a
Luk. xxi.
An hundred
folde.

Then answered Peter & sayed vnto him: Beholde we haue forsaken al and folowed the, what shall we haue? Iesus sayed vnto them: Verely I saye vnto you, when the son of man shall sitte in the seate of hys maieste, ye whiche folowe me in the second generation, shall sitte also vpon xii. seates, & (e) iudge the twelue tribes of Israell. And whosoever forsaketh houses or brethren, or sisters, either father or mother, or wyfe or chyldren, or landes for my names sake, the same shall receyue an hundred fold, and shall inherite euerlastyng lyfe. Many that are fyrst shall be last, and the last shall be first.

The Notes.

Chaste.

(a) The monkes, fepers, and other wincies mar chauntes, bragged very much of thys chastyete. As though they had made themselves chaste for the kyngdome of God. But they wer far wyde. For whether ye take it thus, that as the other whiche dyd eyther by nature lacke the strength of generacyon, or els were by men made geldynges: so these should eyther by medecynes destroy the naturall operation in theyr bodies, or els gelde themselves for the kyngdome of Goddes sake. Or els, that they dyd by foyr labour and abstinence subdue theyr bodies, so that they myght refrayne the appetite of the fleische: neyther waye serueth for theyr purpose. For theyr rule was to be sure of theyr pryncipal members, wherfore they might not geld themselves. Labour they myght not, and as for theyr fastynge was but contynuall exerce. The maner of geldyng therfore, that Christ wyllith men to embrace, is spirituall. Either when a man hauyng the gyfte of the sole life vseth it to the settinge forth of Goddes wyde, Or els beyng gelded by menne: vseth the same to the same end. Or els beyng a perfecte and naturall man: taketh hym an honest yoke felow, and lyueth in chaste marriage wyth her, because menne should not take occasyon by hys fleschely lyuynge to misse repute the kyngdome of God, whiche is hys wyde. This shall be further declared in Paules

Epistles, where occasyon shall be geuen.

(b) All the creatures of God are good, because they are hys creatures, and serue to the vse that he hath appoynted them. But God onely is good of hymselfe, and for hymselfe.

Go sell all.

(c) Christ had hym go sell all, to make hym declare hym self a lyar, in that he had boasted hym selfe to haue kepte all the comaundementes. For if he had kepte but the fyrste comaundement (that is, loue God aboue all thynges) he would not haue stycked to sell his goodes to be perfect, that is to be a mete scholer for Christes schole.

(d) Theophilactus readeth a Tale. The greke word signifyeth both Camel and Cable. But that forceth not, the meanyng is al one. It is as impossible that a ryche manne, that is to saye, suche one as maketh his ryches his treasure, should enter into the kyngdome of God, that is should become a true Christian: as that eyther a Camel or Cable should passe thorow the eye of a nedle.

A Camel

(e) This is lyke as the zodomites shall iudge the cyties of Iuda, that is, shall excelle the so farre, that they themselves shall thynke themselves worthy condemnacion in comparison of the other. For none shall geue sentence but onely Christ, to whome the father hath geue al iudgement.

Judgement.

The xx. Chapter.

How by the only goodnes of God, and thorow his iustice we receyue the reward of saluacyon. The parable of the vine & the workman is expounded. Christ sheweth hys death before vnto his disciples. And when the sonnes of zebedee had axed an hys dignite of Christ, by his owne example he taught them humilitie. He restored the syghte vnto two blynd men.

For the kyngdome of heauē is li- ke vnto an housholder: which went out early in the mornynge to hyperlabourers into his vyneyard. And he agreed wyth the labourers for a peny a daye, and sent the into his vyneyard. And he went out aboute the thyrde houre, and sawe other standing idell in the markette place, and sayde vnto them: go ye also into my vineyard: & whatsoeuer is righte, I wyll geue you. And they went their way. Agayn he went out about the fyfte and nynth houre, and dyd lyke wyse. And he went out the eleuenth houre, and found other standyng ydell, and sayed vnto them. Why stande ye here all the day ydell? They sayd vnto hym: because no man hath hyred vs. He saied to them: go ye also into my vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right that shall ye receyue.

A Vineyard

The Jewes reken one, when the sunne is by an houre.

When euen was come, the Lorde of the vyneyard saied vnto his stewarde: call the labourers, and geue them their hyre, begynninge at the last, tyll thou come to the first. And they which were hyred about the eleuenth houre came, & receiued euery man a peny. Then came the fyrst, supposynge that they should receiue more, and thei likewise receyued euery man a peny. And when thei had receyued it, they murmured agaynst the good man of the house, sayinge: These laste haue wroughte but one houre, and thou thou hast made them equal vnto vs whyche haue bozne the burthe and heate of the day.

He answered to one of thepm, sayinge: friend I do the no wronge, dydest thou not agre wpthyme for a pennye? Take that whiche is thy dute, and go thy waye, I wyl geue vnto thys last as muche as to the. Is it not lawfull for me to do as me listeth with myne owne? Is thynne eye euill because I am good? So the laste shalbe fyrste, and the fyrste shalbe last. For manye are called, and fewe be chosen.

And Iesus ascended to Ierusalem & toke the. xii. Dysciples aparte in the waye, and sayed to them. Beholde we go vp to Ierusalem, and the sonne of man shalbe betrayed vnto the chiefe priestes and vnto the scribbes: and they shal condemne hym to death and shal deliuer hym to the (b) gentyles, to be mocked, to be scourged, and to be crucified, and the thyrde day he shal rise againe.

Then came to hym the mother of zebedees chyldezen wth hir sonnes worshipping him and desyringe a certayne thyng of hym. And he sayd vnto hir: what wylt thou haue? She sayed vnto hym: Graunte that these my two sonnes maye sitte, the one on the ryghte hand, and the other on the left hand in thy (c) kyngdome.

Iesus answered and sayed: Ye wot not what ye are: Are ye able to dryncke of the cup that I shal dryncke of: and to be baptised wth the baptysme that I shal be baptised wth? They answered to hym: that we are. And he sayed vnto the: Ye shal drinke of my cuppe, and shal be baptised wth the baptysme that I shal be baptised wth. But to syt on my ryghte hande, and on my lyfte is not myne to geue: but to them for whom it is prepared of my father. &

And when the ten hearde thys, they dysdained at the two brythren. But Iesus called them vnto hym and sayd. Ye know that Lordes of the Gentilles haue dominion ouer them, And they that are greates, exercise power ouer them. It shal not be so amonge you. But (d) whosoever wyl be great among you lette hym be poure minister, and whosoever wyl be chiefe, let hym be poure seruaunte, euen as the sonne of manne came not to be ministered vnto, but to be minister, and to geue hys lyfe for the redemption of many.

And as they departed from Hierico, much people folowed hym. And behold two blind men syttinge by the waye syde, when they herde Iesus passe by, cryed sayinge: Thou Lord the son of Dauid haue mercye on vs. And the people rebuked them: because they should holde thepyr peace. But they cryed the more, saying: Haue mercye on vs thou Lord whych arte the son of Dauid. Then Iesus stode styll, & called them, & sayed: What wylt thou that I shuld do to you? They sayd to him Lord that oure eyes maye be opened. Iesus had compassio on them, & touched theyr eyes.

And immediatly theyr eyes receyued syght: And they folowed him.

The Notes.

(a) The whole purpose of thys parable, is to proue that God rewardeth not his workmen accordyng to the tyme they woork, & paynes that they take in hys vntear d, & is in this world, but: accordyng to hys mercede. For thus he concludeth Many are called but fewe elected. As though he shuld haue sayed. They be not all elected that be called to the ceremoniall law of the Jewes, neyther al chosen that be called of the rule of the gospel. But on whom he wyl, he taketh mercede: and whome he listeth maketh hard hatred. Rom. ix.

(b) Here is to be noted, that the Jewes were in such bondage to the Romaynes at the death of Christ & they myght do no execution them selues, but deliuer theyr euill doers to the Emperours souldiours to be tormented.

(c) Thys request of theyr declar eth what opynion they had of the kyngdom of Christ. Euen that it shoulde be an earthlye kyngdome, wherein the next about hym shuld beare most rule. But Christes answer declar eth theyr ignorance, and the eternall predestination of God.

(d) Herken ye princes and rulers learne your duty. Suppress and make them slaues that would be greates, The I say that by offices in your courtes, and sue to be your chaplaynes: for that is the way to be made great.

Chapter 21

Christ to shewe hys kyngly power, ryd to Ierusalem vpon an Asse, he censed the church, he cursed the fig tree, he defended hys authority against the pharises, whose false religion and vngodlynes, & myndes desirous of murder, he declar eth by hys parable of hys vine. But when they wold haue taken hym they wer let because they feared the people.

When they drewe nigh vnto Ierusalem, and were come to Bethphage Bethphage to mount oliuete, then sent Iesus Mark. xi. & two of hys dysciples, saying to the Luke. xix. c. Go into the towne that lieth ouer agaynstte you, and anon he shal fynde an Asse bound, and a colte wth her: lose them and brynge them vnto me. And if anye man say oughte vnto you, say ye that the Lorde hath nede of theym: and streyghte waye he wyl let them go. All thys was done to fulfyll that whyche was spoken by the prophete, sayinge: Tell ye the doughter of Sion: beholde the kyng cometh vnto hys meke, and syttinge vpon an (a) asse and a colte, the fole of an asse vnto the pooke. The Dysciples went and dyd as Iesus commaunded them and brought the Asse and the colte, and put on them theyr clothes, and set him thereon. And many of hys people spred theyr garmentes in the way. Other cut downe braunches fro the trees, and strawed theym in the waye. Moreover, the people that went before, and they also that came after, cried, saying: Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid. Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord (b) Hosanna in the hiest. &

And when he was come into Ierusalem, all the crite was moued sayinge: who Fast shalbe fyrst. Math. ix. a Mark. x. c. Luke. xii. f Math. xvi. and. xvii. Mar. xii. c. Passion. Luk xvii.

Marke. x. e Mother of zebedees chyldezen.

Mar. xix. c. Luk. ix. f. and. xxi. c. Great.

Hierico. Mar. x. c

Luk. xix. f Math. i. c Two blind men.

Gentyles.

Kingdome

Great.

sig

Esa. liii. d. zach. ix. d. Ihon. xii.

Hosanna Ps. cxvii. d

Mar. xi. b.
Luke. xix. g
Jhon. ii. c.
Pers and sellers.

Clap. lvi. c.
Jere. vii. b.

Gosanna.
We beseeke
the giue vs
health.

Mar. xi. b.
fpygge tre

Mark. xi. r.

Math. xi. b
Luk. xx. a

Baptisme
of Jhon whence.

Mar. xiii. b
Luk. xix. b
Mar. xiii. c

Two son-
nes.

is this? And the people sayed: this is Jesus the prophete of Nazareth a Cytpe of Galile. And Jesus wente into the temple of God, and caste out all them that sould and boughte in the temple, & ouerthrewe the tables of the mony chaungers, and the seates of them that sould doues, and saped to the: It is wyrtten: my house shalbe called y house of praier. But ye haue made it a den of theues. And the blynd & the halte came to hym in the tēple, and he heled the.

When the chiefe p̄yestes sawe the mar-ueples that he d̄yd, and the chyl dren crypunge in the temple and sayinge: Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid, they dysdained & sayed vnto hym: hearest thou what these saye? Jesus sayed vnto them, yea. Haue ye neuer red: of the mouth of babes and sucklynges thou hast ordeyned prayse? And he lefte them, and wente out of the cite vnto Bethanpe: and had hys abidynge there.

In the mornynge as he returned into the cite agayne, he hungered, and spied (c) a fpygge tre in the way, and came to it, and foundede nothyng thereon, but leaues one-ly, and sayed to it: neuer fruyte growe on the hence forwardes. And anon the fpygge tre wyddered awaye. And when his Dysciples sawe that they maruailed sayinge: Howe sone is t̄: fpygge tree wyddered awaye? Jesus answered, and sayed vnto them: Verelpe I saye vnto you: if ye shal haue (d) sayeth, and shal not doute, ye shal not onelp̄e doo that whiche I haue done to the fpygge tree, but also if ye shal saye vnto thys mountayne, take thi selfe a waye and caste thy selfe into the sea, it shal be done. And whatsoeuer ye shal are in prayer (if ye beleue) ye shal receyue it. And when he was come into the temple, the chiefe p̄yestes and the elders of the people came vnto him as he was teachyng, and sayed: By what authoritie doest thou these thynges, and who gaue the thys power? Jesus answered, and sayed vnto them: I also wyl aske of you a certain question: whiche if ye aswyle me, I in like wyle wyl tel you by what authoritie I do these thynges. The Baptysme of Jhon whence was it, from heauen or of (e) men?

Then they reasoned amonge them selues sayinge: If we shal saye from heauen, he wyl saye vnto vs: why d̄yd ye not then beleue hym? But and if we shal saye of men, then feare we the people. For al men helde Jhon as a prophete. And they answered Jesus and sayed: we cannot tell. And he lykewyse sayed vnto them: neyther tell I you by what authoritie (f) I doo these thynges.

What say ye to thys? A certayne man had two sonnes, and came to the elder and sayed: sonne go and worke to daye in my vyneparde. He answered and sayed I wyl not: but afterwarde repented and wente.
Then came he to the second, and sayd like-wyle. And he answered and sayed, I wyl sp̄: pet went not. Whether of them twaine did the wil of the father? And they sayd vnto him: the fyrste. Jesus sayed vnto the: be-rely I say vnto you, that the publicanes & the harlotes, shal come into the kyngdom of God before you. For Jhon came vnto you in the waye of ryghtuousnes, and ye beleued hym not. But the publicans and harlotes beleued hym. And yet ye (though ye sawe it) were not yet moued wth repentaunce, that ye myght afterwarde haue be-leued him.

Herken another similitude. Ther was a certayne housholder, whiche planted a vineparde, and hedged it round aboute, and made a wyne presse in it, and bylde a tower, and lette it oute to husbandmen, and went into a straunge countrey. And when the tyme of the fruite drew neare, he sent hys seruauntes to the husbandmen to receyue the frutes of it. And the husband-men caught his seruauntes and bette one, kylled another, & stoned another. Agayne he sent other seruauntes, mo then the first and they serued them lykewyle. But laste, of all he sent vnto them hys owne son sayinge: they wyl feare my sonne. But when the husbandmen sawe the sonne, they saped among them selues. This is the heyre, come, let vs kyll hym, and let vs take hys enheritaunce to ourselues. And they caught hym, and thrust hym out of the vynepard, & slew him. When the Lord of the vineyard cometh, what wil he do with those husbā-men? They sayed vnto him: He they cruel-lye destrope those euil persons, and will let out hys vineyard vnto other husbandmen, whych shal deliuer hym the fruite at times conuenient.

Jesus sayed vnto theym: d̄yd ye neuer reade in the scriptures? The stone whiche the buylders refused, the same is set in the p̄ncipall part of the corner: thys was the Lordes doynge, and it is meruelous in our eyes. Therefore say I vnto you, the kyngdom of god shalbe taken from you, & shal-be geuen to the gentyles, which shal bring foorth the fruite of it. And whosoever shal fall on thys stone, he (f) shalbe broken: but on whosoever it shal fal vpon, it wil grynd him to powder. And when the chiefe p̄yestes and pharises heard these similitudes, they percepued that he spake of the. And they wente aboute to laye handes on him, but they feared the people, because they tooke hym as a prophete. The Notes.

(a) Let it not trouble the gentel reader: y in the other thye Euangelistes is no mencion of the asse but of the colte only (which thinge some curiouse readers do greatlye note) for it is not a thing pertainyng to the purpose, for as much as the entent of the prophete was to declare that our Sauour should be of so base sort and smal reputacion in the worlde, that he shoulde haue none other p̄uylfrey but a yonge asse whereon no man had sate before hym, yea a foale y hadde bene v̄sed to draw in the yock. Wherefore it suffifised to name the foale, & yathew hath not offended

Publicanis
math. iii. c.
Harlotes.

Luk. xx. a Clap. v. a.
Hier. li. d.
Vynepard
that is let out to hyper
Mar. xii. a
Luk. xx. b.

Isa. cxlii. d
Actes. iiii. b
i. Peter. ii.
Rom. ix. g.
Luk. xx. c.
Mar. xii. a.

Anasse and colte.

Hosanna. (b) Hosanna. In hebrew Hosanna. That is to saye, I pray the to geue me health.

Figge tree. (c) By this figge tree Christe doth sufficientely shewe that the Jewes although they had an appaunce of holynes by their ceremonies, yet uerthles they had not the fruite of charitie, by the whych thyng he signified that they shoulde be shortly depyued and put from this false appaunce, by the destruction of Hierusalem.

Fapth. (d) That fapth can not but doubt which is not grounded vpon knowledge. And knowledge wyl not suffer vs to despye anye thyng but vpon this cōdicio, if it be the will of God. This place therfore doth not encourage vs to desire in oure prayer, such thynges as we fantasie.

Of men. (e) In the scripture, that is counted to be of me which is inuented by men, and that of heauen, whych is of God.

Spoke and grounds. (f) This breakyng and gryndyng to powder, is the viter destruction of them that proudly resist the doctryne of Christ, as dyd the Pharises of whom this was chiefly spoken.

The xxii. Chapter.

Here is described the parable of those that be bidden to the maryage, and also the mariage garmente Christ also declareth the questyon of gyuynge mony to Cesar. He confuteth the Saduces that denyed the resurrection. He sheweth what is the hyst pcept in the law. And he proueth by Dauides wyne whose sonne Christe shoulde be.

Luk. xliii. a Mariage.
Apoc. xix. b

And Jesus answered, and spake vnto them againe in similitudes, saying: The kyngdome of heauen is like vnto a certayne kyng, which married his sonne, and sent forth his seruauntes to call them that wer byd to the weddyng, and they would not come. Agayne he sent forth other seruauntes, saying: Tell them whych are bydden: behold I haue prepared my dynner, myne oren and my fatynges are killed, and all thynges are redy, come vnto the maryage. But they made light of it, and went they: wapes: one to his farme place, another about his marchandise, the remnant toke his seruauntes, and intreated them vngodly and slew them. When the kyng heard that, he was wroth, and sent forth his warriers and destroyed those murtherers, and bzent by their cytie.

Mat. xlii. c. and. xix. c

Then sayd he to his seruauntes: the wedding was prepared. But they whych were bidden: were not worthy. So he therfore out into the hye waies, and as many as he fynde, bid them to the mariage. The seruauntes wet out into the hye waies, & gaddered together as many as they could fynde, both good & bad, & the weddinge was furnished with gesses. Then the king came in to viset the gesses, & spied ther a man which had not (a) on a wedding garment, & said vnto him: frend how fortunied it that thou camest in hither, and hast not on a wedding garment? And he was euen spechlesse. Then sayd the kyng to his ministers: take and bynde him hand and foote, and caste him into viter darchnes, there shall be weeping and gna-

Weddyng garment.

thyng of teeth. For manye are called, and fewe be chosen. &

Then went the pharises & toke counsel how they might tangle him in his wordes. And thei sent vnto him their disciples with Herodes seruauntes, saying: Maister, we know that thou art true, & teachest þ waye of God trulpe: neither carest for any man, for thou considerest not mennes estate. Tel vs therfore how thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to giue tribut vnto Cesar or not? Jesus perceiued their wickednes, and said: Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites? Let me se þ tribut money. And they toke him a peny. And he sayd vnto them: whose is this ymage or superscriptio? They laid vnto him, Cesars. Then said he vnto them: (b) Beue therfore to Cesar, that which is Cesars: And gyue vnto God, that which is Gods. &

When they heard that, they maruayled and left him, and went they: wape.

The same daye the Saduces came to him, (whych say, that ther is no resurrection) & axed him saying: Maister, Moyses bad, if a man dye hauing no chyldren, that the brother mary his wife, & raise vp seed vnto his brother. Ther were wyth vs seuen brethren, & the first married & deceased without pssue, & left his wyfe vnto his brother. The seconde, & the thirde vnto the seuenth. Last of all the woman dyed also. Howe in the resurrection, whose wyfe shal she be of these seuen? For all had hit. Jesus answered & said vnto them: ye ar deceiued and vnderstand not the scriptures, nor yet the power of God. For in the resurrection they neither mary nor are married, but (c) are as the angels in heauen.

As touching the resurrection of the dead, haue ye not read what is saied vnto pou of God whych sayth: I am Abrahams God, and Isaacks God, & the god of Jacob; (d) god, is not the God of the dead, but of the liuinge. And when the people hearde that, they were astonied at his doctrine.

Then the pharises had heard howe þ he had put the Saduces to silence, they drew together, & one of them whych was a doctor of lawe, axed a questiō, tempting him and saying: Maister whych is the chiefe cōmandemēt in the lawe? Jesus sayd to him: Loue þ Lord thy God with all thyne hert, and with all thy soule, & with all thy mind. This is the fyrst and the chiefe commaundement. And ther is another like vnto this. Loue thy neighbour as thy self. In these two commaundementes hange all the law and the prophetes.

Whyle the pharises were gaddered together, Jesus axed them, saying: what thinke ye of Christ, whose son is he? They saied vnto him, the son of Dauid. He saied vnto them: howe then doeth Dauid in spirit, call him Lord? saying. The Lord sayd to my (e) Lorde, spt on my ryght hand: tll I make thyne enemies thy fete stole.

If Dauid call him Lorde, howe is he then

Many are called.

Mat. xlii. b
Luk. ix. d
Act. xlii. b
Deu. xix. b

Tribute to Cesar.

Mat. xli. c
Luk. ix. c

Deu. xix. b
Saduces.

Resurrec
cion.
Exod. iii. d

Mat. xli. c
Luk. ix. c

Deut. vi. a
A chiefe cō
mandemēt

Psal. cx. a

then hys sonne? And none coulde answer him agayne one worde, neyther durst anpe from that day forth, axe him any more que- stions. f

The Notes.

Parlage garment.

Gene to Cesar x.

As angels.

The God of the ly- yng.

Lord.

(a) This is the garment that is mencioned in Eclay. ixi. chapter in D. And it is none other, but the lyuely sayth which is most beutifullpe decked wpth the workes of the spyrte.

(b) By this Cesar is ment all temporal rulers, to whom we ought of conscience to geue al thin- ges that the lawe of the countrey we be in byn- deth vs to geue. Whether it be our goods, our selfe, oure chyldren, or seruants to do them see- uice.

(c) To be as angels, is to be wythoute all cor- ruption and supmyntes of the fleshe, so that p- despyes of the same do neuer trouble vs.

(d) If God be not the God of the dead, but of p- lyuyng: Then must Abraham nedes lyue, sythen he is Abrahams God. Wpke not at this place you Saduces of oure tyme, which wyl not be- lieue and confesse that the soule of man is im- mortall.

(e) Notwytstandynge that Christe, in that he was man, was the sonne of Dauid: yet Dauid seyng in spirite that he was God, called hym lord. But the Pharises, who were all fleshye, could not perceiue so much of the spirit.

The xxiii. Chapter.

A bitter chydynge of the hypocrites that taught falsely, to whom also he vpbraideth theyr counterfayte holynes, and kyllynge of prophetes. After he threatneth destruction to Ierusalem, for theyr vngodlye vnkyn- dnes.

Then spake Iesus to the people, and to his disciples, sayng: The Scribes and the Pharises sit in

(a) Moyses seate. All therefore whatsoeuer they bid you obserue, that ob- serue & do, but after theyr workes, do not, for they say and do not. Yea and they bind heauy burthens and greuous to be borne & lay them on mennes shoulders: but they themselves wyl not heaue at them wpth one of their fingers. All their workes they do for to be sene of men. They set abroad their phylacteries, and make large borders on theyr garmentes, and loue to synne vpermost at feastes, and to haue the chiefe seates in the synagoges, and gretynge in the markets, & to be called of men Rabbi.

But ye shall not suffer your selues to be called Rabbi. For one is your maister, that is to wytte Christ, and all ye brethren. And call no man your (b) father vpon the earth, for there is but one your father, and he is in heauen. Be not called maisters: for ther is but one your maister, and he is Christ. He p is greatest amog you, shalbe your ser- uant. But whosoever exalteth hymselfe, shalbe brought low: and he that humbleth himselfe, shalbe exalted. f

Do be vnto you Scribes and Pharises, hypocrites, for ye (c) shut vp p kingdom of heauen before men: ye pour selues goo not in, neyther suffer ye them that come to en- ter in.

Do be vnto you Scribes and Pharises, hypocrites, ye deuour wyddowes houses, and that vnder a coloure of prayng longe prayers: wherfore ye shall receiue greater damnacion.

Do be vnto you Scribes and Pharises hypocrites, which compass sea and land, to bynge one into poure belefe, and when he is brought, ye make him two folde more the chyld of hell, then ye pour selues are.

Do be vnto you blind guides, which saye: whosoever sweare by the temple, it is nothynge, but whosoever sweareth by the golde of the temple, he offendeth. Ye folles and blinde, whether is greater the gold, or the temple that sanctifyeth the gold? And whosoever sweareth by the altare, it is no- thing: but whosoever sweareth by the offe- ryng that lyeth on the altare, offendeth. Ye foolles and blind, whether is greater p offering, or the altare, which sanctifyeth the offering? Whosoever therfore swea- reth by the altare, sweareth by it and by all p theron is. And whosoever sweareth by the temple, sweareth by it and by hym p dwelleth therein. And he that sweareth by heauen, sweareth by the seate of God, and by him that sitteth theron.

Do be to you Scribes and Pharises, hi- pocrites which tyth mynt, anise & cumine, and leaue the waightier matters of p lawe vndone: iudgement, merce, and faythe. These ought ye to haue done and not haue left p other vndone. Ye blind guides which straine oute a gnat and swalowe a Cam- mell.

Do be to you Scribes and Pharises, hi- pocrites, which make cleane the vtter side of the cuppe and of the platter: but wpth- in they are ful of byby and excesse. Thou blind pharise, cleanse first the innespde of the cuppe and platter, that the outspde of them may be cleane also.

Do be to you Scribes and Pharises hi- pocrites, for ye are lyke vnto paynted tom- bes, which appere bewtiful outward, but are within full of dead bones and of all spl- thynes. So are ye, for outwarde ye appere ryghteous vnto men, when within, ye are full of hypocresy and iniquitye.

Do be vnto you Scribes and Pharises hypocrites, ye bylde the tombes of the pro- phetes, and garnishe the sepulchres of the rightuous and saye: if we had bene in the dapes of oure fathers, we would not haue bene parteners wpth them in the bloude of the prophetes. So then ye be wptnesse to pour selues, that ye are the chyldren of the which killed p prophetes. Full ye lyke- wylse the measure of pour fathers. Ye ser- pentes and generacion of bypers, howe should ye escape the damnacion of hell?

Wherfore, beholde I send vnto you pro- phetes, wylmen, and Scribes: of them ye shall kyll, and crucifye: and of them ye shall scourge in your synagoges, and persecute from city to city, that vpon you maye come al the Wyddowes houses.

L

Temple.

Altare.

Mynte.

Anise.

Luke. xi f

Judgement

and merce

Blinde

guides.

Citus. i. a.

Innespde.

Painted

sepulchres.

D

Ye bylde

the tombes.

Mat. xii. v.

Heauy bur- then.

Luke. xii. g

Act. xv.

Mat. xii. d

Luke. xx. g.

Phylacte- ries.

Chiefe sea- res.

Gretynge.

Great.

Exalt.

Luke. xliii. c

and. xliii. c

The kyng- dom is shut

Luke. xx. g.

Gen. xiii. b.
it. pa. xliii Innocent
bloud.

all the rightuous bloud that was shed vpon the earth, from the bloud of rightuous Abel, vnto the bloud of zacharias the sonne of Barachias, wherby we flewe betwene the tēple & the aulter. Verely I saye vnto you, all these thynges shal lyght vpon this generacion. Ierusalē, Ierusalē, whych kyllest p̄- phetes, and stonest them whych are sent to the, how often would I haue gathered thy chilozen together, as the henne gathereth her chickens vnder hir winges, but ye (d) would not. Behold your habitacion shal be left vnto you desolate. For I saye to you, ye shall not see me henceforth, tyll that ye say, blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord. &

Ruk. xiii. g
u. 2. d. i. d

Moyles
seate.

The Notes.
(a) It is to be thought that the Jewes had in the temple, some certayne place wher in was a seat or chaire for him that read the lawe of Moyles to the people, to syt on whyle he read, as we haue now in our churches, for them that read the Epistle and Gospell to the people: whych myghte righte well be called Moyles seate, because Moyles lawe onely was read in that place.

Now the Scribes and Pharisees were appointed to that seate: wherfore our Sauoure commanded his disciples to obserue al that they teache. For whyle they sate in that seate they taught Moyles lawe onely. In lyke maner sta-deth it wth vs and our Pharisees: so longe as they syt on Christes seat and reade vnto vs Christ out of the holyc Bible booke, we are by Christes commaundement bound to obey them.
But when they runne to their owne tradicions:
we are as free from them as the Apostles were from the Scribes, and Pharisees of their tyme.

Father.

(b) Here is the bishop of Rome declared a plain Antichriste in that he would be called the moste holyc father, and that all Christen men shoulde acknowledge him for no lesse then their spirituall father, notwithstanding these playn wor-des of Christ: Cal no man your father.

To shut vp
the kyngdom

(c) To shut vp the kyngdome of God before me is to dispence with mens consciences for the uppyng of Goddes commaundement vndone appointyng them workes of theyr owne inuention to supply to the same (as our ghostly fathers haue vsed to do in confelssion.) For this is the kyngdome of God, when men be studiouse to do the wyll of God, and thynke it not sufficient to leaue Gods wyll vndone, and then to satisfy after theyr owne fantasie, wherfore al such as hynder this study, shut the kyngdome of God before men.

Would not.

(d) Upon this place is builded a wonderfull choise and fre wyll of man. Who maye (as the Papistes and certayne other Antichristians imagin) withstande the wyll of God, whych is, say they, that al men shoulde be saued and come to the acknowledgedgyng of the truth: whych thyng, man may of him selfe refuse or embrace.

That thou be not deceyued in this, Christian reader, thou shalt note that the wyll of God muste be considered two maner of wayes.
Fyrst it is eternal, inscrutible and vchang-eable, so that it cannot be resisted, but must be fulfilled, though all the worlde would saye naye.
After this maner would not Christe haue gathered the Jewes together. For both I saye in hys. vi. Chapter, & and the Psalme. lxxviii. c. hadde prophesied theyr obstinacye, euen accor-dyngly as this eternal wyll of God had prescribed. Secondly the wyll of God is to be considered, as it is knowen to men by the scriptures. That is that men shoulde loue God aboue all thynges, and do to other, as they would be done by.

After this sort would God haue gathered the Jewes together in declaringe this his will vnto them by the p̄phetes, but they would not because they were those stiffnecked people, that the vnsearchable will of God, had ordeined to se and not perceiue, to heare and not vnderstand, lest they shoulde conuertere and he shuld heale the.

The xxiii. Chapter.

Christe sheweth the fatal destruction that was to come vpon Ierusalē, describinge also what troubles and tokens shoulde goo before the destruction: and howe cruell the wastynge shoulde be. After by occasiō: he tak-eth of the destruction of the whole worlde, or of the consummation of the world and of the glorious conyng of the sonne of man vnto iudgement, exhortyng al men to watche and be sober, setting forth the rewardes and paynes.

AND Jesus went out and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to hym for to shewe hym the buildinge of the temple.

Jesus sayd vnto them: See ye not all these thynges? verely I saye vnto you, there shall not here be left one stone vpon another that shall not be cast downe.

And as he sate vpon the mount Oliuet, his disciples came vnto him secretly, saying: Tell vs when these thynges shal be: & what sygne shal be of thy conyng and of the ende of the worlde? And Jesus aun-swered and said vnto them: take hede that no man deceyue you. For manye shal come in my name, saying: I am Christ, and shall deceyue manye.

Ye shall heare of warres, and of the same of warres: but se that ye be not troubled.
For all these thynges must come to passe, but the ende is not yet. For nacion shal rise agaynst nacion, and realme agaynst realme: and there shal be pestilence, hunger and earthquakes here and there. All these are the beginninge of sorowes.

Then shall they put you to trouble, and shall kylle you: and ye shal be hated of al na-cions for my names sake: And then shall many be offended, and shal betray one another, and shal hate one the other. And many false p̄phetes shal aryse, and shal deceyue many. And because iniquitie shal haue the vpperhand, the loue of many shal abate. But he that endureth to the ende, the same shal be safe. And this glad tydynges of the kyngdome shal be preached in al the worlde, for a witnes vnto al nacions:
and then shall the ende come.

When ye therfore shall see the abhominacion that betokeneth desolacion, spoken of by Daniell the p̄phet, stand in the holyc place (let him that readeth it, vnder-stand it:) then let them which be in Iurpe, flye into the mountaynes. And let them which are in the countre, flye into the cityes.

Luke. xi. d
and. xix. g.
Mat. xiii. a destruction
of the temple

Eph. v. b.

John. xvi. a

False p̄- phetes.

Dan. xii. a.
Mat. xiii. c
Luk. xvi. e

is on the house toppe, not come downe to fet any thyng out of his house. Neyther let him which is in the fiede, retorne back to fetch his clothes. Woe in those dayes to thepni that are with childe, and to them that geue sucke. But pray that your flight be not in the (b) Wynter, neyther on the Saboth day. For then shalbe great tribulation, suche as was not from the begynnyng of the world to this tyme, nor shalbe: yea and excepte those dayes shoulde be shortened, there shoulde no fleshe be saued: but for the (c) chosens sake those dayes shalbe shortened.

Wynter.

Mar. xiii. c.
Luk. xvi. c.

Then if any man shall saye vnto you: lo here is Christe, or there is Christe: beleue it not. For ther shal arysse false Christes, and false prophetes, and shall do great mygacles and wonders. In so muche that if it were possible the verpe elect shoulde be deceiued. Take hede, I haue told you befoze. Wherfoze, if they shall saye vnto you: behold he is in deserte: go not forth. Beholde he is in the secrete places, beleue not. For as the lpyhtenyng commeth oute of the east, and thyneth into the weste, so shal the comminge of the son of man be. For wher soeuer a dead carkas is, euen thpyther wyl the (d) Egles resort.

Mar. xiii. c.
Luk. xxi. e.
Es. xxi. b.
Esa. xiii. b.
Thon. iii. c.
Apoca. i. b.
Mar. xiii. a

Immediately after the tribulations of those dayes, shall the (e) sunne be darckened: and the moone shal not geue hir light, and the starres shal fall from heauen, and the powers of heauen shal moue. And then shal appeare the signe of the sonne of man in heauen. And then shall all the kynredes of the earthe mourne, and they shal se the sonne of man come in the cloudes of heauen with power and great glory. And then shal he send his (f) angels with the greates voice of a trompe, and they shal gather together his chosen: from the foure windes, and from the one ende of the worlde to the other.

ffyg tree.
Mar. xiii. d
Luk. xxi. e

Learn a similitude of the figge tree: when his braunches are yet tender, & hys leaues spronge, ye knowe that sommer is nye. So likewise ye, when ye se all these thynges, be ye sure, that it is neare euen at the doores. Merely I say vnto you, that this (g) generacion shall not passe tyll all these be fulfilled. Heauen and earth shal perish, but my wordes shal abide. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no not the angels of heauen, but my father onely.

Gene. vi. b and. vii. b Noe.

As the tyme of Noe was, so lpykwyl shal the commyng of the sonne of man be. For as in the dayes befoze the floude, they dyd eate and drynke, marpe and were married, euen vnto the dape that Noe entered into the shippe, and knewe of nothyng, til the floude came and toke them all awaye: So shall also the comminge of the son of man be. When (h) two shal be in the fiede, the one shalbe receyued, and the other shal be refused, two shalbe gryndyng at the myll, the one shalbe receyued, and the other shalbe refused.

Wake therfoze, bpcause ye knowe not what houre your maister wil come. Of this be sure that if the good man of the house knewe what houre the thiefe would come, he wold surely wathe, and not suffer hys house to be broken vp. Therfoze be ye also redy, for in (i) the houre ye thynke he wold not, wyl the sonne of man come. If there be any fapthfull seruaunte and wyle, who his maister hath made ruler ouer hys housholde to geue them meate in season conuenient: happy is that seruaunte whom hys maister (when he cometh) shall find so doynge. Merely I say vnto you, he shal make him ruler ouer all his goods. But and if p euil seruaunte shal saye in his herte: my maister will defer his comyng, and begyn to smyte hys fellowes, yea and to eate and to drinke with the drunken, that seruautes maister will come in a day when he lokeyth not for him, and in an hour that he is not ware of, and wyl deuyde him, & geue hym hys rewarde with hypocrites. There shal be wepyng and gnashyng of teth.

Luk. xvi. g

Mar. xiii. b
Luk. xii. f.

Math. xv.
ffapthfull
seruaunte.
Spoc. xvi. c
Eupll seruaunt.

The Notes.

(a) Thys holpe place is the temple of God, that is the congregation of Christe, as Paule wytteth.

Holy place

(b) Here is to be thoughte that Christe dyd conuerthe admonysh the hys dyscyples of the tyme of the yere and dape of the destruction of Hierusalem. For as Strabo wytteth in his. xvi. booke Pompeius toke theym on the Saboth dape, & so dyd Titus and Vaspasian also, As is mentioned in Frontonius. But yet it is rather to be thought that he vled these wordes wynter & Saboth, to the entent to sette forth the greatness of the trouble that shoulde chaunce in those daies, to be such, that if it fell in the wynter or in the Saboth dape, when they myght not by p lawe trauel past one myle, it shoulde not be possible for them to escape by flyng awaye.

Wynter.

(c) It is not possible that those who God hath elected from the beginning of the world shoulde be seduced, so that they shoulde hate or persecute the waye of the Lorde, whiche they haue ones professed.

Elect.

(d) Egles are byrds that flye high and fede vpon carion. Wherfoze they resort vnto the dead carkas that lyeth sometyne far from them. It is therfoze a meete similitude to declare that the Christians, whose conuersacion is hygh in heauen, shal at the last dape resort to Christe theyr fode, from all partes of the worlde.

Egles.

(e) The sunne shalbe derched, shalbe made as sackcloth or smoke. The moone shal not geue hys lpyht, shalbe tournd into bloud befoze that day come, and the starres shal falle. No doubt all thys must be spiritually vnderstand. That is, for the sunne the worde of God whiche is the lpyht of the worlde, and for the moone man lawes &c. For as it was at Noes floude: so shal the commyng of the sonne of man be. But the sunne was byght then, euen to the very houre &c.

The sunne

(f) These aungels are the prophetes and preachers of the latter dayes, who shal blowe the trump of hys worde, and thereby gather together the chosen from all quarters of the world, as is declared in the reuelacyon.

Angels.

Gene.

Generacio. (g) Generacion is taken here for that empyre, which was then chiefe of the whole world, that was Rome. Whylle Rome therfore beareth þ name of the chiefe empyre of Chystedome, shall the latter daye come.

Two in the feld.

In þ houre ye thinke not.

(h) Thys declareth, that euen to the daye of iudgement, the good and bad shall dwell togyther. (i) In the houre ye thinke not. Here maye we learne that al the sygnes of the last daye are to be taken spirituallly. For so shall he come when men that loke for them to be carnally fulfilled, thinke least.

The .xxv. Chapter.

The parable of the .x. vyrgyns and talentes warneth vs to wathe and to haue fapth in nyng wpyth workes, and byddeth vs to be myndefull of our offyce. After he sheweth vnto vs after what maner the last iudgement shall be.

Virgyns.

Then the (a) kyngdome of heauen shall be lykened vnto ten virgins, which toke their lampes and wet to mete the bridegrome. For of them were folyshe: and fyue were wpyse. The folyshe toke theyr (b) lampes, but toke none oyle wpyth them. But the wpyse toke oyle wpyth them in their vessels wpyth theyr lampes also. Whyle the bridegrome tarped, al slumbez and slepte. And euen at midnight there was a crye made: beholde, the bridegrome cometh, go out agaynst him. Then al those virgins arose, and prepared their lampes. And the folyshe sayed to the wpyse: gyue vs of your oyle, for our lampes go oute. But the wise answered, sayinge: not so, least ther be not (c) ynough for vs and you: but goo rather to them that sel, and bye for your selues.

And while they went to bye, the bridegrome came, and they that were redy, wet in with him to the weddyng, and the gate was shutte vp. Afterwardes came also the other virgins, sayinge: * Maister maister, open to vs. But he answered and said: verely I saye vnto you: I know you not (d) wathe therfore: for ye knowe neyther the daye nor yet the houre, when the sonne of man shall come.

Mat. vii. c
mar. xxi. d
Mat. xlii. e
Luke. xli. e Wathe.

* Lykewyse as a certayne man, readye to take hys iorney to a straunge country, cal led his seruauntes, and deliuered to them his goodes. And vnto one he gaue fyue tal ents, to another two, and to another one: to every mā after his abilitie, and straight wape departed. Then he that receiued the fyue talents, went and bestowed them, and wan other fyue talentes. Likewise he that receiued two, gaped other two. But he þ receiued the one, wente and digged a pitt in the earth, and hid his maisters monye. After a longe season the Lord of those seruauntes came & rekened with them. Then came he that had receiued fyue talentes, & brought other fyue talentes, sayinge: mai ster, thou deliueredst vnto me fyue talents, beholde I haue gaped with them fyue ta lentes mo. Then his maister said vnto him: Well good seruaunt and fapthfull. Thou hast bene fapthfull in litle, I will make þ ruler ouer much: (e) enter into thy maisters ioye. Also he that receyued two talentes, came and said: maister thou deliueredst vnto me two talentes, behold: I haue wonne two other talentes with them. And hys maister sayd vnto him: well good seruaunt and fapthfull. Thou hast bene fapthfull in littel, I wil make the ruler ouer much: goo into thy maisters ioy. Then he whiche had receyued the one talente came and sayde: maister, I consydered that thou waste an harde man, which repest where thou sow edst not, & gatherest where thou strawedst not, and was therefore afrayde, and went and hyd thy talente in the earth: beholde, thou hast thyne owne. His maister answered and sayed vnto him: thou euil seruaunt and slouthful, thou knewest that I reape wher I sowed not, & gadder where I strawed not: thou oughtest therefore to haue had my mony to the chaungers, and then at my comyng shoulde I haue receyued myne owne wpyth vauntage. Take therfor the talent from him, and gyue it vnto hym whych hath tenne talentes. For vnto eue ry man that hath (e) shall be geuen, and he shall haue aboundaunce: and fro hym that hath not shall be taken away, euen that he hath. And cast that vnprofftable seruaunt into vtter darchnes: ther shall be weppynge and gnaushynge of teeth.

Talentes.

* When the sonne of man cometh in his glorie, and al the holy Angelles wpyth him, then shall he sytte vpon the seate of his glorye, and before him shall be gathered al na tions, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shephearde deuydeth the shepe from the goates. And he shall set the shepe on hys righte hande, and the goates on hys lefte.

Then shall the kyng say to them on hys right hande: Come ye blessed chyldren of my father, enherite ye the kyngdome pre pared for you from the beginnyng of the world. For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meat, I thyrsted & ye gaue me drynke, I was herburles and ye lodged me, I was naked and ye clothed me. I was sicke, and ye visited me. I was in prision, and ye came vnto me. Then shall the righteous answer him, sayinge. Maister, when sawe we the an hungred, and fed the, or a thyrste, and gaue the drynke: when sawe we the herburles, and lodged the: or naked and clothed the: or when saw we the sicke, or in prision, and came vnto the: And the kyng shall answer and saye vnto them: verely, I saye vnto you: in as much as ye haue done it to one of the least of these my brythre, ye haue done it vnto me.

Then shall the king say vnto them that shall be on the lyfte hande. Depart fro me ye cursed, into euerlastyng fyre, whych is prepared for the Dewill & his aungels. For I was an hungred & ye gaue me no meate. I thyrsted & ye gaue me no drynke. I was

Mat. xlii. s
Mar. xlii. c
Louenast
Luke. xli. d
mar. xlii. s
and. xlii. b.
The iudge
ment.
Sheepe.
Goates.
Eze. xxxiii.

Eze. vii. s.

Psal. vi. c.
Luke. xlii. c

The Gospell

herbourles, and ye lodged me not: I was naked and ye clothed me not, I was sicke and in prison, and ye visited me not.

Then shall they aunswere him, sayinge: maister, when sawe we the an hungred, or a thyrste, or herbourles or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and dyd not minister vnto the?

Couenaunt Then shall he aunswer them and saie. We rely I saie vnto you, in as much as ye dyd it not to one of these lytle ones, ye dyd it not vnto me. And these shall go into euerlastyng payne. And the rightuous into lyfe eternall.

John. v. d.

The Notes.

Kingdome of heauen. (a) In this place the kyngdome of heauen signifieth the hole congregation of beleuers: beynge yet conuersant in this lyfe, whiche God gouerneth invisibly as Luke the. vii. c

Lampes without oyle. (b) These Lampes are such dead fayth as James declareth to be in dyuels and rotten trees, whych byng forth no fruite.

ynough. (c) Here is to be noted, that not wylthstandynge the workes that do procede of fayth, are neuer so copious, yet haue we none ouerplus to distri but vnto other, as the hypocritish religious say ned them selues to haue.

Watche. (d) The whole entente of this parable is that we shoulde be alwayes in a redynes to departe this lyfe.

Enter into thy mai- sters loye. (e) To enter bys maisters loye, is to be partaker with his maister in his possessions, and so shall the faithful be ioyned bynges wyth Christe in his kyngdome.

To hym that hath. (f) Like the exposition of this afore. xiii. b

After daris mes. (g) Utter darknes doeth here signifie extreme ignorance of God and his worde. And the meaynyng of the whole parable is no more, but that such as do not thankfully applie y giftes that God gyueth them to their brothers profyt, shall haue those giftes taken from them, and be made most voyed of al such giftes.

The xxvi. Chapter.

Christ in the house of Simon the leaper, prepared to his buriall, is betrayed of Judas. And after that he instituted his supper, he goeth out to the mount Oluet, where the souldiers toke him, and brought him to the seniours of the people and priestes, by whose sentences he was condemned. But Peter beynge afraide, denyed hym thries as the lord shewed vnto him before.

The passio nat. xiii. a Luk. xxi. a A And it came to passe, when Iesus had finished al these sayinges, he sayed vnto his disciples: Ye know that after two dayes shall be Ester, and the sonne of manne shall be deliuered to be crucifyed.

Capphas. Then assembled together the chiefe priestes, and the scribes and the elders of the people to the palice of the hyghe priest, called Caiphaz: and held a counsell, how they mighte take Iesus by subteltye and kyll hym. But they sayed: not on the holy daye lest anye vyrouse aryse amongst the people.

John. xii. a Mar. xii. d When Iesus was in Bethanpe, in the house of Simon the leper, there came to hym a woman, whych hadde an alabastrer boxe of precyous oymntment, and poured it on hys head, as he sat at the bourde.

When hys dyscyples sawe that, they had indignacion, sayinge: what neded thys He is as wast? This oymntment myght haue ben wel sold, and gauen to the poore. When Iesus vnderstode that, he sayed vnto them: why trouble ye the womā? She hath wrought (a) a good worke vpon me. For ye shall haue poore folcke alwayes wyth you: but me shall ye not haue alwayes. And in that she casteth this oymntment on my bode, she dyd it to burpe me withall. Verelye I saie vnto you: whersoever thys Gospell shall be preached throughout all the worlde, there shall also this that she hath done, be tolde for a memorall of hir.

The Gospell

Then one of the twelue called Judas Iscarioth, went vnto the chiefe priestes, and sayed: What will ye gve me, and I wyll deliuer hym vnto you? And they appointed vnto him thyrtye peces of siluer. And from that tyme he sought oportunitie to betraye hym.

He is sold.

The first day of (b) swete bread, the disciples came to Iesus, sayinge vnto hym: where wilt thou that we prepare for the to eate the paschall lambe? And he sayed: goo into the citie vnto suche a man, and saye to hym: the maister saith: my tyme is at hand, I will kepe myne Ester at thy house wyth my disciples. And the disciples dyd as Iesus had appointed them, and made readye the Ester lambe.

Mar. xiii. a Luk. xxi. a

When the enen was come, he sate down wyth the twelue. And as they dyd eate, he sayd. Verelye I saie vnto you, that one of you shall betraye me. And they were excedyng sorowfull, and beganne euery one of them to saie vnto hym: is it I maister? He answered and sayed: he that dyppeth hys hande wyth me in the dyshe, the same shall betraye me. The sonne of man goeth as it is witten of him, but wo be to that man, by whom the sonne of man shall be betrayed. It had bene good for that man, if he hadde neuer bene borne.

Mar. xiii. a Luk. xxi. b John. xii. c.

Then Judas which betrayed hym: aunswered and sayed: is it I maister? He sayed vnto him, thou hast sayd. As they dyd eate, Iesus toke breade and gaue thakes, brake it, and gaue it to the disciples, and sayd: Take eate (c) this is my bode. And he toke the cuppe, and thanked, and gaue it them, sayinge: dryncke of it euery one: For this is my bloude of the newe testamente, that shall be shed for manpe, for the remission of synnes. I say vnto you: I wyll not drinke henceforth of this fruite of the vyne tre, vntill that daye, when I shall drynke it new wyth you in my fathers kingdome.

The institucion of the sacrament. i. Cor. xi. c.

And when they hadde sayd grace, they went out into mounte Oluet. Then sayde Iesus vnto them: all ye shall be (d) offended by me thys nyght. For it is witten, I wyll smyte the shepehearde, and the shepe of the flocke shall be scattered abroad. But after I am risen agayne, I wyll goo before you into Galyle. Peter answered and sayed vnto him: though all men shoulde be offended offended by the, yet wold I neuer be offended. Iesus sayd vnto him: Werelye I saye vnto the, that this same night before the cocke crowe, thou shalt denye me thryse. Peter sayd vnto him. If I should dye with the, yet woulde I not denye the. Likewyse also sayed all the disciples.

Mar. xiii. c Luk. xxi. b Jo. xvi. a. zacha. xiii. c

Ma. xiii. c
Luk. xxi. b
Jho. xxi. d

Then wente Iesus with them into a place whypche is called Bethsemane, and sayed vnto the disciples: sit ye here whyle I go and praye yonder. And he toke wyth hym Peter and the two sonnes of zebede, and began to wape sorowfull and to be in an agony. Then sayed Iesus vnto the: my (e) soul is heauye euen to þ death. Wary ye here and wathe with me. And he went a litle aparte, and fell flat on his face, & prayed, sayinge: O my father, if it be possible let this cuppe passe from me: neuertheles, not as I will, but as thou wylt. And he came vnto the disciples and founde them a slepe, and sayed to Peter: what coulde ye not watch wyth me one hour? wathe and praye, that ye fall not into temptacion. (f) The spirite is readye, and the fleche is weake.

Ma. xiii. d
Luk. xxi. d

He went awape ones more, and prayed, sayinge: O my father, if this cuppe cannot passe awape from me, but that I dryncke of it, thy will be fulfilled. And he came and found them a slepe againe. For their eyes were heauye. And he left them and wente agayne and prayed the thirde tyme, sayinge the same wordes. Then came he to his disciples and sayed vnto the: (g) Slepe henceforth and take your reste: for lo, the houre is at hand, and the son of man shall be deliuered into the handes of sinners. Rise, let vs be gong: beholde, he is at hande, that shall betraye me. Whyle he yet spake, lo Judas one of the twelue came, and with him a greate multitude with sweards and staues, sent from the chiefe priestes and elders of the people. And he that betrayed him, had geuen them a tokē, saying: who soeuer I kysse, that same is he, lape hands on him. And forth with all, he came to Iesus, and sayed: halpe maister, & kissed him. And Iesus sayd vnto him: frend, wherfore art thou come? Then came they and layed handes on Iesus and toke him.

He armeth himselfe agaynst the passion.

Mat. xiii. d.
Luk. xxi. c
Jh. xviii. a.

He is betrayed.

Gene. ix. a.
Apoc. xiii. c

And beholde, one of them which were wyth Iesus, stretched out his hande & drue hys swerd and stroke a seruaunt of the hye priest, and smote of hys eare. Then sayed Iesus vnto him: putte by thy swerde into his place. For all that (h) lape handes on the swerde, shall perishe wyth the swerd. Either thynkest thou that I can not now praye to my father, and he shall geue me more then twelue legions of angels? But howe then shoulde the scriptures be fulfilled: for so must it be.

The same tyme sayed Iesus to the multitude: ye be come out as it were vnto a thiefe wyth sweards and staues for to take me. I sate daylye teachyng in the temple among you, and ye toke me not. All thys was done that the Scriptures of the prophetes myght be fulfilled. The all the disciples forsoke him, and fled. And they toke Iesus and led him to Cayphas the hye priest, where the Scribes and the Elders were assembled. And Peter folowed hym a farre of vnto the hye priestes palace: and went in and sat with the seruauntes, to se the ende.

Mat. xiii. a
Luk. xxi. b
Jho. xviii. c
He is take.

The chiefe priestes and the elders, and all the counsell, soughte false wytnes agaynst Iesus, for to put hym to death, but founde none: in so muche, that when many false wytnesses came, yet founde they none. At the last came two false wytnesses and sayed: Thys felowe sayed: I can denye the temple of God, and buylde it agayne in thre daies.

He is falselye accused.

Jhon. ii. d.

And the chiefe prieste arose, and sayed to him: answerest thou nothyng? Howe is it that these beare wytnes agaynst the? But Iesus helde hys peace. And the chiefe priest answered & sayed to hym: I charge the in the name of the lypunge God, that thou tell vs, whether thou be Christe the sonne of God. Iesus said to him, thou hast sayed. Neuertheles I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye se the sonne of man sittinge on the right hande of power, and come in the cloudes of the skye.

Then the hye priest rent his clothes, sayinge: He hath blasphemed: what nede we of any more wytnesses: Beholde nowe ye haue heard hys blasphemie, what thinke ye? They answered and sayd: he is worthy to dye. Then spat they in his face, and buffeted him with fylles. And other smote him with the palme of their hands on the face, sayinge: tell vs thou Christ, who is he that smote the?

Mat. xiii. e
Luk. xxi. c
Jho. xviii. c
Peter denyeth.

Peter sate without in the palace. And a damsel came to him, saying: Thou also wast with Iesus of Galile: but he denyed before them al, sayinge: I wote not what thou sayest. When he was gone oute into the porche, another wenche saw hym, and sayed vnto them that were there. This fellowe was also wyth Iesus of Nazareth, and againe he denied with an oth, that he knew not the man. And after a while came vnto him they that stode by, and sayd vnto Peter: surelye thou arte euen one of them, for thy speache bewrayeth the. Then began he to curse and to sweare that he knew not the man. And immediatlye the cocke crew. And Peter remembred the wordes of Iesu, which sayed vnto him: (i) before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thryse. And went out at the doores and wept bitterly.

The Notes.

(a) This good worke is it that the Papistes buylde all the pomp and wast of theyr temples worke, vpon, accountyng it so better bestowed, then vpon the poore. But far wide. For Christ praysed it not for a good dede, in that þ thyng which might haue bene geuen to the poore was wasted.

but

The Gospell

Of S. Mathew

but because it was bestowed vpon hym, who (as then) stode in nede of it. For the daye of hys buriall was at hand, when he shoulde nede such syntmentes to be buryed accordynge to the maner of the Jewes buryinge.

The day of sweet bread.

(b) In the twelfth chapter of Exodus, shalt thou fynde the number of these dayes to be seuen. And they are called the dayes of sweete breade, because the Jewes myghte not in those dayes eate leauened breade.

This is my body.

(c) In these wordes lyeth all the controuersye that hath bene, and is aboute the beleue of the Sacrament of Chrystes body & bloude. Some saye that when he spake these wordes, he poynted to hys owne bodye, as who shoulde saye, he woulde speake one thyng and poynte another, that none might vnderstande his meanyng but such as saw him onely. Of these men I woulde saye to what he poynted, when he sayed, this is my bloud. &c. Another saye, that by the vertue of those wordes he turned breade into hys verie naturall bodye, euen substantially and reallye. Of these men I woulde knowe, whether his bodye were then corruptible or not. The thyrde saye there be whych saye, that he nether poynted to hys owne bodye, nether turned the bread into hys bodye: but spake of the bread, calling it his body in signification. As though he shoulde haue sayde, this bread beyng broken, deuyded among you and eaten of you, signifyeth vnto you my bodye, whiche shalbe broken for you. These men are called heretikes, but are in dede the true Christians.

Offence.
The soule.

(d) This offence is spoken afore in the xi. chap. (e) This soule is the mynde or herte. For so it was the maner of the Hebrewes to speake as it appereth in the Psalmes abundantly.

The spirit
is prompt.

(f) The occasyon that oure sauoure hadde to speake these wordes to hys disciples, declareth that thys spirit which he sayeth is ready, is not the spirit of man (whych Paule calleth the inward man) but the euell spirite that tempteth man. For when he had exhorted them to watche and to praye, he shewed them the cause whye. Leste they shoulde be tempted. And then to declare the nede that they had so to do, he telleth them that the spirite is ready (and as Saynt Peter sayeth, goeth aboute sekynge whom he maye deuoure) and the fleshe is weake, not able to resyst the temptacions.

Slepe here
forth.

(g) This is an Ironye, whiche is one thyng spoken and another ment. For in byddynge the slepe, he admonyssheth that they were more then nedefull for them selues, considering how nigh he was at hande that betrayed him.

To laye hande on the swerde

(h) He layeth hande on the swerde, that beyng a pynate person wyl take in hande to reuenge wyth the swerde, wythoute anye lawe or consente of the countrey to beare hym (yea or rather constrainne hym) all such are threates ned to perithe wyth the swerde.

Before the cocke crow

(i) Here are two thynges to be noted. Fyrste howe able Peter was to fulfill his manfull promyse, whiche was that though he shoulde dye wyth Chyste, yet woulde he not denye him. The other, howe impossyble it is that the word of God shoulde not be founde true and fulfilled.

The xxvii. Chapter.

Judas when he sawe that Iesus was deliuered to Pylate, castynge awaye hys reward for betrayinge hym, honge hym selfe. Pylate when he hadde assayed manye wayes and coude not pcruple, he scourged Ie-su, and commaunded hym to be crucified. When he was hanged, they mocked hym. Manye sygnes folowed after hys death: he was gorgeously buryed by Ioseph. The Jewes, because he shoulde not ryle, let menne to kepe the sepulchre.

When the mornynge was come, all the chiefe priestes and the elders of the people helde a counsell agaynst Iesus, to put hym to death, & broughte hym bounde, and deliuered hym vnto Pontius Pylate the debitye.

Then when Judas whiche betrayed hym, sawe that he was condemned, he repented hymselfe, and brought agayne the thyrtye plates of syluer, to the chiefe priestes and elders, sayinge: I haue sinned by trayning the innocent bloud. And they said: what is that to vs? Se thou to that. And he caste downe the syluer plates in the temple and departed, and wente and honge hymselfe.

And the chiefe priestes toke the syluer plates and sayed: it is not lawefull for to putte them into the treasury, because it is (b) the pryce of bloude. And they toke counsell, and bought with them a potters fild to bury straungers in. Wherfore that fild is called the fild of bloude vntyll thys day. Then was fulfilled that whiche was spoken by Ieremy the prophete, sayinge: and they toke thyrtye syluer plates the pryce of hym that was valued, whom they bought of the chyldren of Israel, and they gaue them for the potters fild: as the Lord appoynted me.

Iesus stode before the debitye, and the debitye axed him, sayinge: Art thou the king of the Jewes? Iesus said vnto hym: Thou sayest: and when he was accused of the chiefe priestes and elders, he answered no thyng. Then said Pylate vnto him: hearest thou not howe many thynges they say against the? And he answered hym to neuer a word: in so much that the debitye merueilled greatlye.

At that feaste the debitye was wont to deliuer to the people a prisoner, who they woulde desyre. He had then a notable prisoner called Barrabas: And when they were gathered together, Pylate sayde to them: whether wyl ye that I let lose vnto you, Barrabas or Iesu, whych is called Chyste? For he knewe well that for eny they had deliuered him.

When he was set downe to geue iudgement, his wyfe sente to him, sayinge: haue thou nothing to do with that iust man. For I haue suffred manye thynges this daye in a dreame about him.

But the chiefe priestes and the elders hadde perswaded the people, that they shoulde are Barrabas and destroye Iesus. Then the debitye answered and sayed vnto them: whether of the twayne wyl ye that I lette lose vnto you? And they sayed Barrabas.

Mar. xv. a.
Luk. xxi. a.
He is deliuered to Pylate.

Judas.

Actu. i. c.

Zachae. xi. a.

Mar. xv. a.
Luk. xxi. a.

He holdeth hys peace.

Barrabas

Mar. xv. b.
Luk. xxi. c.
Jh. xviii. g.

Barrabas. Pilate sayed vnto them: what shal I do then wpth Iesus which is called Christ? They al sayed vnto hym, let hym be crucified. Then sayed the debitye: what euell hath he doen? And they cryed the more sayinge: let him be crucified.

Hys Judge
confesseth
him an innocente.

When Pilate sawe that he preuailed no thyng, but that more busynes was made, he toke water and washed hys handes before the people, sayinge: I am innocent of the bloude of this iust personne, on poure parell be it. Then answered all the people and sayde: hys bloude be on vs, and on our chyldren. Then let he Barrabas lewse vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deliuered hym to be crucified.

He is scour-
ged.

Then the souldiers of the debitye tooke Iesus to the common hal, and gathered to hym all the companie. And they strypped hym, and putte on hym a purple robe, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on hys heade, and a reed in his ryghte hande, and bowed theyr knees before hym, & mocked hym, sayinge: hyle kyng of the Jewes, and spytte vpon hym and tooke the reed and smote him on the heade.

Mar. xv. b.
Ihon. xix. a
He is crowned.

And when they hadde mocked hym, they toke the robe of hym agayne, and put hys owne rayment on hym, and led hym away to crucify hym. And as they came out, they found a man of Syren named Simon: him they compelled to beare hys crosse. And when they came vnto the place, called Golgotha (that is to say: a place of deade mens sculles) they gaue hym vineger to dryncke myngled wpth gall. And when he had tasted therof, he would not dryncke.

Mar. xv. b.
Luke. xiii. d
He dryn-
keth vyne-
ger & gall.
Ihon. xix. f.
He is cruci-
fied.

When they had crucified hym, they parted hys garmentes, and dyd caste lottes, to fulfill that was spoken by the prophete. They deuyled my garmentes among the, and vpon my vesture dyd caste lottes. And they sate and watched hym ther. And they set vp ouer hys head the cause of his death wyrtten. This is Iesus the kyng of the Jewes. And there were two theues crucified wpth him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

He is rap-
led on.

They that passed by reuyled hym, wagging theyr heades, and sayinge: Thou that destroyest the temple of God and buyldest it in thre dayes: saue thy selfe. Yf thou be the sonne of God, come downe from the crosse. Likewise also the hye priestes mocking hym wpth the scribes and elders sayed. He saued other, him selfe he cannot saue. Yf he be the kyng of Israell, let him nowe come downe from the crosse, and we wpll beleue him. He trusted in God let him deliuer him nowe, if he wpll haue him: for he sayd I am the sonne of god. That same also the theues which were crucified with him cast in hys teth.

Isal. xxi. a

From the sytte houre was the darcknes ouer al the land vnto the ninth houre. And aboute the nyynth houre Iesus cryed with a lowd voyce, sayinge: Eli Eli Lama sabathany. What is to saye, my God my God, why haste thou forsaken me? Some of them that stode there, when they hearde that, sayed. This man calleth for Delias. And straightway one of the ran and toke a sponge and fylled it ful of vineger, and put it on a rebe, and gaue him to dryncke. Other sayed, let be: let vs se whether Delias wpll come and deliuer hym. Iesus cried agayne wpth a lowde voyce, and yelded vp the gost.

He getteth
vp the gost

And beholde the vayle of the temple dyd rente in twayne from the top to the bottoome, and the earth dyd quake, and rocks dyd rent, and graues dyd open, and the bodies of many sayntes whiche slepte arose and came out of the graues after hys resurrection: and came into the holy Cytie, and appered vnto many.

The vayle
renteth.
Deade bodies ryle.

When the Centurian and thei that wer wpth hym watchynge Iesus, sawe the earth quake and those thyngs whych hapened, they feared greatly, sayinge: Of a suertye this was the sonne of God.

And manye women were there, beholding hym a farre of, whiche folowed Iesus from Galile, ministerynge vnto hym. Amonge whiche was Marpe Magdalen and Marpe the mother of James and Ioses, and the mother of zebedees children.

When the euen was come, there came a ryche man of Aramathia, named Ioseph, whiche same also was Iesus Disciple. He wente to Pilate and begged the bodye of Iesus. Then Pilate commaunded the bodye to be deliuered. And Ioseph tocke the body, & wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth and put it in hys new tombe: whych he had hewen out euen in the rocke, and rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre and departed. And there was Marpe Magdalen and the other Mary syttinge ouer agaynst the sepulchre.

Mar. xv. b
Lu xxi. g.
Ihon. xix. g

The nexte day that foloweth good fridaye the hye priestes and pharisees gotte them selues to Pilate and sayed Spere, we remember that this deceyuer sayed: whyle he was yet a lyue: After thre dayes I wpll arise agayne. Commaunde therefore that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the third day, lest peraduenture hys Disciples cum and steale hym away, and saye vnto the people, he is risen from death: and the last erroure be worse then the fyrste. Pilate sayed vnto them. Take watch men: So, and make it as sure as ye can. And they wente and made the sepulchre sure with watchmen, & sealed the stone.

He is burp-
ed.

He is watched for rising again

The Notes.

(a) This repentance of Judas was great, for it caused hym to hange him selfe: but it was not accepted, because it lacked fayth in Christ. whiche shoulde haue caused hym to hope for remission and forgyuenes of hys faulte.

Hang hym
selfe.

(b) A wonderful matter. The outwarde obseruation of the lawe late so hyghely in theyr conseruence, that they woulde not put the money that they had hyered the traytoure wythall, into the

Price of
bloude.

Barrabas. Pilate sayed vnto them: what shal I do then wpth Iesus which is called Christ? They al sayed vnto hym, let hym be crucified. Then sayed the debitye: what euell hath he doen? And they cryed the more sayinge: let him be crucified.

Hys Judge
confesseth
him an in-
nocente.

When Pilate sawe that he preuailed no thyng, but that more busynes was made, he toke water and washed hys handes before the people, sayinge: I am innocent of the bloude of this iust personne, on poure parell be it. Then answered all the people and sayde: hys bloude be on vs, and on our chyldren. Then let he Barrabas lewse vnto them, and scourged Iesus, and deliuered hym to be crucified.

He is scour-
ged.

Then the souldiers of the debitye tooke Iesus to the common hal, and gathered to hym all the companie. And they strypped hym, and putte on hym a purple robe, and platted a crowne of thornes, and put it on hys heade, and a reed in his ryghte hande, and bowed theyr knees before hym, & mocked hym, sayinge: hyle kyng of the Jewes, and spytte vpon hym and tooke the reed and smote him on the heade.

Mar. xv. b.
Ihon. xix. a
He is crow-
ned.

And when they hadde mocked hym, they toke the robe of hym agayne, and put hys owne rayment on hym, and led hym away to crucify hym. And as they came out, they found a man of Syren named Simon: him they compelled to beare hys crosse. And when they came vnto the place, called Golgotha (that is to say: a place of deade mens sculles) they gaue hym vineger to dryncke myngled wth gall. And when he had tasted therof, he would not dryncke.

Mar. xv. b.
Luce. xiii. d
He dryn-
keth vyne-
ger & gall.
Ihon. xix. f.
He is cruci-
fied.

When they had crucified hym, they parted hys garmentes, and dyd caste lottes, to fulfill that was spoken by the prophete. They deuyled my garmentes among the, and vpon my vesture dyd caste lottes. And they sate and watched hym ther. And they set vp ouer hys head the cause of his death wyrtten. This is Iesus the kyng of the Jewes. And there were two theues crucified wth hym, one on the right hand, and another on the left.

He is rap-
led on.

They that passed by reuyled hym, wagging theyr heades, and sayinge: Thou that destroyest the temple of God and buyldest it in thre dayes: saue thy selfe. Yf thou be the sonne of God, come downe from the crosse. Likewise also the hye priestes mocking hym wth the scrybes and elders sayed. He saued other, him selfe he cannot saue. Yf he be the kyng of Israell, let him nowe come downe from the crosse, and we wyl beleue him. He trusted in God let him deliuer him nowe, if he wyl haue him: for he sayd I am the sonne of god. That same also the theues which were crucified with him cast in hys teth.

Isal. xxi. a

From the sytte houre was the darcknes ouer al the land vnto the ninth houre. And aboute the nyynth houre Iesus cryed with a lowd voyce, sayinge: Eli Eli Lama

sabathany. What is to saye, my God my God, why haste thou forsaken me? Some of them that stode there, when they hearde that, sayed. This man calleth for Delias. And straightway one of the ran and toke a sponge and fylled it ful of vineger, and put it on a rebe, and gaue him to dryncke. Other sayed, let be: let vs se whether Delias wyl come and deliuer hym. Iesus cried agayne wth a lowde voyce, and yelded vp the gost.

He getteth
vp the gost

And beholde the vayle of the temple dyd rente in twayne from the top to the bottoome, and the earth dyd quake, and rocks dyd rent, and graues dyd open, and the bodies of many sayntes whiche slepte arose and came out of the graues after hys resurrection: and came into the holy Cytie, and appered vnto many.

The vayle
renteth.
Deade bodies ryle.

When the Centurian and thei that were wth hym watchynge Iesus, sawe the earth quake and those thyngs whiche hapened, they feared greatly, sayinge: Of a suertye this was the sonne of God.

And manye women were there, beholdingynge hym a farre of, whiche folowed Iesus from Galile, ministerynge vnto hym. Amonge whiche was Marpe Magdalen and Marpe the mother of James and Ioses, and the mother of zebedees children.

When the euen was come, there came a ryche man of Aramathia, named Ioseph, whiche same also was Iesus Disciple. He wente to Pilate and begged the bodye of Iesus. Then Pilate commaunded the bodye to be deliuered. And Ioseph toke the body, & wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth and put it in hys new tombe: whiche he had hewen out euen in the rocke, and rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre and departed. And there was Marpe Magdalen and the other Mary syttinge ouer agaynst the sepulchre.

Mar. xv. b
Luce. xxi. g.
Ihon. xix. g

The nexte day that foloweth good fridaye the hye priestes and pharisees gotte them selues to Pilate and sayed Spere, we remember that this deceyuer sayed: whyle he was yet a lyue: After thre dayes I wyl arise agayne. Commaunde therefore that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the third day, lest peraduenture hys Disciples cum and steale hym away, and saye vnto the people, he is risen from death: and the last erroure be worse then the fyrste. Pilate sayed vnto them. Take watch men: So, and make it as sure as ye can. And they wente and made the sepulchre sure with watchmen, & sealed the stone.

He is burp-
ed.

He is watched for rising again

The Notes.

(a) This repentance of Judas was great, for it caused hym to hange him selfe: but it was not accepted, because it lacked fayth in Christ. whiche shoulde haue caused hym to hope for remission and forgyuenes of hys faulte.

Hang hym
selfe.

(b) A wonderful matter. The outwarde obseruation of the lawe late so hyghely in theyr conseruence, that they woulde not put the money that they had hyered the traytoure wythall, into the

Price of
bloude.

The Gospel

treasure. But the purgynge of the innocentes death, troubled them not at all. Lette every man searche his own conscience and se whether there be not many lyke afflictions in these our dayes.

The xxviii. Chapter.

The Angell sheweth vnto the Maryes, that Christ is risen from death. The Jewes go about to darchen his resurrection by gyltes and lyes. Christe speakyng with his discyples in Galile, putteth them in truste wyth preachyng of the Gospell.

Mar. xvi. a
Thon. xx. c.
Lu. xliii. a

The (a) Saboth day at even whych dauneth the morow after the Saboth, Marpe Magdalene and the other Marpe came to se the sepulchre. And behold ther was a great earthquake. For the angell of the Lorde descended from heaven: and came and rowled backe the stone from the doze, and late vpon it. His countenance was lyke lightnyng, and his rayment whyte as snowe. And for feare of hym the keepers were astonied, and became as deade men.

Mar. xvi. b
Lu. xliii. a

The angell answered and saied to the women: feare ye not, I knowethat ye seke Iesus which was crucified: he (b) is not here: he is risen as he sayd. Come and se the place where the Lorde was put, and go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from death. And beholde, he wyl goo before you into Galile, ther ye shal se him. Lo, I haue told you.

Mar. xvi. b
Lu. xliii. a

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre wyth feare and great ioye: and did runne to byngge his disciples worde. And as they went to tell his disciples, beholde, Iesus meete them, sayinge: all haille. And they came and helde him by the feete, and worshipped hym. Then sayde Iesus to them: be not afrayd. Goo and tell my brethren that they go into Galyle, and there shal they se me.

When they were gone, beholde some of the keepers came into the cite, and shewed vnto the hye priestes all the thynges that were happened. And they gathered them together with the elders, and toke counsel and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, sayinge: Saye that his disciples came by night, and stole him awaye whyle ye slept: and if this come too the rulers eares, wee wyl peace him, and saue you harmles. And they toke the money, and did as they were taught. And this sayng is noised amonge the Jewes vnto this daye.

Mat. xvi.
Al power.
Iho. xvii. a

Then the eleuen disciples wente awaye into Galile, into a mountayne wher Iesus hadde appoynted them. And when they sawe him, they worshipped him. But some of them doubted. And Iesus came and spake vnto them, sayinge: all power is gyuen vnto me in heaven and earth. So therfore and teache al nacjons, baptisynge them in the name of the father, & the sonne and the holpe ghost. Teaching them to obserue all thynges, whatsoeuer I commaunded you. And lo (c) I am wyth you alwaye, euen vntill the ende of the world.

of S. Mathew.

The Notes.

(a) Here note, that the Jewes Saboth, was Saboth that daye which we call Easter euen, and oure good Fridaye was the daye of preparyng. And the daye after the Saboth, was oure Easter daye.

(b) This is spoken of his bodelye presence. For his diuine presence, was, is, and shalbe, there, here, and in all places. (But as Saynt Augustine wytnesseth) his bodge is in some one place of heauen.

(c) This beyng with his, is not as the Papists haue fained in the Sacrament of the altare, but by the assystence of his spirite, euen as he sayd. Where two or thye are gathered together in my name, there am I in the myddest of them.

He is not here.
In the Epistle to Dardanus I am with you.

There endeth the Gospell of Saynt Mathew.

A Prologe

vpon the Gospell of Saynt Marke.

For Marke we read (Act. xii.) how Peter after he came out of prison by the angell, came to Markes mothers house, where manye of the disciples were prayinge for his deliuerance. And Paul and Barnabas toke him with them from Hierusalem, and brought him to Antioche. Act. xii. And Act. xiii. Paule & Barnabas toke Marke with them whan they were sent to preache: fro whom he also departed, as it appeareth in the sayde chappier, and returned to Hierusalem as gayne. And Act. xv. Paule and Barnabas were at variaunce about him. Paule not willinge to take him wyth them, because he forsoke them in their firste iorneye. Notwithstandynge yet, whan Paule wrote the Epistle to the Colossians, Marke was wyth hym as he sayth in the fourth chapter: of whom Paule also testifieth both that he was Barnabas sisters sonne, and also his felowe worker in the kyngdome of God. And ii. Tim. iiii. Paule commaundeth Timothe to byngge Marke wyth hym, assyrynge that he was needefull to hym, to mynyster to hym.

Finallye, he was also wyth Peter whan he wrote his fyrste Epistle, and so familar that Peter calleth him his son. Wherof ye se, of who he learned his Gospell, euen of the verbe Apostles, with who he had his continual conuersation, and also of what authoritie his wytyng is, and how worthy of credence.

The

The Gospel

treasure. But the purgynge of the innocentes death, troubled them not at all. Lette every man searche his own conscience and se whether there be not many lyke afflictions in these our dayes.

The xxviii. Chapter.

The Angell sheweth vnto the Maryes, that Christ is risen from death. The Jewes go about to darchen his resurrection by gyltes and lyes. Christe speakyng with his discyples in Galile, putteth them in truste wyth preachyng of the Gospell.

Mar. xvi. a
Thon. xx. c.
Lu. xliii. a

The (a) Saboth day at even whych dauneth the morow after the Saboth, Marpe Magdalene and the other Marpe came to se the sepulchre. And behold ther was a great earthquake. For the angell of the Lorde descended from heaven: and came and rowled backe the stone from the doze, and late vpon it. His countenance was lyke lightnyng, and his rayment whyte as snowe. And for feare of hym the keepers were astonied, and became as deade men.

Mar. xvi. b
Lu. xliii. a

The angell answered and saied to the women: feare ye not, I knowe that ye seke Jesus which was crucified: he (b) is not here: he is risen as he sayd. Come and se the place where the Lorde was put, and go quickly and tell his disciples that he is risen from death. And beholde, he wyl goo before you into Galile, ther ye shal se him. Lo, I haue told you.

Mar. xvi. b
Lu. xliii. a

And they departed quickly from the sepulchre wyth feare and great ioye: and did runne to byngge his disciples worde. And as they went to tell his disciples, beholde, Jesus meete them, sayinge: all haille. And they came and helde him by the feete, and worshipped hym. Then sayde Jesus to them: be not afraid. Goo and tell my brethren that they go into Galyle, and there shal they se me.

When they were gone, beholde some of the keepers came into the cite, and shewed vnto the hye priestes all the thynges that were happened. And they gathered them together with the elders, and toke counsel and gaue large money vnto the souldiers, sayinge: Saye that his disciples came by night, and stole him awaye whyle ye slept: and if this come too the rulers eares, wee wyl peace him, and saue you harmles. And they toke the money, and did as they were taught. And this sayng is noised amonge the Jewes vnto this daye.

Mat. xvi.
Al power.
Jho. xvii. a

Then the eleuen disciples wente awaye into Galile, into a mountayne wher Jesus hadde appoynted them. And when they sawe him, they worshipped him. But some of them doubted. And Jesus came and spake vnto them, sayinge: all power is gyuen vnto me in heaven and earth. So therfore and teache al nacjons, baptisynge them in the name of the father, & the sonne and the holpe ghost. Teaching them to obserue all thynges, whatsoeuer I commaunded you. And lo (c) I am wyth you alwaye, euen vntill the ende of the world.

of S. Mathew.

The Notes.

(a) Here note, that the Jewes Saboth, was Saboth that daye which we call Easter euen, and oure good Fridaye was the daye of preparyng. And the daye after the Saboth, was oure Easter daye.

(b) This is spoken of his bodelye presence. For his diuine presence, was, is, and shalbe, there, here, and in all places. (But as Saynt Augustine wytnesseth) his bodge is in some one place of heauen.

(c) This beyng with his, is not as the Papists haue fained in the Sacrament of the altare, but by the assystence of his spirite, euen as he sayd. Where two or thre are gathered together in my name, there am I in the myddest of them.

He is not here.
In the Epistle to Dardanus I am with you.

There endeth the Gospell of Saynt Mathew.

A Prologe

vpon the Gospell of Saynt Marke.

For Marke we read (Act. xii.) how Peter after he came out of prison by the angell, came to Markes mothers house, where manye of the disciples were prayinge for his deliuerance. And Paul and Barnabas toke him with them from Hierusalem, and brought him to Antioche. Act. xii. And Act. xiii. Paule & Barnabas toke Marke with them whan they were sent to preache: fro whom he also departed, as it appeareth in the sayde chappier, and returned to Hierusalem as gayne. And Act. xv. Paule and Barnabas were at variaunce about him. Paule not willinge to take him wyth them, because he forsoke them in their firste iorneye. Notwithstandynge yet, whan Paule wrote the Epistle to the Colossians, Marke was wyth hym as he sayth in the fourth chapter: of whom Paule also testifieth both that he was Barnabas sisters sonne, and also his felowe worker in the kyngdome of God. And ii. Timo. iiii. Paule commaundeth Timothe to byngge Marke wyth hym, assyrynge that he was needefull to hym, to mynyster to hym.

Finallye, he was also wyth Peter whan he wrote his fyrste Epistle, and so familar that Peter calleth him his son. Wherof ye se, of who he learned his Gospell, euen of the verbe Apostles, with who he had his continual conuersation, and also of what authoritie his wytyng is, and how worthy of credence.

The

The Gospell The Gospel of of Saynt Marke.

of S. Marke. Fo. xix.

The fyrst Chapter.

Marke beynneth his Gospel at John, but fyrste speaketh of hys Baptysme and preaching. And Christ when he was baptysed of hym, called hys dysciples, and beynneth the offyce of preaching: he delyvereth hym that was vexed wth the deuyll from the cypyl spyrte, and Peters mother in lawe from the ares. Lyke power he vled thowwe oute all Galyle, where he also healed the Leper.

Mat. iii. a.
Luke. iii. a.

The beynnynge of the Gospell of Jesu Christ, the sonne of God, as it is wrytten in the prophetes: beholde, I send my messenger befor thy face, whych shal prepare thy way be-

Isay. xl. a.
Jhon. i. c.

fore the. The voice of a crier in the wyldernes, prepare ye the way of the Lord: make his pathes straight.

Jhon baptised.
Mat. iii. a.

Jhon did baptysse in the wilderness, and preache the baptysme of repentaunce for the remission of synnes. And all the lande of Juyr, and they of Jerusalem went out vnto hym, and were all baptysed of hym in the ryuer Jordane, confessynge theyr synnes.

math. iii. a.
Jhon. i. d.

Jhon was clothed wth Cammels heare, and wth a gyrdell of a skynne aboute hys loines. And he dyd eate locustes, and wyld honey, and preached, sayinge: a stronger then I cometh after me, whose shoe latchet I am not worthy to stoupe downe and vnlose. I haue baptysed you wth water: but he shall baptysse you with (a) the holpe ghost. &

And it came to passe in those dayes, that Jesus came from Nazareth, a cytie of Galile: and was baptised of Jhon in Jordan. And assone as he was come out of the water, (b) Jhon sawe heauen open, and the holpe ghost descendynge vpon hym lyke a doue. And there came a voice from heauen: Thou art my deate sonne in whom I delyte.

W Jesus is
baptysed.
Mat. iii. d
Luke. iii. d

And immediatlye the spyrte draue him into wilderness, and he was ther in the wilderness. xl. dayes, and was tempted of Satan, and was wth wylde beastes. And the aungels ministered vnto him.

Mat. iii. a
Luke. iii. a.
Jesus fasteth.

After Jhon was taken, Jesus came in to Galile, preachinge the Gospell of the kingdome of God, and sayinge: the tyme is come, and the kyngdome of God is at hand, repent and beleue the Gospell.

Mat. iii. b
Luke. iii. e
Jhon. iii. f
Mar. iii. c
Luke. v. a.

And as he walked by the sea of Galile, he sawe Simon and Andrewe hys brother, castynge nettes into the sea, for they were fishers. And Jesus sayd vnto them: folowe me, and I wyll make you fyshers of men. And straightwaye they forsoke theyr nettes, and folowed hym.

Simon
Andrew.

And when he had gone a lytle further hence, he sawe James the sonne of zebede, and Jhon hys brother, euen as they were in the shyppe mending their nettes. And anon he called them. And they left their father zebede in the shyppe wth hys hyred seruauntes, and went their way after him.

James & Jhon.

And they entered into Capernaum: and straightwaye on the Saboth dayes, he entered into the synagoge and taught, & they marueyled at hys learning. For he taught them as one that had power with him, and not as the Scribes.

Luke. iii. e

And there was in theyr synagoge a man vexed with an vnclane spirite, that cryed, sayinge: let be, what haue we to do with the, thou Jesus of Nazareth? arte thou come to destroy vs? I know the what thou arte, euen that holpe of God. And Jesus rebuked hym, sayinge: hold thy peace, and come out of hym. And the vnclane spyrte tare hym, and cryed with a loude voice, and came out of hym. And they were all amazed, in so muche that they demaunded one of another amonge themselves, sayinge: what thyng is thys? what (c) newe doctryn is thys? For he commaundeth the foule spyrtes wth power, and they obey hym. And immediatlye hys fame spread a broade throughout all the region bordering on Galile.

The vn-clane spirit is caste
oute.

And forth with, assone as they were come out of the synagoge, they entered in to the house of Simon and Andrew, wth James and Jhon, and Simons mother in lawe laye speke of a feuer. And anone they tolde him of hir. And he came and toke hir by the hand & lift hir vp: and the feuer for-

mat. viii. d.
Luke. iiii. f
Simons
mother in lawe.

Dddd. ii. soke

The Gospel

toke hit by and by: and he ministred vnto them.

D And at euen when the sunne was down, they brought to him all that wer dyspleased, and them that were possessed with deuils. And all the cite gathered together at the doze, and he healed many that were spcke of diuers diseases. And he cast oute manye deuils, & suffered not the deuils to speake, because they knew hym.

And in one moynynge very erly, Iesus arose and went out into a solitarie place, & there prayed. And Simon & they that were with him, folowed after hym. And when they had founde hym, they sayd vnto him: all men seke for the. And he sayd vnto the: let vs go into the next townes, that I may preache there also: for truely I came oute for that purpose. And he preached in theyr synagoges, throughout all Galile, & caste the deuils out.

A And ther came a leper to him, beseeching hym and kneled downe vnto him, and said to hym: if thou wylte, thou canst make me cleane. And Iesus had compassion on hym, and put forth his hande, touched hym, and sayed to him: I will, be thou cleane. And as sone as he had spoken, immediatly the leprosy departed from hym, and he was clen- sed. And he charged hym, and sent hym away forth with, and sayde vnto him: See thou say nothyng to any man, but get the hence & shew thy selfe to þ priest, & offer for thy clensynge those thinges which Moyses comaunded, for a testimonial vnto the. But he (assone as he departed) beganne to tell many thinges, and to publyshe þ dede: in so muche, that Iesus coulde no more openly enter into the cite, but was wyth- out in desert places. And they came to him from euery quarter.

The Notes.

The holpe
ghost.

(a) To baptysme wyth the holpe Ghoste, is too worke that thyng inwardly, that the baptysme in water doth sygnify, that is to purge the soul thorow fayth in Christes bloude.

Heauen
open.

(b) Notwithstandyng that John saw the clou- des open, and the holpe ghost descendyng in the lykenesse of a doue, and so restyng vpon Christ, yet is there an other thyng to be noted in this openyng of the heauen. That is, that he had manysse knowledge of the Godheade of Christe, and was fullye certyfied, that it was euen he, that was sente of God to be the Sauoure of all that shoulde belue in hym. As it is in Eze- chiel. i. a

Newe doc-
tryne.

(c) Here mayest thou perceyue (Christian read- der) of what spyryte they be, that be so sore of- fended wyth the Gospell, callynge it newe doc- tryne. Forsothe euen the spirite of ignorance, as they were that fyrste gaue it the name. For hadde they knowen the scriptures, they woulde haue sayed, this is the doctryne that was spo- ken of by the Prophetes these manye hundred yeres sence.

The.ii. Chapter.

Christe deliuered hym that was sicke of the palsey bothe from hys synne and hys synnes. He toynded Matherwe to hys dyscy- ples. He shewed the cause of hys commynge to the Jewes that murmured. He correcteth the to muche and counterfayte relygion of fastynge. He defendeth hys dyscyples that were accused for breakyng the Saboth daye by the example of Dauid.

Of S. Marke.

After a fewe dayes, he entered in to Capernaum agayne, and it was noyed that he was in a house. And anone many gathered toge- ther, in so muche that now there was no roume to receiue them: no, not so much as about the dooze. And he preached the word vnto them. And there came vnto him that broughte one sicke of the palsey, borne of fower men. And because they coulde not come nye to him for preace, they vncouered the rofe of the house where he was. And when they had broken it open, they let doune the bed wher in the sicke of the palsey laye. When Iesus sawe their fayth, he sayed to the sicke of the palsey: * sonne thy synnes are forgiuen the.

And there were certayne of the Scribes sittynge ther, and reasonynge in their her- tes: howe doth this felowe so blaspheme? Who can forgeue synnes, but God onely? And immediatly when Iesus perceyued in his spirite, that they so reasoned in them selues, he said vnto them: whye thynke ye suche thynges in your hartes? Whether is it easer to saye to the sicke of the palsey, thy synnes are forgiuen the: or to saye, arise take vp thy bed, and walke? That ye maye knowe that the sonne of man hath power in earth to * forgiue synnes, he spake vn- to the sicke of the palsey. I saye vnto the, arise, and take vp the bedde, and gette the hence into thine own house: and by & by he arose, toke vp the bed, and went forth be- fore them all: in so much that they were al amased, and glorified God, sayyng: we ne- uer saw it on this fashion.

And he went agayne vnto the sea, and all þ people resorted vnto him, & he taught them. And as Iesus passed by, he saw Le- up the sonne of Alphaei syt at the recepte of custome, and sayed vnto hym: folowe me. And he arose and folowed him. And it came to passe, as Iesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and synners sate at meat also with Iesus and his disciples. For ther were manye that folowed hym. And when the Scribes and pharisees sawe him eate wyth publicans and synners, they sayed vnto his disciples: how is it that he eateth and drynketh wyth publicans and syn- ners? When Iesus heard that, he sayd vn- to them: The whole haue no neede of the physycion, but the sicke. * I came not to call the ryghteous, but the synners to re- pentance.

And the disciples of John and the pha- riseis dyd faste: and therefore came and sayed vnto hym. Whye do the disciples of John and of the pharisees fast, and thy dis- cyples fast not? And Iesus sayd vnto the: can

A
Mar. ix. a.
Luk. v. d

palsey.

Is Esa. xliii. c
and. xl. iii d
Luk. v. d.

The byfible miracle a signe
of the inui-
sible power.

Mat. xix. a
Luk. v. a

John. v. b.

Mar. ix. a.

Publicans
& synners
eat wyth
Christ.

Ma. viii. b
Luk. v. f.

Christes
disciples
fast not.

Newe and old agree
not.

Mat. xii. a.
Luk. vi. a.
They pluck eares on the saboth
day.

1. Re. xii. b.
The saboth
was made for man.

Christ is Lord ouer
the saboth

Can the chyldezen of a weddinge fast, whiles the bydegrome is wpth the? As long as they haue the bydegrome wpth them, they cannot fast. But the dayes wpll come whē the bydegrome shalbe taken from the, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

Also no manne soweth a ppece of newe cloth vnto an olde garmente, for then taketh he awaye the newe pece from the old and so is the rente worse. In like wise, no man pouret h newe wyne into olde vessels: for if he doo, the newe wyne breaketh the vessels, and the wine runneth out, and the vessels are marred. But new wine must be poured into newe vessels.

And it chaunced that he wente thorowe the corn: fieldes on the sabboth daye: and hys dysciples as they went on theyr way, began to plucke the eares of Corne. And the pharises sayd vnto hym: beholde why do they on the Saboth dayes that whiche is not lawful? And he sayed to them: haue ye neuer red what Dauid did when he had need, and was an hongred, bothe he and they that were wpth hym? Howe he wente into the house of God in the daies of Abiathar the hie prieste, and dyd eate the halowed loues, whiche is lawful to eate but for the priestes onely: and gaue also to the whiche were wpth hym? And he sayed too theym: the Saboth daye was made (a) for man, and not man for the Sabboth daye.
Wherefore the sonne of man is Lord euen of the sabboth daye.

The Notes.

(a) As who woulde say, man is not so bounde to the outward obseruation of the Saboth, that he maye in no case breake it, but that vpon necessary considerations, he maye do thynges forbyd-den to be done as then.

The. iii. Chapter

Christ healed vpon the sabboth day hym that had his hande dyed vp, and escaped the han-des of the that conspired against hym: a great compayne folowe hym, of the whiche he de-liuered manye from diuers dyscales and de-uils. He gat hym. xii. Dysciples. When the phariseys sayed that he caste out deuyls by Beelzebub, he made them an answer, and he shewed who were hys byethen.

Mat. xii. a.
Lu. vi. a.
Withered
hand.

Mat. xii. b.
Lu. vi. b.
iii re. xii. c.
Mat. xii. b.

And he entred agayne into the sinagoge, & there was a man there whych had a wythered hande.
And they watched hym to se whether he woulde heale hym on the Saboth day, that they myght accuse him.
And he sayed vnto the man whych had the wyddered hand: arise and stand in the mid-des. And he sayd to them: whether is it lawful to do a good dede on the saboth dayes, or an euill? to saue lyfe or kyll? But they healde their peace. And he looked rounde about on them angerly: mournyng on the blyndnes of theyr heartes, and sayed to the manne: stretch forth thyne hande. And he stretched it out. And hys hand was restored euen as whole as the other.

And the pharises departed and straightwaye gathered a counsell wpth them that beloged to Herode agaynst hym, that they myghte destroye hym. And Jesus attopied wpth hys Disciples to the sea. And a great multitude folowed hym from Galyle, and from Turpe, and from Hierusalem, & from Idumea, and from beyonde Iordan, and they that dwelled about Tyre and Sydon a greate multitude: whiche when they had herde what thynges he dyd, came vnto hym.

And he commaunded hys dysciples that a thyn should wayte on him, because of the people, lest they shoulde thronge hym. For he had healed many, in so muche that they preased vpon hym, for to touche hym, as many as had plagues. And whē the vnclene spirates sawe (a) hym, they fell downe before hym, and cryed sayinge: thou arte the sonne of God. And he straghtly charged them that they shoulde not vtter hym.

And he went vp into a mountayne, and called vnto hym whom he woulde, and they came vnto hym. And he ordayned the. xii. that they shoulde be wpth him, and that he myght send the to preach, that they might haue power to heale sykneses, and to cast out deuylles. And he gaue Symon to name Peter. And he called James the sonne of zebede and Ihon James brother, and gaue them Bonarges to name, whych is to saue the sonnes of thunder. And Andrewe, and philippe, and Bartelmew, and Mattheu, and Thomas, and James the sonne of Al-phey, and Taddeus, and Symon of Cane, and Judas Iscariot, whych same also be trayed hym.

And they came into a house, and the people assembled together agayne, so greatly that they had not leasure so muche as to eate breade: And when they that longed vnto hym hearde of it, they wente out to holde hym. For they thoughte he had bene besyde hym selfe. And the scribes whiche came from Ierusalem, said: he hath Beelzebub: and by the power of the chyefe deuill casteth out deuyls. And he called the vnto him, and sayd vnto the in similituds.

How can Satan dryue out Satan? For if a realme be deuided agaynst it selfe, that realme can not endure. Or if a house be deuyded agaynst it selfe, that house cannot contynue. So if Sathan make insurreccio agaynst hym selfe, and be deuoyded, he can not contynue, but is at an end. No man can enter into a strong mans house & take away hys goods, except he fyrt bynd that stronge man, and then spople hys house.
Werely I saye vnto you, all synnes shalbe forgeuen vnto mens chyldezen and blasphemie my wherwith they blaspheme: But he that blasphemeth the holi gost, shall neuer haue forgeuenes, but is in daunger of eternal damnacion, because they sayde: he had an vnclene spire.

Then came hys Mother and hys brethren

Mat. xii. b.
Luk. vi. c.
Ihon. vi. a

Mat. x. a.
Luk. vi. d.
The apostles archy-
sen.

Mat. x. e.
Lu. xi. b.

Mat. xii. a.
Luk. xi. b.
The synne agaiste the holy goste.

Mat. xlii. a. and called hym. And the people sate about Luk. viii. b. him, and sayed vnto hym: beholde thy mother and thy brethren seke for the wythout.
Dis mo- And he answered them saying: who is my ther se- mother and my brethren? And he looked keth hym. rounde about on hys Disciples, whiche sate in compasse aboute hym, and said: behold my mother and my brethren. For who soeuer doth the wyl of God, he is my brother, my sister, and mother.

The Notes.

Uncleane (a) Here are the men possessed wyth uncleane spirites, called uncleane spirites. For it were the men that sawe Christe, and fell downe before hym.

The.iii. Chapter.

The power of Gods worde, and howe it is to be hearde, he declareth the parable of the seede and exhorteth to diligence, to whiche he loyneth the similitude of the grayne of mu-sterd. Last he appealed the storme of the sea, by his deuine power.

Mat. xlii. a. And he began agayne to teache by the sea syde. And there gathered together vnto hym muche people, so greatly that he entred into the shyp, * and sate in the sea, and all the people was by the sea side on the shore.
And he taughte them many thynges in sy-milittudes: and sayed vnto them in hys doctrine. Herken, beholde, * There went out a sower to sowe. And it fortuned as he sowed, that some fell by the wapes syde, and the fowles of the ayre came and deuoured it vp. Some fel on stonpe grounde, where it had not much earth, and by & by spronge vp because it had not depth of earth, but assone as the sunne was vppe, it caughte heate, and because it had no rotpnge, widdered away. And some fel among the thoz-nes, and the thornes grewe vp and choked it, so that it gaue no fruite. And some fell vpon good grounde, and dyd pelde fruyte, some thyrtye folde, some lxxij. folde, and some an hundred folde. And he sayed vnto them: He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare. &

Sower. And when he was alone, they that were aboute hym wpth the. xii. ayed hym of the similitude, & he sayed vnto them: To pou it is geuen to know the mysterie of the kyngdome of God. But vnto them that are wout shal al thynges be done in similitudes:
that when they se, they shall se, and not discerne: and when they * heare, they shall heare, and not vnderstand: lest at any time they shoule tourne, and theyr synnes shuld be forgiven them, and he sayd vnto them: Percepuen ye not thys similitude? how the shoulde ye vnderstande all other simili-tudes?

The sower soweth the worde, and they that are by the wapes syde, wher the word is sowne, are they to whom assone as they haue hearde it, Sathan cometh immediately, and taketh awaye the worde that was sowne in theyr heartes. And lykewise they that are sowne on the stonpe grounde are they whiche when they haue herde the worde, atonce receiue it wpth gladnes, yet haue no rootes in them selues: and so endure but a tyme, and anone as trouble and persecucion ariseth for the woordes sake, they fall immediatly. And they that are so wen among the thornes are such as heare the worde, and the cares of thys worlde, and the dysceytfulnes of ryces, and the lustes of other thinges, enter in and choke the worde: and it is made vnfuytfull. And those that wer: sowne in good grounde, are they that heare the worde and receiue it, and brynge forth fruite, some thyrtye folde, and some lxxij. folde, some an hundred fold.

And he sayed vnto theym: is the candell lyghted to be put vnder a bushell, or vnder the table, and not rather to be put on a candlespycke? For there is nothyng so priue that shal not be opened: neyther so secret, but that it shal come abroad. If anye man haue eares to heare, let hym heare. And he sayed vnto them: take hede what ye heare.
Wpth what measure ye mete, wpth the same shal it be measured vnto pou agayn.
And vnto pou that heare, shal more be geuen. * For vnto hym that hath, shal it be geuen: & from hym that (b) hath not, shalbe taken awaye, euen that he hath.

And he sayde: so is the kyngdome of god euen as if a man shoulde sowe seede in the grounde and shoulde slepe and ryse vppe nyghte and day, and the seede shoulde spring and growe vp, he not ware. For the earth bryngeth forth fruite of her selfe: fyrst the blade, the eares, after that, fulcorne in the eares. And assone as fruite is brought forth anon he thrusteth in the spckel, because the heruest is come.

And he sayed: where vnto shal we lyken the kyngdom of God? or wpth what comparison shal we compare it? It is lyke a grayne of mustarde seede, whiche when it is sowne in the earth, is the lest of all sedes & be in the earth, but after that it is sowne, it groweth vp, & is greatest of all herbes, and beareth great braches, so that the fowles of the ayre may dwell vnder y shadow of it.

And with many such similitudes he preached the word vnto the after as they might heare it. And wythout similitude spake he nothyng vnto theym. But when they were apart he expounded al thyngs to hys Disciples. And the same daye, when euen was come, he sayed vnto theym: Let vs passe ouer all vnto the other syde. And they lefte the people, and toke hym euen as he was in the shyp. And there were also wpth hym other shyps.

And there arose a greate storme of wynd and dashed the waues into y shyp so that it was full. And he was in the sterne asleepe on a pillowe. And they awoke hym, and sayde to hym: Wapster carest thou not that wee peryshe? And he rose vp and rebuked

Mat. v. b.
Luk. viii. b
Mat. x. a. c.
Candel.

Measure
A coue-nante to the p loue the worde of God to win other with word
and deede,
and an other to the
that loue

it not, that it shal be their dys-
truccion.
Mustarde
seede.

Mat. xlii. e
Luk. xlii. d

Mat. vii. b

Jesus sepeth in the shyp.

buked the wynde, and sayde vnto the sea: peace and be still. And the wynd alayed, & there folowed a great calme. And he sayde vnto them. Why are ye so fearfull? how is it that ye haue no fapth? And they feared exceedingly, and sayde one to another: What fellow is this: for both wynde and sea obey him?

The Notes.

¶ Into you. (a) ¶ Into you, that is vnto you whych are with out decepte, and are not curiouse nor trust in any thyng that pertaineth to man, is giuen of my mercifull father of hys mercifull goodnes, to know the mistery (that is the secret) of the kingdome of God, that is of the Gospell, in whiche is taught the kyngdome. Whych is oure ryghteousnes, peace and ioye in the holye ghost. But vnto them whych are wythoute, that is, vnto such as be curiouse, and trust moze in theyr own workes, then in the ryghteousnes of Chryste: are all thynges spoken in parables. That is, al that they heare is euen obscure and darke to them: as though they were in dede parables. (b) ¶ Vnto hym that hath. Looke in Mathewe xiii. b.

The. b. Chapter.

¶ Chryste in the lande of the Gaderenites, cast out of a man possessed wyth the deuyl, a legion of diuels. A woman that was soze vexed wyth the bloudye fluxe, was holpen by the touchynge of hys garment. The daughter that was dead, at Chrystes commaundement was refozred vnto lyfe.

¶ Gaderenites. Ma. viii. b. Luk. viii. b.

AND they came ouer to the other syde of the sea into the country of the Gaderenites. And when he was come oute of the shyp, furthwith there met him out of the graues, a man possessed of an vnclene spirite, which had his abyding among the graues. And no man could bynd hym, no not wyth cheynes, because that when he was often bound wyth fetters & chaines, he plucked the chaines asunder, and brake the fetters in peces. Neyther could any ma tame him. And alwayes both night and dape he cryed in the mountaines and in the graues, and beat himselfe with stones. When he hadde spyed Iesus a far of, he ranne and (a) worshipped him, and cried with a loud voyce, & sayed: what haue I to doo with the Iesus the sonne of the most hyest God? I require the in the name of God, & thou tozmet me not. For he had said vnto him: come out of the man thou foule spirit. And he axed him: what is thy name? And he answered, sayyng: my name is legion, for we are manye. And he prayed him instantly, that he wold not send them awaye out of the countrey.

¶ Legion.

B And there was nye there vnto the mountayne a great herd of swyne feedynge, and all the deuils besought him, sayyng: sende vs into the heard of swyne, that wee maye enter into them. And anon Iesus gaue them leaue. And the vnclene spyrites wet out and entred into the swyne. And the herd startled, and ran hedlynge into the sea.

¶ Swyne.

They were about. ii. M. swyne, and they were drowned in the sea. And the swyne herds fled, & told it in the citie, & in the countrey. And they came out for to se what had happened: & came to Iesus, & saw him that was vexed with the fiende, & had the legions, spt both clothed and in his right mind: and were afraied. And they that sawe it, tolde the how it had happened to hym that was possessed with the deuill: and also of the swyne. And they began to praye hym, that he woulde departe from theyr coastes. And when he was come into the shyppe, he that had the deuill, prayed him that he might be with him. Howbeit Iesus wold not suffer him, but said vnto him: go home into thyne owne house, and to thy frendes, and shewe them what great thinges the Lorde hath done vnto the, and how he had compassion on the. And he departed, and began to publishe in the ten citie what great thynges Iesus had done vnto hym, and al men dyd meruayle.

And when Iesus was come ouer agayn by ship vnto the other side, much people gathered vnto him, & he was nie vnto the sea. And behold, ther came one of the rulers of the Synagoges, whose name was Jairus: & when he saw him he fel doune at his fete, & besought him greatly, sayyng: my daughter lieth at pointe of death, I woulde thou wouldest come and lay thy hande on her, & she might be safe & liue. And he went wyth hym, and muche people folowed hym, and thronged hym.

And there was a certayn woman, which was diseased of an pssue of bloude. xii. yeres, and had suffred mannynges of many physicians, & had spent al that she had, & felt none amendement at all, but wered worse & worse. When she had hearde of Iesus, she came into the pcece behinde hym, & touched his garmente. For she thought: if I maye but touche hys clothes, I shal be whole. And straightway hit fountayne of bloude was dyed vp, and she felt in hir bodye, that she was healed of the plague.

And Iesus immediatly felt in hym selfe the vertue that went out of him, and turned him round about in the pcece, & sayd: who touched my clothes? And his disciples saied vnto him: seest thou the people thrust the, and yet axest who dyd touche me? And he looked roundabout, for to se hir that had done that thinge. The woman feared and trembled (for she knewe what was done within hir) and she came and fel doune before him, and tolde him the truth of euery thyng. And he saied to hir: Doughter, thy fapth hath made the whole: god in peace, & be whole of thy plague.

Whyle he yet spake, there came from the rulers of the Synagoges house, certayn whiche sayed: thy doughter is dead: whye diseatest thou the Master any further? As sone as Iesus hearde that worde spoken, he said vnto the ruler of the Synagoge: be not afraied, only beleue. And he suffred no man to folow him mo the Peter & James, &

W d d d. iiii. Jhon

¶ Math. ix. e. Luk. viii. e. The rulers daughter.

¶ Bloudye pssue.

¶ Doughter.

The Gospell

John the brother of James. And he came vnto the house of the ruler of the sinagoge and saw the wondring, & them that wept, and wailed greatly, and went in and sayde vnto them: why make ye this a do & wepe? The mayden is not dead, but slepeth. And they laught him to scorne. Then he putte them all oute, and toke the father and the mother of the mayden, and them that wer with him, and entered in wher the mayden laye, and toke the mayden by the hande, and said vnto hir: Tabitha cumi: which is by interpretacion: mayden I say vnto the arise. And straight the maiden arose, and went on hyr feete. For she was of the age of twelue yeres. And they were astounded at it oute of measure. And he charged them straitely, that no man should know of it, and commaunded to geue hir meat.

The Notes.

(a) Worshyppe here, is not to geue due honoure that pertayneth vnto God, but suche reuerence as pertayneth vnto men. As bowyng of knees, or makyng of curtely.

The vi. Chapter.

Christ is despyed in hys owne country. He sendeth oute hys Apostles to preache. The death of Ihon is described. Certayne thousandes of men are fed with fyue loaves. Iesus sendyng hys disciples before by shyp, lowereth them walkyng vpon the waters, and ceaseth the tempest. Many sicke men are healed by touchyng of hys garment.

And he departed thence, and came into his owne countrey, and whē the Saboth day was come, he beganne to teache in the synagoge. And many that heard him wer astonished, and said: Fro whens hath he these thynges? and what wyl dome is thys that is geuen vnto hym, and such miracles that are wroughte by his handes? Is not thys that carpenter Maries sonne, the brother of James and Ioses and of Juda and Symon? and are not his sisters here wth vs? And they were offended by him. And Iesus sayde vnto them: a prophet is not despyed but in his owne country, and amonge hys owne kynne, and among them that are of the same household. And he could ther shew no miracles, but laid his hands vpon a few syncke folke, and healed them. And he merueyled at their vnbelieve.

And he went aboute by the townes that lay on euery syde, teachyng: and he called the twelue, and began to sendethem, two and two, and gaue them power ouer vncleane spirites: and commaunded the that they should take nothyng vnto their Iourney (a) saue a rod only: Neither scrippe, neyther bread, neither money in their purses: but shoulde be shooed with sandalles: and that they shoulde not put on two coates. And he said vnto them: whersoever ye enter into an house, there abide in tyll ye departe thence. And whosoever shall not receyue you, nor heare you: when ye departe thence, shake of the dust that is vnder your

of S. Marke.

feete, for a wytnes vnto them: I say verely vnto you, it shalbe easer for zodome and Gomor at the daye of iudgement, then for that cytie.

And they went oute and preached, that they shoulde repent: and they cast out many dyuelles. And they anointed many that were syncke wth ople, and healed them.

And kynge Herode heard of hym (for his name was spreade abroade) and sayd: John Baptiste is risen agayne from death, and therfore myracles are wrought by him. Other saide: it is Elias: and some sayd: it is a prophet: or as one of the prophetes. But when Herode hearde of hym, he saide: it is Ihon whom I beheaded, he is risen from death agayne.

For Herode himselfe had sent forth and had taken John, and bound him and caste him into prison for Herodias sake whyche was hys brother Philips wife. For he had married hir. John sayed vnto Herode: It is not lawefull for the to haue thy brothers wife. Herodias laied wayte for him, & wold haue kyled him, but she could not. For Herode feared John, knowyng that he was a iust man and holpe, & gaue hym reuerence: and when he hearde him, he dyd many thynges, and heard him gladly.

But when a conuenient daye was come: Herode on his byrth day made a supper to the Lordes, capitaines, and chiefe estates of Galyle. And the doughter of the sayd Herodias came in and daunced, and pleased Herode, and them that sate at bourde also. Then the king sayd vnto the maiden: are of me what thou wilt, and I wyl geue it the.

And he sware to her, whatsoever thou shalt aske of me, I will geue it the, euen vnto the halfe of my kingdome. And she went forth and saide to hir mother: what shall I aske? And she saide: John Baptistes heade. And she came in straightway with hast vnto the kynge, and axed, sayyng: I will that thou geue me by and by in a charger the heade of John Baptist. And the kinge was sore, howe be it for his othes sake, and for their sakes whiche sate at supper also, he wold not put hir besyde her purpose. And immediatly the kynge sent the hangman, and commaunded his head to be broughte in. And he went and beheaded him in prison, and brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the maiden, and the maiden gaue it to hir mother. And when his disciples heard of it, they came and toke by his body and put it in a tombe.

And the Apostles gathered them selues together to Iesus, and tolde him all thynges, both what they hadde done, and what they had taught.

And he saied vnto them: Come ye aparte into the wilderness and reste a whyle. For there were many commers and goers, that they had no leasure so much as to eat. And he went by shippe oute of the way in-

Anoynte.

Ma. xlii. a Math. ix. a

C
Ma. xlii. a
Luke. iii. d.

D

John Baptist is beheaded.

Ma. xlii. b
Luke. ix. b.

Ma. xlii. g.
Luke. iiii. c

Carpenter.

A prophet is not honoured in hys owne
countrey.

Math. x. a.
Luke. ix. a.

The apostles ar sent forth.

Actu xlii. g.
Dust.

Mat. ix. d. to a desert place. But the people spied the when they departed, and many knew him, and ranne afoze thither out of all cities, & came thither before them, and came together vnto him. And Iesus went out & sawe muche people, and had compassion on the, because they were like shepe which had no shepheard. And he began to teach them many thynges.

Mat. xiii. d. Luke. ix. b. And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came vnto him saying: this is a desert place, and now the daye is farre passed, let them departe, that they may go into the countrey roundabout, and into the townes, and bye them bread, for they haue nothing to eate. He answered and said vnto them: giue ye them to eat. And they said vnto hym: shall we go and bye. ii. C. penny worth of breade and gyue them to eate? He sayed vnto them: howe many loaves haue ye? Go and loke. And when they had searched, they sayd, fiue and two fishes. And he commaunded them to make them all lytte doune by companies vpon the grene grasse.

Ihon. vi. a. And they late doune here a rowe, and ther a rowe, by hundzedes, and fiftyes. And he toke the fyue loaves and the. ii. fishes, and looked vp to heauen and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gaue them to his disciples to put before them, and the. ii. fishes he deuided among them all. And they al dyd eat, and wer satisfied. And they toke by twelue baskettes full of the gobbettes and of the fishes. And they that eate were about fyue thousand men.

Mat. xiii. e. Ihon. vi. b. And straight way he caused his disciples to go into the ship, and to go ouer the water before vnto Bethsaida, whyle he sente awaye the people. And as sone as he hadde sent them awaye, he departed into a mountayne to praye.

Iesus walketh on the sea And when euen was come, the shyp was in the middes of the sea, and he alone on the lande, and he sawe them troubled in rowynge, for the wind was contrary vnto the. And about the fourth quarter of the night he came vnto them walkyng vpon the sea, and woulde haue passed by them. When they sawe him walkyng vpon the sea, they supposed it hadde bene a spirit, and cryed out: for they all sawe him, and wer afraied. And anone he talked with them, and saide vnto them. Be of good chere, it is I, be not afraied. And he went vp vnto them into the shyp, and the winde ceased, and they were sore amased in theselues beyond measure, & merueiled. For they remembred not of the loaves, because their hertes were blynded.

And they came ouer & went into the lande of Genezareth, and dreye vp into the haue. And as sone as they were come oute of the shyp, straight they knewe hym, and ranne forth thorowout all the region roundabout, and began to cary about in beddes all that were spcke, to the place where they hearde tell he was. And whethersoever he entered into townes, cytys, or byllages, they laid their spycke in the stretes, and prayed hym that they myght touche, and it wer but the hemme of his vesture, and as many as touched him, wer safe. &

The Notes.

(a) In Mathew the. i. a. is sayd. For a staffe. Rod of And in Luke the. ii. also, he shall seme to forbyd them a rodde, yet doth not the text meane so in dede. But forbyddeth, cole, howes, rod. &c. by a fygure, to the entent onelye, that they shoulde vterlye put from them all carefulesnes of anye such prouisi on, as a scrip or any of the other, amonge which the staffe may be one, for asmuche as it is a wepen of defence, wher the rod is but rather a token or a sygne of peace.

The. vii. Chapter.

Christ rebuketh the Hypocrites which be holpe in outwarde thynges, and he sheweth what is true holynes. After he deliuereth the daughter of the Syrophenis from the deuyl, and by the miracle helpe the dumme and the deafe.

And the Pharisees came togyther vnto him, and diuers of the Scribes whiche came from Hierusalem. And when they sawe certayne of his disciples eat bread with common handes (that is to saye wth vnwaschen handes) they complayned. For the Phariseis and all the Jewes, excepte they washe their handes oft, eat not: obseruing the tradicions of the elders. And whē they come from the market, except they washe they eate not. And manye other thynges ther be, which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washyng of cuppes, and cruces, and of brasen vessels, & of tables.

Then axed him the Pharises and Scribes, why walke not thy disciples according to the tradicions of the elders, but eat bread with vnwaschen handes? He answered and sayed vnto them: well prophesied Escayas of you hypocrites, as it is witen: Thys people honoureth me wth their lippes, but their harte is farre from me: In vayne they worshyppe me, teachyng doctrine which are nothing but the commaundementes of men. For ye lay the commaundement of God apart, and obserue the tradicions of men, as the washyng of cruces and of cuppes, and manye other suchelike thynges ye do.

And he sayed vnto them: well, ye cast asyde the commaundemente of God to mayntaine poure owne tradicions. For Moyses sayed: Honour thy father and thy mother: and whosoever curseth father or mother, let him dye for it. But ye say: a mā shall say to father or mother, Corban: whiche is, I thou desperest me to heape the wth, is geuen God. And so ye suffer him no more to do ought for hys father or his mother, making the word of God of none effect, thorow your own tradicions which you haue ordayned. And many such thynges ye do.

And he called all the people vnto him, and said to them: Harken to me euery one of you

Edge of hem.

Math. xv. a

Unwashe handes.

Mens commaundementes.

Leuit. xx. b. Prouer. xx. Corban.

That goeth in, despyleth not of you

The Gospell

of you and vnderstand: There is nothynge withoute a man that can defyle him when it entreth into him: but those thyngs which procede out of him are those whych defyle the man. If any man haue eares to hear let him hear. And when he came into an house awape from the people, hys disciples axed him of the similitude. And he said to them: Are ye so without vnderstandinge? Doo ye not yet perceiue, that whatsoeuer thynge from without entreth into a man, it cannot defyle hym, bicause it entreth not into hys herte, but into his bealy: and goeth out in to þ draught that pourgeth out al meates?

That com
meth oute
of a man
defileth.

And he saied: that defileth a man which cometh out of a man. For from wythin, euen out of the hert of men, procede euyl thoughtes, adultrie, fornication, murther, theft, couetousnes, wyckednes, decept, vn cleanenes, and a wicked eye, blasphemie, pride, folishnes: all these euill thyngs come from within, and defyle a man.

Math. v. c.

And from thence he arose and went in to the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would that no man should haue knowen: but he coulde not be hyd. For a certayne woman whose daughter had a foule spirit, heard of hym: & came and fell at hys feete. The womanne was a Greke out of Syrophenicia, & she besought him that he would cast out the deuyll oute of hir daughter. And Iesus sayd vnto her: Let the chyldren fyrst be fedde. For it is not mete, to take the chyldrens breade, and to caste it vnto whelpes. She answered and sayed vnto him: euen so maister, neuertheless the whelpes also eate vnder the table of the chyldrens crummes. And he saied vnto hir: for thys sayinge gooth thy wape, the diuell is gone oute of thy daughter. And when she was come home to hys house, she found the deuyll departed, and hir daughter lpyng on the bed.

Math. xv. c.

And he departed agayn from the coastes of Tyre and Sidon, and came to the sea of Galile thorowe the myddest of the coastes of the ten cities. And they broughte vnto hym one that was deafe and stambred in his speache: and prayed him to lay hys had vpon hym. And he toke him asyde from the people, and put hys fyrnger in hys eares, & did spit & touched his tongue, & looked vp to heauen & spghed & said vnto him: ephata, & is to saye be opened. And straightwape hys eares wer opened, & the string of his tōgue was losed, & he spake plain. And he comāded them that they should tel no man. But the more he forbad the, so much the more a great deale they published it: and were beyond measure astonpyed, sayinge: He hath done all thynges well, and hath made both the deafe to heare, & þ domme to speake. &

The deafe
and domme

Genes. i. b.
Eccl. xxi. c.

The viii. Chapter.

With seven loaves are. iiii. men filled. Christ deuved a sygne to the Pharises. He bade them beware of theyr leuen, he restored to the blynd man hys syght, he maketh the Apostles to

Of S. Marke.

confesse what he was, he shewed the before of his death, and warned all men to take the crosse, and folow hym.

In those dayes when there was a very greate company and had nothing to eat, Iesus called his disciples to him and saied vnto them: I haue compassyon on thys people, because they haue nowe bene with me thre dayes and haue nothynge to eate. And if I shoulde send them away fastynge to theyr own houses, they shoulde faint by the way. For diuers of them came fro farre. And hys disciples answered him: wher might a mā haue bread here in the wildernes to satisfy these? And he asked them: how manye loaves haue ye? They sayd seven. And he commaunded the people to sytte downe on the grounde. And he toke þ seven loaves, gaue thanks, brake, and gaue to his disciples, too sette before them. And they did sette them before the people. And they hadde a fewe small fishes. And he blessed them, and commanded them also to be set before the: And they eate, and were suffised. And they toke vp of the broken meate that was left, seven baskets full. And they that eate wer in number about foure thousande. And he sent them awape. &

Mat. xv. d

Seven
loaves.

And anone entered into shippe wyth hys disciples, and came into the partes of Dalmanutha. And the pharises came forth & began to dispute with him, sekynge of hym a sygne from heauen and temptynge hym. And he spghed in hys spirit and sayed: why doeth thys generacion seke a sygne? Verely I say vnto pou, there shal no signe be geuen vnto this generacyon. And he lefte them, and went into the shyp agayne, and departed ouer the water.

Mat. xvi. a
Luk. xii. g.

And they hadde forgotten to take bread with them, neyther had they in the shyppe wyth them more then one loafe. And he charged them, sayinge.

Mat. xvi. a

Take hede of the leuen of the pharises, and of the leuen of Herode. And they reasoned among themselves, sayinge: we haue no breade. And when Iesus knew that, he sayed vnto them: why take ye thought, because ye haue no breade? perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstand? Haue ye your hertes yet blynded? Haue ye eyes and se not? and haue ye eares and hear not? Do ye not remember? When I brake. v. loaves among. v. How many baskettes full of broken meate toke ye vp? They sayed vnto him, twelue. When I brake seven among foure, how many baskettes of the leuynges of broken meate toke ye vp? They sayed: seven. And he sayed vnto them: Howe is it that ye vnderstande not?

Jhon. vi. b

And he came to Bethsaida, and they brought a blynde man vnto him, and desired him to touche him. And he caughte the blind by the hande, and lead him out of the town, and spat in hys eyes, & put his handes vpon him, and axed him whether he sawe ought. And he looked vp & said: I see the men

for

Mat. xvi. d
Luk. ix. c.

Cesarea
Philippi.

The passio

Peter is Sathan

mat. xvi. d
Luk. ix. c
Christs disciple.

Math. x. d.
Luk. ix. c.

Mat. xvi. d
Luk. ix. c.

mat. xvii. a.
Luk. ix.
Transfigu-
red.

for I se them walke, as they were trees. After that he put his handes agayne vpon hys eyes, and made him se. And he was restored to hys syghte, and sawe euery mā clearly. And he sent him home to hys house sayinge: neyther go into the towne, nor tel it to any in the towne. And Iesus wente out and hys dysciples into the townes that longe to the cypre called Cesarea philippi. And by the waye he asked hys dysciples sayinge: whom do men saye that I am? And they answered some saye that thou arte John Baptiste: some saye Helyas, & some one of the prophetes. And he sayed vnto them: But whom saye ye that I am? Peter answered & sayed vnto hym: Thou art the Chryste. And he charged them that they shoulde tell no man of hym. And he began to teache them, howe that the sonne of mā must suffer many thynges, and shoulde be reproued of the elders and of the priestes and scribes, and be kylled, and after three dayes rise agayne. And he spake that sayinge openly. And Peter toke hym asyde, and beganne to chide hym. Then he turned aboute, and looked on hys Dysciples and rebuked Peter sayinge: go after me Sathā. For thou sauerest not the thynges of God, but the thynges of men.

And he called the people vnto hym, with hys Dysciples also, and sayed vnto them: Whoso euer wyl folowe me lette hym forsake hym selfe, and take vpon hys crosse and folowe me. For whoso euer wyl saue hys lyfe, shall lose it. But whoso euer shall lose hys lyfe for my sake and the Gospels, the same shall saue it. What shall it profyte a man if he shoulde wyne all the world and lose hys owne soule? Or els what shall a manne geue to redeme hys soule agayne? Whoso euer therefore shalbe ashamed of me and of my wordes, amonge thys aduoutous and synfull generacion, of hym shall the sonne of man be ashamed when he cometh in the glorie of hys father with the holy Angells. And he sayd vnto them: Werelpe I saye vnto you: There be some of them that stande here, whiche shall not tast of death tyll they haue sene the kyngdome of God come wpth power.

The ix. Chapter.

Christe is transfourmed in the mount before hys Dysciples, and sheweth who is Helyas. He casteth out the dum spirite whiche hys Dysciples coulde not do. He sheweth them agayne of hys death, and he sheweth who shalbe the greatest amongest them, and bydeth them beware of geuyng occasion to o- ther to do euill.

And after .vi. dayes Iesus tooke Peter, James and Iohn, & leade theym vpon into an hye mountayn out of the way alone, and he was transfigured before theym. And hys raimente dyd shyne, and was made very whyte euen as snowe: so whyte as no fuller can make vpon the earth. And there appered vnto them Helyas wpth Moyses and they talked wpth Iesu. And Peter answered and sayed to Iesu: Maister here is a good helynge for vs, let vs make thre tabernacles, one for the, one for Moyses, and another for Helyas. And yet he wiste not what he sayed, for they were afrayed. And there was a cloude that shadowed the. And a voyce came out of the cloude, sayinge: This is my deare sonne, heare hym. And sodenly they looked rownd about the & saw no man more then Iesus only wpth them.

And as they came doune from the hyll, he charged them that they shoulde tel no man what they had sene, tyll the sonne of man were risen from death agayne. And they kepte that sayinge wpth them and demaunded one of another what that risinge fro death agayne shoulde meane? And they asked hym sayinge: Why then say the Scribes that Helyas must first come? He answered and sayed vnto theym: Helyas verelpe shall first come & restore all thynges. And also the sonne of man as it is wyrtten, shall suffer many thynges, & shal be set at nought. More ouer I say vnto you, that Helyas is come, and they haue done vnto hym what soeuer pleased the, as it is wyrtten of hym.

And he came to his discipels, & saw much people about them, and the scribes dysputyng wpth them. And straight way al the people when they behelde hym, were amazed, and ran to hym, and saluted hym. And he sayed vnto the Scribes: what dyspute ye with them.

And one of the company answered and sayed: Maister, I haue broughte my sonne vnto the whiche hath a dumme spirite. And whensoeuer he taketh him, he teareth him, and he semeth and gnasheth wpth hys teth, and pyneth awaye. And I spake to thy disciples that they shoulde cast him out, and they coulde not.

He answered hym and saied: O generacion wpthout fayeth, howe longe shall I be with you? Howe longe shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me. And they brought hym vnto hym: And as sone as the spirite sawe hym, he tare hym. And he fell downe on the grounde, wallowyng and foming. And he asked hys father: howe longe is it ago, sence thys hath happened hym? And he sayed, of a child: & oft times casteth hym in to the fyre, and also into the water to destroy hym. But if thou canst do any thing, haue mercy vpon vs, and helpe vs.

And Iesus sayd vnto him: yea if thou wilt beleue, all thynges are possible to him that beleueth. And straight waie the father of the childe cried with teares, sayinge: Lord I beleue, helpe mine vnbelefe.

When Iesus sawe that the people came runninge together vnto him, he rebuked the foule spirite, sayinge vnto him: Thou dumme and deafe spirite, I charge the come oute of him & enter no more into hym. And the spirite cried & rente hym sore, & came out. And he was as one that had bene deade, in so math. xvii.

Heare hym

Mencio of the passion
foloweth
f hye bisho
math. xiii. b Esay liti. b
mat. xxii. c.
Luk. ix. c.

mat. xvii. c.
Luk. ix. c.

Helpe mine
vnbelefe.
mat. xvii. d

The dobs
and deafe spirite is cast out.

much

Prayer &
fasting.
mat. xvi. a
Luke. ix. c
Passion.

much that many sayd, he is dead. But Jesus caughte hys hand and lyft him vp: and he rose. And when he was come into the house, his disciples axed him secretly: why could not we cast him out? And he sayd vnto them: thys kinde can by no other meanes come forth, but by prayer & fasting. And they departed thence, and toke their iorney through Galile, and he woulde not that any man should haue knowen it. For he taught his disciples, and sayd vnto the: the sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of men, and they shall kyl him, & after that he is kylled, he shall rylse agayn the thyrdd day. But they wist not what that sayng meant, and wer afraied to axe him.

mat. xvi. a
Luke. ix. f.

And he came to Capernaum. And when he was come into an house, he axed them: what was it that ye disputed betwene you by the way? And they helde their peace: for by the waye they reasoned amonge themselves, who shoulde be the chiefest. And he satte down and called the twelue vnto him, and said vnto them: if any man desire to be firste, the same shall be laste of all, and seruant vnto al. And he toke a child, and set him in the middes of them, and toke hym in his armes, and said vnto them: Whosoever receiueth anye sliche a childe in my name, receiueth me. And whosoever receiueth me, receiueth not me, but him that sent me. &

Chiefe of
greatest.

John answered him, sayng: Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name which foloweth not vs, & we forbade him, because he foloweth vs not. But Jesus laied: forbid him not. For there is no man that shall do a miracle in my name, that cā lightly speake euill of me. Whosoever is not against you, is on your part. And whosoever shall geue you a cuppe of water to drynke for my names sake, because ye be longe to Christ, verely I saye vnto you, he shall not lose his (a) reward.

And whosoever shall offend one of these litle ones that beleue in me, it were better for him that a millstone wer hanged about his necke, and that he were cast into y sea. Wherfore if thy hand offende the, cut hym of. It is better for the, to enter into lyfe maimed, then hauinge two handes, to goo into hell, into fire that neuer shalbe quenched, where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out. Likewise, if thy fote offende the, cut him of. For it is better for the to go halte into life, then hauinge two fete, be caste into hell, into fire that neuer shalbe quenched: where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth out. Euen so if thine eye offende y, plucke him out. It is better for the to go into the kyngdome of God with one eye, then haupnge two eyes to be cast into hell fyre: where their worme dieth not, and the fire neuer goeth oute.

Mat. xvi. a Fyre & salt.

¶ Euerie man therfore shalbe salted wth (b) fyre. And euerie sacrifice shalbe seasoned wth salte. Salte is good. But if y salt be vnflauere, what shall ye salt therewith? Se that ye haue salt in your selues, & haue peace amōg your selues, one with another.

The Notes.

(a) Whosoever thou workest at the commaundemente of God, thou shalt haue the rewarde therfore that pertayneth vnto a saythfull worker, whych is lyfe euerlastyng. Not that it is due to the worke but to thy sayeth, out of the whyche thy worke proceedeth. For we receyue that promyse by sayth, and not by workes.

Rewarde.

(b) Fyre here signifieth tribulacion. And the salte is Goddes worde.

Salted
with fyre.

The .x. Chapter.

He prescribeth lawes of matrimonye, and blesseth yonge infants. He byddeth y yonge mā that was proude in trust of hys workes, leaue all & folowe him: and he sheweth what greute incommoditie is in riches, and what rewarde they shall haue that folowe them. He teacheth the children of zebede that wold haue bene hyst, to be lowly, and restoreth syght to Bartimicus.

And he rose from thence, & wente into the coastes of Tury throughe the region that is beyonde Tyrodane. And the people resorted vnto him a frethe, & as he was wont, he taught them againe. And the phariseis came and axed hym a question: whether it were lawefull for a man to put awaye hys wife, to proue hym. And he answered & said vnto them: What did Moyses bid you do? And they saide: Moyses suffered to write a testimoniall of diuorcement, and to putte hyr awaye. And Jesus answered and saide vnto them: For the hardnes of youre hartes he wrote this precept vnto you. But at the first creatiō, God made them man and woman. And for this thinges sake shall mā leaue his father and mother, and byde by his wife, & they twayne shall be one fleshe. So then are they now not twayn, but one fleshe. Wherfore what God hath coupled, let not man separate.

Diuorces
ment.
Deu. xxi. a
Mat. xix. a
Gene. ii. b.

And in the house his disciples axed hym again of the matter. And he said vnto the: Whosoever putteth away his wyfe, & marieth another, breaketh wedlocke to hyr warde. And if a womanne forsake hyr husbande, and be married to another, she committeth aduoutry.

i. Cor. vi. b
Eph. v. g.

And they brought children to him, that he shoulde touche them. And his disciples rebuked those that broughte them. When Jesus sawe that, he was displeased, & said to them. Suffer the children to come vnto me, and forbid them not. For of such is the kingdome of God. Verely I say vnto you: whosoever shal not receyue the kingdome of God as a chylde, he shal not enter therein. And he toke them in hys armes, and put his handes vpon them and blessed them.

Mat. xix. b.
Lu. xvi. c
Chyldren.

¶ And when he was come into the waye, ther came one running and kneled to him, and axed hym: good Maister, what shall I do, that I may enherit eternall lyfe? Jesus sayd vnto him: whye callest thou me good?

Mat. xix. b
Lu. xvi. d

Exod. xx. c. good? Ther is (a) none good but one, which is God. Thou knowest the commaundementes: breake not matrimonye: kyll not, steale not, beare not false wytnes: defraud no man: honoure thy father and mother. He answered to hym: Maister, all these I haue obserued from my youth. Iesus beheld him and had a fauour to him, & sayed vnto him: one thyng is lackyng vnto the. Go and sell all that thou hast, and geue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come and folow me, and take vp thy crosse. * But he was discomforted

The riche man may abide no crosse: his section.

And Iesus looked roundabout, and sayed vnto his disciples: what a hard thyng is it for the that haue riches, to enter into the kyngdome of God? And his disciples were astonied at his words. But Iesus answered agayne, and sayed vnto them: chyliden howe harde is it for them that truste in rychesse, to enter into the kyngdom of God? It is easer for a camell, to go thorow the eye of a nedle, then for a ryche man to enter into the kyngdome of God. And they were astonied out of measure, sayinge betwene themselves: who the can be saued? Iesus looked vpon them & sayed: wyth men it is impossible, but not with God, for wyth God all thynges are possyble.

Mat. xix. d Lu. xxi. c. And Peter beganne to saye vnto hym: Lo, we haue forsake all, and haue folowed the. Iesus answered and sayed: Verely I saye vnto you, there is no man that forsaketh house, or brethren, or sisters, or father or mother, or wyfe, eyther chyliden, or landes, for my sake and the Gospels, whiche shall not receyue an hundred folde now in this lyfe: houses, and brethren, and sisters and mothers, and chyliden, & landes, with persecucions, and in the world to come eternal lyfe. Many that are first, shall be last, and the last shall be fyrste. And they were in the way goynge vnto Hierusalem. And Iesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they folowed they were afrayd.

And Iesus toke the twelue agayne, and began to tell them what thynges shoulde happen vnto him. Beholde wee goo vp to Hierusalem, and the sonne of man shall be deliuered into the handes of the hye priestes, and vnto the Scribes: and they shall condemne him to death, and shall deliuer him to the gentyls: and they shall mocke hym and scourge hym, and spyt vpon him, and kyll him. And the thirde daye he shall rise agayn.

The sonnes of zebede. And then James and John the sonnes of zebede came vnto hym, sayinge: Maister, we woulde that thou shouldest do for vs, whatsoeuer we desyre. He sayd vnto them: what woulde ye I shoulde doo vnto you? They sayed vnto him: graunt vs that wee may sit one on thy right hand, & the other on thy left hand, in thy glory. But Iesus sayd vnto the: Ye wot not what ye aske. Cape drynke of the cup that I shal drynke of, and be baptyfied in the baptisme that I shal be baptyfied in? And they said vnto him: that we can. Iesus sayd vnto them, ye shal drynke of the cup that I shal drynke of, and be baptyfied with the baptysme that I shal be baptyfied in: but to sit on my ryghte hand, and on my lyft hande is not myne to geue, but to them for whom it is prepared.

And when the .x. heard that, they began to dysdaine at James and John. But Iesus called them vnto him, and sayd to the: Ye knowe that they whiche seme to beare rule amonge the gentils, reigne as lordes ouer them. And they that be great amonge them, exercise autoritie ouer the. So shall it not be among you, but whosoever of you wil be greate amonge you, shalbe your minister. And whosoever wyl be chiefe shalbe seruaunte vnto all. For euen the sonne of man came not to be ministred vnto, but to minister, and to geue his lyfe for the redemption of many.

And they came to Hierico: and as he went out of Hierico with his disciples, & a great numbze of people, Barthimeus the son of Thimeus, whych was blynde, sat by the hye wayes syde beggynge. And when he hearde that it was Iesus of Nazareth, he beganne to crye and to saye: Iesus the sonne of Dauid, haue mercye on me. And manye rebuked hym, that he shoulde holde hys peace. But he cryed the more a greate deale: Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercye on me. And Iesus stode still and commaunded him to be called. And they called the blynde, saying vnto him: Be of good comforte: ryse, he calleth the. And he threwe away his clooke, and rose and came to Iesus. And Iesus answered and sayed vnto him: What wylt thou that I do vnto the? The blynde sayed vnto hym: Maister, that I might se. Iesus sayde vnto hym: So thy way, thy fayth hath saued the. And by and by he receyued his sight, and folowed Iesus in the waye.

The Notes.

- (a) Loke in Mathew. xix.
- (b) That is, plucke thyne herte from all that thou doest possesse, and so forsake them with all thine herte, that in al thy mynde thou doest sell them, and be redy also in dede to sell them if the necessitie of thy neighbour require it. The affecte and truste in thynges possessed, muste we euer renounce, or els are we not perfect.

The .xi. Chapter.

Christe rode to Hierusalem vpon an asse colt. He curseth the figtree that lacked fruite. He cast out of the temple the buyers and sellers, he teacheth the strength of sayth, and putteth out of countenance the Pharisees that ared him of the power gyuen vnto him, by an other question.

And when they came nye to Hierusalem vnto Bethphage and Bethanyp, besides mounte Oliuet, he sent forth the two of his disciples, & sayd vnto them: Go your wayes

Mat. xxi. c

Hierico. Barthimeus the blynde.

No man good. Go sell all.

Mat. xxi. c Luke. xix. c Bethphage.

See. i. into

The Gospel

into the town ouer against you. And as sone as you be entred into it, ye shall fynd a colt tyed, wheron neuer man sate, lose hym: & brynge hym hyther.

And if anye man saye vnto you: whye do ye so? Say that the Lord hath nede of him: and straightway he will send him hyther: & they went they waye and founde a colt tyed by the dore withoute in a place where two wayes mette, and they losed hym. And diuers of them that stode there, sayed vnto them: What do ye lewspynge the colt. And they sayed vnto them, euen as Iesus hadde commaunded them. And they let them go. And they brought the colt to Iesus and cast their garments on hym: and he sate vpon hym. And many spred they garments in the way. Other cut down braunches of the trees, and strawed them in the waye.

And they that wente before, and they that folowed: cried, saying: (a) Hosanna: blessed be he that cometh in the name of the Lord. Blessed be the kyngdome that cometh in the name of hym that is Lorde of our father Dauid, Hosanna in the hiest.

And the Lord entred into Ierusalem, & into the temple. And when he hadde looked roundabout vpon all thynges, and now the euentide was come, he went oute vnto Bethany, with the twelue. And on the morowe when they were come oute from Bethany, he hungered, and spied a figg tree a farre off, hauing leaues: & went to se whether he might fynd any thyng thereon. But when he came thereto, he founde nothinge but leues: for the tyme of figges was not yet. And Iesus answered and said to it: neuer man eate fruit of the hereafter, whyle the worlde standeth. And hys dysciples hearde it.

And they came to Ierusalem. And Iesus went into the temple, and beganne to caste oute sellers and biers in the temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money chaungers, and the stoles of them that solde doves, and woulde not suffer that anye man carped a vessel throughe the temple. And he taught saying vnto them, is it not writte: my house shall be called the house of prayer vnto all nacjons: But ye haue made it a den of theues.

And the Scribes and hye Priestes heard it: and soughte howe to destroie hym. For they feared hym, because al the people marueled at hys doctryne. And when eue was come, he went out of the cite. And in the morning as they passed by, they sawe (b) figge tree dyed vpon by the rotes. And Peter remembred, and said vnto him: maister, behold, the figge tre which thou cursedest, is withered away. And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them: Haue confidence in God. Verely I say vnto you, that whosoener shall say to this mountaine, take away thy selfe into the sea, and shall not wauer in his herte, but shall beleue that those thynges, whyche he sayeth shall come to pasce, whatsoeuer he saith shall be done to hym. Therefore I saye vnto you, whatsoeuer ye desyre when ye praye, beleue that ye shall haue it, and it shall be done vnto you. And when ye stande and praye, forgue if ye haue any thing against anye man, that your father also, which is in heauen, maye forgue you your trespasses.

Of S. Marke.

And they came agayne to Ierusalem. And as he walked in the temple, there came to hym the priestes and Scribes, and the elders, and sayed vnto him: by what authoritie doest thou these thynges? And who gaue the thes authoritie to do these thynges? Iesus answered and sayd vnto the: I will also aske of you a certayne thyng: & answer ye me, and I wil tell you by what authoritie I do these thynges. The Baptisme of Iohn, was it from heauen, or of men? Answer me. And they thought in them selues, sayinge: if we shall saye from heauen: he wyl say then, whye dyd ye not beleue him? but if we shall say, of men, they feare we the people. For al menne counted Iohn that he was a very prophet.

And they answered & sayd vnto Iesus: we can not tel. And Iesus answered & sayed vnto them: neither wyl I tel you, by what authoritie I do these thynges.

The Notes.

(a) Luke in Mathew. xxi. b

(b) Ibidem.

(c) Luke Mathewe. xxi. c

Hosanna.
Figg tree.
Of man.

The. xii. Chapter.

By the parable of the vineyard and of husband men, Christe rebuketh the ingratitude of the Jewes, and syleth the questyon of paying money. He confuteth the Saducees touching the resurreccion, and sheweth what is the chiefest commandemente, and whose sonne he is. He byddeth to auoyde the Heretics, and sheweth wyth what mynde we shuld serue God.

And he began to speake vnto the in similitudes. A certayn man planed a vineyard, and compassed it with an hedge, & ordeyned a wyne presse, and buylded a tower in it.

And let it out to hyre vnto husband men, & went into a straunge countrey. And when the tyme was come, he sent to the tenautes a seruaunt, that he myghte receyue of the tenautes of the fruit of the vineyard. And they caught him, and beate hym, and sente hym awaye empty. And mozeouer he sent vnto them an other seruaunte, and at him they cast stones, and brake hys heade, and sent him agayne all so teupled. And agayne he sent another, and hym they kylled and many other: beatinge some, and kyllyng some.

Yet had he one sonne, whom he loued tenderly, hym also he sente at the laste vnto them, saying: they wyl feare my sonne. But the tenautes sayed among them selues: this is the heire, come let vs kyl him, & the inheritance shall be ours. And they toke hym, & killed him, & cast him out of the vineyard.

Mat. xxi. b
Vineyard

Luke. xx. b.
Esay. l. a Piers. ii. b.

Ge. xxxviii.

pard. What shall then the lord of the vine-pard do? He wyl come and destroye the te-nantes, and let out the vinepard to other.
Haue ye not read this scripture? The stone which the builders didrefuse, is made the chiefe stone in the corner, thys was done of the Lorde, and is meruelouse in our eyes. And they went aboute to take him. But they feared the people. For they percepued that he spake that similitude againste the.
And they left him.

And they sent vnto hym certayne of the Phariseis wth Herodes seruauntes to take hym in hys words. And as sone as they were come, they sayd vnto him, maister: we knowe that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou consyderest not the degre of menne, but teachest the wape of God trulye. Is it lawfull to paye tribute to Cesar, or not? Ought we to giue, or ought we not to giue? He vnderstode theyr simulacpon, and sayed vnto them: Why tempt you me?
Bryng me a penne, that I maye see it: and they broughte it. And he sayed vnto them:
Whose is this ymage and superscription?
And they sayd vnto him, Cesars. And Jesus aunswered and sayd vnto them: Then geue to Cesar that which belongeth to Cesar: and to God, that whych pertapneth to God. And they marueled at hym.

Then came the Saduces vnto hym:
whych saye, there is no resurrection, & they axed him, sayinge: Maister, Moyses wrote vnto vs, if anye mannes brother dye, and leauie his wyfe behynde hym, and leauie no children, that then his brother should take hys wyfe, and rapse vp seed vnto hys brother. Ther were seuen brethren: & the fyrste toke a wyfe, and when he dyed, he lefte no seed behynde hym. And the seconde tooke her and dyed: neyther lefte anye seede. And the thyrde likewyse. And seuen had hir, and left no seede behynde them. Laste of all the wyfe dyed also: In the resurrection then, when they shall ryse againe, whose wyfe shall she be of them? For seuen haue hadde hir to wyfe. Jesus aunswered and sayd vnto them: Are ye not therefore deceiued, and vnderstand not the scriptures, neyther the power of God? For when they shall ryse againe from death, they neyther marrie, nor are marryed, but are as the aungels, whych are in heauen. As touchynge the dead, that they shall ryse agayne, haue ye not read in the boke of Moyses, how in the bushe God spake to hym, sayinge: I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, & the God of Jacob? He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the liuyng. Ye are therefore greatly deceiued.

And there came one of the Scribes, that had hearde them dysputyng together, and percepued that he had aunswered the wel, and asked hym. Which is the fyrst of all the comaundementes? Jesus aunswered hym:
the fyrste of all the comaundementes is.
Heare Israel: The Lord God is one lord.

And thou shalt loue the Lorde thy God wth all thyne herte, and wth all thy soule, and wth all thy mynde, and wth all thy strength. This is the first comaundement.
And the seconde is lyke vnto this: Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe. Ther is none other comaundemente greater then these.

And the Scribe sayd vnto him: well maister, thou hast sayd the truth, that there is one God, and that ther is none but he: And to loue him wth all the hert, and wth all the mind, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue a mans neghbour as hymselfe, is a greater thyng then all burntofferynge and sacrifices. And when Jesus sawe that he aunswered dis-cretly, he sayd vnto hym. (a) Thou art not farre from the kyngdome of God. And no manne after that durst aske hym anye que-styon.

And Jesus aunswered and sayde, teachyng in the temple: how saye the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid: for Da-uid himselfe inspired wth the holy ghoſte, sayd: The Lorde sayed to my Lorde, sit on my right hande (b) tyll I make thyne ene-myes thy fote stole. Then Dauid hymselfe callethe hym Lord: and by what meanes is he then hys sonne? And much people heard hym gladly.

And he sayd vnto them in hys doctryne:
beware of the Scribes, which loue to go in long clothing, and loue salutations in the market places, and the chiefe seates in synagoges, and to sytte in the vppermoste roumes at feastes, and deuoure wyddowes houses, and that vnder a coloure of longe prayinge. These shall receyue greater damnacpon.

And Jesus late ouer agaynst the treasury, and beheld howe the people put money into the treasury: And many that wer rich, caste in muche. And there came a certayne poore wyddowe, and she threwe in two mytes, whych make a farthyng. And he called vnto hym hys discyples and sayed vnto them. Verely I say vnto you, that thys poore wyddowe hath cast more in, then all they whych haue caste into the treasury.
For they al dyd caste in of theyr superfluitie: but she of hyr pouertye dyd caste in all that she had, euen all her lyuynge.

The Notes.

(a) Not to be farre from the kyngdome of god, is to haue the true knowledge of the lawe, and lacke nothyng but fayth and trust in Christe, by the whych onely cometh euerlastyng lyfe.
(b) Tyll I make thyne enemyes thy fote stole,
sc. Ioke Mathew. xxi. d

The xiii. Chapter.

Christ expoundeth the horryble destructio-of Hierusalem, howe it shoulde be, and what sygnes shoulde goo before. After by occasion he talketh of the last iudgemente, and reconeth by the sygnes of it, exhortynge all men to sobrietye and watchynge.

First commaunde-
ment.
Deute. v. 1.
Leuit. xix.
Mat. xvi. d
Rom. xiii. e
Galat. v. 6.

D
Ma. xxi. d
Luke. xx. g.
Dauids
sonne.
Psal. cix. a

ma. xxi. a
Luke. xi. f.
Longe
clothes.

L
Luke. xxi. a Poore wi-
dowe.

Not farre
from.

The Gospel

Of S. Marke.

mat. xlii. a
The destruction
of the temple,

And as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples sayde vnto him: Maister, se what stones, and what buildinges are here. And Iesus answered and said vnto hym. Seest thou these great buyldynges? There shal not be left one stone vpon another, & shal not be throwen downe.

And as he sate on mounte Oliuete, ouer against the temple, Peter & James, & John & Andrew axed him secretly: tell vs, whe al these thynges shalbe fulfilled? and Iesus answered them, and began to saye: take hede, lest any man deceiue you: For manye shal come in my name, saying: I am Christ and shall deceiue manye.

Antichrist

When ye shall heare of warre & tydyngs of warre, be ye not troubled. For such thynges must nedes be. But the ende is not yet. For ther shal nacion aryse against nacion, & kingdome agaynst kyngdome. And there shalbe earthquakes in some places, and famishmente and troubles. These are the begynnyng of sorowes.

But take ye hed to your selues. for thei shal bring you vp to the counsels & into the synagoges, & ye shalbe beten: & ye shalbe brought before rulers & kings for my sake, for a testimonial vnto them. And the Gospel must first be published amonge al nacions.

Mat. x. b.

But when they lead you, & present you, take no thought afoze hand what ye shall say, neyther ymagin: but whatsoeuer is geuen you at the same time, & speake. For it shal not be ye & shal speake, but sholy gost.

The spirit
answe-reth.

Yea, & the brother shal deliuer the brother to death, & the father the sonne, & the chyl- dren shal rse against their fathers and mo- thers, and shall put them to death. And ye shalbe hated of al men for my names sake. But whosoever shal endure vnto the ende, the same shalbe safe.

Mat. xxiii.
Luke. xxi. d
Dani. ix. a.
Daniel.

Moreover, when ye se the abhominacion that betokeneth desolacion, wherof is spo- ken by Daniell the prophet, stand where it ought not, let hym & readeth vnderstand.

Winter.

Then let them that be in Iury, fflye to the mountaines. And let hym that is on the house top, not descend doune into the house, ney- ther enter therein, to fetch any thyng out of his house. And let hym that is in the fiede, not turne backe againe vnto the thynges which be left behind hym for to take his clo- thes wpth hym. Wo is the to them that are wpth chylde, & to them that geue soucke in those dayes. But pray, that your flight be not in the (a) winter. For there shalbe in those dayes such tribulacion as was not fro the beginning of creatures, which god cre- ated vnto this time, neither shalbe. And ex- cepte that the Lorde shoulde shorten those dayes, noman shoulde be saued. But for the elects sake, which he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes. * And then if anye manne say to you: lo here is Christ, lo, he is ther, beleue not: for false Christes shal rse & false prophetes, & shal shew miracles and

Elect.

Mat. xxiii.
Luk. xxi. b.

wonders to deceiue, if it were possyble, e- uen the electe. But take ye hede: behold, I haue shewed you all thynges before.

Moreover in those daies, after that tri- bulation, the sun shal waxe darke, and the mone shal not giue hir light, & the starres of heauen shal fall: & the powers which are in heauen, shal moue. And then shal they se the sonne of man comming in the cloudes, with great power & glorie. And then shal he send his angels, & shal gather together his electe from the fower wyndes, and fro the one ende of the world to the other.

Learn a symilitude of the fyg tre. Whe his braches are yet tender, & hath brought forth leaues, ye know & the soner is neare: so in like maner, when ye se these thynges come to passe, vnderstand that it is nye e- uen at the dozes. Whereye I saye vnto you, that this generacyon shal not passe till al these thynges be done. Heauen and earth shal passe, but my wordes shal not passe. But of that day & houre knoweth no man: no not the angels whych are in heauen (b) nether the son him self, saue & father only.

Take hede, watche & pray, for ye knowe not when the time is. As a manne which is gone into a straunge countrey, & hath lefte his house & geue authoritie to his seruaun- tes, and euery man his worke, and comaun- ded the porter to watche. Watch therfore, for ye knowe not when the maister of the house wyl come, whether at euē, or at mid- night: whether at the cocke crowing or in the dawninge, lest if he come sodenlye he shoulde fynde you sleping. And that I say vnto you, I say vnto al men, watche.

D
eze. xxi. b
Esa. xlii. b.

Fyg tree.

That day knoweth
no man.

Mat. xliii.
Watche &
praye.

The Notes.

(a) Loke in Mathewe. xlii. b.
(b) As he was man, he knewe it not. But as he was God, he knewe it.

Winter.
Neither
the sonne hym selfe.

The. xiiii. Chapter.

In the thye last chapters he describeth the same thyng which Mathew did, that is & death of our sauour Iesu Christ, and what hath both gone before, and folowed after.

After two daies foloweth Ester, & the daies of swete bread. And the hye priestes & the Scribes sought meanes howe they myghte take hym by craft, & put hym to death.

But they sayd: Not in the feast daye, lest any busines arise amonge the people.

When he was in Bethania, in the house of Simon the leper, euē as he sate at meat, ther came a woman haupnge an alabastr bore of ointmente, called narde, that was pure and costly: and she brake the bore and powred it on hys head. And there wer some that were not contente in themselves, and sayd: what neded thys wast of oyntment? For it might haue bene solde for moze then thye hundred pence, and bene geuen vnto the poore: And they grudged agaynst it.

And Iesus laied: let hir be in rest, whye trouble ye hyr? she hath done a good worke on me. * For ye shall haue poore men wpth you

Mat. xxi. a
Luk. xxi. a

Mat. xxi. a

Iesus is anoined.

Dent. xv. c.

Mat. xv. c. you alwayes, and when so euer ye wyl, ye maye doo theym good, but me ye shall not haue alwayes. She hath doone that she coulde: she came afore hande to anoint my body to hys burping warde. Merely I sape vnto you: where so euer thys Gospell shal be preached throughtout the whole worlde thys also that she hath done, shalbe rehearsed in remembraunce of hyr.

Mat. xvi. a. Luk. xxi. a. He is betrayed. And Judas Iscarioth, one of the twelue wente awaye vnto the hye priestes, to betraie hym vnto theym. When they hearde that, they were glad, and promysed that they wold geue him money. And he sought howe he myghte conuenientelpe betraie hym.

Mat. xxvi. Luk. xxi. a. And the first daye of swete bread, when menne offer the pascall lambe, hys Disciples sayed vnto him: where wylt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayst eate the easter lambe? And he sente forth two of his Disciples, and sayed vnto them: Go ye in to the citie: and ther shall a man mete you bearynge a ppycher of water, folowe hym. And whither soeuer he goeth in, sape ye to the good man of the house: the maister ar-eth where is the gest chamber where I shall eate the easter lambe wpth my Disciples? And he wyl shewe you a greete parloure, paved, and prepared: ther make readye for vs. And hys Disciples wente forth, & came to the citie, and founde as he had said vnto them: and made readye the easter lambe.

Ester labe. Mat. xxvi. Luk. xxi. d. Jhon. xiii. And at euen he came with the. xii. and as they late at bord and eate, Iesus sayd: Verely I sape vnto you: that one of you shall betraie me whiche eateth wpth me: And they began to mourne, and to sape to hym one by one: is it I? and another sayed: is it I? He answered and sayd vnto them: It is one of the twelue: and the same dippeth wpth me in the platter. The sonne of man goeth as it is wyrtten of hym, but wo be to that man, by whom the sonne of man is betrayed: good were it for hym if that man had neuer bene borne.

1. Cor. ix. c. And as they eate, Iesus toke bread, blessed and brake, and gaue theym and sayed: Take, eate, thys is my bodye. And he toke the cup, gaue thankes and gaue it to them and they all dranke of it. And he sayed vnto them: Thys is my bloude of the newe testament whiche is shedde for manye. Verely I sape vnto you: I wyl dryncke no more of thys fruite of the vyne, vntyl that day, that I dryncke it new in the kyngdom of God. And whan they had sayed grace, then they went out to mount Oliuet.

Mat. xxvi. Matth. xiii. And Iesus sayed vnto them. All ye shall be offended throught me thys nyghte. For it is wyrtten: I wyl smyte the sheapherd, and the shepe shall be scatered. But after that I am rysen agayne, I wyl goo into Galile before you. Peter sayed vnto hym. And thoughe all men shoulde be offended, yet woulde not I. And Iesus sayed vnto hym: Verely I sape vnto the, thys daye euene in thys nyghte before the Cocke crowe twyse, thou shalt denye me thyspe. And he spake boldelpe: no, if I shoulde dye wpth the, I wyl not denye the. Likewise also sayed they all.

And they came into a place named Beth Semanpe, and he sayed to hys Disciples: Syt ye here whyle I go a parte and praye. And he toke wpth hym Peter, James, and Jhon, and he began to waie abashed, and to be in an agonye and sayed vnto theym. My soule is verpe heaupe euene vnto the death: tarye here and watch. And he wente forth a lytle and fell downe on the ground & prayed: that if it were possible, the houre myghte passe from hym. And he sayed: Abba father, althynge is possible vnto the, take awaye thys cup from me. Neuerthelesse, not that I wyl, but that thou wylt, be done.

And he came, and founde them sleeppng and sayde to Peter, Symon sleepest thou? Coudeste not thou watche wpth me one houre? watche ye, and praye leaste ye enter into temptacion: the spirite is readye, and the flesh is weake. And agayne he went away and prayed, and spake the same wordes. And he returned and founde theym a slepe agayne, for they eyes were heaupe: neyther wylt they what to answer hym. And he came the thyrde tyme and sayed vnto theym: slepe henceforth and take poure ease, it is ynoughe. The houre is come, beholde the son of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of spinners. Kysse ye let vs goo. Lo he that betraieyth me is at hand.

And immediatly whyle he yet spake, came Judas one of the twelue, and wpth hym a greete number of people wpth swear- des and staues from the hygh priestes and Scribes and elders.

And he that betrayed hym had geuen them a generall token, sayinge: whosoever I do kysse, he it is: take hym and leade him away wwarelpe. And as sone as he was come, he wente straghte waye to hym, and said vnto hym: master master and kyssed hym. And they sayed they handes on hym, and toke hym. And one of them shode by dree out a swerd, and smote a seruaunte of the hye priest, and cut of his eare.

And Iesus answered and sayd vnto the: If ye be come out as vnto a thefe with swear des & staues: for to take me. I was dayly wpth you in the temple teaching, & ye toke me not: but that the scriptures shuld be fulfilled. And they all forsoke him and ranne awaye. And ther folowed hym a certayne yong man clothed in linnen vpon the bare and yong man caught him, and he left hys linnen and fled from them naked.

And they led Iesus awat to the hiest priest of al, and to hym came al the hye priestes and the elders, and the Scribes: And Peter folowed hym a great waye of euene into the pallace of the hie priest, and sat wpth the seruautes, and warmed hym selfe at

Lu. xliii. the fire. And the hye priestes, and al the col-
De is false sell soughte for wptnes agaynst Iesu too ly accused put him to death, and found none. Yet many bare false wptnes agaynst hym, but they wptnes agreed not together. And there arose certayne & broughte false witnes agaynst hym, sayinge: we hearde hym say: I wil destroye this temple made with handes, and within. iii. dayes I wil bulde another made wpythout handes. But they wptnes agreed not together.

Jhon. iiii. And the hyest prieste stode vp amongest them and axed Iesus sayinge: aunswerest thou nothyng? Howe is it that these beare wptnes agaynst the? And he held his peace and aunswered nothyng. Agayne the hyhe holdeth est prieste axed hym, and sayd vnto him. Art hys peace. thou Christe the sonne of the blessed? And Iesus sayde: I am. And ye shall see the sonne of man sit on the ryght hand of power and come in the cloudes of heauen. Then the hyest prieste rente his clothes, and sayed.

He is moc What nede we any further of wptnes? ye ked, spit d, haue hearde the blasphemie, what thyncke blid folded ye? And then they al gaue sentence that he & buffetted. was worthy of death, and some beganne to spit at hym, and to couer his face, and to beat hym with fistes, and to say vnto him: areade vnto vs? And the seruauntes buffeted him on the face.

mat. xvi. g And as Peter was beneth in the palpyce, Luk. xxi. f there came one of the wenches of the hyest Jho. xviii. prieste, and when she saw Peter warming hymself, she looked on hym and sayd. Wast not thou also wpyth Iesus of Nazareth?
Peter de- And he denyed it saying: I know him not,
neth. neyther wotte I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porche, & the cocke crewe And a damsell saw him: and agayne began to say to them that stode by: this is one of thepm. And he denyed it agayne. And anon after: they that stode by, sayed agayne to Peter: Surelpe thou art one of thepm, for thou arte of Galile, and thy speache agreeth thereto. And he began to curse and to sweare, sayinge: I know not this man of whome ye speake. And agayne the cocke crew and Peter remembered the worde that Jesus sayed vnto him: before the cocke crowe twyse, thou shalt denpe me thryse, and began to wepe. The. xv. Chapter.

Mat. xvi The passion of Christ, of his death & burial.
Luk. xxi. f And anon in the dawninge the hye Jho. xviii. priestes held a cōsail w the elders and the scribes, and the whole cōgregacion and bound Iesus, and led him awaye, & deliuered him to Pilate. And Pilate axed hym: art thou the kyng of the Jewes? And he answered and sayd vnto hym: thou sayest it. And the high priestes accused hym of many thynge.
Mat. xvi Wherefore Pilate axeth hym agayne, say-Luk. xxi. f inge. Aunswerest thou nothyng? beholde Jho. xviii. howe manpe thynge they laye vnto thy charge. Iesus yet answered neuer a word, so that Pilate marueiled.

At that feaste Pilate was wont to deli-uer at theyr pleasure a prisoner, whom soe-uer they woulde desper. And ther was one named Barrabas, whych lay bounde wpyth the that made insurreccion, & in p insurreccio committed murther. And the people called vnto him, and begā to desyre according as he had euer done vnto them. Pilate answered theim & saied. Wille ye that I lewse vnto pou the kyng of the Jewes? For he knewe that the hye priestes had deliuered hym of enuy. But the hye priestes had moued the people, that he should rather dely-uer Barrabas vnto them.

And so Pilate answered agayne, & saied vnto the: what wyl ye then that I do with him whom ye cal the king of Jewes? And they cried agayne: crucifye hym. Pilate said vnto them: what euil hath he don? And they cried the more feruently: crucifye him.
 And so Pilate willing to content the people, leused them Barrabas, and deliuered Iesus, when he had scourged hym, for to be crucified.

And the souldiours led hym awaye into the commen hall, and called together the whole multitude, and they cloothed hym with purple: and they platted a crowne of thrones, and crowned him wpyth al, and began to salute hym: Hail kyng of the Je-wes. And they smote hym on the head with a reede, and spatte vpon hym, and kneled doune and worshipped hym.

And when they hadde mocked hym they toke the purpell of hym, and put his owne clooths on him, and led him out to crucify hym. And they compelled one that passed by, called Simon of Ciren (whych cam out of the feld, and was father to Alexander & Rufus) to beare hys crosse. And they broughte him to a place named Golgotha (whych is by interpretaciō, p place of dead mens sculles) and they gaue hym to drie wyne myngled wpyth myre, but he recey-ued it not.

And when they had crucified hym, they parted his garments, casting lottes for the what euery man should haue. And it was about the thirde houre, & they crucified him.
 And the title of his cause was written. The king of the Jewes. And they crucified with him two theues, the one on the right hand, & the other on the left. And the scriptur was fulfilled which sayeth: he was counted amonge the wycked.

And they that went by, railed on him, wagging theyr heades, & saying: A wretch, that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in thre dayes: saue thy selfe, & come downe from the crosse. Likewise also mocked him p hie priestes amonge the selues w the scribes, & sayd: he saued other men, him self he canot saue. Let Christ the kyng of Israel now descende fro the crosse, & we may se and beleue. And they that were crucified with him checked him also.

And when the sixte houre was come, darcknes arose ouer all the earth vntill
 the

Mat. xvi. d
Luk. xxi. f
Jho. xviii. g.
 he is scour-
 ged & then deliuered
 to death.

Mat. xvi. d
 He is crowned.
 He is buf-
 feted.

Mat. xvi. d
Luk. xxi. f
Golgotha
Mat. xvi. d
Luk. xxi. f

His gar- ments are
deuided.
Jhon. xix. a
He is rap-
led on.
Mat. xvi. d

He is cru- cified.
Jhon. ii. d

Psalm. xxi. the ninth hour. And at the ninth houre, Ie-sus cried with a loude voice, sayinge: Eloi Eloi lama sabathani, whych is, if it be interpreted, my God, my god, why hast thou forsaken me. And some of them that stode by, when they heard that, sayde: behold, he calleth for Helias. And one ranne and fylled a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue hym to drynke, sayinge:
let hym alone, let vs se whether Helias wil
come, and take hym doune.

Wineger
is offered
hym to drinke. But Iesus cried with a loude voice, and he gaue vp the ghost. And the (a) bayle of the temple dyd rent in two peces from the top to the bottome. And when the (b) Centurio which stode before him, saw that he so cried, and gaue vp the ghost, he sayde: truelye thys man was the sonne of God. There wer also women a good way of, beholding
him: among whom was Mary Magdalen,
and Mary the mother of James the yltle,
and of Ioses, and Marye Salome: whych
also, when he was in Galyle, folowed him, & ministered vnto him: & many other womē, whych came by wpth him vnto Ierusalem.

Mat. xxviii. And now when nyght was come (because Luke. xxiii. it was the euen that goeth before the Sa-both) Ioseph of Arimathia a noble Coun-sellour, whych also looked for þe kyngdome
of God, came and went in boldly vnto pyllate, and begged the body of Iesu. And pyllate merueyled that he was alreadye dead,
and called vnto hym the Centurion, & axed
of hym, whether he hadde bene any whyle dead. And when he knewe the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph.
And he bought a linnen clothe, & toke him
downe, & wrapped him in the linnen cloth,
and layed him in a tombe that was hewen out of the rock, and rolled a stone vnto the dore of þe sepulchre. And Mary Magdalen, & Mary Ioses, beheld wher he was layd.

The bayle. (a) Thys bayle was a certayne cloth that hanged in the temple, deuydng the most holy place from the rest of the temple, as our clothe þ was hanged vp in lent, deuideth the autler from the rest of the church. The rentynge of whych bayle spgnyfed, that the shadowes of Moyses law should vanishe away at the flosynginge lyghte of
the Gospell.
(b) Centurion is a Captayne, that hath vnder hym an hundred men.

The xvi. Chapter.

Christ is risen agayn, and appereth to the Apostles, to whome he committeth the preaschyng of the Gospell.

Mat. xxviii. And when the Saboth was paste,
John. xx. a Mary Magdalene, and Marye Jacobi, and Salome, brought odours, that they might come and anoynt hym. And erlye in the mornyng the next daye after the Saboth day,
they came to the Sepulchre, when the sun was risen. And they sayd one to another:
who shall rolle vs away the stone from the dore of the sepulchre? And whē thei looked,
they sawe how the stone was rolled away:

for it was a very great one. And they went in into the Sepulchre, & sawe a ponge man syttyng on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were abashed.

And he sayd vnto them, be not afraid,
ye seeke Iesus of Nazareth whych was crucifyed. He is risen, he is not here. Beholde the place wher they put hym. But go poure waie, and tell hys disciples, and namelpe
Peter: He wyl go before you into Galyle:
ther shall ye see hym as he sayd vnto you. &
And they went out quickly and fled from the Sepulchre. For they trembled and wer amased. Neither sayd they any thyng to any man, for they were afraid.

¶ When Iesus was risen the morowe after the Saboth daye, he appeared fyrste to Mary Magdalen, out of whom he cast seuen devils. And she went and tolde them þ were with him, as thei mourned and wept.
And when they heard that he was aloue, &
hadde appeared to her, they beleued it not.
After that he appeared too two of them in a straunge fygure, as they walked and went into the country. And they went and tolde it to the remitaunt. And they beleued them neyther. &

¶ After that he appeared vnto the eleuen
as they late at meate, and cast in their teth their vnbelefe, & hardnes of harte, bicause
they beleued not them whych had sene him after his resurrection. And he sayde to the.
(a) Go ye into al the worlde, and preache þ glad tydynge to all creatures: he that beleueth and is baptysed, shall be saued. But he that beleueth not, shall be dampned.

And these thynges shal folow them that beleue: in my name thei shal cast out devils,
and shal speake with new tongues, & shal
kill serpents, & if they drinke any deadlye thing, it shal not hurte the. They shal laye their hands on þe sicke, & they shal recouer.

So then when the Lord had spoken vnto them, he was receiued into heauen, and is set doune on the ryght hand of God. And they went forth and preached euery wher:
And the Lord wrought with them, and confyrmed the worde wpth miracles that fo-
lowed. &

The Notes.

(a) In the x. Chapter of Mathew, he sayeth. Go into all ye goe not into the waye, that leadeth to the worlde, the Gentyles. Whych is declared there,
But now he sendeth them into
all the worlde, bycause as then he had made but one flocke of al the whole worlde whiche was before deuided
in two.

There endeth the Gospell
of Saynt Marke.

Ecce. iii. The

the ninth hour. And at the ninth houre, Ie-sus cried with a loude voice, sayinge: Eloi Eloi lama sabathani, whych is, if it be interpreted, my God, my god, why hast thou
forsaken me. And some of them that stode
by, when they heard that, sayde: behold, he calleth for Helias. And one ranne and fylled a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reede, and gaue hym to drynke, sayinge:
let hym alone, let vs se whether Helias wil
come, and take hym doune.

But Iesus cried with a loude voice, and gaue by the ghost. And the (a) bayle of the temple dyd rent in two peces from the top
to the bottome. And when the (b) Centurio which stode before him, saw that he so cried, and gaue by the ghost, he sayde: truelye thys man was the sonne of God. There wer also women a good way of, beholding
him: among whom was Mary Magdalen,
and Mary the mother of James the yltle,
and of Ioses, and Marye Salome: whych
also, when he was in Galyle, folowed him, & ministered vnto him: & many other womē,
whych came by wpth him vnto Ierusalem.

And now when nyght was come (because it was the euen that goeth before the Sa-both) Ioseph of Arimathia a noble Coun-
sellour, whych also looked for þe kyngdome
of God, came and went in boldly vnto pyllate, and begged the body of Iesu. And pyl-
late merueyled that he was alreadye dead,
and called vnto hym the Centurion, & axed
of hym, whether he hadde bene any whyle
dead. And when he knewe the truth of the Centurion, he gaue the body to Ioseph.
And he bought a linnen clothe, & toke him
downe, & wrapped him in the linnen cloth,
and layed him in a tombe that was hewen
out of the rock, and rolled a stone vnto the dore of þe sepulchre. And Mary Magdalen, & Mary Ioses, beheld wher he was layd.

The Notes.

(a) Thys bayle was a certayne cloth that hanged in the temple, deuydyng the most holy place from the rest of the temple, as our clothe þ was hanged vp in lent, deuideth the aulter from the rest of the church. The rentyng of whych bayle spgnyfed, that the shadowes of Moyses law should vanishe away at the flosynginge lyghte of
the Gospell.

(b) Centurion is a Capytayne, that hath vnder hym an hundred men.

The xvi. Chapter.

Christ is rysen agayn, and appereth to the Apostles, to whome he committeth the preaschyng of the Gospell.

And when the Saboth was paste,
Mary Magdalene, and Marye
Jacobi, and Salome, brought o-
dours, that they might come and
anoynt hym. And erlye in the mor-
nyng the next daye after the Saboth day,
they came to the Sepulchre, when the sun was rysen. And they sayd one to another:
who shall rolle vs away the stone from the dore of the sepulchre? And whē thei looked,
they sawe how the stone was rolled away:

for it was a very great one. And they went in into the Sepulchre, & sawe a ponge man
syttyng on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were abashed.

And he sayd vnto them, be not afraid,
ye seeke Iesus of Nazareth whych was crucifyed. He is rysen, he is not here. Beholde the place wher they put hym. But go poure
waie, and tell hys disciples, and namelpe
Peter: He wyl go before you into Galyle:
ther shall ye see hym as he sayd vnto you. &
And they went out quickly and fled from
the Sepulchre. For they trembled and wer amased. Neither sayd they any thyng to any man, for they were afraid.

When Iesus was rysen the morowe after the Saboth daye, he appeared fyrste to Mary Magdalen, out of whom he cast se-
uen devils. And she went and tolde them þ were with him, as thei mourned and wept.
And when they heard that he was alpye, &
hadde appeared to her, they beleued it not.
After that he appeared too two of them
in a straunge fygure, as they walked and
went into the country. And they went and tolde it to the remitaunt. And they beleued
them neyther. &

After that he appeared vnto the eleuen
as they late at meate, and cast in their teth
their vnbelefe, & hardnes of harte, bicause
they beleued not them whych had sene him after his resurrection. And he sayde to the.
(a) Go ye into al the worlde, and preache þ glad tydynges to all creatures: he that beleueth and is baptysed, shall be saued. But he that beleueth not, shall be dampned.

And these thynges shal folow them that
beleue: in my name thei shal cast out devils,
and shal speake with new tongues, & shal
kill serpents, & if they drinke any deadlye
thing, it shal not hurte the. They shal laye their hands on þe sicke, & they shal recouer.

So then when the Lord had spoken vnto
them, he was receiued into heauen, and is set downe on the ryght hand of God. And they went forth and preached euery wher:
And the Lord wrought with them, and confyrmed the worde wpth miracles that fo-
lowed. &

The Notes.

(a) In the x. Chapter of Mathew, he sayeth. Go into all ye goe not into the waye, that leadeth to the worlde, the Gentyles. Whych is declared there,

But now he sendeth them into
all the worlde, bycause as
then he had made but one flocke of al the whole
worlde whiche was before deuided
in two.

There endeth the Gospell
of Saynt Marke.

Ecce. iii. The

The Gospell of S. Luke. A Prologe vpon the Gospell of Saynt Luke.

Lucas was Pauls companion, at the least way from the. xvi. of the actes forth, and wyth hym in all his tribulacpon. And he went wth Paule at his laste goynge vnto Hierusalem. And from thence he folowed Paule to Cesaria, wher he laye two yere in prison. And from Cesaria he wente wth Paule to Rome, where he laye two other yeres in prison. And he was wyth Paule when he wrote to the Collossians, as he testyfeth in the fourth chapter, sayinge: the beloued Lucas the phisicia saluteth you. And he was wyth Paul when he wrote the second Epistle to Timothe, as he sayth in the fourth Chapter, saying: Onely Lucas is wyth me. Whereby ye see the authoryte of the man, and of what credence and reuerence hys wytyng is worthy of, and thereto of whom he learned the storpe of his Gospell, as he hym selfe sayeth, howe that he learned it and searched it oute with all diligence of them that sawe it, and were also partakers at the doynge. And as for the Actes of the Apostles, he hymselfe was at the doynge of them (at the least of the mooste parte) and had hys parte therein, and therfore wrote of hys owne experience.

Finis.

The Gospell of Saynt Luke.

Forasmuch as manye haue taken in hand to compile a treatise of those thyngs which are surely known among vs, euē as they declared them vnto vs, whych frō the begynnynge sawe them their selues, & wer misters at the doynge, I determined also, as lone as I had searched out diligently al thynges frō

of S. Luke.

the beginning, that then I wold write vnto the, good Theophilus: & thou mightest know & certentie of those thyngs wherof I art enfourmed.

The first Chapter.

Luke begynneth hys worcke at the conception of Ihon Baptist, and speaketh befoze of hys parentes, and the promise made to hys vnbeleuyng father. After whan Mary had receyued a promyse that Chylde shoulde be borne of her, going to Elizabeth, she praised god. zachary whan Iohn was borne, whych befoze was dumme, brake out into the prayles of God, and sheweth the offyce of hys sonne.

Here was in the dayes of Herod kynge i. pa. xxiij. of Iury, a certayne priest named zacharias, of the course of Abia. And hys wyfe was of the dough-ters of Aaron. And hir name was Elizabeth. Both were perfect befoze God, & walked in al the lawes and ordinaunces of the Lord, that no man could fynd fawte with them. And they had no childe, because that Elizabeth was barren, and both were well stricken in age.
Elizabeth

And it came to passe, as he executed the priestes offyce befoze God, as his course came (according to the custome of the priestes offyce) his lot was to bourn incense. And he wēt into the tēple of the Lord, and the whole multytude of the people were without in prayer, whyle the incense was a burnynge. And ther appered vnto him an aungell of the Lord, standynge on the right syde of the aultare of incense. And when zacharias sawe him, he was abashed, and feare came on hym.

And the angell sayd vnto him, feare not zacharie, for thy prayer is heard. And thy wyfe Elizabeth shal beare the a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Ihon, and thou shalt haue ioy and gladnes, and many shal reioyce at hys byrth. For he shalbe great in the syght of the Lord, & shal nether drinke wyne nor strong drinke. And he shalbe fylled with the holy ghost, euē in his mothers wombe, and many of the children of Israel shall he tourne to their Lord God. And he shall go befoze him in the spirit and power of Elias, to tourne the (a) hertes of the fathers to the chyldren, and the vnbeleuers to & wylsome of the iust men, to make the people redy for the Lorde.

And zacharias sayd vnto the aungell: whereby shall I knowe thys? seynge that I am olde and my wyfe wel stricken in yeres. And the aungell answered and sayde vnto hym. I am Gabriel that stande in presence of god, and am sent to speake to the, & shew the these glad tidinges. And behold thou shalt be dome, & not able to speake vnto & time that these thyngs be perfourmed, because thou beleuest not my words which shalbe fulfilled in their reaso. And & people waped Isai. lxxviij.

Mat. xlii. b.
Mar. ii. b.
A spgne is ared.

wayed for zacharias, and merueiled that he tarped in the temple. And when he came out he could not speake to them. Whereby they percepued that he had sene some vision in the temple. And he beckened vnto them, and remained spechles.

And it fortunied a sone as the tyme of his office was out, he departed home into hys owne house. And after those daies his wife Elizabeth conceiued and hid hyr selfe fure monethes, sayinge: This wife hath God dealt with me in the dayes when he (b) looked on me, to take fro me the rebuke that I suffered among men. And in the xij. moneth the aungell Gabriell was sente from God, vnto a citie of Galile, nameth Nazareth, to a virgine spoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Mary. And the aungell wente in vnto hir, and sayde: (c) Hail full of grace, the Lord is wth the: blessed art thou among women.

Elay. vii. d. Jesus. When she sawe him, she was abashed at hys sayinge: and caste in hir mynde, what maner of salutacon that shoulde be. And the aungell sayd vnto hir: feare not Mary, for thou hast founde grace with God. Lo, thou shalt conceiue in thy wombe and shalt beare a sonne, and shalt call hys name Iesus. He shalbe great, and shalbe called the sonne of the hyst. And the Lord God shall giue to him the seat of hys father Dauid, & he shall raigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of hys kyngdome shalbe no end. Then sayd Mary to the aungell. How shal this be, seynge I knowe not a man? And the aungell answered and sayd to hyr. The holy ghost shall come vnto the, and the power of the hyst, shall ouersadowe the. Therefore also that holy thyng whych shal be borne, shall be called the sonne of God. And beholde thy cosyn Elizabeth hath also conceiued a sonne in hir age, and this is hir sixte moneth though she be called barren: for with God can nothyng be impossible. And Marye sayde: beholde the hande marden of the Lord, be it vnto me euen as thou hast sayd. And the aungell departed from hir.

Mary gre teth Eliza beth. And Mary arose in those dayes, and wet into the mountaynes with hast, into a city of Iurpe, and entred into the house of zachary, and saluted Elizabeth. And it fortunied as Elizabeth hearde the salutacon of Marye, the babe spronge in hir bellye. And Elizabeth was fylled wth the holy ghost, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayed. Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruite of thy wombe. And whence happeneth this to me that the mother of my Lorde, shoulde come to me? For lo, as sone as the voyce of thy salutacon sowned in myne eares, the babe sprange in my bellye for ioye. And blessed arte thou that beleuedst: for those thynges shalbe perfour med, whiche were tolde the from the lorde. And Mary said: My soule magnifieth the lord. And my spirit reioyceth in God my saupour. &

For he hath looked on the poore degre of hys hande maiden. Beholde now from henceforth shal al generacions cal me blessed.

For he that is myghty hath done to me great thynges, and holy is hys name.

And his mercy is on them that feare him, thorowout all generacions.

He sheweth strength with hys (b) arme, he scattereth them that are proude in the ymaginacion of their hertes.

He putteth down the myghty from their seates, and exalteth them of lowe degre.

He fylleth the hongrye with good thynges, and sendeth away the riche empty.

He remembreth his mercy, and helpeth his seruaunt Israel.

Euen as he promised to our fathers, Abraham and to his sede for euer.

And Mary abode wth her about a thre monethes, and returned agayne to hir own house.

Elizabethes tyme was come that she shoulde be deliuered, and she brought forth a son. And hir neighbours & hir cosins herd tell how the Lord had shewed great mercy vpon hir, and they reioysed with hyr.

And it fortunied the viii. dape, they came to circumcise the chyld, & called his name zacharias, after the name of his father.

How be it his mother answered, and sayd: not so, but he shall be called Ihon. And they laide vnto hir: There is none of thy kinne, that is named with this name. And they made signes to hys father: howe he woulde haue hym called. And he axed for writinge tables, & wrote sayinge: his name is Ihon. And they merueyled all. And hys mouth was opened immediatly & his tong also, and he spake lauding God. And feare came on al them that dwelt nye vnto the. And all these sayinges were noised abroad throughout all the hyll country of Iurp, & all that hearde them layd them vp in theyr hertes, sayinge: What maner chyld shall this be? And the hande of the Lorde was wth hym. And his father zacharias was fylled wth the holy ghost, and prophesied, sayinge.

Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel, for (c) he hath vspyt and redeemed hys people. &

And hath reysed vp an horne of saluacon vnto vs in the house of hys seruaunt Dauid.

Euen as he promysed by the mouth of hys holy prophetes, whych were sence the world began.

That we shoulde be saued from our enemyes, & from the power of all that hate vs.

To fyll the mercye promysed to oure fathers, and to remember hys holpe couenaunte.

And to perfourme the othe whiche he sware to our father Abraham, for to giue vs. That we deliuered out of the power of our

Gen. xxi. c.

Ihon is borne.

Benedictus.

Our enemies, mighte serue him wthoute feare all the dayes of our lyfe, in such holynesse and rightuousnes as are accept before hym:

And thou chyld shalt be called the prophet of the hest, for thou shalt goo before the face of the Lord to prepare hys waies.

Christ is p<sup>r</sup> dapfpring p<sup>r</sup> geueth light to them that sit in darknes of the ignorance of God.

And to geue knowledge of saluation vnto hys people for the remission of synnes. Through the tender mercy of our God, wher by the * day spring from on hys hath byspted vs.

To geue lpyght to them that sate in darknes and in shadowe of death, and to gypde our fete into the waye of peace.

And the child grew and waxed stronge in spiryte, and was in wylernes tyll the daye came when he should shewe hymselfe vnto the Israelytes.

The Notes.

To turne the hertes When he looked at. Haple ful of grace. See. His arme. Wistred.

(a) To make the chyldren haue such an herte to God as Abraham and the fathers had.

(b) That is, when he shewed fauoure or grace to me.

(c) Full of grace, is as muche to saye, as to who God hath shewed aboundant fauoure.

(d) The arme of God is Christ, by who he worketh great and mighty thynges.

(e) God visytereth hys people, when accordyng to his promise, he sheweth them some great benefyte: and agayne, when by punishmente and aduersyte, he calleth them to repentance.

The ii. Chapter.

It is shewed by what occasyon Christe was borne in Bethleem after the prophesies of the prophetes, and by what witnessess as wel of angels as of men he encreased in dyuine vertue, of the whych he shewed the first p<sup>r</sup>ofe beyng yet a chyld, teachinge in the temple.

And it chaunced in those dayes, that ther went out a commaundemente from Auguste the Emperour, that all the world should be taxed. And thys taxing was the first, and executed whē Sirenius was lieutenant in Siria. And every man went vnto hys owne cite to be taxed. And Joseph also ascended from Galile, oute of a ctyte called Nazareth, into Iury: vnto the cite of David which is called Bethleē, because he was of the house and linage of David, to be taxed with Marye his spoused wyfe, whych he was with chyld.

Christe is borne.

And it fortunēd whyle they were there, hit tyme was come p<sup>r</sup> the should be deliuered. And he brought forth hit firste begotten sonne, and wrapped hym in swadlpyng clothes, and laped him in a maunger, because there was no rowme for them wth in the inne.

Shepeherdes.

And ther wer in the same regyon shepherdes abiding in the field, and watchpyng their flocke by night. And lo, the aungell of the Lord stode hard by the, and the brightnes of the Lord shone round about them, & they were sore afrayd: But the aungell said vnto them: Be not afrayed. For behold, I bringe you tidinges of great ioye that shal come to al the people: for vnto you is borne this daye in the cite of David, a sauoure whych is Christ the Lorde. And take thys for a signe: ye shall fynd the chyld swadled and laped in a maunger. And straightwaye there was with the aungel a multitude of heauely souldiours, lauding God, and saying: Glorpe to God on hys, and (b) peace on the earth: and vnto men reioysyng.

Signes

And it fortunēd, allone as the aungelles were gone awaye from them into heauen, & the shepeherdes laped one to another: let vs go euen vnto Bethleē, and se this thing that is happened, whych the Lorde hath shewed vnto vs. And they came with haste: and found Mary and Joseph and the babe laied in a maunger. And when they hadde sene it, they published abroad the saying, whych was told them of that chyld. And al that heard it, woundred at those thynges whych were tolde them of the shepeherdes. But Mary kept al those sayings, and pondered them in hir herte. And the shepeherdes retourned praisyng and laudpyng God, for all that they had heard and sene, euen as it was told vnto them.

Leui. xli. a.

And when the epyght day was come that the chyld shoulde be circumcised, his name was called Iesus, whiche was named of p<sup>r</sup> angel before he was conceiued in p<sup>r</sup> wybe. And when the tyme of the purificacion (after the lawe of Moyses) was come, they brought him to Ierusalem, to present hym to the Lorde (as it is written in the lawe of the Lord: every male that first openeth the matrix, shal be called holy to the Lord) and to offer (as it is sayd in the lawe of the Lord) a paire of turtle doves, or ii. yong pigoons.

D
Christ is circumcised.
Math. i. c.
Leui. xli. a
Exod. xiii.
Pa. viii. c.
Leui. xii. c.

And behold, ther was a man in Ierusalem, whose name was Simeon. And the same man was iust and feared God, and longed for the consolacion of Israel, and the holy ghost was in him. And an answer was geuen him of the holy ghost, that he should not se death, before he had sene the Lordes Christ. And he came by inspiration into the temple.

Simeon.

And when the father and mother brought in the chyld Iesus, to doo for him after the custome of the law, then toke he hym vpon his armes and sayd.

Lorde, Now lettest thou thy seruaunte departe in peace, accordyng to thy promes. For mine eyes haue sene the sauoure sente from the. Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people. A light to lighten the gentils & the glory of thy people Israel.

E
Runc dy mittis.

And his father and mother merueyled at those thynges which wer spoken of him. And Simeon blessed them, and sayd vnto Mary his mother: behold, this child shalbe the fall & resurrectiō of many in Israel, & a signe whiche shalbe spoken agaynst. And moreover the (c) swearde shal pearce thy soule, that the (d) thoughtes of many hertes maye be opened.

And ther was a prophetes, one Anna the daughter

Ecay. viii. e

daughter of Ihanucll of the tribe of Aser, whpche was of a greate age, and had lyued wpth an husbnde seuen peares from hyr virginite.

6. Pet. li. b. Anna. And she had bene a wyddow about foure scoze and foure peares, whpche went neuer out of the temple, but serued God wpth fasting & praiser nyght and day. And the same came forth that same houre, and prayesd þ lord, and spake of hym to al that looked for redemcyon in Ierusalem.

And as sone as they hadde performed all thynges, accordynge too the lawe of the Lorde, they returned into Galile to theyr owne cite Nazareth. And the chyld grewe and wared stronge in spirite, and was fylled wpth wylsome, and the grace of God was in hym. f

A And his father and mother went to Hierusalem every peare at the feast of easter. And when he wastwelue peare old, they wente vp to Hierusalem after the custome of the feast.

And when they had fulfilled the daies, as they retourned home the chyld Iesus bode still in Ierusalem vnknowing to his father and mother. For they supposed he had bene in the cōpany, and therfore came a dayes iorney, and soughte hym amonge their kinsfolke and acquaintance. And when they found him not, they went back agayn to Ierusalem, and sought him. And it fortunied after thre dayes, that they found him in the temple, syttinge in the myddes of the doctours, both hearinge them & posing them. And all that hearde him, merueiled at his wit and answers.

Christ is found disputing in the temple.

And when they sawe him, they were astounded. And hys mother sayd vnto him: son, why hast thou thus dealt wth vs? Behold thy father, and I haue sought the, sorowynge. And he sayd vnto them: how is it that ye sought me? Wist ye not that I must go aboute my fathers busynes? And they vnderstode not the sayinge that he spake to them. And he went wpth them and came to Nazareth, and was obedient to them: But hys mother kepte all these thynges in her herte. And Iesus increased in wylsome and age, and in fauoure wpth God and men. f

The Notes.

First begot Peace on the earth.

(a) Luke in Mathew the first. D
(b) This peare is the quietnes of conscience, whpche happeneth to all the fayethfull beleuers in Christe by reason that they know hym they are assured of remission of theyr synnes.

The sword

(c) Thys swerde is the sorowe that shoulde pearce hyr herte, to se the sonne of God despised and cruelly dealt wpthall, of the wycked.

That the thoughtes of many.

(d) The faythfull shall openly confesse that they thynke him to be the sonne of the liuinge God. The wycked and vnbeleuers, shall declare by theyr gayne sayinge hym, that they thynke hym to be a seducer. So shall the thoughtes of many be opened.

The.iii. Chapter.

I The tyme that John began to preache, is described, and the offyce of hys preachynge, and how many were baptysed of him before he was taken by Herod, among whom a hyll also toke baptysme, whose genealogye is reckoned vp vnto Adam.

A And in the. xv. peare of the raigue A of Tiberius the Emperour, Pontius Pilate, beyng lieftenant of Iury, & Herode beyng (a) Tetrarche of Galyle, and hys brother Philip Tetrarche in Iturpa and in þ region of Traconites, & Lysanias the Tetrarche of Abilene, when Anna and Cayphas were the hys priestes: the word of god came vnto John the sonne of zacharias in the wilderness. And he came into all þ coastes about Iordane, preachynge the Baptysme of repentance for the remission of synnes, as it is written in the booke of the sayings of Esaias þ prophet, which saith. The voice of a cryer in wilderness, prepare the way of þ lord, make his pathes straight. Every valley shalbe filled, and every moun- tayne and hyll shall be brought lowe. And crooked thynges shalbe made straight: & the rough wayes shalbe made smothe: and all fleshe shall se the sauour sent of God. f

John the Baptiste.
Mat. iii. a.
Mark. i. a.

Esai. xl. a.
Ihon. i. c

Then sayed he to the people that were come to be baptysed of hym. O generation of vipers, who hath taught you to saye to the wrath to come? Bring furth due fruits of repentance, and begynne not to say in your selues, we haue Abraham to our father: For I say to you. God is able of these stones to rayse vp chyldren vnto Abraham. Now also is the axe layd vnto the roote of the trees, so that euerye tree, whpche byngeth not forthe good fruite, shalbe hewen downe, and cast into the fyre.

Mat. iii. b.

And the people ased him, saying: What shall we do then? He answered and said vnto them: He that hath two coates, let hym part with him that hath none, and he that hath meat, let him do lyke wylse.

The are.

Then came other publicans to be baptysed, and sayed vnto hym: Maister, what shall we doo? And he sayed vnto them: requyre no more then that which is appoynted vnto you.

Publicans.

The souldiours lyke wylse demaunded of hym, saying: and what shall we do? And he said to them: Do violence to no man: nei- ther trouble any man wrongfully: but be content wpth your wages.

Souldiours.

As the people were in a doubt, and al mē disputed in their hertes of John, whether he were very Christ, John answered and sayed to them all: I baptysse you wpth water, but a stronger then I cometh after me, whose shoe I latchet I am not worthy to vnlose, he wpll baptysse you wpth the holy ghost, and with fyre, which hath his fan in his hand, and wil pouge his floore, and wil gather the corne into his barne, but the chaffe wil he burne with fyre þ neuer shalbe quenched. And many other things in his exhortacion preached he vnto the people.

Fanne.
Chaffe.

Then

The Gospel

Of S. Luke.

Mat. iii. a. Mark. i. b. John is punished. When Herode the Tetrarch (when he was rebuked of hym for Herodias his brother Philips wyfe, and for all the euilles which Herode had done) added this aboue al, and laped John in prison.

Christe is
baptised. And it fortunied as all the people receyued baptysme (and when Iesus was baptised and dyd praye) that heauen was opened, and the holy ghost came doune in a bodily shape lyke a doue vpon hym, & a voyce came from heauen sayinge: thou arte my deare sonne, in the do I delyste.

Genealogie. And as Iesus himselfe was about thirtie yeres of age when he beganne, beyng as men supposed, the sonne of (d) Joseph: which was the sonne of Iely, which was the sonne of Matthat, which was the son of Leui, which was the sonne of Melchi, which was the son of Ianna, which was the sonne of Joseph, which was the sonne of Matthatias, which was the sonne of Amos, which was the sonne of Nahum, which was the sonne of Esi, which was the sonne of Nagge, which was the sonne of Maath, which was the sonne of Matthatias, which was the sonne of Semei, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Iohanna, which was the son of Ihesia, which was the sonne of Iozobabel, which was the son of Salathiel, which was the sonne of Ieri, which was the son of Melchi, which was the sonne of Addi, which was the sonne of Cosam, which was the sonne of Helmadam, which was the sonne of Iir, which was the son of Ieso, which was the sonne of Heleasar, which was the sonne of Ioram, which was the sonne of Mattha, which was the sonne of Leui, which was the son of Simeon, which was the sonne of Iuda, which was the sonne of Joseph, which was the sonne of Iona, which was the sonne of Ieliachim, which was the sonne of Melca, which was the sonne of Menam, which was the sonne of Matthatian, which was the sonne of Nathan, which was the son of Dauid, which was the sonne of Iesse, which was the son of Iobed, which was the sonne of Boos, which was the sonne of Salmon, which was the sonne of Iasaon, which was the sonne of Aminadab, which was the sonne of Aram, which was the sonne of Ierom, which was the sonne of Ihares, which was the sonne of Iuda, which was the son of Iacob, which was the sonne of Ilaac, which was the sonne of Abraham, which was the sonne of Iharra, which was the sonne of Iachor, which was the sonne of Saruch, which was the sonne of Ragau, which was the son of Ishalet, which was the sonne of Heber, which was the sonne of Sala, which was the sonne of Cainan, which was the sonne of Arphaxat, which was the sonne of Sem, which was the son of Noe, which was the sonne of Lamech, which was the son of Matthatias, which was the sonne of Enoch, which was the sonne of Iareth, which was the sonne of Malalehel, which was the sonne of Cainan, which was the sonne of Enos, which was the sonne of Seth, which was the son of Adam, which was the sonne of God.

The Notes.

(a) Luke in Mathew iii. A
 (b) Luke in Mathew. iii. B.
 (c) Luke in Mathew. iii. C.
 (d) Let it not trouble the Christian reader, & the Evangelist Luke rehearseth the Genealogy of Christ, vnder other names, then Mathew doth: for the fathers of the old Testament, as for the most parte of mo names then one. As for example: Dauid's father, who was named both Iesay and Iesse. And Iacob was named also Itraell.

Tetrarch
Wipers.
Chaste.
Sonne of Ioseph.

The. iiii. Chapter.

I Iesus going about the office of our Sauts our, Iesus was tempted of the diuell. From thence going into Galyle, he came into Nazareth, teaching wyth the great admiration of all men. When he rebuked they vnkindnes, he stayed by all their myndes agaynst hym, but escappinge them, he came to Capernaum, he deliuered hie that was vexed with the dyuell, he holpe Simons mother in lawe that had a feuer, and very many other.

I Iesus then ful of the holy ghost returned from Iordan, and was carried of the spirit into wylernes, and was. xl. dayes tempted of the deuyl. And in those dayes ate nothyng. And when they were ended he afterward hongred. And the deuill sayde vnto hym: if thou be the sonne of God, commande thys stone that it be bread. And Iesus answered hym, sayinge: It is written, man shall not lue by breade onely, but of euery worde of God.

Mat. iii. a.
Mark. i. b.
Iesus fasteth
four-
tye dayes.

A And the deuill toke hym vp into an hye mountayne, and shewed hym all the kingdomes of the world, euen in the twinkling of an eye. And the deuill sayd vnto hym: al thys power wyl I geue the euery whit and the glorie of them, for that is deliuered to me, and to whomsoeuer I wyl, I geue it: If thou therfore wilt worship me, thei shal be al thys. Iesus answered hym and sayd: Hence from me Satan. For it is written: Thou shalt honour the Lord thy god, and hym onely serue.

Deut. viii. a.

Deut. vi. a.

A And he carped hym to Ierusalem and set hym on a pinnacle of the temple, & laped vnto hym: If thou be the son of God, caste thy selfe doune from hence: for it is written. He shall geue hys angels charge ouer the to kepe the, and wpyth theyr hands thei shal step the vp, that thou dash not thy fote agaynst a stone. Iesus answered and said to hym: it is sayed: Thou shalt not tempte the Lord thy God. As one as the deuyl had ended al his temptacions, he departed fro hym for a season.

Mat. x. s.

Deut. vi. c.

A And Iesus returned by the power of the spirit into Galyle, and there went a fame of hym through out al the region round about. And he taught in their synagoges, & was commended of all men.

Mat. iii. b.
Mark. i. b.
John. iii. c.
Mat. xxi. b.
Mar. vi. a.

And he came to Nazareth wher he was nouri-nourished: and as hys custome was, wente into the Synagoge on the Sabothe dayes, and stode by to reade. And ther was delyuered vnto him the booke of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the booke, he founde the place where it was written: The spyrte of the Lorde vpon me, bicause he hath annointed me: to preach the Gospell to the poore he hath sente me, and to heale the broken hearted, to preach delyuerance to the captiue, and sighte to the blynde, and frelpe to set at libertie them that are brused, and to preach the acceptable peare of the lord.

And he closed the booke, and gaue it againe to the minister, and sat downe. And the eyes of all that were in the synnagoge, were fastened on him. And he began to say vnto them. This daye is this scripture fulfilled in your eares. And al bare him wytnes, & wondered at the gracious words, whiche proceeded oute of hys mouth, & said: Is not this Josephs sonne?

Josephs sonne.

And he sayed vnto them: Ye maye verpe well saye vnto me this prouerbe: Whilicid heale thy selfe. Whatsoeuer wee haue heard done in Capernaum, do the same here like wise in thynne owne countrey. And he said: Verely I say vnto you. No prophet is accepted in his owne countrey.

John. iiii. f Prophete.
u. re. xvii. b
Jacob. v. d.
The widowe of Sarepta.

But I tell you of a truth, many wyddowes were in Israel in the dayes of Helias, when heauen was shut thre yeres and sixe monethes, when greate famishmente was throughtoute all the lande, and vnto none of them was Helias sente, saue vnto Sarepta besides Sidon vnto a woman that was a wyddow. And manye lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus & prophet, and yet none of them was healed, sauinge Raman of Siria.

iii. re. v. d.
Raman.

And as manye as were in the Synagoge, when they hearde that, were fylled wth wrath: and rose by, and thrust him out of the city, and led him euen vnto the edge of the hill, whereon their cytpe was built, to cast him downe headlonge. But he wente hys waye, euen through the myddes of the: & came into Capernaum a city of Galile, and there taught them on the Saboth dayes. And they were astounded at hys doctrine, for hys preachinge was wth (b) power.

Mat. iiii. b
Mark. i. c.

The vn-cleane spirit is caste out.

And in the synagoge ther was a manne, which had a spirite of an vn-cleane deuyl, and cryed wth a loud voice, saying: let me alone, what haste thou to do wth vs thou Iesus of Nazareth? Arte thou come to destroye vs? I know the what thou art, euen the holpe God. And Iesus rebuked hym, saying: holde thy peace & come out of him. And the deuill threw him in the middes of the, & came out of him, & hurt him not. And feare came on the al, & they spake amonge the selues, saying: what manner of thing is this? For with authoritie & power he commandeth the foule spirits, & thei come out.

And fame of him spred abroad throughtout all places of the country round aboute. & And he rose by and came out of the Synagoge, and entered into Simons house. And Simons mother in lawe was taken with a great feuer, and they made intercession to him for hyr. And he stode ouer hyr, & rebuked the feuer, and it left hyr. And immediatly, she arose & ministred vnto the.

Mat. viii. b
Mark. i. c
Simons mother in lawe.

When the sunne was downe, all they that had sicke, taken with diuerse diseases, brought them vnto him, and he laid his handes on euery one of them, & healed the. And deuils also came out of many of them, crying, and saying: thou art Christus the sonne of God. And he rebuked them and suffered them not to speake: for they knew that he was Christus.

Laid his hand on them.

Asone as it was daye, he departed and went away into a desert place, and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him that he should not depart from them. And he sayed vnto them: I must to other ciities also preach the kyngdome of God: for therfore am I sent. And he preached in the Synagoges of Galile.

marks. i. a.

The Notes.

(a) Luke in mathew. vii. c

The. v. Chapter.

Jesus when he had taught a greate multytude of men a longe whyle, at the last by myracle called Peter & hys felowes vnto hym, he healed the leper and the man that had the palsey. He chose Leui or Mathew to hys discipule, and reproued the Pharises, which fled the company of synners, and wer proude for their often fasting.

I came too passe as the people preaced by hym to heare & word of God, that he stode by the lake of Genezareth: and sawe two shippes stande by the lake syde, but the fysher men were gone out of them, and were washyng their nettes. And he entered into one of the shippes, whych perteyned to Simon, & prayed hym that he woulde thruste out a litle from the land. And he sat downe, and taught the people out of the shipp.

Mat. iiii. c
Mark. i. b.

When he had left speaking, he sayd vnto Simon: Launce out into the deepe, and let slyp pour nets to make a draught. And Simon answered and said vnto him. Mai ster, we haue laboured all night, and haue taken nothyng. Neuerthelater at thy word I will lose forth the net. And when they had so done, thei enclosed a great multytude of fishes. And their net brake: but they made signes to their fellowes whych were in the other shipp & they shoulde come and helpe them. And they came and fylled both the shippes that they sonke agayne.

When Simon Peter sawe that, he fell doune at Iesus knees, saying: Lord go from me, for I am a synful man. For he was vnterly astonied & al that were wth him at draught of fishe, whych they toke: and so was also James and John the sonnes of Zebede.

ffff. i. zebe-

The Gospell

of S. Luke.

zebede, whych wer parteners with Simo. And Iesus sayed vnto Simon: feare not from henceforth thou shalt catche menne. And they brought the shypes to land, and forsoke all and folowed him.

And it fortuneth as he was in a certayne city, beholde, ther was a man ful of leprosy: and when he hadde spyed Iesus, he fell on hys face, and besoughte him, sayinge: Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane. And he stretched forth his hande and touched him, sayinge: I wil, be thou cleane. And immediatly the leprosy departed from him. And he warned him that he should tel no man, but that he should goo and shewe him selfe to the priest, and offer for his clea-spunge, accordinge as Moyses commaunde-ment was, for a wptnes vnto them.

But so much the more went ther a fame abroad of him, and much people came togy-therto heare and too bee healed of hym, of their infirmities. And he kepte hym selfe a parte in the wilderness, and gaue him self to prayer.

And it happened on a certayne day, that he taught, and there sate the pharisees and the doctours of law, whych were come out of all the townes of Galile, Iurie, and Ie-rusalem. And the power of the Lorde was to heale them. And beholde men brought a man lying in his bedde, whiche was taken with a palsey: and sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him. And whethey coulde not fynde by what waye they myght bring him in, because of the preace, they wente vp on the toppe of the house, and lette hym downe thowowe the tpyng, bedde and all in the myddest before Iesus.
When he saw theyr sayth, he sayd to hym: manne, thy synnes are forgeuen the. And the Scribes and phariseis began to thinke sayinge: What felowe is this, whych speaketh blasphemy? Who can forgeue synnes but God only?

When Iesus perceyued their thoughtes, he answered and sayd vnto the: What thinke ye in your hertes? Whether is it easier to say: thy synnes are forgeuen the, or to saye: ryle and walke? But that ye maye knowe, that the sonne of man hath power to forgeue synnes on earth: he sayed to the specke of the palsey: I say to the, arise, take vp thy bed, and go home to thy house. And immediatly, he rose vp before them, & toke vp his bed wheron he laye, and departed to hys owne house prayng: God. And they were all amazed, and they lauded God, and were filled with feare, sayinge: We haue sene straunge thynges to day.

And after that he went forth and saw a publican named Lewi, syttinge at the recepte of custome, and said vnto him: folow me. And he lefte all, rose vp and folowed him. And that same Lewi made him a great feast at home in hys owne house. And there was a greate companie of publicans and of other that sate at meat wpyth him. And the Scribes and pharisees murmured against his disciples, sayinge: Why eate ye and drinke ye with publicanes and sinners? Iesus answered and said vnto the.

They that are whole, nede not of the phi-sician: but they that are sycke. I am not come to call the rightuous, but synners to repentaunce.

Then they sayde vnto him: Why do the discyples of Ihon faste often and praye, and the discyples of the phariseis also:
and thine eate and drinke? And he sayd vnto them: Can ye make the chyldren of the wedding fast, as long as the bridegrome is present with the? The daies wil come, whethe bridegrome shalbe taken awaye from them: Then shall they faste in those daies.

Then spake he vnto them in a simylude. No man putteth a pece of a newe garment vnto an old vesture: for if he do, then breaketh he the newe, & the pece that was take out of the newe, agreeth not with the olde. Also no man poureth newe wyne into old vessels. For if he do, the newe wyne breaketh the vessels, and runneth oute it selfe, and the vessels perishe. But newe wyne muste be poured into newe vessels, and bothe are preserued. Also, no man that drinketh olde wyne straightway canne awaye wpyth newe, for he sayeth, the olde is pleasanter.

The vi. Chapter.

Christ defendeth hys disciples whych plucked the eares of corne vpon the sabbath day, by the example of Dauid. He healed the had that was wythered vp. He chose .xii. Apostles. After when he had healed many, he declared what was the best goodnes, and what was the perfeccion of the lawe, & with what fruite the worde of God ought to be heard, and what ought to be done.

It happened on an after sabbath, that he wente through the corne fielde, & that his disciples plucked the eares of corne and eat, & rubbed them in their handes. And certayne of the phariseis said vnto them: Why doo ye that whiche is not lawfull to do on the sabbath dayes? And Iesus answered them and sayd. Haue ye not reade what Dauid did when he himselfe was an hougred, and they whych were wpyth him: howe he went into the house of God, and toke and ate the loaves of halowed breade, & gaue also to them which were with him: whiche was not lawfull to eate, but for the priestes only? And he sayed vnto them: The son of man is lord of the Sabbath daye.

And it fortuneth in an other Sabbath also, that he entred into the Sinagoge, and taught. And ther was a man whose ryghte hand was dried vp. And the Scribes & pha-riseis watched him, to se whether he would heale on the Sabbath daye, that they might fynd an accusacion agaynst hym. But he knewe theyr thoughtes, and sayde to the man whych had the wythered hade: Ryle vp and

Ma. viii. a Mark. i. d.

Lepers.

Leui. xvi. a

Math. ix. a
Mar. ii. a.

Palsey.

Math. ix. a Mark. ii. b
Leui.

Math. ix. b

Mark. ii. c
The disciples fast
not.

New and olde agree
not.

Mat. xii. a.
Mark. ii. b
Corne
fielde.

The Sa-
both daye
is broken.
i. Reg. xii. a

Mat. xxi. a.
marke. iii
Dried had

bp and stande forth in the myddes. And he arose and stepped forth. Then saied Iesus vnto them: I wil aye pou a question: Wherther is it lawfull on the saboth dayes to do good, or to do euill: to saue lyfe, or for to destroye it? And he behelde them al in compasse, and sayed vnto the man: Stretche forth the thy hande. And he dyd so: and hys hande was restored, and made as whole as the other. And they were filled full of madnes, and comuned one wpyth another, what they myght do to Iesus.

Madnes.

Math. x. a.
Mar. iii. c.

The twelu
are chosen

And it fortunied in those dayes that he wente out into a mountayne for to praye, and continued al nyght in prayer to God. And as soone as it was daye, he called hys Dysciples, and of them he chose. xii. which also he called Apostles: Symon whome he named Peter, and Andrewe hys brother, James and Iohn, Phylippe and Bartylmeue, Mattheue and Thomas, James the sonne of Alpheus and Symon called zelotes, and Judas James sonne, and Judas Iscariot: whych same was the traitour. And he came downe with them and stode in the playne feld wpyth the compaigne of hys Dysciples, and a greate multitude of people out of all partys of Iurpe and Ierusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sydon, whych came to heare hym, and to be healed of theyr dyspleases, and they also that were vexed wpyth fowle spirites, and they were healed. And all the people praised to fouch he him, for ther went vertue out of him, and healed them al.

Math. v. a

Couenan-
tes.

And he lyfte vp hys eyes vpon the Disciples, and sayed: Blessed be ye (a) pore: for yours is the kyngdome of God. Blessed are ye that hunger nowe: for ye shall be satisfied. Blessed are ye that wepe nowe: for ye shall laughe. Blessed are ye when menne hate pou, and thrust pou out of theyr compaignie, and raple, and abhorre poure name as an euill thynge, for the sonne of mannes sake. Reioyse ye then, and be gladde: for beholde, poure rewarde is great in heauen.

True Pro-
phetes.

After this maner theyr fathers entreted the prophetes.

Actes. vi. a.
Eccl. xxxi. a

But woe be to pou that are ryche: for ye haue therein poure consolaciou. Woe be to pou that are full, for ye shall hunger. Woe be to pou that now laughe: for ye shall waile and wepe. Woe be to pou wher al men praise pou: for so did their fathers to the false prophetes.

Couenan-
tes.

Loue.
Math. v. g

But I saye vnto pou whiche heare: Loue poure ennemys. Do good to theym whych hate pou. Blesse theym that curse pou: And praye for theym whych wrongfullpe trouble pou. And vnto him that smiteth the one cheke offer also the other. And hym that taketh away thy gowne forbid not to take thy cote also. Bue to eueryman that apeth of the: And of him that taketh away thy gooddes are them not a gaine. And as ye would that men should do to pou: so do ye to theym lyke wyse.

Do good Blesse.
Pray.
At the law

If ye loue theym whiche loue pou, what thanke are ye worthy of? For the very sinners loue theyr louers. And if ye do for the whych do for pou, what thanke are ye worthy of? For the verpe sinners doo euen the same. If ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receyue: what thanke shall ye haue? for the verpe synners lende to synners to receyue as muche agayne. Wherefore, loue ye pour ennemys, do good and lende, lokeinge for nothyng agayne, and pour reward shall be great, and ye shall be children of the hiest, for he is kinde vnto the vnkynde and to the euil.

Mat. vii. b

Cob. iiii. c.
math. v. g
Lende.

Couenan-
tes.

math. vii. a Iudge not

math. vii. a mark. iiii. c Forgiue.

Be ye therefore merciful, as your father is mercifull. Iudge not, and ye shall not be iudged. Condemne not, and ye shall not be condemned. Forgiue and ye shall be forgiven. Geue, and it shall be geuen vnto you: good measure, pressed downe, shaken together and runninge ouer shall men geue into poure bosomes. For with what measure ye meete, with the same shall men mete to pou agayne.

And he putteth forth a similitude vnto them: Can the blynde leade the blynde? do they not both then fall into the dyche? The Dysciple is not aboue hys master. Euerpe man shall be perfecte euen as his master is. Why seeest thou a mote in thy brothers eye and considerest not the beame that is in thyne owne eye? Either how cannest thou saye to thy brother: Brother, let me pulle out the mote þ is in thine eye: when þ perseuest not þ beame þ is in thyne own eye? Hypocrite, caste oute the beame that is thine owne eye firste, and then shalt thou se perfectly to pull out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

math. xv.
Measure.

math. x. c.
Mote.

Ihon. xiii. b
mat. vii. a Beame.

It is not a good tree that bringeth forth the euill fruite: neither is that an euill tre, that bringeth forth good fruite. For euery tre is knowne by his fruite. Neither of thornes gather men pygges, nor of bushes gather they grapes. A good man out of the good treasure of hys hearte bringeth forth that whiche is good. And an euil man out of the euil treasure of his hert bringeth forth that whiche is euil. For of the aboundance of the hert, his mouth speaketh.

mat. vii. x. c
Mar. xiii. c

The tre is known
by his frut

the mouth speket of the fulnes

the hearte.

Why call ye me Master Master, and do not as I byd you? whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayinges, and doth the same I wil shew you to whom is he like.

He is like a man whiche but an house and digged depe and laide the foundation on a rocke. When the waters arose, the floude bet vpon that house, and could not moue it for it was grounde vpon a rocke. But he that heareth and doeth not, is like a man that wpythout foundation buylt an house vpon the earth, agaynste whych the floude dyd beate, and it fell by and by, and the fall of that house was great.

To builde
on a rocke

To buylde
on sande.

The. vii. Chapter.

Chyrt healeth the Centurons seruaut that was lyke to dy, and the wyddowes son that was

fff. ii. was

The Gospell

Of S. Luke.

was led to be buryed, he restored to lyfe, Iho sendeth hys Disciples to hym, to whome Christe gyueth a playne wptnes, and rebuketh the incurable synfulness of the Jewes. When he sate in the Pharises house, he forgave the womans synnes that wept for them, the Jewes much murmuring for it.

When he had ended all hys sayings in the audience of the people, he entred into Capernaum. And a certayne Centurions servaunte was sicke and redye to dye, whom he made muche of. And when he hearde of Iesu, he sent vnto him the elders of the Jewes, beseeching hym that he would come and heale his servaunt. And they came to Iesus and besought him instantly, sayinge: He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him. For he loveth oure nacyon, and hath built vs a synagoge. And Iesus went wpth them.

And when he was not far fro the house, the Centurion sent frends to him, saying vnto him: Lorde trouble not thy selfe, for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my rooffe: Wherefore I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto the: but say the word, and my servaunte shalbe whole. For I likewise am a man vnder power, & haue vnder me souldiers, and I saye vnto one, go: & he goeth. And to another, come: and he cometh. And to my servaunt, do this: and he doeth it. When Iesus hearde this, he merueyled at him, and turned hym about and said to the people that folowed him: I saye vnto you, I haue not founde so great fapth: no, not in Israell. And they that were sent, turned backe home agayn, and founde the servaunte that was sicke, whole.

And it fortuned after that, that he went into a city called Naim, and manye of hys disciples went with him, and much people. When he came nye to the gate of the city, beholde there was a deade man caried oute which was the only sonne of his mother, and she was a wpdowe, and muche people of the cite was with hir. And whē the lord saw hir, he had compassion on hir, and said vnto hir, wepe not. And he wente and touched the coffin, & they that bare hym, stode still: And he said. Yonge man, arise. And the dead sate vp, and began to speake. And he deliuered him to his mother: And there came a feare on them all. And they glorified God, sayinge: a greates Prophet is risen among vs, and God hath visyted his people.

And this rumoz of him went forth throughout all Iurpe, and thorowout al the regions which lye roundabout.

And the disciples of Iohn shewed hym of all these thynges. And Iohn called vnto hym two of hys disciples, and sent them to Iesus, sayinge: Arte thou he that shall come? or shall we looke for another? Whē the men were come vnto him, they sayed: Iohn Baptist sent vs vnto the, sayinge:

Art thou he that shall come, or shall we waite for another? And at that same tyme he cured manye of their infirmities and plages and of euil spirites, and vnto manye that were blynd he gaue sight. And Iesus answered and sayd vnto them: So your waies, and shewe Iohn what thynges ye haue sene and hearde: howe that the blynde see, the halt go, the lepers are cleansed, the deafe heare, the deade arise, to the poore is the gladtydnges preached, and happye is he that is not offended by me.

When the messengers of Iohn were departed, he began to speke vnto the people of Iohn: What went ye out into the wyldernes for to se? Went ye to se a rede shaken with the wind? But what went ye out for to se: a man clothed in soft raymentes? Behold they whych are gorgeously apparelled, and lye in delicate chymres, are in kynges courtes. But what went ye forth to se? a prophete? Yea I saye to you, and more then a prophete. This is he of whom it is written: Beholde, I sende my messenger before thy face, to prepare thy waye before the. For I saye vnto you: a greater prophete then Iohn among womens childre is ther none, neuertheless one that is lesse in the kyngdome of God, is greater then he.

And all the people that heard and the publicans iustified God, and were baptysed with the baptysme of Iohn. But the pharises and Scribes despised the counsell of God against them selues, and wer not baptysed of him.

And the lord sayed: Where vnto shall I lyke the men of this generacion, and what thing are they like? They are like vnto children sittinge in the market place, and crying one to another, and saying: We haue pyped vnto you, and ye haue not daunsed: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept. For Iohn Baptist came, neyther eatinge breade, nor drynckinge wine, and ye say: he hath the deuill. The son of manne is come and eateth and drinketh, and ye say: beholde, a man whych is a glotten, and a drincker of wine, a frende of publicans and synners. Yet is wisdom iustified of all hys chyl dren.

And one of the pharisees despyed hym that he wold eate wpth hym. And he wet in to the pharises house, & sat down to meat.

And behold a woman in that city, which was a synner, as sone as she knewe that Iesus sate at meate in the pharisees house, she brought an alabaster boze of ointment, and she stode at hys fete behynd him weeping, and began to washe his fete with teares, and did wipe them with the herres of hyr head, and kissed his feete, & annoynted them wpth ointment.

When the pharisei which bad him, saw that, he spake within himselfe, saying. If this man were a prophete, he woulde surely haue knowen, who and what maner womanne this is, whych touched hym, mat. viii. a.

Centurio.

mala. iiii. a

Publicans
iustifye
God. pharises despyse
the coun-
cel of god,
Mat. xi.

wysdome.

Martha
Bethany.

The dead
is raysed.

Mat. xi. a.

Iohn baptist sent beth to Christ.

for

for he is a synner. And Iesus answered & said vnto him: Simon I haue some what to saye vnto the. And he sayed, maister saye on. Ther was a certaine lendar, whpch had two deiters, the one oughte pue hundred pence, and the other fiftp. When they had nothinge to paye, he forgaue them both. Which of them tell me, wyl loue him most? Simon answered and sayed: I suppose that he to whome he forgaue mooste. And he sayed vnto hym: Thou haste truly iudged.

B And he tourned to the woman, and said vnto Simon: Seest thou this womanne? I entered into thy house, and thou gauest me no water to my feete, but she hath washed my feete wth teares, & wpped them wth the herres of hyr head.

Thou gauest me no kysse: but she, sence the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feete. Myne heade with oyle thou dydest not annointe, but she hath anoynted my fete with ointmente: Wherefore I saye vnto the: (a) manye synnes are forgeuen hyr, for she * loued much. To whom lesse is forgeuen, the same doth lesse loue.

Love is the signe that the synnes are forgeuen

And he sayed vnto hyr, thy synnes are forgeuen the. And they that sate at meat with hym, began to say within theselues: Who is this, which forgeueth synnes also? And he saith to the woman: Thy faith hath saued the, Go in peace. &

The Notes.

(a) Not that the loue obtayned remission of his synnes, but sayth, out of the whpch hyr loue proceeded, and therefore Christ openly offp. meth. Thy sayeth hath made the safe. For as Saynt Paule sayeth. Wpithout sayth it is vnpossible to please God. Hebr. xi. a. And whatsoeuer is not of sayth, the same is synne. Roma. xiii. d.

The viii. Chapter.

C When Iesus had gone thowoe many places, and that manye came to hym, he expounded to them the parable of the sower, & how the worde shoulde be hearde, and sheweth who be his brethren. Then passyng ouer the sea, he appeareth the tempest, and helpeth the man that was possessed of the deuyl in the land of the Gaderen: tes. he stopped the blou by fypre, and sayeth the daughter of Jairus from death.

A And it fortuneth after that, that he him selfe went thorowout cyties and townes, preaching and shewing the kingdom of God, and the twelve with him. And also certain women, which were healed of euill spirits and infirmities: Mary called Magdalen, out of whom went seuen deuyls, and Joanna the wife of Chusa Herods steward, and Susanna, and many other, which ministered to them of theyr substance.

When much people were gathered together, and wer come to him out of all cyties, he spake by a similitude. A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fel by the way syde: & it was trodd vnder fete, and the fowles of the aire deuoured it vp. And some fel on the stone, and as sone as it was sprong vp, it wythered away, bicause it lacked moistnes. And some fell amonge thornes, and the thornes sprong vp withit and choked it. And some fel on good ground and sprong vp, and bare fruct an hundred folde. And as he sayed these thinges, he cryed: He that hath eares to heare, let hym heare.

And hys disciples axed hym, sayinge: What maner of similitudes is thys? And he sayed (a) vnto you is it gauen to knowe the secretes of the kyngdome of God: but to other in similitudes, that when they se, they shoulde not se, and when they heare, they shoulde not vnderstand.

The similitude is this. The seeede is the worde of God. Those that are besyde the waye, are they that heare, and afterwarde commeth the Dewill, and taketh away the word out of theyr hertes, lest they shoulde beleue and be saued. They on the stones are they whiche when they heare, receiue the worde with iope. But these haue no rotes, whiche for a whyle beleue, and in tyme of temptacion go away. And that whpche fel among thornes, are they whpch heare, and go forth, and are choked with cares & with riches, and voluptuose lypung, and bring forth no fruite. That in the good grounde, are they whpch with a good and pure hert, heare the word and kepe it, & bynge forth fruite with patience. &

No man lighteth a candle, and couereth it vnder a vessel, neyther putteth it vnder a table: but setteth it on a candelsticke, that they that enter in, maye se the lighte. No thyng is in secrete, that shall not come a broade. Neether any thyng hid that shall not be knownen, and come to lpyghte. Take hede therfore how ye heare. For (b) who soeuer hath, to him shall be geuen: And who soeuer hath not, from hym shall be taken, euen that same whiche he supposeth that he hath. Then came too hym his mother and his brethren, and coulde not come at him for preace. And they tolde him, sayinge: Thy mother and thy brethren stande without, and would se the. He answered and said vnto them, my mother and my brethren are these, whiche heare the worde of God, and do it.

And it chaunced on a certaine dape, that he went into a shyp, and his disciples also, and he sayed vnto them: Let vs go ouer to the other side of the lake, and they lanchyd forth. And as they sayled, he fell on sleepe, and ther arose a storm of wind in the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in ieopardy. And they wet to him, & awoke him, sayinge: Maister, Maister, we are losse. Then he rose and rebuked the winde, & the tempeste of the water, and they ceased, & it waxed calme. And he said vnto the: Whether is your faith? They feared & wondered saying one to another, what fellowe is this: for he comandeth both the windes & water, and they obepe hym? & And they sailed vnto the ffff. iii. region

B Mat. xiii. d.
Mar. iiii. b.
John xii. f.
Roma. xi. b.

The sower is expounded.

C Lancel.
Mat. v. d.
Mar. iiii. c.
Mar. x. e.
Mat. xiii. b.
Mar. iiii. c.
Mat. xii. d.
Mark. iii. d.

Another & brethren.
mat. viii. d.
mark. iiii. d.

D Jesus slepeth in the shyp.

mat. viii. d.
marke. v. a.
Gaderenites.

region of the Gaderenites, whiche is ouer agaynst Galile.

And as he went out to lande, there mete hym a certaine man out of the citie, whych had a deuyll long tyme, & ware no clothes, neyther abode in anye house: but amonge graues. When he saw Iesus, he cryed and fel down before him, and with a loud voice sayed: What haue I to do with the Iesus, the sonne of the God most hiest? I beseeche the toment me not. Then he commaunded the foule spirit to come out of the mā. For oft tymes he caught him, and he was bond wth chapnes, and kept wth fetters, and he brake the bondes, and was carped of the fiend into wildernes.

Legion. And Iesus axed him saying: what is thy name? And he sayed (c) Legion, bicause many deuils were entred into hym. And they besought him, that he would not comaund them to go oute into the deepe. And there was thereby an herd of many swyne, feadyng on a hill: and they besought him that he woulde suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them. Then wente the deuils out of the manne, and entered into the swyne: and the herd toke their course, and ranne headlyng into the lake, and wer choked. When the herdmen sawe what hadde chaunced, they fled, and tolde it in the cytpe, and in the villages. And they came out to se what was done: and came to Iesus, & found the man oute of whom the deuylles were departed, sytting at the feete of Iesus, clothed, and in his righte mynde: and they were afrayed. They also whych sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed of the deuyl, was healed. And all the whole multitude of the Gaderenites, besought him that he woulde depart from them: for they wer taken with great feare. And he gate hym into the shippe, and returned backe agayn. Then the manne oute of whom the deuyls were departed, besought him that he might be with him. But Iesus sent him awaye, sayinge: Go home again into thyne owne house, and shewe what great thynges God hath done to the. And he went hys way and preached thorowout all the citpe what great thynges Iesus had done vnto hym.

Meth. ix. c. Mark. v. b. And it fortunied when Iesus was come agayne, that the people receyued hym. For they all wayted for him. And behold, there came a man named Jairus (and he was a ruler of the synagoge) and he fel downe at Iesus fete, and besought him that he wold come into his house, for he had but a daughter onely vpon a. xii. yere of age, & she laye a dyng. As he went & people thronged him.

Issue of bloude. And a woman hauing an yssue of bloud twelue yeres (which had spent all hir substance among phisysons, neyther coulde be holpen of anye) came behynd hym, and touched the hem of hys garment, and immediately hir yssue of blud stanchied. And Iesus said: Who is it that touched me? Whe euerye man denyed, Peter and they that were with him, saide: Maister, the people thrust the and bere the, & sayest thou, who touched me? And Iesus sayed: Some body touched me. For I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me. When the womanne sawe that she was not hypd, she came tremblyng, and fel at his fete, and tolde him before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed immediatly. And he said vnto hir: Doughter be of good comfort. Thy fayth hath made the whole, go in peace.

Whyle he yet spake, ther came one from the rulers of the Synagoges house, whych sayd to hym: thy daughter is dead, disease not the maister.

When Iesus heard that, he answered the father, sayinge: Feare not, beleue onely, and she shalbe made whole. And when he came to the house, he suffered no manne to go in with him, saue Peter, James, and Iohn, & the father and mother of the mayden. Euerye bodye wepte and sorowed for hyr. And he sayed: Wepe not, for she is not dead but slepeth. And they laughte hym to scorn. For they knew that she was dead. And he thrust them all out, and caught hir by the hand, and cryed, sayinge: Mayde arise. And hyr spirit came agayne, and she arose straightway. And he commaunded to geue hyr meate. And the father and the mother of hyr were astonied. But he warned them that they shoulde tell no man, what was done.

The Notes.

- (a) Loke in Marke. iiii. b
- (b) Loke in Mathew. xiii. b
- (c) Legion, is after Plegecius the number of. vi. thousand, seuen hundred and two and thyrtye.

To you it. Who so hath. &c. Legion.

The ix. Chapter.

Christe sendeth oute hys Apostles. Herode was abashed at hys name. Iesus fedde wth fyue loaves certayn thousands of men. Peter confelleth that he is Christ, he exhorteth them to hys crosse. He is transformed in the mountayne, he healeth the manne that had a dyuell that coulde not be healed before, he counselleth his disciples to be lowely, and checked them because they woulde not suffer one to come to hym that dyd myracles in his name, and because they desyred to be reuenged. After it is shewed of men that woulde haue folowed hym.

Then called he the twelue together and gaue them power and authoritye ouer all deuylles, & that they myght heale diseases. And he sent them to preache the kyngdome of God, and to cure the sycke. And he sayd to them: Take nothyng to sucker you by the waye (a) neyther staffe, nor scrippe, neyther breade, neyther money, neither haue two coates. And whatsoeuer house ye enter into, there abyde and thence departe. And whosoever will not receiue you, when ye go out of that citie, shake of & veryr duste from youre fete, for a testimonye agaynst them. And they went out, & went thorough the Meth. x. a. Mar. vi. b. The xii. ar sent. Meth. x. a. Mar. vi. a. Do not fro house to house. Act. xiii. g. Dust.

the townes, preachynge the Gospell, and Ma. xliii. a healing euery where. &

Mar. vi. b And Herode the (b) Tetrarche herde of all that was done by hym, and doubted, because that it was saied of some, that Jhon was risen agayne from death: and of some that Elias had appered: and of other that one of the old prophets was risen again.
And Herod saied: Jhon haue I beheaded: who then is this of whome I heare such thynges? And he desired to se hym.

Mat. xliii. b. And the Apostles returned, and told him Mar. vi. d what greate thynges they had done. And he toke them and went asyde into a solita-rye place nye to a ctyte called Bethsaida.
And the people knewe of it, and folowed hym. And he receyued them and spake vnto them of the kyngdome of God, and healed them that had neede to be healed. And when the dape began to weare away, then came the twelue and saied vnto hym, send the people away, that they may go into the townes & byllages round aboute & lodge, & gette meate, for we are here in a solitarie place or wylernes. But he saied vnto the Beueye them to eate. And they saied: We haue no more but fyue loues and two fy-shes, excepte we shoulde goo and by meate for all this people. And they were aboute a fyue thousande men. And he saied too his Disciples: Cause them to sytte downe by fyftyes in a companie. And they dyd so, & made them all sytte downe. And he tooke the fyue loues, and the two fyshes, and loked vpp to heauen: and blessed them, and brake, and gaue to the disciples, to set before the people. And they eate, and were al satisfyed. And there was taken vp of that remayned of them, twelue baskettes full of broken meate.

Mat. xvi. b And it fortunied as he was alone praying his Disciples were wyth hym: And he axed them, sayinge: Who say the people that I am? They answered and saied: Jhon Baptyst. Some say, Elias. And some say one of the olde prophetes is risen againe.

Passion. He sayd vnto them: who say ye that I am?
Ma. xvii. d Peter answered and saied: thou arte the Mar. viii. e Christe of God. And he warned and commaunded them that they should tell no man that thyng, sayinge that the sonne of man muste suffer manie thynges, and be repro-ued of the elders, and of the hye priestes & scribes, and be slayne, and the thyrde dape rise agayne.

Jhon. ii. d. And he saied to them all: if any man wil come after me, let hym deny him selfe, and take vp his crosse dape, and folowe me.
Whosoever wyl (c) saue his lyfe, shal lose it. And whosoever shal lose his lyfe for my sake, the same shal saue it. For what auailtageth it a man to wyne the whole world if he lose hym selfe or runne in damage of hym selfe? For whosoever is ashamed of me, & of my sayinges: of hym shal the sonne of man be ashamed, when he cometh in his owne glorie, and the glorie of his father, and of the holy aungels. And I tell you of a suertye: There be (d) some of them that stande here, whiche shall not taste of death, tyll they se the kyngdome of God. And it folowed aboute an. viii. dapes after those sayyngs, that he toke Peter James, and Jho and wente by into a mountayne to praye.

And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenaunce was chaunged, and his garment was whyte and shone. And behold two me talked wyth hym, and they were Moyses and Elias, whiche appeared gloriously and spake of his departyng, whiche he shoulde ende at Jerusalem. Peter and thei that were with him were heauy wyth slepe.
And when they awoke, they saw his glorie, and two men standing with him.

And it chaunced as they departed from hym, Peter saied vnto hym: Maister it is good beyng here for vs. Let vs make thre tabernacles, one for the, and one for Moys-es, & one for Elias, and wyl not what he saied. Whyle he thus spake, there came a cloud and shadowed them, and they feared when they were come vnder the cloude.
And there came a voyce oute of the cloude sayinge: This is my deare sonne, heare him.
And as sone as the voyce was paste Jhesus was founde alone. And they kepte it close, and tolde no man in those dapes anye of those thynges whiche they had sene.

And it chaunced on the nexte day as thei came doune from the hyl, much people met him. And beholde a manne of the company cried out sayinge: Maister, I beseeche thee beholde my sonne, for he is al that I haue, and se, a spirite taketh hym, and sodenlye he cryeth, and he teareth hym that he fo-meth agayne, and wyth much payne departeth from hym, when he hath rent him:
and I besought thy Disciples to cast him out, and they coulde not. Jhesus answered and sayd: O generacion without fayth and croked, howe longe shall I be wyth you? and shal suffer you? Wyng thy sonne hyther. As he yet was a commynge, the fede-rente hym and tare hym. And Jhesus rebuked the vncleane spirite & healed the child, and deliuerd hym to his father. And they were all amazed at the myghty power of God.

Whyle they wondred euery one at all thynges whiche he dyd, he saied vnto his Disciples: Let these sayings synke doune into youre eares. The tyme wyl come, whe the sonne of man shalbe deliuered into the handes of men. But they wyl not what he worde mente, and it was hyd from them, that they vnderstode it not. And they feared to ax him of that sayng.

Then there arose dysputacion amonge them who shoulde be greatest. When Jhesus perceyued the thoughtes of thei her-tes, he toke a chylde, and set hym harde by hym, and saied vnto them. Whosoever re-ceyueh this chylde in my name, receiueh me. And whosoever receyueh me, receyueth

Mat. xliii. d.
mar. ix. a.
Traunscisguration.

Heare him

Mat. xvii. d.
Mark. ix. c.
The spirit
of the fal-
lyng spy-
nes is cast
out.

Passion.

Mat. xviii.
mark. ix. e.

Breate

The Gospell

of S. Luke.

neth hym that sent me. For he that is least among you al, the same shalbe great.

Forbpd

And Jhon answered and sayd: After we saw one casting out devils in thy name and we forbade him, because he foloweth not wpth vs. And Jesus sayd vnto hym: forbpd de pe hym not. For he that is not a gapnst vs, is wpth vs.

And it folowed when the tyme was come that he shulde be recieued vp, then he set his face to go to Jerusalem, and sent messengers before hym. And they wente and entered into a cite of the Samaritanes, too make ready for him. But they wold not receiue him, because his face was as though he woulde go to Jerusalem. When his disciples, James and Jhon sawe that, they sayd: lord, wylte thou that we commaund that fyre come downe from heauen and consume them, euen as Elias dyd? Jesus turned aboute, and rebuked them, sayinge: ye wote not what maner spirit ye are of. The sonne of man is not come to destroye mennes liues, but to saue them. And they went to another towne.

Fyre from heauen.

Mar. viii. c. Foxes.

And it chaunced as he wente in the waye a certayne man sayd vnto hym: I wyl folowe the whither soeuer thou go. Jesus sayd vnto hym: foxes haue holes, and bydes of the ayre haue nestes, but the sonne of man hath not wherin to laye hys head.

Burpe hys father.

And he sayd vnto another: folowe me. And the same sayd: Lord suffer me fyrste to go and burpe my father. Jesus sayd vnto hym: (e) Lette the deade burpe theyr deade: but go thou and preache the kyngdome of God.

Blowe.

And another sayd: I wyl folowe the Lord, but let me fyrst go byd them farewel whiche are at home at my house. Jesus sayd vnto hym: No manne that putteth his hande to the ploughe, and loketh backe, is apte to the kingdom of God.

The Notes.

Nepther
Na Fe. &c.
Tetrarche
Whoso
wyl saue
his lyfe. &c.
Som that Lette the deade. &c.

(a) Loke in Mathew the. x. Chapter.
(b) Loke in Mathew the. xiii. Chapter. a.
(c) That is whosoever (in this world) regardeth to his life, that he wil not put it in jeopardy for me, when the tyme requireth: the same shall lose hys lyfe eternally.
(d) There be some that stand here. &c. Loke in Mathew the. xvi. d.
(e) Loke Mathew the. viii. e.

The. x. Chapter.

Jesus sendeth out seuentye Disciples, and bypraydeth vngodlynes to the vnkynde Cites, he warneth hys Disciples as they go to be lowly, and he praised hys father. He teacheth the lawer of the greatest commandment: met and of his neyghboure, by a similitude of a manne that was wounded by theues. Last is described the household care of Martha, and the studye that Mary had to Christes Sermons.

A Seuentye
are sente.

After these thynges, the Lord appointed other seuentye also: and set them, two and two before him into euery cite and place whither he hym selfe woulde come.

And he sayd vnto them, the hauest is great but the laborers are fewe. Praye therefore the Lord of haruest to sende forth laborers into hys haruest. So pour wapes: be holde, I sende you forth as lambes among wolues. Beare no wallet neyther scrip, nor shues, and salute no manne by the waye. Into whatsoeuer house ye enter, fyrst say: Peace be to thys house. And if the sonne of peace be ther, your peace shal rest vpon hym: if not, it shall retorne to you agayne. And in the same house tarp syl eating and drinking such as thei haue. For the labourer is worthy of his reward.

Heruest.

Lambes among wolues.

Go not from house to house, and into what soeuer cite ye enter, if they receiue you, eate such thyngs as are set before you and heale the sycke that are there, and saye vnto them: the kyngdome of God is come npe vnto you. But into whatsoeuer cite ye shall enter, if they receiue you not, goo poure wapes oute into the streetes of the same, and saye: euen the verpe duste, which cleaueth on vs of your cite, we wyipe of agaynst you. Not wpythstandynge marke thys that the kingdom of God was come npe vpon you. Yea and I saye to you: that it shal be easier in that daye for zodome, the for that cite.

Faith shal minister al

Math. x. a.

Dust

Woe be to the Chorazin, woe be to the Bethsaida. For if the myracles had bene doone in Tyre and Sydon, whych haue bene don vnto you, they had a greete whyle agoon repented, spting in herre and ashes. Neuerthelesse it shalbe easier for Tyre and Sydon, at the iudgemente, then for you. And thou Capernaum whych arte exalted to heauen shalt be thruste downe to hell. He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that dyspyseth you, dyspyseth me: and he that dyspyseth me, dyspyseth hym that sent me.

Chorazin.
Bethsaida
Tyre & Sidon.
Capernaum

Math. x. b
Jhon. iii. c.

And the seuentye returned agayne with ioye, saying: Lord euen the very devils are subdued to vs throughe thy name. And he sayd vnto them: I sawe Satan, as it had bene lyghtenynge, fall downe from heauen. Beholde, I geue vnto you power to tread serpentes and Scorpions, and ouer al manner power of the enemye, and nothyng shall hurte you. Neuerthelesse in thys reioyse not, that the spirites are vnder your power: but reioyse because your names are witen in heauen.

Reioyse.

That same tyme reioysed Jesus in the spirite and sayd: I confesse vnto the father Lord of heauen and earth, that thou hast byd these thynges from the wyse and prudente, and hast opened them to the babes. Euen so father, for so pleased it the. All thyngs are geuen me of my father. And no man knoweth who the sonne is, but the father, neyther who the father, saue the son and he to whom the sonne wyl shewe hym.

Babes.

And he turned to hys Disciples, and sayd secretly. Happye are the eyes, whiche se that ye se. For I tell you that many prophetes and kyngs haue desired to se these thynges

He only is taughte
of Chryst knoweth
the father
Mat. xiii. b

things which ye see, and haue not sene the: and to heare those things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.

D And behold a certayne lawier stode by & tempted him, saying. Master what shal I do to enherite eternall lyfe? He sayed vnto hym: What is writen in the lawe? how redest thou? And he answered, and sayed: Loue thy lord God with al thy herte, and wpth al thy soule, and wpth al thy strength and wpth al thy mynde, and thy neyghbour as thy selfe. And he sayed to hym: Thou haste answered ryghte. This do and thou shalt lyue. (a) He wyllynge to iustifye him selfe, sayed vnto Iesus. Who is then my neyghbour?

Iesus answered and sayed: A certayne man discended from Ierusalem vnto Hierico, and fel into the hands of theues, whiche robbed hym of hys rayment, and wound ded hym, and departed leuyng hym halfe dead. And by chaunce ther came a certayne ppreste that same way, and whan he sawe hym he passed by. And lykewyse a Leuite, when he was come nye to the place, wente and loked on hym, and passed by. Then a certayne Samaritane, as he iourneid, came nye vnto hym, and when he sawe hym, he had compassion on hym, and went to and bounde by hys woundes, and poured in oyle and wyne, and put hym on hys owne beast, and broughte hym to a common inne and made prouysion for hym. And on the morowe, when he departed, he tooke oute two pence and gaue them to the host, and sayed vnto hym: Take cure of hym, & what soeuer thou spendest moze when I come a gayne I wll recompence thee. Whiche now of these thre thikest thou, was neyghbour vnto hym that fell into the theues handes? And he sayed: he that shewed merce on hym. Then sayd Iesus vnto him: go and do thou lykewyse. &

E It fortuneth as thei went, that he entred into a certayne towne. And a certayne woman named Marthe, receyued hym into the house. And this woman had a syster called Marpe which sat at Iesus fete, and heard hys preachynge. And Marthe was combyed aboute muche scrupynge, and stode and sayed: Master dost thou not care that my syster hath left me to minister alone? Wyd her therfore that she heape me. And Iesu answered and sayed vnto hyr: Marthe Marthe, thou carest and arte troubled aboute manye thynges, but one is needeful: (b) Marpe hath chosen her that good parte whiche shal not be taken away from hyr. &

The Notes.

Wyllynge to iustifye hym selfe.
Marthath chosen.

(a) That is wyllynge to sette forth hym selfe as iust, and as one that was learned, sayed, who is my neyghbour. &c.
(b) That is she hath chosen the hearynge of the worde of God whych euer endureth, and is the way to euerylastyng lyfe.

The xi. Chapter.

Iesus prescribeth a fourme of prayenge, and teacheth that we oughte to praye continually, he casteth out the deuyl, and is reported to haue cast hym out by Belzebub, but he answered to theyr false accusations, he denieth theym a sygne when they axed, he commendeth purty of hert. Seyng called by a pharise to dyner, he rebuketh the outward holynes and wyked mynde.

And it fortuneth as he was prayenge in a certayne place: whan he ceased, one of hys dysciples sayed vnto hym: Master, teache vs to praye, as Ihon taught hys dysciples. And he sayed vnto theym: When ye praye, saye: O our father whiche arte in heauen, halowed be thy name. Thy kyngdome come. Thy wylle be fulfilled euen in earth as it is in heauen. Geue vs oure daylye breade euermore. And forgyue vs oure synnes: For euen we forgyue euerye man that trespasseth vs: And leade vs not into temptacion. But deliuer vs from euill.

And he sayd vnto them: If any of you shoulde haue a frende, and shoulde go to hym at mydnyghte, and saye vnto hym: frende lende me thre loues, for a frende of myne is come out of the waye to me, and I haue nothyng to sette before hym: and he wpythin shoulde answer and saye: trouble me not, the doze is nowe shutte, and my seruautes are wpythin me in the chamber, I canot rise & giue the to the: I say vnto you though he wold not arise & giue hym, because he is hys frende: yet because of hys importunitie he wold rise, & giue him as much as he neded.

And I saie vnto you: are and it shal be giuen you. Seke, and ye shal fynde. Knocke and it shal be opened vnto you. For euerye one that axeth, recepueth: and he that seeketh, fyndeth: and to hym that knocketh, it shal be opened. If the sonne shal are bread of any of you that is a father, wll he geue hym a stone? Or if he are fysh: wll he for a fysh geue hym a serpente? Or if he are an egge, wll he offer hym a scorpion? If ye the whiche are euell, can giue good giftes vnto your children, how muche moze shal the father of heauen giue an holy spirite to the that desire it of him.

And he was castynge out of a deuyl, whiche was domme. And it folowed when the deuyl was gone out, the domb speake, and the people wondred. But some of them sayed: he casteth out deuilles by the power of Belzebub the chiefe of the deuyls. And othertempted him sekynge of hym a sygne from heauen. But he knewe theyr thoughtes, and sayed vnto theym. Euerye kyngdome deuyded within it selfe shalbe desolate: and one house shal fall vpon another: So if Satan he deuided wpythin hym selfe, how shal his kyngdome endure? Because ye say I cast out deuyls by the power of Belzebub, if I by the power of Belzebub caste oute deuylles, by whome doo poure children cast theym oute? Therefore shall

mat. vi. b.

The pater noster.

prayer what it doth.

Couenat.

M. arth. vii. b. Mark. xi. c. Ihon. xiii. Iacob. i. a.

M. arth. xi. d. Mar. iii. c.

The dome spirite is cast out

Belzebub

The Gospel

Of S. Luke.

That they be your iudges. But if I, with (a) my fynger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come.

When a strong man armed, watcheth his house, that he possesseth is in peace. But when a stronger then he commeth vnto him, & ouercommeth him: he taketh fro hym his harness wherein he trusted, & deuileth hym goodes. He is not with me, is against me, & he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

When the vncleane spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh thorough (b) waterles places seeking rest. And when he fyndeth none, he saith: I will returne agayne vnto my house, whence I came out. And when he commeth, he fyndeth it swept and garnished. Then goeth he and taketh to hym seven other spyrtes worse then hym self: and they enter in, and dwell there. And the ende of that manne is worse then the beginninge.

And it fortuned as he spake those thynges, a certayne woman of the companie, lyft vp hyr voice, and sayd vnto hym: Happy is the wombe that bare the, and the paypes whiche gaue the sucke. But he sayde: Yea, happy are they that heare the worde of God and kepe it.

When the people were gathered thicke together, he began to saye: This is an euill nacyon: they seke a sygne, and they wil not be geuen them, but the sygne of Jonas the prophet. For as Jonas was a sygne to the Ninuities, so shall the sonne of man be to this nacyon. The quene of the south shall rise at iudgement with the menne of this generacion, and condemne them: for she came from the ende of the worlde, to heare the wpsedome of Salomon. And behold a greater then Solomon is here. The men of Ninue shall rise at the iudgement with the menne of this generacion, and condemne them, for they repented at the preachynge of Jonas. And beholde a greater then Jonas is here.

¶ No man lighteth a candell, and putteth it in a priuey place, neither vnder a bushel: but on a candellsticke, that they that come in, maye see the light. The lpyghte of thy bodye is the eye. Therefore when thyne eye is cleare, then is all thy bodye full of lpyghte. But if thyne eye be euill, then shall thy bodye be full of darknes. Take hede therefore that the light which is in the, be not darkened. For if all thy bodye shall be lpyghte, having no parte darcke, then shall all be full of light, even as when a candle doth lpyght the with hym brightnes.

¶ And as he spake, a certayne pharisee besought him to dyne with hym, and he went in and sate downe to meat. When the pharisee saw that, he merueyled that he hadde not fyrste washed before dynner. And the Lord sayd to hym: Now doo ye pharisees make cleane the outside of the cup, & of the platter: but your inward parties are full of rauening and wickednes. Ye soles, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also? Neuerthelesse geue almes of that ye haue, and behold all is cleane to you.

But wo be to you pharisees: for ye tithe minte and Rewe, and all maner herbes, and passe ouer iudgemente and the loue of God. These ought ye to haue done, and yet not to haue left the other vndone: Wo be to you pharisees: for ye lous the vppermost seates in the Synnagoges, and gretynge most seats in the markettes.

Wo be to you Scribes and pharisees hypocrites, for ye are as graues, which appeare not, and the menne that walke ouer them, are not ware of them:

¶ Then answered one of the lawiers, and sayde vnto him: Maister, thus sayng, thou puttest vs to rebuke also. Then he sayde: Wo be to you also ye lawiers, for ye lade men with burthens greuous to be borne, & ye your selues touche not the packes with one of your fyngers.

Wo be to you: ye build the sepulchres of the prophetes, & your fathers kylled the: truly ye beare wytnes, that ye allowe the dedes of your fathers: for they kylled the, and ye build theyr sepulchres.

¶ Therefore sayde the wpsedome of God: I will send them prophetes and Apostles, and of them they shall slea and persecute, that the bloude of all prophetes whiche was shed from the beginninge of the world, may be requyred of this generacion from the blood of Abel vnto the blood of zachary, which perished betwene the altier and the temple. Verely I say vnto you, it shall be requyred of this nacyon.

Wo be to you lawiers: for ye haue taken away the keye of knowledge, ye entred not in your selues, and them that came in ye forbad.

¶ When he thus spake vnto the, the lawiers and the pharisees began to were busy about him, and to stop his mouth with many questyons, laying wapt for him, and seeking to catch some thing of his mouth, wherby they might accuse hym.

The Notes.

(a) Gods fynger, is here hym power. As though he would haue sayd: If by my power of God.

(b) Luke Mathew the xii. 6

(c) Luke Mathew the xvi. Chapt.

The xii. Chapter.

¶ Christ warneth vs to beware of the leuen of the pharisees, not to feare them that kyl the bodye. After he forbiddeth couetousnes by examples and parables. He teacheth to watche and take hede by a symple of the good and euil seruaunt, and sheweth the before that troubles shall aryse.

¶ As there gathered together an innumerable multitude of people (in so much that they trode one another) he beganne to saye vnto his discyples: First of all beware of Seuen worse then hym self.

Happy who.

Mat. xii. c. Signe of Jonas.

Quene of the south. iii. Re. x. a. ii. Pa. ix. a Ninuities

Thon. iii. a. Math. v. b. Mar. xii. c. Math. vi. c

Ma. xiii. c

With mit. mat. xiii. c. Mar. xii. b

Upper most seats

Lawyers. mat. xiii. a

Build sepulchres.

Gen. iii. b. ii. pa. x. ii. a zachary.

Keye.

The finger of God. Dry places. Keye.

Leuen.

of the (a) leuen of the pharises, whyche is hypocrysy. For ther is nothynge covered that shall not be vncouered: neythet hpd, that shall not be knowen. For whatsoeuer ye haue spokē in darcknes: that same shall be heard in lighte. And that whych ye haue spoken in the eare, euen in secrete places, shall be preached euen on the toppe of the houses.

math. x. c.
mark. iiii. c.
who is to be feared.

I say vnto you my frendes: Be not afraped at them that kyll the body, and after that haue no moze that they ca do. But I will shewe you whom ye shall feare. Fear hym which after he hath kyllēd, hath power to cast into hell. Yea I saye vnto you, hym feare. Are not fyue sparowes bought for ii. farthinges? And yet not one of them is forgotten of God. Also euen the verpe herres of your heades are numbred. Feare not therefore: Ye are moze of value then many sparowes.

math. xii. d.
mark. iii. d.
Couenauntes.
math. x. b.
mark. iii. d.
A promise that the spirit shall teache vs.

I say vnto you, whosoever confesteth me before men, euen hym shall the sonne of mā cōfesse also before the Angels of God. And he that denieth me before men, shall be denyed before the angels of God. And whosoever speaketh a word agaynst (b) the son of man, it shall be forgiven him. But vnto hym that blasphemeth the holpe ghoſte, it shall not be forgiven.

When they bypunge you vnto the synagoges, and vnto the rulers and officers, take no thought, howe or what thynge ye shall aunswere, or what ye shall speake. For the holpe ghoſte shall teache you in the same houre, what ye ought to saye.

One of the company sayd vnto him: maister, bid my brother deuide the enheritance wpth me. And he said vnto him: Man, who made me a iudge or deuider ouer you? Wherefore he said vnto them: take hede, and beware of couetousnes. For no māns life standeth in the aboundaunce of þ thyn ges whrch he posselseth. And he put forth a similitude vnto them, saying:

The lyfe
standeth
not in ry-
ches, but in keppng
Gods co-
maunde-
mentes.
Ipsly mā.
Eccl. xi. c.

The ground of a certayne ryche manne brought forth frutes plenteous lyfe, and he thought in hym selfe sayinge: what shall I do: because I haue no roume where to bestowe my frutes? And he said: Thys wpll I do. I wpll destroy my barnes, and build greater, and therein wpll I gather all my frutes, and my goodes, and I will saye to my soule: Soule, thou haste muche goods laied vp in store for many peres, take thine ease, eat, drinke, and be mery. But God said vnto him: Thou fool, this night will they fetch away thy soule again from the. Then whose shall these thinges be, whych thou hast prouided? So is it wpth him that gathereth riches: and is not riche in God.

math. vi. c.
1. Pet. v. b.
E. sal. liii.

And he spake vnto his disciples: Therfoze I say vnto you: Take no thought for poure lyfe, what ye shall eat, neither for your bodie, what ye shall put on. The lyfe is more then meate, and the bodie is more then raimēt. Consider the rauens, for they neither sowe nor reap, which nether haue store house, nor barne, and yet God fedeth them. Howe muche are ye better then the fowles?

Which of you with taking thought can adde to his stature one cubite? If ye then be not able to do that thynge which is least: whye take ye thought for the remnaunte? Consider the lylpes how they grow: They laboure not, they spyn not, and yet I saye vnto you: that Salomon in all his rialte, was not clothed like to one of these. If the grasse which is to day in the fiede, and too morowe shall be caste into the forname, God so cloth, how much moze wpll he cloth you, O ye endued with lytle faith?

And are not what ye shall eate, or what ye shall duncke, neither clime ye vp on hye: for all such thinges the Hethen people of þ world seke for. Your father knoweth that ye haue nede of suche thinges. Wherefore seke ye after the kingdome of God, and all these thinges shall be ministred vnto you.

Feare not litle flocke, for it is poure fathers pleasure to giue you a (c) kyngdome. Sell that ye haue & geue almes. And make you bagges, which were not olde, and treasure that faileth not in heauen, where no these cometh, nether mooth corrupteth. For where your treasure is, there will your hertes be also.

Let your lopnes be gerded aboute, and poure lightes brenning and ye pour selues like vnto men that waite for their maister, when he will retorne from a wedding: that as sone as he cometh and knocketh, they maye open vnto him. Happy are those seruauntes, whom the Lord when he cometh, shall find waking. Verely I say vnto you, he will gyrd himselfe about, and make the sitte downe to meate, and walke by, & mynister vnto them.

And if he come in the seconde watche, pea if he come in the thyrde watche, and shall fynde them so, happye are those seruauntes.

This vnderstande, that if the good man of the house knewe what houre the thefe would come, he woulde surely watche, and not suffer his house to be broken vp. Be ye prepared therefore: for the sonne of man wpll come at an houre when ye thyncke not.

Then Peter sayd vnto him: Maister, tellst thou this similitude vnto vs, or too all men? And the Lord sayd. If there be anye faythfull seruaunt and wple, whome hys Lorde shall make ruler ouer his household, to geue to them their dutye of meat at due season, happye is that seruaunt, whom his maister when he cometh, shall find so doynge. Of a truthe I saye vnto you, that he will make hym ruler ouer all that he hath: But and if the euill seruaunte shall saye in his hert: My maister will deferre hys comynge, and shall beginne to smyte the seruauntes and maidens, and to eat & drinke, and

D

Lilpes.

math. vi. c.
litle stock.

Lopnes.
Lpghtes

Seconde
watche.
mat. xxiij.
mar. xlii. d.

Apoc. xvi. c.

Eupli ser
uaunt.
and

The Gospell

of S. Luke.

and to be drunken, the lord of that seruant wyl come in a day when he thynketh not:
and at an houre when he is not ware, and wyl deuyde him, and wil geue him his re= ward with the vnbeleuers.

The seruaunte that knewe his maisters will, and prepared not him selfe, neyther dyd accordyng to hys will, shalbe beaten with many stryppes. But he that knew not, and yet dyd committe thynges worthy of counaill. stripes, shalbe beaten with few stripes. For vnto whome muche is geuen, of hym shal= be much required. And to whom men much committ, the more of him wil they are.

I am come to sende fyre on earth, and what is my desyre, but that it were alredy kynndled? Notwithstandyng I must be bap= tysmed with a baptysme, and how am I pai= ned tyll it be ended? Suppose ye that I am come to sende peace on earth? I tell you (d) nay, but rather debate. For fro henceforth ther shalbe fyue in one house deuided, thre against two and two against thre. The fa= ther shalbe deuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father. The mother against the doughter, and the doughter a= gainst the mother. The mother in lawe a= gainst the doughter in lawe, & the dought= ter in lawe agaynst her mother in lawe.

Then said he to the people, when ye se a cloud ryse out of the west, straightwaye ye saye. We shall haue a shower, & so it is. And when ye se the south wind blowe, ye saye:
we shall haue heat, and it cometh to passe.
Hypocrites, ye can skylle of the fashion of the earth, and of the skye, but what is the cause that ye can not skylle of this tyme?
Yea and whye iudge ye not of poure selues what is right?

Whyle thou goest with thynne aduersa= ry to the ruler, as thou art in the way, geue diligence that thou mayest be deliuered from him, lest he bringe the to the Iudge, and the Iudge deliuer the to the iapler, & the iapler cast the into prison. I tell y, thou departest not thence, till (e) thou haue made good the vttermost myte.

The Notes.

- Leuen. (a) Luke in Mathew the. xvi.
The sonne (b) To speake a word agaynst the sonne of ma, of man, is to be offended wyth the humanyte of man= hode of Chryste, for hys base and low degree, as were many of the Jewes.
Sell all. (c) Of thys is spoken in Mathew. xix.
(d) Not the peace and quyetnes of thys worlde, wherein euery man that is euil, contenteth hym selfe wyth hys wyckednes: but debate, that is suche an inwarde hate to vyce, that the spyrite shall contynually cryue agaynst the flme.
(e) Not that there is any place of punishmente after thys lyfe, where satisfaccion shalbe made, and so the partye shalbe deliuered, but that all suche as lyue dissolutely here wythout the feare of Gods iudgement, shall eternally perishe.

The. xiii. Chapter.

Jesus by example of them whyche pylate had kyllid, and that wer ouerwhelmed with the towar, and by similitude also of the figg tree, teacheth repentaunce, he holpe the sick woman vpon the saboth daye. He declareth the kyngdome of God by similitudes. He ex= horteth to be vigilant. He noteth herode by the name of a foxe, and complayned of the wickednes that is in Hierusalem.

There were present at y same sea = A son, that shewed him of the Galileas. Balileas. leans, whose bloude pylat myn= gled with theyr owne sacrificy.

And Jesus answered and sayed vnto the: Suppose ye that these Galileas were greater synners then al the other Ga= lileans, because they suffered such punish= ment? I tell you naye: but except ye repent, ye shall all lykewys perishe. Or those. xviij. vpon whom the tower in Siloe fel, & slewe them, thynke ye y they wer sinners aboue all men that dwelle in Hierusalem? I tell you naye: But except ye repent, ye shall all lykewys perishe.

He put forth this similitude: A certayne man had a figg tre planted in his vineyard, B figg tree.
and he came and soughte fruite thereon, and found none. Then said he to the dyer= ser of his vineyard: Beholde this thre yere haue I come and sought fruite in thys figg tree, and fynde none, cutte it downe: why combreth it the grounde? And he aunsw= ered and sayd vnto him: Lorde lette it alone this yere also, till I dygge roundaboute it, and dounge it, to se whether it wil beare fruite: and if it beare not then, after that cutte it downe.

And he taughte in one of theyr synago= ges on the Saboth dayes. And behold ther man that was a woman whych had a spyryt of infir was bow= mitie. xviij. yeres, and was bowed togy= ther, and coulde not lyft vp hir selfe at all. ed togy=
ther.
When Jesus saw hyr, he called hyr to him, and sayd to hyr: woman thou art deliuered from thy disease. And he laped hys handes on hir, & immediatly she was made straight and glorified God. And the ruler of the si= nagoge answered with indignacon (be= cause that Jesus had healed on the Sab= both daye) and sayd vnto the people. Ther are sixe dayes, in whyche menne ought to worke, in them come and be healed, and not on the saboth daye.

Then answered him the Lorde, & saied: C Hypocrite, doeth not eache one of you on The Sa= the saboth day, lewse his oxe or his asse fro both is the stall, and leade him to the water? And broken.
ought not this doughter of Abraham, whō Satan hath bound, lo. xviij. yeres be lew= sed from this bonde on the Sabboth daye?
And when he thus sayde, all his aduersa= ryes were ashamed, and all the people re= ioysed on all the excellent dedes that were done by hym. f

Then sayd he: what is the kyngdome of God lyke, or whereto shall I compare it? Mustard
It is lyke a grayn of mustard seede, whych seede. a man toke and sowed in hys garden, and it grew and wered a great tre, and the fou= les of the ayre made nestes in the braun= ches of it.

And agayne he sayd, wher vnto shall I li=

and the maimed, and the halt, & the blind. And the seruaunt sayd: Lorde it is done as thou commaundedst, and yet ther is room. And the Lord said to the seruaunt: Go out into the hygh waies and hedges, & compell them to come to in, that my house maye be filled. For I saye vnto you, that none of those men which were bydden, shall tast of my supper.

Christes
disciple.
Math. x. d.
Mar. viii. c
Ther went a great company wpth him, and he turned and said vnto them: & If a man come to me, & (b) hate not his father, and mother, and wyfe, and chyldren, and brethren, and sisters, moreouer & his owne lyfe, he cannot be my disciple. And whoso euer beareth not his crosse, and come after me, cannot be my discyppe.

Towar.
Which of you disposed to build a tower, sitteth not doune before, and counteth the cost, whether he haue sufficiēt to perfoyme it: lest after he hath layed the foundacpon, and is not able to perfoyme it, all that behold it beginne to mocke him, saying: this man began to builde, and was not able to make an ende. Or what kynge goeth too make battayle agaynst another kynge, and spytteth not doune spyll, and casteth in hys mynde, whether he be able with ten thousand to meete him that cometh agaynst hym wpth twenty thousand. Or els whyle the other is yet a great way of, he wil send embassadours, and desyre peace. So lyke wyse none of you that forsaketh not all þe he hath, can be my discyppe.

Math. v. c.
Mar. ix. g.
Salt is good, but if salt haue lost hys saltnes, what shall be seasoned therwyth? It is neither good for the land, nor yet for the dounghyll, but men cast it out at the doores. He that hath eares to heare, lette hym heare.

To eate
bread.
To hate.

The Notes.

(a) That is to dyne, or to take repast.
(b) He that wyl folow Christ, must hate father and mother, euen as he muste hate hym selfe. That is, he must not beare suche loue to them, that they shall wthdrawe him from folowing Christ. Yet neuerthelesse accordyng as the lawe byddeth, he must loue them and honoure them.

The xv. Chapter.

Christ rejoyung the counterfayt holines of the pharises, by the parables of the loste shepe, of the groat that was loste, and of the prodigall sonne, sheweth that Christe seeketh not for the death of a synner, but for hys amendment.

Publicans.
Synners.
Hundred
shepe.
Mat. xviii. d
Then resorted vnto him all the publicans and sinners for to heare hym. And the pharises and Scribes murmured, saying: He receyuethe to his company synners and eateth with them. Then put he forth the thys similitude to them, saying: What man of you hauing an hundred shepe, if he lose one of them, doth not leaue ninety and nyne in the wyldeernes, and go after that whych is lost, vntill he finde him? And when he hath founde hym, he putteth him on his shoul- ders with ioye. And assone as he cometh home, he calleth together hys louers and neighbours, saying vnto the: reioyse with me, for I haue found my shepe which was lost. I say vnto you, that lyke wyse ioye shall be in heaue ouer one sinner that repenteth, more then ouer. xc. & ix. iust persons, whych nede no repentaunce. Either what woman hauing. x. groates, if she lose one, doth not lyght a candel, and swepe the house, & seke diligentely, tyll she fynde it? And when she hath found it, she calleth hir louers and hir neighbours, saying: Reioyse with me, for I haue founde the groate whych I hadde loste. Likewise I saye vnto you, ioye is made in the presence of the aungels of god ouer one sinner that repenteth.

& And he said: A certain man had two son- nes, & the yonger of them said to his father: The reio- giue me part of the goods that to me belon- touse son. geth. And he deuided vnto them hys sub- stance. And not longe after, the yonger son gathered al that he had together, and toke his iourney into a far countrey, & there he wa- sted his goods with riotous liuinge: And when he had spent al that he had, there a- rose a great derth throughout al that same land, and he began to lacke. And he wente and claued to a cytizen of the same countrey, whiche sente him to his fielde, to kepe his swine. And he woulde faine haue filled hys belly with the coddies that swine eate. And no man gaue him.

Then he came to himselfe and said: D- How many hired seruaunts at my fathers haue breade ynough, and I dye for honger? I will aryse, and go to my father, and will saye vnto him: father, I haue sinned a- gainst heauen & before the, and am nomore worthy to be called thy sonne, make me as one of thy hired seruauntes. And he arose and wente to his father. And when he was yet a great way of, his father saw hym and had compassion, and ranne and fell on his necke, and kissed him. And the son said vnto him: father, I haue sinned against hea- uen and in thy sight, and am no more wor- thy to be called thy sonne. But hys father sayd to his seruauntes: bring forth the best garment, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, & shues on his fete. And bring hyther the fatted calfe, and kyll hym, and let vs eate and be merie, for thys my sonne was deade, and is alpyue agayne, he was lost, and is nowe found. And they began to be merie.

The elder brother was in the fielde, & whē he came and drew nye to the house, he herd minstrelsy and daunsynge, and called one of his seruauntes, and asked what those thynges meant. And he said vnto him: thy bro- ther is come, and thy father hath killed the fatted calfe, because he hath receiued hym safe and sounde. And he was angrie, and would not go in. Then came his father out and intreated him. He answered and said to his father: Loo these many yeres haue I done the seruyce, nether brake at anye tyme

Mat. xiii. c
Mat. xiii. d
Leuen.

¶ I spken the kyngdome of God: it is lyke leuen, whych a woman toke, and hid in. iii. bushels of floure, tyll all was thowowe leuended. And he went thowowe all maner of cities and townes, teachynge and iornynge towards Hierusalem.

Mat. xlii. d
Straight gate.
Mat. vii. d
and. v.

¶ Then sayd one vnto hym: Lorde, at ther few that shal be saued? And he sayd vnto them: Striue with your selues to enter in at the strait gate. For manye I saye vnto you will seke to enter in, and shall not be able. (a) When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut the doze, ye shall begynne to stand withoute, and to knocke at the doze, saying: Lorde, Lorde open to vs, & he shall answer and say vnto you: I know you not whence ye are. When shall ye begynne to saye. We haue eaten in thy presence and droncke, and thou hast taughte in oure stretes.

Mat. viii.

¶ And he shal saye: I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: departe from me all ye workers of iniquyte: Ther shal be weping and gnashynge of teth, when ye shall se Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and al the prophetes in the kyngdome of God, and your selues thrust out at dozes? And they shal come from the * East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sytte downe in the kyngdome of God. And beholde, there are laste, whych shal be fyrst. And ther are first whych shal be last.

Mat. vi. c.
Mat. vii. b
and. xrb. d.
Mat. xix. d
Herode is a Foxe.

¶ The same dape ther came certayne of the pharises, and sayd to him: Set the out of the way, and depart hence. For Herod will kyll the. And he sayd vnto them: Soo ye tell that fore: beholde, I cast out deuyls, & heale the people to day and to morow, and the thyrde dape I make an ende.

Hierusalem
kylleth
prophets

¶ Neuertheles, I must walke to dape and to morow, and the dape folowynge. For it can not be that a prophete perishe anye other wher, saue at Hierusalem.

Mat. xxiii. d.

¶ O Hierusalem, Hierusalem, which kyllest prophetes, and stonest them that are sent to the: how often woulde I haue gathered thy chyldren togyther, as the henne gadereth hyr nest vnder hyr winges, but ye woulde not. Beholde, poure habitacyon shall be left vnto you desolate. For I tell you, ye shal not se me, vntyl the time come that ye shall say: blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lorde.

When the good man
of y house.

(a) That is, when the couenaunte made in the bloude of Christe is blynded: then menne payne them selues wth holy woikes, trustyng thereby to enter, but all in vayne.

The Notes.

¶ Christ helpeth hym that had the dropsye, vpon the Saboth day, and forbyddeth y vaine glorie in syttinge at the table, shewynge also who are to be bydden, and reherceth the parable of them that wer byd to the maryage, and would not come. Last he requirerth of all that wyl folow hym, a diligente remembraunce of al thynges, and forsaking of al their goodes,

A

¶ And it chaunced that he went in to the house of one of the chiefe pharisees to (a) eate breade on a Saboth dape: and they watched him. And behold, there was a man before hym whiche had the dropsye. And Jesus answered, and spake vnto the lawyers and pharises, saying: is it lawfull to heale on the Saboth dape? And they helde theyr peace: And he toke hym and healed him, and lette him go: and answered the, saying: whych of you shall haue an asse, or an oxe fallen into a pytte, and wyl not straightway pul him out on the Saboth dape? And they coude not aunswere hym agayne to that.

Dropsy.

¶ He put forth a similitude to the gesses, when he marked howe they preaced to the hyest roumes, and sayd vnto theim: When thou art bydden to a wedding of anye mā, sitte not doune in the hyest rowme, leaste a more honorable man then thou be bydden of him, and he that bade both him and the, come and say to the: geue thys man room: and thou then beginne with shame to take the lowest rowme. But rather when thou art bydden, go and sytte in the low rowme, that when he that bade the, cometh: he may saye vnto the, friend, syt by hyper. The shalt thou haue worshippe in the presence of theim that sytte at meate with the. For whosoever exalteth hymself, shal be brought lowe. And he that humbleth hymself, shal be exalted. &

Jo. xrb. a Exalt him
Mat. xxi. b
Job. iiii. d.
Jo. iiii. b

¶ Then sayd he also to him that had desired hym to dynner. & When thou makeste a dynner or a supper: call not thy frendes, nor thy brethren, neither thy kynsmen, nor petriche neighbours: leaste they bid the again, and a recompence be made the.

¶ But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the mapmed, the lame, & the blynde, and thou shalt be happye, for they cannot recompence the. But thou shalt be recompenced at the resurreccion of the iust men. When one of them that sat at meate also heard that, he sayd vnto hym: happye is he that eateth breade in the kyngdome of God. &

Feaste
poore.

¶ Then saied he to him. & A certayne mā ordeyned a great supper, and bade manye, and sent his seruaunte at supper tyme, to saye to them that were bidden, come: for al thynges are now redy. And they al at once began to make excuse. The fyrst sayd vnto hym: I haue bought a ferme, and must nedes go and se it. I praye the haue me excused. And another sayd: I haue bought fyue poke of oxen, and I goo to proue them. I praye the haue me excused. The thyrde said: I haue marped a wyfe, and therfore I can not come. And the seruant went & brought his maister word therof.

Supper.
Mat. xxi. c
Apoc. xix. v

¶ Then was the good man of the house displeased, and sayd to his seruaunte: Go out quickly into the stretes and quarters of the citie, and brynge in hither the poore, &

ggg. i. and time thy commaundement: and yet gallest thou me neuer so muche as a kid to make merke wpth my louers: but as sone as thys thy sonne was come whych hath deuoured thy goods wpth harlots, thou hast for hys pleasure kylled the fatted calfe. And he sayd vnto hym: sonne thou wast euer wpth me, and all that I haue is thine. It was mete that we shoulde make merke and be glad: for thys thy brother was dead, and is alpye agayne, & was lost and is found.

The. xvi. Chapter.

Christe proponedeth a parable of the vniust steward, he teacheth faythfulness and liberalltye, he forbiddeth couetousnes an adulterye. He sheweth the certitude of gods word. Last he ioyne the parable of the ryche man and Lazarus.

The vniust
steward.

And he sayde also vnto hys Disciples. Ther was a certayne mā which had a steward, & was accused vnto him, & he wasted his goods. And he called hym & sayd vnto hym: How is it that I heare thys of the? Giue accomptes of thy stewardshipp. For thou mayest be no longer steward. The steward sayed within hym self: what shal I doo: for my Maister wyl take awaye from me the stewardshipp: I cannot dyg, and to begge, I am ashamed. I wote what to do, that when I am put out of the stewardshipp, they may receiue me into theyr houses.

Then called he all his maisters debtors, and sayde vnto the fyrst: howe muche owest thou vnto my Maister? And he said: an hundred tunnes of oyle. And he sayd vnto him: loke thy byll, and sit downe quykly, and wyte fyfthe. Then sayde he to another: what owest thou? And he sayde: an hundred quarters of wheate. He sayed to hym: Take thy byll, and wyte foure score. And the Lorde commended the vniust steward because he had done wysely. For the chyldren of the worlde are in theyr kynde, wyser then the chyldren of lyghte. And I saye also vnto you: make you frends of the wicked Mammon, that when ye shal depart, they may receiue you into euerlasting habytacions.

Mammon

He that is faythfull in that whiche is least, the same is faythfull in muche. And he that is vnfaythfull in the leaste, is vnfaythfull also in muche. So then yf ye haue not bene faythfull in the wycked mammon, who wyl beleue you in that whiche is true? And if ye haue not bene faythfull in another mans busines, who shal gyue you poure owne? No seruaunte can serue two Maisters, for eyther he shal hate the one and loue the other, or els he shal leane to one, & despyse the other. Yea can not serue God and Mammon.

math. vi. c.
Two Maisters.

All these thynges heard the pharises also, whiche were couetous, and they mocked hym. And he sayed vnto them: Ye are they whiche (b) iustifye poure selues before men, but God knoweth poure hertes. For that whych is hyghly esteemed among men is abhominable in the sight of god. &

math. xi. b

The lawe and the prophetes rayned vntill the time of Ihon: and sence that time the kingdome of god is preached, & euerie man strueth to go in.

math. v. c.
math. x. b

Soner shall heauen and earth perishe, then one tittle of the law shal perishe. Who soeuer forsaketh his wife and marieth another, breaketh matrimonye. And euerie man whiche marieth hit that is deuorced from hir housbande, committeth aduoutrie also.

There was a certayne riche man, whiche was clothed in purple and fyne bysse, and fared deliciouslye euerie daye. And there was certayne begger named Lazarus, which lay at his gate ful of sores, desyring to be refreshed wpth the crommes whiche fel from the ryche mannes bourde. Neuer thelesse dogges came and lycked hys sores. And it fortuneth that the begger dyed, and was caried by the Angels into (c) Abrahams bosome. The riche man also died, and was buryed.

1. Cor. vii. b
The ryche glotton &
Lazarus,

And beyng in hell tormentes, he lyste by hys eyes and sawe Abraham a farre off and Lazarus in hys bosome, and he cried, & sayd: father Abraham haue mercy on me and sende Lazarus that he may dyppe the tippe of his fynger in water, and coale my tonge, for I am tormented in thys flame. But Abraham sayed vnto hym. Sonne remember that thou in thy life time, receyuedst thy pleasure, and contrari wyle Lazarus payne. Nowe therfore is he comforted, and thou arte punished. Beyonde all this betwene you and vs there is a greatespace set, so that they which wold go fro hence to you cannot, nether may come fro thence to vs.

Then he sayed: I praye the therfore send him to my fathers house. For I haue spue bytternesse, for to warne the lest they also com into thys place of tormente. Abraham said vnto him: they haue Moyses, and the prophetes: let them heare them. And he sayed: naye father Abraham, but if one came vnto them from the deade, they woulde repent. He sayed vnto hym: if they heare not Moyses and the prophetes, neyther wyl they beleue, thoughe one rose from death agayne.

Moyses &
the 120
phetes is the old te
stamente.

The Notes:
(a) Thys worde Mammon is a worde of the Syrian speache, and signifieth ryches. So that the terte meaneth, bestowe poure ryches accordyng to the worde of God, that God be pleased wpth your doynges, and not deceptfully, as the steward dyd.

(b) Loke before the. x. of Luke.

(c) Some by the bosome of Abraham, do vnderstande the fayth of Abraham. Other some as Iustifye so vnderstande of the place, wher the electe and those that folow the fayth of Abraham do rest after theyr death. But where that place is because the scripture doth not expressely determine it can we not tel: And therfore maye no man be so bolde to desygne it.

Mammon

Iustifye
him selfe Abrahams
bosome.

The Gospell

of S. Luke.

came to the place, he looked vp, & saw him, & sayde vnto him: zache, at once come down, for to daye I must abide at thy house. And he came downe hastily and receyued him ioyfully. And whē they sawe that, thei all grudged, sayinge: He is gone in, to tary with a man that is a synner.

B And zache stode forth, and sayd vnto the Lord: the halfe of my goodes I giue to the poore, and if I haue done any man wrong, I will restore him foure folde. And Iesus sayed to him: thys day is helth come vnto this house, for as much as it also is become the childe of Abraham. For the sonne of mā is come to seke and to saue that whiche was losse.

As they hearde these thynge, he added therto a similitude, because he was nye to Hierusalē, and because also thei thoughte that the kingdome of God should shortly appere. He sayd therfore: A certayne noble man, wente into a far countrey, to receiue him a kyngdome, and then to come againe. And he called his ten seruautes, and deliuered them ten pounde, saying vnto them: bye and sell till I come. But hys citisens hated hym, and sente messengers after hym, sayinge: we wyl not haue thys man to reigne ouer vs.

And it came to passe, when he was come agayne and receyued hys kyngdome, he commaunded these seruautes to be called to him (to whom he gaue his money) to wit what euery man had done. Then came the first, saying: Lord, thy pounde hath encreased ten pounde. And he said vnto him. Well good seruaunte, because thou waste fapthfull in a very litle thynge, take thou authorite ouer ten ctyes. And the other came, sayinge: Lorde, thy pounde hath encreased fiue pounde. And to the same he sayd: and be thou also ruler ouer fiue ctyes. And the thyrde came and said: Lorde, behold here thy pounde, whych I haue kept in a napkin, for I feared the, because thou arte a strait man, thou takest vp that thou laydest not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sowe. And he sayed to him: Of thyne own mouth iudge I the thou euill seruant. Knewest thou that I am a strait man, taking vp & I layd not downe, & reaping that I dyd not sowe? Wherefore then gauest thou my money into the banke, that at my coming I might haue requyred mine owne with vauntage?

E And he saied to them that stode by: take from him that pounde, and geue it vnto him that hath ten pounde. And they saied vnto him: Lord, he hath ten pounde. I saye vnto you, that vnto all them that haue, it shalbe geuen: and from him that hath not, euen that he hath, shalbe take from him. Moreouer, those mine enemyes whych he woulde not that I shoulde raygne ouer them, byng hither, & slea them before me. And when he hadde thus spoken, he proceeded forth before, ascendyng vp to Hierusalē.

And it fortuneth, when he was come nye Bethphage and Bethany, besyde mounte Oliuet, he sent two of hys dysciples, sayinge: Go ye into the towne whiche is ouer against you. In the which as one as ye are come, ye shall finde a colte tied, wheron yet neuer man sat. Lewse hym and byng him hither. And if any man aske you whye that ye lewse him, thus saye vnto him: the lord hath nede of him.

They that were sent, went their waye, & founde euen as he had sayd vnto them. And as they were a lewse the colte, the owners said vnto them: why leuse ye the colt? And they sayd: for the Lorde hath nede of him. And they brought hym to Iesus. And they cast theyr raiment on the colte, & sette Iesus thereon. And as he went, they spread their clothes in the waye.

And when he was now come, where he shoulde go downe from the mount Oliuet, the whole multitude of the disciples beganne to reioyce, and to laude God wth a loude voice, for all the miracles that they had sene, saying: Blessed be the kyng that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heauen, and glorie in the hyste. And some of the phariseis of the company said vnto hym: Maister, rebuke thy disciples. He answered and sayed vnto them: I tell you, if these shoulde holde theyr peace, the stones would crye.

And when he was come neare, he beheld the citie, and wepte on it, sayinge: If thou haddest knowen those thynge, whych be long vnto thy peace, euen at this thy time, But now are they hyd from thyne eyes. For the dayes shal come vpon the, that thy enemyes shal cast a banke aboute the, and compass the round, and kepe the in on euery side, and make the euen with the ground, with children whiche are in the. And they shal not leaue in the one stone vpon another, because thou knowest not the tyme of thy visytacion.

And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought, saying vnto them: it is wrytten: my house is the house of prayer, but ye haue made it a den of theues. And he taught daylye in the temple.

The hye priestes and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people went about to destroye hym, but could not fynd what to do. For all the people sticke by him and gaue hym audyence.

The Notes.

- (a) Loke in Mathew the xiii. Chapter.
- (b) Here peace is take for helth, as in Esa. lvi.

The xx. Chapter.

Christ wyppeth away the question of his authorite, and checketh the wyckednes of the priestes by the synpletyude of the vyne and husbandmen: he sheweth that Tribute must be payd vnto Cesar: and confuteth the Saducees that denyeth the Resurrecyon: he sheweth pryncipallye whole sonne Messias was, and warneth vs to beware of the Scribes.

John. xli. b

Mat. xxiii. b
mar. xiii. a
Luke. xxi. a

Sellers & byers.
Mat. xxi. b
Mark. xi. b
Esa. lvi. c
Hier. vii. b

To hym & hath.
Peace.

Mat. xxi. c.
Mar. xi. d

Baptisme
of Jhon.

Vineyard
Mar. xxi. a Esay. v. a Micah. ii.

psal. cxviii.
Act. iiii. d
Rom. ix. g
1. Pet. iii. a
1. Cor. xiii. a

Mat. xxi. b
Mar. xxi. d.

And it fortuned in one of those daies as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospell: the hie priests and the Scribes came wpth the elders and spake vnto hym, saying: Tel vs by what authority thou doest these things? Either who is he that gaue the thys authority? He answered and sayed vnto them: I also wpll aske you a question and aunswere me. The baptisme of Jhon, was it fro heauen or (a) of me? And they thought within themselves, saying: if we shal say from heauen, he wpll saye: why then beleued ye hym not? But and if we shal say, of men, all the people wpll stone vs. For they be perswaded that Jhon is a prophet. And they aunswere that they coude not tel whence it was. And Jesus said to them: neyther tel I you by what authority I do these thynges.

BThen began he to put forth to the people, thys similitude. A certayne man planted a vineyarde, and let it forth to farmers and went hym selfe into a straunge counfre for a great season. And when the time was come, he sente hys seruaunte to hys tenants that they shoulde geue hym of the frutes of the vineyarde. And the tenants dyd beate hym, and sent hym away emptye. And agayne he sente yet another seruaunte. And they dyd beate hym and foule entreated him also, and sent him away emptye. Moreouer, he sent the third to, and hym they wounded and cast out. Then sayde the Lorde of the vineyarde: what shall I do? I wyl sende my deare son, hym perauenture they wil reuerence, when they se hym.

But when the farmers sawe hym, they thoughte in theym selues, saying: thys is the heire, come let vs kyll hym, that the inheritance may be oures. And they cast hym out of the vineyard, and kylled hym. Now what shall the Lorde of the vineyarde doo vnto the? He wyl come and destrope those farmers, and wpll let out hys vineyarde to other. When they hearde that, they sayed: God forbid.

CAnd he beheld them and sayd, what meaneth thys then that is wyrtten? The stone that the bylders refused, the same is made the heade corner stone? Whosoever stoneth at that stone shal be broke: but on whosoever it fall vpon, it wpll grynde hym to powder. And the hie priests and the Scribes, the same houre went about to lay handes on him, but they feared the people. For they perceiued that he had spoken thys similitude against them.

DAnd they watched hym, and sente forth spyes whiche shoulde fayne theym selues perfecte, to take hym in hys wordes, and to delpue him vnto the power and authority of the debite. And they axed hym, saying: Master, we knowe that thou saiest and teachest ryght, neyther considerest thou any mans degre, but teachest the way of God truly. Is it lawfull for vs to geue Cesar tribute or no? He perceiued they craftines and sayed vnto them. Why tempt ye me? Shew me a peny. Whose ymage and superscripcion hath it? They answered & sayed: Cesars. And he sayd vnto the: Geue then vnto Cesar that which belongeth vnto Cesar: and to god that which pertapneth to God. And they coude not reprove hys sayinge before the people. But they maruailed at hys answere, and helde their peace.

EThen came to hym certayne of the Sadduces, whiche denye that there is any resurrection. And they axed hym saying: master, Moyses wrote vnto vs if any mannes brother dye hauynge a wyfe and the same dye wythout yssue, that hys brother shuld take hys wyfe and rapse vpon sede vnto hys brother. There were vii. brethren, and the fyrste toke a wyfe, and dyed wythout children. And the seconde toke the wyfe, and he died childlesse. And the thirde toke hir, and in lykewyse the residue of the seuen, and lefte no children behinde them, and died. Last of al a woman died also. Now at the resurrection whose wyfe of them shall she be? For seuen had hir to wife?

FJesus answered and sayed vnto them: (b) The children of thys worlde marry wies and are married. But they whiche shal be made worthy to enioye the worlde and resurrection from death, neither marry wies nor are married: for they are equal vnto the angels: & are the sonnes of God, in as muche as they are the children of the resurrection. And the deade shall rylse agayne, euen Moyses signified besides the bush, when he sayd: The Lord God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. For he is not the God of the dead, but of them which lyue. For al lyue in hym. The certayne of the pharises answered and sayed: master thou hast wel said. And after that durst they not aske hym any question at al?

GThen sayed he vnto them: how say they that Christe is Dauides sonne? And Dauid hym selfe sayeth in the booke of the psalmes: The Lorde sayde vnto my Lord sit on my ryght hande, tyll I make thyn enemyes thy fote stole. Seinge Dauid called hym Lord, howe is he then his sonne.

HThen in the audience of all the people, he sayd vnto hys Disciples, beware of the Scribes, whiche desyre to go in longe clothynges, and loue gretynge in the marketes, and the hiest seates in the synagoges and chiefe roumes at feastes, whiche deuoure wydowes houses, and that vnder a colour of longe prayng: the same shall receiue greater damnacion. The Notes.

(a) Loke in Mathew. xxi. c.
(b) There is a place for them that holde somuche with the wyues lyfe, if in be fleschely taken (as in dead they vse to take al Scriptures) but take it after the spirite as it is spoken of the children of God, after the Resurrection, and is

Tribute to Cesar.
Ro. xiii. b.

Saduses.
Mat. xxi. f.
Mar. xxi.
Deu. xxv. b.

Exo. iii. d

Mat. xxi. b
Mar. xxi. b.
psal. cx. a.

Mat. xxi. b.
Mar. xxi. a.
Luke. ix. f

Jerusalem nothing for them: for Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were of those children of God that Christ speaketh of here, and yet were marred in this life.

The .xxi. Chapter.

The offering of the widow was preferred before the rich men. Christ sheweth the before of the destruction of the temple and the city, with the signes that shall go before it, and with the afflictions of his disciples. He sheweth what tokens shall go before the day of judgement, exhorting all men to watch and be sober.

A He beheld, he sawe the rich men how they caste in their offerings into the treasury. And he sawe also a certayn pooze widdow which cast in thither two mytes. And he sayd: of a truth I saye vnto you, this pooze widdow hath put in more then they all. For they all haue of theyr superfluite adde vnto the offering of God: but she, of hir penury hath caste in all the substance that she had.

Destruc- As some spake of the temple, how it was cion of the garnished with goodly stones and iewels, temple. he sayd: The dayes wyl come, when of these thynges whych ye se, shall not be left stone vpon stone, that shall not be throwen downe. And they asked hym, sayinge: Master, when shall these thynges be, and what signe will there be, when such thynges shall come to passe?

Ihon. iiii. c And he saied: take hede, that ye be not deceived: for many will come in my name saying: I am he: & the time draweth neare. Follow ye not them therfore. But when ye heare of warre and dissencion, be not afraid. For these thynges must first come: but the ende foloweth not by and by. Then sayed he vnto them. Forson shall rise agaynst nacion, and kyngdome agaynst kyngdome, and great earthquakes shall be in certayne places, and hunger, and pestilence, & fearfull thynges. And greates signes shall ther be from heauen.

A promise But before all these they shall laye theyr handes on you, and persecute you, deliuering you vp to the Synagoges and into prison, and bring you before kings and rulers for my names sake. And this shall chaunce you for a testimoniall. Let it sticke therfore fast in your hertes, not once to study before what ye shall answer: for I will giue you a mouth and wysdome whereagaynst all your aduersaries shall not be able to speake nor resiste. Yea and ye shall be betrayed of your fathers and mothers, and of your brethren, & kynsmen and louers, and some of you shall they put to death: & hated shall ye be of al men for my names sake. Yet ther shall not one herre of your heades perish. With your patience (a) possesse your soules.

Mar. xiii. b And when ye se Jerusalem beseged math. xxiii with an hoste, then vnderstande that the Dan. ix. g. desolacion of the same is nye. Then lette them which are in Jewry fflye to the mountaynes. And lette them whych are in the midde of it depart out. And lette not them that are in other countries, enter therein. For these be the dayes of vengeance, to fulfill all that are writen. But wo bee to them that be with chylde, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes: for there shall be great trouble in the land, and wrath ouer all this people. And they shall fall on the edge of the swerde, and shall be lead captiue into all nacions. And Jerusalem shall be troden vnder fote of the gentyls, vntill the tyme of the gentyls be fulfilled.

* And ther shall be signes in the sunne, and in the moone, and in the starres, and in the earth the people shall be in such perplexite that they shall not tell which way to turne themselves. The sea and the waters shall roze, and mennes hertes shall faile them for feare: and for lokyng after those thynges, which shall come on the earth. For the powers of heauen shall moue. And then shall they se the sonne of man come in a cloude with power and great glory. When these thynges begyn to come to passe, then loke vp, and (b) lift vp your heades, for your redemption draweth nye.

And he shewed them a similitude: behold the figge tree, and all other trees, wher they shute forth their buddes, ye se and know of your owne selues, that sommer is then nye at hand. So lykwylse ye (when ye se these thynges come to passe) vnderstand that the kyngdome of God is nye. Verely I say vnto you, this generacion shall not passe till all be fulfilled. Heauen and earth shall passe: but my wordes shall not passe.

* Take hede to your selues, lest your hertes be overcome with surfeting, and drunkennes, and cares of this world: and that that daye come not on you vnwares. For as a snare shall it come on al them that slyt on the earth. Watche therfore continually and pray, that ye maye obtayne grace to fflye all this that shall come, & that ye maye stande before the sonne of man.

In the daye tyme, he taught in the temple, and at night he went out and had abydinge in the mount Oliuet. And al the people came in the mornynge to him in the temple, for to heare hym.

The Notes.

(a) The soule is possessed, when thorow fayeth in Christ, we presently suffer all aduersities. (b) To lyfte vp the heade, is to be merie and reioyce at the remembraunce of a thyng.

The .xxii. Chapter.

Whyle Christe prepareth to kepe Easter with his disciples, he was sold of Judas. He sent before men to prepare the Pascale lambe, and at the solemnitye therof ordered his holy supper. He appealed the stryunge for the primacy, and shewed of the chaunces that should come after: goynge into the garden, he prayed muche and was taken: Peter solowynge hym when he was led away, denyed hym thryes. Jesus after he had a good whyle bene scorned, was asked whether he was the sonne of God, and Ananias or not.

math. xxiii. c.
mar. xiii. c.
Esa. xlii. b.
ezec. xxxi. d.
Joel. iii. c.

Watche.

To possesse the soule.
To lift vp the heade.

Mat. xxi. a
mar. xlii. a

The feast of swete breade due nye whpch is called Easter: and the hie priests and Scribes sought howe to kpl him, but they feared the people. Then entred Sathan into Jhu das whose sir name was Iscariot (whpche was of the number of the twelue) and he wente his wape & communed wpth the hie priestes and officers, howe he myghte be-trape hym to thepm. And they were glad, & prompted to geue hym monye. And he consented and soughte oportunitie to betrape him vnto them, without trouble.

Then came the dape of swete bread, whē of necessitie the Easter lambe must be offered.

And he sente Peter and Jhon, sayinge: goo and prepare vs the Easter lambe, that we maye eate. They sayed to hym. Where wylte thou that we prepare? And he sayed vnto them. Beholde when ye be entred into the cite, there shall a man mete you bea-ryng a pytcher of water, hym folowe into the same house that he entreteth in, and saye vnto the good man of the house. The maister sayeth vnto the: where is the gest chamber, where I shall eate myne Easter lambe wpth my Disciples? And he shall shew you a greete parloure paved: Ther make redy.
And they wente and found as he had sayed vnto thepm: and made redye the Easter lambe.

And when the houre was come, he satte downe and the twelue Apostles wpth him.
And sayed vnto them: I haue inwardly desired to eate thys Easter lambe wpth you before that I suffer. For I saye vnto you: henceforth I wpll not eate of it anye more vntill it be fulfilled in the kyngdome of God. And he toke the cup and gaue thankes, and sayde. Take thys and deuyde it among you. For I say vnto you: I wil not drinke of the fruit of the vine vntil þ kyngdome of god be come.

The sacra-mente is institute.

And he toke breade, gaue thanckes, and broke it, and gaue it to them sayinge. This is my body whpche is geuen for you. Thys do in the remembraunce of me. A pkewpe also, when thei had supped, he toke the cup sayinge. Thys cup is the newe testamente in my bloude, whiche shall for you be shed.

Math. xvi. b
mar. xlii. b
Jhon. xlii. c

Yet beholde, the hande of hym that be-trapeth me, is wpth me on the table. And the sonne of man goeth as it is appointed.
But wo be to that man by whom he is betraped. And they began to enquire among them selues, which of them it shuld be that shuld do that.

Breakfast.

Math. xvi. b

Mar. x.

And there was a stryfe amōg them, whiche of them shuld be taken for the gre-test. And he sayd vnto the: the kings of the gentils raigne ouer them, & they þ bear rule ouer them, are called gracious lordes. But ye shal not be so. But he that is greatest among you shal be as the yōgest: & he that is chief shal be minister. For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meate, or he that serueth? Is not he that sitteth at meate? And I am amonge you, as he that ministrereth.

Ye are they whpche haue bydden wpth me in my temptacions. And I appoynte vnto you a kyngdom, as my father hath appointed to me, that ye maye eate and dryncke at my table in my kyngdome, and sitte on seates, and iudge the twelue trybes of Israell.

And the Lorde sayed: Symon, Simon behold, Sathan hath despied you, to sift you as it were wheate: but I haue prayed for þ that thy fayeth faile not. And when thou arte conuerted, strenght thy brethren. And he sayed vnto hym: Lorde I am redy to go wpth the into prysen, and to death. And he sayed: I tell the Peter, the cocke shall not croue thys dape, till thou haue twyse denyed that thou knewest me. And he sayed vnto them: when I sent you wpthout wallet and scrpp & shoes, lacked ye any thing?
And they sayed, no. And he sayed vnto the but now he that hath a wallet let him take it wth, and lykewyse his scrpp. And he that hath no swerde, lette hym sell hys cote and bye one. For I say vnto you, that pet, that whpche is wyrtten muste be performed in me: euē wpth the wycked was he numbrd.
For those thynges whiche are wyrtten of me haue an ende. And they sayed: Lord be-holde here are two swerdes. And he sayed vnto them, it is inoughe,

Simons
sayth: I sayeth not.

Math. xvi. d
Mar. xlii. c

Bi a swerd
Esa. liii. d.

And he came out & went as he was wont, to mount Oliuet. And the disciples folo-wed him. And whē he came to the place, he sayed to them: praye, lest ye fal into temp-tacion.

Two swer-
des.

Math. xvi. c
Mar. xlii. a Jhon. xlii. a

And he gate hym selfe from them, about a stones cast, and kneled doune, & prayed, saying. Father if thou wilt, wdrawe thys cup from me. Neuertheles, not my wil, but thine be fulfilled. And ther appered an angel vnto him from heauen, confortyng him. And he was in an agony, & prayed somewhat leger.
And his sweate was like drops of bloude trickling down to the ground. And he rose vp from prayer, and came to his disciples and found them slepyng for sorowe, and sayed vnto them: Why slepe ye? Rise and praye, lest ye fal into temptacion.

Christ ar-meth hym
self agast
his passio.
An angell comforyth
hym.
He swea-
teth bloud.

While he yet spake, behold there came a company, & he þ was called Judas one of the twelue, went before them, and preased nigh vnto Iesus to kisse him. And Iesus saied vnto him: Judas betraiest thou þ son of man with a kisse? When thei which were about him saw what wold folow, they saide vnto him: Lord, shal we smite with swerde?
And one of the smote a seruante of þ hie priest of al, & smot of his right eare. And Jesus answered, & sayed: Suffer ye thus far-forth. And he touched his eare & heled him.

Eare is smitten of

Then Iesus sayed vnto the hie priestes and Rulers of the Temple, and the elders whpche were come to him: Be ye come out as vnto a thefe wpth swerdes and stauers?
Whē I was dayly with you in the temple ye stretched

Math. xvi. e
Mar. xlii. b
Jhon. xlii. b

retched not forth hands against me. But this is euen your very hour, and the power of darknes. When toke they him, and led him and broughte hym to the hye priestes house. And Peter folowed a farre of.

Mat. xiii. f
Jhon. xviii
Peter denyeth.
When they had kindled a fyre in the middes of the palace, and were set downe together: Peter also sate downe among them. And one of the wenches behelde hym as he sate by the fyre, and set good eye sighte on him, and sayde: this same was also wth him. When he denyed him, sayinge: woman I know him not. And after a lytle whyle, another sawe hym, and sayd: thou art also of them. And Peter sayed: man I am not. And about the space of an houre after, another affirmed, sayinge: verely, euen this fellow was with him: for he is of Galile. And Peter said: manne, I wote not what thou sayest. And immediatly while he yet spake, the cocke crewe. And the Lord turned back and looked vpon Peter. And Peter remembered the wordes of the Lord, how he sayd vnto him: before the cock crow, thou shalt denie me thryse. And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.

Christ is mocked.
And the men stode about Iesus, mocked him, and smote him, and blindfolded hym, and smote his face. And axed him, sayinge: arede who is it that smote the? And manye other thynge despitfullpe saied they against him.

ma. xxvii. g
ma. xxviii. g
Jh. xviii. g
And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the hygh priestes and Scribes came together, and led him into the court, sayinge: art thou very Christ, tell vs? And he saied vnto them. If I shall tell you, ye will not beleue. And if also I axe you, ye will not answer me, or let me go. Hereafter shall the son of man syt on the ryght hand of the power of God. The said they al: Art thou then the son of God? He sayd to them: ye say that I am. Then sayd they al: what nede we any further witness? We our selues haue heard of his owne mouth.

The xxiii. Chapter.

Christ is deliuered to Pilate.
Christ is deliuered to Pilate, who after he had sent him to Herod, receiued hym again: and constrained by the importunyte of the people, commaunded hym to be crucified, who he knewe to be an innocent, after that is described the death and sepulchre of our saviour, and set out with all circumstances.

He is deliuered to Pilate.
And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto Pilate. And they beganne to accuse him, sayinge: We haue found this fellowe peruertryng the people, and forbyddyng to paye tribute to Cesar, sayinge that he is Christe a kynge. And Pilate apposed hym, sayinge: arte thou the kynge of the Jewes? He answered hym and sayed: thou sayest it. Then sayed Pilate to the hye priestes, and to the people: I fynde no faute in this manne. And they were the more fierce, sayinge: He moueth the people, teachyng the thoroweoute all Jewrye, and beganne at Galyle, euen to thys place. When Pilate hearde mencon of Galile, he axed whether the man were of Galyle. And as soon as he knewe that he was of Herods iurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, whiche was also at Hierusalem in those dayes. And when Herod saw Iesus, he was exceedingly glad. For he was desirous to se him of a long season, because he had heard manye thynge of him, and trusted to haue sene some miracle done by him. The questioned he with him of many thinges. But he answered him not one word. The hye priestes and Scribes stode forthe and accused hym straptly. And Herod with his men of warre despised him and mocked him, and arrayed him in white, and sent him agayne to Pilate. And the same day Pilate and Herode were made frendes together. For before they were at variaunce.

He holdeth his peace.

mat. xxvi. e
Mar. xv. b
Jh. xviii. g

And Pilate called together the hye priestes and the rulers, and the people, & sayed vnto them. Ye haue brought this man vnto me, as one that peruerter the people. And beholde, I haue examined him before you, and haue founde no faute in this man of those thynge wherof ye accuse him: no noy pet Herode. For I sent you to him, and lo, nothing worthy of death is done of him. I will therfore chasten him & let him leue. For of necessity he must haue let one lewse vnto them at the feast.

And all the people cryed at once, sayinge: awake with him, and deliuer to vs Barababas, whiche for insurrection made in the citie, and murder, was caste into prison. Pilate spake agayne to them willing to let Iesus lewse. And they cryed, sayinge: Crucifye hym, crucifye hym. He said vnto them the thyrde tyme. What euill hath he done? I finde no cause of death in him, I will therfore chasten hym, and lette him lewse. And they cryed with a loude voyce, and required that he might be crucified. And the voyce of them and of the hye priestes preuailed.

Barababas

And Pilate gaue sentence, that it should be as they required: and lette lewse vnto them, him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they desired: and deliuered Iesus to doo with him what they woulde. And as they led him awake, they caughte one Simon of Syren, commyng out of the fiede, and on him laid they the crosse, to beare it after Iesu.

ma. xxvii. d
Mar. xv. b
Jhon. xix. d

And there folowed him a great company of the people, and of women, whiche women bewailed and lamed him. But Iesus turned backe vnto them, and said. Doughters of Ierusalem, wepe not for me: but weepe for your selues, and for your chyldren. For beholde the daies wil come, when men shall say: Happy are the barayne and the wombes that neuer bare, and the pappes that neuer gaue sucke. When shall they begynne to say to the mountaines: fal on vs: and to the hilles, couer vs. For if they do this to a grene tre, what shall be done to the drye?

De. x. b
Apoca. ix. b

Esa. lvi. a
Gal. iii. d

And

E And there were two euill doers led wpth him to be slaine. And when they were come to the place which is called Caluarie, ther they crucified him, and the euill doers: one on the righte hande, and the other on the lefte. Then said Iesus: father forgeue the, for they wote not what they do. And they parted his rayment, and cast lots. And the people stode and behelde.

He is mocked. And the rulers mocked him with them saying: he help other men, let him help him selfe, if he be Christ the chosen of god. The souldiers also mocked him, and came, and gaue him vinegre and saied: if thou be that king of the Jewes, saue thy selfe? And hys superscription was written ouer him, in greke, in latin, and in Hebrue: This is the king of the Jewes.

Paradyse And one of the euill doers which hanged, rapped on him, saying: If thou be Christe, saue thy self and vs. The other answered and rebuked him, saying: Neither fearest thou God, because thou arte in the same damnacio? We are rightuoullie punished, for we receiue according to our dedes. But this man hath done nothyng amis. And he sayd vnto Iesus: Lorde remember me whe I comest into thy kyngdome. And Iesus saied vnto him. Verely I saie vnto the, to day shalt thou be wpth me in (a) Paradyse.

Maple. And it was aboute the sixt houre. And there came a darcknes ouer all the lande, vntill the nyynth hour, and the sunne was darckened. And the baile of the temple did rent euen thorough the myddes. And Iesus cried with a great voice, and saied: Father, into thy handes I commende my spirit. And when he thus sayd, he gaue vp the ghost. When the Centurion saw what had happened, he glorified God, saying: Of a suertie, thys man was perfecte. And al the people came together to the sight, & beholdinge the thynges which were done: smote their breastes, and returned home.

His frends And all his acquaintaunce, and the women that folowed him from Galile, stode a farre of, beholdinge these thynges.

mat. xvi. g And beholde, ther was a man named Joseph, a counselloure, and was a good man and a iust, and did not consent to the counsell and dede of them, whych was of Aramathya, a city of the Jewes: whych the same also wayted for the kyngdome of God: he went vnto Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus, and toke it doune, and wrapped it in a linnen clothe, and layed it in a hewen tombe, wherein was neuer manne befoze laid. And that same day was the Saboth euen, and the Saboth drewe on. The women that folowed after, which came wpth him from Galyle, behelde the Sepulchre, and how hys body was layd. And they returned and prepared odours and ointmentes: but rested the Saboth daye, according to the commaundement.

The Notes.

Paradyse, (a) Paradyse is as muche to saye, as a place of Synghuler quyetnes and pleasure.

The. xliii. Chapter.

E The Maries whych came to seke Christe, heare tydynges that he is risen, he appereth to them that went to Emaus, and sette him selfe present to the disciples, which doubted of hys resurrection, by signes wptnessynge the very resurrection of hys bodye: to them expoundeth he the scriptures, comendeth the Gospel, and ascendeth into the heauens.

E In the mornynge after the Saboth both early in the mornynge, they came vnto the tombe, & brought the odours whych they had prepared and other women wpth theim. And they founde the stone rowled awape from the sepulcher, and went in, but found not the body of the Lorde Iesu. And it happened, as they were amased therat, Beholde two men stode by them in shynynge vesturs. And as they wer afrayd, and bowed doune they faces on the earth, they sayed to the: Why seke ye the lyuynge among the dead? he is not here, but is risen. Remember how he spake vnto you, when he was wpth you in Galyle, sayinge: that the sonne of man must be deliuered into the handes of synfull men, and be crucified, and the thyrde daye rise agayne.

And they remembred hys wordes, and returned from the sepulchre, & tolde al these thynges vnto the eleuen, and to al the remnaunte. It was Marpe Magdalene, and Ioanna, and Marpe Jacob, and other that were wpth them, whych told these thynges vnto the Apostles: and they wodes semed vnto them fained thynges, neyther beleued they them. Then rose Peter and raine vnto the sepulchre, and stowped in, and saw the linnen clothes laid by them selfe, and departed wonderynge in hymself at that whych had happened.

And behold, two of them went that same day to a towne, whych was from Ierusalem about thre score furlonges, called Emaus, and they talked together of al these thynges that had happened. And it chaunced as they communed together and reasoned, that Iesus hymselfe drue neare, and went wpth them. But their eyes were holden, that they coude not knowe hym. And he sayed vnto them: What maner of communications are these that ye haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad? And the one of them named Cleophas, answered and sayd vnto him: art thou only a straunger in Ierusalem, and haste not knowen the thyngs whych haue chaunced therein in these dayes? To whom he sayd: what thynges? And they sayd vnto hym: of Iesus of Nazareth, whych was a prophet, mightye in dede & word befoze God, and al the people. And how the hie priestes and our rulers deliuered him to be cōdemned to death: & haue crucified hym. But we trusted that it should haue bene he that shuld haue deliuered

ma. xvi. g.
Mar. xvi. b.
Jhon. xx. a.

B
Ma. xvi. d.
Mark. ix. d

Peter runneth to the graue.

E
Emaus.

E And there were two euill doers led wpth him to be slaine. And when they were come to the place which is called Caluarie, ther they crucified him, and the euill doers: one on the righte hande, and the other on the lefte. Then said Iesus: father forgeue the, for they wote not what they do. And they parted his rayment, and cast lots. And the people stode and behelde.

He is mocked. And the rulers mocked him with them saying: he help other men, let him help him selfe, if he be Christ the chosen of god. The souldiers also mocked him, and came, and gaue him vinegre and saied: if thou be that king of the Jewes, saue thy selfe? And hys superscription was written ouer him, in greke, in latin, and in Hebrue: This is the king of the Jewes.

Paradyse And one of the euill doers which hanged, rapped on him, saying: If thou be Christe, saue thy self and vs. The other answered and rebuked him, saying: Neither fearest thou God, because thou arte in the same damnacio? We are rightuoullie punished, for we receiue according to our dedes. But this man hath done nothyng amis. And he sayd vnto Iesus: Lorde remember me when thou comest into thy kyngdome. And Iesus saied vnto him. Verely I saie vnto the, to day shalt thou be wpth me in (a) Paradyse.

Maple. And it was aboute the sixt houre. And there came a darcknes ouer all the lande, vntill the nyynth hour, and the sunne was darckened. And the baile of the temple did rent euen thorough the myddes. And Iesus cried with a great voice, and saied: Father, into thy handes I commende my spirit. And when he thus sayd, he gaue vp the ghost. When the Centurion saw what had happened, he glorified God, saying: Of a suertie, thys man was perfecte. And al the people came together to the sight, & beholdinge the thynges which were done: smote their breastes, and returned home.

His frends And all his acquaintaunce, and the women that folowed him from Galile, stode a farre of, beholdinge these thynges.

mat. xvi. g And beholde, ther was a man named Joseph, a counselloure, and was a good man and a iust, and did not consent to the counsell and dede of them, whych was of Aramathya, a city of the Jewes: whych the same also wayted for the kyngdome of God: he went vnto Pilate, and begged the body of Iesus, and toke it doune, and wrapped it in a linnen clothe, and layed it in a hewen tombe, wherein was neuer manne befoze laid. And that same day was the Saboth euen, and the Saboth drewe on. The women that folowed after, which came wpth him from Galyle, behelde the Sepulchre, and how hys body was layd. And they returned and prepared odours and ointmentes: but rested the Saboth daye, according to the commaundement.

The Notes.

Paradyse, (a) Paradyse is as much to saye, as a place of Synghuler quyetnes and pleasure.

The. xliii. Chapter.

E The Maries whych came to seke Christe, heare tydynges that he is risen, he appereth to them that went to Emaus, and sette him selfe present to the disciples, which doubted of hys resurrection, by signes wptnessynge the very resurrection of hys bodye: to them expoundeth he the scriptures, comendeth the Gospel, and ascendeth into the heauens.

E In the mornynge after the Saboth both early in the mornynge, they came vnto the tombe, & brought the odours whych they had prepared and other women wpth them. And they founde the stone rowled awape from the sepulcher, and went in, but found not the body of the Lorde Iesu. And it happened, as they were amased therat, Beholde two men stode by them in shynynge vesturs. And as they wer afrayd, and bowed doune they faces on the earth, they sayed to the: Why seke ye the lyuynge among the dead? he is not here, but is risen. Remember how he spake vnto you, when he was wpth you in Galyle, sayinge: that the sonne of man must be deliuered into the handes of synfull men, and be crucified, and the thyrde daye rise agayne.

And they remembred hys wordes, and returned from the sepulchre, & tolde al these thynges vnto the eleuen, and to al the remnaunte. It was Marpe Magdalene, and Ioanna, and Marpe Jacob, and other that were wpth them, whych told these thynges vnto the Apostles: and they wodes semed vnto them fained thynges, neyther beleued they them. Then rose Peter and raine vnto the sepulchre, and stowped in, and saw the linnen clothes laid by them selfe, and departed wonderynge in hymself at that whych had happened.

And behold, two of them went that same day to a towne, whych was from Ierusalem about thre score furlonges, called Emaus, and they talked together of al these thynges that had happened. And it chaunced as they communed together and reasoned, that Iesus hymselfe drue neare, and went wpth them. But their eyes were holden, that they coude not knowe hym. And he sayed vnto them: What maner of communications are these that ye haue one to another as ye walke, and are sad? And the one of them named Cleophas, answered and sayd vnto him: art thou only a straunger in Ierusalem, and haste not knowen the thyngs whych haue chaunced therein in these dayes? To whom he sayd: what thynges? And they sayd vnto hym: of Iesus of Nazareth, whych was a prophet, mightye in dede & word befoze God, and al the people. And how the hie priestes and our rulers deliuered him to be cōdemned to death: & haue crucified hym. But we trusted that it should haue bene he that shuld haue deliuered

ma. xvi. g.
Mar. xvi. b.
Jhon. xx. a.

Ma. xvi. d.
Mark. ix. d.

Peter runneth to the graue.

Emaus.

The Gospell

nered Israell. And as touchynge all these thyngs, to day is euen the thyrde daye, that they were done.

Yea, and certayne womenne also of our company, made vs astonied, whych came earlye vnto the sepulchre, and founde not hys body: and came, sayinge that thei had sene a vision of Angels, whych sayed that he was aliue. And certayne of them whych were wpth vs, went their way to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the womē had said: but him they sawe not.

And he sayd vnto them: O fooles & slow of herte, to beleue all that the Prophetes haue spoken. Dughte not Chryste to haue suffered these thynges, and to enter into his glory? And he began at Moyses, and at all the Prophetes, and interpreted vnto them in all scriptures, whych were witten of him. And they drue nye vnto the towne whych thei wēt to. And he made as though he woulde haue gone further. But thei constrained him, saying: abyde with vs, for it draweth towards nyghte, and the daye is farre passed. And he went in, to tarpe with them.

And it came to passe as he sate at meate wpth them, he toke breade, blessed it, brake and gaue to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he vanyshe out of their syght. And they sayd betwene the selues: dyd not our hertes burne with in vs whyle he talked with vs by the wape, and as he opened to vs the scriptures? And they rose vp the same houre, and returned againe to Ierusalem, and found the eleue gathered together, and the that were with them, whych sayed: The Lorde is rysen in dede, and hath appeared to Simon. And they tolde what thynges were done in the way, and how they knewe him in breaking of bread. &

As they thus spake: & Iesus hym selfe stode in the myddes of them, and saide vnto them: Peace be wpth you. And they wer abashed and afrayed, supposyng that they had sene a spirit. And he sayed vnto them: Why are ye troubled, and why do thoughtes arysen in your hertes? Beholde my handes and my feete, that it is euen my selfe. Handle me, and see: for spirites haue not flesh and bones as ye se me haue. And whē he hadde thus spoken, he shewed them his handes and hys feete. And whyle they yet beleued not for ioye, and wondred, he sayd vnto them: haue ye here anye meate? And they gaue hym a piece of broyled fysh, and of an hony combe. And he toke it, and ate it before them.

And he sayed vnto them: These are the wordes whych I spake vnto you, whyle I was yet wpth you: that all must be fulfilled whych was witten of me in the lawe of Moyses, and in the Prophetes and in the psalmes. Then opened he their wittes that they might vnderstand the scriptures, and sayed vnto them: Thus is it witten,

of S. Luke.

and thus it behoued Chryste to suffer, and to rise againe from death the thirde day, & that repentaunce & remission of synnes should be preached in his name amonge all nacions: & and muste begynne at Ierusalem. And ye are wptnesses of these thynges. And behold, I wll send the promyses of my father vpon you. But tarpe ye in the cite of Ierusalem, vntyll ye be endewed with power from on hye.

And he led them out into Bethany, and lyft vp hys handes, and blessed them. And it came to passe, as he blessed them, he departed from them, and was carryed vp into heauen. And they worshipped him, and returned to Ierusalem, wpth great ioye, and were contynuallye in the temple, prayyng and lauding God. Amen.

There endeth the Gospell of Saynt Luke.

A Prologe

vpon the Gospell of Saint Iohn.

What he was, is manifeste by the thre firste Euangelistes. Firste Chryste the Apostle, and that one of the chiefe, Then Chryste my kynsmen, and for hys synfuler innocenye, & softnes, synfulerlye beloved, and of synfuler familiarite with Chryste, and euer one of the thre wptnesses, of mooste secrete thynges. The cause of hys wrytynge was certayne heresydes, that arose in hys tyme, and namely two, of whych one denyed Chryste to be very

ma. xxviii. d
Mar. xvi. d
Iohn. xi. c.

he geueth
the keyes.

The Gospell

uered Israell. And as touchynge all these thyngs, to day is euen the thyrde daye, that they were done.

Yea, and certayne womenne also of our company, made vs astonied, whych came earlye vnto the sepulchre, and founde not hys body: and came, sayinge that thei had sene a vision of Angels, whych sayed that he was aliue. And certayne of them whych were wpth vs, went their way to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the womē had said: but him they sawe not.

And he sayd vnto them: O fooles & slow of herte, to beleue all that the Prophetes haue spoken. Dughte not Chryste to haue suffered these thynges, and to enter into his glory? And he began at Moyses, and at all the Prophetes, and interpreted vnto them in all scriptures, whych were witten of him. And they drue nye vnto the towne whych thei wēt to. And he made as though he woulde haue gone further. But thei constrained him, saying: abyde with vs, for it draweth towards nyghte, and the daye is farre passed. And he went in, to tarpe with them.

And it came to passe as he sate at meate wpth them, he toke breade, blessed it, brake and gaue to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him: and he vanyshe out of their syght. And they sayd betwene the selues: dyd not our hertes burne with in vs whyle he talked with vs by the wape, and as he opened to vs the scriptures? And they rose vp the same houre, and returned againe to Ierusalem, and found the eleue gathered together, and the that were with them, whych sayed: The Lorde is rysen in dede, and hath appeared to Simon. And they tolde what thynges were done in the way, and how they knewe him in breaking of bread. &

As they thus spake: & Iesus hym selfe stode in the myddes of them, and saide vnto them: Peace be wpth you. And they wer abashed and afrayed, supposyng that they had sene a spirit. And he sayed vnto them: Why are ye troubled, and why do thoughtes arysen in your hertes? Beholde my handes and my feete, that it is euen my selfe. Handle me, and see: for spirites haue not flesh and bones as ye se me haue. And whē he hadde thus spoken, he shewed them his handes and hys feete. And whyle they yet beleued not for ioye, and wondred, he sayd vnto them: haue ye here anye meate? And they gaue hym a piece of broyled fysh, and of an hony combe. And he toke it, and ate it before them.

And he sayed vnto them: These are the wordes whych I spake vnto you, whyle I was yet wpth you: that all must be fulfilled whych was witten of me in the lawe of Moyses, and in the Prophetes and in the psalmes. Then opened he their wittes that they might vnderstand the scriptures, and sayed vnto them: Thus is it witten,

of S. Luke.

and thus it behoued Chryste to suffer, and to rise againe from death the thirde day, & that repentaunce & remission of synnes should be preached in his name amonge all nacions: & and muste begynne at Ierusalem. And ye are wptnesses of these thynges. And behold, I wll send the promyses of my father vpon you. But tarpe ye in the cite of Ierusalem, vntyll ye be endewed with power from on hye.

And he led them out into Bethany, and lyft vp hys handes, and blessed them. And it came to passe, as he blessed them, he departed from them, and was carped vp into heauen. And they worshipped him, and returned to Ierusalem, wpth great ioye, and were contynuallye in the temple, prayyng and lauding God. Amen.

There endeth the Gospell of Saynt Luke.

A Prologe

vpon the Gospell of Saint Iohn.

What he was, is manifeste by the thre firste Euangelistes. Firste Chryste the Apostle, and that one of the chiefe, Then Chryste my kynsman, and for hys synfuler innocenye, & softnes, synfulerlye beloved, and of synfuler familiarite with Chryste, and euer one of the thre wptnesses, of mooste secrete thynges. The cause of hys wrytynge was certayne heresydes, that arose in hys tyme, and namely two, of whych one denyed Chryste to be very

ma. xxviii. d
Mar. xvi. d
Iohn. xi. c.

he geueth
the keyes.

he verpe man, and to be come in verp fleſhe and nature of man. Agaynſt whpch two herelpes, he wrote both hys Gopell and alſo hys ſpake Epiſtle: and in the begynnynge of hys Gopell ſayeth: that the worde oz thynge was at the begynnynge, and was wpth God, and was alſo verp God, and that all thyngeſ were created and made by it, and that it was alſo made fleſh: that is to ſape: became verpe man. And he dwelte among vs (ſayeth he) and we ſaw hys gloze.

And in the begynnynge of hys Epiſtle, he ſayeth: we ſaw you of the thynge that was fro the begynnynge, whpch alſo we heard, ſaw wpth our eyes, and our handes handled. And agayne we ſaw you euerlaſtynge lyfe, that was wpth the father, and appeared to vs, and we hearde and ſaw. &c. In that he ſayth that it was from the begynnynge, and that it was eternall lyfe, and that it was wpth God, he aſſymeth hym to be verp God. And that he ſayth, we heard, ſawe and felte, he wptneſſeth that he was verpe man alſo. Jhon alſo wrote laſt, and therfore touched not the ſtoze that the other had compyled. But wptreth moſt of the ſayeth and promyle, and of the ſermons of Chriſt. Theſe be ſufficient, conſcrnyng the four Euangelifteſ, and theſe authoptye and worthynes to be beleued. Finis.

The Gopel of Saynt John.

The fyrſt Chapter.

The euerlaſtynge byrth of Chriſt, and how he became mā. The teſtimony of John. The calling of Andewe.

In the begyn- nunge was the worde, and the word was with God, and the word was god. The ſame was in the begyn- nyng with god. All thinges wer made by it, and without it was made nothynge that was made. In it was lyfe, and the lyfe was the lyght of men, & the light ſhyned in the darckenes, but the darcknes comprehended it not.

There was a man ſent from God whoſe name was John. The ſame came as a wit- nes to beare witnes of (a) the light, that al mē through him might beleue. He was not that light, but to beare wptnes of ſ light. That was a true lyght, whpch lighteth all men that come into the worlde. He was in the worlde, & the worlde was made by him, and yet the worlde knew him not.

He came amonge hys (owne) and hys owne receiued not hym. But as manye as (owne) receyued hym, to them he gaue power to be the ſonnes of God, in that they beleued on hys name: which were bozne not of the bloud, nor of the will of the fleſhe, nor yet of the wpll of man, but of God.

And the worde was made fleſhe, & dwelt among vs, and we ſawe the gloze of it, as the gloze of the only begotten ſonne of the father, which worde was full of grace and veritye. &

John bare witnes of him, and cried, ſay- inge: Whys was he of whome I ſpake, he that cometh after me, was before me: becauſe he was per then I. And of hys ful- nes haue al we receyued, euen (b) grace to grace. For the lawe was gauen by Moyses, but grace and truth came by Jeſus Chriſt. No man hath ſene God at any tyme. The onelp begotten ſonne, whiche is in the boſome of the father, he hath declared hym. &

And thys is the record of Jhon. When the Jewes ſent prietteſ and Leuiteſ from Jeruſalem to aſe him, what arte thou? (c) And he confeſſed and denied not, and ſayd playnely: I am not Chriſte. And they aſed hym: what then arte thou Elias? And he ſaid: I am not. Art thou a prophet? And he aunſwered, no. Then ſaid they vnto him: what art thou that we maye geue an aun- ſwere to them that ſente vs? What ſayeſt thou of thy ſelfe? He ſayed: I am the (d) voice of a cryar in the wylernes: make ſtraight the waye of the lorde, as ſayed the prophet Eſaias.

And they whpche were ſente, were of the phariſes. And they aſed hym, and ſaid vnto hym: why baptiſeſt thou then, if thou be not Chriſt, nor Elias, neyther a pro- phete? Jhon aunſwered them, ſayinge: I baptiſe with water: but one is come amōg you whom ye know not, he it is that com- meth after me, which was before me, whoſe ſhoe latchet I am not worthy to vnloſe. Theſe thinges were done in Bethabara be- yond Iordane, wher Jhon dyd baptiſe. &

The next dape Jhon ſaw Jeſus com- ming vnto him, and ſaid: beholde the lamb of God, which taketh awaye the ſinne of the worlde. Thys is he of whom I ſayde: After me cometh a man, whpch was be- fore me, for he was per then I, & I knewe him not: but that he ſhoulde be declared to Iſraell, therfore am I come baptiſynge wpth water.

And Jhon bare record, ſaying: I ſaw the ſpिरite deſcende from heauen, lyke vnto a doue, and abyde vpon hym, and I knewe hym not. But he that ſente me to baptiſe in water, the ſame ſayed vnto mee: vpon whom thou ſhalt ſe the ſpिरit deſcend, and tary ſtill on him, the ſame is he which bap- tyſeth wpth the holpe ghoſte. And I ſawe and beare record, that thys is the ſonne of God.

The next dape after John ſtoode agayn, and two of his dyſcyples: And he behelde Jeſus as he walked by, and ſaid: beholde the lambe of God. And the two dyſcyples hearde hym ſpeake, and folowed Jeſus.

Whh. i. And Faith ma- keth vs the ſons of God. Math. i. c. Luke. ii. d. Jhon bare wptnes.

Math. iii. a. Mark. i. a. Luke. iii. a. Eſay. xl. a.

Lambe.

Math. iii. b. Mark. i. b. Luke. iiii. d.

The Gospell

of S. John.

And Iesus tourned about and sawe them folow, and sayed vnto them: what seke ye? They saied vnto him: Rabbi (whiche is to saye by interpretacyō, Maister) wher dwellest thou? He sayd vnto them: come and se. They came and saw wher he dwelt: and abode with him that day. For it was aboute the tenth houre.

Andzewe.
Peter.

One of the two which heard Iohn speake and folowed Iesus, was Andzewe Simon Peters brother. The same founde hys brother Simon firste, and saied vnto him: wee haue found Messias, which is by interpretation, anointed: and brought him to Iesus. And Iesus behelde him, and said: thou art Simon the sonne of Ionas: thou shalt be called Cephas: whiche is by interpreta- cion, a stone.

Philip.
Nathanael.

Gen. xlii. b
De. xlvii. c
Ez. xlii. c.
Dan. ix. f.

The dayes folowing, Iesus wold go in to Galile, and found Philip, and sayd vnto him: folow me. Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andzewe and Peter. And Philip found Nathanael, and saied vnto hym. We haue founde him of whom Moyses in the law and the prophetes dyd wyte: Iesus the sonne of Ioseph of Nazareth. And Nathanael sayed to hym: Can there anpe good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip sayd to him: come and se.

Iesus saw Nathanael comming to him and sayd of him: Behold a righte Israelit, in whom is no gyle. Nathanael sayed vnto him: wher knewest thou me? Iesus answered, and sayed vnto him: Before that Philip called the when thou wast vnder the fig tre, I sawe the. Nathanael answered and saied vnto him: Rabbi, thou art the sonne of God, thou art the kynge of Israel. Iesus answered and said vnto him: Because I sayd vnto the, I sawe the vnder a figge tree, thou beleuest. Thou shalt se greater thinges then these. And he saied vnto him: Verely verely, I saye vnto you: hereafter shall yee see heauen open, and the angels of God ascending and descending ouer the sonne of man.

The Notes.

The lyght.

(a) By the lyght, is vnderstande Chyiste, and by the darcknes, vngodly and vnbelyuyng men, among whom Chyist came, and they beleued him not, as Ephel. iiii. D

Grace for grace.

(b) By grace vnderstand fauour. The meaning is: For the fauour that God the father hath to hys sonne Chyiste, hath he resceiued vs into fauour. So that as Chyiste is beloued of the father, euen so are we beloued for hys sake. As Roman. v. E

To se god.

(c) There can no bodyly eye beholde the magesty of God in hys excellent nature, as he is. As we haue declared in Exod. xxxiii. D

The voice.

(d) In that Iohn Baptiste affirmeth hymselfe to be that same forgoer of Chyiste, of whome it was spoken in Ely the. xi. Chapter. A

The. ii. Chapter.

Chyiste tourneth the water into wyne, and dryueth the byers and sellers oute of the temple.

And the thyrde day was there a marriage in Cana a cytie of Galyle: and a marriage the mother of Iesus was there. And in Cana Iesus was called also and hys dyscyples of Galile. vnto the marriage. And when the wyne failed, the mother of Iesus sayed vnto hym: they haue no wyne. Iesus saied vnto hyr: woman what haue I to do with the? Myne. Or rather houre is not yet come. His mother sayd vn what to the ministers: whatsoeuer he sayeth vn haue we to you, do it. And there were standyng ther to do. fyre waterpots of stone, after the maner of the purifyinge of the Jewes, containyng e two or thre sykins a peece.

And Iesus sayd vnto them: fylle the waterpottes with water. And they filled them vnto the brim. And he sayd vnto the: drawe out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feast. And they bare it. When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was turned vnto wyne, and knewe not whence that was (but the ministers which drue the water knewe.) He called the bridegrome, and saied vnto him: All men at the begynnyng, set forth good wyne, and (a) when men be dronke, then that which is worse. But thou hast kepte backe the good wyne vntill now.

Thys begynnynge of myracles did Iesus in Cana of Galyle, and shewed his glorye, and his disciples beleued on him. After that he descended into Capernaum, and his mother and his brethren, and hys disciples: but continued not many dayes ther. And the Jewes Easter was euen at hand, and Iesus went vp to Ierusalem, and founde sytting in the temple those that sold oxen and shepe, and doves, and changers of money: and he made a scourge of smal cords, and drave them all out of the temple, with the sheepe and oxen, and powred oute the changers of money, & ouerthrewe the tables, and saied vnto them that sold doves: Haue these thinges hence, and make not my fathers house an house of marchaundyse. And his disciples remembered howe that it was writen: the zeal of thine house hath euen eaten me. Then answered the Jewes and sayd to him: what token shewest thou vnto vs, seynge þ thou doest these thinges? Iesus answered and saied vnto them: destroy this temple, and in thre dayes I wyll reate it vp agayne. Then said the Jewes. xlvj. yeares was thys temple a buildyng: and wilt thou reate it vp in thre dayes? But he spake of the temple of his body. Affone therfore as he was rylen fro deathe again, his disciples remebred that he thus saied. And they beleued the scripture, and the wordes whych Iesus had sayed.

When he was at Ierusalem at Easter in þ feast, many beleued on hys name, when they sawe hys myracles, whiche he did, but Iesus put not hymself in their hands, because he knew all men, & neded not that a nyne man should testyfy of manne. For he knewe what was in man.

Water in wyne.

Sellers in the tēple
are caste
oute.

pt. lxxvi. d.
mat. xxvi. f.
mat. xlii. f.

psal. lvi. b.

psal. lvi. b.

and. lvi. c.

The

The Notes.

When me be dronke. (a) That is when men be fulfilled and satisfied
The. iii. Chapter.

The communication of Christ with Nicodemus. The doctrine and Baptisme of John, and what witness he beareth of Christ.

Nicodemus. Ther was a man of the pharises named Nicodemus a ruler amonge the Jewes. The same came to Jesus by nyghte and sayed vnto hym: Rabbi, wee knowe that thou arte a teacher whych art come from god. For no man could do such myracles as thou doest, excepte God were wpth him. Jesus answered, and sayed to hym: verely, verely, I say vnto the, except a manne be borne (a) a newe, he cannot se the kyngdom of God. Nicodemus sayed vnto hym: howe can a man be borne when he is olde? can he enter into hys mothers wombe and be borne agayne? Jesus answered, verely verely I saye vnto the: excepte that a man be borne of water and of spirite, he can not enter into the kyngdom of God. That whych is borne of the flesh is flesh: that whych is borne of the spirite, is spirite. Marueile not that I sayd to the: ye must be borne a newe. The wynd bloweth where it listeth: & thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh and whither it goeth: So is euery man that is borne of the spirite.

W And Nicodemus answered and sayed vnto hym, how can these thynges be? Jesus answered and sayd vnto him: art thou a mayster in Israel, and knowest not these thynges? Verely, verely, I saye vnto the: we speake that we knowe, and testify that we haue seene, and ye receiue not oure witness. If when I tell you earthly thynges, ye beleue not: howe shoulde ye beleue if I shal tel you of heauenly thynges?

And no man (b) ascendeth vp to heauen but he that came doune from heauen, that is to say, the son of man which is in heauen.

Rum. xxi. c. Serpente. Sayeth. i. Iho. iiii. a And as Moyses lyfte vp the serpent in the wylernes, euen so must the son of man be lift vp, that none that beleueth in hym perissh, but haue eternal life.

E For God so loueth the (c) world, that he hath geuen hys onely son: that none that beleue in hym, shoulde perishe: but should haue euerylastyng lyfe. For God sente not hys sonne into the world, to condemne the world: but so the world throughe him might be saued. He that beleueth on him, shal not be condemned. But he that beleueth not is condemned alredy, because he beleueth not in the name of the onely sonne of God. And this is the condemnation that lyght is come into the world, and the men loued darckenes more then lyght, because they dedes were euyl. For euerye man that euil doeth, hateth the lyght: neither cometh to the lyght, lest his dedes should be reproued. But he that doeth trueth cometh to the lyght that hys dedes myght be knowe.

wen howe that they are wrought in god. After these thynges came Jesus and hys Dysciples into the Jewes lande, and ther he haunted wpth them and baptised. And John also baptised in Enon besydes Salim, because ther was much water ther and they came & were baptised. For John was not yet cast into prison.

A And ther arose a question between Johns Dysciples and the Jewes, aboute purifyinge. And they came vnto John, and sayed vnto hym: Rabbi, he that was wpth thee beyonde Jordan, to whome thou bearest wptnes. Beholde the same baptiseth, and all men come to hym. John answered, and sayed: a man can receiue nothyng at all excepte it be geuen from heauen. Ye poure selues are wptnesses howe that I sayd: I am not Christe, but am sente before hym. He that hath the byrde is the byrdgrome. But the frend of the byrdgrome: whych standeth by and heareth hym, reioyseth greatly of the byrdgromes voyce. This my ioye is fulfilled. He muste increase: and I muste decreace.

He that cometh from on hye is aboue all. He that is of the earth, is of the earth, and speaketh of the earth. He that cometh from heauen, is aboue all, and what he hath seene and heard that he testifieth: but no man recepueth his testimony. How be it he that hath recepued hys testimony (d) hath set to hys seale & God is true. For he whogod hath sent, speaketh the wordes of God. (e) For god geueth not him the spirite by measure. The father loueth the son and hath geuen althynges into hys hand. He that beleueth on the sonne, hath euerylastyng lyfe: and he that beleueth not the son, shal not se life: but the wrath of god abydeth on him.

The Notes.

(a) This newe byrth, is the mortification of the flesh preached by John Baptist, and the renouynge of the spirite whych is the remission of synnes by Christe.

(b) To ascende to heauen, is to haue the perfect knowledge of heauenly thynges, whych no man hath, but the natural onely son of God hath it.

(c) In this place, the worlde signifyeth the chosen and them only that beleue.

(d) That is too pryncipe in hys belife as it were wpth a seale.

(e) Howe the spirite or gyftes of the spirite are geuen by measure, reade. Ro. xii. and. i. Cor. xii.

The. iiii. Chapter.

The lounge communicacion of Christ with the woman of Samaria by the welles syde. Howe he healed the rulers son.

A Sone as the Lorde had knowledge howe the pharises had heard that Jesus made and Baptised mo dysciples then John (thoughe that Jesus hym selfe Baptised not, but his Dysciples) he lefte Jewrye, and departed agayne into Galile. And it was soo that he muste nedes goo thowowe Samarya.

Then came he to a cite of Samaria called Sychar.

To be borne agayne.

To ascend to heauen. the world.

To set to hys seale. God geueth gyfts

The Gospell

Gen. xlviii. Sichar, besyde the possessyon that Jacob gaue to hys sonne Joseph. And there was Jacobs well. Iesus then weried in his ioy-nep, saie thus on the well.

And it was about (a) the fyrte hour: and there came a woman of Samaria to draw water. And Iesus sayed vnto hyr: geue me dryncke. For hys disciples wer gone away vnto the towne to buy meate. When sayed the woman of Samaria vnto hym: how is it, that thou beynge a Jewe, apest dryncke of me, which am a Samaritan? for the Jewes medle not wpth the Samaritans. Iesus answered & sayd vnto hyr: if thou knewest the gyfte of God, and who it is that sayth to the, geue me drinke, thou wouldest haue asked of hym, and he woulde haue geue the water of lyfe. The womanne sayd to hym: Spyr thou hast nothynge to drawe with, and the well is deepe, from whence then haste thou that water of lyfe? Art thou greater then our father Jacob, whych gaue vs this well, and he hymselfe dranke therof, & hys chyldren, and hys catel?

Iesus answered and sayed vnto hyr: whosoever dryncketh of thys water, shall thyrst agayne. But whosoever shal drynke of the water that I shall giue him, shal neuer be more a thyrst: but the water that I shal geue hi, shalbe in him a wel of water, springyng vp into euerlasting lyfe. The woman sayde vnto him: Sir, geue me of that water, that I thyrst not, neyther come hither to draw. Iesus sayd vnto hir: Go and call thy husbnde, and come hither. The woman answered and sayed to hym: I haue no husband. Iesus saied to hir: Thou hast well sayed, I haue no husbnde. For thou hast had fyue husbndes, and he whō thou now hast, is not thy husbnd. That saidest thou truely.

The woman sayde vnto him: Sir, I perceiue that thou art a prophet. Our fathers worshipped in this mountaine, and ye saye that in Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worshyppe. Iesus sayd vnto hyr: womanne beleue me, the houre commeth, when ye shall neyther in this mountayne, nor yet at Ierusalem worshyppe the father. Ye worshyppe, ye wote not what: we knowe what we worshyp: For saluacion commeth of the Jewes. But the houre cometh and now is, when the true worshypers shall worshyp the father in spirite and in truth. For verely such the father requyreth to worship him. God is a spirite, and they that worshyp him, muste worship him in spirit and truth.

The woman saied vnto him: I wote well Messias shall come, whych is called Christ. When he is come, he will tell vs all thynges. Iesus saied vnto hyr: I that speake vnto the, am he: And euen at that popnte, came his disciples, and merueyled that he talked wpth the woman. Yet no man sayd vnto hym: what meanest thou, or what talkest thou wpth hyr? The woman then left

of S. John.

hyr waterpot, and wente hyr way into the cylie, and saied to the men. Come se a man whych tolde me all thynges that euer I dyd. Is not he Christ? Then they went out of the cylie, and came vnto him.

And in the meane whyle hys discyples prayed hym, saying: Maister, eate. He sayed vnto them: I (b) haue meate to eate, that ye know not of. Then saied the disciples betwene themselves: hath anye man brought hym meate? Iesus saied to them: my meate is, to do the wyl of him that sent me. And to synnise hys workes. Saye not ye: there are yet four monethes, and then cometh haruest: Behold I saye vnto you, lifte vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: for they are whyte already vnto haruest. And he that repeth receiueith reward, and gathereth fruit vnto lyfe eternal: that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth might reioyce together. And herein is the saying true, that one soweth, and another reapeth. I sent you to reape that wherupon ye bestowed no labour. Other men laboured, and ye are entered into their laboures. Manye of the Samaritanes of that cylie beleued on hym for the sayinge of the woman, whych testyfyed: he told me all thynges that euer I dyd. Then when the Samaritanes were come vnto hym, they besought him that he would tary with them. And he abode there two dayes. And manye mo beleued, because of hys owne wordes, and sayed vnto the woman: Nowe we beleue, not because of thy sayinge: For wee haue heard hym our selues, and know that this is euen in dede Christe the Sauour of the world. &

After two daies he departed thence, and went awaye into Galyle. And Iesus hym selfe testyfyed, that a prophet hath no honoure in his owne countrey. Then asone as he was come into Galyle, the Galileans receyued him, whiche hadde sene all thynges that he dyd at Ierusalem at the feast. For they wente also vnto the feast daye. And Iesus came agayne into Cana of Galyle, wher he turned water into wine.

And there was a certaine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum. Asone as the same hearde that Iesus was come out of Iurpe into Galyle, he wente vnto him, and besought him, that he would descend and heale his sonne: For he was euen readye to dye. Then saied Iesus vnto him: except ye see signes and woundres, ye cannot beleue. The ruler sayde vnto hym: Sir come awaye, or euer my child dye. Iesus sayde vnto him: Go thy waye, thy son lyueth. And the man beleued the wordes that Iesus had spoken vnto hym, & went hys waye. And anon as he wente on hys waye, his seruauntes mete hym and tolde him, sayinge: thy chylde lyueth. The enquirer he of the houre when he began to amend, & they saied vnto him: yester daye the seuenthy houre the feuer left hym. And the father mat. xiii. g.

Mark. vi. 6
Luke. xlii. c

Ruler.

father knew that it was the same houre in whych Iesus sayd vnto hym: Thy sonne li-ueth. And he beleued & all hys housholde. & Thys is agayne the seconde myracle, that Iesus dyd after he was come out of Turpe into Galyle.

The Notes.

The syre
houre.

(a) The Jewes reckened the houres of theyr dayes from the sunne rylng to the sunne settyng, so the syre houre was syre houres after the sunne rylng, whych at that tyme of the yere was about none.

I haue
meat to eat

(b) Thys meate is, to do the wyll of hys father, and the chiefe thyng of hys fathers wyll is, to preache the Gospell to all the worlde, whych thyng was euen now at hand to be done, as whē comē is ryppē, men must fall to heruest.

The .v. Chapter.

He healeth the man that was sycke xxxviii yeres. The Jewes accuse hym, he answereth for hym selfe, and repproueth them.

After that there was a feaste of the Jewes, and Iesus went vp to Hieru-salem. And ther is at Hierusalem by the slaughterhouse, a poole called in the Hebrie tonge, (b) Bethesda, hauing .v. porches, in which lay a great multitude of sick folk, of blynd, halt, and withered, waiting for the mouyng of the water. For an angel went downe at a certayne season into the poole and troubled the water. Whosoever then firste after the styrryng of the water, stepped in, was made whole of whatsoe-uer disease he had. And a certayn man was there whych had ben diseased. xxxviii. yea-res. When Iesus sawe hym lye, and knew that he now long tyme had bene diseased, he sayd vnto hym: Wilt thou bee made whole? The sicke man answered him: Sir I haue no man whē the water is troubled, to put me into the poole. But in the meane tyme whyle I am aboute to come, another steppeth doune before me.

Gen. xxi. c.
Deu. xvi. c.

The man that laye xxxviii.
yere bi the poole is healed.

And Iesus saied vnto hym: ryse, take vp thy bed, and walke. And immediatlye the man was made whole, and toke vp his bed and went. And the same day was the Sab-both day. The Jewes therefore sayd to him that was made whole, it is the Sabboth daye, it is not lawfull for the to carpe thy bed. He answered them: he that made me whole, sayd to me: take vp thy bed, & get the hence. Then axed they hym, what man is that whych sayd vnto the, take vp thy bedde and walke? And he that was healed, wist not who it was. For Iesus had gotten hymselfe away, because þ ther was preace of people in the place.

The Sa-
both is broken.
Iere. xvi. c.

And after that, Iesus founde him in the temple, and said vnto him: behold thou art made whole, synne no more, lest a worse thyng happen vnto the. The man departed and tolde the Jewes that it was Iesus, whych had made him whole. & And therefore the Jewes did persecute Jesus, and soughte the meanes to slea him, because he had done these thynges on the Sabboth day. And Iesus answered them:

(c) my father worketh hitherto & I worke.
Therefore the Jewes sought the more to kil hym, not only because he hath broken the Sabboth, but sayed also that God was hys father, and made himself equal with God.

Then answered Iesus and sayd vnto them: verely verely, I say vnto you: the son can do nothyng of hymself, but that he seeth the father do. For whatsoeuer he doth, that doth the sonne also. For the father lo-ueth the sonne, and sheweth him all thyngges, whatsoeuer he hymselfe doth. And he will shew him greater workes then these, because ye should maruaile. For I pke wylle as the father rapseth vp the deade, and quickeneth them: euen so the sonne quic-keneth whom he will. Neither iudgeth the father anye man: but hath committed all iudgement vnto the sonne, because that al men should honour the sonne, euen as thei honour the father. He that honoureth not the sonne, the same honoureth not the father, whych hath sent hym. Verely verely, I saye to you, he that heareth my wordes, and beleueth on hym that sent me, hath euerlasting life, and shal not come into damnacpon: but is escaped fro death vnto life.

Christe is iudge ouer all.

Fayth.

Verely verely, I say vnto you: The tyme shal come and nowe is, when (d) the deade shal heare the voice of the sonne of God.
And they þ heare shal lyue. For as the father hath lyfe in hymself, so I pke wylle hath he geuen to the sonne to haue lyfe in hymselfe, & hath geue him power also to iudge, in that he is the sonne of man. Maruaile not at thys, the houre shal come, in the whych (e) all that are in the graues, shal heare hys voyce, and shal come forth: they that haue done good, vnto the resurreccion of lyfe, and they that haue done euil, vnto the resurreccion of damnacpon. & I can of myne owne selfe do nothing at all. As I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iuste, because I seke not myne own will, but the wyll of the father whych hath sent me. If I beate wptnes of my selfe, my wptnes is not true. Ther is another that beareth witnes of me, and I am sure that the wptnes whych he beareth of me, is true.

D
Mat. x. vi. c.

Resurrec-
cyon.

He that seeketh his owne wil, iudgeth
not truely

Ye sent vnto Iohn, and he bare witness vnto the truth. But I receyue not the (f) record of men. Neuerthelesse, these thynges I say that ye might be safe. He was a burnyng and a shynyng lpyght, and ye woulde for a season haue reioysed in his lpyght: But I haue greater wptnes then the witness of Iohn. For the workes whych the father hath geuen me to finish, the same workes whych I do, beare wptnes of me, that the father sente me. And the father hymselfe whych hath sent me, beareth witness of me.
Ye haue not hearde his voice at any tyme, nor ye haue sene his shape: therto his wor-des haue ye not abydyng in you. For who he hath sent: hym ye beleue not.

Mat. xii. v
and. xvi. c.

Deu. xii. b

Search the scriptures, for in them ye shall thinke

The Gospell

of S. John.

thynke ye haue eternall life: and they are they whiche testifie of me. And yet wyl ye not come to me that ye myghte haue lyfe. I receiue not praple of men. But I know you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you. I am come in my fathers name: and ye receiue me not. If another shall come in his own name, him wyl ye receiue. How can ye beleue which receiue* honour one of another, and seke not the honour that cometh of God only?

Be that se keth honor cannot beleue.
Moses.

Do not thynke that I wyl accuse you to my father. There is one that accuseth you, euen Moses in whom ye truste. For had ye beleued Moses, ye woulde haue beleued me, for he wrote of me. But seying ye beleue not his writinge, how should ye beleue my wordes? *

The Notes.

Slaughter house.
Bethsaida

(a) The greke hath shepehouse. A place where they kylled beastes that were offered.
(b) Some wyte, Bethsada. It is as much to say as a spittle or hospitall, wherein poore folke haue theyr beyng, whych place was by a pole, where the shepe that were offered in the temple were kept. And the synke remayned ther lokyng for the mounge of the water, &c.

My father
worcketh.
ec.

(c) This is my father ceaseth not to doo good vnto all men euen on the Saboth daye, and no more do I.

The deade
shal heare

(d) Here he speaketh of the resurrection and iustification whereby the wycked aryseth from hys wyckednes, & wherby the synner is brought from death of hys synnes to the life of ryghteousnes, and especially of the calling of the Gentiles, whiche was done after the comynge of the holy gost. For the Gentiles were stil counted as deade men.

Al that ar
in graues.

(e) Here meaneth he of the general resurrection whiche shalbe in the last daye.

The. vi. Chapter.

Jesus feedeth fyue thousand men, departeth awaye that they should not make hym king, and reproveth the schelpe hearers of hys wordes. The carnall are offended at hym.

Ma. xxi. b
Mar. vi. c
Luk. ix. b

After these thynges, Jesus went hys waye ouer the sea of Galilee. And a greate multitude folowed hym, because they hadde sene hys miracles whiche he did on them that were dysleasid. And Jesus went vp into a mountayne, & there he sat wth hys Dysciples. And Easter, a feaste of the Jewes was nye. *

Then Jesus lyft vp hys eyes, and sawe a greate compaignie come vnto hym, and sayd vnto Phillip: whence shal we by bread that these myghte eate? Thys he sayd to proue hym, for he hym selfe knewe what he woulde do.

Fyue lo-
ues and. ii.
fyshes.

Phillip answered him: two hundred peny worthe of breade are not sufficiente for theym, that euerye man haue a litle. Then sayd vnto hym one of hys Dysciples, Andrew Symon Peters brother. There is a lad here, whych hath fyue barley loues and two fyshes: but what is that among so many? And Jesus sayd: make the people set downe. Ther was much grasse in the place

And the men sat downe, in number about fyue thousande. And Jesus toke the bread and gaue thanks, and gaue the disciples, and hys Disciples to theym that were set downe. And likewise of the fyshes as much as they woulde.

When they had eaten ynoughe, he sayd vnto hys Dysciples: gather vp the broken meate that remayneth, that nothyng be lost: And they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskettes wth broken meate of the fyue barley loues and. ii. fyshes: whiche broken meate remayned vnto the that had eaten. Then the men when they hadde sene the miracle that Jesus did, sayd: this is of a truth the prophet that should come into the worlde. *

Luk. ix. b
Mat. xiii. f
mar. vi. f

When Jesus perceyued that they wold come and take hym vp to make hym king, he departed agayne into a mountayne hym selfe alone. And when euen was come, hys dysciples went vnto the sea, and entred in to a shyp, and went ouer the sea vnto Capernaum. And anon it was darcke, and Jesus was not come to theym. And the sea arose wth a great wynde that blew. And when they had rowen aboute a. xlv. or. xxx. furlonges, they sawe Jesus walke on the sea, and drawe nye vnto the shyp, and they were afraid. And he sayd to the: It is I, be not a frayde. Then woulde they haue receiued hym into the shyppe, and the shyppe was by & by at the land whither they wet.

The daye folowynge, the people whych stode on the other syde of the sea, sawe that there was non other shyp there, saue that one whereinto hys dysciples were entred, and that Jesus went not in wth hys disciples into the shyp, but that his Disciples were gon awaye alone. Howbeit ther cam other shyppes from Tiberias nye vnto the place where they eate bread when the lord had blessed. Then when the people sawe that Jesus was not there, neyther hys Dysciples, they also toke shyppe and came to Capernaum sekynge for Jesus: And when they hadde founde him on the other syde of the sea, they sayd vnto hym: Rabbi, when cammest thou hither? Jesus answered them and sayd: verely verely I say vnto you, ye seke me, not because ye sawe the miracles, but because ye eate of the loaves, and were fylled. * Labour not for the meat whiche perissheth but for the meate that endureth vnto euerlasting life which meate the son of man shal geue vnto you. For hym hath god the father (a) sealed.

Then sayd they vnto him: what shal we do that we might worke the workes of God? Jesus answered & said vnto them: This is the worke of God, that ye beleue on hym who he hath sent. They sayd vnto him: what signe shewest thou that we may se & beleue the? What doest thou worke? Our fathers did eate manna in the desert as it is written: He gaue them bread from heauen to eate. Jesus sayd vnto them: verely verely I say vnto you
Moses

Exod. xvi. f
Nume. xi. b
Psa. lxxviii
Sap. xvi. a

The Gospell

Of S. John. Fo. xlv.

Moses gaue you not bread fro heaue, but my father geueth you þ true bread fro heauen. For þ (b) bread of God is he, which cometh doune from heauen, and geueth lyfe vnto the worlde.

Ex. xxiii. c Then saied they vnto him: Lord, euermore giue vs this breade. And Iesus sayed vnto them: I am the bread of lyfe. He that commeth to me, shall not hunger: & he that beleueth on me, shall neuer thirst. &

But I saie vnto you: that ye haue sene me, and ye beleue not. All that the father geueth me shall come to me, and him that cometh to me, I cast not away. For I came down from heauen, not to do mine owne wpll, but his wpll whiche hath sente me. And this is the fathers wil, which hath sente me, that of all whiche he hath geuen me, I shoulde lose nothing: but shuld raise it vp agayne at the last day. And this is the wil of him that sent me: that euery manne whych seeth the son and beleueth on hym, haue euerlastyng lyfe. And I wil rapse him vp at the last day. The Jewes then murmured at him, because he saied: I am þ breade Mat. xiii. g which is come doune fro heauen. And they sayed: Is not this Iesus the sonne of Joseph, whose father and mother we know?
How is it then that he sayth: I come down from heauen? Iesus answered and sayed vnto them: Murmure not amonge poure selues.

* No man can come to me: excepte the father which hath sent me, drawe him. And I will rapse him vp at the last day. It is wri-ten in the prophetes: that they shall be all taught of God. Euerye man therfore that hath heard and hath learned of the father, commeth to me. Not that anye man hath sene the father, saue he whiche is of God, the same hath sene the father.

Here. xxi. Verely, verely I saie vnto you, he that beleueth on me, hath euerlastyng lyfe. I am that bread of lyfe. Your fathers did eat Manna in the wilderness & are dead. Thys is that bread which cometh from heaue, that he whych eateth of it shoulde also not dye. I am that lpyng bread whiche came down from heauen. If any man eat of this bread, he shall lyue for euer. And the breade that I will geue is my fleshe, whych I will giue for the lyfe of the world. And þ Jew-es stroue among themselves sayng: How can this felow giue vs his flesh to eat? The Iesus sayd to them. Verely verely I saie vnto you: excepte ye eate the fleshe of the sonne of man, and drinke his bloud, ye shal not haue lyfe in you. Whoso euer eateth my fleshe, and drincketh my bloud, hath e-ternall lyfe: and I will rapse hym vp at the last dape.

Exo. xvi. a.

* For my fleshe is meate in dede, and my bloud is drinke in dede. He that eateth my fleshe and drincketh my bloud, dwelleth in me, and I in him. As the liuing father hath sent me, euen so lyue I by my father, and he that eateth me, shall lyue by me. This is the bread which came from heauen, not as poure fathers haue eaten Manna and are deade. He that eateth of thys breade, shall lyue euer. &

These thynges sayd he in the synagoge as he taught in Capernaum. Many therefore of his dysciples, when they had heard this, said: this is an hard saying: who can abde the hearynge of it? Iesus knewe in him selfe, that hys disciples murmured at it, and said vnto them: Doeth this offende you? What and if ye shall see the sonne of man ascende vp wher he was before? It is the spirite that quickeneth, the fleshe pro-fyeth nothing. The wordes that I speake vnto you, are spirite and life. But there are some of you that beleue not. For Iesus knewe from the beginninge, whiche they were that beleued not, and who shoulde be-trape him. And he sayd: therfore sayd I vnto you, that no man cometh vnto me, except it were geuen vnto hym of my father.

From that tyme many of hys dysciples wente backe, and walked no more wpth him. Then sayde Iesus to the twelue: wpll ye also go awaye? Then Simon Peter answered: Maister to whō shall we go? Thou hast the wordes of eternal lyfe, and we beleue, and knowe thou art Christ the sonne of the lpyng God. Iesus answered the:
Haue not I chosen you twelue, and yet one of you is the denyer? He spake it of Je-das Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for he it was that shoulde betraie him, and was one of the twelue. &

Mat. xvi. s

The Notes.

- (a) That is, he hath put hys marke of the holy ghost on hym, whych testifyeth wpth myracle what he is. Scaled.
(b) The word of the Gospell, whych is Christ, The bread is the true and lyuely breade of heauen, that geueth lyfe to the whole world. of God.
(c) That is, if my wordes do offend you, what doeth thys wpll then the performance of them do, when offende. the sonne of man shall do in dede that he hath nowe spoken?

The. vii. Chapter.

Iesus cometh to Jerusalem at the feast, teacheth the Jewes and reproueth the. Ther are dyuers oppnyons of hym among the people. The Pharises rebuke the officers, because they haue not taken hym, and chyde Pilodeus for takyng hys part.

After that, Iesus wet about into Galyle, and would not go about in Jewry: for the Jewes soughte to kyll hym. The Jewes tabernacle feast was at hand. Dis(a) brethen therfore said vnto him: get the hence & go into Jewrye that thy disciples maye se thy workes that thou doest. For there is no man that doeth anye thyng secretly, and he him selfe seketh to be knowe openly. If thou do such thinges shewe thy selfe to the world. For as yet his brethren beleued not in hym.

Leu. xxiii. e

Then Iesus sayde vnto them: My time is not yet come, poure time is alway ready.

Whhh. iii. The

The Gospell

of S. John.

The world cannot hate you, But me it hateth: because I testify of it, that the works of it are evil. So ye be vnto this feast. I will not go vnto this feast, for my tyme is not yet full come. These wordes he saied vnto them, and abode still in Galilee. But as soon as his brethren were gone by, he went also by vnto the feast: not openly, but as it were prively.

Then sought him the Jewes at the feast and sayde: where is he? And much murmuring was there of him amonge the people. Some saied: He is good. Other saied nay, but he deceyueth the people. How be it, no man spake openly of him, for feare of the Jewes.

B * In the middes of the feast, Jesus wente by into the temple & taughte. And the Jewes maruailed, sayinge: Howe knoweth he the scriptures, seeinge that he neuer learned? Jesus answered them and sayed: My doctryne is not myne, but his that sent me: If anye man wyl doo his (b) will, he shall knowe of the doctryne, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe. He that speaketh of him selfe, seeketh his own praple. But he that seeketh his praple that sent him, the same is true, & no vnrighteousnes is in him. Did not Moyses giue you a law, & yet (c) none of you kepeth the law? Why go ye aboute to kyll me? The people answered and sayed: thou hast the deuyll: who goeth about to kyll the? Jesus answered & saied to the: I haue done one worke, and ye all maruaile. Moyses therfore gaue vnto you circumcision: not because it is of Moyses, but of the fathers. And yet ye on the Sabboth daye, circumsise a man. If a man on the Sabboth daye receiue circumcision spon without breakyng of the law of Moyses: disdaine ye at me because I haue made a manne every whit whole on the Sabboth day? Iudge not after the vtter apperance: but iudge rightuous iudgement. The said some of them of Ierusalem: is not this he whom they go aboute to kyll? Beholde he speaketh boldly, and they saye nothing to him. Do the rulers know in dede that this is verely Christe? Howbeit, we knowe thys man whence he is: but when Christe cometh, no man shall know whence he is. The cryed Jesus in the temple as he taughte, saying: ye know me, and whence I am, ye knowe. And yet I am not come of my self, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not. I knowe him: for I am of him, and he hath sente me. Then they soughte to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his tyme was not yet come. Manye of the people beleued on him, and sayed: when Christ cometh, wil he do mo miracles the this man hath done?

The pharises heard that the people murmured such thynges about him. Wherefore the pharises and hye priestes sente mynisters forthe to take him. When saied Jesus vnto them: Yet am I a lytle whyle wpyth you, and then go I vnto hym that sent me. Ye shall seeke me, and shall not fynd me: and wher I am, thither can ye not come. Then said the Jewes amonge them selues: whither wyl he go, that we may not find him? Wyl he go among the gentyls, whych are scattered al abrode, and teach the gentils? What maner saying is thys that he sayed: ye shall seeke me: and wher I am, thither can ye not come?

In the laste daye, that greate daye of the feast, Jesus stode and cried, saying: If any man thyrst, let him come vnto me & drinke. He that beleueth on me, as saith the scripture, out of his bellye shall flowe ryuers of water of lyfe. This spake he of the spirite whych they that beleued on hym, should receiue. For the holy goste was not yet ghyfted there, because that Jesus was not yet glorified.

* Manye of the people, when they hearde that sayinge, sayd: of a truth this is a prophet: other sayd, thys is Christ, some sayd: that Christ come out of Galilee? Sayth not the scripture that Christe shall come of the seide of Dauid, & out of the towne of Beth leem where Dauid was? So was ther dyscencion among the people about hym. And some of them would haue taken hym: but no man layed handes on hym.

Then came the ministers to the hye priestes and pharises. And they sayd vnto the, whye haue ye not broughte hym? The seruantes answered: neuer man spake as thys man doth. Then answered them the pharises: are ye also deceyued? Doeth any of the rulers or the pharises beleue on him? But the commune people whych knowe not the lawe, are cursed. Nicodemus saied vnto the (He that came to Jesus by night and was one of them) Doth our law iudge anye man, before it heare him, and knowe what he hath done? They answered and saied vnto him: arte thou also of Galyle? Search and loke, for out of Galyle ariseth no prophet. And every man went vnto his owne house.

The Notes.

- (a) Loke in Genesis. xiii. b
- (b) He that loueth the wyl of God to kepe hys lawe, the same vnderstandeth that doctryne.
- (c) Loke in Mathe. v. c

The. viii. Chapter.

A woman is taken in aduoutre. Christe dyspyuereth her. The freedom of such as follow Christ, whos they accuse him to haue the deuyll wpythin hym, and go about to stone hym.

AND Jesus went vnto mounte Oliuet, and earlye in the mornynge came agayne into the temple, and all the people came vnto hym, and he sate downe and taught them: And the scribes & pharises brought vnto him a woman taken in aduoutre: and set hyr in the myddest, and sayed vnto hym: Maister, thys womanne was taken in aduoutre euen as the dede was a doynge. Moyses in the law commaunded

The holy gost was not yet ghyfted there, because that Jesus was not yet glorified.

was not that sayinge, sayd: of a truth this is a prophet: other sayd, thys is Christ, some sayd: that Christ come out of Galilee? Sayth not the scripture that Christe shall come of the seide of Dauid, & out of the towne of Beth leem where Dauid was? So was ther dyscencion among the people about hym. And some of them would haue taken hym: but no man layed handes on hym.

Mathe. v. a. Mathe. ii. b

Rulers & pharises beleue not

Brethren. To vnderstand. To kepe the lawe.

Leu. xx. b. ded vs that such shoulde be stoned. What sayest thou therefore? And thys they sayd to tēpte him that they myghte haue wherof to accuse hym. Jesus stouped downe & wryth hys finger wrote one the grownde. And whyle they continued arryng hym, he lyfte hym selfe vp and saied vnto them: let hym that is amonge you wpythout syn cast the fyrste stone at hym. And agayne he stouped downe and wrote on the ground. And assone as they hearde that they wente out one by one, the eldest fyrste. And Jesu was lefte alone, and the woman standynge in the middes. When Jesus had lyfte vp hym selfe agayne, and sawe no man but the woman, he sayde to hir. Woman where are those thynges accusers? Hath no man condemned the? She sayde, no manne Lorde. And Jesus said. Nether doo I condemne the. Go and (a) sinne no more. &

I. John. i. b. B Then spake Jesus agayne vnto the sayynge: I am the lychte of the worlde. He that foloweth me shal not walke in darknes: but shal haue the lycht of lyfe. The Pharisees sayd vnto hym, thou bearest recorde of thy selfe, thy recorde is not true. Jesus answered and saied vnto theym: though I beare recorde of my selfe, yet my recorde is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: But ye cannot tell whence I came and wpyther I go. Ye iudge after the fleshe I Iudge no manne. Though I iudge, yet is my iudgemente true. For I am not alone: but I and the father that set me. It is also wryten in poure lawe, that the testimonye of two men is true: I am one that beare wpytnes of my selfe, and the father that sente me, bereth wpytnes of me.

Deu. xix. d. Ma. xvi. c. Then sayde they vnto hym: where is thy father? Jesus answered: ye nether know me nor yet my father. If ye had knowen me, ye shoulde haue knowen my father also. These wordes spake Jesus in the temple, as he taughte in the temple, and no man layed hands on him: for his time was not yet come. &

C Then sayed Jesus agayne vnto theym. I go my waye, and ye shall seeke me, and shall dye in poure synnes. Whpyther I goo thpyther can ye not come. Then sayed the Jewes: wpyll he kyll hym selfe, because he sayeth: whither I go, thither can ye not come? And he sayed to them: ye are from beneath. I am fro above. Ye are of thys worlde I am not of thys worlde: I sayde therfore vnto you, that ye shall dye in poure synnes. For excepte ye beleue that I am he, ye shal dye in poure synnes. Then saied they vnto hym: who art thou?

Thys is hys doc- tryne. And Jesus saied vnto them: Euen the verie same thinge that I saye vnto you. I haue manie thinges to saie, and to Iudge of you: but he that sente me, is true. And I speake in the worlde, those thinges whiche I haue hearde of him. Howebeit they vnderstod not that he spake of his father.

D Then saied Jesus vnto theim: when ye haue lyft vp on hie the sonne of man then shall ye knowe that I am he, and do nothyng of my selfe: but as my father hath taughte me, euen so I speake: and he that sente me, is wpyth me. The father hath not lefte me alone, for I doo alwayes those thynges that please hym. & As he spake these wordes, manie beleued on him.

E Then sayed Jesus to those Jewes whiche beleued on hym: If ye continue in my woorkes, then are ye my verie Dypsciples, and shall knowe the trueth, and the trueth shall make you free. They answered hym: Wee be Abrahams seede, and were neuer bounde to anye man: why sayest thou the, ye shalbe made free? Jesus answered the: verely, verely I saye vnto you, that who soeuer committeth syn, is the seruaunte of synne. And the seruaunte abydeyth not in the house for euer. But the sone abideth euer. If the sonne therefore shall make you fre then are ye fre in dede. I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seke meanes to kyll me because my saynges haue no place in you. I speake that I haue seene wpyth my father: and ye do that whpych ye haue seene wpyth your father.

They answered and sayed vnto hym: Abraham is oure father. Jesus sayde vnto theym: if ye were Abrahams chyldren, ye wolde do the dedes of Abraham. But now ye go aboute to kyll me, a man that haue tolde you the trueth, whpyche I haue herde of God, thys dyd not Abraham. Ye do the dedes of poure father. Then sayed they to hym: we were not bozne of fornicacion.

We haue one father, whpyche is God. Jesus sayed vnto them: if God were your father, then woulde ye loue me. For I proceeded forth & came from God. Nether came I of my selfe, but he sente me. Why do ye not know my speche? Euen because ye cannot abyde the herpyng of my words.

Ye are of your father the deupyl, and the lustes of your father ye wpyll do. He was a murderer fro the begynnynge, and abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in hym. When he speaketh a ly, then speaketh he of hys owne. For he is a lyer, and a father thereof. And because I tell you the trueth, therfore ye beleue me not.

F Whpych of you can rebuke me of synne? if I saye the trueth, why doo not ye beleue me? He that is of God heareth gods wordes. & Ye therfore hearethem not, because ye are not of God. Then answered the Jewes and sayed vnto hym: Say we not wel that thou arte a Samaritan, and haste the deupyl? Jesus answered: I haue not the deupyl: but I honoure my father, and ye haue dyshonored me: I seeke not myne owne prayse, but there is one that seeketh and iudgeth.

Verely verely I saye vnto you, if a man kepe my saynges, he shall neuer see death. Then sayed the Jewes too hym. Nowe knowe we that thou hast the deupyl. Abrah-

Rom. vi. b.
ii. Pet. ii. a.

Abraham.

ham is dead, and also the prophetes, & yet thou saiest: if a man kepe my sayings, he shall neuer tast of death. Arte thou greater then our father Abraham which is dead? & the prophetes are deade. Whom makest thou thy selfe? Iesus answered: If I honour my selfe, myne honoure is nothing worth. It is my father that honoureth me, which you say is your god, and ye haue not knowen hym: but I knowe him. And if I should say, I know him not, I should be a liarlike vnto you. But I know him, & kepe hys saying. Your father Abraham was glad to se my day, & he saw it & reioysed. The Jewes vnto him: thou arte not. I, peare old, and hast thou sene Abraham? Iesus said vnto them: Verely verely, I say vnto you: per Abraham was I am. Then toke they vp stones to cast at him. But Iesus hid him selfe, and went out of the temple.

The Notes.

Synne no more.

(a) The Gospell preacheth not so remission of synnes vnto vs, that we should contynue in synne: but that we should chaunge our lyfe, and walke in a new lyfe of the spirite, neuer purposing to synne any more.

My daies.

(b) All the holpe fathers that were before the comynge of Christ, from the begynnyng of the world, hadde the same sayth in Christ that we haue, whych he called Christen.

The ix. Chapter.

Christ maketh the man to se that was borne blind.

AND as Iesus passed by, he sawe a man whych was blind fro his byrth. And his disciples ased him: Mayster who dyd synne: thys man or his father and mother, that he was borne blind? Iesus answered: Neither hath this man synned nor yet his father & mother: but that the workes of God shoulde be shewed on hym. I must worcke the workes of hym that sent me, whyle it is daye. The (a) nyghte cometh, when no man can worcke. As longe as I am in the worlde, I am the lyghte of the worlde.

And as sone as he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, & rubbed the claye on the eyes of the blind, and sayed vnto him: Goo washe the in the poole of Siloe, whiche by interpretacion, signifieth sent: He went his way and washed, and came againe sepyng. The neyghbours and they that had sene hym before, howe that he was a beggar, sayed: is not this he that sate and begged? Some sayed: this is he. Other saied: he is lyke hym.

But he himselfe sayed: I am euen he. They saied vnto him: Howe are thyne eyes opened then? He answered and sayd. The man that is called Iesus made clay, & anointed myne eyes, and sayed vnto me: Goo to the poole Silo and washe. And I went and washed, and receyued my syght. They sayd vnto him: wher is he? He sayed: I can not tell.

Then brought they to the pharises, him that a lytle before was blind: for it was the Saboth daye when Iesus made & clay. The Sab both daye rises also ased him how he hadde receyued hys sight. He sayd vnto them: He put clay vpon my eyes, and I washed and do see. Then sayd some of the pharises, this man is not of God, because he kepeth not the Saboth daye. Other saied: how can a man that is a sinner, do such miracles? And ther was stryfe among them. Then spake they vnto the blinde agayne: What saiest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? And he said: He is a prophet. But the Jewes dyd not beleue of the fellowe, how that he was blind and receyued hys syght, vntill they had called the father and mother of him that receiued his sight. And they ased them sayinge: Is this your sonne, who ye say was borne blind? How doth he now se then? His father and mother answered them and sayd: We wote well, that this is our son, and that he was borne blind, but by what meanes he now seeth, that can we not tell, or who had opened his eyes, ca we not tell. He is old ynough, are him, let him answer for him selfe. Suche words spake his father and mother, because they feared the Jewes. For the Jewes had conspired already, that if any man dyd confesse that he was Christ, he should be excommunicat out of the synagoge, therefore sayed hys father and mother: he is old ynough, are hym.

Then againe called they the man & was blind, & sayd vnto him: Geue god & praise, we know that this man is a sinner. He answered & sayed: Whether he be a synner or no, I can not tel: one thing I am sure of, & I was blind, and now I see. Then sayed they to hym againe: What dyd he to the? How opened he thine eyes? He answered the: I tolde you per whyle, and ye dyd not heare. Wherefore wold ye heare it agayne? wll ye also be hys disciples? Then rated they hym, and said: thou art hys dysciple, we be Moyses disciples. Wee are sure that God spake with Moyses, thys fellowe wee know not from whence he is.

DThe man answered & said vnto the: this is a marvelous thyng, that ye wote not whence he is, sepyng he hath opened myne eyes. For we be sure that (a) God heareth not synners. But if any man be a worshipper of God, & do hys will, hym heareth he. Sence the worlde began was it not heard, that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blind. If thys man were not of God, he could haue done nothyng: They answered and sayed vnto hym: thou arte altogether borne in synne, and doest thou teache vs? And they cast hym oute.

Iesus heard that they had excommunicate hym, & as sone as he had found hym, he said vnto him: doest thou beleue on the son of God? He answered and sayd: Who is it Lorde, that I myght beleue on hym? And Iesus sayd vnto hym: Thou hast sene him, and he it is that talketh wth the. And he sayd:

The poole of Siloe.

said: Lord I beleue, & worshipped hym. & Jesus sayed: I am come vnto iudgemente into thys world, that they whiche see not, might se: & they whiche see, might be made blynde. And some of the pharises whiche were with hym, hearde these wordes, and sayde vnto hym: are we then blynde? Jesus sayed vnto them: if ye were blynde, ye shuld haue no synne. But now ye say: we se, therfore your synne remaineth.

The Notes.

The nyght

(a) Thys nyght is the tyme of ignorance, wher in the knowledge of Christ how he only iustifieth is lost. Then can no manne worke a good worke in the syght of God, how glorious soeuer hys workes appeare.

God heareth no sinner.

(b) That is, he heareth not that repent not, nor are in mynde to leaue theyr euyllyfe.

The .x. Chapter.

Christ is the true shephearde, and the doze of shepe. Some saye Christe hath the deuyl and is mad. Other saye that he speaketh not the wordes of one that hath the deuyl, because he telleth the truth. The Jewes toke vp stones to cast at hym, & cal hys preachyng blasphemy, and go about to take hym.

Doze.

John. viij. d

A V & I telpe verelye I saye vnto you, he that entreth not in by the doze into the shepefolde, but clymeth vp some other wape, the same is a thefe and a robber. He that goeth in by the doze, is the shephearde of the shepe: to hym the porter openeth, and the shepe heare hys voyce, & he calleth hys owne shepe by name, and lea-deth them out. And whē he hath sent forth his owne shepe, he goeth before them, and the shepe folowe hym, for they knowe hys voice. A straunger they wyl not folowe, but wyl flye from hym, for they know not the voyce of straungers. This similitude spake Jesus vnto them: But they vnder-stode not what thinges they were whiche he spake vnto them.

Christe is
the doze.

When Jesus said vnto them agayn: I telpe verelye, I saye vnto you: I am the doze of the shepe. All, euen as many as came before me, are theues & robbers: but the shepe dyd not hear them. I am the doze: by me, if any man enter in, he shal be safe: and shal go in and out, and find pasture. The thiefe cometh not but for to steale, kyll and de-stroye. I am come that they mighte haue lyfe, and haue it more aboundantly.

Shepe-
herde.

Cap. xi. c.
Es. xxxiii. f

I am the good shepheerde. The good shepheerde gyueth his lyfe for the shepe: An hyred seruaunt, whiche is not the shepherd, neyther the shepe are hys owne, seeth the wolfe comming, and leaueth the shepe, and flyeth, and the wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the shepe. The hyred seruaunt flyeth, because he is an hyred seruaunt, and careth not for the shepe. I am that good shepheerde, and know mine, and am known of myne. As my father knoweth me, euē so know I my father. And I gyue my lyfe for the shepe: and other shepe I haue which are not of thys fold. Them also must I bringe, that they maye heare my

Es. xxxiii. f
Actu. xii. a.

voice, and that there maye be one flocke & one shepheerde.

Therefore doeth my father loue me, because I put my lyfe from me, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from me, but I put it away of my selfe. I haue power to put it from me, and haue power to take it agayne. This commaundemente haue I receyued of my father. And there was a dissencion agayne among the Jew-es for these sayynges, and manye of them sayd: he hath the deuyl, and is madde: whye heare ye him? Other said: these are not the wordes of hym that hath the deuyl. Can the deuyl open the eyes of the blinde?

And it was at Hierusalem the feaste of the dedication of the temple, and it was winter, and Jesus walked in Solomons porch. Then came the Jewes roundabout him, and said vnto him: Howe longe doest thou make vs doubt? if thou be Christe, tell vs plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you and ye beleue not. The workes that I do in my fathers name, they be a witnes of me. But ye beleue not, because ye are not of my shepe. As I sayed vnto you: my shepe heare my voyce, and I know them, and they folowe me, and I geue vnto them eternall life, and they shall neuer perishe, neither shall any manne plucke them oute of my hande. My father whiche gaue them me, is greater then al, and no man is able to take them out of my fathers hande. And I and my father are one.

Then the Jewes againe toke vp stones to stone him withall. Jesus answered them: many good workes haue I shewed you from my father: for whiche of them wil ye stone mee? The Jewes answered hym, sayyng: For thy good workes sake we stone the not, but for thy blasphemie, and because that thou beynge a man, makest thy selfe God. Jesus answered them: is it not written in your law: I saye, ye are (a) god-des. If he called them Gods, vnto whome the word of God was spokē, and the scripture can not be broken, say ye then to him whom the father hath sanctified, and sent into the world: thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the son of God? If I do not the workes of my father, beleue me not. But if I do: then though ye beleue not me yet beleue the workes, that ye may know and beleue, that the father is in me, and I in hym.

Ps. lxxi. b.

Agayn they went about to take him: but he escaped out of theyr handes, and wente away agayne beyond Iordā, into the place wher Ihon before had baptysed, and there abode. And many resorted vnto him, & said: Ihon did no myracle, but all thynges that Ihon spake of thys man, are true. And many beleued on him there.

The Notes.

(a) They are called Goddes, because they are the Images and do resemble God, that is, vpon the earth, they iudge betwix man and man, and ought

The Gospell

ought by thei vocacion to punish the offender, and defend the innocent.

The. xi. Chapter.

Christ rayseth Lazarus from death. The hye priestes and pharises gather a counsaile agaynst him, to gette hym out of the waye.

Mat. xxi. a

A Certayne man was sick, named Lazarus of Bethania the towne of Marye & hir sister Martha. It was that Mary which annointed Iesus, with ointment, & wiped his fete with hir heer, whose brother Lazarus was sicke, and his sisters sent vnto him, sayinge: Lorde, beholde he whome thou louest, is sick. When Iesus heard that, he said: this infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the laud of God, that the sonne of God might be praysed by the reason of it. Iesus loued Martha & hir sister, and Lazarus. When after he hadde hearde that he was sicke, yet abode he two daies still in the same place where he was.

Then after that, said he to his discip-ples: Let vs go into Jewry agayn. His disciples sayd vnto hym: Maister, the Jewes lately sought meanes to stone the, & wilt thou go thither agayn? Iesus answered: are there not twelue houres in a daye: if a manne walke in the daye, he stroumbleth not, because he seeth the lyghte of thys world. But if a man walke in the night, he stroumbleth, bicause there is no light in him.
This saied he: and after that, he saied vnto them: oure frende Lazarus slepeth, but I go to wake him oute of sleepe. Then sayed his disciples: Lorde if he slepe, he shal doo well ynough. Howbeit Iesus spake of his death, but they thought that he had spoke of the naturall slepe. Then saied Iesus vnto them plainely: Lazarus is deade, and I am gladd for your sakes that I was not there, because ye maye beleue. Neuertheles let vs goo vnto him. Then saied Thomas which is called Didimus, vnto the disciples: Let vs also goo, that we maye dye with him.

Then wente Iesus and founde that he had lpen in his graue four dayes alreadye.
Bethanpe was nye vnto Hierusalem, about fyftene furlongs of: and many of the Jewes were come to Martha and Marye to comfort them ouer thei brother. Martha asone as she heard that Iesus was co-mynge, went and met him, but Marye late still in the house.

A Then sayd Martha vnto Iesus: Lorde, if thou haddest bene here, my brother had not bene dead: but neuerthelesse I know that whatsoeuer thou wyldest of God, God wyl geue it the. Iesus said vnto hir: thy brother shall ryse againe. Martha saied vnto him: I know that he shall ryse againe in the resurreccion at the last daye. Iesus saied vnto hir: I am (a) the resurreccion and y life.
He y beleueth on me, yea though he were dead, yet shall he lyue. And whosoever lyueth and beleueth on me, shall neuer dye.
Beleuest thou thys? She sayed vnto hym:

of S. John.

yea Lorde, I beleue that thou art Christe the sonne of God, which should come into the worlde. &

And asone as she had so sayd, she wente hir waye and called Mary hir sister, secretly saying: The maister is come, and calleth for the. And she asone as she heard that, arose quickely and came vnto him. Iesus was not yet come into the towne, but was in the place wher Martha met him. The Jewes then whych were wpth her in the house and comforted hir, when they sawe Mary, that she rose vp hastily, and wet out, folowed hir, sayinge: She goeth vnto the grau, to wepe ther.

Then when Marye was come wher Jesus was, and saw hym, she fel doune at his fete, sayinge vnto him: Lorde if thou haddest ben here, my brother had not ben dead.
When Iesus saw hir wepe, and the Jew-es also wepe which came with hir, he gro-ned in the spirit, and was troubled in hym selfe, and saied: Wher haue ye layde hym? John ix. a They saied vnto him: Lorde come and se.
And Iesus wept. Then saied the Jewes: Beholde, howe he loued hym. And some of them sayd: could not he whiche opened the eyes of the blynd, haue made also that thys man should not haue dyed? Iesus agayne groined in himselfe, and came to the graue:
it was a caue and a stone layed on it.

And Iesus said: take ye away the stone. E Martha the sister of him that was deade, sayd vnto him: Lorde, by thys tyme he styketh: for he hath ben dead these foure dai-es. Iesus saied vnto hir: Sayed I not vnto the, that if thou diddest beleue, thou shouldest see the glorie of God? Then they toke away the stone from the place where the dead was layd. And Iesus lyft vp hys eyes and saied: Father, I thancke the, because that thou hast hearde me. I wot that thou hearest me alwayes, but because of the people that stand by I saied it, that they maye beleue that thou hast sent me.

And when he thus had spoken, he cryed wth a loud voice: Lazarus come forth.
And he that was dead, came forth, bounde hand and fote with graue bonds, and hys face was bond wpth a napkin. Iesus said vnto them: leuse him, and let hym go. The manye of the Jewes whych came to Marye and had sene the thinges which Iesus did, beleued on hym. But some of them wente their wayes to the pharises, and told them what Iesus had done.

Then gathered the hye priestes & pha- F ryses a counsaile and sayed: What doo we?
Thys man doeth many myracles: if we let him scape thus, all men wyl beleue on him, and the Romaines shall come and take away our country and the people. And one of them named Caphas, whych was the hye priest that same yere, sayed vnto the:
ye perceyue nothynge at all, nor yet consy-der that it is expediente for vs, that one man dye for the people, and not that all the people

people peryphe. Thys spake he not of hym selfe, but beyng hys wyfeste that same pere, he prophesied that Iesus shoulde dye for the people, and not for the people onely, but that he shoulde gather together in one the chyldren of God whych were scattered abrode. From that dape forth they helde a Counsell together, for to put hym to death.

Iesus therfore walked no more openly amonge the Jewes, but wente hys waye thence vnto a country nyghe to b wpldernes, into a ctyte called Ephraim and ther haunted wpth hys Disciples. And the Jewes Easter was nye at hande, and manye wente out of the country vp to Ierusalem before the Ester, to purify theym selues. Then soughte they for Iesus, and spake amonge the selues as they stode in y temple: What thynck ye, seing he cometh not to the feaste? The hye priestes & pharises had geuen a commaundemente that if any man knewe where he were, he shoulde shewe it, that they myght take hym.

The Notes.

Resurreccid and life (a) Chrysostome calleth hym selfe the resurreccion and lyfe: because he is the authoure of the resurreccion and lyfe. As he sayeth: Those that beleue in me, wyll I rayse vp at the laste day into lyfe euerlastinge, and those that are deade, shall lyue by me because they beleued in me.

The. xii. Chapter.

Wary anoynteth Chyestes fete. Judas murmureth. Chyeste excuseth hym, and rydeth into Hierusalem.

mat. xvi. a. mar. xiii. a. Marpe. Then Iesus. vi. dapes before Easter, came to Bethany wher Lazarus was whych was deade, and whome Iesus raysted from death. There they made hym a Supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of theym that sate at the table wpth hym. Then toke Mary a ponde of opyntmente called Nardus perfecte and precious, and anoynted Iesus fete, & wipt hys fete wpth her hert, and the house was fylled wpth the sauoure of the opyntment. Then sayde one of hys Disciples named Judas Iscarioth Symons sonne, whych afterwarde betrayed hym: why was not thys opyntmente solde for thre. C. pence, and geuen to the poore? Thys saide he not that he cared for the poore, but because he was a thefe, and kept the bagge, and bare that whych was geuen. Then sayd Iesus: Let hym alone, agaynst the dape of my buryng he keppe it. The poore alwayes shal ye haue wpth you, but me shal ye not alwayes haue.

B Muche people of the Jewes had knowledge that he was there, and they came not for Iesus sake onely, but that they myght se Lazarus also whom he raysted fro death. The hye priestes therfore helde a counsell that the y myght put Lazarus to death also because that for hys sake manye of the Jewes wente awaye, and beleued on Iesus.

mat. xxi. a. On the morowe muche people that were come to the feaste: when they hearde that Iesus shoulde come to Ierusalem, tooke braunches of palm trees, & went & met him & cried: Hosanna, blessed is he that in the name of the Lorde, cometh kynge of Israel. And Iesus gotte a yonge Assie, and sate thereon, accordyng to that whych was wyrtten: feare not Daughter of Syon, beholde thy kynge cometh spttinge on an Asses colte. These thynges vnderstode not his disciples at the fyrst: but whē Iesus was glorified, they remembred they that suche thynges were wyrtten of hym, and that such thynges they had done vnto hym.

The people that was with him, when he called Lazarus out of hys graue, and raysted hym from death, bare recorde. Therefore mete hym y people because they heard that he had done such a myracle. The pharises therfore sayed amonge them selues: perceyue ye howe we preyuale nothyng: beholde the worlde goeth after hym.

There were certayne Brekes amonge them, that came to praye at the feaste: the same came to philip which was of Bethsaida, a citie in Galilee, and despyed him sayyng: Syr, we would sayne se Iesus. philip came & tolde Andrew. And againe Andrew and philipp told Iesus. And Iesus answered them sayyng: the houre is come that the sonne of man muste be glorified.

Wherely verely, I saye to you, excepte the wheate corne fal into the grownd and dye it bydeth alone. If it dy, it byrgeth forth muche fruite. He that loueth hys lyfe shal destroye it: and he that hateth hys life in thys worlde, shal kepe it vnto life eternal. If any man minister vnto me, let hym followe me, and where I am, there shal also my mynister be. And if anye man minister vnto me, hym wil my father honoure.

Nowe is my soule troubled, and what shal I saye? Father deliuer me from thys houre. But therfore came I vnto thys houre. Father glorifye thy name. Then came there a voice from heauen: I haue glorified it, and wyll glorifye it agayne. Then sayed the people that stode by and heard: it thundreth. Other sayd, an aungell spake to hym. Iesus answered & sayed, this voyce came not because of me, but for your sakes. Now is the iugemente of thys worlde: now shal the pryncce of thys worlde be caste out. And I, if I were lifte vp from the pearth, wyll drawe all men vnto me. Thys sayed Iesus sygnifyng what death he shoulde dye.

The people answered hym: We haue hearde oute of the lawe that Chyeste abyedeth euer: and howe sayest thou then that the sonne of man muste be lyfte vp? who is that sonne of man? Then Iesus sayed vnto theym: yet a lytell whyle is the lyghte wpth you. Walke whyle ye haue lyghte, lest the darknes come on you. He that walketh in the darcke, woteth not whither

John. iiii.

mar. xiii. a. Luk. xix. f. Hosanna.

zacha. ix. f.

Mat. x. d.

Luk. ix. c. f. xlii.

Esay. xl. f.

Lyght. Darknes.

The Gospell

he goeth. Whyl ye haue light, beleue on þe light, that ye may be the children of light.

¶ These thynges spake Iesus and departed, and hid himselfe fro them. And though he had done so manie miracles befoze the, yet beleued not they on him, that the sayinge of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, that he spake: Lord, who shall beleue our saying? And to whom is the arme of the Lord opened? Therfore coude they not beleue, because that Esaias sayeth agayne: he hath blynded theyr eyes & hardened theyr hertes, that they shoulde not se with their eyes, and vnderstande with their hertes, and shoulde be conuerted, and I shoulde heale them. Suche thynges saied Esaias when he sawe his gloze, and spake of him. Neuerthelesse among the chiefe rulers many beleued on hym: But because of the pharisees they wolde not be acknowledge of it, least they shoulde be excommunicate: for they loued the praise that cometh of men more then the praise that cometh of God. And Iesus cryed and saied: he that beleueth on me, beleueth not on me, but on him that sent me. And he that seeth me: seeth him that sent me.

marc. iiii. b
Luk. viii. b
Act. xxi. f
Roma. xi. b

Light.

¶ I am come a lighte into the worlde, that whosoever beleueth on me shoulde not bide in darcknes. And if any man heare my wordes and beleue not, I iudge hym not. For I came not to iudge the world: but to saue the world. He that refuseth me, and receiveth not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth hym. The wordes that I haue spoke, they shall iudge him in the laste day. For I haue not spoke of my selfe, but the father which sente me, he gaue me a commaundement what I shoulde saye, and what I shoulde speake. And I know that hys commaundement is lyfe euerlastyng. Whatsoever I speake therfore, euen as the father bade me, so I speake.

The. xiii. Chapter.

¶ Christe washeth the dysciples fete, telleth them of Judas the traytoure, and commaundeth them earnestly to loue one another.

¶ BEfoze the feast of Easter, when Iesus knewe that his houre was come, that he shuld depart out of this world vnto the father. When he loued hys, which were in the worlde, vnto the ende he loued them. And when supper was ended, after that the dewill had put in the herte of Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne to betraye him, Iesus knowyng that the father had geuen all thynges into his handes, and that he was come from God, and wente to God, rose from supper, and layed asyde hys bypper garmentes, and toke a towell, & weth hys and gyrded himselfe. After that poured he water into a bason, and (a) began to wash his disciples fete, and to wyppethem with a towell, wherewith he was gyrd.

Math. xxvi.
Luk. xxi. a
mar. xiii. a

¶ Then came he to Simon Peter. And Peter sayd vnto him. Lord, shalt thou washe my fete? Iesus answered and sayd vnto

Of S. John

him: what I do, thou wotest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter. Peter sayd vnto him: thou shalt not washe my fete whyle the world standeth. Iesus answered him: if I washe the not, thou shalt haue no part with me. Simon Peter sayd vnto hym: Lord, not my fete onely: but also my handes, and my heade. Iesus sayd vnto hym: he that is washed, nedeth not saue to wash hys fete, and is cleane euerpe whit. And ye are cleane: but not all. For he knewe hys betrayer. Therfore sayd he: ye are not all cleane.

After he had washed their fete, and receiued hys clothes, and was set doune again, he sayd vnto them. Note ye what I haue done to you? Ye call me maister and Lord, & ye saye well, for so am I. If I then pour Lord and maister haue washed your fete, ye also ought to washe one anothers fete. For I haue geuen you an ensample, that ye shoulde do as I haue done to you. Verely verely, I say vnto you, the seruaunt is not greater then hys maister, neither the messenger greater then he that sent hym.

If ye vnderstande these thynges, happy are ye if ye do them. I speake not of you all, I know who I haue chosen. But that the scripture might be fulfilled, he that eateth breade with me (b) hath lift vp hys hele against me. Howe tell I you befoze it come, that wher it is come to passe, ye might beleue that I am he. Verely verely I saye vnto you: He that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me. And he that receiveth me, receiveth him that sent me.

When Iesus had thus said, he was troubled in the spirit, and testifed sayinge: verely verely I say vnto you: that one of you shal betraye me. And then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake. Ther was one of his disciples which leaned on Iesus bosome, whom Iesus loved. To him beckened Simon Peter, that he shuld aske who it was of whom he spake. He than as he leaned on Iesus brest sayd vnto hym: Lord who is it? Iesus answered, he it is to whom I geue a sop, when I haue dipte it. And he wet a sop, and gaue it to Judas Iscariot Simons sonne. And after the sop (c) Satan entred into hym.

Math. xxvi.
Mar. xiii.
Luk. xxi. b

Then saied Iesus vnto hym: that thou doest, doo quickly. That wille no man at the table, for what intente he spake vnto hym. Some of them thought, because Judas had the bagge, that Iesus had sayd vnto him: by those thynges that we haue nede of agaynst the feast, or that he shoulde geue some thyng to the poore. Allone then as he had receiued the sop, he went immediately oute. And it was nyghte. When he was gone out, Iesus said: nowe is the son of man glorified. And God is glorified by hym: If God be glorified by him, god shall also glorifye hym, in himselfe, and shall straightwaie glorify him.

¶ Deare chyldren, yet a lytle while I am with

Newe com-
maunde-
mentes. with you: ye shall see me, and as I sayed vnto the Jewes, whither I go, thither can ye not come. Also to you say I now: A new commandement geue I vnto you, that ye loue together, as I haue loued you, that euen so ye loue one another. By thys *shal all men know that ye are my disciples if ye shal haue loue one to another. Simon Peter sayd vnto him: lord whither goest thou?
Jesus answered him: Whither I go, thou canst not folow me now, but thou shalt fo-low me afterward. Peter sayd vnto hym: lord why can not I folow the now? I will geue my lyfe, for thy sake. Jesus answered him: wilt thou geue thy lyfe for my sake?
Verely verely, I saye vnto the: the cocke shall not crowe, tyll thou haue denyed me thryse.

Thon. ii.

Began to walke, &c.Hath lyfte
vp his hyle

Dathan.

The Notes.

(a) He washed theyr fete, to declare that he came to ministrate vnto other, and not to be ministered vnto. And further to teache by thys washinge, that his ministracyon was, to purge and washe awaye the fylth of synne, whych is done by the medyng of hys blood: for the blood of Christe sprinkled into our hartes by the worde of hys Gospell and receiued by fayth: cleanse vs from synne.

(b) To lyfte vp the hyle, is to oppresse by vyolence. For whom ye thurst or treppe wth the hyle: hym do ye vtterlye euertrowe.

(c) Dathan was entred into hym before, as this Euangelist affirmeth in the begynnyng of this Chapter, but now he beganne he more to enforce hys strengthe, and more openly to shewe hym selfe. In lyke maner the Apostles had the holpe ghost, before Christes resurreccyon, when they beleued in hym, when they confessed hym to be the sonne of God. But they evidently receyued hym, when Christ was ascended. Act. ii.

The. xlii. Chapter.

He armeth hys disciples wth consolacyon agaynst trouble, and promyseth them the holy ghost, the spryng of comfort.

And he sayd vnto hys disciples: Let not your hartes be troubled. Beleue in God, and beleue in me. In my fathers house are many mansions. If it wer not so, I would haue told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go to prepare a place for you, I will come againe, and receyue you euen vnto my selfe: that wher I am, there maye ye be also. And whither I go, ye know, and the waye ye knowe.

Thomas saied vnto him: Lord we know not whither thou goest. Also, how is it possible for vs to know the waye? Jesus saied vnto him: I am the way, the truth and the lyfe. And no man cometh to the father, but by me. If ye had knowen me, ye hadde knowen my father also. And now ye know him, and haue sene him.

Whilip sayd vnto hym: Lord, shewe vs the father, and it sufficeth vs. Jesus sayd vnto him: Haue I bene so long tyme wth you, and yett haste thou not knowen me?
Whilip, he that hath sene me, hath sene the father. And how sayest thou then: shewe vs the father? Beleuest thou not that I am in the father, and the father in me? The wor-des that I speake vnto you, I speake not of my selfe: but the father that dwelleth in me, is he that doth the workes. Beleue ye not that I am in the father, and the father in me? At the leaste beleue me, for the verpe workes sake. Verely verely, I saye vnto you, he that beleueth on me, the workes that I doo, the same shall he do, and greater workes then these shall he do, because I go to my father. And whatsoever ye are in my name, that will I do (a) that the father mighte be glorified by the sonne. If ye shall see any thyng in my name, I will do it. &

* If ye loue me, kepe my commande-mentes, and I will praye the father, and he shall geue you another comforter, that he maye byde with you euer, whych is (b) the spirite of truth, whome the worlde can not receyue, because the worlde seeth hym not, neither knoweth hym. But ye know hym. For he dwelleth with you, and shalbe in you. I will not leaue you comfortlesse, but will come vnto you.

Yet a litle while, and the worlde seeth me no more: but ye shall see me. For I lyue and ye shall lyue. That daye shall ye knowe, that I am in my father, and you in me, and I in you. He that hath my commande-mentes, and kepeth them, the same is he that loueth me. And he that loueth me, shall be loued of my father: and I will loue him, and will shewe mine owne selfe to him. Judas sayd vnto hym (not Judas Iscariot) Lord, what is the cause that thou wilt shewe thy selfe vnto vs, and not vnto the worlde? Jesus answered and sayd vnto him: if a manne loue me and will kepe my sayinges, my father also will loue hym, and we will come vnto hym, and wil dwell wth hym. He that loueth me not, kepeth not my sayinges. And the wordes whych ye heare, are not myne, but the fathers whych sent me.

Thys haue I spoken vnto you, beyng yet presente with you. But that comforter whych is the holpe ghost (whom my father will sende in my name) he shall teache you all thynges, and bringe all thinges to your remembrance whatsoeuer I haue tolde you.

Peace I leaue with you, my peace I giue vnto you. Not as the worlde geueth, geue I vnto you. Let not your hertes be greued, neither feare ye. Ye haue heard how I sayd vnto you: I go and come againe vnto you.
If ye loued me, ye wold verely reioyce, because I saied: I goo to the father. For the father is greater then I. And now haue I shewed you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleue. Hereafter will I not talke manye wordes vnto you.
For the ruler of this worlde cometh and hath nought in me. But that the worlde may know, that I loue the father: therefore as the father gaue me commandementes euen so do I. & Wile, let vs go hence.

Jiii. ii. The

A prompse
at. vii. a Mark. xi. c.
By the ke pig of the comande-mentes, is a manne knowne
he loueth
God.
Whoso
ueth christ
Who kepeth Christes say-
inges.

Peace.

The Notes.

That the father
might be glorified.
The spirit
of truth

(a) The father is glorified by the sonne, whom we acknowledge, and geue thanks, that he gaue hys sonne for vs to saue vs.
(b) He is called the spirit of truth, not onely because he is true, but because he maketh the man into whome he entereth, true. Wher as all that they do wpythout the spyrte, is none other thing but lyes.

The. xii. Chapter.

The true vine, the husband man, & the branches. A doctrine of loue, and a sweete comfort agaynst persecucion.

I Am the true vine, and my father is an husbandman. Euery braunche that beareth not fruite in me, he will take away. And euery braunche that beareth fruite, wyl he purge, that it maye bringe more fruite. Now are ye cleane thowowe the wordes whiche I haue spoken vnto you. Wyde in me, and let me bide in you. As the brache can not beare fruite of it selfe, except it bide in the vyne: no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

Vyne.

I am the vine, and ye are the braunches. He that abideth in me, & I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruite. For withoute me can ye do nothing. If a man bide not in me, he is cast forth as a braunche, & is withered: and men gather it, and caste it into the fire, and it burneth.

Couenat.

If ye byde in me, and my words also bide in you, are what ye will, and it shalbe done to you. Herein is my father glorified, that ye beare much fruite, and be made my disciples.

As the father hath loued me, euē so haue I loued you. Continue in my loue. If ye shall kepe my commaundmentes, ye shall bide in my loue, euen as I haue kept my fathers commaundmentes, and abyde in his loue. These thynges haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioye might remain in you, and that your ioye might be full.

t. Cel. iiii b

This is my comaundment: that ye loue together, as I haue loued you. Greater loue then this hath no man, then that a mā bestow his life for his frends. Ye are my frends, if ye do whatsoeuer I comaund you. Hence forth call I you not seruautes: for the seruant knoweth not what his lord doeth. But you haue I called frends, for al thynges that I haue heard of my father, I haue opened vnto you.

Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, that ye go and bring forth fruite, and that your fruite remaine, and that whatsoeuer ye shal aske of the father in my name, he should geue it to you. This comaunde I you, that ye loue together, If the world hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world wold loue his owne. Howbeit, because ye are not of the worlde, but I haue chosen you out of the world, therfor hateth you the world. Remembere I sayng I said vnto you: I seruaunt is not greater then the lord, yf they haue persecuted me, so will they persecute you: yf they haue kept my saynges, so will they kepe yours. But al these thynges wil they do vnto you, for my names sake, because they haue not knowen him I sent me. If I had not come and spoken vnto them, they shuld not haue had synne: but now haue they no thyng to cloke their sinne withal. He that hateth me, hateth my father. If I had not done workes amonge them which none o- ther man did, they had not sinne. But now haue they sene, and yet haue hated both me and my father: euen that the sayng might be fulfilled that is written in theyr lawe: they hated me without a cause.

Mark. xli. c
and. xliii. a

But when the comforter is come, whom I will send vnto you fro the father, which is the spirit of truth, which proceedeth of the father, he shall testyfy of me. And ye shall beare witness also, because ye haue ben with me from the beginning.

The Notes.

(a) He that wyl abyde in gods loue, must kepe Gods commaundment.

To abyde
in Goddes
loue.

(b) In the. v. Chapter of this Gospell, Christ sayeth that he receyuethe no wytnes of manne. But here he sayeth that his disciples shal beare hym wytnes. Understand therfore, that for hym selfe he nedeth no wytnes. But for vs it was necessary, that hys dysciples shoulde beare witness of his truth, that thowowe them we might beleue.

Wytnes.

The. xiii. Chapter.

Consolacyon agaynst trouble, prayers are heard thowowe Christ.

These thynges haue I sayd vnto you, because ye shoulde not be offended. Ther shall excommunicate you, yea the tyme shall come, that whosoever kyl- leth you, will thinke that he doth God seruice. And such thynges shall they do vnto you, because they haue not knowen the father, neyther yet me. But these thynges haue I tolde you, that when that houre is come, ye might remember then that I tolde you so. These thynges saied I not vnto you at the beginning, because I was present with you.

Mat. xxiii

But now I go my way to hym that sent me, and none of you apeth me, whither goest thou? But because I haue sayed suche thynges vnto you, your hertes are full of sorrow. Neuerthelesse I tell you the truth, it is expedient for you, that I go away. For if I go not away, that comforter wyl not come vnto you. But if I depart, I wil send him vnto you. And when he is come, he wil rebuke the world of sinne, and of righte- ousnes, and of iudgemente. (a) Of synne, because they beleue not on me: of righte- ousnes, because I goo to my father, and then ye shall not se me: and of iudgemente because the chiefe ruler of this worlde is iudged already.

Synne,
Righte-ousnes.
Iudges-
ment.

I haue yet many thynges to saye vnto you, but ye can not beare them away now. Howbeit, when he is come (I meane the spirit of truth) he wil leade you into all truth.

De

He shall not speake of himself, but what soeuer he shall heare, that shall he speake, and he will shew you thinges to come. He shall glorify me, for he shall receiue of mine, and shall shew vnto you. All thynges that the father hath, are mine. Therefore sayed I vnto you, that he shall take of myne and shewe vnto you. &

¶ After a while ye shall not se me: & againe after a while ye shall se me: for I go to the father. Then sayed some of his disciples amonge themselves: what is this that he sayeth vnto vs: after a while ye shall not se me, and againe after a while ye shall se me, and that I go to the father. They sayd therefore: what is it that he sayeth, after a while: we can not tell what he sayeth.

Jesus perceyued that they woulde are him, and said vnto them: This is that ye enquire of among yourselves that I said: after a while ye shall not se me. And againe after a while ye shall se me. Merely verely, I say vnto you: ye shall wepe and lament, and the world shall reioice. Ye shall sorow, but your sorow shall be turned into ioye.

¶ A woman when she trauaileth, hath sorow: because hir houre is come: but as soon as she is deliuered of the chylde, she remembereth no more the anguish, for ioye that a man is borne into the worlde. And ye now are in sorowe: but I will se you againe, and your hertes shall reioice, and your ioy shall no man take from you. & And in that daye shall ye see me no question.

¶ Merely, verely, I say vnto you: what soeuer ye shall see the father in my name, he will geue it you. Hitherto haue ye asked no thing in my name. And ye shall receyue it, that your ioy maye be full.

¶ These thynges haue I spoken vnto you in prouerbes. The tyme will come when I shall no more speake to you in prouerbes: but I shall shew you plainly from my father. At that daye shall ye see in my name: And I say not vnto you that I will speake vnto my father for you. For the father himself loueth you, because ye haue loued me, and haue beleued that I came oute from God. I went oute from the father, & came into the worlde, and I leaue the worlde againe, and go to the father.

¶ His disciples sayed vnto him: loe now we speakest thou plainly, and thou blest no prouerbe. Nowe knowe we that thou understandest all thynges, and needest not that any man should aske thee any question.

¶ Therefore beleue wee that thou camest from God. &

¶ Jesus answered them: Nowe ye do beleue. Beholde the houre draweth nigh, and is already come, that ye shall be scattered euery man by his wyke, and shall leaue me alone. And yet am I not alone: For the father is with me. These wordes haue I spoken vnto you, & ye mighte haue peace. For in the worlde shall you haue tribulacion: but be of good chere, I haue ouercome the worlde.

The Notes.

(a) The worlde is rebuked of synne, because they beleue not. So is vaine the synne that condemneth the worlde (by the worlde vnderstand the wycked, reprobated, and vnfaithfull, and not all the creatures that be in the worlde) and faith is the ryghteousnes of beleuers. And because the worlde and naturall reason will not knowe this thyng, but will be iustified and saved by theyr owne wykes, the holpe ghoste shall rebuke the worlde, and shew that they shall be iustly condemned.

The xlii. Chapter.

¶ The most hertly and louyng prayer of Christ vnto his father, for all such that receyue the truth.

¶ These wordes spake Jesus, and lyste by his eyes to heauen, and sayed: Father, the houre is come: glorify thy son, that thy son may glorify the, as thou hast geuen him power ouer all fleche, that he should geue eternall lyfe to as manye as he wille. This is lyfe eternall, that they myght knowe the, & onely verely God, & whome thou hast sent, Jesus Christ.

I haue glorified the on the earth, I haue finished the worke, whiche thou gauest me to doo. And nowe glorify me thou father with thine own selfe, with the glory which I had with thee before the worlde was. (a) I haue declared thy name vnto the men whiche thou gauest me oute of the worlde. Whiche they were, and thou gauest them me, and they haue kepte thy saynges. Nowe they knowe that all thinges whatsoeuer thou hast geuen me: are of the. For I haue geuen vnto them the wordes whiche thou gauest me, and they haue receyued them, & know surely that I come oute from the, and do beleue that thou diddest send me. I pray for them, & praye not for (b) the worlde, but for them whom thou hast geuen me, for they are thine. And all mine are thine, & thine are mine, and I am glorified in them. And nowe am I no more in the worlde, but they are in the worlde, and I come to the.

¶ Holpe father kepe in thine owne name, them whom thou hast geuen me, that they may be one, as we are. While I was with them in the worlde, I kept the in thy name. Whose that thou gauest me, haue I kept & none of the is lost, but that losse chylde that the scripture might be fulfilled.

¶ Nowe come I to the, and these wordes speake I in the worlde, that they myghte haue my ioye full in them: I haue geuen them thy words, and the worlde hath hated them, because they are not of the worlde, euen as I am not of the worlde. I desyre not that thou shouldest take them oute of the worlde: but that thou kepe the from euill. For they are not of the worlde, as I am not of the worlde. Sanctify them with thy truth, thy sayinge is truth. As thou diddest sende me into the worlde, euen so haue I sent the into the worlde, and for their sakes sanctifye I my self, that they also might be sanctified throught the truth. I pray not for the

Alone

Mat. vii. a.
Mar. xi. c.
Luke. xi. d.
Prompse.

Mat. xxvi.
Mar. xlii. d.

Eternall
lyfe.

Ps. cix. d.

alone: but for the also which Mal beleue off me through their preaching, & they al may be one, as thou father arte in me, & In the; that they may be also one in vs, that the world may beleue that thou hast sente me. And that glorie that thou gauest me, haue I geuen them, that they may be one, as we are one: I in them and thou in me, that they may be made perfecte in one, and that the world maye knowe that thou hast sente me, and hast loued them as thou hast loued me. Father, I will that they whiche thou hast geuen me, be with me wher I am, that they maye see my glorie whiche thou hast geuen me. For thou louedst me before the making of the worlde. O righteous father, the very worlde hath not knowen the, but I haue knowen the, and these haue knowen that thou hast sente me. And I haue declared vnto them thy name, and wil declare it, that the loue wherewith thou hast loued me, be in them, and that I be in the.

The Notes.

I haue declared thy name. &c. The world (a) That is the renowne and glorie, that thou art meekfull, for geuest synnes for my sake, and art good and rightuous. (b) The worlde in this place is taken for the wicked, froward and vnbeleuers.

The .xviii. Chapter.

Christe is betrayed. The wordes of his mouth smyte the officers to the grounde. Peter smiteth of Malchus ear. Jesus is brought before Anna, Cayphas and Pilate.

When Jesus had spoken these wordes, he went forth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden into the whiche he entred with his disciples. Judas also which betrayed him knewe the place: for Jesus oft tymes resorted thither wpth his disciples. Judas then after he had receyued a band of men, and ministers of the hie priestes and pharises, came thither wpth lanternes & fyrebrandes, and weapons. Then Jesus knowing all thynges that shuld come on him, wente forth and sayed vnto theim: whome seeke ye? They answered hym: Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus said vnto them: I am he.

Judas also whiche betrayed him, stode with them. But as one as he had sayed vnto them: I am he, they wente backwardes and fell to the ground. And he asked them agayne: whome seeke ye? They answered: Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus answered: I sayed vnto you, I am he. If ye seeke me, let these go their way. That the sayng might be fulfilled, which he spake: of them which thou gauest me, haue I not lost one.

Simon Peter had a swerde, and drue it, and smote the hie priestes seruaunte, and cutte of his right ear. The seruaunts name was Malchus: When sayed Jesus vnto Peter: putte by thy swerde into the sheathe: shall I not dryncke of the cuppe whiche my father hath geuen me? When the companie and the Captayne, and the ministers of the Jewes, tooke Jesus and bound hym, and ledde hym awaye to Anna pryte: For he was father in lawe vnto Cayphas, whiche was the hie pryete that same peare.

Cayphas was he that gaue counsell to the Jewes, that it was expedient that one manne should dye for the people. And Simon Peter folowed Jesus, and another disciple, that discypple was knowen of the hie pryete, and wente in wpth Jesus into the palaice of the hie pryete. But Peter stode at the doore wpthoute. Then wente out that other discypple whiche was knowen vnto the hie pryete, and spake too the damsel that kepte the doze, and broughte in Peter.

Then sayed the damsell that kepte the doze, vnto Peter. Arte not thou one of this mannes disciples? He sayed: I am not. The seruautes and the mynisters stode ther, and hadde made a fyre of coales: for it was colde, and they warmed themselves. Peter also stode amonge them, and warmed hymselfe.

The hie pryete asked Jesus of his disciples and of his doctrine. Jesus answered hym: I spake openly in the worlde, I euer taughte in the Synnagoge and in the temple whither all the Jewes resorted, and in secrete haue I sayed nothyng. Why arrest thou me? Are there which heard me, what I sayed vnto them? Behold they can tell what I said. When he had thus spoken, one of the ministers whiche stode by, smote Jesus on the face sayinge: answeredst thou the hie pryete so? Jesus answered hym: if I haue euill spoken, beare wytnes of the euill: if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me? And Annas sent hym bound vnto Cayphas the hie pryete.

Simon Peter stode and warmed hym selfe, and they sayed vnto hym: Arte not thou also one of his disciples? He denyed it and sayed: I am not. One of the hie priestes seruautes (his cosin whose eare Peter smote of) sayed vnto hym: dyd not I see the in the garden wpth hym? Peter denyed agayne, & immediatly the cock crew.

Then led they Peter from Cayphas into the hall of iudgement. It was in the morninge, and they themselves went not into the iudgement hal, least they should be defyled, but that they might eat the paschal lambe. Plate then went out vnto them, & sayd: what accusacion bring you agaynst this man? They answered and sayd vnto hym: If he were not an euill doer, we shuld not haue deliuered hym vnto the. Then sayed plate vnto them: take ye hym, and iudge hym after your owne law. Then the Jewes sayed vnto hym: It is not lawefull for vs to put anye manne to death (a) That the wordes of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake signifying what death he should dye.

Then plate entred into the iudgement hal agayne, and called Jesus, & sayed vnto

mat. xvi. c.
mar. xlii.
luk. xxi. f.

mat. xvi. f.
mar. xlii. f.

mat. xvi. f.
mar. xli. a

Mat. xv. b.
Mat. xvii. c.
unto hym: arte thou the kyng of the Jewes? Jesus answered: sayest thou that of thy seife or dyd other tell it the of me? Pilate answered: Am I a Jewe? Thynne own nacion and hye priestes haue deliuered the vnto me. What hast thou done? Jesus answered (b) my kyngdome is not of this world. If my kyngdome were of this world, then woulde my ministers suerlye fyghte, that I shoulde not be deliuered to the Jewes, but nowe is my kyngdome not from hence.

Pilate sayed to hym: Arte thou a kyng then? Jesus answered: Thou sayest that I am a kyng. For thys cause was I borne and for thys cause came I into the world that I shoulde beare witnes vnto the truth. And al that are of the truth hear my voice. Pilate sayed vnto hym: what thynge is truth?

And when he had sayed that, he wente out agayne to the Jewes, and sayed vnto theym: I fynde in hym, no cause at all.

Ye haue a custome, that I shoulde deliuer you one lose at Easter. Wppe that I lose vnto you the kyng of the Jewes? Then cryed they all agayne sayinge: Not hym, but Barrabas, that Barrabas was a robber.

Mat. xxvii. d.
Mat. xv. b.
Luk. xxi.

That the wordes of Jesus.

My kyngdome.

The Notes.
(a) He had sayde that he shoulde be crucified of the Gentyls, and therefore make Pilate geue sentence on him, and not the Jewes, for the perfourmance of his worde.

(c) That is my kyngdome is not a worldly kyngdome, that consisteth in strength, in armes, in men, in the swerde, and in the subduyng of bodily thynges, but my kyngdome is spirituall, whiche is in the heartes of the sayethfull, who are not ruled by the swerde, but by the gospel.

The xix. Chapter.

Christe is crucified. He committeth hys mother to Jhon, whedeth hys bloude, and is buried.

Mat. xxvii. e.
Mat. xv. b.
Luk. xxi. b.

Then Pilate toke Jesus and scourged hym. And f soldours wound a crown of thornes and put it on hys heade.

And they dyd on hym a purple garmente, and sayd: haille kyng of the Jewes: and they smote hym on the face. Pilate wente forth agayne and sayd vnto theym: behold I bynge hym forth to you, that ye maye knowe that I fynde no faute in hym. The came Jesus forth wearpnge a crowne of thorne and a purple robe. And Pilate sayed vnto them: Behold the man. When the hye priestes and ministers sawe hym, they cryed sayinge: Crucifye hym, crucifie him. Pilate sayd vnto them. Take ye hym and crucifye hym, for I fynde no cause in him. The Jewes answered hym: we haue a law and by our lawe, he oughte to dye: because he made hym selfe the son of god.

Luk. xxi. c.

When Pilate hearde þ sayinge, he was the more afrayde, and wente agayne into the Judgemente hall, and sayed vnto Jesus, whence art thou? But Jesus gaue hym none answer. Then sayed Pilate vnto hym: Speakest thou not vnto me? know-est thou not that I haue power to crucifye the, and haue power to leuse the? Jesus answered: Thou couldest haue no power at al agaynst me, except it were geuen the from aboue. Therefore he that deliuered me vnto the, is more in synne. And from thenceforth sought Pilat menes to leuse hym: but the Jewes cryed, sayinge: if thou let him go thou art not Cæsars frend. For who so euer maketh him selfe a king, is agaynst Cæsar.

When Pilate hearde that sayinge, he broughte Jesus forth, and sat downe to geue sentence in a place called the payement: but in the Hebrue tounge Gabbatha. It was the saboth euen, whiche falleth in the easter feaste, and aboute the sixt houre. And he sayde vnto the Jewes: Beholde poure kyng. They cryed, awaye wth hym, awaye wth hym, crucifye hym, Pilate sayed to them: Shall I crucifye you kyng? The hye priestes answered: wee haue no kyng but Cæsar. Then deliuered he hym vnto them to be crucified.

And they toke Jesus, and led him away and he bare hys crosse, and wente forth into a place called the place of deade mens sculles, whiche is named in Hebrue Golgatha. Where they crucified hym and two other wth hym, on eyther syde one, and Jesus in the myddest. And Pilate wrote hys tittle and put it on the crosse. The writing was: Jesus of Nazareth kyng of the Jewes. Thys tittlered manye of the Jewes. For the place where Jewes was crucified, was nye to the cite. And it was wrytten in Hebrue, Greke, and Latyn. Then sayd the hye priestes of þ Jewes to Pilate. Write not kyng of the Jewes: but that he sayd, I am kyng of the Jewes. Pilat answered: what I haue wrytten, that haue I wrytten.

Then the souldiers when they had crucified Jesus toke his garmentes & made foure partes: to euery souldier a part & also his cote. The cote was wthout seame, wroughte vpon thowowe oute. And they sayed one to another: Let vs not deuyde it: but caste lottes who shall haue it. That the Scripture myghte be fulfilled whiche sayeth. They parted my raimente amonge them, and on my cote dyd they cast lottes. And the souldiours dyd such thynges in dede.

There stode by þ crosse of Jesus, hys mother, & his mothers sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas & Mary Magdalen. When Jesus saw his mother, & the disciple stadyng who he loued, he said vnto his mother: woman behold thy son. Then said he to the disciple: beholde thy mother. And from that houre the Disciple toke hir for hys owne.

After that when Jesus perceyued that all thynges were perfourmed, þ the Scripture myghte be fulfilled, he sayd: I thirst. There stode a vessell full of vyneger by. And they fylled a spong wth vyneger and wound it about with psope, & put it to hys mouth.

Mat. xxvii. d.
Mat. xv. b.
Luk. xxi. d.

Mat. xxvii. e.
Mat. vii. d.
Luk. xxi. c.

Psal. xxi.

Psa. lxxv.

mouth. As one as Jesus had receyved of þ vineget, he sayed: It is fynished, and bowed hys heade, and gaue vp the gost.

The Jewes then because it was the sab-both even, that the bodys shoulde not re-mayne upon the crosse on the sabboth dape (for the sabboth dape was an hpe dape) besoughte þ plate that they legges myghte be broken, and that they myghte be taken downe. Then came the souldiers & brake the legges of the fyrste, and of the other whych was crucified wþh Jesus. But when they came to Jesus and sawe that he was deade alrede, they brake not hys legges: but one of the souldiers with a speare thrust him into þ side, and forthwith came there out bloud and water.

And he that sawe it, bare recorde, and hys recorde is true. And he knoweth that he sayeth true that ye myghte beleue also.
These thynges were done that the scripture shoulde be fulfilled: Ye shal not breke a bone of hym. And agayne another scripture sayeth: They shal loke on hym whom they pearced.

After that, Joseph of Aramathia (whych was a Dysciple of Jesus, but secretly for feare of the Jewes) besought Pilate that he might take downe the body of Jesus. And Pilate gaue him licence. And ther came also Nicodemus whych at the begynnyng came to Jesus i þ nyghte, and broughte of myrr and aloes myngled together aboute an hundred pound waight.
Then toke they the body of Jesus, & wold it in linnen clothes wþh the odoures as the maner of the Jewes is to burye. And in the place where Jesus was crucified was a garden, and in the garden a newe sepulchre, where in was neuer man layed. Ther laide they Jesus because of the Jewes sa-both even, for the sepulchre was nye at hand.

The xx. Chapter.

The resurrection of Christ, who appereth to Mary Magdalen, and to al his disciples to they great comfort.

The morowe after the Sabboth dape came Mary Magdalen early when it was yet darke, vnto the Sepulchre, & sawe the stone taken away fro the tomb.
Then she ranne and came to Symon Peter and to the other dysciple whome Jesus loued, and sayed vnto them. They haue taken away the lord out of the tomb, and we cannot tel where they haue layed hym.
Peter wente forth and that other Dysci-ple, and came vnto the Sepulchre. They ranne both together, and that other dysci-ple dyd overrun Peter, and came fyrste to the Sepulchre. And he stouped downe and sawe the linnen clothes lyng, yet wente he not in.

Then came Simon Peter folowing him and went into the Sepulchre, & saw the linnen clothes lyng, and the naphkynne that was aboute hys heade, not lyng wþh the linnen cloth, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe. Then wente in also that other Dysciple whych came fyrst to the sepulchre, and he sawe and beleued. For as yet they knewe not the scriptures that he shoulde ryl agayne from death. And the Dysciples wente away agayne vnto their owne home.

Mary stode without at the Sepulchre wepyng. And as she wepte, she bowed hyr self and loked into the Sepulchre and saw two aungelles in white, sittyng the one at the heade, and the other at the fete, where they had layed the body of Jesus. And they sayed vnto her. Woman why wepest thou? She sayed vnto them: For they haue taken away my Lord, I wote not wher they haue layed hym. When she had thus sayed, she toured hyr selfe backe, and sawe Jesus standyng, and knewe not that it was Jesus. Jesus sayed to hir: woman why we-pest thou? Whom sekest thou? She supposinge that he had bene the gardiner, sayed vnto him. Syr, if thou haue borne him hēce tell me where thou haste laied hym: that I maye fet hym. Jesus sayd vnto hir: Mary, she toured hir selfe and sayd vnto hym: Rabboni which is to saye, Master. Jesus sayed vnto her (a) touche me not, for I am not yet ascended to my father. But goo to my brethren and say vnto them: I ascende vnto my father and your father: to my god and your God. Marye Magdalen came, & tolde the dysciples that she hadde sene the lord and that he had spoken such thynges vnto hir.

The same day at nyght, whych was the morowe after the sabboth dape, when the dores were shut wher the Dysciples were assembled together for feare of the Jewes, came Jesus and stode in the myddes, and sayd to them: peace be wþh pou. And whē he had so sayed, he shewed vnto them hys handes: and hys fyde. Then were the dysciples glad when they sawe the Lord. The sayd Jesus to them agayne: peace be with you. As my father sente me, even so sende I you. And when he sayd that, he breathed on them and sayd: Receiue the holy gost.
Whose so ever synnes ye remyt, they are remytted vnto them. And whoso evers sin-nes ye retayne, they are retayned.

But Thomas one of the twelve, called Dydymus, was not wþh them when Jesus came. The other Dysciples sayed vnto hym: we haue sene the Lorde. And he sayed vnto them: excepte I se in his han-des the prynt of the nappes, and putte my fynger into the holes of the nappes, and thruste my handes into hys fyde, I wyl not beleue. And after .viii. dapes agayne, his Dysciples were wþh him, and Thomas with the. Then came Jesus whē the dores were shut, and stode in the myddes, & sayd peace be with you. After þ sayd he to Thomas: bringe thy fynger hither, and see my handes, & bring thy hand & thrust it into my side.

Geo. xli. g.
Num. ix. b.
Zach. xii. c.
Mat. xxviii.

Mar. xv. b.
Luc. xlii. g.
John. iii. a.

Mat. xxvi. a.
Lu. xlii. a.

ma. xxviii. a

Mar. xvi. e

D

E

Luk. xlii. c.

It is paid that is promp-
sed.

Math. xxi.
A couenāt
vpon byn-dyng and lospng.

spede: and be not fapthles, but beleupnge. Thomas answered and saped vnto hym: My Lorde and my God. Jesus saped vnto him: Thomas, because thou hast sene mee, therfore thou beleuest. Happp at they that haue not sene, and yet haue beleued.

And many other signes did Jesus in the presence of hys disciples, whiche are not written in this booke. These are written, that ye might beleue that Jesus is Christus the sonne of God, and that in beleupnge, ye myght haue lyfe thowow hys name.

The Notes.

Conche me not. &c. (a) That is, because thou beleuest not þ I am ry-
Howe men I suffered death, therfore touch me not.
Bynd a lofe, (b) Loke in Mathew the. xxii. c

The xxi. Chapter.

He appeared to hys dyscyples agayne at the sea of Tiberias, and commaundeth Peter earnestly to fede hys flocke.

After that, Jesus shewed hymself agayne at the sea of Tiberias. And on thys wyse shewed he hymselfe. Ther were together Simon Peter and Thomas whych is called Didimus, and Mathaniell of Cana a cytie of Galyle, and the sonnes of zebede, and two other of the disciples. Simon Peter saped vnto them: I go a fyng. They saped vnto him: wee also wyll go wyth the. They went their way and entered into a shyppe straightwape, and that nyght caught they nothyng. But whē the mornynge was now come, Jesus stode on the shore: neuertheles the dyscyples knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saped vnto them: syrs, haue ye any meat? They answered him, no. And he saped vnto them: caste out the net on the right side of the shyppe, and ye shall fynd. They cast out, and anon they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fyshes.

When saped the dysciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter: It is the Lorde. Whē Simon Peter heard that it was the Lorde, he girded hys mantel to him (for he was naked) and sprang into the sea. The other dysciples came by shyppe, for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubites; and they drew the net with fishes. Asone as they were come to land, they saw hoate coales and fishe laied thereon & bread. Jesus saped vnto them: bringe of the fishe whych ye haue now caught. Simon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and foure. And for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. Jesus saped vnto them: come & dyne. And none of the disciples durste are hym, what art thou? for they knewe that it was the Lorde Jesus. Then came he and toke bread and gaue them, and fishe lyke wise. And this is now the thirde tyme that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was risen agayne from death.

When they had dynd, Jesus saped too Simon Peter: Simon Ioanna, louest thou me more then these? He saped vnto hym: ye Lorde, thou knowest that I loue the. He saped vnto him: fede my (a) lambes. He saped to him agayne the second tyme: Simon Ioanna, louest thou me? He saped vnto hym: yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue the. He saped vnto him: fede my shepe. He saped vnto him the thirde time: Simon Ioanna, louest thou me? And Peter sorowed, because he saped vnto him the thirde tyme, louest thou me, and saped vnto hym: Lorde thou knowest all thyng, thou knowest that I loue the. Jesus saped vnto hym: fede my shepe.

Merely verely I say vnto the, whē thou wast pong, thou girdedst thy self, and walkest whither thou woldest: but whē thou art old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gyrd the, & lead the whither thou woldest not. What spake he signifyinge by what death he shoulde glorifye God.

And when he had saped thus, he saped to him: folow me. Peter turned about & sawe that disciple whō Jesus loued, folowinge, which also leane on his brest at supper, & saped: Lorde, whiche is he that shall betraye the? When Peter saw him, he saped to Jesus: Lorde what shall he here do? Jesus saped vnto him: If I will haue him to tarpe tyll I come, what is that to the? folowe thou me. Then went this sayinge abroad among the brethren, that that dysciple shoulde not dye. Yet Jesus saped not to him, he shal not dye, but if I will that he tarpe tyll I come, what is that to the? The same disciple is he, whiche testifieth of these thynges, and wrote these thynges. And we knowe that hys testimonye is true.

Ther are also many other thyngs which Jesus dyd, the which if they shoulde be written euerpe one, (a) I suppose the worlde coulde not contayne the bookes that shoulde be written.

The Notes.

(a) He loneth Christus, that credeth hys lambes and shepe.

(b) Thys is a figuratue speache, whiche doeth synagoge, that there were manye thynges to be written that are not written. But yet there is as muche written as is necessary, and sufficient for our saluacion.

There endeth the Gospell of S. John,

spede: and be not fapthles, but beleupnge. Thomas answered and saped vnto hym: My Lorde and my God. Jesus saped vnto him: Thomas, because thou hast sene mee, therfore thou beleuest. Happp at they that haue not sene, and yet haue beleued.

And many other signes did Jesus in the presence of hys disciples, whiche are not written in this booke. These are written, that ye might beleue that Jesus is Christus the sonne of God, and that in beleupnge, ye myght haue lyfe thowow hys name.

The Notes.

Touch me (a) That is, because thou beleuest not þ I am ry not. &c. sen very God, but am carnall as I was before
Howe men I suffered death, therfore touch me not.
Bynd a lofe, (b) Loke in Mathew the. xxiii. c

The xxi. Chapter.

He appeared to hys dyscyples agayne at the sea of Tiberias, and commaundeth Peter earnestly to fede hys flocke.

After that, Jesus shewed hymself agayne at the sea of Tiberias. And on thys wyse shewed he hymselfe. Ther were together Simon Peter and Thomas whych is called Didimus, and Mathaniell of Cana a cytie of Galyle, and the sonnes of zebede, and two other of the disciples. Simon Peter saped vnto them: I go a fyshyng. They saped vnto him: wee also wyll go wyth the. They went their way and entered into a shyppe straightwape, and that nyght caught they nothyng. But whē the mornynge was now come, Jesus stode on the shore: neuertheles the dyscyples knew not that it was Jesus. Jesus saped vnto them: syrs, haue ye any meat? They answered him, no. And he saped vnto them: caste out the net on the right side of the shyppe, and ye shall fynd. They cast out, and anon they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fyshes.

When saped the dysciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter: It is the Lorde. Whē Simon Peter heard that it was the Lorde, he girded hys mantel to him (for he was naked) and sprang into the sea. The other disciples came by shyppe, for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubites; and they drew the net with fishes. Asone as they were come to land, they saw hoate coales and fishe laied thereon & bread. Jesus saped vnto them: bringe of the fishe whych ye haue now caught. Simon Peter stepped forth and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and foure. And for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken. Jesus saped vnto them: come & dyne. And none of the disciples durste are hym, what art thou? for they knewe that it was the Lorde Jesus. Then came he and toke bread and gaue them, and fishe lyke wise. And this is now the thirde tyme that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was risen agayne from death.

When they had dyned, Jesus saied too Simon Peter: Simon Ioanna, louest thou me more then these? He saied vnto hym: ye Lorde, thou knowest that I loue the. He saped vnto him: fede my (a) lambes. He saied to him agayne the second tyme: Simon Ioanna, louest thou me? He saied vnto hym: yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue the. He saied vnto him: fede my shepe. He saped vnto him the thirde time: Simon Ioanna, louest thou me? And Peter sorowed, because he saped vnto him the thirde tyme, louest thou me, and saped vnto hym: Lorde thou knowest all thyng, thou knowest that I loue the. Jesus saped vnto hym: fede my shepe.

Merely verely I say vnto the, whē thou wast pong, thou girdedst thy self, and walkest whither thou woldest: but whē thou art old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gyrd the, & lead the whither thou woldest not. That spake he signifyinge by what death he shoulde glorifye God.

And when he had saied thus, he saped to him: folow me. Peter turned about & sawe that disciple whō Jesus loued, folowinge, which also leane on his brest at supper, & saied: Lorde, whiche is he that shall betraye the? When Peter saw him, he saped to Jesus: Lorde what shall he here do? Jesus saied vnto him: If I will haue him to tarpe tyll I come, what is that to the? folowe thou me. Then went this sayinge abroad among the brethren, that that dysciple shoulde not dye. Yet Jesus saped not to him, he shal not dye, but if I will that he tarpe tyll I come, what is that to the? The same disciple is he, whiche testifieth of these thynges, and wrote these thynges. And we knowe that hys testimonye is true.

Ther are also many other thyngs which Jesus dyd, the which if they shoulde be written euerpe one, (a) I suppose the worlde coulde not contayne the booke that shoulde be written.

The Notes.

(a) He loneth Christus, that credeth hys lambes and shepe.

(b) Thys is a figuratue speache, whiche doeth synagoge, that there were manye thynges to be written that are not written. But yet there is as muche written as is necessary, and sufficient for our saluacion.

There endeth the Gospell of S. John,

The Actes of the

The Actes

of the Apostles, wrytten

by S. Luke the Euangelist, which was presente at the do-pnyng of them.

The first Chapter.

When Christ had bydden his apostles to tarry at Jerusalem for the holy ghoste whiche he had promysed them, he was taken vp into heauen. The Apostles retorne at the angels monition, and geue them selues to prayer. Afterwarde at Peters counsaile, they take Matthe into Judas place, to make vp the numbre of the .xii. Apostles.

In the former treatise (deare friend Theophilus) I haue wrytten of alþ Jesus begā to do and teache, vntyl the daye i which he was taken vp, after þ he through þ holy ghost, had geuen commaundementes vnto the Apostles i which he had chosen: to whom also * he shewed him selfe alþue after his passion by manye tokens, appearynge vnto them forty dayes, and speakynge of the kyngdome of God, and gathered them together * and commaunded them that they should not depart from Hierusalem: but to waite for the promys of the father, * whereof ye haue hearde of me. For John baptysed wþ water, but ye i shalbe baptysed with the holy ghost, and that within this fewe dayes. Whē they were come together, they axed of him, sayinge: Lorde, wilt thou at this tyme restore agayne the kyngdome to Israel? And he sayd vnto them: * It is not for you to knowe the times or the seasons, which the father hath put in his owne power, * but ye shall receiue power of the holy ghost, whych shall come on you. And ye shalbe witnesses of me in Hierusalem, and in all Jewrye, and in Samarie, and euen vnto the worldes end.

And when he had spoken these thyngs, while they beheld, * he was taken vp, and a cloude receyued him vp out of their sight. And while they looked stedfastly vp to heauen as he went, beholde two men stode by them in white apparel, which also sayd: ye men of Galyle, why stande ye gasyng vp into heauen? This same Jesus which is taken from you into heauen * shall so come, euen as ye haue sene hym goo into heauen. i

Then returned they vnto Hierusalem

Apostles. Chapter. i.

from mount Oliuet, which is nye to Hierusalem, contempning a Saboth (a) dayes iorney. And when they were come in, they wēt vp into a parler, where abode * both Peter and James, John and Andzewe, philippe and Thomas, Bartelmew and Mathewe, James the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon zelotes, and Judas James sonne. These all contynued with one accorde in prayer and supplicacyon wþ the womenne, and Marpe the mother of Iesu, and wþ his brethren.

* And in those dayes Peter stode vp in the middes of the disciples, and sayd (the numbre of names that were together, were about an hundred and twenty.) Ye men and brethren, this scripture muste haue nedes bene fulfilled, which the holy ghoste thorough the mouth of Dauid spake before * of Judas, whych he was gyde to them that tooke Iesus. For he i was numbred with vs, and had obtayned felowshippe in this ministracyon. And the * same hath now possessed a plot of grounde with the reward of iniquitye, and when he was * hanged, brost a sundre in the myddes, and all his bowels gushed oute. And it is known vnto all the inhabiteurs of Hierusalem, in so much that that field is called in their mother tonge, Acheldama, that is to saye, the bloudy fiede.

It is wrytten in the booke of psalmes. * His habitation be voide, and no manne be dwellynge therein, i and his Bishopricke let another take: Wherfore of these men, whych haue companied with vs all the tyme that the Lord Iesus went in and out among vs, beginninge at the baptysme of John, vnto that same daye, that he was taken vp from vs, muste one be ordeyned to beate wptnes with vs of his resurreccyon.

And they appoynted two, Joseph called Barsabas (whose spy name was Justus) and Mathias. And they prayed, sayinge: thou Lorde whych knowest * the hartes of all men, shewe whether of these two thou haste chosen, that the one maye take the roume of this ministracyon and Apostleshippe, from the whych Judas by transgression fel, that he myght go to his owne place. And they gaue forth the pylotes, and the lotte fell on Mathias, and he was counted wþ the eleuen Apostles. Mathias.

The Notes.

(a) The Saboth dayes iorney was aboute a myle, as is mencyned in Mathew. xxi. i

The.ii. Chapter.

The Apostles full of the holpe ghoste, speake wþ dyuers tounge. Peter denyeth that they be dyoncke, and teacheth by the testimonye of the prophetes, that Christ is Messias, and they speache the power of the holy ghoste. And whan he had humbled his hearers, he counsaileth them to repentance. And the compaignie of beleuers in Chy ste augmented euery daye moze and moze.

When

Deu. xxi. b.
Leu. xxi. c

Tongues.
Actes. iiii. f.
and. xi.

Mat. xlii.
Conuerts
that is hea
the or Be tels, couer
ted to the Jewes
sayth.

Jobel. ii. g.

mat. xxvii. c
Luk. xiii. f.

Rom. x. c.

When * the fyrste dape was come, they were all wpth one accorde toge ther in one place. And sodaynly ther came a sounde from heauen, as it had bene the commynge of a myghty wynde, and it fylled all the house where they sate. And there appeared vnto them clouen tonges, lyke as they had bene fyre, and it sate vpon eche of them * and they were all fylled with the holy Goste, and began to speake wpth other tonges, euen as the spirite gaue them vtteraunce.

And there were dwellynge at Hierusalem Jewes deuoute men, which were of all nations vnder heauen. When thys was noised aboute, the multitude came together & were astopned, because that euerye manne hearde them speake hys owne tonge. Thei wondered all and maruailed sayinge among them selues: Beholde are not al these which speake, of Galile? And nowe heare we euerye man hys owne tounge wherein we were borne: Parthians, Medes and Elamites, and the inhabiteurs of Mesopotamia, of Jewrye, and of Capadocia, and of Pontus & Asia, Phrygia, Pamphilia, & of Egypte, and of the partes of Libia, whiche is besyd Syren, & straungers of Rome Jewes, * and conuertes Grekes, and Arabians: we haue hearde theym speake wpth oure owne tonges the greates woordes of god. & They were all amased, and wondered, saying one to another: what meaneth this? Other mocked them, saying: they are full of newe wyne.

But Peter stepped forth wpth the cleue and lyft vp hys voyce, and said vnto them: Ye men of Jewry, and all ye that inhabyte Hierusalem: be thys knowe vnto you, and wpth poure eares heare my wordes. These are not droncke, as ye suppose, for it is yet but the thyrde houre of the dape. But thys is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel. * It shalbe in the laste dapes sayeth god, of my spirite I wyl poure out vpon all fleshe. And poure sonnes and daughters shal prophesye, and poure yonge men shal se visions, and poure olde men shal dreame dreames. And on my seruauntes, and on my handmaydens, I wyl poure out of my spirite in those dapes, and they shal prophesye. And * I wyl shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, bloude and fyre, and the vapoure of smoke. The sunne shalbe turned into darres, and the mone into bloude, before that greate and notable day of the Lord come. And it shalbe, that * whosoever shal call on the name of the Lord shal be saued. *

C * Ye men of Israell heare these wordes. Jesus of Nazareth, a manne approued of God amonge you wpth myracles, wonders, and signes, whiche God dyd by him in the middes of you, as ye poure selues knowe: hym haue ye taken by the handes of vnrightheous persons, after he was deliuered by the determinate counsell and forknowledge of God, and haue crucified and slayne: whom god hath raysted vp and lewised from the sorowes of death, because it was impossible that he shoulde be holde of it. For Dauid speaketh of hym afore hande. * I sawe the Lord alwayes before me: For he is on my ryght hande, that I shoulde not be moued. Therefore dyd my herte reioyce, and my tounge was gladd. Moreover also my fleshe shal rest in hope, because thou wylte not leaue my soule in hel, neither wylt suffer thine holy, to se corrupcion. Thou haste shewed me the wayes of lyfe, & shalt make me ful of ioye with thy countenance. *

Men and brethren, let me frelye speake vnto you of the patriarke Dauid: For he is both deade and buryed, and hys sepulchre remayneth wpth vs vnto thys dape. Therefore sayinge he was a prophete, and knew that God had sworne wpth an oth to hym that the fruite of hys loynes shuld sitte on hys seate (in that Christ shoulde ryse agayne in the fleshe) he sawe before, and spake of the resurreccion of Christ, that hys soule shoulde not be left in hell: neither hys fleshe shoulde se corrupcion. Thys Jesus hath God raysted vp * whereof we all are wytnesses.

Since nowe that he by the ryght hande of god is exalted, and hath receyued of the father the promysse of the holpe ghooste, he hath shed forth that which ye now se and heare. For Dauid is not assended into heauen: but he sayde: * The Lord sayd to my Lord, sitte on my ryght hande, vntyll I make thy foes thy fote stole. So therefore let all the house of Israel know for a suretye, that God hath made the same Jesus whom ye haue crucified, booth Lord and Christ.

When they hearde thys, they were pricked in theyr hertes, and sayed vnto Peter and vnto the other Apostles. Ye men and brethren * what shal we do? Peter sayed vnto them: repente and be Baptised euery one of you in the name of Jesus Christe for the remission of synnes, and ye shal receyue the gyfte of the holy ghooste. For the promysse was made vnto you and to poure chyldren, and to al that are afarre, euen as manye as the Lord oure God shal call. And wpth manye other wordes bare he wytnes and exhorted them, sayinge: Saue poure selues from thys vntowarde generacion. Than they that gladlye receiued hys preachynge, were Baptised: and the same dape there were added vnto them aboute thre thousande soules.

And they continued in the Apostles doctrine and fellowship, and in breakynge of breade, and in prayer. And feare came ouer euerye soule. And manye wonders and signes were shewed by the Apostles. And all that beleued keppe theym selues together, and hadde al thynges common, and sold theyr possessions and goodes, and departed

Death.
Psalm. v. c.

Hell.

iii. Reg. ii. b.
Psalm. cxvii.

Actes. i. a

Psalm. cix. a.
math. xxi. a.

B

Luk. iii. b.

The Actes of the

departed them to all men as every manne had neede. And they continued dayly wpyth one accord in the temple, and brake breade in every house, and dyd eat their meat togyther wpyth gladnes & singlenes of herte praisynge God, and had fauoure wpyth all the people: And the Lorde added to the congregacyon dayly such as shoulde be saued.

The. iii. Chapter.

Peter and John goynge vp to praye in the temple, do heale one that was lame from hys byrth tyme, & when the people are come together to see the myracle, Peter expoundeth them the mystry of theyr saluacyon by Christe, accusynge them of vnthankfulness, and exhortynge them to repentaunce.

The halte is cured. Peter and John went vp togyther into the temple at the ninth houre of prayer. And there was a certayne man halt from hys mothers wombe, whom they brought and laied at the gate of the temple, called beutyfull, to aske almes of them that entred into the temple. Whiche same when he sawe Peter and John, that they woulde into the temple, desyred to receyue an almes. And Peter fastened hys eyes on hym wpyth John and sayd: loke on vs. And he gaue heede vnto them, trustynge to receyue some thyng of them. Then sayed Peter: Siluer and Golde haue I none, such as I haue giue I the. In the name of Iesu Christe of Nazareth, ryse vp and walke. And he toke hym by the right hand, and lyfte him vp. And immediatly his fete and ancle bones receyued strength. And he sprang, stode, & also walked, & entred wpyth them into the temple, walkynge and leaping, and laudynge God.

And all the people sawe hym walke and laude God. And they knewe hym that it was he, whych late & begged at the beutyfull gate of the temple. And they wondered and were sore astonysed at that whych had happened vnto him. And as the halt which was healed, helde Peter and John, all the people ran amased vnto them in Salomons porche. When Peter saw that, he aunswered vnto the people.

We me of Israel, whype maruel ye at this, or whype looke ye so stedfastlye on vs, as though by our owne power or holynes, we had made thys man go? The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, the God of oure fathers hath glorified his son Iesu & whype deliuered and denyed in the presence of Pilate, when he had iudged hym to be leysed. But ye denyed the holy and iust: & and despyred a murderer to be geuen you, and kyllled & the (a) Lorde of lyfe, whom God hath raysted fro death, of the whych we are witnesses. And his name through the faith of hys name, hath made thys man sounde: whom ye se & knowe. And the faith whiche is by hym, hath geuen to hym this health in the presence of you al.

And nowe brethren I wote well that through ignorance ye dyd it, as dyd also

Apostles. Chapter. iii.

your heades. But those thynges whiche God before had shewed by the mouth of all hys prophetes, howe that Christ shoulde suffer, he hath thus wpyse fulfilled. * Repent ye therfore and turne, that your synnes maye be done awaye. &

When the tyme of refreshing cometh, whych we shall haue of the presence of the Lorde, and when God shall sende hym, which before was preached vnto you, that is to wpytte Iesus Christe, whome heauen must receyue vntill the tyme that all thynges, whiche God hath spoken by the mouth of all hys holpe prophetes sence the world began, be restored againe.

For Moyses sayd vnto the fathers. * A prophet shall the Lorde your God rayse vp vnto you, euen of your brethren lyke vnto me: hym shall ye heare in all thynges, whatsoeuer he shall saye vnto you. For the tyme wpyll come, that every soule, whych shall not heare that same prophete, shalbe destroyed from amonge the people. Also all the prophetes from Samuell and thence forth, as many as haue spoken, haue in like wise tolde of these dayes.

Ye are the chyldren of the prophetes & of the couenaunt, whych God hath made vnto our fathers, sayinge to Abraham: Euen in * thy seide shall all the kynnedes of the earth be blessed. For aske vnto you hath God raysted vp hys sonne Iesus, and hym he hath sent to blesse you, that every one of you shoulde tounne from your wyckednes.

The Notes.

(a) That is euen he that lyfte dyd ryse from death vnto lyfe, and by whom all we must ryse and lyue, &c.

The. iii. Chapter.

Peter and John are taken, and brought before the counsaile of the priestes, in whose presence they defende Christes cause without all feare: and after they be sore threatened, they be let go. The dyscyples praye vnto god. Many sell theyr possessiones, amonge whom Joses, and Barnabas is mencyned.

As they spake vnto the people, the priestes and the rular of the temple, and the Saduces came vpon them, takynge it greuouly, that they taught the people and preached (a) in Iesus the resurrection from death. And layed handes on them, and put them in holde vntill the next daye, for it was nowe euen tyme.

Howe be it, many of them which hearde the wordes, beleued: and the numbre of the men was about foure thousand.

And it chaunced on the morowe, that theyr rulars and elders, & Scribes, as Annas the chiefe priest, and Cayphas, & John and Alexander, and as many as wer of the kynred of the hys priestes, gathered together at Jerusalem, and set them before the & ayed: * by what power or in what name haue ye done thys spys?

Then Peter full of the holpe ghost, said vnto the: Ye rulars of the people, & elders of Israel,

Mat. iii. d

De. xviii. s. Actes. vii. s

Genes. xxi. s. and. xxi. d.

The Lorde of lyfe.

Saduces.

Exod. ii. e. Mat. xxi. c. Actes. vii. d. Peter.

Comune.

The halte is cured.

Path. ix. a

iii. Re. vi. a John. x. c Act. v. c.

mat. xxviii. c Marke. xv Luk. xxi. c mat. xxviii. c Jh. xviii. g of Israel, if wee this daie are examined of the good deede done to the sicke manne, by what meanes he is made whole, be it knowen vnto you all, and too all the people of Israel, that in the name of * Iesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, & whom God raised again from death, euen by him doth this man stande here presente before you whole. * Thys is the stone caste asyde of you buyldeys, whych is set in the chiefe place of the corner. Neether is there saluacion in anye other. * For yet also is there any other name vnder heauen geuen to me wherin we must be saued. &

When they saw the boldnes of Peter and John, and understoode that they were vnlearned men and lay people, they marvelled, and they knewe them, that they were with Iesu: and beholdinge also the man whych was healed standing with the, they could not say agaynst it. But they commaunded them to go asyde out of the counsel, and counselled among theselues, saying: * what shall we do to these men? For a manifeste signe is done by them, and is openly knowen to all the that dwell in Ierusalem, as wee can not denye it. But that it be noised no further amonge the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake henceforth to no man in this name.

And they called them * and commanded them that in no wyse they shuld speake or teache in the name of Iesu. But Peter and John answered to them and sayed: whether it be right in the sight of God to obeye you more then God, iudge ye. For wee can not, but speake that whiche we haue seene and hearde. So threatened they them and let them go, and found nothing how to punishe them, because of the people. For all men lauded God, for * the myracle whych was done: for the man was aboute fortye year old, on whom this myracle of healing was shewed.

Asone as they were let go, they came to thei fellows, and shewed all that the hye priestes and elders had sayed to them. And when they hearde that, they lyfte vp thei voices to God wpth one accord, and sayed: Lorde, thou art God whych hast made heauen and earth, the sea and all that in them is, which by the mouth of thy seruauit Dauid hast said. * Why dyd the Heathen rage and the people imagin vayne thyngs? The kynges of the earth stode vp, and the rulers came together against the lord, and against hys Christe.

For of a truth against thy holy chyld Iesus, whom thou hast annointed, both Herode and also Poncius Pilate, wpth the gentyles and the people of Israel, gathered thei selues together, for to do whatsoeuer thy hand and thy counsell determyned before too be done. And nowe Lorde, beholde thei threateninges, & graunt vnto thy seruantes with all confydence too speake thy word. So & thou stretch forth thy hand, that healing and signes & wonders be done by the name of the holy chyld Iesus. And asone as they had prayed, the place moued where they were assembled together, & and they were all filled wpth the holpe ghoste, and they spake the worde of God boldly.

* And the multitude of them that beleued were * of one herte, and of one soule. Also none of them saied, that any of the thyngs which he possessed, was hys owne: but had all thynges commune. And with great power gaue the Apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Iesus. And great grace was geuen with the all. Neither was there anye amonge them that lacked. For as many as were possessours of landes, and houses, sold them and brought the pryce of the thynges that were solde, and layed it downe at the Apostles fete. And distribucion was made vnto euery man according as he had neede. And * Ioses who was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to saye, the sonne of consolacion) being a Leuit, and of the countrey of Cypers, had lande, and solde it, and layed the pryce downe at the Apostles fete.

The Notes.

(a) That is that Iesus was risen, and that all should crye by hym.

The. v. Chapter.

Ananias falleth downe deade for hydynge parte of hys money, the Christen fayth is published through many myracles of the Apostles, whych beinge caste into prison, are deliuered by the angell: and beinge before the Councyle are saued throughe Gamaliels counsell, and then being scourged with rodde they prayse and worshyp God.

A Certaine man named Ananias wpth Saphira his wife solde a possession. and kept away parte of the pryce (his wyfe also beinge of counsell,) & broughte a certayne part, and (a) layd it downe at the Apostles fete. Then saied Peter: Ananias, howe is it, that Sathan hath fylled thyne herte, that thou shouldest lye vnto the holy ghost, and kepe away parte of the pryce of the liuelod? Pertained it not vnto the one? and after it was sold, was not the pryce in thyne owne power? How is it that thou hast conceyued thys thyng in thyne harte? Thou hast not lied vnto me, but vnto god. When Ananias heard these words, he fel downe and gaue vp the ghoste. And greafe feare came on all them that hearde these thynges. And the yonge men rose vp, & put hym apart and caried hym out, and buried hym.

And it fortunied as it wer about the space of thre houres after, that hys wyfe came in, ignorant of that whych was done. And Peter sayed vnto hyr: Tell me, gaue ye the land for so much? And she sayd: yea, for so muche. Then sayed Peter vnto hyr: why haue ye agreed together to tempt the spirit of the Lorde? Behold, the fete of the

Which

Acte. xvi. f.
Actes. ii. a.
and. xix. b.
Actes. ii. g.
and. v. b.

Comune.

Love
Actes. i. b.

The resur rection in Iesus.

Ananias
and Sa
phira.

Math. i. c.
Phil. ii. b

Eccl. xlviii. a
psal. cxviii.
mat. xxi. d

Luke. xlii.
Rom. ix. g
Gal. ii. d.
1. Pet. ii. a

1. John. xi. f.

Actes. v. g.
God is more to be obeyed the man.

Actes. iiii. b

psal. ii. a.

The Actes of the

whych haue buried thy husband, are at the doze, and shall carpe the oute. Then she fell downe straghtway at hys fete and pelded vp the goft. And the pong men came in and founde hys dead, and carped hit out and buried hit by hys housband. And greate feare came on all the congregacion, and on as manye as heard it.

¶ By the handes of the Apostles *wer many spynes and woundes shewed amonge the people: And they were altogether with one accorde in *Salomons porche. And of other durst no man iopne hymselfe to the: neuerthelater the people magnified them. The noubre of them that beleued in the Lord, both of men and women, grew more and more: in so much that they brought the sicke into the stretes, and layd the on beddes and palattes, that at the least way, the shadow of Peter, when he came by, might shadowe some of them. There came also a multitude oute of the cities roundabout vnto Hierusalem, byngngng sycke folcke, and theym whych were vexed wpth vncleane spites. And they were healed euery one.

¶ Then the chiefe priest arose vp and all they that were wpth him (which is the sect of the Saduces) and were full of indignacion, and layd handes on the Apostles, & putte them in the commune prison. * But the aungell of the Lorde by nighte opened the prison dozes, and brought them forth, and sayd: go steppe forth, and speake in the tēple to the people al the words of this lyfe. When they heard that, they entred into the tēple early in the morning & taught. The chiefe priest came and they that were wpth hym, and called a counsell together, and al the elders of the chyldren of Israel, and sent to the prison to fetch them. Whē the ministers came and founde theym not in the prison, they returned and tolde, saying: the prison found we shutte as sure as was possyble, & the keepers standng without befoze the dozes. But when we had opened, we found no man wpthin. Whē the chiefe priest of al, and the ruler of the temple, and the hye priestes heard these thynge, they doubted of them, wherevnto this would growe.

¶ Then came one and shewed the: beholde the menne that ye put in prison, stande in the temple: And teache the people. Then wente the ruler of the temple with ministers, and brought them without violence. For they feared the people: lest they shulde haue bene stoned. And when they hadde brought the, they set them befoze the counsell. And the chief priest axed them saying: *dyd not we straightly comaund you that ye should not teache in this name? And behold ye haue filled Hierusalem wpth your doctrine, and ye entend to bring *this mas bloude vpon vs. Peter & the other Apostles answered & said: We *ought more to obey god, then me. The god of our father raised vp Iesus whom ye slew and hanged on tre: Him hath God lit vp wpth his right hand to be a ruler and saupour, for to giue repentance to Israel, and for geuenes of synnes. And we are hys recozues, concernng these thynge, and also the holy ghost, who God hath geuen to them that obey hym. When they heard that, they claue a sun-der, and sought meanes to slea them. Then stode there vp one in the counsell, a pharisee named Gamaliel, a doctoure of lawe, had in authorite amonge all the people, & commaunded to put the Apostles asyde a litle space, and sayd vnto them: Menne of Israel take hede to poure selues what ye entende to do as touchng these men. Before these dayes rose vp one Theudas boasting hymselfe, to whom resorted a number of men, aboute a foure hundred: which was slayne, and they all whych beleued hym were scattered abroad, and broughte to nought. After thys man arose there vp one Judas of Galyle in the tyme when tribute began, and drew away much people after hym. He also perished, and al euen as manye as harkened to him, are scattered abroad. And nowe I say vnto you: refrain your selues from these men, let the alone. For if the counsell of thys worke be of me, it will come to nought: But and if it be of God, ye can not destroye it, least happelye ye be found to stryue agaynst God. And to him they agreed, and called the Apostles, and beate *them, and commaunded that they shoulde not speake in the name of Iesu, and let them goo.

Apostles .Chap. vi.

And they departed from the counsell *reioysng that they were counted worthy to suffer rebuke for his name. And dayly in the temple and in euery house they ceased not, teaching and preaching Iesus Christ.

The Notes.

(a) By the castinge of hys money at the apostles feete, he would haue bene compted to be one of the Christen congregacion, and that one of the chiefe. But in the holdynge parte abacke, he declared vterlye what he was, that is subtile, and an hypocrite, mistrustng the holy ghost: whych thing because Peter would in no case shoulde be vled amonge that sort, therfore punyshed he it so earnestly.

The .vi. Chapter.

¶ Because a grudge rose among the Grekes, for that theyr wyddowes were neglected, the Apostles chose seuen men, and appointe them the offyce of that ministry. Among whom Stephen worketh wonders, and is therfore taken, and brought befoze the counsaile of the priestes, and is accused of the breache of Moyses law.

In those dayes as a noubre of the dyscyples grewe, there arose a grudge among the Grekes agaynst the Hebrues, because theyr (a) wyddowes were despyed in the dayly ministracion. Then the twelue called the multitude of the dyscyples together and said: it is not mete that we shoulde leaue the woorde of God, and serue at the tables

Mat. xvi. b

111. Re. vi. a

Thon. x. b

Acte. iii. b

The shadowe of Peter.

Actes. iiii. a

Saduces.

Actes. xii. a

and. xvi. f

Act. xii. a

Gamaliel

Theudas.

Luke. xii. a

Judas the Galilea.

Act. iiii. b

Mat. v. b

Act. iiii. b.

mat. xxvii. e

Actes iiii. b

God must be obeyed

The Actes of the # apostles Chap. vii. Fo. 16.

i. Tim. iii. c Seue deas
cons.

Apocal. v. b

Ru. xlii. d

i. Tim. i. b

Luke. xli. c

Math. x. c

tables. Wherefore brethren, loke ye oute among pou ten men of honest reposte, and full of the holpe ghoſte and wylsome, whych we may appoint to this nedeful busynes. But we will geue our selues continually to praier, and to the ministracion of the word. And þ sayinge pleased the whole multitude. And they chole Stephan a man full of fapth and of the holy ghoſte, & Philip and Prochorus, and Nicanoz, and Timon, and Hermenas, and Nicholas a conuert of Antioch. Whych they set before the apostles, and they prayed and (b) þ layed theyr handes on them.

And the word of God encreased, and the numbre of the dyscyples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly, and a greate company of the priestes were obedyent to the fapth. And Stephane full of fapth and power, dyd great wounders and miracles among the people. Then arose certaine of the Synagoge, whiche are called Libertines and Syrenites, and of Alexandria, and of Cilicia, and Asia, and dysputed with Stephan. And they could not resist the wylsome, and the spirit, with whych he spake. Then sente they in men whiche saied: wee haue heard him speake blasphemous wordes agaynst Moyses, and agaynst God. And they moued the people and the elders and the Scribes: and came vpon him and caught him, and brought hym to the counsell, and broughte forth the false witness whiche saied: This manne ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes agaynst this holy place and the lawe, for we heard hym saye: this Iesus of Nazareth shall destroy the place, and shall chaunce the ordinaunces whiche Moyses gaue vs. And all that sate in the Counsell, looked stedfastlye on hym, and sawe hys face, as it had bene the face of an aungell.

The Notes.

Wydowes
despyled.
Puttyng
on of handes

(a) That is, not indifferently looked vpon in the dayly distybutyng of the commune goodes.
(b) That is, admyttinge wyth an open signe, theym that were by the whole congregacion chosen to anye offyce, to declare openly theyr callinge. After this sorte were handes layed on Paule and Barnabas, when they were sent to preache, as is mencyned in the xlii. of this booke in. a. where appeareth that they receyued not the holpe ghoſte by this puttyng on of handes: for they were before endued wyth the holy ghoſte.

The. vii. Chapter.

Stephan pleadyng hys cause before the Counsayl, sheweth that God is pleased with fapth, not wyth Ceremonyes, and that he is conuersant wyth good menne, wythoute any tabernacle. Wherefore he hadde not trespasssed agaynst the holy place, nor agaynst God. But whyle the Jewes cryed soye oute agaynst hym, he is stoned to death.

The sermon
of Stephan.

Then sayed the chiefe priest: is it euen so? And he sayd: men, brethren and fathers harken to. The God of glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, whyle he was yet in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran, and said to him, * come out of thy country and from thy kynrede, and come into the land which I shal shewe the. Then came he out of the land of Chaldep, and dwelt in Charran. And after that, as sone as his father was dead, he brought him into this land, in whych he now dwell, and he gaue him none inheritaunce in it, no not the bredth of a foote, but promysed that he woulde geue to him to possesse and to hys seede after him, when as yet he had no chyld.

* God verely spake on this wise that hys seede shoulde be a dweller in a straunge lād, and that they shoulde kepe theym in bondage and entreate them euill foure hundred yeres. But the nacyon to whō they shalbe in bondage, will I iudge, sayed God. And after that shal they come forth and serue me in thys place. And he * gaue him the couenaunt of circumcysion. And he begatte Isaac, and circumcysed him the eight day: and Isaac begat Jacob, & Jacob the twelue patriarches.

* And the patriarches hauing indignacy on, sold Joseph into Egypt. And god was with him, and deliuered him oute of all hys aduersities, and gaue hym fauoure & wisdom in the sight of Pharaos kinge of Egypt, * which made him gouernour ouer Egypt, and ouer all hys householde.

Then * came there a deth ouer all the land of Egypt and Canaan, and great affliction, that our fathers founde no sustenance. But when Jacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, he sente oure fathers firste. And at the * seconde tyme, Joseph was knowen of his brethren, and Josephs kynred was made knowne vnto Pharaos. Then sent Joseph and caused hys father to be broughte and all his kyn, thre scoore and. xv. (a) soules. And * Jacob descended into Egypt, and þ dyed, both he and oure fathers, and wer translated into Sichem, and were put in the sepulchre * that Abraham bought for money of the sons of Hamor and Sichem.

* When the tyme of the promys due ne (whych God had sworne to Abraham) the * people grewe and multiplied in Egypt, another kynge arose whych knewe not of Joseph. The same dealt subtelly with our kynrede, and euill entreated oure fathers, and made them to cast out theyr yong chyldren, that they shoulde not remayne alweye. * The same tyme was Moyses borne, & was a proper chyld in the syght of God, which was nourished vp in hys fathers house. iii. moneths. When he was cast out, Pharaos daughter toke him vp, and nourished hym vp for hys owne son. And Moyses was learned in all maner wylsome of the Egyptians, and was mighty in dedes & in wordes.

And when he was ful fortye yere olde, it came into his hert to byset hys brethren the chyldren of Israell. And when he sawe one of the suffer wrong, he defended him &

Genel. xli.

Genel. xv. c.

Gen. xlii. b

Gen. xli. a

Gen. xli. b

Gen. xli. c

Gen. xlii. c

Genel. xli. e

Gen. xlii. a

Gen. xli. a

Gen. xlii. g

* Gen. xli. b

Genel. i. b

Genel. xlii. g

Genel. xlii. d

Exod. i. a

Psal. cv. c

Exod. i. a

Heb. xi. e.

The Actes of the

auenged hys quarell that had the harme done to hym, and smote the Egyptian.

For he supposed hys brethren would haue vnderstande howe that God by hys handes shoulde saue theim. But they vnderstood not.

D And the nexte daye he shewed hym selfe vnto them as they* stroue, and wold haue set them at one agayne, sayinge: Spys, ye are brethren, why hurte ye one another? But he that dyd hys nepghboure wronge, thrust hym awaye sayinge: Who made the a ruler and a iudge among vs? What wilt thou kyll me, as thou dyddest the Egypcian yester daye? Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a straunger in the land of Madian, wher he begat two sonnes.

* And when .xl. yeres were expired, there appeared to hym in the wylernes of mount Sina, an aungell of the Lord in a flame of fyre in a bushe. When Moses sawe it he woundred at the syghte. And as he drew neare to behold, the voyce of the lord came vnto hym, * I am the God of thy fathers, the god of Abraham, the god of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Moses trembled and durst not beholde. Then sayd the Lorde to hym: * Put of thy shoes from thy feete, for the place wher thou standest, is holy ground: I haue perfectly sene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, & I haue hearde thei? groning, and am come downe to deliuer them. And now come, and I wyl send the into Egypte.

E Thys Moses whom they forsoke sayinge: * who made the a ruler and a iudge? the same god sente both a ruler and a deliuerer by the handes of the angell, whyche appeared to hym in the bushe. * And the same broughte them out, shewyng wonders and sygnes in Egypte, and in the red sea and in the wylernes. .xl. yeres. This is that Moses whyche sayde vnto the children of Israell: A prophet shall the Lorde poure God raple vp vnto you of your brethren lyke vnto me, hym shal ye heare.

* Thys is he that was in the congregaciō, in the wylernes wth the aungell whych spake to hym in the mount Sina, and with oure fathers. Thys manne receyued the word of lpe to geue vnto vs, to whom our fathers coulde not obbey, but caste it from them, and in thei? hertes turned backe agayne into Egypte, sayinge vnto Aaron: * Make vs gods to go before vs. For thys Moses that brought vs out of the land of Egypte, we wote not what is become of hym. And they made a calfe in those dayes and offered sacrifices vnto the image, and reioysed in the workes of thei? owne handes. Then god tourned hym selfe, & * gaue the vnto that they should worship the starres of the skye, as it is wyrtten in the booke of the prophetes. O pe of the house of Israel:

* gaue ye to me sacrifices and meate offerings by the space of .xl. yere in the wylernes: And yetoke vnto you the taberna-

Apostles. Chap. viii.

cle of (a) Moloch, and the star of your god Rempham, sygurs which ye made to worship them. And I wil translate you beyond Babilon.

Our fathers had the tabernacle of wytnes in the wylernes, as he had appoynted them* speakyng vnto Moses, that they shoulde make it accordyng vnto the fashiō on that he had sene. Whyche tabernacle our fathers receued and brought it in with Josue into the possession of the Gentils, whyche God draue out before the face of our fathers vnto the tyme of * Dauid. Whyche founde fauour before god, and desired that he myght find a tabernacle for god of Jacob. But Salomō bilt him an house. Howebeit he that is hyst of al, dwelleth not in* temples made with hādes, as sayeth the prophet: Heauen is my seate, & earth is my fote stole, what house wyl ye blyde for me sayeth the lorde: or what place is that I should rest in: hath not my hand made al these thynges.

Ye styfnecked, and of vncircumcised hertes and eares, ye haue alwayes resisted the holpe* gost: as your fathers dyd, so do ye. Whyche of the prophetes haue not your fathers persecuted? And they haue slayne the, whych shewed before of the comyng of that iust whom ye haue now betrayed & murdered. And ye also haue receiued a lawe by the ordinaunce of aungels, and haue not kept it.

When they hearde these thynges, they? hertes claued a sunder, and they gnashed on hym with thei? teth. But he being ful of the holy gost, looked vp stedfastly with his eyes into heauen, and sawe the glory of God, & Jesus standing on the right hand of God, & sayed: beholde, I se the heuens open, & the son of man standyng on the righthand of god. Then they gaue a shout w a lowde voyce & stopped thei? eares, & ran vpon him al at once, and cast him out of the cite and stoned him. And the wytnesses layed downe thei? clothes at a yonge mans fote named Saule: & they stoned Stephan callinge on & sayinge. Lord Jesu* receiue my spirit. And he kneeled downe & cried wth a lowde voyce: Lord* lay not thys synne to thei? charge. And whē he had thus spokē, he fel a slepe. & The Notes.

(a) That is to say men and women, as in Gene. se. xii. b. and. xiii. d. This is expounded in Re. iiii. c. & x. a.

The viii. Chapter.

Whyle the faithfull mourne for Stephan, Saule wasteth the congregacion. Whylippe preacheth the Gospel in Samaria, to whom the Apostles go and obtayne the holy gost for those that beleue. The couetousnes of Simō Magus. Philip instructeth in the faith, and Baptiseth the Ethiopian whych was the Eunuch of Quene Candace.

Saule* had pleasure in hys death. And at that tyme there was a greete persecuciō on agaynst the congregacion whych was at

Exod. iii. e
Gen. ix. c.
Mat. xxi. c.
Actes. iiii. a Exodi. ii. a.

Exo. iii. a

Exod. iii. d.
Mat. xxi. c.
Mar. xii. c.

Luk. ix. c.
Joh. v. d

Exod. ii. c.
Exodi. vi.
and viii. ix.
x. xi. xiii.

* Exo. xvi. a
* De. xviii. c.

Exo. xix. d.
and. xx. a Gala. iii. c

Ex. xxii. a.

Rom. i. c

Amos. v. d.
Iere. vii. c

Exod. xxi. d
Heb. viii. b.
Joh. iii. c

i. Reg. xvi. e
i. Chr. i. a.
i. Pa. xvi. c
iii. Re. vi. a

God dwel leth not in temples or churches
made with handes.

Esa. xlv. a
Deu. ix. d.

Jhon. vii. d
Actes. xv. b.

Isa. lvi. a
iii. ce. xxi. d.

Isa. xxi. a
Lu. xiii. c

Saul

Soules.
Moloch.

Act. xxi. d
Saul.

Math. x. c. at Jerusalem, and they wer at * scattered
Actes. xi. g. abroad thowoute the regyons of Iury & Samarita, excepte the Apostles. Then de-Math. x. c. uout men dressed Stepha, and made great xxii. a. xvi. lamentacyon ouer hym. But Saul made & Galat. i. c. hauoke of the congregacyon, entrynng into euerp house, and drew oute both man and woman, and thrust them into pryson. Thei that were scattered abroad, wente euerp wher preachynng the word. Then came Philip into a ctyte of Samaria, and preached Christe vnto the. And the people gaue hede vnto those thynges, whych Philip spake, with one accord, in that they heard & sawe miracles whych he dyd. For vnclen spi-rytes crynge with loude voice, came oute of manpe that were possessed of them. And manpe taken wth palseis, and many that halted, were healed.

Simon Magus. And there was greute ioye in the ctyte.
And there was a certayne man called Symon, whiche before tyme in the same ctyte bled witchcraft, and bewtyched the people of Samaria, sayinge that he was a ma that coude do great thynges: whome they regarded from the lest to the greatest, sayinge: thys felow is the great power of god.
And him they set muche by: because that of longe tyme he had mocked them wth sorcery. But assone as thei beleued Philip's preachynng of the kyngdome of God, and of the name of Iesus Christ, they wer baptysed both men and women. Then Simon himselke beleued also and was baptysed, and contynued wth Philip, and wondred beholdynng the miracles and signes whych were shewed.

C When the Apostles whych were at Jerusalem heard say, that Samaria had recey-ued the worde of God, they sente vnto the Peter and John. Whych when they were come, prayed for them that they myght receyue the holpe ghost. For as yet he was come on none of them, but they were baptised only in the name of Iesu Christ. * The laid they their handes on them (a) and they receyued the holy ghost. *

Ac. vi. b. xlii. When Simon saw that thowow layinge i. c. viii. d. on of the apostles handes on them, the ho-and. v. e. ly ghost was geuen, he offered them mony, Act. xvi. d. sayinge: Geue me also thys power, that on ii. c. i. b. whomsoeuer I put the handes, he maye receyue the holy ghost. Then sayd Peter vnto him: thy money perish with the, because thou weneest * that the gyfte of God may be obtainyd wth money. Thou hast neyther part nor felowshyppe in this busynes. For thy herte is not right in the sight of God.
Repent therfore of thys thy wyckednes, and pray God that the thoughte of thyne herte maye be forgyuen the. For I perceiue that thou art full of bitter gall and wrapped in iniquyte.

D Then answered Simon, and sayed: &
Ex. viii. b. praye ye to the Lorde for me, that none of Ro. viii. b. these thynges which ye haue spoken fall on iii. c. xiii. b. me. And they when they had testyfyed and preached the worde of the Lorde, returned Luke. xxi. c toward Jerusalem, and preached the Gospel in many ctytes of the Samaritans.

* Then the aungell of the Lorde spake vnto Philip sayinge: aryse and go Southward vnto the way that goeth doune from Jerusalem vnto Gaza, whych is in the desert. And he rose and went on. And beholde a man of Ethiopia, whych was a chamber-layne, and of great authoryte wth Candace quene of the Ethiopians, and hadde the rule of all hir treasure & came to Ieru-salem for to praye. And as he turned home agayne, sytynge in hys charet, he read & say the prophet.

Then the spyrte said to Philip: So nere and ioyne thy selfe to ponder charette. And Philip ran to him, and heard him reade the prophet Esaias, and sayd: Understandest thou what thou readeest? And he sayd: howe can I except I had a gyde? And he despyed Philip, that he wold come by and sit with him. The tenoure of the scripture whych he red, was this. * He was led as a shepe to be slayne, and lyke a lambe dumble before hys herar, so opened he not hys mouth.
Bicause of hys (b) humblenes, he was not estemed: who shall declare hys generacyon? for hys lyfe is taken from the earth. The chamberlaine answered Philip and said:
I pray the of whom speaketh the prophet thys? of hym selfe, or of some other man?

And Philip opened hys mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached vnto him Iesus. And as they wente on theyr way, they came vnto a certayn water, and the chamberlayne sayd: Se here is water, & what shall let me to be baptysed? Philip said vnto him: If thou beleue with al thine hert, thou mayest. He answered and said:
I beleue that Iesus Christ is the sonne of God. And he commaunded the charette to stand still: And they went doune both into the water, both Philip and also the cham-berlayne, and he baptysed hym. And assone as they were come out of the water, the spi-rite of the Lorde caught away Philip, that the chamberlayne sawe him no more. And he went on hys way reioysynng: but Philip was found at Azotus. And he walked tho-row out the country prerchynge in their cytyes, tyll he came to Cesaria. *

The Notes.

(a) That is, the holpe ghost dyd manifestly and vysibly appeare vpon them, as he dyd vpon the Apostles themselves, as is mencyoned in the seconde of thys booke. Thys was not by the ver-tue of the laying on of handes: but by the power of God, who would so declare the inuisyble grace of the spyrte, whych he geueth to al them that beleue in the name of Christe, and professe the same, and to establishe them in the fayth of the holpe ghost, who was not before preached vnto them.

The ix. Chapter.

D Paule going toward Damasco to take the Christians, is stricken of the Lorde, and baptised in the name of Christe, by Ananias.

h k k, ul He is

He is deliuered from the Jewes, beinge let doune ouer the wall in a basket, he is compelled also at Jerusalem to hyde hym fro the crueltie of the persecutours. Peter healeth Enecas of the palsy, restoreth Dorcas to life agayne, and is lodged at Joppa wth Simon the Tanner.

was comforted.

Then was Saule certaine daies wth the disciples, which wer at Damasco. And straightway he preached Christe in the synagoges, how that he was the son of god. All that heard hym were amased and sayd: Is not this he which spoiled the whiche called on hys name at Jerusalem, & came hyther for the intent that he should bynge the bound vnto the hye priestes? But Saul increased in strength, and confounded the Jewes whiche dwelte at Damasco, assyming that this was very Christ.

And after a good while, the Jewes toke counsell togther to kyll hym. But they laying awaite was knowen of Saule. And they watched at the gates day and night to kyll hym, & then the dysciples toke him by night, and put him thowowe the wall, and let him doune in a basket.

And when Saule was come to Hierusalem, he assaied to couple him selfe with the disciples, and they wer all afrayed of him, & beleued not that he was a discyppe. But Barnabas toke hym and broughte him to the Apostles and declared to them howe he had sene the Lorde in the wape, and hadde spoken with hym: and howe he hadde done boldely at Damasco in the name of Iesu. And he had hys conuersacion with them at Hierusalem, and quit him self boldly in the name of the lord Iesus. And he spake and disputed with the Grekes: and they wente about to slea him. But when the brethren knew of that, they brought him to Cesaria, and sente him forth to Tharsus. When had the congregacions rest thowow out al Jewry and Galile, and Samarie, and wer edifyed, and walked in the feate of the Lorde, and multiplied by the comforte of the holpe gheste.

And it chaunced that as Peter walked thowowe ouer all quarters, he came to the saintes which dwelt at Lydda, and there he found a certain man named Eneas, which had kepte hys bed eight yere speke of the palsey. Then said Peter vnto him: Eneas, Iesus Christe make the whole. Arise, and make thy bedde. And he rose immediatly. And all that dwelt at Lydda and Asaron, saw hym, and turned to the Lord.

Ther was at Joppa a certayne woman (whiche was a discipple, named Tabitha, which by interpretacion is called Dorcas) the same was full of good workes and almes dedes, which she dyd. And it chanced in those dayes that she was speke and dyed. When they hadde washed hyr and layed hyr in a chamber: Because Lydda was nye to Joppa, and the dysciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto hym, desiring him that he would not be greued to come vnto them.

Peter arose and came with them, & when he was come, they broughte him into the chamber. And all the wydowes stode round aboute him weepynge, and shewynge the coates

Galat. i. b.

Deu. xlii. a
xlii. a. xxi. b
i. Cor. xv. b
ii. Cor. xii. a Gala i. c.

Saule is couerted
Acte. xiii. b

Luke. xlii. b Actes. ii. f.
and. xv. f.

Ananias.

Actes. xxi. g
and. xxi. a.

Act. viii. a.
xlii. xxi. b.
i. Cor. xv. b
Galat. i. c.

Actes. xxi. a
ii. Cor. xi. e.
Act. xxi. c.

Saule is persecu-ted.
ii. Cor. xi. g.
i. Re. xix. f.

Act. xxi. e

Eneas.
Act. ix. b.
marke. ii. b
Luke. v. c
John. v. b.
Act. iii. b.

Tabitha.
Dorcas.

iii. re. xvi. a
iii. re. xvi. f.
Luke. vii. c
Sapncts.

coates and garments, which Dorcas made while she was with them. And Peter putte them all forth, and kneeled doune and praised, and tourned him to the body, and sayd: Tabitha * arise. And she opened hir eyes, & when she sawe Peter, she saie vp. And he gaue hyr the hande and lyft hir vp, and called the Sapntes and widdowes, & shewed hir aliue. And it was knowne thorowoute all Joppa, and manye beleued on the lord. And it fortuneth that he taried many dayes in Joppa with one Simon a Tanner.

The Notes.

(a) In the scripture, all suche are called Sapntes, as doo beleue and truste the promyses of God, and frame theyr lyuing to the rule of goddes holpe worde. And all such are saintes, euen whyle they yet lyue on the earth. It needeth not therfore to tary for the popes canonizacyn to make them sapntes an hundred yeaeres after theyr death.

The .x. Chapter.

Cornelius the Centurion at the aungetis byddynge sendeth for Peter, who is taught by a vylon that God sheweth hym, not to despyse the Gentyls. Wherfore he goeth and preacheth Chyttes Gospel to Cornelius and hys household. Whiche after they receyue the holpe ghoſte, are baptysed.

Cornelius.

There was a certaine man in Cesaria, called Cornelius, a Capitaine of the souldyers of Italye, a deuout man, & one that feared God with al his household, which gaue almes to the people, and praised God alway. The same man saw in a vylon evidently aboute the nyynth houre of the day, an angell of God comynge vnto him, and sayinge vnto him, Cornelius. Whē he looked on him, he was afraied and sayd: what is it Lorde? He saied vnto hym. (a) Thy prayeys and * al thy almeses ar come vp into remembraunce before God.

Et. xvi. a.

And now send menne to Joppa, and call for one Simon named also Peter. He lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the sea side. He shall tell the what thou oughtest to do. When the angell whych spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, he called two of his household seruantes, and a deuout souldier of the that waited on him, and told them all the matter, and sent them to Joppa.

Math. vi. a
iii. re. xvi. f

On the morow as they wente on theyr iorney, and drew nye vnto the cite, Peter went vp into the top of the house to praye aboute the sixt houre. Then wexed he an hongred, and would haue eaten. But whil they made ready, he fel into a traunce, and saw heauen opened: and a certayne bestell come doune vnto him as it had ben a great sheete knit at the foure corners, and was let down to the earth, wherein were * al maner of foure footed beastes of the earth, & beemen and wormes, and foules of the ayer. And there came a voice to him: ryse Peter, kyll and eate. But Peter sayed: God forbiddeth Lorde, for I haue neuer eaten anye thyng that is comen or vncleane. And the

Act. xl. d
Deu. xli. a Peters vi
pon.

voice spake vnto him agayne the seconde time: what God hath clenſed that make thou not comen. This was done thysse, and the bestell was receiued vp agayne into heauen.

Mat. xv. b.
Rom. xli. c

Whyle Peter mused in himselfe, what this vision whych he had sene, meant: beholde, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquirance for Simons house, and stode before the doore. And called out one and asped whether Simon whych was also called Peter, were lodged there. Whyle Peter thought on thys vylon, the spyt sayed vnto him: Beholde men seke the, arise therfore, get the doune, and go with them, and doute not, for I haue sent them. Peter went doune to the men, which were sente vnto him from Cornelius, and sayd: Behold, I am he whom ye seke, what is the cause wherfore ye are come? And they sayed vnto him: Cornelius the capitayne, a iust man and one that feareth God, and of good reporte amonge all the people of the Jewes, was warned by an holy angel to sende for the into hys house, and to hear wordes of the. Then called he them in, and lodged them.

Gen. xli. a.

And on the morow Peter wente awaye wyth them, and * certayne brethren from Joppa accompanied hym. And the thyrde daye entred they into Cesaria. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together hys kynsmen, and specyal frendes. And as it chaunced Peter to come in, Cornelius met hym, and fell doune at his fete, and worshipped him. But Peter toke him vp, sayinge: stand vp * for euen I my selfe am a man. And as he talked with hym, he came in, and found manye that were come togyther. And he said vnto them: Ye know how that * it is an vnlawfull thyng for a man that is a Jewe, to companye or come vnto an aliaunt: but God hath shewed me that I should not call anye man comen, or vncleane: Therefore came I vnto you wythout sayinge naye, as soone as I was sente for. I are therfore, for what intente haue ye sente for me?

Act. xlii. c.
Apoc. xix. b
and xxi. c

And Cornelius sayed: Thys day now four dayes I fasted, and at the nyynth houre I prayed in my house: and beholde, a man stode before me in bryght clothynge, & said: Cornelius, thy praye is hearde, and thyne almes deedes are had in remembraunce in the sight of God. Sende therfore to Joppa, and call for Simon which is also called Peter. He is lodged in the house of one Simon a Tanner by the sea syde, the whych as soone as he is come, shall speake vnto the. Then sente I for the immediatlye, & thou hast well done for to come. Now are we all here present before God, to heare al thynges that are commaunded vnto the of god. The Peter opened his mouth & saied: Of a truth, I perceiue * God is not parciall, but in all people he that feareth him & worketh ryghtuousnes, is accepted with him.

ti. p. a rir e Roma. ii. b
Galat. ii. b.
Eph. vi. d
Colos. iii. d

The Actes of the # Apostles, Chapter. xi.

Ec. xxi. v. b.
Ecap. lvi. b
Was. xlii. b

Ye knowe the preaching that God sent vnto the chyldren of Israell, preachynge peace by Iesus Christ, which is Lord ouer all thynges.

Ecap. lvi. c.

Whych preachynge was publyshed throrowout Ial Jewry, and began in Galyle, after the baptysme which John preached, how God had annointed Iesus of Nazareth with the holy ghoſte, and with power.
Whych Iesus went aboute doynge good, and healyng all that were oppressed of the deuyl, for God was with him. And wee are wytneſſes of all things which he did in the land of the Jewes and at Ierusalem: wher they clewe and honged on a tree. Him God raised vp the thyrde dape, and shewed hym openlye, not to all the people, but vnto vs wytneſſes chosen before of God, whych he eate and droncke with him, after he arose from death.

Re. xlii. d
John. xxi. b
Mat. xlii. d
Mar. xvi. d.
Ier. xxi. f
Mich. vii. d Iaphis
the remis-
ſion of syn-
nes.

And he commaunded vs to preache vnto the people, and testifie that it is he that is ordayned of God a iudge of quicke & dead.
To him geue all the prophets witnes, that thorowe his name all that beleue in hym, shal receiue remission of synnes. I Whyle Peter yet spake these wordes, the holy ghoſt fel on all them which hearde the preachynge. And they of the cirkumciſion whych beleued, were astonyed, as ma-nye as came with Peter, because that on meth with the Gentyles also was shed out the gyfte of the holy ghoſt. For they heard the spake with tounge, and magnified God. Then answered Peter: Can anye man forbyd water that these shoulde not be baptysed, whych haue receiued the holy ghoſt as wel as we? And he commaunded them to be bap-tyſed in the name of the Lord. I The presented they hym to tary a fewe dayes.

Actes. ii. a.
The holpe
ghost commeth with out laping
on of han-
des.

The Notes.

Prayer &
almes,

(a) Thys prayer and almes were acceptable in the syght of God, because they were the fruytes of fayeth. For it is not to be thought that Cornelius was without belefe, because he had not hearde the Gospel preached, but he had concey-ued the same fayth that the fathers of the olde lawe had conceyued and professed of Christe to come, and out of thys fayth spronge these prayers and almes dedes of hym, whych it pleased God to accepte, and to rewarde wth the knowledge of the Gospel, preached vnto hym by Peter. Here is to be noted the blyndnes of them that mayntayne the iustification by woorkes, by thys pece of scripture, asprymyng that before Cornelius beleued, he was so iuste and acceptable in the syght of God, that he deserued by hys woorkes to haue the fayth of Christe preached vnto hym, and the gyfte of fayth geuen hym.

These menne consyder not the doctrine of Paule, whych is, whatsoeuer woerke it be, that procedeeth not of fayeth, is synne in the syght of God. No remedy therfore, Cornelius must nedes haue fayeth before he could do anye woerke that myght be acceptable in the syght of God.

The xi. Chapter.

Peter beyng accused for goyng to the gentyles, excuseth hymselfe. Barnabas is sente to Antioche, where first the faythful receiue the name of Christians. Agabus prophesy-eth to them of a dearth to come.

And the Apostles & the brethren that were thorowout Jewry, heard saye, that the Heathen had also receyued the worde of God.
And when Peter was come vp to Ierusalem, they of the cirkumcision reasoned with him, sayinge. Thou wentest into men vncircumcised, and eatest with them.

The apostles were here spake taught & certified
by the holy ghost of the couer-
ſion of the Gentiles.

Then Peter beganne and expounded the thing in order to them, sayinge. I was in the cite of Ioppa prayinge, and in a traunce I sawe a vyſyon, a certayne vessel descend, as it had ben a large lynne cloth, let doune from heauen by the fower corners, and it came to mee. Into the whych when I had fastened mine eyes, I consydered and sawe foure foted beastes of earth and vermin, wormes, and foules of ayre.
And I hearde a voice sayinge vnto me: arise Peter, slay and eat. And I said: God forbid. For nothyng (a) comen or vncleane, hath at anye tyme entred into my mouthe. But the voyce answered mee agayn from heauen, count not thou those thyngs comen, which God hath clenſed.
And thys was done thre tymes. And al wer taken vp agayne into heauen.

Leuit. xi. a.
Deu. xiii. a

And beholde, immediatly there were. iiii. men come vnto the house wher I was, sent from Cesaria vnto me. And the spirit sayed vnto me, that I shuld go with them, without doubtyng. Moreover, these sixe brethren companied me: and wee entred into the mans house. And he shewed vs how he had seene an aungell in hys house, whiche stode and said to him: Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, named also Peter.
he shall tell the wordes, wherby both thou and al thyne house shalbe saued. And as I began to preache, the holy ghoſt fel on the,
as he did on vs at the beginninge.

Actes. x. d.

Then came to my remembrance the wodes of the Lord, how he said: I John bap-tyſed with water, but ye shalbe baptysed with the holy ghoſt. For as muche then as God gaue them lyke gistes, as he did vnto vs wher we beleued on Iord Iesus Christ, what was I, that I shold haue withſtand God? When they hearde this, they helde their peace, and glorified God, sayinge: the hath God also to the Gentyles graunted repentaunce vnto lyfe.

Actes. ii. a.
Mat. iii. f.
Marke. i. b
Luke. iii. c.
John. i. d
Actes. i. a

They which were scattered abroad thro-row the affliction that rose about Stephanides and Cipres, and Antioche, preaching the worde to no man, but vnto the Jewes only. Some of them were men of Cyprus & Syrzene, whych when they were come into Antioche, he spake too the Grekes, and preached the Lord Iesus. And the hande of the Lord was wth them, and a greate numbre beleued and tourned to the Lord.

Act. viii. a.

Exhortations of these thynges came to the eares

Barnabas sent to Antioche. Actes. xlii. c Barnabas seeketh Paule.
 eares of the congregacion whiche was at Hierusalem. And they sente forth Barnabas, that he should go vnto Antioche. Whych when he was come, and had sene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all that with purpose of herte they would continually cleaue vnto the Lorde. For he was a good man, and full of the holy ghost, and of fayth, & muche people was added vnto the Lorde. Then departed Barnabas to Tharsus for to seke Saule. And when he had found him, he brought him vnto Antioche. And it chaunced that a whole peare they had their conuersacion with the congregacion there, and taught much people, in so muche that the dysciples of Antioche were the fyrst that were called Chistians.

In those dayes came prophetes from Hierusalem vnto Antioch. And there stode vp one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the spirite that ther should be great dearth thowow out al the world, which came to passe in the Emperour Cladius dayes. Then the dysciples euery man accordynge to hys abilitie, purposed to send succour vnto the brethren, which dwelt in Jewrye. Whiche thyng they also did, and sent it to the elders by the handes of Barnabas and Saule.

1. cor. xvi. a
 11. cor. viii.
 and. ix. d.

The Notes.

(a) The Jewes called that commune, the eating wherof they were forbydden in the old law, because it was accompted vnpure and vncleane.

The. xii. Chapter.

Herode slayeth James wyth the swearde, and casteth Peter in pylson, whych is deliuered by the aungell. The kynge dyspleased whych he toke wyth the Tyrians and Sidonians, is appeased, but when he taketh vpon hym the honour dewe to God, he dyeth all to be eaten wyth wormes.

Mat. xiii. e
 and. xviij. a
 James & brother of John is kyled.
 Peter is taken.
 Quaternions of soldiers is four companies of soldiers.
 Actes. v. b

In that tyme Herode the kynge stretched forth hys handes to bere certayne of the congregacion. And he killed James brother of John wyth the sweerde: and because he saw that it pleased the Jewes, he proceeded forther and toke Peter also. Then were the dayes of swete breade. And when he hadde caught hym, he put hym in prison, and deliuered him to foure quarters of souldyers to be kepte, intending after easter to bring hym forth to the people. Then was Peter kept in pylson. But prayer was made wythoute ceasinge of the congregacion vnto God for hym. And when Herode wold haue brought him out to the people, the same nyght slept Peter betweene two souldyers bound wyth chaines, and the keepers before the doore kept the prison.

Mat. xvi. e
 Peter is lewised.

And beholde, the aungell of the Lorde was there presente, and a lyghte shyned in the lodge. And he smote Peter on the syde, and stered hym vp, saying: aryse vp quickly. And hys chapnes fell of from hys handes. And the aungell sayed vnto hym: grette thy selfe and bynd on thy sandales. And so he did. And he sayed vnto hym: caste thy mantle aboute the, and folowe me. And he came out and folowed hym, and wiste not that it was truthe whiche was done by the aungell, but thought he had sene a visyon. When they were past the fyrst and the second watch, they came vnto the prynces gate, that leadeth vnto the cite, whych opened to them by his owne accorde. And they went out and passed by thowow one strete: and by and by the aungell departed from hym.

And when Peter was come to him selfe, he sayed. Howe I knowe of a surety, that the Lorde hath sent hys aungell, and hath deliuered me oute of the hande of Herode, and from all the waytynge for of the people of the Jewes. And as he considered the thyng, he came to the house of Marpe the mother of one John, whiche was called Marke also, where manye were gathered together in prayer. As Peter knocked at the entry doore, a damsel came forth to harken, named Rhode, when she knewe Peters voice, she opened not the entry for gladnes, but ran in and tolde howe Peter stode before the entry. And they sayed vnto her: thou art mad. And she bare the downe that it was euen so. Then said they: it is hys aungell. But Peter continued knocking. And when they had opened the doore, and saw hym, they were astonied. And he beckened vnto them with the hande to holde the peace, and tolde them by what meanes the lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said: goo, shew these thynges vnto James and to the brethren. And he departed and went into another place.

As one as it was daye, ther was no lytle ado amonge the souldyers, what was become of Peter. When Herode had called for him, and founde him not, he examyned the keepers, and commaunded them too be caried awaye. And he descended from Jewry to Cesarea and ther abode. Herode was displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon. And they came all at once, and made intercession vnto Blastus the kynge's chamberlen, and desired peace, because their country was nourished by the kynge's lande. And vpon a daye appointed, Herod arrayed him in royal apparel, and set hym in hys seate, and made an oracion vnto them. And the people gaue a shout, sayinge: it is the voice of a God, and not of a man. And immediately the aungell of the Lorde smot hym, because he gaue not God the glory, and he was eaten of wormes, & gaue vp the ghost. And the worde of God grewe and multiplied. And Barnabas and Paule returned to Hierusalem, when they hadde fulfilled their offyce, and tooke wyth them John whych was also called Marcus.

The. xiii. Chapter.

The spirit commaundeth to take out Paul and Barnabas for hys purpose, whych go into Sandales at solesto be bounde vnder the fete.

 Actes. v. d
 and. xvi. f

This John is y same Marke & wyth the Gospel of Marke.
 Actes. i. d

Actes. xii. e.

Herode is slayn and eaten of wormes.
 John is Marke the Euangelist.
 Actes. xiii. a

into Paphus, and preache the worde there, where Elimas the sorcerer is made blynd of Paul. Hence they goo to Antioche in Syria and preach the Gospel, but are dyuen a waye throughe the treason of the Jewes, agaynst whom they make of the dust of their fete.

There were at Antioche in the congregation, certayne (a) prophetes and teachers, as Barnabas and Symon called Nigir, and Lucius of Cirene, & Manahen, Herode the Tetrarkes mourse fellowe, and Saule. As thei ministered to the Lorde and fasted, the holy goste laped: separate me Barnabas and Saule, for the worke wherunto I haue called them. Thei fasted thei and prayed, and (b) put thei handes on them, and let them go. And thei after they were sent of the holy gost, came vnto Seleucia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus. And when they were come to Salamine, they shewed the word of god in the synagoges of the Jewes. And they had Ihon to thei minister.

When they had gone thowowe oute the ple vnto the cite of Paphos, they founde a certayne sorcerer, a false prophet which was a Jewe, named (c) Bariesu, whypche was wpth the ruler of the countrey, one Sergius Paulus a prudente manne. The same ruler called vnto hym Barnabas and Saule, and desired to heare the worde of god. But Elimas the sorcerer (for so was hys name by interpretacio) wpthstode thei and soughte to tourne awaye the ruler fro thei fapeth. Then (d) Saule whypche also is called Paule, beyng full of the holy goste set hys eyes on hym, and laped. A ful of al subteltye and dyssitefulness, the chyld of the deupl, and the enemy of al ryghtuousnes, thou cekest not to peruert the straight wayes of the Lorde. And now behold the hande of the Lorde is vpon the, and thou shalt be blynde and not se the sun for a season. And immediatlye there fell on hym a myst and darckenes, and he wente aboute sekynge thei that shoulde leade hym by the hand. Then the ruler when he saw what had happened, beleued, and wondered at the doctrine of the Lorde.

When they that were wpth Paule, were departed by ship from Paphus, they came otherwyle to Perga, a cite of Pamphilia, and there Ihon departed from thei and retourned to Jerusalem. But they wandred thowowe companye the countreyes from Perga to Antioche a cite of the contryes of Syria, and went into the Synagoge on the Sabboth dape and sat downe. And after the law and the prophetes were read, the rulers of the synagoge sente vnto them, sayinge: Ye men and brethzen, if ye haue any sermon to exhort the people, say on.

Then Paule stode vp and beckened wpth the hand, and laped: Men of Israell and ye that feare God, giue audience. The god of this people chose our fathers, & exalted the people when they dwelt as straui gers in the land of Egypt, & with a mighty arme brought the out of it, & about the tyme of xl. yerres suffered he thei maners in the wyldernes. And he destroyed. vii. nations in the lande of Canaan, & deuoyded thei land to thei by lot. And afterwarde he gaue vnto them iudges about the space of (e) iiii. C. & l. yerres vnto the tyme of Sauiuel the prophet. And after thei despyed a kynge, & god gaue vnto thei Saule the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin by the space of. xl. yerres. And after he had put hym downe he set vp Dauid to be their king, of whom he reported saying: I haue found Dauid the son of Jesse, a man after myne owne hert, he shall fulfil al my wyl. Of this mans seide hath god (according to his promes) brought forth to the people of Israell, a sauour, one Ihesus, when Iho had first preached before hys cominge, the Baptisme of repentaunce to Israell. And when Ihon had fulfilled hys course he said: whome yethyncke I am the same am I not. But behold ther cometh one after me whose shooes of his fete, I am not worthy to leuse.

Ye men & brethzen, children of the generation of Abrahā, & whosoever among you feareth God, to you is this word of saluacion sent. The inhabitants of Jerusalem and thei rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voyces of the prophetes whypch are reade euerie Sabboth dape, they haue fulfilled them in condemninge hym. And when they found no cause of death in hym, yet desired they to slay hym. And when they had fulfilled al that was written of him they toke him doune fro the tre & put hym in a sepulchre. But God rapped him agayne from death, and he was seene many dayes of the which came with him from Batile to Jerusalem, whiche are hys witness vnto the people. And we declare vnto you, how the promes made vnto the fathers, God hath fulfilled vnto vs thei children, in that he rapped vp Ihesus againe even as it is written in the first psalme: Thou arte my son, this same day begat I the. As concerning the he raised vp him from death, now nomore to retorne to corrupcion, he sayd on this wise. The holy promes made to Dauid, I wil geue them faith fully to you. Wherefore he sayeth also in another place: Thou shalt not suffer thy holy one to see corrupcion. Howe be it Dauid after he hadde in hys time fulfilled the wil of god, he slept, & was laped with his fathers, and sawe corrupcion. But he who god reaped agayne, sawe no corrupcion.

Be it knowen vnto you therefore (ye menne and brethzen) that thowowe this man is preached vnto you the forgerenies of synnes, and that by hym are al that beleue iustified from all thynges, from the whypche ye coulde not be iustified by the lawe of Moyses. Beware therefore leaste that fall on you, whypche is spoken of in the

Exo. xvi. a
Jof. xlii. a
Jud. iii. b
1. Reg. ix. c
and. x. a

D
pl. lxxxviii. b
1. Reg. xvi. e
1. Chr. xxi. e
1. Re. vii. b
Esa. ix. a
Mat. iii. a
Mar. i. a
Luk. iii. a
Ihon. i. c
Mat. i. a
Mat. x. b
1. Cor. ii. b

Mat. xxvii. c
Mar. xv. b
Lu. xxi. c
Ihon. xix. e
ma. xxviii. a
Mar. xvi. a
Lu. xxi. a
Iho. xx. a
Act. xxi. a
and. ii. a Ihon. xv. b
Psa. i. d
Iheb. i. d

iii. re. ii. b
Esa. lv. b
Psal. xv. b

iii. Re. ii. b
Luk. xxi. c
Faith iustified
not by law.
Abol. b

Barnabas
and Paul are sent to preache.
Au. xlviii. d
Acte. vi. b
viii. c. xii. a 1. Tim. i. d.
and. v. d
ii. Tim. i. b.

Acte. xii. d Bariesu.
Sergius
Paulus.
Elimas.
Exod. vii. a
Act. viii. b
Paule.

Ihon. vi. d.

Markethe
Euangelist
otherwyle called Iho departeth
companye.
Actes. xv. g.

Acte. xii. c
Exod. i. a.
Exod. lvi. d

of in the Prophetes: Behold ye despylers, and wonder, and perishe ye: for I do a work in your dayes, whiche ye shal not beleue, if a man would declare it pou.

When they were come out of the Synagoge of the Jewes, the gentyls besoughte that they would preache these woordes to them on the Saboth folowynge. When the congregacion was broken vp, many of the Jewes and vertuouse Conuerteres folowed Paule and Barnabas, which spake to the & exhorted the to continue in the grace of god. And the next Saboth day came almost the whole cite together to hear the word of God. When the Jewes sawe the people, they were full of indignacion, and spake against those thynge whiche were spoken of Paule, speakynge against it, and railynge on it. Then Paule and Barnabas waxed bold, and said: it was mete that the word of God should first haue bene preached to you. But seynge ye putte it from you, and thincke your selues unworthy of euerglastynge lyfe, lo, we turne to the Gentyls: For so hath the Lord commanded vs. * I haue made the a lyght to the Gentyls, that thou be the saluacion to the ende of the world.

The Gentyls hearde and were glad, & glorified the word of the Lord, and beleued, euen as many as were ordeyned vnto eternall lyfe. And the worde of the Lord was published thorowoute all the regyon. But the Jewes moued the worshypfull & honorable women, and the chiefe men of the cite, and raised persecucion agaynst Paule and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coastes. And they shooke of the dust of theyr feete against them, and came vnto Iconium. And the discyples were fylled with ioye, and wth the holy ghost. ¶

The Notes.

- Prophetes (a) Loke after in the. xii. Chapter. f
But they (b) Loke before in the. vi. Chapter. B handes. (c) That is by interpretacion, Iesus son. This name hadde thys sorcerer gotten to blynde the world wythall. As now our sorcerers and con-Barisla. surers when they go to worke: they fall to cros-syng and prayynge wth all holpe wordes, to deceyue the people wythall, to make theym beleue that they rather talke wth god then with the Deuyl. Thys sorcerers name was Elimas, by interpretacion, sayth the text, whiche (as Erasfirmeth in his Paraphrases) soundeth as much in the Syrian tong as a great & false Prophet.
Paule. (d) Of the name of Paule doo manye dyspute: but the mooste allowed oppynion is, that of the Hebrewes he was called Saul, and after the maner of speache of the Gentyls and Romaynes he was called Paule.
(e) These yeares muste be reckened from theyr comynge out of Egypt. Exo. xii. not from their fyrst iudge. Iud. i.

The xiiii. Chapter.

¶ Though an vprore of the Jewes, Paule and Barnabas are dyuen from Iconium. Paule healeth a lame man at Listra, and forbyddeth them to do sacryfyce vnto hym, and is stoned through the setting on of the Jewes, from thence he goeth to many congregacions and ordeyneth priestes, and then retourneth wth Barnabas vnto Antioche.

And it fortuneth in Iconium that thei went both together into the Synagoge of the Jewes, and so spake, & a great multitude bothe of the Jewes and also of the grekes, beleued. But the vnbeleuyng Jewes stiered vp and vniquieted the mindes of the Gentyls agaynst the brethren. Longe tyme abode they ther, and quit them selues boldly wth the helpe of the Lord, which gaue testimonye vnto the word of hys grace, and caused signes and wondres to be done by theyr handes. The people of the cite were diuided: and parte held wth the Jewes, and parte wth the Apostles.

When ther was assaulte made both of the Gentyls and also of the Jewes with their rulers, to put them to shame and to stonne them, they were ware of it, and fled vnto Listra and Derba, cityes of Licaonia, and vnto the region that lyeth roundaboute, and there preached the Gospell. And there sate a certayne man at Listra weake in his feete, beyng a creple from hys mothers womb, and neuer walked. The same heard Paule preache. Whiche beheld hym, & perceyued that he had sayth to be whole, and sayd wth a loude voyce: Stand vp right on thy feete. And he stert vp and walked. And when the people sawe what Paule hadde done, they lyft vp theyr voices, sayynge in the speache of Licaonia: ¶ Gods are come downe vnto vs in lyknes of menne.

And they called Barnabas Jupiter, and Paule Mercurius, because he was the preacher. Then Jupiters prieste, whiche dwelte before the cypre, brought oxen and garlandes to the churche porche, and would haue done sacryfyce wth the people.

But when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paule heard that, they rent theyr clothes, and ran in among the people, cryynge and sayynge: Syrs, why do ye thys? We are me-fall men lyke vnto you, and preache vnto you, that ye should turne from al vanyties vnto the lypynge God, whiche made heauen and earth and the sea, and all that in them is: the whiche in tymes past suffered all nacjons to walke in theyr owne wayes. * Neuerthelesse he lefte not him selfe wythout witnes, in that he shewed his benesytes, in geuyng vs rayne from heauen, and fruitfull season, fyllynge oure hertes with fode and gladnes. And wth these say-inges seace refrayned they the people that they had done sacryfyce vnto them.

¶ Thither came certayn Jewes from Antioch and Iconium, and obtayned the peoples consent, and stoned Paule, and drewe hym oute of the cite, supposynge he hadde bene dead. How be it as the discyples stode roundabout hym, he rose vp and came into the cypre. And the nexte daye, he departed wth Barnabas to Derba. After they had preached to that cypre and had taught manie, they returned agayn to Listra, and to

Mat. xvi. e

Math. x. a.

Actes. iiii. a
A creple is healed.

Esa. xxxv. b
Math. xx. b
Luke. vi. d.
Goddess.
Act. xvi. b

Actes. x. d.
Apoca. xix.
and. xxi. c.
Apo. xiii. b
Gene. i. a
Act. xvi. f.

Roma. i. b.

Paulers
stoned.
ii. Cor. xi. f.

Ico-

The Actes of the # Apostles . Chap. xv.

Actes. xlii. f
ii. Timo.
iii. c.
Tribula-
cion.

Prayer &
fastynge
go together.

Iconium and Antioch, and strengthened the disciples soules, exhorting them to continue in the fapth, affirming that we must through much tribulacion enter into the kingdome of God. And when they had ordained them elders by eleccion in euery cogregacion, and after they had prayed and fasted, they commended them to God, on whom they beleued. And they went thorow oute Pisidia, and came into Pamphilia, & when they had preached the worde of God in Perga, they descended into Attalia, and thence departed by ship to Antioch, from whence they were deliuered vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they had fulfilled. When they were come and had gathered the congregacion together, they rehearsed all that God had done by them, & how he had opened the doore of fapth to the Gentils. And there they abode longe tyme with the disciples.

The .xv. Chapter.

¶ Diuers go about to cause the Antiochians to kepe Moyses lawe, about whiche matter the Apostles consult, and sent word to the An-tiochians by letters, what they ought to do. A great contencion rose betwene Paule and Barnabas.

Galat. v. a.
Circumcyp-
sion.

Galat. ii. a.

¶ Then came certaine from Jewrye, and taught the brethren * except ye be cy-cumcised after the maner of Moyses, ye can not be saued: and when ther was ry-sen diffencion and disputynge not a lytle vnto Paule and Barnabas agaynst them, they determined that Paule and Barnabas, and certayne other of them, should ascend to Ierusalem vnto the Apostles and elders about this questyon. And after they were brought on theyr way by the congregacion, they passed ouer Phenices and Samaria, declaring the conuersyon of the Gen-tys, and they brought greate ioye vnto all the brethren. And when they were come to Ierusalem, they were receiued of the con-gregacion and of the Apostles, and elders.
And they declared what thinges God had done by them. Then arose there by certain that wer of the sect of the Pharises which byd beleue, saying that it was nedefull to circumcise them, and too enioyne them to kepe the lawe of Moyses. And the Apostles and elders came together to reason of this matter.

Counsell.

Actes. i. b

Gal. vii. c

i. pa. xlviii.

Fapth puryfeth &

harts.

Joh. xlii. b

and. xv. a

Actes. vii. g

And when there was muche disputynge, Peter rose vp, and said vnto them. Ye men and brethren, ye know that a good whyle ago, God chose among vs the Gentiles by my mouth he shoulde heare the woorde of the Gospell, and beleue. And God whiche knoweth the hert, bore them witnes, and gaue vnto them the holy ghooste, even as he byd vnto vs: and he put no difference be-twene the & vs, but wpth fapth * purgied their herts. Now therfor why tempt ye god, that ye would putte a yoke on the disciples neckes * which neyther oure fathers nor we were able to beare? But wee beleue that through the grace of the Lorde Iesu Christe, we shalbe saued, as they do. Then all the multitude was appeased & gaue au-diencie to Barnabas and Paule, whych told what signes and wondres God had shewed among the Gentys by them.

And when they held theyr peace, James answered, saying: Men and brethren her-ken vnto me. Simeon told how God at the begynnyng byd byset the Gentils, and re-ceyued of them people vnto hys name. And to this agreeth the words of the prophets, as it is writen: * after this I will retorne, and will buylde agayne the tabernacle of Dauid, whiche is fallen doune, and that which is fallen in dekey of it, wyl I buylde agayne: and I wyl set it by, that the resy-due of men myght seke after the lord, and also the Gentils (b) vpon whom my name is named sayth the lord, whiche doeth all these thynges: known vnto God are all his workes from the begynnyng of the world. Wherfore my sentence is that wee trouble not them, whych from among the Gentys are turned to God: but that wee wryte vnto them, that they abstayne themselues * from filthynes of ymages, fro for-nicacion, from (c) strangled, and fro bloud.
For Moyses of old time hath in euery cite, that preache him, and he is red in the syna-goges euery sabboth day.

¶ Then pleased it the Apostles and elders with the whole congregacion, to send chosen men of their owne compagne to Antioch, wpth Paule and Barnabas. They sent * Judas called also Barsabas, and Silas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, and gaue them letters in theyr handes after thys maner.

¶ The Apostles, elders, and brethren, send gretynge vnto the brethren, whych are of the Gentiles in Antioch, Syria, and Celi-cia. For as muche as we haue hearde that certayne whych depart from vs, haue troubled you wpth wordes, and combyred youre myndes, sayinge: Ye must be circumcised, and kepe the law, to whome we gaue no luche commaundement: It semed therfore to vs a good thyng, when wee were come together with one accorde, to sende chosen men vnto you with our beloued Barnabas and Paule, menne that haue reoparded their ly-ues for the name of our Lord Iesu Christ.
We haue sent therfore Judas and Silas, whych shall also tell you the same thyngs by mouth. For it semed good to the holpe ghost and to vs, to put no greuous thyng to you more then these necessary thynges:
that is to saye, that ye abstayne from thynges offered to ymages, from bloude, from strangled and fornicacion: From whiche if ye kepe your selues, ye shall do well. So fare ye wel.

¶ When they were departed, they came to Antioch, and gathered the multitude together, and deliuered the Epistle. When they had reade it, they reioysed of that consolacion

Amos. ii. d

Exod. xx. a
Images.
Fornica-
cion.
Strangled.
Bloud.
Gen. ix. a Leui. vii. c
and. xvii.

Joh. xlii. a

phetes, exhorted the brethren wth muche are hereta preache, and strenghted them. And af- ken & in di ter thei had taried there a space, they were uers pla- let go in peace of the brethren vnto the A- ces of the postles. Not wthstandinge it pleased Si- new testa- las to abyde there still. Paule and Barna mente, for bas continued in Antioche teachinge and expoun- preachyng the worde of the lord wth o- ders of the ther many.

Scripture . But after a certayne space, Paule sayd vnto Barnabas: Let vs go agayne & visite our brethren in euerye cite wher we haue shewed the worde of the Lord, and se how they doo. And Barnabas gaue counsell to take wth them John, called also Marke. But Paule thoughte it not mete to take hym vnto theyr company: whyche depar- ted from them at Samphilia, and wente not wth them to the worke: and the diff- e- cion was so sharpe betwen them, that thei departed a sunder one from the other soo that Barnabas toke Marke and sayled vn- to Cipers. And Paule chose Silas and de- parted, deliuered of the brethren vnto the grace of God. And he wente throughe all Siria and Celicia, stablyshyng the congre- gacions (d) commaunding to kepe the pre- ceptes of the Apostles and elders.

Marke the
Euangelist
Acte. xiii. a.

The herte
is purified

Upd who my name

Strangled

Comading

The Notes.
(a) Fayeth purifieth the herte, when thowwe sayth, the synnes are forgotten and not reputed vnto vs, but forgiven for Chrystes blood sake.
(b) Those that shalbe named wth my name: are those that are called the people of God, and the seruantes of the lord, the congregation of Chyist or churlian companye.
(c) The beastes that dye wthout bledinge are strangled.
(d) Thys is not in the Greeke, and therefore is it lett out in Tyndalles translation.

The. xvi. Chapter.

Paule taketh to hym Timothe, whyche was circumsised before. Then is he called throughe a vision into Macedonia. He instructeth Lidia a woman at Philippios, in the sayeth of Chyiste. He dyspueth out the spirite of Dis- thon, and is for hys so doyngs beaten wth rodde, and cast wth hys felowes into pri- son. The prison gates are opened wth an earth quake. And the keeper therof receiueth the sayth of Chyist. They be deliuered thece out of theyr bondes.

A Ten came he to Derba and to Listra. And behold a certayne Disciple was ther, named Timotheus, a womanes son which was a Jewes and beleued: but hys father was a Greke. Of whom repor- ted well the brethren of Listra and Iconi- um. The same Paule woulde that he shuld go forth wth him, and toke and circum- cised hym because of the Jewes whyche were in those quarters: for they knew all þ his father was a Greke. As they went tho- rowe the cityes, they deliuered the de- crees for to kepe, * ordapned of the Apo- stles and elders, whych were at Jerusalem And so were the congregacions stablyshed in the sayth, and increased in nuber daily.

Timothe-
us.

Notes. xv. e.

Rom. i. e.

When they had gone through out whi- gia, and the region of Galacia, and * were Act. xvi. 9. forbidden of the holy goste to preache the woorde in Asia, they came to Mysia, and sought to go into Bethunia. But the spirit suffered them not. Then they wente ouer Mysia, and came downe to * Troada. And a vision appeared to Paule in the nyghte. Ther stode a man of Macedonia and prai- ed hym saying: come into Macedonia, and helpe vs. After he had seene the vision, im- mediatelpe we departed to go into Mace- donia, certified that the Lord had called vs for to preache the Gospell vnto them. Then lewled we forth from Troada, and wth a straghte course came to Samo- thracia, and the nexte daye to Neapolyne, and from thence to Philippios, whych is the chiefecitie in the parts of Macedonia, and a fre cite.

Acte. xvi. 9

We were in that cite abydyng cer- tapne dayes. And on the Saboth daies we went out of the cite besydes a riuer, wher men were wont to pray. And we sat doune and spake vnto the women whyche reso- ted thither. And a certayne woman named Lidia a seller of purple, of the ctype of Thi- atira, whych worshipped god gaue vs au- dience. Whose harte the Lord opened that she attended vnto the thyngs which Paule spake. When she was Baptised and her housholde, she besoughte vs saying: Yf ye thynke that I beleue on the Lord, come in to my house, and abyde ther. And she * con- strained vs.

Luk. xiii. 9
Gen. xix. a.
and. xiii. c.
A spirit is cast out.
Mar. ii. 9
L

And it fortunied as he went to praper, a certayne damsell possessed wth a spirite that prophesied, met vs, whyche broughte her master and mapsters muche vauntage wth prophesyinge. The same folowed Paule and vs, and cryed, sayinge: * these men are the seruants of the most hy god, whyche shewe vnto vs the waye of salua- cion. And thys dyd she manye dayes. But Paule not content, turned about, and sai- ed to the spirite: I commaunde the * in the name of Iesu Chyiste that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

Math. xv. 9

And when the master, and maistres saw * that the hope of theyr gapnes was gone, Act. xix. e they caughte Paule and Syllas, and drue them into the market place vnto the rulers and brought them to the offycers, say- ing: These men trouble our cite, which are Je- ii. Cor. xi. f wes, and preache ordinaunces whyche are not lawfull for vs to receyue, neyther to ob- serue, sepyng we are Romayns. And the peo- ple ran on them, and the officers rent their clothes, & comaunded the to * be beaten w rodde. And when they had beaten the soie, they cast the into prison, comaundyng the iapler to kepe them surely. Whyche iapler when he had receiued such comaundement, thruste them into the yron prison, & made theyr fete fast in the stockes.

At mydnyghte Paule and Syllas prayed and lauded God. And the prisoners heard them

Liii.

Acte. v. b
and. xli.

them. And sodenlye ther was a great earth quake, so that þ foundation of the prison was shaken, & by and by al the doores opened, & euery mannes bondes were lewled. When the keper of the prison waked oute of hys sleepe, and sawe the prison doores open, he drewe out his sweard, & woulde haue kyllid him selfe, supposing the prisoners had bene fledde. But Paule cried wþ a lowde voice, saying: do thy selfe no harme: for we are al here.

Luk. iii. a
Act. ii. f
and. xi. a.
Ihon. vi. d.

Then he called for a lyghte, & sprang in, & came trembling, & fel downe before Paule and Silas, & brought them out, and sayed: Sprys * what muste I do to be saued? And they sayed: þ beleue on the Lorde Iesus, and thou shalt be saued and thy household. And they preached vnto hym the worde of the Lord, and to al that were in hys house. And he tooke theym the same houre of the nyght, and washed theyr woundes, & was baptised with all that belonged vnto hym straught waye. Wþe he had brought the in to his house, he set meate before the, & kiope d þ he w al his household beleued on God.

Luk. xix. s.

And when it was dape, the officers sent the ministers, sayinge: Let those men go. The keper of þ prison told thys sayinge to Paule, the officers haue sent worde to lose you. Now therefore get you hence & go in peace: Then sayd Paule vnto them. They haue beatẽ vs openly vncōdemned, for al that we are Romaines, & haue cast vs in to prison: & now wold they send vs awaye priuely? Naye not so, but let the come the selues and fet vs out. When the ministers tolde these wordes vnto the officers, they fered: when they heard that they were Romaines, * they came and besought them & brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the cite. And they went out of the prisō, & entred into the house of Lidia, and when they had sene the brethren, they comforted them and departed.

Mat. viii. d

The. xvi. Chapter.

Paule preachynge at Thessalonica, is hindered of the Jewes, whyche styred by a sedition. Throughe whose procurement, he is also constrained to depart fro Berrea. Fro whẽ he goeth to Athenes, & in Mars strete preacheth to the vnkownen god, & couer teth many vnto Christ.

As they made theyr iorneye thowowe Amphipolis, & Appolonia, they came to Thessalonica where there was a synagoge of the Jewes. And Paule as his maner was, went in vnto them, & thre Sabothe dapes declared out of the Scripture vnto them opening & allegynge that Christ must nedes haue suffered and risen againe fro death, and that this Iesus was Christ (whō sayd he) I preach to you. And some of the beleued and came & companied with Paule & Silas: also of the honorable Grekes a great multitude, and of the chief wo men not a fewe. But the Jewes whyche beleued not, haue ynge indignacion, toke vnto them euell men whyche were bagabondes, and gathered a companie, and set al the cite on a roare, and made assaulte vnto the house of Jason, and soughte to bynge them out to the people. But when they found them not, they drewe Jason and certayne brethren vnto the heades of the City, crying: these that trouble the worlde are come hyther also, whyche Jason hath receiued priuely. * And these al do contrarpe to the decrees of Cesar, affirminge another kynge one Iesus. And they troubled the people & the officers of the cite, when they hearde these thinges. And when thei were sufficiently answered of Jason, and of the other they let them go.

Luk. xliii.

Act. xviii. e

Ihon. xix. e.

And the brethren immediatlye sente awaye Paule and Silas by nyght vnto Berrea. Whyche when they were come thither, they entred into a synagoge of the Jewes. These were the noblest of byrth among them of Thessalonica whyche receiued the worde wþ all diligence of mynde, * And searched the Scriptures dayelpe whither those thynges were euen so. And many of them beleued: also of worshipfull women whyche were Grekes, and of menne not a fewe. When the Jewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of god was preached of Paule at Berrea, they came & moued the people ther. And then by and by the brethren sent awaye Paule to go as it were to the sea: but * Silas and Timotheus abode there still. And they that gyded Paule broughte him vnto Athenes, and receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus for to come to him at once, and thei came their way.

Ihon. v. s.
Serch the Scriptures
for by the maie trie
al doctrin

Act. xviii. b.

Athenes.

Whyle Paule wayted for them at Athenes his spirite was moued in hym, to se the cite geuen to worshypinge of Images: Then he dysputed in the synagoge wþ the Jewes, and wþ the deuout persons, and in the market dayly wþ them that came vnto hym. Certayne philosophers of the Epicures & of the Stoickes dysputed with him: and some ther wer which sayd. What wilt thys babler say. Other sayed he semeth to be a tidnges bynger of new deupls, because he preached vnto them Iesus and þ resurreccion. And they toke him & brought hym into Mars strete, saying: maie we not know what thys newe doctryne wherof þ speakest is? For thou byngest strange tidnges to oure eares. We woulde knowe therefore what these thynges meane. For al the Athenians & straungers whych were ther, gaue them selues to nothyng els but either to tel or to heare new tidnges. Paul stode in the myddes of Mars strete, and sayed: Ye men of Athenes I perceiue that in all thynges ye are to superstitious. For as I passed by and behelde the maner how ye worshyppe youre goddes, I founde an Altare wherem was wyrtten: vnto the vnkownen God. Whome ye then ignorantly worshyp, hym I shewe I vnto you, * God

I * God that made the world & al that are in it, seynge that he is Lorde of heauen, and pearth, he dwelleth not in temples made wpth handes, neyther is worshypped with mens handes, as though he neded of any thynge, seing he hym selfe geueth life and bzyeth to al men euerywher, and hath made of one bloud al nacions of men, for to dwel on all the face of the earth, and hath assig- ned before howe longe tyme and also the endes of their inhabitaciō, that they shulde seke God if they myght fele and fynd him leth not in thoughe he be not far frō euery one of vs. the temple For in him we liue, moue, and haue our be- pnye, as certayne of poure owne poetes sayed. For we are also (a) his generacion. For as much then as we are the generaci- on of God, we oughte not to thynke that the godheade is lyke vnto golde, syluer, or stone, grauen by crafte and ymaginaciō of man.

B * And the tyme of thys ignoraunce God regarded not. But now he biddeth al mē euery where repent because he hath apoin- ted a dape, in the whiche he will iudge the world according to rightuousnes by that man whom he hath appoynted, & hath offe- red (b) sayeth to all men, after that he had raised him from death.

When they heard of the resurreccion frō death, some mocked, and other sayed: we wpll heare the agayne of thys matter. So Paule departed from among them. Howe be it certayne men claue vnto Paule, and beleued: amongt he which was Dionisius a senatour, and a womā named Damaris, and other with them. The Notes.

(a) We are the generacion of God, because we come of him as of our father and maker.

(b) In thys place, sayeth is taken for the promi- ses of mercy whiche throughe sayeth saue vs. Whiche promises, God after the resurreccion of Chyste, commaunded to be preached vnto al nacions, & not to the Jewes only as before.

The xvi. Chapter

Paule exerciseth hys occupacion at Co- rinth. And because the Jewes refuse the gos- pell, he goeth vnto the Gentiles, the Lorde comforteth hym. He is taken and broughte before Gallio, but escapeth, and goeth thēce to Ephesus in Siria, & conuertyeth the con- gregacions of Galacia and Phrygia. Apol- lo beyng instructed of Aquila preacheth Chist with good successe at Ephesus.

A fter that Paule departed from A- thens and came to Corinthum, and founde a certayne Jewe named *A- quila, borne in Pontus, latelpe come from Italpe wpth the hys wyfe Priscilla (because that the Emperoure Claudius had commaunded al Jewes to departe frō Rome) and he drew vnto theym. And be- cause he was of the same crafte, he abode wpth them and wroughte: they craft was to make tentes. And he preached in the si- nagoge euery Saboth day, and exhorted y Jewes and the Gentils.

B When * Silas and Timotheus were come frō Macedonia, Paule was constrained bi the spirit to testify to the Jewes that Je- sus was very Chyste. And when they sayd contrary and blasphemed, * he shoke hys raiment, & sayd vnto them: your bloud be Shoke his vpon your owne hedes; & from hence forth raiment. I go blameles vnto the Gentils. And he departed thence, and entred into a certain mans house named Justus a worshypper of god whose house ioyned hard to y syna- goge. How be it on Cypus y chiefe ruler of y synagoge beleuid on the lord whal his housholde, and manye of the Corinthians gaue audience and beleued, and were bap- tised. Then spake the lord to Paule in the nyghte * by a vylion: be not afrayed, but speake, and holde not thy peace: for I am wpth the, and no man shal inuade the that shall hurte the: For I haue muche people in thys cite. And he continued ther a yere, and spye monethes, and taught theym the worde of God.

When Gallio was a ruler of the coun- trye of Achaia, the Jewes made insurrec- tion with one accorde agaynst Paule, and brought him to the iudgemente seate say- inge: this felowe councelleth men to wor- shypp God contrarpe to the lawe. And as Paule was aboute to open his mouth Ga- llio sayed vnto the Jewes: if it were a mat- ter of wrounge, or an euill dede (O ye Je- wes) reason woulde that I shoulde heare you: but if it be a questid of words or of na- mes, or of your law, lokeye to it your sel- ues. For I wil be no iudge in such matters and he draue theym from the seate. Then toke all the Brekes Sostenes the cheife ruler of the synagoge, and smote hym be- fore the iudges seate. And Gallio cared for none of those thynge.

Paule after thys, tarped ther, yet a while and then tooke hys leaue of the brethren, and sailed thence into Siria, Priscilla and Aquila accompanynge hym. And * he shoke hys heade in Cenchrea, for he had a bowe.

And he came to Ephesus and left them there: but he hym selfe entred into the Si- nagoge, and reasoned wpth the Jewes. When they despyed hym to tarpe longer tyme with them, he consented not but bad theym farewell, sayinge: I muste nedes at thys feaste that cometh, be in Jerusalem: but I wpll retorne agayne vnto you * if God will. And he departed frō Ephesus, & came vnto Cesarea: and ascended and sa- luted the congregacion, and departed vn- to Antioche: and when he had tarped there a whyle he departed. And went ouer al the contrye of Galacia and Phrygia by order, strengthening al the dysciples.

And a certayne Jewe named * Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man & myghty in the scriptures. Here went the same was informed in the way of the lord, & spake feruentlye in the spirite, and taught diligently the thinges of the lord & Apollos. knew but the baptisme of Ihon only. And the same began to speake boldly in the si- nagoge. And when Aquila & Priscilla had heard

heard

The Actes of the # Apostles. Chap. xix.

heard him, they toke him vnto the, & expoſi-ded vnto him the way of god moze perſectli.
And when he was diſpoſed to go into Aca-ia, the brethren wrote, exhortyng the Diſciples to receiue hym. After he was come thither, he holpe the much whych had be-leued thow grace, and myghtelp he ouercame the Jewes, and that opely, ſhowing by the ſcriptures that Jeſus was Chriſte.

The. xix. Chapter.

Paule confirmeth thoſe at Ephelus, whych were baptiſed only with Jhons baptiſme, he ſarieth ther two yerres, preaching & doing miracles. Exorcistes whych abuſe the name of Chriſt, are come of ſ denil. Wokes of witch craſte are burned. While Paule prepared to depart thence. Demetrius ſpreeketh vp an vproye agaynſt hym.

Ephelus Iſortuned, whyle Appollo was at Corinthum, that Paule paſſed thow the utter coaſtes and came to Ephelus, and found certaine diſciples & ſayd vnto them:
haue ye receiued the holy goſt ſence ye be-leued? And they ſayd vnto him: no we haue not heard whether ther be any holy goſt or no. And he ſayd vnto the: wherewith were ye then baptiſed? And they ſayd: wpth Jhons baptiſme. Then ſaid Paule: * Jho berely baptiſed with the baptiſme of repentaunce, ſayinge vnto the people that they ſhould beleue on hym whych ſhoulde come after him that is on Chriſte Jeſus. When they heard that, they were baptiſed in the name of the Lord Jeſus, and Paule * laid hys handes vpon them, and * the holy goſt came on them, & they ſpake with toungeſ and prophesied, and all the men were about. xii.

And he wente into the Synnagoge, and ſpake boldelye for the ſpace of three monethes, diſputyng and geuyng them exhortacions of the kyngdome of God. & When diuers wared harde harted and be-leued not, but ſpake euill of the way, and that befoze the multitude, he departed fro them, and ſeperated the diſciples. And diſ-puted dailly in the ſchole of one called Tiranus. And thys continued by the ſpace of two yerres: ſo that all they which dwelte in Asia, heard the word of the lord Jeſu, both Jewes and Brekes. And God * wroughte no ſmal myracles by the handes of Paule, ſo that fro his bodeye were broughte vnto the ſpeke, napkynnes or partlets, and diſ-eaſes departed from them, and * the euill ſpirites went out of them.

Then certayne of the vagabond Jewes exorcistes, toke vpon them to call ouer the whych he had euill ſpirites, the name of the Lord Jeſus, ſayinge: We adiure you by * Jeſu, whome Paule preacheth. And there were ſeuene ſonnes of one Secua a Jewe and chiefe of the prieſtes, whych he dyd ſo. And the euill ſpirite answered and ſayd: Jeſus I know, and Paule I know, but who are ye? And the man in whom the euill ſpirite was, ranne on thepm, and ouercame thepm, and preuayled agaynſt thepm, ſo that they fled out of that houſe naked and wounded. And thys was knowen to all the Jewes and Brekes alſo, whych dwelt at Ephelus, & feare came on the al, and they magnified the name of the Lord Jeſus.

And many that beleued, came * and confeſſed and ſhewed their workes. Manye of them which vſed curious craſtes, brought theyr bookeſ and burned thepm befoze all men, and they counted the price of thepm:
and founde it fyfte thouſand * ſyluerlin-ges. So myghtly grewe the worde of god and preuayled. After theſe thynges were ended, Paule purpoſed in the ſpuryte, too paſſe ouer Macedonia and Achaia, and to goe to Ieruſalem, ſayinge: After I haue bene there, I muſt alſo ſe Rome. So ſente he into Macedonia two of thepm that miniſtered vnto hym. Timotheus and Era-ſtus: but he hym ſelfe remayned in Asia for a ſeaſon. The ſame tyme there aroſe no litle ado aboute that wape. For a certayne ma named Demetrius, a ſiluerſmith, whych made ſiluer ſhrines for Diana was not a litle beneficiall vnto the craſtes menne.
Whych he called together wpth the wor-men of lyke occupacion, and ſayd: Spys, ye knowe that by thys craſte * wee haue vauntage. Mozeouer ye ſe and heare that not alone at Ephelus, but almoſt thow out all Asia, thys Paule hath perſwaded and turned awaye muche people: ſayinge that * they be not Goddes which are made wth handes. So that not onely thys our craft cometh into paryl to be ſet at nought but alſo that the temple of the great goddeſ Diana ſhould be deſpiſed: and her magnificence ſhould be deſtroied, whych al Asia, & the world worſhippeth.

When they herde theſe ſayinges, they were ful of wrath, & cried out ſaying: great is Diana of the Epheliſians. And all the citye was on a roar, and they ruſhed into the commune hall with one aſcente, & caughte Bapus and Ariſtarcus, me of Macedonia, Paules companions. When Paule would haue entred in vnto the people, the Diſciples ſuffered hym not. Certayne alſo of ſ chiefe of Asia whych were his friends, ſent vnto hym, deſirynghim that he would not pceace into the comen hal. Some cried one thyng, & ſome an other, and the congrega-cion was al out of quiet, and the moze part knew not wherfoze they were come together. Some of the company drew forth Alexander, the Jewes thruſtyng hym forwardes. Alexander * beckened wpth the had and wold haue geuen the people anſwere.
When they knewe ſ he was a Jewe, they aroſe a ſhout almoſt for the ſpace of two houres of al men, cryng: greate is Diana of the Epheliſians.

When the towne clarke had ceaſed the people, he ſayd: ye men of Ephelus, what man is it that knoweth not howe that the citie of the Epheliſians is a worſhypper of ſ greate

Math. ii. b.
Mark. i. b.
Luk. iii. c.
Jhon. i. d.
Lapinge
on of han-
des.

Act. vi. b.
iii. c. xii. a
Pa. xvii. d
i. tim. iii. b.
Actes. ii. a
iii. f. xii. b
Mat. vii. d
Act. ii. a

Mat. xvi. d
Act. v. a Napkyn.
partlet.
Mat. xvi. d

Mat. vii. c.

Mat. i. a.
Theſe ſpl uerlynges whych we nowe and then cal
pence, the Jewes cal ſicles, and are worthe
ten pence
ſterlyng.
Demetri-
us.

Act. xvi. d

Psal. cxi. a greate Goddess Diana, and of the ymage which (b) came from heauen. Sepunge than that no man sayth here agaynst, ye oughte to be content, & do nothyng rashlye, for ye haue brought hither these men, whych are neyther robbers of churche, nor yet despylers of your Goddess. Wherfore if Demetrius and the craftes men whych are wpyth hym, haue any saying to any man, the law is open, & ther are rulers, let the accuse one another. If ye go about any other thyng, it maye be determined in a lawfull congregacon. For we are in ieopardy to be accused of this dayes busynes. For as muche as ther is no cause wherby we maye giue a reckenyng of thys concourse of people. And when he had thus spoken, he lette the congregacon departe.

The Notes.

Baptisme

(a) The difference between the baptysme of Iho and the Apostles, was onely thys. That Iohn Baptysed them to beleue in Christ that was to come: and the apostles, that was come already, & had suffered for the synnes of as many as shuld beleue in hym.

the image that came fro heauen

(b) They amonge the Grekes, that made Images (to the entente to wyne the more theteby) sayned that they came from heauen, & that they were not mortall, nor subiecte vnto death.

The xx. Chapter.

Paul appointeth to goo to Macedonia. A man at Troias, falleth oute of a wyndowe whyle Paul is a preachyng, and is by him resciued agayne. After when he is come to Miletum, he calleth together the elders of the congregacon of Ephesus, and sheweth the integryte of hys lyfe, and declareth to them hys destinie and theris wpyth certayn other. They byng hym to Myp wpyth much heynnes.

After the rage was ceased, Paul called the dyscyples vnto him, and toke hys leaue of them, and departed for to go into Macedonia. And when he hadde gone ouer those parties, and geuen them large exhortacions, he came into Grece, & there abode thre monethes. And when the Jewes sayd wait for him as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to retourne through Macedonia. There accompanied him into Asia, Sopater of Berrea, and of Thessalonias, Aristarcus and Secundus, & Tarsus of Derba, and Timotheus, and out of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus. These went before, and tarped vs at Troias. And we sailed away fro Philippios after the easter holy daies, & came vnto them to Troias in foure dayes, where we abode seuen daies.

And on the morow after the sabbeth daye the dyscyples came together for to breake bread, and Paul preached vnto them (readye to depart on the morowe) & contynued the preachyng vnto mydnight. And there were manye lightes in the chamber where they were gathered together, and there sat in a windowe a certayne yong man named Eutichus, fallen into a depe slepe. And as Paul declared, he was more overcome wpyth slepe, and fell downe from the thyrde lofte, and was taken bp dead. Paul wente downe and fel on hym, & embraced him, and sayde: make nothing a do: for his lyfe is in hym. When he was come bp agayne, he brake bread and tasted, and commened a longe whyle euen tyll the mornynge, and so departed. And they brought the yonge man alpye, and were not a litle comforted.

iii. Re. xvii. d. iiii. re. iiii. c. Luke. vii. c. Acte. ix. g.

And we wente afoze to Myp, and lewised vnto Asson, there to receyue Paul. For so had he appointed and would hymselfe goo afoze. When he was come to vs to Asson, we toke him in, and came to Miletum. And we sayled thence, and came the nexte daye ouer agaynst Chios. And the next daye we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogilion. The nexte daye we came to Miletum, for Paul hadde determined to leaue Ephesus as they sailed, because he would not spend the tyme in Asia. For he halld too be (if he could possyble) at Jerusalem at the day of Pentecost. Wherfore from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the congregacon. And when they were come to hym, he sayed vnto them: Ye knowe from the fyrst daye that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons, seruing the Lord with al humbleness of mynde, and wpyth many teares, and temptacions which happened to me by the laynyngs awaite of the Jewes, and how I kept back nothyng that was profitable, but that I haue shewed you and taughte you openly, and at home in your houses, witnessyng both to the Jewes, and also to the Grekes, the repentance toward god, and sayth toward our Lord Jesus.

The sermo of Paul to the Ephesians

Luk. xiii. e. Repentance & sayeth.

And now behold I go bound in the spyrite vnto Jerusalem, and knowe not what shall come on me ther, but that the holpe of the ghost witnesseth in euery cite, sayyng: that bondes & troubles abide me. But none of these thynges moue me: neither is my lyfe dere vnto my selfe: that I might fulfil my course wpythiop, and the ministraciō which I haue receiued of the Lord Jesus, to testify the Gospell of the grace of God. And now behold, I am sure that henceforth ye all (through whom I haue gone preaching the kyngdome of God) shall se my face no more. Wherfore I take you to record thys same day that I am pure from the bloude of all men. For I haue kept nothing back: but haue shewed you al the counsel of god. Take hede therfore vnto your selues, and to al the flocke wherof the holy ghost hath made you ouersears, to rule the congregacon of God, whych he hath purchased wpyth his bloude. For I am sure of thys: that after my departyng shall greuous wolues enter in amonge you: whych wyll not spare the flocke.

Act. xxi. a

ii. tim. iiii

i. Ti. ii. a. ii. Ti. iii. a. De. ii. a. and. iii. a.

Moreouer of your own selues shall men aryse speakyng peruerse thynges to draw dysciples after them. Wherfore awake, and remember that by the space of thre yeres, I ceased not to warne euerye one of you, both Judi. i. e. Greuous woulfes.

Acte. xix. f. ii. tim. iiii. d

Eutichus

The Actes of the # Apostles, Chapt. xxi.

both night and day wpth teares.

And nowe bzethzen I comende you to God and to the word of hys grace, whypche is able to build further, and to geue you an inheritaunce amonge all them whypche are sanctified. * I haue despyed no mans siluer, gold or bestur. Ye know wel that these hands haue ministered vnto my necessities, and too them that were with mee, I haue shewed you all thynges, howe that so labourynge ye oughte to receyue the weake, and to remember the wordes of the Lorde Jesu, how that he sayed: it is more blessed to geue, then to receyue.

When he hadde thus spoken, he kneeled down, * and prayed with them al. And they wept all abountauntly, and sel on pauls necke, and kissed him sorrowing most of al, for the wordes whypch he spake, that they shoulde see hys face no more. And they accompanied hym vnto the shipp.

The. xxi. Chapter.

Paul went towards Jerusalem, goeth ouer to Cirus, and speaketh wpth Phil. ppe at Cesarea. Agabus prophesyeth of hys bondes. But not wpthstandynge the counsaile of his frends, he goeth to Jerusalem. He entred into the temple, is taken of the Jewes, and taken from them by Lyllas the Tribune.

AND it chaunced that assone as wee had launched forth and were departed fro the, we came wpth a straichte course vnto Thoon, and the day folowing vnto the Rhodes, and fro thence vnto Sata. And we found a shyppe ready to saile vnto phenices, and went a bourde and set fourth. Then appeared vnto vs Cypris, & we left it on the left hand, and sayled vnto Syria, and came vnto Tyre. For there the shyppe vnladed hir burthen. And when we had found bzethzen, we tarped there seuen dapes. And they tolde paul thorough the spirit * that he shoulde not go bp to Hierusalem. And when the dapes wer ended, we departed and wente oure wayes, and they all brought vs on our way, wpth thei wiues and chyldren, tyll we were come out of the cytie. And we kneeled down in the shoze, * and prayed. And when we had taken our leave one of another, wee toke shyp, & they returned home agayne.

When we had ful ended the course from Tyre, we arrived at Stolomaida, and saluted the bzethzen, and abode wpth them one day. The next day, we that were of pauls company, departed and came vnto Cesarea. And we entred into the house of philip the Euangeliste, whypch was one of the seuen deacons, and abode with him. The same man had fower doughters virgins, whypche did prophesy. And as wee tarped ther a good many of dapes, ther came a certayne prophete from Jewrye, named Agabus. Whē he was come to vs, he toke pauls gyrdel, and bound hys handes and fete and sayd: thus sayth the holpe ghoſte, * so shall the Jewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth thys gyrdel, and shal delyu. Cor. xi. e. uer hym into the handes of the Gentyls.

When we hearde thys, both wee and o. ther of the same place, beſoughte him, that he woulde not go bp to Hierusalem. Then paul answered and sayed: what doo ye weppynge and breakynge myne heite? I am ready not to be bounde onely, but also to dye at Jerusalem for the name of the lorde Jesus. Whē we could not turne his mind, we ceaſed, sayynge: * the will of the Lorde be fulfilled. After those daies we made our selues ready and went bp to Hierusalem. * Ther went bp with vs also certayne of the discyples of Cesarea, and broughte wpth them one Agnason of Cistrus, an old discyp. ple wpth whom we shoulde lodge. And whē we were come to Hierusalem, the bzethzen receyued vs gladly. And on the morowe paul wente in with vs vnto James. And all the elders came together. And when he had saluted them, he told by ordie all thynges that God hadde wrought amonge the Gentiles by his ministracyon. And when they heard it, they glorified the Lorde, and sayd vnto hym: thou seest brother, how many thousand Jewes there are that beleue, and they are all zelous ouer the lawe. And thei are informed of the, that thou teachest all the Jewes whypch are among the Gentyls, to forsake Moyses, & sayest that they oughte not to cyeumcise thei chyldren, neyther to lye after the custumes. What is it therfore? The multitude muste nedes come togither. For thei shal hear that thou art come. Do therfore this that we say to the.

* We haue four men whypch haue a vow of them. Them take and purgfy thy selfe wpth them, and do cost on them that they may haue thei heades, and al shal know that those thynges which they haue heard concerning the, are nothing: but that thou thy selfe also walkest and kepeſt the lawe. For as touchynge the Gentils whypche beleue, * we haue wrytten and concluded, that they obserue no suche thynges: but that they kepe them selues from thynges offered to Idols, from bloud, from strangled, and from fornicacyon.

Then the next day, paul toke the men and * purgfyd hym selfe wpth them, and entered into the temple, declarynge that he obserued the dapes of the purgfyacyon, vntill that an offering shoulde be offered for euery one of them.

And as the seuen dapes shoulde haue ben ended, the Jewes which were of Asia, whē they saw him in the temple, they moued al the people, and layed handes on hym, cryynge, ye men of Israell helpe: Thys is the man that teacheth al men euery where agaynst the people, and the lawe, and thys place. Moreouer also he hath brought Brekes into the temple, and hath polluted this holpe place. For they sawe one * Trophi- mus an Ephesian wpth the hym in the cyty. Wpm they supposed paul hadde brought into

Ecl. xlvi. f
ii. Reg. xii. a
ii. Cor. xi. e.
and. xii. d
Gen. xii. e
i. Cor. xiii. c.
n. tef. iii. b

Act. xxi. b

Mat. vi. b.

Actes. ix. e.

D

Sum. vi. a.

Actes. xv. e.

Actes. xlii. b

Act. vi. d
and. viii. a Phillip.
Joel. ii. g

Actes. ix. e.

Actes. ix. b
ii. Cor. xiii. d

into the temple. And all the cite was moued, and the people swarmed together. And they toke Saule and drue hym oute of the temple, and forthwpyth the doores were shut to. As they went aboute to kyll hym, tidin-ges came vnto the hye captayne of the soldiers, that all Ierusalem was moued.
Whypche immediatly tooke souldiers and brider captaynes, and ran doune vnto the.
When they sawe the vpper captayne and the souldiers, they left smytynge of Saule.
Then the captayne came neare and tooke him: and commaunded him too be bounde wpyth two chaynes, and demaunded what he was, and what he had done.

And one cryed this, another that among the people. And when he could not knowe the certaintye for the rage, he commaunded hym to be carped into the Castle. And when he came vnto a grece, it fortun-ed that he was borne of the souldiers, for the violence of the people. For the multitude of the people folowed after, crying, awape wpyth hym.

And as Saule shoulde haue bene carped into the castle, he sayed vnto the hye captaine: maye I speake vnto the? Whypche sayed: canst thou speake Breke? arte not thou that Egipcian, whiche before these dayes made an vproure, and led oute into the wildernes foure thousand menne that were murtherers? But Saule sayd: I am a man whiche am a Jewe of * Tharsus a citye in Cicill, a ctyein of no vyle ctye. I beseech the suffer me to speake vnto the people. When he had geuen hym licence, Saule stode on the steppes * and beckened with the hande vnto the people, and there was made a greate silence. And he spake vnto them in the Hebrue tong, sayinge.

The xxii. Chapter.

The Jewes a while heare Saule, decla-ryng hys sayth, but whan they begyn to crye out agaynst hym, the Tribune commaundersh hym to be crymyned and whyped. But whan he knoweth he is a Romaine, he forbyddeth hym to be scourged.

A Y menne and brethren, and fathers: heare myne aunswere which I make vnto you. When they hearde that he spake in the Hebrue tounge to them, they kept the more sylence. And he sayed: I am verely a man, whypche am a Jewe borne in Tharsus, a ctye in Cicill: neuerthelesse yet broughte by in thys ctye at the fete of Gamaliel, and informed dyligentelye in the lawe of the fathers, and was feruente mynded to Godwarde, as ye all are thys same daye, and * I persecuted thys waye vnto the death, byndyng and delpyeringe into prison both men and womenne, as the chiefe prieste doth beare me witnes and all the elders, of whome also I receyued letters vnto the brethren, and wente to Da-masco too byngge them whypche were there bound, vnto Ierusalem for to be punished.

And it fortun-
ed as I made my iorneye a was come nigh vnto Damasco about none that sodenlye there shooke from heauen a great light round about me, and I fell to earth, and hearde a voice sayng vnto me: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And I aunswered: what art thou Lord? And he sayed vnto mee: I am Iesus of Nazareth whom thou persecutest. And they that wer with me saw verely a light and wer afraid: but they hearde not the voice of hym that spake wpyth me. And I sayed: what shall I do Lord? And the lord sayd vnto me. Arise & go into Damasco, and ther it shalbe told the of all thinges whypch are appointed for the to do. And when I sawe nothyng for the byghtnes of that lyght, I was led by the hande of them that were wpyth me and came into Damasco.

* And one Ananias a perfecte man, and as pertaynyng to the lawe, haupng good report of all the Jewes, whypch there dwelte, came vnto me: and stode and sayed vnto me: brother Saule loke vppe. And that same houre I receyued my syghte, and sawe him. And he sayed: the God of our fathers hath ordayned the before, that thou shouldest knowe his will, and shouldest se that whypch is rightfull: and shouldest hear the voyce of hys mouth: for thou shalte be hys witnes vnto al men, of those thynges whypch thou hast sene and heard. And now, why tarpest thou? arise and be baptysed, and washe away thy synnes, * callynge on the name of the Lorde.

And it fortun-
ed when I was come again to Ierusalem and praied in the tēple, that I was in a traunce and sawe him, sayinge vnto me: Make hast and gette the quickly out of Ierusalem: for they will not receiue the witnes that thou bearest of mee. And I said: Lord they know that I prisoned and beat in euery synagoge, them that beleued on the, * and when the bloude of thy wpyt-nes Stephan was shed: I also stode by and consented vnto hys deathe, and kepte the raiment of them that slew him. And he said vnto me: depart, for * I will send the a far-hence vnto the Gentils. They gaue audyence vnto this word, & the lyft vp their voices and said: away with such a felow from the earth, it is pity that he should lyue. And as they cryed & cast of their clothes, & thue duste into the aper, the captaine bade hym to be brought into the castell, and comanded hym to be scourged, and to be exam-ned, that he myghte knowe wherfore they cryed on hym. And as they bound him with thounges, Saule sayed to the Centurion that stode by. Is it lawefull for you too scourge a man that is a Romaine and vn-condemned? When the Centurion hearde that, he went and told the vpper Captaine, sayinge: What intendest thou to do? Thys man is a Romaine.

Then the vpper Captaine came, and said to him: tel me, art thou a Romaine? He said: Yea. And the captayne answered, with A III. iiii. a great

Actes. ix. a.

Actes. ix. c.

Roman. x. o
Baptisme

Actes. iiii. a.

Acte. xiii. b.
Galat. i. b.

Actes. ix.
and. xxi. a

Actes. xxi. f

Actes. xxi. b
and. xxi. g.
Actes. v. f

Acte. viii. a
and. xxi. a
and. xvi. b.
1. Cor. xv. b
Galat. ix. b

The Actes of the

a greate summe obtained Ithys fredome. And Paul sayde: I was free borne. Then straightway departed from him thei which should haue examined him. And the hie capayne also was afraped after he knew that he was a Romaine: because he had bounde hym.

On the morowe because he would haue knowen the certaintie wherof he was accused of the Jewes, he loosed him fro his bondes, and commaunded the hie priestes and al the counsell to come together, & *brought Paul and set hym befoze them.

The .xxiii. Chapter.

¶ Whyte Paul declareth hys cause, Ananias byddeth symple hym. Strype arpleth amongst hys accusers. The voyde comforteth Paul. The Tribune knowynge of thei treason, whych had vowed to kyll Paul, sendeth him to Felix the president.

Actes. xxi.

Actes. xxi. d.

Actes. xxi. d.

Actes. xxi. d.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Actes. xxi. c.

Apostles .Chap. xxiii.:

said: we haue bond our selues with a bow, & we wil eat nothyng but yf we haue slaine Paul. Howe therfore geue ye knowledge to the vpper captaine and to the counsell, & he byng him forth vnto vs to morowe as though we would know some thyng moze perfectly of him: But wee, oz euer he come neare, are ready in the meane season to kyll hym. When Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying wait: he went and entred into the castle, and told Paul. And Paul called one of the vnder captaynes to him, and said: bryng this pong man to the hie captayne, for he hath a certayn thyng to shew hym. And he toke him and leade him to the hie captayne, and said: Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and praied me to bryng thys pong man vnto the, whych hath a certayne matter to shewe the.

The hie captaine toke him by the hand, and went apart wth him out of the way: and axed hym, what hast thou to saye vnto me? And he said: the Jewes are determyned to desyre the, that thou woldest bryng forth Paul to morow into the counsell, as though thei wold enquire somewhat of him moze perfectly. But folowe not their mindes: for they lye in waite for hym of them, mo then .xl. men, whych haue bounde them selues wth a bow, that they will neyther eat nor drinke, tyll they haue kyllled hym. And now are they ready, & loke for thy promes. The vpper captayne let the pong man depart & charged him: se thou tell it oute to no man that thou hast shewed these things to me. And he called vnto hym .ii. vnder captaynes, saying: make ready two hundred souldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen thre score & ten, and spear me two hundred at the thyrd houre of the nyght. And deliuer them beastes, that they may put Paul on, and bryng him safe vnto Felix the hie debity, and wote a letter in thys maner.

Claudius Lysias to the most mighty ruler Felix, sendith gretings. ¶ This man was taken of the Jewes, & shuld haue ben kyllled of them. Then came I with souldyers & rescued hym, & perceiued that he was a Romaine. And when I woulde haue knowen the cause, wherfore they accused him, & I brought him forth into thei counsell: there perceiued I that he was accused of questions of their law, *but was not gilty of any thyng worthy of death oz of bondes. Afterward when it was shewed me how that the Jewes laied wait for the man, I sente hym straightway to the, and gaue commaundement to hys accusers if they had oughte agaynst him, to tell it vnto the. Fare well.

Then the souldiers as it was commaunded them, toke Paul and brought him by nyght to Antipatras. On the morow thei left the horsemen to go with him, & returned vnto the castle. Which whē thei came to Cesarea, they deliuered the epistle to the debity, & presented Paul befoze him. Whē the debity had red the letter, he axed of what countrey Actes. xx. c.

Act. xxi. g.

Actes. xv. f

B

Dea. xvi. a. type he was: & when he understode that he was of Cicill, * I wpll heare the (sayd he) when thynne accusars are come also: and commaunded him to be kept in Herods palace.

The. xxiii. Chapter.

Paul pleadeth his matter before the presidente Felix, agaynst Tertullus the oratoure his accuser. The presidente looketh to haue monye geuen of Paule to deliuer hym. Which because none was geuen, leste hym in prison, whan he departed out of that offyce.

Act. xxi. b. After fīue dayes Ananias, * the hpe priest descended wpth the elders and wpth a certayne oratour named Tertullus, and enfourmed the ruler of Paule. When Paule was called forth, Tertullus beganne to accuse hym, sayinge: Sepnge þ we līue in great quietnes by the meanes of the, & that many good thynge are done vnto this nacpon through thy prouidence, that alowe we euer and in all places, moste myghty Felix, wpth all thakes. Notwithstandyng that I be not tedious vnto the, I praye the that thou woldest heare vs of thy curtesy, a fewe wordes.

Actes. xxi. f. We haue founde this man a pestilente felowe, and a mouer of debate vnto all the Jewes throughout the worlde, & a maincapner of the sect of the Nazarites, & hath also enforced to pollute the temple. *

Whom we toke and woulde haue iudged, accordyng to our law, but the hpe captaine Lisias came vpon vs, and with great violence toke him away out of oure hand, commaundyng his accusers to come vnto the. Of whd thou mayest (if thou wilt enquire) know the certaintye of all these thynge whereof we accuse him. The Jewes lyke wyle assumed, saying that it was euen so.

Act. xxi. b. Then Paul (after that the ruler himself hadde beckened vnto hym that he shoulde speake) answered: I shall with a more quiete minde aunswere for my selfe, for as much as I vnderstand that thou hast bene of manye yeares a iudge vnto this people, because that thou mayest knowe that there are ye but xii. dayes, sence I went vp to Jerusalem for to praye, and * they neyther

Act. xxi. b. founde me in the temple disputyng wpth any man, either raisyng vp the people, neyther in the synagoges, nor in the cite. Neither can they proue the thynge whereof they accuse me. But this I confesse vnto the, that after that waye (whych they call heresy) so worshippe I the God of my fathers, beleuyng all thynge whych are writen in the lawe and the prophetes, & haue hope towardes God, that * the same resurrection of the dead (whiche they themselves loke for also) shall be both of iuste and vniust. And therfore * study I to haue a cleare conscience toward God, and toward man also. But after many yeares I came * and broughte almes to my people and offerynges, in the whych they found me purgged in the temple, neyther with multitude,

Mat. xxi. c.

Act. xxi. a.

Rom. xv. f.

Actes. xi. d.

nor yet wpth vnquetyenes.

Howbeit, there were certayne Jewes oute of Asia, whych oughte too be here presente before the, and accuse me, if they had oughte agaynst me: or els, let the same here say, if they haue founde anye euyl doynge in me, whyle I stand here in the counsel: excepte it be for this one voyce that I cryed standyng among them * of the resurrection from death, am I iudged of you this day.

Act. xxi. a.

When Felix hearde these thynge, he deferred them, for he knewe verie well of that way, and saied: when Lisias the captaine is come, I will knowe the utmost of your matters. And * he commaunded an vnder captaine to kepe Paule, and that he shoulde haue rest, and that he shoulde forbeynd none of his acquaintaunce to minister vnto hym, or to come vnto hym.

Act. xxi. a.

Act. xxi. a.

Act. xxi. a.

And after a certayne dayes, came Felix and his wyfe Drusilla, which was a Jewes, and called forth Paul, and hearde hym of the fapth, whych is toward Christ. And as he preached of rightuounes, temperance, and iudgemente to come, Felix trembled and answered: thou hast done ynough at this tyme, departe. When I haue a conuenient tyme, I wpll sende for the. He hoped also that monye shoulde haue bene geuen him of Paule, that he mighte lewse hym: wherfore he called him the oftener, & communed with him. But after. ii. yere, Festus Porcius came into Felix roume. And Felix * willing to shew the Jewes a pleasure, left Paule in prison bound.

Act. xxi. b.

The. xxv. Chapter.

Whyte Paule pleadeth his cause before Festus the presidente, through the malice of the Jewes he is forced to appeale to Cesar. Festus declareth Paules processe to kynge Agrippa, and byngeth hym afore hym to knowe his matter.

When Festus was come into the prouynce, after thre dayes he ascended from Cesaria to Jerusalem. Then enfourmed him the hie priestes & the chiefe of the Jewes, of Paul. And they besought hym, and desired fauoure agaynst hym, that he woulde sende for him to Jerusalem: and laped wayte for him in the way to kyll hym. Festus answered that Paule shoulde be kept at Cesaria: but that he hym selfe woulde shortly departe thither. Lette theym therfore (sayd he) whych amonge you are able to do it, come downe wpth vs, and accuse him, if there be anye faulte in the man.

Festus. Porcius.

When he had tarped ther more then ten daies he departed vnto Cesaria, & the next daye satte downe in the iudgemente seate, & commaunded Paule to be brought. When he was come, the Jewes whiche wer come from Jerusalem, came about hym, & laied many and greuous complaintes agaynst Paule, whych they could not proue as long as he answered for him selfe, * that he had neither

Act. xxi. a.

The Actes of the # apostles. Chap. xxvi.

Act. xxi. f. neither against the lawe of the Jewes, neither agaynst the temple, nor yet agaynst Cesar, offended any thing at all. Festus * willing to do the Jewes a pleasure, answere red Paule and saied. Wylt thou go to Jerusalem, and ther be iudged of these thyn-ges before me? Then saied Paule: I stande at Cesars iudgement seat, wher I oughte to be iudged. To þ Jewes haue I no harme done, as thou very wel knowest. If I haue hurt them, or committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to dye. If none of these thynge are, wherof they accuse me, no man ought to deliuer me to them. I ap-peale vnto Cesar. Then spake Festus with deliberacpon, and answered. Thou haste appealed vnto Cesar, vnto Cesar shalt thou go.

Agrippa. After certayne dayes, kynge Agrippa & Bernice came vnto Cesaria to salute Festus. And when they had ben there a good season, Festus rehersted Paules cause vnto the kynge, saying: * there is a certayne man left in prison of Felix, aboute whom when I came to Jerusalem * the hye priestes and elders of the Jewes enfourmed me, and despered too haue iudgemente a-gaynst him. To whom I answered: It is not the maner of the Romaines to deliuer any man that he should perish, before that he whych is accused haue the accusers before him, and haue licence to aunswere for him selfe, concernynge the crime layde a-gaynst hym: when they were come hyther, withoute delape on the morowe, I late to geue iudgement, and commaunded the man to be broughte forth. Agaynst whom when the accusers stode vp: * they brought none accusacpon of such things as I supposed, but had certayne questpons agaynst hym of thep owne superstycpon, and of one Jesus, whych was deade, whom Paule aspy-med to be aloue. And because I doubted of such maner of questpons, I axed him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be iudged of these matters. The whē Paule had appealed to be kepte vnto the knowledge of Cesar: I commaunded hym to be kept, tyll I might send him to Cesar.

Agrippa saied to Festus: I woulde also heare the man my selfe. To morowe (sayed he) thou shalt heare him. And on the mo-row when Agrippa was come and Bernice with great pompe, and wer entred into the counsell house with the captaynes & chiefe menne of the cite, at Festus commaunde-ment Paule was brought forth: And Festus saied: Kynge Agrippa, & al men whiche are here present wth vs: ye se this manne about whom al the multitude of the Jew-es haue bene wth me, both at Jerusalem and also here, cryinge that he ought not to lyue anye lenger. Yet founde I nothyng worthy of death that he had committed.
Neuertheles saynge that he hath appealed to Cesar, I haue determynd to sende him. Of whom I haue no certayne thynge to wyte vnto my Lord. Wherfore I haue brought hym vnto pou, and especally vnto the kynge Agrippa, that after examina-cion had, I might haue sumwhat to wyte.

For me thincketh it vntreasonable for to send a prisonar, and not to shew the causes whiche are layed agaynst him.

The. xxvi. Chapter.

Paule wth such authorytye declareth his sayth, and calling, before kynge Agrippa, that he moueth his mynde muche. But before he hath done, they depart away.

Agrippa saied vnto Paule: thou arte permitted to speake for thy self. The Paul stretched forth the hand, & aun-swered for hym selfe. I thyncke my selfe happy kynge Agrippa, bicause I shall aunswer thy day before the, of all the thynge wherof I am accused of the Jewes, name-lye because thou arte experte in all customes and questpons whych are among the Jewes. Wherfore I beseeche the to heare me patiently.

My lyving of a chylde, which was at the first among myne owne nacpon at Jerusalem, knowe all the Jewes whiche knewe me from the beginning, if they would testify it. * For after the moste straitest secte of our law, liued I a pharisey, & now I stand and * am iudged for the hope of the promys made of god vnto our fathers: vnto which promys our xii. tribes instantly serupnge God day & night, hope to come. For whych hopes sake, kynge Agrippa, I am accused of the Jewes. Why should it be thought a thynge vncredible vnto you, that God should raise agayne the dead?

I also verely thought in my selfe, that I ought to do many contrary thynge, cleane agaynst the name of Iesus of Nazareth, * whych thynge I also dyd in Jerusalem. Act. viii. a.
Wher many of the sainctes I shutte vp in 1. a. xii. a. prison, and had receiued authorytye of the 1. Cor. xv. b. hye priestes. And when they were putte to Gal. i. c.
death, I gaue the sentence: And I punyshed them oft, in euery synagoge, and compelled them to blaspheme: & was yet more mad vnto them, and persecuted them; even vnto straunge cyties. About whych things as I went to Damasco wth authorytye & licence of the hye priestes, even at mydday (O kynge) I saw in the way a lyghte from heaven aboue the brightnes of the sunne, shynne round aboute me, and them whych ioyned wth me.

When wee were al fallen to the earthe, I heard a voice speake vnto me, and sayinge in the Debrue tonge: Saul, Saul, whye persecutest thou me? It is harde for the to kicke agaynst the pyncke. And I sayd: Who art thou Lord? And he sayd: I am Iesus, whom thou persecutest, but rise and stand vpon thy fete: For I haue appeared vnto the for thys purpose, to make þ a minister & a wtnes both of those thynge whych thou hast sene, and of those thynge in the whych I will appeare vnto the, deli-uerynge

uerpunge the from the people, & fro the Gentyls, vnto which now I sende the, to open their eyes: that they might turne fro darcknes to light, & from the power of Sathan vnto God: that they may receiue forgiveness of sinnes, and inheritaunce amonge them, which are sanctified by fayth in me.

Wherfore kynge Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauensly visiō: but shewed first vnto them of Damasco, & at Hierusalem and thorough out all the coastes of Jewry, & to the Gentils, that they shoulde repent, and turne to God, and do the right worke of repentaunce. For this cause the Jewes caught me in the temple and went about to kil me. Neuerthelesse I obtained helpe of God, and continue vnto this dape witnessing both to smal and to great, saying none other thynges then those whiche the prophets and Moyses dyd say shoulde come: that Christ shoulde suffer, and that he would be the fyrste that shoulde ryse from death, and shoulde shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentyls.

As he thus answered for him selfe, Festus sayed with a loude voice: Paule, thou art besydes thy selfe. Much learning hath made the mad. And Paule sayed: I am not mad, most dere Festus, but speake the wordes of truth and sobernes. The kynge knoweth of these things, before whō I speake frelye, neither thincke I that any of these thinges are hidden from him. For this thing was not done in a corner. Kynge Agrippa, beleuest thou the prophets? I wote well thou beleuest. Agrippa sayed to Paule: Somewhat thou bringest me in mynde for to become a Christian. And Paule sayed: I wold to God that not onely thou, but also al that hear me to day, were not somewhat onely, but altogether such as I am, except these bondes. And when he had thus spoken, the kynge rose vp, and the debite, and Bernice, and they that sat with them. And when they were gone aparte, they talked betwene themselves, saying: This manne doth nothyng worthy of death nor of bondes. Then said Agrippa vnto Festus: This man might haue bene lewsed if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

The. xxvii. Chapter.

Paule is committed to a Centurion, to be brought to Cesar, whiche because he obeyeth not Paules counsaile, hath daungerous and vntucky sayynge. And whan they haue bene long tossed wth wynde and wether, they suffer shypwreke, but escape all safe into the yle of Sicilia.

Vhen it was concluded that we shuld sayle into Italy, they deliuered Paule and certayne other prisonners vnto one named Julius, an vnder captayne of Cessars soldiers. And we entred into a ship of Adramiciū, and lewsed from land, appointed to sayle by the coastes of Asia, one Aristarcus out of Macedonia of the country of Thessalia, beyng with vs. And the next dape we came to Sidon. And Julius courteously entreated Paule, and gaue him libertie to go vnto his frendes, and to refresh himselfe. And from thence lancheth we, and sayled hard by Cipers, because the windes were contrary. Then sayled we ouer the sea of Cilicia, and Pamphilia, and came to Mira a city in Licia. And there the vnder Captayne founde a ship of Alexandria redy to sayle into Italy, and putte vs therein. And when we had sayled slowly many daies and scace were come ouer against Buidon (because the wynd withstode vs) we sayled hard by the coastes of Candy, ouer agaynst Salmo, and with much worke sayled beyond it, and came vnto a place called good porte. Nye wherunto was a cypre called Iasea.

When much tyme was spent & saylyng was nowe ieopardous, because also that we had ouerlong fasted, Paule put them in remembraunce, and said vnto them. Sirs, I perceyue that this viage wilbe with hurt and much damage, not of the lodynge and shyp onely, but also of oure lyues. Neuerthe later the vnder captaine beleued the gouerner and the Maister, better then those thynges whych were spoken of Paule. And because the hauē was not commodious to wynter in, many toke counsell to departe thence, if by anye meanes they mighte attaine to Phenices and there too wynter, whych is an haue of Candy, and seruetly to the south west and north west wind. Whē the south wind blew, they supposynge to obtaine theyr purpose, lewsed vnto Asson, and sayled past all Candy.

But anon after there arose agaynst their purpose a flaw of wynde out of the north-east. And when the shyp was caughte, and could not resiste the wynde, we let her go, & droue with the wether. And we came vnto an yle named Clauda, & had much worke to come by a boat, which they toke vp, and bled helpe, vndergyding the shyp: fearing lest we should haue fallen into (a) Syrtes, and we let downe a vessell and so were carryed. The nexte dape when we were tossed wth an excedyng tēpest, they lightened the shyp, and the thyrde day we caste oute wth our owne handes, the tacklynge of the shyp. When at the last neyther sunne nor starre in many dapes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that we should be saued, was then taken awaye.

Then after long abstynence, Paule stode forth in the myddest of them, & said: Sirs, ye shoulde haue harkened to me, & not haue lewsed from Candy, neyther to haue brought vnto vs this harme and losse. And now I exhorte you to be of good chere, forther shal be no losse of any mannes lyfe among you, saue of the shyp onely. For then stode by me this nighte the aungel of God whose I am, and whome I serue, sayinge: Feare not Paule, for thou must be brought before Cesar. And lo, God hath geue vnto the al that saile with the. Wherfore Sirs be of

Act. xxvii. s

B

C

D

E

Act. xxvii. c

The Actes of the

be of good cheare: for I beleue God, that so it shall be euen as it was told me. Howe beit we must be cast into a certaine Iland.

But when the fourtenth night was come, as wee were carped in Adria aboute midnighte, the shipmen demed that there appeared some countrey vnto them, and sounded, and found it twenty feadoms.

And when they had gone a lytle further, they sounded againe, and founde. xv. fea-doms. Then fearng lest they shoulde haue fallen on some Rocke, they cast foure ancres out of the sterne, and wished for the day. And the shipmen were about to fle out of the ship, and had let downe the boate into the sea vnder a coloure, as though they would haue cast ancres out of the forship: Paul saied vnto the vnder captayne and the soldiers: except these abide in the ship, ye can not be safe. When the souldiers cut of the rope of the boat, and let it fall away.

And in the meane tyme betwixt that and dape, Paul besoughte them all to take meate, saying: this is the fourtenth dape, that ye haue tarped and cōtynued fasting, receiuinge nothinge at all. Wherfore I praye you, take meate: for this no doubt is for poure health: for there shall not an heare fall from the head of any of you. And when he had thus spoken, he toke bread & and gaue thanckes to God in presence of them all, and brake it, and began to eate.

Then were they all of good cheare, & they also toke meate. We were altogether in the ship, two hundred thre score & xvi. soules.
And when they hadde eaten ynough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

When it was dape, they knewe not the land, but they spied a certaine haueu wpth a banke, into the which they were minded (if it were possyble) to thrust in the shyppe.
And when they had taken vp the ancres, they committed themselves vnto the sea, & lewse the rudder boundes, and hopped vp the maine saile to the wynde and dzeue to land. But they chanced on a place, whypche had the sea on both sydes, and thrust in the shippe. And the fore parte stocke fast & moued not, but the hynder parte brake with the violence of the waues.

The souldiers counsell was too kyll the prisoners, lest any of them, when he had swome out, shuld fle away. But the vnder captaine willinge too saue Paul, kepte them from theyr purpose, and commaunded that they that could swim, shoulde cast themselves firste into the sea, and scape to land. And the other he commaunded to go, some on bourdes, and some on broken pe-ces of the shyp. And so it came to passe that they came all safe to land.

The Notes.

(a) Syntes be perillous sandy places in the sea, about the coastes of Affrica, of the nature of whirlpooles.

The xxviii. Chapter.

Apostles. Chap. xxviii.

Paul in gathering sticks, taketh a Wyper in hys hande, and is not hurt. He healeth Publius father an heade man of the town, & other by myracle. They take shyp here and go from thence to Rome. Where Paul after he hath called the Jewes together, declareth hys matter, and teacheth Christ there, the space of two yeares.

And when they were scaped, then they knew that the Iyle was called Malte. And the people of the country shewed vs no lytle kyndnes: for they kindled a fyre, and recepued vs euery one, because of the present rayne, and because of the colde. And when Paul had gathered a boundel of stikes, and put them into the fyre, ther came a Wyper oute of the heate, & lept on hys hand. When the menne of the country saw the worme hange on his had, they sayde amonge themselves: this man must nedes be a murtheter. Who (though he haue escaped the sea) yet vengeaunce suffreth not to lye. But he shooke of the vermin into the fyre, and felt no harme.
Howbeit, they waited when he shuld haue swolne or fallen down dead sodenly. But after they had looked a great while and saw no harme come to him, thei chaunged their minde, and said that he was a God.

In the same quarters the chiefe man of the Iyle, whose name was Publius, had a lordship: the same recepued vs, and lodged vs thre dapes courteously. And it fortun-ed that the father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer and of a bloudy fluxe. To whom Paul entred in and prayed, and laied his handes on him, and healed him. When this was done, other also whypch had diseases in the ple, came and were healed. And they did vs great honour. And when we departed, they laded vs with thynges necessary.

After thre monethes, we departed in a ship of Alexandria, whiche had wintred in the ple, whose badge was (a) Castor and Pollux. And when wee came to Cyrcusa, we tarped there thre daies. And from thence we sette a compasse and came to Regium.
And after one day, the south wynde blew, and wee came the nexte dape to Putiolus:
where we found brethren, and were desyred to tarpe with them seuen dapes, and so came to Rome. And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came against vs to Appii forum, and to the thre tauernes.
When Paul saw them, he thanked God.
& waxed bolde. And whē he came to Rome, the vnder captayn delpuered the prisoners to the chiefe captaine of the host: but Paul was suffered to dwell by him selfe wpth one souldier that kept him. And it fortun-ed after thre dapes, that Paul called the chiefe of the Jewes together. And when they wer come, he sayed vnto them: Menne and brethren, though I haue comitted nothinge against the people or lawes of our fathers: yet was I delpuered prysoner from Ieru-salem, into the handes of the Romaynes.

Whiche

Act. xxviii. 6

Mat. xvi. 5
Luke. x. 1

Act. xiii. 6

Layinge
on of han-
des.

Ac. xxi. 2
and. xxv. 6
Act. xxiii. 6

A prologe vppon the

For thys cause the. xlv. Psalm. calleth all men lyars, because that no manne kepeth the lawe from the grounde of the herte, neyther can kepe it, though he appeare outward full of good workes.

For al men are naturally enclined vnto euyl, and hate the law: we fynd in our selues vn lust and tediousnes to do good, but lust & delectation to do euyl. Now wher no free lust is to good, ther the bottome of the hert fulfilleth not the law: there no dout is also syn, and wrath is deserued before God, though there be neuer so greate an outward shewe and appareance of honest liuynge.

For thys cause concludeth Saynt. Paule in the. ii. Chap. that the Jewes are all sinners and transgressours of the lawe, though they make menne beleue thowoe the Hypocryse of outward workes, how that they fulfill the law and sayth that he only which doth the lawe, is righteous before God, meanyng thereby that no man without warde workes fulfill the lawe.

Thou sayest he to the Jewe) teachest that a man should not breake wedlocke, & yet breakest wedlocke thy selfe: wherein thou iudgeth an other man ther in condemnest thy selfe, for thou thy selfe doest euen the very same thynges which he iudgeth. As though they wolde say, & lyuest outwardly wel in the workes of the law, & iudgeth them & liue not so. Thou teachest other men, & seest a mote in another mans eye, but art not ware of the beame & is thine own eye. For although thou kepe the lawe outwardly with workes, for feare of shame, rebuke, & punishment: either for loue of reward, vauntage, and bayne gloire: yet dost thou al without lust & loue toward the lawe, & haddest leuer a greate deale other wise do, if thou diddest not feare the law. Yea inwardly in thine hert & wouldst & there were no law, no nor yet God, the aucthour and vengear of the law, if it were possible, so paynt full it is vnto the to haue thine appetites released, and be kept downe.

Wherefore then it is a plaine conclusion, that thou fro the ground & bottome of thine hert art an enemy to the law. What vntyleth it nowe that & teachest another man not to steale, when & thine own selfe art a thefe in thine hert, & outwardly woldest faine steale if & durst, though & outward dedes abyde not al way behind w such hypocrites & dissimulers, but breake forth among euen as an euyl scab or pocke cannot al wayes be kept in w violence of medicine. Thou teachest an other man, but teachest not thy selfe yea & wottest not what & teachest, for thou vnderstandest not the law a right, how & it cannot be fulfilled & satisfied, but wyth an vnfa yned loue & affection, so great & it cannot be fulfilled with outward dedes & workes only. Moreover the law encreaseeth synne as he sayeth in the. v. Chap. because & man is an enemy to & law, for as much as it requireth so many thynges cleane contrary to hys nature, wherof he is not able to fulfil one poynt or title as the law requireth it. And therfore are we moze prouoked and haue greater lust to breake it.

For whyche causes sake he sayeth in the. vii. Cha. & the law is spiritual: as though he wold say: if the lawe were fleshy & but mans doctryne it myght be fulfilled, satisfied, and styllled with outward dedes. But nowe is the lawe gostly, & no man fulfillerh it, except that al that he doth sprynge of loue from the bottome of the hert.

Epytyle to the Roma.

Suche a newe herte and lustye courage vnto the lawe warde, canste thou neuer come by of thine owne strengthe and enformente, but by the operacion and workynge of the spirite.

For the spirite of god onely maketh a man spiritual, & like vnto the law, so that now hence forth he doth nothyng of feare, or lucre or vauntage sake, or of bayne gloire but of a free herte and of inward luste. The lawe is spirituall and will be boeth loued and fulfilled of a spirituall herte, and therfore of necessitie requirerh it the spirite that maketh a mans herte fre, & geneth him lust and courage vnto the law warde: where such a spirite is not, there remaineth syn grudgynge, and hate agaynst the lawe, whyche lawe neuertheles is good ryghtuous & holy.

Acquaynt thy selfe therfore wyth the maner of speakynge of the Apostle, and let thys nowe sticke fast in thine hert, that it is not boeth one, to do the dedes and workes of the lawe, and to fulfil the law. The workes of the law is what soeuer a man doeth or can do of hys owne free wyl, of his own propre strength & enforcynge.

Notwithstandynge though there be neuer so great workynge, yet as long as there remaineth in the hert vn lust tediousnes, grudgynge, griefe, payne lothsumnes, & compassion toward the law so long are al the workes vnprofitable, lost, yea & damnable in the syght of god. This meaneth Paule in the. iii. Cha. where he sayth: by the dedes of the lawe shal no flesh be iustified in the syght of god. Hereby perceiue & that those Sophisters are but deceuers which teach that a man may & must prepare him selfe to grace & to the fauour of God with good workes, before he haue the spirite & true sayth of Christ. How can they prepare the selues vnto the fauour of god, & to & which is good, wher they the selues can do no good no, can not once thinke a good thoughte, or consert to do good, the Deuyl posselving their hertes, mindes, & thoughtes, captiue at hys pleasure. Can those workes please God thinkest & which are done w greife, paine & tediousnes, w an euyl wil, with a contrary & grudgynge minde. A holy saynt Prosperous, how myghtely with the scripture of & Paule dyddest & confound thys heresye: about (I trowe). xii. &. yerres ago or thereupon. To fulfil & law, to do the workes therof, & what soeuer the law comaundeth with loue luste, & inward affection and delectacion, and to lyue godly & wel, frely, willingly, & with out copulcion of the lawe, euen as though there were no law at al, such lust and frelibertye to & lawe cometh onely by the workynge of the spirite in the herte, as he sayeth in the fyrste Chapter.

Nowe is the spirite geuen none other wyse than by sayth only in that we beleue & promyses of God wythout waueryng, howe that god is true, and wyl fulfill all his good promyses toward vs for Christes bloude sake, as it is playne in the. x. Chap. I am not ashamed (sayeth Paule) of Christes glad tidynge, for it is the power of God vnto saluacion, to as manye as beleue. For at once & together, euen as we beleue the gladd tidynge preached vnto vs, the holy gost entreteth into our hertes, and lewleth the bondes of the deuyl, whyche before possessed our hertes in captiuitie: and held them that we could haue no lust to the wyl of god in the law. And as the spirite cometh by sayeth onely, euen so sayth cometh by hearing & word of god, when Christe is preached how & he is & son of God.

To doo the dedes of & lawe, and to fulfil & law are two thynges.

The spirite cometh by sayeth.

The law encreaseeth synne.

The spirite is required yet we can kepe & law.

A prologe vppon the

For thys cause the. xlv. Psalm. calleth all men lyars, because that no manne kepeth the lawe from the grounde of the herte, neyther can kepe it, though he appeare outward full of good workes.

For al men are naturally enclined vnto euyl, and hate the law: we fynd in our selues vn lust and tediousnes to do good, but lust & delectacion to do euyl. Now wher no free lust is to good, ther the bottome of the hert fulfilleth not the law: there no dout is also syn, and wrauth is deserued before God, though there be neuer so greate an outward shewe and appearaunce of honest liuynge.

For thys cause concludeth Saynt. Paule in the. ii. Chap. that the Jewes are all sinners and transgressours of the lawe, though they make menne beleue thowoe the Hypocryse of outward workes, how that they fulfill the law and sayth that he only which doth the lawe, is righteous before God, meanyng thereby that no man without warde workes fulfill the lawe.

Thou sayest he to the Jewe) teachest that a man should not breake wedlocke, & yet breakest wedlocke thy selfe: wherein thou iudgeth an other man therin condemnest thy selfe, for thou thy selfe doest euen the very same thynges which he iudgeth. As though they wolde say, & lyuest outwardly wel in the workes of the law, & iudgeth them & liue not so. Thou teachest other men, & seest a mote in another mans eye, but art not ware of the beame & is thynne own eye. For although thou kepe the lawe outwardly with workes, for feare of shame, rebuke, & punishment: either for loue of reward, vauntage, and bayne gloire: yet dost thou al without lust & loue toward the lawe, & haddest leuer a greate deale other wise do, if thou diddest not feare the law. Yea inwardly in thynne hert & wouldst & there were no law, no nor yet God, the aucthour and vengear of the law, if it were possible, so paynt full it is vnto the to haue thynne appetites released, and be kept downe.

Wherefore then it is a plaine conclusion, that thou fro the ground & bottome of thine hert art an enemy to the law. What preynteth it nowe that & teachest another man not to steale, when & thine own selfe art a thefe in thine hert, & outwardly woldest faine steale if & durst, though & outward dedes abyde not al way behind w such hypocrites & dissimulers, but breake forth among euen as an euyl scab or pocke cannot al wayes be kept in w violence of medicine. Thou teachest an other man, but teachest not thy selfe yea & wottest not what & teachest, for thou vnderstandest not the law & right, how & it cannot be fulfilled & satisfied, but wyth an vnfa yned loue & affection, so great & it cannot be fulfilled with outward dedes & workes only. Moreover the law encreaseth synne as he sayeth in the. v. Chap. because & man is an enemy to & law, for as much as it requireth so many thynges cleane contrary to hys nature, wherof he is not able to fulfil one poynt or title as the law requireth it. And therfore are we moze prouoked and haue greater lust to breake it.

For whyche causes sake he sayeth in the. vii. Cha. & the law is spiritual: as though he wold say: if the lawe were fleshy & but mans doctryne it myght be fulfilled, satisfied, and styllled with outward dedes. But nowe is the lawe gostly, & no man fulfillerh it, except that al that he doth sprynge of loue from the bottome of the hert.

Epytyle to the Roma.

Suche a newe herte and lustye courage vnto the lawe warde, canste thou neuer come by of thynne owne strengthe and enformente, but by the operacion and workynge of the spirite.

For the spirite of god onely maketh a man spiritual, & like vnto the law, so that now hence forth he doth nothyng of feare, or lucre or vauntage sake, or of bayne gloire but of a free herte and of inward luste. The lawe is spirituall and will be boeth loued and fulfilled of a spirituall herte, and therfore of necessitie requirerh it the spirite that maketh a mans herte fre, & geneth him lust and courage vnto the law warde: where such a spirite is not, there remaineth syn grudgynge, and hate agaynst the lawe, whyche lawe neuertheles is good ryghtuous & holy.

Acquaynt thy selfe therfore wyth the maner of speakynge of the Apostle, and let thys nowe sticke fast in thine hert, that it is not boeth one, to do the dedes and workes of the lawe, and to fulfil the law. The workes of the law is what soeuer a man doeth or can do of hys owne free wyl, of his own propre strength & enforcynge.

Notwithstandynge though there be neuer so great workynge, yet as long as there remaineth in the hert vn lust tediousnes, grudgynge, griefe, payne lothsumnes, & compassion toward the law so long are al the workes vnprofitable, lost, yea & damnable in the syght of god. This meaneth Paule in the. iii. Cha. where he sayth: by the dedes of the lawe that no flesh be iustified in the syght of god. Hereby perceiue & that those Sophisters are but deceuers which teach that a man may & must prepare him selfe to grace & to the fauour of God with good workes, before he haue the spirite & true sayth of Christ. How can they prepare the selues vnto the fauour of god, & to & which is good, wher they the selues can do no good no, can not once thinke a good thoughte, or consert to do good, the Deuyl possidynge their hertes, mindes, & thoughtes, captiue at hys pleasure. Can those workes please God thinkest & which are done w greife, paine & tediousnes, w an euyl wil, with a contrary & grudgynge minde. A holy saynt Prosperous, how myghtely with the scripture of. Paule dyddest & confound thys heresye: about (I trowe). xii. &. yeres ago or thereupon. To fulfil & law, to do the workes therof, & what soeuer the law comaundeth with loue luste, & inward affection and delectacion, and to lyue godly & wel, frely, willingly, & with out copulcion of the lawe, euen as though there were no law at al, such lust and frelibertye to & lawe cometh onely by the workynge of the spirite in the herte, as he sayeth in the fyrste Chapter.

Nowe is the spirite geuen none other wyse than by sayth only in that we beleue & promyses of God wythout waueryng, howe that god is true, and wyl fulfill all his good promyses toward vs for Christes bloudes sake, as it is playne in the. x. Chap. I am not ashamed (sayeth Paule) of Christes glad tidynge, for it is the power of God vnto saluacion, to as manye as beleue. For at once & together, euen as we beleue the gladd tidynge preached vnto vs, the holy gost entreteth into oure hertes, and lewseth the bondes of the deuyl, whyche before possessed oure hertes in captiuitie: and held them that we could haue no lust to the wyl of god in the law. And as the spirite cometh by sayeth onely, euen so sayth cometh by hearing & word of god, when Christe is preached how & he is & son of God.

To doo the dedes of & lawe, and to fulfil & law are two thynges.

The spirite cometh by sayeth.

The law encreaseth synne.

The spirite is required yet we can kepe & law.

A Prologe

vpō the Epyſtle of Saynt

Paule to the Romanes.

As muche as thys Epyſtle is the pyncepal And moſt excellent part of the newe Teſtament, and moſt pure Euangelion, that is to ſaye: glad tydynges, and that wee call Goſpell, and alſo a light and a waye in vnto the whole ſcripture, I thynke it mete that euery Chriſtian manne not onely knowe it by herte and wythoute the booke: but alſo exercepſe hymſelfe therein euermore continuallye, as wyth the dayly breade of the ſoule. No man verely can reade it to oſt, or ſtudye it to well, for the more it is ſtudyed, the eaſier it is, the more it is ſtudied, the pleaſanter it is, and the groundlye it is ſearched, the precioſer thynges are found in it, ſo great treaſure of ſpiritual thynges lyeth hyd therein.

I wyll therfore beſtow my labour and dyligēce through thys lytle preface or prologe, to prepare a way in ther vnto, ſo far forth as God ſhall geue me grace, that it may be vnderſtande of euery manne. For it hath bene hytherto ſo euyl darchened wyth gloſes, and wondrous dreames of Sophiſters, that no man could ſpe oute the entente and meanyng of it, whyche neuertheles, yet of it ſelfe is a bryght lyghte, and ſufferyente to geue lyghte vnto all the ſcripture.

Fyrſt, we muſte marke dyligentlye the maner of ſpeakyng of the Apoſtle, and aboue al thyng knowe what Paule meaneth by theſe wordes, the Lawe, Sinne, Grace, Fayth, Rightuouſnes, Fleſhe, Synne, and ſuche lyke, or els reade it thou neuer ſo oſt, thou ſhalt but looſe thy labour. Thys worde Lawe muſt not bee vnderſtande here after the comen maner, and to vſe Paules terme, after the maner of men, or after mannes wayes, that thou wouldeſt ſaye, the Lawe here in thys place were nothyng but learninge, whiche teacheth what oughte to be done, and what oughte not to be done, as it goeth wyth mannes lawe, where the lawe is fulfilled wyth outwarde woorkes onely, though the herte be neuer ſo farre of. But God iudgeth the grounde of the herte, yea, and the thoughte, and the ſcrete mouynges of the mynde, & therfore thys law requyeth the grounde of the herte, and loue from the bottome thereof, and is not content wyth the outwarde woorkes onely, but rebuketh thoſe woorkes moſt of all, whyche ſpyng not of loue from the ground and lowe bottome of the herte, though they appeare outward, neuer ſo honeſte and good, as Chyſte in the Goſpell rebuketh the Phariſes aboue all other that were open ſynnars, and calleth them Hypocrites, that is to ſaye, Simulers, & painted ſepulchres. Whyche Phariſes yet iudged no men ſo pure, as pertaynyng to the outward dedes and woorkes of the lawe. Yea and Paule in the thyrd Chapt. of hys Epyſtle vnto the Philippians, confeſſeth of hym ſelfe, that as touching the Lawe he was ſuche a one as no man coulde complayne on, and not wythſtandynge was yet a murderer of the chryſten, perſecuted them and toymented them ſo ſore, that he compelled them to blaſpheme Chyſte, and was al together mercyleſſe, as manye which nowe ſayne outward good woorkes are.

The lawe of God requyred loue

Whiche when they hadde examined me, would haue let me go, becauſe they found no cauſe of death in me. But when ſ Jewes cryed contrarie, I was conſtrayned to appeale to Ceſar: not becauſe I had ought to accuſe my people of. For this cauſe haue I called for you, euen to ſee you, and to ſpeake wyth you: * becauſe that for the hope of Iſtaell, I am bounde wyth thys chapyne.

Act. xlii. b. and. xlii. c. and. xvi. b.

And they ſaped vnto hym: We neyther receiued letters out of Jewrye: pertaining vnto the, neither came any of the brethren that ſhewed or ſpeake anye harme of the. But we will heare of the what thou thinkeſt. For we haue heard of thys ſecte that euery * wher it is ſpoken againſt. And whē they had appointed him a daye, there came many vnto him into hys lodging. To who he expounded and teſtified the kyngdome of God, and preached vnto them of Jeſu: both oute of the lawe of Moſes and alſo out of the prophetes, euen from moorning to night. And ſome beleued the thynges which were ſpoken, and ſome beleued not. When they agreed not amonge themſelues, they departed, after that Paule hadde ſpoken one worde: Well ſpake the holpe ghooſt by Eſay the prophete vnto your fathers, ſayinge: ¶ goo vnto this people and ſay: with your eares ſhal ye heare and ſhal not vnderſtand: and with your eyes ſhal ye ſee, and ſhal not perceyue.

Act. ii. s.

Actes. xli. a.

Eſay. vi. c. Mat. xlii. b. Mar. xlii. b. Luke. viii. c. John. xli. c. Roma. xi. b.

For the hert of this people is waxed groſſe and their eares wer thicke of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed: leſt they ſhoulde ſe with their eyes and heare with their eares, and vnderſtand with their hartes, and ſhoulde be conuerted, and I ſhoulde heale them. Be it knowen therfore vnto you, that this ſaluacion of God is ſent to the Gentyles, and they ſhall heare it. And when he had ſaid that, the Jewes departed, and had great diſpicions among them ſelues.

And Paule dwelt two yeaeres full in hys lodginge, and receyued all that came to him, preaching thoſe thynges whiche concerned the Lorde Jeſus wyth all confidence vnforboden.

The Notes.

Caſtor and Pollux.

(a) Theſe in olde time wer eſteemed as Goddes, who if they appeared bothe together, were compted fauourable and lucky to Maryners, and ſuch as trauiſled the ſeas. If one after another, or one alone: vnfortunate and cruel. The owner of the ſhip cariēd the badge of them, not wythout great confidence therein, & theſe two Goddes woulde proſpere his viage, becauſe he honored them wyth the carryinge ther of.

Here endeth the Actes of the Apoſtles.

A Prologe

vpō the Epyſtle of Saynt Paule to the Romaynes.

As muche as thys Epyſtle is the pyncepal and moſt excellent part of the newe Teſtament, and moſt pure Euangelion, that is to ſaye: glad tydynges, and that wee call Goſpell, and alſo a light and a waye in vnto the whole ſcripture, I thynke it mete that euery Chriſtian manne not onely knowe it by herte and wythoute the booke: but alſo exercepſe hymſelfe therein euermore continuallye, as wyth the dayly breade of the ſoule. No man verely can reade it to oſt, or ſtudye it to well, for the more it is ſtudyed, the eaſier it is, the more it is ſtudied, the pleaſanter it is, and the groundlyer it is ſearched, the precioſer thynges are found in it, ſo great treaſure of ſpiritual thynges lyeth hyd therein.

I wyll therfore beſtow my labour and dyligēce through thys lytle preface or prologe, to prepare a way in ther vnto, ſo far forth as God ſhall geue me grace, that it may be vnderſtande of euery manne. For it hath bene hytherto ſo euyl darchened wyth gloſes, and wouderfull dreames of Sophyſters, that no man could ſpe oute the entente and meanyng of it, whychz neuertheles, yet of it ſelfe is a bryght lyghte, and ſuffeyente to geue lyghte vnto all the ſcripture.

Fyrſt, we muſte marke dyligentlye the maner of ſpeakyng of the Apoſtle, and aboue al thyng knowe what Paule meaneth by theſe wordes, the Lawe, Sinne, Grace, Fayth, Rightuouſnes, Fleſhe, Synne, and ſuche lyke, or els reade it thou neuer ſo oſt, thou ſhalt but looſe thy labour. Thys worde Lawe muſt not bee vnderſtande here after the comen maner, and to vſe Pauls terme, after the maner of men, or after mannes wayes, that thou wouldeſte ſaye, the Lawe here in thys place were nothyng but learninge, whiche teacheth what oughte to be done, and what oughte not to be done, as it goeth wyth mannes lawe, where the lawe is fulfilled wyth outwarde woorkes onely, though the herte be neuer ſo farre of. But God iudgeth the grounde of the herte, yea, and the thoughte, and the ſcrete mouynges of the mynde, & therfore thys law requyrez the grounde of the herte, and loue from the bottome thereof, and is not content wyth the outwarde woorkes onely, but rebuketh thoſe woorkes moſt of all, whyche ſpyng not of loue from the ground and lowe bottome of the herte, though they appeare outward, neuer ſo honeſte and good, as Chyſte in the Goſpell rebuketh the Pharyſes aboue all other that were open ſynners, and calleth them Hypocrites, that is to ſaye, Simulcers, & painted ſepulchres. Whych Pharyſes yet ſpyed no men ſo pure, as pertaynyng to the outward dedes and woorkes of the lawe. Yea and Paule in the thyrd Chapt. of hys Epyſtle vnto the Philippians, confeſſeth of hym ſelfe, that as touching the Lawe he was ſuche a one as no man coulde complayne on, and not wythſtandynge was yet a murderer of the chryſten, perſecuted them and toymented them ſo ſore, that he compelled them to blaſpheme Chyſte, and was al together mercyleſſe, as manye which nowe ſayne outward good woorkes are.

The lawe
of God re-
quyred loue

Whiche when they hadde examined me, would haue let me go, becauſe they found no cauſe of death in me. But when ſ Jewes cryed contrarie, I was conſtrayned to appeale to Ceſar: not becauſe I had ought to accuſe my people of. For this cauſe haue I called for you, euen to ſee you, and to ſpeake wyth you: * becauſe that for the hope of Iſtaell, I am bounde wyth thys chapne.

Act. xlii. b.
and. xlii. c.
and. xvi. b.

And they ſaped vnto hym: We neyther receiued letters out of Jewrye: pertaining vnto the, neither came any of the brethren that ſhewed or ſpeake anye harme of the. But we will heare of the what thou thinkeſt. For we haue heard of thys ſecte that euery * wher it is ſpoken againſt. And whē they had appointed him a daye, there came many vnto him into hys lodging. To who he expounded and teſtified the kyngdome of God, and preached vnto them of Jeſu: both oute of the lawe of Moſes and alſo out of the prophetes, euen from moorning to nighte. And ſome beleued the thynges which were ſpoken, and ſome beleued not. When they agreed not amonge themſelues, they departed, after that Paule hadde ſpoken one worde: Well ſpake the holpe ghooſt by Eſay the prophete vnto your fathers, ſayinge: * goo vnto this people and ſay: with your eares ſhal ye heare and ſhal not vnderſtand: and with your eyes ſhal ye ſee, and ſhal not perceyue.

Act. ii. s.

Actes. xli. a.

Eſay. vi. c.
Mat. xlii. b.
Mar. xlii. b.
Luke. viii. c.
John. xli. c.
Roma. xi. b.

For the hert of this people is waxed groſſe and their eares wer thicke of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed: leſt they ſhoulde ſe with their eyes and heare with their eares, and vnderſtand with their hartes, and ſhoulde be conuerted, and I ſhoulde heale them. Be it knowen therfore vnto you, that this ſaluacion of God is ſent to the Gentyles, and they ſhall heare it. And when he had ſaid that, the Jewes departed, and had great diſpicions among them ſelues.

And Paule dwelt two yeaeres full in hys lodgynge, and receyued all that came to him, preaching thoſe thynges whiche concerned the Lorde Jeſus wyth all conſequence vnforboden.

The Notes.

Caſtor and Pollux.

(a) Theſe in olde time wer eſteemed as Goddes, who if they appeared bothe together, were compted fauourable and lucky to Maryners, and ſuch as trauiſled the ſeas. If one after another, or one alone: vnfortunate and cruel. The owner of the ſhip cari- ed the badge of them, not wyth- out great conſydence ther- in, & theſe two Gods would proſpere his viage, becauſe he honored them wyth the ca- ryng of ther of.

Here endeth the Actes of the Apoſtles.

A prologe vppon the

Fayth only iustifieth.

God and man also, deade and rylen agayne for our sakes, as he saith. iiii. x. Chap. Al our iustifying then cometh by fayth, and fayth & the spirite come of god & not of vs. When we saye fayth bringeth the spirite, it is not to be vnderstand that the spirite is not present in vs before fayth. For the spirite is euer in vs: & fayth is the gift & working of the spirite. But thow preachynge the spirite be- gynneth to worke in vs. And as by preachynge the law, he worketh the feare of god, so by pre- achynge the glad tidings, he worketh fayth. And now when we beleue & are come vnder the co- uenante of god, then are we sure of the spirite by the promyse of god, & then the spirite accom- paneth fayth inseparablye, & we begyn to fele his workynge. And so sayeth certifieth vs of the spirite, & also bringeth the spirite vnto the workynge of al other gyftes of grace, & to the workynge out of the rest of our saluacion vntyl we haue altogether ouercome syn, death, hel & Satan, & are come vnto the euerlastynge lyfe of gloire. And for this cause say we, fayth bring- geth the spirite.

Workes
spring of
fayth.

Hereof cometh it that fayth only iustifieth, ma- keth rightuous, & fulfilleth the law: for it bring- geth the spirite throughte Chyistes deservynge the spirite bringeth lust, loseth the hert, and ma- keth him free, setteth him at liberty, and geueth him strength to worke the dedes of the law w- loue euen as the law requireth. Then at last out of the same fayth so workynge in the hert, spring al good workes by their owne accorde. That meaneth he in the. iiii. Chap. for after he hath cast awaye the workes of the lawe, so that he soundeth as though he wold breake and disa- nul the law thow fayth: he answereth to that myght be layd agaynst him, saying: we destroue not the law thow fayth, but mayntayne, fur- der, and stablish the law thowwe sayeth. That is to say, we fulfil the law thow fayth.

Syn in the scripture is not called that out- ward worke only comitted by the body, but all the whole busines and whatsoever accompani- eth, moueth or stirreth vnto the outwarde dede, and that wher the workes spring, as vnbefese pronenes & readines vnto the dede in the ground of the hert with all the powers, affections and appetites wherewith we can but syn. So that we say, that a man then synneth, wher he is cari- ed away headling in to syn, altogether as much as he is of that poysoned and corrupte nature wherin he was conceiued and borne.

For ther is none outwarde syn comitted ex- cept a man be caried away altogether, with life soule, hert, body, lust, and mind thereunto. The scripture loketh syngulerly vnto the herte, and to the rote and original fountaine of al syn, whi- che is vnbefese in the bottom of the hert. For as fayth only iustifieth, & bringeth the spirite and lust to the outward good workes, euen so vnbefese dampneth and kepeth out the spirite, pro- uoketh the flesh, & stirreth vp lust vnto the euil outward workes, as happened to Adam & Eue in paradise. Gene. iii. For this cause Chyist cal- leth syn vnbefese, and notably in the. xvi. cha. of John. The spirite sayth he shall rebuke the world of syn, because thei beleue not in me. And John. viii. I am the lyghte of the worlde. And therfore in the. xii. of John, he biddeth the while thei haue light to beleue in the lyght that ye may be the chyldren of lyghte, for he that walketh in darkenes, wotteth not whether he goeth. Now as Chyist is the lyghte, so is the ignorance of

Epylle to the Roma. Fo. xlvii

Chyiste that darkenes whereof he spaketh, in whiche he that walketh wotteth not whether he goeth: that is, he knoweth not how to work a good worke in the lyghte of god, or what a good worke is. And therfore in the. ix. he saith: as long as I am in the worlde, I am the lyghte of the worlde, but there cometh nyght when no man can worke, whiche nyghte is but the igno- rance of Chyist, in whiche no man can se to do any worke to please god. And Paule exhorteth Epy. iiii. that thei walk not as other hereth which are straungers fro the life of god, throught the ignorance that is in the. And agayne in the same Chap. But of (sayth he) the old man, whiche is corrupt thow the lustes of erreurs, that is to say, ignorance. And Rom. xiii. Let vs caste a- way the dedes of darknes, that is to say, of ig- norance and vnbefese. And. i. Det. i. Fashion not your selues vnto old lustes of ignorance. And. i. Jo. ii. He that loueth his brother dwel- leth in lyghte, and he that hateth his brother, walketh in darknes, and wotteth not whether he goeth: for darknes hath blynded his eyes. By lyght he meneth the knowledge of Chyist, & by darknes the ignorance of Chyist. For it is vnbefese that he that knoweth Chyist truly, shoulde hate his brother. Further more to per- ceue this thinge more clearly, I shalte vnder- stand, that it is not possible to syn any syn at all except a man breake the fyrst commandment be fore. Now is the first commandment deuided in- to two verses: Thy lord god is one god, and thou shalt loue thy lord thy god with al thyne hert, wyth al thy soule, with all thy power, and with al thy myght. And the whole cause why I syn agaynst any inferiour precepte, is that this loue is not in my hert, for were this lawe wyrt- ten in mine hert, & were ful & perfect in my soule: it wold kepe mine hert fro consenting vnto any syn. And the whole & only cause why this loue is not wyrtten in our hertes, is that we beleue not the fyrst part, that our lord god is one god. For wist I what these words, one lord & one God meaneth, & is to say, if I vnderstand that he made al & ruleth al, & that whatsoever is done to me, whether it be good or bad, is yet his wil, & that he only is the lord & ruleth and doth it, And wist therto what this word (mine) meaneth, that is to say: if mine hert beleued & felt the infynitie benefites and goodnes of God to me ward, & vnderstode and earnestly beleued the manyfold couenants of mercy, wherby god hath bounde him selfe to be mine whole & all together w- al his power loue mercy, & myght, then shoulde I loue him wyth al mine hert soule, power, & myghte, and of the loue euer kepe his commandments. So se I now that as fayth is mother of al goodnes & of al good workes: so is vnbefese the ground & rote of al euil, & al euil workes. Finally, if any man hath for- saken syn, and is conuerted to put his truste in Chyist, & to kepe the law of God, do fal at anye time: the cause is that the fleshe throughte negli- gence hath choked the spirite, and oppressed byz- zed taken from byz the foode of his strengthe, whiche foode is his meditacion in God, & in his wonderful dedes, and in the manifolde coue- nantes of his mercy. Wherefore then before all good workes (as good frutes) there muste nedes be fayth in the herte, whence thei spring. And before al bad dedes (as al bad frutes) ther must nedes be vnbefese in the hert, whiche is the rote, fountayne, pyth, & strengthe of al syn, whi- che vnbefese and ignorance is called the head of the serpente and of olde dragon whiche the

W m m m. ii. womans

The Prologue vpon the womans sede Christ must treade vnder fote, as it was promised vnto Adam.

Grace.

Grace and gyfte haue thys difference. Grace properly is gods fauoure, benecolence or kind mynde, whiche of hys owne selfe, wpythout deseruing of vs, he beareth to vs, whereby he was moued and enclined to gyue Christe vnto vs, with al his other gyses of grace.

Gyfte.

Gyfte is the holye ghost and hys workynge whome he poureth into the hertes of theym, on whom he hath mercy, and whom he fauoureth. Though the gyses of the spirite encrease in vs dayly, and haue not yet their ful perfeccion, yea and though there remaine in vs yet euil lustes and synne, whiche fighte agaynst the spirite, as he sayeth here in the. vii. Chap. & in the. v. to the Gal. & as it was spoken before in the. iii. Chap. of Genesis, of the debate betwene the womans sede, and the sede of the serpent: yet neuertheles gods fauoure is so great, and so strong ouer vs for Christes sake, that we are counted for full hole and perfect before God. For gods fauoure toward vs deuiderth not his selfe, encreasynge a litle and litle, as doo the gyses, but receiueth vs hole and altogether in ful loue for Christes sake our intercessor & mediator: & that because the gyses of the spirite & the battaile betwene the spirite and euil lustes, are begun in vs already.

Of thys now vnderstandest thou the. vii. Chap. for wher Paule accuseth hym selfe as a synner and yet in the. viii. chap. sayth, there is no damnacion to them that are in Christ, & that because of the spirite, & because the gyses of the spirite are begun in vs. Synners we are because the flesh is not full kylled and mortified. Neuertheles in as much as we beleue in Christe, and haue the earnest begynnyng of the spirite, and would sayne be perfect: God is so louyng & fauourable vnto vs, that he wyl not loke on such synne, neither wyl counte it as synne, but wyl deale with vs according to our belefe in Christ, and accordynge to his promyses which he hath sworne to vs, vntyl the sin be ful laine & mortified by death. Faith is not mans opinion and dreame, as some ymagin & faine, when they hear the storie of the gospel. But when they see the folow no good workes nor mendment of liuing though they heare, & can habie many thinges of faith: yet then they fal from the ryght way, and say: faith onely iustifieth not, a man must haue good workes also, if he wil be righteous & safe. The cause is, when they heare the Gospell or glad tidings, they faine of theyr own strength certayne imaginacions & thoughtes in their hertes, saying: I haue heard the gospel, I remembre the storie, so I beleue. And so they count ryght faith which neuertheles as it is but mans ymaginacion & faining, euen so profitech it not neyther foloweth ther anye mendmente of liuinge.

But ryght faith is a thyng wrought by the holye gost in vs, which chaungeth vs into a new nature, & begetteth vs a newe in god, & maketh vs the sonnes of God, as he readest in the. i. of Ihon, and killeth the old Adam, and maketh vs altogether newe in the hert, mynde, wil, lust, & in al other affections and powers of the soule, & holye gost euer accompanying him and rulyng him. Faith is a liuely thyng, myghty in workynge, valiante and stronge, euer doyng, euer fructifull, so that it is vnpoffible that he whiche is endued therewith, should not worke alwaies good workes wpythout ceasynge. We are not whether good workes are to be done or not, but hath done the already per mencion be made of theym, and is alwaies doyng, for such is hys nature: nowe quicke sayeth in his hert & lyuely mouyng of the spirite dyue & stiere hym therunto. Whosoener doth not good workes is an vnbeluyng person & faithlesse, & loketh rounde about groping after faith & good workes, and wotteth not what faith or good workes meane though he habie neuer so many thinges of faith and good workes. Faith is the liuely & stedfast trust in the fauoure of God, wherewith we com mit our selues altogether vnto god, and so trust is so suerly grounded & sticketh so fast in oure hertes, that a man would not once doubt of it though he should dye a thousand tymes therefoze. And such trust wrought by the holye ghost through faith, maketh a man glad, lusty, cheereful, & true herted vnto god & to al creatures. By the meanes wherof, willing & without compulsion, he is glad and redy to do good to eueri man to suffer al thynges for god may be loued & pray sed, whiche hath geuen him such grace: so that it is vnpoffible to seperat good workes fro faith, eue as it is vnpoffible to seperate herte & burnig fro fyre. Therefore take hede, & beware of thyn own fantasie, which to iudge of faith & good workes wil seme wyle, when in dede they are starke blind, & of al thynges most folow. Praye god that he wyl vouchsafe to worke faith in thine hert, or els that he remayne euermore faithles, faine thou ymagin thou, enforce thou, wastle with thy selfe, and do what thou wilt.

Epyistle to the Romaines.

Rightuousnes is euen such faith, & is called gods ryghtuousnes, or ryghtuousnes that is of vature before god. For it is Gods gyfte, and it altereth a man & chaungeth him to a new spiritual nature, and maketh him fre & liberal to paye euery man hys duty. For thowoe faith is a man purged of hys synnes, & obtayneth iustice vnto the lawe of god, wherby he geueth god hys honoure, & payeth him that he oweth him and vnto men he doth seruice wpyllnyngly wherewith so euer he can, & payeth euery man his duty. Such ryghteousnes can nature, fre wil, and our own strengthe neuer bynge to passe. For as no man can gyue him selfe faith: so can he not take away vnbelefe. How then can he take away any thyng at all? Wherfore al is false hypocryse & syn, whatsoever is done wpythout faith or in vnbelefe, as it is euident in the. iii. Chap. vnto the Romaines, though it appere neuer so glorious or bewtiful outwarde.

Flesh and spirite maifest that not here vnderstand as though the flesh were onelye that which pertayneth vnto vnchastite: & the spirite that which inwardly pertayneth to god: but Paul calleth flesh here as Christ doth. Ihon. iii. Al that is borne of flesh, that is to wete, the whole man wpyth life, soule, body, wyl, wyl, reason, whatsoever he is, or doth within and wpythout, because that the al & al that is in man, study after the world and the flesh. Al flesh therfore whatsoever (as longe as we are wpythout the spirite of God) we thynke or speake, of God, of faith, of good workes, & of spiritual matters. Al flesh also al workes which are done wout grace & wpythout the workynge of the spirite, how soeuer good holy & spiritual they seme to be: as he mayest proue by the. v. Chap. to the Galat. wher Paule nameth workyng of Idols, wpythcraft, Enuie, & hate, among the dedes of the flesh, & by the viii. to the Romaines, wher he sayeth that the lawe by the reason of the flesh is weake, whiche is not vnderstand of vnchastite onelye, but of all synnes, and mooste specialy of vnbelefe, whiche is a vyce mooste spiritual, and grounde of al synnes.

And

Faith is not a work of man.

Right faith is of a workynge of the spirite of God.

Faith whas it is.

Faith is righteousnes.

The prologe vpon the

And as thou callest hym which is not reuened with the spirit, & borne againe in Christ, fleshe, and all hys dedes, euen the very motions of his herte and mynde, his learninge, doctrine and contemplation of hye thynges, his preaching, teaching, and study in the scripture, buildinge of churches, foundinge of Abbayes, geuynge of Almes, Masse, Sacraments, & whatsoeuer he doth, though it seme spirituall & after the lawes of God, fleshy: so contrariwise call him spiritual, which is reuened in Christ, & al his dedes which springe of faith, seme they neuer so grosse, as the washing of his disciples fete done by Christ, & Peters fishing after his resurrection, yea & al his dedes of matrimony are spiritual, if they procede of faith: and whatsoeuer is done within the lawes of God, though it be wrought by the bodye, as the very wiping of shoes and such like, howsoeuer grosse they appere outward. Without vnderstandynge of these wordes, canst thou neuer vnderstand this Epistle of Paule, neither any other place in the helpe scripture. Take heede therfore, for whosoever vnderstandeth these wordes otherwise, the same vnderstandeth not Paule, whatsoeuer he be. Nowe wyll we prepare our selues to the Epistle.

The fyrst Chapter.

For as muche as it becometh the preacher of Christes glad tidings, first thorow opening of the law to rebuke all thynges, and to proue all thynges synne, that procede not of the spirit and of faith in Christ, and to proue al men sinners and children of wrath by inheritance, and how that to sinne is their nature, and that by nature they can none otherwise do then synne, & therewith to abate his pryde of man, and to bring him vnto the knowledge of himselfe, and of his misery and wretchednes, that he might desyre help: euen so doeth S. Paule, and beginneth in the first Chap. to rebuke vnbelefe and grosse synnes which men see, as Idolatry, & as the grosse synnes of the heathen wer, and as the syns now are of all them which liue in ignorance without faith, & withoute the fauoure of God. The wrath of the God of heauen apereth thorow his Gospel vpon all men, for their vngodlines and vnholy liuing. For though it be knowen, & daily vnderstand by the creatures that there is but one God, yet is nature of hirselfe without his spirit and grace, so corrupt & so poisoned, that men neither can thanke him, neither worship him, neither geue him his due honoz, but blind themselves, & fall without ceasing into worse case, euen vntill they come vnto worshipping of Images, and working of shamefull synnes, whyche are abhominable against nature, and mozeouer suffer the same vnrubed in other, hauynge delectacion and pleasure therein.

The secōde Chapter.

In the second Chap. he proceedeth further, & rebuketh al those holy people also which without lust and loue to the law, liue wel outwardly in the face of the world, and condemne other gladly, as his nature of al hypocrites is, to thinke them selues pure in respect of open sinners, and yet hate the law inwardly, and are full of couetousnes and enuy & of al vnclenes. Math. xxiii. These are they which despise the goodnes of God, & according to the hardnes of their hertes, heape together for themselves the wrath of God. Furthermore S. Paule as a true expounder of the law, suffereth no man to be without sin, but declareth that al they are vnder sin, which of fre wyll & of nature, wil liue wel: and suffereth the not to be better then the open sinners, yea he calleth the hard herted, & suche as can not repent.

The thyrde Chapter.

In the.iii. Chap. he minglet both together,

Epist. to the Romayn. Fo. lxxviii.

both the Jewes & the gentils, and saith that the one is as the other, bothe sinners, and no difference betwene them, saue in this onely, that the Jewes had the worde of God committed vnto the. And though many of the beleued not thereon, yet is Gods truth & promise thereby, neyther hurt nor diminished. And he taketh in his waye & allegeth the saying of the. l. psalme, that God might abyde true in his wordes and ouercome when he is iudged. After that he returneth to his purpose againe, and proueth by the scripture, that all men without difference or exception are sinners, and that by the workes of the lawe no man is iustified: but that the lawe was geuen to better and to declare synne onely. Then he begynneth and sheweth the righte waye vnto righteousness, by what meanes menne muste be made ryghteous and safe, and sayeth.

They are all sinners and without prayse before God, and must without their owne deseruings be made righteous thorow faith in Christ, which hath deserued such righteousness for vs, & is become vnto vs Gods mercy stoke, for the remission of syns that are past: thereby prouinge that Christes righteousness which cometh on vs thorow faith, helpeth vs only. Whych righteousness sayeth he, is now declared thorow the Gospel, and was testifed of before by the lawe and the Prophetes. Furthermore (sayth he) the law is holy & furthereth thorow faith, though that the workes thereof wth all theyr bolle are brought to nought, & proued not to iustify.

The.iiii. Chapter.

In the fourth Chap. (after that now by the thre fyrst Chapters, the synnes are opened, and the waye of faith vnto righteousness layd) he beginneth to aunswer to certayne obiections & cauillacions. And fyrst he putteth forth those blind reasons, which comunely they that will be iustified by their owne workes are wont to make when they heare his faith only without workes iustified, saying: Shall men do no good workes? yea & if sayth onely iustify, what nedeth a man to studye for to do good workes? He putteth forth therfore Abraham for an ensample, saying: what dyd Abraham with his workes? Was al in vaine? Came his workes to no profyte? And so concludeth that Abraham without and before all workes was iustified & made righteous. In so much that before the worke of circumcision he was praysed of the scripture and called righteous by his faith onely. Genes. xv. So that he dyd not the workes of circumcision for to be holpe thereby vnto righteousness, whych yet God commaunded hym to doo, and was a good worke of obedyence.

So in likewise no doubt none other workes helpe anye thyng at all to a mans iustifyinge. But as Abrahams circumcision was an outward signe, whereby he declared his righteousness which he had by faith, & his obedyence & redynes vnto the wil of God: euen so are al other good workes outward frutes of faith and of the spirit, which iustify not a manne, but shewe that a man is iustified already before God inwardlye in the herte, thorow faith and thorow the spirite purchased by Christes blood.

Herewith now stablyshed S. Paule his doctrine of faith afore rehersed in the. iiii. cha. & bringeth also a testimony of Dauid in the. lxxv. psal. which calleth a man blessed not of workes, but in his sin is not rekened, and in that sayeth is imputed for righteousness, though he abide not afterward wthout good workes, whiche he is ones iustified. For wee are iustified and receiue the spirite for to do good workes, neither were it other wyle possible to do good workes, except we had fyrste the spirit.

The prologe vpon the

For how is it possible to do any thyng well in the sight of God, whyle we are yet in captyvityte and bondage, and the devyll possesseth vs altogether, & holdeth our hertes, so that we can not ones consent vnto the wyl of God? No man therfore can present the spirit in doyng good, but the spirit must first come, and wake him out of hys sleepe, and with the thunder of the lawe feare hym, and shewe hym hys miserable estate and wretchednes, and make hym abhorre & hate hymselfe, and to desyre helpe: and then comforte hym agayne with the pleasaunte ragune of the Gospell, that is to saye, with the swete promyses of God in Christ, and there vpon sayth in him to beleue the promyses. Then when he beleueth the promyses: as god was merciful to promise, so is he true to fulfill them, and wyl geue hym the spirit and strength, both to loue the wyl of God, and to worke thereafter. So see we that God only whyche according to scripture worketh all in all thynges, worketh a mans iustifying, saluacyon and helth, yea and poureth faith and beleue, lust to loue Gods wyl, and strength to fulfill the same into vs, euen as water is poured into a vessel, and that of hys good wyl and purpose, and not of our deservynges and merites: Goddes mercede in promysynge, and truth in fulfillynge hys promyses saueth vs, and not we our selues. And therfore is all laude, prayse and glory, to be geuen God for hys mercy and truth, and not vnto vs for oure merites. After that he stretcheth his ensample oute agaynst all other good workes of the law, and concludeth that the Jewes cannot be Abrahams heyres, because of bloud and kynred onely, and much lesse by workes of the lawe: but muste inheryte Abrahams sayth if they wyl be the righte heyres of Abraham: for as muche as Abraham before the lawe, bothe of Moyses and of circumcysion, was thow sayth made ryghtuous, and called the father of al them that beleue, and not of the that worke. Wherouer the law causeth wrath, in as much as no man can fulfill it with loue & luste. And as long as such grudgyng, hate, and indignacyon agaynst the law remayneth in the hert: and is not taken away by the spirit that cometh by faith, so long (no doubt) the workes of the lawe declare euidentlye that the wrath of God is vpon vs, and not fauoure. Wherfore sayth onely receyueth the grace promysed vnto Abraham. And these ensamples were not written for Abrahams sake onely (sayeth he) but for ours also, to whom if we beleue, sayeth shall be reckened lykewyle for rightuousnes, as he saith in the ende of the chapter.

In the fyfte Chapter he commaundeth the frutes and workes of saythe, as are peace, reioysynge in the conscience, inward loue to god and man: mozeouer boldnes, trust, confydence, & a stronge and lustye mynde, and stedfast hope in tribulacyon and sufferynge. For all such folow where the ryght saythe is, for the aboundaunte graces sake, and gyftes of the spirit, whych god hath geuen vs in Iesus Christe, in that he gaue hym to dye for vs, yet hys enemyes. Now haue we then, that sayth onely before all workes iustifyeth, and that it foloweth not yet therfore, that a man should do no good workes, but that the ryght Mapen workes abyde not behynd, but accompany sayth, euen as brightnes doeth the sunne, and are called of Paule, the frutes of the spirit. Wher spirit is, ther is alwaies sommer, & ther are alwayes good frutes, that is to saye:

Epistle to the Romayns.

good workes. This is Paules order, that good workes spring of the spirit, & spirit cometh by sayth, and sayth cometh by hearyng the word of God, when the glad tydynges and promyses which god hath made vs in Christ, are preached truly, and receyued in the grounde of the herte without waueryng or doutynge after that the lawe hath passed vpon vs, and hath dampned oure consciences. Where the worde of God is preached purely and receyued in the hert, ther is sayth, and the spirit of God, there are also good workes of necessitye whensoever occasion is geuen.

Where Gods word is not purely preached, but mennes dreames, tradycions, imagynacions, inuencions, ceremonies and supersticion, there is no sayth, and consequently no spirit that cometh of God. And where Goddes spirit is not, there can be no good workes: euen as wher an appell tree is not, there can growe no apples, but ther is vnbelefe, the deuils spirit and euill workes. Of this Gods spirit and hys frutes, haue oure holpe hypocrites not ones knownen, neyther yet tasted howe swete they are, though they saye manye good workes of theyr owne imaginacions, to be iustified with al: in whiche is not one crumme of true sayeth or spirituall loue, or of inward ioye, peace and quyetnes of conscience, for as much as they haue not the word of God for them, that suche workes please God, but they are euen the rotten frutes of a rotten tree.

After that he breaketh forth, and runneth at large, and sheweth whence bothe synne and ryghtuousnes, death and lyfe come. And he compareth Adam and Christe together, this wyle reasonynge & dysputynge that Christ must nedes come as a seconde Adam, too make vs heyres of hys rightuousnes thow a new spiritual birth without our deservynges: euen as the fyeste Adam made vs heyres of synne, thow the bodely generacyon, without our deservynge. Wherby is euidently knownen & proued to the vitermost, that no man can bynge hymselfe oute of synne vnto rightuousnes no moze then he could haue withstand that he was borne bodely. And that is proued here with, for as muche as the very lawe of God, whych of ryght shoulde haue holpe, if any thyng could haue holpe, not only came and broughte no helpe with hys, but also encreased synne, because that the euill and poisoned nature is offended and viterlye dyspleased with the lawe: and the moze the is forbyd by the lawe, the moze is the prouoked and set a fyre to fulfill and satysfy hys lustes. By the lawe then we see clearly that wee muste nedes haue Christ to iustify vs with hys grace, and to help nature.

In the syxt, he setteth forth the chiefe & pryncypall worke of sayth, the battayle of the spirit agaynst the flethe, howe the spirit labourereth and enforceth to kyl the remnaunte of syn and lust, whych remayneth in the flethe, after oure iustifying. And this chapter teacheth vs, that we are not so free from syn thow sayth, that we shoulde henceforth go vp and downe ydle, careless and sure of our selues, as though there were now no moze synne in vs, yea ther is synne remaynyng in vs, but it is not reckened, because of sayth and of the spirit whych fight agaynst it.

Wherfore we haue inough to do all oure lyues long to tame our bodys, and compell the members to obeye the spirit, and not the appetites, that therby wee myghte be lyke vnto Christes death

Good workes are the frutes of the spirit.

After that he breaketh forth, and runneth at large, and sheweth whence bothe synne and ryghtuousnes, death and lyfe come.

The fyfte Chapter.

The prologe vpon the Epist. to the Romayn. Fo. lxiij.

death and resurrection, and myght fulfill oure baptysme, whiche signifieth the mortifyinge of our sins, and the lyfe of grace. For this batel ceaseth not in vs vntill the laste breath, and vntill that synne be utterly slaine by the death of the bodye. This thyng (I meane to tame the bodye, and so for the) wee are able to do (sayeth he) because we are vnder grace, and not vnder law. And what it is to be vnder law, he hym selfe doeth expounde it. For not to be vnder law, is not so to be vnderstand, that euery man maye do what hym lusteth: But not to be vnder the lawe, is to haue a free hert renewed wth the spyrte, so that thou hast lust inwardlye of thine owne accord to do that whiche the lawe commaunded without compulsion, yea though there were no law. For grace, that is to saye Goddes fauoure byngeth vs the spyrte, and maketh vs loue the lawe: so is there now no more syn, neither is the law now any more against vs, but at one, and agreeth wth vs, and we wth it.

To be vnder the law what it is. But to be vnder the law, is to deale wth the workes of the lawe, and to worke wythout the spyrte and grace: for so longe no dout, synne reyneth in vs thorow the law, that is to saye, the law declareth that we are vnder synne, and that synne hath power and dominyon ouer vs, because we can not fulfill the law, namely, wth in the hert, for as much as no man of nature fauoureth the lawe, consenteth thereto, and desisteth therein. Whiche thyng is exceeding greate synne, that we cannot consent to the law, which lawe is nothyng else but the will of God.

This is the ryght freedom and libertye from synne, and from the lawe, wherof he wytteth vnto the ende of this Chapter, that it is a freedom to do good onely wth lust, and to liue well wythout compulsion of the lawe: wherfore this freedom is a spiritual freedom, which destroyeth not the lawe, but minisreth by which it requyeth, and wher wth the lawe is fulfilled: that is to vnderstande, lust, and loue, wher wth law is fylled, and accuseth vs no more. compelleth vs no more, neyther hath oughte to craue of vs anye more. Euen as though thou were in dette to an other man and wer not able to pay, two maner wayes mightest thou be leuised. One waye, if he would requyre nothyng of the, and byake thyne obligacyon: In other way, if some other good man would pay for the, and gyue the as muche as thou mightest satisfye thyne obligacyon wthall. Of this wyse hath Christ made vs free from the law, and therefore is this no wilde fleshely libertye, that shoulde do nought, but that doth all thynges, and is free from the crauinge and dette of the lawe.

The. vii. Chapter.

In the. vii. he confirmeth the same with a similitude of the state of matrimonye. As when the husband dyeth, the wyfe is at hys libertye, & the one leuised and departed from the other, not that the woman shuld not haue power to marrye vnto another man, but rather nowe fyrst of all is she free, and hath power to marrye vnto another man, whiche she could not do before, tyl she was leuised from hys husband. Euen so are oure consciences bounde and in daunger to the lawe vnder olde Adam the fleshe, as long as he lyueth in vs. For the lawe declareth that oure hertes are bound, and that wee cannot dissent from hym. But when he is mortified and stylled by the spyrte, then is the conscience free, and at libertie: not so, that the conscience shal now nought do, but nowe fyrst of all cleaueth vnto another, that is to witte, Christe, and byngeth forth the fruytes of lyfe. So nowe to be vnder the lawe, is not to be able to fulfill the lawe, To be vnder but to be better to it, and not to be able to payeder the law that whiche the lawe requyeth. And to be leuise from the lawe, is to fulfill & to pay that which To be leuise the lawe demaundeth, so that it can now hence- leuise forth are the nought. leuise

Consequently Paule declareth more largely the nature of synne and of the law, how that thorow the lawe syn reuiueth, moueth by selfe, and gathereth the strength. For the old manne and corrupt nature, the more he is forbidden & kept vnder of the law, is the more offended and displeased therewith, for as much as he cannot pay that whiche is requyred of the law. For syn is hys nature, and of hym selfe he can not but synne. Therefore is the lawe death to hym, torment and martyrdom. Not that the lawe is euill, but because that the euill nature can not suffer that whiche is good, can not abyde that lawe shoulde requyre of hym anye good thyng: Lyke as a synner man cannot suffer that a man shoulde despye of hym to runne, to leape, and to do other dedes of an whole man.

For whiche cause S. Paule concludeth, where the lawe is vnderstande and perceued of the beste wyse, ther it doth no more but vtter synne, and bying vs vnto the knowledge of our selues, and thereby kyl vs, and make vs bound vnto eternall dampnacyon, and detters of the euerlastyng wrath of God, euen as he wel feeleth and vnderstandeth whose conscience is truly touched of the lawe. In suche daunger were we per the lawe came, that we knewe not what synne meante, neyther yet knewe we the wrath of God vpon synners, tyl the lawe hath vttered it. So seest thou that a man must haue some other thyng, yea and a greater, & a more mighty thyng then the law, to make hym ryghteous and safe. They that vnderstand not the law on this wyse, are bynd, and go to worke presumptuously, supposyng to satisfye the lawe wth workes. For they knowe not that the lawe requyeth a fre, a wyllynge, a lustye, and a louing hert. Therefore they se not Moyses ryght in the face: the vayne hangeth betwene, and hydeth his face, so that they can not behold the glory of his countenance, how that the lawe is spyrtyual, & requyeth the hert. I may of myne own strength refrayne, that I do myne enemy no hurt, but to loue hym wth all myne herte, and to put away wrath cleane out of my mynd, can I not of mine owne strength. I maye refuse money of myne owne strength, but to put away loue vnto rychesse out of myne hert, can I not do of myne own strength. To abstayne from adultery as concernyng my outward dede, can I do of myne owne strength, but not to despye in myne hert, is as vnpossible vnto mee, as to chole whether I wylt hunger or thyrst: and yet so the law requyeth. Wherfore of a mans owne strength, is the law neuer fulfilled, we must haue therunto Goddes fauoure and hys spyrte, purchased wth Christes blood. Neuer theles whē I say a man maye do many thynges outwardly cleane agaynst his hert, we must vnderstand that a man is but diuven of diuers appetytes, and the greatest appetyte ouercommeth the lesse, and carryeth the man away violently wth hys.

As when I despye vengeance, and feare also the inconuenience that is lyke to folowe, I feare be greater, I abstaine: If the appetite that despyeth vengeance be greater, I can not but prosecute the dede, as we see by experyence in manye murderers and theues, whiche though they be brought into neuer so great peryll of death, yet

Am m m. iiii. after

The prologe vpon the

after they haue escaped, do euen the same again. And commune women persecute theyr lusts, because feare and shame are awake: when other whiche haue the same appetites in their herts, abstaine at the least way outwardly or worke secretly, beyng ouercome of feare and of shame: and so lykewyse is it of all other appetites.

Furthermoze he declarerh how the spirit and the fleshe fight together in one manne, and maketh an ensample of him selfe, that wee mighte learne to know to worke a ryghte, I meane to kyl synne in our selues. He calleth both the spirit and also the fleshe, a lawe: because that like as the nature of Gods lawe is to dyue, to compell, and to craue: euen so the fleshe dyueth, compelleth, craueth, and rageth agaynst the spirit, and wyl haue hyr lustes satisfied. On the other syde dyueth the spirit, crieth & fighteth against the fleshe, and wyl haue his lustes satisfied. And thys stryfe dureth in vs as longe as we lyue: in some moze, and in some lesse, as the spirit or the fleshe is stronger, and the verye man hys owne selfe is bothe the spirit and the fleshe, whyche fighteth wth hys owne selfe vntill synne be utterly slayne, and we altogether spiritual.

The eight
Chapter.

In the viii. Chapter, he comforteth such fighters that they despayre not because of such fleshe, eyther thynke that they are lesse in fauoure wth God. And he sheweth howe that synne remaynyng in vs, hurteth not: for ther is no daunger for them that are in Christ, whyche walke not after the fleshe, but fight agaynst it. And he expoundeth moze largely what the nature of the fleshe and of the spirit is, and howe the spirit someth by Christ, whyche spirit maketh vs spiritual, tamieth, subdueth, and mortifyeth the fleshe, and certifyeth vs that we are neuertheless the sonnes of God, & also beloued, though that synne raygne neuer so much in vs, so long as we folow the spirit and fighte agaynst syn to kyl and mortify it. And because nothyng is so good to the mortifying of the fleshe, as the crosse and tribulacion: he comforteth vs in our passions and afflictions, by the assistance of the spirit, which maketh intercession to God for vs myghtely wth grownynges that passe mans utteraunce: so that mans sprache can not comprehend them, and wth the mourning also of the creatures wth vs, of great despaye that they haue, that we were lewled from synne and corruption of the fleshe. So see we that these thre Chapters, vi. vii. viii. do none other thyng so much as to dyue vs vnto the righte worke of faith, whych is to kyl the old man, and mortifye the fleshe.

In the ix. x. xi. Chap. he treateth of Goddes predestinacion, whence it springeth altogether, whether we shall beleue or not, be lewled from synne or not. By whych predestinacion, our sufferinge and saluacion are cleane taken out of oure handes, and put in the handes of God only, whych thyng is most necessary of al. For we are so weake and uncertayne, that if it stode in vs, ther would of a truth no man be saued, the deuill no doubt would deceiue vs.

But now is God sure that hys predestinacion can not deceiue hym, neyther can any man withstand or let him: and therfore haue we hope and trust agaynst synne. But here muste a marke be set vnto those vnguyet, busy, and hygh clymyng spiritues, how farre they shal go: whych first of al byngelhyther they hygh reasons and pregaunte wyttes, and begyn first from an hyghe, to searche the bottomles secretes of Gods predestinacion, whether they be predestinat or not.

Epistle to the Romayns.

These must nedes either cast them selues doune headlonge into desperacion, or els committe themselves to fre chaunce carrels. But folowe thou the order of thys Epistle, and noosell thy selfe wth Christ, and learne to vnderstande what the lawe and the Gospell meane, and the offyce of both two, that thou mayest in the one know thy selfe, and howe that thou hast of thy selfe no strength, but to synne, and in the other the grace of Christ. And then see thou fyght agaynst synne, and the fleshe, as the seuen Epistle Chapters teacheth the. After that when thou arte come in the viii. Chap. and art vnder the crosse and sufferynge of tribulacion, the necessitye of predestinacion will waxe swete, and thou shalt wel fele how precious a thyng it is. For except thou haue borne the crosse of aduersitye and temptacion, and hast felte thy selfe brought in to the very bymme of desperacion, yea and vnto hell gates, thou canst neuer medle wth the sentence of predestinacion wthout thynne owne harme, and wthout secret wrath & grudginge inwardely agaynst God: for otherwyse it shall not be possible for the to thynke that God is ryghteous and iust. Therfore muste Adam be well mortified, and the fleshy wytte broughte vnto nought, yea that thou mayest awaye wth thys thyng, and dyynke so stronge wine. Take heede therfore vnto thy selfe, that thou dyynke not wyne, whyle thou arte yet a suckelyng. For euerye learynge hath hyr tyme, measure, and age, and in Christ is there a certayne chylhode, in whiche a man muste be contented wth mylke for a season, vntill he waxe strong and grow vp vnto a perfect man in Christ, and be able to eate of moze stronge meate.

Thys do if thou wylt
vnderstand

In the xii. Chapter he geueth exhortacions. For thys maner obserueth Paule in all hys Epistles: first, he teacheth Christ and the faith, then exhorteth he to good workes, and vnto continual mortifying of the fleshe. So here teacheth he good workes in dede, and the true seruynge of God, and maketh all men Priestes, to offer vp, not monye and beastes, as the maner was in the tyme of the lawe, but theyr own bodies, wth kyllyng & mortifyinge of the lustes of the fleshe.

The. xii.
Chapter.

After that he describeth the outward conuersacion of Christen men, howe they ought to behaue them selues in spiritual thynges, howe to teache, preache, and rule in the congregacion of Christ, to serue one another, to suffer all thynges patiently, and to committe the weakes and vengeance to God. In conclusyon howe a Christen man ought to behaue hym selfe vnto all menne, to frende, foe or whatsoeuer he be. These are the right workes of a Christen man, whyche springe of faith. For faith kepeth not holy daye, neyther suffereth any man to be idle, wher soeuer he dwelleth.

In the xiii. he teacheth to honoure the temporall swerd. For though that mans law and ordinance make not a man good before God, yet are they ordeyned for to mayntayne peace, to punish the euill, and to defende the good. Therfore oughte the good to honoure the temporall swerde, and to haue it in reuerence, though he as concernynge themselves they nede it not, but woulde askeyne from euill of theyr owne accord, yea, and do good wthout mans law, but by the law of the spirit whyche gouerneth the herte, and guideth it vnto all that is the wyl of God. Finally he comprehendeth and knytteth vp all in loue. Loue of hys owne nature bestoweth vp all that we haue, and euen hys owne sette on that on þ which is loued. Thou nedest not to bydde a kynd mother to be louyng vnto hyr onely son. Suche lesse spyritual loue which hath eyes geuen hyr of God, nedeth man's lawe to teach hyr to do hyr dute. And as in the begynning he did put forth Christe as the cause and authoure of our rpyghtuousnes, euen so here setteth he hym forth as an ensample to counterfayte, that as he hath done to vs, euen so shoulde we do one to another.

The. xiii.
Chapter.

The. xlii. Chapter.

In the. xlii. Chapter he teacheth to deale soberly with the consciences of the weake in the fayth, which vnderstande not yet the liberty of Christe perfectly enough, and to sauer them of Christian loue, and not to vse the liberty of the fayth vnto hynderaunce, but vnto the furder rauage and edifyinge of the weake. For where such consyderacion is not, there foloweth debate and despying of the Gospell. It is better therfore to forbear the weake a while, vntill they waxe strong, then that the learnyngs of the Gospell shoulde come vnder fote. And suche worke is the synfuler worke of loue, & where loue is perfect, there muste nedes be suche a respecte vnto the weake. A thyng that Christ commaunded and charged to be hadde aboute all thynges.

The. xv. Chapter.

In the. xv. Chapter he setteth forth Christe agayne to be folowed, that we also by his ensample shoulde suffer other that are yet weake, as theym that are frayle, open synners, vnlearned, vnerpert, and of lothsome maners, and not to cast them away forthwith, but to suffer them tyll they waxe better, and exhorte theym in the meane tyme. For so dealt Christ in the Gospell and now dealeth with vs dayly, suffering our vnperfytynes and weakenes, not yet fashyoned after the doctrine of the Gospel, but smelt of þ fleshe, yea and sometyme breake forth into outwarde detes. After that to conclude wythal, he wytheth them encrease of fayth, peace and ioye of conscience: prayseth them and commytteth them to God, and magnifyeth his offyce and administracyon in the Gospell, and soberly and with great discrecion, despyereth succoure and ayde of theym for the poore Synners at Hierusalem, and it is all pure Loue that he speaketh of dealeth wythall.

This epistle to the Romaynes
is the doze
into all the Scripture, yea and the heye that openeth it,
and byn-
geth menne
to the true
vnderstan-
dyng of it.

So fynd we in this epistle plentifully vnto the vniuersal whatsoeuer a Christen manne or woman ought to knowe, that is to wytte, what the lawe, the Gospell, Synne, Grace, Fayeth, Rychtuoulnes, Christe, God, Good workes, Loue, Hope, and the crosse are, and euen wher in the pyth of all that pertayneth to the Christen fayeth standeth, and howe a Christen man ought to behaue hymselfe vnto euery man, be he persyte or a synner, good or badde, strong or weake, frende or foe: and in conclusyon how to behaue oure selues bothe towarde God and toward our selues also. And all thynges are profoundly grounded in the scriptures, and declared wyth ensamples of hymselfe, of the fathers, and of the Prophetes, that a manne can here despye no more.

Wherfore it appeareth euidentlye that Paul's mynde was to comprehend briefly in this Epistle, all the whole learnyng of Christes Gospell: and to prepare an introduccyon vnto all the olde Testamente. For withoute doubte whosoever hath this Epistle perfectly in his herte, the same hath the lyghte and the effecte of the old Testament wyth hym: wherfore let euery man wythoute exception exercise hym selfe therein diligently, and recorde it nyght and day continually, vntill he be fully acquainted therewith.

The laste Chapter is a Chapter of recom- mendacion, wherin he yet mynglerth a good mo- nition, that we shoulde beware of the tradyc- ons and doctrine of men, which begyle the sim- ple with sophisterye and learnyng that is not af- ter the Gospell, and drawe them from Christ, and nosel them in weake and feble, and (as S. Paule calleth them in the Epistle to the Gala- thians) in beggerly Ceremonies, for the entent that they woulde lyue in fat pastures, and be in authoritie, and be taken as Christ, yea & aboue Christ: and lytte in the temple of God, that is to wytte in the consciences of men, where God o- nely, his worde and his Christ oughte to lytte.

Compare therfore all maner doctrine of men to the scripture, and see whether they agree or not. And commytte thy selfe whole and altoge- ther vnto Christ, and so shal he wyth his holye spirit, & wyth all his fulnes dwell in thy soule. The summe and whole cause of the wytyng of this Epistle, is to proue that a man is iustified by fayth onely, which proposicion who so de- nyeth, to hym is not onely this Epistle and all that Paule wyteth, but also the whole scrip- ture so locked vp, that he shall neuer vnderstand it to his soules helth.

And to byng a manne to the vnderstandyng and felyng, that fayth onely iustifyeth, Paule proueth that the whole nature of man is so pos- sioned and so corrupte, yea and so deade concer- nyng Godly lyuyng or Godly thyngyng, that it is impossible for hyr to kepe the lawe in þ sight of God: that is to say, to loue it, and of loue and lust to do it, as naturally as a manne careth or dynketh, vntill he be quickened agayn and hea- led thowow fayth.

And by iustifyinge, vnderstand none other thyng then to be reconcyled to God, and to be restored vnto his sauoure, and to haue thy syns forgouen the. As when I saye, God iustifyeth vs, vnderstand thereby that God for Christes sake, merites, deseruynges onely, receyueth vs vnto his mercy, sauoure and grace, and forge- ueth vs our synnes. And when I say, Christ ius- tifyeth, vnderstand thereby, that Christ onely hath redeemed vs, brought and deliuered vs out of the wrath of God and damnacyon, and hath wyth his workes onely purchasid vs the mer- cy, sauoure, and grace of God, and the forgoue- nes of our synnes.

And when I say that fayth iustifyeth, vnderstande thereby that fayeth and truste in the truth of God, and in the mercede promysed vs for Christes sake, and for his deseruynges and workes onely, bothe guyet the conscience, and certyfy hyr that our synnes be forgouen, & we in the full sauoure of God.

Furthermore, let befoze thyne eyes Chris- tes workes, and thyne owne workes. Christes workes onely iustifye the, and make satisfac- cyon for thy synne, and thine owne workes not. That is to saye, quieteth thy conscience, and ma- keth the sure that thy synnes are forgouen the, and not thyne owne workes. For the promysc of mercy is made the for Christes workes sake, and not for thyne owne workes sake.

Wherfore, seynge God hath not promysed that thyne owne worke shall saue the, therfore faith in thyne owne workes can neuer quiet thy con- science, nor certyfy the befoze God (when God commeth to iudge and to take a rekenyng) that thy synnes are forgouen the. Beyond all this, thyne owne workes can neuer satisfye the lawe,

The Epistle of S. Paule

or paye hyt that I owe hyt. For I owe the law, to loue hyt wth all myne herte, soule, power, and myght. Whych thyng to paye, I am neuer able whyle I am compassed wth fleche. For I can not once begyn to loue the lawe, except I be fyrst sure by fayth that God loueth me, and for- geueth me.

Finally that we say, fayth onely iustifyeth, ought to offend no man. For if thys be true, & Christ onely redeemed vs, Christ onely bare our synnes, made satisfaccion for them, and purchas- ed vs the fauoure of God, then muste it nedes be true that the truste onely in Christes deser- uing and the promyse of God the father made vs for Christes sake, doeth onely quiet the con- science, and certifie hyt that the synnes are for- geuen. And when they saye, a man must repent, forsake synne, and haue a purpose to synne no moze as nye as he can, and loue the law of god, Ergo fayth alone iustifyeth not: I aunswere: that, and all lyke argumentes are noughte, and lyke to thys argumente. I must repent and be sorre, the Gospell muste be preached me, and I must beleue, or els I can not be partaker of the mercy, whych Christ hath deserued for me. Er- go, Christ only iustifieth me not, or Christ only hath not made satisfaccion for my synnes. As thys is a naughty argument, so is the other.

Now go to Reader, and accordyng to the or- der of Pauls wytyng, euen so do thou. Fyrst beholde thy selfe dyligently in the law of God, and se therby iuste dampnacyn. Secundarely, turne thyne eye to Christ, and se there the excea- dyng mercy of thy moste kynd and louyng fa- ther. Thyrde remembre that Christe made not thys atonement that thou shuldest anger God agayn: neyther dyed he for thy synnes that thou shuldest lyue still in them, neyther. clensed he & that thou shuldest retorne (as a swyne) vnto thyne olde pudle agayne: but that thou shuldest be a new creature, and lyue a newe lyfe after & wyl of God, and not of the fleche. And be dyl- gent, least thowowe thyne owne neglygence and vnthankfulness, thou lose thys fauour and mer- cy agayne.

Fare well.

The epistle of the Apostle saynt Paul to the Romaynes.

The fyrste Chapter.

Paul declareth hys loue toward the Ro- maynes, sheweth what the Gospel is, wth & freites therof, and rebuketh the beastlines of the fleche.

Paul the seruaunt of Iesus Christ called to be an Apo- stle, put aparte to preache the Gospell of God, which he promysed afore by hys prophetes in the holy scrip- tures, that make mencyn of hys sonne, the whiche was begotten of the seide of Dauid (as pertayninge to the fleche) and declared to be the sonne of god, wth power of the holy ghost, that sancti- fyeth, sence the tyme that Iesus Christe

To the Romayn. Chap. i.

our Lord rose agayn from death, by whom we haue receyued grace and Apostleshipp, to tryng all maner Heathen people to the obedyence of the faith, that is in his name: of the whiche Heathen are pe a parte also, whych are Iesu Christes by vocacyon. &

To all you at Rome, beloued of God and (a) sayntes by callynge. (b) Grace be wth you and peace from God our father, and from our Lord Iesus Christ. I first be- rely I thancke my God thowowe Iesus Christe for you all, bycause poure fayeth is publyshed thowowoute all the worlde. For God is my wptnes, whom I serue wth my spyrite in the Gospell of hys sonne, that without ceasynge I make mencyn of you alwayes in my prayers: beseechynge that at one tyme or other, a prosperous iournepe (by the wyl of God) myght for- tune me to come vnto you. For I longe to se you, that I myght bestowe amonge you some spyrituall gift, to strength you with- al, that is, that I myght haue consolacion togyther wth you thowowe the commune fayth, whych both you and I haue.

I would that ye shuld knowe brethren, howe that I haue often tymes purposed to come vnto you (but haue bene lette hy- therto) to haue some fruite among you, as I haue among other of the gentyls. For I am detter bothe to the grekes and to them whych are no grekes, vnto the learned and also vnto the vblearned.

Likewise as much as in me is, I am reas- dy to preache the Gospell to you of Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, bicause it is the power of god vnto saluacyon to all that beleue, namely to the Jewe and also to the gentyle. (c) For by it the ryghtuousnesse whych cometh of God, is opened from faryth (d) to faryth. As it is written: the iust shall lyue by fayth.

For the wrath of God appeareth from heauen agaynst all vngodlynes and vn- ryghtuousnes of menne, whych wth- holde the truth in vnyghtuousnes: seynge what maye be knowen of God, that same is manifest among them. For God dys- shew it vnto the. So that his inuisible thin- ges, that is to saye, hys eternal power and godhead, are vnderstande, and seene by the worckes from the creacyon of the worlde. So that they are withoute excuse, in as much as when they knewe God, they glo- rified him not as god, neither were thank- full: but waxed full of vanytyes in theyr imagynacions, and their folythe hertes were blinded. When they counted them- selues wise, they became fooles: and tur- ned the glory of the immortal God, vnto the similitude of the Image of mortal mā, and of byrdes, and foure footed beastes, and of serpentes. Wherefore god lykwysse gaue them vp vnto their hertes lustes, vnto vncleannes, to defile their owne bodys betwene themselves: whiche touned hys truthe vnto a lye, & worshipped and serued the

18

Abac. ii. a
Heb. x. g
Gala. iii. b

Eph. iii. e

The Epistle of S. Paule

the creatures more then the maker, which is blessed for ever. Amen.

For this cause GOD gaue them by vn to shamefull lustes. For euen they women did chaunge the naturall vse vnto the vn naturall. And likewise also the men lette the naturall vse of the woman, and brient in their lustes one on another. And man wpth man wrought filthines, & receiued in them selves the rewarde of their errours, as it was accordynge.

And as it seemed not good vnto them to be knowen of God, euen so god deliuered them by vnto a leud mind, that they shuld do those thynges whych were not comely, beyng ful of all vnrightuouse doyng, of fornicacyon, wickednes, couetousnes, maliciousnes, full of enuye, murther, debate, discepte, euill condicioned, whisperers, backbiters, haters of god, doers of wrong, proude, besters, byngers by of euyl thynges, disobediente to father and mother, withoute vnderstandynge, couenant breakers, vnlovinge, truce breakers and merciles. Which men, though they knewe the rightuousnes of GOD, howe that they whych do such thynges commit, are worthy of death: yet not onely do the same, but also haue pleasure in them that doo them.

The notes.

Saints by callinge.

(a) All suche as are called to be true Christians, that is to walke in the waye of the Gospell thowoe the sayth in Christ, are sayntes by callinge: that is to saye, men called from the damnable way of synne to leade an holpe lyfe. For saynt is as much to saye in our tounge as holy.

Grace.

(b) Here and thowout this epistle, grace is taken for the free mercede of God. And by peate is meant the quietnes of conscience thowow the sayth in Christ.

For by it the rightuou-nes, etc.

(c) That is, by the preachynge of the Gospell, is declared that greute mercede of God, whereby he forgiveueth our synnes, and accounteth vs rightuous in his syght.

From faith to sayth.

(d) Some enterpryete this, from the vnperfyt, to the perfyt, from the weake to the strong, and from one battayl of sayeth to another. etc. But in my iudgement, the meanyng of Paule was, that the Gospell declareth all rightuousnes, as well of the fathers of the olde lawe, as of the sayethfull folowers of Christe, to be Christes. Who lusteth to waigh the text, shall easily perceyue that it geueth the same sence.

Other men
synne.

(e) To haue pleasure in other mennes synne, is greater wickednes, then to synne thy selfe.

The.ii. Chapter.

He rebuketh the Jewes, who as touchynge synne are lyke the heathen, yea worse then they.

Therefore art thou inexcusable (O mā) whosoener thou bee (a) that iudgeste. For in that same wherein thou iudgest another, thou cōdemnest thy selfe. For thou that iudgest, doest euen the same selfe thynges. But wee are sure that iudgemente of God is accordynge to truthe agaynst them whych commit such thynges. Thinkest thou this (O thou man) that iudgest the whych do such thynges, and yet doest euen the very same, that thou shalt escape the iudgemente of God: Either despyest thou the riches of his goodnes, paciēce, & long sufferance: and remembrest not howe that the kindnes of God leadeth the to repentance?

To the Rom. Cha. ii. Fo. lxxi.

But thou after thyne hard hert that can not repente, heapest the togyther the treasure of wrath agaynst the daye of vengeance, when shal be opened the rightuous iudgement of God, whych will rewarde euery man accordynge to his (b) dedes: that is to saye, praise, honoure, and immortallitie, to them which continue in good doing and seke eternal lyfe. But vnto them that are rebellious and disobey the truthe, and folowe iniquitye, shall come indignacyon and wrath, tribulacyon and anguish, by the soule of euery man that doeth euyl, of the Jewe fyrst, and also of the gentyl. And euery mā that doth good, shal come praise, honoure, and peace, to the Jew first, & also to the gentyl. For ther is no parciality with God. But whosoener hath sinned without lawe, shall perishe wpthout lawe.

Mat. xvi. d.

Actes. x. a.

Mat. vii. d.

Jacob. i. d.

And as many as haue synned vnder the law, shalbe iudged by the lawe. For before God they are not rightuouse whiche heare the lawe: but the (c) doers of the law shalbe iustified. For if the gentils whych haue no law, do of nature the thynges contayned in the law: then they hauyng no law, are a law vnto them selues, whych shewe the dedes of the lawe witten in theyr hertes, while their conscience beareth wptnes vnto them and also theyr thoughtes, accusing one another, or excusinge at the day when God shal iudge the secretes of men by Iesus Christ, according to my Gospell.

Behold, thou art called a Jew, and trest in the lawe, and reioycest in God, and knowest his will, and hast experience of good and bad, in that thou art instructed by the law, and beleuest that thou thy selfe art a guide vnto the bynd, a light to them whych are in darcknes, an informer of the which lacke discrecion, a teacher of vnlearned, which hast the ensample of the whych ought to be knowne, & of the truthe, in the law. But thou which teachest an other, teachest not thy selfe. Thou preacheest, a man should not steale: & yet thou stealest. Thou saiest a man should not comit aduoutrye: & thou breakest wedlock. Thou abhorrest images, & robbest God of his honour. Thou reioycest in the law, and thowow breaking the lawe, dishonourest God. For the name of God is euyl spoken of among the gentyls thowow you, as it is witten.

Ca. liii. b.

Es. xxi. c.

Circumcison* verely auapleth, if thou kepe the law. But if thou breake the lawe, thy circumcison is made vncircumcison. Therefore if the vncircumcised kepe the ryght thynges contayned in the lawe: shal not his vncircumcison be counted for circumcison? And shal not vncircumcison, whych is by nature (if it kepe the law) iudge them, whych beynge vnder the letter and

Circumcison was a wytnes of the couenaunt between the and God, a holpe not: but after as it putte them in recircum-

The Epistle of S. Paule

circumcision, doest transgresse the lawe? If or he is not a Jew, whych is a Jewe outwarde. Nether is that thinge circumcisi- on, whych is outwarde in the fleshe: but he is a Jewe whych is hid wythin, and the cir- cumcision of the hert is the true circumci- sion: whych is the spirite, and not in the letter: whose prayse is not of men, but of God.

The Notes.

(a) To iudge, in this place (as in manye other) is to condempne other as vnrpghtuouse, and to esteeme our selfe rpghtuouse.

(b) As the frutes do declare the tree: so doo the woordes declare the man. If a mannes woordes therefore doo declare him to be fayethfull he shal haue the rewarde of the fayethfull, that is eternal lyfe. If the woordes do declare him to be vnfaierthfull: then shall his rewarde be amonge hypocrites in eternall tormentes. Far wyde therefore are they, that woulde by thys texte proue that man is iustified by hys woordes, for the woordes are but signes accordyng to the whych God (the rightuouse iudge) rewardeyth hys elected vessels, and punisheth the reprobate.

(c) That is, the lawe shal haue no power to con- demne them, because they haue in al popytes sa- tisfied the lawe. But who was there ever that could be suche a doer of the lawe: Yea and if they hadde bene anye that could so haue satis- fied the lawe: yet should the same haue bene vn- iust in gods syght. For if they myght haue ben perfect iustice by the obseruacion in the law, then had Chyrist dyed in vayne, or at the leaste wape to make men slougarde, and not to re- garde the obseruacion of the law, wherby they myght haue deserued iustice.

The .iii. Chapter.

He sheweth what preferment the Jewes haue, and that boeth the Jewes and Gentyls be vnder sin, and are iustified ony thowow the free mercy of god in Chyrist.

Rom. iii. v.
Gal. xvi.

Vhat preferment then hath the Jew? either what a vauntageth circumci- sion? Suerly verpe muche. First vn- to thepm was commit the worde of God. What then though some of them did not beleue? shall they vnbelefe make the pro- mes of God wythout effect? God forbpd. Let god be true, and al men lyars, as it is wyrtten. Thou than myghtest be iustified in the sayinge, and shuldest overcome whe thou art iudged.

If our vnrpghtuoussnes make the righ- tuoussnes of god more excellent: what shal we say? Is god vnrpghtuouse whych ta- keth vengeance? I speake after the ma- ner of menne, god forbpd. For howe then shal god iudge the worlde? If the veritye of god appeare more excellently thowow my lybnto hys prayse, why am I hence forth iudged as a synner? and say not rather (as men spake euyl of vs, and some aspyre p we say) let vs do euyl that good may come therof. Whose damnacion is iust.

What sape we then? Are we better then they? No, in no wyse. For we haue all rea- dy proued how that both the Jewes and Gentyls are al vnder syn, as it is wyrtten.

To the Rom. Cha. iii.

There is none rightuouse, no not one: there is none that vnderstandeth, there is none p seketh after god, they are al gon out of the wape, they are all made vnrpfitable, there is none that doeth god, no not one: There thote is an open Sepulchre, wyth theyr- tounge they haue decepued, the popson of Aspes is vnder theyr lppes. Whose mouthes are full of cursynge and better- nes. Their feet are swyft to shed bloude. Destruction and wretchednes are in theyr wapes. And the wape of peace they haue not knowen. There is no feare of god be- fore theyr eye. + Yea and we knowe that whatsoeuer the lawe sayeth: he sayth it to them whych are vnder the lawe. That all mouthes may be stopped, and al the worlde be subdued to god, because that by the de- des of the law, shall no fleshe be iustified in the syght of god.

Howe verelpe is the rpghtuoussnes that cometh of god, declared without the ful- fylling of the lawe, haupng witnes pet of the lawe, and of the prophetes. The right- oussnes no doubt whych is good before god cometh by the sayth of Chyrist, vnto al and vpon al that beleue.

There is no dyfference: for all haue syn- ned, and lacke the prayse that is of value before god, but (a) are iustified frely by his grace thowow the redemcion p is in Chyrist Iesus, whō god hath made a seate of mer- cy thowow sayeth in hys bloude, to shew the rpghtuoussnes whych before hym is of valure, in that he forgeueth the synnes that are passed, whych god dyd suffer, to shewe at thys tyme the rpghtuoussnes that is allowed of hym, that he mighte be coun- ted iust, & a iustifier of him whiche beleueth on Iesus.

Where is nowe thy reioysyng? It is ex- cluded. By what lawe? by the law of wor- kes? Nape: but by the law of faith.

For we suppose that a man is iustified by sayeth wythout the dedes of the lawe. Is he the God of Jewes onely? Is he not the god of the Gentyls? Yea euen of Gentyls also. For it is god onely whych iustifieth the circumcision, whych is of sayeth, and vncircumcision thowow faith. Do we the destroye the law thowow sayth? god forbpd: But we rather mayntayne the lawe.

The Notes.

(a) Thys sayinge doth. Sayncte. Ambrose ex- ponde in thys wyse. They workinge no- thyng, nor acqyryng hym anye thyng at all, are iustified by sayeth alone, but the gyfte of God. Thys worde alone (though manye men be therwyth vniustly offended) is also euident- ly expessed by Paule hym selfe in these words. Frely, wythout the lawe, wythout woordes, is the gyfte, and suche lyfe. Whych thou muste marke, for they are a lone wyth thys expolition of S. Ambrose.

By sayeth alone we are iustified: whych say- yng signifieth thus muche. Onely by the be- lief wherewyth wee beleue that the mercy of God, graunted in Chyristes bloude doth same

saue vs, are we pronounced righteous. Thys worde alone excludeth woorkes, not that thou shouldest not do them (for to do all good woorkes commaunded in the scripture, art thou bounde, and called to walke in them, and must earnestly studie and endeouore thy selfe to leaue none of them vndone) but that thou shouldest in no case thyne, that thou art thereby iustified or made righteous befoze god.

The. iiii. Chapter.

Because the Jewes mighte haue objected the Example of Abraham, as if he through circumcision had obtayned righteousness. S. Paule byngeth that agaynst them, shewynge that he had receyued the promise, befoze he was circumcised. And those are not the Chyliden of Abraham and of the promise whych haue the law and be circumcised, but they which folow Abraham's faileth. And so he onely concludeth that fayeth alone in Christ iustifieth.

Esaye. li. a Dedes iustifi not be foze God:
neither
may a mā
befoze god
putte trust
in theym.
Gene. xv. b
Gala. iii. a
Jacob. ii. d

Psal. xxi.

What shal we say the, that Abraham oure father as pertaynyng to the fleshe, dyd fynde? If Abraham were iustified by dedes, then hath he wherein to reioyce, but not wpyth God. For what sayeth the Scripture: * Abraham beleued God, and it was counted vnto hym for righteousness. To hym that woorketh is the rewarde not reckened of fauour, but of dutye: To hym that woorketh not, but beleueth on hym that iustifieth the vngodly, is hys faith counted for righteousness. Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednes of the man vnto whom God ascribeth righteousness without dedes. Blessed are they, whose vnrighousnes are forgiven and whose synnes are couered. * Blessed is that man to whom the Lorde imputeth not synne.

Came thys blessednes then vpon the circumcised or vpon the vncircumcised? We saye verelye howe that fayeth was reckened to Abraham for righteousness. Howe was it reckened, in the tyme of circumcision, or in the tyme befoze he was circumcised?

Gene. xv. d

Circumcision is the seale.

Gen. xvii. d

* Not in the tyme of circumcision, but when he was yet vncircumcised. And receyued the * sygne of circumcision, as a seale of righteousness whych is by fayeth, whych fayeth he had yet beyng vncircumcised, that he shoulde be the father of all theym that beleue, though they be not circumcised, that righteousness myghte be imputed to them also, & that he might be the father of the circumcised, not because they are circumcised onely, but because they walke also in the steppes of that fayeth & was in oure father Abraham befoze the tyme of circumcision.

For the promes that he shoulde be the heire of the world, was not geue to Abraham, or to hys seide thowowe the lawe: but thowowe & (a) righteousness whych cometh of fayeth. * For if they whiche are of the lawe be heyres, then is fayeth but bayne, and the promes of none effect. Because the lawe causeth wrathe. For where

The promise cometh by
fayth.
Gala. iii. c.

no lawe is, ther is no transgression. Therefore by fayth is the inheritaunce geuen, & it myght come of fauoure, and the promes myghte be sure to all the seede. Not to the onely whych are of the lawe: but also to them whych are of the fayeth of Abraham * whych is the father of vs all. As it is wrytten: * I haue made the a father too manye nacions, euen befoze God whome thou hast beleued, whych qupkeneth the deade, and calleth those thinges which be not, as though they were.

Gen. xi. a Gene. xvi. a

Whych Abraham contrarpe to hope, beleued in hope that he shoulde be the * father of manye nacions, accordyng to that whych was spoken: * So shall thy seede be. And he faynted not in the fayeth, nor yet considered hys owne body whych was nowe deade, euen when he was almost an hundred yere olde: neyther yet that Sara was past chylde beringe. He stakkered not at the promes of God thowowe vnbelleife: but was made stronge in the fayeth & gaue honoure to God, full certified, that what he had promised, that he was able to make good. And therefore was it reckened to hym for righteousness.

D
Gen. xvii. d
Gene. xv. a.

Gene. xlii. e.

It is not * wrytten for hym only, that it was reckened to hym for righteousness, but also for vs, to whom it shal be counted for righteousness, so that we beleue on him & raised by Iesus our lord fro death. Whiche was deliuered for oure synnes, & rose a gayne for to iustifie vs.

Rom. xv. a.
Christe iustifieth vs

The Notes.

(a) The inheritaunce that is eternal life, is geuen vnto vs and we receyue it thowowe fayeth, so the entente that we be sure and doute not of it. For if we should deserue it by woorkes, wee shoulde neuer be surer but alwaies dout that we lacked woorkes, or that our euyl woorkes should haue the vpper hand in the day of iudgemente, and so shoulde our hope be bayne: for suche as doute, cannot enioye the promises of God, forasmuch as they beleue not certainly that God wyl perourme them.

By fayth is the inheritaunce geue

The. v. Chapter.

First he treateth vpon the frutes of fayeth, shewynge withall the greatnes and the certaintie of gods goodnes, vpon which oure faileth leaneth. Afterwardes repetyng al thinges moze depelye, he sheweth the fountaines and workinges of syn, describinge also from whence grace, lyfe, and iustification spryngeth.

Because therefore that we are iustified by fayeth (a) wee are at * peace wpyth God thowowe our Lord Iesus Christ by whom we haue a waie in thowow faith vnto thys grace wherein we stande, and & reioyce in hope of the prayse that shal be geue of god. Neither do we so only, but also we reioyce in tribulacion. For we know & tribulacio bringeth paciēce, paciēce bringeth experience, experience bringeth hope. our hope And hope maketh not ashamed. For ploue for we are of God is shed abroad in our hertes by the holy gost whych is geuen.

A Ihon. xvi. a Fayth setteth vs at peace with
God.
He. iii. a
Iaco. i. d
We are not ashamed of tribulacion
our hope for we are
of God
death of

R n n n. i.

For

The Epistle of S. Paule

Christ that god loueth vs, & wyllyng our hope to passe.

For when we were yet weake accordyng to the tyme, Christ died for vs whych were vngodlye. Yet scarce wyllyng anye man dye for a ryghtuousse mā. Parauenture for a good man durst a man dye. * But God setteth out hys loue that he hath to vs, sepyng that whyle we were yet sinners, christ died for vs: much more then nowe (sepyng we are iustified in hys bloude) shall we be saued from wrath thorow him.

1. Petre. iii. c. Heb. ix. c. For if when we were enemyes, we were reconciled to God by the death of hys son, muche more, sepyng we are reconciled, we shall be preserued by hys lyfe. Not only so but we also ioye in God by the meanes of our lord Iesus Christ, by whom we haue receiued the attonment.

Gen. ii. c. Rom. vi. d. Wherefore as by one man synne * entered into the woorld, and * death by the meanes of synne: And so death wente ouer al men, in so much that al men sinned: For euen vnto the tyme of the lawe was synne in the woorld, but sinne was not regarded, as longe as ther was no lawe: neuertheles death reygned frome Adam to Moyses, euen ouer them also that sinned: not wpth lyke transgression as dyd Adam whych he is the similitude of hym that is to come. But the gyfte is not lyke as the syn:

Adams disobedience For if thorow the synne of one, many be deade, muche more plentuous vpon many was the grace of god and gyfte by grace: all er wee whych grace was geuen by one man Iesus Christ. And the gyfte is not ouer one that synned. For damnacion came of one wil: christis synne vnto condemnacion, but the gyfte obedience came to iustify from many synes. For if by faueth vs the syn of one, death reygned by the me= all, er wee nes of one, much more shall they whych re= our selues cepue aboundaunce of grace and of the gift worke ani of ryghtuousnes reigne in life by the mea= good. nes of one (that is to saye) Iesus Christ.

Lykewyse then as by the synne of one, condemnacion came on al men: euen so by the iustifying of one cometh the ryghtuousnes that byngeth life vpon al men. For as by one mannes (b) dyso obedience many be= came synners: so by the obedience of one shall many be made ryghtuousse.

Gala. iii. c. But the lawe (c) in the meane tyme entered in, that syn shoulde encrease. Neuer thelater wher aboundaunce of synne was, ther was more plentuousnes of grace, that as synne had reygned vnto death, euen so myghte grace reygne thorow ryghtuousnes vnto eternall lyfe, by the helpe of Iesus Christ. *

The Notes.

At peace with God (a) Too be at peace wpth God, is none other thynge then to haue tranquillitie and rest in our hertes towarde god, knowyng assuredlye that he accepteth vs, and that we please hym. Whiche peace can wee not haue other wyse then by fapth and sure trust of remission of synne thorow Christes bloude. For all other meanes be ioynd wpth doubte, and therefore cannot obtayne thys reste.

Adams disobedience (b) The dyso obedience of Adam was suche, that

To the Rom. Cha. vi.

it condemned al his posteritie, so that the very infants, who haue neither wrought nor thought anye euyl, are therby the children of damnacion, and shoulde vndoubtedly be dāned, were it not that Christe thorow his bloud weddinge hath redeemed them.

(c) That is the lawe forbiddinge vs manye more thynges then god forbade the first man in Paradise, encrease syn in vs because we do not nor cannot refrayne the desyre of the thynges ther: in forbidden. The. vi. Chapter.

That those whych hearde the ryghtuousnes of workes denied, shoulde not therby gather anye licence to liue at pleasures, he sheweth what is the duty of such as beleue in Christ, exhorting them that puttyng of the yoke of syn, they serue ryghtuousnes.

What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that there may be abundance of grace? God forbid. Howe shall we that are deade as touchyng synne, lyue anye lenger therein? * Remember ye not that we * al whych are baptised in the name of Iesus Christe, are baptised to dye wpth hym: We are buried with him by baptism for to dye, that lykewyse as Christ was raised vp from death by the gloze of the father, euen so * we also shoulde walke in a newe lyfe. For if wee be grafted in death lyke vnto hym: euen so muste wee be in the resurreccion. Whys we must remeber, that oure olde manne is crucified wpth hym also, that the bodie of syn myghte vterly be destroyed, that hence forth we shuld not be seruaunts of syn. For he that is dead is iustified from syn. * Wherefore if we be deade wpth Christe we beleue that we shall lyue wpth him: remebryng that Christ once raised from death, * dyeth no more, death hath no more power ouer him. For as touchyng that he died, he died concerning syn once. And as touchyng that he liueth, he liueth vnto god. Likewise imagine ye also, that ye are (a) dead concerning syn: but are aliue vnto god thorow Iesus Christ our Lorde. *

Let not syn reygne therfore in your mortal bodies, that ye shoulde therunto obey in the lustes of it. Neether geue ye your members as instruments of vnrightheousnes vnto syn: but geue your selues vnto god, as they that are aliue frō death. And geue your members as instrumentes of ryghtuousnes vnto God. Let not synne haue power ouer you. For ye are not vnder the law, but vnder grace.

What then? shall we syn, because we are not vnder the law, but vnder grace? god forbid. * Remember ye not how that to whō so euer ye comit your selues as seruautes to obey, his seruaunts ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of syn vnto death, or of obedience vnto rightuousnes: god be thanked that though ye were once the seruautes of syn ye haue yet obeyed with hert vnto the form of doctrine wherunto ye were deliuered. * Ye are then made free frō syn, and are become the seruautes of ryghtuousnes.

* I wyllyng speake grosselye because of the infir= obedience The lawe encrease syn.

Collo. ii. d. Gala. iii.

ii. tim. ii. d. Apoc. i. b

Iho. viii. d. ii. Pet. ii. d.

Ioh. viii. d. Ro. viii. a.

The Epist. of S. Paule

infirmities of your flesh. As ye have given your members servants to uncleanness & to iniquity, from iniquity to iniquity: even so now give your members servants unto righteousness, that ye may be sanctified. For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were not under righteousness. What fruit had ye then in those things: whereof ye are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death. But now are ye delivered from sin, and made the servants of God, and have your fruit: ye shall be sanctified, and the end everlasting life. * For the reward of sinne, is death: but eternal life is the gift of God, through Jesus Christ our Lord. &

The Notes.

(a) Whoso giveth not himselfe over to the desires of sin, but resisteth in all that he can, the concupiscences thereof: the same is deade unto sinne.

The vii. Chapter.

To the intent they should not cast away the fruit of good works, with the lawe, he sheweth by a similitude, how far and howe, we be delivered from the law. After as it were in a digression, he teacheth what the lawe is, wherefore it was given, and what it worketh in us, and who hath delivered us from the bondage thereof.

Remember ye not brethren (I speake to them that knowe the lawe) howe that the lawe hath power over a man as long as it endureth: * For the woman which is in subiection to a man, is bounde by the lawe to the man, as long as she lyueth. If the man be deade, she is leued from the lawe of the man. So then * if while the man lyueth, she coupleth herselfe with another man, she shall be counted a wedlocke breaker. But if the man be dead, she is free from the lawe, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though she couple herselfe with another man.

Euen so ye my brethren, are (a) dead concerning the lawe by the bodye of Christe, that ye shoulde bee coupled to another (I meane too hym that is risen agayne from death) that we should bring forth fruit unto God. For when we were in the flesh, the lustes of synne whiche were syped by by the lawe, reigned in our members, to bring forth fruit unto death. But now we are delivered from the lawe, and dead from that whereunto we were in bondage, that we should serue in a new conuersacion of the spirite, and not in the old conuersacion of the letter.

What shall we say then? is the lawe syn? God forbid: * but I knew not what sinne meant, but by the law. For I had not known what lust had meant, excepte the lawe had sayed * thou shalt not lust. But synne toke an occasion by the meanes of the commandement, and wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For withoute the lawe, synne was deade. I once lyued withoute lawe. But when the commandement came, synne reynued, and I was deade. And the very same commandement whiche was ordeyned unto lyfe, was founde to be unto me an occasion of death, for synne toke occasion by the meanes of the commandement and so deceiued me, and by the selfe commandement slewe me. Wherefore * the law is holy, and the commandement holy, iust and good.

To the Rom. Cha. vii. Fo. lxxiii.

Was that then which is good, made death unto me? God forbid. Nay, syn was death unto me, that it might appeare, howe that sin by the meanes of that whiche is good, had wrought death in me: that syn whiche is vnder the commandement, might be out of measure synnefull. For wee knowe that the lawe is spirytual, but I am not carnall, solde (b) vnder syn, because I * wole not what I do. For what I would do, that I do not: but what I hate, that do I. If I do now that whiche I wold not, I graunt to the lawe that it is good. So then, now it is not I that do it, but sinne that dwelleth in me. For I knowe that in me (that is to say in my * flesh) dwelleth no good thing. To will is present with me: but I fynde no meanes to performe that whiche is good. For I doo not the good thinge whiche I woulde: but that euill do I whiche I wold not. Finally, if I do that I would not, the is it not I that do it, but synne that dwelleth in me, doth it. I fynde then by the law, that when I would do good, euil is present with me. I delpte in the lawe of God, concerninge the inner man. But I see another lawe in my members rebellinge agaynst the lawe of my minde, and subduynge me vnto the lawe of synne whiche is in my members. O wretched man that I am: who shall deluer me from this bodye of death? I thanke god thorow Jesus Christ our lord. So then I my selfe in my minde serue the lawe of God, and in my flesh the lawe of synne.

The Notes.

(a) All suche are dead concerninge the lawe, as are thorow faith crucified with Christe, and thorow baptysme buried together with hym, and by newnes of lyfe, risen agayne with him. For the lawe hath no more power over them, the mans law hath ouer the bodyes of the departed thys lyfe.

(b) That is, so oppressed with the concupiscence of the flesh, that maugre our heades we comynyt synne, whiche with all our hertes we detest and abhorre.

The viii. Chapter.

He describeth the suretye of those faythful whiche walke in the spirite. Then sheweth he what maner spirite that is, by whiche we be taken vnto the sonnes of God, what bys offyce is, and what great profyte in the loue of God is layed by for the Godlye. From whom no trouble of thys world canne sonder vs.

There is then no dampnation to them whiche are in Christe Iesu, whiche walcke not after the flesh, but after

Roman. ii. the

Eternall lyfe is the seruing of Christ.

Gen. ii. c.
Rom. v. c.

Death concerning syn.

1. Cor. vii. c.

Math. v. b

Rom. v. c.

Hebr. iii. b

Lawe ma-

keth sinne

to be kno-

wen.

Exod. 12. c.

Deut. v. b.

1. Timo. i. b
Gala. iii. c.

Esay. lvi. a.
Or rather my selfe & I do.

Gene. vi. a.

Dead concerninge the lawe.

Solde vnder synne.

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the Romay. Chap. ix.

Tho. viii. d. the spyrte. For the lawe of the spirit that
Rom. vi. d. bringeth lyfe through Iesus Christe, hath
I. Cor. vii. c. deliuered me from the lawe of synne and Synne is death. For what the law could not do in as take here much as it was weake because of the fleshy for a syn- that perfourmed God, and sente hys son offerynge in the similitude of synful fleshe, and by sin after the dampned synne in the fleshy: that the righble of the tuousnes requyred of the lawe, mighte be Debyue fulfilled in vs, whych walcke not after the tonge. fleshe, but after the spyrte.

Luk. xi. d. For they that are carnall, are carnallpe Thon. iii. b. mynded. But they that are spirituall, are ghostly minded. To be carnallly minded, is death. But to be spirituallly minded, is life and peace. Because that the fleshy mind is an enemy against God: for it is not obediente to the lawe of God, neither can be.
So then they that are geuen to the fleshe, can not please God. But ye are not (a) geuen to the fleshy, but to the spirit (b) if so be that the spirit of God dwel in pou. If ther be anye manne that hath not the spirite of Christ, the same is none of hys. If Christe be in pou, the body is dead, because of syn:
but the spirit is life for rightuousnes sake.
Wherfore if the spirite of him that raised bp Iesus from death, dwell in pou, euen he that raised bp Christ from death shal quicken your mortall bodys, because that hys spirite dwelleth in pou.

Gala. ix. a. Therefore brethren we are nowe detters The spirit not to the fleshy, to lyue after the fleshy. For p maketh if ye liue after the fleshy, ye must dye. But if ys sonnes ye mortyfy the dedes of the bodye, by the ii. Tim. i. b. helpe of the spyrte, ye shal lyue. For as ma-Gala. iii. a. ny as are led by the spirit of God, they are and heys the sonnes of God. For ye haue not recep-by grace. ued the spirit of bondage to fear any more:
ii. Cor. i. d. but ye haue receyued the spirit of adopcio, and. v. a. whereby we crye Abba, father. The same Eph. i. a. spyrte certyfeth our spirit that we are the sonnes of God. If we be sonnes, we are also heys, the heys I meane of God, and heys annexed wth Christe, if so be that we (c) suffer together, that we may be glorified together.

ii. Cor. v. a. For I suppose that the afflictions of this lyfe are not worthy of the glory which shalbe shewed vpon vs. Also the feruente desyre of the creatures abydeyth lokynge when the sonnes of God shal appeare, because the creatures are subdued too vanytye agaynst their will, but for hys wyl whych subdueth them in hope. For the best creatures shalbe deliuered from the bondage of corrupcion into the glorious ipsotype of the sons of God. For we knowe that euery creature groweth wth vs also and trauayleth in payne euen vnto thys tyme. Not they onely, but euen wee also whych haue the fyrst (d) frutes of the spyrte, mourne in our selues and waite for the (adopcio) and loke for the deliuerance (Adopcio) of oure bodys. For wee are (e) saued by that is thi hope. But hope that is sene is no hope. For enheritace howe can a man hope for that whych he seeth? But if we hope for that we se not, promised then do we with patience abide for it. by grace

Lykewise the spirit also helpeth our infirmities. For we know not what to desire as we ought: but the spirite maketh inter-cessyon mightely for vs wth gronynge, whych cannot be expressed with tounge.
And he that searcheth the hertes, know-weth what is the meaning of the spirit, for he maketh intercession for the sayntes according to the pleasure of God.

For we know that all thynges worke for the best vnto the that loue God, which also are called (f) of purpose. For those whych he knewe before, he also ordeyned before, that they shoulde be lyke fashioned vnto the shape of his sonne, that he myght be the fyrste begotten sonne among many brethren. Moreouer whych he appointed before, them he also called. And whiche he called, them also he iustified, which he iusti-fied, them he also glorified.

What shall we then say vnto these thyn-ges: if God be on our syde: who can be against vs: whych spared not hys own son, but gaue him for vs all: howe shall he not with him gyue vs all thynges also? Who shall lay anye thyng to the charge of gods chosen? It is god that iustifieth, who then shall condemne? It is Christe whych is dead, yet rather which is risen again, which is also on the right hand of God, and ma-keth intercessyon for vs.

Who shall separate vs from the loue of God: shal tribulacyon: or anguish: or per-secucion: either hunger: either nakednes: eyther peril: either swearde? As it is written. For thy sake we are kylled all daye longe, and are counted as shepe appoynted to be slayne.

Neuerthelesse in all these thynges we o-uercome strongly thorow his helpe that loued vs. Yea and I am sure that neyther death, neither life, neither angels, nor rule neyther power, neyther thynges presente, neyther thynges to come, neither heygth, neyther louth, neyther any other creature shalbe able to departe vs from the loue of God, shewed in Christ Iesu oure Lorde. f

The Notes.

(a) To be geuen to the fleshy, is to lyue in p wor-kes of the fleshe, whych are recyted. Gala. v.
(b) Al that be of Christ, haue the spirit of Christ dwellynge in them: That is, they do continually stryue agaynst the fleshe, alwayes desyringe in they hertes to walke in the workes of the spyrte recyted, Gala. v.

(c) We must suffer w Christ, if we will reigne wth hym in glory.

(d) The fyrst frutes of the spyrte had the Apostles, as Christ had the fyrst frutes of the resurrecyon, that is, they were the fyrst amonge all nacyons, that receiued the gyftes of the spyrte, as Christe was the fyrst that rose from the deade.

(e) Wher sayth is, there is hope, and where is no pure hope, there is no Christian sayeth.
Wherfore it maye ryght well be sayed, we are saues promised

by grace

I. ps. cxviii.
Psal. vii. c.
Ier. xvii. b.
I. Cor. vi. d

Rom. viii. d.
Luk. xi. d.
Thon. iii. b.
Eph. i. c.

Exod. ix. d.
He that seeth what christ hath donne for him, cannot but beleue
that god
loueth him & will loue
god again
Ps. cxiii. d

Beuen to the fleshy
The spirit
of Christe

Suffered
together.
Fyrst frus-
tes.

Saues by
sayth.

Saued by hope:

Saued by hope. That is by the most certayn and sure faith in Christes promys, which causeth vs to hope certaynely that at the tyme appoynted, we shall be deliuered from thys greate burden of the fleshe.

Called of purpose

(f) The eternall wysdome of God, dyd before the world began, appoynt certayne that should professe and let forth the Gospell of hys sonne, euen to the worldes ende, those were they that were, and be daylye called of purpose, that is, they are not onely called, but also elected and chosen.

The ix. Chapter.

After he hath shewed his good wil toward the Jewes, he begynneth to entreate of another matter: that is the calling of the Gentiles, and the forsakynge of the Jewes. First he sheweth who be the true Israelites. Then he sheweth that it was the purpose of God, that all men shoulde obtayne saluacion by Christ, who when the Gentyls had receyued through faith, they wer made the people of god. Whe in the meane whyle the Jewes whiche swelled vp in trust of theyr own workes, were offended at hym.

Actu. fr. a what loue
doth.

Exod. xxx. g
i. Cor. xv.

Adopocion
is an enhe-

ritance by grace.

Roma. iii. a

I Sayeth the truth in Christe and Ipe not, in that wherof my consciēce beareth me wytnes in the holpe ghoste, that I haue great heaupnes and contynuall sorowe in my hert. For I haue wished my selfe to be cursed from Christe, for my brethren & my kynsmenne (as pertayninge to the fleshe) whych are the Israelytes. To whome pertayneth the adopcion, and the glorie, and the couenantes, and the lawe that was geuen, and the seruice of god, and the promyses: whose also are the fathers, and they of whom (as concerning the fleshe) Christ came, whych is God ouer all thynges blessed for euer. Amen.

Rom. ii. d.

Gene. xxi. b.

Iho. viii. d.

Roma. ii. d.

Gala. iii. d.

Gen. xviii. b.

I speake not these thynges as though the wordes of god had taken none effecte. For they are not all Israelites whych came of Israell, neyther are they all chyldren straightwape, because they are the seede of Abraham. But in Isaac shall thy seede be called: that is to say they whych are the chyldren of god. But the chyldren of promise are counted the seede. For this is a word of promise about this tyme will I come, & Sara shall haue a sonne.

Gene. xxi. c.

Mal. i. g

Neyther was it so with hir only, but also, when Rebecca was wyth chylde by one, I meane by our father Isaac, yet the chyldren were borne, when they hadde neither done good nor bad, & the purpose of god, which is by eleccion, might stand, was laid vnto hyr, not by the reason of workes, but by grace of the caller & the elder shall serue the yonger. As it is writte: Jacob he loued, but Esau he hated.

Ex. xxxiii. d.

What shall we say then? is there any vnrighuousnes with god? God forbid. For he sayth to Moses: I wil shewe mercy to whom I shew mercy, and wyl haue compassyon on whom I wil haue compassyon. So Ipe it not then in a mans will or running, but in the mercy of God. For the scripture saith vnto pharao. Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred the vp, to shewe my power on the, and that my name might be declared thorow out al the world. So hath he mercede on whom he wyl, and whom he wil, he maketh hard herted.

Exod. ix. d.

Thou wilt saye then vnto me: why then blameth he vs yet? For who can resist hys will. But o man, what atte thou whych disputest with God? Shall the worke say to the workman, why hast thou made me on this fashion? Hath not the potter power ouer the claye, euen of the same lump to make one vessell vnto honoure, and another vnto dishonoure? Euen so God wyllynge to shewe his wrath, and to make hys power knowne, suffered wyth longe pacyence the vessells of wrath, ordeyned to damnacion, that he mighte declare the ryches of his glorie on the vessells of mercy, which he had prepared vnto glorie: that is to say, vs whom he called, not of the Jewes only, but also of the gentiles. As he saith in Osee: I will call them my people whych wer not my people: and hys beloued which was not beloued. And it shal come to passe in the place wher it was sayed vnto them, ye are not my people, that there they shal be called the chyldren of the lypynge God.

Esa. xlv. e.

and. l. iiii. c

Ise. xlviii. a

Ec. xxiii. b

Sapi. xv. b

the fleshy

ly & proude

mind & wil

be as wyle

as God:

must be mortified,

to leatn to ferre god, &

to ober him

& to leaue

dysputing

with hym.

Ose. ii. b

i. Pet. ii. b.

But Esaias cryeth concernynge Israell, though the number of the chyldren of Israell bee as the sande of the sea, yet shall a remnaunt be saued. He finisheth the worde betelpe, and maketh it short in rightuousnes. For a shorte worde will God make on earth. And as Esaias said before. Except the Lord of Saboth had lefte vs seede, we had bene made as sodom, and had bene lpykened to Sodom.

Esa. x. e.

Amos. ix. b.

Esa. i. c

What shall we saye then? We saye that the Gentiles whych folowed not ryghtuousnes haue ouertaken ryghtuousnes: I meane the ryghtuousnes whiche cometh of faith. But Israell which folowed the lawe of rightuousnes, coulde not attaine vnto the lawe of rightuousnes. And wherfore? Because they soughte it not by faith: but as it were by the workes of the lawe. For they haue stumbled at the stumblinge stone. As it is written: Beholde I put in Sion a stumblinge stone, and a rocke whych shal make men faul. And none that beleue on him, shal be ashamed.

i. Pet. ii. b.

et. xxviii. d.

Ec. lxxvi. e

Att. iiii. b.

The x. Chapter.

He getteth the good wyl of the Jewes & gayne, shewynge wythall thowowe what occasion they fell from Christe. Then he compareth together the ryghtuousnes of the lawe and of faith, shewynge also that faith excludeth none, and whence sayeth spyngeth. Last of all he proueth by wytnes of the Prophets, that the Jewes were fallen thorowly theyr owne fault.

Neither, my hertes desyre, and praye to God for Israell is that they maye be saued. For I beare them recoorde, that they haue a seruente Anna. iii. mynde

The Epist. of S. Paule

The lawe mynde to Godward, but not accordyng to drieth to knowledge. For they are ignorant of the Christe to rightuoulnes, whiche is allowed before be iustified God, and go about to stablish their owne rightuoulnes: and therefore are not obedyent vnto the rightuoulnes which is of va-lure before God. For (a) Christ is the ende of the lawe, to iustifye all that beleue. Moses describeth the rightuoulnes which commeth of the law, how that the man whiche doth the thynges of the law, shall liue therin. But the rightuoulnes whiche cometh of fapth, speaketh on thys wyse: save not in thynne hert, who shall ascend into heaue?
(that is nothinge els but to fetch Christe down.) Either, who shall descende into the depe (that is nothinge els but to fetch vp Christe from death) but what saith the scripture. * The worde is nye the euen in thy mouth and in thynne hert. This word is the worde of (b) fapth whych we preach. For if thou shalt knowlege with thy mouth that Jesus is the Lorde, and shalt beleue wth thynne herte that God raised him vp from death, thou shalt be safe. * For the beleue of the herte iustifyeth: and to knowlege with the mouthe, maketh a man safe. For the scripture sayth: whosoever beleueth on him, shall not be ashamed.

Deut. xxx. c.
Gal. ii. a.
Actum. ii. c.
and. xiii. c.
Rom. i. s

There is no difference betwene the Jew, and the Gentyll. For one is Lorde of all, whiche is riche vnto all that call on hym.
For whosoever shall call on the name of the Lorde, shall be safe. But howe shall they call on him, on whome they beleued not?
Howe shall they beleue on hym, of whome they haue not heard: howe shall they heare without a preacher? And howe shall they preache (c) except they be sent? As it is wy-ten: howe beautifull are the feete of them whiche bringe glad tydings of peace, and bring glad tidynge of good thynges. But they haue not all obeyed to the gospel. For Esaies sayth: * Lord, who shall beleue our sayinges? So then sayth cometh by hearing, and hearing cometh by the word of God. But here. Haue they not heard? No doubt, their sound went out into all landes: and they words into the endes of the world. For

Esa. liii. a.
Jhon. xii. f.

Is. xlviii. a.

Deut. xxxii. c.

Esa. li. b.
and. lvi. a.

Esa. xl. a.

But I demaunde whether Israel dyd know or not? First Moses saith: * I will prouoke you for to enuie, by them that are no people, and by a folyshe nacyon I will anger you. Esaies after that is bolde and saith: * I am founde of them that soughte me not, & haue appeared to them that axed not after me. And against Israel he sayth: * All day longe haue I stretched forth my hands vnto a people that beleueth not, but speaketh agaynst me.

The Notes.

Christe is the end of the law.

(a) That is Christe fulfilleth the lawe, not so much in doleyng all the ceremonies and pre-ceptes thereof, as in performyng that whiche was meant by all the whole course of the law.
That was that he bringe pure and withoute

To the Romayn. Chap. x.

Spot of synne, should purge our epythyme nature by medynge of hys most precious bloude, so many of vs, I say, as should beleue in his name.
(b) By fapth are we made iuste, but yet on thys condycyon, that we embrace Chyistes doctryne, and confesse hym in worde and dede. For Christ callethe vs to worke in hys vyneyarde, and not to be ydle al the daye. And the wytyard seruaunt shall suffer many stryppes.
(c) Some wyll are me of whom the preachers must be sent: Merely of hym that is they mayster, that is God. Of hym be they sente, whiche preach Christe truly, without the desyre of van glorie or gaynes. On this sort doth Christ proue that he was sent of y father, because he soughte hys fathers glorie, and not hys owne.

The word of fapth

Excepte
they be sent

The xi. Chapter.

He comforteth y Jewes that they despaire not of saluacion, shewyng that Gods pro-myces are not voyde if they receyue the with fapth, and that through grace the leauynge yet remaine. Agayne that the Gentyles be not proude, he sheweth that the fall of the Jewes may be repayed: and that if they for-low the Jewes, they may fal as wel as they.
Last of all he concludeth thys place, shew-yng that the iudgements of God are vnsearcheable.

I Saye then: hath God caste awaye hys people? God forbid. For euen I verely am an Israelit, of the sede of Abraham, and in the tribe of Benjamin. God hath not cast awaye hys people whych he knewe before. Epyther wote ye not what the scripture sayth by the mouth of Elias, how he maketh intercession to God agaynst Israel, sayng: * Lord they haue kyled thy prophetes, and dygged downe thynne alters: and I am left only, and they seeke my lyfe. But what sayeth the answer of god to hym agayne? * I haue reserued vnto me seuen thousand men, whych haue not be-wed the knee to Baal. Euen so at this time is there a remnaunt left thorow the eleccio of grace. If it be of grace, then is it not of workes. For if it were grace no more grace.
If it be of workes, then is it no more grace.
For then were deservynge no longer deseruyng.

Il. Re. c. b.
iii. re. x. d.

* Grace & workes are contrarye
thynges.

What then? Israel hath not obtayned that, that he sought. No, but yet the electyon hath obtayned it. The remnaunt are blynded, according as it is written: * God hath geuen them the spirit of vniquietnes:
eyes that they shuld not se, and eares that they shuld not heare euen vnto thys daye.
* And David saith: let their table be made a snare to take them withall, and an occasion to fall, and a reward vnto them: Let their eyes be blynded that they see not: and euer (a) bowe downe their backes.

B

Esa. vi. r.
Mat. xiii. b
Joril. xii. f.
Ac. xlviii. f.
* ps. lxxviii.

I say then: Haue they therefore stobled, that they shoulde but fall only? God forbid: but thorow their fall is saluacion happened vnto the Gentyles, for to prouoke the wythall. Wherefore if the fall of the, be the riches of the world, and the mynyshyng of them, the riches of the gentils: How much more shoulde it be so, if they all beleued? I speake

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the Rom. Cha. xi. Fo. lxxv.

Rom. i. a.
i. Tim. ii. a.
ii. Tim. i. c.

Do it w all dylp-
gence.

Jerem. xi. c.

i. Cor. iii. d.

Esay. lii. d.
Isa. xlii. b.
* Or rather from.

Esay. ix. i.
Esay. ix. c.
i. Cor. ii. d.

Speake to you Gentils, inasmuche as * I am the Apostle of the Gentils: I wyl mag nyspe mine offyce, that I myghte prouoke them whych are my fleshe, and myght saue some of them. For if the castinge awaye of them, be the reconcylyng of the worlde: what shal the receiuing of them be but life agayne from death? For if one piece be holpe, the whole heape is holp, and if the rote be holp, the bzaunches are holp also.

Though some of the bzaunches be broken of, and thou beynge a wylde olive tre, art grafted in amonge them, and made partaker of the roote and fatnes of the * olive tre, boast not thy selfe agaynst the bzaunches. For if thou boast thy selfe, remember that thou bearest not the roote, but the rothe. Thou wilt say then the bzaunches are broken of, that I myghte be grafted in: thou saiest well: because of vnbelyefe they are broken of, and thou standest stedfast in fapth. Be not hys mynded, but feare: seynge that God spared not the naturall bzaunches, lest happely he also spare not the.

Beholde the kyndnes and rygorousnes of God: on them whych fel, rigorousnes: but towardes the kyndnes, if thou contynue in his kyndnes. Or els thou shalt be hewen of, and they if they * byde not still in vnbelyefe, shalbe grafted in agayn. For God is of power to grafted them in again. For if thou wast cut out of a naturall wylde olive tre, and was grafted contrary to nature into a true olive tre, how much more shal the naturall bzaunches be grafted in to their owne olive tre agayne?

I would not that thys secret shoulde be hid from you my brethren (leaste ye shoulde be wyle in your owne concepts) that parte blyndnes is happened in Israell, vntil the fulnes of the Gentiles be come in: and so all Israell shall be saued. As it is wytted: * There shall come out of Sion he * doeth deluyet, and shall turne away the vngodlynes of * Jacob. And thys is my couenaunt vnto them, when I shall take awaye theyr synnes. As concerninge the Gospell, they are ennemyes for your sakes: but as touching the eleccon, they are beloued for the fathers sake.

For verely the gyftes and callinge of God, are such, that it cannot repente hym of them: for loke as ye in tyme passed haue not beleued God, yet haue nowe obtayned mercy thow theyr vnbelyefe: euen so now haue they not beleued the mercy whych is happened vnto you: that they also may obtayne mercy. God hath wrapped all nacyns in vnbelyefe, that he might haue mercy on all.

O the deapnes of the aboundaunt wisdom and knowledge of God: how vnsearchable are hys iudgements, and his wayes past spyndng out? For who hath knowen the mynd of the Lorde? Or who was his counsellor? Epyther who hath geuen vnto hym spyt, that he myghte be recompensed agapne. For of hym, and thowowe hym, and for him, are all thynges. To him be glorie for euer. Amen.

The Notes.

(a) Thys was not onely spoken of the oppres- sion they shoulde suffer by the Gentils, but also of the lacke of fapth, and sure hope wherby they shoulde not once be bolde with sure confy- dence to call vpon the Lorde theyr God.

The xii. Chapter.

He sheweth the offyce of euery pyuate per- son, teachyng spytte what seruike is most ac- ceptable to God. Then he exhorteth them to concord and charpitye, to hate euyl, to be di- ligent, cyrcumspecte, to haue hope, and to all other offices of Chysten charpitye. Laste of all he forbyddeth the despye of reuengynge.

I Beseeche you therfore brethren, by the mercifulnes of God, that ye make your bodies a quicke (a) sacrificy holp and ac- ceptable vnto God, whych is your reason- able seruyng of God. And facio not your selues like vnto this world. But be ye chan- ged in your shape, by the renuyng of your wyttes, that ye maye fele what thyng that is good, & acceptable, & perfect wyl of God is. * For I sape (through the grace that vn- to me geuen is) to euery man among you, that no man esteeme of hym selfe more then it becommeth hym to esteeme: but that he discretly iudge of hym selfe, accordyng as God hath dealt to euery man the measure of fapth.

As we haue many members in one body, and all members haue not one office: so we beynge manye, are one body in Chyst, and euery man (amonge oure selues) one ano- thers members. *

* Seyng that we haue diuers gyftes, ac- cordyng to the grace that is geue vnto vs: if any man haue the gyft of (b) * prophesy, let hym haue it, that it be agreyng vnto the fapth. Let hym that hath an offyce, wapte on hys offyce. * Lette hym that teacheth, take hede to his doctrine: Let him that ex- horteth, geue attendaunce to hys exhorta- con. If any man geue, let him do it with singlenes. Let him that ruleth, do it with diligence. If any man shew mercy, let hym do it with cherefulness.

Let loue be wythout dissimulacyn. Hate that whych is euyl, and cleaue vnto that whych is good. Be kynde one to another with brotherly loue. * In geuyng honour, go one before another. Let * not the busy- nes whych ye haue in hande, be tedious to you. Be feruent in the spirit. Applpe your selues to the tyme. Reioice in hope. Be pa- cypent in tribulacyn. Contynue in prayer. Distribute vnto the necessity of the sainc- tes, and * be diligent to harbour. * Blesse them whych persecut you, blesse, but curse not. Be merce with them that are merce. Wepe wyth them that wepe. Be of lyke af- feccyn one towards another. Be not high mynded, but make your selues equal to them of the lower sorte. *

Runn. iiii. * Be not

Bow down
their backs

A Whil. iiii. c
True seruyng of God, is to bringe the body vnto
the obedience of the lawe of
God.
Eccl. iii. c.
Ro. xiii. a.

B
i. Cor. xii. b
Eph. iii. b.
* i. col. xii. a
ii. pe. iiii. c

i. Pet. ii. d.
Amos. v
Eph. iii. a.

i. Pet. v. b.
Eccl. xxxi. c

Heb. xiii. g.
* Mat. v. g

The Epist. of S. Paule

To the Roma. Chap. xiii.

De not wise in your owne opinions. 13 Be corapence to no man euill for euill. 14 provide afore hand thynges honest in the sighte of all men. 15 If it be possyble, how be it of your parte, haue peace with all men. 16 Dearly be-loued, auenge not your selues, but geue roume vnto the wrath of God. 17 For it is writen: *vengeaunce is myne, and I will rewarde sayth the Lorde.

18 Therefore if thyne enemy hunger, feede him: if he thurst, geue him drinke, for in so doinge thou shalt heape *coles of fyre on hys head. 19 Be not overcome of euill. But o-uercome euill with goodnes. 20

The Notes.

(a) The sacrifice that God requyeth of vs, is to bynge our bodies to the obedyence of gods lawe.

(b) In this and many other places of the scripture, prophete is taken for expoundyng of the scriptures, so that the more darke places be made open and playne by the more manifest places, and the generall artycles of the Chyristian
fayth.

The. xiii. Chapter.

1 He sheweth the offyce of the common lyfe.
And teacheth fyfte what ought to be geuen to the magistrate and after what is due to every man: all whych he comprehendeth in comandement of charytee. 2 At last through metenes of the tyme, he exhorte them to pu-ryte and innocencye of lyfe.

Let every soule submyt hym selfe vnto the authoritie of the hyer powers. 3 For there is no power but of god. The powers that be, are ordayned of God. 4 Whosoever therfore resisteth power: resy-steth the ordinaunce of God. And they that resist, shall receyue to themselves dampnacyon. 5 For rulers are not to be feared for good woorkes, but for euill. Wylte thou be without feare of the power? Do well then: so shalt thou be praised of the same. 6 For he is the minister of God, for thy welth.
But and if thou do euill, then feare: for he beareth not a sword for nought: but is the minister of God, to take vengeaunce on them that do euill. 7 Wherefore ye must nedes obeye, not for feare of vengeaunce onely: but because of (a) conscience. And eue for this cause paye ye tribute. 8 For they are Gods ministers, seruyng for the same purpose. 9 Geue to every man therfore his duty. 10 Tribute *to whom tribute belongeth: Custom to whome custome is due, feare to whom feare belongeth: Honour to whome honoure pertayneth.

11 *Owe nothyng to any man: but to loue one another. 12 For he that loueth another, fulfilleth the lawe: for these commande-mentes: *Thou shalt not comyt adou-terp: Thou shalt not kyl: Thou shalt not steale: Thou shalt not beare false wytnes: Thou shalt not despyse, & so forth: (if there be any other commaundement) they are al fulfylling comprehended in this sayinge: *Loue thine neighbour as thy selfe. 13 Loue hurteth not hys neyghboure. 14 Therefore is loue the fulfilling of the lawe. 15

16 These also we knowe, I meane & season, howe that it is tyme that we shoulde nowe awake out of slepe. 17 For now is our saluacion nearer then when wee beleued.
The nighte is passed, and the daye is come nye. 18 Let vs therfore cast away the dedes of darknes, and let vs put on the Armour of lyght. 19 Let vs walcke honestly as it were in the day lyght: *not in eatynge and drynkyng: neyther in chamberpynge and wantonnes, neyther in styffe and enuyng: but put ye on the Lorde Iesus Chyriste. 20 And make not prouysyon for the fleshe, to ful-fyll the lustes of it.

The Notes.

(a) Though thou were of power to resiste the magistrates, yet shoulde thy conscience condemne the, if thou dydest it, because God commaundeth the to obeye them. 2 But this obedyence is not to do both good and euill at their comaundement: but to do the good thynges that they commaunde: And if they command the any euill, to saye wyth Peter and Ihon, it is our parte rather to obeye God, then men. 3 And yet lyst no weapon against them, but pacyently suffer at theyr handes, whatsoeuer tyrannye they wyl execute vpon the, for not doyng theyr commaundement.

The. xiii. Chapter.

1 Because ther was greate dyscencion be-twene the Jewes and the Gentyls, about the differenche of meates and tymes, Paule monyeth them well that the Jewes folowe not theyr arrogancye, nor the Gentyls theyr ouergreate lyberte. 2 But that in suche outward thynges either of them folow the rule of charytee, to the entente that they offende not the weaker.

Him that is (a) weake in the fayth, receiue vnto pou, not in dysputing and troublyng hys conscience. 3 One bele-ueth that he may eate all thyng: Another whiche is weake, eateth herbes. 4 Lette not him that eateth, despyse him that eateth not. 5 And lette not him whiche eateth not, iudge *hym that eateth. 6 For God hath re-ceiued him. 7 What arte thou that iudget another mans seruaunt? 8 Whether he stand or fall, that pertayneth vnto hys maister: pea he shal stand. 9 For God is able to make him stande. 10 This manne putteth difference betwene daye and day. Another man coun-teth al dayes alike. 11 Se that no man wauer in hys owne meanyng. 12 He that obserueth one daye more than another, doeth it for the Lorde. 13 And he that obserueth not one daye more than another, doth it to please the Lorde also. 14 He that eateth, doeth it to please the Lorde, for he geueth God thankes. 15 And he that eateth not, eateth not to please the Lorde with all, and geueth God thankes. 16 For none of vs lyueth hys owne seruaunt: neyther doth anye of vs dye hys owne seruaunte. 17 If we lyue, we lyue to be at the Lorde will. 18 And if we dye, we dye at the Lorde will. 19 Whether we lyue therefore or dye, we are the Lorde. 20 For Chyriste therfore

Mat. xxi. d.
Mat. xxi. c.
Galat. v. b.
Jacob. ii. b

* Lu. xxi. f.
Eccl. xxi. c
1. xxvii. d

Conscience.

Rom. xii. a.
1. iii. d

Howe
weake soe-
uer wee be,
we be Chy-stes. And therfore to he fauour thereof dyed and rose again, and reuiued, for hys sake that he myght be * Lord both of dead and * Act. ii. f. quicke.

But why dost thou then iudge thy brother? Either why dost thou despyse thy brother? We shal all be brought before the iudgement seate of Christe. For it is wrytten: as truly as I liue, sayeth the Lord, * all knees shall bowe to me, and all tonges shall geue a knowledge to God. So shal euery one of vs, geue accompts of himselfe to God. Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more.

But iudge thys rather, that no man put a commune, a stumblinge blocke or an occasyon to fall, is to say, in his brothers waye. For I know and am vncleane. For I know and am full certyfyed in the Lord Iesus, * there is nothing comune of it self, but vnto him that iudgeth it to bee commen, to him is it commē. If thy brother be greued wth thy meate, now walkest thou not charitably. Destrope not hym wth thy meate, for whō Christ died. Cause not poure treasure to be euill spoken of. For the kyngdome of god is not meat and drinke, but rightuousnes, peace and ioye in the holy ghost. For whoe soeuer in these thyngs serueth Christ, pleaseth well god, and is commended of men.

Lette vs folowe those thynges whyche make for peace, and thyngs wherwith one may edifye another. Destrope not * worke of God for a lytle meates sake. * All thynges are pure, but it is euill for that manne, whych eateth wth hurt of his conscience. It is good neither to eat fleshe, neyther to dryncke wyne, neyther any thyng wherby thy brother stumbleth, eyther falleth, or is made weke. Hast thou sayth? haue it with thy selfe before God. Happye is he that condemneth not hymselfe in that thyng whych he alloweth.

For he that maketh conscience, is dampned if he eate, because he doeth it not of faith. For whatsoeuer is not of faith, that same is synne. f. The Notes.

(a) Saynt Paule calleth them weake that not wythstandyng they haue the sayeth of Christe, yet theyr conscience wyll not suffer them to eat such meat as the law of Moyses forbade. Such woulde not Saynt Paule haue dyspyled, but to be gently instructed and taughte, that too the saythfull all thynges are cleane, and nothyng to be refused, so it be taken wth thanckes, and that Moyses forbade the vse of certayne beastes and meates only, because he woulde by the properties of the same beastes or meates, declare what vyces the saythfull shoulde refrayne. As by the forbiddinge of swynes fleshe, that the saythfull shoulde not delyght to wallow in the fylthy puddel of synne, as the swyne delyght to wallowe in the myre. And ryght so of other.

The xv. Chapter.

He monyeth to beare pacyently wth the weake. Then excuseth he hys boldnes in his Epistle, and wytnesseth hys sayth in the mistracyon of the word, and his loue toward the Romanes. He sheweth the cause thow whych he coulde not come vnto them. And last he desyeth them to praye for hym.

Whyche are stronge, * oughte to beare the fraplines of them which are weake, and not to stande in our own conceptes. Let euery man please hys neyghboure vnto hys wealth and edifyinge. For Christe pleased not hym selfe: but as it is wrytten. * The rebukes of them which rebuke the, fell on me.

* Whatsoeuer thynges are wrytten afore tyme, are wrytten for oure learnynge, that we thowow pacyence and comforte of the scripture, might haue hope.

The God of pacyence and consolacion, geue vnto euery one of you, that ye be lyke mynded one towardes another, after the example of Christ Iesu, * that ye al agree yng together, may wth one mouth praise God the father of our Lord Iesus. Wherefore receyue ye one another, as Christ receyued vs to the prayse of god. And I say that Iesus Christ was a minister of the cerycum cyspon for the truthe of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers. * And let the Gentils praise God for hys mercy, as it is wrytten. * For this cause I wyll prayse the amonge the Gentyls, and syng in thy name. And agayne he sayth: * reioyse ye Gentyls wth hys people. And agayne. * prayse the Lord al ye Gentyles, & laude hym al nacjons. And in another place Esaias sayth: ther shalbe the * rote of Jesse, and he that shall ryle to raygne ouer the Gentyles: in hym shall the Gentils truste. The God of hope fyll you wth al ioy and peace in beleuyng: that ye maye be ryche in hope thowow the power of * holy gost. f.

I my selfe am full certyfyed of you my brethren, that ye poure selues are full of goodnes, and fylled wth all knowledge, and are able to exhorte one another.ouerthelesse brethren I haue somewhat boldly wrytten vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembraunce, thowow the grace * is geuen me of God, that I shoulde be the minister of Iesu Christe amonge the Gentyles, and shoulde minister the glad tydinges of God, that the gentyles might be an acceptable offering, sanctyfyed by the holy ghost, I haue therfore whereof I maye reioyce in Christe Iesu in those thynges whych pertayne to God. For I dare not speake of anye of those thynges whych Christ hath not wrought by me, to make * gentyles obedyent, wth worde and dede, in mighty signes and wonders, by * power of the spyryte of God: so that from Hierusalem and coastes roundabout vnto Illicum, I haue fylled all countreyes wth the glad tydinges of Christ.

So haue I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, least I shoulde haue built on another mans foundacyon: but as it is wrytten. * To whō he was not spoken of, they shall see, & they * heard not, shal vnderstand. For this cause I haue bene ofte let to come vnto you: but nowe seynge I haue no more to do in these coun-

Gala. vi. a

He is strong
p can beare
another mans weak
nes.

Pla. lxxv. d
Ro. iiii. d
I. Cor. i. b

Luke. xix. d

Leu. xx. f
iii. Ro. xxii
Deu. xxxii f
I. Cor. xvi. a * Esa. xl. c.

Esa. lili. d
and. xv. a Roma. x. d.

he fauour thereof dyed and rose again, and reuiued, for hys sake that he myght be * Lord both of dead and * Act. ii. f. quicke.

But why dost thou then iudge thy brother? Either why dost thou despyse thy brother? We shal all be brought before the iudgement seate of Christe. For it is wrytten: as truly as I liue, sayeth the Lord, * all knees shall bowe to me, and all tonges shall geue a knowledge to God. So shal euery one of vs, geue accompts of himselfe to God. Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more.

But iudge thys rather, that no man put a commune, a stumblinge blocke or an occasyon to fall, is to say, in his brothers waye. For I know and am vncleane. For I know and am full certyfyed in the Lord Iesus, * there is nothing comune of it self, but vnto him that iudgeth it to bee commen, to him is it commē. If thy brother be greued wth thy meate, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroie not hym wth thy meate, for whō Christ died. Cause not poure treasure to be euill spoken of. For the kyngdome of god is not meat and drinke, but rightuousnes, peace and ioye in the holy ghost. For whosoever in these thyngs serueth Christ, pleaseth well god, and is commended of men.

Lette vs folowe those thynges whyche make for peace, and thyngs wherewith one may edifye another. Destroie not * worke of God for a lytle meates sake. * All thynges are pure, but it is euill for that manne, whych eateth wth hurt of his conscience. It is good neither to eat fleshe, neyther to dryncke wyne, neyther any thyng wherby thy brother stumbleth, eyther falleth, or is made weke. Hast thou sayth? haue it with thy selfe before God. Happye is he that condemneth not hymselfe in that thinge whych he alloweth.

For he that maketh conscience, is dampned if he eate, because he doeth it not of faith. For whatsoeuer is not of faith, that same is synne. f. The Notes.

(a) Saynt Paule calleth them weake that not wythstandyng they haue the sayeth of Christe, yet theyr conscience wyll not suffer them to eat such meat as the law of Moyses forbade. Such woulde not Saynt Paule haue dyspyled, but to be gently instructed and taughte, that too the saythfull all thynges are cleane, and nothyng to be refused, so it be taken wth thanckes, and that Moyses forbade the vse of certayne beastes and meates only, because he woulde by the properties of the same beastes or meates, declare what vyces the saythfull shoulde refrayne. As by the forbiddinge of swynes fleshe, that the saythfull shoulde not delyght to wallow in the fylthy puddel of synne, as the swyne delyght to wallowe in the myre. And ryght so of other.

The xv. Chapter.

He monyeth to beare pacyently wth the weake. Then excuseth he hys boldnes in his Epistle, and wytnesseth hys sayth in the ministracyon of the word, and his loue toward the Romanes. He sheweth the cause thow whych he coulde not come vnto them. And last he desyeth them to praye for hym.

Whyche are stronge, * oughte to beare the fraplines of them which are weake, and not to stande in our own conceptes. Let euery man please hys neyghboure vnto hys wealth and edifyinge. For Christe pleased not hym selfe: but as it is wrytten. * The rebukes of them which rebuke the, fell on me.

* Whatsoeuer thynges are wrytten afore tyme, are wrytten for oure learnyng, that we thowow pacyence and comforte of the scripture, might haue hope.

The God of pacyence and consolacion, geue vnto euery one of you, that ye be lyke mynded one towardes another, after the example of Christ Iesu, * that ye al agreeyng together, may wth one mouth praise God the father of our Lord Iesus. Wherefore receyue ye one another, as Christ receyued vs to the prayse of god. And I say that Iesus Christ was a minister of the cerycum cyspon for the truthe of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers. * And let the Gentils praise God for hys mercy, as it is wrytten. * For this cause I wyll prayse the amonge the Gentyls, and syng in thy name. And agayne he sayth: * reioyse ye Gentyls wth hys people. And agayne. * prayse the Lord al ye Gentyles, & laude hym al nacjons. And in another place Esaias sayth: ther shalbe the * rote of Jesse, and he that shall ryle to raygne ouer the Gentyles: in hym shall the Gentils truste. The God of hope fyll you wth al ioy and peace in beleuyng: that ye maye be ryche in hope thowow the power of * holy gost. f.

I my selfe am full certyfyed of you my brethren, that ye poure selues are full of goodnes, and fylled wth all knowledge, and are able to exhorte one another.ouerthelesse brethren I haue somewhat boldly wrytten vnto you, as one that putteth you in remembraunce, thowow the grace * is geuen me of God, that I shoulde be the minister of Iesu Christe amonge the Gentyles, and shoulde minister the glad tydinges of God, that the gentyles might be an acceptable offeryng, sanctyfyed by the holy ghost, I haue therefore whereof I maye reioyce in Christe Iesu in those thynges whych pertayne to God. For I dare not speake of anye of those thynges whych Christ hath not wrought by me, to make * gentyles obedyent, wth worde and dede, in mighty signes and wonders, by * power of the spyryte of God: so that from Hierusalem and coastes roundabout vnto Illicum, I haue fylled all countreyes wth the glad tydinges of Christ.

So haue I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, least I shoulde haue built on another mans foundacyon: but as it is wrytten. * To whō he was not spoken of, they shall see, & they * heard not, shal vnderstand. For this cause I haue bene ofte let to come vnto you: but nowe seynge I haue no more to do in these coun-

Gala. vi. a

He is strong
p can beare
another
mans weak
nes.

Pla. lxxv. d
Ro. iii. d
I. Cor. i. b

Luke. xix. d

Leu. xx. f
iii. Ro. xxix
Deu. xxxii f
I. Cor. xvi. a * Esa. xl. c.

Esa. lili. d
and. xv. a Roma. x. d.

The Epistle of S. Paule

countreys, and also haue bene desirous man y peares to come vnto you, when I shall take my iourney into Spaine, I wil come to you. I trust to se you in my iourney, and to be broughte on my waye thitherwarde by you after that I haue somewhat enioyed you.

Actes. xli. d. and. xliii. d. i. cor. xvi. a. ii. cor. viii. a. and. ix. a.

* Now go I vnto Ierusalem, and minister vnto the sainctes. For it hath pleased them of Macedony and Achaia to make a certayne distribucion vpon the poore sainctes, whiche are at Ierusalem. It hath pleased them verely, and their betters are they. For if the Gentiles be made partakers of the spirituall thinges, their dutye is to minister vnto them in carnall thynges. Whē I haue performed thys, and haue brought them this fruit sealed, I will come back againe by you into Spayne. And I am sure when I come, that I shall come with a boundaunce of the blessing of the Gospell of Christe.

I beseeche you brethren for our Lord Iesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirite, that ye helpe me in my busines: with your prayers to God for me, that I may be deliuered from them which beleue not in Jewrye, and that thys my scrupce whych I haue to Ierusalem, may be accepted of the Sainctes, that I may come vnto you with ioye, by the will of God, & may with you be refreshed. The God of peace be with you: Amen. &

The xvi. Chapter.

He commendeth Ihebe to the Romaines, and byddeth them to salute the brethren in his name. At last he monyeth them to take hede of suche as are authoures of dissencion.

I Commende vnto you Ihebe oure sister (whych is a minister of the congregacion of Cenchrea) that ye receyue hyr in the Lord, as it becommeth sainctes, & that ye assiste hir in whatsoever busines she needeth of your aide. For she hath suckered manye, and myne owne selfe also. Greete Prisca and Aquila my helpers in Christ Iesu, whych haue for my life layd down their own neckes. Vnto which not I only geue thanks, but also the congregacion of the Gentyles. Lpke wylle grete al the company that is in their house. Salute my well beloued Epenetos, which is the first fruite among them of Achaia. Greete Mary whiche bestowed much labour on vs. Salute Andronicus and Junia my colins, which wer prisoners with me also, which are well taken among the Apostles, and wer in Christ before me. Greete Amplias my beloued in the Lord. Salute Urbane oure helper in Christe, and Stachis my beloued. Salute Appelles approued in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobolus household. Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greete them of the household of Narcissus, whiche are in the Lord. Salute Triphena and Triphosa, which women dyd labour in the Lord. Salute the beloued Persis, whiche laboured

To the Roma. Chap. xvi.

in the Lord. Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and hys mother and mine. Greete Asyncritus, Phlegon, Herman, Patrobas, Hermon, and the brethren, which are with them. Salute Philologus and Julia, Pericus and his sister, and Olimpha, and al the sainctes which ar with them. * Salute one another wpth an holpe kysse. The congregacions of Christe salute you.

* I beseeche you brethren, marke them which cause diuision, and geue occasyons of euill, contrary to the doctrine whych ye haue learned: and auoide them. For they are such, serue not the Lord Iesus Christ, but their owne bellies, and with sweete preachynges and flatteryng wordes deceiue the hertes of the innocents. For your obedience extendeth to all men, I am glad no doubte of you. But yet I woulde haue you wylle vnto that whych is good, and to be innocent as concernyng euyl. The God of peace treade Sathan vnder your feete shortly. The grace of our Lord Iesu Christ be with you.

Timotheus my worke felow and Lucius and Jason, and Sopater my kinsman, salute you. I Tertius salute you, whych wrote this Epistle in the Lord. * Gaius myne hoste and the hoste of all congregacions, saluteth you. Erastus the chamberlayne of the cytye saluteth you. And Quartus a brother, saluteth you. The grace of our Lord Iesus Christe be wpth you all, Amen.

To hym that is of power to stablysh you according to my Gospell and preachyng of Iesus Christ, in utteringe of the mystery which was kepte secrete sence the worlde began, but now is opened by the scripturs of prophesy, at the commandement of the euerlastyng God, to steepe by obedience to the faith published among al nacjons: To the same God, whiche alone is wylle, be all praise thowowe Iesus Christ for euer. Amen.

To the Romaines. Sent from Corinthum by Ihebe, she that was the minister vnto the congregacion at Cenchrea.

The Prologe vpon the fyrste Epytyle of Saynt Paule to the Corinthians.

Thys Epistle declareth hit selfe from Chapter to chapter, that it needeth no Prologe or introduccion to declare. When Paul had converted a grete number at Corinthum as ye reade. Actes. xviii. & was departed, there came immediatly false Apostles and secte makers, and drew euerie man hys hyppocrites after hym, so that the people were wholely vnguided.

ii. cor. xlii. a.

Colos. ii. d. Ephe. v. b.

Phil. iii. d.

Paule wold haue the lape people iudge the prophetes and to obey the according to knowlege onely: for all obedience that is not after true knowlege is disallowed of God.

* Act. xli. e.

Actes. xvii. d. ii. Ti. iiii. d.

First fruit that is the fruite that was converted to God.

The Epistle of S. Paule

countreys, and also haue bene desirous man y peares to come vnto you, when I shall take my iourney into Spaine, I wil come to you. I trust to se you in my iourney, and to be broughte on my waye thitherwarde by you after that I haue somewhat enioyed you.

Actes. xli. d. and. xliii. d. i. cor. xvi. a. ii. cor. viii. a. and. ix. a.

* Now go I vnto Ierusalem, and minister vnto the sainctes. For it hath pleased them of Macedony and Achaia to make a certayne distribucion vpon the poore sainctes, whiche are at Ierusalem. It hath pleased them verely, and their betters are they. For if the Gentiles be made partakers of the spirituall thinges, their dutye is to minister vnto them in carnall thynges. Whē I haue performed thys, and haue brought them this fruit sealed, I will come back againe by you into Spayne. And I am sure when I come, that I shall come with a boundaunce of the blessing of the Gospell of Christe.

I beseeche you brethren for our Lord Iesus Christes sake, and for the loue of the spirite, that ye helpe me in my busines: with your prayers to God for me, that I may be deliuered from them which beleue not in Jewrye, and that thys my scrupce whych I haue to Ierusalem, may be accepted of the Sainctes, that I may come vnto you with ioye, by the will of God, & may with you be refreshed. The God of peace be with you: Amen. &

The xvi. Chapter.

He commendeth Ihebe to the Romaines, and byddeth them to salute the brethren in his name. At last he monyeth them to take hede of suche as are authoures of dissencion.

I Commende vnto you Ihebe our sister (whych is a minister of the congregacion of Cenchrea) that ye receyue hyr in the Lord, as it becommeth sainctes, & that ye assiste hir in whatsoever busines she needeth of your aide. For she hath suckered manye, and myne owne selfe also. Greete Prisca and Aquila my helpers in Christ Iesu, whych haue for my life layd down their own neckes. Vnto which not I only geue thanks, but also the congregacion of the Gentyles. Lpke wylle grete al the company that is in their house. Salute my well beloued Epenetos, which is the first fruite among them of Achaia. Greete Mary whiche bestowed much labour on vs. Salute Andronicus and Junia my colins, which wer prisoners with me also, which are well taken among the Apostles, and wer in Christ before me. Greete Amplias my beloued in the Lord. Salute Urbane our helper in Christe, and Stachis my beloued. Salute Appelles approued in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobolus household. Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greete them of the household of Narcissus, whiche are in the Lord. Salute Triphena and Triphosa, which women dyd labour in the Lord. Salute the beloued Persis, whiche laboured

To the Roma. Chap. xvi.

in the Lord. Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and hys mother and mine. Greete Asyncritus, Phlegon, Herman, Patrobas, Hermon, and the brethren, which are with them. Salute Philologus and Julia, Pericus and his sister, and Olimpha, and al the sainctes which ar with them. * Salute one another wpth an holpe kysse. The congregacions of Christe salute you.

* I beseeche you brethren, marke them which cause diuision, and geue occasyons of euill, contrary to the doctrine whych ye haue learned: and auoide them. For they are such, serue not the Lord Iesus Christ, * but their owne bellies, and with sweete preachynges and flatteryng wordes deceiue the hertes of the innocents. For your obedience extendeth to all men, I am glad no doubte of you. But yet I woulde haue you wylle vnto that whych is good, and to be innocent as concernyng euyl. The God of peace treade Sathan vnder your feete shortly. The grace of our Lord Iesu Christ be with you.

Timotheus my worke felow and Lucius and Jason, and Sopater my kinsman, salute you. I Tertius salute you, whych wrote this Epistle in the Lord. * Gaius myne hoste and the hoste of all congregacions, saluteth you. Erastus the chamberlayne of the cytye saluteth you. And Quartus a brother, saluteth you. The grace of our Lord Iesus Christe be wpth you all, Amen.

To hym that is of power to stablysh you according to my Gospell and preachyng of Iesus Christ, in utteringe of the mystery which was kepte secrete sence the worlde began, but now is opened by the scripturs of prophesy, at the commandement of the euerlastyng God, to steepe by obedience to the faith published among al nacjons: To the same God, whiche alone is wylle, be all praise thowowe Iesus Christ for euer. Amē.

To the Romaines. Sent from Corinthum by Ihebe, she that was the minister vnto the congregacion at Cenchrea.

The Prologe vpon the fyrste Epytyle of Saynt Paule to the Corinthians.

Thys Epistle declareth hit selfe from Chapter to chapter, that it needeth no Prologe or introduccion to declare. When Paul had converted a grete number at Corinthum as ye reade. Actes. xviii. & was departed, there came immediatly false Apostles and secte makers, and drew euerie man hys hyscopples after hym, so that the people were wholely vnguided.

ii. cor. xlii. a.

Colos. ii. d. Ephe. v. b.

Phil. iii. d.

Paule woldhaue the lape people iudge the prophetes and to obey the according to knowlege onely: for all obedience that is not after true knowlege is disallowed of God.

* Act. xli. e

Actes. xvii. d. ii. Ti. iiii. d.

First fruit that is the firste that was converted to God.

ted, diuided, and at varpaunce amonge themselves, enerye man for the zeale of hys doctoure, those newe apostles not regarding what dyuysion, vncleennes of liuing, or what false opinions were amonge the people, as longe as they mighte bee in authoryte, and well at ease in theyr bealpes. But Paul in the foure fyrst chapters wryth greate wysdome and sobryenes, rebuketh fyrst the deuision, and the authors thereof: and calleth the people to Christ agayne, and teacheth howe for what the preacher is to be take.

In the fyfte he rebuketh the vncleennes that was amonge men.

In the .vi. he rebuketh the debate and the goyng to lawe together, pleadyng theyr causes before the heathen.

In the .vii. he refoormeth them, concernyng chastitie and maryage.

In the .viii. ix. x. and .xi. he teacheth the stronge to forbear the weake that yet vnderstande not the lyberte of the Gospell, and that wryth the example of hymselfe. Whiche though he were an Apostle and had authoryte, yet of loue he abstayned to wyne other. And he feared them wryth the example of the olde Testament, and rebuketh dyuerse disorders that were among them, concernyng the Sacraments, and the goyng bare headed of maryed women.

In the .xii. xiii. xiiii. he teacheth the manyfold gyftes of the spirite, and proueth by a symilitude of the body, that all gyftes are geuen, that eche should helpe other, and thow loue do see wyse to other, and proueth that where loue is not, there is nothyng that pleaseth God. For if one should loue another, is all that God requyret of vs. And therfore if we desyre spiritual gyftes, he teacheth those gyftes to be desyred that helpe our neyghbours.

In the .xv. he teacheth of the resurrection of the bodye.

And in the last he exhorteth to help the poore sapientes.

halfe, for the grace of God whych is geuen you by Iesus Christ, that in all thynges ye are made riche by him, in all learnyng and in all knowledge, euen as the testimony of Iesus Christ was cōfyrmed in you, so that ye are behynd in no gyft, and waite for the appearing of our lord Iesus Christ whych shal strength you vnto the end, if ye may be blamelesse in the daye of oure Lord Iesus Christ. For God is fapthfull, by whom ye are called vnto the felowshyp of his son Iesus Christ our Lorde.

I beseech you brethren in the name of our Lorde Iesus Christ, that ye all speake one thyng, and that there be no dissencion amonge you: but be knytted together in one minde and in one meaninge. It is shewed vnto me (my brethren) of you by thē that are of the house of Cloe, that there is strife amonge you. And this is it that I meane: how that commonly among you, one saith: I hold of Paul, another, I hold of Apollos: the third, I hold of Cephas: the fourth, I hold of Christ. Is Christe deuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptised in the name of Paule? I thanke god that I Christened non of you, but Crispus and Gaius, lest any should saye that I had baptised in mine owne name. I baptised also the house of Stephana. Furthermore knowe I not whether I baptised anye man or no.

For Christ sent me not to baptise but to preache the Gospell, not with wysdome of words, least the crosse of Christ shuld haue bene made of none effecte. For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perishe, folishnes: but vnto vs whych are saued it is the power of God. For it is wrytten: I will destroye the wysdome of the wyse, and will cast awaye the vnderstandyng of the prudent. Wher is the wyse? Wher is the scribe? Wher is the searcher of this world? Hath not God made the wysdome of this world folishnes?

For when the worlde through wysdome knewe not God in the wysdome of God, it pleased God through folishnes of preaching, to saue them that beleue. For the Jewes require a sygne, & the Grekes seke after wysdome. But we preache Christ crucified, vnto the Jewes an occasyn of falling, and vnto the Grekes folishnes, but vnto them which are called both of Jewes and (a) Grekes, we preache Christ the power of God & the wisdom of God. For the folishnes of God, is wyser then men, and the weaknes of God is stronger then men. Brethren, loke on your calling home that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many of hye degre are called: but God hath chosen the folish things of the world, to confound the wyse.

And God hath chosen the weake thynges of the worlde, to confounde thynges which are mighty. And vile thynges of the worlde, and thynges whiche are despised hath

The fyrste Epistle of saynt Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The fyrst Chapter.

After that he hath moued them wyllynge to heare him, he exhorteth them to agre, and taketh away the cause of discorde, whych hadde rylen for the lowlynes of Pauls preaching. Then he sheweth that God hath chosen the humble, to the entent all glory shuld be referred vnto hym.

Aule by vocacyon an Apostle of Iesus Christe, thow the wil of God, & brother Sostenes.

Vnto the congregacion of God, which is at Corinthum. To thē that are sanctified in Christ Iesu, saintes by calling, wryth all that call on the name of our Lord Iesus Christ in euery place, both of theirs and of ours. Grace be wryth you and peace from God our father, and from our Lorde Iesus Christe.

I thanke my God alwayes on your be-

Roma. i. a.
Gala. i. a

1. Thessa. v

Ru. xxi. c
1. Cor. x. c

1. Cor. x. c

Act. xlii. b
1. Cor. xli. c

and. xvi. c

preaching of p crosse is the power of God.

Roma. i. b.
Esa. xli. d.
Abde. i. c

El. xxxiii. e

mat. vii. f.
Luce. xi. d.
John. vi. b.
Signe.

Christ is power & wisdom of God.

The i. Epistle of S. Paul to the Corint. Chapter. ii.

Christe is hath God chosen, yea and thynges of no wisdom, reputacion for to bring to naught thynges of hym of reputacion, that no flesh should reioise ought we in his presence. And vnto him pertayne ye, holde and in Christ Iesus: which of God is made to vs hym on- his wisdom, and also rightuousnes, & sanc- tyfyinge, and redempcion. That accordyng as it is writtē: he whiche reioiseth (b) Gould reioice in the Lord.

The Notes.

Greekes. (a) The Greekes doo sometyme signifye theyr owne nacion only, as in the Actes. vi. a. Sometyme all the Gentiles as here, and Rom. i. b.
(b) He reioiseth in the Lord, that knoweth certaynly that God wytheth hym good, and fauoureth him so, that the thyng which he doeth, please God, and which he doeth not as he shoulde do, is forgiven hym and not imputed to him. Jeremy. vi. g. And Rom. viii. c.

The ii. Chapter.

He declareth with what humblenes he preached þe Gospell to the. Then teacheth he that this humblenes which they thinke folishnes, is the true wysdome, which cannot be perceyued of the carnall man, except it be reueled to hym through the spirit of God.

And I brethren when I came to you, came not in gloriousnes of words or of wysdome, shewyng vnto you the Testimony of God. Neither shewed I my selfe that I knewe any thyng among you saue Iesus Christ, euen the same that was crucifyed. And I was amonge you in weaknes, and in feare, and in much trembling: And my wordes and my preachyng were not with entyspyng wordes of mans wysdome, but in shewyng of the spyryte and of power, that your fayth shoulde not stand in the wysdome of menne, but in the power of God.

What we speake of, is wysdome among them that are perfect, not the wisdom of this worlde, neither of the rulers of thys worlde (which go to nought) but we speake the wisdom of God, whiche is in secretes, and lyeth hyd, which God ordeined before the worlde vnto our glory: whych wysdome none of the rulers of thys worlde knewe. For had they knowen it, they woulde not haue crucifyed the Lorde of glory. But as it is writtē. * The eye hath not sene, and the eare hath not heard, neyther haue entered into the hert of man the thyngs which god hath prepared for them that loue him.

But God hath opened them to vs by the spirit. For the spirit searcheth all thynges, yea the bottome of Goddes secretes. For what man knoweth the thynges of a man, saue the spyryte of a man whiche is wythin hym? Euen so the thynges of God knoweth no man, but the spirit of God. And wee haue not receiued the spyrit of the worlde, but the spyryt which cometh of God, for to know the thynges that are geuen to vs of god, which thynges also we speake. Not in the cunning wordes of mans wisdom, but with the cunying wordes of the holpe ghost, makinge spirituall comparisons of spirituall thynges. For the naturall man perceyueth not the thynges of the spirit of God. For they are but folishnes vnto him. Neyther can he perceyue the, because he is spirituallly examined. But he that is spyrituall, discussteth all thynges: yet he him self is iudged of no man. * For who knoweth the minde of the Lord: either who shall in- forme him? But we vnderstand the mynde of Christe.

The iii. Chapter.

He sheweth the cause whye hys doctryne was so humble. Then disputeth he of the of- fyce and dygnyte of ministers, shewyng that it is not theyr workes but Goddes, and ther- fore that they ought not to reioyce in menne, but in God alone.

And I could not speake vnto you bre- thren as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnall, euen as it were to babes in Christ: * I gaue you milke to drinke, & not meate. For ye then were not strong, no nei- ther yet are. For ye are yet carnall. As long verelye, as there is amonge you enuyng, strife and dissencion, are ye not carnall, and walke after þe maner of me: As long as one saith: I hold of Paul, & another I am of Apollo, are ye not carnall? What is Paul? What thyng is Apollo? Onely ministers are they by whome ye beleued, euen as the Lord gaue euery man grace. I haue plan- ted, Apollo waters: but God gaue the en- crease. So then neither is he that planteth any thyng, neither he that watereth: but God that gaue the encrease.

He that planteth and he that watereth, B are neither better then the other. Euerie man yet shal receyue his reward accordyng to his laboure. We are Goddes labourers, ye are Gods * housbandys, ye are Gods buyldyng. Accordyng to the grace of god geuen vnto me, as a wyse builder haue I layed the foundacion, and another buylte thereon. But let euery man take hede how he buildeth vpon. For other foundacion can no man laye, then that which is layed * which is Iesus Christ. If any mā buylde on this foundacion, gold, siluer, precious stones, tymber, hape or stoble: euery mans worcke shal appeare. (a) For the day shal declare it, and it shal be shewed in fyre. And the fyre shal trye euery mannes worcke, what it is. If any mannes worcke that he hath buylte vpon, byde, he shal receyue a re- ward. If any mans worcke burne, he shal suffer losse: but he shal be safe him selfe: ne- uerthelesse yet as it were thorow fyre.

* Are ye not ware that ye are the temple of God, and how that the spyryte of God dwelleth in you? If anye manne defyle the temple of God, him shal God destroy. For the temple of God is holpe, whiche temple ye are. Lette no man deceyue hym selfe. If any man seme wyse among you, lette him be a foole in thys worlde that he maye be wyse. For the wysdome of thys worlde is folish-

The natu- ral manne that is not reueled in Christ can not per- ceive the thyngs of God.

* 1. Cor. ii. d. Roma. xi. d.

Heb. v. d. The apost- les & prela- tes are ser- uants to preache Christe, to which doc- trine only oughte all obedience to be geue. Act. xiii. d. 1. Cor. i. b.

1. Cor. i. d. Gala. vi. d. Ephe. ii. d.

Christ is þe foundacio that bea- reth all. * mat. xvi. c. Dape.

1. Cor. vi. d. Temple. 11. Cor. vi. c.

Job. v. c. foolishnes with God. * For it is written, he
Ps. cxiii. b. compasseth the wise in their craftines.
In p. king And agayne: * God knoweth the though-do of christ tes of the wse that they be vaine. There-we at i sub fore let no man reioice in men. For al thin-ieccion to ges are poures whether it be Paule, either none saue Apollo, either Cephas: whether it be the
to christe & worlde, either lyfe, either death, whether his doctrin they be present things, or thyngs to come, psal. cxiii. al are yours, and ye are Christs, and Christ is Gods. f

The Notes.

(a) Dape here signifieth the tyme when God byngeth to lyghte the thyng that is hydde. By spee vnderstande exquisite and perfect true iud-gement, whych when it hath opened the faulte and erreure, affliccyon of forthynkyng and re-pentynge doeth folowe. Saynt Paule entreareth here of preachers, whiche succeeded hym when he was departed from the Corinthyans, he had layed a good foundacyon let other take hede (sayth he) what they buyld thereon. If they buyld thynges worthye for Christ, they wor-kes wll remayne and abyde, euen when they be seen in the lyghte. Whych thyng he signifi-eth when he sayeth. The dape shall declare it.
 Was it they bynge in Jewyshe fashyons, they shall happely deceybe for a tyme, but at length they deceypte shall be opened, as lone as it is be-gon to be examyned wth true and sincere iud-gement. Thus doeth Erasmus expounde thys place, in hys annotacyons vpon these wordes, Hape and stubble. Doyng also by the authoritye of S. Ambrose, Jerome, and other olde doctours, that it maketh nothyng for Purgatory, though many haue wonderfully laboured to wresle it to that purpose.

The. iii. Chapter.

He teacheth how the ministers of p church should be esteemed. Chan blameth he the pryde of the Corinthyans, vterynge by example of hym self, the hypocrisy of false Apostles. Last he monyeth them of theyr dute, he commendeth Timothe, and promyseth to come vnto them.

The Apo- Let men thus wyle esteeme vs, euen as les at my the ministers of Christe, and disposers mysters. of the secrets * of God. Furthermore Deu. xix. d it is requyred of the disposers that they be fasthfull founde fasthful. Wpthe me it is but a verpe is he p pre- you, eyther of (mans day.) No I iudge not acheth hys myne owne selfe, I knowe noughte by my master, & selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: It is not hym the Lord that iudgeth me. Therefore iudge selfe. nothyng before the tyme, vntyll the Lord (Mannes come: who wil lighten thyngs that are hid dar) is mas in darcknes, and open the counsels of the wpf dome. hertes. And then shall euerpe manne haue praise of God. f

These thynges brethren I haue discry-bed in myne owne person and Apollos for your sakes, that ye might learn by vs, that no manne counte of himselfe beyonde that whych is aboue written: that one swel not against another for anye mans cause. For who preferreth the? * What hast thou that thou hast not receyued? If thou haue recei-ued it, whype reioycest thou as though thou haddest not receyued it? Nowe ye are full:

Jaco. i. b.

nowe ye are made ryche: ye reygne as kynges wpthout vs: and I woulde to God ye dydde reygne that wee myghte raygne wpth you.

We thincketh that God hath sent forth vs, whych are Apostles, for the loweste of all, * as it were men appointed to deathe. Ps. cxiii. d
 For we are a gasping stock vnto the world, Rom. viii. c and to the angels, and to men. We are fo- The fastio les for Christs sake, and ye are wise tho- of true apo rowe Christ. We are weake, & ye are strong. stles.
 Ye are honorable, and we are despised. E- C uen vnto thys dape we hunger and thyrste, and are naked, and are boffetted with fistes, and haue no certaine dwelling place, and laboure * workinge with oure handes. We Actes. ix. v.
 are reuelled, and yet we blesse. We are perse- i. Cel. i. b. cuted and suffer it. We are euill spoken of, ii. Cel. iii. c and we praye. We are made as it were the fylthynes of the worlde, the offcomminge of all thynges, euen vnto thys tyme.

I wryte not these thyngs to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you.
 For though ye haue ten thousand instructours in Christ, yet haue ye not manye fathers. In Christ Iesu I haue begotten you thorow the gospel: Wherefore I desire you to folowe me. For this cause haue I sente vnto you Timotheus, whiche is my deare sonne and fasthfull in the Lorde, whych shall put you in remembraunce of my wai-es which I haue in Christ, euen as I teach euerye where in all congregacyons. Some swell as though I woulde come nomore at Acte. xviii. e you. But I wil come to you shortly * if god He. vi. a wil, and will know not the wordes of them whych swell, but the power: for the kyngdome of God is not in wordes, but in power. What will ye? Shall I come vnto you with a rodde, or els in loue and in the spirit of mekenes?

The. v. Chapter.

He proueth the doctours of the Corinthy-ans to be vayne, because that while they schegloze, they punish not an abhomyable aduoutrye. Chan he warneth them to punysh it, that the whole congregacyon be not infected, last he exhorteth them generally, to fo-low purpurye of lyfe, and to fye the company of the wycked.

There goeth a commen sayinge that A
 there is fornicacyon among you, and Le. xviii. b. suche fornicacyon as is not once na- Colo. ii. a med among the Gentils: * that one should Fornica- haue hys fathers wyfe. And ye swelle and cyon.
 haue not rather sorowed, that he whych Colo. ii. a. hath done thys dede, might be put from a- Excomu- mong you. For I verely as absent in body, nicacye is euen so present in spirite, haue determined to destroy alreedy (as though I were present) that he fleshly wil that hath done thys dede, in the name of dome that oure Lorde Iesus Christ, when ye are ga- the spyr thered together in my spyr, with the po- maye be wer of the Lord Iesus Christ, * be delpue- found in p red vnto Sathan, for the destruccid of the doctrin of flethe, that the spirite maye be saued in the Christ.
 day of the Lord Iesus. mat. xviii. c i. Cel. iii. d.

Doos. i. Your

The .i. Epist. of S. Paule

to the Corint. Chap. vi.

1. Tim. i. d. Your reioysing is not good: knowe ye not Galat. v. b. that a lytle leuen soweth the whole lump of dowe? & poure therfore the old leuen, that ye may be newe dowe, as ye are swete bread. For Christ our easter lamb is offered by for vs. Therfore let vs kepe holpe dape, not with old leuen, neither wpth the leuen of malicpousnes and wickednes: but with the swete breade of purenes and truth. &

1. Cor. xiii. c. I wrote vnto you in a Epistle, that ye should not companie with fornicatours.
 And I meant not at al of the fornicatours of thys world, either of the couetous, or of extorsioners, epther of the pdolaters: for then muste ye nedes haue gone oute of the world. But now I wyte vnto you* that ye company not together, if any that is cal led a brother, be a fornicator, or couetous, or a worshypper of Images, epther a rap ler, either a dronckarde, or an extorponer, with him that is suche, see that ye eate not.
 For what haue I to do, to iudge the which are without? Do ye not iudge them that ar wpthin? Them that are without, God shal iudge. * Put away from amonge you, that euill person.

The .vi. Chapter.

1. Cor. xiii. c. He taunteth theyr wycked abuses of goyng to lawe, and counsaileth them to ryghtheou nes, and charytye. Then enueyeth he mygh tely agaynst lecherie and whozedom.

To go too law.
Mat. xxi. d.
And. xix. d.
Howe dare one of you haupnge busp
Hnes wpth another, go to lawe vnder the wicked, and not rather vnder the sainctes? * Do ye not know that the sain tes shal iudge the worlde? If the worlde shal be iudged by you, are ye not good p uoughe to iudge smal trifles? know ye not how that we shal iudge the aungels? How muche more maye wee iudge thynges that pertayn to the lyfe? If ye haue iudgemen tes of worldly matters, take them whyche are despised in the congregacyon, & make them iudges. Thys I saie to poure shame.
 Is there vterly no wyse man among you?
 What, not one at all, that can iudge be twen brother and brother? but one brother goeth to law with another, and that vnder the vnbeleuers?

Howe therfore, there is vterly a faute
among you, because ye go to law one wpth another. Why rather suffer ye not wrong?
* Why rather suffer ye not poure selues to be robbed: nape, ye pour selues do wronge, and robbe, and that the brethre. Do ye not remember how that the vnrighuous shal not inherite the kyngdome of God? Be not deceyued. For* neither fornicatours, neither worshypers of Images, nepther whozemongers, nepther weaklinges, ney ther abusers of themselues with the man kynde, nepther theues, nepther the coue tous, neither dronckardes, neither cursed speakers, nepther pylars, shal inherite the kingdom of God. And such were ye verely, but ye are washed, ye are sanctified, ye are iustified by the name of the Lorde Jesus, and by the spirit of pour God.

Et. xxvii. d.
1. Cor. x. e.
Sanctify
ing iusti
fying cum
by Christ
his spirite.
1. Cor. x. e.
1
 All thynges are lawfull vnto me, but all thynges are not profytable, I maye do all thynges, * but I will be brought vnder no mannes power. Meates are ordeyned for the bellye, and the bellye for meates, but God shal destroy both it and them. Lette not the body be applyed vnto fornicacyon, but vnto the Lord, and the Lord vnto the body. God hath rayled by the Lord, & shal rayle vs by hys power.

Our bodies
es are the members of
Christe.
Gen. ii. d
Mat. xix. a.
Mar. x. a.
Eph. v. g
He is of
christ hath
his spirite.
Rom. viii.
1. Pets. i. d.
 * Either remember ye not, that your bo dies at the members of Christ? shal I now take the members of Christ, and make the members of an harlot? God forbode.
 Do ye not vnderstande that he which cou pleth himsele with an harlotte, is become one body. * For two (sayth he) shal be one flesh. But he that is ioyned vnto the Lord, is one spirit.

Flee fornicacyon. All synnes that a man doeth, are wpthout the bodye. But he that is a fornicator, synneth agaynst hys owne body. Either know ye not, how that poure bodies at the temple of the holy ghost, which is in you, whom ye haue of God, and howe that ye are not your owne? For ye are dea rely boughte. Therfore glorifye ye God in your bodies and in poure spirites, for they are Gods. &

The .vii. Chapter.

Because the vse of matrimony was corrup ted wpth the false Apostles tradicions, some dispraysinge it, and some takyng to muche vpon them. Paule teacheth here playnely of the lawes of wedlocke, chastytye, wyddo wes, and byrgnytye.

As concernyng wherof ye wrote vn to mee: it is good for a manne not to touch a womanne. Neuerthelesse to auoide fornicacion, let euery man haue his wife: and let euery woman haue hys hus bande. Lette the man geue vnto the wyfe due beneuolence. Lykewise also the wyfe vnto the manne. The wyfe hath not power ouer hys owne body, but the husband. And lykewise the man hath not power ouer his owne body: but the wyfe. * Withdraw not pour selues one from another, excepte it be with consente for a time, for to geue poure selues to fastyng & prayer. And afterwarde come agayn to the same thyng, lest Sathā tempt you for pour incontynence. &

This I say of fauoure, and not of com maundement. For I woulde that all men were as I myself am: but euery man hath hys proper gyfte of God, one after thys maner, another after that. I saie vnto the vnmaried men and wyddowes: it is good for them, if they abyde euen as I do. * But
and if they cannot abstayn, let them mary.
For it is better to mary, then (a) burne.

Vnto the maried commaund not I, but the Lord: * that the wyfe separate not hys selve from the manne. If she separate hys selve, let hys remaine vnmaried, or be recon cyled

The .i. Epistle of S. Paul

To the Corin. Cha. vii. Fo. lxxix.

culed to her housbande agayne. And let not the husband put away his wife from him.

To the remnaunt speake I, and not the Lord. Yf any brother haue a wyfe that beleueth not, if she be contente to dwell with him, let him not put her away. And the woman whych hath to her husband, an infydele, if he consente to dwell wyth her, lette hyr not put hym away. For the vnbelyng husbande is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbelyng wife is sanctified by the husbande. Orls were your chyldren vncleane but now are they pure. But and if the vnbelyng depart, let him depart.

A brother or syster is not in subieccion to such: god hath called vs in peace. For howe knowest thou O womanne, whether thou shalte saue that manne or no? epyther howe knowest thou O man whether thou shalte saue that woman or no? but euen as God hath distributed to euery man.

Ephe. iiii. c As the Lord hath called euery person so let hym walke: and so ordeine I in all congregacions, If any man be called beyng circumcised, let hym ad nothyng thereto.

Circumci- If any be called vncircumcised: lette hym sion. not bee circumcised. Circumcision is nothyng, vncircumcision is nothyng, but the keepnge of the commaundementes of i. Ti. vi. g God is altogether. Let euery man abide in the same state wherin he is called. *Arte thou called a seruaunt? care not for it. Reuerthelesse if thou mayest be fre, vse it rather. For he that is called in the Lord beynge a seruaunte, is the Lordes free man.

Apkewpse he that is called beyng free, is Christes seruaunt. Ye are dearely bought, be not (c) mens seruautes. Brethren let euery man wherin he is called, therein abyde wyth God. *

i. Cor. vi. c As concerning vyrgins I haue no commaundemente of the lord: yet geue I counsell, as one that hath obtained mercy of the lord to be faithful I suppose yf it is good for the present (d) necessite. For it is good for a manne so to be. Arte thou bounde vnto a wyfe? seke not to be lewled. Arte thou lewled from a wyfe? seke not a wyfe. But and if thou take a wyfe, thou synnest not. Like wise if a vyrgyn marrye, she synneth not. Reuerthelesse suche shall haue trouble in theyr fleshe: but I fauoure you.

Psalm. xc. a This say I brethren *the tyme is short, it remayneth that they whiche haue wyues, be as though they had none, and they that weepe, be as though they wepte not, and they that reioyse, be as though they reioysed not, & they that bpe be as though they possessed not: and they that vse thys worlde, be as though they vled it not. For the fashyon of thys worlde goeth away.

Eccl. xi. b. I woulde haue you wythout care: the synge man careth for the thynges of the Lord, howe he maye please the Lord. But he that hath married, careth for the thynges of the worlde, howe he maye please his wife. Ther is difference betwene a vir-gyn and a wyfe. The synge woman careth for the thynges of the Lord, that she maye be pure both in bode and also in spyrte. But shee that is married, careth for the thynges of the worlde, how she may please hyr husbnde. Thys speake I for your profitte, not to tangle you in a snare: but for that whych is honest and comely vnto you and that ye maye quietly cleaue vnto the lord without seperacion.

If any man thynke that it is vncomefy for hym vyrgyn if he passe the tyme of marriage, and if so nede requyre, lette hym do what he lysteth, he sinneth not, let them be coupled in marriage. Reuerthelesse, he that purposeth suerlye in hym heart, haupnge none nede: but hath power ouer hym owne wyl, and hath so decreed in his hert that he wyl kepe hym vyrgyn, doth well. So then he that iopneth hym vyrgynne in marriage, doth well. But he that iopneth not hym vyrgyn in marriage doeth better. *The wyfe is bounde to the lawe as longe hyr husbnde lyueth. If hyr husbnde slepe, she is at libertye to marie wyth whom she wyl, one ly in the Lord. But she is happier if she so abyde in my iudgement. And I thynke verely that I haue the spyrte of God.

The Notes.

(a) After saynt Ambrose, the consent of the will is thys turnynge.

(b) Not that chyldren are by nature, cleane and pure wythout synne, for that were agaynst the Apostle hym selfe, who proueth. Rom. v. that al are vnder originall synne, and naturallie the chyldren of Gods wrath. As. Ephe. ii. But here hym meanyng is, that lyke as althynges are cleane to the cleane, so is the vncristian woman to the chrystian man: So that he may be conuersant wyth her & not offende, and that the chyldren of them are not to be reputed as vnlawfull and vnpure.

(c) To be the seruaunte of menne, is to do any thyng for the fauour of men, and so oughte we not to seruienen. But to do them bodely seruice accordynge to the order of the countreyes where in we lyue, is not forbidden, but commaunded, yea and that to be done so faythfully, as though it were God hym selfe y we serue. For so Paul wytteth, not wyth eye scrupce as men pleasers, but as men seruynge the Lord and not men. Ephe. vi.

(d) Chastite is a gyfte of god, and is (as all other moztall vertues be) an honest habite of the mynde whereby the outragyoullustes of the fleshe be repressed and kepte vnder, so that they cause vs not to vse or desyre the vnlawful company of the contrary sexe, that is the man of woman or woman of man. Thys chastite oughte to be in euery chrystian man and woman be they married or vnmarrled. Thys chastite haue we not of lōg tyme, cōpted worthy the name of chastite, but thoughte them only to be chast, whych haue refrayned marriage. In verry dede, suche if they refrayne all fleshelye companye and desyre of the same, are mooste chast. And if they do wyth all refrayne the busynes of the worlde, are moost apte to preache the worde, and minister in the congregacion of God. But otherwys the guyete married manne is moze apte for that offyce.

Do o o. ii.

For

To burne
Pure.

Mens ser
uautes.

The gyft
of chastite

The.i. Epistle of S. Paul

For the troubles & cares of the worlde are most to be auoyded in church ministers.

The.viii. Chapter.

He dysputeth of the eatynge of such thynges as were offered to idols. And warneth the to folowe the rule of charite, and to beware that throught the libertie of the gospel, they offend not the weake.

Al speake of thynges* dedicate vnto idols, we are sure p we al haue knowledge: knowledge maketh a mā swel, but loue edifieth. If any man thynke p he knoweth any thyng, he knoweth nothing pet as he ought to knowe. But if any man loue god, the same is knowen of hym.

To speake of meat dedicate vnto Idols we are sure that* there is none Idol in the world, and that ther is none other god but one. And though he there be that are called goddes, whether in heauen, either in earth (as ther be gods many and Lordes many) pet vnto vs is there but one God, whyche is the father, of whom are al thynges, and we in hym: and one Lord Iesus Christ by whom are al thynges, and we by hym. But every man hath not knowledge. For some suppose that there is an Idol vntill thys houre, and eate as of a thyng offered vnto the Idol: and so they? consciences beyng pet weake are defiled. Meate maketh vs not acceptable to God. Neyther if we eate are we the better. Neyther if we eate not are we the worse.

Wetake hede that poure libertie cause not the weake to faule. For if some man se the whych hath knowledge, sit at meate in the Idols temple, shall not the conscience of hym whych is weake, be boldened to eat those thynges whyche are offered vnto the Idol? And so thowow thy knowledge shal the weake brother perpe the for whom christ dyed. When ye synne so agaynst the brethren and wound they? weake consciences ye synne agaynst Christe. Wherefore ye meate hurte my brother, I wyl eate no fleshe whyle the world standeth, because I wil not hurt my brother.

In al oure dedes we must haue a respecte to our neighbours wealth. Rom. xix. c. Charite what it do eth.

But take hede that poure libertie cause not the weake to faule. For if some man se the whych hath knowledge, sit at meate in the Idols temple, shall not the conscience of hym whych is weake, be boldened to eat those thynges whyche are offered vnto the Idol? And so thowow thy knowledge shal the weake brother perpe the for whom christ dyed. When ye synne so agaynst the brethren and wound they? weake consciences ye synne agaynst Christe. Wherefore ye meate hurte my brother, I wyl eate no fleshe whyle the world standeth, because I wil not hurt my brother.

The.ix. Chapter.

He confyrmeth here by example of hym selfe that whyche he began in the eyght chapter, shewing that he neyther vled a wyfe, nor to haue at anye tyme aslued wagies for hys paynes in preachyng, when not withstanding it was lawfull for him, & that because he would not offend the weake.

Am I not an Apostle? Am I not free? *haue I not sene Iesus Christe our lord? Are not ye my work in the lord? If I be not an Apostle vnto other, pet am I vnto you. For the seale of myne Apostle shyp are ye in the lorde. Wyne aunswere to them that are me, is this. Haue we not power to eate, and dryncke? Eyther haue we not power to leade aboute a syster to wyfe as well as other Apostles, and as the brethren record thzen of the lord, and Cephas? Either only I and Barnabas haue not power thys to do? who goeth a warfare anye tyme at hys owne cost? Who planteth a vinearde and eateth not of the fruit. Who fedeth a flock and eateth not of the mylke?

To the Corin. Cha. xi.

Sape I these thynges after the manner of men? Or sayeth not the law the same also? For it is wyrtten in the law of Moyses: Thou shalt not mofell the mouthe of the ope that treadeth out the corne. Doeth God take thoughte for open? Eyther sayeth he it not altogether for oure sakes? For oure sakes no doubt thys is wyrtten: that he whyche eareth, shoulde eare in hoope: and that he whyche threasheth in hope, shoulde be partaker of hys hope. *Yf we sowe vnto you spiritual thynges, is it a great thing if we reape poure carnall thynges? If other be partakers of thys power ouer you: wherefore are not we rather.

Neuertheles* we haue not bled this power, but suffer all thynges, lest we shoulde hynder the Gospel of Christe. Do ye not vnderstande howe that they whych mynistre in the temple, haue they? syndyng of p temple? And they whiche wayte at the altare, are partakers of the aultre? Euen soo also dyd the lordes ordayne* that they whiche preache the Gospel, shoulde lyue of the Gospel. *But I haue vled none of these thynges.

Neyther wrote I these thynges that it shoulde be so done vnto me. For it were better for me to dye, then that anye shoulde take thys reioysynge from me. In that I preache the Gospel, I haue nothyng to reioyce of. For necessitye is put vnto me. What is it vnto me if I preache not the gospel. If I do it wpth a good wpll, I haue a rewarde. But if I do it agaynst my wpl, an offpce is committed vnto me. What is my reward then? Merely that when I preache the gospel, I make the gospel of Christe fre: that I misuse not myne authoritie in the gospel.

For though he I be fre from all men, pet haue I made my selfe seruaunte vnto all men, that I myghte wpn the moo, *vnto the Jewes, I became as a Jew, to win the Jewes. To them that were vnder the law was I made as though I hadde bene vnder the lawe, to wpn them that were vnder law. To them that were without the lawe, became I as though I had bene wpthout the lawe (when I was not without law as partapnyng to God, but vnder a law, as concernyng Christe) to wpn them p were without lawe. To the weake became I as weake, to wpn the the weake. In al thyng I fashioned my selfe to al men, to saue at the lest way some. And thys I do for p gospel sake, that I myghte haue my parte thereof.

Percepue ye not howe that they whiche runne in a course, runne all, pet but one recepueth the rewarde. So run that ye may obtayne. Every mā that proueth maistries ching, and as many were by him conuerted, as by p Apostles. deu. xv. a. i. Timo. v. e. The preacer hath right to chalenge a liuinge for his labour *Ro. xv. f. Gal. vi. b. Actes. xv. g. De. xviii. a.

Math. x. b. Actes. xv. g. i. Thel. ii. b. ii. The. iii. b

De that woorketh of loue too his neighbour, hath his reward what loue maketh man to do

*Act. xvi. a. Gala. ii. a

i. Corin. x. g

D

ab

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

taineth from all thinge. And they doo it to obtaine a corruptible croune, but we to obtaine an * vncorruptible croune. ¶ There- fore so run, not as at an vncertaine thinge. So fight I, not as one þ beateth the ayre: but I tame my body, and bring it into subieccion, lest after that I haue preached to other, I myself shuld be a cast away.

The. i. Chapter.

The tareth yet aboute this, that folowynge their own lustes, they communicate nor of meates offered: and first he warneth them by example of the Jewes, whych prouoked god in the wilderness, to whych also he addeth other, teaching that the Christen lybertie shoulde be ruled by the lawes of charytee.

Brethren I would not that ye shoulde be ignoraunt of this, how that our fathers were all vnder a cloude, and all passed thorow the sea, and were all baptised vnder Moyses, * in the cloude, and * in the sea, * and dyd þ all eat of one spiritual meate, and dyd all þ drinke of one maner of spirituall drinke. And they drancke of that spirituall rocke that folowed them, which rocke was Christe. ¶ But in manye of them had God no delite. For * they were ouerthrowen in the wilderness.

These are ensamples to vs * that wee shoulde not luste after euill things, as they lusted. Neether be ye worshippers of Images as were some of them, according as it is writen. * The people sate doune to eate and drynke, and rose vp againe to playe. Neether let vs commit fornicacion, as some of them committed fornicacion, and were destroyed in one dape * xlii. thousand. Neether let vs tempt Christe as some of theym tempted, and were destroyed of þ serpents. Neether murmure ye as some of them murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

All these thynges happened vnto them for ensamples, and were writen to put vs in remembraunce, whom the endes of the world are come vpon. Wherefore lette hym þ thincketh he standeth, take hede lest he fall. There hath no other temptacion taken pou, but suche as foloweth the nature of manne. But * God is fapthful * whiche shal not suffer pou to be tempted aboue your strength: but shal in the middell of the temptation make a waye to escape oute. ¶ Wherefore my deare beloued, flee fro worshipping of Idoles.

I speake as vnto theym whiche haue discrecion, iudge ye what I saie. Is not the cuppe of blessing which we blesse, partaking of the bloude of Christe? is not the breade whiche we breake, partakinge of þ bodye of Christe? because that we (though we be manye) yet are one breade, and one bodye, in as muche as wee all are partakers of one bread. Beholde Israell whych walketh carnallye, are not they which eat of the sacryfice, partakers of the aultre?

What saie I then? * that the Image is anye thyng? or that it whiche is offered to

to the Corint. chap. x. Fo. lxxx

Images is anye thyng? Naye: but I say, that these thinges whych the Gentiles offer, they offer to deuils and not to God. * And I would not that ye shuld haue fellowship wth the deuilles. Ye can not drinke of the cuppe of the Lorde, and of the cuppe of the deuils. Ye cannot be partakers of the Lordes table, and of the table of deuilles. Either shall we prouoke the Lord? Or are we stronger then he? All thynges are lawefull vnto me, but all thynges are not expedient. All thynges are lawfull to me, but * all thynges edify not. ¶ Let no man seke his owne profit, but let every mā seke anothers wealthe.

Whatsoever is solde in the market, that eate, and are no questions for conscience sake. For * the earth is the Lordes, and all that therein is. If anye of them whych beleue not, bid you to a feast, and if ye be disposed to go, whatsoever is set before you, eate, asyng no questyon for conscience sake. But and if anye man saie vnto you: this is dedicate vnto Idols, eate not of it, for his sake that shewed it, and for hurting of conscience. (The earth is the Lordes and all that therein is) Conscience I saie, not thine, but * the conscience of that other. (a) For why shoulde my liberty be iudged of an other mannes conscience? For if I take my parte wth thanckes, why am I euill spoken of for that thyng, wherefore I geue thanckes?

Whether therfore ye eate or drinke, or whatsoever ye do, do all to þ praise of god.

Se that ye geue occasion of euil, neither to the Jewes, nor yet to the Gentiles, neether to the congregacion of God: euen as * I please al men in al thyngs, not sekynge myne owne profit, but the profit of many, that they myght be saued. Follow me, as I do Christ.

The Notes. (a) We shoulde be so full of loue and so circumspecte, that we shoulde geue none occasion to the ignoraunte to speake euill of vs for any lybertie, and for that whych we may lawfully do before God.

The. xi. Chapter.

The instructeth the common congregacions, and first teacheth how men and women shuld behaue themselves therein. Then correcteth he the Lordes supper whych was corrupt fro the Lordes instytucion through contempcions and riot, and other fautes.

I commend pou brethren that ye remembre me in all thynges, and kepe the ordinaunces euen as I deliuered * them to you. I would you knew that Christe is the head of every man. And the manne is the womans head. And God is Christes head. Every man praynge or prophesyinge hauynge any thyng on his head, hameth his head. Every woman that prayeth or propheseth bare headed, dishonesteth hyr head. For it is euen all one, & the very same thyng, euen as though we were shauen. If the womā be not couered, let hyr also be shoren. * If it be shame for a womā to be shoren.

1. Tim. iiii. b
1. Pet. v. b.

As it wente
in the olde testament so shal it do in the newe.

* Ex. xiii. d.
* Ex. xiii. b * Exo. xvi. c
* Ex. xvii. e.
Rume. xi. g
Au. xvi. g.

Ex. xxi. b.
Au. xvi. b.
Rum. xxi. b.
Math. xvi.
* Au. xxi. c.

Au. xiii. g
and. xvi. b
* Au. xxi. b

Au. xlii. e.
1. Cor. i. b
1. Thes. v. b
1. Pe. ii. b

Cup.

Breade.

1. Cor. vlii. a

Ec. xxi. b. b
We haue professed e uery mā to seeke anothers
welth.

1. Cor. vi. c
Ps. xlii. a

Psal. xvi. a
1. Co. vii. b
1. Cl. iiii. a

Colo. iii. e

1. Cor. ix. d

Why shold
that my li-
bertie. &c.

Eph. v. c
Or rather taught you * Gen. ii. d.
Eph. v. c

Deu. xxi. a

The .i. epistle of S. Paule to the Corinthy. Chap. xi.

or Hauen, let hir couer hyr heade.

Gen. ii. d. B A man ought not to couer hys heade, for as muche as he is the ymage and glorie of God. The woman is the glorie of the man. For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man. Neyther was the man created for the womans sake: but the woman for the mannes sake. For thys cause is as much ought the woman to haue * power on hyr to say as a head, for the angels sakes. Neytherleste, signe that neyther is the man wthout the woman, the womā neyther the woman wthout the manne in is in sub= the Lord. For as the woman is of the man, leccion, & euen so is the man by the woman: but al is hathe an of God.

* Power Judge in your selues whether it be comelye, that a woman praye vnto God bare headed. Or els doth not nature teache you that it is a shame for a man, if he haue long heare: and a prayse to a woman, if she haue long heare? For hyr heare is geuen hyr to couer hyr withall. If ther be anye man amonge you that lusteth to stryue, lette him know that we haue no such custome, neyther the congregacions of God.

I Thys I warne you of, and comend not, that ye come together, not after a better manner but after a worse. For of all when ye come together in the congregacion, I hear that there is dissencion amonge you: and I partly beleue it. For there must be * sectes among you, that they whych are perfect among you, might be knowen.

The lords Supper. * When ye come together, a man can not eat the Lords supper. For euery man beginneth afoze to eat his owne supper. And one is houngey, and another is droncken. Haue ye not houses to eat and to drinke in? Or els dispyse ye the congregacion of God, and shame the that haue not? What shall I say vnto you? Shall I praise you? In this, praise I you not. &

Or rather taught you. What. xvi. Luk. xii. b The insti- tucion of the sacra- mente. 1. Pet. ii. d. Actes. i. b John. vi. f 1. Cor. xiii. b 11. Cor. xiii. b Eccl. xviii. e * That which I deliuered * vnto you, I receiued of the Lord. For the Lord Iesus in the same night, in whych he was betrayed, toke bread: and thanked, and brake, & said. * take ye, eat ye; (a) thys is my body which is broke for you. This do ye in remembrance of me. After the same maner, he toke & cup when supper was done, sayinge. This cup is the newe testament in my bloude. Thys do as ofte as ye dryncke it, in the remembrance of me. For as often as ye shall eate thys bread, and dryncke thys cup, * ye shall shewe the Lordes death * till he come. * Wherefore, whosoever shall eate of thys bread, or drinke of the cuppe vnworthely, shall be gyltpe of the body and bloud of the Lord. * Let a mā therfore examen himself, and so let him eat of the bread and drinke of the cup. For he that eateth or drincketh vnworthely, eateth and drincketh his own dampnacyn, because he maketh no (b) difference of the Lordes body. &

Or rather among you, and manye * slepe. If we had are deade. truly iudged our selues, we shuld not haue bene iudged. But when we are iudged of Lord, we are chastened, because we shuld not be dampned wth the * world. Wher= i. 1. Thon. ii. fore my brethzen, when ye come together to eat, tary one for another. If any mā hunger, let hym eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnacion. Other thinges will I sette in orde when I come.

The Notes.

(a) Of these wordes is sufficiently spoken in 1. Thon. ii. re. vi. of Mathew. (b) Upon these wordes woulde some men sayne ouylde the oppnyon of the bodelye presence of Christ in the sacramente. What difference (saye they) shoulde there be, if the sacrament were not a natural body of Christ? Certes this difference. The sacramentall bread and wyne beyng distributed amonge the faythfull and receiued of the same, shall certyfy them euen (as it were sensyble) of the redempcyon by Christ, where the commune bread doth but fede the body. Yea and the moze spirituall interpretores of thys place, do take these wordes to be spoken of the congregacyon, whych is truly called the body of the Lord. As though Paule shoulde haue sayd. Puttyng no difference between the faithfull and the vnbeleuyng.

The. xii. Chapter.

There were amonge the Corinthians certayne false teachers, whose spyrites he teacheth them to iudge. There were other besyde, whych abused the gyftes of the spyrite to theyr pryde and enuye, and wer authors of dissencion, whom he checketh here wth a sympletyde of a bodye, and the members, shewyng that the church is one bodye and dyuers members.

I * Spiritual thynge brethzen, I wold not haue you ignoraunt. Ye knowe that Ipe were gentyles, and went your wapes vnto dumme Idols, euen as you were led. Wherefore I declare vnto you, that * no man speakyng in the spirit of God defieth Iesus. Also no man can say, that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy ghozte.

* There are diuers tytes of gyftes verely, pet but one spyrite. And there are dyfferences of administracions, and pet but one Lord. And there are diuers maners of ope racions, and pet but one God which worketh all thynge that are wroughte, in all creatures. * The gyftes * of the spyrite are geuen to euery man to profyt the congregacion. To one is geuen thorowe the spyrite, the utteraunce of wisdom. To another is geuen the utteraunce of knowlege by the same spyrite. To another is geuen sayeth by the same spyrite. To another the gyftes of healyng, by the same spyrite. To another power to do myracles. To another prophesy. To * another iudgement of spyrites. To another diuers tounge. To another the interpretacion of tounge. And these all worketh euen the selfe same spyrite, deuydng to euery man seuerall gyftes, euen as he will. &

* For as the bodye is one, and hath manye members, and all the members of one bodye though they be manye, yet are they but one

This is mi bodpe. makynge no diffe- rence. &c.

Rom. xii. a Ephe. iiii. b Onely the spirit tea- cheth.

1. Cor. xii. f that chri

is the lord

Rom. xii. a One spirit

One Lord

One God

Ephe. iiii. b The gyfts

of & spirit

at geue us

to do ser

uice to our brethzen.

1. Joh. iiii. b

Rom. xii. a Ephe. iiii. b one bodye, euen so is Christ. For in one spirite are we all baptysed to make one body, whether we be Jewes or gentils, whether we be bond or fre: and haue * al droncke of one spirit. For the body is not one member but many. If the fote say: I am not y<sup>e</sup> had, therfore I am not of the body: is he therfore not of the body? And if the eare say: I am not the eye: therfore I am not of the body: is he therfore not of the body? If all the body were an eye, where were then the eare? * If al were hearynge, wher were the smellpng?

* Or rather hearpunge.

But nowe hath God disposed the members euerpe one of them in the body, at hys own pleasure. If they wer al one member: wher were the body? Now are there many members, yet but one body. And the eye can not say vnto the hande, I haue no nede of the: nor the heade also to the feete: I haue no nede of you. Yea rather a greate deale those members of the body, which seme to be most feble are most necessary. And vpon those members of the body which we thinke least honest, put we most honeste on. And our vngoodly parties haue most beauti on. For our honeste members nede it not. But God hath so disposed the body, and hath geuen most honour to that part which lacked, least there should be any scryfe in the body, but that the members should indifferently care one for another. And if one member be hadde in hono<sup>r</sup>, all the members bee glad also.

Math. x. d. Luke. xi. a. Ephes. iiii.

Ye are the body of Christ, and members one of another. And God hath also ordeyned the congregacon * first the Apostles, secondarely prophetes, thyrday teachers, then them that do miracles: after that the gyftes of healyng, helpers, gouerners, dyuersitype of tounes. Are all Apostles? Are all prophetes? Are all teachers? Are al doers of myracles? Haue all the gyftes of healyng? Do all speake wth tounes? Do al interprete? Couet after the best gyftes. And yet shew I vnto you a more excellent way.

The. xiii. Chapter.

To thintent he maye take awaye the inuoures of the cōtencious, alwaye the grudge of the inferiours, and abate the pryde of the superiours, he wyrteth the prayse of charitye, teachyng that the greatest vertues are nothyng worth, excepte they haue charitye toynd vnto them.

Mat. vii. c. Luk. xii. d.

Though I spake wth tounes of men and aungels, and yet had no loue, I were euen as soundyng brasse, or as a tynkelinge Limbal. And though I coulde prophesy, and vnderstand all secretes, and all knowledge. Yea, if I had * al faith, so * as muche that I could moue mountains out of their places, & yet had no loue, I were nothing. So stronge And though I bestowed all my goodes to a fapeth. fede the poore, and though I gaue my body euen that I burned, and yet hadde no loue, it profiteth me nothyng.

Loue suffereth longe, and is courteous,

Loue enuieth not. Loue doth not frowardly, swelleth not, dealeth not dishonestly, * seketh not hit owne, is not prouoked too anger, thynketh not euyl, reioyceeth not in iniquitie: but reioyceeth in the truthe, suffe<sup>r</sup>eth all thynges, beleueth all thynges, hope<sup>t</sup>h all thynges, endureth in all thynges. Though that prophesyinge faple, epyther tounes shall cease, or knowledge vanishe away, yet loue fapleth neuer away.

Loue. 1. Corin. x. f. Phil. ii. a.

For our knowledge is vnperfect: & our prophesying is vnperfecte. But when that which is perfect, is come, then that which is vnperfect shall be done awaye: When I was a chyld, I spoke as a chyld, I vnderstode as a chyld, I imagined as a chyld. But as sone as I was a man, I put awaye childishnes. Nowe we se in a glasse euen in a darcke speaking, but then shal we se face to face. Now I know vnperfectly: but the shall I knowe euen as I am knowe. Now abideth fapeth, hope, and loue, euen these thre: but (a) the chiefe of these is loue.

The Notes.

(a) Paule speaketh not here of iustification, but of the profyte of the congregacon. And in this respect is loue the chiefe, because it lobeth diligently to the nede of our neyghboure, and seeketh meanes to succoure the same: euen as in iustification sayth cleaueth fully and only vnto Christs bloud, whiche is the onely and sufficient pyre for synne, and is therfore chiefe therein. On this sorte doeth Erasmus expounde in hys annotacyon vpon this place.

The. xiii. Chapter.

He returneth nowe to correcte those of the churche: for certayne learned in theyr owne conceytes, abused theyr tounes and preachinge. Therfore restored he the true meane of interpreting the scriptures, and teacheth what the studye of tounes ought to be.

Aboute for loue, and couete spirituall gyftes: and most chiefly for to prophe<sup>s</sup>e. For he that speaketh with tongs, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God, for no man heareth him: howbeit in the spirite taken for he speaketh misteryes. But he that prophe<sup>s</sup>eth, speaketh vnto men, to edyfyng, to byng, exhortacon, and to comfort. He that speaketh with tounes, profyteth him selfe, * he that prophe<sup>s</sup>eth, edifyeth the congregacon. * I woulde that ye all spake wth tounes: but rather that ye prophe<sup>s</sup>ed. For greater is he that prophe<sup>s</sup>ieth, then he that (a) speaketh with tounes, excepte he expounde it also, that the congregacon maye haue edyfyng. Nowe brethren if I come vnto you, speakinge with tounes, what shall I profyt you? excepte I speake vnto you, epyther by reuelacon or knowledge, or prophesying or doctrine.

Wordes that are not vnderstand, profite not.

Moreouer when thynges wthout lpe geue sound, whether it be a pipe, or an harp: except they make a distinccion in the soundes, how shall it be knowen what is pyped or harped? And also, if the trompe geue an vncertayne voice, who shall prepare hym selfe to fpyghte? Euen so lpkewyse wh<sup>e</sup> ye

Do o o. iiii. speake

The .i. epistle of S. Paule

speake with tounge, except ye speake wordes that haue significacion, how shall it be vnderstande what is spoken? For ye shall but speake in the ayer.

Many kindes of voyces are in the world and none of them are withoute significacion. If I know not what the voice meaneth, I shall be vnto him that speaketh, an alient, and he that speaketh shall be an alient vnto me. Euen so ye (for as much as ye couete spirituall giftes) seke that ye maye haue plentie vnto the edifying of the congregacion.

Wherfore let him that speaketh wpth tounge pray that he maye interprete also. If I praye wpth tounge, my spirit prayeth, but my minde is without fruite. What is it then? I will praye with the spirit, and will praye with minde also. I will synge wpth the spirit, and will singe with the minde also.

For els when thou blestest with the spirit, howe shall he that occupieth the rounge of the vnlearned sape: amen, at the geuing of thanckes, seynge he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest? Thou verely geuest thanckes wel, but other is not edified. I thake my God, I speake with tounge more the pe all. Yet had I leuer in the congregacio, to speake spue words with my mind to the informacion of other, rather then ten thousand wordes with the tounge.

Brethren be not childzen in wpt, howbeit as cōcerning maliciousnes be chyldre, but in wit be perfect. In law it is writte *with other tounge, and wpth other lippes wpll I speake vnto thys people, & yet for all that wpll they not heare me, sayeth the Lord. Wherfore, tounge ar for a signe not to them that beleue: but to them that beleue not. Contrarywise, prophesying serueth not for them that beleue not, but for them whiche beleue.

El. xviii. c * Or rather wpth diuers tounges.

If therfore when all the congregacion is come together, and all speake with tounge, ther come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleue not: wil they not sape that ye are out of pour wittes? But and if all prophesy, and ther come in one that beleueth not, or one vnlearned, he is rebuked of all men, and is iudged of euerye manne: and so are the secretes of hys hert opened, and so falleth he doune on hys face, & worshippeth God, and sayth that God is with pou in deede.

How is it then brethren? When ye come together, euerye man hath his songe, hath his doctrine, hath his tounge, hath hys reuelacion, hath hys interpretacion. Let all things be done vnto edifying. If any man speake with tounge, lette it be two at once, or at the moste thre at once, and that by course: and let another interpret it. But if there be no interpreter, let him kepe silence in the congregacion, and lette hym speake to him selfe and to God.

Let the prophetes speake two at once, ## to the Corinth. Chap. xv.

or thre at once, and *let other iudge. And if anye reuelacion bee made to another that sitteth by, let the spirit holde his peace. For ye maye all prophesye, one by one, that all may learne, and al may haue comfort. For the spirit of the prophetes are in the power of the prophetes. For God is not cause of strife *but of peace, as he is in all other congregacions of the saincts.

*Let pour wiues kepe splence in the congregacions. For it is not permitted vnto them to speake: but let them be vnder obedience, as saith the law. If they wil learne any thyng, let them be their housbands at home. For it is shame for women to speake in the congregacion. Sprong the word of God from you? Either came it vnto you onely? If any man thinke him selfe a prophet, epther spiritual: let him vnderstande what thynges I write vnto you. For they are the commaundementes of the Lord. But and if any man be ignoraunt, let hym be ignoraunt. Wherfore couete to prophesy, and forbidd not to speake wpth tounge. And lette all thynges be done honestly and in order.

Roma. xii.

1. Cor. xii.

1. Tim. ii. d

Gen. iii. c

The woman must be in subieccion to

hys husband.

Colo. ii. a.

The Notes.

(a) To speake wpth tounge or with the spirit, is to speake that other vnderstand not: as p. 1. stes sape they? scrupce. To speake with mind, is to speake that other vnderstande, as when the preacher preacheth to the people in a tounge that they vnderstande.

To speake with toun-
ges.

The. xv. Chapter.

Because there were among the Corinthians that called into doute the resynge of the bodys agayne, the Apostle dispatcheth that doubt, teachyng first that Christ rose agayn, and that thys is the comforte of our religi- on, and than proueth well that we shall rise agayne, last he teacheth what oure resurrec- cyon shall be.

Brethren, as pertaining to the gospel which I preached vnto you, which ye haue also accepted, and in the whiche ye continue, by whiche also ye are saued: I do pou to witte, after what maner I preached vnto you, if ye kepe it, excepte ye haue beleued in vayne.

For first of all I deliuered vnto you that whiche I receyued, *howe that *Christ died for our synnes agreing to the scripturs, and *that he was buryed, and that he rose again the thrid day, according to the scrip- tures, and that he was sene of * Cephas, then of the twelue. After that he was sene of mo then fyue hundred brethren at once, of which many remaine vnto this day, and manye are fallen a slepe. After that appea- red he to James, then to all the Apostles. And last of al he was sene of me, as of one that was borne out of due tyme. For I am the least of all the Apostles, whiche am not worthe to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the congregacion of God. But by the grace of God I am that I am. And hys grace whiche is in me, was not in principle of oure faith.

The spirit

Or rather taughte
you that whiche I learned.

El. l. iii. d.

ma. xviii. b

Thon. ix. a.

Jona. ii. a.

De. ix. a.

Thon. ix. c.

Lu. xxi. b

Actes. ix. a.

Eph. iii. b

Acte. i. a.

tr. a. xxi. a.

and. xxi. b

Gala. ii. c

vaine.

The .i. Epistle of S. Paul

to the Corin. Cha. xv. Fo. lxxxix.

baine. & But I laboured more abundantly then they all, not I; but the grace of god whiche is with mee. Whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleued.

Resurreccyon. If Christ be preached howe that he rose from death, how say some that are among you, that ther is no resurreccion fro death?

If there be no rylpyng againe from death, then is Christ not rylsen. If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and poure faith is also in vaine. Ye and we are found false witnesses of God. For we haue testy-fied of God, how that he rased vp Christ: whom he raised not vp, if it be so that the dead rylse not vp againe. For if the dead rise not againe, then is Christ not rylsen againe.
If it be so, that Christ rose not, the is your fayth in vayne, and yet are ye in your syn-
nes. And thereto they whypche are fallen aslepe in Christ, are perished. If in this lyfe onely we beleue on Christe, then are we of all men the miserablest.

Colof. i. c
First fruy-
tes. But now is Christ risen from the dead, & is become the fyrste fruytes of them that slepte. For by a man came death, and by a man came the resurreccion of the dead. For

Apocal. i. b
i. i. i. b. as by Adam all dye: euen so by Christ shall all be made alpyue, and euery manne in hys

Psal. xix. a
Mat. xxii. d
Hebr. i. d.
Psal. viii. c
Hebr. ii. d owne order. The fyrste is Christe, then they that are Christes at his comming. Then cometh the ende, when he hath delpyuered vp the kyngdome to God the father, when he hath put downe all rule, authoritie & power. For he must reigne tyll he haue put all his enemyes vnder his fete. The last enemy that shalbe destroyed, is death. For he hath put all thinges vnder his fete. But when he sayeth, all thinges are put vnder him, it is manifest that he is excepted which dyd put all thinges vnder him. When all thynges are subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne
also him selfe be subiect to him, that put al thynges vnder him, that God maye be all in all thynges. Epyther els, what doo they which are baptysed ouer the dead, if the dead rylse not at all? Why are they then (a) baptysed ouer the dead? yea and why stand we
in ioperdy euery houre? By our reioysinge which I haue in Christe Iesu our Lorde, I dye daylye. That I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus, after the maner of men,
what auantageth it me, if the deade rylse not againe. Let vs eate and drinke, to morrow we shall dye. Be not deceyued: malicious speakig corrupt good maners. Awake truly out of slepe, and synne not. For some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this vnto your rebuke.

Eccl. xxi.
Sap. ii. b.

E But some man wil saye: how arylse the
deade? wpth what bodyes come they in?
Thou foole, that whypch thou sowest is not quyckened except it dye. And what sowest thou? Thou sowest not that body, that shal be but bare corne (I mean either of wheat or of some other) and God geueth it a body at hys pleasure, to euery seede a seuerall bodye.

All fleshe is not one maner of fleshe: but there is one maner fleshe of men, another maner fleshe of beasts, another maner fleshe
of fishes, and another of byrdes.

There are celestypall bodyes, and ther are bodies terrestriall. But the glory of the celestypall is one, and the glory of terrestypall another. There is one maner glorie of the sunne, and another glory of the mone, another glory of the starres. For one star differeth from another in glory. So is the resur-reccion of the dead. It is sowed in corrup-cion, and riseth in incorrupcion. It is sowed in dishonour, & riseth in honoz. It is sowed in weakenes, & riseth in power. It is sowed a naturall body, & riseth a spirituall bodye.

There is a naturall body, there is a spi-
rituall bodye, as it is wrytten: the first man Adam was made a luyng soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirite.
Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual: but that whypch is natural, and the that whypch is spiritual. Genes. ii. b.

The first man is of the earth, earthly: the second man is the Lord from heauen. As is the earthy, such are they that are earthlye.
And as is the heavenly, such are they that are heavenly. And as we haue borne the mage of the earthlye, so shall we beare the Image of the heavenly. Image of

Thys I say brethern, that (b) fleshe and
bloude cannot inherite the kyngdome of god: Neither corrupcion inherit vncorru-cyon. Beholde I shewe you a mystery. Wee shall not all slepe: but we shal all be chaunged, and that in a moment and in the twinking of an eye at the sound of the last tro-pette. For the trompe shall blowe, and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shall be chaunged. For this corruptible must put on incorruptibility: and this mortall muste put on immortality. When this corruptyble hath put on incorruptibility, and thys mortall hath put on immortality: the shall be brought to pas the sayinge that is written: *Death is consumed into victorpe. Corrupci- Death, wher is thy styng? Wel, wher is thy on a bloud victorpe? The styng of death is sin: and the canot. sc.
strength of sinne is the law. But thanckes i. i. c. i. d.
be vnto God, which hath geue vs *victorpe. Phil. iii. d.
The lawe thorow our Lorde Iesus Christe. Therefore is the my deare brethern, be ye stedfast and vnmouable, alwayes riche in the worckes of the Lord, for as much as ye knowe howe that your labour is not in vaine in the Lorde.

The Notes.

(a) In myne owne oppnyon, the translacyon Baptysed shuld be better, if it were baptysed for the dead. over the
For though it be credyble ynough, and well a- dead, gryng to the purpose, that some men woulde be baptysed (that is to say washed) ouer the graues of men departed thys lyfe in token the same bodyes shoulde at the laste daye be purp-fied, and so rased agayne: yet is it more lyke truth, that in thys place S. Paule alluded to the lawe of Moyles, whypche was that whoso-uer shoulde touche the vncleannes of a deade body, shoulde be vncleane tyll eucnyng, and shoulde not be

The .i. Epistle of S. Paul

to the Corin. Cha. xv. Fo. lxxxii.

baine. & But I laboured more abundantly then they all, not I; but the grace of god whiche is with mee. Whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleued.

Resurrec-
cyon. If Christ be preached howe that he rose from death, how say some that are among
you, that ther is no resurreccion fro death?

If there be no rylsunge againe from death, then is Christ not risen. If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and poure
faith is also in vaine. Ye and we are found false witnesses of God. For we haue testy-fied of God, how that he raysted vp Christ: whom he raysted not vp, if it be so that the dead rylse not vp againe. For if the dead rise not againe, then is Christ not risen againe.
If it be so, that Christ rose not, the is your fayth in vayne, and yet are ye in your syn-
nes. And thereto they whypche are fallen aslepe in Christ, are perished. If in this lyfe onely we beleue on Christe, then are we of
all men the miserablest.

Colof. i. c
First fruy-
tes. But now is Christ risen from the dead, &
is become the fyrste fruytes of them that slepte. For by a man came death, and by a man came the resurreccion of the dead. For

Apocal. i. b
1. Ti. iiii. b as by Adam all dye: euen so by Christ shall all be made alpyue, and euery manne in hys owne order. The fyrste is Christe, then they that are Christes at his comming. Then cometh the ende, when he hath delpyuered vp the kyngdome to God the father, when he hath put downe all rule, authoritie & pow-

Psal. xix. a
Mat. xxii. d
Hebru. i. d
Psal. viii. c
Hebru. ii. d er. For he must reigne tyll he haue put all his enemyes vnder his fete. The last enemy that shalbe destroyed, is death. For he hath put all thinges vnder his fete. But when he sayeth, all thinges are put vnder him, it is manifest that he is excepted which dyd put
all thinges vnder him. When all thynges
are subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne
also him selfe be subiect to him, that put al thynges vnder him, that God maye be all in all thynges. Epyther els, what doo they
which are baptysed ouer the dead, if the dead
rylse not at all? Why are they then (a) baptysed ouer the dead? yea and why stand we
in ioperdy euery houre? By our reioysinge
which I haue in Christe Iesu our Lorde, I dye daylye. That I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus, after the maner of men,
what auantageth it me, if the deade rylse
not againe. Let vs eate and drinke, to morrow we shall dye. Be not deceyued: malicious speakig corrupt good maners. Awake truly out of slepe, and synne not. For some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake
this vnto your rebuke.

1. Cor. xv. b
1. Cor. xv. b

E But some man wil saye: how arylse the
deade? wpth what bodyes come they in?
Thou foole, that whypch thou sowest is not quyckened except it dye. And what sowest thou? Thou sowest not that body, that shal
be but bare corne (I mean either of wheat
or of some other) and God geueth it a body at hys pleasure, to euery seede a seue-
rall bodye.

All fleshe is not one maner of fleshe: but there is one maner fleshe of men, another
maner fleshe of beasts, another maner fleshe
of fishes, and another of byrdes.

There are celestypall bodyes, and ther are bodies terrestriall. But the glory of the celestypall is one, and the glory of terrestypall another. There is one maner glorie of the sunne, and another glory of the mone, another glory of the starres. For one star differeth from another in glory. So is the resur-reccion of the dead. It is sowed in corrup-
cion, and riseth in incorrupcion. It is sowed in dishonour, & riseth in honoz. It is sowed
in weakenes, & riseth in power. It is sowed a natural body, & riseth a spirituall bodye.

There is a naturall body, there is a spi-
rituall bodye, as it is wrytten: the first man Adam was made a luyng soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirite.
Howbeit that is not first which is spiritual: but that whypch is natural, and the that whypch is spiritual. &

The first man is of the earth, earthly: the second man is the Lord from heauen. As is the earthy, such are they that are earthlye.
And as is the heavenly, such are they that are heavenly. And as we haue borne the
mage of the earthlye, so shall we beare the Image of the heavenly.

Thys I say brethern, that (b) fleshe and
bloude cannot inherite the kyngdome of god: Neither corrupcion inherit vncorruptcyon. Beholde I shewe you a mystery. Wee shall not all slepe: but we shal all be chaun-
ged, and that in a moment and in the twin-
king of an eye at the sound of the last tro-pette. For the trompe shall blowe, and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shall be chaunged. For this corruptible must put
on incorruptibility: and this mortall muste
put on immortality. When this corrupty-
ble hath put on incorruptibility, and thys
mortall hath put on immortality: the shall
be brought to pas the sayinge that is written: * Death is consumed into victorpe. & Death, wher is thy styng? Wel, wher is thy victorpe? The styng of death is sin: and the strength of sinne is the law. But thanckes be vnto God, which hath geue vs * victorpe.
Thozow our Lorde Iesus Christe. Therefore is my deare brethern, be ye stedfast and vnmo-
uable, alwayes riche in the worckes of the Lord, for as much as ye knowe howe that your labour is not in vaine in the Lorde.

The Notes.

(a) In myne owne oppnyon, the translacon Baptysed shuld be better, if it were baptysed for the dead. For though it be credyble ynough, and well a-gryng to the purpose, that some men would be baptysed (that is to say washed) ouer the graues of men departed thys lyfe in token of those same bodyes shoulde at the laste daye be purp-fied, and so raysted agayne: yet is it more lyke truth, that in thys place S. Paule alluded to the lawe of Moyles, whypche was that whoso-uer shoulde touche the backennes of a deade body, shoulde be vnclene tyll eucnyng, and shoulde
not be

Genes. ii. 6

Image of Christe.

Corrupcion & bloud
canot. &c.
1. Cor. xv. d.
Phil. iii. d.

1. Cor. xv. e
Dle. xiii. d
Hebru. ii. d.
1. Thon. v. a

The lawe
of sin.

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

not be worthe to eate of the halowed thyngs, tyll he had washed hys flesh wyth water, to declare the hope of the purgynge of the same body, and glorious resurrection of the same. So that to be daptysed or washed for the deade, is as muche to saye, as for touchynge of the deade corpes of men departed.

Flethe and bloude can not inherite the kyngdome of God.

(b) That is to say: Thys corruptible vnpure & synful flesh must be purged, yer it can inherite the kyngdome of God, which is vncorruptible, pure, and that can abyde no synne. No remedy therfore, thys flethe must be chaunged & ryle in: corruptible, that it may enter into y<sup>e</sup> kyngdome.

The. xvi. Chapter.

He sheweth certayne speciall thyngs for gathering to be made, to be bestowed vpon the sayntes, and of his commynge. Then commendeth he vnto them Timothe. And after salutacions, he geueth them commaundement of charytee one towarde another, and of the loue of Christ.

Actes. xi. d. Rom. xv. f. ii. Cor. vii. a. and. ix. a.

Of the *gatherynge for the sayntes, as I haue ordeyned in the congregacions of Galacia, euen so do ye. Vpon some sundaye let euerye one of you put aside at home, & lay vp whatsoeuer he thynketh mete, that there bee no gatherynge when I come.

When I am come, whomsoeuer ye shall alow by your letters, them will I sende to bring your liberalitie vnto Jerusalem. And if it be mete that I go, they shall goo with me. I wyl come vnto you after I haue gone ouer Macedonia. For I will go throughtout *Macedonia. Wylth you peraduenture I will abyde a while, or els wylter, that ye may bring me on my way whither soeuer I go.

Actes. xix. d. ii. Cor. i. f.

I wyl not see you nowe in my passage. But I trust to abide a while wyth you, if God shall suffer me. I will tarpe at Ephesus vntill whitsontyde. For a great doore, & a fruitefull is opened to me, and there are many aduersaries. If Timotheus come, see that he be without feare with you. For he worketh the worke of the Lord as I do. Let no man despise him: but conuaye hym forth in peace that he maye come vnto me.

i. Corin. xv. Actes. xix. d.

For I loke for him with the brethren. To speake of brother Apollo, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren, but hys minde was not at all to come at thys time: Howbeit he will come when he shall haue conuenient tyme. Watche ye, stande fast in the fayth, quyte you lyke men, & be strong, & let your busynes be done in loue.

Act. xviii. c. i. Corin. i. c. and. iii. a.

Brethren (ye know the house of *Stephana, how that they are the first fruytes of Achaia, and that they haue appoynted themselves to minister vnto the sayntes) I beseech you that ye be obedyent vnto suche, and to all that helpe and labour. I am glad of the commynge of Stephanus, Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lackinge on your parte, they haue supplied. They haue comforted my spirit and yours. Loke therfore that ye know the p<sup>r</sup> ar such.

First tract. 66.

The congregacions of Asia salute you.

to the Corint. Chapt. xvi

Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, and so doth the congregacion that is in their house. All the brethren grete you.

*Grete ye one another with an holy kisse: The salutacion of me Paule with mine owne hande. If any man loue not the Lord Jesus Christ, the same *be Anathema Maanatha. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you al. My loue be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The ende of the first Epistle vnto the Corinthians. Sent from Philippios, by Stephanus and Fortunatus and Achaicus and Timotheus.

Rom. xvi. c. *Thesane be a coursed at the lordes commynge. Or as some wil, y<sup>e</sup> same be excommunicate and accursed to death.

The Prologe vpon the seconde Epylle of S. Paule to the Corinthians.

In y<sup>e</sup> first Epistle he rebuketh the Corinthians that pelye, so in thys he comforteth them, prayseth them, and commaundeth him that was excommunicat to be receiued louynge into the congregacyon agayne.

And in the first and second chapters he sheweth hys loue to themward, how that all that he spake, or dyd suffer, was for theyr sakes and for theyr salutacyon.

Then in the. iii. and. v. he prayseth the offyce of preachynge the Gospell aboue the preachynge of the law, and sheweth that the Gospell groweth throughtout persecucion and throughtout the crosse, which maketh a man sure of eternal life: and here and there he touched the false Prophetes, whyche studyed to tourne the fayth of y<sup>e</sup> people from Christ vnto the worke of the law.

In the. vi. and. vii. chapters he exhorteth the to suffer wyth the Gospell, and to lyue as it becommeth the Gospell, and prayseth hymselfe in the latter ende.

In the. viii. and. ix. Chapters he exhorteth them to helpe poore sayntes that were at Jerusalem.

In the. x. and. xi. and. xii. he enueryeth agaynst the false Prophetes.

And in the last chapter he threateneth them that had synned, and not amended them selues.

The seconde Epylle of sayncte Paule the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

There were of the Corinthians which objected to Paul, that all hys diligence and tribulacion was onely to cause sedicion, wherefore he begynneth hys Epistle wyth the mencion of hys affliction, shewynge what he had suffered, and how louynge he had founde the fauoure of God. Then proueth he howe vngyghtly he dyd hys offyce agaynst them which dyd accuse hym of lyeinge, because that he was not yet come to them accordynge to hys promise, shewynge the cause why he came not.

Paule

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

not be worthe to eate of the halowed thyngs, tyll he had washed hys flesh wyth water, to declare the hope of the purgynge of the same body, and glorious resurrection of the same. So that to be daptysed or washed for the deade, is as muche to saye, as for touchynge of the deade corpses of men departed.

Flethe and bloude can not inherite the kyngdome of God.

(b) That is to say: Thys corruptible vnpure & synful flesh must be purged, yer it can inherite the kyngdome of God, which is vncorruptible, pure, and that can abyde no synne. No remedy therfore, thys flethe must be chaunged & ryle in: corruptible, that it may enter into y<sup>e</sup> kyngdome.

The. xvi. Chapter.

He sheweth certayne speciall thyngs for gathering to be made, to be bestowed vpon the sayntes, and of his comming. Then commendeth he vnto them Timothe. And after salutacions, he geueth them commaundement of charytee one towarde another, and of the loue of Christ.

Actes. xi. d. Rom. xv. f. ii. Cor. vii. a. and. ix. a.

Of the *gatherynge for the sayntes, as I haue ordeyned in the congregacions of Galacia, euen so do ye. Vpon some sundaye let euerye one of you put aside at home, & lay vp whatsoeuer he thynketh mete, that there bee no gatherynge when I come.

When I am come, whomsoeuer ye shall alow by your letters, them will I sende to bring your liberalitie vnto Jerusalem. And if it be mete that I go, they shall goo with me. I wyl come vnto you after I haue gone ouer Macedonia. For I will go thoroughout *Macedonia. Wylth you peraduenture I will abyde a while, or els wylter, that ye may bring me on my way whither soeuer I go.

Actes. xix. d. ii. Cor. i. f.

I wyl not see you nowe in my passage. But I trust to abide a while wyth you, if God shall suffer me. I will tarpe at Ephesus vntill whitsontyde. For a great doore, & a fruitefull is opened to me, and there are many aduersaries. If *Timotheus come, see that he be without feare with you. For he worketh the worke of the Lord as I do. Let no man despise him: but conuaye hym forth in peace that he maye come vnto me.

i. Corin. xv. Actes. xix. d.

For I loke for him with the brethren. To speake of brother Apollo, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren, but hys minde was not at all to come at thys time: Howbeit he will come when he shall haue conuenient tyme. Watche ye, stande fast in the fayth, quyte you lyke men, & be strong, & let your busynes be done in loue.

Act. xviii. c. i. Corin. i. c. and. iii. a.

Brethren (ye know the house of *Stephana, how that they are the first fruytes of Achaia, and that they haue appoynted themselves to minister vnto the sayntes) I beseech you that ye be obedyent vnto such, and to all that helpe and labour. I am glad of the commynge of Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lackinge on your parte, they haue supplied. They haue comforted my spirit and yours. Loke therfore that ye know the p<sup>r</sup> ar such.

First fruytes.

The congregacions of Asia salute you.

to the Corint. Chapt. xvi

Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, and so doth the congregacion that is in their house. All the brethren grete you.

*Grete ye one another with an holy kisse: The salutacion of me Paule with mine owne hande. If any man loue not the Lord Jesus Christ, the same *be Anathema Maanatha. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you al. My loue be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The ende of the first Epistle vnto the Corinthians. Sent from Philippios, by Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus and Timotheus.

Rom. xvi. c. *Thesane be a coursed at the lordes commynge. Or as some wil, p<sup>r</sup> same be excommunicate and accursed to death.

The Prologe vpon the seconde Epytyle of S. Paule to the Corinthians.

In y<sup>e</sup> first Epistle he rebuketh the Corinthians that pelye, so in thys he comforteth them, prayseth them, and commaundeth him that was excommunicat to be receiued louynge into the congregacyon agayne.

And in the first and second chapters he sheweth hys loue to themward, how that all that he spake, or dyd suffer, was for theyr sakes and for theyr salutacyon.

Then in the. iii. iii. and. v. he prayseth the offyce of preachynge the Gospell aboue the preachinge of the law, and sheweth that the Gospell groweth thowow persecucion and thowow the crosse, whych maketh a man sure of eternal life: and here and there he touched the false Prophetes, wherhe studyed to tourne the fayth of y<sup>e</sup> people from Christ vnto the worke of the law.

In the. vi. and. vii. chapters he exhorteth the to suffer wyth the Gospell, and to lyue as it becommeth the Gospell, and prayseth hymselfe in the latter ende.

In the. viii. and. ix. Chapters he exhorteth them to helpe poore sayntes that were at Jerusalem.

In the. x. and. xi. and. xii. he enueyeth agaynst the false Prophetes.

And in the last chapter he threateneth them that had synned, and not amended them selues.

The seconde Epytyle of sayncte Paule the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

There were of the Corinthians which objected to Paule, that all hys diligence and tribulacion was onelye to cause sedicion, wherfore he begynneth hys Epistle wyth the mencion of hys affliction, shewynge what he had suffered, and how louynge he had founde the fauoure of God. Then proueth he howe vngyghtly he dyd hys offyce agaynst them which dyd accuse hym of lyeinge, because that he was not yet come to them accordynge to hys promyse, shewynge the cause why he came not.

Paule

Gala. i. a.
Ephes. i. a.
i. Petr. i. a.
Roma. i. a.

Paul an Apostle of Iesu Christ by the wyl of God, and brother Timotheus.

Unto the congregacyon of God, which is at Corinthum with al the saintes which are in all Achaia, *

i. Cor. i. a

Grace bee wpth you and peace from God our father & from the Lorde Iesus Christe.

Affliccions
or passions
of Christe
at such sufferings as Christe suffered.

Collo. i. i.

Blessed be God the father of our Lorde Iesus Christ, the father of mercy, and the God of al comfort, whypche comforteth vs in all our tribulacion, in so much, that wee are able to comfort them whiche are troubled in what tribulaciō it be, with the same comfort, wherwith we our selues are comforted of God. * For as the afflictions of Christ are plentuous in vs: euen so is our consolacion plentuous by Christ.

Whether we be troubled for your consolacion and saluacion, whiche saluacion sheweth her power in that ye suffer the same afflictions, whiche wee also suffer: or whether we be comforted for your consolacion and saluacion, yet our hope is steadfast for you, in as much as we know howe that as ye haue your part in afflictions, so shall ye be partakers of consolacion.

Actes. xix. f.

Brethren, I would not haue you ignorant of our trouble, whypch happened vnto vs in Asia. For we were greued oute of measure, passing strength, so greatly, that we despayred euen of lyfe. Also we receyued an aunswere of death in our selues, & that because we should not put our trust in our selues: * but in God, which raiseth the dead to lyfe agayne, and which deliuered vs from so greate a death, and doeth deliuer. On whom we trust, that yet hereafter he will deliuer, by the helpe of your prayer for vs: that by the meanes of many occasiōs, thanckes maye be geuen of manye * on our behalfe, for the grace geue vnto vs.

i. Reg. ii. d.

Deu. viii. d

ii. Colo. iii

Our reioysynge is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in singlenes & godly purenes, and not in fleshy wisdom, but by the grace of God, we haue had our conuersacion in the world, and most of all towards you. We wypte no nother thynges vnto you, the that ye read and also knowe. Yea, and I truste, ye shal finde vs vnto the ende, euen as ye haue found vs in part, for we are your reioysynge, eue * as ye are ours, in the daye of our Lorde Iesus.

Conscience

i. Cel. ii. c.

i. Co. xvi. a

* And in thys confidence was I minded & other time to haue come vnto you, that ye might haue had yet one pleasure more, & to haue passed by you into Macedonia, & to haue come agayne out of Macedonia vnto you, and to haue beneled forth to Jewryward of you. When I thus wise was minded, dyd I vse lightnes? Or thincke I carnally those thynges, which I thincke that with me shoulde be (a) * yea, yea, and naye naye? God is saythful. For our preachynge vnto you, was not yea and naye. For Gods sonne Iesus Christ, whiche was preached among you by vs (that is to say, by me and Siluanus, and Timotheus) was not yea & naye, but in him it was yea: For al the promyses of God, in him are yea, and at in him Amen: vnto the laude of God thorrowe vs. For it is god which stablisheth you and vs in Christ, & hath anointed vs, whypche hath also sealed vs, and * hath geuen the earnest of the sppyte into our hertes.

The Notes.

(a) In the v. of Math. these words are as much to saye, as it is so, it is not so. A playne and symple aunswere wpythout othe or facing. Wherby is meant that the sayth and credence of Christe men shoulde be such, that they yea & naye might be taken in all matters, that they shoulde talke of. But in thys place they are taken for vncōstantnes of mynde, as to say both yea and naye, to one thyng.

Al p promises of god
are geuen
vs onely for chris-
take.
Rom. viii. a
Eph. iiii. c

Yea, yea
Nay, nay.

The.ii. Chapter.

Paul was accused of the false Apostles to haue entred to vse tyranny in y church, because that in hys former Epistle, he commaunded to deliuer the aduoutreer to Sathanas. Thys he purgeth him of, teachynge why he gaue them such counsaile. Than he confuteth suche as sayed he was a decepter, and sheweth that wpyth an vpyghte sayth he had taught them the worde, and that he doth also teache the reste of the Gentyles the same, wpyth prosperous successe.

I Call God for a recorde vnto my soule, that for too fauer you withall, I came not any more to Corinthum. * Not that we be Lordes ouer poure faith, but helpers of your ioye. For by sayth ye stande. But I determined this in my selfe, that I would not come agayne to you in heaupnes. For if I make you sorow, who is it that shoulde make me glad, but the same which is made sorow by me? And I wrote this same Epistle vnto you, lest if I came, I should take heauines of them, of whom I ought to reioice. Certaynly, thys confidence haue I in you all, that my ioy is the ioy of you all. For in greate afflyccyon and anguyshe of herte I wrote vnto you with manye teares: not to make you sorow, but that ye might perceiue the loue which I haue most specially vnto you. If anye man haue caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sorow, but partely: lest I should greue you all. * It is suffycient vnto the same man that he was rebuked of manye. So that now contrarywyle, ye ought to forgeue him, and comfort him: least that same person should be swallowed by wpyth ouer muche heaupnes. Wherefore I exhorte you, that loue maye haue strength ouer hym. For thys cause verely dyd I wypte, that I might know the profe of you, whether ye woulde be obedyente in all thynges. To whom ye forgeue any thyng I forgeue also. And verely if I forgeue any thyng, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it, in the sight of Christ, lest Sathan shuld preuente vs: For his thoughtes are not vnknewen vnto vs.

i. Petr. v. a

i. Cor. v. b

When I was come to Troada for Christes

The. ii. Epist. of S. Paule to the Corint. Chap. iii.

les Gospels sake ( and a greate doze was opened vnto me of the Lord ) I had no rest in my spirite, because I founde not Titus my brother: but toke my leaue of them, and went away vnto Macedonia. Thanks be vnto god, which alwaies geueth vs the victorie in Christe, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place. For we are vnto God the swete sauoure of Christ, both among them that are saued, and also amonge them whiche perishe. * To the one part as we the sauour of death vnto death: and vnto the other part are we the sauour of lyfe vnto lyfe: & who is mete vnto these things? For we are not as many are, which chop and chaunge with the worde of God: but euen out of purenes, and by the power of God, and in the sight of God, so speake we in Christ.

The. iii. Chapter.

The prouerby by example of the Corinthyans church, that he hath done his durye in the Gospell, as he oughte, and that not by his owne power, but by the grace of God. And than dysputyng agaynst them whyche wente aboute to myngle in certayne thynges of the lawe, he compareth together the lawe and the Gospell, shewyng howe excellent the lawe is, sayng that Christ hymselfe is the spiryte of the law.

Ve begyn to praise our selues again. Nede we as some other, of Epistles of commendacion vnto you? or letters of commendacion from you? Ye are our Epistle written in our hertes, which is vnderstand and read of all men, in that ye are knowne, howe that ye are the epistle of Christ ministred by vs and writte, not with yncke, but with the spirite of the lypynge god, * not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the hert.

* Such trust haue we through Christe to Godwarde, not that we are sufficiente of our selues to thynke any thyng as it were of our selues, but oure ablenes * cometh of God, whych hath made vs able to minister the new testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit. For the (a) letter killeth, but the spirit geueth lyfe.

If the ministracion of death thorough the letters figured in stones was glorious, so that the children of Israell coude not beholde the face of Moyses for the glorie of his countenaunce ( whiche glorie neuerthelesse is done away ) why shall not the ministracion of the spirit be much more glorious? For if the ministringe of condemnation be glorious, muche more doeth the ministracion of rightuousnes excede in glory. For no doubt that whych was there glorified, is not once glorified in respecte of this exceeding glorie. Then if that which is destroyed was glorious, muche more shall that which remaineth, be glorious.

Seynge then that we haue suche truste, we vse great boldnes, and do not as Moyses, whych put a vayle ouer his face, that the children of Israell shoulde not see, for what purpose that serued whych is put away. * But they myndes were blynded. For vntill this daye remaineth the same couerynge vntaken away in the olde testament, when they read it, whych in Christ is put away. But euen vnto this day when Moyses is read, the vaille hangeth before their heartes. Neuerthelesse when they turne to the Lord, the vaille shalbe taken away. * The Lord no doubt is a spirit. And wher the spirit of the Lord is, ther is (b) libertie. But we al behold the glorie of the Lord, with his face open, & are chaunged vnto the same similitude, from glorie to glorie, euen of the spirit of the Lord.

The Notes.

(a) Farre wide are they that take his letter to be the litteral sence of the scripture thorowout, and do thereby exhorte men to refraine the reading of the body of the scripture withoute interpretation. For S. Paul entended non other in this place, but to teache the worthynesse of the Gospell to be far aboue the law, and the ministracion therof to be muche more worthy to be esteemed, then the ministracion of the law: because the one (that is the lawe) bringeth death & damnacion for synne, and the other (that is the gospell) bringeth lyfe and redemption of synnes. That this is the very meanyng of the Apostle in this place, is playne to as manye as liste to weygh the text, or to read. S. Augustyne in his booke of the spirit and letter, & Erasmus in his Paraphrasis, and annotations.

(b) Libertie, there the hert is not in bondage to domme ceremonies, but knoweth how to vse all thyngs, and vnderstandeth that loue is the end and the fulfylling of all lawe.

The. iiii. Chapter.

The defendeth still his fidelitie in ministracion of the word. Then teacheth he that wrought men perper through theyr owne fault, and that they be authores of theyr owne damnacion. At laste that they bee not offended with his trouble, he sheweth with howe great successe he taught Christ to many, before his tribulacions.

Therfore sayng that we haue suche an office, eue as mercie is come on vs, we fainte not, but haue caste from vs the clokes of vnhonesty, and walk not in craftynes, neyther corrupte we the worde of God, but walke in open truth, and reporte our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

* If oure Gospell be yet hid, it is hid among them that are losse, in whom the (a) God of this worlde hath blynded the myndes of them which beleue not, lest the lpyghte of the glorious Gospell of Christ, whych is the ymage of God shoulde shyne vnto the. * For we preach not our selues, but Christ Iesus to be the Lord, and our selues poure seruantes for Iesus sake. For it is God that commaunded the light to shyne oute of darcknes, whych hath shyned in oure hertes, for to giue the lighte of the knowledge of the glorie of God, in the face of Iesus Christe.

But we haue this treasure in earthen vessels

Luk. viii. d
Ac. xviii. f
Thon. xii. f
Roma. xi. d
er. xxi. d
Roma. xi. d
Thon. iiii. c

Libertye.

Ex. xxi. a Deute. v. d
Iere. xxxi. f

Phil. ii. b
1. Cor. iiii. d

Hebre. iii.
Exo. xxxiii.

Ex. xxi. d
mat. xii. b
Mat. xiii. b

Thon. xxi. c
God of this worlde
I. I. a. vi. c.
mat. xiii. b
Mar. iiii. b
Luk. viii. b
Thon. xii. f
Act. xviii. f
The apostles
are seruants.
Genes. i. a.
I. I. a. vi. d
1. Cor. v. a.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

To the Corin. Cha. v. Fo lxxxiii

vessels, that þ excellente power of it might appeare to be of God, & not of vs. We are troubled on euery side, yet are we not with out shifte. We are in pouertye, but not vtterlye wout some what. We are persecuted, but are not forsake. We are cast down neuertheles we perishe not. And we alwapes beare in oure bodyes the dying of the Lorde Iesus, that the lyfe of Iesus myghte appeare in our bodyes.

Gala. vi. d.

Rom. viii. c

1 Cor. xxi. b

ii. Cor. i. a

1 Cor. xxi. b

Ro. viii. d.

The god of this world

In þ face of Iesus.

Outward man.

* For we whiche liue are alwapes deliuered vnto death for Iesus sake, that the lyfe also of Iesu, myghte appeare in our mortal fleshe. So then death worketh in vs, & lyfe in you. &

* Sepnge then we haue the same spirite of sayeth, accordinge as it is wrytten: * I beleued, and therefore haue I spoken. We also beleue, and therefore speake. For wee knowe that he whiche rayled vp the Lord Iesus, shall rayse vp vs also by the meanes of Iesus, and shall set vs wpth you.

For al thynges do I for your sakes, * that the plentiuouse grace by thakes gpyng of many, may redounde to the prayse of god. Wherefore we are not wried, but though our (c) outwarde man perishe: yet the inward man is renewed dape by day. * For our excedyng tribulacion whych is momentarye and lyghte, prepareth an excedyng and eternall wayghte of gloire vnto vs, whyle we loke not on the thynges whiche are seene, but one the thynges whiche are not seene. For thynges whiche are seene, are temporal: but thynges whiche are not seene, are eternall.

The Notes.

(a) This god is in the. xvi. of Luke called Mammon, in the. xiii. of Ihon, the prynce or ruler of thys worlde. By all that I can gether boeth of thys place and of the other, it shulde be spoken of ryghts accordyng to the signification of thys worde Mammon, a worde of the Syriac tounge. Prynce and God of thys worlde it is called, because the wycked worldelynges geupnge them selues to the vnlawefull gettyng together, and keepyng thereof, it is theyr prynce & god. Some cal the deuyll by these names, who are not far wyde. For the Deuyll is a great doer in all these thynges, as an enemye that seketh all occasions to deface the churche of Chryste, by drawyng them from the true seruyce of god to the Idol seruyce of Mammon, the ryches of thys worlde.

(b) By the face of Iesus Chryste, is to be vnderstand the lowe degre of hys manhode, accordyng to the samilitude & lyknes wherof, the true preachers and professours of Chryste were, be, & shal to the worldes ende, be esteemed.

(c) Thys outwarde man is sometime called the old mā, somtyme þ flesh, what þ flesh signifieth shal ye fynde in the prologe to the Romaynes.

The v. Chapter.

He treateth more fully the hope of saluacion whych he spake of in the end of þ fyrst chapter. He vseth an alegorpe of that tabernacle and heuently house, fordespyre wherof he suffered al thynges: but at lengthe so mitigateth hys style that he seemeth not to hunt for gloire. Last of al he maketh an entrey to þ which foloweth comprehendyng in few words the worke of soluacio in Chryste, & also our duty.

V We know suerly, if our *earthly māci on wherin we now dwel, were destroyed, þ we haue abyldyng or depnyed of god, an habitacion not made wpth hands, but eternal in heauen. * And therfore sayge we desirynge to be clothed wpth our mancion, which is frō heauē: so yet þ we be found clothed & not naked. For as long as we are in this *tabernacle, we sighe & are greued, for we wold not be vnclothed, but wold be clothed vpon, that mortalite myghte be swallowed vp of lyfe. He that hath ordayned vs for thys thpyng, is God * which by ry same hath geuen vnto vs the earnest of the spirit. Therfore we are alwaye of good chere, and know well that as longe as we are at home in the bodye, wee are absente from God. For we walke in sayth and see not. Neuertheles, we are of good comfort, and had leuer be absente from the bodye, & to be presente wpth the Lorde. Wherefore whether we be at home, or from home, wee endeuoure our selues to please hym. * For we must all appeare before the iudgemente seate of Chryste, that euerye man maye receyue the workes of hys bodye accordyng to that he hath doone, whether it be good or bad.

* Sepnge then that we knowe, howe the Lord is to be feared, we deale faire w men. For we are knowen wel inough vnto god. I truste also that we are knowen in youre consciences.

We prayse not oure selues agayne vnto you, but geue you an occasion to reioyse of vs, that ye maye haue somewhat agaynst them, whych reioyse in the face, and not in the herte. For if we be to feruent, to god we are to feruent. Yf we kepe measure, for your cause kepe wee measure. For the loue of Chryste constraineth vs because we thus iudge, if one be deade for all, that then are all dead, and that he died * for all, that they which liue, should not hence forth liue vnto the selues, but vnto hym which dyed for the and rose agayne. &

Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the fleshe. In so muche though we haue knowen Chryste after the fleshe, now henceforth know we hym so no more. Therfore if any man be in Chryste, he is a new creature. Olde thynges are passed awaye, behold all thynges are become * new. Neuertheles, all thynges are of God, whych hath reconciled * vs vnto hym self by Iesus Chryste, and hath geuen vnto vs the ofspce to preach the atonement. For * god was in Chryste, and made agreement betwene þ world and hym self, and imputed not their synnes vnto thepm, and hath compytted to vs the preachyng of the atonement. Now then are we messengers in the roume of Chryste: euen as though he be deyd be sech you thorow vs: So praye we you in

ii. Co. iii. b

Rom. viii. d

ii. Pe. i. c

Apoca. iii. d

Rom. viii. c

ii. cor. i. d

Roma. iiii.

Beue dy

ligēce þ no

Wat. xvi. c.

Rom. xiii. c

man be of fendid or hurt by vs

or our en

sample.

Christs ser

uantes

seke Chri

stes wpl,

not to spue

at their own plea sure, but

i. Cel. v. c.

at his.

D

Esay. xliii.

Apoc. xiii.

A new crea

ature.

The atone ment be

twene

Roma. iii. c

Collo. i. c

* collo. ii. c.

God and

man in Christ, is

the Apo

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

His office Chyphes stede, that ye be atone wth god, to preache for he hath * made hym to be synne for vs, & say. liii. b whych knewe no syn, that we by his mea- Ro. vii. a. nes should be that ryghtuousnes which be Synis an offerpunge fore God is allowed.

for syn, as befoze. The. vi. Chapter. He exhorte to a christian lyfe, by example of him selfe, describyng his constançe in the true sayeth. Chan taketh he awaye the occasiõ of wyckednes, whych is the feloweshyppe and wedlocke of the vngodlye. Whomynge that throughe these, they defyle not the temple of God.

(Wayne) p the word sownen in pour herts shoulde be frutes vn- to poure greater dā nacion. A V We as healpers therefore exhorte you that ye receyue not the grace of God in bayne. For he sayth: * I haue herd thein a tyme accepted: and in the daye of saluacion, haue I succoured the. Beholde nowe is that well accepted tyme: beholde nowe is that daye of saluacion. Let vs geue no man occasion of euill, that in oure of- fyce be founde no faulte: but in al thynges let vs behaue oure selues * as the ministers of God.

In muche pacience, in afflictions, in ne cessite, in angurthe, in stryppes, in prylou- mente, in stryfe, in laboure, in watchynge, in fastynge, in puerues, in knowledge, in longe sufferynge, in kynones, in the holye goste, in loue vnfayned, in the woordes of truth, in the power of God, in the armoure * of ryghtuousnes on the ryght hande and on the lefte, in honour and dishonour, in e- uyll reposte and good report, as dysceiuers and yet true, as vnknewen, and yet kno- wen, as dpyng, and beholde we yet lyue: as chastened, and not killed: as sorowinge and yet alwaye mery: as poore, & yet make many rich: as haupng nothyng, & yet pos- sessing al thynges. f

Whych the ar- mour of lpght. Dye Corinthians, oure mouth is open vnto you. Oure herte is made large, ye are in no strapte in vs, but are in a strapte in poure owne bowelles. I promyse you lyke rewarde wth me, as to my chyldren. Set your selues therfore at large, and * beate not a straungers pooke wth the vnbele- uers. For what felowship hath rightuous- nes wth vnrighuousnes? What compa- ny hath lpghte wth darcknes? What cõ corde hath Chyste wth Beliall? Epyther what parte hath he that beleueth wth an infidel? Howe agreeth the temple of God wth Images? And ye * are the temple of that liuinge God, as sayed God: * I wyl dwel among them, and walke amonge the and wyl be they? God, and they shalbe my people. * Wherfore come out from among them, and seporate your selues (sayeth the Lorde) and touche none vncleane thinge, so wyl I receyue you, and wyl be a father vnto you, and ye shalbe vnto me, sons and daughters, sayth the Lorde.

The. vii. Chapter. He rehearseth that whych he touched in the seconde chapter, shewynge that he had thein purghe the aduouterer for they healthes take, and not for anye tyrannye that was in his mynd: whych that he may p playnclyer proue, he sheweth his good wil towarde the by a tale which he telleth of Titus.

To the Corin. Cha. vii.

S Epnge that wee haue suche promyses & dearely beloued, let vs cleanse oure sel- ues from all fylthynes of the fleshe and spirite, and growe vp to ful holynes in the feare of God. Vnderstande vs. We haue hurte no man: wee haue corrupte no man, we haue defrauded no man. I speake not thys to condemne you, for I haue shewed you befoze that ye are in our heartes to dpe and lyue wth you. I am verpe bolde ouer you, and reioyse greatly in you: I am fyl- led wth comforte, and am excedynge ioy- ouse in all our tribulacions. For when wee were come into Macedonia * our flesch had no rest, but we wer troubled on euery side. Outwarde was fpyghtynge, inwarde was feare. Neuertheles god * that comforteth the abiect: comforted vs at the commynge of Titus.

And not wth hys commynge onely, but also wth that consolacion wherewth he was comforted of you. For he told vs pour desyre, pour mournynge, pour feruent mind to me warde: so that I now reioyse p more. Wherfore thoughe I made you sorp wth a letter, I repente not, thoughe I dyd re- pente. For I perceyue that that same epi- stle made you sorpe thoughe it were but for a season. But I now reioyse, not that ye were sorpe, but that ye so sorowed that ye repented: For ye sorowed godly, so p in no thing ye were hurt by vs. For godly sorow causeth repentaunce vnto saluacion not to be repented of: when * worldely sorowe causeth death.

Behold what diligence this godly sorow p ye toke, hath wrought in you: yea it cau- sed you to cleare your selues. It caused in- dignacion, it caused fear, it caused desire, it caused a feruent mynde, it caused punysh- met. For in al thynges ye haue shewed your selues that ye are cleare in p matter. Wher fore thoughe I wrot vnto you I dyd it not for his cause that did hurt, neither for hys cause that was hurt: but p our good minde whych we haue toward you in the sight of god, might appeare vnto you.

Therefore we are comforted, because ye are comforted, yea & excedyngly the more ioyed we, for p ioy that Titus had: because his spirite was refreshed of you all. I am therefore not nowe ashamed, thoughe I boasted my self to him of you. For as al thyn- ges which I preached vnto you are true, e- uen so is oure boasting that I boasted my selfe too Titus wth all, founde true. And nowe is hys inward affeccion more aboun- daunte towarde you, when he remembreth the obedience of euerye one of you: howe wth feare and trembling ye receiued him. I reioyse that I may be bold ouer you in al thynges.

The

The viii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them to be liberal to the poore by brethren: first by example of the Macedonians, and then of Christ. Then warneth he them to perfourme that now they began before. Last he commendeth to them Titus, and other brethren, whiche were sente wpth hym.

I Do you to wit brethren, of the grace of God, which is geuen in the congregacions of Macedonia, howe that the aboundance of their reioysinge is, that they are tryed with muche tribulacion. And thereto though they were excedding poore, yet haue they geue excedpng richly, and that in singlenesse. For to their powers (I beare recorde) yea and beyonde their power, they were willyng of theirowne accorde, and prayed vs with greate instaunce, that wee would receiue their benefyte, & suffer them to be partakers with other, in ministering to the Sayntes. And thys they did, not as we looked for: but gaue theirowne selues first to the Lorde, and after vnto vs by the will of God: so that we coulde not but desyre Titus to accomplish the same beneuolence amonge you also, euen as he had begonne.

Now therfore, as ye are riche in all partes in faith, in worde, in knowledge, in all feruentnes and in loue, whiche ye haue to vs: euen so se ye be plenteous in thys beneuolence. This sape I not as commaundyng: but because other are so feruet, therfore proue I youre loue, whether it be perfecte or no. Ye know the liberality of oure Lord Iesus Christ, which though he were ryche, yet for youre sakes became poore, that ye thowowe his pouertye, myghte be made riche.

And I gaue counsell hereto, for thys is expedient for you, whiche began, not to do onelye, but also to will, a yere ago. Nowe therfore performe the dede, that as there was in you a redynes to wil, euen so ye may performe the dede of that whych ye haue. For if ther be fyrste a willing mynde, it is accepted, accordyng to that a man hath, & not accordyng to that he hath not.

It is not my minde, that other be set at ease, and ye brought into combrance: but that there be equalnes nowe at this tyme, that your aboundaunce succour their lack, that theirowne aboundaunce may supplie your lacke, that there may be equalitie, agreing to that which is wrytten. * He that gathered much, had neuer the more aboundance, and he that gathered littell, had neuer the lesse. Thanks be to God, whych put in the hert of Titus the same good mind toward you. For he accepted the requeste, yea rather he was so well wyllyng, that of hys owne accorde he came vnto you.

Wee haue sente wpth hym that brother whose laude is in the Gospell thowoute all the congregacions, and not so onelye, but is also chosen of the congre-gacions to be a fellow with vs in oure iorney, concernyng thys beneuolence that is ministred by vs vnto the prayse of the Lord, and to steepe by your prompte mynde. For thys wee eschewe, that anye manne shoulde rebuke vs in thys plentuous distribucion that is ministred by vs: and therfore make prouysyon for honeste thynge, not in the sight of God onely, but also in the sight of men.

We haue sente with them a brother of ours, whom we haue ofte tymes proued diligent in manye thynge, but nowe muche more diligent. The great confidence which I haue in you, hath caused me thus to do, partly for Titus sake, whych is my fellow and helper as concernyng you, partly because of other which are our brethren, and the messengers of the congregacions, and the gloze of Christ. Wherefore shewe vnto them the proue of your loue, and of the reioysynge that we haue of you, that the congregacions may see it.

The ix. Chapter.

He sheweth more playnely for what cause he sente to them Titus and the other. Then he exhorteth them to geue Almes, and that wpth manye and most stronge argumentes, shewyng howe greate scruple is wonte to come thereof.

Of the ministringe to the Sayntes, it is but superfluous for me too wryte vnto you: for I knowe youre redynes of mynde, wherof I boast my selfe vnto them of Macedonia, and sape that Achaia was prepared a yere ago, and youre feruentnes hath prouoked manye. Neuer theles yet haue I sent these brethren, lest our reioysynge ouer you shoulde be in vaine in this behalf, and that ye (as I haue said) prepare youre selues: lest peradventure if thei of Macedonia come with me, and find you vnprepared, the boaste that I made in this matter shoulde be a shame to vs, I sape not vnto you.

Wherfore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren to come before hande vnto you for to prepare youre good blessing promysed afore, that it myghte be redye, so that it be a blessing, and not a defrauding. * This yet remembre, how that he whych soweth litle, shall reape litle, and he that soweth plenteously, shall reape plenteously. And let euery man do accordyng as he hath purposed in hys herte, not grudgyngly, or of necessitie. For God loueth a cherefull gauer.

God is able to make you ryche in all grace, that ye in all thynge haupng sufficient vnto the vtmost, maye be ryche vnto all maner good workes, as it is wrytten: * He hath sparfed abroade and hath giuen to the poore, his righteousnes remaineth for euer. He that findeth the sower seede, shall minister breade for foode, and shall multiply your seede, and encrease the frutes of youre ryghteousnes, & that on all

Actes. xi. d.
i. Co. xvi. a
ii. Co. ix. a
Rom. xv. f.

Roma. x. a.

2. Pe. iiii. a
1. Th. iii. d
1. Tim. xii. d
Luke. xxi. a

Exo. xvi.

Rom. xii. e.

1. Cor. i. d.

Actes. xi. d.
i. Co. xvi. a
ii. Co. viii. a
Rom. xv. f.

1. Th. xi. d.
Gala. vi. b.

Eccl. xxxv.
Exo. xv. a.
and: xxxv. a

1. Sal. xii.

The. ii. Epistle of S. Paul

parties ye maye be made ryche in all syn-glenes, which causeth thowowds, thancks geuing vnto God.

D For the offyce of thys ministracion, not only supplieth the nede of the Saynts, but also is abundant herein, that for this laudable ministring, thankes might be geuen to God of many, which praise God for the obedience of your professing the Gospel of Christ, and for your synghenes in distributing to them and to all men: in their praiers to God for you, longe after you, for the abundant grace of God geuen vnto you.
Thanckes bee vnto God for hys vnspeakeable gift.

The. x. Chapter.

He defendeth hys authoritie agaynst the falle Apostles, whych sayed he was a man, & therfore might erre, and that he despyed lordshipp ouer them. Therfore teacheth he what hys power is, and to what ende it was geuen hym, and how he hadde vled it: and that true glory consisteth in God onely.

I Paule my self beseech you by the mekenes and softnes of Christe, which when I am present among you, am of no reputacion, but am bold toward you being absente, I beseech you that I nede not to be bolde when I am presente (with that same confidence, wherewith I am purposed to be bolde) agaynst some whiche repute vs as though we walked carnally. Neuertheles though we walke compassed wth flesh, pet we wat not fleshly. * For the weapons of our war are not carnal thyngs, but thin-ges mighty in God to caste downe stronge holdes, wherewith we ouerthrowe imaginacions, and euery hygh thyng that exalteth it selfe agaynst the knowledge of God, & bryng into captiuitie all vnderstandyng to the obedience of Christ, and at redy to take vengeaunce on all disobedience when your obedience is fulfilled. Loke ye on things after the vtter apperaunce?

If any man trust himself that he is Christes, let the same also consider of himselfe, that as he is Christes, even so are we Christes: and though I shuld boast my self some what more of our authoritie which the Lord hath geuen vs * to edifye, and not to de-stroye you, it shoulde not be to my shame.
This say I lest I shuld seme, as though I went about to make you as trayed with letters. For the Epistles (sayeth he) are soze & strong: but hys bodely presence is weake, and his speache rude. Let him that is such, thynk on thys wise, that as we are in wodes, by letters, whan we are absent, suche are we in dede when we are present.

For we can not synde in oure hartes to make out selues of the number of them, or to compare oure selues to them, whyche laud themselves: neuerthelesse whyle they measure themselves with themselves, and compare themselves wth the themselves, they vnderstande nought.

But we wpll not reioyse aboue measure,

to the Corint. Chapt. xi

but accordyng to the quantite of the measure, whych God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure that reacheth even vnto you.

For we stretch not out our selues beyond measure, as though we had not reached vnto you.

* For euen vnto you haue we come wth the gospel of Christe, and we boast not oure selues out of measure in other mennes labours. Yea, and we hope, when your faith is increased among you, to be magnified accordyng to oure measure more largely, and to preache the Gospel in those regions whiche are beyond you, and not to re-ioyse of that whiche is by another mannes measure prepared already. Lette hym that reioyseth, reioyse in the Lord. For he that praiseth hym selfe, is not allowed: but he whom the Lord praiseth.

The. xi. Chapter.

Because Paule was slandered of the falle Apostles, he chalengeth to hymselfe his authoritie, wth a certayne holpe ambicion, least hys ministracyon shoulde be extenuate, shewyng by many argumentes that he was not onely equall, but also greater than the other Apostles. Than teacheth he wythal in whom we shoulde glorye.

Vould to God ye coulde suffer me a lytel in my folishnes: yea, and I pray you, forbear me. For I am gelous ouer you with Godly gelousy. For I coupled you to one man, to make you a chaste byrgin to Christ. But I feare lest as the serpent beggled Euethowse hys sutteltye, euen so your wits shoulde be corrupt from the synghenes that is in Christe. For if he that commeth, preach another Jesus then him whom we preached: or if ye receyue an other spirit then that which ye haue recey-ued: eyther another Gospel then that ye haue receyued, ye mighte ryghte well haue bene content.

I suppose that I was not behynde the chiefe Apostles. Though I be rude in speakyng, pet I am not so in knowledge.
Howbeit amonge you we are knowen to the vttermoste what we are in all thynges.
Wyd I therein synne, because I submyt-ted my selfe, that ye myght be exalted, and because I preached to you the Gospel of God free: I robbed other congregacions, and toke wages of them, to do you seruice wythall. And when I was presente wth you and had nede, * I was greuous to no man, for that whyche was lackinge vnto me, the brethren whych came from Macedonia, supplied: and in all thynges I kept my selfe that I shoulde not be greuous to you: and so wpll I kepe my selfe. If the truth of Christe be in me, thys reioysyng shall not be taken from me in the regions of Achaia.

Wherefore? Because I loue you not?
God knoweth. Neuerthelesse, what I do, that wpll I do, to cut away occasyon from them whych despye occasyon, & they might be founde

Ephe. iiii. d

Let euery manner
ioyse in Christ
not in the holines of
hys owne
workes.

Gene. iiii. a.

We be ma-
ried to Christe, &
not to the preacher.

Actes. xx. g.
ii. Cor. xii.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

be founde lyke vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce. For these false Apostles are disceit full workers, & fashion them selues like vnto the Apostles of Christe. And no maruaile for Sathan hymselfe is chaunged into the fashion of an angell of lyght. Therefore it is no greate thyng, though he his ministers fashion them selues, as though they were the ministers of ryghteousnes, whose ende shalbe accordyng to their dedes.

I say agayne, lest any man thynke that I am folyshe: or els euen now take me as a foole, that I maye boaste my selfe a litle. That I speake, I speake it not after the wapes of the Lorde: but as it were folyshe-ly, whyle we are now come to boastyng. Seynge that manye reioyce after the flesh I wyl reioyce also. For ye suffer folles gladly, because that ye poure selues are wylle. For ye suffer euen if a man bypunge you in to bondage: if a man deuoure: if a man take: if a man exalte hym selfe: if a manne sympte you on the face. I speake as concernyng rebuke, as though we hadde beene weake.

Howe be it wherein soeuer any man dare be bolde (I speake folyshe) I dare be bold also. * They are Hebrewes, so am I. They are Israelites, euen so am I. They are the seede of Abraham, euen so am I. They are the ministers of Christ, (I speake as) a foole I am more: in laboures more abondante: In stryppes aboue measure: in: In pylson more plentiously: In death ofte. * Of the Jewes. v. tymes receyued I euery tyme. xl. stryppes saue one. * Thyrse was I beaten with rodde, & I was once stoned. * I suffered thyrse thyrse wycke. Ryghte and day haue I bene in the depe of the sea: In iornepinge often: in periles of the waters: in periles of robbers: in iopardies of myne owne nacion: in iopardies amonge the heathen. I haue bene * in periles in cities, in periles in wylernes, in periles in the sea, in periles amonge false brethren, in laboure and trauayle, in watchyng often, in hunger, in thyrse, in fastynges often, in cold and in nakednes. And besyde the thynges whych outwardlye happen vnto me, I am combered daylye, and do care for all congregacions. * Who is weake, and I am not weake? Who is hurte in the faieyth and my hearte burneth not? Yf I muste nedes reioyce, I wyl reioyce of myne infirmities.

The.iii. Chapter.

After manye of his dedes, he rehearseth also his visions, where throughe God hadde instructed him shewyng with all to what end he vseth his boasting. After ward he rehearseth his good wil, and geueth them warning of his commyng.

The God and father of oure Lord Jesus Christe, whych is blessed for euer more, knoweth that I lye not. * In the ctyte of Damasco, the gouernour of the people vnder kynge Aretas, layed watche

To the Corin. Cha. xii. Fo lxxxvi

in the ctyte of the Damascens, and would haue caught me, and * at a wyndow was I let downe in a basket thow the wal, & so scaped hys handes.

It is not expediente for me (no doubt) to reioyce, neuerthelesse I wyl come to byspions and reuelacions of the Lorde. I knowe a man in Christe aboue. xiiii. yeres agoe (whether he were in the body I can not tell, or whether he were out of the body I cannot tell, God knoweth) whych was taken vp into the thyrde heauen. And I knowe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth) howe that he was taken vp into paradise, and hearde wordes not to be spoken, whych no man can vtter. Of this man wyl I reioyce, of my selfe wyl I not reioyce, excepte it be of myne infirmities. And yet though I would reioyce, I shuld not be a foole: for I shoulde saie the truth. Neuertheles I spare, lest any man shulde thynke of me aboue that he seeth me to be, or heareth of me.

And * leaste I shoulde be exalted out of measure thow the abondance of the reuelacions, there was geuen vnto me (a) by quyetnes of the fleshe, the messenger of satan to buffet me: because I shoulde not be exalted out of measure. For thys thyng be foughte I the lorde thyrse, that it myghte depart from me. And he sayde vnto me: my grace is sufficient for the. For my strength is made perfecte thow we weaknes. Werpe gladly therefore wyl I reioyce of my weaknes, that the strength of Christ maye dwell in me. * Therefore haue I delectacion in infirmities, in rebukes, in neede, in persecucions, in angurthe, for Christes sake. For when I am weake, then am I strong.

I am made a foole in boastyng my selfe, Ye haue compelled me: I oughte to haue bene commended of you. For in nothyng was I inferioure vnto the chiefe Apostles though I be nothyng yet the tokens of an Apostle were wrought among you with all pacience: wth sygnes, and woundes and myghty dedes. For what is it wherein ye were inferiours vnto other congregacions, excepte it be therein that I was not greuous vnto you. For geue me this wrong done vnto you. Behold now the thrid tyme I am ready to come vnto you, & yet wyl I not be greuous vnto you. For * I seke not yours, but you. Also the chyldre ought not to lape byppe for the fathers and mothers, but the fathers and mothers for the chyldren.

I wyl berpe gladly bestowe, and wyl be bestowd for poure soules: though the more I loue you the lesse I am loued agayne. But be it that I greued you not, neuerthelesse I was craftie and toke you with gyle: Did I pil you by any of them which I sent vnto you? I desired Titus, & wth hym I sente a brother. Wyl Titus defraude you

Actes. ix. d.

15

Thon. ii.

Paul pro-ueth by his signes, &
hys autho-
ritie was as great as the au-
thoritye of the hygh
Apostles.

Actes. xx. g.
ii. Cor. xi. c.
Ecc. xlii. c.
ii. He. xlii. a

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

be founde lyke vnto vs in that wherein they reioyce. For these false Apostles are disceit full workers, & fashion them selues like vnto the Apostles of Christe. And no maruaile for Sathan hymselfe is chaunged into the fashion of an angell of lyght. Therefore it is no greate thyng, though he his ministers fashion them selues, as though they were the ministers of ryghteousnes, whose ende shalbe accordyng to their dedes.

I say agayne, lest any man thynke that I am folyshe: or els euen now take me as a foole, that I maye boaste my selfe a litle. That I speake, I speake it not after the wapes of the Lorde: but as it were folyshe-ly, whyle we are now come to boastyng. Seynge that manye reioyce after the flesh I wyl reioyce also. For ye suffer folyshe glad-ly, because that ye poure selues are wylse. For ye suffer euen if a man bypunge you in to bondage: if a man deuoure: if a man take: if a man exalte hym selfe: if a manne sympte you on the face. I speake as concer-nyng rebuke, as though we hadde beene weake.

Howe be it wherein soeuer any man dare be bolde (I speake folyshe) I dare be bold also. * They are Hebrewes, so am I. They are Israelites, euen so am I. They are the fede of Abraham, euen so am I. They are the ministers of Christ, (I speake as) a foole I am more: in laboures more abondante: In stryppes aboue measure: in: In pylson more plentiously: In death ofte. * Of the Jewes. v. tymes receyued I euery tyme. xl. stryppes saue one. * Thyrse was I beaten with rodde, & I was once stoned. * I suf-fered thyrse thyrse wycke. Ryghte and day haue I bene in the depe of the sea: In ior-neyinge often: in periles of the waters: in periles of robbers: in iopardies of myne owne nacion: in iopardies amonge the heathen. I haue bene * in periles in cities, in periles in wylernes, in periles in the sea, in periles amonge false brethren, in laboure and trauayle, in watchyng often, in hunger, in thyrse, in fastynges often, in cold and in nakednes. And besyde the thin- ges whych outwardlye happen vnto me, I am combered daylye, and do care for all congregacions. * Who is weake, and I am not weake? Who is hurte in the faieyth and my hearte burneth not? Yf I muste nedes reioyce, I wyl reioyce of myne in- fymities.

The.iii. Chapter.

After manye of his dedes, he rehearseth also his visions, where throughe God hadde in-structed him thewyng with all to what end he vseth his boasting. After ward he rehearseth his good wil, and geueth them warning of his commyng.

The God and father of oure Lord Je- sus Christe, whych is blessed for euer more, knoweth that I lye not. * In the ctyte of Damasco, the gouernour of the people vnder kynge Aretas, laped watche

To the Corin. Cha. xii. Fo lxxxvi

in the ctyte of the Damascens, and would haue caughte me, and * at a wyndow was I let downe in a basket thow the wal, & so scaped hys handes.

It is not expediente for me (no doubt) to reioyce, neuerthelesse I wyl come to byspions and reuelacions of the Lorde. I knowe a man in Christe aboue. xiiii. yeres agone (whether he were in the body I can not tell, or whether he were out of the body I cannot tell, God knoweth) whych was taken vp into the thyrde heauen. And I knowe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tel, God knoweth) howe that he was taken vp in to paradise, and hearde wordes not to be spoken, whych no man can vtter. Of this man wyl I reioyce, of my selfe wyl I not reioyce, excepte it be of myne infymities. And yet though I would reioyce, I shuld not be a foole: for I shoulde saie the truth. Neuertheles I spare, lest any man shulde thynke of me aboue that he seeth me to be, or heareth of me.

And * leaste I shoulde be exalted out of measure thow the abondance of the re-uelacions, there was geuen vnto me (a) by quyetnes of the fleshe, the messenger of sa- tan to buffet me: because I shoulde not be exalted out of measure. For thys thyng be foughte I the lorde thyrse, that it myghte depart from me. And he sayde vnto me: my grace is sufficient for the. For my strength is made perfecte thow we weaknes. Wyl gladly therefore wyl I reioyce of my weak-nes, that the strength of Christ maye dwell in me. * Therefore haue I delectacion in infymities, in rebukes, in neede, in per-secucions, in angurthe, for Christes sake. For when I am weake, then am I strong.

I am made a foole in boastyng my selfe, Ye haue compelled me: I oughte to haue bene commended of you. For in nothyng was I inferioure vnto the chiefe Apostles though I be nothyng yet the tokens of an Apostle were wrought among you with all pacience: wth sygnes, and woundes and myghte dedes. For what is it wherein ye were inferiours vnto other congregaci- ons, excepte it be therein that I was not greuous vnto you. For geue me this wrong done vnto you. Behold now the thirde time I am ready to come vnto you, & yet wyl I not be greuous vnto you. For * I seke not yours, but you. Also the chyldre ought not to lape byppe for the fathers and mothers, but the fathers and mothers for the chyl- dren.

I wyl berpe gladly bestowe, and wyl be bestowd for poure soules: though the more I loue you the lesse I am loued agayne. But be it that I greued you not, neuerthe- lesse I was craftie and toke you with gyle: Did I pil you by any of them which I sent vnto you? I desired Titus, & wth hym I sente a brother. Wyl Titus defraude you

Actes. ix. d.

15

Thon. ii.

Paul pro- ueth by his signes, & hys autho- ritie was as great as the au- thorite of the hyghe Apostles.

Actes. xx. g. ii. Cor. xi. c. Ecc. xlii. c. ii. He. xlii. a

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

of anye thynge? walked we not in one spyrte, walked we not in lyke steppes? Against thyncke ye that we excuse our selues? We speake in Chryst in the syght of god.

But we do althynge (dearely beloued) for your edifying. For I feare least it come to passe that when I come I shall not find you such as I would: and I shalbe found vnto you such as ye woulde not: I feare lest there be founde amonge you * debate, enuyng, wrath, styffe, backebytynge, whyspynges, swellynge and dyscorde: I feare lest when I come agayne, I wyll bynne me lowe amonge you, and I be constrained to bewaple many of them whiche haue sinned alrede, and haue not repented of the vncleennes, fornicacion and wantounnes whych they haue committed.

The Notes.

Unquietnes of the spirite. (a) Though men of much greater knowledge then I am, do take thys vnquietnes for the reuerence that the wycked made agaynst the doctrine of Paul, yet in my iudgemente the texte geneth rather that it should be the weaknes of hys owne fleshe, whiche dyd continuallye pull hym backe, and as it were wythstode hym by force of synes, in the assayes and busynesse of the spirite.

The.iii. Chapter.

He gathereth together almost all (except that he spake of almes gyuynge) whiche he taught heretofore. For fyrste he sheweth that he doth not falsly promyse hys commynge, nor that he wyll befeble. Yet wytheth he that they may repent, and prayeth for good thynges for them.

Now come I the thyrde tyme vnto you. In the mouth of two or thre wytnesses shall euery thynge stande. I tolde you before, and tell you before, and as I sayde when I was presente wyth you the seconde tyme, so wyte I nowe beyng absent to them whiche in tyme past haue sinned, and to all other: that if I come agayne, I wyll not spare, sayng that ye haue sene experience of Chryste * whiche I speake in mee, whiche amonge you is not weake but is myghte in you. And verelye though it came of weakenes that he was crucified, yet I pueeth he thowhe the power of God. And we no doubte are weake in hym: but wee shall lye wyth hym by the myght of god among you.

Wroue poure selues whether you be in the fapeth or not. Examen your owne selues: knowe ye not poure owne selues how that Iesus Chryste is in you, excepte ye be caste awaies? I truste that ye shall knowe that we be no cast awaies. I desyre before God that ye doo none euill, not that wee should seme comendable, but that ye shuld do that whiche is honest: and let vs be counted as lewde persons. We can do nothyng agaynst the truth: But for the truth, we are glad when we are weake, and ye stronge. Thys also we wishe for, euen that ye were perfect. Therefore wyte I these thynges being absent, least when I am present, I shuld use sharpnes according to the power * whiche the Lorde hath geuen me, to edifie, and not to destroye.

To the Corin. Cha. xiii.

Finallye brethren fare ye wel, be perfect, be of good comforte, be of one mynde, lye in peace: and the God of loue and of peace shall be wyth you. * Grete one another in an holy kysse. Al the Saynctes salute you, The grace of oure Lord Iesus Chryst, and the loue of God, and the feloweshyp of the holy ghost be wyth you all. Amen. The seconde Eppistle to the Corinthians: Sente from philippus a cite in Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The Prologe vnto the Eppistle of Saint

Paul to the Galathians.

Mye reade Actes. xv. howe certayne came from Iherusalem too Antioche and vered the dysciples there, affirming that they coulde not be saued excepte they were circumcised: Euen so after Paul had conuerted the Galathians and coupled them to Chryst to trust in hym onely for the remission of syn, and hope of grace and saluacion, and was departed, there came false Apostles vnto them (as vnto the Corinthians, and to al places wher Paul hadde preached) and that in the name of Peter, James and John, whom they called the hye Apostles, and preached circumcision and keeping of the lawe, to be saued by, and minished Pauls authoryte.

To the confoundinge of those, Paul magnified hys offyce & Apostleship in the two fyrste Chapters, & maketh hym selfe equall vnto the hye Apostles, & concludeth that euery manne must be iustified wythout deseruynges, without workes, and wythout helpe of the lawe, but alone by Chryst.

And in the thirde & fourth, he proueth the same with scripture, examples & similitudes, and sheweth that the law is cause of more syn, and bringeth the curse of god vpon vs, and iustifieth vs not, but by iustifying commeth by grace promised vs of God thowhe the deseruyng of Chryste, by whome (if we beleue) we are iustified without help of the workes of the lawe.

And in the v. and. vi. he exhorteth vnto the workes of loue which folow sayth & iustifying. So that in all his Eppistle he obserueth this order. Fyrst he preacheth the damnation of the law then iustifying of sayth, and thirde the workes of loue. For on that condition that we loue and worke, is the mercy geuen vs.

The Eppistle of sayncte

Paul to the Galathians.

The fyrst Chapter.

Because the Galathian churches were fallen from the syncretisme of the Gospell, myngelyng therewith the workes of the lawe, Paul after he hath muche commended hys vocation accuseth them of inconstancy. Last he sheweth what his old lyfe, callinge and offyce were, considerynge that he receyued not his gospell of men but of Chryst onely.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

of anye thynge? walked we not in one spyrte, walked we not in lyke steppes? Agayne thynke ye that we excuse our selues? We speake in Chryst in the syght of god.

But we do althynge (dearely beloued) for your edifying. For I feare least it come to passe that when I come I shall not find you such as I would: and I shalbe found vnto you such as ye woulde not: I feare lest there be founde amonge you * debate, enuyng, wrath, styffe, backebytynge, whyspynges, swellynge and dyscorde: I feare lest when I come agayne, I wyll bynge me lowe amonge you, and I be constrained to bewaple many of them whiche haue sinned alrede, and haue not repented of the vncleennes, fornicacion and wantounnes whych they haue committed.

The Notes.

Unquietnes of the spirite. (a) Though men of much greater knowledge then I am, do take thys vnquietnes for the reuerence that the wycked made agaynst the doctrine of Paul, yet in my iudgemente the texte geneth rather that it should be the weaknes of hys owne fleshe, whiche dyd continuallye pull hym backe, and as it were wythstode hym by force of synes, in the assayes and busynesse of the spirite.

The.iii. Chapter.

He gathereth together almost all (except that he spake of almes gyvinge) whiche he taught heretofore. For fyrste he sheweth that he doth not falsly promyse hys commynge, nor that he wyll befeble. Yet wytheth he that they may repent, and prayeth for good thynges for them.

Now come I the thyrde tyme vnto you. In the mowthe of two or thre wytnesses shall euery thynge stande. I tolde you before, and tell you before, and as I sayde when I was presente wyth you the seconde tyme, so wyte I nowe beyng absent to them whiche in tyme past haue sinned, and to all other: that if I come agayne, I wyll not spare, sayng that ye haue sene experience of Chryste: whiche I speake in mee, whiche amonge you is not weake but is myghte in you. And verelye though it came of weakenes that he was crucified, yet I pueeth he thowhe the power of God. And we no doubte are weake in hym: but wee shall lye wyth hym by the myght of god among you.

Whye proue youre selues whether you be in the fapeth or not. Examen your owne selues: knowe ye not youre owne selues how that Iesus Chryste is in you, excepte ye be caste awaies? I truste that ye shall knowe that we be no cast awaies. I desyre before God that ye doo none euill, not that wee should seme comendable, but that ye shuld do that whiche is honest: and let vs be counted as lewde persons. We can do nothyng agaynst the truth: But for the truth, we are glad when we are weake, and ye stronge. Thys also we wishe for, euen that ye were perfect. Therefore wyte I these thynges being absent, least when I am present, I shuld

To the Corin. Cha. xiii.

use sharpnes according to the power: whiche the Lorde hath geuen me, to edifie, and not to destroye.

Finallye brethren fare ye wel, be perfect, be of good comforte, be of one mynde, lye in peace: and the God of loue and of peace shall be wyth you. * Brete one an other in an holy kysse. Althe Sayntes salute you, The grace of oure Lord Iesus Chryst, and the loue of God, and the feloweshyp of the holy ghost be wyth you all. Amen. The seconde Eppistle to the Corinthyans: Sente from philippus a cite in Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

The Prologe vpo the Eppistle of Saint

Paul to the Galathians.

When ye reade Actes. xv. howe certayne came from Iherusalem too Antioche and vered the dysciples there, affirming that they coulde not be saued excepte they were circumcised: Eue so after Paul had conuerted the Galathians and coupled them to Chryst to trust in hym onely for the remission of syn, and hope of grace and saluacion, and was departed, there came false Apostles vnto them (as vnto the Corinthyans, and to al places wher Paul hadde preached) and that in the name of Peter, James and John, whom they called the hye Apostles, and preached circumcision and keeping of the lawe, to be saued by, and minished Pauls authoryte.

To the confoundinge of those, Paul magnified hys offyce & Apostleship in the two fyrste Chapters, & maketh hym selfe equall vnto the hye Apostles, & concludeth that euery manne must be iustified wythout deseruynges, without workes, and wythout helpe of the lawe, but alone by Chryst.

And in the thiede & fourth, he proueth the same with scripture, examples & similitudes, and sheweth that the law is cause of more syn, and bringeth the curse of god vpon vs, and iustifieth vs not, but by iustifying commeth by grace promised vs of God thowhe the deseruyng of Chryste, by whome (if we beleue) we are iustified without help of the workes of the lawe.

And in the v. and. vi. he exhorteth vnto the workes of loue which folow sayth & iustifying. So that in all his Eppistle he obserueth this order. Fyrst he preacheth the damnation of the law then iustifying of sayth, and thirde the workes of loue. For on that condition that we loue and worke, is the mercy geuen vs.

The Eppistle of sayncte

Paul to the Galathians.

The fyrst Chapter.

Because the Galathian churches were fallen from the syncretisme of the Gospell, myngelyng therewith the workes of the lawe, Paul after he hath muche commended hys vocation accuseth them of inconstancy. Last he sheweth what his old lyfe, callinge and offyce were, considerynge that he receyued not his gospell of men but of Chryst onely.

A

Aule an Apostle, not (a) of men, neyther by man, but by Iesus Chyiste, & by god the father whiche raised him from death: and al the bzythzen whiche are wpyth me. Unto the congregacy-

Roma. i. a. on of Galacia. * Bre be with you & peace from God the father, and from oure Lorde I. Corin. i. a. I. Cor. i. a. Iesus Chyist, which gaue himsele for our synnes, to delpyer vs from this present euil worlde, thow the wil of God our father, to whom be prays for euer and euer. Amen.

Actes. xv. a. I maruaile that ye are so soone turned from him that called you in the grace of Chyiste, vnto another Gospell: whypche is nothyng els, but that ther be some y trou- ble you, and * entend to peruert the gospel of Chyist. Neuertheles though we our sel- ues, or an angell from heauen, preach any other Gospell vnto you, then that whypche we haue preached vnto you, hold him as ac- cursed. As I haue sayed before, so saye I nowe agayne: if any man preach any other thynge vnto you then that you haue recey- ued, holde hym accursed. Preache I mans doctrine, or Gods? Epyther go I aboute to please men? If I studied to please men, I were not the seruaunt of Chyist.

Iob. xxi. d. * I certyfyed you bzethzen, that the Gos- pel which was preached of me, was not af- ter the maner of men, neither receyued I it of man, neither was I taught it: but recei- ued it by the reuelacon of Iesus Chyiste. For ye haue hearde of my conuersacon in time past, in the Jewes wayes: howe that beponde measure, * I persecuted the con- gregacyon of God, and spopled it, & pre- uailed in the Jewes lawe, aboue manye of my companions, which wer of myne own nacyon, * & was a much more feruent main- tener of the tradicions of the elders.

Actes. ix. d. But when it pleased God (which separa- ted me from my mothers wombe * and cal- led me by his grace, for to declare his son by me) that I should preach hym amonge the heathen, immediatly I communed not of the matter wpyth (b) fleshe * and bloude, neither returned to Ierusalem to the whiche wer Apostles before me: but went my wayes into Arabia, & came agayne to Damasco. Then after thre yere I returned to Ieru- salem to se Peter, and abode with him. xv. by the au- daies: none other of the Apostles sawe I, save James the Lordes brother. The thyn man: but ges which I write, beholde God knoweth by the mi- racles of I. Ipe not: * After that I wet into the coa- stes of Siria and Cilicia, and was knowen as touchyng my person vnto the congrega- tions of Jewry, which were in Chyist. But they heard only that he whiche persecuted vs in tyme past, nowe preacheth the sayeth whypch before he destroyed. And they glor- yfied God on my behalfe. R

De man. (a) Paule though he came longe after the Apo- stles, yet had he not hys authority of Peter, nor of anye other that wente before hym. Neyther brought he wpyth hym letters of recommenda- cion or bulles of confirmacyon. But the confir- macyon of hys Apostleship, was the worde of God, consence of me, and the power of the spi- rit that testyfyed wpyth hym by myracles and ma- nyfolde gyftes of grace.

(b) That is men and mens counsell. For so syg- nyfeth fleshe and bloude in thys place.

fleshe and bloud.

The. ii. Chapter.

He goeth on in hys declaracyon, wherin he teacheth that he learned not his Gospell, of the Apostles, but rather reproved Peter the chiefe of them. From thys he goeth leysure- ly to the effect of the matter, shewyng that we be iustified by the grace of Chyist, and not by the workes of the lawe.

Then. xiii. yeres after that, I went by againe to Ierusalem with * Barnabas and toke with me Titus also. Yea and I wente by by reuelacion, and communed with them of the Gospell whypch I preach among the Gentils: but apart with them whiche were counted chiefe, lest it shoulde haue bene thought that I shoulde runne or had runne in vaine. Also Titus whypch was with me, though he were a Greke, yet was not compelled to be cpyrcumcysed, and that because of incommers bepng false bzethzen whiche came in among other to spie out our libertye which we haue in Chyiste Iesus, & they mighte bypunge vs into bondage. To whom wee gaue no roume, no not for the space of an houre, as concernyng to bee brought into subieccyon: and that because that the truth of the Gospell myght contp nue wpyth you.

Of them whypch seme to be greate (what they were in time passed, it maketh no mat- ter to me: * God loketh on no mans per- son) neuertheles they whypche seme greate added nothyng to me. But contrarywysle, when they sawe that the Gospell ouer the vncircumcysyon was commpted vnto me, as the Gospell ouer the cpyrcumcyspō was vnto Peter, for he that was mighty in Pe- ter in the Apostleship ouer the cpyrcumcyspō, the same was mighty in me among t<sup>e</sup> vnty- ples, and therfore when they perceiued & grace that was geue vnto me, then James Cephas and Ihon, which semed to be pyl- lers, gaue to me and Barnabas the ryghte handes, and agreed with vs that we shulde preach amonge the heathen, and they a- mong the Jewes, warnyng onely that we should remember the poore. * Which thing also I was diligente to do. And when Pe- ter was come to Antioch, I wpythstode him in the face, for he was worthy to bee bla- med. For per than certayn came from Ja- mes, he eate wpyth the Gentiles. But when they were come, he withdrew and separa- ted hymsele, fearyng them whypch were of the cpyrcumcyspon. And the other Jewes desembled lykewysle, in so much that Bar- nabas was brought into thep<sup>r</sup> synulacion also. But when I sawe that they went not the ryght way after & truth of the Gospell,

Act. v. a.

Paule de- fendeth & libertye of & gospel.

Paule is of as hys au- thoritic as Peter, Ja- mes and Ihon.

Deute. x. d. it. Pa. xix. c. Iob. xxxiii. d. Rom. ii. b. Ephe. vi. b. Actes. x. c.

1. Petri. i. c. Eccl. x. d.

Circumci- sion are the Jewes, & vncircum- cision are the gētils.

Deute. xi. d. ii. Cor. ii. a. Paule re- buketh Peter in the face.

ppp. iii. I sayd

The Epistle of S. Paul

to the Galathy. Chapt. iii.

I sayde vnto Peter before al men. If thou beynge a Jewe, lyuest after the maner of the Gentyles, and not as doo the Jewes, why causest thou the Gentiles to lyue as do the Jewes? We whyche are Jewes by nature, and not synners of the Gentyles

Phil. iii. a. knowe that a man is not iustified by the Roma. iii. c.

(a) dedes of the lawe, but by the fayth of Iesus Christ. And therefore we haue beleued on Iesus Christe, that we myghte be iustified by the fayth of Christ, & not by the dedes of the law: & that because that by the dedes of the law no fleshe can be iustified.

D Yf then whyle we seke to be made righteous by Christ, we oure selues are founde synners, is not then Christe the minister of synne? God forbid. For if I buylde againe that whyche I destroyed, then make I my selfe a trespasser. But I thowowe the lawe am (b) deade to the lawe, that I myghte lyue vnto god: I am crucified wth Christ, I lyue yetely: yet nowe not I, but Christe lyueth in me. For the lyfe whyche I now lyue in the fleshe, I lyue by the fayth of the sonne of God, which loued me and gaue hymselfe for me. I despyse not the grace of god. For if righteousness come of the lawe then Christ dyed in vayne.

The Notes.

Dedes of the lawe. (a) The law uttereth my synne, and threatneth damnacion for the same, and ther by dysueth me to Christe for mercy and remission: For in the dedes of the law, is now to be found. For when we haue done all, we are vnprofitable seruantes, and haue doone but our dutye. We can not therefore by these dedes, deserue remission of our former offences.

Dead to the lawe. (b) So many as thowowe the threatenynge of the lawe haue fledde vnto Christe, and be crucified wth hym by mortyfying theyr fleshely desyres, and castynge all theyr heauye burthen on hys backe: are by the lawe deade to the lawe. That is thowow the terriblye threatenynge of the lawe, they haue sought Christ: who deliuereth from the lawe, all them that come vnto hym, and setteth them at libertye, to serue as free men, and not as bond slaues.

The. iii. Chapter.

Now he enueryeth agaynst them, shewynge by manye argumentes that wee be iustified through the grace of Christ, by fayth, not by the workes of the law. And thus he teacheth by example of Abraham, and by the efficacye of fayth and of the lawe, shewynge wthall why the lawe was geuen: and that by fayth we are deliuered from the power and bondage thereof.

Of the Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that ye shoulde not beleue the truth? To who Iesus Christ was described before the eyes, and amonge you crucified. This onely would I learne of you, receiued ye the spirite by the dedes of the lawe, or els by preachynge of the fayth? Are ye so vnwise, that after ye haue begonne in the spirite, ye woulde now end in the fleshe? So manye thynges then ye haue suffered in vaine, if that be vaine. Whyche ministred to you the spirite, and worketh miracles amonge you, doeth he it thowowe the dedes of the lawe, or by preachynge of the faith? Euen as Abraham beleued God, and it was ascribed to him for righteousness: Understande therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

For the scripture sa we afore hand, that God would iustifie the Heathen thowowe faith, and therefore shewed before had glad tydings vnto Abraham: In the which all nations be blessed. So then they whyche be of fayth are blessed with faithfull Abraham. For as many as are vnder the dedes of the law, are vnder malediccion. For it is wrytten, cursed is every man that contynueth not in all thynges, which are wrytten in the booke of the lawe, to fulfill them. That no man is iustified by the law in the syghte of God, is euident. For the iust shall lyue by fayth. The law is not of faith, but of the man that fulfilleth the thynges contayned in the law, shall lyue in them. But Christ hath deliuered vs from the curse of the law, and was made accursed for vs. For it is wrytten, cursed is every one that hangeth on tre, & the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles thowow Iesus Christ, and that we might receiue the promes of the spirit thowow fayth.

Brethren, I wil speake after the maner of men. Though it be but a mannes testamente, yet no manne dispiseth it, or addeth any thing therto when it is once allowed. To Abraham and his seede were the promes made. He sayeth not in thy seedes as in many: but in thy seede as in one, whiche is Christ. This I saye, that the law which began afterward, beyonde foure hundred and thirte peates, doeth not disanull the Testamente, that was confirmed afore of God vnto Christwarde, to make the promes of none effect. For if the inheritance come of the lawe, it cometh not of promes. But God gaue it vnto Abraham by promes.

Wherfore then serueth the lawe? The lawe was added because of transgression (till the seede came to whiche the promes was made) and it was ordeyned by angels in the hand of a mediator: he is not mediator of one: But God is one. Is the lawe then agaynst the promes of God? God forbid. Howbeit, if ther had ben a law geuen, which could haue geuen lyfe, then no dout righteousness shoulde haue come by the lawe. But the scripture concluded all thynges vnder synne, that the promes by the fayth of Iesus Christ shoulde be geue vnto them that beleue. &

Before the fayth came, we were kept & shut vp vnder the law to the fayth whiche shoulde after ward be declared. Wherfore the lawe was oure scholemaster to the time of Christ, that we might be made righteous by faith. But after the fayth is come, now are we no longer vnder a scholemaster. For ye are all

Gen. xii. c.
Rom. iii. a.
Iaco. ii. b

Gene. xii. a.
and. xii. a.
Eccl. xxi. i.
The lawe
curseth,
but fayth
blesseth.
Deu. xxi. d
For fayth onely maketh
the conscience
alyue.

Ab. ii. a Roman. x. c
Ioc. xxi. a Ezech. xi. b
Roma. x. a.

Christ
was accursed
for our sakes, & is he was punished & claime for our sins.

Deut. xxi. c
Gene. xv. c.
Exod. xii. f
Jerem. v. b
Acte. vii. a.
Roma. iii. c

The lawe.
Roma. v. c.
and. vi. b
Acte. vii. g
Rom. vii. c
i. Tim. i. b.
The lawe
geueth
not lyfe,
but threatneth
death.

all the (a) sonnes of GOD, by the sayeth which is in Christ Iesus. For all ye that are baptised, haue put on Christ. Now is there no Jewe neyther Gentyl, there is neyther bond nor fre: there is neither man nor woman: but ye are all one thyng in Christ Iesu. If ye be Christs, then are ye Abrahams seide and heires by promes.

The Notes.

Sonnes of God. (a) True it is, that we are all the sons of God, so many of vs as by sayth are new borne chyldren in the generacon of the spyrte. And so are we brothers and heires together with Christe in the kyngdom of hys father. But yet is Christ (for whose sake we are adopted) the first begotten, euen of the substance of the father, and in diu. nine equal vnto hym.

The.iii. Chapter.

Because he entredeth to dyspute more plainly of Christen lyberte, he rehearseth fyrste some what of the vse and propriete of the lawe, from whiche he teacheth that wee are deliuered by Christe. Then blameth he them that were returned backe to the fyrst principles: and by comparing of theyr olde lyfe, he sheweth howe fowle theyr error is, discoueryng wthall the deccytes of the false Apostles. Then by a fygure taken out of y law, he sheweth that we are bonde by the lawe, & deliuered by Christe.

A And I saye that the heire as long as he is a chylde, differeth not from a seruaunt, though he be Lord of all, but is vnder tutours and gouerners, vntill the tyme appointed of the father. Euen so we, as long as we were children, were in bondage vnder the ordinaunces of the worlde. But when the (a) tyme was full come, god sent his sonne made of a woman, & made bond vnto the lawe, to redeme them, which were vnder the law: that we thozow election mighte receiue the inheritaunce that belongeth vnto the naturall sonnes. Because ye are sonnes, God hath sente the spirit of his sonne into our hertes, whiche cryeth Abba father. Wherefore nowe thou art not a seruaunt but a sonne. If thou be the sonne, thou art also the heire of GOD thozowe Christe. &

Notwithstanding when ye knewe not God, ye dyd serpyce vnto them which by nature were no goddes. But now sepyng ye know god (yea rather are knowen of god) howe is it that ye retourne agayne too the weake and beggerly ceremonies, wher vnto agayne ye desyre afresh to be in bondage? Ye obserue daies, and moneths, and tymes, and peares, I am in fear of you lest I haue bestowed on you laboure in vayne.

Brethren, I beseech you, be ye as I am: for I am as ye are. Ye haue not hurte me at all. Ye know howe I forow infirmitie of the fleshe, I preached the Gospell vnto you at the firste. And my temptacon whiche I suffered by reason of my fleshe, ye despised not, neyther abhorred: but receiued me as on rebuke, an angell of god: yea as Christ Iesu. How & I crosse, happye were ye then: for I bear your record that if it hadde bene possyble, ye wold haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen the to me. Am I therfore become your enemye, because I tel you the truth? They are gelous ouer you amisse, yea, they intended to exclude you, that ye should be feruent to themwarde. It is good alwayes to be feruent, so it be in a good thyng, and not only when I am present wth you.

My litle chyldren of whome I trauaile in byrth agayne vntill Christ be fastyned in you, I would I wer wth you now, and coulde chaunge my voice: for I stande in a doubte of you. Tel me, ye that desyre to be vnder the lawe, haue ye not hearde of the lawe? For it is writen that Abrahā had two sonnes, the one by a bonde mayd, the other by a fre woman. Yea and he whiche was of the bonde woman, was borne after the fleshe: but he which was of the fre woman, was borne by promes. Whiche thyng betoken a mistery. For these womenne are two testaments: the one from the mounte Syna, whiche gendreth to bondage which is Agar. For mount Sina is called Agar in Arabya, and bordreth vpon the cpty, which is nowe Hierusalē, and is in bondage with hyr chyldren.

But Hierusalem, which is aboue, is fre: which is the mother of vs all. For it is writen: reioyce thou baren that bearest no chyldren: breake forth and crye, thou that trauailest not. For the desolate hath manye more chyldren then she whiche hath an husband. Brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, children of promes. But as then, he was borne carnallpe, persecuted hym that was borne spyrituallpe: euen so is it nowe. Reuerthelesse what sayth the scrpyture: put awape the bond womanne and hyr sonne. For the sonne of the bonde woman shall not be heire wth the son of the fre womanne. So then brethren we are not chyldren of the bonde womanne: but of the fre woman.

The Notes.

(a) That was the tyme of Christes comynge, who made an ende of the lawe, and deliuered vs from the burthen therof.

The. v. Chapter.

He exhorteth them to perseuer in the Christen sayeth, excepte they entende to fall from Christe. Then threateneth he punishment to the false Apostles. And lest they should abuse theyr lyberte in geuyng the fleshe the luste thereof, he appoynteth to them charytie, and wylleth them to crucify the fleshe wth the affeccon therof.

Stand fast therfore in the liberty wherewith Christe hath made vs free, & wrap not your selues agayne in the poke of bondage. Behold I Paule saye vnto you, that if ye be cyncumysed, Christe shall profyt you nothyng at all. I testifie agayne to euery man whiche is cyncumysed, that he is bounde to kepe the whole law. Ye are gone quite from Christe as manye as are iustified all the (a) sonnes of GOD, by the sayeth which is in Christ Iesus. For all ye that are baptised, haue put on Christ. Now is there no Jewe neyther Gentyl, there is neyther bond nor fre: there is neither man nor woman: but ye are all one thyng in Christ Iesu. If ye be Christs, then are ye Abrahams seide and heires by promes.

The Notes.

Sonnes of God. (a) True it is, that we are all the sons of God, so many of vs as by sayth are new borne chyldren in the generacon of the spyrte. And so are we brothers and heires together with Christe in the kyngdom of hys father. But yet is Christ (for whose sake we are adopted) the first begotten, euen of the substance of the father, and in diu. nine equal vnto hym.

The.iii. Chapter.

Because he entredeth to dyspute more plainly of Christen lyberte, he rehearseth fyrste some what of the vse and propriete of the lawe, from whiche he teacheth that wee are deliuered by Christe. Then blameth he them that were returned backe to the fyrst principles: and by comparing of theyr olde lyfe, he sheweth howe fowle theyr error is, discoueryng wthall the deccytes of the false Apostles. Then by a fygure taken out of y law, he sheweth that we are bonde by the lawe, & deliuered by Christe.

A And I saye that the heire as long as he is a chylde, differeth not from a seruaunt, though he be Lord of all, but is vnder tutours and gouerners, vntill the tyme appointed of the father. Euen so we, as long as we were children, were in bondage vnder the ordinaunces of the worlde. But when the (a) tyme was full come, god sent his sonne made of a woman, & made bond vnto the lawe, to redeme them, which were vnder the law: that we thozow election mighte receiue the inheritaunce that belongeth vnto the naturall sonnes. Because ye are sonnes, God hath sente the spirit of his sonne into our hertes, whiche cryeth Abba father. Wherefore nowe thou art not a seruaunt but a sonne. If thou be the sonne, thou art also the heire of GOD thozowe Christe. &

Notwithstanding when ye knewe not God, ye dyd serpyce vnto them which by nature were no goddes. But now sepyng ye know god (yea rather are knowen of god) howe is it that ye retourne agayne too the weake and beggerly ceremonies, wher vnto agayne ye desyre afresh to be in bondage? Ye obserue daies, and moneths, and tymes, and peares, I am in fear of you lest I haue bestowed on you laboure in vayne.

Brethren, I beseech you, be ye as I am: for I am as ye are. Ye haue not hurte me at all. Ye know howe I forow infirmitie of the fleshe, I preached the Gospell vnto you at the firste. And my temptacon whiche I suffered by reason of my fleshe, ye despised not, neyther abhorred: but receiued me as on rebuke, an angell of god: yea as Christ Iesu. How & I crosse, happye were ye then: for I bear your record that if it hadde bene possyble, ye wold haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue geuen the to me. Am I therefore become your enemye, because I tel you the truth? They are gelous ouer you amisse, yea, they intended to exclude you, that ye should be feruent to themwarde. It is good alwayes to be feruent, so it be in a good thyng, and not only when I am present wth you.

My litle chyldren of whome I trauaile in byrth agayne vntill Christ be fastyned in you, I would I wer wth you now, and coulde chaunge my voice: for I stande in a doubte of you. Tel me, ye that desyre to be vnder the lawe, haue ye not hearde of the lawe? For it is writen that Abrahā had two sonnes, the one by a bonde mayd, the other by a fre woman. Yea and he whiche was of the bonde woman, was borne after the fleshe: but he which was of the fre woman, was borne by promes. Whiche thyng betoken a mistery. For these womenne are two testaments: the one from the mounte Syna, whiche gendreth to bondage which is Agar. For mount Sina is called Agar in Arabya, and bordreth vpon the cpty, which is nowe Hierusalē, and is in bondage with hyr chyldren.

But Hierusalem, which is aboue, is fre: which is the mother of vs all. For it is writen: reioyce thou baren that bearest no chyldren: breake forth and crye, thou that trauailest not. For the desolate hath manye more chyldren then she whiche hath an husband. Brethren, we are after the maner of Isaac, children of promes. But as then, he was borne carnallpe, persecuted hym that was borne spyrtyually: euen so is it nowe. Reuerthelesse what sayth the scrpyture: put awaye the bond womanne and hyr sonne. For the sonne of the bonde woman shall not be heire wth the son of the fre womanne. So then brethren we are not chyldren of the bonde womanne: but of the fre woman.

The Notes.

(a) That was the tyme of Christes comynge, who made an ende of the lawe, and deliuered vs from the burthen therof.

The. v. Chapter.

He exhorteth them to perseuer in the Christen sayeth, excepte they entende to fall from Christe. Then threateneth he punishment to the false Apostles. And lest they should abuse theyr lyberte in geuyng the fleshe the luste thereof, he appoynteth to them charytye, and wylleth them to crucify the fleshe wth the affeccon therof.

Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christe hath made vs free, & wrap not your selues agayne in the poke of bondage. Behold I Paule saye vnto you, that if ye be cyncumysed, Christe shall profyt you nothyng at all. I testifie agayne to euery man whiche is cyncumysed, that he is bounde to kepe the whole law. Ye are gone quite from Christe as manye as are iustified

The Epistle of saint Paul

The liber- iustified by the lawe, and are fallen from tie & freed grace. We loke for and hope in the spirite, that we to be iustified thorough fayth. * For in Iesu haue in Christ, nether is circumcision any thyng Christe worthe, neither yet vncircumcision, but ought eue faith which by loue is mighty in operaciō.
ry man to Ye did run well: who was a let to you, that stand by. ye shoulde not obepe the truthe? Euen that spareth counsell, that is not of him that called you.

which wo? * A litle leuen doth leuen the whole lomp keth tho- of dowe.

rowe loue * I haue trust toward you in the lord, that is the true ye wil be none otherwise impeded. Wethat fayth and troubleth you, shall beare his iudgemente, all that whatsoeuer he be. Brethren, if I yet preach god requi- circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecu-reth of vs. cion? For then had the offence whych the Galat. vi. a crosse geueth, ceased. I would to God thei

i. Cor. v. a were separated from you, whych the trouble
i. Co. v. b you. Brethren, ye were called into libertie

Christes only, * let not your libertie be an occasiō libertie is vnto the fleshe, but in loue serue one ano-a libertie ther. For all þ law is fulfilled in one word, of consi- whiche is this: Thou shalt loue thy neighence & not bour as thy selfe. If ye bite and deuour one of þ flesh another, take hede lest ye be consumed one Ro. xiii. a of another.

i. Co. viii. a * I sape walke in the spirit, and fulfil not
i. Co. viii. a the lustes of the fleshe. For the flesh lusteth Leuit. xix. d contrary to the spirit: and * the spirit con-
mat. xxi. b trary to the fleshe. These are contrary one Mar. xii. c to þ other, so that ye can not do that which
Rom. xiii. c ye wold. But and if ye be led of the spirite, James. ii. b then are ye not vnder the lawe. The dedes
mat. xxvi. b of the fleshe are manifest, which are these,
i. Pe. ii. c aduoutre, fornicacion, vncleannes, wan-Flesh and tonnes, ydolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, va-
spirit fight riance, zeale, wrath, strife, sedicion, sectes, together. enuyng, murthre, dronkenness, glottony,
To conyt and suchlike: of the whych I tell you be-such de- fore, as I haue told you in tymes past, that des ma- they which commit such thinges, shall not keth vs vnder der dānaci-der dānaci- on of the
on of the law.

i. Cor. vi. b The frui-
Eph. vi. a tes of the
The frui- spirit
tes of the are
spirit. not vnder
i. Timo. i the dānaci-
These de- on of the
des testify lawe.

i. Cor. vi. b The frui-
Eph. vi. a tes of the
The frui- spirit
tes of the are
spirit. not vnder
i. Timo. i the dānaci-
These de- on of the
des testify lawe.

i. Timo. i The frui-
These de- tes of the des testify spirit
þ we are are
not vnder not vnder
the dānaci- the dānaci-
on of the on of the
lawe. lawe.

The dutye
of euerpe
chrysten
man.

i. Cor. iii. b Spirit of mekenes: consyderinge thy selfe, Rom. xv. a least thou also be tempted. * Beare ye one another's burthen and so fulfill the law of Christ. If anye man seme to himselfe, that he is somewhat, whē in dede he is nothing, thesame deceiueh himselfe in his imaginacion. Let euerp man proue his own work, made only and then shall he haue reioysing in his own selfe, and not in another. For euerp man shall beare hys owne burthen.

to the Galathy, Chap. vi.

Let him that is taught in the worde, minister vnto hym that teacheth him, in all good thyngs. Be not deceiued, God is not mocked. * For whatsoeuer a man soweth, that shall he reape. He that soweth in hys fleshe: shall of the fleshe reape corrupciō.
But he that soweth in the spirit, shall of the spirit reape lyfe euerlastyng. * Let vs not be wery of well doyng. For when the time is come, we shall reape wpythoute werynes.
Whyle we haue therfore tyme, lette vs do good vnto al men, and specially vnto them which are of the household of faieyth.

* Beholde how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand. As many as desyre with outwarde apperaunce to please carnallye, they constraine you to be circumcised, only because they woulde not suffer persecucion with the crosse of Christ.
For they themselves whych are circumcised, kepe not the lawe: but desyre to haue you circumcised, that they mighte reioyce
in our fleshe.

God forbid that I should reioyse but in the crosse of our Lorde Iesu Christ, wher-
by the world is crucified as touchyng me, and I as concernyng the worlde. For * in Christ Iesu neither circumcision auaieth any thinge at all, nor vncircumcision, but a newe creature. And as many as walke according to this rule: peace be on them, and mercy, and vpon Israell that pertapneth to God: From hence forth, let no man put me to busynes. For I beare in my body the marckes of the Lorde Iesu. Brethren, the grace of our lord Iesu Christ be with poure spirite. Amen.

Unto the Galathians written from Rome.

Nothing helpeth
saue to be a newe creature.

Galat. v. b
i. Cor. iiii. c

The Prologe

vnto the Epytyle of saint

Paule to the Ephesians.

This Epytyle, and namely in þ thre fyrst Chapters, Paule sheweth
that the Gospell and grace thereof was forlone and predestynate of god from before the begynnyng, and deserued tho-rowe Christe, and nowe at the laste sente forth that all men shoulde beleue thereon, thereby to be iustified, made ryghteous, lyving and happy,
and to be deliuered from vnder the dampnaci-
on of the lawe, and captiuitie of ceremonies.
And in the fourth he teacheth to auoyde tra-dycions and mens doctrynes, and to beware of puttyng

The Epistle of saint Paul

The liber- iustified by the lawe, and are fallen from tie & freed grace. We loke for and hope in the spirite, that we to be iustified thorough fayth. * For in Iesu
haue in Christ, nether is circumcision any thyng Christe worthe, neither yet vncircumcision, but ought eue faith which by loue is mighty in operaciō.
ry man to Ye did run well: who was a let to you, that stand by. ye shoulde not obepe the truthe? Euen that

spareth counsell, that is not of him that called you.
which wo? * A litle leuen doth leuen the whole lomp
keth tho- of dowe.

rowe loue * I haue trust toward you in the lord, that is the true ye wil be none otherwise impeded. Wethat fayth and troubleth you, shall beare his iudgemente, all that whatsoeuer he be. Brethren, if I yet preach god requi- circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecu-reth of vs. cion? For then had the offence whych the Galat. vi. a crosse geueth, ceased. I would to God thei

i. Cor. v. a were separated from you, whych the trouble
i. Co. v. b you. Brethren, ye were called into libertie

Christes only, * let not your libertie be an occasiō
libertie is vnto the fleshe, but in loue serue one ano-
a libertie ther. For all þ law is fulfilled in one word, of consi- whiche is this: Thou shalt loue thy neighence & not bour as thy selfe. If ye bite and deuour one of þ flesh another, take hede lest ye be consumed one Ro. xiii. a of another.

i. Co. viii. a * I sape walke in the spirit, and fulfil not
i. Co. viii. a the lustes of the fleshe. For the flesh lusteth Leuit. xix. d contrary to the spirit: and * the spirit con-
mat. xxi. b trary to the fleshe. These are contrary one Mar. xii. c to þ other, so that ye can not do that which
Rom. xiii. c ye wold. But and if ye be led of the spirite, James. ii. b then are ye not vnder the lawe. The dedes
mat. xxvi. b of the fleshe are manifest, which are these,
i. Pe. ii. c aduoutre, fornicacion, vncleannes, wan-
Flesh and tonnes, ydolatrie, witchcraft, hatred, va-
spirit fight riance, zeale, wrath, strife, sedicion, sectes,
together. enuyng, murthre, dronkenness, glottony,
To conyt and suchlike: of the whych I tell you be-such de- fore, as I haue told you in tymes past, that des ma- they which commit such thinges, shall not
keth vs vnder der dānaci-
der dānaci- on of the
on of the law.

i. Cor. vi. b The frui-
Eph. vi. a tes of the
The frui- spirit
tes of the are
spirit. not vnder
i. Timo. i the dānaci-
These de- on of the
des testify lawe.

i. Cor. vi. b The frui-
Eph. vi. a tes of the
The frui- spirit
tes of the are
spirit. not vnder
i. Timo. i the dānaci-
These de- on of the
des testify lawe.

i. Timo. i The frui-
These de- tes of the
des testify spirit
þ we are are
not vnder not vnder
the dānaci- the dānaci-
on of the on of the
lawe. lawe.

The dutye
of euerpe
chrysten
man.

i. Cor. iii. b Spirit of mekenes: consyderinge thy selfe, Rom. xv. a least thou also be tempted. * Beare ye one another's burthen and so fulfill the law of Christ. If anye man seme to himselfe, that he is somewhat, whē in dede he is nothing,

thesame deceiueh himselfe in his imagina-
cion. Let euerp man proue his own work, made only and then shall he haue reioysing in his own selfe, and not in another. For euerp man shall beare hys owne burthen.

to the Galathy, Chap. vi.

Let him that is taught in the worde, minister vnto hym that teacheth him, in all good thyngs. Be not deceiued, God is not mocked. * For whatsoeuer a man soweth,
that shall he reape. He that soweth in hys fleshe: shall of the fleshe reape corrupciō.
But he that soweth in the spirit, shall of the spirit reape lyfe euerlastyng. * Let vs not be wery of well doyng. For when the time
is come, we shall reape wpythoute werynes.
Whyle we haue therfore tyme, lette vs do
good vnto al men, and specially vnto them
which are of the household of faieyth.

* Beholde how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand. As many as despye with outwarde apperaunce to please carnallye, they constraine you to be circumcised, only because they woulde not suffer persecucion with the crosse of Christ.
For they themselves whych are circumcised, kepe not the lawe: but despye to haue
you circumcised, that they mighte reioyce
in our fleshe.

God forbid that I should reioyse but in the crosse of our Lorde Iesu Christ, wher-
by the world is crucified as touchyng me,
and I as concernyng the worlde. For * in Christ Iesu neither circumcision auaieth
any thinge at all, nor vncircumcision, but
a newe creature. And as many as walke according to this rule: peace be on them, and
mercy, and vpon Israell that pertapneth
to God: From hence forth, let no man put me to busynes. For I beare in my body the marckes of the Lorde Iesu. Brethren, the grace of our lord Iesu Christ be with poure spirite. Amen.

Unto the Galathians written from Rome.

Nothing helpeth
saue to be a newe creature.

Galat. v. b
i. Cor. iiii. c

The Prologe

vnto the Epytyle of saint

Paule to the Ephesians.

In this Epistle, and namely in þ thre fyrst Chapters, Paule sheweth
that the Gospell and grace thereof
was forlone and predestynate of god from before the begynnyng, and deserued throrowe Christ, and now at the laste sente forth that all men shoulde beleue thereon, thereby to be iustified, made ryghteous, lyving and happy,
and to be deliuered from vnder the dampnaci-
on of the lawe, and captiuitie of ceremonies.
And in the fourth he teacheth to auoyde tradycons and mens doctrynes, and to beware of puttyng

The Epistle of S. Paul

puttyng trust in anye thyng, saue in Christ, as-fyrmyng that he onely is sufferyent, and that in hym we haue all thynges, and besyde hym, nede nothyng.

In the .v. and .vi. he exhorteth to exerce the fayeth, and to declare it abroade thowowe good workes, and to auoide synne, and to arme them wth spirituall armoures agaynst the deuyl, & they might stande faste in tyme of trybulacyon, and vnder the crosse.

The epistle of saynt Paule vnto the Ephesians.

The fyrst Chapter.

By and by after the begynnyng, he teacheth that before the worlde was made, God appointed to saue vs by Christ, in whom he hath opened all the treasures of knowledge and health: And whyle he wytheth to the Ephesians the knowledge of hym, he getteth hym they good wylls, teachyng wythall what is geuen of Christ, and what oughte thefely to be craued of God.

A

ALL E an Apostle of Iesu
Christ by the wpll of God.
To the Sainctes whiche are at Ephesus, & to them whiche beleue on Iesus Christ: Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

Blessed be God the father of our lord Jesus Christ, which hath blessed vs wth all maner of spirituall blessings in heauenly thynges by Christ, accordyng as he had chosen vs in him, before the foundation of the worlde was layed, that wee shoulde be Sainctes and withoute blame before hym thorowe loue. And ordeined vs before tho-row Iesus Christ, to be hepyes vnto hym selfe, accordyng to the pleasure of hys wil, to the praise of the glorie of his grace, wher wth he hath made vs accepted in the be-loued.

By whom we haue redempcyon thowowe hys bloud, euen the forgyuenes of synnes, accordyng to the riches of his grace, which grace he shedde on vs aboundantly in all geuenes wil dome and perseuerance. And hath opened vnto vs the * mystery of his will ac-cordyng to hys pleasure, and purposed the same in him selfe, to haue it declared * whethe tyme were full come: that all thynges, both the thynges which are in heauen, and also the thynges which are in earth, shoulde be gathered together euen in Christ: that is to say, in him, in whom we are made heires, and were thereto predestinate accor-dyng to the purpose of him which worketh all thynges after the purpose of hys owne wil, that we which before beleued in Christ shoulde be vnto the prayse of hys glorie.

In whom also ye (after that ye heard the

to the Ephes. Chapt. i. Fo, lxxxix, word of truth, I mean the Gospel of your saluacion, wherin ye beleued) * were sealed with the holy spirit of promes, which is the earnest of our inheritaunce, to redeme the purchased possession, and that vnto the laude of hys glorie.

Wherefore, euen I (after that I heard of the fayeth whiche ye haue in the Lord Jesu, and loue vnto all the sainctes) * cease not to geue thanks for you, making mencyon of you in my prayers, that the God of our Lord Iesus Christ, and the father of glorie, might geue vnto you the spryte of wyl dome, and open to you the knowledge of hym selfe, and lighten the eyes of youre minde, that ye myght know what that * hope is, wherunto he hath called you, and what the ryches of hys gloriouse inheritaunce is vpon the sainctes, and what is excedyng greatnes of hys power to vswarde, whiche beleue accordyng to the wor-kyng of that his mighty power, whiche he wrought in Christ, when he raysted him fro the deade, * and set him on hys right hand in heauenly thynges, aboue * all rule, power, and might, and dominion, and aboue all names that are named, not in this worlde only, but also in the worlde to come: and * hath put all thynges vnder hys feete, and hath made hym aboue all thynges, & the head of the congregacyon, which is his body, and the fulnes of him that fylleth all in all thynges.

The ii. Chapter.

He teacheth that all menne be synners, and are iustified frely by Christ. Then sheweth he that the Gentyles are also called to salua-cyon, in as much as Christ hath taken away the stoppe of the lawe, and hath made of all beleuers, but one Church.

And you hath he quickened also that were deade in trespas and synne, in the whiche * in tyme passed ye walked accordyng to the course of this worlde, and after the gouernour that ruleth in the aier, the spirit that now worketh in the chyl dren of vnbefese, among whiche we also had oure conuersacyon in tyme paste, in the lustes of oure fleche, and fulfilled the wpll of the fleche and of the mynde: & were naturally the chyl dren of wrath, euen as well as other.

But God which is rich in mercy thowow hys greate loue wherewyth he loued vs, euen when wee were deade by synne, hath quickened vs together in Christ (for by grace are ye saued) and hath raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in hea-uenly thynges thowow Christ Iesu, for to shew in tyme to come the excedyng ryches of his grace in kindnes to vsward in Christ Iesu.

For by grace are ye made safe thowowe faith, and that not of your selues. For it is the gyft of God, and cometh not of wor-kes, lest any man shoulde boaste hymselfe.
For we are his workemanshpye created in Christ

Ro. viii. d.
ii. Cor. i. d.
and. v. a

Where
fayeth to Christe is,
there is loue to all that are san-ctified in his bloud.
Hope.

* Rom. i. a
Phil. i. b
Collo. i. a
ii. Cel. i. a * Ro. xv. c.

Fayth is worke of god only,
euen as
was praising vp of Christ.
Psal. cii. a.
Deu. vii. d
Psal. viii. c
Job. ii
i. Cor. xv. d
Ephes. v. e
Collo. i. c

Rom. i. a
i. Cor. i. a Gala. i. a
i. Pet. i. a
ii. Cor. i. a
ii. Pet. i. a

Colo. i. c.
Redempcyon is for-gyuenes
of synnes.
Mystery is secret coun-
sell.
Gala. iii. a

Roma. v. a
Collo. i. e

Collo. iii. a

We be all
by nature
the chyl dre
of wrath &
hepyes of dampna-
cyon.

The Epistle of S. Paul

to the Ephes. Chapt. iii.

Citus. i. d. in Christ Jesus to *good (a) workes, vnto the which God ordeined vs befoze, that we shoulde walke in them.

Phil. iii. a
Col. ii. b
The gen- tiles till
Christe
came wer
not vnder
the coue-
naunt of mercy, but the Jewes
onely.
Wherefore remember that ye beyng in tyme passed gentils in the flesh, and were called vncircumcysion to them which are called *circumcision in the flesh, which circumcision is made by handes: Remember I say, that ye were at that tyme wthoute Christ, and wer reputed aliaunts from the comen welth of Israel, and were straungers from the testaments of promes, & had no hope, and were without God in thys worlde. But now in Christ Jesu, ye which awhile ago were farre of, are made nyghe by the bloud of Christe.

Roma. v. a
For he is oure peace, whypche hath made of both one, and hath broken down the (b) wall that was a stop betwene vs, and hath also put away thorow hys flesh, the cause of hatred (that is to saye, the lawe of commaundementes conteyned in the lawe witten) for to make of twayne one newe man in him selfe, so making peace: and to reconcile both vnto God in one body thorow his crosse, and slewe hatred thereby: and came and preached peace to you, whiche were a farre of, and to the that were nigh. For thorow him we both haue an open waye in, in one spirite vnto the father.

Founda-
cion is the worde of
God.
i. Co. iiii. d.
Esa. xlviii. b
Act. iiii. b
Roma. ix. f
Pl. cxviii. c
Mat. xxi. d
Actes. iiii. c
i. Pet. ii. b.
Now therfore ye are no more straungers and foreyners, but citisins with the saints, and of the household of God: and are buylt vpon the *foundation of the Apostles and Prophetes, & Jesus Christ beyng the heade corner stone, in whom euery buildynge coupled together, groweth vnto an holy temple in the Lorde, in whom ye also are built together (made an habitacyn for God in the spirite.)

The Notes.

Good wor-
kes.
(a) The promyses of merce in Christes bloude are made vs on that condycyon, that we walke in the workes commaunded of God, louynge one another.

The wall.
(b) Moyles lawe was thys wal whypch shut out the Gentyls from the fold of hys chosen shepe. Thys wall is now taken away by Christ, and entraunce is geuen to all nacyns of the earthe to come to the knowledge of God, and to lyue in brotherly loue together, as shepe of one flock, & chyldren of one household, the cause of hatred (that is the lawe of ceremonies) put awaye.

The. iii. Chapter.

To proue these thynges whypche he spake befoze, he commendeth now hys ministracyon, shewyng from whence he toke his office, and what he nowe suffereth for it and the Gentyls sakes. And lest they should be offended wth hys imprisonment, he exhorteth them to constancke, shewyng that he prayeth to God for them alwayes, that he may by example of hym selfe prouoke them also to prayer.

Paul
is an apostle
to the hea-
then,
For this cause I paule am in the bondes of Jesu Christe for poure sakes which are heathen. If ye haue hearde of the ministracyon of the grace of God *then, and which is geuen me to pouward. For by re-uelacion shewed he this mystery to me, as I learned wrote aboue in fewe words, wherby when ye reade, ye maye knowe mine vnderstandynge in the mystery of Christ. Which mystery in times passed was not opened to the sonnes of men, as it is nowe declared vnto hys holpe Apostles and prophetes by the spirit: that the Gentiles should be inheretours also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promes that is in Christe, by the meanes of the Gospell, whereof I am made a minister, by the gift of the grace of God, gyuen vnto me thorow the working of his power.

Vnto me *the least of all saintes is this grace geuen, that I should preach among the Gentiles the vnsearcheable riches of Christe, and to make all men see what the felowshyppe of the mystery is, which from the beginnyng of the worlde hath bene hyd in God whiche made all thynges thorow Jesus Christ, to the entente that now vnto the rulers & powers in heauen mighte be knowen (by the congregacyon) the manyfold wisdom of God, accordyng to the eternall purpose, whypche he purposed in Christe Jesu oure Lorde, by whom we are bold to drawe nych in that truste whypche we haue by sayeth on him. *Wherefore I desire that ye saynt not, because of my tribulacions *for poure sakes, whypch is poure praise.

For this cause I bowe my knees vnto the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, whiche is father ouer all that is called father in heauen and in earth, that he wold graunt you accordyng to the riches of his gloze, that ye maye be strengthened with mighte by hys spirite in the inner man, that Christe maye dwell in poure hertes by (a) sayeth, that ye beyng rooted and grounded in loue, might be able to comprehend wth all sayntes, what is that bredth and length, depth and heighth: and to knowe what is the loue of Christ, which loue passeth knowlege: that ye might be fulfilled with al maner of fulnes whypche cometh of God.

Vnto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly aboue al that we are or think, accordyng to the power that worketh in vs, be praise in the congregacion by Jesus Christe, thorowoute all generacions, from tyme to tyme. Amen.

The Notes.

(a) Where true sayth in Christ is, there is loue to the neyghboure: and sayth and loue make vs vnderstande all thynges. Sayth vnderstandeth the secretes of God, and the merce that is gyuen by in Christ. And loue knoweth his durye to his neyghbour, and can interprete all lawes and ordynances, and knoweth howe far forth they are to be kept, & whe to be dispensed with.

The. iii. Chapter.

First with many argumentes he exhorteth to concord, and than to holynes of lyfe. Last of all, he blameth dyuerse byces that are in spech, in dedes, and in the affectyons of our mynde.

I ther-

I Therefore whypche am in bondes for the Lordes sake, exhort you* that ye walke worthye of the vocacion, wherewith ye are called, in all humblenesse of mynd, and mekenes, and longe sufferynge, forbearing one another thowowe loue, and that ye be diligente to kepe the vnitie of the spirite in the bonde of peace, beyng one bodye and one spirit, euen as ye are called in one hope of your callynge. Let there be but one lord one fayth, one baptysme, one God, and father of all whypche is aboue al, thowowe al, and in you al.

¶ Unto euery one of vs is geuen grace ac-cordinge to the measure of the gyfte of Christe. Wherfore he sayeth. * He is gone bp on hye, and hath led captiuitie captiue and hath geuen gyftes vnto men. That he ascended what meaneth it, but that he also descended fyrste into the lowest partes of the pearth. * He that descended, is euen the same also that ascended vpe aboue all heauens, to fulfyll al thinges.

¶ And the very same made* some Apostles, some Prophetes, some Euangelystes, some shepherdes, some teachers: that the sayn-tes myghte haue al thynges necessarpe to worke and minister wpthal to the edifyng of the bodye of Christ, tpe we euery one (in the vnitie of faieith, and knowledge of the sonne of God) growe vp into a perfect mā after the measure of age of the fulnes of Christe. * That we henceforthe be no more chyliden: wauerynge and carped wpth euerpe wynde of doctryne, by the wplynes of men, and craftynes, wherby they laye a wapte for vs, to deceyue vs.

¶ But let vs folowe the truth in loue, and in althynges growe in hym whypch is* the heade, that is to saye, Christ, in whome all the bodye is coupled and knyt together in euery ioynt, wherewith* one ministrerth to another (accordinge to the operacion, as e-uery part hath hys measure) and encreaseth the bodye vnto the edifyng of it selfe in loue.

¶ Thys I saye therefore and testifie in the Lorde that ye henceforth walke not as other Gentyles walke, in vanitie of theyr mind, blynded in their vnderstandynge, beyng straungers fro the life which is in god thowowe the ignoraunce that is in the, because of the blindnes of their herts: which being past repentance, haue geuen the sel-ues vnto watonnes, to worke almaner of vncleanes, euen w greddines. But ye haue not so learned Christ, if so be ye haue heard of him, and are taughte of hym euen as the truth is in Iesu. So then as concernynge cōuersacion in time past, laye fro you that old man, which is corrupt thowowe the decepuable lustes, and be ye renewed in the spi-rite of your minds, and put* on that newe man which after the Image of god is shapen in rightuousnes, & true holines. Wherfore put* away lyng, and speke euery mā truth vnto hys neyghboure, for as much as we are members one of another. * Be angry but syn not, let not the sun go downe vpon poure wrath, neyther geue place vnto the backbiter. * Let him that stole, steale no more, but let him rather labour wpth hys handes some good thyng, that he maye haue to gyue vnto him that needeth.

¶ Let no filthie communicacion procede out of poure mouthes: but that whypche is good to edifye with all, when nede is, that it may haue fauour wpth the heauens. And greue not the holy spirite of God* by whō ye are sealed vnto the day of redēcion. Let all bitternes, fearnes and wrath, rorynge and cursed speakynge, be put away from you, wpth all maliciousnes. Be ye courteous on to another and mercifull, forgeue-ing one another, euen as God for Christes sake forgaue you.

The Notes.

(a) Christ was angrye at the blindnes of y<sup>e</sup> Je-wes, Mathew. xxiii. and so was Moses at the Idolatre of the Israelites. Exod. xxxii. And at the sedicion of Chore, Dathan and Abiron. Nu-xvi. Neuer theles hys anger or wrathe was but a very zeale to the lawe of God, as thou mayest se by y<sup>e</sup> Iudges. i. xvi. and by Mathathias.
i. Macha. ii. As for malice or vnlawfull wrath is vterlye forbodden as appeareth in thys chapter.

The v. Chapter.

¶ He commendeth charite, he forbiddeth all vncleanlines and filthines of spech, settyng before their eyes the reproche of theyr former lyfe. Than taketh he away dyonkennes, last he disparteth of the bandes of wedlocke, sha-dowinge withall the spirituall marriage of the churche wpth Christ.

Be ye folowers of god as dere chylde, and walke in loue euen as* Christ loued vs, and gaue hym selfe for vs, an offerynge and a sacrifice of a swete sauour to god, * Se that fornicacion and vnclenes, or couetousnes be not once named amonge you, as it be cometh sayntes: neither filthines, neyther folpsh talkynge, neither gestynge whypche are not comelye: but rather geupnge of thanckes. For thys ye knowe, that* no whoremonger, other vncleane person, or couetous person, whypche is the worshypper of Images: hath any inheritaunce in the kyngdome of Christ and
of God.

¶ Let no manne deceyue you wpth vayne wordes. For thowowe suche thynges commeth the wrath of God vpon the chyliden of vnbefese. Be not therefore companyos wpth them. Ye were once darkenes, but at nowe lyghte in the Lorde.

¶ Walke as chyliden of lyghte. For the fruite of the spirite is in all goodnes, rygh-tuousnes and truth. * Accept that whypche is pleasynge to the Lorde: and haue no felowshyp wpth the vnfruitefull workes of darkenes, but rather rebuke them.

¶ For it is shame euen to name those thin-ges whypche are done of theym in secrete:
but al thinges, when they are rebuked of y<sup>e</sup>

light

i. Pet. ii. 8.
and. iii.
Aduenge
not.
Leui. xix. 9.
ii. Tel. iii. 6.
Steal not.
Filthy cōmunicaciō
Rom. viii. 13.
ii. Cor. i. 3.
They that haue the spirite of God shall not be gre-
ued to beas-
such thyn-
ges.

Anger.

i. Pet. ii. 8.
Joh. xiii. 14.
Galat. ii. 14.
Cingodlye
cōmunicaciō strengtheneth
the vite.
Er. iii. 14.
Gal. v. 14.
i. Cor. vi. 14.
These
haue no
part wpth
Christe.
ii. Tel. ii. 8.
Gal. xii. 13.
collo. ii. 14.
mar. xiii. 14.
Iak. xiii. 14.
Phon. xii. 14.
i. Tel. v. 14.

Ignorāce
is cause of
euil doing.

Roma. vi. 14.
collo. iii. 14.
Leui. xix. 14.
Hebr. xii. 14.

The Epistle of . S. Paule

lyght, are manifest. For what soeuer is manifest, that same is lyght. Wherefore he sayeth: awake thou that sleepest, and stand vp from death, and Christ shal geue the lyght.

Redempcyng Take hede therefore that ye walke circumspectly: not as foles, but as wyse, re- is spendyng dempne the time, for the dayes are euell. the tyme Well. Wherefore, be ye not vnywysse but vnder- stande what the wyl of the Lorde is, and be not dronke wth wyne, wherein is exces, Collo. iii. c. Roma. vii. i. Thes. iii. Coll. iii. p. l. xxi. a. but be fulfilled wth the spirite, speakyng vnto poure selues in psalmes, and hymnes, and spiritual songes, singyng and making melody to the Lorde in your hertes geuynge thanks alwayes for all thynges vnto God the father in y name of our lord Iesu Christe, submytting your selues one to another in the feare of God. f.

Women Submit your selues vnto poure owne husbandes, as vnto the Lorde. For the husbande is the wyues head, euen as Christe is the heade of the congregacion, and the same is the sauoure of the bodye.

Therefore as the congregacion is in subieccion to Christe, lyke wyse let the wyues be in subieccion to thei husbandes in all thynges. Husbandes loue poure wyues, euen as Christe loued the congregacion, & gaue hym selfe for it, to sanctifie it, and clyensed it in the fountayne of water thowethe worde, to make it vnto hym selfe a glorious congregacion wthout spote or wrinkle, or any such thyng: but that it should be holp and wthout blame.

Baptisme So oughte men to loue thei wyues, as thei owne bodyes. He that loueth his wife, loueth hym self. For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh: but noyeth & cheriseth it euen as the Lorde doth the congregacion. For we are members of his bodye of his flesh, and of his bones. For this cause shal a man leaue father and mother, and shal continue wth his wife, and two shal be made one flesh. This is a great secrete, but I speake betwene Christ and the congregacion.

Reuerthelesse do ye so, that euerye one of you loue his wyfe truely, euen as hym selfe. And let the wyfe se that she feare hir husbande.

The. vi. Chapter.

He declareth the durpes of children and parents, seruauntes and masters, than exhorteth he them to constançe, dyscrybynge how sharpe a batayle is ordayned for the faythful, and what weapons they must vse therein. At last he treateth certayne pryuate matters, and commendeth Tychicus.

Children Obeye your fathers & mothers in the Lorde: for so is it ryght. Honour thy father & mother, that is the fyrste commaundemente that hath anye promes, that thou maiest be in good estate, and lyue longe on the earth. And ye fathers, moue not your chyldren to wrath but bynge them vp wth the lord and information of the lorde.

to the Ephe. Chap. vi.

Seruauntes be obedient vnto your carnall masters, wth feare and tremblng, in synglenes of your hertes, as vnto Christe: not wth scrupce in the eye syghte, as men pleasers, but as the seruauntes of Christ, doyng the wyl of God from the hert, wth good wyl seruinge the Lord, and not men. And remember y what soeuer good thyng any man doth, that shal he receyue againe of the Lord: whether he be bond or fre. And ye maysters, do euen the same thynges vnto them, puttng away threateninge: and remember that euen your maister also is in heauen, nether is ther any respect of person wth hym.

Finally my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his myght. Put on the armour of God, that ye may stand stedfast agaynst the crafty assautes of the dyuyl. For we wrestle not agaynst flesh and bloude: but agaynst rule, agaynst power, & agaynst worldly rulers of the darknesses of this worlde, agaynst spiritual wickednes, for heauenly thynges. For this cause take vnto you the armour of God that ye may be able to resist in the euil day, and stand perfect in all thynges.

Stand therefore, & your loines gird aboute wth veritie, haunge on the breste plate of ryghtuousnes, shooed wth shoes prepared by the Gospell of peace. A boue al take to you the shild of fayth wher wth ye maye quench al the fyre dartes of the wycked. And take the helmet of salucion and the swearde of the spirite, whiche is the word of God. And praye alwayes wth al maner prayer and supplicacion, and that in the spirite: and watch therunto with instance and supplicacion for al saintes, and for me, that utteraunce maye be geuen vnto me, that I may opē my mouth boldely, to vtter the secretes of the Gospell, whereof I am a messenger in bondes, that therein I may speake frely, as it becometh me to speake.

But that ye may also know what condition I am in, and what I do, Tychicus my deare brother and faythfull minister in the Lord, shal shewe you of all thynges, whom I sent vnto you for the same purpose, y ye myght knowe what case I stande in, and that he myght comfort your hertes.

Peace be wth the brethren, & loue, wth fayth from God the father and from the Lorde Iesus Christe. Grace be wth all them which loue our Lord Iesus Christ in puernes. Amen.

I sente from Rome vnto y Ephesians by Tychicus.

The prologe vpon the epistle of S. Paule to the philippians.

Paul prayseth the Philippians, and exhorteth them to stande faste in the true fayth, and to encrease in loue.

And because that the false prophetes

Ecc. iii. b. deut. iii. b. Fathers Collo. iii. d. Titus. ii. e. i. Pet. ii. c. christ hath purchased a rewarde for althynges. ii. Pa. xix. c. Actes. x. e. Rom. ii. b. Ec. xxv. b. Col. iii. c. Masters

The armour of god foloweth veritie the shoes of a steadfast purpose to folow the Gospell: whiche is the sword. Luke. xii. c. i. Peter. i. e. Lu. xviii. a. i. Tel. v. d. Coll. iii. a.

And

And

Study alwayes to impugn and destroye the true sayth, he warneth them of such worke learners of teachers of workes, and prayeth Epaphroditus. And all thys doth he in the first and second Chapters.

In the thyrde he reproveth faythles and many eyghtheousnes whych false Prophets teach and maintayne. And he setteth him for an ensample, howe that he hymselfe had lyued in suche false eyghtheousnes and holynes vnbrokeable, that was so that no man coude complayne on him, and yet now setteth naughte thereby for Christes eyghtheousnes sake. And fynallye affirmeth that such false Prophets are the enemies of the crosse, and make theyr beallpes theyr God. Further then they may safely and without perill and sufferynge, wyl they not preach Christ.

The epistle of saynt Paule vnto the philippians.

The first Chapter.

In the first he prayeth theyr sayth and constancye. Then exhorteth he them not to be offended wylth hys trouble, for as muche as more profyte than hynderaunce maye happen to the Gospell therethrough: and that he was redy to dye for Christe. Then exhorteth he them to walke accordyng to theyr calling.

Paule and Timotheus the seruantes of Iesu Christ: To al the Saints in Christ Iesu, which are at philippos with the Bishops and Deacons. Grace be wylth you and peace from God

our father, and from the lord Iesus Christ. I thanke my God with al remembrance of you alwaies in my prayers for you, and praye with gladnes, because of the fellowship which ye haue in the Gospell from the first dape vnto now: and am surelye certified of this, that he which beganne a good worke in you, shall go forth with it vntill the dape of Iesus Christ, as it becometh me to iudge of you all, because I haue you in my hert, & haue you also euery one copartners of grace with me, euery in my bonds, as I defend and stablish the Gospell.

For God beareth me record how greatly I longe after you all from the very hert rote in Iesus Christ. And this I pray, that poure loue maye increase more and more in knowledge, and in al feling, that ye might accept things most excellent, that ye might be pure, and such as should hurte no mans conscience, vntill the dape of Christe, fylled with the frutes of righteousnes, whych frutes come by Iesus Christ vnto the glory and laud of God. Amen.

I would ye vnderstode brethren that my busines is happened vnto the greater furthering of the Gospell. So that my bondes in Christ are manifest thorow oute all the iudgement hal, & in all other places: In so much that many of the brethren in the lord are boldened thorow my bondes: and dare more largely speke the word without fear. Some there are which preach Christ of enuie and strife, and some of good will. The one part preacheth Christ of strife, and not purely: supposyng to adde more aduersitie to my bondes. The other parte of loue, because they se that I am set too defende the Gospell.

What then? So that Christ be preached all maner wayes, whether it be by occasiō, or of true meaning, I therein ioye: and wyl ioy. For I know that thys shal chaunce to my saluacion: thorow your prayer and ministering of the spirite of Iesu Christe, as I hertely loke for, and hope that in no thyng I shalbe ashamed: but that with all confidence as alwaies in times paste, euery now Christ shalbe magnified in my bodye, whether it be thorow life, or else death. For Christe is to me lyfe, and death is to me a vantage.

If it chaunce me to liue in the flesh, that is to me fruitfull for to worke, and what to chuse I wote not. I am constrained of two thynges: I desire to be leused & to be with Christ, which thing is best of all. Fewer the lesse to abyde in the flesh is more nedefull for you: And this am I sure of that I shal abide, & with you al continue for the furtherance & ioy of your faith, that ye may more abundantly reioyse in Iesus Christ thorow me, by my comming to you againe.

Only let your conuersacion be as it becometh the Gospell of Christ: that whether I come and se you, or els be absent, I maye yet heare of you, that ye continue in one spirite, and in one soule, labouringe as we do, to mainteyne the sayth of the Gospell, and in nothing fearing your aduersaries: whiche is to them a token of perdition; and to you of saluacion, and that of God. For vnto you it is geuen, that not onely ye should beleue on Christ: but also suffer for his sake, & haue euery the same fygth which ye sawe me haue, and now heare of me.

The ii. Chapter.

He teacheth theyr callinge to be thys, that they soynded in true concord, shoulde laye awaye all pryde and dysdayne, accordyng to Christes example, of whose mystery he dysputeth a whyle. Then he promisseth that Timotheus shal come vnto them, and commendeth Epaphroditum.

If there be among you any consolacion in Christ, if ther be anye comfortabyl loue, if ther be any fellowship of spirit, if there be any compassion or mercy, fulfil my ioye, that ye drawe one way, hauinge one loue, beyng of one accorde, and of one mynde, that nothyng be done thorow strife or baine glory, but that in mekenes of minde euery man esteeme other better then hym selfe, and that no manne consider his owne, but what is mete for other.

Lette the same mynde be in you, that A q q q. ii. was Bishops.

Deacons.

Roma. i. b.
Collo. i. a

it. Cor. i. b.

it. Cor. v.

Epaph. iii. a.

Tribula-
ciō is a token of sal-
uacion to the true
beleuers.

Study alwayes to impugn and destroye the true sayth, he warneth them of such worke learners of teachers of workes, and prayeth Epaphroditus. And all thys doth he in the first and second Chapters.

In the thyrd he reproveth saythles and many eyghtheousnes whych false Prophets teach and maintayne. And he setteth him for an ensample, howe that he hymselfe had lyued in suche false eyghtheousnes and holynes vnbrokeable, that was so that no man coude complayne on him, and yet now setteth naughte thereby for Christes eyghtheousnes sake. And fynallye affirmeth that such false Prophets are the enemies of the crosse, and make theyr beallpes theyr God. Further then they may safely and without perill and sufferynge, wyl they not preach Christ.

The epistle of saynt Paule vnto the philippians.

The first Chapter.

In the first he prayeth theyr sayth and constancye. Then exhorteth he them not to be offended wylth hys trouble, for as muche as more profyte than hynderaunce maye happen to the Gospell therethrough: and that he was redy to dye for Christe. Then exhorteth he them to walke accordyng to theyr calling.

Paule and Timotheus the seruantes of Iesu Christ: To al the Saints in Christ Iesu, which are at philippus with the Bishops and Deacons. Grace be wylth you and peace from God

our father, and from the lord Iesus Christ. I thanke my God with al remembrance of you alwayes in my prayers for you, and praye with gladnes, because of the fellowship which ye haue in the Gospell from the first dape vnto now: and am surelye certified of this, that he which beganne a good worke in you, shall go forth with it vntill the dape of Iesus Christ, as it becometh me to iudge of you all, because I haue you in my hert, & haue you also euery one copartners of grace with me, euen in my bonds, as I defend and stablish the Gospell.

For God beareth me record how greatly I longe after you all from the very hert rote in Iesus Christ. And this I pray, that poure loue maye increase more and more in knowledge, and in al feling, that ye might accept things most excellent, that ye might be pure, and such as should hurte no mans conscience, vntill the dape of Christe, fylled with the frutes of righteousnes, whych frutes come by Iesus Christ vnto the glory and laud of God. Amen.

I would ye vnderstode brethren that my busines is happened vnto the greater furthering of the Gospell. So that my bondes in Christ are manifest thorow oute all the iudgement hal, & in all other places: In so much that many of the brethren in the lord are boldened thorow my bondes: and dare more largely speke the word without fear. Some there are which preach Christ of enuie and strife, and some of good will. The one part preacheth Christ of strife, and not purely: supposyng to adde more aduersitie to my bondes. The other parte of loue, because they se that I am set too defende the Gospell.

What then? So that Christ be preached all maner wayes, whether it be by occasiō, or of true meaning, I therein ioye: and wyl ioy. For I know that thys shal chaunce to my saluacion: thorow your prayer and ministering of the spirite of Iesu Christe, as I hertely loke for, and hope that in no thyng I shalbe ashamed: but that with all confidence as alwayes in times paste, euen so now Christ shalbe magnified in my bodye, whether it be thorow life, or else death. For Christe is to me lyfe, and death is to me a vantage.

If it chaunce me to liue in the flesh, that is to me fruitfull for to worke, and what to chosse I wote not. I am constrained of two thynges: I desire to be leused & to be with Christ, which thing is best of all. Fewer the lesse to abyde in the flesh is more nedefull for you: And this am I sure of that I shal abide, & with you al continue for the furtherance & ioy of your faith, that ye may more abundantly reioyse in Iesus Christ thorow me, by my comming to you againe.

Only let your conuersacion be as it becometh the Gospell of Christ: that whether I come and se you, or els be absent, I maye yet heare of you, that ye continue in one spirite, and in one soule, labouringe as we do, to mainteyne the sayth of the Gospell, and in nothing fearing your aduersaries: whiche is to them a token of perdition; and to you of saluacion, and that of God. For vnto you it is geuen, that not onely ye should beleue on Christ: but also suffer for his sake, & haue euery the same fygth which ye sawe me haue, and now heare of me.

The.ii. Chapter.

He teacheth theyr callinge to be thys, that they soynded in true concord, shoulde laye awaye all pryde and dysdayne, accordyng to Christes example, of whose mystery he dysputeth a whyle. Then he promisseth that Timotheus shal come vnto them, and commendeth Epaphroditum.

If there be among you any consolacion in Christ, if ther be anye comfortabyl loue, if ther be any fellowship of spirit, if there be any compassion or mercy, fulfil my ioye, that ye drawe one way, hauinge one loue, beyng of one accorde, and of one mynde, that nothyng be done thorow strife or baine glory, but that in mekenes of minde euery man esteeme other better then hym selfe, and that no manne consider his owne, but what is mete for other.

Lette the same mynde be in you, that
A q q q. ii. was Bishops.

Deacons.

Roma. i. b.
Collo. i. a

it. Cor. i. b.

it. Cor. v.

Ep. i. iii. a.

Tribula-
ciō is a token of sal-
uacion to the true
beleuers.

The Epistle of saint Paul

to the philipp. Chap. iiii.

1. corin. x.
and. xiii. d.
To follow Christ is oure
professio,
and so to humble
our selves,
p we mape
be exalted.
Hebru. ii. a
Matth. i. c.
Rom. xiii. c
Esa. xlv. b.

was in Christe Iesus: Whych he beyng in the shape of God, and thought it not rob-berie to be equall wth God, Neuerthe-les, he made him selfe of no reputacon, and toke on hym the shape of a seruaunte, and became lyke vnto him, & was founde in his apparell as a man. He humbled hym selfe, and became obedient vnto death, eue the death of the crosse.

Wherefore God hath exalted hym, and geuen hym a name aboue al names: that in the name of Iesus shoulde euerye knee bowe, both of thynges in heauen, and thin- ges in earth, and thynges vnder the earth: and that all tounge shoulde confesse that Iesus Christ is the Lord, vnto the praise of God the father. &

Wherefore my dearly beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not when I was presente onely, but nowe muche more in myne ab- sence, euen so worke out pour owne (a) sal- uacon wth feare and tremblynge. * For it is God whiche worketh in pou both the will and also the dede euen of good will.

* Do all thyng withoute murmurynge and dysputynge, that ye mape be faultles and pure, and the sonnes of God wthoute re- buke, in the middes of a croked and a per- uers nacpon, among which se that ye shine as lightes in the world, holdynge faste the word of lyfe, vnto my reioysynge in the day of Christ, that I haue not runne in vayne, neither haue laboured in vayne. Yea, and (b) though I be offered vp vpon the offe- ryng and sacrifice of poure fayeth, I re- ioyse, and reioyse wth you all. For the same cause also reioyse ye, and reioyse ye wth me.

I truste in the Lorde Iesus for to sende Timotheus shortly vnto you & that I also mape be of good comforte, when I knowe what case ye stande in. For I haue no man that is so lyke mynded to me, whiche wth so pure affeccion careth for poure matters. For all other seke their owne, and not that whiche is Iesus Christes. Ye knowe the proufe of him, howe that as a sonne wth the father, so wth me bestowed he hys la- boure vpon the Gospell. Him I hope to sende as sone as I know how it wil go with me: I truste in the Lorde, I also my selfe shal come shortly.

I supposed it necessarye to sende brother Epaphroditus vnto you, my companion in laboure, and fellow souldier, poure Apostle and my minister at my needes. For he lon- ged after you, and was full of heauynes, because that ye hadde hearde saie, that he shoulde be spyke. And no dout he was sicke, & that nye vnto death. But God had mercy on him, not on him onely, but on me also, lest I shoulde haue had sorow vpon sorowe.

I sent him therfore the diligentiar, that when ye shoulde se him, ye mighte reioyse a- gain, & I might be the lesse sorowful. Re- ceive him therfore in the lord with al glad- nes, and make much of such, because that for the worke of Christ he went so far, that he was nye vnto death, & regarded not hys lyfe, to fulfill the seruyce whiche was lac- kyng on your part towarde me.

The Notes.

(a) As ye be saued from synne thorough fayeth: so worke accordynge to the couenaunte, vntill ye come to the saluacio of glory. For if ye cease workynge, the spyrite quencheth agayne, and ye cease to be partakers of the promyses.

(b) He maketh here two offerings or sacrifices. The first fayeth the one, and himselfe the other. The second fayeth, in that he hadde offred them vnto God as the frutes of hys preachynge. Himselfe, if it shoulde please God, that he for the true pre- achynge of the Gospell vnto them, shoulde be put to the cruel tormentes of death. Whych thyng he refused not, trustynge that thereby he myghte make them worthy of God.

The iii. Chapter.

He warneth to take hede of those whiche myngled the law wth the Gospell, for so much as whatsoeuer it were that had the name of a most excellent ryghteousnes in the world was but refuse, if it were compared wth Christ: Therfore he biddeth them folow hym a constaute mynde, and to auoide false tea- chers, whom he payneth oute in theyr co- lourcs.

Moreouer my brethren, reioyce in the Lorde. It greieth me not to wyte one thyng often to you. For to you it is a sure thyng. Beware of dogges, be- ware of euill workers. Beware of dissenci- on. * For we are circumcisiō which (a) wor- ship God in the spirit, & reioice in Christe Iesu, and haue no confidence in the fleshe: though I haue whereof I mighte reioyce in the fleshe. If any other man thinke that he hath wherof he mighte trust in the fleshe, much more I, circumcised the eight daies, of the kynred of Israel, of the tribe of Ben- iamin * an Hebrue borne of the Hebrues, & as concerning the lawe, a pharisee: and as concernynge feruentnes, I persecuted the congregacon: and as touchynge the righ- tuousnes whych is in the lawe, I was vn- rebukeable.

* But the thynges that were bauntage vnto me, I counted losse for Christes sake. Yea I thynke all thyngs but losse for that excellent knowledge sake of Christe Iesu my Lorde. For whom I haue counted all thyngs losse, & do iudge them but dounge, that I myghte wyne Christe, and myghte be founde in hym, not hauynge myne owne ryghtuousnes, whiche is of the lawe: but that whych spryngeth of the fayth whych is in Christe, I meane the ryghtuousnes whych cometh of God thozowe fayth, in knowynge hym and the vertue of hys re- surreccyon, and the felowshyppe of hys passyons, that I myghte be conforma- ble vnto hys death, if by anye meanes I myght attayne vnto the resurreccyon from death.

Not as thoughe I had alreadye attay- ned to it, epther were alreadye perfecte: but

Work out
pour owne
saluacion.

Though I
be offered.

Roma. ii. d
Ephesi. ii. c
Ihon. iiii. c
Roma. i. a.

1. cor. x. a.
Acte. xxi. b
and. x. vi. b

mat. xxi. d

Iokenot
on þ wor-kes that I haue
done: but what I lack of þ perfect-
nes of Christe.

I folow, if that I may comprehend that, wherin I am comprehended of Christ Iesu. Brethren, I counte not my selfe that I haue gotten it, but one thyng I saie: I forget that which is behind, and stretch my selfe vnto that which is before, & prease vnto the marcke appointed, to obtayne the reward of the high calling of God in Christ Iesu. Let vs therfore as manye as be perfect, be thus wise minded: & if ye be other wise minded, I praye God open euen thyng vnto you. Neuerthelesse in that wherunto we are come, lette vs procede by one rule, that we may be of one accord.

1. Cor. iiii. c
and. x. d

Brethren, be folowers of me, and loke on them which walke euen so, as ye haue vs for an ensample. For manye walke (of whom I haue tolde you often, & nowe tell you weping) that they are the ennemys of the crosse of Christe: whose ende is dampnation, whose God is theyr belly, & whose glorie is their shame, which are worldye minded. But our conuersacion is in heaue, from whence we loke for a sauoure, euen the lord Iesus Christ, which shal change our vile bodies, that they may be fashioned like vnto his glorious body, according to the workyng, wherby he is able to subdue all thynges vnto him selfe.

If we be like christ
in conuer-sacion, we shal be like hym in glory.

1. Cor. xv. g
Wo: My
God.

The Notes.
(a) We worship God in spyryte thow sayest and loue. We reioyce that Christ hath redeemed vs, and trust not in our owne workes. Christe onely is our ryghteousnes, and for his sake our synnes are forgiven vs, and for his sake, our good workes are accepted, which els wer damnable, for the synne that is in them.

The. iiii. Chapter.

He exhorte them to constancke, than addeyth he certayne peculiar thynges conteynyng in them concord and other vertues mete for a Christian. Last he thancketh them for the rewarde that was sente hym, and geueth them salutacons.

Therefore my brethren dearly beloued & longed for, my ioye and crowne, so continue in the Lorde, ye beloued. I pray Euodias, and beseech Sentpches that they be of one accorde in the Lorde. Yea and I beseeche the faythfull pock felow, help the women which laboured with me in þ Gospel, and with Clemente also, and wyth othther my labourer felowes: whose names are in the boke of lyfe.

Of þ boke
of lyfe is spoken in
the. psal.
lxxiii.
Luke. x. c
Apo. xvi. b
1. Cel. v. d.

Reioice in the Lorde alwaye, and agayne say reioice. Let your softnes be knowne to all men. The Lorde is euen at hande. Be not carefull, but in all thynges shewe your petition vnto God in prayer and supplicacons, with geuyng of thanckes. And the peace of God whiche passeth all vnderstandyng, kepe your hertes and myndes in Christ Iesu. I are of honest report: if there be any vertuous thyng, if there be any laudable thing, those same haue ye in your minde, whiche ye haue both learned and receiued, heard and also sene in me: those thynges do, and the God of peace shal be with you. I reioice in the Lorde greatly, that nowe at the last ye are reuiued againe to care for me, in that wherein ye were also carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie. I speake not because of necessitie, for I haue learned in whatsoeuer estate I am, therewith to be content. I can both cast doune my selfe, I can also excede. Euery wher, and in all thynges I am instructed, bothe to be full, and to be hongry: to haue plentie, and to suffer nede. I can do all thynges thow þ help of Christ which strengtheth me. Notwithstandyng ye haue well done, that ye beare part wyth me in tribulacion.

Furthermore brethren, whatsoeuer thynges are true, whatsoeuer thynges are honeste, whatsoeuer thynges are iuste, whatsoeuer thynges are pure, whatsoeuer thynges pertaine to loue, whatsoeuer thynges

i. Tim. v. b

Ye of philippes know that in the beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no congregacons bare part wyth me, as concerning geuyng and receyuyng, but ye onely. For when I was in Thessalonica, ye sente once and afterwarde agayne vnto my needs: not that I desire giftes, but I desire abundant fruit on your part. I receyued all, and haue plenty, I was euen fylled after that I had receyued of Epaphroditus, that which came from you, an odoure that smelleth swete as a sacrifice accepted and pleasaunt to God: my God fulfill your nedes thow we have glorious ryches in Iesus Christe. Vnto God and our father be prayse for evermore. Amen.

Rom. xii. a
Heb. xiii. c.

Salute all the sainctes in Christ Iesus. The brethren which are with mee, grete you. Al the saintes salute you, and most of all they which are of the Emperours household. The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be wyth you all. Amen.

Sente from Rome by Epaphroditus.

The prologe
vpon the epistle of S. Paul to the Collossians.

The Epistle to the Galathians holdeth the maner and fashion of the Epistle to þ Romayns, briefly comprehendyng al that is therein at length dysputed: Euen so this Epistle foloweth the ensample of the Epistle to the Ephesians, containyng the tenour of the same Epistle w fewer words.

In the fyrst Chapter he prayseth them & wytheth that they continue in the fayth, and grow perfecter therein, and then describeth he þ Gospel howe that it is a wysdome that confesseth Christe to be the Lorde and God, crucified for vs, and a wysdome that hath ben hyd in Christ sence afore the begynnyng of the worlde, and now fyrst begun to be opened thow the preaching of the Apostles.

Iokenot on þ wor- kes that I haue done: but what I lack of þ perfect- nes of Christe. I folow, if that I may comprehend that, wherin I am comprehended of Christ Iesu. Brethren, I counte not my selfe that I haue gotten it, but one thyng I sape: I forget that which is behind, and stretch my selfe vnto that whych is before, & pzease vnto the marcke appointed, to obtaine the reward of the high calling of God in Christ Iesu. Let vs therfore as manpe as be perfect, be thus wise minded: & if ye be other- wise minded, I praye God open euen thys vnto you. Neuerthelesse in that wherunto we are come, lette vs pzoceade by one rule, that we may be of one accord.

D Brethren, be folowers of me, and loke on them whiche walke euen so, as ye haue vs for an ensample. For manpe walke (of whom I haue tolde you often, & nowe tell you weping) that they are the ennemys of the crosse of Christe: whose ende is damp- nacion, whose God is theyr bealy, & whose glorie is their shame, whiche are worldye minded. But our conuersacion is in heaue, from whence we loke for a sauoure, euen the lord Iesus Christ, which shal change our vile bodies, that they maye be fashio- ned like vnto his glorious body, according to the workyng, wherby he is able to sub- due all thynges vnto him selfe.

The Notes.
(a) We worshyp God in spyryte thozow fayeth and loue. We reioyce that Christ hath redeemed vs, and trust not in our owne workes. Christe onely is our ryghteousnes, and for hys sake our synnes are forgiven vs, and for hys sake, our good workes are accepted, which els wer dam- nable, for the synne that is in them.

The. iii. Chapter.

He exhorte them to constançe, than ad- deth he certayne peculiar thynges contey- nyng in them concorde and other vertues mete for a Christian. Last he thanckerh them for the rewarde that was sente ham, and ge- ueth them salutacons.

Therfore my brethren dearly beloued & longed for, my ioye and croune, so co- tinue in the Lorde, ye beloued. I pray Euodias, and beseech Sentyches that they be of one accorde in the Lorde. Yea and I beseeche the faythfull pock felow, help the women which laboured with me in þ Gos- pell, and with Clemente also, and wyth o- ther my labourer felowes: whose names are in the boke of lyfe.

Of þ boke of lyfe is spoken in the. psal. lxxiii. Luke. x. c. Apo. xvi. b. 1. Cel. v. d. Reioice in the Lorde alwaye, and agayn I say reioice. Let your softnes be knowne to all men. The Lorde is euen at hande. Be not carefull, but in all thynges shewe your petition vnto God in prayer and supplica- cion, with geuyng of thanckes. And the peace of God whych passeth all vnder- standyng, kepe your hertes and myndes in Christ Iesu. f are of honest report: if there be any vertu- ous thyng, if there be any laudable thing, those same haue ye in your minde, whych ye haue both learned and receiued, hearde and also sene in me: those thynges do, and the God of peace shal be with you. I re- ioice in the Lorde greatly, that nowe at the last ye are reuiued againe to care for me, in that wherein ye were also carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie. I speake not because of necessitie, for I haue learned in what- soeuer estate I am, therewith to be con- tent. I can both cast doune my selfe, I can also excede. Euery wher, and in all thyngs I am instructed, bothe to be full, and to be hongry: to haue plentie, and to suffer nede. I can do al thyngs thozow þ help of Christ which strengtheth me. Notwithstandyng ye haue well done, that ye beare part wyth me in tribulacion.

Furthermore brethren, whatsoeuer thyn- ges are true, whatsoeuer thynges are ho- neste, whatsoeuer thynges are iuste, what- soeuer thynges are pure, whatsoeuer thyn- ges pertaine to loue, whatsoeuer thynges

Ye of philippus know that in the be- gynnynge of the Gospell, when I departed from Macedonia, no congregacons bare part wyth me, as concerning geuyng and receyuyng, but ye onely. For when I was in Thessalonica, ye sente once and after- warde agayne vnto my needs: not that I desire giffes, but I desire abundant fruit on your part. I receyued all, and haue plen- ty, I was euen fylled after that I had re- ceyued of Epaphroditus, that which came from you, an odoure that smelleth swete as a sacrifice accepted and pleasaunt to god: My God fulfill your nedes thozowe hys gloriouse ryches in Iesus Christe. Vnto God and our father be prayse for euer- more. Amen.

Salute all the sainctes in Christ Iesus. The brethren whiche are with mee, grete you. Al the saintes salute you, and most of all they which are of the Emperours hous- holde. The grace of our Lord Iesus Christ be wyth you all. Amen.

Sente from Rome by Epa- phroditus.

The prologe vpon the epistle of S. Paul to the Collossians.

In the Epistle to the Galathians holdeth the maner and fashion of the Epistle to þ Romayns, brief- ly comprehendynge al that is ther- in at length dysputed: Euen so thys Epistle foloweth the ensam- ple of the Epistle to the Ephesians, containyng the tenour of the same Epistle w fewer words.

In the fyrst Chapter he prayseth them & wy- sheth that they continue in the fayth, and grow perfecter therein, and then describeth he þ Gos- pell howe that it is a wysdome that confesseth Christe to be the Lorde and God, crucyfyed for vs, and a wysdome that hath ben hyd in Christ sence afore the begynnyng of the worlde, and now fyrst begun to be opened thozow the prea- chynge of the Apostles.

The epistle of S. Paul

inucigherly vehementlye againste those that teach such thynges, aspyrnyng agayn that all fulnes is in Christ.

I Would ye knewe what fighting I haue for youre sakes, and for them of Laodicia, & for as manye as haue not seene my person in the fleshe, that thei herts might be comforted and knit together in loue, & in all riches of full vnderstandynge, for to knowe the mysterie of God the father and of Christ, in whom are hysd all the treasures of wysdome and knowledge. * This I say least any man should begyle you wpyth entyslyng wordes. For though I be absent in the fleshe, yet am I presente wpyth you in the spyrte, ioyng and beholdyng the order that ye kepe, and your stedfast fapth in Christ. As ye haue therfore receiued Christ Iesus the Lord: euen so walke, roted and buylt in hym, and stedfast in the fapth as ye haue learned, and therin be plentuous in geuyng thankes.

Joh. xviii. a.
i. Cor. v. b.
Eph. v. b.

mat. xxi. a

mar. xiii. a.
Luke. xxi. b.
Eph. v. b.
Philosophy & traditions of men.

Christ is sufficient.
Roma. ii. d.
Eph. ii. c.
Collo. ii. b.
Fapthis
the worc-
kyng of
God.

Roma. vi. a.
Gala. iii. d.
Roma. v. a.
Eph. ii. a.
Collo. i. a.

Heb. viii. a.
and. v. a.
mat. xxi. a.

Gala. iii. b

Marke.
There is pon other

B Beware lest any man come and spoyle you thowow philosophy, and disceptfull vanitpe, thowow the tradycions of men, and ordynaunces after the worlde, and not after Christ. For in hym dwelleth all the fulnes of the Godhead (a) bodyly, and ye are complete in him whych is the heade of all rule and power, in whom also ye are * cymcysed wpyth cymcysion made wpyth out handes, by puttyng of the synful body of the fleshe thowow the cymcysion that is in Christ, in that tpe ar buryed with hym thowow baptysme, in whom ye are also rpsen agayne thowow fapth, & is wzoughte by the operacion of God which rased him from death.

* And ye whych were dead in sinne thowow the vncymcysion of your fleshe, hath he quykened with hym, and hath forgen vs al our trespasses, & hath put out the (b) hand wpytynge that was agaynst vs, consapned in the lawe witten, and that hath he taken out of the way, and hath fastened it to hys crosse, and hath * spoyled rule & power, and hath made a shewe of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer the in hys owne person.

Let no man therfore trouble youre consciences about meat and dryncke, or for a piece of an holy day, as the holy day of the newe Moone or of the Sabothe dayes, * which ar nothing, but shadowes of things to come: but the body is of Christe. Let no man make you shote at a wzonge marcke, whych after hys owne ymaginacion walkeyth in the humblenes and holynes of angels, thyngs whych he neuer sawe, causelesse puffed up wpyth hys fleshy minde, & holdeth not the heade, wherof al the bodye by ioyntes and couples receiueth nourishmet, and is together, & encreaseth with the increasynge that cometh of God.

Wherfore if ye be dead wpyth Christe fro the ordynaunces of the worlde, whye as though ye yet liued in the worlde, are ye led # to the Colof. Chap. iii. Fo. xciii.

with tradicions of them that saye: Touche not, tast not, handle not, whiche al perishe with the blinge of them, and are after the commaundements and doctrines of men: which things haue the similitude of wysdome in chosen holines and humblenes, & in that thei spare not (c) the body, & do the fleshe no worship vnto hys nede.

The Notes.

(a) That is, verely and in dede, not in shadowes, so that when ye haue hym, ye ought not to follow the shadowes of Moyses law, or the entymementes or iudgeynges of mannes wysdome. But haupng hym in whom dwelleth the fulnes of the Godhead bodyly, that is to saye: verely, you maye no lenger now beholde fygures, and doubtfull promyses, but embrace fapthfully the sonne of God, who is also very God of the substance of the father, and verely man of the substance of Mary the vyrgin.

(b) The lawe is our hand wpytynge, in that the conscience setteth to hys seale, subscribyng and consentynge that the lawe is iuste, and we synners. Whych lawe (concernynge dampnacyn) is taken away by Christ, in all them that vnfaiedly beleue and trust in hym.

(c) This body, is the perfourmaunce of all the thynges that were pefygured in the olde lawe.

The. iii. Chapter.

He exhorte them to despyse earthly thynges, and care for the heaucnly, then nameth he certayne vices whych they shuld refraine, commendynge hyghlye charypte and encreasynge of Gods word. Laste he appoynteth laws of maryage, and the duties of chyldren and fathers, of seruants and maisters.

If ye then be rpsen agayne with Christe, seeke those thynges whych are aboue, wher Christ sitteth on the righte hande of God. Set your affeccyn on thyngs that are aboue, and not on things which are on the earth. For ye are dead, and your lyfe is hid with Christ in God. Whe Christ which is our lyfe, shall shew hym selfe, then shall ye also appeare with hym in glory. For tpe therfore your members which are on the earth, fornicacion, vncleennes, vnnaturall lust, euell concupiscence, and couetousnes which is worshyping of Idols: for which things takes the wzath of God cometh on the children of vnbelefe. In whych thynges ye walked once when ye liued in them. But nowe put ye also awaye from you all thynges, wzath, fearnes, maliciousnes, cursed speakynge, and fylthy speaking out of your mouthes. Lpe not one to another, that the old man wpyth hys workes be put of, and the new put on, whych is renued in knowledge after the ymage of hym that made * hym, where is neither Gentill nor Jewe, cymcysion nor vncircumcysion, Barbarous or Sythian, bonde or free: but Christ is all in all thynges.

* Now therfore as elect of God, holy and is Christe beloued, put on tender merce, kyndnes, to another, humblenes of mynde, mekenes, long sufferynge, forbearing one another, and forgeuyng one another, if any man haue a quarrell to another, eue as Christ forgaued you,

marke the Christ, nor other name to be saued
by.

Bodyly.

Hand wpytynge.

The body.

Eph. i. d.
Heb. i. a.
x. a. x. i. a.
Al the mercy that is sette forth
in the two upper chapters is promised
to the only that wil
folowe
Christ, &
lyue as hereafter
foloweth.
These me-
bers must
be slayne.
Eph. ii. a.
Rom. vi. b.
Eph. iii. a.
i. Pet. ii. a.
Gala. vi. d.
Every man
ther.
Eph. iii. b.
B
W q q q. iii. euen

The epistle of S. Paul

inucigherly vehementlye againste those that teach such thynges, aspyrnyng agayn that all fulnes is in Christ.

I Would ye knewe what fighting I haue for youre sakes, and for them of Laodicia, & for as manye as haue not seene my person in the fleshe, that thei herts might be comforted and knit together in loue, & in all riches of full vnderstandynge, for to knowe the mysterie of God the father and of Christ, in whom are hysd all the treasures of wysdome and knowledge. * This I say least any man should begyle you wpyth entyslyng wordes. For though I be absent in the fleshe, yet am I presente wpyth you in the spyrte, ioyng and beholdyng the order that ye kepe, and your stedfast fapth in Christ. As ye haue therfore receiued Christ Iesus the Lord: euen so walke, roted and buylt in hym, and stedfast in the fapth as ye haue learned, and therein be plentuous in geuyng thankes.

Joh. xviii. a.
i. Cor. v. b.
Eph. v. b.

mat. xxi. a

mar. xiii. a.
Luke. xxi. b.
Eph. v. b.
Philosophy & traditions of men.

Christ is sufficient.
Roma. ii. d.
Eph. ii. c.
Collo. ii. b.
Fapthis
the worc-
kyng of
God.

Roma. vi. a.
Gala. iii. d.
Roma. v. a.
Eph. ii. a.
Collo. i. a.

Heb. vii. a.
and. v. a.
mat. xxi. a.

Gala. iii. b

Marke.
There is
pon other

B Beware lest any man come and spoyle you thowow philosophy, and disceptfull vanitye, thowow the tradycions of men, and ordynaunces after the worlde, and not after Christ. For in hym dwelleth all the fulnes of the Godhead (a) bodyly, and ye are complete in him whych is the heade of all rule and power, in whom also ye are * cymcysed wpyth cymcysion made wpyth out handes, by puttyng of the synful body of the fleshe thowowe the cymcysion that is in Christ, in that ye are buried with hym thowow baptysme, in whom ye are also rpsen agayne thowow fapth, & is wroughte by the operacion of God which rased him from death.

* And ye whych were dead in sinne thowow the vncymcysion of your fleshe, hath he quykened with hym, and hath forgened vs al our trespasses, & hath put out the (b) hand wpytynge that was agaynst vs, consapned in the lawe wrytten, and that hath he taken out of the way, and hath fastened it to hys crosse, and hath * spoyled rule & power, and hath made a shewe of them openly, and hath triumphed ouer the in hys owne person.

Let no man therfore trouble youre consciences about meat and dryncke, or for a piece of an holy day, as the holy day of the newe Moone or of the Sabothe dayes, * which are nothing, but shadowes of things to come: but the body is of Christe. Let no man make you shote at a wronge marcke, whych after hys owne ymaginacion walkeyth in the humblenes and holynes of angels, thyngs whych he neuer sawe, causelesse puffed up wpyth hys fleshy minde, & holdeth not the heade, wherof al the bodye by ioyntes and couples receiueith nourishmet, and is together, & encreaseth with the increasynge that cometh of God.

Wherfore if ye be dead wpyth Christe fro the ordynaunces of the worlde, whye as though ye yet liued in the worlde, are ye led # to the Colos. Chap. iii. Fo. xciii.

with tradicions of them that saye: Touche not, tast not, handle not, whiche al perishe with the blinge of them, and are after the commaundements and doctrines of men: which things haue the similitude of wysdome in chosen holines and humblenes, & in that thei spare not (c) the body, & do the fleshe no worship vnto hys nede.

The Notes.

(a) That is, verely and in dede, not in shadowes, so that when ye haue hym, ye ought not to follow the shadowes of Moyses law, or the entysmentes or iudgeynges of mannes wysdome. But haupng hym in whom dwelleth the fulnes of the Godhead bodyly, that is to saye: verely, you maye no lenger now beholde fygures, and doubtfull promyses, but embrace fapthfully the sonne of God, who is also very God of the substance of the father, and verely man of the substance of Mary the vyrgin.

(b) The lawe is our hand wrytynge, in that the conscience setteth to hys seale, subscribyng and consentynge that the lawe is iuste, and we synners. Whych lawe (concernynge dampnacyn) is taken away by Christ, in all them that vnfaiedly beleue and trust in hym.

(c) Hys body, is the perfourmaunce of all the thynges that were pefygured in the olde lawe.

The. iii. Chapter.

He exhorte them to despyse earthly thynges, and care for the heauynly, then nameth he certayne vices whych they shuld restraine, commendynge hyghlye charytye and encreasynge of Gods word. Laste he appoynteth the lawes of maryage, and the duties of chyldren and fathers, of seruants and maisters.

If ye then be rpsen agayne with Christe, seeke those thynges whych are aboue, wher Christe sitteth on the righte hande of God. Set your affeccyn on thyngs that are aboue, and not on things which are on the earth. For ye are dead, and your lyfe is hid with Christ in God. Wher Christ which is our lyfe, shall shew hym selfe, then shall ye also appeare with hym in glory. Forgyt therfore your members which are on the earth, fornicacion, vncleannes, vnnaturall lust, euell concupiscence, and couetousnes which is worshyping of Idols: for which things takes the wrath of God cometh on the children of vnbefese. In whych thynges ye walked once when ye liued in them. But now put ye also awaye from you all thynges, wrath, fearnes, maliciousnes, cursed speakynge, and fylthy speaking out of your mouthes. Lye not one to another, that the old man wpyth hys workes be put of, and the new put on, whych is renued in knowledge after the ymage of hym that made * hym, where is neither Gentill nor Jewe, cymcysion nor vncircumcysion, Barbarous or Sithian, bonde or free: but Christ is all in all thynges.

* Now therfore as elect of God, holy and is Christe beloued, put on tender merce, kyndnes, to another, humblenes of mynde, mekenes, long sufferynge, forbearing one another, and forgytting one another, if any man haue a quarrell to another, eue as Christ forgaue you,

W q q q. iii. euen

marke the Christ, nor other name to be saued
by.

Bodyly.

Hand wry-tynge.

The body.

Eph. i. d.
Heb. i. a.
x. a. x. i. a.
Al the mercy that is
sette forth
in the two upper chapters is promised
to the only that wil
folowe
Christ, &
lyue as hereafter
foloweth.
These me-
bers must
be slayne.
Eph. ii. a.
Rom. vi. b.
Eph. iii. a.
i. Pet. ii. a.
Gala. vi. d.
Every ma-
ther.
Eph. iii. b.
W

The Epistle of saint Paul

mat. xxi. d. euen so do ye. Aboue all these thynges put on loue whiche is the bonde of perfectnes. And the peace of god rule in your hertes, to the whiche peace ye are called in one body. And se that ye be thankfull. Let the word of Christ dwell in you plentifully in all wisdom. Teach and exhorte your owne selues in psalmes and hymnes, and spirituall songes, which haue fauour with them, singyng in your hertes to the lord. And al thynges (whatsoeuer ye do in word or dede) do it in the name of the Lord Iesu, geuyng thanks to God the father by him.

Wpues.
Ephesi. v. c. i. Pet. iii. a. Husbandes Ephesi. vi. a. Chyldren & fathers.
Ephesi. vi. a. Titus. ii. e. Seruants
i. Pet. ii. d. ii. par. xix. c. Actes. x. c. Ec. xxxv. b. Sapi. vi. b. Roma. ii. b. Collo. iii. c. Mapsters.
Ephesi. vi. a. Wpues submyt your selues vnto your owne husbands, as it is comely in the lord. Husbandes loue your wiues, and be not bitter vnto them. Chyldren obey your fathers and mothers in all thynges, for that is well pleasynge vnto the Lord. Fathers, rate not your children, lest they be of a desperate mynde. Seruauntes be obedyent vnto your bodely maisters in al thynges, not with eie seruaunce as men pleasers, but in singlenes of hert, fearing God. And whatsoeuer ye do, do it hertely, as though ye dyd it to the lord, and not vnto men: for as muche as ye know that of the lord, ye shal receiue the reward of inheritaunce, for ye serue the Lord Christe.

But he that doth anye wrong, shal receiue for the wrong that he hath done: for there is no respecte of persones with God. Ye maisters do vnto your seruants that which is iust and equal, seynge ye knowe that ye also haue a maister in heauen.

The.iii. Chapter.

Here he begynneth the other parte of hys Epistle, in whiche he exhorteth them to pfect daylye in true relygion, through purgynge of lyfe, innocency, and mutuall loue. Then he forbyddeth pylenes and curyositye. Laste he disputeth of the deade, and of the resurreccyon of oure bodies.

A Continue in prayer and watche in the same wpth thanks geuyng, prayyng also for vs: that God open vnto vs the doore of utterance, that we maye speake the misterie of Christ (wherfore I am also in bondes) that I may vtter it as it becometh me to speake.

Walke wisely to them that are without, Salte is y and redeme the tyme. Lette your speach be wisdom of gods word: that ye may know how to aunswere euery manne. The deare brother Tichicus shall tell you of all my busynes, whiche is a faithfull minister, and fellow seruaunt in the Lord, whom I haue sente vnto you for the same purpose, that he mighte knowe how ye do, and might comfort your hertes, with one Onesimus, a faithfull and a beloued brother which is one of you. They shall

Whewe you of all thynges, which are a doing here. Aristarchus my prison folowe salueth you & Marcus Barnabas sisters son: touchyng whom ye receyued commaundementes. If he come vnto you, receiue him,

to the Collosy, Chap. iiii.

and Iesus whiche is called Justus, whiche are of the circumcysion. These only are my worke felowes vnto the kyngdom of god, whiche were vnto my consolacion. Ephas the seruaunt of Christ, whiche is one of you, saluteth you, & alwaies laboureth feruently for you in prayers, that ye maye stand perfect and full in all that is the wyll of God.

I beare him record that he hath a feruent mynde toward you, and toward them of Laodicia & them of Hierapolis. Deare Lucas the physician greeteth you, and Demas. Salute the brethren whiche are of Laodicia, and salute Nymphas and the congregacion which is in his house. And when the Epistle is reade of you, make that it be reade in the congregacion of the Laodicians also, and that ye lykewyse reade the Epistle of Laodicia. And sape to Archippus: take hede to the offyce that thou haste receyued in the Lord, that thou fulfill it. The salutacion by the hand of me Paule. Remember my bondes. Grace be wpth you. Amen.

Sent from Rome by Tichicus and Onesimus.

The Prologe vpon the .i. Epytyle of S. Paule to the Thessalonians.

Ihs Epistle dyd Paul wyte of excedyng loue and care: and praiseth them in the two fyrst Chapters, because they dyd receyue the Gospell earnestly, and had in tribulacion and persecucion contynued therein stedfastly, and were become an ensample vnto all congregacions, and had thereto suffered of theyr owne kynsmen, as Christ and hys Apostles dyd of the Jewes, puttynge them therto in mynde, how purely and Godly he hadde lyued amonge them to theyr ensample, and thanketh God that hys Gospell had brought forth such fruite amonge them.

In the thyrde Chapter he sheweth hys diligence and care, lest hys so greate labour and theyr so blessed a begynnynge should haue bene in vayne, Satan and hys Apostles vexing the wpth persecucion, and destroyng theyr fayth wpth mans doctryne. And therfore he sent Timothy to them to comfort them and strength the in the fayth, and thanketh God that they had so constantly endured, and desyeth God to encrease them.

In the fourth he exhorteth them to kepe them selues from synne, and to do good one to another. And thereto he enformeth them concernyng the resurreccyon.

In the fift he wytteth of the last daye, that it should come sodaynly, exhortyng to prepare themselves thereafter, and to kepe a good order concernyng obedyence and rule.

The Epistle of saint Paul

mat. xxi. d. euen so do ye. Aboue all these thynges put on loue whiche is the bonde of perfectnes. And the peace of god rule in your hertes, to the whiche peace ye are called in one body. And se that ye be thankfull. Let the word of Christ dwell in you plentifully in all wisdom. Teach and exhorte your owne selues in psalmes and hymnes, and spirituall songes, which haue fauour with them, singyng in your hertes to the lord. And al thynges (whatsoeuer ye do in word or dede) do it in the name of the Lord Iesu, geuyng thanks to God the father by him.

Wpues.
Ephesi. v. c. i. Pet. iii. a. Husbandes
Ephesi. vi. a. Chyldren
Ephesi. vi. a. & fathers.
Titus. ii. e. Seruantes
i. Pet. ii. d. ii. par. xix. c. Actes. x. c. Ec. xxxv. b. Sapi. vi. b. Roma. ii. b. Collo. iii. c. Mapsters.
Ephesi. vi. a. Wpues submyt your selues vnto your owne husbands, as it is comely in the lord. Husbandes loue your wiues, and be not bitter vnto them. Chyldren obey your fathers and mothers in all thynges, for that is well pleasynge vnto the Lord. Fathers, rate not your children, lest they be of a desperate mynde. Seruantes be obedyent vnto your bodely maisters in al thynges, not with eie seruaunce as men pleasers, but in singlenes of hert, fearing God. And whatsoeuer ye do, do it hertely, as though ye dyd it to the lord, and not vnto men: for as muche as ye know that of the lord, ye shal receiue the reward of inheritaunce, for ye serue the Lord Christe.

But he that doth anye wrong, shal receiue for the wrong that he hath done: for there is no respecte of persones with God. Ye maisters do vnto your seruants that which is iust and equal, seynge ye knowe that ye also haue a maister in heauen.

The.iii. Chapter.

Here he begynneth the other parte of his Epistle, in which he exhorteth them to prospyte daylye in true relygion, through purgynge of lyfe, innocencye, and mutuall loue. Then he forbyddeth pylenes and curyositye. Laste he disputeth of the deade, and of the resurreccyon of oure bodies.

A Continue in prayer and watche in the same wpth thanks geuyng, prayyng also for vs: that God open vnto vs the doore of utteraunce, that we maye speake the misterie of Christ (wherefore I am also in bondes) that I may vtter it as it becometh me to speake.

Walke wisely to them that are without, Salte is y and redeme the tyme. Lette your speach be wisdom of gods word: that ye may know how to aunswere euerye manne. The deare brother Tychicus shall tell you of all my busynes, whiche is a faithfull minister, and fellow seruaunt in the Lord, whom I haue sente vnto you for the same purpose, that he mighte knowe how ye do, and might comfort your hertes, with one Onesimus, a faithfull and a beloued brother which is one of you. They shall

Whewe you of all thynges, which are a doing here. Aristarchus my prison folowe salueth you & Marcus Barnabas sisters son: touchyng whom ye receyued commaundementes. If he come vnto you, receiue him,

to the Collosy, Chap. iiii.

and Iesus whiche is called Justus, whiche are of the circumcision. These only are my worke felowes vnto the kyngdom of god, whiche were vnto my consolacion. Ephras the seruaunt of Christ, whiche is one of you, saluteth you, & alwaies labourerth feruently for you in prayers, that ye maye stand perfect and full in all that is the wyll of God.

I beare him record that he hath a feruent mynde toward you, and toward them of Laodicia & them of Hierapolis. Deare Lucas the physician greeteth you, and Demas. Salute the brethren whiche are of Laodicia, and salute Nymphas and the congregacion which is in his house. And when the Epistle is reade of you, make that it be reade in the congregacion of the Laodicians also, and that ye lykewyse reade the Epistle of Laodicia. And sape to Archippus: take hede to the offyce that thou haste receyued in the Lord, that thou fulfill it. The salutacion by the hand of me Paule. Remember my bondes. Grace be wpth you. Amen.

Sent from Rome by Tychicus and Onesimus.

The Prologe vpon the .i. Epytyle of S. Paule to the Thessalonians.

This Epistle dyd Paul wyte of exceeding loue and care: and praiseth them in the two fyrst Chapters, because they dyd receyue the Gospell earnestly, and had in tribulacion and persecucion contynued therein stedfastly, and were become an ensample vnto all congregacions, and had thereto suffered of theyr owne kynsmen, as Christ and his Apostles dyd of the Jewes, puttynge them therto in mynde, how purely and Godly he hadde lyued amonge them to theyr ensample, and thanketh God that his Gospell had brought forth such fruite amonge them.

In the thyrde Chapter he sheweth his diligence and care, lest his so greate labour and theyr so blessed a begynnynge should haue bene in vayne, Satan and his Apostles vexing the wpth persecucion, and destroyng theyr fayeth wpth mans doctryne. And therfore he sent Timothy to them to comfort them and strength the in the fayth, and thanketh God that they had so constantlye endured, and desyeth God to encrease them.

In the fourth he exhorteth them to kepe themselves from synne, and to do good one to another. And thereto he enformeth them concernyng the resurreccyon.

In the fyft he wytteth of the last daye, that it should come sodaynly, exhortyng to prepare themselves thereafter, and to kepe a good order concernyng obedyence and rule.

The i. epistle of S. Paul to the Theſſ. Chap. ii. Fo. xciiiij

The i. epistle of ſaynt Paule vnto the Theſſalonians.

The firſte Chapter.

He prayſeth the Theſſalonians, becauſe ſo in ſo greate troubles, they hadde kepte theiſe fayeth, whych they hadde learned of hym, ſo ſyncerely and fullye, that they were an example vnto all other.

Paule, Siluanus, and Timotheus. Vnto the congregacion of the Theſſalonians, in God the father and in the Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

* Grace be with you, and peace from god our father and from the Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

Wee geue God thanckes alwayes for you all, makynge mencyon of you in oure prayers withoute ceaſinge, and call to remembraunce your worke in the ſaieth, and labour * in loue and perfeuerance in that hope of oure Lorde Ieſus Chriſte, in the ſight of God our father, becauſe we know brethren beloued of God, howe that ye are electe. For our Goſpell came not to you in word * only, but alſo in power, and in the holpe gholt, and in muche certainty, as ye knowe after what maner we behaued oure ſelues amonge you, for your ſakes.

And ye became folowers of vs & of the Lorde, and receyued the word wpth muche affliccyon, with ioye of the holy gholt: ſo that ye were an enſample to all that beleue in Macedonia and Achaia. For from you ſounded out the worde of the Lorde, not in Macedonia and in Achaia onely: but your fayeth alſo whiche ye haue vnto God, ſpied hyſ ſelfe abroad in all quarters, ſo greatly, that it needeth not vs to ſpeake anythynge at all. For they themſelues ſhewe of you what maner of enteringe in we had vnto you, and howe ye returned vnto God fro Images, for to ſerue the lypynge and true God, and for to loke for hyſ ſonne * from heauen, whom he raiſed from death: I meane Ieſus whych deliuereth vs from wrath * to come.

The ii. Chapter.

He deſcribeth hyſ doctryne moze at large than he taught it them, not to prayſe himſelfe, but to exhorte them that they ſhal not fro theſe fayeth and Godlynes, nor be moued through chauntytie of thoſe whych hadde persecuted Chriſte and all hyſ Apoſtles.

For ye your ſelues knowe * brethren of our entraunce in vnto you, how that it was not in bayne: but even after that we had ſuffered before, and were * wane fullpe entreated at Philippios (as ye well know) then were we bolde in oure God to ſpeake vnto you the Goſpel of God wpth * much ſtryping. Our exhortacyon was not to bring you to erreure, nor yet to vnclennes, neither was it with gyle: but as we were allowed of God, that the Goſpell ſhoulde be commpted vnto vs: euen ſo we ſpake, not as though we enteded to pleaſe men: but God whych tryeth our hertes.

Nether was oure conuerſacyon at anye tyme with flatteringe wordes, as ye well knowe, neyther in cloyed couetouſnes: God is record: nether ſoughte we prayſe of men neither of you, nor yet of anye other, when we myght haue bene chargeable, as the Apoſtles of Chriſte, but we were tender among you: euen as a nouriſe cheriſheth hir children, ſo was our affection toward you: our good will was to haue dealt to you, not the Goſpell of God onely, but alſo oure own ſoules, becauſe ye were deare to vs.

* Ye remember brethren our labour and trauaile. For we labored daye and nyght, becauſe we would not be greuous vnto any of you: and preached vnto you the Goſpell of God. Ye are witneſſes, and ſo is God, howe holpe and iuſtpe and vnblameably we behaued our ſelues among you that beleue, as ye knowe howe that we exhorted and comforted, and beſoughte eue-rye one of you, as a father hyſ children, that ye woulde walke worthe of God, whych hath called you vnto hyſ kyngdom and glory.

For this cauſe thancke we God wthout ceaſynge, becauſe that when ye receyued of vs y word wherwith God was preached, ye receyued it not as the word of man but euen as it was in dede, the word of God: which worketh in you that beleue. For ye brethren became folowers of the congregacions of God, whyche in Jewry are in Chriſt Ieſu: for ye haue ſuffered like thinges of your kynsmenne, as we oure ſelues haue ſuffered of the Jewes. Whyche as they kyled the Lord Ieſus and theiſe own prophetes, euen ſo haue they persecuted vs, and God they pleaſe not, and are contrary to all men, and forbyd vs to preach vnto the gentiles that they mighte be ſaued, to fulfill theiſe ſpynnes alway. For the wrath of God is come on them, eue to the vtmoſt.

For as much brethren as we are kept from you for a ſeaſon as concernynge the bodily preſence, but not in the hert, we enforced the moze to ſe you perſonallye wpth greate deſyre. And therfore we would haue come vnto you, I Paule once and againe: but * Sathan wythſtode vs. For what is our hope or ioye, or crowne of reioyſinge, * are not ye it in the preſence of oure lorde Ieſus Chriſt at his commynge? yea, ye are our glory and ioye.

The iii. Chapter.

He holdeth on hyſ matter in whych he prayeth hyſ ſauer toward them both by his ſendynge of Timothee & alſo by his prayers for them: Whyche tendeth all to this ende, that they

Roma. i. a.
i. Cor. i. a.
ii. Cor. i. a.
Gala. i. a.
Eph. i. a.
I Rom. i. b.
Phil. i. a.
Eph. i. d.
Collo. i. a.
i. Cel. iii. b.
i. Timo. i. a.

i. Cor. ii. a.
i. Cel. ii. a.

Actes. i. b.
i. Joh. iii. b.

i. Cel. i. b.

Act. xvi. b.

Deu. xvi. b.

Gala. i. b.

Phil. i. a.

Phil. i. a.

A ſure to ken of a true apo

ſtle.

Actes. xx. g.

i. Cor. iii. c.

ii. Cel. iii. b.

i. Cor. ix. c.

E

D

Luke. xxi. d.

i. Want. x. e.

ii. Cor. i. c.

and. viii. d.

ii. Cel. i. b.

ii. Cel. i. b.

to the Thessa. Cha. iii.

God hath not called vs to uncleannes, but

God hath not called vs to uncleannes, but vnto holines. * Wherefore that despiseth, despiseth not manne, but God which hath sent this holy spirit amonge you. & But as touching brotherly loue, ye nede not I write vnto you. † For ye are taught of God, to loue one another. Yea and that thinge verely ye do vnto all the brethren, which are thorow oute al Macedonia. We beseeche you brethren that ye encrease more and more, and that ye study to be quiet, & to meddle with your own busynesse, & to work with your own handes, as we commanded you: that ye maye behaue your selues honestly towards them that are without, and that nothing be lackyng vnto you.

✠ I would not brethern haue you ignorant concerning them whiche are fallen a slepe, that ye sorow not as other do whiche haue no hope. For if we beleue that Iesus Christ dyed and rose againe, euen so them whiche slepe by Iesus, will God bring agayn with him. And thys say we vnto you in the word of the lord, that we which liue and are remaininge in the commyng of the lord, shal not come per they which slepe. For the lord himselfe shal descend from heauen with a shoute, and the voice of the archangel and trompe of God. And the dead in Christ shal aryse fyrste: then shal we which liue and remaine, be caught vp with them also in the cloudes to mete the lord in the ayer. And so shal we euer be with the lord. Wherefore comforte poure selues one another with these wordes. ✠

The.v. Chapter.

He teacheth of the vncertayntye of the tyme of our rplyng agayne, by whiche he exhorteth to watchyng and sobernes. Then he commendeth vnto them the ministers of the churche, he comaundeth them to care one for another, teacheth them to rise prophesies, and wisheth all good to them that beleue.

Of the times and seasons brethren ye haue no nede that I write vnto you, for ye your selues knowe perfectly that* the day of the Lorde shall come even as a thefe in the night. When they shal say peace and no daunger, then cometh on them soden destruction, as the trauayling of a woman wpth childe, and they shal not escape. But* ye brethren are not in darcknes, that that daye should come on you, as it were a thefe. & Ye are all the chyldren of lpyght, and the children of the day. We are not of the nyght, neyther of darckenes.

* Therefore lette vs not slepe as do other: but lette vs watche and be sober. For they that slepe, slepe in the nyght: and they that be droncken, are droncken in the nighte.
But lette vs which are of the day, be sober, * armed with the brest plate of fapeth and loue, and wpth hope of saluacyon as an helmet. For God hath not appoynted vs vnto wrath: but to obtayne saluacyon by the meanes of oure Lorde Iesu Christe, whiche dyed for vs: that * whether wee wake

Luke. x. c.
1. Cor. iii. b
and. vi. d
1. Tes. i. a
1. Thon. xii. d
and. xv. d
1. Joh. ii. b.
A good les son for the
that wold
live pde.
* Act. xx. b
1. corin. ix. c.
1. Tes. iii. b Resurrec
cion.

தொ.வி.க.க.
உ

mat. xiii. e.
dan. xii. a.
i. co. in. p. b.

mat. xxiij. d
i. p. c. i. d Epoca. iij. a
and xv.
Zere. xv. d.

Thon. xlii c
Ephesi. v. c.

Rom. xiii. d Faith is the best plate
hope is helmet.
Esa. lii. c.
Ephes. vi. c.

The. i. Epistle of S. Paule

wake or slepe, wee shoulde lyue together with him. Wherfore comforte your selues together, and edifye one another, euen as ye do. &

ii. Cor. v. d.
Gala. vi. a.
ii. Ti. v. b.
We beseech you brethren, *that ye know them which labour among you, and haue the ouersight of you in the Lorde, and geue you exhortacion, that ye haue them the more in loue for their workes sake, and be at peace with them.

Math. v. c.
Phil. iii. a.
Luke. xviii.
Ephe. v. b.
i. co. xiii. d.
*We desire you brethren warne them that are vnwylly, comfort the feble minded, forbear the weake, haue continual patience toward all men. Se that none recompence euill for euill vnto anye man: but euer folow that which is good, both among your selues, and to all men. *Reioyse uer: & pray continually. *In all thynges geue thanckes. For this is the will of God in Christ Iesu toward you.

Rom. xii. d. i. Pet. iii. b.
*Quenche not the (a) spirite. Despyse not prophesying. Examen all thyngs, and kepe that which is good. Absteyne from all suspicious thynges. The very god of peace sanctifye you thorow oute. And I praye God that your whole spirite, soule and body, be kept faultles vnto the commynge of our Lord Iesus Christ. &

i. Cor. i. b. end. x. c.
Rom. xvi. b. i. Cor. xvi. c.
ii. cor. xiii. c. i. Tes. iii. b.
*Faithfull is he whych called you: whiche will also do it. Brethren, praye for vs. *Brete all the brethren with an holy kysse. I charge you in the lorde that this Epistle be reade vnto all the holpe brethren. The grace of the Lorde Iesus Christe be wyth you. Amen.

The Notes.

Praye continually.
(a) Thys continual prayer is not continually bablyng wyth the tong. (For that is forbidden Mathewe. vi.) but it is the lyfing by of the hearte vnto God, with the continual and feruent desyre, that the will of God be done in vs, and in al other creatures both now and in tyme to come.

Quenche not y spirit
(b) When we are geuen ouer to euill conuersacion, and delyte in fleschly communicacion, then is the spryite quenched in vs.

The fyrst Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, sent from Athens.

The Prologe vpon the. ii. Epistle of S. Paule to the Thessalonians.

Because in the fore Epistle he hadde sayd that the laste daye shoulde come sodenlye, the Thessalonians thought that it shoulde haue come shortly. Wherfore in thys Epistle he declareth hymselfe.

And in the fyrst Chapter he comforteth them wyth euerlastyng reward of theyr fayth and patience in suffering for the Gospel, and wyth the punishment of theyr persecutours in euerlastyng payne.

In the seconde he sheweth that the laste daye shoulde not come tyll there were fyrst a depar-

To the Thess. Cha. i. Jo. xcv.

tyng (as some men thynke) from vnder the obedience of the Emperour of Rome, and that Antichrist shoulde set vp hym selfe in the same place as God, and deceyue the vnthankfull world wyth false doctryne, and wyth false and lynging myracles wrought by the working of Satan, vntill Christe shoulde come and slea hym wyth his glorious comming and spiritual preaching of the word of God.

In the thyrde he giveth them exhortacion, and warneth them to rebuke the idle that woulde not labour wyth theyr handes, and auoyde theyr company, yf they would not amende.

The seconde epistle of S. Paul the apo- stle to the Thessalonians.

The fyrst Chapter.

Fyrste he prayeth theyr sayeth, to whyche they sticke in euery soze daunger, promysing that they shalbe rewarded therfore wyth euerlastyng lyfe, but threateneth the wyched wyth euerlastyng damnacion, describyng wythall the glorious commynge of Christ, to whych he addeth prayer, warnyng vs what we oughte to do.

Paul, Silvanus and Timothy. Vnto the congregation of the Thessalonians which are in God our father, and in the Lorde Iesus Christ.

* Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

We are bounde to thanke God alwayes for you brethren, as it is meete, because that your fayth groweth exceedingly, and euery one of you swimmeth in loue toward another betwene your selues, so that we our selues reioyse of you in the congregacions of God ouer your patience and faith in all your persecucions and tribulacions that ye suffer, which is a token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye are counted worthy of the kyngdome of God, for which ye also suffer. It is verely a righteous thinge with God to recompence tribulacion to them that trouble you: and to you (which are troubled) rest with vs, when the Lord Iesus shall shew himselfe from heauen with his mighty aungels, in flaming fire, rendyng vengeance vnto them that knowe not God, and to them that obeye not vnto the Gospel of our Lorde Iesus Christe, whych shall be punished with euerlastyng dampnacion from the presence of the Lorde, and from the glory of his power, when he shal come to be glorified in his sainctes, & to be made maruelous in all them that beleue: because our testimony that we had vnto you, was beleued euen the same daye that we preached it.

Wherfore wee praye alwayes for you, that our God make you worthy of the callynge, and fulfill all declaracion of good.

Tribulacion is a token of saluacion.

mat. xxiii. e
and. x. d. c
i. Pet. iii. a Roma. ii. a

2. Tim. v. a
1. Tim. ii. b

The. i. Epistle of S. Paule

wake or slepe, wee shoulde lyue together with him. Wherfore comforte your selues together, and edifye one another, euen as ye do. &

ii. Cor. v. d.
Gala. vi. a.
ii. Ti. v. b.
We beseech you brethren, *that ye know them which labour among you, and haue the ouersight of you in the Lorde, and geue you exhortacion, that ye haue them the more in loue for their workes sake, and be at peace with them.

Math. v. c.
Phil. iii. a.
Luke. xviii.
Ephe. v. b.
i. co. xiii. d.
*We desire you brethren warne them that are vnwylly, comfort the feble minded, forbear the weake, haue continual patience toward all men. Se that none recompence euill for euill vnto anye man: but euer folow that which is good, both among your selues, and to all men. *Reioyse uer: & pray continually. *In all thynges geue thanckes. For this is the will of God in Christ Iesu toward you.

Rom. xii. d. i. Pet. iii. b.
*Quenche not the (a) spirite. Despyse not prophesying. Examen all thyngs, and kepe that which is good. Absteyne from all suspicious thynges. The very god of peace sanctifye you thorow oute. And I praye God that your whole spirite, soule and body, be kept faultles vnto the commynge of our Lord Iesus Christ. &

i. Cor. i. b. end. x. c.
Rom. xvi. b. i. Cor. xvi. c.
ii. cor. xiii. c. i. Tes. iii. b.
*Faithfull is he whych called you: whiche will also do it. Brethren, praye for vs. *Brete all the brethren with an holy kysse. I charge you in the lorde that this Epistle be reade vnto all the holpe brethren. The grace of the Lorde Iesus Christe be wyth you. Amen.

The Notes.

Praye continually.
(a) Thys continual prayer is not continually babling wyth the tong. (For that is forbidden Mathewe. vi.) but it is the lyfing by of the hearte vnto God, with the continual and feruent desyre, that the will of God be done in vs, and in al other creatures both now and in tyme to come.

Quenche not y spirit
(b) When we are geuen ouer to euill conuersacion, and delyte in fleschly communicacion, then is the spirite quenched in vs.

The fyrst Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, sent from Athens.

The Prologe vpon the. ii. Epistle of S. Paule to the Thessalonians.

Because in the fore Epistle he hadde sayd that the laste daye shoulde come sodenlye, the Thessalonians thought that it shoulde haue come shortly.

Wherfore in thys Epistle he declareth hymselfe.

And in the fyrst Chapter he comforteth them wyth euerlastyng reward of theyr fayth and patience in suffering for the Gospel, and wyth the punishment of theyr persecutours in euerlastyng payne.

In the seconde he sheweth that the laste daye shoulde not come tyll there were fyrst a depar-

To the Thess. Cha. i. Jo. xcv.

tyng (as some men thynke) from vnder the obedience of the Emperour of Rome, and that Antichrist shoulde set vp hym selfe in the same place as God, and deceyue the vnthankfull world wyth false doctryne, and wyth false and lyeing myracles wrought by the working of Satan, vntill Christe shoulde come and slea hym wyth his glorious comming and spiritual preaching of the word of God.

In the thyrde he giveth them exhortacion, and warneth them to rebuke the idle that woulde not labour wyth theyr handes, and auoyde theyr company, yf they would not amende.

The seconde epistle of S. Paul the apo- stle to the Thessalonians.

The fyrst Chapter.

In the fyrst he prayeth theyr sayeth, to whiche they sticke in euery soze daunger, promysing that they shalbe rewarded therfore wyth euerlastyng lyfe, but threateneth the wycked wyth euerlastyng damnacion, describyng wythall the glorious commynge of Christ, to whiche he addeth prayer, warnyng vs what we oughte to do.

Paul, Silvanus and Timothy vnto the congregation of the Thessalonians which are in God our father, and in the Lorde Iesus Christ.

* Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

We are bounde to thanke God alwayes for you brethren, as it is meete, because that your fayth groweth exceedingly, and euery one of you swimmeth in loue toward another betwene your selues, so that we our selues reioyse of you in the congregacions of God ouer your patience and faith in all your persecucions and tribulacions that ye suffer, which is a token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye are counted worthy of the kyngdome of God, for which ye also suffer. It is verely a righteous thinge with God to recompence tribulacion to them that trouble you: and to you (which are troubled) rest with vs, when the Lord Iesus shall shew himselfe from heauen with his mighty aungels, in flaming fire, rendyng vengeance vnto them that knowe not God, and to them that obeye not vnto the Gospel of our Lorde Iesus Christe, whiche shall be punished with euerlastyng dampnacion from the presence of the Lorde, and from the glorye of his power, when he shal come to be glorified in his sainctes, & to be made maruelous in all them that beleue: because our testimony that we had vnto you, was beleued euen the same daye that we preached it.

Wherfore wee praye alwayes for you, that our God make you worthy of the callynge, and fulfill all declaracion of good.

Tribulacion is a token of saluacion.

mat. xxiii. e
and. x. d. c
i. Pet. iii. a Roma. ii. a

2. Cor. v. a.
1. Cor. ii. b

The.i. Epistle of S. Paule

of goodnes and the worcke of fayth, wpyth power, that the name of oure Lorde Iesu Christ may be glorified in you, & ye in hym thowowe the grace of our God, and of the Lord Iesu Christe.

The.ii. Chapter.

Because he made often mencyon of Christes comynge, and that there were manye whych sayed, he was now at hande, he wil- leth them not to be seduced with the errors of such, teachynge that Christes comynge shall not be, before Antichriste be reueled, whom he painted couerly and wpyth them to perseuerance.

Ve beseeche you brethren by the com- ming of our Lorde Iesu Christe, and in that we shall assemble vnto hym, that ye be not sodenly moued from poure mynde, and be not troubled, neyther by spi- rite, neither by wordes, nor yet by letter, whiche shoulde seme to come from vs, *as though the daye of Christe were at hande. Let no man deceyue you by anye meanes, for the Lorde commeth not, except *there come a departing spyt, and that that syn- ful man be opened, the sonne of perdition, whiche is an aduersarpe, and is exalted a- boue all that is called God, or that is wor- shipped: so that he shall sytte as God in the (a) temple of God, and shewe *hym selfe as God.

Remember ye not, that when I was yet wpyth you, I tolde you these thynges: And now ye knowe what wythholdeth: e- uen that he might be vttered at hys tyme. * For the misterpe of the iniquitie doeth al- ready worcke whych onely holdeth vntyll it be taken out of the way. And then shall that wicked be vttered, *whom the Lorde shall consume wpyth the (b) spyrte of hys mouthe, and shal destrope wpyth the appe- raunce of hys comynge, & euen him whose comynge *is by the workynge of Sathan, wpyth all lpyng *power, signes and woun- ders: and in all deceyueableness of vnrygh- tuousnes, amonge them that perishe, be- cause they receiued not the loue of p truth, that they mighte haue bene saued. * And therfore God shall sende them strong delu- sion, that they should beleue lyes: that all they myghte bee dampned whych beleued not the truth, but had *pleasure in vnrygh- tuousnes.

But we are bound to geue thanckes al- waye to God for you brethren beloued of the Lord, for because that God hath from the beginnynge chosen you to saluacion, thowow sanctifyng of the spirit, and thowow beleuing the truth, wherunto he cal- led you by our Gospell, to obtayne the glo- ry that cometh of our Lord Iesu Christ. * Therefore brethren stand fast and kepe p ordinaunces whiche ye haue learned: whe- ther it wer by our preaching, or by Epistle. Oure Lord Iesu Christ himselfe, and God our father whiche hath loued vs, and hath geuen vs everlastinge consolacion & good hope thowowe grace, comfort pour harts, & stablish pou in al doctrine & good doyng.

To the Thess. Cha.ii.

The Notes.

(a) Thys temple of God is the consceyence of men. And to sit in thys temple, is to be taken of men, as the verpe deputie and vicare of God, so that they be as frayde to breake hys ordynaun- ces and lawes, as the ordinaunces and lawes of God.

(b) Thys spyrte is hys holpe worde, whych is also called the swerde of the spyrte.

The.iii. Chapter.

He monyeth them to helpe forwarde the Gospell wpyth theyr deuoute prayers. Then earnestly perswadeth he them to bynge into order thole, whych through theyr ydlenes & curposyte trouble the churche and good or- der of the lande.

Furthermore brethren pray for vs, that the worde of God maye haue fre pas- sage & be glorified, as it is wpyth you: * that we may be delpyered from vnreaso- nable and euill men. For *all menne haue not fayth: but the Lord is faithfull, whiche shall stablish you and kepe you from euil. We haue confidence thowow the Lorde to pouwarde, that ye both do, and wil do that which we commaund you: And the *Lorde gupde poure hertes to the loue of God and pacience of Christ. *

We *require you brethren in the name of our Lord Iesu Christ, that ye withdraue your selues from euerpe brother that wal- keth inordinatly, and not after the institu- tion which ye receiued of vs. * Ye pour sel- ues know, how ye ought to folowe vs. For we behaued not oure selues inordinatly amonge you. Neither toke we bread of a- ny man for nought: but wrought wpyth la- boure and trauaple night and day, because we wold not be greuous to any of you: not but that we hadde authoritie, but to make our selues an ensample vnto you, to folow vs. For when we were with you, thus we warned you of, that if ther were any which wold not worke, p the same shuld not eate.

We haue hearde say no doubt, that ther are some which walke among you inordi- natly, and worcke not at all: but are busye bodyes. * Them that are such, we comand and exhort by our Lorde Iesu Christe, that they worcke with quietnes, and eate theyr owne bread. Brethren *be not wery in wel- doyng. If any man obey not our sayings, send vs worde of him by a letter: and haue no company wpyth hym, that he maye be a- shamed. And count him not as an enemye, but warne him as a brother.

The verpe God of peace geue you peace alwayes, by all meanes. The Lord be with you all. * The salutacon of me Paule with mine owne hand. This is the to- ken in all Epistles. So I write.

* The grace of our Lorde Iesu Christ be with you all. Amen.

Sent from Athens.

THE

ii. Pe. iii. a
Dan. ix. c
Ephe. v. b
i. Ti. iii. a

Antichrist.

i. Cor. iii. b
and. vi. b
Dan. xi. c

i. John. ii. e
Job. xv. d
Esay. xi. a
Dan. viii. d
Joh. viii. d
Deu. xxi. a
mat. xxiii. b Lpyng myracles, because thei testifye a false faith zachar. v. a Roma. i. d Wher no
loue is to the truth,
on them
doeth
God let flip false
prophets
to deceiue
them.

De. vii. a

Matt. ix. d
Ephe. vi. e
Col. iii. a
Joh. vi. c

Deu. xxi. a
and. xxi. b
Je. xxi. b
i. Cor. v. b

i. Co. iii. c

Actes. xx. f
and. xvii. e
i. Cor. ix. b
i. Cel. ii. b

i. Cel. iii. b

Gala. vi. a
ii. Thon. b

Gala. vi. c Excomunicacion.

Col. iii. b
Phil. iii. c

i. Tim. v. c

A Prologe v<sup>o</sup> pon the fyrst epystle of S. Paule to Timothe.

Phy<sup>s</sup> epystle wyrteth S. Paule too be an ensample vnto all By<sup>s</sup>shops what they shoulde teache, and howe they shoulde gouerne the congregacyon of Chyste in al degrees, that it shoulde be no nede to gouerne Chyste's flock wth the doctryne of they<sup>r</sup> own good meanyngs.

In the fyrst Chapter, he commaundeth, that the by<sup>s</sup>hop shall maynteyne the right faith, and lone, and resyst false preachers, whych make the law and wo<sup>r</sup>kes equall wth Chyste and hy<sup>s</sup> Gospell. And he maketh a mo<sup>r</sup>te conclusyon of a Chysten learyng, wherto the lawe serueth, and what the ende therof is also, what the Gospell is, and letteth hymselfe for an ensample vnto all synners and troubled consciences.

In the seconde, he commaundeth to pray for all degrees, and chargeth that the women shall not preache nor weare costely apparel, but to be obedyent vnto the men.

In the thyr<sup>d</sup> he describeth what maner persons the By<sup>s</sup>hop or By<sup>s</sup>te and they<sup>r</sup> wyues shoulde be, and also the Deacons and their wyues, and commaundeth it, if anye man desyre to be a By<sup>s</sup>hop after that maner.

In the fourth he prophesyeth and sheweth before all the false By<sup>s</sup>hops and spy<sup>ri</sup>tuall officers that shoulde aryse among the Chysten people, and preache cleane contrary to the fo<sup>r</sup>e described ensample, and shoulde departe from the faith in Chyste, and forbyd to mary and to eate certayne meates, teachyng to put trust therein, both of iustifyng and forgyuenes of syns, and also of deservyng of eternall lyfe.

In the fyf<sup>e</sup>, he teacheth how a By<sup>s</sup>hop shuld vse hymselfe towarde yonge and olde, and concerning wydowes, what is to be done, & whiche shoulde be found of the commune rolle: and teacheth also how men shoulde honoure the vertuous By<sup>s</sup>hoppes and By<sup>s</sup>stes, and howe to rebuke the euyl.

In the syxt he exhorteth the By<sup>s</sup>hop to cleave to the Gospell of Chyste and true doctryne, and to anoyde bayne questyons, and superfluous dysputyngs, whych gender steyfe and queneche the truth, and by whych also the false By<sup>s</sup>hoppes gette them authoryte, and seeke to satysfye they<sup>r</sup> insatiable couetyse.

The fyrste epist

le of Saynt Paule vnto Tymothe.

The fyrst Chapter.

Here is set forth the perfecte ensample of a good By<sup>s</sup>hop. And because hy<sup>s</sup> chiefe offyce is to teach, Paul sheweth in thys Chapter, what shoulde be taught: not tales and bayne questyons, whiche shoulde be reſected, but such thynges as pertain to faith and chary<sup>te</sup>. For in these two are comprehended both the law and the Gospell.

PAUL an Apostle of Iesus Chyste, by the * commaundement of God our Sau<sup>i</sup>our and Lord Iesu Chyste, whiche is oure hope. Vnto Timothe hy<sup>s</sup> naturall son in the faith. Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our father, and from the Lord Iesus Chyste our Lord.

As I besought the to abyde styll in Ephesus, (when I departed into Macedonia) even so do, that thou command some, that they teache no nother wyse * neither geue heede to fables, and genealogyes, whiche are endelesse, and brede doubt<sup>s</sup>, more then Godly edifyng, whiche is by faith * for the ende of the commaundement is lone, that cometh of a pure hert, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfeigned, from the whych thynges some haue erred, and haue touned vnto bayne ianglyng, because they woulde be doctoures in the scr<sup>ip</sup>ture, & yet vnderstand not what they speake, neyther wherof they affirme.

* We know that the lawe is good, if a man vse it lawfully, vnderstandyng this, how that the law is not geuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the vnrigh<sup>t</sup>eous and dysobedyent, to the vngodly and to the sinners, to vnholly & vnclene, to murtherers of fathers, & murtherers of mothers, to man<sup>s</sup> sleas and whozemogers: to them that despyle them * selues with mankynde, to men stealers, to lyars and to periured, & so forth if there be any other thyng, that is contrary to holsome doctryne, accordyng to the Gospell of the glory of the blessed God, which Gospell is committed vnto me.

And I thanke Chyste Iesu oure Lord, which hath made me strong, for he counted me true, and put me in offyce, when before I was a blasphem<sup>er</sup> and persecuter, and a t<sup>r</sup>auante. But I obteyned mercy, because I dyd it ignorantly thorow vnbelefe. Reuertelater the grace of our lord was more aboundant wth faith and lone, which is in Chyste Iesu.

* This is a true sayng, and by all meanes worthy to be receyued * that Chyste Iesu came into the worlde to saue synners, of whom I am chiefe. Notwithstandyng for thys cause was mercy geuen vnto me, that Iesus Chyste shoulde syt shewe on me all longe pacence, vnto the ensample of the whych shall in tyme to come beleue on him vnto eternall lyfe. So then vnto God, king euerlastyng, immortal, inuysible, & wyse only, be honoure and prayse for euer, and euer. Amen.

Thys commaundement comyt I vnto the sonne Tymotheus, accordyng to the prophesy<sup>s</sup>, whych in tyme past were prophesied of the, that thou in them shouldest fyght a good fyght, haupyng faith, & a good conscience, whych some haue put away fro them, & as concerning faith, haue made they<sup>r</sup> wycke. Of whose nomb<sup>r</sup>is

Act. ix. b.
Hope.
1. Cor. i. a
Actes. xvi. a
1. Cor. i. a Galath. i. a
Actes. xix. c
1. Tim. ii. c
1. Tim. iii. b.
Ro. xii. b
Galat. vi. a Actes. xv. b
Actes. xvi. a
Loue is the end of the commaundement, & must inter<sup>p</sup>rete it.

Rom. vii. b
Gala. v. c

Roma. i. b.

Actes. ix. a.
Gala. i. a

the good of the faith.
1. Cor. ix. b
John. iii. e.
Mark. i. c
Paule is an ensample of none dyspayre & can rep<sup>r</sup>es<sup>t</sup>.

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

Himeneus. Himeneus and Alexander * whom I haue Alexander. deliuered vnto Sathan, that he mighte be taught not to blaspheme.

The. ii. Chapter.

The. The seconde poynt of a pastors charge is to pray diligently. Therfore he teacheth what prayer is, & after what sort they must be made to God, wherewithal he treateth of hys offyce and apparel both of men and women.

A Exhort therfore, that aboue al things, prayers, supplications, intercessions, & geuing of thanks be had for al men, for kynge, and for all that are in authorite, that we may liue a quiet & a peaceable life, in al Godlines & honestie. For that is good and accepted in the sight of God our saui-our, which will haue (a) all men saued, and to come vnto the knowledge of the truth.
For ther is one God, and one Mediatoure betwene God and man, whiche is the man Christ Iesus, which gaue himselfe a roun-some for all men, that it should be testyfyed at his time, wherunto I am ordeined a preacher & an Apostle: I tell the truth in Christ and lye not, being the teacher of the Gentills in fapth and verity. &

Prayer. I will therfore that the men pray euery wher, lifting vp pure hands without wrath, or doubting. Likewise also the womē that they arape themselves in comely apparell with shamefastnes and discrete behauiour, not with broided heere, either gold, or per-les, or costely arape: but with such as becometh womē that professe the worshippinge of God thorow good workes. Let the women learne in silence with all subieccion. I suffer not a womanne to teach, neyther to haue authorite ouer a man, but for to be in silence. For Adam was fyrst formed, & then Eue. Also Adam was not deceyued, but the woman was deceyued, and was in trans-gressyon. Notwithstandyng thorow bea-ryng of chyldren they shalbe saued, so they contynue in fapth, loue and holynes with dyscrecion.

The Notes.

God wyl (a) When saynt Paul sayth al men, he meaneth haue all me not euery man, for then shuld not God be found saue. almyghty, sayng he would haue euery man saued, and yet the most part be damned, as appeareth by Christs word, where he sayth. The way that leadeth to lyfe, is narrowe, and fewe there be that fynde it: but hys meanyng is, that God refuseth no nacyon, be it Jewe or Gentyle. Neither estate, be it ryche or poore. All is one wpyth hym, he hath no respect of persons, but woulde hys Gospell to be preached to all nacjons and estates, & such among them as be pedyndate to the lyfe, may be saued, and come to the acknowledgyng of the truth.

The. iii. Chapter.

The. Because there lyeth much vpon thy lyfe of a Bishop, he describeth here what it ought to be. And what a Deacon ought to be. And thawhat is the office of theyr wyues, and of their whole household.

A This is a true saying: If a man couete the office of a (a) Bishop, he despyeth a good worke. Yea and a Byshoppe ## to Tymothe, Cha. iii.

must be faultlesse, the husband of one wife, A Bishop sober, discrete, honestly appareled, harbe- or an ouer-rous, apte to teache, not droncken, no figh fear what ter, not geuen to fylthy lucre: but gentle, he oughte abhorring fpyghtyng, abhorring couetous- to be.
nes, and one that ruleth hys own house honestly, hauinge chyldren vnder obedpence, wpyth all honestie. For if a man ca not rule his owne house, how shal he care for the cogregacion of God? He maye not be a pong scholer, lest he swel and fal into the iudge-mente of the euill speaker. He must also be well reported of amonge them whiche are without fozthe, lest he fall into rebuke & snare of the euill speaker.

Lpkewise must the Deacons be honest, & not double tounge, not geuen to muche Deacons. drynkyng, neither vnto filthy lucre: but hauing the mystery of the fapth in a pure conscience. And let them first be proued, & then let the minister, if they be found faultlesse.
Euen so must theyr wyues be honest, not e- The wy-uill speakers: but sober and fapthfull in all ues of the thynges. Let the Deacons be the husband priestes & of one wyfe, and such as rule theyr chylde Deacons. well, and their owne householdes. For they that minister well, gette them selues good degre and great libertie in the fapth whych is in Christ Iesu.

These things write I vnto the, trusting to come shortly vnto the: but and if I tary long, that the thou maist yet haue knowlege, how thou oughtest to behaue thy self in the house of God, whiche is the congregacion of the lpyng God, the ppyler and ground of truth. And wpythout nay, greate is that mystery of godlines: God was shewed in the fleshe, was iustfyed in the spi-rite, was sene of angels, was preached vnto the Gentyls, was beleued on in earth, & receyued vp in glory.

The Notes.

(a) Byshop, is as much to say, as a watch man, Byshoppe. an ouerleas, a sear to, or one that taketh hede to,
When thys man despyeth to feede the flocke of Christ wpyth hys holy worde, then despyeth he a good worke, and the very offyce of a Byshop:
But he that despyeth honour, gapeth for lucre, thyppeth greate rentes, seeketh pichynence, pompe, domynyon: coueteth aboundaunce of al thynges wpythout want, rest, and heretes ease, castels, parkes, lordshypes, earldomes, &c. despyeth not a worke, much lesse a good worke, and is no thyng lesse then a bishop, as S. Paul doth here vnderstand a byshop.

The. iii. Chapter.

The. Because Sathanas soweth corrupte doctrine with hys good, he declareth here what his doctryne is, to the entent we may the easlyer beware of it. Than goeth he forwarde earnestly in shewyng a Byshoppes offyce.

The spryit speaketh euidently that in the latter tymes some shall departe fro the fapth, & shall gyue hede vnto spyrtes of erreure, and deuillish doctryne of them whych speake false thorow hy-pocrisie, and haue theyr consciences marked wpyth an (a) hote Iron, for bydd-
to

to mary, and commaundynge to abstayne fro meate which God hath created to be re-ceyued wth geuyng thankes, of the which beleue & know the truth. For all þ creaturs of God are good, and nothyng to be refused if it be receyued wth thankes geuyng.
For it is sanctified by the worde of God & prayer. If thou shalt put the b<sup>r</sup>ethren in rememb<sup>r</sup>ance of these thynges, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesu Christ, whiche hath bene noursed by in the wordes of the faith & good doctrine, which doctrine thou hast continually folowed. But cast awaye vnholy and old wiues fables.

D Exercise thy selfe vnto Godlynes. For bodely exercise profiteth little. But godly-nes is good vnto all thynges, as a thyng
which hath promyses of þ lyfe that is now, and of the lyfe to come. This is a sure sayinge and of all parties worthy to be recey-
ued. For therfore we labour and suffer rebuke, because we beleue in the lyving god,
which is the sauoure of all men: but speciallye of those that beleue. Such things comaund and teache. Let noman despise thy youth: but be vnto them that beleue an example in worde, in conuersacion, in loue,
in spirit, in fayth, and in purenes.

Thy I come, geue attendaunce: to reading, to exhortacion & to doctrine. Despise not the gyfte that is in the, which was geuen the thowow prophesy, and with laying on of the handes of an elder: These thyng-
es exercise, and geue thy selfe vnto them,
that it may be sene how thou profiteest in al thynges. Take heede vnto thy selfe & vnto learnynge, and continue therein. For if thou shalt so do, thou shalt saue thy self, & them that heare the.

The Notes.

Note Iron (a) The conscience is sayed to be marked wth
an hote Iron, when the party knoweth that þ doctrine which he setteth forth is not good, and
yet for lyuynges sake he wyl not reforme it.
This manner of speaking semeth to be taken of
þ ciuill order, which is, þ such men as be conuicted of certain crimes, shal be burned in the hand or some other place of the body, wth an hote Iron: wherby it is knowen, þ he is so conuicted, though he hym selfe be neuer repentaunt nor amend his faute. But if he be taken wth any lyke fault a-gayne and brought to the lawe, then shall thys marke condemne them that knowe they erre
and yet wyl not acknowledge it, but for þ bealye sake mayntayne it styll.

The .v. Chapter.

He geueth dyuers preceptes, howe & what to do wth the elder and yonger widdowes, and also wth the elders: last he addeth cer-tayne preceptes, seruyng for the health of the bodye.

Rebuke not an elder, but exhort hym as a father, and the yonger mē as b<sup>r</sup>ethren: the elder women as mothers, the yonger as sisters with all purenes. Honour widdowes whiche are true widdowes.
If any widdowe haue chyldren or newes,
let the first learne to rule their own houses
Godlye, and to recompence their elders.

For that is good & acceptable before God.
She that is a very widdowe and frendlesse, putteth hyr trust in god and continueth in supplicacion and prayer night and daye.
But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead euē yet alieue. And these things comaund, that they maye be wthout faute. If there be a-nye that prouydeth not for hyr owne, and namely for them of his household, the same denyeth the fayth, and is worse then an infidelle.

Let no widdowe be chosen vnder thye score
yeare olde, and such a one as was the wyfe of one man, & wel reported of in good wor-kes: if she haue nourished chyldren, if she haue bene liberal to straungers, if she haue washed the sayntes fete, if she haue ministred vnto them which were in a duersity, if she were cōtinually geuen vnto all maner good workes. The yonger widdowes refuse.
For when they haue begon to were wantō, to the dishonour of Christ, then wyl they mary, hauing dānacion, because they haue broken their first faith. And also they learn to go fro house to house ydle, yea not ydle only, but also tryfling & busybodies, speakyng things which are not comely.

I wil therfore that the yonger womē mary & beare chyldren, & guide the house, and geue non occasiō to the aduersary to speke euil. For many of them are already turned backe, & are gone after Satan. And if anye man or woman that beleueth haue widdowes, let them minister vnto them, & let not
the congregacion be charged: that it maye
haue sufficient for them that are widdowes in dede. The elders that rule wel, are worthy of double honour, mooste specially they whiche labour in the word and in teaching.
For the scripture sayth: Thou shalt not muse the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne. And the labourer is worthy of hyr rewarde. Agaynst an elder receyue none accusacion: but vnder two or thye wytneses. Them that sinne, rebuke openly, that other maye feare.

I testify before god & the lord Iesus Christ
& the elect angels, that thou obserue these things without hasty iudgement, & do nothyng partially. Lay hands sodenly on no man, neyther be partaker of other mennes sins: kepe thy selfe pure. Drinke no longer water, but vse a lytle wyne for thy stomakes sake, and thine often diseases.

Some mens synnes are open before hādē and go before vnto iudgement: some mens synnes folowe after. Likewyse also good workes are manifest before hand, and they
that are otherwise, can not be hyd.

The .vi. Chapter.

He teacheth the ductye of seruantes. And than gatherynge altogether, he sheweth what doctryne oughte to be obserued, and what a-uoyded. After thys he byndeth Timothy with an othe. And because couetousnes doth great hurts, he treateth muche of it, and of ryches.

Arre. ii. Let

B

C

D

to marry, and commaundynge to abstayne
fro meate which God hath created to be re-
ceyued wth geuyng thankes, of the which beleue & know the truth. For all þ creaturs
of God are good, and nothyng to be refused if it be receyued wth thankes geuyng.
For it is sanctified by the worde of God & prayer. If thou shalt put the b<sup>r</sup>ethren in rememb<sup>r</sup>ance of these thynges, thou shalt
be a good minister of Iesu Christ, whiche hath bene noursched by in the wordes of the faith & good doctrine, which doctrine thou hast continually folowed. But cast awaye vnholy and old wiues fables.

D Exercise thy selfe vnto Godlynes. For bodely exercise profiteth little. But godly-nes is good vnto all thynges, as a thyng
which hath promyses of þ lyfe that is now,
and of the lyfe to come. This is a sure sayinge and of all parties worthy to be recey-
ued. For therfore we labour and suffer rebuke, because we beleue in the lyving god,
which is the sauoure of all men: but speciallye of those that beleue. Such things comaund and teache. Let noman despise thy youth: but be vnto them that beleue an example in worde, in conuersacion, in loue,
in spirit, in fayth, and in purenes.

Thy I come, geue attendaunce: to reading, to exhortacion & to doctrine. Despise
not the gyfte that is in the, which was geuen the thowow prophesy, and with laying
on of the handes of an elder: These thyng-
es exercise, and geue thy selfe vnto them,
that it may be sene how thou profiteest in al
thynges. Take heede vnto thy selfe & vnto learnynge, and continue therein. For if thou shalt so do, thou shalt saue thy self, & them
that heare the.

The Notes.

Note Iron (a) The conscience is sayed to be marked wth
an hote Iron, when the party knoweth that þ doctrine which he setteth forth is not good, and
yet for lyuynges sake he wyl not reforme it.
This maner of speaking semeth to be taken of
þ ciuill order, which is, þ such men as be conuic-
ted of certain crimes, shal be burned in the hand or some other place of the body, wth an hote Iron: wherby it is knowe, þ he is so conuicted, though he hym selfe be neuer repentaunt nor amend his faute. But if he be taken wth any lyke fault a-gayne and brought to the lawe, then shall thys
marke condemne them that knowe they erre
and yet wyl not acknowledge it, but for þ bea-ste sake mayntayne it styll.

The .v. Chapter.

He geueth dyuers preceptes, howe & what to do wth the elder and ponger widdowes, and also wth the elders: last he addeth cer-tayne preceptes, seruyng for the health of the bodye.

Rebuke not an elder, but exhort hym as a father, and the ponger me as b<sup>r</sup>ethren: the elder women as mothers, the ponger as sisters with all purenes. Honour widdowes whych are true widdowes.
If any widdowe haue chyl dren or newes,
let the first learne to rule their own houses
Godlye, and to recompence their elders.

For that is good & acceptable before God.
She that is a very widdowe and frendlesse,
putteth hyr trust in god and continueth in supplicacion and prayer night and dape.
But she that liueth in pleasure, is dead euē yet aliue. And these things comaund, that they maye be wthout faute. If there be any that proudeyth not for hys owne, and namely for them of his household, the same denyeth the sayeth, and is worse then an infidelle.

Let no widdowe be chosen vnder thye score
yeare olde, and such a one as was the wyfe
of one man, & wel reported of in good wor-kes: if she haue nourished chyl dren, if she
haue bene liberal to straungers, if she haue washed the sayntes fete, if she haue mini-
stred vnto them which were in a duersity, if
she were cōtinually geuen vnto all maner good workes. The pōger widdowes refuse.
For when they haue begon to were wantō, to the dishonour of Christe, then wyl they marry, hauing dānacion, because they haue broken their first faith. And also they learn
to go fro house to house ydle, yea not ydle
only, but also tryfling & busybodies, spea-
kyng things which are not comely.

I wil therfore that the ponger womē mary & beare chyl dren, & guide the house, and
geue non occasiō to the aduersary to speke euil. For many of them are already turned backe, & are gone after Satan. And if anye
man or woman that beleueth haue widdo-
wes, let them minister vnto them, & let not
the congregacion be charged: that it maye
haue sufficient for them that are widdowes
in dede. * The elders that rule wel, are worthy of double honour, moſte specyally they whych labour in the word and in teaching.
For the scripture sayth: * Thou shalt not muse the mouth of the ore that treadeth
out the corne. * And the labourer is worthy of hys rewarde. Agaynste an elder receyue none accusacion: but vnder two or thye wytnesſes. Them that sinne, rebuke openly, that other maye feare.

I testify before god & the lord Iesus Christ
& the elect angels, that thou obserue these things without hasty iudgement, & do no-
thyng partially. Lay hands sodenly on no man, neyther be partaker of other mennes
sins: kepe thy selfe pure. Drinke no longer
water, but vse a lytle wyne for thy stomakes sake, and thine often diseases.

Some mens synnes are open before hāde
and go before vnto iudgement: some mens synnes folowe after. Likewyse also good workes are manifest before hand, and they
that are otherwise, can not be hyd.

The .vi. Chapter.

He teacheth the ductye of seruantes. And than gatherynge altogether, he sheweth what doctryne oughte to be obserued, and what a-uoyded. After thys he byndeth Timothe with an othe. And because couetousnes doth great hurts, he treateth muche of it, and of ryches.

Ar. ii. Let

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

Servants Let as manpe seruantes as are vnder the poke, count they maisters worthy of al honour, that the name of God & hys doctrine be not euill spokē of. Se that thei which haue beleuing maisters, despise them not, bycause they are brythren: but so much the rather do seruice, for as muche as they are beleuing and beloued and partakers of the benefyte.

These thinges teache and exhorte. If a npe man teache otherwys, and is not content with the holysome words of our Lorde Iesus Christe, and wpth the doctrine of Godlines, he is putte vp and knoweth nothing, but wasteth his brynes about questions and strife of wordes, wherof spryng enuy, stryfe, raplynge, euill surmysinges, and vaine disputacions of men with corrupte mindes, and destitute of the truthe, which thinke that lucre is Godlines, from such seperate thy selfe. Godlines is greate riches, if a man be cōtent with þ he hath.

Job. i. d.
Eccl. v. c.

Couetousnes.
That we at a lawfull age might con fesse and professe openly the fayth and lyfe of a Christen man.

Th. xvi. g.
Wach. vi b

Apo. xvii. d

Thon. i. b
i. Thon. i. c.

Luke. xii. d.
Thon. i. b.

For we brought nothing into this world, & it is a plain case þ we cā carpe nothing oute. When we haue fode & raiment, let vs therewith be content. They that wil be ryche, fall into temptacion and snares, & into manpe folish and nopsome lustes, whych drownde men in perdition and destruccion. For couetousnes is the roote of all euill, whych while some lusted after, thei erred from the fayth, and tangled themselves with many sorowes. But thou which art the manne of God, fye such thynge. Follow rightuousnes, Godlines, loue, pacience & mekenes. Fight the good fight of faith. Lay hande on eternal life, wherunto thou art called, & hast professed a good profession before many witnesses. I geue the charge in þ sighte of God, & whiche quickeneth al thinges, & before Iesu Christ, which vnder Poncius Pilate witnessed a good witnessinge, that thou kepe the cōmandement, & be wpythout spot & vnbukeable, vntil the appering of our lord Iesus, which appering (when the time is come) he shal shewe that is blessed & mighty only, king of kings, & lord of lords, which only hath immortalite, & dwelleth in light, & no mā cā attaine, & whō neuer mā saw, neither cā se, to whō be honoure & rule everlasting. Amē. Charge the that are rich in this world, & thei be not exceding wise, & þ they trust not in þ vncertain riches, but in the liuing god which geueth vs abundantly al thinges to enioy the, & that thei do good & be rich in good works, & redi to geue & to distribute, laying vp in store for the selues a good foundacion against the tyme to come, that they may obtayne eternall lyfe.

Timothe saue that whiche is geuen the to kepe, and auoide vnglostly vanities of voyces and opposicions of science falsly so called, which science while some professed, they haue erred as concernynge the fayth. Grace be wpth the. Amen.

Sent from Laodicia, which is the chiefe cpty of Phrygia Pacaciana.

to Tymothe, Chap. i.

The Prologe vpon the second epytyle of S. Paule to Tymothe.

In this Epistle Paule exhorte Timothy to go forward as he had begunne, and to preache the Gospell wpth all dyligence, as it was nede, seynge many were fallen away, and many false sypytes and teachers were sprong by already. Wherefore a Bishops parte is, euer to wathe and to labour in the Gospell.

In the thyrde and fourth he sheweth before and that notably, of the leopardous tymes toward the end of the world, in whych a false spirytual luring should deceiue the whole world, wpth outward hypocrysy, and apperaunce of holynes, vnder whych all abhominacions shoulde haue theyr fre passage and course, as we (alas) haue sene this prophesy of S. Paul fulfilled, in oure spiritualtye to the vtermoste yore.

The. ii. epist. of saynt Paule the Apo-

le vnto Tymothe.

The firste Chapter.

He testyfeth the good will whych he beareth because of hys fayth, wherin he commaundeth hym to perceuer, and not to be offended wpth the crosse of persecucion wpth whych he sawe him and other greued.

In an Apostle of Iesu Christ by the will of God, to preache þ promys of life, whych lyfe is in Christ Iesu. To Tymothe hys beloued sonne. Grace, mercy, and peace from god the father and from Christ Iesu our lord.

I thancke God, whom I serue from mine elders with pure conscience, that withoute ceasynge I make mencio of the in my pray ers night and day, desiring to se the, myndfull of thy teares: so that I am filled wpth ioye, when I cal to remembraunce the vnsayned fayeth that is in the, whiche dwelt fyrst in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice: & am assured that it dwelleth in the also.

Wherefore I warne the that thou stee by the giste of God whiche is in the, by the puttinge on of my handes. For God hath not geuen to vs the spirit of feare, but of power and of loue, & of sobernes of minde. Be not ashamed to testyfy our lord, nether be ashamed of me, which am bound for hys sake, but suffer aduersitye also wpth the Gospell, thorow the power of God, whych saued vs, and called vs wpth an holpe calling, not according to our dedes, but according to his own purpose and grace, whych grace was geue vs thorow Christ before þ world was, but is now declared openly by the

Ro. viii. e
Puttinge on of handes.
Tit. iii. b
Eph. i. a
Purpose & grace.
Tit. i. a

The. i. Epistle of S. Paul

Servants Let as manpe seruantes as are vnder the poke, count they maisters worthy of al honour, that the name of God & hys doctrine be not euill spokē of. Se that thei which haue beleuing maisters, despise them not, bycause they are brythren: but so much the rather do seruike, for as muche as they are beleuing and beloued and partakers of the benefyte.

These thinges teache and exhorte. If a npe man teache otherwys, and is not content with the holysome words of our Lorde Iesus Christe, and wpyth the doctrine of Godlines, he is putte vp and knoweth nothing, but wasteth his brynes about questions and strife of wordes, wherof spryng enuy, stryfe, raplynge, euill surmysinges, and vaine disputacions of men with corrupte mindes, and destitute of the truthe, which thinke that lucre is Godlines, from such seperate thy selfe. Godlines is greate riches, if a man be cōtent with þ he hath.

Job. i. d.
Eccl. v. c.

Couetousnes.
That we at a lawfull age might con fesse and professe openly the fayth and lyfe of a Christen man.

Th. xvi. g.
Wach. vi b

Apo. xvii. d

Thon. i. b
i. Thon. i. c.

Luke. xii. d.
Thon. i. b.

For we brought nothing into this world, & it is a plain case þ we cā carpe nothing oute. When we haue fode & raiment, let vs therewith be content. They that wil be ryche, fall into temptacion and snares, & into manpe folish and nopsome lustes, whych drownde men in perdition and destruccion. For couetousnes is the roote of all euill, whych while some lusted after, thei erred from the fayth, and tangled themselves with many sorowes. But thou which art the manne of God, fye such thynge. Follow rightuousnes, Godlines, loue, pacience & mekenes. Fight the good fight of faith. Lay hande on eternal life, wherunto thou art called, & hast professed a good profession before many witnesses. I geue the charge in þ sighte of God, & whiche quickeneth al thinges, & before Iesu Christ, which vnder Poncius Pilate witnessed a good witnessinge, that thou kepe the cōmandement, & be wpythout spot & vnbukeable, vntil the appering of our lord Iesus, which appering (when the time is come) he shal shewe that is blessed & mighty only, king of kings, & lord of lords, which only hath immortalite, & dwelleth in light, & no mā cā attaine, & whō neuer mā saw, neither cā se, to whō be honoure & rule everlasting. Amē. Charge the that are rich in this world, þ thei be not exceding wise, & þ they trust not in þ vncertain riches, but in the liuing god which geueth vs abundantly al thinges to enioy the, & that thei do good & be rich in good works, & redi to geue & to distribute, laying vp in store for the selues a good foundacion against the tyme to come, that they may obtayne eternall lyfe.

Timothe saue that whiche is geuen the to kepe, and auoide vngostly vanities of voyces and opposicions of science falsly so called, which science while some professed, they haue erred as concernynge the fayth. Grace be wpyth the. Amen.

Sent from Laodicia, which is the chiefe cty of Phrygia Pacaciana.

to Tymothe, Chap. i.

The Prologe vpon the second epytyle of S. Paule to Tymothe.

In this Epistle Paule exhorte Timothy to go forward as he had begunne, and to preache the Gospell wpyth all dyligence, as it was nede, seynge many were fallen away, and many false sypytes and teachers were sprong by already. Wherfore a Bishops parte is, euer to wathe and to labour in the Gospell.

In the thyrde and fourth he sheweth before and that notably, of the leopardous tymes toward the end of the world, in whych a false spirytual luring should deceiue the whole world, wpyth outward hypocrysy, and apperaunce of holynes, vnder whych all abhominacions shoulde haue theyr fre passage and course, as we (alas) haue sene this prophesy of S. Paul fulfilled, in oure spiritualtye to the vtermoste yore.

The. ii. epist. of saynt Paule the Apo-

le vnto Tymothe.

The firste Chapter.

He testyfeth the good will whych he beareth because of hys fayth, wherin he commaundeth hym to perceuier, and not to be offended wpyth the crosse of persecucion wpyth whych he sawe him and other greued.

In an Apostle of Iesu Christ by the will of God, to preache þ promys of life, whych lyfe is in Christ Iesu. To Tymothe hys beloued sonne. Grace, mercy, and peace from god the father and from Christ Iesu our lord.

I thancke God, whom I serue from mine elders with pure conscience, that withoute ceasynge I make mencio of the in my pray ers night and day, desiring to se the, myndfull of thy teares: so that I am filled wpyth ioye, when I cal to remembraunce the vnspayed fayeth that is in the, whiche dwelt fyrst in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice: & am assured that it dwelleth in the also.

Wherfore I warne the that thou stee vpyth the gifte of God whiche is in the, by the puttinge on of my handes. For God hath not geuen to vs the spirit of feare, but of power and of loue, & of sobernes of minde. Be not ashamed to testyfy our lord, nether be ashamed of me, which am bound for hys sake, but suffer aduersytye also wpyth the Gospell, thorow the power of God, whych saued vs, and called vs wpyth an holpe calling, not according to our dedes, but according to his own purpose and grace, whych grace was geue vs thorow Christ before þ world was, but is nowe declared openly by the Puttinge on of handes.

Ro. viii. e
Eit. iii. b
Ephe i. a
Purpose & grace.
Eit. i. a

The. ii. Epistle of S. Paul

To Tymo. Chap. ii. Fo. xcviij.

the appearing of our sauour Iesu Christe, which hath put away death, & hath brought life & immortality to light thorow the gospel, wherunto I am appointed, a *preacher & an Apostle, & a teacher of the Gentils: for the which cause I also suffer these thyngs. Neuerthelesse I am not ashamed. For I know whō I haue beleued, & am sure that he is able to kepe that which I haue committed to his keeping, against that daye.

Se thou haue the ensample of the holysome words, which thou heardest of me in faith & loue, which is in Iesus Christ. That good thing, which was committed to thy keeping, kepe in the holpe of host, which dwelleth in vs. This thou knowest, howe that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me. Of which sorte are Phigelos & Hermogenes. The Lorde geue mercede vnto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chapne: but when he was at Rome he sought me out very diligently & found me. The Lord graunt vnto hym that he maye finde mercede with the Lord at that daye. And in how many thynges he ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

The. ii. Chapter.

He exhorteth to pacience & constancy, that he fall not vnto wickednes by example of other whych were fallen: For so much as the worde of truth can nether be bound, nor yet overcome. He moneth also how to behaue vs wth the enemyes of the faith.

Thou therfore my sonne, be stronge in the grace that is in Christ Iesus. And what thynges thou hast hearde of me, many bearing witness, the same deliuer to faithful men, which are apte to teache other. Thou therfore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Iesu Christe. No mā that warreth, entangleth himselfe with worldly busynes, & that because he would please him that hath chosen hym to be a souldier. And though a man strue for a mastery, yet is he not crowned, except he strue lawfully. The husbandman that laboreth, muste first receiue of the fruits. Consider what I saye. The Lord geueth vnderstandynge in all thynges.

Remember that Iesus Christ beynge of the seede of David, rose agayne from death accordyng to my Gospell, wherin I suffer trouble as an euill doer euen vnto bonds. But the word of God was not bound. Therfore I suffer all thynges, for the elects sake, that they might also obteyne the salvation, whiche is in Christe Iesus, wth eternall glory.

It is a true sayinge, if we be dead wth him we also shall liue with him. If we be patiente, wee shall also reigne with him. * If we denye him, he also shall denye vs. If we beleue not, yet abyde he faithful. He can not denye him selfe. Of these thynges put them in remembrance, & testify before the Lord, & they strue not about words: whiche is to no profite, but to peruert the hearers.

Studye to shew thy selfe laudable vnto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, diuidinge the word of truth iustly. Unghostly and vaine voices passe ouer: For they shal encrease vnto greater vngodlines, & their workes shal fret euē as doeth a canker: of whose number is Hymeneus & Philetos: which as concerninge the truth, haue erred, saying that the resurrection is past already, and do destroy the faith of diuers persones.

But the sure ground of God remaineth, and hath this seale: the lord knoweth they that are his, and let every man that calleth on the name of Christ, depart from iniquitie. Notwithstanding in a great house are not onely vessels of gold and of siluer, but also of wood & of earth, some for honoure, and some vnto dishonoure. But if a man purge him selfe from such felowes, he shal be a vessel sanctified vnto honoure meete for the Lorde, and prepared vnto all good workes.

Lustes of youth auoyd, and folow ryghteousnes, faith, loue and peace, with them that call on the lord with pure hert. Folish and vnlearned questions put from the, remembering that they do but gender stryfe. But the seruant of the lord must not strue, but must be peaceable to all men, and apte to teache, and one that can suffer the euill in mekenes, and can informe them that resist: if that God at any tyme wil geue them repentance for to knowe the truth, that they may come to them selues agayne oute of the snare of the deuyll, whych are nowe taken of him at hys will.

The. iii. Chapter.

He describeth how dangerous the last daies wyl be thorough the vngodlynes of false teachers. Than teacheth he that only the holy scriptures contayne all thynges whych pertaine to Godlynes.

This vnderstand, * that in the last daies shal come perillous tymes. For the men shal be louers of their owne selues, couetous, boasters, proud, cursed speakers, disobedient to father and mother, vnthankful, vnholp, vnkind, truce breakers, stubborne, false accusers, ryotours, fierce, dispisers of the which are good, traitours, headye, hie mynded, greedy vpon voluptuousnes more then the louers of God, hauynge a similitude of Godly luyng, but haue denied the power therof: and such abhorre. Of thys sorte are they whych enter into houses, & bringe into bondage women laden with synne, which women are led of diuers lustes, euer learninge, & neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the truth.

As Iannes & Iambres wthstode Moyses, euen so do these resist the truth, menne they are of corrupte mindes, and lewde, as concerninge the faith: but they shal preuaile no longer. For theyr madnes shal be vttered vnto all men as theirs was. But thou hast bene the experyence of my doctrine, fastid

Arre. iii. of li

Hymeneos.
Philetos.

This was propheci-
ed of them
that shuld
pretende
holynes.
Exo. vii. b.
Iannes.
Iambres.

Electe.

Loue-
naunts.

Mat. x. d
Mar. viii. c
Rom. xii. a.

The. ii. Epistle of S. Paul

To Tymo. Chap. ii. Fo. xcviij.

II. Ti. ii. a. the appearing of our sauour Iesu Christe, which hath put away death, & hath brought life & immortality to light through the gospel, wherunto I am appointed, a preacher & an Apostle, & a teacher of the Gentils: for the which cause I also suffer these things. Nevertheless I am not ashamed. For I know whō I haue beleued, & am sure that he is able to kepe that which I haue committed to his keeping, against that day.

D See thou haue the ensample of the holysome words, which thou heardest of me in faith & loue, which is in Iesus Christ. That good thing, which was committed to thy keeping, kepe in the holpe of host, which dwelleth in vs. This thou knowest, howe that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me. Of which sorte are Phigelos & Hermogenes. The Lorde geue mercye vnto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chayne: but when he was at Rome he sought me out very diligently & found me. The Lord graunt vnto hym that he maye finde mercye with the Lord at that daye. And in how many thinges he ministered vnto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

The. ii. Chapter.

He exhorteth to pacience & constancy, that he fall not vnto wickednes by example of others whiche were fallen: For so much as the worde of truth can neither be bound, nor yet overcome. He moneth also how to behaue vs wth the enemyes of the faith.

A Thou therefore my sonne, be stronge in the grace that is in Christ Iesus. And what thinges thou hast hearde of me, many bearing witness, the same deliuer to faithful men, which are apte to teache others. Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good souldier of Iesu Christe. No mā that warreth, entangleth himselfe with worldly busynesse, & that because he would please him that hath chosen hym to be a souldier. And though a man strue for a mastery, yet is he not crowned, except he strue lawfully. The husbandman that laboreth, muste first receiue of the fruits. Consider what I saye. The Lord geueth vnderstandynge in all thynges.

Remember that Iesus Christ beynge of the seede of David, rose agayne from death accordyng to my Gospell, wherin I suffer trouble as an euill doer euen vnto bonds. But the word of God was not bound. Therefore I suffer all thynges, for the elects sake, that they might also obteyne the salvation, whiche is in Christe Iesus, wth eternall glory.

It is a true sayinge, if we be dead wth him we also shall liue with him. If we be patiente, wee shall also reigne with him. * If we denye him, he also shall denye vs. If we beleue not, yet abyedeth he faithful. He can not denye him selfe. Of these thinges put them in remembrance, & testify before the Lord, & they strue not about words: whiche is to no profite, but to peruert the hearers.

Studye to shew thy selfe laudable vnto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, diuidinge the word of truth iustly. Unghostly and vaine voices passe ouer: For they shal encrease vnto greater vngodlines, & their workes shal fret euē as doeth a canker: of whose number is Hymeneus & Philetos: which as concerninge the truth, haue erred, saying that the resurrection is past already, and do destroy the faith of diuers persones.

But the sure ground of God remaineth, and hath this seale: the lord knoweth them that are his, and let every man that calleth on the name of Christ, depart from iniquitie. Notwithstanding in a great house are not onely vessels of gold and of siluer, but also of wood & of earth, some for honoure, and some vnto dishonoure. But if a man purge him selfe from such felowes, he shal be a vessel sanctified vnto honoure meete for the Lorde, and prepared vnto all good workes.

Lustes of youth auoyd, and folow ryghteousnes, faith, loue and peace, with them that call on the lord with pure heart. Folish and vnlearned questions put from the, remembering that they do but gender stryfe. But the seruant of the lord must not strue, but must be peaceable to all men, and apte to teache, and one that can suffer the euill in mekenesse, and can informe them that resist: if that God at any tyme wil geue them repentance for to knowe the truth, that they may come to them selues agayne oute of the snare of the deuyll, whiche are now taken of him at his will.

The. iii. Chapter.

He describeth how dangerous the last daies will be thorough the vngodlynes of false teachers. Than teacheth he that only the holy scriptures contayne all thynges whiche pertaine to Godlynes.

This vnderstand, that in the last daies shal come perillous tymes. For the men shal be louers of their owne selues, couetous, boasters, proud, cursed speakers, disobedient to father and mother, vnthankful, vnholp, vnkind, truce breakers, stubborne, false accusers, ryotours, fierce, dispisers of the which are good, traitours, headye, hie mynded, greedy vpon voluptuousnes more then the louers of God, hauynge a similitude of Godly luyunge, but haue denied the power therof: and such abhorre. Of this sorte are they whiche enter into houses, & bringe into bondage women laden with synne, which women are led of diuers lustes, euer learnynge, & neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the truth.

As Jannes & Jambres withstode Moyses, euen so do these resist the truth, menne they are of corrupte mindes, and lewde, as concerninge the faith: but they shal preuaile no longer. For theyr madnes shal be vttered vnto all men as theirs was. But thou hast bene the experyence of my doctrine, fastid

Arre. iii. of li

Electe.

Loue.

naunts.

Mat. x. d

Mar. viii. c

Rom. xii. a.

Hymeneus.
Philetos.

i. Ti. iiii. a.
ii. Pet. iii. a.
Jude. i. f

This was propheci-
ed of them
that shuld
pretende
holynes.
Exo. vii. b.
Jannes.
Jambres.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

of liuynge, purpose, sayeth, longe sufferynge, loue, patience, persecutions, and afflictions, whiche happened vnto me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Listra, whiche persecutions I suffered patiently. And from them all, the Lorde deliuered me.

* Yea & all that wyl lye Godly in Christ Iesu, must suffer persecutions. But people men and dyscepuers shall ware worse and worse, while they deceyue and are deceyued them selues.

* But contynue thou in the thynges whiche thou hast learned, whiche also were committed vnto the seynge, thou knoweste of whom thou hast learned them: and for as muche also as thou hast knowen holy scripture of a chylde, whiche is able to make the wylle vnto saluacion thowowe the sayeth whiche is in Christ Iesu. For al scripture geuen by inspiration of God, is profitable to teache, to improve, to amende, and instructe, in rightuousnes, that the man of God may be perfect and prepared vnto all good workes.

The.iii. Chapter.

He exhorteth greatly, and doeth as it were bynd Timothe, that wylth all hys endeouore he labour to bynge into the church the scriptures onely, strengthenynge hym wylth example of him selfe. And in the ende, he addeyth certayne peculier thynges.

They that haue no true sayth nor lust to lye Godly seeke euer newe doctryne.

I Testifie therefore before God, and before the Lorde Iesu Christ, whiche shall iudge quicke and dead at hys appearing in hys kyngdome, preach the worde, be feruente, be it in season or out of season. Improve, rebuke, exhort wylth al longe sufferynge and doctryne. For the tyme wyl come when they wyl not suffer wholesome doctryne, but after theyr own lustes shall they (whose eares yteche) get them an heape of teachers, and shall turne theyr eares from the trueth, and shall be geuen vnto fables.

* But watch thou in all thynges, and suffer aduersite & do the worke of an euangelist, fulfill thynne office vnto the uttermost.

For I am nowe ready to be offered, and the tyme of my departynge is at hande. I haue foughte a good fyght, and haue fulfilled my course, and haue kepte the faith. From henceforth is layd vp for me a croun of rightuousnes whiche the Lorde that is a rightuous Judge shall geue me at that day: not to me only, but vnto al them that loue hys comynge. Make spede to come vnto me at once.

For Demas hath left me and loued thys present worlde, & is departed into Thessalonica, Crescens is gone to Galacia, and Titus vnto Dalmacia. Onely Lucas is with me. Take Marke and bynge hym wylth the, for he is necessarie vnto me for to minister. And Tychicus haue I sent to Ephesus. The cloke that I left at Troada wylth Carpus, when thou comest, byng wylth the, and the booke but specially the parchement. Alexander the cooper smyth did me much ## to Timothe. Chap.iii.

eupl, the Lorde rewarde him accordinge to his dedes of whom be thou ware also. For he withstode our preachynge soze.

At my fyrst answerynge, no man assisted me but all forsoke me. I praye God that it maye not be laide to their charges. * Not wylthstandynge the Lorde assisted me, and strengthened me, that by me the preachynge should be fulfilled to the uttermost, & that all the Gentyles should heare. And I was deliuered out of the mouth of the Lyon. And the Lord shal deliuer me from all eupl doynge, and shall kepe me to hys heauenly kyngdom. To whom be praise for euer and euer. Amen.

ii. Tim. i. d

Salut * Prisca and Aquila, & the household of Onesiphorus. Erastus abode at Corinthum. Trophimus I left at Miletum sicke. Make spede to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth the, and Iudes, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren. The Lord Iesus Christ be wylth thy spirit. Grace be wylth you. Amen

The ende of the seconde Epistle wrytten from Rome vnto Timothe, when Paul was presented the second time vnto the Emperour Nero.

The Prologe vpon the Epytyle of saint Paul the Apostle vnto Titus.

This is a short Epistle wher in yet is contained al that is nedeful for a christian to know.

In the fyrste chapter he sheweth what maner of man a Byshop or Curate ought to be: that is to wit vertuous and learned, to preach and defende the gospel, and to confounde the doctryne of trusting in workes and mens tradicions, whiche euer fight againste the sayth, and cary away the conscience captiue from the freedome that is in Christ into the bondage of theyr own ymaginations and inuencions, as though those thynges shoulde make a man good in the syghte of God which are to no profit.

In the second he teacheth all degrees, old, yong, men women, maisters, and seruauntes, howe to behaue them selues as they whyche Christ hath bought with his blood to be his proper or peculier people, to glorify God wylth good workes.

In the thyrde he teacheth to honour temporal rulers and to obey them, and yet bynggeth to Christe agayne, and of the Grace that he hath purchased for vs, that no manne shoulde thynke that the obedience to wynges lawes or anye other woorkes shoulde iustifie vs before God.

And last of all he chargeth to abyde the companye of the rabboyne and of the heretikes.

The.ii. Epistle of S. Paul

of liuynge, purpose, sayeth, longe sufferynge, loue, patience, persecutions, and afflictions, whiche happened vnto me at Antioch, at Iconium, and at Listra, whiche persecutions I suffered patiently. And from them all, the Lorde deliuered me.

* Yea & all that wyl lye Godly in Christ Iesu, must suffer persecutions. But people men and dyscepuers shall ware worse and worse, while they deceyue and are deceyued them selues.

* But contynue thou in the thynges whiche thou hast learned, whiche also were committed vnto the seynge, thou knoweste of whom thou hast learned them: and for as muche also as thou hast knowen holy scripture of a chylde, whiche is able to make the wylle vnto saluacion thowowe the sayeth whiche is in Christ Iesu. For al scripture geuen by inspiracion of God, is profitable to teache, to improve, to amende, and instructe, in rightuousnes, that the man of God may be perfect and prepared vnto all good workes.

The.iii. Chapter.

He exhorteth greatly, and doeth as it were bynd Timothe, that wylth all hys endeouore he labour to bynge into the church the scriptures onely, strengthenynge hym wylth example of him selfe. And in the ende, he addeyth certayne peculier thynges.

They that haue no true sayth nor lust to lye Godly seeke euer newe doctryne.

I Testifye therefore before God, and before the Lorde Iesu Christ, whiche shall iudge quicke and dead at hys appearing in hys kyngdome, preach the worde, be feruente, be it in season or out of season. Improve, rebuke, exhort wylth al longe sufferynge and doctryne. For the tyme wyl come when they wyl not suffer wholesome doctryne, but after theyr own lustes shall they (whose eares yteche) get them an heape of teachers, and shall turne theyr eares from the trueth, and shalbe geuen vnto fables.

* But watch thou in all thynges, and suffer aduersite & do the worke of an euangelist, fulfill thynne office vnto the uttermost.

For I am nowe ready to be offered, and the tyme of my departynge is at hande. I haue foughte a good fyght, and haue fulfilled my course, and haue kepte the faith. From henceforth is layd vp for me a croun of rightuousnes whiche the Lorde that is a rightuous Judge shall geue me at that day: not to me only, but vnto al them that loue hys comynge. Make spede to come vnto me at once.

For Demas hath left me and loured thys present worlde, & is departed into Thessalonica, Crescens is gone to Galacia, and Titus vnto Dalmacia. Onely Lucas is with me. Take Marke and bynge hym wylth the, for he is necessarie vnto me for to minister. And Tychicus haue I sent to Ephesus. The cloke that I left at Troada wylth Carpus, when thou comest, bring wylth the, and the booke but specially the parchement. Alexander the cooper smyth did me much ## to Timothe. Chap.iii.

eupl, the Lorde rewarde him accordinge to his dedes of whom be thou ware also. For he withstode our preachynge soze.

At my fyrst answerynge, no man assisted me but all forsoke me. I praye God that it maye not be laide to their charges. * Not wylthstandynge the Lorde assisted me, and strengthened me, that by me the preachynge should be fulfilled to the uttermost, & that all the Gentyles should heare. And I was deliuered out of the mouth of the Lyon. And the Lord shal deliuer me from all eupl doynge, and shall kepe me to hys heauenly kyngdom. To whom be praise for euer and euer. Amen.

ii. Tim. i. d

Salut * Prisca and Aquila, & the household of Onesiphorus. Erastus abode at Corinthum. Trophimus I left at Miletum sicke. Make spede to come before winter. Eubolus greeteth the, and Iudes, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren. The Lord Iesus Christ be wylth thy spirit. Grace be wylth you. Amen

The ende of the seconde Epistle wrytten from Rome vnto Timothe, when Paul was presented the second time vnto the Emperour Nero.

The Prologe vpon the Epytyle of saint Paul the Apostle vnto Titus.

This is a short Epistle wher in yet is contained al that is nedeful for a christian to know.

In the fyrste chapter he sheweth what maner of man a Byshop or Curate ought to be: that is to wit vertuous and learned, to preach and defende the gospel, and to confounde the doctryne of trusting in workes and mens tradicions, whiche euer fight againste the sayth, and cary away the conscience captiue from the freedome that is in Christ into the bondage of theyr own ymaginacions and inuencions, as though those thynges shoulde make a man good in the syghte of God which are to no profit.

In the second he teacheth all degrees, old, yong, men women, maisters, and seruauntes, howe to behaue them selues as they whyche Christ hath bought with his blood to be his proper or peculier people, to glorify God wylth good workes.

In the thyrde he teacheth to honour temporal rulers and to obey them, and yet byngeth to Christe agayne, and of the Grace that he hath purchased for vs, that no manne shoulde thynke that the obedience to wynges lawes or anye other woorkes shoulde iustifye vs before God.

And last of all he chargeth to abyde the companye of the rabboine and of the heretikes.

The Epistle of S. Paule The epyſtle of Saint Paul the apoſtle vnto Titus.

The fyrſt Chapter.

Because Paule had made Titus Biſhop of the church of the Grecians, he exhorteth hym to ordayne elders. Then deſcribeth he what they ought to be whyche ſhoulde haue authoritie in the church, to thintent they may reſpke falſe teachers, whych he teacheth wil not lacke in Creta.

Daul the ſeruaunt of God & an Apoſtle of Jeſu Chriſt to preache the ſapeth of * Goddes elect, & the know- ledge of that truth, which is after Godlines, vpon the hope of eternal life, which Ipe God * that cannot lye, hath promiſed befoze the worlde began: but hath opened his worde at the time appointed thozowe preachyng, which preaching is committed vnto me by the commaundemente of God our ſauoure. To Titus * his naturall ſon in the commen ſapeth. Grace, merce and peace from * God the father, and from the Lord Jeſu Chriſt our ſauour.

For this cauſe left I the in Creta, that thou ſhouldeſt perfoyme that whyche was lackyng, and ſhouldeſt ordayne elders in euery city as I appointed them. If any be faultleſſe, the husband of one wyfe, hauing faithful children, which are not ſlaundzed of rofte, nether are diſobedient. * For a biſhoppe muſte be faultleſſe, as it becommeth the miniſter of God, not ſtubborn, not angry, no drunkard, no fighter, not geuen to ſpithy laker: but herberous, one that lo- ueth goodnes, ſober minded, rightuous, holy, temperat, and ſuch as cleaueth vnto the true worde of doctrine, that he maye be able to exhort wyth whoſome learnyng, and to improve them that ſape agaynſt it.

* For there are many diſobedient and tal- kers of vanitie and diſceiurers of myndes, namelpe they of the circumciſion, whoſe mouthes muſt be ſtopped, * which peruert whole houſes, teachyng thynges whyche they ought not, becauſe of filthy lucre. One beyng of themſelues, whiche was a poete of theyr owne, ſayd: The Cretians are al- wayes liars, euil beaſts, and ſlowe belpes. This witnes is true, wherfore rebuke the ſharply that they may be ſound in the faith, and not takinge hede to Jewes fables and commaundementes of men that turne fro the truth. Vnto ſ pure are all things pure, but vnto them that are * deſpyled and vnbe- leuyng, is nothing pure: but euen the very mindes and conſciences of them are deſpy- led. They confeſſe that they knowe God: but with the dedes they denye him, and are abhominable and diſobedient, and vnto all good workes diſcommendable.

To Tytus. Chap. ii. Fo. xcix.

The. ii. Chapter.

He deſcribeth the peculiar offces of all kyndes of men, teachyng this to be the cal- lyng of God, & leauyng the world we ſhuld lye only to hym.

But ſpeake thou that which becometh a whoſome learnyng. That the elder men be ſober, honeſt, deſerite, ſounde in the faith, in loue, and in patience. And the elder women lykewiſe that they be in ſuche raiment as becommeth holynes: not * falſe accuſers, not geuen to muche dy- kyng, but teachers of honeſte thynges, to make the yong women ſober minded, to loue their husbands, to loue their children, to be diſcret, chaſt, houſewiſely, good, and obedynt vnto theyr own husbands, that the worde of God be not euill ſpoken of. Yonge menne lykewiſe exhorteth that they be ſober mynded.

Above all thinges ſhew thy ſelfe * an en- ſample of good workes with vncorrupte doctrine, with honeſty, and with the who- ſome word, which cannot be rebuked, that he which withſtadeth, may be aſhamed, ha- uing nothing in you ſ he may diſpraiſe. * The ſeruautes exhorteth to be obedynt vnto theyr owne maiſters, and to pleaſe in all thynges, not aunſweryng agayne, neither be pickers, but ſ they ſhew all good faith- fulnes, that they may do worſhypp to the doctrine of our ſauour God in al thinges. * For the grace of God, that bringeth ſal- uacion vnto al men, hath appeared, & tea- cheth vs that we ſhould deny vngodlines, and * worldly luſt, and that we ſhould lye ſober mynded rightuouſly and Godly in this preſente world, lokinge for that bleſ- ſed * hope and glorious appearinge of the mighty God, & of our ſauour Jeſu Chriſt, * whych ſhal ſave him ſelfe for vs to redeme vs from al vnrighouſnes, and to pouge vs a peculiar people vnto him ſelfe, feruently geuen vnto good workes. Theſe thynges ſpeake, and exhort, & and rebuke with all comandyng. Se that no man deſpyſe the.

The. iii. Chapter.

He commaundeth obedyntce to rulers, the- reherſeth he the old maner of theyr life that they maye perceyue they be ſaued by the only grace of God. Then ſheweth he what ſhuld be taughte, and howe to deale wyth authors of ſectes. At laſt he addeth certayne peculiar thynges.

Varne them that they ſubmyt them ſelues to rule and power, to obey the officers, that they be redye vnto all good workes, that * they ſpeake euill of no man, that they be no fighters, but ſoft, ſhewyng all mekenes vnto al men. For we our ſelues alſo in tymes paſt wer vnwiſe, dyſobedynt, deceyued, in daunger to luſtes, and to dyuers maner of voluptuouſ- nes, liuing in maliciousnes and enuy, full of hate, hatyng one another.

* But after that the kyndnes and loue of our ſauour God to manward appea- red,

The Epistle of S. Paule The epyſtle of Saint Paul the apoſtle vnto Titus.

The fyrſt Chapter.

Because Paule had made Titus Biſhop of the church of the Grecians, he exhorteth hym to ordeyne elders. Then deſcribeth he what they ought to be whyche ſhoulde haue authoritie in the church, to thintent they may reſpke falſe teachers, whych he teacheth wil not lacke in Creta.

DAule the ſeruaunt of God & an Apoſtle of Jeſu Chriſt to preache the ſapeth of * Goddes elect, & the know- ledge of that truth, which is after Godlines, vpon the hope of eternal life, which Ipe God * that cannot lye, hath promiſed befoze the worlde began: but hath opened his worde at the time appointed thozowe preachyng, which preaching is committed vnto me by the commaundemente of God our ſauoure. To Titus * his naturall ſon in the commen ſapeth. Grace, merce and peace from * God the father, and from the Lord Jeſu Chriſt our ſauour.

B For this cauſe left I the in Creta, that thou ſhouldeſt perfoyme that whyche was lackyng, and ſhouldeſt ordeyne elders in euery city as I appointed them. If any be faultleſſe, the husband of one wyfe, hauing faithful children, which are not ſlaundzed of rofte, nether are diſobedient. * For a biſhoppe muſte be faultleſſe, as it becommeth the miniſter of God, not ſtubborn, not angry, no drunkard, no fighter, not geuen to ſpithy laker: but herberous, one that lo- ueth goodnes, ſober minded, rightuous, holy, temperat, and ſuch as cleaueth vnto the true worde of doctrine, that he maye be able to exhort wyth whoſome learnyng, and to improve them that ſape agaynſt it.

* For there are many diſobedient and tal- kers of vanitie and diſceiurers of myndes, namelpe they of the circumciſion, whoſe mouthes muſt be ſtopped, * which peruert whole houſes, teachyng thynges whyche they ought not, becauſe of filthy lucre. One beyng of themſelues, whiche was a poete of theyr owne, ſayd: The Cretians are al- wayes liars, euil beaſts, and ſlowe belpes. This witnes is true, wherfore rebuke the ſharply that they may be ſound in the faith, and not takinge hede to Jewes fables and commaundementes of men that turne fro the truth. Vnto ſ pure are all things pure, but vnto them that are * deſpyled and vnbe- leuyng, is nothing pure: but euen the very mindes and conſciences of them are deſpy- led. They confeſſe that they knowe God: but with the dedes they denye him, and are abhominable and diſobedient, and vnto all good workes diſcommendable.

To Tytus. Chap. ii. Fo. xcix.

The. ii. Chapter.

He deſcribeth the peculiar offces of all kyndes of men, teachyng this to be the cal- lyng of God, & leauyng the world we ſhuld lye only to hym.

But ſpeake thou that which becometh a whoſome learnyng. That the elder men be ſober, honeſt, deſerite, ſounde in the faith, in loue, and in patience. And the elder women lykewiſe that they be in ſuche raiment as becommeth holynes: not * falſe accuſers, not geuen to muche dy- kyng, but teachers of honeſte thynges, to make the yong women ſober minded, to loue their husbands, to loue their children, to be diſcret, chaſt, houſewiſely, good, and obedynt vnto theyr own husbands, that the worde of God be not euill ſpoken of. Yonge menne lykewiſe exhorteth that they be ſober mynded.

Above all thinges ſhew thy ſelfe * an en- ſample of good workes with vncorrupte doctrine, with honeſty, and with the who- ſome word, which cannot be rebuked, that he which withſtadeth, may be aſhamed, ha- uing nothing in you ſ he may diſpraiſe. * The ſeruautes exhorteth to be obedynt vnto theyr owne maiſters, and to pleaſe in all thynges, not aunſweryng agayne, neither be pickers, but ſ he ſhew all good faith- fulnes, that they may do worſhippe to the doctrine of our ſauour God in al thinges. * For the grace of God, that bringeth ſal- uacion vnto al men, hath appeared, & tea- cheth vs that we ſhould deny vngodlines, and * worldly luſt, and that we ſhould lye ſober mynded rightuouſly and Godly in theſe preſente world, lokinge for that bleſ- ſed * hope and glorious appearinge of the mighty God, & of our ſauour Jeſu Chriſt, * whych ſhal ſave him ſelfe for vs to redeme vs from al vnrighouſnes, and to pouge vs a peculiar people vnto him ſelfe, feruently geuen vnto good workes. Theſe thynges ſpeake, and exhort, & rebuke with all comandyng. Se that no man deſpyſe the.

The. iii. Chapter.

He commaundeth obedyntce to rulers, the- reherſeth he the old maner of theyr life that they maye perceyue they be ſaued by the only grace of God. Then ſheweth he what ſhuld be taughte, and howe to deale wyth authors of ſectes. At laſt he addeth certayne peculiar thynges.

Varne them that they * ſubmyt them ſelues to rule and power, to obey the officers, that they be redye vnto all good workes, that * they ſpeake euill of no man, that they be no fighters, but ſoft, ſhewyng all mekenes vnto al men. For we our ſelues alſo in tymes paſt wer vnwiſe, dyſobedynt, deceyued, in daunger to luſtes, and to dyuers maner of voluptuouſ- nes, liuing in maliciousnes and enuy, full of hate, hatyng one another.

* But after that the kyndnes and loue of our ſauour God to manward appea- red,

The Epistle of. S. Paule

Merce
saueh.

Rom. viii. c
Ihon. iii. a.
Eph. vi. a.

red, not of the dedes of ryghtuousnes whp
che we wroughte; but of hys mercede he sa-
ued vs * by the fountayne of the new byth,
and wpth the renupnge of the holpe ghost,
whpche he shed on vs aboundantlye tho-rowe Iesus Chypst our sauoure, that wee once iustified by his grace, shuld be * heires of eternall lyfethorowe hope. * Thys is a true sayinge.

Actes. xv. b.
Eph. ii. a.
I. Cl. ii. d.

mat. xvi. d.
ii. Cl. ii. a.
Rom. xvi. b.

Of these thynge I would thou shouldest certifye, that they whpche beleue God myght be diligente to go forward in good workes. These thynge are good and profyttable vnto me. * For the questions and genealogies, and brawlyng and stryfe about the lawe, auopde: for they are vnprofitable and superfluous. A man that is geuen to * heresy, after the fyrste and second admonicion auopde, remembryng that he
that is such, is peruerter, and synnieth euē damned by hys own iudgement.

When I shall sende Artemas vnto the
or Tichicus, be diligente to come to me vnto Nychopolys. For I haue determined thereto wryter.

Actes. xvii. c
I. Cor. i. b.

Bryng zenas the lawiar and * Appollos
on theyr iorney diligentlye, that nothynge be lackynge vnto theym. And let ours also learne to excell in good workes as farforth
as nede requyryeth, that they be not vnfrutfull. All that are wpth me salute the. Brete theym that loue vs in the sayeth. Grace be wth you all. Amen.

Wrytten from Nychopolis a cite of Macedonia.

The Prologe vpon the Epytyle of saint Paule the Apostle vnto Philemon

In this Epytyle saynte Paule sheweth a godly ensample of Chyestes loue. Herein we se howe Paule taketh pore Onesimus vnto hym, and
maketh intercession for hym vnto his maister, & healpeh hym wpth all that he maye, and beha-ueth hym selfe none otherwyse then as though he hym selfe were the sayde Onesimus. Whych thynge yet he doth not wpth power and autho-ryte, as he well might haue done but putteth of all authoryte and what so euer he myghte of righte do, that Philemon myghte do lykewyse towards Onesimus: and wpth greute mekenes, and wylsome teacheth Philemon to se hys du-tye in Chyist Iesus.

The epytyle of Saynte Paule vnto Philemon.

Philemon had a seruant, which hauing stollen hys goods was run away to Rome, & there learned of Paul the misteries of Chyists religion. Wherefore Paule exhorteth Philemon to take him againe, seynge p he sendeth hym.

to Philemon. Chap. i.

Aule the prysoner of Iesu Chypst and brother Timo-theus. Vnto Philemon p
beloued, and our healper,
and to the beloued Appia,
and to * Archippus our fe-
lowe souldier, and to the congregation of thy house. * Grace be w
you and peace from God oure father, & fro
the Lord Iesus Chyist.

Coll. iiii. b.
i. cor. i. a.
ii. Cor. i. a.
Eph. i. a.

I thanke my God, makynge mencion al
wayes of the in my prayers, when I heare of thy loue and sayeth whpche thou hast to-warde the Lord Iesus, and to-
warde all sayntes: so that the felowshyp that thou hast in the sayeth, is fruteful tho-rowe knowledge of al good things, which are in pou by Iesus Chypst. And we haue greute ioy, and consolacion ouer thy loue:
For by thee (brother) the Sayntes hertes are comforted.

Coll. iiii. a.

Wherefore though I be bolde in Chyiste to enioyne thee, that which becometh the:
yet for loues sake I rather beseeche thee,
though I be as I am, euen Paule, aged, & nowe in bondes for Iesu Chyistes sake, I beseech the for my sonne * Onesimus, who
I begat in my bondes, whpche in tyme passed was to the vnprofitable, but now profitable both to the, and also to me, whome
I haue sent home a gayne. Thou therefore receyue him, that is to say, myne own bowels, whom I woulde sayne haue receyued wth me, that in thy stede he myghte haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the gospel. Neuertheles, wpthout thy mind, wold
I do nothynge, that the good whpche sprin-geth of thee shouldest not be as it were of ne-cessite, but willinglye.

Happely he therfore departed for a season that thou shouldest receyue hym for e-uer, not now as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, I meane a brother beloued, specially to me: but howe much more vnto the, both in the fleshe and also in the Lord?

Yf thou count me a fellow, receyue hym
as my selfe. Yf he haue hurte the, or oweth ought that lay to my charge. I Paul haue wrytten it with mine owne hand, I wil recompence it. So that I doo not saye to the howe that thou owest vnto me euen thyne owne selfe. Euen so brother, let me enioye the in the lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord. Trustyng in thine obedience, I wrot vnto the, knowynge that thou wylte do more then I saye for. Moreover prepare me lodgynge: for I trust thorow the healpe
of your prayers, I shal be geuen vnto you.
Ther salut the Epaphras, my felowe prysoner in Chyiste Iesu, Marcus, Ar-starcus, Demas, & Lucas, my helpers. The grace of our lord Jesu Chyist be wth poue spi-rites. Amen.

Col. i. a.
and. iiii. d.
Marke &
Luke &
uangelist.

Sente from Rome by Onesimus a seruant.

The Epistle of. S. Paule

Merce
saueh.

Rom. viii. c
Ihon. iii. a.
Eph. vi. a.

red, not of the dedes of ryghtuousnes whp
che we wroughte; but of hys mercede he sa-
ued vs * by the fountayne of the new byth,
and wpth the renupnge of the holpe ghost,
whpche he shed on vs aboundantlye tho-rowe Iesus Chyrist our sauoure, that wee once iustified by his grace, shuld be * heires
of eternall lyfethorowe hope. * Thys is a true sayinge.

Actes. xv. b.
Eph. ii. a.
I. Cl. ii. d.

mat. xvi. d.
ii. Cl. ii. a.
Rom. xvi. b.

Of these thynge I would thou shouldest
certifye, that they whpche beleue God
myght be diligente to go forward in good workes. These thynge are good and profyttable vnto me. * For the questions and genealogies, and brawlyng and stryfe about the lawe, auopde: for they are vnprofitable and superfluous. A man that is geuen to * heresy, after the fyrste and second admonicion auopde, remembryng that he
that is such, is peruerter, and synnieth euē
damned by hys own iudgement.

When I shall sende Artemas vnto the
or Tichicus, be diligente to come to me vn-
to Nychopolys. For I haue determined thereto wryter.

Actes. xvii. c
I. Cor. i. b.

Bryng zenas the lawiar and * Appollos
on theyr iorney diligentlye, that nothynge
be lackynge vnto theym. And let ours also
learne to excell in good workes as farforth
as nede requyryeth, that they be not vnfrut-
full. All that are wpth me salute the. Brete theym that loue vs in the sayeth. Grace be wth you all. Amen.

Wrytten from Nychopolis a cite of Macedonia.

The Prologe vpon the Epytyle of saint Paule the Apostle vnto Philemon

In this Epytyle saynte Paule sheweth a godly ensample of Chyristes loue. Herein we se howe Paule taketh pore Onesimus vnto hym, and
maketh intercession for hym vnto his maister, healpeh hym wpth all that he maye, and beha-ueth hym selfe none otherwyse then as though he hym selfe were the sayde Onesimus. Whych thynge yet he doth not wpth power and authoritye, as he well might haue done but putteth of all authorite and what so euer he myghte of righte do, that Philemon myghte do lykewyse towards Onesimus: and wpth greate mekenes, and wylsome teacheth Philemon to se hys du-tye in Chyrist Iesus.

The epytyle of Saynte Paule vnto Philemon.

Philemon had a seruant, which hauing stol-
len hys goods was run away to Rome, & there learned of Paul the misteries of Chyrist's religion. Wherefore Paule exhorteth Philemon to take him againe, seinge þ he sendeth him.

to Philemon. Chap. i.

Aule the prysoner of Iesu Chyrist and brother Timo-theus. Vnto Philemon þ beloued, and our healper,
and to the beloued Appia,
and to * Archippus our fe-
lowe souldier, and to the congregation of thy house. * Grace be w
you and peace from God oure father, & fro
the Lord Iesus Chyrist.

Coll. iiii. b.
i. cor. i. a.
ii. Cor. i. a.
Eph. i. a.

I thanke my God, makynge mencion al-
wayes of the in my prayers, when I heare
of thy loue and sayeth whpche thou hast to-
warde the Lord Iesus, and to-
warde all sayntes: so that the felowshyp
that thou hast in the sayeth, is fruteful tho-
rowe knowledge of al good things, which are in pou by Iesus Chyriste. And we haue greate ioy, and consolacion ouer thy loue:
For by thee (brother) the Sayntes hertes
are comforted.

Coll. iiii. a.

Wherefore though I be bolde in Chyriste
to enioyne thee, that which becometh the:
yet for loues sake I rather beseeche thee,
though I be as I am, euen Paule, aged, & nowe in bondes for Iesu Chyristes sake, I beseech the for my sonne * Onesimus, who
I begat in my bondes, whpche in tyme passed was to the vnprofitable, but now profitable both to the, and also to me, whome
I haue sent home a gayne. Thou therefore receyue him, that is to say, myne own bowels, whom I woulde sayne haue receyued
wth me, that in thy stede he myghte haue ministred vnto me in the bondes of the gospel. Neuertheles, wpthout thy mind, wold
I do nothynge, that the good whpche sprin-geth of thee shouldest not be as it were of ne-cessite, but willinglye.

Happely he therfore departed for a season that thou shouldest receyue hym for e-uer, not now as a seruant, but aboue a seruant, I meane a brother beloued, specially
to me: but howe much more vnto the, both in the fleshe and also in the Lorde?

Yf thou count me a fellow, receyue hym
as my selfe. Yf he haue hurte the, or oweth ought that lay to my charge. I Paul haue wrytten it with mine owne hand, I wil recompence it. So that I doo not saye to the howe that thou owest vnto me euen thynne owne selfe. Euen so brother, let me enioye
the in the lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord. Trustyng in thine obedience, I wrot
vnto the, knowynge that thou wylte do more then I saye for. Moreover prepare me lodgynge: for I trust thorow the healpe
of your prayers, I shal be geuen vnto you.
Ther salut the Epaphras, my felowe prysoner in Chyriste Iesu, Marcus, Ar-starcus, Demas, & Lucas, my helpers. The grace of our lord Jesu Chyrist be wth poue spi-rites. Amen.

Col. i. a.
and. iiii. d.
Marke &
Luke &
uangelist.

Sente from Rome by One-
simus a seruant.

A Prologe to the fyrst Epytyle of Saynt Peter.

This Epytyle byd saynte Peter wyte to the heathen that were conuerted, and exhorteth them to stand fast in the fayth, to grow therein, and to were perfect, thowse all maner of sufferynge, and also good workes.

In the fyrste he declareth the iustifyinge of fayth thowse Chyistes bloude, and comforyeth them wth the hope of the lyfe to come, & sheweth that we haue not deserued it, but that the Prophetes prophesied, it shoulde be geuen vs: and as Chyiste whych redemed vs out of synne, and all vncleanenes is holpe, so he exhorteth to leade an holpe conuersacyon: and because we be rephylpe bought and made heyres of a ryche inheritance, to take heede that we lose it not agayne thowse our owne neglygence.

In the second Chapt. he sheweth that Chyiste is the foundacyon and head corner stone, whereon al ar buylt thowse fayth, whether it be Jew or Gentyle, and howe that in Chyiste they are made Pryestes, to offer them selues to God (as Chyist byd hym selfe) and to slea the lustes of the fleche, that fyght agaynst the soule. And fyrst he teacheth them in generall to obeye the worldye rulers, and then in sperevall he teacheth the seruants to obeye theyr maisters, be they good or bad, and to suffer wrong of them as Chyist suffered wrong for vs.

In the thyrde he teacheth the wyues to obeye theyr husbands, yea though they be vnbelleuers, and to apparel themselves godlye as it becometh holynes. And thereto that the husbandes suffer and beare the inpymyte of theyr wyues, and lyue accordynge to knowledge wth them. And then in generall he exhorteth them to be softe, courteous, payente and frendelye one to another, and to suffer for righteouynes after the ensample of Chyist.

In the fourth he exhorteth to flee synne, and to tame the fleche wth sobernes, watchynge and prayer, and to loue eche other, and to know that all good gyftes are of God, and euerye man to healde his neyghbour wth such as he hath receyued of God, and synally not to wonder, but to reioyse though they muste suffer for Chyistes names sake, seying that as they be partakers of his afflyccyons, so shall they be partakers of his glory to come.

In the fyft he teacheth the Bishops and presbytes, howe they shoulde lyue and feede Chyistes flocke, and warneth vs of the Deuyl, whych on euersyde lyeth in wayte for vs.

The fyrste epytyle of saynt Peter the Apostle.

The fyrst Chapter.

He exhorteth them to be payente whych are troubled for Chyistes sake. And leske they distrust the goodnes of theyr guarel, he sheweth that Chyist is that lambe appointed from the begynnyng in whom saluacyon is promysed, wth this he exhorteth them to purenes of lyfe, shewyng that whatsoeuer man hath is transitory.

of S. Peter. Chapt. i. Fo. c.

Peter an Apostle of Iesu Chyist to them that dwel here and there as straungers thowseout al Iserntus, Galacia, Capadocia, Asia, and Bithinia, electe, by the foreknowledge of God the father, thowse the sanctifying of the spirit, vnto obedience and sprinklyng of the bloude of Iesu Chyiste. Grace be wth you and peace be multiplied: Blessed be God the father of our Lord Iesu Chyist, which thowse his abundant mercede begat vs again vnto a liuely hope, by the resurreccion of Iesus Chyiste from death, to enioie an inheritance immortal and vndefiled, and that putrifeth not, reserved in heauen for you, whiche are kepte by the power of God thowse sayeth vnto saluacyon, whiche saluacion is prepared al ready to be shewed in the laste time, in the whych tyme ye shall reioyse, though nowe for a season (if nederequyre) ye are in heauines, thowse manifold temptacions: that pour fayth once tryed, beyng much more precious, then gold that perissheth (though it be tryed with fire) might be founde vnto laude, *glory, and honoure, at the appearing of Iesus Chyiste, whom ye haue not sene and yet loue hym: in whom euen now, though ye se him not, yet do ye beleue, and reioice wth ioy vnspeakeable and glorious, recepyng the end of pour sayeth, the saluacion of poure soules.

Of whych saluacyon haue the prophetes enquired and searched, whych prophesied of the grace that shoulde come vnto you, searchynge when or at what tyme the spirit of Chyist, which was in them shoulde signifie of, which spirit testified before the passions that shoulde come vnto Chyist, and the glorye that shoulde folowe after: vnto which prophetes it was declared, that not vnto them selues, but vnto vs, they shoulde minister the thynges which are now shewed vnto you of them, whiche by the holpe ghost sent downe from heauen haue preached vnto you the thynges which the angels desyre to beholde.

Wherefore gird by the loines of poure minds, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you, by the declaring of Iesus Chyist: as obedient chylidren, not fashioning pour selues vnto pour olde lustes of ignorauncie: but as he which called you is holpe, euen so be ye holp in all maner of conuersacyon, because it is witten: *Be ye holp, for I am holpe.

And if so be that ye call on the father, which without respect of person iudgeth accordynge to euery mans workes, se that ye passe the tyme of poure pilgrimage in feare. *For as much as ye know how that ye were not redeemed with corruptible syluer and gold from pour vayne conuersacyon, whych ye recepyed by the tradicions of the fathers: but wth the precious bloude of Chyist

Here Peter (as other true Apostles do) first setteth forth the treasure of mercy, which god hath bond himself to geue vs for chyistes sake, & the our dutye what wee ar bounde to do agayne, if we will be partakers of mercy. Job. xlii. a James. i. c. at. xv. c. John. ix. d.

Gen. xlii. b Dan. ii. d. Agge. ii. b Zach. vi. b

Actes. ii. e Luke. ii. b

Luk. xli. d Dure dutye again.

Ignorance is the cause of euell lyfynge.

1 Cor. xi. g Mat. xv. c.

By oure workes we be iudged: for as our inuisible

The i. epistle of Saynct

Peter. Chapter. ii.

are þ wor- of Christ as of a lamb undefiled and withkes bi whp out spotte, which was ordeyned before the che þ faith worlde was made, but was declared in the is seene. last tpmes for poure sakes, whiche by hys
i. corin. vi. a meanes haue beleued on God that rased
i. Jhon. i. d him from death, & glorified him, that poure Apoca. i. fapth and hope might be in God.
We be pu- And for as much as ye haue purgfyed your rified frely soules thowwe the spirite, in obeyinge the inbeleuing truthe, for to loue brotherly withoute fay-the truth ninge, see that ye loue one another wyth a of Chyſte pure hert feruently: for ye are bozne a new, for to loue not of mortal seide, but of immortall, by the on another word of God whych liueth, and lasteth for Eſay. xl. b. euer. For all fleſhe is as graſſe, and all the Eccl. xlii. c. glozp of man is as the flour of graſſe. The Iaco. i. b. graſſe wddozeth, and the floure falleth a-wape, but the word of the Lorde endureth euer. & And this is the worde whiche by the Goſpel was preached amonge you.

The Notes.

A lively hope. (a) A lively hope is that wher by we be certayne of euerlaſtyng lyfe.

The. ii. Chapter.

Whe ſheweth that theyr duetye whiche are bozne agayne in Chyſte, is to folowe innocencye of lyfe, ſeynge they are grounded vpon the rocke Chyſt. Aboue all thynges he wylleth them to be obedyente to the maiestras-tes, and exhorteth them to pacyence.

Wherfore lay aſyde all malicioſnes and all gyle, and diſſimulacpon, and enuy, and all backbytng: & as newe bozne babes, deſyre that reaſonable mylke whych is without corrupcion, that ye may growe therein. If ſo be that ye haue taſted howe pleaſaunte the Lorde is, to whom ye come as vnto a lypng ſtone, diſallowed of men, but choſen of God and precious: and ye as lypng ſtones, are made a ſpiritual house, and an holy pzeſtyhode, for to offer bp ſpiritual ſacrifyce, acceptable to God bp Jeſu Chyſte.

Wherfore it is cotayned in the ſcripture: behold: I put in Sion an head corner ſtone elect and precious: and he that beleueth on him ſhall not be aſhamed. Vnto you therefore whych beleue, he is pzeious: but vnto them whych beleue not, the ſtone which the buyl ders reſuſed, the ſame is made the head ſtone in the corner, and a ſtone to ſto-ble at, and a rocke to offende them whiche ſtomble at the worde, and beleue not that, whereon they were ſet. But ye are a choſen generacpon, a royal pzeſtyhod and holy na-cpon, and a peculiar people, that ye ſhould ſhewe the vertues of him that called you out of darcknes into hys maruelous light, whych in tyme paſte were not a people, yet are nowe the people of God: whiche were not vnder mercy, but nowe haue obtayned mercy.

Dearely beloued, I beſech you as ſtraun-gers and pilgrimes * abſtayne from fleſhly luſtes, whiche fpyght againſt the ſoule, and ſe * that they whiche backbyte you as euil doars, make ſe poure good workes, & prayſe

God in the dape of byſpytacpon.

* Submyt your ſelues vnto al maner ordynaunce of man for the Lordes ſake, whether it be vnto the kyng as vnto the chiefe head: epyther vnto rulers, as vnto the that are ſente of hym, for the punyſhment of euill doars, but for the laude of the that do well. For ſo is the wpll of God, that ye put to ſeilece the ignoraunce of the foliſh mē, as fre, and not as haupnge the liberty for a cloke of malicioſnes, but euen as the ſeruaunts of God. * Honour all men. Loue brotherly ſelowſhip. Feare God and honour the kyng. Seruaunts obey your mai-ſters wyth al fear: not only if they be good and courteous, but alſo though they be fro-ward. For it is thankeworthy, if a man for conſcience toward God endure greſe, ſuf-ferng wrongfully. For what prayſe is it, if when ye be buffetted for your faultes, ye take it paciently? * But and if when ye do wel, ye ſuffer wrong and take it paciently, then is there thanke with God.

For here vnto verely wer ye called: for Chyſt alſo ſuffered for vs, leauing vs an en-ſample, that we ſhould folowe his ſteppes, which did no ſynne, neyther was ther gyle founde in hys mouth: whiche when he was reupled, reupled not agayne: when he ſuffe-red, he threathened not: but committed the cauſe to him þ iudgeth rightuouſly, whych hys owne ſelfe * bare our ſynnes in hys body on the tre, that we ſhoulde be deliuered from ſyn, and ſhould lyue in rightuouſnes.
By whoſe ſtyppes ye were healed. For ye were as ſhepe goyng aſtray: but are now re-toured to the ſhepheard and by ſhoppe of poure ſoules.

The. iii. Chapter.

Whe ſheweth the duetye of married folke. Tha-he wylleſſy to be harmles & charytable. Chanreturneth he to pacyence, teachyng what wee ought to do by example of Chyſt, ſeynge he is the ſauour of all.

Ikewpſe let the wyues be in ſubieccion to their houſbandes, that euen thei whych beleue not the word, may without the worde be wonne by the conuerſa-cpon of the wiues: whyle they behold your pure conuerſacpon coupled with feare.
Whoe apparell ſhall not * bee outwarde wyth brydded heere, & hanging on of gold, ether puttng on of gorgeous apparel: but let the hid man of the herte be vncorrupte, wyth a meke and a quiete ſpzyte, whiche ſpzyte is before God a thyng muche ſet by.
For after this maner in the olde tyme dpyd the holpe womenne whych truſted in God, tper theſelues, and were obedyent to their houſbandes, euen as Sara obeyed Abraham and called him * lorde: whoſe doughters ye are as long as ye do well, and be not afraid of every ſadowe.

Ikewpſe ye men (a) dwel wyth the ac-cordyng to knowlege, geuyng (b) honoure vnto the wyfe, as vnto the weaker veſſell, and as vnto the that are hepyes alſo of the grace

Rom. xiii. a
Tit. iii. a.
Obediēce
to rulers.

Roma. xii. c
Seruaunts
Ephel. vi. a Collo. iii. d
i. Cor. vii. c
i. Tim. ii. b
Math. v. a.
i. Pet. iii. a

Our callg
is to folow Chyſte.

Eſay. llii. a.
i. Joh. iii. a

i. cor. xi. c Wpyes.
Epheli. v. c.
Col. iii. c

i. Tim. ii. b.

Gen. xvi. d

Hulbands
i. corin. vii. d

320. xvi. c.
and. xxi. b.
Rom. xii. d.
i. Cel. vi. d.
Pla. xxi. c.
Gene. xii. a.

grace of lyfe, that youre prayers be not let
In conclusion, be ye al of one mynde, one suffer wth another, loue as brethren, be petifull, be courteous, not rendyng euill
for euill, nether rebuke for rebuke, but con fraryng, blesse, remembryng that ye ar thereunto called euen that ye should bee heyrers of blesynge. If any man longe af ter lyfe, and loueth to see good dayes, lette him refrayne hys tonge from euill, and his lyppes that they speake no gyle. Let hym eschue euill & do good, let him seke peace, & ensue it. For the eyes of the Lorde are ouer the rightuous, and his eares are open vn to theyr prayers. But the face of the Lorde beholdeth them that do euill.

math. v. c

Beue a re
son of your
doctrine.
Titu. ii. a.
hebr. ii. a
Rom. v. d.

Moreouer who is it that wil harme you,
if ye folowe that whych is good? Notwith
standyng happy are ye, if ye suffer for right uousnes sake. * Yea and feare not though they seeme terrible vnto you, neyther bee troubled: but sanctifye the Lorde God in your hertes. Be readye alwayes to geue an aunswere to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, and that wth mekenes and feare: haupyng a good conscience, that when they backbite you as euell doers, they may be ashamed, for as muche as they haue falsely accused youre good conuersacion in Chryste. It is better (if the wyl of God be so) that ye suffer for well doyng, then for euill doyng. * For as muche as Chryste hath once suffered for synners, the iuste for the vniuste, for too byng vs to God, and was kyled, as per tanyng to the fleshe: but was quykened in the spirite.

Gen. vi. a
math. xxi. d
Luk. xvi. f.
Roma. vi. a

In whych spirite, he also wente and preached vnto the spirites that were in pri son, whych were in tyme passed by Noe dient when the longe sufferynge of God abode excedyng pacientlye in the dayes of Noe, while the arcke was a preparing wherein fewe (that is to saye .viii. soules)
were saued by water, whych signifieth
(c) baptisme that now saueth vs * not the puttyng awaye of the fylthe of the fleshe, but in that a good conscience consenteth to God, by the resurreccion of Iesus Chryst
whych is on the righthand of god, & is gon into heauen, angels, power, and might sub dued vnto him.

The Notes.

To dwell
with a wife accoyng
to know ledge.

(a) He dwelleth wth hys wyfe accoyng too knowledge: that taketh her as a necessary hel per, and not as a bond seruant or bonde stau.
And if she be not obedient and healpful vnto hym: endeuoureth to beate the fere of God into her heade, that thereby she maye be compelled to learne her dute and do it. But chiefly he must beware that he halte not in anye parte of hys dute to her warde. For hys euill example shal destroie more then all enstrucons he can geue shall edifye.

To geue honour to
the wyfe.

(b) Erasmus in hys annotacons, noteth out of saynte Jerome, that hys honoure is not the bowyng wth knees, neyther yet the settyng of them in the vpper seates (whych thyng we se most obserued in diuers regyons). But it is abstynynge from the fleshye lust. For so saye eth saynte Jerome is honoure geuen vnto wo men, if they be not through our ouer much wan tonnes defiled, and made of an vnchast mynde.

Thys word honoure (in thys place) doth also ex tende it selfe vnto amiable, kynde, and louyng speache, and to the gentle ministryng of al such things she standeth in nede of, and chiefly when through the weakenes of nature she is not able to traualle & labour for them, her selfe.

(c) Here do diuers learned interpreters vnder stande by baptisme, the bloude and passion of Chryst. For that is the thyng signified by Bap tisme. And the washynge of oure soules by the death of Chryst, is betokened by the washynge of the body in water.

The .iiii. Chapter.

He exhorte them to repentance by christes example, shewyng withall the punishmente of the vngodly. And because the duties of charitye be infinite, he byddeth vs too be good disposers of the grace of God. Last he monisheth them to be patient in tribulation.

For as muche as Chryste hath suffered for vs in the fleshe, arme youre selues lykewyse wth the same minde: for he whych suffereth in the fleshe, ceaseth from synne, that he hence forwarde shoulde liue
as muche tyme as remayneth in the fleshe not after the lustes of menne, but after the wyl of God. * For it is sufficient for vs
that we haue spent the tyme that is paste
of the lyfe, after the wyl of the Gentyles,
walking in wantonnes, lustes, droncken nes, in eating, drynkynge, and in abhomi nablen Idolatry.

And it semeth to them a straunge thinge that ye runne not also wth them vnto the
same excelle of vyce, and therefore speake
they euill of you, whych shal geue a comp
tes to hym that is readye to iudge quicke
and deade. * For vnto thys purpose verely
was the gospel preached (a) vnto the dead * that they shoulde be iudged lyke other men in the fleshe, but shoulde lyue before God in the spirite. The ende of al thynges is at hande.

* Be ye therfore dyscrete and sober, that ye maye be apte to prayers. But aboue all thynges haue feruente loue amonge you.
For loue couereth the multitude of synnes.
Be ye harborous one to another, and that wthout grudgyng. As euery man hath receyued the gyfte, minister the same one to another as good ministers of the many folde grace of god. If any man speake, let hym talke as though he speake the wor des of God. If any man * mynister, let him do it as of the habilitie whych God mini streth vnto hym. That God in all thynges maye be glorified thowowe Iesus Chryst,
to whom be prayse and dominion for euer,
and whyle the worlde standeth. Amen.

Dearely beloued, be not troubled in this * heate whych now is come amonge you to tye you, as though some straunge thig had happened vnto you: but reioyse in as much as ye are partakers of Christes pas sionnes, that when hys glorie appeareth,

Baptisme

A we must be partakers
with christ
in sufferig
if we wil
haue our part wth
him in his
gloze.
Ephesi. xi. a
Ihon. ii. c
Ephesi. iiii
B

ii. Pe. iii. e
Ihon. v. c.

Hate ma
keth sin of euery trifle
but loue loket not
on smal thinges
but suffe
reth al thy
ges.

Rom. xii. b.

Leuit. xii. f.
i. Cor. xii. e
De p. i. f
fereth id
Christ shal
reigne

320. xvi. c.
and. xxi. b.
Rom. xii. d.
i. Cel. vi. d.
Pla. xxi. c.
Gene. xii. a.

grace of lyfe, that youre prayers be not let
In conclusion, be ye al of one mynde, one
suffer wth another, loue as brethren, be petifull, be courteous, not rendyng euill
for euill, nether rebuke for rebuke, but con
fraryng, blesse, remembryng that ye ar
thereunto called euen that ye should bee
heyrers of blesynge. If any man longe af ter lyfe, and loueth to see good dayes, lette
him refrayne hys tonge from euill, and his lyppes that they speake no gyle. Let hym eschue euill & do good, let him seke peace, &
ensue it. For the eyes of the Lorde are ouer
the rightuous, and his eares are open vn
to theyr prayers. But the face of the Lorde beholdeth them that do euill.

math. v. c

Beue a re
son of your
doctrine.
Titu. ii. a.
hebr. ii. a
Rom. v. d.

Moreouer who is it that wil harme you,
if ye folowe that whych is good? Notwith
standyng happy are ye, if ye suffer for right uousnes sake. * Yea and feare not though
they seeme terrible vnto you, neyther bee
troubled: but sanctifye the Lorde God in your hertes. Be readye alwayes to geue an aunswere to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, and that wth mekenes and feare: haupyng a good conscience, that when they backbite you
as euell doers, they may be ashamed, for as
muche as they haue falsely accused youre
good conuersacion in Chryste. It is better (if the wyl of God be so) that ye suffer for well doyng, then for euill doyng. * For
as muche as Chryste hath once suffered for synners, the iuste for the vniuste, for too byng vs to God, and was kyled, as per
tanyng to the fleshe: but was quykened
in the spirite.

Gen. vi. a
math. xxi. d
Luk. xvi. f.
Roma. vi. a

In whych spirite, he also wente and
preached vnto the spirites that were in pri son, whych were in tyme passed by Noe
dient when the longe sufferynge of God
abode excedyng pacientlye in the dayes
of Noe, while the arcke was a preparing
wherein fewe (that is to saye .viii. soules)
were saued by water, whych signifieth
(c) baptisme that now saueh vs * not the puttyng awaye of the fylthe of the fleshe,
but in that a good conscience consenteth to God, by the resurreccion of Iesus Chryst
whych is on the righthand of god, & is gon
into heauen, angels, power, and might sub dued vnto him.

The Notes.

To dwell
with a wife
accoyng
to know
ledge.

(a) He dwelleth wth hys wyfe accoynge too knowledge: that taketh her as a necessary hel
per, and not as a bond seruant or bonde stau.
And if she be not obedient and healpful vnto hym: endeuoureth to beate the fere of God into her heade, that thereby she maye be compelled to learne her dute and do it. But chiefly he must beware that he halte not in anye parte of hys dute to her warde. For hys euill example shal destroie more then all enstrucons he can geue shall edifye.

To geue
honour to
the wyfe.

(b) Erasmus in hys annotacons, noteth out of saynte Jerome, that hys honoure is not the
bowyng wth knees, neyther yet the settyng
of them in the vpper seates (whych thyng we se most obserued in diuers regyons). But it is

abstynynge from the fleshye lust. For so saye eth saynte Jerome is honoure geuen vnto wo men, if they be not through our ouer much wan
tonnes defiled, and made of an vnchast mynde.
Thys word honoure (in thys place) doth also ex
tende it selfe vnto amiable, kynde, and louyng speache, and to the gentle ministryng of al such things she standeth in nede of, and chiefly when
through the weakenes of nature she is not able to traualle & labour for them, her selfe.

(c) Here do diuers learned interpreters vnder
stande by baptisme, the bloude and passion of Chryst. For that is the thyng signified by Bap tisme. And the washynge of oure soules by the death of Chryst, is betokened by the washynge of the body in water.

The .iiii. Chapter.

He exhorte them to repentance by christes
example, shewyng withall the punishmente
of the vngodly. And because the duties of charitye be infinite, he byddeth vs too be good disposers of the grace of God. Last he monisheth them to be patient in tribulation.

For as muche as Chryste hath suffered
for vs in the fleshe, arme youre selues lykewyse wth the same minde: for he whych suffereth in the fleshe, ceaseth from
synne, that he hence forwarde shoulde liue
as muche tyme as remayneth in the fleshe
not after the lustes of menne, but after the
wyl of God. * For it is sufficient for vs
that we haue spent the tyme that is paste
of the lyfe, after the wyl of the Gentyles,
walking in wantonnes, lustes, droncken
nes, in eating, drynkynge, and in abhomi
nablen Idolatry.

And it semeth to them a straunge thinge
that ye runne not also wth them vnto the
same excelle of vyce, and therefore speake
they euill of you, whych shal geue a comp
tes to hym that is readye to iudge quicke
and deade. * For vnto thys purpose verely
was the gospel preached (a) vnto the dead * that they shoulde be iudged lyke other
men in the fleshe, but shoulde lyue before God in the spirite. The ende of al thynges is at hande.

* Be ye therfore dyscrete and sober, that ye maye be apte to prayers. But aboue all
thynges haue feruente loue amonge you.
For loue couereth the multitude of synnes.
Be ye harborous one to another, and that wthout grudgyng. As euery man hath receyued the gyfte, minister the same one
to another as good ministers of the many folde grace of god. If any man speake, let
hym talke as though he speake the wor
des of God. If any man * mynister, let him
do it as of the habilitie whych God mini streth vnto hym. That God in all thynges maye be glorified thowowe Iesus Chryst,
to whom be prayse and dominion for euer,
and whyle the worlde standeth. Amen.

Dearely beloued, be not troubled in this * heate whych now is come amonge you
to tye you, as though some straunge thig
had happened vnto you: but reioyse in as much as ye are partakers of Christes pas
sionnes, that when hys glorie appeareth,

Baptisme

A we must be
partakers
with christ
in sufferig
if we wil
haue our part wth
him in his
gloze.
Ephesi. xi. a
Ihon. ii. c
Ephesi. iiii
B

ii. Pe. iii. e
Ihon. v. c.

Hate ma
keth sin of
euery trifle
but loue
loket not
on smal thinges
but suffe
reth al thy
ges.

Rom. xii. b.

Leuit. xii. f.
i. Cor. xii. e
De p. i. f
fereth id
Christ shal
reigne

The .i. Epistle of Sayncte

with chylt. ye maye be merre and glad. If ye be rap-
 If the son led bypon for the name of Chylste, hapnes of god ppe are ye. For the spirite of gloze and the must be all spirite of God resteth bypon you. On they?
 scourged & part he is euill spoken of: but on your part none maye he is glorified.

be saued. Se that none of you suffer as a murthe-but tho- rer or as a thefe, or an euill doer, or as a bu-rowe the spodye in other mennes matters. Yf anpe same fire man suffer as a Chylsten man, let hym not that chylt be ashamed, but let hym glorifye God on went tho- thys be halfe. For yf tyme is come that iudrow: what gement must begyn at the house of God.

Hal the dā * If it syfte begynne at vs, what shall the naciō of p ende be of them whych beleue not the gos-disobedi- pel of God? And if the ryghtuous scarcely ent & vnbe be saued: where shall the vngodlye and the leuers be? synner appeare? Wherefore let them that suffer accordyng to the wyl of god, commit theyr soules to him with wel doing, as vnto a faithfull creator.

The Notes.

(a) Certayne learned expositors vnderstande thys and that in the Chapter goyng before concernyng preaching to the spirites, to be all one thyng. And that the meaninge of death is none other, but that the strength of Chylstes passion was suche that it lewde the spirites of p fayethful whych were departed before that tyme, and broughte them into suche consolacion as they now haue. Whiche no doubt is greter the p was by as much as the pyloner reioyseth more wh-he seeth hys fees payed and hys prouces taken
 of hym, and loketh dayely to be decked with goz grouse robes, and to be set in possession of incorperable rythes. For so standeth it with p soule departed in the fayth of Chylste. They are by p death of Chylste set at libertye from al the bon-des of synne, and do onelye loke for the daye of iudgemente, when the incorruptible crowne of
 gloze shall be geuen vnto them, that both bodye
 and soule maye lyue for euer in the moste ioyfull presence of the godheade.

The .v. Chapter.

He declareth theyr dute to the ministers of the churche and then teacheth what the por-get ought to do. He counsaileth to be lowely, sober, and watchfull.

The elders whych are amonge you, I exhorthe, whych am also an elder, and a wptnes of the afflictions of Chylste
 and also a partaker of the gloze that shal
 be opened: se that ye fede Chylstes flocke
 whych is amonge you, takyng the ouersyghte of them, not as though ye were copelled thereto, but wplyngelpe: not for the desyre of fylthy lucre, but of a good mynd:
 not as though ye wer Lordes ouer the paryshes, but that ye be an ensample to the flocke. And when the chiefe shepheard shal appeare, ye shall receyue an incorruptible
 crowne of gloze.

Ipkewyse ye ponger, submit youre sel-ues vnto the elder. Submit your selues ex-uerpe man one to another, knyt youre sel-ues together in lowdynes of mynde. For God resisteth the proud, and geueth grace to the humble. Submit your selues therfore vnder the myghtye hand of God that

Peter. Chapter. v.

he may exalte you, when the time is come.
 Cast al youre care to hym: for he careth for
 you.

Be sober and watch, for your aduersary
 the deuyl as a roynge lyon walketh about sekynge whom he maye deuour: whom resist stedfast in the fayth remembryng that ye do but fulfyll the same afflictions which are appoynted to your bzethren that are in the worlde. The God of all grace whych called you vnto hys eternal gloze by Chylst Iesus, shall hys owne selfe after ye haue suffered a litle affliction make you perfect:
 shal sette, strengthe and stablyshe you. To hym be gloze and dominion for euer, and while the worlde endureth. Amen. &

By Siluanus a fayethfull brother vnto
 you (as I suppose) haue I wyrtten bzefely exhortyng and testifyng howe that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.
 The companions of youre eleccion that are of Babilon, salute you, and Marcus my sonne. Brete ye one another wpyth the kisse of loue.

Peace be wpyth you all whych are in Chylste Iesus. Amen.

The Prologe vpon the .ii.

Epistle of S. Peter.

This Epistle was wyrtten agaynst them whiche thoughte that chylsten
 fayeth myghte be ydle and wythout woorkes, when yet the promes of Chylste is made vs vpon that condition, that we henceforth worke the wyl of god and not of the fleshe. Therefore he exhorteth the
 to exercise them selues dylygently in vertue: al
 good woorkes, thereby to be sure that they haue
 the true faicth, as a man knoweth the goodnes of a tre by hys fruit. Then he commendeth and magnifieth the gospell, and wylleth that menne harken to that onely, and to mens doctryne not at all. For as he sayeth, there came no propheticall scripture by the wyl of man, but by the wyl
 of the holy ghost, whych onely knoweth the wyl
 of God, neyther is any scripture of pryuate interpretacion, that is to saye, maye be otherwyle expounded then agreeing to the open places and generall articles and to the couenantes of god and al the rest of the scripture.

And therfore in the second he warneth them
 of false teachers that shoulde come, and thorow preachyng confidence in false woorkes to satisfy theyr couetousnes wythall, shoulde denye Chylste. Whiche he threatheneth wpyth thre terrible examples. Wpyth the fall of the aungels, the flood of Noe, and ouerthrowyng of Sodome and Gomor, and so describeth them wpyth theyr insatiabill couetousnes, pryde, stubbornes, and disobedience to all temporall rule and authority, wpyth theyr abhominable whoredome, and hypocrisie, that a blynde man maye see that he prophesied it of the Popes holye spiritaltye, whych deuoured the whole worlde with their couetousnes, liuing in al lust and pleasure, and reynynge as temporall tyrantes.

In the thirde he sheweth that in the latter dayes the people thorowe vbelefe and lacke of feare of p iudgement of the last day shal be euen
 as Epicures, wholy geuen to the fleshe, whych last day shal yet surely and shortly come saith he

Math. v. c.
 Luke. xii. c.
 Roma. xii. c.
 1sa. liii. d

C

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1. 1.

The .i. Epistle of Sayncte

with chylt. ye maye be merre and glad. If ye be rap-
 If the son led bypon for the name of Chylste, hapnes of god ppe are ye. For the spirite of gloze and the must be all spirite of God resteth bypon you. On they?
 scourged & part he is euill spoken of: but on your part
 none maye he is glorified.

be saued Se that none of you suffer as a murthe-
 but tho- rer or as a thefe, or an euill doer, or as a bu-rowe the spbodye in other mennes matters. Yf anpe same fire man suffer as a Chylsten man, let hym not that chylt be ashamed, but let hym glorifye God on went tho- thys be halfe. For yf tyme is come that iudrow: what gement must begyn at the house of God.

Hal the dā * If it syllte begynne at vs, what shall the
 naciō of p ende be of them whych beleue not the gos-disobedi- pel of God? And if the ryghtuous scarcely ent & vnbe be saued: where shall the vngodlye and the leuers be? synner appeare? Wherefore let them that suffer accordyng to the wyl of god, commit theyr soules to him with wel doing, as
 vnto a faithfull creator.

The Notes.

(a) Certayne learned expositors vnderstande
 thys and that in the Chapter goyng before con-
 cernyng preaching to the spirites, to be all one thyng. And that the meaninge of death is none other, but that the strength of Chylstes passion
 was suche that it lewde the spirites of p fayeth-
 ful whych were departed before that tyme, and broughte them into suche consolacion as they now haue. Whiche no doubt is greter the p was
 by as much as the pyloner reioyseth more wh-
 he seeth hys fees payed and hys prouces taken
 of hym, and loketh dayely to be decked with goz
 grouse robes, and to be set in possession of incorperable rythes. For so standeth it with p soule departed in the fayth of Chylste. They are by p death of Chylste set at libertye from al the bon-des of synne, and do onelye lōke for the daye of iudgemente, when the incorruptible crowne of
 gloze shall be geuen vnto them, that both bodye
 and soule maye lyue for euer in the moste ioyfull
 presence of the godheade.

The .v. Chapter.

He declareth theyr dūte to the ministers of the churche and then teacheth what the por-
 get ought to do. He counsaileth to be lowely, sober, and watchfull.

The elders whych are amonge you, I exhorthe, whych am also an elder, and
 a wptnes of the afflictions of Chylste
 and also a partaker of the gloze that shal
 be opened: se that ye fede Chylstes flocke
 whych is amonge you, takyng the ouersyghte of them, not as though ye were cō-pelled thereto, but wplyngelpe: not for the desyre of fylthy lucre, but of a good mynd:
 not as though ye wer Lordes ouer the parishes, but that ye be an ensample to the flocke. And when the chiefe shepheard shal appeare, ye shall receyue an incorruptible
 crowne of gloze.

Lykewylse ye ponger, submit youre sel-ues vnto the elder. Submit your selues euerpe man one to another, knyt youre sel-ues together in lowdynes of mynde. For God resisteth the proud, and geueth grace
 to the humble. & Submit your selues therfore vnder the myghtye hand of God that

Peter. Chapter. v.

he may exalte you, when the time is come.
 Cast al poure care to hym: for he careth for
 you.

Be sober and watch, for your aduersary
 the deuyl as a roynge lyon walketh about sekynge whom he maye deuour: whom resist stedfast in the fayth remembryng that ye do but fulfyll the same afflictions which
 are appoynted to your bzethren that are in the worlde. The God of all grace whych called you vnto hys eternal gloze by Chylst Iesus, shall hys owne selfe after ye haue
 suffered a litle affliction make you perfect:
 shal sette, strengthe and stablyshe you. To hym be gloze and dominion for euer, and
 while the worlde endureth. Amen. &

By Siluanus a fayethfull brother vnto
 you (as I suppose) haue I wyrtten bzefely
 exhortyng and testifyng howe that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.
 The companions of youre eleccion that
 are of Babilon, salute you, and Marcus my sonne. Brete ye one another wpyth the kisse of loue.

Peaçe be wpyth you all whych are in Chylste Iesus. Amen.

The Prologe vpon the .ii.

Epistle of S. Peter.

Hys Epistle was wyrtten agaynst
 them whiche thoughte that chylsten
 fayeth myghte be ydle and wythout
 woorkes, when yet the promes of Chylste is made vs vpon that condition, that we henceforth worke the wyl of god and not of the fleshe. Therefore he exhorteth the
 to exercise them selues dylygently in vertue & al
 good woorkes, thereby to be sure that they haue
 the true faicth, as a man knoweth the goodnes
 of a tre by hys fruit. Then he commendeth and magnifieth the gospell, and wylleth that menne harken to that onely, and to mens doctryne not at all. For as he sayeth, there came no propheti-
 call scripture by the wyl of man, but by the wyl
 of the holy ghost, whych onely knoweth the wyl
 of God, neyther is any scripture of pryuate interpretacion, that is to saye, maye be otherwylse expounded then agreeing to the open places and
 generall articles and to the couenantes of god
 and al the rest of the scripture.

And therfore in the second he warneth them
 of false teachers that shoulde come, and thow-prayng confidence in false woorkes to satisfy theyr couetousnes wythall, shoulde denye Chylste. Whiche he threatheneth wpyth thre terrible examples. Wpyth the fall of the aungels, the flood of Noe, and ouerthrowynge of Sodome and Gomoz, and so describeth them wpyth theyr insatiabill couetousnes, pryde, stubbornes, and disobedience to all temporall rule and authority, wpyth theyr abhominable whoredome, and hypocrisie, that a blynde man maye see that he
 prophesied it of the Popes holye spiritaltye, whych deuoured the whole worlde with their
 couetousnes, liuing in al lust and pleasure, and reynynge as temporall tyrantes.

In the thirde he sheweth that in the latter dayes the people thowwe vnbelefe and lacke of feare of p iudgement of the last day shal be euen
 as Epicures, wholy geuen to the fleshe, whych
 last day shal yet surely and shortly come saith he

Math. v. c.
 Luke. iii. c.
 Roma. xii. c.
 1sa. liii. d

C

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

1. 1. 1.

for a thousand yeres, and one day is wth god al one. And he sheweth also howe terrible that daye shalbe, and howe suddenly it shall come: and therfore exhorteth all men to loke earnestly for it, and to prepare themselves agaynste it wth holy conuersacion and Godly lyving.

Fynallye, the first Chapter sheweth howe it should go in the time of the pure and true Gospell. The second howe it should go in the tyme of the hope and mennes doctryne. The thyrde howe at the last men should beleue nothyng nor feare God at all.

The seconde Epistle of Sayncte Peter the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

Because he wyl exhort them to perseuer in faith, he teacheth that God hath geuen al thinges, whych pertain to lyfe and Godlynes, in Christe: and that the Christen fapth is sure & vndoubted, approued by the wytnes of God the father and of the Prophetes.

Simon Peter a seruaunte and an Apostle of Iesus Christe, to them whiche haue obtayned like precious fapth wth vs in p<sup>r</sup>ightuoulnes that cometh of our God and sa-uiour Iesu Christe. * Grace wth you, and peace be multiplyed in the knowledge of God and of Iesus Christ our Lorde. Accordyng as his Godly power hath geuen vnto vs all thynges that pertain vnto lyfe and Godlynes thowowe the knowledge of hym that hath called vs by vertue and glory, by the meanes whereof are geuen vnto vs excellent and most great promyses, that by the helpe of them ye shuld be partakers of the Godly nature, in p<sup>r</sup>efle the corrupcion of worldly lust.

And hereunto geue all diligence: in your fapeth, minister vertue, & in vertue knowledge, and in knowledge temperance, and in temperance patience, in patience godlynes, in Godlines brotherly kyndnes, in brotherly kyndnes loue. For if these thynges be amonge you and are plenteous, they will make you, that ye neither shalbe idle nor vnfruitfull in the knowledge of oure lord Iesu Christ. But he that lacketh these thinges, is blynd and gropeth for the way wth hys hand, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old synnes.

Wherfore brethren, geue the more diligence for to make your callinge and election sure. For if ye do such thinges, ye shal neuer erre. Yea and by this meanes an entering in shalbe ministred vnto you aboute dauntlye into the euerlastyng kyngdome of our Lord and saupour Iesus Christ.

* Wherfore I wyl not be negligent to put you alwaies in remembraunce of such thinges, though that ye know them your selues: and be also stablyshed in the presente

truth. Not wthstanding I thinke it mete, (as longe as I am in thys tabernacle) to stere you by, by puttig you in remembrance: for as much as I am sure, how that p<sup>r</sup> time is at hand, that I must put of my tabernacle, euen as our lord Iesus Christ hath shewed me. I will enforce therfore that on every side ye might haue wherewith to stere by the remembraunce of these thynges after my departyng.

* For we folowed not deceivable fables, when we opened vnto you the power & coming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but wth our eyes we sawe his maiestie: euen then verely when he receiued of God the father honour and glory, & when ther came suche a voyce to him from the excellent glory. * This is my deare beloued sonne, in whom I haue delpte. This voyce we hearde when it came from heauen, beyng with him in the holpe mounte.

We haue also a right sure worde of prophesie, wherunto if ye take hede, as vnto a lighte that shineth in a darcke place, ye do well vntill the daye dawn, and the daye star arise in your herts. * So that ye first know this, that no prophesie in the scriptur hath any priuate interpretacion. For the scripture came neuer by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moued by the holpe ghoſte.

The ii. Chapter.

He expoundeth that he treated of the thynges before, because of false teachers, who he paynteth out, declaring wthal they craftis and doctryne.

There were false prophetes amonge the people, euen as there shalbe false teachers amonge you: which priuelye shall bring in damnable sectes, euen deniege the Lorde that hath boughte them, & bring vpon themselves swift damnacion, & many shal folow their damnable waies, by which the way of truth shall be euilly spoke of, and thowow couetousnes shal they with fayned wordes make marchaundise of you, whose iudgement is not far of, & their damnacion slepeth not.

For if God spared not the aungels that sinned, but cast them downe into hell, and deliuered them into chaines of darcknes, to be kept vnto iudgement, neither spared the old world, but saued. Noe p<sup>r</sup> right preacher of rightuoulnes, & brought in p<sup>r</sup> flood vpon the world of the vngodly, & touned the cyties of Sodom & Gomor into ashes: ouerthrew them, damned them, & made of them an ensample vnto all that after shuld be vngodly. And iust Lot vexed with the vnclenly conuersacion of the wicked, deliuered he. For he beyng rightuouse & dwellyng among them, in seying and hearpyng, vexed his rightuouse soule from day to day wth their vnlawful dedes.

The lord knoweth how to deliuer the godly out of temptaciō, & how to reserue the vngodly vnto the daye of iudgemente for to be

He p<sup>r</sup> hath such wordes, maye be sure p<sup>r</sup> he is elect & that he hath the true faith. Ihon. xix. c.

Ihon. i. b. Math. ix. a. Luke. ix. d. mat. xvii. a. I. Cor. xiii. b. Dany. ix. b. Zach. vii. b. II. Cl. iii. b.

I. Pet. i. a.

Ihon. i. a. Col. ii. a.

De p<sup>r</sup> lacketh these and suche like wordes is blynd & vnderstandeth not what the saith of Christe meaneth.

False prophetes must needs be among vs, and also preuaile, & p<sup>r</sup> because we haue no loue to the truth.

Iob. ix. b. Gen. vii. c.

And couetousnes is the father of them, & their preauailing conuidence in workes, is the denyng of Christ.

for a thousand yeres, and one day is wth god al one. And he sheweth also howe terrible that daye shalbe, and howe suddenly it shall come: and therfore exhorteth all men to loke earnestly for it, and to prepare themselves agaynste it wth holy conuersacion and Godly lyving.

Fynallye, the first Chapter sheweth howe it should go in the time of the pure and true Gospell. The second howe it should go in the tyme of the hope and mennes doctryne. The thyrde howe at the last men should beleue nothyng nor feare God at all.

The seconde Epistle of Sayncte Peter the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

Because he wyl exhort them to perseuer in faith, he teacheth that God hath geuen al thinges, whych pertain to lyfe and Godlynes, in Christe: and that the Christen fapth is sure & vndoubted, approued by the wytnes of God the father and of the Prophetes.

Simon Peter a seruaunte and an Apostle of Iesus Christe, to them whiche haue obtayned like precious fapth wth vs in p<sup>r</sup>ightuoulnes that cometh of our God and sa-

uiour Iesu Christe. * Grace wth you, and peace be multiplyed in the knowledge of God and of Iesus Christ our Lorde. Accordyng as his Godly power hath geuen vnto vs all thynges that pertain vnto lyfe and Godlynes thowowe the knowledge of hym that hath called vs by vertue and glory, by the meanes whereof are geuen vnto vs excellent and most great promyses, that by the helpe of them ye shuld be partakers of the Godly nature, in p<sup>r</sup>efle the corrupcion of worldly lust.

And hereunto geue all diligence: in your fapeth, minister vertue, & in vertue knowledge, and in knowledge temperance, and in temperance patience, in patience godlynes, in Godlines brotherly kyndnes, in brotherly kyndnes loue. For if these thynges be amonge you and are plenteous, they will make you, that ye neither shalbe idle nor vnfruitfull in the knowledge of oure lord Iesu Christ. But he that lacketh these thinges, is blynd and gropeth for the way wth hys hand, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old synnes.

Wherfore brethren, geue the more diligence for to make your callinge and election sure. For if ye do such thinges, ye shal neuer erre. Yea and by this meanes an entering in shalbe ministred vnto you aboute dauntlye into the euerlastyng kyngdome of our Lord and saupour Iesus Christ.

* Wherfore I wyl not be negligent to put you alwaies in remembraunce of such thinges, though that ye know them your selues: and be also stablyshed in the presente

truth. Not wthstanding I thinke it mete, (as longe as I am in thys tabernacle) to stere you by, by puttig you in remembrance: for as much as I am sure, how that p<sup>r</sup> time is at hand, that I must put of my tabernacle, euen as our lord Iesus Christ hath shewed me. I will enforce therfore that on every side ye might haue wherewith to stere by the remembraunce of these thynges after my departyng.

* For we folowed not deceivable fables, when we opened vnto you the power & coming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but wth our eyes we sawe his maiestie: euen then verely when he receiued of God the father honour and glory, & when ther came suche a voyce to him from the excellent glory. * This is my deare beloued sonne, in whom I haue delpte. This voyce we hearde when it came from heauen, beyng with him in the holpe mounte.

We haue also a right sure worde of prophesie, wherunto if ye take hede, as vnto a lighte that shineth in a darcke place, ye do well vntill the daye dawn, and the daye starre arise in your herts. * So that ye first know this, that no prophesie in the scriptur hath any priuate interpretacion. For the scripture came neuer by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moued by the holpe ghoſte.

The ii. Chapter.

He expoundeth that he treated of the thynges before, because of false teachers, who he paynteth out, declaring wthal they craftis and doctryne.

There were false prophetes amonge the people, euen as there shalbe false teachers amonge you: which priuelye shall bring in damnable sectes, euen deniege the Lorde that hath boughte them, & bring vpon themselves swift damnacion, & many shal folow their damnable waies, by which the way of truth shall be euilly spoke of, and thowow couetousnes shal they with fained wordes make marchaundise of you, whose iudgement is not far of, & their damnacion slepeth not.

For if God spared not the aungels that sinned, but cast them downe into hell, and deliuered them into chaines of darcknes, to be kept vnto iudgement, neither spared he the old world, but saued. Noe p<sup>r</sup> right preacher of rightuoulnes, & brought in p<sup>r</sup> flood vpon the world of the vngodly, & touned the cyties of Sodom & Gomor into ashes: ouerthrew them, damned them, & made of them an ensample vnto all that after shuld be vnclenly conuersacion of the wicked, deliuered he. For he beyng rightuouse & dwellyng amonge them, in seying and hearpyng, covered his rightuouse soule from day to day wth their vnlawful dedes.

The lord knoweth how to deliuer the godly out of temptaciō, & how to reserue the vngodly vnto the daye of iudgemente for to be

He p<sup>r</sup> hath such wokes, maye be sure p<sup>r</sup> he is elect & that he hath the true faith.

Ihon. xix. c

Ihon. i. b.
Math. ix. a
Luce. ix. d.
mat. xvii. a
I. Cor. xiii. b
Dany. ix. b.
Iach. vii. b.
II. Et. iii. b

I. Pet. i. a

Ihon. i. a.
Col. ii. a

De p<sup>r</sup> lacketh these and suche like wokes is blynd & vndersta-deth not what the saith of Christe meaneth.

Luce. xli. c

False prophetes must ne-
des be among vs,
and also preuaile, & p<sup>r</sup> because we haue no loue to the truth.

Iob. ix. v
Gen. vii. c

And coue-tousnes is the father of them, & their preaching confidence in workes, is the deny-
inge of Christ

The second Epistle of S. Peter. Chapt. iii.

punished: namelye them that walke after the flesh in the lust of vncleannes, & despyse the rulers. Presumptuous are they, & stubborn, and feare not to speake euill of them that be in authoritie. * When the aungels whych are greater both in power & myght, receyue not of the lord rapynge iudgement agaynst them. * But these as bruite beasts, naturally made to be taken and destroyed, * speake euill of that they knowe not, and shall perper the thozow theyr owne destruction, and receyue the rewarde of vntygntousnes.

They counte it pleasure to lyue deliciously for a season. Spots they are and filthyness, lypynge at pleasure, and in disceivable wapes feasting wth you: haupnge eyes ful of aduouty, and that canot cease to synne, begyllynge vntable soules. Heres they haue exercised wth couetousnes. They are cursed chyldren, and haue forsaaken the ryght way, and are gone astray following the wape of * Balam the sonne of Bosoz, which loued the rewarde of vntygntousnes: but was rebuked of hys iniquitye. The same and dome beaste, speakynge wth mannes voice, forbade the folysyness of the prophete.

These are welles wthoute water, and * clouds caried about of a tempest, to whom the miste of darckenes is reserued for euer. For when they haue spoken the swelling wordes of vauitye, they begyle with wantonnes thozow the lustes of the flesh, them that wer cleane escaped, but now are wrapped in errours. They promys them liberty, and are them selues the bond seruaunts of corrupcion. For of whomsoeuer a man is overcome, vnto the same is he in bondage. For if they, after they haue escaped fro the filthyness of the world thozow the knowledge of the lord and of the sauiour Jesus Christ, are yet tangled again therein & overcome: the is the latter end worse with the then the beginninge. For it had ben better for the not to haue knowen the way of rightuousnes, the after they haue knowen it to * turne fro the comandements geuen vnto the. It is happened to the according to the true prouerbe. * The dogge is turned to his vomit again, & the sowe that was washed, to hir wallowing in the myre.

The. iii. Chapter.

First he sheweth a cause why he wrot al as fore. The teacheth he what maner of men shal be in the laste ende of the worlde, what theyr counsayles and talke shal be: disputinge ther wth that of the tyme of reuengeaunce. Laste he exhorteth to holynes of lyfe.

This is the second Epistle that I now wrot to you (beloued) wherewith I stirre up & warne your pure minds, to cal to remembraunce the wordes which wer told befoze of the holy prophets, & also the comandements of vs the Apostles of the lord & sauiour. This first vnderstand, that there shal come in the laste daies mockers, which will walke after their own lustes and say: * Wher is the promys of hys commynge? For fence the fathers dyed, al things continue in the same estate wherem they were at the begynnynge. This they knowe not (that willingly) howe that the heauens a greate while ago wer, and the * earth that was in the water, appered by oute of the water by the word of God: by the whych things, the * world that then was, perished ouerflowed with the water. But the heauens verely & earth which are now, are kepte by the same worde in store, and reserued vnto * fyre, against the daye of iudgement and perdyccion of vngodly men.

Verely beloued, be not ignoraunt of this one thyng, how that * one day is with the Lord, as a thousande yere, and a thousand yere as one day: The lord is not slacke to fulfill his promise, as some men count slacknes, but is * pacient to vsward & * woulde haue no man lost, but would receyue al men to repentance. Neuertheles the day of the Lord wyl come as a thiefe in the nyght, in the whych day, the * heauens shal perper with terribile noise, and the elements shal melt wth heate, & the earth with the workes that are therein shal burne.

If al these thynges shal perper, what maner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersacion and Godlynes, loking for and hastynge vnto the commynge of the day of god, in which the heauens shal perish wth fire, and the elementes shal be consumed wth heat. Neuertheles we kepe for a new heauens and a new earth, according to his promise, wherein dwelleth rightuousnes.

Wherefore dearely beloued, seying that ye loke for suche thinges, be diligente that ye may be found of him in peace, wthout spot and vndefiled. And suppose that the longe sufferynge of the Lord is saluacion, euē as our dearely beloued brother Paule, accordynge to the wyl dome geuen to him, wrote vnto you, pea, almost in euery Epistle speaking of such thynges, among whych at many things hard to be vnderstand, which they that are vnlearned, and vntable, peruerter, as they do other scripctures vnto their own destruction. Ye therfore beloued, seynge ye knowe it befoze hande, beware, leaste ye be also plucked, and fall from your own stedfastnes: but grow in grace, & in the knowledge of our Lord & sauiour Jesus Christ. To whome glory both now & for euer. Amē.

A Prologe vpon the thre Epistles of Saint Iohn.

This first Epistle of S. Iohn is containned the doctryne of a very Apostle of Christ, and oughte of eache to folowe hys Gospel. For as in hys Gospel he letteth oute the trouth sayeth, and teacheth by it onely all men to be saued and restored vnto the fauour of god agayne, such so here in this Epistle he goeth against punished: namelpe them that walke after the flesh in the lust of vncleannes, & despyse the rulers. Presumptuous are they, & stubborn, and feare not to speake euill of them that be in authoritie. * When the aungels whych are greater both in power & myght, receyue not of the lord rapynge iudgement agaynst them. * But these as brut beasts, naturally made to be taken and destroyed, * speake euill of that they knowe not, and shall perpe the thozow theyr owne destrucci- on, and receyue the rewarde of vntyght- oulnes.

The second Epistle of S. Peter. Chapt. iii.

They counte it pleasure to lyue delici- ously for a season. Spots they are and fyl- thynes, lypng at pleasure, and in discey- uable wapes feastyng wth pou: haupnge eyes ful of aduouty, and that canot cease to synne, beglyng vntable soules. Her- tes they haue exercised wth couetousnes. They are cursed chyldren, and haue forsa- ken the ryght way, and are gone astray fo- lowyng the wape of * Balam the sonne of Bosoz, which loued the rewarde of vntyght- oulnes: but was rebuked of hys iniqui- ty. The same and dome beaste, speakyng wth mannes voice, forbade the folysnes of the prophete.

These are welles wthoute water, and * clouds caried about of a tempest, to whom the miste of darckenes is reserued for euer. For when they haue spoken the swellng wordes of vauity, they begyle with wan- tonnes thozow the lustes of the flesh, them that wer cleane escaped, but now are wrap- ped in errours. They promys them liberty, and are them selues the bond seruaunts of corrupciō. For of whomsoeuer a man is o- uercome, vnto the same is he in bondage. For if they, after they haue escaped fro the fylthynes of the world thozow the know- ledge of the lorde and of the sauiour Jesus Christ, are yet tangled again therein & ouer- come: the is the latter end worse with the then the beginninge. For it had ben better for the not to haue knowē the way of righ- tuousnes, the after they haue knowē it to * turne fro the comandements geuen vnto the. It is happened to the according to the true prouerbe. * The dogge is turned to his vomit again, & the sowe that was washed, to hir wallowing in the myre.

The. iii. Chapter.

First he sheweth a cause why he wrot al as- fore. The teacheth he what maner of men shal be in the laske ende of the worlde, what theyr counsayles and talke shal be: disputinge ther wth that of the tyme of reuengeaunce. Laste he exhorte to holynes of lyfe.

This is the second Epistle that I now wrot to pou (beloued) wherewith I stir vp & warne pour pure minds, to cal to remembraunce the wordes which wer told befoze of the holy prophets, & also the com- mandements of vs the Apostles of the lord & sauiour. This first vnderstand, that there shal come in the last * daies mockers, which wil walke after their own lustes and say: * Eze. vi. 1. Wher is the promys of hys commyng? For fence the fathers dyed, al things continue in the same estate wherem they were at the begynnynge. This they knowe not (that willingly) howe that the heauens a greate while ago wer, and the * earth that was in the water, appered by oute of the water by Gens. the word of God: by the whych things, the * world that then was, perished ouerflow- B en with the water. But the heauens verely it. Cel. & earth which are now, are kepte by the same worde in store, and reserued vnto * fyre, a- gainst the daye of iudgement and perdy- on of vngodly men.

Verely beloued, be not ignoraunt of this one thyng, how that * one day is with the 13 f. l. Lord, as a thousande pear, and a thousand Eze. xi. peare as one day: The lord is not slacke to 1. Pet. fulfill his promise, as some me count slack- Roma nes, but is * pacient to vsward & * woulde haue no man lost, but would receyue al me to repentance. Neuertheles the day of the Lord wyl come as a thiefe in the nyght, in the whych day, the * heauens shal perpe Eze. i. with terribile noise, and the elements shal 1. Cel. melt wth heate, & the earth with the wor- Apoca kes that are therein shal burne.

If al these thynges shal perpe, what ma- ner persons ought ye to be in holy conuer- sacpon and Godlynes, loking for and ha- sting vnto the comming of the day of god, in which the heauens shal perish wth fire, and the elementes shalbe consumed wth Apoca heat. Neuertheles v. ke for a new heauē Eze. i. and a new earth, acc. nge to his promise, and. l. wherin dwelleth rightuousnes.

Wherefore dearely beloued, sepng that ye loke for suche thinges, be diligente that ye may be found of him in peace, wthout spot and vndefiled. And suppose that the longe sufferynge of the Lord is saluacpon, euē as our dearely beloued brother Paule, accor- dyng to the wyl dome geuen to him, wrote vnto pou, pea, almost in euery Epistle spea- kyng of such thyngs, among whych at ma- ny things hard to be vnderstad, which they that are vnlearned, and vntable, peruerter, as they do other scripatures vnto their own destrucciō. Ye therfore beloued, sepng ye knowe it befoze hande, beware, leaste ye be also plucked, and fall from your own sted- fastnes: but grow in grace, & in the know- ledge of our Lord & saupour Jesus Christ. To whō be glory both now & for euer. Amē.

A Prologe v-

pon the thre Epistles of Saint Iohn.

In this first Epistle of S. Iohn is contay- ned the doctryne of a very Apostle of Christ, and oughte of ephie to folowe hys Gos- pell. For as in hys Gospell he lettereth oute th. tra. sayeth, and teacheth by it onely all men to be saued and restored vnto the fauour of god agayne, such so here in this Epistle he goeth against agaynste them that boast them selues of saynthe and yet continue wythout good works, & teacheth manye wayes, that where true saynthe is, ther the woorkes tarpe not behynde, and contraye, that where the woorkes folowe not, ther is no true saynthe, but a false imaginacion, and vttter darcknes. And he wytyeth soze agaynst a sect of heretikes, whych then began to denye þe Chyrste was come in the fleshe, and calleth theym verpe Antichristes, whych sect goth nowe in hys full swynge. For though they deny not openly wyth the mouth that Chyrste is come in the fleshe, yet they denye it in the hert wyth theyr doctrine and lpyng. For he that wyl be iustified and saued thowhe hys own woorkes the same doth asmuch as he that denieth Chyrst to be come in the fleshe seying that Chyrst came only therfore in the fleshe that he shulde iustifye vs, or purchase vs pardō of oure synnes, byng vs in the fauoure of God agayn, and make vs hepyes of eternal life, wyth hys woorkes onely, and wyth his bloudshedding wythoute and befoze al oure woorkes. So figh teth thys Epistle bothe agaynste them that wyl be saued bi theyr own good woorkes, & also agaynst them that wyl be saued by a saynthe that hathe no luste to worke at all, and kepeth vs in the myddle waye, that we beleue in Chyrste to be saued by hys woorkes onely & then to know þe it is our dutie, for þe kidnes, to prepare our selues to do the commaundemente of God, and to loue e uerye man hys neyghbour as Chyrst loued him, sekynge wyth oure owne woorkes Goddes honoure, and oure neyghbours wealthe only, and trustynge for eternall lyfe, and for al that God hath promysed vs for Chyrstes sake. The two laste Epistles though they be short, yet are godlye examplis of loue and saynthe and do sauour of the spirite of a true Apostle.

The .i. Epistle of Sayncte

The epistle of saynt Paul the Apostle.

The fyrst Chapter.

He certifieth that all is true and approued whych he declareth, whych is the Gospel of Chyrste verpe God and manne, wher in we maye learne innocent lpyng and ob tayne forgeuenesse of synnes, so that we cō fesse oure synnes.

As thou here as in hys gospel, & as Paul & Peter in theyr Epistles, teach vs. That whych we haue seene and hearde eth firste þe declare we vnto you, that ye may haue fe iustifying lowshyp wyth vs, and that our felowshyp of saynthe, & maye be wyth the father and hys son Iesus that almer sus chyrst. And this write, we vnto you that cie cometh our ioy may be full.

And thys is the tydynges that wee haue only wyth hearde of hym, and declare vnto you, that out al o God is lpyght, and in hym is no darknes at therre all: if we saye that we haue felowshyp with spect. him & yet walke in darkenes, we lye and do Joh. viii. b not the truth, but & if we walke in lpyghte uen as he is in lpyght, then haue we felow Light is þe shyppe wyth hym, and the bloude of Iesus

John. Chapter. ii. Fo. ciii.

Chyrste hys sonne clenseth vs from all syn. doctrine of Chyrste. If we saye that we haue no synne, wee deceyue our selues, and trueth is not in vs. If we knoweledge our synnes: he is saynthe full and iust, to forgeue our synnes, and to clenise vs from all vnyghtuousnes. If we saye we haue not synned, wee make hym a lyar, and his worde is not in vs.

The .ii. Chapter

He exhorteth to puernes of lyfe, too mutuall loue and muche watchynge, because there be many Antichristes: whose craftes they maye auoyde, if they cleaue fast to the doctrine of the holy gost.

My litle children these thyngs wypte I vnto you, that ye syn not: if anye man syn, yet wee haue an aduocate wyth the father, Iesus Chyrste, whych he is ryghtuous, & he it is that obtayned grace for our synnes: not for our synnes only, but also for the synnes of the world. And here by we are sure that wee knowe hym, if wee kepe hys commaundementes. He that say eth I knowe him and kepeth not hys commaundementes, is a lyar: and the veritye is not in him. Whosoouer kepeth his word in him is the loue of God, perfecte in dede. * And therby know we that we are in him. * He that sayeth he abydeh in him, ought to walke euen as he walked.

Brethren I wypte no new commaundement vnto you, but that olde commaundement whiche ye hearde from the begynning. The olde commaundement is the worde whych ye hearde from the begynning. Agayne a new commaundement? I write vnto you, a thinge that is true in him and also in you: for the darknes is passe, & the true lpyght now shyneth. He that sayth how that he is in the lpyght and yet hateth his brother, is in darknes euen vntyl thys tyme. He that loueth hys brother, abydeh in the lpyght, and there is none occasion of euyl in him. He that hateth hys brother, is in darkenes, and walketh in darknes: and cannot tell whither he goeth, because that darknes hath blynded hys eyes. * Babes I wypte vnto you, how that youre synnes are forgeuen you for hys names sake, I write vnto you fathers, how that ye know him that was from the beginning. I wypte vnto you yong me how that ye haue ouer come the wycked. I write to you litle children, how that ye knowe the father. I write vnto you fathers, how that ye knowe hym that was from the beginning. I write vnto you yong men, how that ye are stronge, and the word of god abideth in you, and ye haue ouer come that wycked.

Se that ye loue not the world, neyther þe thinges that are in the world. If any man loue the world, the loue of the father is not in hym. For al that is in the world (as the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the prid of goods) is not of the father, but of þe world. And the world banysheth away and the lust therof, but he that fulfilleth þe wyl of god.

doctrin of Chyrste. Heb. ix. d. i. Peter. i. d. he that kepeth the commaundementes knoweth god, & he þe that kepeth the word, lo- ueth god, & is in god & walketh as Chyrste dyd. Joh. xiii. d. i. Peter. ii. d. Joh. xiii. and. xv. b. I. as. xxi. d. Acte. i. d. a. He that loveth the world, lu- ueth not God. i. cor. vi. d. & say. x. a. & i. d. d. a.

The .i. Epistle of Sayncte

of God * abydeth euer. Little chyldren, it is the last tyme, and ye haue hearde howe that Antichrist shall come, euen now we are ther manpe Antichrists come alreedy. Wher by we knowe that it is the last tyme. They went out from vs: but they were not of vs. For if they had bene of vs, they woulde no doubte haue continued wpth vs. But that fortuneth that it myghte appeare, that they were not of vs.

And ye haue an opntmente of the holpe gost and ye knowe all thynge. * I wyte not vnto you, as though ye knowe not the truth: but as though ye knewe it, & know also that no lye cometh of truth. Who is a lyar but he that denieth that Iesus is Christ? The same is the Antichrist that denieth the father and the sonne. * Whoso euer denieth the sonne, the same hath not the father. Let therefore abyde in you that same whyche ye hearde from the begynnyng. Yf that whyche ye hearde from the begynnyng, shall remayne in you, ye also shall continue in the son, and in the father. And thys is the promys p he hath promised vs, euen eternall life.

Thys haue I wyrtten vnto you concernyng them that dyscepe you. * And the annoyntynge whyche ye haue receyued of hym, dwelleth in you. And ye nede not that anye manne teache you: but as the annoyntynge teacheth you al thynge, and is true, and is no lye, and it is taught you, euen so byde therein. And now babes abyde in him, that when he shall appeare, we may be bold and not be made ashamed of hym at hys commynge: If ye know that he is ryghtuous, knowe also p which foloweth ryghtuousnes, is borne of hym. The .iii. Chapter. He tarrieth still in his argumente exhortyng to puerne of life and maners, but chiefly to brotherly loue.

Behold what loue the father hath shewed on vs, that we shoulde be called the sonnes of God. For thys cause the worlde knoweth not hym. Derelye beloued now we are we the sonnes of God, and yet it dooth not appeare, what wee shalbe. But we know p when it shall appere, wee shalbe like hym. For we shal se hym as he is. And euery man that hath thys hope in him pourgeth hym selfe, euen as he is pure. Whoso euer commytteth synne commytteth vnrighitousnes also, for synne is vnrighitousnes. And ye knowe that he appered to take away our synnes, & in him is no syn. As many as bide in him, synne not: whoso euer synneth hath not sene him, nei ther hath knowen him.

Babes let no man deceyue you. He that doeth ryghtuousnes is ryghtuous, euen as he is ryghtuous. He that committeth syn, is of the deupl. * For the deupl synneth sence the begynnyng. For thys purpose appered the sonne of God to lewse the workes of the deupl. * Whoso euer is borne of god synneth not: for hys sede remaineth in him and he cannot synne, because he is borne of God. * In thys are the chyldren of god knowen, and the chyldren of the deupl. Whoso euer doth not rightuousnes, is not of God, neyther he that loueth not hys brother. For thys is the tidynge, that ye heard from the begynnyng, that ye shoulde loue one another, not as Cain whych was of the wycked, and slewe hys brother. And wherfore slewe he hym? Because his own workes were euyl, and hys brothers good. * Maruaile not my brethren though the worlde hate you. Wee knowe that wee are translated from death vnto lyfe, because we loue the brethren. He that loueth not hys brother, abydeth in death. Whoso euer hateth hys brother, is a mansleer. And ye know that no mansleer, hath eterna lyfe abydynge in hym.

John. Chapter. iiii.

Hereby perceyue we loue: that he gaue hys lyfe for vs, and therfore ought we also to geue our lyues for the brethren. Whoso euer hath thys worlde good, and seeth hys brother haue nede, and shutteth by his compassion from hym, howe dwelleth the loue of God in hym? My babes, let vs not loue in worde neyther in tounge: but with the deede and in verity. * For thereby we knowe that we are of the verity, and can before hym quiet our hertes. But if our hertes condemne vs, God is greater then our hertes, & knoweth al thigs. Beloued, if our hertes condemne vs not, then haue we trust to God warde and whatsoeuer we are, we shall receyue of hym: because we kepe hys commaundementes, and do those thinges whych are pleasynge in his syghte.

And thys is hys commaundemente, that wee beleue on (a) the name of hys sonne Iesus Christe and loue one another, as he gaue commaundemente. And he that keepeth hys commaundementes, dwelleth in hym, and he in him: and thereby we knowe that ther abideth in vs of the spirit, whych he gaue vs. The Notes.

(a) Faith is the first commaundement, and loue is the seconde. He that hath them is in god, and hath his spirite.

The .iiii. Chapter.

He teacheth to proue spirites, and then exhorteth to charite wpth verie many argumentes.

Ye beloued, beleue not euery spirit * but proue the spirits whether they be of god, or not: for many false prophetes are gonne out into the worlde. Hereby shall ye knowe the spirite of (a) God. Euery spirit that confesseth that Iesus Christe is come in the fleshe is of God. They that And euery spirit that confesseth not that Iesus Christe is come in the fleshe, is not of god. And this is that spirit of antichrist, of whome ye haue heard how that he shuld come and euen now all ready is he in the worlde. Christe to Little chyldren, ye are of god, and haue overcome them: for greater is he that is in you: then he that is in the worlde. They are of the worlde, therefore speake they of the world

1. Peter. ii. v. John. iiii. Loue is the first precept and cause of al other John. xv. b Gene. iii. b He that loueth is escaped death

He that loueth not is in death, & a murderrer, & hath not eterna lyfe. He p hath no compassion, loueth not God.

by lone we know that we are in the truthe and haue quiet consciences to godwarde.

1. John. ii. c. 1. John. i. b

1. John. vii. b. 1. John. ii. c. 1. John. i. b

The fyrst Epistle

Tho. viii. f.

John .iti.c.

Recebi de Vossa

.....

De that

390. 711.8,

1000000

of S. John, Chap. v. Fo. ciii.

Tho. xiii. b

i. Loxi. xv. 6

15 is the Infe

mar. x. c.

math. r.f.c.

§§§. iii. The

The fyrst Epistle

Tho. viii. f.

John .iti.c.

[illegible]

.....

De that

390. 711.8,

1000000

of S. John, Chap. v. Fo. ciii.

Tho. xiii. b

i. Cori. xv. 6 Fentib.

15

is the Infe

mar. v. c.

math. r.f.c.

The.ii. Epistle of S. John

The.ii.epist. of

Saynt John.

He reioyleth that the faythful church hath receyued the truth, and exhorteth to perceiue therein, and to loue one another, and to beware of false Prophetes.

He elder to the elect Ladys & hyr chyldren whiche I loue in the truth: & not I only, but also all that know the truth, for the truths sake whych dwelleth in vs, and shalbe in

vs for euer.

Wpith you be grace, mercede and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe * & son of the father in truth and loue. I reioyled greatly, that I found of thy chyliden walkynge in trueth, as we haue receyued a commandement of the father. And now beseeche I the Ladys, not as though I wrote a newe commaundement vnto the, but that same whiche we had fro the beginning, that we should loue one another: And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commaundements.

This comaundement is (that as ye haue heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it. * For many deceyuers are entred into the world, whiche confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the fleshe. This is a deceiver and an Antichrist. Loke on your selues & we lose not & whiche we haue wroughte: but that we may haue a ful reward. Who soeuer transgresseth and bydeth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that endureth in the doctrine of Christe, hath both the father and the sonne.

* If there come any vnto you and bring not thys learnynge, him receyue ye not to house: nether byd hym God speede. For he that byddeth him God speede, is partaker of hys euill dedes. * I had manye thynges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I woulde not wryte with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake wpth you mouth to mouth, that * our ioy may be ful. The sons of thy elect sister grete the. Ame.

The thyzde

Epistle of S. John.

He reioyleth that Gaius walketh in the truth he hath receyued, & is so benefyciall to the brethren. He threateneth Diotrefhes and commendeth Demetrius.

He Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whiche I loue in the truth. Beloued, I wishe in al things, that thou prosperedst and farest well, even as thy soul prospereth. I reioyled greatly

The.iii. epistle of S. John

when the brethren came, and testyfied of the truth that is in the, howe thou walkest in the trueth * I haue no greater ioye then for to hear, howe that my sonnes walke in veritye.

Heb. xlii. a.

Beloued, thou doest faythfullye, what soeuer thou doest to the brethren, & to strangers, whych beare witness of thy loue before all the congregacion. Whych brethren when thou bringest forwards on thy iourney (as it becometh God) thou shalt do well: because that for his names sake they went forth, and * toke nothyng of the Gentiles. We therfore oughte to receyue suche, that we also myghte be helpers to the trueth. I wrote vnto the congregacion: but Diotrefhes whych loueth to haue the preeminence amonge them, receiueyth vs not. Wherfore if I come, I will declare his dedes, whych he doth, iestynge on vs wpth malycious wordes: neither is therwpth content. Not only he him selfe receiueyth not the brethren, but also he forbiddeth them that would, & thrusteth them out of the congregacion.

i. Cor. xii. b
ii. cor. xi. a
mat. xi. a.

Beloued, folowe not that which is euell, but that which is good. He that doth well, is of God: but he that doeth euil, seeth not God. Demetrius hath good reporte of all men, and of the truth: pea and we oure selues also beare recorde, and ye knowe that our record is true.

I haue many thynges to wryte * but I wyl not wpth ynke and penne wryte vnto the. For I trust I shall shortly see the, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be wpth the. The louers salute the. Grete the louers by name.

ii. Ihon. b.

The Prologe

vpon the Epytyle of saint

Paule to the Hebrues.

About thys Epistle hath encreased much doubtyng, and that amonge great learned men, who should be the authour thereof: dyuers aspyrynge, that it was not Paules, partly because the Epytyle disagreeth, and is so vnlike hys other Epistles, and partly because it standeth in the second Chapter: thys learning was cōfirmed to vsward, that is to say taughte vs by them that heard it themselves of the lord. Now Paule testyfeth Galat. i. that he receyued not hys Gospell of man, nor by man, but immediately of Christ, and that by reuelacion. Wherfore say they, sayng this man confelleth & he receyued hys doctryne of the Apostles, it can not be Paules, but some dysciple of the Apostles. Now, whether it were Paules or no, I say not, but permyt it to other mennes iudgement, neyther thynke I it to be an artycle of any mans faith, but that a man may doubt of the authour.

Moreouer, manye there hath bene whych not onely haue denyed thys Epistle to haue ben wrytten by anye of the Apostles, but haue also refused it altogether, as no catholyke or godly Epistle.

The.ii. Epistle of S. John

The.ii.epist. of Sapnt John.

He reioyleth that the faythful church hath receyued the truth, and exhorteth to perceiue therein, and to loue one another, and to beware of false Prophetes.

He elder to the elect Ladys & hyr chyldren whiche I loue in the truth: & not I only, but also all that know the truth, for the truths sake whych dwelleth in vs, and shalbe in

vs for euer.

Wpith you be grace, merce and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe * & son of the father in truth and loue. I reioyled greatly, that I found of thy chyliden walkynge in trueth, as we haue receyued a commandement of the father. And now beseeche I the Ladys, not as though I wrote a newe commandement vnto the, but that same whiche we had fro the beginning, that we should loue one another: And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commandements.

This comaundement is (that as ye haue heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it. * For many deceyuers are entred into the world, whiche confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the fleshe. This is a deceiver and an Antichrist. Loke on your selues & we lose not & whiche we haue wroughte: but that we may haue a ful reward. Who soeuer transgresseth and bydeth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that endureth in the doctrine of Christe, hath both the father and the sonne.

* If there come any vnto you and bring not thys learnynge, him receyue ye not to house: nether byd hym God speke. For he that byddeth him God speke, is partaker of hys euill dedes. * I had manye thynges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I woulde not wryte with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake wpth you mouth to mouth, that * our ioy may be ful. The sons of thy elect sister grete the. Ame.

The thyzde

Epistle of S. John.

He reioyleth that Gaius walketh in the truth he hath receyued, & is so benefyciall to the brethren. He threateneth Diotrefhes and commendeth Demetrius.

The Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whome I loue in the truth. Beloued, I wishe in al things, that thou prosperedst and farest well, even as thy soul prospereth. I reioyled greatly

The.iii. epistle of S. John

when the brethren came, and testyfied of the truth that is in the, howe thou walkest in the trueth * I haue no greater ioye then for to hear, howe that my sonnes walke in veritye.

Heb. xlii. a.

Beloued, thou doest faythfullye, what soeuer thou doest to the brethren, & to strangers, whych beare witness of thy loue before all the congregacion. Whych brethren when thou bringest forwards on thy iourney (as it becometh God) thou shalt do well: because that for his names sake they went forth, and * toke nothyng of the Gentiles. I. Cor. ix. b We therfore oughte to receyue suche, that ii. cor. ix. a we also myghte be helpers to the trueth. I. mat. xi. a. I wrote vnto the congregacion: but Diotrefhes whych loueth to haue the preeminence amonge them, receiueth vs not. Wherefore if I come, I will declare his dedes, whych he doth, iestyng on vs wpth malycious wordes: neither is therwpth content. Not only he him selfe receiueth not the brethren, but also he forbiddeth them that would, & thrusteth them out of the congregacion.

Beloued, folowe not that which is euell, but that which is good. He that doth well, is of God: but he that doeth euil, seeth not God. Demetrius hath good reporte of all men, and of the truth: pea and we oure selues also beare recorde, and ye knowe that our record is true.

I haue manye thynges to wryte * but I wyl not wpth ynke and penne wryte vnto the. For I trust I shall shortly see the, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be wpth the. The louers salute the. Grete the louers by name. ii. Ihon. b.

The Prologe

vpon the Epytyle of saint

Paule to the Hebrues.

About thys Epistle hath encreased much doubtyng, and that amonge great learned men, who should be the authour thereof: dyuers aspyrynge, that it was not Paules, partly because the Epytyle disagreeth, and is so vnlike hys other Epistles, and partly because it standeth in the second Chapter: thys learning was cōfirmed to vsward, that is to say taughte vs by them that heard it themselves of the lord. Now Paule testyfeth Galat. i. that he receyued not hys Gospell of man, nor by man, but immediately of Christ, and that by reuelacion. Wherefore say they, sayng this man confelleth & he receyued hys doctryne of the Apostles, it can not be Paules, but some dysciple of the Apostles. Now, whether it were Paules or no, I say not, but permyt it to other mennes iudgement, neyther thynke I it to be an artycle of any mans faith, but that a man may doubt of the authour.

Whereouer, manye there hath bene whych not onely haue denyed thys Epistle to haue ben wrytten by anye of the Apostles, but haue also refused it altogether, as no catholyke or godly Epistle

The.ii. Epistle of S. John

The.ii.epist. of

Sapnt John.

He reioyleth that the faythful church hath receyued the truth, and exhorteth to perceiue therein, and to loue one another, and to beware of false Prophetes.

He elder to the elect Ladys & hyr chyldren whiche I loue in the truth: & not I only, but also all that know the truth, for the truths sake whych dwelleth in vs, and shalbe in

vs for euer.

Wpith you be grace, mercede and peace from God the father, and from the Lorde Iesus Christe * & son of the father in truth and loue. I reioyled greatly, that I found of thy chyliden walkynge in trueth, as we haue receyued a commandement of the father. And now beseeche I the Ladye, not as though I wrote a newe commaundement vnto the, but that same whiche we had fro the beginning, that we should loue one another: And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commaundements.

This comaundement is (that as ye haue heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it. * For many deceyuers are entred into the world, whiche confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the fleshe. This is a deceiver and an Antichrist. Loke on your selues & we lose not & whiche we haue wroughte: but that we may haue a ful reward. Who soeuer transgresseth and bydeth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that endureth in the doctrine of Christe, hath both the father and the sonne.

* If there come any vnto you and bring not thys learnynge, him receyue ye not to house: nether byd hym God speede. For he that byddeth him God speede, is partaker of hys euill dedes. * I had manye thynges to wryte vnto you, neuertheles I woulde not wryte with paper and ynke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake wpyth you mouth to mouth, that * our ioy may be ful. The sons of thy elect sister grete the. Ame.

The thyzde

Epistle of S. John.

He reioyleth that Gaius walketh in the truth he hath receyued, & is so benefyciall to the brethren. He threateneth Diotrefhes and commendeth Demetrius.

He Elder vnto the beloued Gaius, whiche I loue in the truth. Beloued, I wishe in al things, that thou prosperedst and fareddest well, even as thy soul prospereth. I reioyled greatly

The.iii. epistle of S. John

when the brethren came, and testyfied of the truth that is in the, howe thou walkest in the trueth * I haue no greater ioye then for to hear, howe that my sonnes walke in veritye. Heb. xlii. a.

Beloued, thou doest faythfullye, what soeuer thou doest to the brethren, & to strangers, whych beare witness of thy loue before all the congregacion. Whych brethren when thou bringest forwards on thy iourney (as it becometh God) thou shalt do well: because that for his names sake they went forth, and * toke nothyng of the Gentiles. i. Cor. ix. b.
We therfore oughte to receyue suche, that ii. cor. xi. a. we also myghte be helpers to the trueth. I wrote vnto the congregacion: but Diotrefhes whych loueth to haue the preeminence amonge them, receiueyth vs not. Wherefore if I come, I will declare his dedes, whych he doth, iestyng on vs wpyth malycious wordes: neither is therwpyth content. Not only he him selfe receiueyth not the brethren, but also he forbiddeth them that would, & thrusteth them out of the congregacion.

Beloued, folowe not that which is euell, but that which is good. He that doth well, is of God: but he that doeth euill, seeth not God. Demetrius hath good reporte of all men, and of the truth: pea and we oure selues also beare recorde, and ye knowe that our record is true.

I haue manye thynges to wryte * but I wyl not wpyth ynke and penne wryte vnto the. For I trust I shall shortly see the, and we shall speake mouth to mouth. Peace be wpyth the. The louers salute the. Grete the louers by name. ii. Ihon. b.

The Prologe

vpon the Epytyle of saint

Paule to the Hebrues.

Wout thys Epistle hath encreased much doubtyng, and that amonge great learned men, who should be the authour thereof: dyuers aspyrynge, that it was not Paules, partly because the Epytyle disagreeeth, and is so vnlike hys other Epistles, and partly because it standeth in the second Chapter: thys learning was cōfirmed to vsward, that is to say taughte vs by them that heard it themselves of the lord. Now Paule testyfeth Galat. i. that he receyued not hys Gospell of man, nor by man, but immediately of Christ, and that by reuelacyon. Wherefore say they, sayng this man confelleth & he receyued hys doctryne of the Apostles, it can not be Paules, but some dysciple of the Apostles. Now, whether it were Paules or no, I say not, but permyt it to other mennes iudgement, neyther thynke I it to be an artycle of any mans faith, but that a man may doubt of the authour.

Moreouer, manye there hath bene whych not only haue denyed thys Epistle to haue ben wrytten by anye of the Apostles, but haue also refused it altogether, as no catholyke or godly Epistle

Epistle, because of certayne textes wyttē there in. For fyrste it sayeth in the fyrte: It is impossible that they whiche were once lyghted, & haue tasted of the heavenly gyft, & were become partakers of the holy ghost, and haue tasted of the good worde of God, and of the power of the world to come, if thei fal, shuld be renued again to repentance or conuersyon. And in the tenth it sayth: yf we synne wyllynglye after we haue receyued the knowledge of the truthe, there remaineth no more sacryfyce for syns, but a fearful lokynge for iudgemente and vyolente fyre, whych shall destroye the aduersaries. And in the xii. it sayth, that Esau found no waye to repentance or conuersyon, no though he soughte it wth teares. Whych textes saye they, sounde: yf a man synne any moze after he is once baptyzed, he can be no moze forgeuen, and that is contrary to all the scripture, and therfore to be refused to be catholyke and godlye.

Unto whych I aunswere: if we should deny this Epistle for those textes sake, so should we denye fyrst Mathew, whych in hys. xii. chapter affirmeth, that he whych blasphemeth the holy ghost, shall neyther be forgeuen here, nor in the world to come. And then Marke whych in his thyrde chapter sayeth, that he that blasphemeth the holy ghost, shall neuer haue forgeuenes, but shall be in daunger of eternal dampnacion. And thyrde Luke, whych sayeth, there shall be no remission to hym that blasphemeth the spirite of God. Moreover John in his fyrst epistle saith: there is a synne vnto death, for whych a manne should not pray. And. ii. Pet. ii. saith: if a man be fled from the uncleannes of the world thowow the knowledge of the sauoure Iesus Christe, and then be wrapt in agayne, hys ende is worse then the begynnyng, and that it had bene better for hym, neuer to haue knowen the truthe. And Paule. ii. Tim. iii. curseth Alexander the copersmyth, despyng the Lord to reward hym, accordyng to hys dedes. Whych is a sygne, that eyther the Epistle shoulde not be good, or that Alexander had synned past forgeuenes, no moze to be prayed for. Wherfore, sayng no scripture is of pryuate interpretacion, but must be expounded, accordyng to the generall artycles of oure fayth, and agreeable to other open and euidente textes, and confirmed or compared to lyke sentences, why should we not vnderstand these places w lyke reuerence as we do the other, namely, when all the remnaunte of the Epistle is so godly and of so greute learnyng.

The fyrst place in the fyrte Chapter, wyl no moze then that they whych know the truthe, and yet wyllyngly refuse the lyght, and chole rather to dwell in darcknes, and refuse Christ, & make a mocke of hym (as the Pharyses whych when they were ouercome wth scripture and myracles that Christ was the verye Messias: yet had such lust in iniquyte that they forsoke him, persecuted hym, slewe hym, and did al the same yf coude be Imagyned to hym) can not be renued (eis Metanoiam) sayth the Greke, to be conuerted: that is to saye, such malycyous unkyndnes, whych is none other, then the blasphemynge of the holy ghoste, deserueth that the spirite shall neuer come moze at them to couert them, which I beleue to be as true, as anye other texte in all scripture.

And what is meante by that place in the tenth Chapter, wher he sayeth, if we syn wyllyngly after wee haue receyued the knowledge of the truthe, there remaineth no more sacryfyce for sin, is declared immediatly after. For he maketh a comparyson betwene Moyses and Christ, saying: if he whiche dyspyled Moyses lawe, died wthout merce, howe much worse punishment is he worthy of, that treadeth the sonne of God vnder foote, and counteth the bloude of the couenant, by whiche bloude he was sanctified, as an vnholty thyng, and blasphemeth the spirit of grace: By whych words it is manifest, yf he meaneth none other by the fore wordes, then the synne of blasphemy of the spirit.

For them that synne of ignorance or infirmity, there is remedye, but for hym that knoweth the truthe, and yet wyllyngly yelde hym selfe to synne, and consenteth vnto the lyfe of synne, wth soule and bodye, and hath leuer lye in synne, then haue hys poysoned nature healed by the heale of the spirite of grace, and malycyously persecuteth the truthe: for hym I saye, there is no remedye, the way to mercy is locked vp, and the spirite is taken from hym for hys vnthanchfulnes sake no moze to be geuen hym. Truth it is, if a man can tourne to God and beleue in Christ, he must be forgeuen, how depe so euer he hath synned, but that wyl not be wthout the spirite, and suche blasphemers shall no moze haue the spirite offered the. Let euery man therfore feare God, and beware that he yelde not hym self to serue synne, but howe oft soeuer he syn, let hym begyn agayn and fyght a freche, and no doubt he shall at the last ouercome, and in the meane tyme yet be vnder mercy for Christes sake, because hys herte worketh, and would layne be lewised from vnder bondage of synne.

And that it sayeth in the. xii. Esau founde no waye (eis Metanoiam) to be conuerted and receyued vnto God, and restored vnto hys birthryght agayne, though he sought wth teares, yf texte muste haue a spirytual eye. For Esau in sellyng hys birthryght, despyled not onely that temporall promocyon that he shoulde haue bene Lord ouer all hys brethren, and kynge of that country, but he also refused the grace, and mercy of God, and the spirytual blessing of Abraham, Isaac, and all the mercy that is promysed vs in Christ, whych shoulde haue bene hys seede. Of this ye se that this Epistle ought no moze to be refused for holy, godly, and catholyke, then the other autentike scriptures. Howe therfore to come to our purpose agayn, though this Epistle (as it sayeth in the fyrte) laye not the grounde of the fayth of Christe, yet it burldeth conynglye thereon pure golde, syluer, and pious stones, and proueth the priesthode of Christ, wth scriptures ineuertable. Moreover there is no worke in all the scripture, that so playnely declareth the meanyng and signyfycacions of the sacryfyces, ceremonies, and figures of the olde testamente as this epistle: in so muche that if wylfull blyndnes, and malycyouse malycie were not the cause, this Epistle only were ynough to weede out of the heres of the Papistes, that cankered herespe of iustifyinge of workes, concernyng our sacramentes, ceremonies, and all maner tradicions of their own inuencion.

And finally in that ye se in the tenth that he had bene in bods and pylson for Christes sake, and in that he so myghrely dyueth al to Christ to be saued thowow hym, & so cared for the flocke of Christ, that he both wrote and sent, where he heard that they beganne to faynte, to comforte, courage, and strengthe them wth the worde of God, in that also, that he sente Timothee Pauls dysciple, both vertuous, well learned, and had in greute reuerence: it was easye to se that was a faythfull seruaunt of Christes, and of þe same doctryne that Tymothe was of, yea and Paule hymselfe was, and that he was an Apostle, or in the Apostles tyme or nere therevnto. And seying the Epistle agreeth to all the rest of the scripture, if it be indyfferently looked on, how should it not be of authoryte and taken for holy scripture?

The Epistle of S. Paul to

The epyistle of Sayncte Paule vnto the Hebrues.

The fyrst Chapter.

The fyrst parte of this Epyistle is contained in this Syllogisme. Fewer man that comend Gods word shewed by angels, escaped punishment: Christe is greater then the angels, for he is the verbe sonne of God. Therefore shall no man escape unpunished that despyseth his worde. The minoz or latter part of this argumēt, he proueth in this chapter wth many testymones.

In tyme past diuersly & manye wayes, spake vnto the fathers by prophetes: but in these laste dayes he hath spoken vnto vs by his son * whom he hath made heyre of all thynges: by whom also he made the worlde. Whych sonne beynge the * bryghtnes of his glorie, and verbe Image of his substance, bearing vp all thynges with the worde of his power, hath in his owne person purged oure synnes, and is set on the ryght hand of the maiesty on hygh, and is more excellent then the Angels, in as much as he hath by enheritance obteyned an excellent * name then haue they. For vnto whych sayd he at any time. * Thou art my sonne, this daye begatte I the: And agayne: I will be his father, and he shall be my sonne: And agayne when he byngeth in the fyrst begotten sonne, into the worlde, he sayeth: * And all the Angels of God shall worshippe him. And of the angels he sayeth. He maketh his angels spytes * and his ministers flames of fyre. But vnto the son he sayeth: GOD thy * seat shal be for ever and ever. The scepter of thy kyngedome is a ryghte scepter. Thou haste loued ryghtuousnes, & hated iniquity. Wherefore God, whych is thy god, hath anointed the with the oyle of gladnes aboue thy felowes.

* And thou Lorde in the beginninge hast layed the foundacyon of the earth. And the heauens are the workes of thy handes. They shall perishe, but thou shalt endure: They all shal were old as doth a garment: and as a vesture shalt thou chaunge them, and they shalbe chaunged. But thou art alwaye, and thy yeres shall not faile. For

Vnto whych of the angelles said he at ## the Hebrues. Chapter. i.

any tyme. Sit on my ryghte hande, till I make thyne enemies thy fote stole: Are they not all ministeryng spirites, sente to minystrer for thesakes, which shalbe heyses of saluacyon?

The. ii. Chapter.

He synneth the argument begonne in the fyrst chapter, declaring that Christ is greater then the angels, from thys he dysgreceth to shew howe that he is also verbe man, where also he sheweth the causes of mans nature in Christ.

Wherefore we ought to geue the more heed to the thynges we haue hearde, lest we perishe. For if the word which was spokē by Angels was stedfast, so that euery transgression and disobedience receiued a iust recompence to reward: how shall we escape, if we dyspyle so greate saluacyon which at the firste begon to be preached of the Lorde hymselfe, and afterwarde was confirmed to vsward, by them that hearde it. God bearing witness thereto, both with signes and wonders also, and with diuers miracles, and giftes of the holy ghost, as Christe, cōdōng to his owne will.

He hath not vnto the Angels put in subiection the worlde to come, whereof wee speake. But one in a certayn place witnessed, sayinge: What is man, that thou arte myndfull of hym? After thou haddest for a season made hym lower then the Angels, thou crownedst him wth honoure and glorye, and hast set hym aboue the workes of thy handes. Thou hast putte all thynges in subiection vnder his feete. In that he put all thynges vnder him, be left nothyng that is not putte vnder hym. Neuerthelesse we see yet se not all thyngs subdued, but him that was made lesse then the Angels we see that it was Iesus, which * is crowned with glory and honoure for the sufferinge of death: that he by the grace of God, shoulde * taste of death for all men.

For it became hym, for whom are all thynges, & by whom are all thynges, after that he had brought many sonnes vnto glorye, that he shoulde make the Lord of their saluacyon perfect thozow sufferynge. For he that sanctifyeth, and they whych are sanctified, are all of one: For whych causes sake, he is not ashamed to cal them brethzen sayinge: I wil declare thy name vnto my brethzen, in the myddes of the congregacion wll I prayse the. And agayne: * I wll put my trust in hym. And agayne: beholde here am * I, and the chyldren whych God hath geuen me.

For as much then as the children were partakers of flesh and bloude, he also hym selfe lykwysse * toke parte wth them, for to put downe thozow * death, him that had Lordship ouer death, that is to say, the deuill: and that he might deliver them which thozowe feare of death were all their lyf tyme in daunger of bondage. For he in no place taketh on hym the angels: but * fede of Abra

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the Hebr. Cha. iii. Fo. cv.

of Abraham taketh he on him. Wherefore in all thynges it became him to be made like vnto hys brethren, that he might be merciful and a faithful hye priest in thyngs concerning god, for to pource & peoples syns. * For in that he himself suffered and was tempted, he is able to succoure them that are tempted. The.iii. Chapter.

He exhorteth them to receyue Christe, because that he veynge greater then Moyses is Lord ouer all. Than sheweth he of the miserable example of theyr elders, howe sore punishment they shall suffer, if they contemne Christ the sonne of God.

Wherefore holpe brethren, partakers of the celestial calling, consider the Ambassadors and the hye priestes of oure professiō, Christ Iesus, which was faithful to him that made him, euē as was Moyses in all his house. And yet was thys man counted worthy of more glory then Moyses: In as muche as he whiche hath prepared the house, hath mooste honoure in the house. Euerie house is prepared of some man. But he that ordayned al thyngs, is god. And Moyses verely was faithful in al hys house as a minister * to beare wptnes of those thynges, which shoulde be spoken afterward. But Christe as a son hath rule ouer the house, whose house are we, so that we hold fast the confydence and the reioysing of that hope vnto the ende.

Wherefore as the holy ghooste sayeth: to daye if ye shall heare his voice, harden not your hertes, after the rebellion in the day of temptacion in the wilderness, wher your fathers tempted me, proued me, & sawe my workes. xl. yeres long.

Wherefore I was greued with that generation and sayed: They erre euer in theyr hertes: they verely haue not knowen my wayes, so that I swaie in my wrath, that they shoulde not enter into my reste. Take hede brethren, that there be in none of you an euill herte in vnbeleue, that he shoulde departe from the liuinge God: but exhorthe one another daily, while it is called to day, lest any of you were hard herted thowowe & deceptfulnes of synne.

We are partakers of Christ * if we kepe sure vnto the ende the firste substance, so longe as it is sayed: to daye if ye heare hys voyce, harden not your hertes, as when ye rebelled. For some, whē they heard, rebelled: howbeit not all that came oute of Egypt vnder Moyses. * But with whō was he displeased. xl. yeres? Was he not displeased wth them that synned: whose carcases were ouerthrowen in the desert? To whom swaie he that they shoulde not enter into hys reste: but vnto them that beleued not? And we se that they could not enter in because of vnbeleue.

The.iii. Chapter.

He sheweth vpon hys forste example, shewyng from what rest it was that theyr elders fel through incredulitye, exhortyng the with al that though true sayth they escape & same punishment. To whych sayth he exhorteth by arguments drawn out of the very nature of God and of hys worde.

Let vs feare therefore, lest anye of vs forsakynge the promes of entryng in to his reste, shuld seme to come behind. For vnto vs was it declared, as wel as vnto them. * But it profyted not them that they heard the worde, because they whych heard it, coupled it not with sayth. But we which haue beleued, do enter into his reste, as contrarywise he sayd to y other: I haue sworne in my wrath, they shall not enter into my reste. And that spake he verely long after that the workes were made, and the fundacion of the world layd. For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenth daye, on thys wyle. And God dyd rest the seuenth daye from al hys workes. And in this place agayne. * They shal not come into my reste. Seynge therefore it foloweth, that some muste enter therinto, and they to whom it was first preached, entered not therein for vniquietnes sake. Agayne he appointeth in Dauid a certayne present daye after so long tyme, sayinge as it is rehearsed: * thys day if ye hear his voice, be not hard herted. For if Josue had geuen them reste, then would he not afterward haue spoken of another day. Ther remaineth therfore yet a reste to the people of God. For he that is entred in to hys reste, doth cease from his owne workes * as God dyd from hys.

Let vs studie therfore to enter into that reste, lest anye man fall after the same ensample into vnbeleue. For the word of god is quick and myghty in operacion, & sharper then any two edged swerde, & entreth through, euen vnto the deuydng a sonder of the soule and the spyrte, & of the iointes and the mary: and iudgeth the thoughts & ententes of the hart * neither is anye creature inuisible in the sighte of him. For all thynges are naked and bare vnto the eyes of hym, of whom we spake.

The.v. Chapter.

He proueth Christ to be very God & man, & to be the true priest ordeyned by God after the order of Melchysdech: who offerynge sacrifice for vs, is made oure perfectyon. Then dysgrosseth he, and speaketh agaynst their slothfulness.

Seynge then that we haue a great hye priest, whych is entred into heauen (I meane Iesus the sonne of God) let vs holde our professiō. For we haue not an hye priest, whych can not haue compassiō on our infirmities: but was in all popntes tempted, like as we are: but yet without synne. Let vs therfore go boldly vnto the seate of grace, that wee maye receyue mercye, and fynde grace to heale in tyme of nede.

For euery hye priest that is taken from amonge men, is ordeyned for men, in thynges perteynyng to God * to offer gyftes

Eccl. vii. b
Roma. ii. b
Ps. xciii. b

Gene. ii. a
Ps. xciii. b

Ps. xciii. b

Gene. ii. a
Sin is our worke fro whiche all must cease that enter into reste of a quiete consciēce in Christe.
Eccl. xli. e
Eccl. xv. e

Heb. iii. a
vi. c. viii. a
and. ix. b

Eccl. iiii. b Ro. viii. a
ii. Cor. v. e * Ro. iii. e

Leuit. ix. b
and

ii. ii. a

ii. v. a

Co. iiii. a
um. xii. a

Gene. i. a
e. xviii. c

Cor. iiii. b
nd. vi. c

Eccl. xciii. c
Deute. xi. a

Exo. xvii. c

Heb. xiii. b

Spist substance is sayth.
Math. x. c

Ro. iiii. e
As sayth is & growd of al grace euen so is vnbeleue the rote of all synne.

The Epistle of S. Paule

To the hebr. Chapt. vi.

Leuit. ix. b. and sacrifices for sin: which can haue compassion on the ignorant, & on the that are out of the way, because that he himself also is compassed with infirmitie. For which infirmities sake, he is bounde to offer for sinnes, as well for his own part, as for the peoples. And no man taketh honoure vnto hym selfe, but he that is called of God: as was Aaron.

Exo. xlviii.
Num. xvi.

Psal. li. b.
The daies of his fleshe signify the time of hys huma-
nitye.

Psal. cxc. b.
Phil. ii. a

¶ Euen so Ipkewpse, Christe glorified not hym selfe, to be made the hys priest: but he that said vnto him: thou art my son, thys day begat I the, glorified him. As he also in another place speketh. Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedech. Which in the daies of his fleshe dyd offer vp prayers and supplications, with strong crying and teares, vnto him that was able to saue him fro death, and was also heard, because of hys godlines. * And though he were Gods son, yet learned he obedience, by those thynges whiche he suffered, & was made perfect, and the cause of eternal saluacion vnto al them that obey him, and is called of God an hys priest, after the order of Melchisedech.

1. Cor. iii. a.
By mylke
are vnder-
stand thin-
ges easie
to perceiue: but strong meat, such as is hard & obscure.

¶ Wherof we haue many thynges to saye, whiche are harde to be vttered, because ye are dull of hearing. * For when as concerning the tyme, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye nede again, that we teache you the fyrst principles of the worde of God: & are become such as haue nede of mylke, & not of strong meate: For euery man that is fed wth mylke, is inexpert in the word of righteousness. For he is but a babe. But strong meate belongeth to them that are perfect, which thorow custome haue theyr wyttes exercysed to iudge both good and euil also.

The vi. Chapter.

¶ He blameth thys fluggishnes & slownes, threatening them punishment, excepte they go forward in the known truth, allegynge the worde is preached to thintent it shoulde bring forth fruite, saynge that it is certayne and assured by the oth of God.

¶ Vherfore lette vs loue the doctryne pertaininge to the begynnyng of a Christen man, and let vs go vnto perfection: and now no more lay the foundacyon of repentance from dead workes, & of fayth toward God, of baptyme, of doctrine, and of laying on of handes, and of resurrection from death, and of eternall iudgement. And so will we do, if God permitte. * For it is (a) not possible that they which wer once lighted, and haue tasted of the heavenly gyft, and were become partakers of the holy ghost, and haue tasted of the good word of God, and of the power of the world to come, if they falle, shoulde be renewed agayne vnto repentance: for as much as they haue (as concernynge themselves) crucified the son of God a freche, makynge a mocke of him.

Heb. x. c.

1. Pet. ii. a.

For the earth whiche dryncketh in the rapne, which cometh oft vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes mete for them that dresse it, recepueth blessing of God. But that ground which beareth thornes and briars, is reproboued, & is nye vnto cursynge: whose ende is to be burned. Neuerthelesse deare frendes, wee truste to se better of you, and thynges whiche accompanye saluacion, though we thus speake.

* For God is not vnrighteous that he shoulde forgette your worke, and laboure that proceedeth of loue, whiche you shewed in hys name, which haue ministered vnto the saintes, and yet minister. Yea and we desyre, that euery one of you shew the same diligence to the stablyshynge of hope euen vnto the end: that ye faint not but folowe them which thorow fayth and pacience inheryte the promyses.

For when god made promys to Abraham, because he had no greater thing to sweare by, he sware by himself, sayng: Surely I will blesse the, and multiply the in dede. And so after that he had taried a long tyme, he enioyed the promys. Whenne verely sweare by hym that is greater then themselves, and an othe to confirme the thyng, is among them an ende of all stryfe: So God wplyng very aboundantly to shewe vnto the hepyes of promys the stableness of his counsaile, he added an othe, that by two immutable thynges (in whych it was impossible that God shoulde lye) we mighte haue perfect consolacion, whiche haue fled, for to holde faste the hope that is sette before vs, whiche hope wee haue as an ancre of the soule both sure and stedfast. Whiche hope also entreth in, into those thynges that are within the vaile, whyther the forerunner is for vs entred in, I meane Iesus that is made an hys priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedech.

The Notes.

(a) Not because God is not able to shewe such mercy vnto them that obstynately fall from the truth, and become enemyes to the holye ghost, that they shoulde come to repentance, but because their fallinge is a token that they be not of the number of the that be called to know ledge of the truth, as Gods elect, but (as Judas was) to declare them selues to be the chyldren of perdycon. And if they come to repentance as Judas dyd, yet shall that repentance be annexed to desperacion, and be altogether voyde of hope as Judas was.

Impossible

The vii. Chapter.

¶ He returneth to hys matter, & declareth who was that Melchisedech accordynge to whose order Christ was made a priest. The teacheth he that Christ is a true and euerlasting priest, farre more excellent then the Leuites.

¶ This Melchisedech, kynge of Salem (whych beynge priest of the moste hys God, met Abraham, as he returned agayne from the slaughter of the kynges, & blessed hym: to whom also Abraham gaue tythes of al thyngs) fyrst is by interpreta- cion kynge of rightuousnes: after that he is kynge of Salem, that is to saye, king of peace,

Gen. xxi. d

The Epistle of S. Paul to the Hebrewes. Cha. vii. Fo. cxi.

peace, withoute father, withoute mother, withoute kyn, and hath neither beginning of his tyme, neither yet end of his lyfe: but is likened vnto the sonne of God, and continueth a priest for ever. Consyder what a man this was, vnto whom the patriarche Abraham gaue tythes of the spoiles. * And verely those chylde of Leui, which receiue the offyce of the priestes, haue a commaundment to take according to the law, tythes of the people, that is to say of their brethren, yea though they spronge out of the loynes of Abraham. But he whose kinrede is not counted among them, receiued tythes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises. And no man denyeth but that whiche is lesse, receiue the blessing of that whiche is greater. And here men do receiue tythes. But there he receiue the tythes, of whom it is witnessed, that he lyueth. And to say the truth, Leui himselfe also, which receiue the tythes, payed tythes in Abraham. For he was yet in the loynes of his father Abraham, when Melchisedech meet him. * If nowe therfore perfeccion came by the priesthode of the Leuites (for vnder the priesthode the people receiued the law) what nedeth further moze that an other priest should aryse after the order of Melchisedech, and not after the order of Aaron. Now no doubt * if the priesthode be translated, then of necessity must the law be translated also.

For he of whom these thyngs are spoken pertaineth vnto another tribe, of which neuer man serued at the aulter. For it is euident * that our lord sprong of the tribe of Iuda, of which tribe spake Moses nothyng concerning priesthode.

And it is yet a more euident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech, ther aryse another priest: whiche is not after the lawe of the carnall commaundement: but after the power of the endles life. (For he testifieth). Thou art a priest for ever, after the order of Melchisedech.

When the commaundemente that went before, is dysanulled, by cause of hyr weakness, and vnprofitableness. * For the lawe made nothyng perfect: but was an introduction of a better hope, by whiche hope we drawe nye vnto God.

And for this cause it is a better hope, that it was not promysed without an oth. (Those priestes wer made without an oth, but this priest with an oth, by him that sayed vnto him: The Lord swaie, and wil not repente. * Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedech.) And for that cause was Iesus a stablisher of a better testament.

And among them many were made priestes, because they wer not suffred to endure by the reason of death. But this man, because he endureth ever, hath an euerslastig priesthode. Wherefore he is able also ever to saue them that come vnto god by him, seynge he ever lyueth * to make intercessiō for vs.

Such an hye priest it became vs to haue, which is holpe, harmlesse, vndefyled, sepe- rate from sinners, and made hygher then heauen. Which nedeth not dayly (as pon- der hie priestes) to offer by sacrifice, first for his owne synnes, and then for the peoples synnes. For that dyd he at once for al, whē he offred by him selfe. * For the lawe maketh men priestes, whiche haue infirmitie: but the word of the oth that came sence the lawe, maketh the son priest, whiche is perfect for ever moze.

The. viii. Chapter.

Nowe gathereth he together all that he disputed at large, declarng that Christ is a priest, yea and an only priest, whose priesthode shall dure for ever, where as Aarons is already taken awaye, whiche he proueth by many argumentes and testymones.

Of the thynges which we haue spoken this is the ppth: that * we haue suche an hye priest that is sptten on the right hande of the seate of maiesty in heauen, and is a minister of holpe thynges, and of the very tabernacle whiche is without sight, and not man.

For euery hye priest is ordeyned to offer giftes and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity, that this man haue somewhat also to offer, for he were not a priest, if he wer on the earth where are priestes, that accordng to the law, offer gyftes * whiche priestes serue vnto the ensample and shadowe of heauenly thynges, euen as the answer of God was geuen vnto Moses, when he was about to finish the tabernacle. * Take hede (sayd he) that thou make al thynges accordng to the patrone shewed to the in the mount.

Now hath he obtained a more excellent offyce, in as much as he is the mediatoure of a better testament, whiche was made in better promyses. For if that first testamēt had bene faultlesse, then shoulde no place haue bene sought for the second. For in rebukng them, he sayth: * beholde the dayes wll come (sayth the Lord) and I wll synnsh vpon the house of Israel, and vpon the house of Iuda, a newe testamēt: not lyke the testament that I made wth their fathers at that tyme, when I toke them by the handes, to leade them oute of the lande of Egypt, * for they contynued not in my testament, and I regarded them not sayeth the Lord.

* For this is the testament that I wll make with the house of Israel: After those dayes sayeth the Lord, I wil put my lawes in their myndes, and in their hertes I wll wyte them, and I wil be theyr * God, and they shalbe my people. And they shall not teache euery man his neyghbour, and euery man his brother, saying: know the lord: For they shall knowe me, from the leste to the mooste of them. For I wll be merciful ouer their vnyghtuousnes, and on theyr iniquities. In that he sayeth a new testamēt

Christ once sacrificed poured
al synnes.
Gene. ix. b.
Heb. v. b.

Heb. iii. a
Ephes. i. c
Psalm. cix. a
1. Pet. ii. c.

Heb. x. a

Eph. xrb. b
Act. vii. f

Heb. xxi. e.

Couenante

Eccl. ii. b
and. xxi. f
Ite. vii. e

zach. vii. b

Apoc. xxi. b

De. xxi. a Iosu. xix. a
pa. xxi. b

Rom. tit. b.
Sala. ii. c.

Sala. ii. b

Gal. i. a. b

Gal. i. b
Rom. iii. b
and. vii. a.
Gal. iii. b. c
D. iii. a.

Gal. i. a

1. Pet. ii. a
1. Ihon. ii. a

The Epistle of S. Paule

ment he hath abrogat the olde. Nowe that which is disanulled and waxed old, is ready to vanishe awaye.

The ix. Chapter.

The dysputeth of Chyistes sacryfices, prouyng Chyist to be an onely oblacyn for the synnes of all the world: and that Aarons sacryfices, whiche were a figure, are viterlye abolyshed, because that Chyistes sacryfice is perfect, haupnge no nede to be done agayne.

That fyrst tabernacle verely had ordynaunces, and serupnges of God, and worldly holpnes. * For ther was a fore tabernacle made, wherein was the candlestick and the table, and the shew bread which is called holy: But within the second baile was there a tabernacle, which is called holpest of al, which had the golden sencer, and the arke of the testament ouerlaid round about with golde, wherein was the golden pot wpth manna, * and Aarons rodde that sprong, and the tables of the testament. Ouer the arke were the cherubs of gloire shadowynge the seate of grace. Of whych things, we will not now speake particularly.

When these things were thus ordeined, the priestes went alwayes into the first tabernacle and executed the serupce of God. * But into the second went the hye prieste alone euery yeare, and not without bloud, whiche he offered for himselfe, and for the ignoraunce of the people. Wherewyth the holy ghost this signified, that the way of holp thynge, was not yet opened, whyle as yet the fyrst tabernacle was standynge. Which was a similitude for the tyme then present, and in which were offered gyftes, and sacryfices that could not make the minister perfect, as pertaynyng to the conscience, with onely meates and drynckes and dyuers washynge and iustifynges of the fleshe, whych were ordeined vntyl the time of reformation.

But * Chyist beynge an hye priest of good thynge to come, came by a greater and a more perfecte tabernacle, not made wpth handes: that is to saye, not of this maner buildynge, neither by the bloude of goates and calues, but by his own bloud he entred once for all into the holy place, and founde eternall redempcyon. * For if the bloud of oxen and of goates, and the ashes of an heifer, when it was sprinkled, purified the vnclene, as touchynge the purgynge of the fleshe, Howe much more shall the bloude of Chyist (whiche thow the eternall spryde offered himself without spot to god) purge our consciences from dead workes, for to serue the lypynge God? And for this cause is he the mediator of the newe testamente, that thow death whych chaunced for the redempcyon of those transgressors that were in the first testamente, they whiche were called might receiue the promes of eternall inheritaunce. *

For wherforever is a testament, ther must also be the death of him that maketh the testament. * For the Testament takerhau thortye when men are dead. For it is of no value as longe as he that made it, is alpye. For whiche cause also, nether that fyrst testament was ordeyned without bloud.

To the hebr. Chap. x. Fo.

For when all the comaundements were reade of Moyses to all the people, he took the bloud of calues and of goates, with water and purple wol and psoy, and sprinkled both the booke and al the people, sayinge * this is the bloud of the testamente whych God hath apointed vnto pou. Moreouer, he sprinkled the tabernacle with bloude also, and all the ministring vessels. And also almost al thynge are by the lawe purged wpth bloud, and wpthout the shedynge of bloude is no remission.

It is then neede that the similitudes of heauenly thynge be purged wpth suche thynge: but the heauenly thynge themselves are purged with better sacryfices then are those. For Chyist is not entred into the holy places that are made with handes, whych are but similitudes of true thinges: but is entred into very heauen * for to appere now in the syght of God for vs: not to offer himselfe often as the hye priest entreth into the holy place euery yeare wpth straunge bloud, for then must he haue oft suffered sence the world began. But nowe in the ende of the worlde hath he appeared once to put sin to flight by the offerynge of himself. And as it is appointed vnto me that they shal once dye, and then cometh the iudgement, euen so Chyist was * once offered to take away the synnes of many, and vnto them that loke for hym * shall he appere agayn wpthout syn vnto saluacio.

The x. Chapter.

The cōtynueth to proue Chyist to be the onely and perfect sacryfice for synnes, shewynge wpthall the vse of the old sacryfices. Then goeth he to a newe matter, counsaylynge them agreeably to enter through true sayth into the waye, whych Chyist hath made open: drawynge the arrogaut thereto wpth threatenynge of punishment, but the good wpth hope of rewarde.

For the law whych hath * but the shadowe of good thynge to come, * not the thynge in theyr own fashon, can neuer wpth the sacryfices whych they offer yeare by yeare contynuallye, make the commers therunto perfect. For would not then those sacryfices haue ceased to haue bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of synnes? Neuertheles in those sacryfices is ther mencyon made of synnes euery yeare. * For it is vnpossyble that the bloud of oxen and of goates shoulde take awaye synnes.

Wherfore when he cometh into the world, he sayth: * Sacryfice and offerynge thou wouldest not haue: but a body hast thou ordeyned me. In sacrifices & synne offerings thou

Exo. xlv. a.

Le. xlviii. b.

Heb. viii. b.

Exo. xxx. b.

Leuit. xvi. a.

Luke. i. a.

John. i. a.

and. xlii. a.

He. v. c. vi. c.

and. viii. a.

1. Peter. i. d.

1. John. i. e.

Epoca. i. b.

1. Peter. iii. f.

Roma. v. d.

Gal. iii. b.

Ex. xliii. c.

Actes. vii. f.

and. xvii. d.

1. John. iii. a.

Leuit. xvi. g.

Roma. v. d.

1. Pet. iii. c.

Collos. i. e.

Leuit. xvi. e.

1. Peter. i. b.

1. John. i. b.

The Epistle of. S. Paule

to the Hebru. Chap. x. Fo. cvii.

thou hast no lust. When I said: Lo I come, in the chiefest of the booke it is wyrtten of me, that I shoulde do thy wyl & God. Above when he had sayed: sacrifice and offerings, and burnt sacrifices and syn offerings thou wouldest not haue, neyther hast allowed (whiche yet are offered by the lawe) and then sayed, Lo I come to do thy wyl & God: he taketh awaye the syn to stablysh the latter. By the whiche wyl we are sanctified, by the offeringe of the body of Iesu Chryst once for all.

And euerye priest is readye dayely ministeringe and oft tymes offereth one manner of offeringe whiche can neuer take away synnes. But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for synnes, satte hym downe for ever on the ryghte hand of God, & from hence forth tarieth til his foes be made his fote stole. For wylth one offeringe hath he made perfect for ever, the p are sanctified. And the holy gost also beareth vs record of this even whē he told before: * This is the testamente that I wyl make to theyn after those dayes sayeth the Lord, I wyl put my lawes in their herts, and in theyr mind I wyl write theyn, and theyr synnes and iniquities wyl I remember no more. And wher remission of these thynges is, there is no more offeringe for synne.

Seing brethren that by the menes of the bloude of Iesu, we maye be bolde to enter into that holpe place, by the newe and lypunge waye whiche he hath prepared for vs, thorowe the bayle, that is to saye by his fleshe. And seynge also that we haue an hie priest whiche is ruler ouer the house of god, let vs drawe nye wylth a true herte in a full sayeth * sprinkled in our hertes from an euill conscience, and washed in our bodies wylth pure water, and let vs keepe the profession of oure hope, wylthout wauerynge, for he is sayeth full that promysed, and let vs consider one an other to prouoke vnto loue, and to good woorkes, and let vs not forsake the feloweshyppe that we haue amonge oure selues, as the maner of some is, but let vs exhorte one another, and that so muche the more, because ye see the daye draweth nye.

(a) For if we synne wyllynglye after that wee haue receyued the knoweledge of the truthe, there remaineth no more sacrifice for synnes, but a feareful lokynge for iudgemente, and vpolente fyre, whiche shall deuoure the aduersaries. * He that despiseth Moyses lawe dyeth wylthout mercye vnder two or thre wptnesse. Of howe muche sozer punishmente suppose ye shal he be counted worthy, whiche treadeth vnder fote the son of God: and counteth the bloude of the Testamente as an vnholpe thyng, wherewith he was sanctified, and doeth dyshonoure to the spirite of grace?

For we knowe hym that hath sayed: * ven geaunce belongeth vnto me, I wyl recompence sayeth the Lord. And agayne: the Lord shall iudge hys people. It is a feare full thyng to fall into the handes of the lypunge God.

Call to remembraunce the dayes that are passed in the whiche after ye had receyued I lpyghte ye endured a greate syght in aduersities; partelye whyle al men wondred and gased at you, for the shame and tribulacion that was done vnto you, and partlye whyle ye became companions of them whiche so passed theyr tyme. For ye sufferd also with my bondes, and tooke in worth the spoylynge of goodes and that wylth gladnes, knowynge in your selues howe that ye had in heauen a better & an enduring substance. Cast not awaye therefore poure confidence whiche hath great reward to recompence. For ye haue neede of patience, p after ye haue done the wyl of god, ye might receiue the promes. * For yet a verie litle while, & he that shal come wil come, & wil not tarpe. * But the iust shal liue by sayeth: And if he wylth drawe him selfe, my soule shal haue no plesur in him. We are not, whiche wylth drawe our selues vnto damnacion, but pertaine to sayeth, to the winninge of p soule.

The Notes.

(a) This is it that is spoken of in the. vi. of this Epistle, & in Mat. the. xii. that is p sin of blasphemie agaynst the holy gost, whiche Ihon calleth the sinne to death. Let all such therefore as spare not to blaspheme the spirite of god, in resisting & railing vpon his word, knowe p their masse is no sacrifice for syn, but p the terrible iudgement of god remaineth for them, and their wycked ydolatre.

The. xi. Chapter.

First he teacheth what sayeth is: than describeth he p effect therof by many exaples, shewing that all the holpe, even from iust Abel, are saued only by sayeth.

Fayth is a sure (a) confidence of thynges which are hoped for, and a certaintie of thynges whiche are not sene. By it the Elders were well reported of. Thorowe sayth we vnderstand that the world was ordened by the word of god: and that thynges which are sene were made of thynges which are not sene. By sayth Abel offered vnto God a more plenteous sacrifice the Cain: by which he obtayned wptnes p he was rightuous, god testifying of his giftes, by which also he being deade, yet speaketh. By sayth was Enoch translated that he shuld not se death, neither was he found, for god had take him away. Before he was taken awaye, he was reported of p he had pleased god: but wout sayth it is vnpossible to please hym. For he that cometh to god, must beleue that god is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seke him.

By sayeth Noe honoured god, after that he was warned of thynges which were not sene, and prepared the arke to the saupnge of hys housholde, thorowe the whiche arke he cōdemned the worlde, and became heyre of the rightuousnes that cometh by sayth.

By sayth Abraham, when he was called

Itti.

obeyed

Chrysostom bo
dye is but once offered

Psalm. cxix. n.
I. Cor. xv. d

John. x. a
Rom. v. a Here fo-loweth
our duty,
if wee will be parta-
kers of mercy before reher-
sed.
Hebru. ix. d.
I. Peter. i. a

Rom. xv. c.
Hebru. vi. a

Deu. xvii. b
Mat. xviii.
Iho. viii. c.
II. cor. xiii. a

Deu. xxxii. e
Rom. xii. d

Actes. xxi
Ephe. iiii.

Hebru. ix. a

Romay. i.

Gala. iii. b

If we syn
wyllyngly

Genes. i. a

Gene. iii. a

Gene. v. c.

Gen. lxxiii. c.
Genes. vi. f.

The Epistle of. S. Paule

obeyed, to go out to a place, which he should afterward receive into inheritance, and he wente oute not knowepnge whither he shoulde go.

By fapth he remoued into the land þ was promised him, as into a strange countrey, & dwelt in tabernacles: & so did Isaac & Jacob, heires wpth hym of the same promes. For he looked for a citie haupng a foundaci on, whose builder and maker is God.

iii. Thow fapth Sara also recepued strength to be wpth child, & was deliuered of a child when she was past age, because she iudged hym faithful which had promised.

D And therfore sprong ther of one (& of one which was as good as deade) so manye in multitude, as the stars of the skye, & as the sande of the sea thow, whiche is innume- rable.

iii.c. And they al died in fapeth, & recepued not the promises: but sawe the a far of, & bele- ued them, & saluted the: & cofessed that they were straungers and pilgrims on the earth. They that say suche thynges, declare that they seke a countrey. Also if they had bene mindfull of þ countrey fro whence they came out, they hadde lesure to haue retourned a- gayne.

E But now they desire a better, that is to say an heauely. Wherfore god is not ashamed of them euen to be called they: God: for he hath prepared for them a citie.

ii.a In fapth Abraham offred vp Isaac, whē he ii.d. was tēpted, & he offred hym beyng his only xi.b begoten son, which had receiued the promi- x.b ses, of whō it was sayed, in Isaac shall thy ii.c. sede be called: for he considered þ god was able to rapse vp agayne from death. Wher fore recepued he him for an ensample. In fapeth Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau con- cernyng thynges to come.

f By fapth Jacob whā he was a dyng, bles- ix.c. sed both the sonnes of Joseph, and bowed hym selfe towarde the top of hys scepter:

d By fapth Joseph whē he died remembred the departyng of the childre of Israel, and gaue commaundement of hys bones.

ii.a. By fapth Moses whē he was borne, was h hpd thre monethes of his father & mother because they sawe he was a proper chylde, neither feared they the kynges commaun- demente.

ii.d By faith Moses when he was great, refu- sed to be called the son of pharaos daugh- ter, & chose rather to suffer aduersite wth the people of god, thē to enioy the pleasures of syn for a seson, & esteemed the rebuke of Christ greater thē the treasur of E- gypt. For he had respecte vnto the reward.

By fapeth he forsoke Egypte, and feared not the scarcenes of the kyng. For he en- dured euen as he had sene him which is in- uisible.

ii.c. Thow fapth he ordapned the ester Labe and the effusion of blood, leaste he that de- stroyed the fyrst borne shoulde touche them.

By fapeth they passed thow the redde ## to the hebru. Chap. xi.

sea, as by drye lande, whiche when the E- gipcians hadde assayed to doo, they were drowned.

By fapth the walles of Jerico fell downe Josua. v. r. after they were compassed about seue daies. Josa. vi. d.

By fapth the harlot Raab pershed not wpth vnbeleuers, when she hadde receiued spies to lodgng peaceabpe.

And what shall I more saye? the tyme woulde bee to shorte for me to tell of Be- deon, of Baruch, and of Sampson, and of Jephthae: also of Dauid and Samuell, & of the Prophets: & whiche thow fapth subdued kyngdoms: wrought ryghtuous- nes, obtayned the promyses, stopped the mouthes of yons, quēched the violence of fyre, escaped the edge of þ sword, of weake were made strong, waxed valiant in fght, tourned to fght the armys of aliaunts. And the women recepued theyr deade rap- sed to lyfe agayne.

Other were racked, and would not be de- liuered, þ they mought receiue a better re- surreccion. Other tasted of mockyngs and scourgynges, moreouer of bands and pry- sōment: were stoned, wer hewen a sunder, were tempted, were slayne wpth swerdes, walked vp and downe in shepes skynnes, in gote skynnes, in neede, tribulacion, and veracion, whiche the worlde was not wor- thy of: they wādered in wildernes, in mos- taynes, in dennes and caues of the yearth. And these al thow fapth obtayned good report, & and recepued not the promys, god prouidyng a better thyng for vs, that they wthout vs shoulde not be made perfecte.

The Notes.

(a) Who so hath in hym thys sure confidence, is at quyet in his conscience. Whiche quiernes can not be had by the trust in woorkes. For he that trusteth in hys woorkes shall alwayes thynke the epyther to bad, other els to fewe: so that they shal not be able to way agaynst hys enyl dedes, for so doo these whozemongers scan the matter betwene god and theyr consciences, and the they doute, and cannot by sure of theyr saluacion. Wherfore theyr lot is damnaciō. For he þ dou- teth cannot enioy the promises of God. He ther fore that shal enioy the promyses of god must al- surely beleue that the one woorkē of Chryste once done on the crosse, hath pacified the wrath of the father, and hath fullpe satisfyed for hys synnes, and that there is no more satisfyfacciō to be made.

The. xii. Chapter.

The returneth to that matter from whiche he strayed in the end of p̄teth chapter, & hortyng theym to pacience with many examples: then maketh he a reher sal of al, declarng the in- fymitye of Moyses law, and the authoritye of þ gospel, in that we be redemed with chris- tes sacrifice. Chā he exhorteth that we put our whole trust in Christ.

V Wherefore let vs also (seyng that we are compassed with so great a multi- tude of wptnes) laye away al that presseth downe, & the syn that hangeth on, and let vs runne wpth pacience vnto the battayle that is sette before vs, lookyng

Rom. vi. a.
Collo. iii. b
Eph. iii. c.
1. Pet. ii. a.
vnto

We be cal vnto Iesus the author and finisher of oure led to suf- faith, which for the ioy that was set before
fer. For wh him, abode the crosse, & despised the shame, out suffer- & is set down on the right hand of p throne ringe no of God. Consider therfore how that he enman ca be dureth such speakinge against him of syn-the son of ners, least ye shuld be werped and faint in
god. If a- poure mindes. For ye haue not yet resisted ny loue p vnto bloud shedding, struing against sinne.
law of god And ye haue not forgotten the consolaci& be chasti on, which speaketh vnto pou as vnto chyl-sed of god den: my sonne despyse not the chastening it is a com of the Lord, neither faint when thou art re-forte. buked of him. For whom the Lord loueth, him he chasteneth, yea, and he scourgeth e-uery sonne that he recepueth.

If ye endure chastenynge, God offereth himselfe vnto pou as vnto sonnes. What son is that who the father chasteneth not?

For ther- partakers) then ar ye bastards & not sons.
by he is Moreouer seynge we hadde fathers of our sure that flesh whiche corrected vs, and we gaue the God lo- reuerence: should we not much rather be in ueth hym, subieccion vnto the father of spiritual gif-and hathe tes, that we might liue? And they verely for chose hym a fewe daies, nurtered vs after their owne
to hys son pleasure: but he learneth vs vnto p whiche and hepe is profitable, that we might receiue of his
of euerla- holines. No maner chastysing for the presing lyfe. sent time semeth to be ioious, but greuous:
neuerthelesse afterwarde, it bringeth the

Whi God qupete fruite of rightuousnes vnto them, chastiseth which are therein exercysed.

Stretch forth therfore again the hands which were let down and the weake knees,
and see that ye haue straighte steppes vnto poure fete, lest any haltpng turne pou oute of the waye: yea let it rather be healed. Embrace peace with all men, & holynes, without the which no man shal se the lord. And loke to, that no man be destitute of p grace of God, & that no rote of bytternes spryng
vp and trouble, & therby many be defiled, & that ther be no fornicatoz or vncleane person, as (a) Esau whiche for one bzeckfaste

Gene. xxi. d. sold his birthrighte. Ye know how p after Gene. xxi. d. ward whan he woulde haue enherited the blessing, he was put by, & he found no mea-nes for to come therby againe, no, though he desired it with tears. For ye ar not come Spoke by vnto the mount that can be touched, & vn-a contrary to burnyng fyre, nor yet to mist and darckphaze p nes, & tempestie of wether, neither vnto the

is that founde of a trompe, & the voice of wordes, no manne which voice they p heard it wished awaye, dulle that the communicacyn shuld not be spo-touche. kent to them. For they were not able to a-byde that whych was spoke. If a beaust had touched the mountayne, it must haue bene stoned, or thrust thorow with a darte, euen
so terrible was the sighte which appeared.
Moyses saped: I feare and quake. But ye are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the cypre of the lpyng God, the celestypall Jerusalem: and to innumerable syght of aun-gels, and vnto the cōgregacyn of the first

borne sonnes, whych are writen in heauen, and to God the iudge of al, and to the spirates of iust and perfect men, and to Jesus the mediatoure of the newe testament, and to the spryncklyng of bloud that spea-
keth better then the bloude of Abel.

Se that ye despyse not him that speaketh.
For if they escaped not which refused him that spake on erth: much more shal we not escape, if we turne away fro him that speaketh from heaue: whose voice then shoulde the earth, and nowe declareth sayinge: yet once more wil I shake, not the earth only,
but also heauen.

No doubte that same that he sayeth yet
once more signifieth the remouing awaye of those thynges whych are shaken, as of thynges whych haue ended theyr course:
that the thynges whych are not shaken
maye remayne.

Wherfore if we receyue a kyngdom which is not moued, wee haue grace, whereby we may serue God, and please him wyth reue-rence and Godly feare. For oure God is a consumynge fyre.

The Notes.

(a) As Esau sold hys birthright for one bzeckfaste, and coulde not haue it agayne afterwarde when he repented: so they that sell the inheritaunce of heauen, for the fleshy luste and pleasures of the worlde can not by repentaunce re-couer that inheritaunce. For it is to be presupposed, that he that selleth a thyng, hath fyrste some state in the thyng that he selleth, & that he doeth willingly leaue al hys interest p he hath or can haue therein: to enioy suche thynges as he selleth it for. Wholocene therfore doeth wyllyngly leaue the interest that by the promyse of God he hath in the heauenly kyngdome, & betas-
keth hymself to the lustes of thys worlde to dwel therin: is not lyke to enioy p kyngdome agayne by repentaunce, for he hath synned agaynst the holy ghost, whych shall not be forgyuen in thys worlde, or in the worlde to come.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

He geueth them good admonycyns, wher-
in he commendeth Chyisten charytye, innocency of lyfe, fapth in Chyiste, and true relygyō.

Let brotherly loue contynue. Be not forgetful to lodge strangers. For ther-by haue dyuers receiued Angels into their houses vnwares. Remember the that are in bondes, euen as though ye wer bond wyth them. Be mindful of them whych are in aduersytye, as ye whiche are yet in poure bodpes. Let wedlocke be had in pruce in all poyntes, and let the chamber be vndefiled:
for whorekepers and aduouterers God will iudge. Let your conuersacyn be with out couetousnes, and be content with that ye haue already. For he verely said: I wyl not faple the, neyther forsake the: that we may boldly say: the Lord is my helper, and
I wyl not fear what man doeth vnto me.
Remember the which haue the ouersight of you, whych haue declared vnto pou the worde of God. The ende of whose conuersacyn se that ye looke vpon, and folowe theyr sayeth.

Itt. ii. Iesus

first bor-
sons, that is the sons
of God because the first born wer dedicated vnto
God.

Page. ii. b.

Deu. iii. d.

Esau.

A
Our duty
if we wyl
haue our part with Chyiste.

Iosua. i. i
Iosua. i. i

We be cal vnto Iesus the author and finisher of oure
led to suf- faith, which for the ioy that was set before
fer. For wh him, abode the crosse, & despised the shame, out suffer- & is set down on the right hand of p throne ringe no of God. Consider therefore how that he enman can be dureth such speakinge against him of syn-
the son of ners, least ye shuld be werped and faint in
god. If a- poure mindes. For ye haue not yet resisted ny loue p vnto bloud shedding, struing against sinne.
law of god And ye haue not forgotten the consolaci& be chasti on, which speaketh vnto pou as vnto chyl-red of god den: my sonne despyse not the chastening it is a com of the Lord, neither faint when thou art re-forte. buked of him. For whom the Lord loueth, him he chasteneth, yea, and he scourgeth e-
uery sonne that he recepueth.

If ye endure chastenynge, God offereth himselfe vnto pou as vnto sonnes. What son is that who the father chasteneth not?

For ther- partakers) then ar ye bastards & not sons.
by he is Moreouer seynge we hadde fathers of our
sure that flesh whiche corrected vs, and we gaue the God lo- reuerence: should we not much rather be in
ueth hym, subieccion vnto the father of spiritual gif-
and hathe tes, that we might liue? And they verely for chose hym a fewe daies, nurtered vs after their owne
to hys son pleasure: but he learneth vs vnto p whiche
and hepe is profitable, that we might receiue of his
of euerla- holines. No maner chastysing for the presing lyfe. sent time semeth to be ioious, but greuous:
neuerthelesse afterwarde, it bringeth the

Whi God qupete fruite of rightuousnes vnto them,
chastiseth which are therein exercysed.

Stretch forth therefore again the hands
which were let down and the weake knees,
and see that ye haue straighte steppes vnto
poure fete, lest any haltpng turne pou oute
of the waye: yea let it rather be healed. Embrace peace with all men, & holynes, without the which no man shal se the lord. And loke to, that no man be destitute of p grace
of God, & that no rote of bytternes spryng
vp and trouble, & therby many be defiled, &
that ther be no fornicatoz or vncleane person, as (a) Esau whiche for one bzeckfaste

Gene. xxi. d. sold his birthrighte. Ye know how p after Gene. xxi. d. ward whan he woulde haue enherited the blessing, he was put by, & he found no mea-
nes for to come therby againe, no, though

he desired it with tears. For ye ar not come Spoke by vnto the mount that can be touched, & vn-a contray to burnyng fyre, nor yet to mist and darckphaze p nes, & tempestie of wether, neither vnto the
is that founde of a trompe, & the voice of wordes,
no manne which voice they p heard it wished awaye,
dulle that the communicacyn shuld not be spo-touche. kent to them. For they were not able to a-byde that whych was spoke. If a bea had touched the mountayne, it must haue bene
stoned, or thrust thorow with a darte, euen
so terrible was the sighte which appeared.
Moyses saped: I feare and quake. But ye are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the cypre of the lpyng God, the celestypall Jerusalem: and to innumerable syght of aun-
gels, and vnto the cōgregacyn of the first

borne sonnes, whych are writen in hea-
uen, and to God the iudge of al, and to the spirates of iust and perfect men, and to Jesus the mediatoz of the newe testament,
and to the spryncklyng of bloud that spea-
keth better then the bloude of Abel.

Se that ye despyse not him that speaketh.
For if they escaped not which refused him
that spake on erth: much more shal we not
escape, if we turne away fro him that speaketh from heauē: whose voice then shoulde
the earth, and nowe declareth sayinge: yet
once more wil I shake, not the earth only,
but also heauen.

No doubte that same that he sayeth yet
once more signifieth the remouing awaye
of those thynges whych are shaken, as of
thynges whych haue ended theyr course:
that the thynges whych are not shaken
maye remayne.

Wherefore if we receyue a kyngdom which is not moued, wee haue grace, whereby we may serue God, and please him wyth reue-rence and Godly feare. For oure God is a consumynge fyre.

The Notes.

(a) As Esau sold hys birthright for one bzeckfast, and coulde not haue it agayne afterwarde
when he repented: so they that sell the inheritaunce of heauen, for the fleshy luste and pleasures of the worlde can not by repentaunce re-couer that inheritaunce. For it is to be presup-
posed, that he that selleth a thyng, hath fyrste
some state in the thyng that he selleth, & that he doeth willingly leaue al hys interest p he hath
or can haue therein: to enioy suche thynges as he sellet it for. Wholowce therefore doeth wyllyngly leaue the interest that by the promyse of God he hath in the heauenly kyngdome, & betas-
keth hymself to the lustes of thys worlde to dwel therin: is not lyke to enioy p kyngdome again by repentaunce, for he hath synned agaynst the holy ghost, whych shall not be forguen in thys worlde, or in the worlde to come.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

He geueth them good admonycyns, wher-
in he commendeth Chyisten charytye, innocency of lyfe, fapth in Chyiste, and true relgyō.

Let brotherly loue contynue. Be not forgetful to lodge strangers. For ther-
by haue dyuers receiued Angels into their houses vnwares. Remember the that are in bondes, euen as though ye wer bond wyth them. Be mindful of them whych are
in aduersytye, as ye whiche are yet in poure bodpes. Let wedlocke be had in pruce in all
poyntes, and let the chamber be vndefiled:
for whorkepers and aduouterers God will iudge. Let your conuersacyn be with out couetousnes, and be content with that
ye haue already. For he verely said: I wyl not faple the, neyther forsake the: that we may boldly say: the Lord is my helper, and
I wyl not fear what man doeth vnto me.
Remember the which haue the ouersight
of you, whych haue declared vnto pou the worde of God. The ende of whose conuersacyn se that ye looke vpon, and folowe
theyr sayeth.

Itt. ii. Iesus

first bor-
sons, that is the sons
of God because the first born
wer dedicated vnto
God.

Page. ii. b.

Deu. iii. d.

Esau.

Our duty
if we wyl
haue our part with Chyiste.

Iosua. i. i
Iosua. i. i

The Epistle of S. Paule

Iesus Christ yesterdage, and to day, and the same continueth for ever. & We not caried about with diuers and straunge learning. For it is a good thing, that the harte be stablished with grace, & not wpth meates, whiche haue not profyted them that haue had their pastime in them. Wee haue an altare, wherof they may not eate which serue in the tabernacle: For the bodys of those beastes, whose bloude is brought in to the holy place by p high priest to pource sinne, are burnt without the tentes. Therefore Iesus to sanctifye the people with his owne bloude, suffered without the gate.

Let vs go forth therfore oute of the tentes, and suffer rebuke wpth hym. For here haue we no contempning cylie: but we seeke one to come.

For by hym offer we the sacryfice of laude alwayes to God, that is to saye, the fruyte of those lyppes, whiche confesse his name. To do good, and to distribute, forget not, for with such sacryfices god is pleased. & Obey them that haue the ouerspyghte of you, and submytte your selues to them, for they watche for your soules, euen as they that must geue accomptes: that they maye do it with ioye, and not with griefe. For p is an vnprofytable thyng for you. Pray for vs. We haue confydence, because we haue a good conscience in all thyngs, and desire to liue honestly, I desyre you therfore some what the more abundantly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you quickly.

The God of peace that broughte agayne from deathoure Lorde Iesus, the greateshepherd of the shepe, thorow the bloude of the euerlastynge testamente, make you perfect in all good workes, to do his will, working in you that which is pleasaunt in his sight thorowe Iesus Christ. To whom be prayse for ever whyle the worlde endureth. Amen. &

I beseech you brethren, suffer the wordes of exhortacion. For we haue wrytten vnto you in few wordes: know the brother Ty-mothee, whom we haue sent from vs, wpth whom (if he come shortly) I will see you. Salute them that haue the ouerspyghte of you, and all the sayntes. They of Italy salute you. Grace be wpth you all. Amen.

Sent from Italy by Timotheus.

A Prologe v-

pon the Epistle of S. James and Iudas.

Though this Epistle were refused in the old tyme, and denyed of many to be the Epistle of a very Apostle, and though also it laye not the foundation of the sayeth of Christe, but speaketh of a generall sayeth in God, neyther preacheth his death and resurrection, eyther the mercede that is layed by in stoor for vs in hym, or euerlastynge couenant made vs in his blood,

To the Hebr. Chapt. xiii.

whiche is the offyce and duetye of a very Apostle, as Christ sayeth. Ihon. xv. ye shall testyfy of me: yet because it setteth vp no mans doctryne, but repeth to kepe the lawe of God, and maketh loue whiche is without parcialitie, the fullfilling of the lawe, as Christe and al the Apostles did, & hath thereto so many good and Godly sentences in it: and hath also nothyng that is not agreeable to the rest of the scripiture, if it be looked indifferently on: me thynketh, it oughte of ryght to be taken for holy scripiture. For as for that place for whiche haply it was at the begynnyng refused of holie men (as it ought, if it had meant as they toke it, and for whiche place onely, for the false vnderstandynge, it hath bene chiefly receyued of the Papistes) yet if the circumstances be well pondered, it wyl appear that the authores entente was farre otherwyse then they toke hym for.

For where he sayeth in the second cha. sayeth wthoute dedes is deade in it selfe, he meaneth none other thyng then all the scripiture doeth: how that, that sayeth that hath no good dedes folowynge, is a false sayth. and none of p sayth that iustifyeth or receyueth forgettenes of syns. For God promysed them onelye forgiveness of their sins which turn to god, to kepe his lawes.

Wherefore they p purpose to contynue stil in synne, haue no parte in that promise: but deceiue themselves, if they beleue that God hath forgiven them theyr old syns for Christes sake. And after when he sayeth that a man is iustified by dedes, and not of sayth onelye, he wyl no more, then that sayth doth not so iustifye every wher, that nothyng iustifyeth, saue sayth. For dedes also do iustifye. And as sayeth onelye iustifyeth before God, so do dedes onelye iustifye before the world, wherof is ynough spoken, partely in p Prologe on Paule to the Romaynes, and also in other places. For as Paule asseyrneth. Rom. iii. that Abraham was not iustified by workes before God, but by sayth onelye, as Genesis beareth record, so wyl James, that dedes onelye iustified hym before the world, & sayth wroughte wth his dedes: that is to say, sayth wherewith he was ryghtuous before God in the herte, dyd cause hym to worke the wyl of God outwardlye, whereby he was ryghtuous before p world, and wherby the worlde perceyued that he beleued in God, loued and feared God. And as Hebr. xi. the scripiture asseyrneth that Raab was iustified before god thorow sayth, so doth James asseyrne that thorow workes, by whiche she shewed hyr sayeth, she was iustified before the world, and it is true.

And as for the epistle of Iudas, though men haue and yet do doubt of the authour, and though it seme also to be drawen oute of the seconde Epistle of S. Peter, and thereto alledgeth scripiture that is no wher found, yet sayng the matter is so Godlye and agreynge to other places of holie scripiture, I le not but that it ought to haue the authority of holy scripiture.

The epistle of the Apostle saynt James.

The first Chapter.

He treateth of patient sufferynge of persecucion, teachynge from whence, & how Gods wysdom ought to be enuyed therunto. The Disputeth he agaynst them whiche sayed they were

The Epistle of S. Paule

Iesus Christ yesterdage, and to day, and the same continueth for ever. & We not caried about with diuers and straunge learning. For it is a good thing, that the harte be stablished with grace, & not wpth meates, whiche haue not profyted them that haue had their pastime in them. Wee haue an altare, wherof they may not eate which serue in the tabernacle: For the bodys of those beastes, whose bloude is brought in to the holy place by p high priest to pource sinne, are burnt without the tentes. Therefore Iesus to sanctifye the people with his owne bloude, suffered without the gate.

Let vs go forth therefore oute of the tentes, and suffer rebuke wpth hym. For here haue we no contempnyng cytie: but we seeke one to come.

For by hym offer we the sacryfice of laude alwayes to God, that is to saye, the fruyte of those lyppes, whiche confesse his name. To do good, and to distribute, forget not, for with such sacryfices god is pleased. & Obey them that haue the ouerspyghte of you, and submytte your selues to them, for they watche for your soules, euen as they that must geue accomptes: that they maye do it with ioye, and not with griefe. For p is an vnprofytable thyng for you. Pray for vs. We haue confydence, because we haue a good conscience in all thyngs, and desire to liue honestly, I desyre you therefore some what the more abundantly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you quickly.

The God of peace that broughte agayne from deathoure Lorde Iesus, the greate shepheard of the shepe, thorow the bloude of the euerlastyng testamente, make you perfect in all good workes, to do his will, working in you that which is pleasaunt in his sight thorowe Iesus Christ. To whom be prayse for ever whyle the worlde endureth. Amen. &

I beseech you brethren, suffer the wordes of exhortacion. For we haue wrytten vnto you in few wordes: know the brother Ty-mothee, whom we haue sent from vs, wpth whom (if he come shortly) I will see you. Salute them that haue the ouerspyghte of you, and all the sayntes. They of Italy salute you. Grace be wpth you all. Amen.

Sent from Italy by Timotheus.

A Prologe v-

pon the Epistle of S. James and Iudas.

Though this Epistle were refused in the old tyme, and denyed of many to be the Epistle of a very Apostle, and though also it laye not the foundation of the sayeth of Christe, but speaketh of a generall sayeth in God, neyther preacheth his death and resurrection, eyther the mercede that is layed by in stoor for vs in hym, or euerlastyng couenant made vs in his blood,

To the Hebr. Chapt. xiii.

whiche is the offyce and duetye of a very Apostle, as Christ sayeth. Ihon. xv. ye shall testyfy of me: yet because it setteth vp no mans doctryne, but repeth to kepe the lawe of God, and maketh loue whiche is without parcialitie, the fullfilling of the lawe, as Christe and al the Apostles did, & hath thereto so many good and Godly sentences in it: and hath also nothyng that is not agreeable to the rest of the scripiture, if it be looked indifferently on: me thynketh, it oughte of ryght to be taken for holy scripiture. For as for that place for whiche haply it was at the begynnyng refused of holie men (as it ought, if it had meant as they toke it, and for whiche place onely, for the false vnderstandyng, it hath bene chiefly receyued of the papistes) yet if the circumstances be well pondered, it wyl appear that the authores entente was farre otherwyse then they toke hym for.

For where he sayeth in the second cha. sayeth wthoute dedes is deade in it selfe, he meaneth none other thyng then all the scripiture doeth: how that, that sayeth that hath no good dedes folowynge, is a false sayth. and none of p sayth that iustifyeth or receyueth forgettenes of syns. For God promysed them onely forgiveness of their sins which turn to god, to kepe his lawes.

Wherefore they p purpose to contynue stil in synne, haue no parte in that promise: but deceiue themselves, if they beleue that God hath forgiven them theyr old syns for Christes sake. And after when he sayeth that a man is iustified by dedes, and not of sayth onely, he wyl no more, then that sayth doth not so iustify every wher, that nothyng iustifyeth, saue sayth. For dedes also do iustify. And as sayeth onely iustifyeth before God, so do dedes onely iustify before the world, wherof is ynough spoken, partely in p Prologe on Paule to the Romaynes, and also in other places. For as Paule asseyrneth. Rom. iii. that Abraham was not iustified by workes before God, but by sayth onely, as Genesis beareth record, so wyl James, that dedes onely iustified hym before the world, & sayth wroughte wth his dedes: that is to say, sayth wherwith he was ryghtuous before God in the herte, dyd cause hym to worke the wyl of God outwardly, whereby he was ryghtuous before p world, and wherby the worlde perceyued that he beleued in God, loued and feared God. And as Hebr. xi. the scripiture asseyrneth that Raab was iustified before god thorow sayth, so doth James asseyrne that thorow workes, by whiche she shewed hyr sayeth, she was iustified before the world, and it is true.

And as for the epistle of Iudas, though men haue and yet do doubt of the authour, and though it seme also to be drawen oute of the seconde Epistle of S. Peter, and thereto alledgeth scripiture that is no wher found, yet sayng the matter is so Godlye and agreynge to other places of holie scripiture, I le not but that it ought to haue the authority of holy scripiture.

The epistle of the Apostle saynt James.

The first Chapter.

He treateth of payent sufferynge of persecucion, teachynge from whence, & how Gods wysdom ought to be enuyed therunto. The Disputeth he agaynst them whiche sayed they were

The Epystle of S.

were tempted of the Lord, and that god was the author of euyl, Chan exhorteth he to expresse Goddes word in our lyfynge, shewynge wythall what relygion is.

A

James the seruaunte of God and of the lord Iesus Christ, sendeth greting to the twelue tribes which are scattered here and ther. My brethren, count it excedynge ioye

Roma. v. a when ye fall into dyuers temptacions, for as much as ye knowe how that the tryng of poure fapth byngeth pacience: and let pacience haue hys perfect worke, þe ye may be perfect and (a) sound, lacking nothing.

Mat. vii. a If any of you lacke wysedome, let hym Mat. xi. c. and. xxi. c. Mat. xi. c. Lu. xxi. b Ios. viii. b and. xvi. e. ask of God, whych geueth to al men indifferently, and casteth no man in the teth: & it shalbe geuen him. But lette him be in faith, and wauer not. For he that doubteth is lyke the waues of the sea, tost of þe wind and carped with violence. Neyther let that man thinke, that he shal receiue any thing of the Lord. A wauering minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.

B (b) Let the brother of low degre reioice in that he is exalted, and the rich in that he is made lowe. For euen as the flower of the grasse, shall he vanishe away. The sunne riseth with heate, and the grasse wydereth, and his floure falleth away, and the beauty of the fashion of it perysheth, euē so shal the rich man perishe with his aboundaunce.

Eccle. xix. c. Esa. lxxx. b

Happye is the man that endureth in temptation, for when he is tried he shal receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promysed to them that loue him. &

1. Petr. i. a. Job. v. c.

Let no man say when he is tempted that he is tempted of God. For God (c) tempteth not vnto euil, neyther tempteth he any man. But euery man is tempted, drawn a waye, and entyled of his owne concupiscence. When when lust hath conceived, she bringeth forth syn, and syn when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

Erre not my deare brethren. & Euery good gifte, and euery perfecte gift, is from aboue, and cometh downe from the father of light, with whom is no variableness, neyther is he chaunged vnto darcknes. Of his own wil begat he vs with the word of life, that we shuld be the first fruits of his creatures. Wherefore deare brethren, let euery man be swift to hear, slowe to speake, and slowe to wrath. For the wrath of man worketh not that whiche is rightuous before God. Wherefore lay apart filthines, all superfluite of malicioulnes, & receiue with mekenes the worde that is grafted in you, which is able to saue your soules: &

Mat. vii. b And se that ye be doers of the word & not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne selues with sophistry. For if any hear the worde, and do it not, he is like vnto a man that beholdeth his bodely face in a glasse. For as sone as he hath looked on him selfe, he go-

James, Chapter. ii. Fo. cix.

eth his waye, and forgetteth immediately what hys fashion was. But whoso loketh in the perfect law of libertie, and contynueth therein (if he be not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worcke) the same shal be happy in his dede. If any man among you seme deuout, and refraine not his tounge, but deceyue hys owne hert: this mans deuotion is in vayne. Pure deuotion and vndefiled before God the father is this, to visite the fatherles and wyddowes in ther aduersitie, and to kepe him selfe vnspotted of the world. &

Pure deuotion.

The Notes.

(a) Sound, after the Hebrewes signyfeth hym þe in leauinge the wysdome of the chyliden of this world, and procurynge for his own profit, lyueth a simple lyfe and wythout blame. Such one was Jacob, of whom Genes. xxi. d.

Sound.

(b) In Christ we are al lyke good, and euen seruantes eche to other for Christes sake, euerye man in hys offyce. And he that taketh more on hym then that, of whatsoeuer degre he be, is a false Christian, and an Apostata from Christe.

Let the brother.

(c) Almighty God hath alway tempted and proued his electe, by trouble and persecucion, & by nourtyng them with outward plages. Neuertheles, he doeth it not vnto euil, but for good, namely because he loueth them & wil haue theyr fapth exercepled. Thus tepted he Abraham, Gene. xxi. & the Israelites. Deu. viii. As for the temptation that we pray in the Vater noster to be deliuered from it, is the luste and concupiscence of our fleshe, wherby we are entyled to euyl.

God tempteth not.

The. ii. Chapter.

He speaketh agaynst the acception of persons, teachynge to obserue in all thyngs þe lawe of charity. Chan enuegeth he agaynst swelling through the vaine title of fapth, teachynge that faith except it worke, is dead & vnpofytable.

Brethren haue not the fapth of oure lord Iesus Christ, the lord of glorie in respect of persons. If ther come into your company a man with a golden ryng & in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poore man in vyle raimente: and ye haue a respecte to him that weareth the gape clothyng, and saye vnto him. Sit thou here in a good place: and say vnto the poore, stand thou ther, or sit here vnder my fote stole, ar ye not parcial in your selues, and haue iudged after euyl thoughtes?

Harken my deare beloued brethren. Hath not God chosen the poore of this worlde, whych are ryche in fapth, and heires of the kyngdome whiche he promysed to the that loue him? But ye haue despyled the poore. Are not the ryche they whych oppresse you: and they whiche drawe you before iudges? Do not ther speake euil of that good name after which ye be named.

If ye fulfill þe royal law accordyng to the scripture whych sayth: Thou shalt loue thy neyghboure as thy selfe, ye doo well. But if ye regarde one person more then another, ye commytte synne, and are rebuked of the lawe as transgressours. Whosoener shal kepe the whole lawe, and yet fayle in one poynte, he is gyltye in all.

Leuit. xix.

For he that sayed: thou shalt not commit

The Epistle of Saynte.

aduoutpe, saped also: thou shalt not kyll. Though thou do none aduoutpe, yet if thou kyll thou arte a transgressor of the lawe.

So speake ye, and so do, as they that shall be iudged by the law of libertie. For they sheweth no mercy, and mercy reioysseth against iudgemente.

What auapleth it my brethren, though a man sape he hath sayeth, when he hath no dedes? (a) Can sayeth saue hym? If a brother or a sister be naked or destitute of dayly fode, and one of you say vnto them: Departe in peace, God sende you warmenes and fode: not wythstandyng ye geue them not those thyngs whych are nedeful to the body, what healeth it then? Euen so saith if it haue no dedes is deade in it selfe. Yea and a man myghte sape: Thou haste sayth and I haue dedes: Shewe me thy sayth by thy dedes, and I wyll shewe the my sayth by my dedes. Beleuest thou that ther is one God? Thou doest wel. The deuyls also beleue and tremble.

Wylte thou vnderstande (D thou vaine man) that sayeth wythout dedes is deade. Was not Abraham oure father (b) iustified thowowe workes when he offred Isaac his son vpon the altare? Thou seest howe that sayeth wrought wyth his dedes, & through the dedes his sayth was made perfect, and the scripture was fulfilled whych sayeth: Abraham beleued God and it was reputed vnto hym for rightuousnes: and he was called the frende of God. (c) Ye se then how that of dedes a man is iustified, and not of sayth onely. Likewyse also was not Rahab the harlot iustified thowow workes, whiche she receiued the messengers, and sent them out another waye? For as the body wythout the spirite is dede, euen so sayeth wythout dedes is deade.

The Notes.

(a) James speaketh not here of the true and liuely sayeth whych by loue is myghtye in operation. But of the vayne imaginacion and opinion that the vnthankful people haue of faith. And because there folowe no good workes of it, he calleth it deade sayeth, where contrarye wyse the sayeth where by we be accepted & made iust in the syghte of God, byngeth forth good workes plentifully.

(b) Too be iustified in this place, and thowowe out this whole Chapter, is to be declared iust in the syght of the worlde, as in Luke. x. e. 7. xvi. d. not to be made iust in the syghte of God. So that when he sayeth: Was not Abraham our father made iust thowowe workes. &c. He meaneth this. Was not oure father Abraham, by his workes declared iust? That is, dyd not his workes declare and shew that he was iust, and were sure tokens of his rightuousnes? It signifieth not that Abraham was by his workes made iust before God, reputed rightuous, and obteyned remission of synnes: For by sayth he came thereby as wytnesseth Paule. Rom. iii. a.

(c) That is by the workes of iustice, the manne that doth them is declared to be iust, euen as the good tre is knowen by the good fruite that it byngeth forth. Other interpretation maye wee make none of this place. For there coulde nothyng be more folyshe then this sayinge of James, if a man woulde thus enterprete it. That no man obtayneth remission of syns, but because his workes are worthy of greate benefyte.

Judas. Chap. iii.

What so euer he be that stycketh by this interpretation vnderstandeth not what remission of synnes is, or how the conscience oughte to be comforted when it seeth that it byngeth no good workes, whych are sufficiente to please hym.

Yea this interpretation is cleane contrarye to other open sayings of the scripture, whych teach that remission of synnes cometh freely, as the psalmist sayeth: I wyll acknowledge myne offence vnto the lord, and thou forgauest me the wyckednes of my synne. And Roma. iii. a. To hym that worketh not, but beleueth on hym that iustifieth the vngodly. &c. What canne be more playnely spoken then that synnes are forgiven to the wycked and vngodly man that worketh not, not for anye of his workes, but freely. To conclude, if the gospel forgue not syns but for our good workes sake, and for our worthynes, it dyffereth nothyng from the lawe, nor saueyth any more then the lawe. I truste this wyll suffice the good and wyse. For as touchyng them that byng nothyng vnto this cause, but a wil to braule and chide, wyl neuer suffer them selues to be satisfied. And yet if wee woulde contend by the nuber of authorities, this one place of James, is ouerthrowen by many testimonies of .i. Paul: if men wyl vnderstand by iustification one thyng in the both. When Paule therfore sayeth: sayth iustifieth vnderstande there by that sayth causeth that we be accounted iust reputed rightuous, & that oure syns be not imputed vnto vnto vs, but forgiven vs for Christes sake. When James saith, workes iustifieth, he meaneth thus: Workes declare vs iust, and shew euidentlye that we be rightuous. Thus shalt thou make the accord. Place saileth me (O reader) rather then tyme or wyll, or else woulde I yet haue spoken more of this thyng.

The.iii. Chapter

He sayeth such as being vnable to teach, depre the office. Than teacheth he howe to order the tong & wytt, whych ar two chiefe pointes in a preacher, shewing what is the proper tyte of them, how they should be gyded.

My brethren be not euery man a master, remembryng how that we shall receiue the more damnacion: for in many thynges we synne all. Yf a man syn not in woorde, the same is a perfecte man and able to tame all the bodye. Beholde we put byttes into the horses mouthes that they shoulde obey vs, and we tourne about all the bodye. Behold also the hyppes whiche thoughe they be so greate and are dyuen of fiers wyndes, yet are they tourned aboute wth a very small helme, whether soeuer the violence of the gouerner wil. Euen so the tounge is a lyttell member, and boasteth greate thynges.

Beholde howe greate a thyng a lyttell fyre kyndelet, and the tounge is fyre, and a woilde of wyckednes. So is the tong set amonge oure members, that it defileth the whole bodye, and setteth a fyre all that we haue of nature, and is it self set a fyre euen of hell.

The Epistle of S.

James. Chapter. iiii. Fo. cc.

W All the natures of beastes, and of byrds, and of serpentes, and things of the sea, are meked and tamed of the nature of mā. But the tong can no man tame. It is an vntruly euil, ful of deadly popson. Therwith blesse we God the father, and therwith curse we men which are made after the sympletyude of God. Out of one mouth proceedeth blesynge & cursynge. My brethren these thinges ought not so to be. Doth a fountayne send forth at one place swete water & bytter also? Can the figge tree, my Brethren, beare Olyue berres: epyther a vyne beare fygges? So canne no fountayne geue both salt water and freshe also. If anye man be wyle and endued wth learnynge amonge you, let him shewe the workes of his good conuersacion in mekenes that is coupled with wylsome.

Wylsome. At mekenes & obedience, must be accordynge to the wylsome and word of God.

But if ye haue bytter enuynges & stryfe in your hertes, reioyce not: neyther be ye that a man as agaynst the truth. This wylsome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthy, and natural, and deuylishe. For where enuyng and stryfe is, ther is vnstabilenes and al manner of euil workes. But the wylsome that is from aboue, is fyrst pure, then peaceable, getle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy, and of good frutes, without iudgeynge, and without simulacion: peace & the fruit of rightuousnes is sowne in peace, of them that mainteine peace.

The. iiii. Chapter.

He enueyeth sore agaynst the study for yuate lucre, shewynge what punishment the auaricious shal haue. Then he rebuketh backbiters and euill speakers. Laste he disputeth agaynst those whych through a proud presumption of mynde purpose to doo all thynges by theyr owne counsaile, not by the prouidence of God.

From whence cometh war and fightynge among you: come they not here hence: euen of your voluptuousnes, & rayne in your members? Ye lust and haue not. ye enuey and haue indignacion, and cannot obtayne. ye fyght and war, & haue not, because ye are not. ye are and receyue not, because ye are amisse: euen to consume it vpon your voluptuousnes. Ye aduouterars, and women that breake matrimony:
know ye not howe that the friendshippe of the worlde is enmitie to Godward? Whosoeuer will be a frend of the worlde, is made the enemy of God. Either do ye thyncke & the scripture sayeth in baine. The spiryte that dwelleth in you, lusteth euen contrarye to enuy, but geueth more grace.

Stryfe
Whence it
cometh.
Why men
obtain not.

He is lo-
ued of the worlde, is hated of
God.

Christis spy-rit, which is in al that be hye. Ro.
viii. resp-
deth hate,
enuey, and
all synne.
Whose motion if we follow, grace encrea-
seth in vs, &

Submytte your selues to God, & respdeth the deuyl, and he wyllye fro you. Draw nye to God, and he wyllye drawe nye to you.
Clenge youre handes ye spynners, & pouge your hertes ye waueryng mynded. Suffer affliccyon: sozowe ye and wepe. Let poure laughter be turned to mournynge, and poure ioye to heaupnes. Cast downe poure selues before the Lorde, and he shal lyft you vp.

Backbite not one another, brethren. He that backbite his brother, & he that iudgeth his brother, backbite the lawe, and iudgeth the lawe. But if thou iudge the lawe, thou arte not an obseruer of the lawe, but a iudge. There is one law geuer, which is able to saue and to destroy. What art thou that iudgeth another man?

Go to now ye that say, to daye & to mo-rowe, lette vs go into such a citty and continue there a peare, and bye and sell, & wyn:
and yet cannot tell what shall happen too-morrow. For what thyng is your lyfe? It is euen a vapoure that appeareth for a lyttel tyme, and then vanysheth awaye. For that ye ought to saye: if the Lord will, and if we lyue, let vs do thys or that. But now ye re-ioyce in poure boastynge. Al such reioysynge is euill. Therefore to him (a) that knoweth how to do good, and doeth it not, to hym it is synne.

The Notes.

(a) He that knoweth and yet doeth not, is without excuse. For God hath promysed no mercy, but to theym that wyllye do theyr good wyllye.

The. v. Chapter.

First he enueyeth agaynst security, luxury, iniquitye and tyranny of ryche men. Then con-fyteth he the afflicted, perswadyng them to be patient: he forbyddeth swearyng, he teacheth what to do for the synne, he sheweth the fruyte of deuout prayer, and byddeth to byng vnto the way agayne suche as go astraye.

Go to now ye ryche men. Weepe, and howle on your wretchednes that shal come vpon you. Your riches is corrupt, your garmentes are motheaten. Your gold and your syluer are cankered, and the rust of them shalbe a witnes vnto you, and shal eate your flesh, as it were fyre. ye haue heaped treasure together in poure laste dayes: Beholde the hye of the labourers whych haue reaped doune your fieldes (whych hire is of you kepte backe by fraud) cryeth: and the cryes of them whiche haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the lord Sabaoth.
Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth and in wantonnes. ye haue nourished your her-tes as in a day of slaughter. ye haue condemned and haue killed the iuste, & he hath not respsted you.

Be ye patiente therefore brethren, vnto the comynge of the Lord. Behold the husband man waighteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience thervpon, vntyll he receyue the earlye and the latter (b) rayne. Be ye also patient therefore, and sette your hertes, for the comynge of the Lord draweth nye. Grudge not one agaynst another brethren, lest ye be damp-ned. Beholde the iudge standeth before the dore. Take (my brethren) the prophetes for an example of sufferyng aduersitye, and of longe patience, whych spake in the name of the Lorde. &

Behold we count the happy which endure, ye haue hearde of the patience of Job, and

The Epistle of S.

James. Chapter. iiii. Fo. cc.

All the natures of beastes, and of byrds, and of serpentes, and things of the sea, are meked and tamed of the nature of mā. But the tong can no man tame. It is an vntruly euil, ful of deadly popson. Therwith blesse we God the father, and therwith curse we men which are made after the sympletyude of God. Out of one mouth proceedeth blesynge & cursynge. My brethren these thinges ought not so to be. Doth a fountayne send forth at one place swete water & bytter also? Can the figge tree, my Brethren, beare Olyue berres: epyther a vyne beare fygges? So canne no fountaine geue both salt water and freshe also. If anye man be wyle and endued wth learnynge amonge you, let him shewe the workes of his good conuersacion in mekenes that is coupled with wylsome.

Wylsome. At mekenes & obedience, must be accordynge to the wylsome and word of God.

But if ye haue bytter enuynges & stryfe in your hertes, reioyce not: neyther be ye that a man is agaynst the truth. This wylsome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthy, and natural, and deuylishe. For where enuyng and stryfe is, ther is vnstableness and al manner of euil workes. But the wylsome that is from aboue, is fyrst pure, then peaceable, getle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy, and of good frutes, without iudgeynge, and without simulacion: peace & the fruit of rightuousnes is sowne in peace, of them that mainteine peace.

The. iiii. Chapter.

He enueyeth sore agaynst the study for yuate lucre, shewynge what punishment the auaricious shal haue. Then he rebuketh backbiters and euill speakers. Laste he disputeth agaynst those whych through a proud presumption of mynde purpose to doo all thynges by theyr owne counsaile, not by the prouidence of God.

From whence cometh war and fighsynge among you: come they not here hence? euen of your voluptuousnes, & rapine in your members? Ye lust and haue not. ye enuey and haue indignacion, and cannot obtayne. ye fyght and war, & haue not, because ye are not. ye are and receyue not, because ye are amisse: euen to consume it vpon your voluptuousnes. Ye aduoucers, and women that breake matrimony: know ye not howe that the friendship of the worlde is enmitie to Godward? Who soeuer will be a frend of the worlde, is made the enemy of God. Either do ye thyncke the scripture sayeth in vaine. The spiryte that dwelleth in you, lusteth euen contrary to enuy, but geueth more grace.

Stryfe whence it cometh. Why men obtain not.

He is loved of the worlde, is hated of God.

Christis spirite, which is in al that be hye. Ro. viii. restryketh hate, enuey, and all synne. Whose motion if we follow, grace encreaseth in vs, &

Submytte your selues to God, & respyte the deuyl, and he wyll flye fro you. Draw nye to God, and he wyll drawe nye to you. Clenge youre handes ye spinners, & pouge your hertes ye waueryng mynded. Suffer affliction: sorrowe ye and wepe. Let your laughter be turned to mournynge, and your ioye to heauynes. Cast downe your selues before the Lorde, and he shall lyft you vp.

Backbite not one another, brethren. He that backbiteth his brother, & he that iudgeth his brother, backbiteth the lawe, and iudgeth the lawe. But if thou iudge the lawe, thou arte not an obseruer of the lawe, but a iudge. There is one law geuer, which is able to saue and to destroy. What art thou that iudgeth another man?

Go to now ye that say, to daye & to morowe, lette vs go into such a cite and continue there a yere, and bye and sell, & wyne: and yet cannot tell what shall happen too morowe. For what thyng is your lyfe? It is euen a vapoure that appeareth for a lyttel tyme, and then vanysheth awaye. For that ye ought to saye: if the Lord will, and if we lyue, let vs do thys or that. But now ye reioyce in your boastynge. Al such reioysynge is euill. Therefore to him (a) that knoweth how to do good, and doeth it not, to hym it is synne.

The Notes.

(a) He that knoweth and yet doeth not, is without excuse. For God hath promysed no mercede, but to them that wyll do theyr good wyll.

The. v. Chapter.

First he enueyeth agaynst security, luxury, iniquitye and tyranny of rich men. Then cometh he the afflicted, perswadyng them to be patient: he forbiddeth swearynge, he teacheth what to do for the synne, he sheweth the fruite of deuout prayer, and byddeth to byng vnto the way agayne suche as go astraye.

Go to now ye ryche men. Weepe, and howle on your wretchednes that shal come vpon you. Your riches is corrupt, your garmentes are motheaten. your gold and your syluer are cankered, and the rust of them shalbe a witnes vnto you, and shal eate your flesh, as it were fyre. ye haue heaped treasure together in your laste dayes: Beholde the hye of the labourers whych haue reaped doune your fieldes (whych hire is of you kepte backe by fraud) cryeth: and the cryes of them whiche haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the lord Sabaoth. Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth and in wantonnes. ye haue nourished your hertes as in a day of slaughter. ye haue condemned and haue killed the iuste, & he hath not respyted you.

Be ye patiente therefore brethren, vnto the comynge of the Lord. Behold the husband man waighteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience there vpon, vntyll he receyue the earlye and the latter (b) rapne. Be ye also patient therefore, and settle your hertes, for the comynge of the Lord draweth nye. Grudge not one agaynst another brethren, lest ye be dampned. Beholde the iudge standeth before the doore. Take (my brethren) the prophetes for an example of sufferyng aduersitye, and of longe patience, whych spake in the name of the Lorde.

Behold we count the happy which endure, ye haue hearde of the patience of Job, and

The Epytyle of Sayncte.

haue knowen what ende þ lord made. For the Lord is verp pytiful and merciful.

Math. v. f.

But aboue al thinges my brethren, sweare not, neyther by heauen, neyther by earth, neyther by any other othe. Let your (c) pea be pea, and your nape, nape: lest ye fall in to hyppocrisie. Yf any of you be euyl bered, let him praye. Yf anye of you be merpe, let hym syng psalmes. Yf any be dyspleased among you, let hym cal for the elders of the congregacion, and let them praye ouer him and anoynte hym with oyle in the name of the Lorde, and the (d) prayer of fayth shall saue the sycke, and the Lorde shall raple hym vp: and if he haue committed synnes, they shalbe forgiven hym.

Mar. vi. b.

Knowledg your fautes one to another and pray one for another, þ ye may be healed. The prayer of a rightuouse man auayleth much if it be feruent. Elias was a mā mortal, euen as we are and he praied in his praier that it myghte not raine, & it rained not on the earth by the space of threer petes & syre monethes. And he prayed agayne, & the heauen gaue raine, & the earth brought forth her fruite.

ii. re. xvi. a.

Luk. iiii. d.

Mat. xviii. c.

Brethren if any of you erre fro the truth & another conuert him, let the same know þ he which conuerted the sinner fro goyng astray out of his way, shall saue a soule fro death, & shal hyde the multitude of synnes.

The Notes.

daughter.

apne.

a & nape.

paper of

perth.

(a) That is when me kyl beastes to make chere withal. And as the Jewes dyd in their thanke offerynges. &c.

(b) The housband menne do compte vpon two raynes especially. The one in sowing tyme, and the other at blowyng tyme. And if eyther of these lacke, al is fruitlesse.

(c) Whether ye say pea or nape: se it be so. For if ye haue on thyng in the hert, and an other in the mouth or dede, in besture or gesture, it is hyppocrisie or dysimulation.

(d). Unto the prayer of fayth ascribeth he the obtraynyng of saluacion, not vnto the anoyntynge, nor to the oyle. Among those nations vnto whom S. James wrote thys Epytyle it was the maner to anoynte the body wyth the which thyng Chyrist commaundeth hys Apostles too do. And oyle vnto manye dyspleases is a whole some medicine. We wyth whom such annoyntynge is not in vsc maye vnder the name of oyle vnderstande the offyce and dute of charitye, in ministrayng vnto the sycke, suche thynges as he nedeth.

The ende of the Epytyle of saynt James.

The epytyle of the Apostle Sayncte,

Judas.

He exhorte the sayntes to goo forwarde in the fayth, and that they helpe othe, and then to expresse the treuth of the gospell by good workes, and to beware of deceyuers whome he paynteth out playnly, threatenynge withal theyr destruction.

Judas. Chap. i.

Judas the Seruaunte of Iesus Christ the brother of James. To them whych are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Iesu Chyrist. Mercye vnto you and peace, and loue be multiplied. Beloued when I gaue all diligence to wyte vnto you of the comen saluacion, it was nede full for me too wyte vnto you, to exhorte you, that ye shoulde continually labour in the fayeth whych was once geuen vnto the sayntes. For ther are certayne craftely crepte in, of whych it was wyte afore tyme vnto suche iudgement. They are vngodly and tourne the grace of our God vnto wantonnes, and denye God the onelp Lord, and our Lord Iesus Chyrist.

My mynde is therfore to put you in remembraunce for as much as ye once know thys, how that the Lord (after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt) destroyed them whych afterwarde beleued not. The aungels also whych kepte not theyr fyrste estate, but leste their owne habitacion, he hath reserued in euerlastyng chains vnder darckenes vnto the iudgemente of the greate day, euen as Sodome and Gomoz, and the ctytes aboute them (whych in lyke maner despyled theim selues with fornicacion and folowed straunge fleshe) are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternall fyre. Lykewyse these dremers defile the fleshe, dyspysse rulers, and speake euill of them that are in authority.

Yet Michaell the archangell when he stroue agaynst the deuyll, and disputed aboute the bodye of Moyses, durst not geue raplyng sentence, but sayed, the Lorde rebuke the. But these speake euill of those thynges they knowe not, and what thynges they knowe naturally, as beastes whiche are wpythout reason, in those thynges they corrupt them selues. Wo be vnto the, for they haue folowed the wape of Cayne, and are vtterly geuen to the erreure of Balam for lukers sake, and perpye in the treason in Coze.

These are spottes whych of your kyndnes feast together, wpythout feare, fedynge the selues. Cloudes they are wpythout water, caried about of windes, and trees without fruit at gatherynge tyme, twyse dead & plucked by by the rotes. They are the ragynge waues of the sea, fomyng out theyr owne shame. They are wandryng stars, to who is reserued þ mist of darknes for euer.

Enoch, the seuenth from Adam, prophesied before of suche sayinge: Beholde, the Lord shal come wyth thousands of saynts to geue iudgemente against al men, and to rebuke al that are vngodly amonge them of theyr vngodly dedes, whych they haue vngodly comitted and of al theyr cruell speakynges, whych vngodly synners haue spoken agaynst him.

These are murmurers, cōplainers, walkig after 18

An. xliii. f.

Gene. xix. c.

Straunge

fleshe that is turnyng

the natural vse vn-

to the vn-

naturall.

Romay. i.

zachari. iiii. c.

Eccle. xii. d.

C

Gene. iiii. a

An. xvii. a.

D

ii. Pet. ii. a

Appoca. i. d

The Epytyle of Sayncte.

haue knowen what ende þ lord made. For the Lord is verp pytiful and merciful.

Math. v. f.

But aboue al thinges my brethren, sweare not, neyther by heauen, neyther by earth, neyther by any other othe. Let your (c) pea be pea, and your nape, nape: lest ye fall in to hyppocrisie. Yf any of you be euyl bered, let him praye. Yf anye of you be merpe, let hym syng psalmes. Yf any be dyspleased among you, let hym cal for the elders of the congregacion, and let them praye ouer him and anoynte hym with oyle in the name of the Lorde, and the (d) prayer of fayth shall saue the sycke, and the Lorde shall raple hym vp: and if he haue committed synnes, they shalbe forgiven hym.

Mar. vi. b.

Knowledg your fautes one to another and pray one for another, þ ye may be healed. The prayer of a rightuouse man auayleth much if it be feruent. Elias was a mā mortal, euen as we are and he praied in his praier that it myghte not raine, & it rained not on the earth by the space of threer petes & syre monethes. And he prayed agayne, & the heauen gaue raine, & the earth brought forth her fruite.

ii. re. xvi. a.

Luk. iiii. d.

Mat. xviii. c.

Brethren if any of you erre fro the truth & another conuert him, let the same know þ he which conuerted the sinner fro goyng astray out of his way, shall saue a soule fro death, & shal hyde the multitude of synnes.

The Notes.

daughter.

ayne.

a & nape.

paper of

perth.

(a) That is when me kyl beastes to make chere withal. And as the Jewes dyd in their thanke offerynges. &c.

(b) The housband menne do compte vpon two raynes especially. The one in sowing tyme, and the other at blowyng tyme. And if eyther of these lacke, al is fruitlesse.

(c) Whether ye say pea or nape: se it be so. For if ye haue on thyng in the hert, and an other in the mouth or dede, in besture or gesture, it is hyppocrisie or dysimulation.

(d). Unto the prayer of fayth ascribeth he the obtraynyng of saluacion, not vnto the anoyntynge, nor to the oyle. Among those nations vnto whom S. James wrote thys Epytyle it was the maner to anoynte the body wyth the which thyng Chyrist commaundeth hys Apostles too do. And oyle vnto manye dysleas is a whole some medicine. We wyth whom such annoyntynge is not in vsc maye vnder the name of oyle vnderstande the offyce and dute of charitye, in ministrayng vnto the sycke, suche thynges as he nedeth.

The ende of the Epytyle of saynt James.

The epytyle of the Apostle Sayncte,

Judas.

He exhorte the sayntes to goo forwarde in the fayth, and that they helpe othe, and then to expresse the treuth of the gospell by good workes, and to beware of deceyuers whome he paynteth out playnly, threatenynge withal they destruccion.

Judas. Chap. i.

Judas the Seruaunte of Iesus Christ the brother of James. To them whych are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserued in Iesu Chyrist. Mercye vnto you and peace, and loue be multiplied. Beloued when I gaue all diligence to wyte vnto you of the comen saluacion, it was nede full for me too wyte vnto you, to exhorte you, that ye shoulde continually labour in the fayeth whych was once geuen vnto the sayntes. For ther are certayne craftely crepte in, of whych it was wyte afore tyme vnto suche iudgement. They are vngodly and tourne the grace of our God vnto wantonnes, and denye God the onelp Lord, and our Lord Iesus Chyrist.

My mynde is therfore to put you in remembraunce for as much as ye once know thys, how that the Lord (after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt) destroyed them whych afterwarde beleued not. The aungels also whych kepte not theyr fyrste estate, but leste their owne habitacion, he hath reserued in euerlastyng chains vnder darckenes vnto the iudgemente of the greate day, euen as Sodome and Gomoz, and the ctytes aboute them (whych in lyke maner despyled theim selues with fornicacion and folowed straunge fleshe) are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternall fyre. Lykewyse these dremers defile the fleshe, dyspysse rulers, and speake euill of them that are in authoritye.

Yet Michaell the archangell when he stroue agaynst the deuyll, and disputed aboute the bode of Moyse, durst not geue raplyng sentence, but sayed, the Lorde rebuke the. But these speake euill of those thynges they knowe not, and what thynges they knowe naturally, as beastes whiche are wpythout reason, in those thynges they corrupt them selues. Wo be vnto the, for they haue folowed the wape of Cayne, and are vtterly geuen to the erreure of Balam for lukers sake, and perpye in the treason in Coze.

These are spottes whych of your kyndnes feast together, wpythout feare, fedynge the selues. Cloudes they are wpythout water, caried about of windes, and trees without fruit at gatherynge tyme, twyse dead & plucked by by the rotes. They are the ragynge waues of the sea, fomyng out theyr owne shame. They are wandryng stars, to who is reserued þ mist of darknes for euer.

Enoch, the seuenth from Adam, prophesied before of suche sayinge: Beholde, the Lord shal come wyth thousands of saynts to geue iudgemente against al men, and to rebuke al that are vngodly amonge them of they vngodly dedes, whych they haue vngodly comitted and of al they cruell speakynges, whych vngodly synners haue spoken agaynst him.

These are murmurers, cōplainers, walkyng after 18

Ru. xliii. f.

Gene. xix. c.
Straunge
fleshe that is turnyng
the natural vse vn-
to the vn-
naturall.
Romay. i.
zachari. iiii. c.
Ecclē. xii. d.

Gene. iiii. a
Ru. xvii. a.

ii. Pet. ii. a

Appoca. i. d

after their own lusts, whose mouths speke proud thinges. They haue men in great reuerence because of a vantage. But ye beloved remember the wordes whych wer spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesu Christ, how that they told you, that they should be begilers in the last tyme, whych should walke after their owne vngodlye lustes. These are makers of sectes, fleshy, hauing no spirite.

1. iiii. a.
11. iii. a.
des. ii. b

But ye dearly beloved, edifye your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy gost, & kepe your selues in the loue of god, lookinge for the mercye of our Lord Iesus Christ, vnto eternal life. And haue compassion on some seperating them: & other saue with feare (pulling them out of the fyre) & hate the filthy vesture of the fleche. Vnto him that is able to kepe you, & ye fal not, & to preserue you faultles before the presence of his glory with ioy, that is to saie, to god our saupour whiche only is wyle, be glory, maiesty, dominion and power, nowe and for euer. Amen.

The Reuela

cyon of S. Iohn the Diuine.

The fyrst Chapter.

The fyrste vsyon sheweth by whose commaundement, and for what cause this booke was wyrtten, whych is taught by the figure of the candellstykkes and starres.

A

The reuelacyon of Iesus Christ, which God gaue vnto him, for to shew vnto his seruaunts, thynges which must shortly come to passe. And he sent and shewed by hys angel vnto hys seruaunt Iohn which bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Iesus Christ, and of all thynges he saw. Happy is he that readeth, and they that heare the wordes of the prophesie, and kepe those thynges whych are wyrtte therein. For the tyme is at hande.

B

Iohn to the seven congregacions in Asia, Grace be with you and peace fro him which is, and whiche was, and whiche is to come, and from the seven spirites which are present before his throne, and from Iesus Christ, which is a faithful witnes, and first begotten of the deade, and Lord ouer the kynges of the earth. Vnto him that loueth vs and washed vs from synnes in his owne bloude & made vs kynges and priestes vnto God his father, be glory and dominion for euermore. Amen.

Beholde he cometh with cloudes, and all eyes shall see him: and they also whiche pershed him. And all kynredes of the earth shall wape. Euen so: Amen. I am (a) Alpha and Omega, the begynnyng and the endyng, saith the Lord almighty, whiche is, which was, and which is to come.

I Iohn your brother and companon in tribulacion, and in the kingdome and patience whych is in Iesu Christ, was in the yle of Pathmos for the worde of God, and for the witnessing of Iesu Christ. I was in the spirit on a sonday: and heard behynde me a greete voice, as it had bene of a trumpet sayinge: I am Alpha and Omega, the fyrst & the last. That thou seest wyrtte in a booke, and send it vnto the congregacions which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicia.

Pathmos;
Sundaye.

And I turned backe to see the voice that spake vnto me. And when I was turned, I sawe seven golden candellstykkes, and in the middes of the candellstykkes one, like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a linnē garment doun to the ground, and girded about the pappes wth a golden gyrdle. His head and hys heares were whyte as whyt woulf and as snow: and hys eyes wer as a flame of fyre: and hys feete lyke vnto brasse, as though they bzent in a fornaice: & his voice as the sound of many waters.

Seven golden
candellstykkes

And he had in hys ryght hand seven starres. And oute of his mouth wente a sharpe two edged sword. And hys face shone euen as the sunne in his strength.

Seven
stars at the preachers.

And when I saw him, I fel at his feete, euen as dead. And he laide his righte hande vpon me, sayinge vnto me: feare not, I am the first, and the laste, and am alpye, & was dead. And behold I am alpye for euermore, and haue the keyes of hell and of death. Wyrtte therfore the thynges whych thou hast sene, and the thynges whych are, and the thynges whych shall be fulfilled hereafter: and the mistery of the seven starres, whiche thou sawest in my ryght hand, and the seven golden candellstykkes. The seven starres (b) are the messengers of the seven congregacions. And the seven candellstykkes whych thou sawest, are the seven congregacions.

1. xliii. a.
and. xli. b.
1. xli. a.

The Notes.

(a) Alpha and Omega, are letters of the Greke crosse rowe. Alpha is the fyrst letter, and Omega the last. Wherfore in theyr wyrtynge, they call the fyrst and the last by the names of those letters.

Alpha

(b) No man can denye, but that in this place the verbe (Is, or are) is taken for signyfyng. For the sentence geueth that the words sound thus much: The seven starres signyfy the seven messengers of the seven congregacions. And the vii. candellstykkes signyfy the vii. churches or congregacions. In like maner is it to be taken in all other places of the scripture, where anye thyng is taught by sygnes or sacramentes. As in the xli. Chapter of Genes. The seven fat kyne are. vii. yeares of plente. And in the xlii. of Exodi. Ye shall eat it in haste, for it is the Lordes passouer. Manye lyke places are there in the scriptures. Maruaile not therfore (gentle bretheren) though our saupour Christ in the wordes of hys last supper (wherein he instructed hys disciples of the dyscebutynge of hys bodye and bloude among

Is for synifieth.

The vii.
churches in Asia.

1. i. c.
1. xvi. c.
1. xvi. d.
1. Peter. i. b.
1. Iohn. i. d.
1. xliii. d.
1. xliii. c.
1. Jud. i. c.
1. xliii. b.

after their own lusts, whose mouths speke proud thinges. They haue men in great reverence because of a vantage. But ye beloved remember the wordes whych wer spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Iesu Christ, how that they told you, that they should be begilers in the last tyme, whych should walke after their owne vngodlye lustes. These are makers of sectes, fleshy, hauing no spirite.

1. iiii. a.
11. iii. a.
des. ii. b

But ye dearly beloved, edifye your selues in your most holy faith, praying in the holy gost, & kepe your selues in the loue of god, lookinge for the mercye of our Lord Iesus Christ, vnto eternal life. And haue compassion on some seperating them: & other saue with feare (pulling them out of the fyre) & hate the filthy vesture of the fleche. Vnto him that is able to kepe you, & ye fal not, & to preserue you faultles before the presence of his glory with ioy, that is to saie, to god our saupour whiche only is wyle, be glory, maiesty, dominion and power, nowe and for euer. Amen.

The Reuela

cyon of S. Iohn the Diuine.

The fyrst Chapter.

The fyrste vsyon sheweth by whose commaundement, and for what cause this booke was wyrtten, whych is taught by the figure of the candellstykkes and starres.

A

The reuelacyon of Iesus Christ, which God gaue vnto him, for to shew vnto his seruaunts, thynges which must shortly come to passe. And he sent and shewed by hys angel vnto hys seruaunt Iohn which bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Iesus Christ, and of all thynges he saw. Happy is he that readeth, and they that heare the wordes of the prophesy, and kepe those thynges whych are wyrtte therein. For the tyme is at hande.

B

Iohn to the seven congregacions in Asia, Grace be with you and peace fro him which is, and whiche was, and whiche is to come, and from the seven spirites which are present before his throne, and from Iesus Christ, which is a faithful witnes, and first begotten of the deade, and Lord ouer the kynges of the earth. Vnto him that loueth vs and washed vs from synnes in his owne bloude & made vs kynges and priestes vnto God his father, be glory and dominion for euermore. Amen.

Beholde he cometh with cloudes, and all eyes shall see him: and they also whiche pershed him. And all kynredes of the earth shall waple. Euen so: Amen. I am (a) Alpha and Omega, the begynnyng and the endyng, saith the Lord almighty, whiche is, which was, and which is to come.

I Iohn your brother and companon in tribulacion, and in the kingdome and patience whych is in Iesu Christ, was in the yle of Pathmos for the worde of God, and for the witnessing of Iesu Christ. I was in the spirit on a sonday: and heard behynde me a grete voice, as it had bene of a trumpet sayinge: I am Alpha and Omega, the fyrst & the last. That thou seest wyrtte in a booke, and send it vnto the congregacions which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicia.

Pathmos;
Sundaye.

And I turned backe to see the voice that spake vnto me. And when I was turned, I sawe seven golden candellstykkes, and in the middes of the candellstykkes one, like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a linnē garment doun to the ground, and girded about the pappes wth a golden gyrdle. His head and hys heares were whyte as whyt woulf and as snow: and hys eyes wer as a flame of fyre: and hys feete lyke vnto brasse, as though they bzent in a fornaice: & his voice as the sound of many waters.

Seven golden
candellstykkes

And he had in hys ryght hand seven starres. And oute of his mouth wente a sharpe two edged sword. And hys face shone euen as the sunne in his strength.

Seven
stars at the
preachers.

And when I saw him, I fel at his feete, euen as dead. And he laide his righte hande vpon me, sayinge vnto me: feare not, I am the first, and the laste, and am alpye, & was dead. And behold I am alpye for euermore, and haue the keyes of hell and of death. Wyrtte therfore the thynges whych thou hast sene, and the thynges whych are, and the thynges whych shall be fulfilled hereafter: and the mystery of the seven starres, whiche thou sawest in my ryght hand, and the seven golden candellstykkes. The seven starres (b) are the messengers of the seven congregacions. And the seven candellstykkes whych thou sawest, are the seven congregacions.

1. xliii. a.
and. xli. b.
1. xli. a.

The Notes.

(a) Alpha and Omega, are letters of the Greke crosse rowe. Alpha is the fyrst letter, and Omega the last. Wherfore in theyr wyrtynge, they call the fyrst and the last by the names of those letters.

Alpha

(b) No man can denye, but that in this place the verbe (Is, or are) is taken for signyfyng. For the sentence geueth that the words sound thus much: The seven starres signyfy the seven messengers of the seven congregacions. And the vii. candellstykkes signyfy the vii. churches or congregacions. In like maner is it to be taken in all other places of the scripture, where anye thyng is taught by sygnes or sacramentes. As in the xli. Chapter of Genes. The seven fat kyne are. vii. yeares of plenty. And in the xlii. of Exodi. Ye shall eat it in haste, for it is the Lordes passouer. Manye lyke places are there in the scriptures. Maruaile not therfore (gentle bretheren) though our saupour Christ in the words of hys last supper (wherein he instructed hys disciples of the dyscreutyng of hys bodye and bloude among

Is for sy-
nifieth.

The vii.
churches in Asia.

1. i. c.
1. xvi. c.
1. xvi. d.
1. Peter. i. b.
1. Iohn. i. d.
1. xliii. d.
1. xliii. c.
1. Jud. i. c.
1. xliii. b.

The Revelation

among them) dyd vse bread and wyne as sacraments or signes to declare y<sup>e</sup> same, & dyd in dede eat them hys bodye and bloude, sayinge: this is my body, meaning: this signyfeth or declareth vnto you my body and bloude: euen as Moyses sayd of the lambe, It is the pascouer of y<sup>e</sup> lord.

The ii. Chapter.

The churches of Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergama, and Thyatira are warned to fflye the thynges to come by repentaunce.

Vnto the messenger of the congregacion of Ephesus wypte: these thynges sayth he that holdeth the seven starres in hys right hande, and walketh in the myddes of the .vii. golden candelstycks: I know thy workes, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not forbear them whiche are euyl, and examynest them which say, they are Apostles, and are not: & hast founde them lars, and dydest washe thy selfe. And hast pacyence: and for my names sake hast labored & haste not fainted. Neuertheles I haue somewhat agaynst the, for thou hast left thy fyrste loue.

Remember therfore from whence thou art fallen, & repent, and do the first workes, or els I will come vnto the shortly, & will remoue thy candelsticke oute of his place, excepte thou repent. But this thou hast because thou hatest the dedes of (a) the Nicolaitans, which dedes I also hate. Let hym that hath eares heare, what the spirit saith vnto the congregacions. To hym that ouercommeth, will I geue to eate of the tree of lyfe, which is in the myddes of the paradysse of God.

Wnto the aungel of the congregacion of Smyrna, wypte: these thynges sayth he that is fyrst, & the last, whych was deade and is aloue. I know thy workes and tribulacion and pouerty, but thou art ryche: And I know the blasphemy of the whych call them selues Jewes & are not, but are the congregacion of Sathan. Feare none of those thynges whych thou shalt suffer. Behold, the dewill shall cast of pou into prison, to temptacion, and ye shall haue tribulacion. x. dapes. Be fapethfull vnto the death, and I will geue the a crowne of life. Lette him that hath eares, heare what the spirit sayth to the congregacions. He that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the second death.

Wnto the messenger of the congregacion in Pergamos, wypte: this saith he whych hath the sharp swearde with two edges, I know thy workes, & where thou dwellest, euen wher Satans seat is, and thou kepest my name, and hast not denied my fapth. And in my dapes Antipas was a faithfull witnes of myne, which was slaine among you, wher Sathan dwelleth. But I haue a few thynges agaynst the: that thou hast ther the that maintaine the doctrine of Balam which taught in Balake, to put occasyō of syn before the chyldren of Israel, that they shuld eat of meat dedicate vnto the ydols, # of S. John, Chapter. vi.

& commit fornicacion. Eue so hast thou the that maintaine the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thyng I hate. But be conuited, or els I will come vnto the shortly, & wil fyghte agaynst them wpth the swearde of my mouth. Let him that hath eares, hear what the spirit sayth vnto the congregacions. To him that ouercometh shall I geue to eate Manna that is hyd, and wll geue hym a whyte stone, and in the stone a newe name wyrtten, whych no man knoweth, sayng he that receiueth it.

And vnto the messenger of the congregacion of Thyatira wyte. This saith the son of God, whiche hath his eyes lyke vnto a gayon of flame of fyre, whose feete are like brasse: I knowe thy workes and thy loue, seruike & fapth, and thy patience, & thy dedes, which are mo at the last the at the fyrst. Notwithstanding I haue a few thyngs agaynst the: that thou sufferest that womanne Iesabel which called her self a propheteesse, to teach and to deceiue my seruauntes, to make the commit fornicacion, and to eat meates offered vnto ydols. And I gaue hyr space to repent of the fornicacion, and she repeted not. Behold I will cast hyr into a bed, and them that commit fornicacion with hyr in to great aduersity, except they turne from these dedes. And I wll kyll hyr chyldren with death. And al the congregacions shall knowe that I am he whych searcheth the reynes and hertes. And I will geue vnto euerie one of you accordyng vnto your workes. Vnto you I saye, and vnto either of them of Thyatira, as manye as haue not knowen this learning, which haue not knowen the depenes of Satan (as they say) I will put vpon you none other burthen, but that which ye haue already. Hold fast tll I come, and whosoever ouercommeth & kepeth my workes vnto the end, to hym wll I geue power ouer nacjons, & he shall rule them wpth a rodde of yron: and as the vessels of a pottier shall he breake them to shewers. Euen as I receyued of my father, so wll I geue him the moornyng starre. Lette hym that hath eares, heare what the spirit sayth to the congregacions.

The Notes.

(a) These were heretykes, whych held oppnyon Nicolays that wiuers ought to be commune. Of whō Eutans. sebyus the thyrde boke chap. xxi.

The. iii. Chapter.

Here are declared the thynges to come vnto the churches of Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicia.

And wypte vnto the messenger of the congregacyō of Sardis: this sayeth he that hath the spyrite of God, and the seven starres: I knowe thy workes: thou hast a name that thou liuest, and thou art deade. Be a wake and strength the thynges whych remaine, that are redy to dye. For I haue not founde thy workes perfect before God.

Remember therfore how thou hast receiued

Fornicatio is a syn abominable.

He. xlii. b
Psal. vii. e
I. re. xlii. b

Psal. ii. b

The congregacion of Sardis.

ued and heard, and holde faste and repent. If thou shalt not watche, I wyl come on the as a thefe, & thou shalt not know what houre I wyl come vpon the. Thou haste a few names in Sardis, whych haue not defyled theyr garments: and they shal walke with me in whyte, for they are worthy: He that ouercommeth shalbe clothed in white aray, and I will not put out his name oute of the booke of lyfe, and I wyl confesse his name before my father, and before his angels. Let hym that hath eares heare what the spirite sayeth vnto the congregacions.

And wyte vnto the tydyngs byrnger of the congregacyon of Philadelphia: thys sayth he that is holpe and true, which hath the keye of Dauid, whiche openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no man openeth. I knowe thy worckes. Beholde I haue set before the an open doore, and no man can shut it, for thou hast a litel strenght and hast kept my sayings: and hast not denied my name. Behold I make them of the congregacyon of Sathan, whych cal them selues Jewes and are not, but dolpe: Beholde I wyl make them, that they shal come and worshyppe before thy feete: and thou shalt know that I loue the.

Because thou hast kept the words of my patience, therefore I wyl kepe the fro the houre of temptacyon, which will come vpon all the world, to tempte them that dwell vpon the earth. Beholde I come shortly. Hold that which thou hast, that no manne take away thy crowne. Him that ouercommeth, will I make a pylle in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more oute. And I will wyte vpon hym, the name of my God, and the name of the cytye of my God, newe Ierusalem, whych cometh doune out of heauen from my God, and I wyl wyte vpon him my new name. Lette him that hath eares, heare what the spirite saith vnto the congregacions.

And vnto the messenger of the congregacyon whiche is in Laodicia, wyte: Thys sayth (Ame) the faithful and true wytnes, the beginnyng of the creatures of God: I knowe thy worckes that thou art neyther cold nor hote, I woulde thou were colde or hote. So then bycause thou arte betwene both, and neither cold nor hote, I wil spew the oute of my mouth, bycause thou arte riche and increased with goodes, and haste neede of nothyng, and knowest not howe thou arte wretched and myserable, poore, blinde and naked. I counsell the to bye of me gold tryed in the fyre, that thou mayest be ryche, and whyte raymente, that thou mayest be clothed, that thy fylthy nakednes do not appeare: and annoint thyn eyes wth eye salve, that thou mayest se.

As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten. Be feruente therfore and repente. Behold I stand at the doore and knocke. If any man heare my voyce, and open the doore, I wyl come in vnto him, and wyl suppe with him

& he wyl with me. To hym that ouercommeth, wyl I graunt to sytte with me in the seat, euen as I ouercame and haue sytten wth my father in hys seate. Let hym that hath eares, heare what the spirite sayeth vnto the congregacyon. The.iii. Chapter.

Another vylon is declared concernynge the gloze of Gods maiesty, whych is celebrats of the four beasts, and of the. xlii. Elders.

After thys I lokked, and behold a doore was open in heauen, and the fyrste voyce whych I hearde, was as it wer of a trompette talkynge wth me, whych sayed: come vp hyther, and I wyl shewe the thynges whych muste be fulfylled here after. And immediatly I was in the spyt: and behold a seate was put in heauen, and one late on the seate. And he that late, was to loke vpon, lyke vnto a Iasper stone. And ther was a rayne bowe about the seate, in sight lyke an Emeralde. And aboute the seate were. xlii. seats. And vpon the seates foure and twenty Elders, sytting clothed in whyte rayment, and had on theyr heads crownes of golde.

And out of the seate proceded lychteninges and thonderynge, and voyces, & there were seven lampes of fyre, burnynge before the seate, which are the seven spirites of God. And before the seate, there was a sea of glasse, lyke vnto a Chrystall, and in the middes of the seate, and roundaboute the seate were. iiii. beastes full of eyes before and behynd, and the fyrst beast was lyke a Lion, the second beast lyke a calfe, and the thyrde beast had a face as a man, & the fourth beast was lyke a flyng Eagle. Rain bow.

And the. iiii. beastes had eche one of them sixe wynges about him, and they were full of eyes wthin. And they had no rest daye neyther nyghte, sayinge: Holy, holy, holy, Lord God almyghty, whych was and is, and is to come. Seven lampes.

And when those beastes gaue gloze and honour, and thanks to him that late on the seate, whych lyueth for euer and euer, the xlii. elders fel down before hym that late on the throne, and worshipped him that lyueth for euer, and cast their crownes before the throne, sayinge: thou art worthy lord to receiue gloze & honoure, and power, for thou haste created all thynges, and for thy wylls sake, they are and were created. Four beastes.

The Notes.

(a) The seate that Iohn sawe, signyfeth the church or congregacyon of the faithful. He that late thereon, the lyving God. The rayne bow, the couenant and promyse of God. The. xlii. seats of the spirite, & spyrutall vertues or wyldes in the spyt. The. xlii. elders: the earnest professers & folowers of Gods doctryne, as well of the new, as old testament. The whyte apparell: innocencye. Theyr crownes of golde, eternall kyngdome wth Christ. The lychtenynge, thunderyng & voyces proceding from the seate, do signyfy rebukynge, threathynge & confirming of the word of God, which is preached by the faithful ministers of the church. The. vii. lampes are the gyftes of the fpyrte. The fea of glaffe is þ underftandynge of the veryte. The foure beaſtes, are the earneſt letters forth of the truth in the foure quarters of the earth, they eyes are the cleare knowledge of Gods word. The lyo betokeneth them that are myghty in fayth. The calfe, them that be feruent in loue, wherby they ſacrifyce they owne bodies to God. The mā, them that walke circumspectly in they vocacion, auoydunge the occaſion of euill. The flyyng Eagle, them that haue all they contemplacion in heavenly thynges. They wynges are the workes of the fpyrte.

The. v. Chapter.

The Lambe of God is deſyred of the company of heauen to open the boke wyth ſeuē ſeales, whych no man could open.

The boke ſealed with ſeuē ſeales.

And I ſawe in the right hand of hym that ſate in the throne, a boke writte within and on the backſyde, ſealed with ſeuē ſeales. And I ſaw a ſtrong Angel, which cried with a loud voyce: Who is worthy to open the boke, & to loſe the ſeales therof? And nomā in heaue nor in earth neither vnder the earth, was able to open þ boke, neither to loke thereon. And I wept much, becauſe no mā was found worthy to open & to read þ boke, nether to loke thereon.

Upon obſerued to open the boke

And one of the elders ſaid vnto me: wepe not, behold a lpon beynge of the tribe of Iuda, the roſe of Dauid, hath obtayned to open the boke, and to lewſe the ſeuē ſeales therof. And I beheld, and lo, in the myddes of the ſeate, and of the thre beaſtes, and in the middes of the elders, ſtoode a Lambe as though he had bene kyled, whych had ſeuē hornes and ſeuē eyes, whiche are the ſpyrits of God, ſent into al the world. And he came and toke the boke out of the ryght hand of hym that ſate vpon the ſeate.

And whē he had taken the boke, the.iiii. beaſtes and. xiiii. elders fell downe before the lambe, hauinge harpes & golden vials full of odours, which are the prayres of ſainctes, and they ſonge a new ſonge, ſayinge: thou art worthy to take the boke, & to open the ſeales therof: for thou waſt killed, and haſt redemed vs by thy bloud out of al kindes, and tonges and people, & nacions, & haſt made vs to our God, kinges & prieſtes,

De we ſhal raigne on the earth. And I beheld & I heard the voyce of many angels aboute the throne & about the beaſtes, and the elders, and I heard thouſand thouſands, ſayinge wyth a loude voyce: Worthy is the lambe þ was killed, to receiue power and riches, & wiſdome and ſtrength, & honoure, & glozpe and bleſſynge. And al creatures whych are in heauen & on the earth, & vnder the earth, and in the ſea, & all that are in them, hearde I, ſaying: bleſſing, honour, glozpe, & power, be vnto him that ſitteth vpon the ſeat, and to the Lambe for euermore. And the foure beaſtes ſayd Amen. And the foure & twenty elders fell vpon their faces, and worſhypped him that lyueth for euermore.

The Notes.

(a) This boke is the ordynance and appoyntment of God.

ment of God. It is wytten wythin and wythout, that is, it containeth thynges that be known to all men, and thynges hydden from al mē. The ſeuē ſeales are the ſure purpoſe of god to open theſe hyd thynges to ſome choſen men in euery of the ſeuē ages of the world. The Lambe that opened it, was Chriſte. Hys ſeuē hornes betoken hys vniuerſall power & kingdome. His ſeuē eyes, the ſeuē principal gyfts of þ ſpyrit.

The. vi. Chapter.

The Lambe openeth. vi. ſeales of the boke whych beynge open, ſlaughter, hunger, peluſence, complaynts of the holy, earthquakes, and dyuers wonders, do ryle in heauen.

And I ſawe when the lambe opened one of the ſeales, & I heard one of the foure beaſtes ſay, as it were the noiſe of thonder, come & ſe. And I ſaw, & beholde ther was a white horſe, and he that ſat on him, had a bowe: and a croune was geuen vnto hym, and he went forth conqueringe, and for to ouercome. And when he opened the ſecond ſeale: I heard the ſecond beaſte ſay come and ſe. And there wente out another horſe that was red, and power was geuen to him that ſate thereon, to take peace from the earth, and that they ſhoulde kille one another. And ther was geuen vnto him a great ſweard.

The open ſeale

And when he opened the thyrde ſeale, I heard the thyrde beaſt ſay, come and ſe. And I behelde, and loo a blacke horſe: & he that ſate on him, had a payre of balances in his hand. And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beaſtes ſay: a meſure of wheate for a peny: and. ii. meſures of barley for a peny: and oyle and wine ſe thou hurte not.

And when he opened the fourth ſeale, I herd the voyce of the fourth beaſt ſay, come and ſe. And I looked, & beheld a pale horſe, and his name that ſate on him was death, and hel folowed after him, and power was geuen vnto him on the fourth parte of the earth, to kyll wyth ſwerde and with hōger, and with death, that commeth of verme of the earth. And when he opened the fyfte ſeale, I ſaw vnder the aulter the ſoules of them that were kyled for the word of god, and for the teſtimony which they had, and they cried with a loud voyce, ſaying: How long tarpeſt thou Lorde holpe and true, to iudge, to auenge oure bloude on them that dwell on the earth? And longe whyte garments were geuen vnto euery on of them. And it was ſayd vnto them that they ſhuld reſte for a lytle ſeaſon vntill the number of their felowes & brethre, & of the that ſhulde be kyled as they were, were fulfilled.

mat. xxviii

And I behelde when he opened the ſyrtle ſeale, and lo ther was a great earthquake, and the ſunne was as black as ſack cloth, made of heer. And the mone waxed euen as bloude, and the ſtarres of heauen fell vnto the earth, euen as a fygge tree caſteth from hyr, hyr fyggs, when ſhe is ſhake of a mighty wynde. And heauen vaniſhed away as a ſcrole when it is rolled together. And all mountaynes and Iles were moued oute of they places.

And

The Reuelacion.

And the kynges of the earth and the great menne, and the chiefe captaynes, and the myghty men, and euery bonde man and euery freman, hpd them selues in denues, and in rockes of the hylls, and sayed to the hylls, and rockes: fall on vs, and hpd vs from the ptesence of hym that sytteth on the seate, and fro the wraoth of þe lambe, for the great day of his wraoth is come. And who can endure it.

The Notes.

The openinge of the seales. The openinge of these seales, doth not onely betoken the manifestation of gods truth in the seuerall ages of the world: but also at seuen seuerall tymes after the death of Christe to the worldes ende. The fyrste was in the Apostles tyme who were betokened by the whyte horse, and by hym that sat thereon, Christe him selfe, by the howe, the hertes of the Apostles whiche was in hys hand to shoute forth hys word most spereely into al coastes of the worlde.

The secōd seale. The secōde was immediatly after the Apostles tyme. The red horse were the fleshy prechers. He that sat on thys horse was the euill company of the wyched princes that the raigned.

The thyrd seale. The thyrd was after the tyme of the martirs. The blacke horse was the multitude of ambitious prelates and false teachers whiche ragged in those dayes, in the blacknes of errorres, lyes, pryde, and uncleannes. And he that sat on thys horse, the wyched and blynd rulers of that tyme. The whete is the newe testamēt, the barley, the olde. The dulcet wyne and swete oyle, þe word of God. The openinge of the fourth seale was in the tyme after persecucion realed among the prelates, and they gaue them selues to wantonnes thouroughlye hypocryte. The pale horse was the hypocrites of those dayes, and deathe that sat on hym, their damnable and deadly doctrine, let fourth and defended by the secular

The fyfte powers. The fyfte seale was opened, when in the reigne of these hypocrites, God shewed vnto hys chosen number the estate of theyr brethren departed in the sayeth of Christ, and for the testimonye of the same, and also theyr owne estate to be suche that the tormentes of malice toucheth them not, but that they rest vnder the alter (that is Christe) & do dayly crye vnto god to reuenge the innocent bloude, whiche he hath promysed to reuenge, in the daye of Ire. The long whyte garments that are geuen them, is theyr innocēcy whiche they haue not of them selues: but receyue it from the aulter Christe. The openinge of the syxt seale was in our tyme, when the lord apyred by hys seruantes to declare howe the pale hypocrites had by the fylthynges of ryches obscured the preclouse, and shynynge purite of Christe the sunne of hys churche, and howe the bewtifull mone hys churche was become flethe, and the starres (his ministers) fallen to earthlye doctrine, and heauen (the verye true doctrine) banished awaye from them.

The syxt seale. And then he declared how the kynges & ryche men of the earth who were full of al abhominacion, sought to these mountaynes, hyghe in estimation of the world, to fall vpon them, and to couer them wth theyr tentails of masses, theyr perelye obettes, continuall massynges, wth other theyr wyl woorkes and meritorious dedes.

The .vii. Chapter.

of S. John. Chap. vii. Fo. 1

The walkinge aungels in the worlde are bid staye, tyll the lordes electe out of all trybes be marked. Than is described the glorye honoz and soy of them whych for Christes sake haue suffered persecucion.

And after that I sawe .iiii. Aungels stand on the .iiii. corners of the earth holdynge the .iiii. wynds of the earth that the wyndes shoulde not blowe on the earth, neyther on the sea, neyther on anye tree. And I sawe another aungell ascende from the ryngge of the sunne, whych had the seale of the lypynge God, and he cryed wth a lowde voyce to the .iiii. aungels (to whom power was geuen to hurt the earth and the sea) sayinge: Hurte not the earth neyther the sea, neither the trees, tyll wee haue sealed the seruautes of oure God in theyr foreheades.

And I heard the number of them which were sealed, and there were sealed an .C. and .xliiii. Of al trybes of the children of Israell. Of the trybe of Iuda were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Ruben were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Gad were sealed. xii. Of the tribe of Asser were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Reptalim were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Manasses were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Simeon were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Leue were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Isacar were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Zabulon were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Joseph, were sealed. xii. Of the trybe of Beniamyn were sealed. xii.

After thys I behelde, and lo a great multitude (which no man could number) of all nacions and people and tounes, stode before the seate, and before the Lambe, clothed wth longe whyte garmentes, and palmes in theyr handes, and cryed wth a lowde voyce, sayinge: saluacion be ascribed to hym that sytteth vpon the seate of our god, and vnto the lambe. And al þe aungels stode in the compasse of the seate, and of the elders, & of the .iiii. beastes, and fell before the seat on theyr faces, and worshipped God sayinge, amen: Blessing and glorye wylsom & thankes, & honour, & power and might be vnto our god forevermore. amē.

And one of the elders answered, sayinge vnto me: what are these whych are arrayed in longe whyte garmentes, and whence came they? And I sayed vnto hym: Lord thou wottest. And he sayed vnto me: these are they whych came out of the greates tribulacion and made theyr garmentes large, and made them whyte in the bloude of the lambe, therefore are they in the ptesence of the seate of God, and serue hym daye and nyghte in hys temple, and he that sytteth in the seate, wyl dwell among them. They shall hunger no more, neyther thyrste, neyther shall the sun lyghte on them, neyther anye heate: for the lambe whiche is in the myddes of the seate shall feede them, and shall leade them vnto fountaynes of lyf.

¶ u u u .i.

upnge

The Reuelacion,

ynge water, and God shal wypp away al teares from theyr eyes.

The Notes.

(a) A certayne number of euerye Ceybe of þe sacrytes is reherced, and of the Gentyles no number, but an infinite multitude, to declare that the number of the sayethfull amonge them that descended limallye of Abraham, was nothyng in comparyson of theym that shoulde be conuerted from amonge the Gentyles.

The. viii. Chapter

The seuenth seale of the booke is opened. The prayes of sayntes are offered by incense. The seuen aungelles come forth wth theyr trumpes. And whyle the fyrste four blow, fyre fallerh, the sea is troubled, the waters were bytter, and the starres be darkened.

And when he had opened the seuenth seale, there was silence in heauen about the space of halfe an hour. And I sawe aungelles standynge before God, & to the wer geuen. vii. trumpettes. And another angell came and stode before the altare haupnge a golden senser, and muche of odors was geuen vnto hym, þe shoulde offer of the prayes of all sayntes vpon the golden altare, whych was before the seat. And the smoke of the odours whych came of the prayes of al sayntes ascended by before God out of the aungelles hande. And the aungell toke the senser and fylled it wth fyre of the altare and caste it into the earth, and voyces wer made, and thondyrnges and lpghtenynge, and pearthe quakes.

B And the. vii. aungels whych had the seuen trumpettes prepared them selues to blow. The fyrst angel blew, and ther was made hayle and fyre, whych were myngled with bloude, and they were caste into the earth: and the thyrde parte of the trees was burnt and all grene grashe was brente. And the seconde angell blew: and as it were a grete mountayne burning wth fyre was cast in to the sea, & the thirde parte of the sea turned to bloud, & the thyrde parte of the creatures whych had lyfe, dyed, and the thirde parte of theyps were destroyed.

C And the thyrde aungell blew, and there fell a great star from heauen, burnynge as it were a lampe, and it fell into the thyrde parte of the ryuers, and into the fountaines of waters, & the name of the starre is called wormewode. And the thyrde parte was tour ned to wormewode. And manye me dyed of the waters, because they were made bitter. And the fourth aungell blew, and þe thirde parte of the sun was smytten, and the thyrde parte of the mone, and the thyrde parte of the sterres: so that the thyrde parte of them was darkened. And the dape was smytten that the thyrde part of it shoulde not shyne, and lpkewyse the nyghte. And I behelde and hearde an aungell flynge thorow the myddes of heauen, sayinge wth a lowde voyce: Woe woo to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the voyces to come of the trompe of the. iii. aungels whych were yet to blowe.

of S. John. Chap. viii.

The Notes.

This seale is not yet opened, but shalbe whē the tyme shal come that God hath appoynted, for the sylence that shal folowe the same. Whiche sylence is the grete quyetnes of Goddes kyngdome when al Antichrystes shoulde be ouerthrowen and slayne. For then shal go forth. vii. aungels, that is to saye, the true preachers of goddes worde, who shal declare vnto the worlde the estate of the worlde at the openinge of the seauen scales. And by these. vii. aungelles is opened the same thyng that was opened by the openinge of the. vii. scales (but after another sorte) the one by the openinge of the scales, and the other by blowinge the trumpettes to make the thyng more certayne.

Take more of this in the Image of both the churches, gathered by Ihon Bale.

The. ix. Chapter.

Whyle the fyfte aungell bloweth, the waistynge Locustes goo forth. The fyfte wth his blast styreth vp horsemen, whych waste and destroye mankynde.

And the fyft angell blew, and I saw a star fall from heauen vnto the earth. And to hym was geuen the keye of þe botomelesse pyt, and ther arose the smoke of a great fornace. And the sunne, and the ayre were darkened by the reason of the smoke of the pyt. And ther came out of the smoke, locustes vpon the pearth: and vnto the was geue power as the scorpiōs of the earth haue power. And it was comaunded the þe they shoulde not hurt the grashe of the earth, neither any grene thing: neyther any tre, but only those me whych haue not the seale in theyr foreheades. And to the was comaunded that they shoulde not kyll them, but that they shoulde be vexed fyue monethes: & theyr payne was as the paine that cometh of a scorppon, when he hath stonge a man. And in those dapes shal men seke death, and shal not fynde it, and shal desyre to dye, and death shal ste fro them.

And the similitude of the Locustes was lyke vnto horses prepared vnto battayle, on theyr heades were as it were crownes, lyke vnto goulde, and theyr faces were as it hadde beene faces of men, and they had heare as heare of womenne. And theyr teeth were as the teeth of Lyons. And they hadde habbergions, as it were habbargions of Iron. And the sounde of theyr wyngs, was as the sounde of charettes whiche manye horses runnet together to battayle. And they hadde taples lyke vnto scorpiōs, and there were spnges in theyr taples. And theyr power was to hurte menne fyue monethes. And they hadde a kyng o-uer them whych is the aungell of the botomelesse pytte, whose name in the Hebrue tounge is Abaddon: but in the Greke tounge, Apollyon. One woo is paste, and beholde two woes come after this.

And the sixt angel blew, & I heard a voice from

The se-
uith scale.

Eu. xlii. d.
Dlee. r. b.
Sep. xvi. b

from the .iiii. corners of the golden aultar whiche is before God, sayinge to the fyrte aungell whiche had the trompe: leuse the .iiii. Aungelles, whiche are bounde in the greete riuer Euphrates. And the .iiii. Aungelles were leused whiche were prepared for an houre, for a dape, for a moneth, and for a peare, for to sea the thyrde parte of men. And the number of horse men of war were twentye tymes .x. And I hearde þ number of them. And thus I sawe the horses in a bysion, and them that sat on them haupnge fyre habergions of a facincte coloure, and byrmstone, and the heades of the horses were as the heades of Lyons. And out of theiþ mouthes wente forth fire and smoke, and byrmstone. And of these .iii. was the thyrde parte of men kyled: that is to saye smoke, and byrmstone, whiche proceeded out of the mouthes of the. For theiþ power was in theiþ mouthes and their tayles: for theiþ tayles wer like vnto serps, and had heades, and wyth theiþ they dyd hurte. And the remnaunte of the men whiche were not kyled by these plages, repented not of the dedes of theiþ handes that they shoulde not worshyp deuylles, and ymages of golde and syluer, and brasse, and stone, and of woode, whiche neyther can se, neyther heare, neyther go. Also they repented not of their murther, and of theiþ forcerpe, neyther of theiþ fornicacion, neyther of theiþ thefte. The .x. Chapter.

¶ Ther appereth another angel, standynge both vpon the earth & sea, holdynge a boke in his handes, whiche Ihon comaunded by a voyce, eateth.

And I sawe an other myghty aungell come downe from heauen, clothed wyth a cloude, and the rayne bowe vpon his heade. And his face as it were the sunne, and his fete as it were pylers of fyre, and he had in his hande a lytle boke open, and he put his ryghte fote vpon the sea, and his left fote on the earth: And cryed wyth a lowde voyce, as when a Lion roreth. And when he had cried, seven thonders spake their voices. And when the vii. thonders had spoken theiþ voyces, I was aboute to wyte. And I hearde a voyce from heauen sayinge vnto me: seale vpe those thynges whiche the .vii. thonders spake and wyte them not.

And the angel whiche I sawe stande vpon the sea, and vpon the earth, lyft vp his hande to heauen, and sware by hym that lyueth for evermore whiche created heauen and the thynges þ therein are, & the pearth and the thynges that therein are: and the sea and the thynges that therein are, that they shoulde be no lenger tyme, but in the daies of the voyce of the seuenth aungell, when he shal begyn to blowe, even the mistery of god shal be fynished: as he preached by his seruantes the prophetes.

And the voyce whiche I hearde from heauen spake vnto me agayne, and sayed: go and take the lytle boke whiche is open in the hand of the aungell, whiche standeth vpon the sea, and vpon the pearth. And I wente vnto the aungell, and sayed to hym: geue me the lytle boke. And he sayed vnto me take it, & eat it vp, and it shal make thy bellie bitter, but it shal be in thy mouth as swete as honye. And I toke the lytle boke out of his hande, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as swete as honye: and after. And he sayed vnto me: thou muste prophesie agayne amonge the people, and nacions, and tounes and to many kynges.

The .xi. Chapter.

¶ The temple is commaunded to be measured. The lord stereth vp two wytnesses whiche beyng torne of the beast, no man wyl bury. But God raylunge them vp, geueth them honour in heuen. The wycked are afraid. The seuenth aungell bloweth his trompe.

And then was geuen me (a) a reade, lyke vnto a rodde, and it was sayed vnto me: kysse and meete the temple of God, and the aultare, and theiþ hat worshyp therein, and the quyre whiche is wyth in the temple caste out and mete it not: for it is geuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy Cytye shal they trede vnder fote. xlii. monethes. And I wyl geue power vnto my two wytnesses, and they shal prophesie. .ii. .x. .xl. dapes clothed in sacke cloth. These are two oliue trees, & two cadelstycques, standynge before the God of the earth. And if any man wyl hurt them, fyre shal procede out of theiþ mouthes, and consume theiþ enemies. And if anye man wyl hurte theiþ, theiþ wyse muste he be kyled. These haue power to shut heauen, that it rayne not in the dapes of theiþ prophesying: and haue power ouer waters to tourne them to bloude, and to smyte the earth with almaner of plages, as often as they wyl.

And when they haue fynished theiþ testimony, the beast that came out of the botomelesse pyt, shal make war agaynst theiþ, and shal ouercome them and kyll theiþ. And theiþ bodies shal lye in the stretes of the citie, whiche spirituallie is called Sodom and Egypt, where our Lord was crucified. And they of the people and kynredes, & tounes, and they of the nacions, shal see theiþ bodies .iii. dapes and an halfe, & shal not suffer theiþ bodies to be put in graues. And they that dwel vpon the earth, shal reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shal send gyftes one to another: for these two prophetes vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

And after .iii. dapes and an halfe, the spirite of lyfe from God, entred into theiþ. And they stode vp vpon theiþ fete: & a great feare came vpon them whiche sawe theiþ. And they heard a great voyce from heauen, sayinge vnto them: Come vp hither. And they ascended vp into heauen in a cloude, & theiþ enemies sawe theiþ. And the same houre was there a greete pearthquake, and the tenth parte of the Citie fell, and in þ earth quake.

quake were slayne, names of men, seven and the remnaunte were feared, & gaue glory to god of heauen. The seconde wo is past, & behold the thyrde wo wil come anon.

And the seuenth angel blewe, and there were made grete voyces in heauen, sayinge: the kyngdomes of thys worlde are oure Lordes and hys Chyistes, and he shall reigne for euermore. And the. xiiii. elders whych sate before God on theyr seates, fell vpon theyr faces, and worshypped God saying: we geue the thankes lord God al-myghty whych arte, and wast, and arte to come, for thou hast receyued thy great might, and hast reigned. And the naciōs were an-grie, and thy wrath is come, and the tyme of thy deade that they should be iudged, and that thou shouldest geue rewarde vnto thy seruauntes the prophetes and sayntes, & to them that feare thy name small & great, and shouldest destroye them whych destroy the earth. And the temple of god was opened in heauen, & there was sene in hys temple the arcke of hys testamente: and there folowed lghtnynges, and voyces, & thon-drynge, and earthquake and much hayle.

The Notes.

A rede to
measure.

(a) The reede is the word of God, the temple is the congregaciō of Chyist, the altar is Chyist, the quire is the rabble of Romish rutterkyns, called the prelats of the church, & the cite is the cle-re and cholen sorte of Chyistians. The two wit-neses are two testaments, the beaste that commeth out of the botomlesse pyt, is the whol rabble of the antichyristian church of Rome.

The. xii. Chapter.

There appeareth the fygure of a trauallyn-g woman, whose chyld the dragon waiteth for, whych the Dragon ouercome by Mychaell, is thyowen downe

And there appeared a great wonder in heauen: A woman clothed wpth the sunne, and the mone vnder hyr fete, & vpon hyr head a crowne of. xii. stars. And she was wpth chyld, and cried trauallyn-g in byrth, and payned redye to be deliuered.

And there appeared another wonder in heauen: for beholde a grete Dragon, hauynge. vii. heades, and ten hornes, & crow-nes vpon hys heades: and hys taylor drew the thyrde part of the sterres, and cast them to the earth.

And the Dragon stode before the woman whych was ready to be deliuered: for to deuoure hyr chyld as sone as it was borne.
And she brought forth a manne chyld: whych shoulde rule all naciōs wpth a rod of Iron. And her sonne was taken vp vnto God, and to hys seate. And the woman fled into wylernes, where she had a place prepared of God, that they should fede hir there a. lxx. ii. C. and. lx. dayes.

And there was grete battayle in heauen, Mychaell and hys aungelles foughte with the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and hys aungelles, and preuailed not: nether was theyr place founde anye more in heauen. And the grete Dragon, that olde serpente called the deuyll and Sathanas was caste out. Whych deceyueth all the worlde. And he was cast into the earth, and his angels were caste out also.

And I hearde a lowde voyce, sayinge: in heauen is nowe made saluacion, & strengthe and the kyngdome of oure God, and the power of hys Chyiste. For he is cast downe whych accused theym before God daye and nyght. And they ouercome him by the bloude of the Lambe, and by the worde of theyr testimonye, and they loued not theyr lyues vnto the death. Therefore reioyce ye heauens, and ye that dwell in them. Wo to the inhabytors of the earth, and of the sea:
for the deuyll is come down vnto you, whiche hath grete wrath because he knoweth that he hath but a shorte tyme.

And when the dragon sawe that he was caste vnto the earth, he persecuted the woman whych brought forth the man chyld.
And to the woman were geuen two wynges of a grete Eagle, that she myght flye into the wylernes, into hyr place, where she is noryshed for a tyme, tymes, and halfe a tyme, from the presence of the serpente.
And the dragon cast out of hys mouth water after the woman as it had bene a ryuer, because she shoulde haue bene caughte of the floud. And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened hyr mouth, and swa-lowed by the ryuer whych the dragon cast out of hys mouth. And the Dragonne was wrothe wpth the woman: and wente and made war wpth the remnaunte of hir sede, whych keepe the commaundementes of God, and haue the testimonye of Iesus Chyiste. And I stode on the sea sand.

The Notes.

The woman is Chyistes true church, the sun where wpth she is clothed, is the ryghtuousnes of Iesu Chyiste: the mone vnder hyr fete, is the worlde and worldly thynges, the crowne of. xii. stars, are the. xii. Apostles. And the womans crye and trauell, is the preachynge and the persecution. The dragon is the deuyll, the. vii. head-es, are all hys craftes & subtyltyes, the. x. hornes are all hys power to tempte man, the. vii. crow-nes are hys vniuersal raygne among the worldlynges: & hys taylor is the entycementes of worldly thynges, wherewyth he draweth men to hym and casteth them into the earth, makynge theym carnall.

The man chyld is Chyiste, the flynge into the wylernes, is the auoydynge of synne, and the flouryshynge there so many dayes, is Gods protection euen to the worldes ende. Mychaell and hys aungelles are the true and constante preachers and professours of goddes doctryne, and the dragons aungelles are the contrarie. The water that the dragon casteth out of hys mouth is all hypocrisie and supersticion, the earth that swalloweth it vp, is the multitude of the worldlynges: and the sea sande, is theyr doctryne not grounded on the rocke whiche is chyist, but on mash.

The. xiii. Chapter

The many headed beaste is described whiche bringeth the most part of the worlde to worshyp pyles, & is confirmed by an other beaste whiche ascended.

AND I saw a beast ryse out of the sea, hauing seuen heades & x. hornes, and vpon hys hornes x. crownes, & vpon hys head, the name of blasphemie. And the beast whych I sawe, was lyke a cat of the mountayne, and his fete were as the fete of a beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion. And the dragon gaue him his power and hys seate, and great authoritie: and I sawe one of hys heades, as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wounde was healed. And all the worlde wounded at the beaste, and they worshipped the dragon, whiche gaue power vnto þe beast, and they worshipped the beast, sayinge: who is lyke vnto the beaste? who is able to war w hym.

B And ther was a mouth geuen vnto hym that spake great thynges and blasphemyes, and power was geuen vnto him, to doo xlii. monethes. And he opened his mouth to blasphemy agaynst God, to blaspheme his name, and hys tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen. And it was geue vnto hym to make warre with the Saints, and ouercome them.

And power was geuen him ouer al kynredes, tonges and nacions: and all þe dwell vpon the earth, worshipped him: whose names are not witten in the booke of lyfe of the Lambe, whych was killed from the begynnyng of the worlde. If anye man haue an eare let him heare. He that leadeth into captiuitie, shall go into captiuitie: he that kylleth wth a sword, must be kylled wth a swearde. Here is the pacience & the faith of the sainctes.

I And I beheld another beaste comynge vp out of þe earth, and he had.ii. hornes like a lambe, and he spake as dyd the dragon. And he did all that the fyrst beaste could do in his presence, and he caused the earth, & them which dwell therein, to worshyppe the fyrst beaste, whose deadly wound was healed. And he dyd great woundes, so that he made fyre come downe from heauen in the syght of men. And deceyued the that dwell on the earth by the meanes of those signes whych he had power to do in the syght of the beaste, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an ymage vnto the beaste, whiche hadde the wounde of a sword, and dyd lyue.

D And he had power to giue a spirit vnto þe ymage of the beaste, and that the ymage of the beaste should speake, & shuld cause, that as many as would not worshyp the ymage of the beaste, should be kylled. And he made all both smal and great, ryche & poore, free and bond, to receiue a marke in their ryght handes, or in theyr forheades. And that no man might bye or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beaste, epyther the number of his name. Here is wylfdom. Let hym that hath wit count the number of the beaste. For it is the noumber of a manne, and hys number is syxe hundred, thre score and syxe.

This beaste is the whole Emperre of Antychriste the Romyshe rabble: hys seuen heades and ten hornes, is his raigne in al the vii. ages, and the power of the same: the mighty power þe was geuen him, and the seat that Barhan lesse hym, is thep deceyful doctryne, and thep glorious kyngdome.

The wounded head is the Popes suprema-cy and power denyed in certayn countries, and the curing therof, is the maintenyng and restoring agayn of hys ceremonies, & other tro-perry in the some countreyes. Like more of this in Iohn Sales Images of both the churches, & also of the mouth that spake great thynges and blasphemie, that is it chaigty charged all men to obserue the Popes seruyng of God, puttyng Gods word to sylence, and myserreportyng the true preachers thereof, with the blasphemous name of heresye. The other beaste that rose oute of the earth, was the false & deuylish preachers, they two hornes lyke vnto the hornes of a lab, are the ii. Testaments wrested to thep beasty purpose: the worshyp that the beaste muste haue, is the obseruacyon of hys rules and ceremonies, the ymage of the beaste, is the lyke tyrannye that raigned before the head was wounded. This ymage made they speak, by promulgatyng most cruel lawes vnder þe payn of death. The marke that all men receyued, was the othe to obserue the lawes.

The lyke thyng was the marke of the mar-chants, but theirs was rather inward in þe con-science, as is also þe name, & number of þe beaste, though they wer also outward. Of þe nuber of þe beaste what it betokeneth, loke in Sale vpon this place.

The xiiii. Chapter.

I The Lamb sytteth vpon mount Sion with hys chaste worshypers. The angels shew forth the Gospel. They fore shew the fall of Babylō, and geue counsaile to fflye from the beaste. Then is the Lords syble sent into the haruest.

AND I looked, and lo a lambe stode on the mount Sion, and wth hym c. xliiii. thousand hauing hys fathers name wyrtten in theyr forheades. And I hearde a voyce from heauen, as the sounde of many waters, and as þe voyce of a greate thunder.

And I hearde the voyce of harpers, har-ping wth theyr harpes. And they songe as it were a newe songe before the seate, & be-fore the foure beastes, and the elders, and no mā could learne that song, but the hun-dreth and xliiii. thousand, whych were re-demmed from the earth.

These are they, whych were not defyled wth women, for they are vyrgyns. These folowe the lambe whpyther soeuer he goth. These were redemed from men beyng the fyrst frutes vnto God and to the lambe, & in theyr mouthes was founde no gyle. For they are wpythout spot before the trone of God. &

And I sawe an aungel fflye in the middes of heauen, haupng an euerlastyng Gospel to preache vnto them that sytte and dwell on the earth, and to al nacyns, kynredes, and tounge, and people, sayinge wth a

Wuuu. iii. lowde

Notes. ciii. c

Gen. ix. a
mat. xxvi. c.

Isal. xlii
Act. xiii
Eph. xv
Iere. li.

loude voice: Feare God, and geue honoure to him, for the houre of his iudgemente is come, and worship him that made heauen & earth, and the sea, and fountaines of water. And ther folowed another angel, saying: Babilon is fallen, is fallen, that great cite, for she made al nacions dryncke of the wine of hir fornicacion.

And the thyrde angel folowed them, saying with a loude voice: If anye man worship the beast and his ymage, & receyue hys marcke in his foreheade or in his hande, the same shal drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, whiche is powred in the cuppe of his wrath. And he shal be punished in fyre and brimstone before the holy angels, & before the lambe.

And the smoke of their torment ascēdeth by evermore. And they haue no rest day nor night, which worship the beast & his ymage, & whosoever receiveth the print of his name. Here is the pacience of saintes. Here are they that kepe the commaundements and the faith of Iesu.

And I hearde a voice from heauen, saying vnto me: wyte. Blessed are the deade, whiche hereafter dye in the Lorde, even so saith the spirit: that they may rest fro their laboures, but their workes shal folow the. And I looked, and beholde a white cloude, & upon the cloude one sittyng, like vnto the son of man, hauing on his heade a golden crown, and in his hand a sharpe sickle. And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loude voice to him that sat on the cloude. Thrust in thy sickle and reap, for the tyme is come to reape, for the corne of the earth is ripe. And he that sat on the cloude, thrust in hys sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

And another angel came out of the temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle. And another angel came out fro the altar, which had power ouer fyre, & cryed wth a loud crye to him that had the sharpe sickle, and sayd: thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the earth, for hir grapes are ripe. And the angel thrust in his sickle on the earth, and cut downe the grapes of the vinegarde of the earth: and caste them into the great winefat of the wrath of god, and the winefat was troden withoute the cite, and bloud came out of the fat, euē vnto the horse byddels, by the space of a thousand and. vi. C. furlonges.

The Notes.

The Lambe is Christ, the mount Sion is the church, the great number that are with him are the faythfull members of the same church: the fathers name is hys word, and the belife in the same: the voyce of consent lyke vnto many harpes, is the vni forme fayth of al nacions, that is of as many of all nacions as are true Christians, and ground theyr fayth onely vpon scripture, whych is ful of thys swete harmony. The newe songe is the worde of God, whiche none can learne, but such as haue the name of the father wyrtten in theyr foreheades.

The women, are vncōstaunte and wauerynge doctryne. Babylon is the church of Antichriste and the wyne of hyr whoredome is the deuplysh doctryne, set fourth and taught by that wyched congregacion. The cloude is the true ministers of Goddes worde, he that sittyth on it, is the sonne of god, and the sharpe sickle in hys hand, is the sygne of the last day, whych is in scripture called harvest, and the sickle is called Gods word, for wth that sickle is gods harvest reaped.

The. xv. Chapter.

Ther appere seven angels hauing the seven last plagues. The conquerors of the beast praise God. The seven vials of Gods wrath are geue to the seven angels.

And I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueylous: seven angels hauinge the seven last plagues, for in them is fulfilled the wrath of God. And I saw as it were a glassy sea, myngled wth fyre: and them that had gotten victorie of the beast and of hys ymage, & of his mark, and of the number of hys name, stande on the glassy sea, hauing the harpes of God, & they song the song of Moses the seruaunt of God, and the song of the lamb, saying. Great and maruelous are thy workes, lord God almighty, iust and true are thy wayes kynge of sayntes. Who shall not feare, O Lord, and glorify thy name? For thou only art holy, and all gentyles shal come and worship before the, for thy iudgements are made manifeste.

And after that I looked, and beholde the temple of the tabernacle of testimony was open in heauen, and the seven angels came out of the temple, whych had the seven plagues, clothed in pure and brighte linnen, & hauing theyr breastes girded wth golden girdles. And one of the. iiii. beastes gaue to the seven angels seven golde vialles, ful of the wrath of god, whych lyeueth for evermore. And the temple was full of the smoke of the glory of god, and of hys power, and no man was able to enter into the temple, tyll the seven plagues of the seven aungelles were fulfilled.

The. xvi. Chap.

The aungels poure out the seven vials of Gods wrath, after whych plagues do aryse in all the worlde.

And I hearde a great voice out of the temple saying to the. vii. angels: go your waies, poure out poure vials of wrath vpon the earth. And the first went & poured out his vial vpon the earth, & ther fel a noisome & a soze botch vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, & vpon them whych worshipped his ymage. And the second angel shed out his vial vpon the sea, & it turned as it were into the bloud of a dead man, and euery living thinge died in the sea. And the third angel shed out his vial vpon the riuers & fountaines of waters, & they turned to blud. And I heard an angel say, lord which art a wast, thou art righteous & holy, because thou hast geue such iudgemēts, for they shed out the bloud of saintes, & prophets, & therefore hast thou geue the bloud to drinke: for they are worthy.

And I heard another out of the aulter say: euen so lord God almighty, true and ryghteous are thy iudgements.

And the fourth aungel poured out his vial on the sunne, and power was geue vnto him to bere men with heat of fyre. And the men raged in great heat and spake euyl of the name of God which hadde power ouer those plagues, & they repented not to geue him glozy. And the fyft aungel poured out his vial vpon the seate of the beast, and hys kingdome waxed darcke, & they gnawed their tounge for sorowe, & blasphemed the God of heauen for sorow & paine of their sores, and repented not of theyr dedes.

And the sixt angel poured oute his vial vpon the greater riuer Euphrates, and the water dried vp that the wayes of þe kynges of the east should be prepared. And I sawe thye vnclene spirites like frogges come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

Mat. xlii.
Luke. xlii. r.
1. Cor. v. a

For they are the spyrites of diuels working miracles to go out vnto the kyngs of the earth, and to the whol world to gather them to the battaile of that greate dape of God almighty. Behold I come as a thefe. Happy is he that watcheth and kepeth his garmentes, least he be found naked, & men se hys filthines. And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrue tong, Armagedon.

And the senenth angel poured out his vial into the ayre. And there came a voice out of heauen from the seat, saying: it is done. And there folowed voices, thunderinges & lightnings, & ther was a great earthquak, such as was not sence men were vpon the earth, so mighty an earthquake & so great. And the greate citie was deuided into thye partes, & the cities of naciōs fel. And great Babilon came in remēbraunce befoze god, to geue vnto her the cup of wine of the fyt-cenes of his wrath. Euerp fle fled awape. And the mountaynes were not found. And ther fell a great haile, as it had bene talentes oute of heauen vpon the men, and the men blasphemed god, because of the plage of the hable, for it was great, and the plage of it soze.

The Notes.

Confer these .vii. plagis with the openyng of the seven seales, and the blowyng of the seven trompettes, and it shal be easy to vnderstande.

The .xvii. Chapter.

The harlot which seduceth the princes of the earth, is describēd: whose destiny and þe victory of the lambe is shadowed.

And ther came one of the seven aungels which had the seven viales, and talked w me, sayinge vnto me: come I will shew the the iudgement of the great whore that sitteth vpon many waters, with whom haue committed fornicaciō the kynges of the earth, so that the inhabitants of the earth, are drunken with the wine of hir fornicacion.

And he carped me awape into the wilderness in the spirite. And I saw a woman syt vpon a rose coloured beaste: full of names of blasphempe, whych had ten hornes.

And the woman was arrayed in purple & rose coloure, and decked wpth gold, pprecious stones and pearles, and hadde a cup of gold in hyr hand, ful of al abominacions & fylthynes of hyr fornicacion.

And in hir forehead was a name written, a mistery, great Babilon þe mother of whozedome and abominacions of the earth. And I sawe the wyfe dronke with the bloud of sapntes, and with the bloude of the wptnesses of Iesu. And when I sawe hyr, I wondered with great maruaple.

And the angell sayed vnto me: wherfore marueilest thou? I wil shew the the mistery of the woman, and of the beast that bereth hir, whych hath seven heades and ten hornes. The beast that thou seest, was and is not, and shal ascend out of the bottomlesse ppt, and shal go into perdition: & they that dwell on the earth, shal wonder (whose names are not wyrtten in the boke of life, fro the begynnynge of the worlde) when they behold the beast that was, and is not. And here is a mynde that hath wptdome.

The seven heades are seven mountayns, on which the woman sytteth: they are also seven kynges. Fiue are fallen, and one is, and another is not yet come. When he cometh he must contynue a space.

And the beast that was, and is not, is euē the .viii. and is one of the .vii. and shal go in to destruccion. And the ten hornes whych thou seest, are the ten kynges, whiche haue receiued no kyngedome, but shal receiue power as kings at one hour with the beast. These haue one minde, and shal geue their power and strength vnto the beast. These shal fyght wpth the lambe, and the lambe shal ouercome them. For he is lord of lordes, and kyng of kyngs: and they that are on his side, are called the chosen & faithful.

And he sayd vnto me: the waters whych thou sawest, wher the whore sitteth, at people and folke, and naciōs and tounge. And the ten hornes, which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shal hate the whore, & shal make hyr desolate and naked, & shal eat hyr flesh, and burne hyr with fyre. For God hath put in their hertes to fulfyll hys will, & to do wpth one consent, for to geue their kingdom to the beast, vntil þe wordes of God be fulfilled. And the woman which thou sawest, is that great cpty which rageth ouer the kynges of the earth.

The Notes.

The whore is the churche of Antychrist whych he Dale declareth to be the churche of Rome. The many waters are the multitudes of people vnder the sayd churche, the kynges and rulers wherof committed spyriual fornicacion with hyr. Loke in the .xlii. Chapter for the descripcion of thys beast.

The Reuelacyon

The .xviii. Chapter.

The terrible destine of Babylon is described, and the hope whych the sayntes shal haue through the iust vengeance of God vpon it.

And after that I saw another angell come from heauen, hauing great power: & the earth was lightened wpth his brightnes. And he cryed mightely with a strong voice, saying: Grete Babylon is fallen is fallen, and is become the habita-cyon of diuels, and the holde of al foule spi-rites, and a cage of all vnclene and hateful byrdes: for all nacions haue droncken of þ wine of the wrath of hyr fornicacion. And the kings of the earth haue committed for-nicacion with hir, and hir marchantes are waxed rich of the aboundaunce of her pleasures.

And I heard another voice from heauen say: Come awape from hyr my people, that ye be not partakers in hyr synnes, and that ye receiue not of hyr plagues. For hyr synnes are gone vp to heauen, & God hath remembered hyr wyckednes. Reward hyr euen as she rewarded pou, and giue hir double according to hyr woorkes. And poure in double to hyr in the same cuppe which she fylled vnto pou. And as much as she glorified hir selfe and liued watonly, so much poure pe for hyr of hyr punisshmente and sorowe, for she saped in hyr herte: I sitte beyng a quene, & am no widdowe, and shal se no so-row. Therefore shal hir plagues come at one day, death and sorow, and hunger, and she shal be bzent with fyre: for strong is þ Lord God which iudgeth hir.

Esa. lvi.

And the kinges of the earth shal bewepe hyr and waple ouer hir, which haue comytted fornicacio with hyr, & haue lyued wantonly with hir, whē they shal se the smoke of hyr burning, & shal stand a far of for fear of hyr punisshment, saying: Alas, Alas that great city Babylon that mighty city. For at one houre is hyr iudgemente come. And the marchants of the earth shal wepe and waile in themselves, for no mā wil bie their ware any more, the ware of golde, and syluer, and precious stones, neither of pearle, and raines, and purple, and skarlet, and al thine woode, & al maner of vessels of iuor, & al maner of vessels of mooste precious woode, and of bras, and of Iron, and sp-namome and odoures, and ointments, and frankinsence, and wine, and oile, and fyne floure, and wheate, beastes, and shepe, and horses, and charrets, and bodpes and sou-les of men.

And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from the. And al thynges whiche were depntye, and had in price, are departed from the, and thou shalt find the no more. The marchants of these thyngs which were waxed riche, shal stande a farre of from hyr, for feare of the punisshment of hyr, weppnge, and waplyng, and saying:
alas, alas, that grete city, that was clothed in raines, and purple and skarlet, and

of S. Ihon. Chapte. xviij.

decked with golde, and precious stone, and pearles: for at one houre so great ryches is come to noughte.

And euery thynng gouerner, and all they þ occupied ships, and shipmen which woorked in the sea, stode a far of and cried, whē they saw þ smoke of hyr burning, saying: what city is lyke vnto this great city? And they cast dust on their heades, & cryed weppng, & wailing, and said: Alas, alas that great city wherin were made rich al that had ships in the sea, by the reason of hir costlines, for at one houre is she made desolate.

Reioice ouer hir thou heauen, and þe ho-lye Apostles, and prophetes: for God hath geuen poure iudgemēt on hyr. And a mighty angel toke vp a stone, like a grete mpy-stone, and cast it into the sea, saying: with such violence shal that great city Babylon be cast, and shal be found no more. And the voice of harpers, and musiciens, and of pppers, and trumpeters, shal be hearde no more in the, and no craftes man, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shal be found any more in the, and the sounde of a mpy shal not be heard any more in the, and the voice of the bydegrome and of the byde, shal be heard no more in the: for thy marchauntes were the great men of the earth. And with thyne inchantmente were deceyued all nacions:
and in hyr was found the bloud of the prophetes, and of the sayntes, and of all that were slayne vpon the earth.

The Notes.

Thy Babylon is the church of Antychrist: whych standeth of the rabble of Rome the rely-gyous as Ihon Bale declarith very euidently.
The kynge and marchants that bewayle this sodeyne fall, are the poppysh rulers wth þ rabble of theyr Rome marchants the byshops and priestes, that haue their liuing by the Romysh marchandys, whiche are well declared in Iohn Bales commentaries. The thymmasters and al maryners that labour by the sea, are the byshopes wth theyr infynite rabbles of the Dopes maryners, who haue violently entred into the myn of Peter, James & Iohn.
For by those thyns are signyfyed þ church of Christ, wherin these maryners by force do rule.

The .xix. Chapter.

The heauenly trumpets prayse god for the whores punisshmente. The chiefe kynge of kynges apareth, and battayle aryseth, in whych the beast is overcome and cast into þ burnynge lake.

And after that, I heard the voice of much people in heauen, sayinge: Alleluia, Saluacion and glorie and honoure, and power be ascribed to the lord our God, for true and ryghtuouse are his iudgements, for he hath iudged that great whore which dyd corrupte the earth wth hyr fornicacion, and hath auenged þ bloud of his seruauntes of hyr hande.
And agayne they sayd Alleluia. And smoke rose vp for euermore, and the .xiiiij. elders, and the foure beastes fel doune, & worshipped God that sat on the seat, saying: amē, Alleluia. And a voyce came out of the seat, sayinge:

saying: prayse our lord God al ye that are hys seruaunts, and ye that fear hym, both smal and great.

B And I heard the voyce of muche people, even as the voyce of strong thundring, saying: Alleluia, for god omnipotēt reigneth.
Let vs be glad and reioyce, & geue honoure to hym: for the marpage of the Lambe is come, and his wyfe made hyr selfe readye.
And to hyr was graunted that she shoulde be arrayed wth pure and goodlye raynes.
For the raiues is the rightuousnes of sain-tes. And he saied vnto me: happye are they whych are called vnto the Lambes supper.
And he saied vnto me: these are the true say-inges of God. And I fel at his fete to worship him, and he saied vnto me: se thou do it not. For I am thy fellow seruaunt, and one of thy brethren, and of them that haue the testimony of Iesus. Worshipp God. For the testimony of Iesus is the spirit of prophesye. And I saw heauen open, and behold a white horse: and he that sat vpon hym was saythful and true, and in rightuous-nes did he iudge and make battayle. Hys eyes wer as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes: and he hadde a name written, that no man knewe but him selfe:
And he was clothed with a vesture dypte in bloud, and hys name is called the worde of God. And the warriors which were in heauen, folowed him vpon whyte horses, clothed with white and pure raynes: and oute of hys mouth went oute a sharp swerde, & with it he shoulde smite the heathen. And he shal rule them with a rod of Iron, & he trod the winefate of the fiercenes and wrath of almighty God, and hath on his vesture & on his thigh a name written: king of kynges, and lord of lords.

D And I sawe an Angel stand in the sun, and he cried with a loude voyce, sayinge to all the foules that flye by the myds of heauen: come and gather your selues together vnto the Supper of the great God, that ye maye eate the fleshe of kyniges, and of hye captaynes, and the fleshe of myghty men, & the fleshe of horses, and of them that spt on them, and the fleshe of all fre men & bonde men, and of smalle and great. And I sawe the beaste and the kyniges of the earth, and theyr warriors gathered together to make battaile against him that sat on the horse, and agaynst his souldiers.

And the beaste was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought myracles before him, with which he deceiued them & receiued the beastes marke, and them that worshipped hys ymage. These bothe were caste into a ponde of fyre burnynge wth brymstone: and the remnaunte were slayn with the swerd of hym that sat vpon the horse, which swerd proceded out of hys mouth: and all the foules were fulfylled with theyr fleshe.

The Notes.

The myltitude that cryed, are the vniuersal churche of the saythfull: whych is also þ wyfe of the Lambe. The Lambes supper is the lyfe euerlastynge in perpetuall ioye and felicitye.

The foules that are called to the slaughter, are the true preachers of Chykses doctrine, who are commaunded to kyl and deuoure all flethe wth the sharpenes of theyr preaching, in rebu-kyng theyr fleshy lyuynge in all degrees.

The. xx. Chapter.

The Angel byndeth Sathanas, who after
a. 1000. yeres beyng loose agayne, styeth vp Gog and Magog agaynst the sayntes of God. But the vengeance of God styeth thē downe. The booke is opened after the sentence wherof the dead are iudged.

And I saw an Angel come downe fro heauen, hauing the kepe of the bottomles ppt, and a great chayn in his haude. And he toke the dragon that old serpente which is the deuill and Sathanas, & he bounde him a thousand yeres, and cast him into the bottomles ppt, and he bounde him and set a seale on him, that he shoulde deceiue the people no more, tyll the thousand yeres were fulfylled. And after that he must be lewised for a lytle season.

And I saw seates, and theyr sate vpon the,
and iudgement was geuen vnto them: and I saw the foules of them that were beheaded for the witnes of Iesu, & for the worde of god, whych had not worshipped þ beast, neither his ymage: neither had taken hys marcke vpon their forheades, or on theyr handes: and they liued, and reigned wth Christ a thousand yere: but the other of þ men lyued not agayne, vntyl the thousand yeres were finished. This is that fyrst resurreccio. Blessed and holpe is he that hath parte in the fyrst resurreccion: For on such shall the seconde death haue no power, for they shal be priestes of God and of Chykses, and shal reigne with him a thousand yere.

And when the thousand yeres are expired, Satan shal be lewised out of pryson, & shal go out to deceiue the people whych ar in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battaye, whose numbze is as the sande of the sea, and they wente vpon the playne of the earth, and compassed the tents of the sain-tes about, and the beloued cytye. And fyre came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them: and the deuill that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fyre and brimstone, wher the beaste and the false prophet were, and shal be tormented day and nyght for euermore.

And I sawe a greate whyte seate, & hym that sat on it, from whose face fled awaye both the earth and heauen, and theyr place was no more found. And I sawe the dead, both great and smal stand before God: and the booke was opened, and another boke was opened, whych is the booke of lyfe, & the deade were iudged of those thynges, whiche were written in the booke, accor-dyng to theyr dedes: and the sea gaue vp hyr dead, which were in her, and death and

Quuu. h. hell

Matt. xxii
Luke. xliii.

Esa. xliii.

1. Timo. vi

The Revelacyon

hell delpyered bp the deade, whiche were in them: and they were iudged every man accordyng to his dedes. And death & hell were caste into the lake of fyre. This is that second death. And whosoever was not founde written in the booke of lyfe, was caste into the lake of fyre.

The Notes.

The dragon that is the deuyll, was shut up for ever, that he had no power over the soules of the electes, for the space of a thousand yeaeres after Christes death. But after that tyme was he leued in his members to vex the verye electe euen wth ghostly payson, as shall playnely appere to all them that wyl earnestlye consider the payce, and the woordes of the same.

The other of the dead men that lyued not tyll the thousande yeaeres were synned: are those that beleued not in the tyme of this mortal life, and therfore are not partakers of the fyrste resurrection, whiche is repentaunce of synnes, to be priestes to Christe and regne wth hym for ever. Amongst those synners that Sathan be turned lewde, and shall gather them together to make war agaynst the byghest, vnder theyr capteynes Gog and Magog (the Pope and the Antychrist) but shall wth them be deuoured of the fyre of Gods myghty worde. The great whyte seate is the seat of Gods last iudgement, and he that sate thereon, the sonne of God. The booke that were opened, are mennes consciences, the other booke is the eternall predestinacyon of god.

The .xxi. Chapter.

The newe Jerusalem that cometh from heauen, that is the churche Christes spouse, is diligently described.

AND I saw a newe heauen and a new earth. For the fyrste heauen, and the fyrst earth were banished away, and ther was no more sea. And I Ihon sawe that holy cytie newe Jerusalem come down from Godd oute of heauen, prepared as a byde garnished for hir husband.

And I heard a great voice out of heauen saying: behold, the tabernacle of Godd is with men, and he will dwell with the. And they shalbe hys people, and God hymselfe shalbe wth them, and be theyr God. And God shal wipe away all teares from theyr eyes. And there shalbe no more death, neyther sorow, nether crying, neither shal ther be any more payne, for the olde thinges are gone. And he that sate vpon the seate, said. Beholde, I make al thynges new. And he sayed vnto me: wypte, for these wordes are faithfull and true.

And he said vnto me: it is done, I am Alpha and Omega, the begynnyng & the ende. I wyl geue to hym that is a thyrt of the well of the water of life fre. He that ouercommeth, shall inherit all thynges, and I wil be hys God, and he shalbe my sonne. But the feareful and vnbeleuyng, and the abhominable, and murtherers, and whores, and mongers, and sorcerers, and ydolaters, & all liars shall haue their parte in the lake which burneth with fyre & brimstone, which is the second death.

And there came vnto me one of the seuen

of S. Ihon. Chapte. xxi.

angels which had the seuen vials full of the seuen last plagues and talked wth me, saying: come hyther, I will shew the the byde, the lambes wyfe. And he carped me awaye in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and he shewed me the great cytye holy Jerusalem, descending oute of heauen from God, haupng the byghenes of God. And hir shynynge was like vnto a stone most precious, euen a Jaspere, clere as Christal, and had walles great and hye, and had twelue gates, and at the gates, twelue aungelles, and names written, whiche are the twelue trybes of Israell: on the East parte thre gates, and on the Northsyde thre gates, and towardes the Southe thre gates, and from the Weste, thre gates. And the wall of the cytye had twelue foundacions, and in them the names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.

And he that talked wth me, had a golden reede to measure the cytye wthal, and the gates thereof, and the wal therof. And the citie was built foure square, & the length was as large as the bredth of it, & he measured the citie with the reede twelue thousand furlonges: & the length & the bredth, and the heigth of it wer equal. And he measured the wall thereof an hundred & foure and forty cubytes: the mesur that the angel hadde, was after the measure that man vseth.

And the buildinge of the wall of it was of Jaspere. And the cytye was pure golde lyke vnto cleare glasse, and the foundacions of the wal of the cytye were garnished with al maner of precious stones. The first foundacyon was Jaspere, the seconde Saphyre, the thyrde a Calcedonye, the fourth an Emerald: the fyfte Sardonix: the syxte Sardeos: the seuenth Chrysolite, the eight Beral: the ninth a Topas, the tenth a Chrysoprasos: the eleuenth a Jacint, & twelfte an Amatist.

The twelue gates were twelue pearles, euerye gate was of one pearle, & the strete of the city was pure golde, as thozow synnyng of glasse. And there was no temple therin. For the Lord God almyghty, and the lambe are the temple of it: and the cytye hath no neede of the sunne, neyther of the mone to lyghten it. For the byghenes of God dyd lyghte it: and the lambe was the lyghte of it. And the people whiche are saved shal walke in the light of it: & the kynnes of the earth shal bypge theyr glorie vnto it. And the gates of it are not shut by daye. For there shalbe no nyght there. And ther shal enter into it non vncleane thing: neyther whatsoeuer worketh abhomyncyon, or maketh lyes: but they only whiche are wyrtten in the lambes booke of lyfe.

The Notes.

This newe Jerusalem, is the sayethfull congregacyon of Christ. What the partes and maner of the building thereof do synnyfyre, is easy enough to be perceived of them that do diligently

Cap. li. b and. lvi. g
ii. Pet. ii. c.

Cap. xvi. c
Apoc. vii. d
Esa. xliii. c

Cap. ix. c

gently marke al that is spoken in thys boke of reuelacyons, wherefore I wil in thys place note nothyng but that al the precyous thyngs wherof thys cty was buylded, do signyfy the wonderfull excellency of thys church and congregacyon of Christ, and nothyng in comparyson is so precyous in Gods syghie, as are the faythful members of hys church, of whō (as of most precyouse stones) thys church or cty is buylded.

The. xxi. Chapter.

The ryuer of lyuynge water is shewed, and the lawes of the new cty are described. Iohn is forbydden to worshyp the angell. Laste of all the authoryte, certaynty, and reuerence of thys prophesy, is declared.

echyel.
xvii. a
ha. xix. b

And he shewed me a pure ryuer of water of lyfe, clear as Crystal, proceeding out of the seate of God and of the lambe. In the middes of the strete of it, and of either syde of the ryuer, was there wood of lyfe: whiche bare twelue maner of frutes: and gaue fruite euery moneth: and the leaues of the woode serued to heale the people withall. And there shalbe no more curse, but the seate of God, and the lambe shalbe in it, and hys seruauntes shal serue hym, And shal see hys face, and hys name shalbe in theyr foreheades. And there shalbe no nyght ther, and they nede no candel, nei ther lyght of the sunne: for the Lord God geueth the lyght, and they shal ragne for evermore.

lay. ix. d.

B And he sayed vnto me: these sayinges are faythful and true. And the Lord God of sayntes and prophetes sente hys angell to shew vnto his seruauntes, the things which must shortly be fulfilled. Beholde I come shortly. Happy is he that kepeth the sayings of this prophesy of this boke. I am Iohn whych sawe these thyngs, and hearde the. And when I had heard & sene, I fell doune to worshyppe before the fete of the aungell whych shewed me these thynges. And he sayed vnto me: se thou doo it not, for I am thy fellow seruaunt, and the fellow seruant of thy brethren the prophetes, and of them whych kepe the sayings of thys boke. But worship God.

I And he sayd vnto me: seale not the sayinges of the prophesy of thys booke. For the tyme is at hand. He that doeth euil, let him do euil still: and he whych is fylthy, let hym be fylthy still: and he that is ryghtuous, let him be more ryghtuous: & he that is holpe, let him be more holpe. And behold I come shortly, and my reward wyltyme to geue euery man accordyng as his dedes shalbe. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ende: the fyrst and the last. Blessed are they that do hys commaundementes, that their power maye be in the tre of lyfe, and maye enter in thowre the gates into the ctye. For without, shal be dogges and inchanters, and whoremongers, and murtherers and Idolaters, and whosoever loueth or maketh leasinges.

lay. xli. b.
and. xlii. d.

I Iesus sent myne angell to testify vnto you these thynges in the congregacions,

I am the rote and the generacio of Dauid, and the bryght morning star. And the spirit and the bride sayd, come. And let hym that heareth, saye also come. And let him that is a thyrst, come. And let whosoever wil, take of the water of lyfe fre.

lay. lv. a

I testify vnto euery man that heareth the wordes of the prophesy of thys booke. If any man shal adde vnto these thynges, God shal adde vnto hym the plagues that are witten in thys boke. And if anye man shal minishe of the wordes of the boke of thys prophesy, God shal take away hys parte out of the boke of life, and out of the holy cty, and from those thynges whych are wrytten in thys boke. He whych testifyeth these thynges, sayeth: be it, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so come lord Iesu. The grace of our Lord Iesu Christ be with you al. Amen.

The Notes.

The ryuer of the water of lyfe, is the truth of Goddes worde, the wood that groweth on eche syde, is Christ, who byngeth forth fruite in the faythfull (hys branches) euery moneth, and by twelue maner, that is the vniuersall gyftes of the holy ghost. And hys leaues that is, hys most healthfull wordes and promyses, are health to the people.

Thus hast thou (gentle reader) such thyngs as are darcke, and hys from the natural vnderstandynge, byefelye touched, that thou mayest wryth lesse labour come to the knowledge and vnderstandynge of the whole. Howbeit the studye to be bryefe, woulde not suffer me to be so playne as I wythe that I myghte be, wherefore I thynke it necessarye, that thou playe not the slouggard, folowynge the example of the vnproffable Dione Bee, who lyueth onely by honye that dyligent Bees gather, but contrarywyle, be thou a good Bee, search for the sweete honye of the most holefome floures of Goddes holpe worde. And in al thys geue ouer thy selfe to the teachynge of Gods holpe spyrte, who instructeth none but humble spirited, and such as seke reformacyon of theyr owne myseluyng, and all suche he instructeth to the full, makynge theyr hertes a meete temple for hym to dwell in. Yet in the meane tyme, refuse not the gyftes of God, whych are offered vnto the by the labours of other men, whom God hath endued wryth the most excellent gyft of enterpryng, but vse the as meanes. And yet geue not credence lightly vnto euerye interpretacyon, but fyrste proue the spyrtes. And if they confesse not Christ to be comen in the fleshe (that is, that there is no maner of saluacyon besyde hym) beleue them not, for they are the spirit of Antichrist.

The ende of the new Testament.

The table.

A Table to

to fynde the Eppistles and Gospels usually reade in the Church, according vnto the booke of Common praier: wherof the fyrst line is the Epistle, and the other the Gospel, whose beginning ye shall fynde in thys booke marked wth a crosse, and the ende wth halfe a crosse, & con- teyned in these letters. A. B. C. D. &c.

On the fyrst sondaye in Aduent.

Owe nothing. Roma. xiii. c
When they drewe nye. Math. xxi. a

The second sondaye in Aduent.

Whatsoever thynge is wytt. Ro. xv. a
There shalbe signes in the sunne. Lu. xxi. c

The thyrde sondaye in Aduent.

Let men thys wyse esteeme. i. Co. iii. a When John beynge. Math. xi. a

The fourth sonday in Aduent.

Reioice in the Lord alwaye. phil. iii. a
And thys is the record of John. John. i. c

On Christmas dave at the fyrste Communion.

For the grace of God. Titus. ii. b And it chaunced in those daies. Luk. ii. a

At the second Communion.

God in times passe. Heb. i. a In the beginning was. John. i. a

On S. Steuens dave.

And Steuen full of fapth. Actes. vi. b Wherfore behold I send. Mat. xxiii. e

S. Ihon Euangelistes dave.

That which was from the. i. John. i. a Folowe me. John. xxi. d

The Innocentes dave.

And I loked, and lo a Lamb. Apo. xiiii. a The aungel of the Lord. Math. ii. d

The sondaye after Christmas dave.

And I sape that the heyre. Gala. iiii. a This is the boke. Math. i. a

On newe yeares dave.

Blessed is that man. Rom. iiii. a
And it fortuneth. Luke. ii. c

On the Epiphanye.

For thys cause. Ephes. iii. a When Iesus was bozne. Math. ii. a

The fyrst sondaye after

Epiphanye.

I beseeche you therfore. Rom. xii. a
His father and mother. Luke. ii. f

The second sondaye after the Epiphanye.

Seynge that we haue dpuers. Ro. xii. b
And the thyrde dave. Joh. ii. a

The thyrde sondaye after the Epiphanye.

We not wyse in your. Rom. xii. d

The table.

When he was come down. Mat. viii. a
The fourth sonday after the Epiphanye.

Let euery soule. Roma. xiii. a When Iesus was entred. Math. xiii. a

The fyrst sonday after the Epiphanye.

Now therfore as electe. Collo. iii. c
The kyngdome of heauen is. Mat. xiii. d

The fyrte sonday as on the fyrte.

On Septuagesima sondaye.

Perceyue ye not. i. Coz. ix. c
For the kyngdome of heauen. Mat. xx. a

On Sexagesima sondaye.

For ye suffer soles. ii. Coz. xi. d. and. xii. a When much people were. Luke. viii. a

On Quinquagesima sondaye.

Though I speake with the. i. Coz. xiii. a He toke vnto him the twelue. Lu. xvi. f

On Ashwednesdaye.

Turne you vnto me. Joel. ii. c Moreouer when ye fast. Mat. vi. c

On the fyrst sondaye in Lent.

We as helpers therfore. ii. Coz. vi. a Then was Iesus led. Math. iii. a

On the second sondaye in Lent.

Furthermoze we beseech you bre. i. tes. iii. a
And Iesus went thence. Math. xv. c

On the thyrde sondaye in Lent.

Be ye folowers. Ephes. v. a
And he was castyng. Luke. xi. c

On the fourth sondaye in Lent.

Tell me ye that desyre. Gala. iiii. d After these thinges Iesus. John. vi. a

On the fyrst sondaye in Lent.

But Christ beynge an hye priest. Heb. ix. c Whych of you can. John. viii. f

On the sondaye next befoze Easter.

Let the same mynde. phil. ii. b
And it came to. Mat. xxvi. a. xxvii. vnto. g

On mondaye befoze Easter.

What is he thys. Eccl. i. xiii. a After two daies foloweth easter. mat. xiii. a

Tewdaye befoze easter.

The Lord God hath opened. Eccl. i. e
And anone in the dawning. Mat. xv. a

On wednesday befoze easter.

For whersoever is a testament. Heb. ix. d
The feast of swete bread. Luke. xxii. a

On thursdave befoze Easter.

This I warne you of. i. Corinth. xi. c
And the whole multitude. Luke. xxiii. a

On good frydave.

For the lawe whych. Heb. x. a When Iesus had spoken. John. xviii. a and xix. vnto the ende.

On easter euen.

It is better. i. Peter. iii. d
When the euen was come. Mat. xxvii. g

On easter dave at the fyrst

Communion.

If ye

The table.

I pebe then rpsen agayn. Coloss. iii. a
 The morow after the Saboth. Iohn. xx. a
At the second Communion.
 I knowe pe not that a litle leuen. i. Cor. v. b.
 And when the Saboth. Mat. xvi. a
On mondaye in Easter weke.
 Then Peter opened hys. Actes. x. e
 And behold two of them. Lu. xxiii. b Tewsdaye in Easter weke.
 Yemen and brethren. Actes. xiii. e Iesus him selfe stode. Luke. xxiii. e
The fyrste sondaye after Easter.
 For all that is bozne. i. Iohn. ii. a
 The same daye at night. Iohn. xx. e
On the second sonday after Easter.
 For it is thanke worthe. i. Peter. ii. d
 I am the good shepherde. Iohn. x. c
On the thyrde sonday after Easter.
 Verely beloued. i. Peter. ii. e
 After a whyle pe shall not. Iohn. xvi. d
On the fourth sonday after easter.
 Hurry good gyfte. James. i. d
 But now I go. Iohn. xvi. b
On the fyfte sondaye after Easter.
 And se that pe be doers. James. i. d Verely, verely I say vnto. Iohn. xvi. f
On the Ascensyon daye.
 In the former treatise. Actes. i. a After that he appeared. Mark. xvi. c
On the sonday after the Ascension.
 The ende of all thynges. i. Pet. iii. b
 But when the comforter. Ioh. xvi. d. & xvii. a On Whytsondaye.
 When the fyrste dayes. Actes. ii. a
 I pe loue. Iohn. xiiii. b
On Mondaye in Whytson weke.
 Then Peter opened his. Actes. x. e
 For God so loued. Iohn. iii. c
Tewsdaye in whytson weke.
 When the Apostles. Actes. viii. c Verely, verely. Iohn. x. a
On Trinitie sondaye.
 After this I looked. Apoca. iiii. a
 There was a man of. Iohn. iii. a
On the fyrst sonday after Trinitie Sondaye.
 Beloued let vs loue. i. Iohn. iiii. b
 There was a certayne rpyche. Luke. xvi. e
On the. ii. sondaye.
 Maruel not. i. Iohn. iii. c
 A certayne man ordeined. Luke. xiiii. c
On the. iii. sondaye.
 Submit your selues euery. i. Peter. v. b Then resorted vnto. Luke. xv. a
On the. iiii. sondaye.
 For I suppose that. Roma. viii. c Be pe therfore mercyfull. Luke. vi. f
On the. v. sonday.
 In conclusion be pe also. i. Peter. iii. b It came to. Luke. v. a

The table.

On the. vi. sonday.
 Remember pe not that all. Roma. vi. a
 For I saye. Mathe. v. c
On the. vii. sondaye.
 I speake grossely. Roma. vi. d
 In those dayes. Mark. viii. a
On the. viii. sondaye.
 Therefore brethren we are. Roma. viii. b Beware of falsse. Mat. vii. s
On the. ix. sondaye.
 Brethren I would not. i. Cor. x. a
 There was a certayne rpych. Luk. xvi. a
On the. x. sondaye.
 In spirituall thynges. i. Corin. xii. a
 And when he was now come. Luke. xix. f
On the. xi. sondaye.
 Brethren, as pertaining to. i. Cor. xv. a
 And he put forth a similitude. Luke. xviii. b
On the. xii. sondaye.
 Such trust haue we. ii. Cor. iii. b And departed agayne. Marke. viii. d
On the. xiii. sondaye.
 To Abraham and his sede. Gala. iii. c Happy are the eyes. Luke. x. d
On the. xiiii. sonday.
 I saye walke in the spirit. Galat. v. c
 And it chaunced as he went. Luke. xvi. s
On the. xv. sondaye.
 Beholde pe se how large. Galat. vi. c
 No man can serue. Mathe. vi. e
On the. xvi. sondaye.
 Wherefore I despye. Ephes. iii. d
 And it fortunied after. Luke. vii. c
On the. xvii. sondaye.
 Therefore whych am in. Ephe. iii. a
 And it chaunced that he. Luk. xiiii. a
On the. xviii. sonday.
 I thanke my God alwayes. i. Cor. i. b
 When the pharises had. Mathe. xxii. d
On the. xix. sondaye.
 Thys I saye therfore. Ephe. iii. d
 Then he entred into thys. Mat. ix. a
On the. xx. sondaye.
 Take hede therfore that pe. Ephe. v. e
 The kingdome of heauen. Mathe. xxii. a
On the. xxi. sondaye.
 Finally my brethren, be strong. Ephe. vi. b And ther was a. Iohn. iiii. g
On the. xxii. sondaye.
 I thanke my God. Philip. i. a Then came Peter to him. Mathe. xviii. d
On the. xxiii. sondaye.
 Brethren be folowers of me. Phil. iii. d
 Then went the pharises. Mat. xxii. b
On the. xxiiii. Sondaye.
 We geue thankes. Collos. i. a Whyle he thus spake. Mathe. ix. c
On the. xxv. Sondaye.
 Beholde the tyme. Ieremy. xxiii. b Then Iesus liste vp. Iohn. vi. a
 The

The table.

The epyttles and Gospels for Sayntes Dayes.

On S. Andrewes daye.

For if thou halt knowledge. Rom. x. c
As Iesus walked. Mat. iii. c

Saynt Thomas the Apostle.

Now therefore. Ephe. ii. d
But Thomas one. Joh. xx. f

The Conuersyon of Saint Paule.
And Saule yet. Actes. ix. a

Then answered Peter. Mat. xix. d
The purification of the byrgyn

Marye.

The Epistle as on Sondaye before.
And when the tyme of. Luke. i. d

Saynt Mathies daye.

And in those dayes. Actes. i. c
At that tyme Iesus answered. Mat. xi. d

The Annuncyacyon of the byrgyn Mary.

God spake once vnto Ahas. Esay. vii. b
And in the syrte moneth. Luke. i. e

Saynt Markes daye.

Vnto euery one. Ephe. iii. b
I am the true vyne. John. xv. a Saynt Philip and James.

James the seruaunt. Iaco. i. a
And he sayed to hys. John. xiiii. a Saynt Barnabe Apostle.

The table.

Typynges of these thynges. Actes. xi. d
This is my commaundement. John. xv. b

Saynt John Baptiste.

Comforte my people (O pe.) Esay. xl. a Elizabethes tyme came. Luke. i. f

Saynt Peters daye.

In that tyme Herode. Actes. xii. a When Iesus came into. Mat. xvi. c

Saynt Mary Magdalenie.

Whoso findeth an honest. Pro. xxi. b And one of the pharises. Luke. vii. e

Saynt James the Apostle.

In those dayes came. Actes. xi. e. and xii. a Then came to hym the mother. Mat. xx. c

Saynt Bartholomewe.

By the handes of the apost. Act. xv. c
And ther was. Luke. xii. c

Saynt Mathew.

Therefore sayng that we. ii. Cor. iii. a
And as Iesus passed. Math. ix. b

Saynt Michael and all aungels.

There was a great. Apoca. vii. a
The same tyme the. Mat. xiii. a Saynt Luke Euangelist.

Watche thou in all. ii. Timot. iii. a After these thynges. Luke. x. a

Simon and Jude Apostles.

Judas the seruaunt. Jude. i. a Thys commaund I pou. John. xv. c

All Sayntes.

And I sawe another. Apoca. vii. a
When he saw the people. Math. na

The ende of the Table.

The ende of the old and newe Testament.

To the honour and prayse of God was thys Wyble printed, and synished in the peare of our Lord and sauiour Iesus Christ.

M. D. L. J. The. xliii. daye of Maye.

Printed at London by

Ihon Daye, dwelling ouer Aldersgate beneth Saynt Martyns.

CVM PRIVILEGIO AD
IMPRIMENDVM SOLVM.

1784
1551
0183

1784
1551 182